Those on the sick list are Mrs. Minnie Isaac, Mrs. Alice Jump. We hope for their speedy recovery.

Dempsey Beach spent Sunday with Joel Hubbard.

Mrs. Al Crouch is spending this week with her daughter Mrs. Lawrence Crouch.

Miss Imogene Black entertained over the weekend Misses Carleen, Wavel, Juanita and Elizabeth Osborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beach entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Beach, son Garry, Mrs. Carl Lafferty and son Wayne and Ken.

We are glad to report that Estill Skirvin, who was ill and in a hospital for so long, has been called to work and was able to go.

Mrs. Dora Beverly spent Sunday with Mrs. Grace Price.

Mrs. Ike Hutton and Mrs. Carl Lafferty spent Monday with Mrs Iva Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Beach entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Collidge Sipple and family of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mershone entertainer Sunday their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. Kinman of Stewartsville and Mr. and Mrs. John Mershone.

Mr. and Mrs. Esmond Webster of Covington spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Orville Beach.

Miss Frances Hutton spent Saturday night with Mrs. Ann Carlton.

Miss Norma Lee Mire was visiting her mother Mrs. Ann Carlton on Snnday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lafferty and sons, Mrs. Lula Lafferty were the supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Beach Wednesday evening.

HELL RIDERS OF THE U. S. ARMY!—Infantry soldiers selected for their daring and ability to handle these bouncing bikes, form striking units which promise to make their speed and power felt wherever American forces are to be found.

GLENCOE

Mrs. Edith Norman, Mrs. Blanche Poland, and Peggy Ann Norman attended K. E. A. in Louisville on Thursday and Friday.

Church services were well attended Sunday morning and evening at the Baptist Church.

The Christian Church wishes to make this special announcement: All members who will donate work on roofing the church, please come Tuesday, April 28. Dinner will be prepared by women of the church. We need your help.

Maude Webster spent Friday & Saturday with Greta Dawn Carlton at Warsaw.

Rodney Dunaway spent Sunday evening with his parents.

Maureen Elliott returned to Bowling Green on Monday after spending a few days at home.

Kidwell and Maureen Elliott were visiting friends in Richmond Friday.

Mrs. Dunaway taught a Mission study book at Pleasant View on Thursday.

Mrs. Stella D. Courtney spent the past week with her mother Mrs. Boaz.

CONCORD

Mine house shall be called a house of prayer for all people.—Isaiah 56:7.

Floyd Chapman came home on Sunday from the hospital. We are glad to see him improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bingham and daughter Lucille, Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Bingham spent Sunday at the D. R. Chapman home. Mrs. Chapman is still on the sick list, suffering with rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Robinson and Joe Kennedy visited Clyde Chapman and family near Louisville Friday night.

Cash Martin was a business visitor in Cincinnati Saturday.

Mrs. Vevie Webster and son Leo spent the weekend with her son Glen and wife at Berea.

Ross Chapman and Everett Webster were at Berry Station Friday.

Mrs. Addie Chapman of Sunman, Indiana is visiting relatives here for awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hensley and baby were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Webster.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Struve of Covington spent Friday night with her parents, D. H. Chapman and wife.

The W. M. U. will meet with Mrs. C. D Hughes the 2nd Wednesday in May. All members are urged to attend.

Preaching at Concord this week end. A gracious welcome extended to all.

BEAVER LICK

Mrs. Jesse Ryan and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis Fagan are rejoicing over the arrival of a new baby girl at their home on April 11th.

We are glad to see Mrs. Emma Cleek able to atten dchurch again after several weeks illness.

Mrs. Reba Hood, who has been spending some time with her brother, Rex Kite and Mrs. Kite was able to return to her home at South Fork, Sunday.

Mrs. William Bertram and little son of Greenville, Ohio are enjoying a visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jack and other relatives.

Rev. Shirley Spahr filled his appointment at the Baptist church Sunday. Plans are being made for a series of revival services to be held here beginning June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson had for their guests Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Galvin Combs, who were married in Covington that day. Mrs. Combs was formerly Miss Martha Bingham and has many friends in this section who join in wishing she and her husband a long happy life together.

JACKSON LANDING

Deepest sympathy is extended the relatives of Mrs. Emma Robinson, who passed away at her home in Florence last week. She was brought here and buried in the Paint Lick cemetery, beside her former husband, Charles Sutton, who passed on a number of years ago. Mrs. Robinson was loved by all who knew her and she will be sadly missed by her relatives and many friends.

Mrs. Minnie Goin, who has been an invalid for several years, is seriously ill at this time. The passing of he rsister, Mrs. Robinson, has been hard for her to bear and the chances for her recovery are small.

O. T. Arrasmith of Sugar Creek still remains seriously ill.

Mrs. Earl Wallick of Sugar Creek called on her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cayton Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes entertained the following guests at dinner Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Miss Georgia Hon, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Noel and son Donald and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Alexander and two children Evelyn and Cecil.

After having attended church services at Paint Lick Sunday, the following were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Barton: Rev. and Mrs. Ashcraft and daughter Miss Lois of Covington; Wilford Hodges of East Bend; Mr. and Mrs. Dilver Dean and daughter Miss Helen and John West and Oakley Noel.

Charles Hendren, Jr. spent the weekend with his brother Cecil and family of Mud Lick.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ed Perry and daughter Bonnie; Mr. and Mrs Walter Perry and daughter Judy and Mrs. Allie Perry spent one day recently at Burlington with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Scott and daughter.

Mrs. Robert Perry and two children of Paris spent the week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Brownfield.

R. P. Sisson, wife and daughter Loretta and Robert Perry spent the weekend as guests of their parents Mr and Mrs E C Sisson and Mr and Mrs William Brownfield.

Cecil Hendren and son Forrest Abbott and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Perry and daughter were guests of their parents Mr. and Mrs. Lee Henden and two sons Sunday.

WALNUT LICK

Mrs. Flonnie Edrington was calling on Mrs. Evelyn Lawson on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hughes spent Thursday wit hher parents.

Mr. and Mrs. James Boots left Sunday for their new home in Cincinnati.

Several from here attended church at South Fork Sunday and reported a nice crowd out for the services.

Mrs. H. D. Edrington was calling on Mrs. Nora Franks Friday afternoon.

Is YOUR SUBSCRIPTION Paid In Advance?

It Should Be, You Know!

WALTON ADVERTISER

PHONE 30

We are Pleased to Announce that

Mr. Lyman Rice

Who for 23 Years has been Associated in the Building and Coal Business in Kenton and Boone Counties, is now associated with our Company.

Phone Your Orders To Him

DIXIE 7626

COLONIAL COAL & SUPPLY CO.

Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.

DINE'S FURNITURE HOUSE

½ Pint SCOTCH ENAMEL

LEAVES NO BRUSH MARKS — ONE COAT usually suffices. Resists alcohol, alkali, hot water, weather, wear. Great for "renewing" furniture, woodwork, toys, autos. Dries hard for use in about four hours, with an enduring, china-smooth lustre.

YOU SAVE 39¢

This coupon and 13c entitle you to a ½-pint can of Johnston SCOTCH Four-Hour Enamel, a regular 52c value! (Only one coupon to a family.)

Name _____

Address _____

—THIS TRIAL OFFER EXPIRES MAY 2—

DINE'S Furniture House

NEWPORT 913 MONMOUTH • COVINGTON 530-32 MADISON

"Come Over to Our House"

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
©, The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for April 26

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

WAYSIDE CONVERSATIONS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 13:22-35.
GOLDEN TEXT—And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple.—Luke 14:27.

Learning by talking with Christ as they walked from place to place—such was the training for service which the disciples received. Their's was the greatest school this world has ever known, for while it had no great buildings, no beautiful campus, no learned faculty, it had the Son of God Himself as preceptor and teacher. With all due regard for our fine colleges and seminaries, we say this is still the outstanding need of Christian workers—to walk and talk with Christ.

On the day of which our lesson speaks the subject considered was how to be saved, and who should be saved. Several trends of thought emerged, but all pointed in the one direction of a diligent following of God's plan. In order to be saved, we learn, a man must:

I. Make an Earnest Effort (vv. 22-24).

The question regarding how many were saved received no direct answer for our Lord wished to direct attention to the far more important question—Are you saved? Get that settled and the other matter will care for itself.

Here some who assume that it is an easy thing to be saved will receive a surprise, for our Lord says (v. 24) that it is something one must "agonize" over, for so may the word "strive" be translated. The door into eternal life is so narrow that no man can pass through it with his sins—they must be taken away. Seeking is not enough (v. 24), one must "strive" to enter in.

II. Enter While the Door is Open (vv. 25-30).

The door stands open for all who will, to come in. (What a friendly thing is an open door!) But men idly ignore it, or definitely reject its opportunity. Or they seek it, but do not strive to enter in, and all at once it is closed. Then in a frenzy they seek to enter, but it is too late. What an appalling thing—to be eternally too late!

Note their claims of acquaintance with the Lord (v. 25). One is reminded of those who think they are Christians because father or mother belonged to the church, or because they attend an occasional church supper or listen to a sermon by radio. Unless we know Him personally as our Saviour, He will have to say to us, "Depart from me, ye workers of iniquity" (v. 27). Let us make that matter very clear to those to whom we minister, lest they be eternally lost.

III. Follow the Fearless Christ (vv. 31-33).

To know the high and unwavering character of one's leader is to go forward with real confidence. What about the Captain of our salvation? Here we find Him facing the indirect threat of a powerful and wicked earthly ruler, in perfect calmness, with the very poise of eternity upon Him.

Christ, conscious of His divine mission and with determination to do the Father's will (Heb. 10:7), knew no fear of man. As we are in His holy will as Christian men and women, we too "may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me" (Heb. 13:6).

Consider the rebuke to Herod (v. 32). There is probably no place in Scripture where our Lord spoke with such stinging contempt of any man. It is almost as though the black cloud of eternal judgment already had settled around the head of this man who was so sly and crafty that the tenderhearted Jesus called him a "fox." One wonders of how many He would have to say the same in this our day of supreme and malicious wickedness.

We find one more vitally important thought here. Our Lord offers Himself. He calls sinners to repentance, but they must

IV. Respond to His Invitation (vv. 34, 35).

To fail to accept His proffered love is to be left desolate. To reject Him as Saviour (either by neglect or by definite act) is inevitably to bring judgment. To the Jews this meant loss of their national home—their leading city, but to us it means the loss of our eternal souls.

"There is terrible suggestiveness in the two statements in verse 34, 'I would,' 'Ye would not.' The whole secret of Jerusalem's desolation and destruction is found in the words, 'Ye would not.' The whole secret of the loss of the individual soul is found in the words, 'Ye will not' (John 5:40)" (John W. Bradbury).

This lesson presses home to the individual reader the question, Are you saved? What is your answer? It also affords the Sunday school teacher an excellent opportunity to seek to lead the members of the class to a definite decision for Christ. The Sunday school is a good place to give an invitation

Classified Ads Get Results

POPLAR GROVE

(Too Late for Last Week)

Mrs. Birdie Herndon and family entertained as their Sunday guests: Miss Idna Webster of Long Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Stewart and family of Jonesville; Miss Fannie Herndon of Jonesville; Bradford Stewart of near Glencoe; Mr. and Mrs. Woodford Herndon and daughter Shirley Marie of Muncie, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Herndon of Circinnati; Mis Robert Kelly of New Liberty; Mrs Nora Brock and family of near Liberty; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughter of Poplar Grave, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Herndon and family of Jonesville.

Herschel Jones Stewart entertained as his Sunday afternoon guest Paul Amos Chapman of Glencoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Harrison and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Carver and son Tommy.

Stallard Gordy has been spending a few days with his brother Archie Gordy and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Marshall and Alex Wilhoite entertained as their Sunday guests Rev. and Mrs F. M. Julian and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart of Cincinnati, Mr. an dMrs. Buford Stewart of Warsaw and Mrs. Birdie Herndon and family were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Stewart and family.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky
C. J. ALFORD, Pastor

10:15 a. m. Bible School
11:00 a. m. Morning Worship
7:00 p. m. Baptist Training Union. A fully graded Training Union for all ages.
8:00 p. m. Evening Worship
8:00 p. m., Wed. Prayer Meeting

METHODIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky
REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor

Sunday School 10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship 7:00 p. m.
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

...alton, Ky.

Bible Scho... 10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
Sermon by Rev. Geo. S. Caroland
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church

J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.
10:00 A. M. Bible School
11:00 A. M. Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. Evening Worship
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.
Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Union, Kentucky

Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister

Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.
10:00 a. m., Sunday School,
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship,
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.
Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor
First and Third Sunday—
Sunday School 10:00 a. m.
Preaching Service 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor

Sunday School 10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship 7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH

Verona, Ky.

REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor

Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Morning Worship 11 a. m.
Evening Service 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8 p. m.
All times given Central War time

Mr. and Mrs. Sammie Connelly were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Moore and son Joe.

A large crowd attended Sunday School and Church services. May it continue. Bro. Julian has been called as pastor.

Mrs. Ruth Crouch and Mrs. Annie Crouch spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Virginia True.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H True are rejoicing over their 10¼ pound son, born Tuesday and named Jerry Bruce.

Hubert (Buck) Stewart and Leonard Herndon spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughter Nadine.

Miss Lillian Stewart is feeling better after being poisoned by some food she ate.

Kenton Farm News

Keep Alert — Patch Some More Pastures

Every year there are spots in old lespedeza and grass fields where for various reasons the lespedeza failed to make a volunteer stand. We are not suggesting any reason for this situation. We DO suggest that farmers be urged to look over their fields in April and find these spots. They can be reseeded in April in normal seasons with fair chance of success. As a matter of fact, in some seasons that last seed on the stalks do not fall until late April. Much lespedeza seed on the ground in northern Kentucky does not sprout until early May. Let's keep alert on our defense program for patching pastures and hay lands.—Ralph Kenney.

Hybrid Sweet Corn

Several hybrids of sweet corn are available on the market.

Probably the best for Kentucky are the Iona, Marcross and Golden Cross Bantam. Iona matures in about 68 days; Marcross in about 75 days, and Golden Cross Bantam in 85 days. They may be planted at the same time and furnish a succession of corn.

The Garden
by John S Gardner

CABBAGE — Many gardeners would get better returns from their settings of cabbage if they were ta take into account the varieties they use. Rather than set all Early Jersey Wakefield, and lose some by bursting, cutting short the harvest, they may use also part Charleston Wakefield and part Succession or All Seasons. Even better is to use the roundheads, Golden Acre, Copenhagen Market and Drumhead which burst almost not at all. If wilting and dying have been occurring before heads even begin to form, disease-resistant Wisconsin All Seasons and Marion Market should be the varieties. "Frostproof" plants of whatever varieties should always be dipped in "tobacco tea" or in nicotine solution to kill the cabbage lice that almost always come with them. Also, before setting, their stems should be wrapped with newspaper strips wide enough to extend above ground an inch or so, to discourage the cutworms.

LETTUCE — Head lettuce may be had by sowing as early as the ground can be fitted, the varieties New York or Bibb, the premier of all lettuces. Seedlings may be removed for use, letting stand 8 in. apart those designed for heading. Because all lettuce bolts to seed when the weather becomes warm, it is worthwhile to gain earliness by starting the seed two or three weeks ahead in a glass covered hotbed or in a muslin covered cold frame. The same may be done with Grand Rapids and Simpson leaf lettuce and the loose-heading sort, Hanson.

SALSIFY and PARSNIP—These should be started as early as may be, for they need all summer to mature. The seed is weak and slow to start; radish seed sown with them may help them come up. Stable manure used fresh may produce excessive topgrowth and stringy roots, so it is better to substitute complete fertilizer, 3-8-6 or 4-8-8, beter balanced to these root crops' needs. The most economical way to use commercial fertilizer is to stretch a line to mark the row and along it sow a strip 12 inches wide, one pound of fertilizer to 20 feet, then chop it in with a hoe. Then make the furrow and sow the seed.

SPRING GREENS—As these are short-lived, quitting when warm weather starts, they must be started early. Leaf crops, they profit from the generous use o fmanure, poultry manure which is particularly high in nitrogen. The commercial nitrates are used in making explosives and may be hard to get while the war is on. A bushel of poultry manure, dried and pulverized, will do for a row 300 feet long, or a bed 300 square feet in extent, chopped in. The greens are: Tendergreen or mustard spinach, Southern Curled mustard, Scotch Curled (blue) Kale or Siberian Kale, Essex rape and Bloomstdale Spinach. For spinach, use two ounces per 100 feet; the others, one ounce.

Stephenson Mill Road

A soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words stir up anger.—Proverbs 15:1.

Herman Rader, who is serving in the U. S. Army is home on a furlough.

Mrs. Ida Sharon is ill at the St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Marsh and son entertained at dinner Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington, Lucy and Jimmie Pennington and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pennington and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington and Lucy, Leon and Jimmie Pennington; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pennington and son were last Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Trapp and son of Green Rd. Those who visited in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Northcutt and son and daughter; Miss Jean Bankemper; Ellis Baker; Stanley and Billie Sallee; Howard and Harry Hughes, and Wm. Robinson

Mrs. Levi Pennington and daughter called on Mrs. Leo Flynn one afternoon last week.

BRACHT STATION

He shall feed his flock like a Sheperd; He shall gather the lambs into his arms, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young.—Isaiah 40:11.

Some sheep wander away and must be brought back. They are in great danger when the Shepard is not near them. God is wiser and stronger than we. Be ye led by Him!

Call no man master, only God: He that opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshiped, so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God.—Thes. 2:4.

If thou desire rest in thy soul be just—he that doth no injury fears not to suffer injury; the unjust mind is always in labor; it either practices the evil it hath projected, or projects to avoid the evil it hath deserved.

The eyes of other people are the eyes that ruin us. If all but myself were blind I should want neither fine clothes, fine houses nor fine furniture.

The doing of good deeds is like sowing rice, it brings a rich harvest long after.

Sunny April the Springtime

Glad I am for dear old Springtime
The time of singing, time of joy—
Glad I am that once I lived it;
When just a tousle-headed boy.
But the lonesomest spot—
That I knew about
Was the old schoolhouse in summer
When school was out.

The sick in this vicinity are rapidly improving we are glad to report.

E. Huff was a business visitor in Casey county a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walton were in town on business Friday.

Mrs. T. T. Elliott, Miss Kate Trinkner and Mrs. Conley called on Mrs. Susan Bales one evening last week.

Friends and relatives from down in Casey county are visiting E. Huff and family of this place.

Mrs. Lee Justice visited her sister in Covington several days last week.

Mrs. Nellie Dickson surprised her many friends in this vicinity by getting married last week. We wish her a happy voyage o'er matrimonial seas. Her husband's name is unkown to ye scribe.

The farmers are busy plowing ground, preparing for the crop and war gardens, which we trust the almighty hand of God will help them, that they may have a fruitful year and an abundant harvest for without His helping hand, no one upon this land can prosper.

Jesse Sebree and his neighbor, Mr. Wilson, were business visitors in Covington one day last week.

Several from around here attended Sunday school at Goshen Church Sunday.

Well friends, news is scarce and items few, but here's hoping they wont tire you.

Approximately 400 bags of certified Irish Cobbler seed potatoes were sold in Wolfe county.

Members of homemakers' clubs in Hart county have made 77 pts. of hand lotion and 281 pounds of toilet soap at home.

Plans already have been made to have a "turkey day" at Hardinsburg on November 7.

Aggravating Gas

When stomach gas seems to smother you, and you can hardly take a deep breath, try ADLERIKA. FIVE carminatives to warm and soothe the stomach and expel gas, and THREE laxatives for gentle, quick bowel action. At your Drug Store.

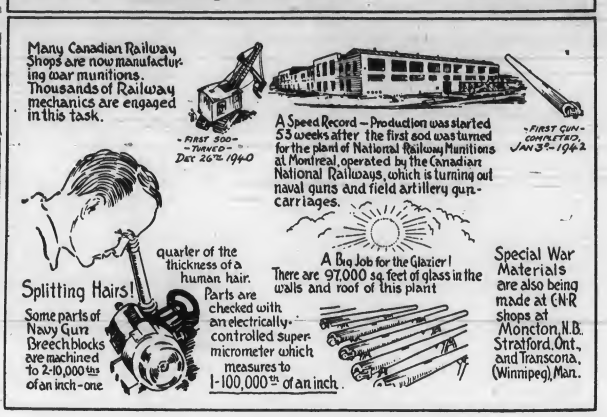
ADLERIKA

Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton

Your Eyes Optometrist

Are You Irritable — Nervous? Perhaps your eyes are the cause. An examination may reveal it.

JOS. B. SCHNIPPERING
Optometrist and Optician
(Formerly with F. Pieper)
5 Pike Street, Covington
Phone HElock 0700



TIRES!
MUST BE SAVED
Align Those Wheels and Save Time and Money
COlonial 0670
R. MICHELS Welding Co.
722 Washington St., Covington

DEAD STOCK REMOVED
SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS
CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887
REVERSE PHONE CHARGE
Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.
LOCKLAND —:— OHIO

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .
W. E. TAIT, O.D.
OPTOMETRIST
OPTICIAN
27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.
Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.
For appointment phone—
HE. 2088

EYE AID
FOR BETTER HEALTH
Some indications of eye-strain are: Squinting, frowning, straining to see, drowsiness after reading, headaches, nervousness, discomfort of eyes after reading, sensitiveness of eyes to light, wrinkles and crow's fee taround eyes, imperfect vision, and have to hold reading matter very close or at arm's length.
We examine eyes and furnish glasses that will correct eye-strain.
Frank Riggs

Wartime Railroading in Canada By Thurstan Topham

In The WEEK'S NEWS

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

BY
Gordon Wilson Ph.D.
WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE
BOWLING GREEN, KY.

Make Your Bow

It is obvious to most of the older generation that manners are not so farmal as they used to be. It must have been years since I have seen children bow except in plays representing the good old days. Only a few of my middle-aged friends can make their bows in the former fashion; when I see a bow properly performed, I return to the nineties instantly. In those days manners were supposed to be formal, and, apparently, obvious; we begged to be excused so graciously that I sometimes now question our sincerity. I wonder whether we did not sometimes offend in order to show what good manners we had. When the fireplace was the center of attention, it was gross bad manners not to ask the pardon of all present if it became necessary for anyone to walk between the crowd and the fire. Mothers sometimes returned from visits to the neighbors and took their own children to task for fear they might offend as the neighbors' children did by forgetting their manners. Insubordination and lack of filial reverence were grouped with failure to beg one's pardon or failure to make a bow at the proper time.

Bows had other places and uses besides in the living room. The great place for them was in the exhibition or on Friday afternoon. All good pieces began and ended in bows, ranging from the very stiff jerk of an awkward boy who was eager to get on with his speech to the graceful, sweeping one by the little girl who had been given a few odd lessons in elocution. Proud mothers praised the grace of the children who showed that they (and their mothers) had "been about," which meant more than I can explain in words. Not to have been about branded one as a rube; to have been about brought distinction that no amount of high-priced cars in our time can ever do.

Undoubtedly the formal good manners of a generation ago were on the way out when the World War came along. West Point decorum, still a part of our United States army, demanded that officers be addressed as "Sir." Of course it would never do to say "Sir" and not also use some formal address to ladies. Our old friends 'Sir" and "Ma'am' returned and seem to be getting rather firmly fixed. Some of my students say "Yes, Doctor," and "No, Professor," until I long for the intermediate days when we said "Yes" and "No" without any further ado.

I suppose that kissing all and sundry has passed by now, or am I ignorant? We used to line up ten deep to kiss all the relatives who came to spend the weekend, none of this pecking on the cheek or neck but a rousing "buss" or "smack" right on the lips, tobacco odor, whiskers, et all. There was nothing especially loving about this; it was just the style. Not to have kissed your great-aunt Sally would have been as rude as stepping on a favorite corn without offering profuse apologies. The departure had to be just as formal, too. This extended to close personal friends of the family as a sort of mark of affection, much as the French used to say "tu" to an intimate but "vous" to anybody else. I have seen (and been) the teacher who kissed every small child goodbye at the end of the school term, boys and girls alike, though public sentiment usually drew the line along about the fifth grade as we might know it today. Not to have lived through this ineresing old custom would have been to miss connection with formal days of long ago, when Washington is said to have kissed each of his officers goodbye at the end of the revolution.

Danger Signals Shown by Legumes When Starvation Menaces Their Life

Above are shown: 1—A healthy soybean leaf; 2—Symptoms of nitrogen starvation; 3—Lack of potash.

LEGUMES that are starving for plant foods reveal their distress by losing their healthy green color and developing white spots around the edges of the leaves that spread over the entire surface. But unlike starvation in human beings, this ailment is much more frequently fatal, for the leaves turn yellow and die.

The three essential plant foods most needed by legumes, as by other crops, are nitrogen, phosphorus and potash.

In general, slow growth, smaller plants and reduced yields are the result of nitrogen deficiency.

Phosphorus deficiency causes slow growth, small and under-developed plants.

Of all starvation symptoms noticeable in legumes, those of potash hunger are the most easily recognized. Irregular white dots or mottled patches appear around the leaf edges. These finally merge, forming a continuous yellowish rim around the tip.

Among things to watch in particular species of legumes are the following, according to the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee:

Soybeans. A pale green to yellowish-green color indicates a lack of nitrogen. When potash is urgently needed, a "measles-like" mottling occurs, forming a yellowish band along the sides and tip of the leaf.

Red Clover. Potash hunger starts with a series of yellowish or white dots around the tip and sides of the leaf. The entire margin of the leaf becomes yellowish and then dies as the condition spreads to the center.

Alfalfa. When symptoms appear the plants are in desperate straits for neurishment. In general these follow the trend in other legumes. The discoloration starts as small dots; then it involves the entire leaf margin and is followed by death of the tissue.

FARM LABOR LOSS OFFSET BY BETTER SOIL MANAGEMENT

CHICAGO.—As the wartime draft and defense jobs take increasing numbers of hired hands, Midwest farmers are faced with a labor problem and the task of producing heavier crops on fewer acres, a statement of the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out.

"Thousands of farmers have already learned that the solution to this problem lies in following an intelligent soil improvement program," the statement declares. "Experience throughout the Middle West has shown that even the most productive areas on the average can be made to yield from 10 to 20 per cent more through careful soil treatment.

"Effective soil improvement comprises a few basic principles. These include crop rotation, the raising of legumes and the use of fertilizers containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potash.

"Experience has proved that farmers can expect dividends in the form of increased crop yields and crop values when they supply the soil with adequate plant food.

"The type and quantity of fertilizer will depend on a number of factors. The average farmer's knowledge is based largely on experience —not on laboratory research—no matter how long he has tilled the land. But he can turn for advice to his county agent or the agronomists at the state college."

INDEPENDENCE

Miss Julia Folmer was visiting in Covington, Saturday evening.

Miss Lena Mills attended K. E. A. in Louisville last week.

Mrs. Robert Durr was visiting and shopping in Covington, Wednesday.

Mrs. G. W. Taylor of Piner visited with Mrs. Tom Mills the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Clemons and baby of Bellevue were weekend guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Clemons.

Mrs. McGarvy of Covington was calling on Ollie Smith, Sunday afternoon.

Pvt. Billy Schoborg has returned to Ft. Knox after a visit of from Friday until Tuesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Schoborg.

Friends of Ollie Smith, who has been confined to his home for several days because of a crushed thumb from a fall in his basement at his home, will be glad to know that he is now able to leave his room.

Rev. and Mrs. Burton Thirston of Lexington, pastor of the Independence Christian Church, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dickson and Elizabeth visited recently with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jap Dickson, and the Misses Lucille and Elouise Waymon at Piner.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brownfield of Greenwood visited Sunday the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Armstrong.

The many friends of Wm. J. Oliver of Terre Haute, Ind., and Miss Margaret Armstrong were surprised by the announcement of their marriage which occured on April 15 in the minister's parlor at Falmouth.

J. D. Conner of Marion, Ind., who is being inducted into the army, spent this weekend with his parents before leaving for camp.

Mrs. Hez Durr and Mrs. Relph Ervin were calling on Mrs. Mike Wagner last week.

INDEPENDENCE R-1

I am the vine and my Father is the husbandman.—St. John 1:15.

Mrs. Bybrian Richardson and little son Larry Ray are ill with the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Armstrong and son Bobbie of Cincinnati spent several days with relatives in this community the past week.

Mrs. Morris Wharton of Dayton, Ohio and her sister, Miss Hope Keeney of Lexington spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney.

Several of the teachers in the Simon Kenton school attended K. E. A. in Louisville, Thursday and Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klein and little granddaughter visited Sunday with Charles Klein and family of Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. Stella Richardson and her mother Mrs. Lamb and Mrs. Will Gadker spent one day last week with relatives in Campbell county

The Staffordsburg Homemakers Club will meet at the home of Mrs J. A. Keeney on May 7 at 10:30 a. m.

Rev. E. K. Kidwell fulfilled his regular appointment at Staffordsburg Sunday and with his wife accompanying him, dined with Mr and Mrs. Earl Hanna.

Knowledge of Plant Foods Is Aid in Rebuilding Soil

CHEMICAL terms such as nitrogen, phosphorus and potash seem a bit difficult to understand, don't they?

But as a matter of fact, they are no harder to grasp than many other new terms which we of this generation who live on or near farms have had to learn. And once we learn what job each of the three major plant foods performs, then we shall be able to more successfully treat growing crops for plant food hunger signs and rebuild soil fertility.

What are these jobs?

Nitrogen encourages growth, builds protein and develops the fleshy portion of roots and fruits. Phosphorus hastens the ripening of seed and favors early maturity. Potash is the balance wheel, enabling the crop to make better use of the other plant foods. It likewise develops resistance to disease and improves quality.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

SUGAR CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McKinley and sons of Nicholson were Friday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton.

Mrs. Donnie Radford and son Charles Lee and Mrs. Emma Wallick called on Mrs. Grover Clifton Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Mable Clossen and daughter of Warsaw were Friday guests of Mrs. Emma Wallick.

Sympathy is extended to Upton Densler and family in the death of his sister, Mrs. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton and son were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Layne and son of Latonia.

Rev. J. J. Taylor of Lexington spent Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taylor.

Mr and Mrs. Albert Osborne and Mrs. Emma Wallick spent Sunday with Mr Osborne's parents at Williamstown.

Miss Emma Sisson and Mrs. Alice Hall called on Mrs. Hannah Edwards Friday afternoon.

Ben Sisson was given a surprise dinner Sunday in honor of his birthday. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stoneking and children; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Caldwell and children and Mr. Christian of Lawrenceburg. Ind; Mr. and Mrs Louis Grazell and son of Newport; Mr. and Mrs. William Berge of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miller and son of Dry Creek; Mrs. Grover Clifton and son David and Miss Minnie Sisson. A nice dinner was served and we all wish Mr. Sisson many more happy birthdays.

HEBRON

Woodford Crigler was on the sick list last week.

Gilbert Dickey spent the week end with his brother Sterling and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Manlius Goodridge Mr. and Mrs. Manny Goodridge and Mrs. Bessie Ernst recently visited friends at Newtown, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Willoughby (nee Evelyn Aylor) are parents of a son at Booth Hospital, since on Tuesday, April 14.

Four children were christened in the Lutheran church Sunday morning. They were Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graves; Michael Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dye; Valentine, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Dolwick, and Elva Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Dolwick.

Miss Dorothy Rouse and Pvt. Wilber Shinkle were united in marriage in Georgia, Monday. Apr. 13, according to cards received here.

Mr. and Mrs. Duly of Indiana called on Mr. and Mrs. Ray Botts Saturday.

Miss Anna Gaines spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Parker Hollis.

Pvt. Orville Brown of Camp Shelby. Miss. and Milton Brown of Waterloo spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Botts.

Miss Mary Marshall of Bullittsville was the Sunday guest of Miss Marilyn Garnett.

AT PUBLIC AUCTION!

SIX (6) ROOM HOUSE - ONE (1) ACRE OF LAND
ON THE PREMISES AT JONESVILLE, KY.,
ON THE JONESVILLE PIKE, OWEN COUNTY
SATURDAY, APRIL 25, 1942 - 10:00 A. M.

Known as Clyde Stewarts' Mothers' home. 1st floor 4 rooms and hall; 2nd floor 2 rooms and hall; electric. A summer house of 3 rooms, bath and electric; mound cellar; outbuildings; barn chicken house; cement walks; fenced in yard and garden. Some fruit and shade trees that takes a life-time to grow. Coal range, like new; Kitchen table; lot of Dishes; Stand tables; Dining tables; Rocking chairs; Kitchen chairs; Beds and springs; Walnut wardrobe; some Antiques; lots of small articles.

— COME AND WIN A FAT PIG —

Personals Cash and Property Can Be Financed

REL C. WAYMAN

623 WASHINGTON ST. COVINGTON, KY.
Phones: HEmlock 5107; INdependence 5064

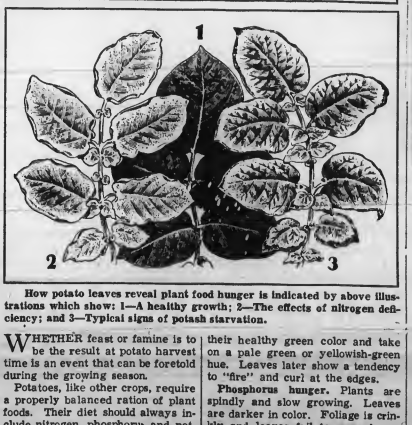
When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
— 24-Hr. Wrecker Service —
Cars Washed - Storage

NOTICE!
DOG OWNERS

DOG LICENSES ARE PAST DUE—

Everyone owning a dog must buy a 1942 license. Please buy your license and save the 50c penalty. This Law Will Be Enforced.

J. T. WILLIAMS
SHERIFF OF BOONE COUNTY



● WAYNE shortens your feeding period, and helps you hit the high market.

SOLD BY

COLONIAL
COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

YOU CAN BE SURE
of satisfactory results beforehand if
BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT
is on the can.
It's always a guarantee of dependability, uniformity of maximum results, with a minimum of effort and cost.
There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You
Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.
THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.
112 PIKE STREET COVINGTON, KY.
Phone COlonial 0212

Choose Best Diet for Potato Crop

How potato leaves reveal plant food hunger is indicated by above illustrations which show: 1—A healthy growth; 2—The effects of nitrogen deficiency; and 3—Typical signs of potash starvation.

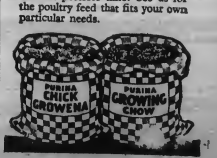
WHETHER feast or famine is to be the result at potato harvest time is an event that can be foretold during the growing season.

Potatoes, like other crops, require a properly balanced ration of plant foods. Their diet should always include nitrogen, phosphorus and potash in greater or lesser amounts.

When any of these elements is lacking, the growing crop shows definite symptoms of distress. To enable the potato grower to detect these signs so that he can apply correctives and provide his soil with adequate plant food, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee has listed these symptoms:

Nitrogen hunger. The young plants are runty and listless. Leaflets lose their healthy green color and take on a pale green or yellowish-green hue. Leaves later show a tendency to "fire" and curl at the edges.

Phosphorus hunger. Plants are spindly and slow growing. Leaves are darker in color. Foliage is crinkly and leaves fail to expand normally.



Potash hunger. Potatoes are heavy potash consumers. Without it they cannot live. With potash deficiency the leaves lose their smooth surface, are undersized and become droopy. Older leaves become yellowish and eventually develop a brown or bronzed color, starting from the tip and edge and gradually affecting the entire leaf. Sometimes the lower leaves dry up.

—FOR VICTORY: BUY BONDS—

THAT LAY Early!

By growing and developing your pullets properly, you can get them into production sooner and have them laying big eggs when egg prices are high. Purina Chick Growena (complete feed) or Purina Growing Chow to be fed with your grain is built to help get your pullets to lay lots of big eggs in the shortest possible time. See us for the poultry feed that fits your own particular needs.

J.H. FEDDERS' SON
Covington

ATTENTION!
WOOL POOL MEMBERS

Sacks and strings are now ready for delivery to Wool Pool members at the following places:

Gulley's and Pettit's Store, Burlington
Hebron Deposit Bank, Hebron
Florence Feed Store, Florence
Lusby's Store, Walton.

A deposit of $1.00 each is required on all sacks. The sack deposit is refunded when the wool is delivered. Paper strings are one-half cent each.

(Signed) H. E. WHITE, Pres.
LILLARD SCOTT, Secy.

Classified ADS
Any Kind—Anytime—Anywhere

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

WHITE LEGHORN CHICKS—Hanson Strain, $10.00 per 100. Frank Lang, Buttermilk Road, Erlanger, Ky., Box 185, Route 4. Dixie 7084. tf18

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

FOR SALE—Baby chicks. Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE—Vitrolite counter and Electric cold drink box. See J. A. Farris, Walton, Ky. 3t23

HAY & GRAIN FOR SALE—Following feeds delivered to your farm: Shelled or ear corn, 95c per bu.; oats, good, 70c per bu.; mixed hay $23 per ton; Timothy hay $22 per ton; Alfalfa hay, No. 1, $25 per ton; Straw $14 per ton. Write or phone Klotters Feed Store, Glendale, Ohio. Phone Princeton 7764. 2t24*

WANTED—We want thousands of Burlap Feed Sacks at once. We pay five cents each for good sacks, and will also pay you a fair price for damaged sacks. Turn your sacks into cash now. T. C. Crume Nursery & Landscaping Co., Highway 42, Florence, Ky. Phone Florence 782. 4t24

FOR SALE—2 fresh cows, with calves by side, one Holstein and one Guernsey. J. A. Northcutt, High Street Road, Walton. 3t24

FOR SALE — Roll top desk and several chairs, in splendid condition. At a bargain if sold at once. Write Box H, c/o Walton Advertiser, Walton, Ky. 3t24

FOR SALE— National, automatic, nickel plated, can sealer. Good as new. Seals cans of all sizes. Also many beautiful quilts. Mrs. Grace M. Gray, Sanders, Ky. 3t24

FOR SALE—Sheep shearing outfit, one set clippers, used two years. Floyd Pickett, Walton, R-1, Green Road. 2t24*

FOR SALE— Dining room furniture in good condition and other various articles. Phone Walton 100 before 10 a. m. Bessie Johnson. 2t24

FOR SALE—Fresh cow, 6 years old. Henry Lipscomb, near the Breeden Garage. 2t24*

FOR SALE—Late 1941 International ¾-ton Truck, black bed, stake body, with two spare tires, farm license. Save over $100 on practically new truck. Rod Ewbank, Phone Warsaw 2318, Warsaw, Ky. 1t25

USED RADIOS—Special, $3.95 up; guaranteed radio service; musical instruments, string and accessories; Northern Kentucky's leading music school. HODGES' MUSIC STORE, 32 East Seventh, Covington. 1t25

FOR SALE — Young Jersey cow and calf. Price $75. Arthur Gilpin, Frogtown Pike, Walton, Ky., Route 2. 1t25*

FOR SALE—One red and white short yearling Bull, ringed, 700 lbs., $70.00. Ira Aylor, Walton, Route 2. 1t25

FOR SALE or RENT—2 cottages in Verona, Ky., for sale or rent. One store building near Verona Bank fo rsale or rent. On account of failing health will sell reasonable. Call or write A. C. Roberts, Verona, Ky. 3t25

CHICKS— White Rocks, hatched from our own flock, in our own sanitary incubator. Write for Mating list. Tele. Williamstown 5705. Menefee Poultry Farm, Crittenden, Ky., Route 1. tf16

NOW is the time to buy your winter coal. See Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE—10 8-weeks-old Pigs. C. H. Hand, Carlisle Pike. 2t24*

BUY your winter coal now! Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154 tf23

FOR SALE—One 3-year-old black horse, not broke; one 1-year-old colt. Call or see Mrs. Kirby Richardson, Staffordsburg Pike. Phone Independence 6731. 2t25

FOR SALE — Piano. Phone 682, Edna Stamler, Beauty Shop, Walton. 2t25

FOR SALE — Delco light plant, radio and fan included; fresh cows and calves; shoats. R. P. Hughes, Crittenden, Ky. 2t25*

FOR RENT—Modern room. Phone 682, Edna Stamler, Beauty Shop Walton. 1t25

FOR RENT — Furnished apartments. 74 S. Main, Walton. See Mrs. Erma Stockman. 2t25*

LOST—Female Fox Hound, white with black and brown spots, bob tail, 41 Kennel AG, Kenton County. Last seen on Shady Lane East of Crittenden. Reasonable reward if found, dead or alive. W. K. Green, 2838 Madison Ave. Covington, Ky.

LOST—Two pups, black and tan with white feet. Lost in the vicinity of Verona. Reasonable reward if returned. Ross Chapman, Verona, Ky.

SAVE
YOUR CAR and MONEY
RIDE A BIKE
We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.
LIBERAL TERMS
DIXIE CYCLE SHOP
16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

BABY CHICKS
$4.50 PER 100
POULTRY FEED
DAIRY FEED
POULTRY SUPPLIES
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

Avenue Furniture Co.
434 Madison, Cov. HE. 9273
It's Spring! new FURNITURE
SEE US BEFORE YOU BUY

D. C. Kessler, Adair county farmer is using straw houses for sows and pigs.

Farmers in Grayson county already have contracted to buy two carloads of western ewes.

Twenty-one farmers in Calloway county are attempting to grow grafted black walnut seedlings.

It's that new SHERWIN-WILLIAMS Kem-Tone WALL FINISH

It's the latest discovery in paint science... a paint that covers almost any interior surface, painted or unpainted; wallpapered; brick or cement! Ideal for quick, low-cost room painting. Investigate! See us.

$2.98 GAL. PASTE FORM
Mix 1 gallon with water and make 1½ gallons paint. Your cost, ready-to-apply, per gallon $1.98

- Covers with One Coat!
- Dries in One Hour!
- It's Washable!
- 1 gal. Finishes Average Room!

NEWEST PASTEL COLORS

B. F. ELLIOTT
WALTON, KY.
SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS

NEW JAMES THEATRE
WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m.—Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY & SAT., APRIL 24-25
Bette Davis - Ann Sheridan in
THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER

SUNDAY, APRIL 26
CHARLEY'S AUNT
with Jack Benny

MONDAY, APRIL 27
Tom Brown - Zasu Pitts in NIAGARA FALLS

TUESDAY, APRIL 28
LAW of the TROPICS
Constance Bennett - Jeffery Lynn

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 29
Ronald Reagan in NINE LIVES ARE NOT ENOUGH

THURSDAY, APRIL 30
Johnny Mack Brown in LAW of the RANGE

FLORENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blackburn spent Friday evenin gwith his parents Mr. and Mrs. Sa mBlackburn of Burlington.

Mrs. Bill Westley of Hattisburg, Miss., arrived here on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mose Rouse.

Mrs. R. L. Brown spent Monday with Mrs. A. G Beemon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parker of Dayton visited Mr. and Mrs Cecil Martin and family Sunday.

Mrs. Fanny Beemon, who has been quite ill for some time, was removed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ira Ryle of Aurora, Ind. the past week. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cody are now occupying their new home on Burlington Pike purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Aylor.

Robert Bakelo has purchased the 56 acre farm owned by Lee Craddock near Hebron and will move there soon.

Joseph L. Gardt of Warsaw purchased the Lewis Clegg farm of 80 acres near Union and will move there this week.

Pvt. Edgar A. McCardle returned to Camp Shelby, Miss. on Monday from a ten-day furlough spent here with his brother Robert and family and other relatives.

Robert McCardle, wife and son Donald, Edgar Allen McCardle and Ruby Dinn were Thursday evening guests of Gordon McGuire and wife of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Conner entertained with a six o'clock dinner Friday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kordenbrock of East Walnut Hills, Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Piatt have as their guests this week Mr. and Mrs. Louis Forner and Mr. and Mrs. Jack O'Rielly and son Terry of Tulsa, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B Wingate and daughter were weekend guests of Mrs. Russell Bethel.

Mrs. Cassins Ashcraft and daughter of Covington visited relatives and friends here the past week.

Mrs. C. T. Tanner and Mrs. Elmer Tanner of Hebron visited Mrs R. L. Brown Thursday.

Miss Kathryn Holzworth of Devon is employed at the Morris Department Store in Erlanger.

Mrs. Frank Bresser spent Friday in Covington shopping.

Pvt. Robert Scott arrived from California Tuesday and will spend a ten-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scott and family of the Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Edd Newman entertained the Ladies' Aid society of the Florence Baptist church on Thursday with an all-day meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Murphy have had as their house guests his parents Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and daughter of Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. D I. Tanner and daughter enjoyed a few days visit the past week in Dayton with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vaughn

Mrs. Robert England, Mrs. Francis Murphy and daughter, Mrs. Lena Bentham spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Bernard Scott an ddaughter.

Mrs. Zeffa Osborne spent the weekend with her sister Mrs. Wynn and family of Covington.

The music festival given by the various schools of the county at Florence school was well attended and wonderful musical talent was displayed by many of the young folks. Especially do we want to congratulate Miss Dorothy McHenry of Florence for her wonderful training of the Glee Club.

The many friends of John Powell Crouch wish him much success in the Navy. He joined last week and will be leaving Monday.

Mrs. Nannie Rouse, who has been a patient in a Cincinnati hospital has returned to her home and is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tanner of Dortha Avenue have as their guest Mrs. Tanner's father, J. Bristow of Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Howard and children spent Friday fishing near Union.

VERONA

Mrs. Lefty Shetler and Mrs. H. W. Hamilton returned Sunday evening from Nashville, Tenn., where they ha dbeen visiting Mr. Shetler for a few days.

James Ransom of Georgetown was a guest of hi sfather, G. C. Ransom and Mrs. Ransom Saturday night.

On mere pleasure bent Michael Prusack spent several hours with friends in Williamstown Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Porter and children were guests Sunday, with other relatives and friends, of Mrs Ada Alexander of Nicholson. The occasion was the birthday celebration of Mrs. Alexander's mother, Mrs. Ella Atha of Covington.

Atwood Brown of near Louisville was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown, Mrs. Brown who suffered a broken arm in an automobile accident is at home again and hoping for a speedy recovery. Mrs. Patsy Williford of Florence is with the Brown's and helping out in this emergency.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Caldwell of Covington were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Caldwell.

Rev. Spahr and family an dMr. and Mrs. Joe Carter and daughter Miss Betty Jo were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Renaker Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lamn and daughter Miss Blanche were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lamn, Saturday evening.

We are glad to report that Mrs. A. T. Hunt has returned home from the hospital, where she spent a few days last week for observation and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. John Myers and son Vernon were in Covington on Sunday visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Chester McBee and Mr. McBee. Mrs. Gus McMullen, who recently underwent a serious operation at the hospital, was also at the home of her sister, Mrs. McBee, having been taken there from the hospital last week.

BIG BONE

Work on the new road is progressing nicely.

Russell Miller, Jd. is making calls to Cleves, Ohio frequently.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Hamilton of near New Haven were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Klte.

Mrs. Maude Miller and Miss Margie Miller were shopping in the city Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Atha and little son, former residents of this place, but now of Banklick were pleasant callers here Saturday evening.

UNION

Two of our local boys were called into service last week. W. C. (Tommy) Doane is now stationed at San Diego, Calif. with the Naval Hospital Corps and Orville Black left last Tuesday morning for the Great Lakes Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill.

Mrs. J. W. Doane, Mrs. C P Hedges and Mrs W S Friend were shopping in Covington last Friday.

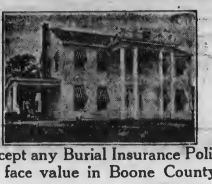
Quite a bit of excitement was caused by the fire which was discovered in the second floor of the J. A. Huey residence here last Tuesday afternoon. Due to the quick response of nearby neighbors the fire was well under control upon the arrival of the Florence Fire Department, with little damage done to the east roof.

Mrs. J. T. Bristow had as her Sunday guests her two sisters, Misses Marietta and Eugenia Riley of Lexington.

Miss Doretta Jones is able to be out again after a week's illness due to an ear infection. It is hoped that she will be able to return to school soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Mason entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fothergill last Sunday.

Mrs. Harold Gatewood, who was ill last week is much improved at this time.



Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hedges entertained the following of her relatives Sunday, the occasion being in honor of a sister, Mrs. Fisk's birthday: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Fisk and children Frances, Thelma and Billy; Mr. and Mrs. John Points and children Wanda, Norma and Linda of Cincinnati, and Miss Nell Jean Doane. Friends from the city called in the afternoon and all left late with many more happy birthday wishes for Mrs. Ruby Fisk.

The arrival of several orders of baby chicks and early gardening is keeping our neighbrs in a hustle these past few days.

W. M. U. News

The W. M. U. of the Union Baptist church met at the church on Wednesday, April 15 for its regular monthly meeting. The meeting opened at 1:30 EWT, with our president, Mrs. Kirtley McWethy presiding. The singing of the W. M. U. hymn for the year and the repeating of our Watchwords in unison followed with opening prayer by Mrs. McWethy. Roll call by our secretary, Mrs. Winston Mason, was answered by 19 members. Reports were then read by Mrs. Austin Gashwind, our young people's leader and by Mrs. W. S. Friend, our Sunbeam leader, with marked increases noted in both attendance and offerings in all the organizations.

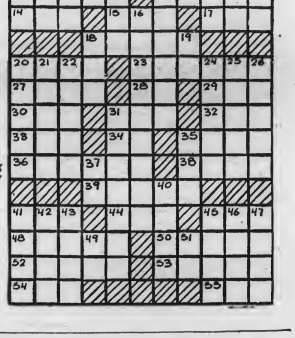
New business was in the ordering of new material for our Personal Service Chairman, Mrs. J. T. Bristow. Mrs. McWethy made announcement of the Group meeting to be held on Thursday, April 23 at Belleview. Those who would care to attend should see Mrs. McWethy or Mrs. Emerson Smith at once.

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.

CHAMBERS & GRUBBS
Funeral Directors WALTON
Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation
Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.
DIXIE STATE BANK
WALTON, KENTUCKY
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

We were very happy to have with us for this meeting three visitors and the announcement of one new member. We hope that these and many more will be with us when we meet on Wednesday afternoon, May 13 for our next regular meeting. We were then dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Emerson Smith.—Pub. Chr.



Crossword Puzzle

No. 1

BEGINNING A NEW SERIES OF CROSSWORD PUZZLES

ACROSS
1. Establish
4. Girl's name
7. Capital of France
10. African water lily
12. Keen
13. Ceased sleeping
14. Definite article
15. Disfigure
17. Edible seed
18. Sells
20. Carry
23. Sewing instrument
27. The holm oak
28. Conjunction
29. Uncooked
30. Alcoholic liquor
31. Affirmative votes
32. Corroded
33. Evening (poet.)
34. Sun god
35. Arabian ruler
36. Go back
38. Supplies with men
39. Bundles
41. To lose firmness
44. Born
45. Mineral spring
48. Adhere closely
50. Rabbit fur
52. Accede
53. Cost
54. Evil
55. A marble

DOWN
1. A quarrel
2. Every one
3. Real
4. On top
5. Nobleman
6. At sea
8. Neuter pronoun
9. Covered with small figures (Her.)
10. Pantries
11. Cry of pain
16. Nuisance
18. Harass
19. Selenium (sym.)
20. Beast of prey
21. A fruit
22. Doctrine
24. A play
25. A language
26. Wide-mouthed jugs
31. Adjust
35. Type measures
37. Aloft
40. Source of iodine
41. Crust over a sore
42. A seaweed
43. Encircle
46. Iron rod for meat
47. Afresh
49. Neon (sym.)
51. Land measure

—OAK AND POPLAR LOGS WANTED—

Will pay highest cash prices for prime white oak and poplar logs or standing timber. Our inspector will be in your county during the week of May 3rd. Write immediately advising the quantity and description. THE ACME VENEER & LUMBER CO., 8th & Harriet Sts., Cincinnati, Ohio.

ONLY 4 DAYS LEFT
MARX 35th ANNUAL
GREEN TAG SALE
Summer Furniture Department Now Open

PORCH CHAIR
All wood porch chair, exceptionally well built.
$1.69

PORCH ROCKER
All wood porch rocker made of selected wood.
$3.49

GLIDERS
Perfect for cool loafing. Well made and weather-resisting covers.
$17.95 up

SUNTAN COTS
Designed for sunbathing, adjustable back and attractive colors.
$12.95 up

LOUIS MARX & BROS.
HOME OUTFITTERS FOR 53 YEARS
COVINGTON...516 Madison Ave. NEWPORT...840 Monmouth St.

Universary of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, APRIL 30, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 26

Must Keep Dogs off The Street Says Sheriff

According to word received on Tuesday from Boone County Sheriff, Jake Williams, all dogs MUST be kept off the streets of Walton. In the future, all dogs found running loose on the streets will be killed. So, if you have a dog and want to keep it (live) keep it off the streets.

There are a number of dogs in Walton that roam the streets. Most of them have homes and are family pets, but with the numerous cases of rabies in this section, it seems to us that it would be the proper thing to do to keep the dogs confined—not only for your own protection, and the dog's, but for the protection of the children and other residents of the town.

Mr. Williams says this edict will be rigidly enforced, so won't you cooperate? You would feel badly if your dog WERE SHOT. So heed this warning.

FARMERS SIGNUP HEMP ACREAGE

Four Boone County farmers have signed-up to grow hemp for seed in 1942, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. They are J. C. Acree o fEast Bend Bottoms, 18 acres; Charles White, Petersburg, 2 acres; Vaughn Hempfling, Constance, 8 acres; Baker & Doolin, Big Bone, 4½ acres.

There are a number of other farmers planning to grow hemp but have not signed their applications for seed forms at the County Office. The seed is secured from the Commodity Credit Corporation through certification by the County AAA Committee. The seed costs $13 per bushel with the grower signing a contract to sell all seed back to the Government at $8.00 per bushel. A Narcotic Permit is secured before planting and the cost of this permit is $2.

Growers expecting to grow hemp this year should file their application immediately as the crop should be planted as soon as possible.

BIRTHDAY DINNER SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Griffith of South Main street celebrated on Sunday with a dinner in honor of Mrs. Griffith's mother, Mrs. Cordella West's 72nd birthday. Those present were Mrs. Frank Taberica and children, Ella, Laura and Frank of Covington; Mrs. Ollie Brooks and children Wilbert and Carrol Ann; Mrs. Herman Anderson and children Raymond and Anna; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Winkle and son John Homer; Mrs. Stella Brooks and son Raymond; Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Linton; Mrs. Rachel Currlin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffith; Mrs. Ida West; Mrs. T. Bonner; Mrs. Ida Stephenson all of Covington; Homer Winkle and Mrs. Junie Simmons of Walton; Bud Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rouse and daughter Lillian of Price Hill, Cincinnati.

All enjoyed the day with plenty of good things to eat, and wishing Mrs. West many more such happy birthdays. She received many useful presents.

ONLY HAND-POLE FISHING IN "NAVIGABLE STREAMS PERMITTED DURING MAY

All public waters in Kentucky will be closed to fishing during the month of May, with the exception of those navigable streams under government lock and dam where pole and line fishing will be permitted.

Among the navigable streams in Kentucky are the Kentucky river; the Ohio; the Green and its two tributaries, the Barren and the Rough; the Cumberland; the Tennessee; the Big Sandy and its two tributaries, the Levisa Fork and Tug Fork. The four tributaries that are mentioned above are open to fishing below the locks and dams that have been placed some distance from where they flow into the larger streams.

FLORENCE 4-H CLUB HOLDS FOURTH MEETING

The Florence X-L-All called their fourth meeting of the year to order on April 13th. The captains gave reports on each project. Almost everyone had started his projects. We then played a game called "Tea Kettle." We closed the meeting by singing "God Bless America."—Reporter.

Have Your Eyes Outgrown Your Glasses?

DO YOU KNOW?

You may be amazed—and pleasantly! — to find that your present Glasses have been outgrown. At least, stop in for an examination. Perhaps new Glasses are all that's needed for correcting what you feared was "failing" sight

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

Rev. J. Russell Cross To Preach In Arkansas

Rev. J. Russell Cross leaves today for Conway, Ark., where he will preach Sunday in the First Presbyterian Church. He will visit the Arkansas State Teachers College at Conway on Monday and on Wednesday evening will speak in the Presbyterian Church at Morrilton, Ark.

Rev. Everett Bedinger of Walton will preach at the Richwood Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning at the regular 11 o'clock (Eastern War Time) service, and there will be no evening service.

Prof. Elliott To Speak at Flower Show

Prof. N. R. Elliott, Landscape Specialist, from the University of Kentucky, will speak at the Homemakers' Flower Show, Saturday, May 2 at the Florence School Auditorium. Registration of entries will begin at 1:30 p. m., EWT. Judging will be at 2 p. m. and the program at 2:30. All Boone County Flower lovers are urged to attend the show and make exhibits.

The last issue of this paper carried the list of classes to be shown including tulips, flowering shrubs, wild flowers and potted plants. Members of Homemakers Clubs also have lists and will gladly answer inquiries about the show. Informatiin is available from the office of Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Home Demonstration Agent, Burlington 412, or Mrs. Geo. Morith, Florence, chairman on arrangements.

Mr. Elliott will discuss "growing bulbs and caring for them." Many will wish to attend and to ask questions.

Individuals Register For Sugar May 4-7

Individual consumers of sugar will register May 4, 5, 6, and 7th in the Elementary School building at Verona and in the Elementary School building at Walton. There will be no school May 4 and 5th. All persons possible should register on May 4 and 5, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. On May 6 and 7th there will be school in the morning, but no school in the afternoon. During these two days persons may register between the hours of 12:45 and 5:00 p. m. In the Walton School you may register until 9 p. m. on May 6th. This date is only for those persons not able to register during other hours because of work.

The housewife or head of the household may register for the entire family. However, any person 18 years old or older may register for the entire family. Also any married person younger than 18 years may register for themselves.

Stamps will be torn from the books representing amounts in excess of two pounds per person. Any family having sugar in excess of 6 pounds per person must register with the Boone County Rationing Board at Walton.

When you make application for War Ration Book you must know the name of each person, height, weight and color of eyes, color of hair, age and sex. Y ou should have this information on paper so as to speed up the work of issuing War Ration Books.

—W. F. Coop, Supt. Walton-Verona Schools.

Official notice has been received by the Local Rationing Board designating the ration periods and the weight value of Stamps valid therein.

No. 1(May 5 to May 16, 1942) Stamp No. 1; 1 pound.

No. 2 (May 17 to May 30, 1942) Stamp No. 2; 1 pound.

No. 3 (May 31 to June 13, 1942) Stamp No. 3; 1 pound.

No. 4 (June 14 to June 27, 1942) Stamp No. 4; 1 pound.

Given first is the ration period; second, the stamp valid during ration period, and third, weight value of stamp.

Verona Man Commits Suicide Sat.

William D. Scroggin, 78, of Verona, died April 25th from self-inflicted gun shot wounds. He had been quite depressed for the past week because of ill health, and this is believed to be the cause for this rash act. The body was found by Tom Dwyer, and Tom Carr, Magistrate, rendered the verdict. Mr. Scroggin was born at Jonesville, but had resided in Verona for the past 30 or 35 years. He was a former blacksmith, and had been retired for about twenty years.

Funeral services were conducted from the Hamilton funeral home at 3 p. m., April 27 by the Rev. A. K. Johnson. Interment was in the New Bethel Cemetery.

He is survived by one son, W. D. Scroggin, Jr. of Beverly, West Virginia; two sisters, Miss Julia Scroggin of Lakeland, and Mrs. E. R. Kennady of Erlanger; one grandson, Dick Scroggin of Millersburg, and one nephew, Edward Kennady of Chicago.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of J. L. Hamilton & Son.

Cut Worms Are Destroying Plant Beds

Many farmers are reporting during the past few days that cut worms are destroying large portions of their plant beds. Many farmers have resowed some of their beds, according to County Agent Forkner.

The recommended method of destroying cutworms is poison bait. The treatment is as follows:

Use one part of paris green and 50 parts wheat bran mixed with enough water to make a fairly thick mash. Scatter thinly over the bed late in the afternoon. This treatment should be repeated at least twice, at intervals of 3 days, for complete control.

The largest number of farmers on record are treating beds to destroy leaf disease infections. The Bluestone lime treatment should be applied as soon as possible after the plants come up and again in 10 days. The instructions on this treatment are available at the county office.

FOURTH REGISTRATION HELD MONDAY, APRIL 27

Monday, 247 men, between the ages of 45 and 65 answered the fourth Selective Service call, and registered at the Walton-Verona school building. These men are not to be used for military service, but are expected to be used in replacing younger men in industry and other positions, who are called into combatant service.

School was closed in order that the teachers could take care of the registration.

RETURNS TO WORK

Mrs. Ward Rice, our efficient Post Office assistant, who was ill for several weeks, returned to her duties on Monday.

Christian Church To Observe Family Week

The Walton Christian Church, according to Rev. George Caroland pastor, will observe Family Week, May 3-10, leading up to Mother's Day, which is the 10th. On Wednesday, May 6th there will be a church family dinner at the church. The program will be furnished by the double quartet from the College of the Bible, at Lexington. The time for the dinner will be announced at a later date.

Specialists to Adress Co. Wool Growers

G. P. Summers, Marketing Specialist, College of Agriculture, will address Boone County Wool Growers at their next meeting at Burlington, Monday, May 4th at 2 p. m., EWT. He will give a discussion on the wool and lamb price outlook for 1942.

The Wool Pool extends a hearty invitation for all wool growers in the county to list their 1942 wool clip for sale through the County Pool. Our wool growers for more than 40 years have been able to sell their wool cooperatively for a substantial market advance. No contracts are signed and the buyer receives and pays the farmer in full for his wool on the day of delivery.

The date for selling the pooled clip will be set at the May 4th meeting. H. E. White, president of the Pool, urges that all growers list their fleeces immediately. Buyers of pooled wool demand to know the exact number of fleeces they are purchasing before they will bid the highest price.

William H. Rouse Passes April 27th

William Honesty Rouse, 73, died at his residence on Camp Ernst Road, Monday, April 27 from a heart ailment, after an illness of some time. He was born in this county.

Funeral services were held in the Burlington Cemetery on Wednesday, April 29 at 3 p. m., by the Rev. Roy Johnson.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Artie Borders Rouse; one brother, Bert Rouse of Burlington; two half-brothers and two half-sisters.

Chambers & Grubbs were in charge of the funeral arrangements.

METHODIST W. S. C. S. TO MEET THURSDAY

Circle No. 1 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Walton Methodist Church will hold their April meeting on Thursday afternoon (April 30) at 2:00 p. m. in the church. Each member is urged to be present accompanied by someone.

Homemakers Attend District Meet at Paris Tues.

GREATER CARE OF CLOTHING IS URGED

Miss Iris Davenport, in addressing Utopia Club members at Burlington last Thursday evening urged greater care of clothing in order to meet war needs. This care is both patriotic and economical.

Miss Davenport stated that the amount of wool going into clothing has been limited by Government order. All clothing material will be high and more scarce. Brushing of clothes, proper handling when putting on and off, moth control and many other important conservation practices were discussed. Effective moth control will save millions of dollars of clothing each year. Research work has shown that many of the commonly used moth control practices are not effective. Paradichlorobenzine (P.D.B.) has been found the best moth treatment.

Rally Day at Methodist Church Sunday, May 3

Next Sunday, May 3, Church School Rally Day will be observed at the Walton Methodist Church. You are urged to make a special effort to be present, and to take someone with you.

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS MEET ON APRIL 17th

The Florence Homemakers Club had a very pleasant and profitable meeting on Friday, April 17th, though the attendance was rather small. The lesson was well given and the invalid's tray arranged by Mrs. Frances Berkshire would have tempted anyone, no matter how capricious his appetite. The luncheon, as usual, was excellent. We want to congratulate our member, Mrs. Grant Maddox, on her new boy and have arranged for a gift for him. We had as our guest our charming and gracious County President, Mrs. Alan Gaines, of Walton, who said many nice things to us and complimented us on the progressive spirit of our Club. We hope she will meet with us as often as possible. Mrs. Moore reminded us that it was time to be planning for our summer meetings in July and August. Mr. Frazier, Assistant County Farm Agent, gave some valuable instruction on gardening and poultry raising. It seems that the best way to prevent any disease among chickens is to keep the poultry house clean.

We are arranging for the annual Flower Show at the school lunch room on Saturday, May 2nd at 1 p. m., EWT. Mr. Elliott, from the Experiment Station at Lexington, will speak. Everyone is invited to come and bring flowers to show: tulips, blooming shrubs, pot plants or "what have you."—Mabel G. Sayre, Reporter.

Homemakers from Boone and Kenton counties attended the District Federation Meeting in Paris on Tuesday, April 28. The meeting was held at the Southside school and the program began at 10 a. m. The theme was "It All Depends on Me." Speakers on the program included Mrs. W. P. Adkins, State President of the Homemakers Federation; Miss Myrtle Weldon, State Leader of Home Demonstration Agents; Dr. Allen Stockdale, Retail Merchants Association, New York.

Boone County Homemakers who attended were Mrs. John Hempfling, Mrs. Margaret Prable, Mrs. Maggie Heist, Mrs. Elmer Peeno, Mrs. Virgie Kottmyer, Mrs. Freda Kottmyer, Mrs. Alice Kenyon, Mrs. Lena Frita, Mrs. W. E. Zimtonmer, Constance; Mrs. A. D. Hunter, Mrs. Joe Hogan, Mrs. F. Wohrley, Mrs. George Casper, Mrs David Pope and Mrs. Sue Rogers, Hebron; Mrs. W. H. Jones, Mrs. George Kobman. Mrs. Frances Berkshire, Miss Jane Scott, Mrs. Ossie Lucas, Mrs. Ann Conner, Mrs. Adrian Stith, Florence; Mrs. W. T. Renaker, Verona; Mrs. J. C. Bedinger, Mrs. R. P. Hughes, Mrs. John L. Vest, Mrs. Ora Fry, Mrs. Leo Flynn, Mrs. Alan Gaines, Walton; and Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Acting Home Demonstration Agent.

A chartered bus took the delegates from Kenton County. They were as follows:

Mrs. Dan Markey, Mrs. Mabel Vanlandingham, Mrs. James Hiles, Mrs. C. D. Vaughn, Mrs. Elmer Brady, Mrs. Nettie Stelb, Mrs. W. Stump, Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. T. L. Pierce, Mrs. George Hufnagel, Mrs. William House, Mrs. F. L. Hehner, Mrs. C. Layman, Mrs. A. Nitchke, Mrs. Frank Cooke, Mrs. C. Fisk, Mrs. Ira Stephenson, Mrs. E. F. Vallandingham, Mrs. Carl Yochum. Mrs. Neil Jones, Mrs. Jesse Weller, Mrs. Kenneth Galloway, Mrs. Orvan Douglas, Mrs. Roy Parsons, Mrs. Paul Newsom, Mrs. I. E. Mann, Mrs. Louise Shipman, Mrs. Mary Threlkeld, Mrs. Bluch Rich. Mrs. W. L. Mendenhall, Mrs. Harry Carl, Mrs. Carl Beushausen, Mrs. Ralph Cook, Mrs. Walter Munch. Mrs. Francis Wolking, Mrs. Wayne Meyers, Mrs. O. T. Tapp, Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mrs. G. H. Houston, Mrs. C. W. Carter, Mrs. William Hakes, Mrs. Robert Scott, Mrs. Elmer Frank, Mrs. Clyde Schroth, Mrs. Harold Schmidt, Mrs. Stanley Maegly, Mrs. Thomas Garriott, Mrs. Harold Eubanks, Mrs. Mae Clare, Mrs. Tate Hageman, Mrs. R. A. Scnroth, Mrs. Harry Mann, Mrs. J. M. McCarty, Mrs. Eugene Tomlin, and Miss Zelma Byerly, Home Demonstration Agent.

BICYCLES STOLEN

One night this week someone took the bicycles belonging to Bennie and Geraldine Elliott, which were on the front porch of their home on North Main street.

APPLICATION FOR WAR RATION BOOK (To be filled in by Registrar only)

IMPORTANT.—A separate application must be made by (or, where the Regulations permit, on behalf of) every person to whom a War Ration Book is to be issued. The separate applications for each and every member of a Family Unit (see Instructions to Registrar) must be made by one, and only one, adult member of such Family Unit.

Local Board No. County State

Application made at NAME OF SCHOOL, BUILDING, OR OTHER ADDRESS

Date, 194..... Book One No.

1. NAME, ADDRESS, AND DESCRIPTION of person to whom the book is to be issued:

LAST NAME — FIRST NAME — MIDDLE NAME

NUMBER, NO. OR R. F. D. BOX NO. — STREET OR R. F. D. — CITY OR TOWN

COUNTY — STATE

Ht. — In. — Wt. — Lbs. — HEIGHT — WEIGHT — COLOR OF EYES — COLOR OF HAIR — AGE — Sex (Male ☐ Female ☐)

2. (a) If the person named above IS a member of a Family Unit, state the following:

(1) Number of persons in Family Unit, including the person named above

(2) The person named above is my—

☐ SELF. ☐ FATHER. ☐ MOTHER. ☐ HUSBAND. ☐ WIFE. ☐ SON. ☐ DAUGHTER. ☐ EXCEPTION

(3) Total amount of white and brown sugar in any form which is owned by the Family Unit or its members lbs.

(b) If the person named above IS NOT a member of a Family Unit, state the total amount of white and brown sugar in any form which is owned by the person named above lbs.

3. Number of War Ration Stamps to be removed from War Ration Book One (upon the basis of information stated above): IF NONE, WRITE NONE

OPA Form No. R-301 ★ U. S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE 16—63557-1 (Continue on reverse side.)

I hereby make application to the Office of Price Administration, an agency of the United States Government, for the issuance to the person whose name, address, and description are set forth above, of War Ration Book One and all War Ration Books thereafter issued for which the person named above becomes eligible under Rationing Regulations. I hereby certify that I have authority to make this application on behalf of the person named above, that no other application for a War Ration Book has been made by or on behalf of such person, and that the statements made above are true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code makes it a criminal offense, punishable by a maximum of ten years' imprisonment, $10,000 fine, or both, to make a false statement or representation to any Department or Agency of the United States as to any matter within the jurisdiction of any Department or Agency of the United States.

SIGNATURE OF APPLICANT

I hereby certify that I have witnessed the Applicant's signature and that War Ration Book One, bearing the above number, has been delivered to the Applicant with the above-stated number of stamps removed.

SIGNATURE OF REGISTRAR

(This space reserved for later entries by Local Board or Applicant)

The undersigned hereby certifies to the Office of Price Administration that he received the following War Ration Books on the date indicated below or on the back hereof, and that with each receipt he reaffirms the truth of the statements in the foregoing application.

Date — Book No. — Serial No. — Signature of Applicant

.....

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER — Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1880

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

The war emergency may be used as a smoke screen behind which to scuttle basic principles of the American patent system.

A bill (S. 233), on which hearings are now being held, would give the President power to seize patents, and the government the right to license them at royalties it stipulated. The bill is ostensibly a "war measure," but defenders of the patent system wonder why no provision is made to limit the major features of the bill to the war or emergency period.

To informed observers it looks like a renewed attack on property generally held to be basic to the American industrial system since the days of the Yankee tinker.

A similar attack was made at the Temporary National Economic Committee (TNEC) hearing a few years ago, and proposals for compulsory licensing have repeatedly been considered and discarded in the last 3 years.

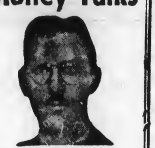
Normal international patent agreement which have contributed to the desirable flow of scientific knowledge from country to country in peacetime are now held up as acts of treason, and the benefits America has received from agreements which gave us the result of advanced research in other countries are ignored.

A long list of top-flight industrialists will be called rom their war production duties at home to spend days under cross-questioning at the patent hearings. Everyone agrees that every invention which can contribute to victory must be fully utilized in the war effort. Industry pro ceeds to produce under them, without fanfare or headlines.

Congressional observers say that the spectre of John L. Lewis is the biggest current factor in forcing the much ballyhooed labor union truce between the CIO and the AFL.

hey point out that both the Murray and Green camps fear that the third labor party movement of Lewis may draw from their own membership and that he may be able in time to challenge them seriously.

They also fear the objective for which Lewis is working—the organization of dairy farmers, the inclusion of all chemical employees in this union, and the extension of organizing activities to many other types of workers. They see Lewis building a powerful union of workers and farmers—in other words, a new Farmer - Labor movement on a national basis.



In opposing Lewis' new union activities the CIO and the AFL have the support of the American Farm Bureau Federation and many other farm organizations that also fear what Lewis may do to their organizations.

More good news from the production front—output of metals and minerals in the United States se a new high record in 1941, according to the U. S. Bureau of Mines. Production of domestic aluminum, magnesium zinc, iron, ore, gasoline, petroleum, and coke set new records.

In addition to this news that the automobile industry is two monhsahead of schedule in converting its plants to war production is being welcomed here as indicating the victory trend that is apparent in American factories to day.

Further evidence of this trend lies in the fact that American shipyards have launched 2 crusers 18 destroyers, 5 submarines, and 112 merchant ships—and all of them since Pearl Harbor.

Money Talks

By
Frederick Stamm, Economist
Director of Adult Education
UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Small business men at their national conference in Chicago, March 16-18, recommended that the Government adopt a policy of rigid economy in all non-war activities. This was to be expected, for the small business man has been hard hit by priorities, high wages, high taxes, the forty-hour week, and the fact he is not getting many war contracts.

It is natural for him to oppose non-war expenditures for he is fighting for his existence. Small business men are urging the curtailment of the A. A. A., the W. P. A., and the R. E. A. They are asking that the Office of Civilian Defense be put under the direction of the War Department and that its acivities be confined solely to civilian protection. You may recall that millions of dollars have been spent by the Office of Civilian Defense for activities which have nothing to do with civilian protection.

They further recommended that all agencies of the Government, whose sole function is to spread political propaganda be eliminated, thus effecting a substatial savings in wages, salaries, supplies, etc. They are also advocating the abolishment of the National outh Administration and the Civilian Conservation Corps. These agencies, they say, were developed as relief agencies and now that the relief emergency has passed there is no real need for them.

Small business men are determined to aid in winning the war, but in doing so they want all of their tax money to go into direct war effort. We cannot blame them for asking for Government economy. Every day they are forced to practice it in their own business, and the outlook for small retail stores is not so bright. They are caught by the lack of merchandise, and without merchandise there can be no sales and profits. If taxes can be kept within reasonable limits they can weather the storm. If not, many of them will pass from the picture.

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

BY
Gordon Wilson, Ph.D.
WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE
BOWLING GREEN, KY.

The La wand The Prophets

The printed pages in earlier times had a fascination for people that it rarely has today, although we teachers of language are often conscious of a print-worship that is provoking and amusing. "If it is in print, it is so" might very well have been the doctrine of teacher and student alike when I attnded the country school. We knew no way of destinguishing between the poorly informed author and the scholar. Our text books were usually the work of mere hack writers, who could turn off a book on history or mathematics or geography equally well. A few of our books, such as McGuffey's readers, were of high type. Since we memorized most of our texts from cove- to cover, it was hard to convince us that they were any less true than the Ten Commandments. I can recall how hurt I was when one of our teachers brought another history to school besides the one we studied and showed us that certain statements made by our sacred text were not accepted by other book makers. For days we were in a quandry, afraid to give up what we had learned with such great difficulty and yet seeing in bold type statements the exact opposite of our cherished learning. The fallibility of human beings had begun to dawn on us, that is, some of us, but it took many years to convince us that all human knowledge has a flair for inadequancy.

Every semester I teach people in grammar, people who have already done two or three years of college work. About half the time of the course must be spent in breaking up the blind faith in some elementary textbook in grammer that these students studied in the grades and have not seen since then. Prepositions at the end of sentences, perfectly good since the earliest English was written down, scare my students almost as badly as so-called propositions without objects. Dogmatic assertions made by some hack-writer a century ago, because they got into print, reappear as the Law and the Prophets. Even when these assertions are manifestly absured, only a small percentage of my students will believe their own eyes and ears.

Though I have rarely taught history, I know that this worship of an older textbook is prevalent in this field. An eighth-grade textbook, naturally very short and immature, because the basis for all future judgments, no matter how many extensive works may be read. I once had a class with a mature man under a teacher who was later the president of Swarthmore College. This teacher, a brilliant graduate of Oxford and a scholar in the field where he was teaching, was embarrassed almost dailey by the student's quoting a high-school history of English literature written by a pleasing but biassed and narrow high-school teacher of Louisville. I still doubt whether the student ever learned anything new about Chaucer and mediaeval liturature under this eminent scholar.

My contact with biology through a life-long study of birds has brought me against many a queer thing printed in a book and believed as gospel by the owner of the book. Just this week I was told as if it were from Mount Sinai itself that hummingbirds migrate by hiding themselves in the feathers of ducks and geese and thus hitch - hike their way north or south. When I appeared skeptical, the people who had seen it in a book gave me a look of real pity: the very ideal of my not beliving what was down in black and white! A few days ago a college senior read an article by some ignoramus denying the theory of glaciers and forthwith accepted the childish arguments, though he had at his immediate fingertips all the best and most scientific works on glaciers. It was in print; therefore it was Law and Prophets combined.

NAMED ASSISTANT CHIEF CLAIM AGENT FOR SOUTHERN

The promotion of H. L. Guin, assistant chief claim agent of the Southern Railway at Greenboro, N. C., to chief claim agent at Washington, D. C., and promotions in the Freight Traffic Department of the railway at Atlanta, all effective on May 1, were announced today. Mr. Guin succeeds Chief Claim Agent W. Issac W. Haun who is retiring after 51 years continuous service.

Mr. Haun's railroad career began with the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railway, now part of the Southern Railway System, in January, 1890. He was appointed claim agent in 1906, assistant chief claim agent at Washington in 1914, and promoted to chief claim agent in 1917.

W. R. King, claim agent at Charlotte, N. C., will succeed H. L. Guin as assistant chief claim agent at Greensboro.

Appointments in the Freight Traffic Department at Atlantic were announced as follows:

Charles L. Bateman appointed general freight agent, with headquarters at Atlanta, succeeding A. E. Hendee, deceased.

Darrow Kirkpatrick, assistant general freight agent, promoted to general freight agent in charge of divisions, succeeding Mr. Bateman.

Marion F. Dukes, Jr., chief clerk, promoted to assistant general freight agent, succeeding Mr. Kirkpatrick.

L. D. Shelnutt, chief clerk, promoted to the position of assis tant to general freight agent.

BRACHT STATION

Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy soul and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength.—Mark 12:30.

Then we never will be betrayed nor disappointed. There is a friend that is really worthy of devotion. Then let us reveal Christ like character ourselves.

Ye have heard that it was said by them of olden time; thou shalt not kill.—Matt. 5:21.

For Christ gave us a positive law to love all men, and that the negative law may not be needed.

The scripture reading are kindly included for the benefit of those whom do not have time to attend church services, or to read their Bible.

Ed Walton received news from Danville that his mother there was very low, after which he and his wife, Mrs. Walton left for her bedside, the cause of her serious illness being unknown to ye scribe but their many friends join me in wishing her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and daughter of Carthage, Ohio spent the weekend with Mrs. Thomas' sister of this place, Mrs. E. Huff.

Thomas Sebree's new residence is nearing completion. We presume it is a very desirable country home.

Mrs. Nellie Cartwell of Indiana visited her mother in this vicinity Saturday and Sunday.

A. Feltock is having quite a bit of improvements done on his farm at this place.

News was received in this vicinity of the marriage of Miss Wanda Bales, which will take place on May 9 in Covington. Her many friends extend congratulations to the utmost.

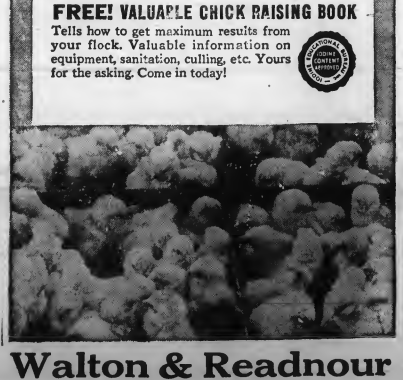
Quite a few of the old men in this section had to register in the 45 to 65-year-old draft.

A Word for Victory

We go about our daily task unconcerned about our gallant defenders in the Philippines, but I realize that lyinw awake nights or shedding tears of hysteria will not help them nor us. We must give ourselves a good mental shaking, then follow through with action. Of course, for us real Americans there can be no comfortable spot at this time, when so many of our own have been called upon to give their all. We do not think, however, that because America is involved in war that her citizens must sit down, for we must be up and doing for there is work at home, on every hand, for everyone. For how well do we all know that projects in our homes, schools and churches have often been put over by women, and if victory is win in this war, women are going to have a big part in it. "Victory like Charity begins at home,", especially with the farm women who do not have time to don their fine clothes and drive their fine automobile, for their time is all taken up raising chickens, feeding pigs milking cows and trying to raise War Gardens, trying to help and keep the farms duties running smoothly, trying to do their bit for Victory.

Each family enrolling in the live-at-home campaign in Lewis county will grow at least twenty kinds of vegetables.

Chick Raisers!
READY? GET SET! GROW!
Feed...



UBIKO LIFE GUARD
ALL MASH CHICK STARTER

● The "Food for Defense" Program needs eggs and poultry meat . . . in a hurry! GOOD PRICES TO YOU are assured by the Gov't. This year, it is more important than ever to grow your chicks fast . . . market your broilers early, and hasten pullets into early production.

To do the first feeding job right, you'll make no mistake with Ubiko LIFE GUARD Chick Starter following right on through for broilers and fryers. For pullets to be kept as layers, switch gradually to Ubiko LIFE GUARD Developer. A wonderful blend and balance of food values chicks need to thrive . . . abundant VITAMINS (including Sex Vitamin E) and 7 MINERALS feeding authorities have found essential to life, health and growth. Costs an average of less than 2c per chick per week. Come in for your supply today. Don't miss out on the BIG PROFITS that can be yours.

FREE! VALUABLE CHICK RAISING BOOK
Tells how to get maximum results from your flock. Valuable information on equipment, sanitation, culling, etc. Yours for the asking. Come in today!

Walton & Readnour
Walton, Ky.

Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria
Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN FREE odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package.
Robt. W. Jones, Druggist. Walton.

Don't Let
HIGH PRICES
UNPLEASANT TASTE
INCONVENIENCE
Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.
You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take
ONE A DAY
VITAMIN A and D TABLETS
Pleasant-tasting - Convenient
Economical

To Relieve Misery of COLDS take 666
LIQUID, TABLETS, SALVE, NOSE DROPS

When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
— 24-Hr. Wrecker Service —
Cars Washed - Storage

PEOPLES LIBERTY BANK & TRUST CO.
COVINGTON, KY.
MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Keep Up WITH EVENTS
EVERY WEEK from THE NATION'S CAPITAL
Read PATHFINDER
PATHFINDER brings to you in words and pictures the drama of events fresh from Washington, D. C., the nation's capital, today the world's news center. News, features, and facts, events boiled down into 20 interesting, inspiring departments. Complete, unbiased, non-partisan, non-sectarian, dependable—gives both sides. Improved new features. World's oldest, most-read news weekly at one-fourth the cost of others. Furnishes clean, reliable reading for the entire family.
This Newspaper & PATHFINDER BOTH one year Only $1.80

Investment Happiness for his modern majesty
Mr. and Mrs. America have Insured safety and liberal earnings
WHEN THEY SAVE the FIRST FEDERAL way
FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1242

COULD YOU
run your present business if you were blind?
Can you get the most out of it if you are half blind? If your eyes need attention, see
L. J. METZGER
Optometrist Optician
631 Madison Ave.
Covington
Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

KENTUCKY HATCHERY
Baby Chicks
All leading breeds U. S. Approved, blood-tested, started chicks one, two and three weeks old. Prices right. Also Started chicks. FREE CATALOG. Write: KENTUCKY HATCHERY 827 WEST FOURTH STREET • LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY

HEALTH and HAPPINESS Await You At
DILLSBORO
Home of the Famous White Crane Mineral Water
Although Dillsboro's fame is based largely on the excellent results obtained from treating arthritis, rheumatic afflictions, stomach troubles and nervous disorders, more people daily find Dillsboro the ideal place to vacation. Here, amidst pleasant, quiet surroundings, one rests, relaxes and builds up a reserve of health that wards off trouble in the future.
Visit Dillsboro for a week or so. Take the mineral baths and drink the waters. The glowing health, the peace of mind and the general rejuvenation you receive from the Dillsboro treatment will give you a new lease on life.
RATES $27.00 to $37.00 WEEKLY
Include delicious Meals, Attractive Room, Mineral Baths
E. F. Gerkepott, Mgr.
DILLSBORO HEALTH RESORT
U. S. Route 50 DILLSBORO, INDIANA

Psychoanalysis Proved Help In Mental Cases

PSYCHOANALYSIS as a science has come of age. No longer is it a fad or a craze. But it is expensive. Usually it takes a long time, and it can help.

Today legitimate psychoanalysis conforms to the best medical practice. It has exacting educational requirements, and its recognized organization, the American Psychoanalytic Association, has established standards. Member institutions are doing research constantly. Maxine Davis, well-known reporter on medical subjects has made a careful study of it on behalf of Good Housekeeping, and her report which appears in the January issue of the magazine, is encouraging.

Many people will ask, "Exactly what is psychoanalysis?" For them, Miss Davis has an answer. It is two things, she says. It is a science, and it is a method of treatment. The science is based on the premise that repressed motives are the cause of all sorts of neurotic illnesses, not only of superficial instances of irrational behaviour but also of deeper more complex disturbances. The psychoanalytic treatment is the process of searching out disturbances so the patient may understand them and overcome them.

Psychoanalysts, Miss Davis writes, try to unearth the reasons for their patients' mental conflicts. Frequently they arise from conflicts or fears that began in childhood, so long ago that they don't recall them — they are buried in memory. So the doctor's procedure is a thorough questioning, repeated frequently. He will ask his patient to talk of anything that comes into his mind — anything at all, for often idle thoughts provide a clue. He strives to bring repressed motives to light, help patients discover and recognize them, and later learn to control them.

Psychoanalysis, continues Miss Davis is a long, hard, trying experience. The treatment rarely lasts less than a year and may possibly continue three or four. It will consist of daily consultations lasting an hour or more, though briefer analyses are now being used. Furthermore it is expensive. For the analyst's training has been long and costly. He cannot treat many patients, and he must have time for research and study.

Concluding her article Miss Davis says. "Do not underestimate the role of psychoanalysis. It is growing in value and service. Just as physiotherapy helps the victims of infantile paralysis to relearn the use of their limbs and walk again, so psychoanalysis helps the spiritually crippled to straighten up and face life with understanding and courage.

Kenton Farm News

Spray Letter No. 3

The following spray service pointers have been assembled and furnished by Mr. . D. Armstrong, Experiment Station. The Cooperation of the Departments of Horticulture, Plant Pathology and Entomology of the Kentucky Experiment Station, federal agencies, county agents, and Kentucky fruit growers make these spray letters possible.

Peach Suggestions: Many peach orchards over Kentucky lost their entire crop during the sub-zero weather of early January. Many such growers are cutting back their trees in order to lower the tops and renew the fruiting wood. These growers and others should also use this year to clear out near-by plum tickets and worthless seedling trees that furnish breeding places for the plum curculio.

Peach Development: Many peach orchards on favored locations, however, are bearing partial or full crops to date. In Southern and Western Kentucky the shucks are being rapidly shed from the young fruits. In Northern Kentucky the petals are mostly off.

Plum Curculio have been found by jarring since April 15 in the Mayfield Paducah and Princeton sections. Growers are urged to do jarring in their own orchards to learn when curculia start appearing. hen jarring is done, follow the printed Spray program. Jarring records this year indicate that the shuck-fall spray should be applied when about ¾ of the shucks are off the young fruits. Some growers are now applying this pray. The material in general use is arsenote of lead and lime, 2½ pounds each and 2 pounds of zinc sulfate per 100 gallons water. Repeat this in ten days (or when the young peaches are about ½ inch in size) with 6 pounds of wettable sulfur added for the control of peach scab as well as the second spray against curculio. If zinc sulfate is not at hand increase lime to 8 pounds.

An additional aid to curculio control is the picking up and destruction of the small wormy fruits that drop on the ground a month or so after blooming. The dropped fruits should be cut through several times to learn if they contain the small worms. The fruits and worms can be destroyed by submerging in water for several days to a week. In small plantings, where spray equipment is lacking, fairly good peach and plum worm control can be had by careful "jarring" and "picking up drops." These practices are also great aides in large-scale production.

Apples are shedding their petals fast in Southwestern Kentucky, and are in various stages of bloom to the Northern part of the state. All apple growers should apply he CALYX spray as soon as 75% of petals have fallen. Finish this in three days of possible. Materials: Arsenate of lead and lime, 3 pounds each and 1½ to 2 gallons of lime sulfur to 100 gallons. Where codling moth has been serious the first cover spray should go on one week after CALYX. In other orchards this spray should come 2 weeks after CALYX, without fail.

Scab Conditions: Recent clear weather has not been favorable for apple scab spread. A large supply of spores still remain on the old leaves however, and many of these will be discharged with the next soaking rains. Consequently, it is suggested that scab protection should be continued.

The "Bug Blitz"

An important part of the nation's all-out war will be fought on the home garden front against the insects, enemies quite as ruthless and heartless as any of the Axis armies. Indeed. if the insects, were let go their way for just one season, a large part of the world's people woul dperish from hunger. With home gardens carrying so much of the war's responsibility, as they do, all steps should be taken to keep the insects in check. And, the first of these are waiting o strike now.

Among he first are the plant lice. Small, and of the some color as their feeding ground. thev sometimes gain surprising headway almost ihefore the gardner is at all aware they are there. The early sign os the standing still of the early cabbage; later, puckered or curled-under leaves are seen, which if examined are found to be veritably encrusted with layers of lc.

First impulse is to apply a poison. but because the lice do not eat leaves, but drain off their sap, this is no control. Rather. a material that kills by contact must be applied, but so as to hit the insect, direc. Tobacco "tea," nicotine sulfate and rotnone are such materials. There should be a complete kill in 15 minutes. If not, try again.

The green cabbage worm is another insect soon to come, or perhaps already here. This pest is often permitted to gain too much headway because when very young, ot, too, is small and neutral- colored. It does give itself away. however, by its trail of eaten leaves, and, as it is a chewing insect is readilly cntrolled by poison.

The best way to apply the control is as a dust, and an effective dust mixture is: paris green, 1 part; lead arsenate, 1 part and lime, 12 parts, all by weight. As this is distinctly poisonous it is dangerous to continue using it after the heading starts, but then a switch must be made to rotenone dust, deadly in sects, but harmless to humans.

For First Aiders

A PLACE FOR EVERYTHING and everything in its place highly recommends this Frilo Blackout Bag, which Columbia network's Honey ("Meet Mr. Meek") Johnson chooses for the duration. It includes bandages, iodine, small flashlight and pockets for make-up and valuables. For blackouts Honey chooses Lilly Dache's navy blue faille overseas cap with red ribbon trimming and small reflectors which light up during blackouts to warn pedestrians of her approach.

Guiding Light

Lovely, talented Sarajane Wells, enhances the dramatic cast of "The Guiding Light", when this radio series comes on the air over WLW Mondays through Fridays, 2:15 p. m. EWT. She is heard as "Mary", daughter of Dr. Ruuniedge.

MANY FOREST FIRES IN STATE; CITIZENS SHOULD AID

In recent weeks there have been a great number of destructive forst fires in the wooded section of the State. In nearly all such instances the suppression of these fires required men to be summoned from mines, sawmills, and other industries whose labor is sorely needed in the production of goods for war purposes.

Today the Governor of Kentucky has issued a proclamation calling pon every patriotic citizen to do his utmost to prevent these fires and to assist the State and Federal governments in extinguishing them. Every one of you, and every member of your Council is urged to become interested and to take an active part in this prevention effort.

It is expected that the Director of the State Division of Forestry will at an early date establish contact with many of you to outline a definite program of assistance to his division. You are requested to cooperate with him fully in:

(1) educating the people of your community in the importance of this matter.

(2) in putting your police and fire auxillaries and your air raid wardens to the greatest possible extent at the disposal of the Division of Forestry in preventing these fires and fighting them when they occur.

There are indications that a number of there fires are wilfully and maliciously started by persons who either wish to impede the progress of war efforts or who put themselves and their own property above those of the national and state interests. The Governor's proclamation describes such starting of fires as "deliberate acts of sabotage."

In addition to the activities above mentioned, you are earnestly requested to report to the Division of Forestry and/or to the prosecuting attorney of your counties, any information which may lead to the detection, prosecution, and conviction of deliberate forest fire starters under the severe penalties of the Sabotage Act recently enacted by the 1942 Session of the Legislature.

JONESVILLE

In the world ye have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.—John 16:33.

Their many friends and relatives here were sorry to hear that Mrs. J. S. Ransdell of Louisville was to undergo a major operation on Monday at a hospital there.

Mrs. Adda Beatly is recovering nicely from an operation performed at Good Samaritan Hospital recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Caldwell and Mrs. Jim Caldwell spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Alton Caldwell and Mrs. Eca Ennis of Ind

Miss Dorothy Stewart spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Irone Bourne and family of North Madison, Indiana. Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stewart spent the day there Sunday and Dorothy accompanied them home.

Miss Mabel Kemper of this place and Miss Edna Stivers of Owenton spent from Wednesday until Sunday with Miss Jessie McPherron of Louisville and attended K. E. A. while there.

Miss Peggy Webb of Louisville is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Webb.

Elzie Kemper of Glencoe spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Kemper. Sunday afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Lummie Kemper; Mrs. Bernice Duncan and Mrs. Elaine Stahl of near Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Furnish and daughter entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ashcraft and Mr. and Mrs. John Ashcraft and daughter of Indiana. Afternoon callers were Mrs. Leroy Coates and daughter of Williamstown; Mrs. Ora McGibney, and Mrs. G. B. Furnish.

Several teachers from here attended the K. E. A. at Louisville last Wednesday through Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brock and daughters of New Liberty spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burke.

One hundred and five farmers in Northern Pendleton county have contracted to grow tomatoes.

ON AND OFF THE AIR

— GALUMPHING REPORTER —

By Fred Emery

If variety is the spice of life, then Jim Cassidy is up to his ears in a pepper factory.

As specal events director of WLW, Cassidy has charge of those broadcasts which fall, roughly, into the class which is not part of the routine programming of the station.

This branch of the industry has taken him into odd places and into contact with a great variety of people. The odd places have included a dive bomber, a dog pound, the top of the tallest fire ladder in the middle west and the dank pit of an abandoned subway.

JIM CASSIDY

The people he has interviewed range from statesmen to street peddlers. The easiest man he ever interviewed, he says, was Douglas Miller, author of "You Can't Do Business with Hitler," and the hardest was a Metropolitan Opera star who neither speaks nor reads English. In order to get the latter to say anything at all, Cassidy had to write out his comment, which in phonetic spelling stated: "I AM VERI APPEE TU BI EER TU-DA."

Cassidy's broadcasts from the Louisiana and Carolina maneuvers contributed toward winning the Variety Award for Patriotic Leadership presented to WLW this year. He spent more than a month with the armed forces, during which, in addition to galumphing over the country-side in army planes, he talked, ate, slept and traveled with soldiers, got bitten by mosquitoes and dunked in Red River mud.

During the last year, Cassidy estimates he has chalked up some 45,000 miles on WLW business. Out of several hundred broadcasts he is chagrined about only one. It was at the start of the current Red Cross drive for blood donors. Flat on his back, with the necessary blood-giving equipment on his left arm, he transcribed a description of his sensations as he went through what he thougbt to be the process of donating blood.

At the end of 15 minutes, not having looked at the blood jar, he announced, "Now, I believe I have given a pint of blood for the Red Cross."

A nurse standing over him shook her head.

"I'm sorry," she said. "You haven't given any blood. We couldn't find the right kind of vein."

DIALGRAPHS:

FIBBER McGEE AND MOLLY continue to hold No. 1 spot in rating survey.

MINERVA PIOUS of the FRED ALLEN and MEET MR. MEEK shows may soon be booked with BOB HAWK'S CBS HOW AM I DOIN' quiz.

DOROTHY THOMPSON is now heard on the BLUE with pertinent comments on the news.

Cradle Counsel

By JEAN MERRITT
Heinz Home Institute

Infant Feeding—Then and Now

Our knowledge of baby feeding has come a long way the past few years. Scientists have recently discovered that by about the fifth month baby's reserve supply of iron has become depleted and must be replenished from outside sources to meet his growing needs. The liquid diet he's been sipping up to this time can no longer supply adequate amounts of the vitamins and minerals his body requires for proper nourishment and growth. His innards need a little finely divided bulk, in a non-irritating form, to give them heft to go on.

To meet this need, scientists, working with doctors and dietitians, have developed strained foods—fruits, vegetables, cereals, and soups—all cooked with scientific skill, strained to minute particles perfectly sized for the delicate digestion of an infant, and packed in sterilized, enamel-lined cans. Now, to feed our babies according to the latest scientific doctrines, we open a can of these ready-to-serve strained foods, heat a portion in the top part of a tightly-lidded double boiler, spoon the food into baby's dish, and serve.

But baby feeding has not always been a matter of such streamlined skill. For from very ancient times up to about the middle of the eighteenth century there were almost no new developments in infant feeding. Among many primitive people the nursing of babies, which was the only type of feeding practiced, was a haphazard duty generously undertaken by all the available women in the tribe. Artificial devices for infant feeding—always invented by men, not women—did not exist among primitive people at all. But among the relics left by ancient cultured people there are many urns, flasks, spoons, cups, and saucers used as containers for pap, which was served as a supplementary feeding to infants centuries before the Christian era.

Many curious notions of infant care and feeding have been expounded by specialists in ages past. Galen, a famed Greek physician, advised swaddling clothes to press the baby's body into shape; salting down the new-born babe to toughen his constitution; and feeding baby on mother's milk to keep him moist and warm. Confucius advised maternal nourishment up to the third year. Surprising, isn't it, how all these theories seem to emanate from men. Women, throughout the ages, have been silent on the subject. They have probably been too busy doing the job to publicize their theories.

A piece of advice that dominated the field of infant feeding for generations was propounded by Avicenna, an Arabian living in the eleventh century. He believed not only in supplementing maternal nourishment with a wet nurse, but also recommended that "the nurse before giving bread or other solid food to the infant should chew it thoroughly in her mouth, and then spew it or put it with her fingers into the infant's mouth." This pigeon-feeding method was practiced as late as the eighteenth century even in America.

During all this time, though cows and humans had been living close together for centuries, cow's milk was not used for infant feeding. Not until the first research on the chemistry of milk was published in the latter eighteenth century was cow's milk considered fit food for a baby, and its use was not widely practiced even then until the nineteenth century.

In the eighteenth century Hugh Smith invented what he called a "bubby pot", which paved the way for the modern nursing bottle and the cow. This lidded, urn-shaped metal pot, not unlike a coffee pot, had a long slender spout with a rounded nob on the end perforated with three or four tiny holes through which the infant suckled milk. It is scarcely credible that man did not succeed in developing this device, more nearly like the normal method employed by nature, until the eighteenth century.

Following the "bubby pot", which was enormously successful both with nurses and, with mothers, many other versions of the feeding bottle were developed. One of the most adroit of these was a cow's horn with "two small bits of parchment shaped like the finger of a glove, and sewed together in such a way that the food poured into the horn could be sucked through the stitches." In 1861 the rubber nipple was invented, and from then on infant care and feeding progressed rapidly, through research and experiment, to the important position it holds in science and medicine today.

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . . .
DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?
Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.
LANG'S CAFETERIA
623-625 Madison Avenue
COVINGTON KENTUCKY

TIRES!
MUST BE SAVED
Align Those Wheels and Save Time and Money
COlonial 0670
R. MICHELS
Welding Co.
702 Washington St., Covington

EARLY TO MARKET

● WAYNE shortens your feeding period, and helps you hit the high market.
SOLD BY
COLONIAL
COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

NAGGING BACKACHE
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!
Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. Theseafter efforts are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.
After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.
Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
It is much easier to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.
THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS
All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say, Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILLS

YOU CAN BE SURE
of satisfactory results beforehand if
BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT
is on the can.
It's always a guarantee of dependability, uniformity of maximum results, with a minimum of effort and cost.
There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You
Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.
THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.
112 PIKE STREET COVINGTON, KY.
Phone COlonial 0212

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Epping and daughter Rose Marie, Mr. and Mrs James Lentz of Richmond, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Flynn and son Dennie, Mrs. C. T. Pickett and son Eldon were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Littrell of near Walton motored to Connersville, Ind., Sunday to visit their son-in-law, Allen Boss, who is critically ill with pneumonia at Memorial Hospital of that city. However, he is slightly improved at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Kite of Richwood were the dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McMillian of Covington.

Stewart Ross of Cynthiana spent the weekend in Walton with Louis Shields.

Mrs. A. E. Hue of Florence has gathered and sold $16 worth of scrap iron and paper to donate to the Civilian Defense.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kuyper of Hyde Park, Cincinnati were Sunday afternoon guests of Mrs. Kuyper's sister, Mrs. Mayme Simpson.

Miss Joan Kinman of Florence, Truitt DeMoisey, Mary DeMoisey and Buddy Walker motored to Cincinnati Saturday evening where they enjoyed the moonlight boat ride on the Island Queen.

Mrs. N. E. Northcutt and daughters spent Friday shopping in Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. John Paris of Lexington were weekend guests of her mother, Mrs. Sallie Day and Jimmie Day.

Mrs. Cecil Gaines was shopping in Cincinnati one day the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Benson and family of Forest Hills visited Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Mann and daughter of Texas arrived here on

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Divine and daughter if Texas arrived here on Monday to visit her mother, Mrs. Wilbur Kelly and family.

Billy Bently of Mt. Olivet is visiting his mother, Mrs. Opal Bently at the Beauty Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Kendall and Lawrence Welsh spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Barnett of Campbellsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeMoisey and family moved Saturday to their new home, which they recently purchased from Rev. R. F. DeMoisey.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gaines have moved to the property recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Neal on South Main street.

Geo. P. Nicholson & Son have begun remodeling the property leased by C. B. Taylor to Frank DeMoisey, for his new place of business.

W. D. Scroggin, Camp S. C. S., Beverly, W. Va., who was called here by the illness and death of his father, W. D. Scroggin of Verona, was a visitor in Walton on Wednesday.

Miss Anna May Forsee and Miss Lewellyn Forsee of Owenton are guests of their sister, Mrs. Robert Brugh, who is very ill at her home here.

VERONA

The parents of the Verona school are reminded of the annual May Day on Friday, May 1st. There will be a display of school work and contests of all kinds on the school grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stewart of Patriot, Ind., have been visiting their sisters, Mrs. Arch Noel and Mrs. J. B. Lamn and families.

Rev. A. K. Johnson and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hamilton spent Sunday at the Hunt home. Mrs. Hunt is still not well.

Miss Irene Hudson has returned from Christ Hospital to the home of her sister, Mrs. Mattie Whitson.

John Boyer and daughter spent Monday in Worthville and Campbellsburg.

School was dismissed Monday because of registration at Walton.

The community sympathizes with William Scroggin in the loss of his father.

The Sunbeams will meet at the Church Saturday afternoon.

SOUTH FORK

Miss Lana and Blenche Lamn spent the weekend wit htheir parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lamn.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler and Mrs. Ethel Finnell and D. O. Dean were visitors in Covington Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hon and son Gene called on Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon Thursday night.

Little Ronald Ray Noell has been very ill the past week.

Mrs. Dora Rider and little son spent Thursday with Mrs. Laura Lamn, helping paper. Afternoon callers were Mrs. Helen Densler and Mrs. Sue Rider and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear, Mrs. Lula Sisson and Georgia Hon called on Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Dean Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Noell and son entertained Mrs. Helen Scott and children and Mrs. Jessie Woods and son Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Brashear called on Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon one night last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Sisson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and family and Mrs. Lula Sisson.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler called on Mrs. Katie Densler and daughter Sunday night.

Ceaberry Noell was a caller in Union Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon called on Mr. and Mrs. Will Hon Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Laura Lamn and Mrs. Helen Densler called on Mrs. Dora Rider and little son Wednesday afternoon.

JONESVILLE

We will not forsake the house of our God.—Neh. 10:39.

Rev. C. B. Love of Louisville filled his regular appointment here Sunday. He and Mrs. Love were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller.

Sunday night we were privileged to hear Rev. Robert Bratcher of Brazil, who spoke to us of the land of Brazil and of their dire need of the gospel of Christ.

Our church had an egg-gathering for the Orphan's Home Sunday and around 90 dozen eggs were donated to the homes, besides some donations in money.

Several from here attended the monthly Training Union Associational meeting at Concord Church Sunday afternoon.

The Ten Mile Sunday School monthly meeting will meet next Friday night, May 1 at the Paint Lick Church.

Her friends here are glad to know that Mrs. J. S. Ransdell is recovering nicely from a recent operation performed at the Baptist Hospital, Louisville.

Revival services began at the Methodist Church here April 27, Rev. Lewis, a former pastor, is doing the preaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lee Furnish and daughter spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall and son.

Misses Fannie and Allena Herndon, Edna Webster and Leonard Herndon spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Herndon of Covington.

Miss Dora Jane Cook of Dry Ridge spent the weekend with Mr and Mrs. Price Furnish.

Mrs. Everett Furnish and daughter Wanda, Miss Mabel Kemper, Mrs. Anna Greene and son Alva went to Ft. Thomas Army Post last Friday to visit Pvt. Bradford R. Kemper, who has been in the hospital there for the past three weeks. He was permitted to return home with them for the weekend, returning to the Fort Sunday evening.

Mrs. Adda Beatty was returned to her home here last Tuesday from Good Samaritan Hospital by Oscar Orr and is convalescing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Jacobs and family of Covington visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burke, Saturday.

FOR VICTORY - BUY BONDS

CONCORD

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Webster of Berea are visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rex and son of Ludlow visited their parents here over the weekend.

Mrs. O. J. Struve of Covington spent Thursday with her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Chapman. Mrs. Chapman is improving some.

Rev. G. N. Smith spent the weekend at the Mahford Craft home. He attended the B. T. U. meeting at the church Sunday afternoon. All who attended enjoyed it.

Mrs. C. D. Hughes and son Harvey were business visitors in Warsaw Saturday.

The G. A. and Sunbeams met at the church Saturday afternoon. A very good attendance was had and the program enjoyed. The absent ones were missed.

Mrs. Fionnie Edrington spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Marvey Hughes.

Sunday School each Sunday at 10:30. Everyone attend that can. The B. T. U. will follow on the first and third Sundays.

MT. ZION

Mrs. Kenneth Ferrell has returned home after a two weeks visit with he mother, Mrs. Works, of Morning View.

Miss Nannie and J. F. O'Hara spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Roberts and family of Latonia.

Miss Barbara and Gerald Stephenson of Latonia visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hingham and family over the week end.

Robert Blair of Covington spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Blair.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Heck of Oakley, Ohio, spent Thursday with Mrs. Cook and visited her mothers grave.

Mr. and Mrs. WeldonStephenson and frlend from Lexington, were entertained in the I. G. Stephenson home last week end.

We are sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence from our midst, who have moved to Latonia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Justice spent last week in Covington, with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Jump entertained relatives and friends from town Sunday.

Pvt. Roy Alexander who is stationed at Norfork, Va., and Pvt. Leroy Ferrell from Camp in Illinois, are spending a short furlough with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Harve Ferrell.

Mrs. Gertie Hendricks and daughters spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schulker and daughter.

Mrs. Minnie Schulker and family had as guests Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. ed Schulker of Dayton, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. John Schulker of Independence. Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Atha and son, Larry Marshall of Napoleon.

The Homemakers S. S. class met at the church last Thursday with a good attendance. The Bible study is very interesting, all members should attend.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Connelly and Mr. and Mrs. Audric Connelly of Covington called on Mr. and Mrs. Amber Gross and family, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mondike are spending their vacation with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Alexander and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jones and daughters were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones and daughters, Wilma

Mrs. Stella each visited her sister, Mrs. Irgie Jones and family Wednesday.

The Mt. Zion S. S. are taking a study course each Sunday. book title: "The Ten Commandments" taught by Mrs. Mabel Miller and Mrs. Corrone Franks.

Misses Lena Mae Greenwell and Margaret Gatewood of Covington and Cincinnati visited relatives here Sunday

...THAT LAY Early!

The size and number of eggs your flock will lay next fall depends much on what you feed your pullets now. Purina Chick Growena, a complete feed, is built to give you full, complete development in order that you may have big, well matured pullets during the fall when egg prices are high.

See us today about your growing feed needs.

J. H. FEDDERS' SON
COVINGTON, KY.

J. L. HAMILTON & SON
FUNERAL SERVICE
VERONA KENTUCKY

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Menefee spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Conrad of Crittenden.

Rev. Moman was called as pastor of our church Saturday at a business meeting.

Don't forget Sunday the 4th is "Go To Sunday School Day." Everyone is invited to attend.
-SwVog etao etaoI

Bell county farmers bought 3,000 bags of certified seed potatoes, despite their costing $1 more a bag than they did last year.

The cheese plant at Springfield has been receiving 19,000 pounds of milk daily, or about double the amount received a year ago.

School children in Henderson county expect to collect $800,000 pounds of salvage material this month.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION PAID?

REAL BARGAINS
WE SELL FOR LESS

1936 PLYMOUTH FULL PRICE $125

'36 Plymouth Coach	$211
'38 Willys De Luxe Sedan	198
'41 Plymouth De Luxe	595
'42 Buick Convertible; radio, heater. down	435
'41 Pontiac; one owner	895
'40 Oldsmobile; like new	665
'37 Packard 6 Sedan	295
'38 Plymouth De Luxe Coach	385
'39 Chrysler De Luxe 6 Sedan	575

All Have Good Tires. See Them Today.

TRADE and TERMS
WE ARE OPEN UNTIL 10 P. M.

MADISON MOTOR SALES
425 MADISON AVE., COVINGTON HI 2652

BABY Chicks
$8.00 Per 100
BLOOD TESTED HEAVY MIXED
REGULAR STRAIGHT RUN Unsexed $10.50
Sears-Roebuck & Co.
720 Washington Street Covington, Ky.

FULL LINE OF
GLIDERS - HAMMOCKS
PORCH & LAWN FURNITURE
Covington Awning & Roofing Co.
3rd and Scott Sts., Covington Hland 1735

GOODE LEADS IN SEEDS

CORN: GOLDEN CROSS BANTAM HYBRID SUGAR CORN; Field Corn: Reids Yellow Dent, Early Clarage, Boone County White, Wilson's White Dent, 90 Day White, White Cap Yellow Dent, Calico, Snyder's 60 Day, U. S. 13 Hybrid, Indiana 845.

Protect your seed corn, when planted, from Crows, Moles, Ground Squirrels, Ground Mice—STANLEY'S CROW REPELLENT, guaranteed—1 Bu. size can 60c—2 Bu. size can $1.00—4 Bu. size can $1.75.

CANE SEED—Atlas Sorgo, Orange, Amber, Honey Drip — MILLET, SUDAN, BUCKWHEAT, KAFFIR CORN, SOYBEANS, CRIMSON CLOVER, Etc.

GEO. C. GOODE
23 PIKE ST. - 22 W. 7th COVINGTON, KY.

Your Electrical Appliances and the War

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

BY JUNE 1, the manufacture of virtually all electrical appliances will have ceased for the duration. This action was taken by the War Production Board to conserve vital metals and to speed the conversion of the appliance industry to war production. Appliance manufacturers are cooperating wholeheartedly as their contribution to the all-out drive for victory.

How will the cease-production edict affect you? What can you do to assure a continuation of the necessary functions that electricity performs in your home? Here are some timely suggestions:

1 If you have appliances that are in good condition, keep them that way by giving them proper care and attention. Continue to use them for essential purposes, but avoid wasteful and unnecessary use that causes needless wear.

2 If some of your appliances need repairs, have them attended to now by a competent serviceman. Often a small part or a minor adjustment will make an old appliance as good as new.

3 If other appliances have outlived their usefulness and cannot be repaired, replace them now with best-quality new ones that will give you trouble-free service for the duration. We still have a stock of new appliances to meet essential needs and we will endeavor to take care of the requirements of our customers as long as our limited supply lasts.

It has always been our policy to help our customers make the best and most economical use of their electrical service and we plan to continue this policy to the fullest extent possible. We invite you to consult us or any electrical dealer regarding your appliance maintenance and repair problems. We'll help you in every way we can. We suggest that you try to make your present appliances last for the duration, but if you need new equipment, we urge you to buy now while stocks are available and you can purchase on present favorable terms. Waiting may entail disappointment.

Community Public Service Co.

Walkin' Roun With Walker

by 'Buddy' Walker

Quite a bit of confusion and inconvenience was caused one day last week when (leave it to Art) Kent was piddling around in a switch box with a screw driver over at Frank Demoisey's new place, and blew a transformer fuse. For once we had the Advertiser ready to go to press at 1:30, but didn't get to start printing until abou 4 in the afternoon—after waiting several hours for a man to come from Dry Ridge to repair the transformer.

Someone told Mildred Rice she was like a Blackmake—it took the sun to get her out. But I think someone is wrong. Mrs. "Spud" has been very ill, and I might add, that the Post Office is not the same when she is absent, and WBWW is glad to see you back on the job Millie. We hope you are OK.

Melva White has a new technique for catching fish. I don't know if it works or not—however, it does sound logical enough. Her idea is to sprinkle small crumbs on top of the water, just enough to make the fish hungry, and then drop that baited hook in for the bite—then snatch them out. Who wouldn't bite at a temptation like that.

Last week I didn't know the outcome of Rollie D.'s fishing trip but now I do. I know he brought home the catch, too. I might not have believed it, had I not tasted them myself, but he invited me to have a big sandwich of some of the best fish ever, for me. I think "wifey" Mabel had a lot to do with making them so good—she was the cook.

Mrs. Pruett, down at the Hotel, has already started training to do a man's job for the duration. I happened to see her pushing a wheelbarrow loaded with dirt—coming down High street, the other day. I think she has decided too, that that is not a very good way to reduce. It does work a lot of the excess fat off, but whew! what an appetite it gives you.

I had a kinda' dirty trick played on me the other nite by a couple friends—Georgia Rouse and Olive Johnson saw Mary and I leave the restaurant, and they raced on ahead of us and up behind the hedge in Georgia's yard, they were listening to what we were saying—about the same time we got even with the hedge, they jumped out to let us know they had overheard our conversation. No damage done—we were only talking about the weather.

Mrs. DeMoisey thought something terrible had happened the other day to her husband, when he came home with that terrible tattle tale (lipstick), on his coat. The only explanation he had to offer was that "Fox" had worn it the nite before—that was enough.

I bought myself a baseball glove the other day and had a little workout for myself. I don't know which was worse, when I got through—my hand or arm. It just goes to show you, however, what will happen when you start getting old.

I was sorry I had to turn down the invite I had to go on the hiking trip the other nite, but duty comes first. I know the gang had a swell time. I think nearly everyone went. The only damage done was when Emma Lou McElroy fell in the spring.

Melva White, Walton's "little" gal is planting herself a Victory garden, and I heard about her hoeing the weeds out of it the other day. I think Ed Orr has one too. They should get together and see which one will be the best.

I saw John Campbell the other nite sporting a blue hair ribbon. I didn't know it was stylish for men to wear them. But it evidently is for John to be wearing one.

Don't let the patch I had on my left eye last week mislead you—I was unfortunate enough to get a slug of hot lead in it. Now I know how Nick Welsh felt when he was wearing his.

A strange coincidence occurred the other day, when we had a fellow by the name of Larry Welch from Cincinnati, come out to help us do some extra work. We had two men by the same name then.

The last time I saw (Pluck) he and Joan Kinman, Florence cutie, were doing alright for themselves on the top deck of the Island Queen.

That Campbellsburg gal evidently suited Katy OK. I see he spent the weekend down there with her. She did look pretty good tho.

UNION

Miss Lucille Doane and Mrs. Myrtle P. Hicks of Frankfort, were visiting friends and relatives here Sunday.

Miss Nannie P. Burkett and Mrs. Maggie Wilson were calling on Mrs. Clinton Jones Sunday afternoon.

Miss Emely Bristow accompanied her aunt, Miss Marietta Riley to Lexington last Monday.

Mrs. Everett Robinson and daughters Vera and Thelma were shopping in Covington on Monday.

Mrs. W. S. Friend visited her relatives in Dayton last Friday. Mrs. Denton has as her guests her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Albert Denton and baby daughter Bonnie Lee at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Doane have had word of the safe arrival of their son Tommy at his station in San Diego, Calif. He writes that he likes the life of a seaman and wishes to hear from all of his many friends here.

Mrs. Jesse Delahunty and Mrs. Jim Bristow attended the funeral rites for their first school teacher, Andrew C. Collins, held in Covington last Friday.

Miss Mary Glenn Newman spent Monday with her friend, Crystal Masters.

School was resumed on Tuesday after a one-day holiday, due to our teachers assisting with the registration held Monday for men between 45 and 65 years.

Members and friends of New Haven P. T. A. are asked to be present on Tuesday night, May 5 when final plans will be made for our free pre-school clinic to be held May 7 and bids for manager for our lunch room will be accepted.

WALNUT LICK

Miss Mary Eva Allphin visited Miss Opal Beach from church at Concord Sunday.

Mrs. Addie Chapman of Sunman, Ind., is visiting relatives here since the death of her husband.

Mrs. Flonnie Edrington spent Saturday with her daughter Mrs. Iris Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilhoit of Cincinnati were out to their farm over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Webster of Berea, were visiting his mother and brothers, Mrs. Vevie Webster and sons and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Chapman, recently.

Rev. Smith was entertained in the Manford Craft home Saturday night and Sunday. Mrs. Sallie Whitson was a Sunday visitor also.

Sorry to hear Floyd Chapman is not feeling so well since he came from the hospital. Hope for his speedy recovery.

Quite a few of the men from here had to register Monday for U. S. A. service in any way they can help win the war.

Miss Blanche Webster of Beaver spent the wekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Russell Webster of Munk.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stewart of Patriot, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Noel of Verona attended church at Concord Sunday.

The B. T. U. meeting was held at Concord church Sunday afternoon with a good attendance.

James Whitson was calling on Mr. and Mrs. Atwood Greenwell on Sunday afternoon. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Greenwell and daughter Ellena.

Sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Scroggins of Verona. We extend sympathy to his son and other relatives.

Glad to see Wendell Webster back home. He has been working at Lawrenceburg, Ind.

TRUSTY AUTOMATIC—Still one of the Army's most effective weapons is the Browning automatic rifle. Like the old Springfield, it is the infantryman's standby. This rifle embodies features upon which no improvements have been made.

EQUIPPED FOR A RAID—Reconnaissance missions call for alert minds and sharp eyes. Hundreds of infantrymen are receiving special instruction in this type of work to attain self-reliance and confidence. They carry side-arms instead of rifles.

PETERSBURG

John Edwin Carver fell and seriously sprained his ankle one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell Hensley entertained Rev. Helton and family last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Christy are entertaining a little daughter named Barbara Ann.

The first aid training taught at this place closes tomorrow night, April 27th. Several from here have been able to take the entire course.

Quite a number of the W. M. U. members from here attended the Group meeting at Belleview last Thursday. A most enjoyable time was reported.

Sorry to know that Lyman Christy is critically ill.

Protracted meeting will begin at the Baptist church here the first week in June, under the leadership of Rev. Roy Johnson, pastor of the Burlington Church.

Most of the gardens are planted here. Some have been fearful of the big frosts we had last week.

Mrs. Al Stephens has been supplying as a teacher since the absence of Mrs. Joe Louis.

This community welcomes Jas. Feeley and family.

Mrs. Stephens of Aurora, Ind., spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Olga Geisler at this place.

Mrs. Nannie Birch of Alabama is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ed Walton.

SPARTA

Mrs. Luke Connelly Passes

Mrs. Narcissus Dalton Connelly passed away April 19 at her home above town from a paralytic stroke. All that loving hands could do was done to stay off the Grim Reaper, but to no avail. Mrs. Connelly was a christian of many womanly virtues, kind and considerate of others at all times and a good wife and mother. Born Nov. 23, 1873 in Gallatin county, where she spent her entire life. On April 1, 1906 she was married to Luke Connelly. She leaves to mourn the loss, her husband and one stepson, whom she reared and loved as dearly as her own. The funeral was conducted Tuesday from the Oakland Church by Rev. Smith. Besides her husband and stepson, Courtland Connelly of Wabash City, Ind., she leaves one sister, Mrs. Lulie Jones of Sparta, and Utwo brothers, Benj. of Glencoe and Harry of Louisville. The remains were laid to rest in the Glencoe Cemetery, by C. L. Carlton & Son.

STAFFORDSBURG

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanna had as guests on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs W. H L Hanna and son of Latonia.

Rev. and Mrs. Kidwell, Mrs. W. E. Hanna an dMrs. J. A. Keeney attended the District Conference at Florence on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Hoffman spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pruett.

Warren Binder spent Sunday night with Donald Keeney.

Mrs. Daisy Richardson and Miss Helen Richardson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mann of Hamilton.

A nice number were at Sunday School. Come and join us. We need you.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rapp spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Denver Binder.

Mumps have been the order of the day but everyone seems over them now.

Let us praise the Lord for his good and for His wonderful works for the children of men.

A survey showed that all members of homemakers' clubs in Kenton county are using enriched bread.

Is YOUR SUBSCRIPTION Paid In Advance?

It Should Be, You Know!

WALTON ADVERTISER

PHONE 30

FEED FOR EGG PROFITS!

With Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS

$4.50 PER 100

POULTRY FEED

DAIRY FEED

POULTRY SUPPLIES

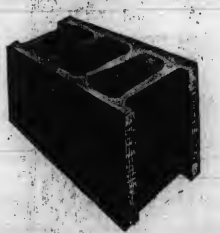
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE

512 Pike Covington

RELIABLE MONUMENT CO.

912 Madison Ave., Covington 11th & Lowell Sts., Newport

Our New 1942 Spring showing of memorials is now on display at our two convenient show rooms. Hundreds of stones to select from in Rock of Ages, foreign and domestic materials. Higher Quality or Better Workmanship is Not-To-Be-Had.



—WHERE MOST PEOPLE BUY—

— Ask About Our Deferred Payment Plan —

NORTHERN KY.'S LARGEST MONUMENT ERECTORS

For Your Protection

THE BLOCK WITH FULL DRESSED TOP

Faces, Edges, Corners, Have Beauty Of Cut Stone

Many of our 4x8x16" Block are being used to build Milk Houses and many other buildings on the farm. Buildings from these blocks are permanent and economical construction.

—See Us for Further Information—

COLONIAL

COAL and SUPPLY CO.

Phone DIxie 7626

DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER, KY.

COPPIN'S

MAY

SALES

Gives You Seasonable Merchandise At Saving Prices

See FRIDAY'S KY. POST and FRIDAY'S TIMES - STAR FOR REAL VALUES

COPPIN'S

Madison at 7th

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for May 3

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE DAY OF ACCLAIM

LESSON TEXT—Mark 11:1-11; Luke 19:41-44.

GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.—Mark 11:9.

The last week of our Lord's earthly life had come. "Normally, in fact almost universally, the last week of a man's life is of practically no significance. In many cases he is too sick to speak with any clear intelligence, and, of course, when ill, is incapable of doing any noteworthy deeds. In our Lord's life, the last week was the most important of all, and to it more space is given (in Scripture) than to any one whole year of Jesus' ministry" (Dr. Wilbur M. Smith).

The first day of that week found our Lord riding into Jerusalem in humility, and yet in royal majesty, to present Himself as Israel's King and Messiah. We find

I. The King Seeking Man's Help (Mark 11: 1-7).

How surprising that the One who made and upholds all things (Col. 1: 16, 17) should have to say, "The Lord hath need of him," in sending for a humble beast of burden. Yet therein lies a marvelous truth. He has graciously so ordered the universe that He has need of us and of our possessions. That was true in the days of His flesh, when He had voluntarily become poor for our sakes. In a somewhat different sense, but nonetheless precious, it is true today.

To be needed by anyone—to have that which can be used—is always encouraging, but to find that the Master needs us and what we have to give, is truly inspiring. Let us learn to give as readily as the owner of the colt (vv. 5, 6), and let us also learn the important lesson of unquestioning obedience taught in verse 4. "They went their way" to do what the Lord told them to do. How greatly simplified and glorified would be the lives of Christian people if they would thus obey Christ.

II. The King Receiving Man's Homage (Mark 11:8-11).

Presenting Himself as their Messiah, Jesus received the enthusiastic acclaim of His disciples and friends, who were probably joined by others who were drawn by the excitement. But the Pharisees did not join in (see Luke 19:39, 40) nor did the city, not even knowing who He was (Matt. 21:10, 11). So it is today; some love and praise Him, some hate Him, others just ignore Him. Of which class are you?

He gave Jerusalem and the nation a final opportunity to receive Him. It was not yet too late, but it was their last chance. Such a time comes in the life of everyone of us. They rejected Him. What do we do?

But let us not forget that there were those who shouted, "Hosanna," who cast their garments down before Him and waved palms of victory and joy. Thank God for their holy enthusiasm. Pray God that we may have a little more of it. We have come to the place where nobody shouts "Hosanna" or "Hallelujah" except the church choir—and they do it only in carefully modulated tones. We cheer at ball games or at a political rally, and while we surely do not want that same kind of confusion in the church, it would be quite appropriate to bring some real enthusiasm into our Christianity.

Our Lord knew that it would not be long ere the multitude would be changing their cry to "Crucify Him," for He knew their sinful hearts. So in the midst of His day of acclaim we see

III. The King Weeping Over Man's Sin (Luke 19:41-44).

In times of great joy or under unusual circumstances we are prone to think only of our own pleasure or our own need. But with Christ the need of the souls of men was never for a moment forgotten. He might well have gone on to Bethany to rest and rejoice with His friends over His triumphal entry into Jerusalem.

This constant and tenderhearted concern which Christ had for the city which hated and was soon to crucify Him; this remembrance of their need even in His brief hour of public acclaim, may well teach the church a much needed lesson. Many churches are prosperous, well cared for, and even popular. They are prone to rest back and ride the crest of the wave of popularity, forgetting the souls of men and women in need, many of whom live under the very shadow of the church. Shame on us for such callous indifference in the light of our Lord's agonized weeping—for such is the meaning of the word in Luke 19:41.

Others may observe that their city or community is hostile to the gospel, that men would rather crucify the Christ than receive Him. And so they are content to have their snug little spiritual retreat where they meet to comfort one another and to congratulate themselves on their spiritual haven. Again we say, shame on us!

Classified Ads Get Results

T. is Week on The Home Front

The Axis has mobilized the slave labor of Europe and Asia. America is mobilizing thee free labor of a free nation. The most significant development of the week was the announcement of the national man-power mobilization to be undertaken by the new war man-power commission, under chairmanship of Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt.

Its job will be this: to make sure that manpower needed to make the weapons and planes and ships, will be available when and where it is needed—to find the proper place for everybody in the war effort, to make every citizen in a sense a soldier.

The week marked up advances in the war production drive. 100 more war plants, now 6$$ in all, have labor-management committees. As war production speeds up, civilian production slows down or stops. At the same time, people on the "Home Front" cease enjoying a lot of things, and adjust their lives to the war's grim regimen.

Farmers will soon have to return to the old-fashioned steel wheel and steel tired wagon. Except for combine harvester-threshers, making of farm equipment using rubber tires was discontinued Thursday. Production of rubber tired combine tires stops July 31.

If you do not need it for direct war work on wor "essential to the public welfare" you may have difficulty getting new phone service this year. The WPB has ordered drastic restrictions on expansions of telephone service. As a result of the order, it is estimated that 200,000 applications for residential service will be denied. Order will save 53,000 tons of lead, 35,000 tons of iron and steel, 54,000 tons of copper, 6,500 tons of zinc and 1,890 tons of crude rubber.

Manufacture of fancy fishing tackle is just about out for the duration but WPB just couldn't go so far as to ban steel for the fish hook. No more metal, cork and plastics for tackle after May 31, and the hooks can be made at the rate of only 50% of production until September 1. George Moore, chief of the WPB sporting goods unit, (who must have fished, sometime, somewhere) explained.

The radio industry began "signing off" at midnight April 22, when 30 of 55 companies ceased civilian radio production and prepared to convert to 100% war production. At the same time, two large companies, RCA and Philco, shrunk production 80%. These 32 companies now have war contracts totaling $700,000,000. The remaining companies, are given one to six weeks to taper off.

Need for sand bags, camouflage cloth and food and agricultural bags caused the War Production Board to order cotton mills to convert looms from civilian fabric making to work on these fabrics. fabrices of nearly all kinds will be sacrificed. Burlap supply from India is a war loss, hence the serious shortage of bag materials.

At the same time practically every product of the cotton goods industry is ordered under an OPA price ceiling Monday. The new order covers manufacturers' prices chiefly. Order covers blankets, towels, bedspreads, ginghams, table cloths and napkins, etc. Here's the reason: between July 1, 1941 and March 27, 1942, prices of 49 types of cotton goods were uped 21%. Prices will be pushed back to july 21 to August 15 period in 1941.

Supply of motor trucks is dwindling too fast. Three new Office of Defense Transportation orders are directed to common carriers, contract truck operators and pivate carriers. and are aimed to pevent overloading, under-loading, empty return trips. The truck companies are encouraged to pool shipments, arrange for joint terminals, operate joint pickup and delivery service, split the costs.

Concers operating local delivery services, must after June 1 cut down their truck mileage 25% as compared with the same month in 1941. WBP order is to conserve tires and machines and gasoline. Office of Defense Transportation began to encourage "pooling" by concerns having separate delivery services on March 12, when it asked them to submit joint plans which could be approved as not in violation of anti-trust laws. Now the restriction is made compulsory.

The dish makers got their price ceiling dished to them Monday. Hundreds of china and pottery articles used in the average American home are covered by an OPA order.

There is still some elastic in girdles, bassiers, and corsets. Freezing of rubber thread and yarn by WPB 26 awoke reflections on the era of whalebone and steel stays of straight-jacket comfort. Today the elastic material is being released. The garments will have but 50% as much stretch, and there'll be only 75% of last year's estimates many months' supply aread.

WPB order of April 9 against manufacture and sale of women and children's ensembles caught much finished garments on shelves of manufacturers, jobbers and retailers. It wasn't economical to let them lie there, so the PB now permits those already made to be sold.

The "anti-knock" in the carburetor, is now in the same class as "anti-freeze." Benzine, needed in making synthetic rubber, can no longer be an ingredient of "anti-knock" solution in gasoline—high octane aviation gas expected.

Nearly 60,000 more passengar automobiles will be available for rationing this year than was previously estimated.

Workers in the Republic Steel Corporation plant in Cleveland recently set a world's record for steel plate production in a 24-hour period.

WPB is co-operating with the National Safety Council to campaign against iaccidents in the factories. Accidents in the plants last year caused a loss of 460,000,000 man-days of work, believe it or not!

What about strikes in defense industries? During first three months of 1942 332.000 man-days were lost by stikes. while workers worked 552.000.000 man-days. During first three months of 1941, 1,384.000 man days were stuck away. while the workers were on the job a total of 156.000.000 man days in defense industry.

—FOR VICTORY: BUY BONDS—

BAPTIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky
C. J. ALFORD, Pastor

10:15 a. m. Bible School
11:00 a. m. Morning Worship
7:00 p. m. Baptist Training Union. A fully graded Training Union for all ages.
8:00 p. m. Evening Worship
8:00 p. m., Wed. Prayer Meeting

METHODIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky
REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor

Sunday School 10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship 7:00 p. m.
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Walton, Ky.

Bible School 10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
Sermon by Rev. Geo. S. Caroland
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church

J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.
10:00 A. M. Bible School
11:00 A. M. Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. Evening Worship
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.
Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Union, Kentucky
Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister

Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.
10:00 a. m., Sunday School,
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship,
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.
Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor
First and Third Sunday—
Sunday School 10:00 a. m.
Preaching Service 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor

Sunday School 10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship 7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH

Verona, Ky.

REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor

Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Morning Worship 11 a. m.
Evening Service 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8 p. m.
All times given Central War time

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .

W. E. TAIT, O.D.
OPTOMETRIST
OPTICIAN
27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.
Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.
For appointment phone—
HE. 2088

FOR BETTER HEALTH

Some indications of eye-strain are: Squinting, frowning, straining to see, drowsiness after reading, headaches, nervousness, discomfort of eyes after reading, sensitiveness of eyes to light, wrinkles and crow's fee tareound eyes, imperfect vision, and have to hold reading matter very close or at arm's length.

We examine eyes and furnish glasses that will correct eye-strain.

Frank Riggs Optometrist

NICHOLSON

"Love thy neighbors as thyself." It's just the little homey things, the unobstrusive, friendly things, the "wont you let me help you" things that make ur path way light."

The more you do for your fellowmen the more you benefit yourself.

"God's thoughts are above human knowledge — He moves in mysterious ways. To work out eternity's purpose through time's short procession of days."

"The clouds may rest on the present and sorrow on days that are gone, but no night is so utterly cheerless that we may not look for the dawn."

Most warmly was C. O. Morgan welcomed home Thursday from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Days have lengthened into weeks and weeks into months since he was first admitted, having been a patient there since February 4th where he has lain close to death.

To the gratification of many friends, Mrs. Oscar Rankin has sufficiently recovered to return to her home from the Jewish Hospital.

A special effort is being made to have alfalfa on the farms of all Utopia club members in Logan county.

Whitley county farmers are planning to buy a grader and sell potatoes in carlots.

A 70-year-old member of homemakers club in Fulton county is walking through her community to encourage families to have gardens.

Cards giving adequate diets were placed on tables in restaurants in Breathitt county.

What About The Old Folks?

When they're not so active anymore and spells of constipation annoy them with dizziness, heartburn, headaches, or torturing gas pains, get ADLERIKA. We have many letters from thankful users who are far past middle-age. Your druggist has ADLERIKA.

Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton

DEAD STOCK REMOVED

SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS
CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887
REVERSE PHONE CHARGE
Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.
LOCKLAND —:— OHIO

JOB PRINTING

Give Us Your Next Printing Order And See For Yourself If You Are Not Satisfied

JUST CALL 30

and we will be glad to give you

FREE ESTIMATES ON

HANDBILLS, BOOKS, ENVELOPES, STATEMENTS, POSTERS, CARDS, LETTERHEADS, RULED FORMS, TAGS, BLOTTERS, ETC.

The ADVERTISER
Phone Walton 30

Newscaster

Jay Sims, successor to Peter Grant as WLW's top newscaster, joins the Nation's Station with a rich background of radio experience. Sims is heard nightly at 11:00 p. m. EWT, and on Sundays as moderator of the "Views on the News" broadcast at 4:30 p. m., EWT.

Executives

Robert Dunville, vice-president of the Crosley Corporation and assistant general manager of stations WLW-WSAI, left, conferred with William S. Hedges, NBC vice-president in charge of stations during the NBC War Clinic Agendum recently held in Cincinnati.

Regan And Hays

Phil Regan, personable screen-stage-radio singing star, returned for a brief visit to the studios of WLW where he made his radio debut several years ago. Pictured here rehearsing with Virginia Hays, Phil later was featured on the "Boogie-Woogie Queen's" Sunday afternoon broadcast. Virginia is also heard on Sundays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 11:45 p. m., EWT, when she and her announcing companion, Marion Moore, go visiting on late listeners with a bit of music and friendly chatter.

Bombs Over America?

The possibility of bombs dropping upon American cities is being impressed upon all minds by the display of bomb shelters in many communities. Jim Cassidy, WLW-WSAI special events director, is seen describing the interior and exterior features of this one during a recent broadcast from Dayton, Ohio.

Confidante

Ruth Gilbert is the best friend and confidante of Bess Johnson, who has the title role in the "queen of the day-time serials," aired over WLW-NBC weekdays at 10:00 a. m., EWT.

Pert

Pretty Pert Kelton brings talent as well as glamour to the whimsical comedy programs of Frank Fay over WLW-NBC at 10:30 p. m., EWT, Thursday nights.

War Reporter

John W. Vandercook, bearded and erudite news commentator, is one of the experts called upon from time to time during the "War Reporter" broadcast heard over WLW-NBC on Saturdays at 5:45 p. m., EWT.

Irish Rose

Beauteous Betty Winkler, known to WLW-NBC listeners as Rosemary Murphy in the Saturday night serial 'Abie's Irish Rose', adds a note of affection to one of her 8:00 p. m., EWT, love-duets with Abie Levy.

"Hen-ree Aldrich!"

This call from the best known mother in American radio is the voice of Katherine Raht. She's Ma of "The Aldrich Family" heard over WLW-NBC Thursdays, 8:30 p. m. EWT.

Try Advertiser Classified Ads

Swingerettes At Ease

Hot rhythm is their specialty, these lovely little swingerettes of Fred Waring's"Pleasure Time," though you'd never suspect it from this soulful mood. Patsy Garrett and Donna Dae (left to right), heard over WLW-NBC Mondays through Fridays at 7:00 p. m., EWT, also are billboarded over the country now as the Chesterfield girls.

Air Clown

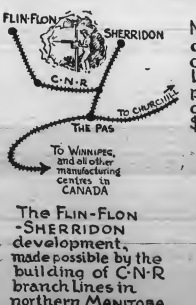
Victor Borge, below, sensational comedy discovery of the year, gives a big lift to those WLW-NBC Bing Crosby programs with Jerry Lester aired at 9:00 p. m., EWT, Thursdays.

SHE'S GOING PLACES . . Janet Blair, Altoona's flaming contribution to Hollywood's glamour contingent, currently co-starred with Pat O'Brien and Brian Donlevy in "Two Yanks in Trinidad," was formerly a featured dance band vocalist. Columbia Pictures, to whom she is under term contract, are convinced that her talent matches her face and figure, which would seem to be a more than adequate guarantee of a brilliant film future.

Paratroops Boast First Jumping Chaplain

—INFANTRY SCHOOL PHOTO

CHAPLAIN RAYMOND S. HALL



Parachute troops at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia, boast of a literal "sky pilot." He is Chaplain Raymond S. Hall, former rector of St. John's Protestant Episcopal church, Lowell, Mass., and the Army's first jumping chaplain.

Chaplain Hall is a quiet, husky young man inclined to regard his present assignment as the happy working of fate. When he was first assigned to Benning, there was no regulation requiring chaplains to jump. Chaplain Hall soon fixed that. After a week of talking to the men he applied for permission to take the gruelling five-week training course. He found it rough going. It had been more than ten years since Chaplain Hall was captain of Brown University swimming team and a member of the All-American swimmers, and life in the rectory had not prepared him for the enthusiastic body-bending a parachutist must perform in training.

Today, as a qualified parachutist, he looks forward to each jump with zest. He also speaks with modest satisfaction of the men's reaction to his jumping. "It increased attendance at church," he says.

Wartime Railroading in Canada By Thurstan Topham

COPPER, vital wartime metal, is now being produced in great quantity from areas which were wilderness before the railways came. Lines of the National System that were built into the unpopulated sections of the country have proved to be of tremendous value in — CANADA'S WAR EFFORT

The FLIN-FLON -SHERRIDON development, made possible by the building of C·N·R branch lines in northern MANITOBA, is one of the greatest COPPER producers in NORTH AMERICA

NORANDA-SENNETERRE AREA, developed since construction of C·N·R "TRANS-CONTINENTAL LINE" in 1915, where 27 Mines produced GOLD, COPPER and other metals to the value of $55,000,000. in 1941

Fifty Dollar Reward

FOR INFORMATION LEADING TO ARREST AND CONVICTION OF ANY PERSON OR PERSONS MOLESTING THE PROPERTY OF THE

Boone Lake Club

Incorporated

Classified ADS

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

WHITE LEGHORN CHICKS—Hanson Strain, $10.00 per 100. Frank Lang, Buttermilk Road, Erlanger. Ky., Box 185, Route 4. Phone 7084. tf18

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

FOR SALE—Baby chicks. Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

WANTED—We want thousands of Burlap Feed Sacks at once. We pay five cents each for good sacks, and will also pay you a fair price for damaged sacks. Turn your sacks into cash now. T. C. Crume Nursery & Landscaping Co., Highway 42, Florence, Ky. Phone Florence 782. 4124

FOR SALE—2 fresh cows, with calves by side, one Holstein and one Guernsey. J. A. Northcutt, High Street Road, Walton. 3124

FOR SALE — Roll top desk and several chairs, in splendid condition. At a bargain if sold at once. Write Box H, c/o Walton Advertiser, Walton, Ky. 3124

FOR SALE— National, automatic, nickel plated, can sealer. Good as new. Seals cans of all sizes. Also many beautiful quilts. Mrs. Grace M. Gray, Sanders, Ky. 3124

FOR SALE or RENT—2 cottages in Verona, Ky., for sale or rent. One store building near Verona Bank fo rsale or rent. On account of failing health will sell reasonable. Call or write A. C. Roberts, Verona, Ky. 3125

STRAYED or STOLEN—From the Gregg farm on Highway 25, one mile South of Walton, grey 4-year-old Percheron gelding. Any information will be appreciated. Jesse Brooks. 1t26

FOR SALE—Sow and eight pigs; also boar hog. J. H. Tomlin, Banklick. Phone Ind. 6252. 2126*

FOR SALE—Fresh No. 1 Jersey cows. Phone Walton 284. Dick Baker, Highway 42. 2126*

FOR SALE—Home Comfort range, wood or coal, good condition. See Pollie Belew, Bracht Station. P. O. Crittenden, Ky. 2126*

FOR SALE—Six-year-old dapple grey mare, ready to foal; one stand bees; also eight-piece solid oak dining room suite, with leather cushion chairs. Call Walton 495. L. A. Gardiner, Walton, Ky. 1t26*

FOR SALE—Fordson Tractor, with 2 Gang Oliver plows. E. L. Webster, Walton, Green Road. 2126*

WANTED — Electric pump, plus tank to carry water from cistern to second floor. Notify Q. E. D., c/o Walton Advertiser. 1t26

FOR SALE—1939 Ford DeLuxe; radio and heater. In good condition; good tires. Price $450.00. J. W. Powers, Verona, Ky. 2126

FOR SALE—Sow and seven pigs; team of work mules; 2 cows, one with calf by side, other calf ready to wean. Kenneth Maines Richwood, Ky. 1126*

FOR SALE—200 White Leghorn cockerels, one month old, 10c each this week—12c each next week. Robert Chambers, Walton, Route 1, Phone 706. 1t26

FOR SALE—One 3-year-old black horse, not broke; one 1-year-old colt. Call or see Mrs. Kirby Richardson, Staffordsburg Pike. Phone Independence 6731. 2125

CHICKS— White Rocks, hatched from our own flock, in our own sanitary incubator. Write for Mating list. Tele. Williamstown 5705. Menefee Poultry Farm, Crittenden, Ky., Route 1. tf16

NOW is the time to buy your winter coal. See Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

BUY your winter coal now! Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE — Piano. Phone 682, Edna Stamler, Beauty Shop, Walton. 2125

FOR SALE — Delco light plant, radio and fan included; fresh cows and calves; shoats. R. P. Hughes, Crittenden, Ky. 2125*

FOR RENT — Furnished apartments. 74 S. Main, Walton. See Mrs. Erma Stockman. 2125*

SAVE
YOUR CAR and MONEY
RIDE A BIKE
We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.
LIBERAL TERMS
DIXIE CYCLE SHOP
16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

BE SAFE - BUY NOW

221 Pike St., Cov. CO 1750
Dixie Bargain House
Better Furniture--Less Money
SPECIAL This Week Only $45

Give Unusual Gifts To Hospital Patients

"WHAT would Sue like while she is in the hospital? Flowers, I suppose. Or what?"

Well there are other things, a lot of them apparently unknown to well-wishers. But beginning with flowers Julia DeBarry has given a whole series of welcome suggestions to the readers of the January Good Housekeeping magazine. If you're sending flowers to the mother of a new baby, Miss DeBarry suggests waiting a week until the first excitement has died down. The same rule, she says, applies to illness of any kind — don't waste money sending flowers when the patient is too sick to enjoy them. But Miss DeBarry has some variations on the sympathy theme. Eau de cologne makes a pleasant addition to rubbing alcohol. So do a box of dusting powder, a few cakes of luxury soap, and the delightfully scented bath mitts that eliminate washcloths.

Unusual gifts are always welcome, Miss DeBarry writes. A mirror, for instance, is a godsend for a woman. The minute madam is feeling better she wants to do a job on her face. Another happy thought is a tiny down pillow—just the thing to tuck back of a tired neck. And for some curious reason most hospital rooms have either a glaring overhead light or a squat table lamp. Both are unsatisfactory, and for this reason a good gooseneck reading lamp makes an ideal gift.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Mottier of Indianapolis, Ind., were the weekend guests of the doctor's aunt, Mrs. Mollie M. Wallace.

Mrs. Lotta Powers of High School Court spent Saturday in Erlanger visiting her relatives, Claud Harris and family. Mr. Harris has been ill for the past several months.

HEBRON

Miss Sadie Riemer returned to her home last week from a few weeks with her sister in Indiana, recuperating from several weeks illness.

Mrs. Norris Riddell and mother, Mrs. Walter Arnold, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Geneva Arnold of Price Pike.

The play "Little Women" will be given by the dramatic club on Friday night, May 1 at 9 p. m., Eastern War Time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Baker and Mrs. Nan Baker of Ludlow.

Mrs. Harry Willoughby returned home Saturday from Booth hospital.

Miss Alline Stephens of Cincinnati spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. M. M. Garnett and Mr. Garnett. Other guests Sunday were Mrs. L. Marshall of Bullittsville and Wm. Ellison of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Graves spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Hickey.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill spent the weekend with relatives at Corinth.

Shirley Faulkner gave a party for her school friends Friday nite, April 24. Cake, ice cream and fruit punch were served the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Moore Marilyn Garnett, Harry Aylor, Helen Anderson, Bobby Whitley, Norma McGlasson George Beacom, Mary Fowler, Margil Lewis, Wyona Jane Anderson, Zelpha Nichols, David Lucas and Francis Faulkner. A delightful evening was enjoyed by all.

FOLSOM

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me, why are thou so far from helping me and from the words of my roaring.—Psalm 22:1

Rev. Butler filled his appointment at the Vine Run church on Sunday and was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ashcraft.

Mrs. Minnie Isaacs entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Palen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones and daughter Joy, Jep Osborne, Linn Jones, John Chapman and Bob and Marvin Osborne.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beach entertained for dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Beach and baby.

Miss Imogene Beach entertained Sunday, Miss Elnora Beach.

Miss Frances Hutton was the supper guest of Miss Imogene Beach Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beach were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Atwood Beach last Tuesday.

Jim Crouch of Cocington spent Sunday night with his sister, Mrs. Ike Hutton and Mr. Hutton.

We are glad to report that the sick are better at this writing.

Mrs. Ike Hutton spent Monday with Mrs. Alvin Ashcraft.

Mrs. Pete Kinman, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fannie Stone, for the past two weeks has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hall were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stone Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ashcraft etertained Sunnay, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beach and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Brackie Collins and baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Price were visiting her sister, Mrs. John Beverly and Mr. Beverly Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pettit entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pettit and children and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Doud.

Misses Roberta and Geneva Hubbard entertained Sunday Miss Elizabeth Osborne and Miss Anetta Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beach and baby Ronnie of Covington were visiting their parents of this community recently.

FLORENCE

Mrs. Edna Eggliston of Ludlow spent Tuesday with Mrs. R. L. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blackburn entertained with a six o'clock dinner Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Schadler of Erlanger.

Mrs. Charles Fulton spent Wednesday with Mrs. John Fossitt of Goodridge Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Noble of Cincinnati visited Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bonar and family of Price Pike Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kottmyer were called home from Florida by the sudden death of her mother. Mrs. Carrie Riggs of Constance.

Sam Hambrick of Burlington was a welcome visitor here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nixon of Covington spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Orsbell of Price Pike.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Allen called on Mrs. Howard Tanner on Tuesday afternoon.

Flower show is to be given at the school house by Homemakers Come out and enter your flowers and take a prize.

Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Tanner and daughter visited their aunt. Mrs. Fannie Utz Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert England were Sunday guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. England of Hebron.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Stephens spent the weekend with their son Shelton Stephens and family in Norwood, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Scott and son of Waterloo were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Clore

Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Rogers of Belleview spent Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Aylor.

Miss Marie Snelling is enjoying a few days with her sister, Mrs. Harold Aylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Crandell Acree and son Billy spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Connley and son Ronald.

Friends of Mrs. Edna Stephens are glad to know she is improving after falling Tuesday evening and cutting her arm. Seven stitches were required to close the wound.

Word has been received from Emil Hoffman and Dick Heidkamp that they have salled for paris unknown.

Corp. Robert Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scott, was visiting his family the past week. He is stationed in Calif.

Wood Stephens is now sexton of the Florence cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Scott and family have the sympathy of their many friends and neighbors in the death of her brother, Andrew Collins, of Covington.

Nancy Bonar has been very ill with a throat infection the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lilburn Buckler and son Orville were dinner guests Sunday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brown.

Mrs. Belle Corbin of Hamilton, Ohio spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mrs. Lloyd Aylor.

Miss Lottie Williams spent the weekend with her brother, Eli Williams and wife of Bullittsville.

Mrs. Jennie Dobbins of Erlanger will move to rooms of Mrs. Zetta Osborne this week and we welcome her to our midst.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Farmer and Mrs. Jack O'Reily and son Terry of Tulsa, Okla., have returned to their home after enjoying a delightful visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Piatt.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stevie of Covington have moved to their new farm recently purchased of J. P. Tanner on Price Pike. We are glad to welcome them into our community.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs. Lon Beemon still remaining ill, suffering from injuries received when she ran a nail in her foot. We wish for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Maddox are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a fine 10½-pound son since April 8. He has been named Donald Lee.

PINER

"The harvest indeed is plenteous but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth laborers into his harvest."

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Flynn and daughters Evelyn and Frances visited Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fisk and family.

A birthday party was given for Misses Elouese and Lucille Wayman. Those present were Misses Evelyn and Frances Flynn; Mary K. Beagle; Bettye Sue Caldwell; and Franklin Kidwell, Gordon Johnson, Raymond and Fred Russell. Many price gifts were received and everyone had a grand time.

We are sorry to hear that Nancy Beighle has been sick. Hope she will soon recover.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Stephens were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pelley and daughter of Covington.

SUGAR CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor entertained as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Noel, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Noel and children of Indiana. Afternoon guests were Mr. and Mrs. Van Spencer and sons of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miskell of Glencoe; Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Osborne.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wallick spent Sunday with Mrs. Anna Cayton and daughter of Warsaw.

Miss Myrtle Edwards called on Mrs. Donnie Radford, Saturday.

Clarence Taylor of Shelbyville is visiting his son, J. W. Taylor.

Mrs. Sarah Densler called on Mrs. Hannah Edwards, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meadows of Indiana spent the weekend with Mrs. Alice Combs.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pikes were the Sunday guests of Geo. Spencer

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Kinman entertained as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Lewallyen of near Carrollton and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Leary of Oakland Ridge.

Mrs. Eliza Wallick called on Mrs Joe Reffett of Napoleon, Saturday.

Misses Helen and Fayetta Miskell of Glencoe spent Thursday night with the Clifton sisters.

Miss Myrtle Edwards was a business visitin in Covington Thursday.

Mrs. Grover Clifton and son and Mrs. Susie Shelton were business callers in Carrollton, Saturday.

POPLAR GROVE

Mrs. Athel Crouch of Detroit, Mich., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Carver and son Tommy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughter Lillian entertained as their Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and family of Jonesville; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stewart of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Stewart and son of Glencoe; Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Stamper and family of near Jonesville, and Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Stewart and family of Jonesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Connelly and daughter Gwendolyn Rhea were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Giles of Hesler.

Miss Jane Lee Harrison spent the weekend with Miss Bernice Baldwin of near Long Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Connelly spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Willie Moore and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brock were Sunday afternoon callers on Mr. and Mrs. Evans Beatly and daughter Doris Jean.

Little Gwendolyn Rhea Connelly has been sick but is doing nicely at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brock and family were the Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Crock.

LeRoy Grinner and girl friend and Bennie Grinner were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Yancy and family.

Mrs. Robert Kelly has returned home after spending two weeks in Muncie, Ind., with relatives.

VERONA R-1

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks and Mary Katherine Black spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Willard Benson and Mr. and Mrs. Peck Benson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Marksberry and son spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker

Harvey Readnour, who was shot last December, had to be taken back to Booth Hospital. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

Ray Sparks of Walton had the misfortune to lose one of his fine hogs.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker are suffering from the flu. We wish for them a speedy recovery.

Charles Baker Young spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Marksberry.

Willis Lloyd Marksberry spent Sunday night an dMonday with his cousin, Charles B. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks and Mrs. Myra Readnour were shopping in Covington, Monday.

Remley Williams is suffering from a sore hand.

Mrs. Myra Readnour was at Booth Hospital Monday to see her son Harvey.

Mr. and Mrs. T .C. Mason and son George Heginbotham, and Mrs. Fred Simons motored to the Wright Airplane Plant, Sunday.

Mrs. Perry Mann of South Main street had the misfortune to fall from a stepladder while working at her home, receiving severe bruises, which confined her to her bed for a few days.

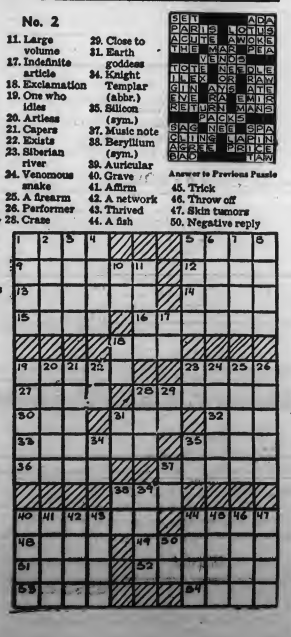
CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my thanks to all the neighbors, friends and relatives for all their kindnesses and consideration during the illness and death of my father, W. D. Scroggin.

Especially to the Verona Alumni and J. L. Hamilton and family.

His Son, Bill Scroggin.

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.
CHAMBERS & GRUBBS
Funeral Directors WALTON
Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service



Courtesy and Co-operation
Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.
DIXIE STATE BANK
WALTON, KENTUCKY
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Crossword Puzzle

No. 2

ACROSS
1. Break suddenly
5. Arabian garments
9. College in N. Y.
12. Italian goddess
13. Young organism
14. Singing voice
15. Antlered animal
16. To sell
18. Female fowl
19. Asian country
23. Vegetable used in soups
27. Platform
28. Cloth
30. Cover
31. Mountain pass
32. Astern
33. Summoned forth
35. Fodder vat
36. Pause
37. Measure of capacity
38. Large snake
40. Anything fired at
44. Gang
48. Across
49. Bury
51. Allot
52. A relation
53. Concoct
54. Wagers

DOWN
1. A lean-to
2. Alaskan city
3. French priest
4. Young salmon
5. Partly open
6. A tease
7. Poker stake
8. Carbon dust
10. Railway (abbr.)
11. Large volume
17. Indefinite article
18. Exclamation
19. One who idles
20. Artless
21. Capers
22. Exists
23. Siberian river
24. Venomous snake
25. A firearm
26. Performer
28. Craze
29. Close to
31. Earth goddess
34. Knight Templar (abbr.)
35. Silicon (sym.)
37. Music note
38. Beryllium (sym.)
39. Auricular
40. Grave
41. Affirm
42. A network
43. Thrived
44. A fish
45. Trick
46. Throw off
47. Skin tumors
50. Negative reply

Answer to Previous Puzzle

SET ADA
PARIS LOTUS
ACURE ANOSE
THE MAR PIA
VENDS
TORE DIE PLE
ILLER OFF ROW
GIN AME ARE
EVE ERA EMIS
RETURN WANS PACKS
BAG NEB SPA
LINE ARM
ACRE PSITE
BAD TAR

FIGHTS WEAR and WEATHER!

DU PONT
FLOOR AND DECK ENAMEL
For all wood floors, indoors and out. Resists scuffing, and weather. Easy to use . . . dries hard, conveniently fast. Many attractive colors.
FOR PORCHES AND INTERIOR FLOORS QUART 1.00

Walton Lumber Co.
Walton, Ky.

THE WAY TO GET REAL FALL EGG - PROFITS IS TO FEED YOUR BIRDS RIGHT DURING THE SUMMER

GET THOSE EXTRA EGG PROFITS

Try feeding your birds WAYNE GROWING MASH this summer. It's a sure way to make more egg profits. Your pullets will develop uniformly. They'll come into production at exactly the right time. And they'll have the reserve strength that will keep them from breaking down under the strain of steady heavy laying.

WAYNE GROWING MASH

COLONIAL
COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

Universary of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING,
PUBLIC Li...

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 27

Successful Flower Show Held At Florence Sat.

The second annual Flower Show sponsored by the Boone County Homemakers clubs was held in the lunch room at the Florence School on Saturday, May 2. Registration began at 1:30. Prof. N. R. Elliott, Landscape Architect of the University of Kentucky, spoke to the group on selection and care of bulbs, and answered questions concerning home landscaping.

Mrs. George Morith headed the committee of local Homemakers who so ably arranged for the show and carried it through. Members of the committee were: Publicity, Mrs. Sarah Marksberry, assisted by community club chairmen; Registration, Mrs. Joe Berkshire and Mrs. Mabel Sayre; Ribbons, Mrs. H. R. Barnett; Exhibits, Mrs. Girtie Fossett and Mrs. Ann Conner.

While Prof. Elliott and Mrs. Holton judged the exhibits, musical selections were presented by Mrs. Robert Clore, Burlington, piano; and Mrs. W. S. Worthington, Florence, violin, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. W. R. Stith, Florence. The entire group sang together My Old Kentucky Home and America the Beautiful, as well as requested numbers.

Mr. Elliott spoke briefly concerning a reclassification for next year's show, and cautioned tulip growers to observe foliage burns when selecting their entries. He said tulip bulbs should be set six inches under ground—that is top of bulb; otherwise they will come through early and bloom too early or be hurt by freezes. He said aphids were harming some tulips and these should be sprayed with black leaf-40.

Winners of the show are listed below:

Clara Butt—Mrs. Robert Clore, Burlington; Mrs. George Morith, Florence; Mrs. George Kobman, Florence.

Farncombe Sanders—Mrs. Geo. Morith, Florence.

Pride of Haarlem—Mrs. George Morith, Florence; Mrs. Oliver Kottmyer, Constance.

Yellow Giant—Mrs. H. R. Forkner, Burlington.

Zwanenberg—Mrs. Mabel Sayre, Florence.

Grenadier—Mrs. Geo. Morith of

(continued on page 8)

TO COLLECT TRASH TWICE A MONTH

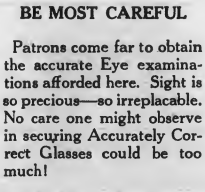
The Town of Walton will collect junk and trash the second and fourth Friday of each month, beginning Friday, May 8th.

The residents are requested to place their refuse on the sidewalk, near the street, on collection days.

W. C. T. U. Meeting Held Last Friday

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. R. E. Ryle on Friday May 1st at 2 o'clock.

The president, Mrs. Ryle, presided, with Mrs. John C. Bedinger, chairman of the program committee. The devotional was given by William Ryle, which was very inspiring and educational. Interesting talks were given by Mrs. R. O. Hughes, Mrs. C. J. Alford, Mrs. D. E. Bedinger and Mrs. Horace Simpson. The membership is increasing, we welcomed Mrs. Tom Percival and Mrs. Bryan Rector as new members.



Members present were Mrs. R. O. Hughes, Mrs. Elnora Hodges, Mrs. C. J. Alford, Mrs. Lula J. Hudson, Mrs. D. E. Bedinger, Mrs. Lotta Powers, Mrs. John C. Bedinger, Mrs. Horace Simpson, Mrs. Tom Percival, Mrs. William Sturgeon and the hostess, Mrs. R. E. Ryle.

PURCHASES REGISTERED HOGS AND BULL

Ottis Readnour recently went to Ohio where he purchased three registered O. I. C. sows and a registered O. I. C. boar. Mr. Readnour has been a breeder of O. I. C. hogs for the past twenty years, and plans to supply this community with good breeding stock.

A short time ago he also purchased a fine registered Holstein bull from the herd at the Greendale farm.

It is expected that about 15 acres of corlander seed will be grown in Harrison county.

BE MOST CAREFUL

Patrons come far to obtain the accurate Eye examinations afforded here. Sight is so precious—so irreplacable. No care one might observe in securing Accurately Correct Glasses could be too much!

DR. J. O. TYSON

OFFICES WITH

MOTCH

Optician —Jewelers

613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.

Established 1857

Rules Issued By Censorship Director

Director of Censorship Byron Price has issued the following rules for the guidance of persons corresponding with foreign countries and has directed that Postmasters advise the patrons of these regulations:

"1. Postal communication with enemy or enemy occupied countries is illegal, and will not be permitted, except:

"(a) Through the agency of the American Red Cross, which will transmit short messages of a personal nature;

"(b) Communications with prisoners of war.

"2. In order to make the censorship of international mail as effective and economical as possible, the public is earnestly requested to conform to the following rules in regard to correspondence with persons in foreign countries, other than enemy or enemy occupied countries:

"(a) The name and full address of the sender must be stated both on the outside of the envelope and in the letter itself.

"(b) Correspondence should be in english if possible; the letters should be legible, clear, and brief. Avoid use of abbreviations, nicknames, phrases of codes in place of customary reference or descriptions of any person, firm, location, or other information.

"(c) If English is not used the name of the language should be written in English on the face of the envelope.

"(d) No mention should be made of defense matters, shipping or weather conditions.

"(e) Firms employed on munitions or other Government work should not mention that fact in writing abroad.

"(f) Firms and individuals, except as indicated below should refuse to act as intermediaries or agents for the receipt and transmission of postal correspondence on behalf of persons in foreign countries.

"(g) A member of the Army corresponding with foreign countries will not give the name of his post, camp, or station, but should give as his address the Army post office number of his unit in care of Postmaster, New York or San Francisco or the address of a friend or relative in the United States, to whose care a reply can be sent for forwarding.

"3. Failure to comply with these rules may lead to delay in transmission or the return of correspondence to the sender."

I am asking the Walton Advertiser to acquaint the patrons of this office with these rules.—C. F. Cleek, Postmaster, Walton, Ky.

HOME NURSING CLASS FOR COLORED WOMEN

On Monday, May 11, a meeting will be held at the Florence Colored Church, 8:30 p. m., Eastern War Time, to organize a Home Nursing class for Colored women.

All colored women who can read and write are invited to take this course.

Those who have already joined are as follows: Mrs. Maggie Fisher of Erlanger; Lula M. Sleet, Jennie Saunders, Anna Baker, Frances Webb, Maggie Zellers, Lucy Dixon, Anna M. Rosebery, Alice Strader, Mary Ruby Rosebery, Della Sleet, Alice Sleet, Henrietta Baker, Lennie Baker, Myrtle Baker, Mary Sleet, Emma Sleet, Anna Sleet and Mary Louise Graham.

The two Burlington school teachers are getting up the class and will be glad to give information to any one desiring it.

All persons interested in Home Nursing are invited to attend this first meeting.—Elizabeth C. Lowry, Boone County Red Cross Nurse.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET TODAY

The Missionary society of the Walton Christian Church will hold their all-day meeting today (May 7) with Mrs. Lotta Powers of High School Court.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION PAID?

Dear Mom:

Everybody in camp has been busy writing letters to reach home in time for Mother's Day. There's a war on, and we've got a job to do, but we're all thinking of our mothers, nevertheless.

Truth is, we're thinking about you and home more than ever these days. Because it gives us a clear idea of what we're fighting for. We're all fighting for our country—and to us that means everything. It means the United States—it means our town, and, most of all, it means home. It means our folks—like you and dad.

We're all working hard at our jobs, too, because winning a war isn't the simplest thing in the world. But we want to get it over with as soon as we can, and get back home to greet you in person, on a future sunshiny spring morning with a

"Happy Mother's Day, Mom"

Your Son

Girl Scouts To Present Play Tues.

The Girl Scouts of Walton are presenting a play, "Trailer Romance," to be given Tuesday, May 12 at 8:00 p. m. The proceeds are to be given to the Boone County Red Cross. The play is being directed by Mrs. F. E. Bedinger.

The characters are: Vaselina Ross, Emma Lou McElroy; Mrs. Scroggins, Wanda Dixon; Eve Scroggins, Barbara Crouse; Lucille LePierre, Beverly Pruett; Marge Nevins, Betty Lee Denny; Dora Dobbs, Jeanette Grubbs; Sue Summer, Carol Kendall; Virginia Ross, Colleen Vallandingham; Mrs. Tansy, Evelyn Sizemore; Miss Hall, Blanche Briftenhelm.

Come out and see these future young stars of Walton in this 3-act comedy. Don't miss it.

A Pint Of Your Blood To Save A Soldier's Life

Myron M. Stearns says, in a recent issue of the Reader's Digest, that here is one thing that all healthy Americans can do, who want to serve and do not know how: give to your country a small portion of your own blood. Plasma for transfusions must be available at the scene of battle.

In the last war the method of restoring blood to a wounded man was by direct, arm to arm transfusion from another of the same blood type, a process dangerous and often impossible on the battlefield. But in the last few years medical men have worked out a new soultion. It is the use of plasma, one of science's major miracles. Plasma is the yellow liquid portion of the blood left after the removal of the red blood cells.—Publicity Chairman, Boone County Blood Donors' Service.

PREVENTING FIRES HELPS WAR EFFORT

Every resident of the United States can promote this country's war preparations by constantly being on the alert to prevent the destruction of property by fire, it is pointed out by D. R. Peel, State Fire Marshal of Kentucky.

"With serious shortages existing in many materials needed for the war effort," he said, "it is vital that all citizens do everything possible to prevent such shortages from becoming worse through the destruction of our resources by fire.

"A case in point was the destruction by fire late last year of 15,800 tons of rubber at Fall River, Mass.

"In January an addition to the arsenal at Springfield, Mass., was seriously damaged by fire."

FLORENCE MAN TO GRADUATE FROM EVENING COLLEGE

Five years of almost daily travel between Florence and the University of Cincinnati Evening College campus will be culminated June 5th when William H. Middendorf of Florence, will receive a certificate in electrical engineering. He will be eligible for graduation when he completes the present semester's work in physics and alternating current machinery.

Mr. Middendorf began Evening College work in 1937, shortly after graduating from the Covington Latin School. At present he is an engineer with the Wadsworth Electric Mfg. Co., Covington.

RECEIVES MOTHER'S DAY GREETINGS FROM SON

Mrs. John Gault of North Walton received the following cablegram Wednesday morning, from her son, Johnny Gault, located in Australia, with the U. S. Air Corps:

"Dearest Mother, thinking of you on this Mother's Day. Love, best wishes to the dearest Mother ever. Your son, Johnny Gault."

This was the first message the Gaults have had from their son since the last day of March.

If the boys could understand how much a few lines from them mean to their parents and friends, it would make them very happy.

To Speak Here

Dr. Paul S. Powell

Dr. Paul S. Powell, new District Superintendent of the Methodist Churches of the Covington District, will speak at the Walton Methodist Church, Sunday evening, May 10th. This will be the first time Dr. Powell has visited Walton. He replaced the late E. D. Edelmaier as District Supt.

All members and friends are urged to attend this service. It will be a fitting way in which to end Mother's Day.

On Monday evening, May 11, Dr. Powell will deliver the Commencement address to the graduating class at the Burlington High school.

D. L. Lusby Grocery and Residence Destroyed By Fire Friday Afternoon

Last Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock, fire broke out in the attic of the Lusby Grocery on North Main street. The Walton Volunteer Fire Department was called, and shortly after the Florence Fire Department was called, to aid the local fire-fighters in an effort to save the structure. However, by the time the Florence Department arrived, the flames were beyond control, and the grocery, as well as the living quarters of Mr. Lusby and family, adjoining, were completely destroyed. Grocery stocks, as well as all household furnishings and clothing were a total loss. The loss is estimated at about $12,000, which was only partially covered by insurance.

The cause of the fire is unknown but it is thought that it may have been caused by defective wiring or by a stray spark from some source.

Roy Dixon and Tracey Hume were completing their work of painting the entire building when the fire broke out.

It is said that, had it not been for the aid from the Florence Fire Department, adjoining buildings would have in all probability been included in the blaze.

Almost immediately after the fire Mr. Lusby began receiving inquiries, and requests, as to his resuming his business, so on Saturday he leased the Stella Cluster property, also on North Main St., and expects to be open, after a fashion at lease, to the public by Saturday, May 9th. Mr. Lusby states that he expects to have a "bigger and better" grocery than ever before, when fully established in the new location.

Mr. Lusby has always enjoyed a fine business, and we are sure all of his many friends and customers will be pleased to know that he will continue to serve them. The business is run by Mr. Lusby and his son, Florian Lusby.

Local Fire Department Criticized

Since the Lusby fire the Walton Fire Department has been receiving criticism from all sides, and for the most part we believe the criticism is justified. However, the report that the engine ran out of gasoline, is unture, according to reliable information. But, the locals did have their troubles in getting the hose connected and in finding someone who knew how to start the water pump.

Delays as this are costly, as was demonstrated, and continuance of practices such as these will cause insurance rates in Walton to go "sky high," and this was confirmed by one of the local insurance agencies.

Blame for this sort of action can not be placed on any one individual, but shows a total lack of interest on the part of many members of the department, and unorganized action on the part of those who are present. It is imparative that Fire Departments, to be effective, must have regular fire drills, with each man having his particular job, and knowing how to do it.

We trust that this display of inefficiency will be the necessary "shot in the arm" for the local department, and that they will be able to meet any emergencies in the future.

PRE-SCHOOL CLINIC TO BE HELD HERE MAY 12

A pre-school clinic will be held at the Walton school on May 12th, beginning at 1 p. m. All children who enter school next fall will be examined. Examinations will be made by Dr. R. E. Ryle.

Mrs. Gaines Entertains Dorcas Class

The Dorcas Class of the Walton Baptist Church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Cecil Gaines of South Main street, Thursday.

The subject was "Prayer," with Mrs. Fannie Brittenhelm as the leader.

Members and visitors present were Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Alford, Mrs. Fred B. Simons, Mrs. Susie Norman, Mrs. E. B. Powers, Mrs. R. E. Ryle, Mrs. D. K. Johnson, Mrs. W. L. Sturgeon, Mrs. Beulah Stephenson, Mrs. Julia Pennington, Mrs. Fannie Brittenhelm, Mrs. Ray Crouch, Mrs. T. W. Jones, Mrs. T. C. Mason, Mrs. Bess Conrad, Mrs. John Sleet, George Heginbotham, Judge Sidney Gaines, and Mrs. Helen Graff. A delicious covered dish dinner was served at the noon hour.

Married In Dayton, Ohio, On May 1st

Miss Shirley Eloise Rouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert H. Rouse of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mr. Robert Bruce Telfer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Telfer of Minneapolis, were married in Dayton, Ohio, on May 1st. The Rev. J. P. Brereton officited at the ceremony in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church at 8:00 p. m.

Miss Rouse looked very charming in a pastel blue costume suit with Navy accessories. Her flowers were white iris, with sweetheart roses.

The attendants were Miss Ruth Shields and Mr. Morse Hill, formerly from Minneapolis. Miss Shields chose a Navy suit, with white accessories. Her flowers were gardenies.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the attractive apartment, where the young couple will make their home, at 704½ Salem Avenue, Dayton.

Mr. Telfer is an airplane radio technician at Patterson Field, Dayton. Mrs. Telfer was a government employee at Washington before moving to Dayton.

Mrs. Telfer has many friends and relatives in Walton, who extend congratulations and west wishes for a long and happy married life.

An Appeal To The Citizens Of Boone Co.

Three out of every four of the Pearl Harbor attack victims required transfusions. Without plasma a large portion of them would have died. But of those who reached Tripler General Hospital in Honolulu, 9 out of every 100 were saved. The other hospitals had almost equally amazing results.

As our soldiers and sailors may be fighting on a dozen fronts, in jungle, desert or on Arctic shores, large quantities of plasma are indispensable. Even though each man is prepared to give blood instantly to the injured comrade, transfusions of whole blood will be out of the question usually at the scene of battle. We must have enough to place plasma on board every American warship, to send it every place where fighting is likely to occur, so as to preserve life when every minute counts.

WARSAW YOUTH PASSES

James Robert Jackson, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Jackson of Warsaw, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, for the treatment of pneumonia and abcess of the lung on March 26 and died on March 27. He leaves his parents, five brothers and two sisters, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Webster, six uncles and aunts and cousins.

Rev. A. M. Smith conducted the funeral at the Warsaw Baptist Church, Sunday morning at 10:00 a. m., with burial following in the Jonesville Cemetery, with C. L. Carlton & Son in charge.

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER—Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1868

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

LABOR is still in the spotlight here, and the problem of what to do about strikes continues to receive attention. The recent testimony of Admiral Land, Chairman of the Maritime Commission, that "this infernal agitation is going around in everybody's head about whether it should be a closed or open shop, or whether they should join this or that union" made a deep impression on many Congressmen.

Added to this is the fact that strikes in war industries were more serious in March than they were in February, according to figures released by the War Labor Board. An official WLB release listed 73 strikes in March, as compared with 55 the month before. During March strikes involved 35,000 workers and caused a loss of 167,000 man-days. The February figures were 23,000 workers and 119,000 man-days.

In spite of this marked increase, WLB officials say that the general labor situation is good and that no legislation is necessary. Many Congressmen, however, remain unconvinced, and, unless the situation improves, they are apt to become more insistent that something be done to guarantee continuous, no-strike production in war plants.

OBSERVERS here are watching the new War Manpower Commission, headed by Paul V. McNutt, as it formulates plans for "labor priorities." Although Chairman McNutt says that he hopes the plan can be operated on a voluntary basis, he admits that "circumstances will determine that." Key administration officials, however, indicate that some sort of compulsory assignment of workers will be adopted—probably after the November elections.

According to present plans, 13 million new recruits will be needed in war factories by the end of the year if industry is to continue to beat its promise in the production of munitions. Many of them must come from peacetime industries. When they are taken from such industries, an effort will be made to use skills where they are most productive, Mr. McNutt says, but he indicated that there would be no widespread migration of labor from one occupation to another if it can be prevented. The main concern, however, is victory production, and it's a safe bet that other considerations will be subordinated to that. It's recognized here that war industries are generally on schedule and in many cases are ahead of schedule on orders, but they will need a steady supply of new employees to maintain their records.

INDUSTRIAL slowdown in war production work are catching the attention of many government officials at the moment. The Army and Navy are pooling efforts with five other government agencies (Maritime Commission, War Production Board, War Labor Board, U. S. Conciliation Service and Bureau of Labor Statistics) to combat the practice.

According to those "in the know" slowdowns fall into two classes. The first is intentional and is engineered by labor as a means of securing concessions from employers. The second is caused by apathy and low morale on the part of the individual worker.

It's pointed out here that industry has already tackled the second with morale-building campaigns in war plants, and officials recognize that such plans are already producing results. What to do about the first cause is another problem, and is tied up with the entire labor picture, especially as it involves labor union cooperation in the war effort.

Money Talks

By
Frederick Stamm, Economist
Director of Adult Education
UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Rigid price control for the duration of the war is now a reality. Many economists have been predicting for months that if we are to control inflation we must control all prices and all wages. Now as a result of President Roosevelt's message to Congress, Leon Henderson, Federal Price Administrator, has placed a price ceiling on "almost everything Americans eat, use, and wear."

What effect will this order have on consumers and on retailers? First, consumers will be assured that the purchasing power of their dollars will remain relatively stable. The order states that after May 18, retail prices, with few exceptions, must not exceed the highest levels which each individual seller charged during, March, 1942. This should encourage more orderly and normal marketing, for the consumer need not hoard now in order to "beat" higher prices later on.

The retailers, however, may not fare so well. During April many retail prices have been marked up to prices much higher than those prevailing during March. After May 18 these prices must come down to the March level. A survey of Louisville grocers, both independent and chain, indicates that all of them will have to reduce prices on many articles to meet the new ceiling. Also many grocers said they had purchased much of their stock during April and now they must reduce prices to March levels which means selling at very little profit, if any.

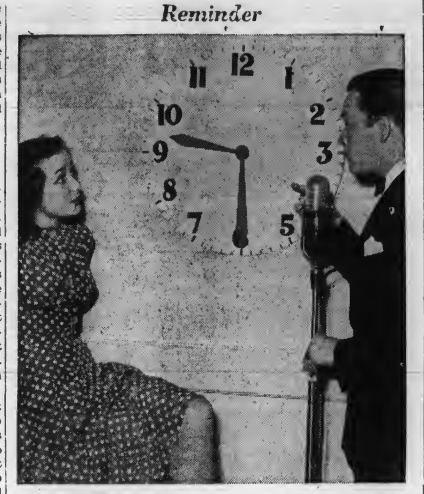
Retailers must also preserve existing records of sales made during March for maximum pricing purposes when the ceiling goes into effect. This record keeping will add extra cost to doing business. Retailers must watch costs and profit margins more closely than they have for years. They may also have to stop handling some low profit lines and concentrate on rapid turnover, profitable goods

Price control is a harsh measure aimed to curb inflation. It will succeed only if the Government is willing to put a ceiling also on agricultural prices and industrial wages.

FARM WHEAT STORAGE IMPERATICE—

With terminal and other warehouse facilities for wheat already crowded to the bursting point in most areas, and with a record carry-over of 630 million bushels and a prospective new crop of around 800 million bushels, there is going to be a tremendous shortage in the storage capacity of the country, according to a letter just received by F. L. Kerr, Vice President of the Production Credit Corporation of Louisville, from A. G. Black, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration.

Governor Black urges wheat growers to "start right away to build storage bins on their farms for a large part of this year's crop will back up on farms and not move in the usual channels to terminal elevators in the usual way." He points out that "there are enough nails and lumber to build all the farm storage that is needed, provided farmers begin the work immediately. If they do not start now, but wait until the last minute before building their storage bins, there will not be enough nails and lumber in the right places at the right time to complete the job." Governor Black points out that if the quotas are continued they will help farmers to keep excess wheat on their own farms and the 7 cents per bushel storage allowance will be available if the quota-loan system is continued. This allowance will help farmers to finance the needed farm storage space.



Mr. Kerr states that eligible farmers who have adequate security for loans also may obtain assistance in the financing of the building of farm storage from production credit associations. In view of the inadequacy of terminal storage facilities and the shortage of burlap bags for flat sack storage, it is the patriotic duty of every wheat grower to do what he can to store wheat on his own farm and build now while there is yet time and facilities with which to build storage bins. Many of these bins, he points out, will not be separate structures but will be areas partitioned off in barns where the wheat can be stored with a minimum of loss from moisture, insects and rodents. "I cannot stress too strongly the serlousness of the present storage situation," said Mr. Kerr. "The way things look now when the harvest is finished next fall we will have two years' supply of wheat on hand but this does not mean that we can be prodigal with it and waste it because of insufficient or improper storage."

OVER THE TOP FOR VICTORY with UNITED STATES WAR BONDS-STAMPS

Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria
Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package
Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

Don't Let HIGH PRICES UNPLEASANT TASTE INCONVENIENCE
Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.
You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take
ONE A DAY VITAMINS A AND D TABLETS
Pleasant-tasting - Convenient
Economical
Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping

Reminder

Jimmy McClain ("Dr. I. Q." to you) shows pretty Norma Jean Jahn, "Sweetheart of the 8th Corps Area", the clock set to 9:30 p. m., EWT. When the program took on a new sponsor recently the mental banker moved the WLW-NBC quiz time up a half hour.

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

BY
Gordon Wilson, Ph.D.
WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE
BOWLING GREEN, KY.

"Horse and Buggy Doctor"

Like several other millions of people, I read and enjoyed Dr. Arthur Hertzler's HORSE AND BUGGY DOCTOR. Though he was born late enough to become a modern physician and surgeon, he certainly gives a good picture of the old-fashioned doctor, just as true a picture of a Kentucky doctor as of one from Kansas. Besides the fascinating portrait of the doctor the book also reveals the psychology of the doctor's patients, especially the patients of a half century ago. Nothing was more obvious then than the faith the multitude had in traditional remedies. Though people sent for the doctor, or later telephoned him, many a time they refused to take his medicine and, consequently, had an alibi for not paying him for his trouble.

That reminds me of what my father, an old country doctor, always said about the efficacy of his medicine. If some old granny came in to nurse the sick immediately after the doctor's visit, her advice and remedies would have precedence over what the medical man had said. Her memory of the amazing effect of certain herbs or teas left no doubt in the mind of patient and family that she could work wonders. Dr. Hertzler laughingly says that sometimes the granny's remedies did no worse and no better than his own, since the patient got well or died of his own accord. Undoubtedly the old-fashioned doctor often failed to make his giving of calomel and quinine a mystical affair, a kind of voodoo. Probably if he had made a few mysterious signs and pronounced some strange words, even Granny would have been convinced. Getting medicine out of some clean bottles or boxes was just too much.

Quackery of all sorts thrived in olden times, but it rarely charged anything for its remedies. Many an old granny got her pay through the pleasure she obtained from thwarting the plans of the doctor man. Her remedies were often perfectly harmless; sometimes they had a solid basis in medical knowledge. She, of course, did not know the difference between the two kinds. Her successors are numerous and make a paying thing out of their quackery. The human being loves to be hoodooed and pays for a chance to be duped. Whenever we laugh at our ancestors for their devotion to Granny, it would be well to check up on our own town first.

Fortunately, old-time quacks were afraid of cutting into the human flesh. It is doubtful whether anybody in my entire acquaintance before I left Fidelity in 1906 had ever had an internal operation. The regular doctors were quite as afraid as the quacks. Many a life was lost in this way and many others saved. With no knowledge of germs and with only elementary notions about infection and cleanliness, the older doctors really took a life into their hands when they performed necessary operations. Strong constitutions and natural immunities saved the lives of some of the patients. It was easy for Granny and doctor alike to account for the death of others: the wrong time of the moon, too much of too little bleeding, bad night air, constitutional weakness.

In reading books on earlier medical practice I often run across accounts of diseases that one never hears of now. That does not mean that we have changed the names, either, but that with even the sanitation now praciced several former scourges have practically vanished. Most of these are forms of infection that rubber gloves used by the surgeon or various methods of disinfecting have prevented. I cannot help wishing that some of the people who suffered at the hands of willing but ignorant doctors and quacks might have lived long enough to meet and know modern surgery.

When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
—24-Hr. Wrecker Service—
Cars Washed - Storage

PEOPLES LIBERTY BANK & TRUST CO.
COVINGTON, KY.
MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

PATHFINDER
Keep Up WITH EVENTS EVERY WEEK from THE NATION'S CAPITAL
Read PATHFINDER
PATHFINDER brings to you in words and pictures the drama of events fresh from Washington, D. C., the nation's capital, today the world's news center. News, features, and facts, events boiled down into 20 interesting, inspiring departments. Complete, unbiased, non-partisan, non-sectarian, dependable—gives both sides. Improved new features. World's oldest, most-read news weekly at one-fourth the cost of others. Furnishes clean, reliable reading for the entire family.
This Newspaper & PATHFINDER BOTH one year Only $1.80

TOMATO GROWERS' SERVICE LETTER—

by John S. Gardner.

This letter is about how to stop the fleabeetle. This is the small black insect that starts working sometime swhile the seedlings are still in the "crook" stage. It can completely ruin the plant bed.

The way to stop it is with a spray, and the best spray is Bordeaux mixture. This is made of bluestone, lime and water, and this is the way:

1. In a wooden bucket or in a cream crock, dissolve 1 pound of bluestone, in 5 quarts of water. The way to dissolve it is to hang it in a sack whose tip is just in the water. In this way, it dissolves of itself. Or, if powdered bluestone can be gotten, merely stirring is needed to dissolve it.

2. Into the tank of a 3-gallon compressed-air sprayer (preferably with a brass or copper tank) put 9 quarts of water.

3 Add one quart of the dissolved bluestone, and 4 ounces of fine-screened plasterer's lime.

4. Close the sprayer, and shake it endwise, 10 times, making 2½ gallons of 4-4-50 Bordeaux.

Bordeaux cannot be made ahead, as it separates and cannot be made good again by stirring, but 2½ gallons is enough for a 1-acre planibed, one spraying. The dissolved bulestone can be saved in a corked jug, to be ready for instant use whenever any more Bordeaux needs to be made.

Bordeaux has a tonic effect on tomato plants causing them to become weedy and stocky, the kind of plants that live when set. Bordeaux has the effect, too, of delaying the blight, the disease that knocks off the leaves and exposes the fruit to sun-burn. The tomato leaves sprayed in the plant bed are the lower leaves of the plant when it begins to fruit.

First spraying should be given when there are enough "crooks" to mark the row. Then repeat in about 3 days, for the second. From then on spray every week, making the last spraying good and thorough so that the plants are good and blue when they are set. Depending on the season, it will take 5 or perhaps 6 sprayings.

G. O. Pace of Marshall county expects to harvest about 700 bu. of Burr clover seed.

"I drink large quantities of milk and am well and strong," an 82-year-old man told a foods meeting in Grayson county.

Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day
★ ★ ★
Let's Double Our Quota

COULD YOU run your present business if you were blind? Can you get the most out of it if you are half blind? If your eyes need attention, see
L. J. METZGER
Optometrist Optician
631 Madison Ave.
Covington
Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

KENTUCKY HATCHERY Baby Chicks
All leading breeds U. S. Approved, Blood-tested, started chicks one, two and three weeks old. Prices right. Also Eared chicks. FREE CATALOG. Write: KENTUCKY HATCHERY 837 WEST FOURTH STREET • LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY

HEALTH and HAPPINESS Await You At
DILLSBORO
Home of the Famous White Crane Mineral Water
Although Dillsboro's fame is based largely on the excellent results obtained from treating arthritis, rheumatic afflictions, stomach troubles and nervous disorders, more people daily find Dillsboro the ideal place to vacation. Here, amidst pleasant, quiet surroundings, one rests, relaxes and builds up a reserve of health that wards off trouble in the future.
Visit Dillsboro for a week or so. Take the mineral baths and drink the waters. The glowing health, the peace of mind and the general rejuvenation you receive from the Dillsboro treatment will give you a new lease on life.
RATES $27.00 to $37.00 WEEKLY
Include delicious Meals, Attractive Room, Mineral Baths
E. F. Gerkepott, Mgr.
DILLSBORO HEALTH RESORT
U. S. Route 50 DILLSBORO, INDIANA

You can begin your Insured savings account today with as little as $5

SAFETY is INSURED
FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1242

Your Eyes deserve the Optometrist
Are You Irritable — Nervous? Perhaps your eyes are the cause. An examination may reveal it.
JOS. B. SCHNIPPERING
Optometrist and Optician
(Formerly with F. Pieper)
5 Pike Street, Covington
Phone HElock 0700

GROW US FAST FOR "DEFENSE" FEED UBIKO LIFE GUARD CHICK STARTER
● Aid "Food for Defense" and help your chicks pay you BIG RETURNS. Start them on Ubiko LIFE GUARD Starter . . . rich in Vitamins and 7 MINERALS needed for maximum results. Simple . . . Easy . . . Economical to feed. Come in today. Ask for FREE CHICK RAISING BOOK.
Walton & Readnour
WALTON, KENTUCKY

To Relieve Misery of COLDS take 666
LIQUID, TABLETS, SALVE, NOSE DROPS

SPECIAL CROP FOR WAR PRODUCTION PROGRAM— THE CASTOR BEAN

by E. N. Fergus—

Castor beans, or "mole beans," are produced by the castor-oil plant, a rank-growing non-legume plant that behaves as an annual plant in Kentucky. Both the plant and the bean are poisonous. Large and increasing amounts of castor beans are imported annually into the United States from Brazil for the manufacture of castor oil.

Large amounts of castor oil are used in dyeing and in finishing textiles, in making lacquers and paints, as a lubricant, and in hydraulic brakes. For some industrial purposes there is no satisfactory substitute for castor oil.

Apparently the castor crop in Brazil can and will be increased sufficiently to produce the beans needed in the United States. However, during the present emergency, lack of shipping facilities may curtail importations drastically, and beans produced in Kentucky will then bring a price more acceptable to our farmers than normally.

The seed bed for castor beans should be prepared as for corn, and the beans should be planted about May 1 to 10 in northern Kentucky, and at intermediate dates elsewhere in the state. Good yields will be obtained from plantings made a month or more later if rainfall is sufficient during July and August to prevent prolonged droughts.

The castor bean is adapted to all soil types in Kentucky, but there is little information regarding its soil fertility requirements for seed production. Rich bottom lands are perhaps not best for the crop because the plants grow too tall to harvest easily and the bean yields are not substantially larger than on less productive soil; in fact it appears that bean yields produced on rather poor soil are almost as good as those on good soil, provided rainfall is sufficient for good growth. Perhaps all but the more fertile soils of Kentucky should be fertilized with a phosphate fertilizer in sufficient quantity to supply 20 to 25 pounds of phosphoric acid per acre.

Varieties of castor beans adapted to Kentucky should be planted in rows 3½ feet apart, and the plants should be 1½ to 2½ feet apart in the row. Adapted varieties have small or medium sized seeds and can be planted with a corn planter. Planting is easily and quickly done by hand, of course. If the seed is good, each will produce a plant. Seven to ten pounds of seed are required to plant an acre. Preferred depth of planting is about 2 inches.

Castor bean seeds are borne in burs along all sides of a long stem the whole forming a long cluster. these clusters are produced in succession as the plant grows; therefore they vary in maturity at a given time. Likewise, each cluster ripens somewhat unevenly; consequently at any given time during late summer and fall the plants have beans in various stages of development. When mature they shatter more or less, varying with the variety and also, apparently, with weather conditions. When they do not shatter, they are most conveniently harvested by cutting or breaking off the cluster; but if they shatter as soon as mature the seed must be harvested by picking the burs as they ripen. If labor is available, it usually will be advisable to do more or less bur harvesting. Shattered seeds not only constitute a loss, but they produce volunteer plants the following year, a situation that usually will be undesirable. Immature frosted beans should not be harvested.

Occasionally the burs and clusters will be dry enough at harvest to store for shelling without further drying, but usually some of them must be dried first; otherwise the beans may spoil, and in any event they will be difficult to shell. Satisfactory drying can be accomplissed usually by spreading the burs on a dry floor and turning them over a few witmes, but if the weather is rainy it is best to place them in racks or on raised platforms in a slightly warmed building.

Castor beans must be threshed before they can be used commercially, and this is a rather difficult job because the beans are easily broken The burs can be broken rather readily by hand, but this method is too slow and costly to be practicable. They can be beaten out by hand, using a rubber hose, but this method is too slow and costly. A simple thresher, designed by Prof. J. B. Kelley, has been used to thresh about 10 acres during the past two years and has done the work satisfactorily when the burs were dry. This machine consists of a cylinder covered with corrugated rubber and a concave of corrugated rubber, the latter operating under a flexible tension. The threshed beans are cleaned with a farm fanning mill. They must be free of foreign material and broken beans to be acceptable for commercial use.

Varieties of castor beans adapted to Kentucky have produced average yields of 1300 to 1600 lbs. of shelled beans per acre in experimental plantings. When the weather is very dry during July and August, yields may be as low as 200 pounds per acre.

A good cover crop should follow castor beans. It can be sown between the rows with a one-horse drill or the seed may be sown by hand and covered with a one-row cultivator. These methods of seeding permit the work to be done at the proper time, but they leave the standing castor bean stalks to be removed during the winter. Generally the better practice is to use a tractor disk on the field shortly after October 1 and then drill the cover crop. Rye or rye and hairy vetch are undoubtedly the best cover crops for late sowing.

How to use a field the year after it was in castor beans is a problem if many beans were left on the ground. Most of these will germinate late the following spring and of course produce large plants by midsummer. These would be undesirable in all crops except those that are to be plowed under in the spring. Perhaps the best practice, therefore, is to plow under the cover crop and plant the field to corn. The castor bean plants can be destroyed by cultivation and a little hoeing. Or the cover crop may be plowed under after the castor beans are 6 to 10 inches tall and the field sown to soybeans, cowpeas or Sudan grass or even planted with an early maturing variety of corn.

At present the only markets for castor beans in sizable amounts are along the Atlantic Coast, where large oil extracting plants are located. Prices of the beans have varied from forty dollars to more than one hundred dollars per ton, F. O. B. New York City. Recent prices have been about $60.00.

Kidneys Must Work Well-

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

DOAN'S PILLS

Remember Bataan
Invest
A Dime Out of Every Dollar in
U.S. War Bonds

TIRES!
MUST BE SAVED
Align Those Wheels and Save Time and Money
COlonial 0670
R. MICHELS Welding Co.
722 Washington St., Covington

—FOR VICTORY: BUY BONDS—

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .
DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?
Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.
LANG'S CAFETERIA
623-625 Madison Avenue
COVINGTON KENTUCKY

Rugged Men, Mighty Machines Build U.S.-Alaska Highway Across Canada

ANOTHER United States-Canadian war cooperation project is being rushed to completion. It is the road starting at St. John in northern British Columbia, and connecting with Alaska. Adequate roads and rail facilities for the transportation of troops and supplies were existent up to Fort St. John, but now a land route from there on is opened across the Canadian wilds.

The United States Government is paying for the building and wartime maintenance of the highway and Canada is supplying all necessary facilities, including the right of way for the road. Canada previously paid for the building and maintenance of the completed airline from Edmonton, Alberta, to Alaska, which is now in operation.

In spite of the bitter winter weather, natural obstacles or human failings, the relentless drive to complete the highway has pressed northward. Across frozen Peace River a plank highway was laid (Photo 1) to carry heavily-laden truck trains at a wary pace of three miles an hour. These trucks pick up supplies and road-making machinery at Dawson Creek (Photo 3), which is the end of railroad facilities. Giving up all comforts to facilitate speed, the Canadian truckers operate a non-stop, 36-hour run from Dawson Creek to Fort Nelson, virtually living in their trucks. These drivers relieve each other every 10 hours, sleeping during their relief period (Photo 5) in coffin-like boxes atop the driver's cab.

Typical of the hard-fisted, corner-cutting American engineers working against the terrific odds of a Canadian winter is Felix Murawski (Photo 2), of Oklahoma City. He strikes a pose that designates our cheerful defiance of the stubborn bush country. The engineers and workers live in tent colonies at the scene of their work. Although the temperature sometimes fell as low as 50 below zero, snowfall was light this year. The frozen ground gave way before expert hands handling bulldozers, caterpillars, graders and drag lines (Photo 4) as these hardy men carved out a narrow pilot road which now is being widened and surfaced.

And now, through the foresight and cooperation of two democratic countries, a practical link in continental defense between the U. S. and Alaska as well as a great improvement through a previously wild and rugged country is nearing completion.

The Church Is The Hope OF THE WORLD

We Must Cling To It Now For Strength and Guidance

For 2,000 years the Christian faith has been a light burning in the darkness of a troubled world, a guide and a beacon to all men everywhere.

It has survived because, through all the ages, the Church has been its shelter and its shield. To the Church the people have turned for strength when they were sorely pressed, and for guidance when the way was dark.

We, who walk a dark and dangerous road today, must turn to the Church for strength.

We, who loved peace, are now at war. We are building the machines of war—the tanks and guns and planes and shells and ships, without which we cannot conquer.

Yet all these things that we are building cannot insure our victory. For Victory demands of us a greater strength than mass of men, and weight of guns.

It demands of us a strength of the spirit that only the Church can bestow. A strength that stems from the unfaltering faith that right will triumph; that hate and cruelty cannot endure; that mercy and compassion and brotherhood some day will rule the world.

If we go into battle without that faith we go as a nation strong only in the externalities and the trappings of war. We go as spiritual skeletons, a robot host without a soul.

Our sons and brothers who walk daily with death in the steaming jungles and ride with death in the air and on the seas, have learned already how great is the strength that comes from within.

"Send us bombers," they called, at first. And then "Send us bombers—and Bibles." For in time of trial, they had come to know what fighting men have understood from Bohemund the Crusader to Stonewall Jackson, from Galahad to Fathey Duffy: The man who fights in the name of Christ fights best of all.

They know it now. We too must learn it. As a nation we must learn it if we are to bear the hard trials, win the grim battles, and, when victory has come, write the just peace that will endure.

The doors of the Church are open. The light of the Faith still burns. The altars await a nation that bows its head to God—and in that act of humbleness finds strength to hold its head up proudly against whatever foe may come.

Go To Church Sunday MOTHER'S DAY

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

R. T. Heizer of Covington was a business visitor in Walton last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rod Hughes entertained with a six o'clock dinner on Wednesday evening for Miss Georgia Rouse, Miss Martha Wilson, Lewis Shields and Walter D. Vest.

Mr. Shields has been called to the service and expects to leave for Ft. Thomas, May 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson and daughters have moved to their home on Nicholson Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Collins and family have moved into the Kerns property.

Glad to see Tommy Kephart out after a short illness.

Mrs. Ona Kephart of Charleston, W. Va., visited her son Tommy, and Mrs. Ora Fry and Mrs. Mabel Stansifer over the weekend.

Gus Prints of Cincinnati and Miss Cora Giesling of Covington were Sunday guests of Mrs. Edna Stamler.

Mrs. Elmer Dryer and two sons, Jack and Gene, were visitors on Monday of Mrs. Dryer's aunt, Mrs. Edna Stamler.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hughes entertained Monday evening at their home for Mrs. Lambert Rouse of Minneapolis, Minn. and Miss Georgia M. Rouse.

Miss Mary Rensler left Saturday for Detroit, Mich., to spend her vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Webber.

Mrs. Lambert H. Rouse, who was in Dayton, Ohio to attend the marriage of her daughter, Shirley, accompanied her sister-in-law, Martha R. Wallace, to her home here Friday evening and remained until Tuesday afternoon. On Saturday evening, Miss Georgia Rouse entertained for Mrs. Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Hughes and Walter D. Vest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Harris of Ft. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Deatherage and three children of Sanders were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Welsh and sons.

Mrs. C. L. Gaines was called to Burlington Tuesday by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Minnie Carpenter.

Mrs. O. P. Mann still remains in bed and is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Napier and baby of Cincinnati called on friends here Tuesday.

On Sunday, Mrs. Martha R. Wallace entertained with a dinner in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. L. H. Rouse of Minneapolis, Mrs. Julia A. Rouse, Miss Myrtle MacDonnald and C. A. Rouse of Huntington, West Virginia and Mrs. S. L. Maze and daughter Sue Ann of Florence.

Mrs. Bess Conrad, Mrs. E. B. Powers and Mrs. Fannie Brittenhelm were Sunday afternoon visitors of J. C. Powers of Erlanger.

Miss Georgia Rouse attended a dinner given by Miss Gerge Elliston at Morrow, Ohio, Sunday.

Mrs. Ona Kephart of Charleston, W. Va., spent from Sunday morning until Monday morning here with her son Tommy, who has been ill at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Ora Fry, the past week. Tommy is improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rouse had as their dinner guest Monday, Mrs. L. H. Rouse.

Mrs. Pearl R. Johnson of Lexington arrived in Walton, Monday to visit with relatives. On Monday evening her dinner guests at Stephens Restaurant were Mrs. L. H. Rouse and Martha Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Simons of So. Walton spent the weekend in Covington with Mr. Simons' brother and family.

Mrs. Amelia Britt of Covington spent from Friday until Monday with her sisters, Mrs. John C. Bedinger and family and Mrs. C. C. Sleet and family.

H. R. Forkner, County Agent, and Franklin Frazier, Assistant County Agent, of Burlington were business visitors in Walton, Wednesday.

Emma Lou McElroy spent the weekend in Burlington, the guest of Miss Mary Bess Jarrell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Duchemin entertained Tuesday evening with a dinner in honor of Lewis Shields and Bob Barnett of Williamstown.

Mr. Dorsey of Verona Road is getting along nicely after a recent operation at Christ Hospital. He is now able to be out.

Mrs. Mary Stephens spent part of last week in Georgetown with her sister, Miss Lillie Kenton, who was ill.

Miss Mary DeMoisey entertained Misses Martha Wilson and Blanche Brittenhelm with a birthday dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Wilson's birthday.

Truett DeMoisey is spending a few days this week with his brother, "Fox" DeMoisey at Richmond.

Buddy Walker and "Red" Kincaid attended the baseball game at Crosley Field, Cincinnati, Sunday.

The entire CCC Camp attended a skating party one night last week at the Mayflower Rollerdrome at Williamstown.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Struve of Covington, formerly of Walton, are the proud parents of a son, Perry Neal. Both mother and son are doing nicely.

FLORENCE

Miss Janet Byrne has been suffering the past week from the measles.

Mrs. Kleemire and daughter, Mrs. Russell Lucks spent the day shopping in Covington, Friday.

Lieut. Robert Scott returned to camp in California this week.

Charles Markesberry has chicken pox.

Jake Lohline, father of Miss Stella Lohline, who has been confined to his bed for several weeks is very ill at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watson of Walton visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer and daughter Betty Lue on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert England spent Thursday evening with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William England of Hebron.

Mrs. Harry Coppage and Mrs. Ralph Coppage and daughter of Union were dinner guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Robbins.

Mrs. R. L. Day is enjoying several days visit with her daughter Mrs. J. C. Whitaker and family.

Mrs. George Byrne and daughter entertained with a luncheon on Saturday for Miss Minnie Baxter and Charles Beall of Francesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Berkshire and daughter of Walton were welcome visitors here Saturday and attended the Grant sale.

Mrs. Edward Baker and Mrs. Sterling Dickey of Hebron visited Mrs. Harve Baker Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Lulu Beemon spent Saturday with Mrs. Fannie Utz.

Lloyd Memorial Society will meet Saturday, May 9. Due to the Flower Show, which was held on Saturday, May 2 it was postponed until this Saturday. All members and friends are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Tanner were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Markesberry and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Connley and son Ronald Lee motored to Harrison, Ind., Sunday and were the guests of Mrs. Connley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Baxter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Edwards and family spent the weekend at Lexington with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Robbins and daughter of Bib Bone visited his parents, A. O. Robbins and wife on Tuesday evening.

Robert Rouse, husband of Dr. G. L. Rouse, was removed to the Good Samaritan Hospital the past week. He has been seriously ill for the past several days. His wife remained at his bedside. His many friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

Sam Hambrick of Burlington was a welcome visitor here Saturday.

Mrs. Fannie Stephens of Covington visited Miss Jennie Crisler on Saturday and attended the sale.

Mrs. Harry Spencer and daughter spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Snyder.

Rev. H. M. Hauter and wife and mother, Mrs. Myers, were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Graves and family of Hebron

Quite a large crowd of Homemakers from Boone County attended the Flower Show which was held Saturday afternoon at the Florence school.

VERONA

(Too Late for Last Week)

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Orr of Portland, Ind., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orr and Mrs. Sarah Orr.

Miss Virginia Smith of Covington was visiting friends in Verona on Sunday.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones, while playing in the barn one day recently, fell and broke his arm. The child was taken to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Beach of Covington were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wilson, Sunday afternoon. Mr. Len Wilson of Beaver Lick was also visiting the Wilsons that day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Myers and son Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Renaker were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Denton Cotton of Jonesville, Sunday afternoon. They also called on the W. B. Cottons of Williamstown.

Mr. R. C. Hartell of Chicago stopped by for a two-day visit with Mrs. H. W. Hamilton last week. Mr. Hartell was on his way to Florida. Mrs. Hamilton had as weekend guests, Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Hines and children, Ann, Geo. and Laurence, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of Patriot, Ind., spent the weekend with relatives here. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Noel, Mrs. Pearl Allphin and Master Freddie Refitt were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lamm. We are sorry to report that Mrs. Lamm had the misfortune, last Monday, of breaking a rib and this has caused her considerable suffering.

Mrs. Eva Mae Cleek of Covington spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Elliston, and her little son, Max Allen. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Roberts of Latonia, with their two young daughters were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elliston.

The funeral of W. D. Scroggin was conducted from the Hamilton funeral home Monday afternoon, with Rev. Kirtley Johnson delivering the funeral discourse. Mr. Scroggin leaves a son, William, who is stationed in West Virginia, and a grandson, Dickey, who is a student at M. M. I.

VERONA R-1

In addition to the teachers, the following helped in the sugar rationing being held: Frances McCormick, Relda Powers, Sarah King, Helen Chipman and Pattie Waller.

Ben Elliott delivered a new oil stove to the P.-T. A. Monday.

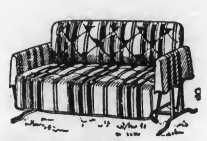
The pre-school clinic was well attended, lacking only one pupil of being 100% of those entering school next fall. Miss Lowry awarded the blue ribbons in health which were given the following: Althea Fooks, Jay Beach, Bobby Gordon, Jene Powers, Marlon A. Waller, Mildred Porter, Harvey Kannady, Billie M. Waller and Joyce Ryan.

Hardware Needs

Buy your hardware while stock is complete. Many hardware items are not being manufactured and will not be available much longer.

COAL OIL STOVES	$6.85 to $70.00
LAWN MOWERS	$7.25 to $14.50
GARDEN PLOWS (5 attachments)	$2.98
SCREEN WIRE (galvanized) lineal yd. 20c - 26c
MILK PAILS (sanitary top)	$1.60
PAINT (spotless town) gallon	$1.90
CREOSOTE PAINT (Sherwin-Williams) 5 gallon can	$1.75
RASTUS PLOWS	$7.50
RUGS, 9x12	$2.98, $3.98, $4.98
CAMPBELL CORN DRILL	$26.00
GULF OIL, 2 gallon can	98c

B. F. Elliott



——YOUR FARM AND HOME STORE——

Phone 99 -:- Walton, Ky.

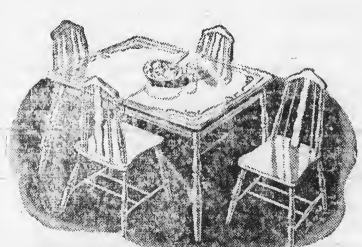
J. L. HAMILTON & SON

FUNERAL SERVICE

VERONA -:- KENTUCKY

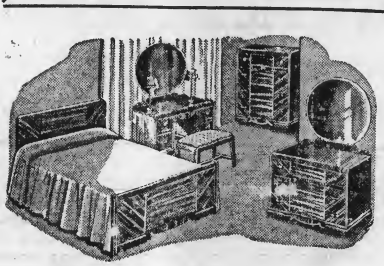
GLIDERS

—Come in today —sink into one of our restful gliders — you'll readily find out what "solid comfort" means.



Spring Charm in FINE FURNITURE

Furniture that's good to look at and great to live with—that's the kind you'll find here. It stands up under long, hard usage, and it holds on to its good looks through it all. Our prices are reasonable, too—compare them with "city" prices



Odd Chairs

—There's a vacant corner in your living room or bedroom where an odd chair would fit perfectly.

DINETTE SETS—Graceful nook sets of five pieces—bleached Maple.

BEDROOM SETS—4 Piece Walnut Veneer of super construction details.

LIVING ROOM SUITES—Beautiful 4 piece period models of Walnut and Mohair.

-:- LINOLEUM -:-

WE CARRY A FULL LINE OF LINOLEUM—MANY BEAUTIFUL DESIGNS. WE HAVE THE NECESSARY EQUIPMENT FOR DOING A PERFECT JOB OF CEMENTING YOUR LINOLEUM TO THE FLOOR. GIVE US A TRIAL!

DeMoisey Furniture & Electric Shop

OPEN EVENINGS TILL 10:00

Phone 137 Walton, Ky.

Walkin' Roun' With Walker

by 'Buddy' Walker

The other nite when I was Walkin' I encountered Mrs. Nettie Fullilove, one of Walton's grand ol' ladies, coming from the opposite direction. I was courious to know what she was doing out at that time of nite (10:00), so I asked her. I found out right away that she was looking for a man. I asked her what type of fellow she had in mind, that possibly I could help. She said she wanted a young one. Alright fellows, there's your chance.

I have 'heard of left-handed monkey wrenches, wheelbarrow seed, and the like, for jokes, but when I heard Blanchie talking about a left-handed dime the other day, I knew I had heard it all. I think she was really serious about it too. It seems as tho someone had told her about one and she believed it. That's as bad as going bathing in lemonade pond.

Joke of the week is on Roberta Duchemin. I noticed a coupla' terrible blisters on her hands the other nite, and when I asked her from whence they came, she told me riding a bicycle. That is something else new to me. I always got them elsewhere about my body.

Everyone seemed to miss Mrs. Stephens for a coupla' days last week when she went down to Georgetown for a much-needed rest and visit. It just goes to show you how it would be if she were gone all the time.

I saw McElroy planting a victory garden, as he called it, the other day. It was a huge thing—two rows that measured about 10 ft. in length.

The Junior play turned out to be alright the other nite. Much better than was really expected. Everyone is still talking about how well Jean Farris played her part.

For the first time since I have been in Walton, I saw J. B. Johnson with dirty hands. It was all for a good cause, however, for he was busy putting in a new shower in his basement. I went in to see it the other nite and it looked like a first class job to me—however, I'm no plumber.

When Nelda, Ella Mae, Emma Lou, Joan, Jean and all the rest of that gang gather in the restaurant at the same time, it looks like a glamour shop.

I had a swell time at the ball game over in Cincy Sunday, even though the Reds lost another close one.

I notice Helen is sporting a grand new case of poison ivy again. I sure hope that epidemic doesn't get started around here again. I don't know which makes her the more conspicious—the red dress she wears or the poison ivy.

Rev. Talley just about has his hands full now. He has added school teaching to his already long line of duties. I believe he told me he has one or two of the lower classes over at Burlington school.

I don't think I would make a very good man if my job was picking Derby winners. I had 3 of the best horses in the race and lost on them all. I think my main one was like "Wrong Way" Corrigan—he must have wanted to cross the finish line via some Cuban route—and I don't think the other two have come in yet.

I saw Millie Rice the other day happier than I had seen her in a long time. I think the real reason was that she had gotten a letter from Brother Bud, who joined the Navy a week or so ago. He is in the Great Lakes Naval Training Station and likes it fine there. Everything, I mean, except the getting up at 6 in the morning. Bud says that is like getting up in the middle of the nite. I will try to have his correct address next week, so we can all get together and swarm him with letters. Maybe that will help some.

Noticed Georgie Heginbotham Sunday night with a different gal. He is what I wold call a getter arounder.

Well this time, for shore an' sartin' "Louie the Lug" Shields is departing for the Army. He has had orders to leave May 9th, which will be on Saturday. I understand "Gentleman Jim" Cleek will be right along with him too. Boys here's wishing both of you luck.

REMEMBER you don't have to be a dope just because Hitler and his thugs are—come to your senses, with good support of the USO campaign—the boys deserve it.

Due to a scarcity of paint the center line on the highways will be no longer, says a news item. This is gonna be hard on a lot of drivers up this way who think the line was put there for them to drive their left wheels on.

INDEPENDENCE R-1

"Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest."—Matt. 11:28.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Yates of New Taylor Mill Road are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a little daughter.

Miss Rose Mary Binder has been out of school the past week nursing the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klein and Mrs. Edgar Martin and little son motored to West Virginia and spent the weekend with Mrs. Martin's husband, Edgar, who has a position there at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Armstrong and little son Bobbie of Cincinnati visited with relatives of this community, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gedkar, Mrs. Stella Richardson and mother, Mrs. Lamb spent the day Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Gus Richardson and family at Atwood.

Mrs. Earl Hanna visited Friday with her son Harley and family of Latonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Giles and family spent Sunday with relatives in Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sweeney and family visited Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Georgia Binder and family.

Miss Nannie Ballanger and Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballanger called on Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ballanger Sunday afternoon.

We are very sorry to report our Sunday School fell a little short in attendance Sunday. All come back next Sunday and bring another one with you. Let's keep up the good work, with more interest and good attendance. Everybody is welcome.

Rev. Kidwell was able to fill his appointment Sunday evening at Staffordsburg after being confined to his room with a fractured limb.

Go to Church, Sunday!

VERONA

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reffitt and two sons of Erlanger were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs Jim Lamn. Master Freddie, the younger son, who has been visiting his grandparents for a week or two returned home with his parents, while Ronnie remained for a few days visit.

Mrs. W. B. McCormick spent a few days last week in Lexington visiting her mother, Mrs. Stevens and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Williford of Mississippi were visiting their relatives Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown last Thursday and Thursday night. Friends of Mr. Williford will be interested to know he is attending school preparatory to becoming a mechanic in some phase of U. S. Army service.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stamper and son Herbert had as guests on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. James Calvert of Latonia and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wright and family of Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. Conley Leek and children Tommie, Walter, Carl, Alice and a younger daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson an dfamily of the Piner neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Myers entertained with a family reunion Sunday, Mrs. Gus McMullen, recuperating from a recent illness, expects to remain with her parents for a longer visit.

The Homemakers met at the school house Friday, May 1. It seems that other interests were in the ascendancy that day as only a small percent of the membership was present. A resume of the lesson on "Community Meals," which had been presented by Mrs. Haak at the Training class, was given by one of the leaders. Mrs. Renaker gave an interesting report of the district meeting at Paris. Mrs. Moore brought some helpful suggestions. Roll call was answered by "what I am doing to make my home more attractive."

Rev. Spahr filled his regular appointment on Sunday by preaching morning and evening at the Baptist church. Bro. Spahr and family were guests at the J. T. Roberts home that day. Some volunteer church workers began taking a religious census of the community Sunday afternoon. We hope to be able to finish this work in the near future.

Our congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. William Vest, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dance and Mr. and Mrs. Manly Rider. Their homes have each been blessed by the arrival of a new baby recently.

HEBRON

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webster (nee Wilma Whitaker) are parents of a little daughter since Thursday, April 30th.

Mrs. Hubert Conner spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Hempfling of Taylorsport.

Clarence Jones was called to Harrodsburg last week where his father passed away. He has the sympathy of his friends in his bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Eberhardt and mother of Belleview and Mrs. Nan Baker and son John of Bromley called on Mr. an dMrs. Ed Baker Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. L. C. Hafer of Ft. Mitchell was the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. R. Garnett, Thursday afternoon

Yancey Clore of Bullittsville spent Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clore.

Mrs. Charles Clore won two 1st and the grand champion on flowers at the flower show at Florence on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Riddell of Covington spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Botts and family.

Mrs. Melissa Hankins was ill the past week.

Mrs. Ray Botts, Mrs. Marjory Harris and daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox of Petersburg.

Bobby Garnett, Harold Rice Williams, James Bullock, Jr., Hobert Willoughby and Melvin Botts attended the Kentucky Derby on Saturday.

James Conner, who has been at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., the past four months training in the Signal Corps, returned home Sunday morning for a week, then will go to Lexington for a few days, and from there to Puerto Rico or parts unknown.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Tanner left Friday after a two month's vacation at their home here, to resume their work on the U. S. Govt. boat Scioto, where they have been the past two years.

MICKIE SAYS—

FOR VICTORY - BUY BONDS

SUGAR CREEK

Mrs. Emma Wallick spent Saturday night with her sister, Mrs. Reba Smith of Union.

Miss Myrtle Edwards called on Mrs. Redford Thomas Thursday afternoon.

J. T. Hall spent Tuesday and Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton.

We are sorry to report the serious illness of Edgar Lindsay and wish for him a speedy recovery; also O. T. Arrasmith, who remains very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kane and son of Lakeland spent Sunday nite with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taylor.

Reuben Poland left Wednesday for service in the Army. He is at Ft. Thomas at present.

Mrs. Joe Reffett of Napoleon called on Mrs. Albert Osborne on Sunday afternoon.

Misses Faye and Alma Lee Miskell and Marie Osborne of Glencoe enjoyed a lovely dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ellis Saturday, it being the birthday of Mrs. Ellis and Faye.

Mrs. Nora Morris and Miss Miller of Indiana called on Miss Myrtle Edwards and mother Saturday.

Mrs and Mrs. Oscar Pikes entertained his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Pikes over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grazell and son of Newport spent Sunday with her grandfather B. F. Sisson.

Miss Roberta Clifton spent last Thursday in Covington visiting friends.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION PAID?

CONCORD

Draw nigh to God and He will draw nigh to yiu.—James 4:8.

We are glad to report Mrs. D. R. Chapman improving.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Struve, a boy, last Wednesday. Both are doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Jones were calling at Ross Chapman's Saturday night; also Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilhoite were there.

Miss Eula Wilhoite of Washington visited her father here last week.

Mrs. Sallie Whitson spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Kate Spillman after attending Sunday School.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson of Walton were visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Jones and family unday.

The farmers are planting corn and making gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Padgett (nee Mae Bolington) attended Sunday School at Concord and visited her brother here, Charlie Bolington, Sunday.

Mrs. Addie Chapman spent most of last week with Lizzie Vest at Verona.

The W. M. S. meets with Mrs. C. D. Hughes the 13th of May. All members are urged to attend, and visitors are also welcome.

Preaching at Concord Sunday morning and evening. Come!

FULL LINE OF
GLIDERS - HAMMOCKS
PORCH & LAWN FURNITURE
Covington Awning & Roofing Co.
3rd and Scott Sts., Covington Hland 1735

FEED FOR EGG PROFITS!
With Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS
$4.50 PER 100
POULTRY FEED
DAIRY FEED
POULTRY SUPPLIES
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

RELIABLE MONUMENT CO.
912 Madison Ave., Covington 11th & Lowell Sts., Newport
Our New 1942 Spring showing of memorials is now on display at our two convenient show rooms. Hundreds of stones to select from in Rock of Ages, foreign and domestic materials. Higher Quality or Better Workmanship is Not-To-Be-Had.
—WHERE MOST PEOPLE BUY—
— Ask About Our Deferred Payment Plan —
NORTHERN KY.'S LARGEST MONUMENT ERECTORS

For Your Protection
THE BLOCK WITH FULL DRESSED TOP

Faces, Edges, Corners, Have Beauty Of Cut Stone
Many of our 4x8x16" Block are being used to build Milk Houses and many other buildings on the farm. Buildings from these blocks are permanent and economical construction.
—See Us for Further Information—
COLONIAL
COAL and SUPPLY CO.
Phone Dixie 7626
DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER, KY.

You'll Find A Complete Selection Of GIFTS For MOTHER'S DAY From COPPIN'S
The Store Of Grand Gift Selections
THE John R. Coppin Co.
Madison at 7th
COVINGTON

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for May 10

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

MONDAY: THE DAY OF AUTHORITY

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 21:12-22.
GOLDEN TEXT—My house shall be called a house of prayer for all peoples.—Isaiah 56:7.

Modern presentations of Christ in picture and sermon often give the impression that He was an effeminate man who went about doing gentle little deeds of kindness. One almost feels that He spoke in a half whisper and that He fearfully avoided the difficulties and dangers of life.

Such a picture of Christ, whether in words or on canvas, was never obtained from the Bible. Yes, He was gentle and kind; He did go about doing good; He was altogether humble—but why give the false impression that gentleness means weakness, kindness means a sentimental softness, etc. These are the virtues of a strong man and such was our Christ. He was a manly man who so excited the admiration of the boys in the temple that they shouted a holy "Hurrah" (Hosanna—in Hebrew).

On Monday as our Lord came into the city He saw and dealt with the fruitless fig tree and later in the day He cleansed the temple. This seems to be the order of the events (see Mark 11) and we will so consider them.

I. Jesus Stimulates Faith by an Act of Judgment (vv. 18-22).

In the morning as Jesus returned to Jerusalem, He was hungry. He had probably spent the night in prayer after His time of fellowship with the disciples (Mark 11:11). It was early spring, and normally not the time for figs to be ready to eat, but He saw a tree which already had foliage on it. Since the leaves form after the fruit, He properly looked for figs—green, perhaps, but even so useable for food—and there were none.

In a swift miracle of judgment, He condemned the tree, which soon withered. Some have assumed that He acted in anger, but that is evidently not so. His act was a sign to Israel and to us. The fig tree was a figure of Israel (see Hosea 9:10, Joel 1:7, Luke 13:6-9). They as a nation had the outward signs of fruit, that is, the "leaves" of temple worship, teaching of the law, etc., but there was no fruit of repentance and faith, of real love for God (see Rom. 2:17-23). Judgment was certain, and our Lord cursed a useless, fruitless tree to try to awaken the people to their need.

So our Lord comes to us—to look below the foliage of Christian profession, of our charities and benevolences, of our correct doctrinal views—to see if there is any fruit of real Christian living. How often He must turn away in sadness because there is none.

This miracle was not only a sign of judgment; it was used by our Lord to stimulate the disciples' faith. What they had seen was only an indication of what faith (and note it was their faith) could do. The promise of God to those who, abiding in Christ and with His Word abiding in their heart, ask according to His will, in faith nothing doubting, is without limit.

II. Jesus Stimulates Praise by an Act of Authority (vv. 12-17).

For a second time He drove out from His Father's house those who had made it a place of merchandise, of commercialized thievery. This is a majestic picture. The Son of God and Son of Man steps into the center of this unholy traffic and with mighty, holy indignation (not anger) drives it out. The people who had suffered long because of this religious racket, which paid a nice "cut" to the priests themselves (probably as a "gift" even as such things are managed in our day), were jubilant.

The boys who were in the temple (for such is doubtless the meaning of "children" in v. 15) were so delighted at this magnificent exercise of His divine authority that they broke out into "Hosannas," which, as we have suggested, were really a holy "Hurrah." Well, why not? Hurrah for our Lord! He will not tolerate iniquity even though it hides under the cloak of religion. He is not afraid to speak out and to act against sin and corruption. Possibly the church would reach a good many more men and boys in our day if it would step out in faith to fight the wrong and support the right. Then maybe the young men would shout, "Hurrah for the church," instead of some of the things they are saying.

The chief priests and scribes were "sore displeased" (v. 15) both by the acts of Jesus and the praise of the boys. They would be! And they have a host of descendants who hold places of authority today—yes, even in the church—who would be much displeased if such things were to happen now. But why fear them? Is it not high time that the people of God honored their Lord both by faith and good works, regardless of what men may say? Ought we not to please God rather than men (see Acts 5:29 and Ps. [illegible])

Classified Ads Get Results

CONSERVE "ENERGY" OF YOUR CAR AND TIRES

DETROIT — Maximum mileage from your motor car is linked in extra ratio to the manner in which you drive it, for storing a car will not necessarily increase either its life span or the miles you will get from it, advises Ed Hedner, national director of service for Chevrolet.

While the condition of your tires may very directly indicate the number of miles you can expect from your automobile, he points out, they deteriorate faster in storage than in use, and the same can be said of other vital parts of the car.

But even today, most motorists are guilty, unconsciously as a rule, of minor driving faults that take their toll of car life, increase repair bills, and waste gas and oil. Among these habits are the following:

Pumping gas at traffic stops. "Fidget-footed" drivers who pump theaccelerator like an old-fashioned organ waste many gallons of gasoline each year. Because of nervousness or simply from a habituated mis-use of their car, these motorists increase their fuel bills and waste precious resources. Driving experts advise that you let the motor idle at stop lights or other traffic halts, and let yourself "idle" along with it.

Mis-use of brakes. Braking a car simply means converting "speed energy" to "Heat energy." Once the forward progress of the car has been transferred into heat energy and thrown off by the brakes, the car comes to a stop. Obviously, the heat is a result of friction, which, in turn, means brake wear. Stopping your car in such a way as to minimize wear means longer brake life. Although brakes will stop a car in 50 feet or less at 30 miles per hour, the wise motorist allows at least 100 feet in which to come to a gentle stop, letting the car's deceleration take some of the stopping load from the brakes.

Sudden starts — "jackrabbiting"—are expensive. A gradual application of power insures you full value from every drop of gasoline fed into the engine. Conversely, flashing away from the traffic lights is almost certain to feed more fuel to the motor than it can handle, with a consequent waste. Most motorists realize that this is no time for waste.

Weaving through traffic. In a city at peak trafic hours, virtually every driver has the same thought in mind—getting home in the minimum time. Since drivers are in accord, in general, at these peak hours, little is to be gained by weaving in and out of traffic in an attempt to beat your neighbor home. The irony in the situation is that no matter how you dodge mid-block, the car you strive so hard to pass invariably rolls alongside at the next traffic light.

Mis-use of low gear. The lower the gear, the greater the power at the expense of speed. Drivers who habitually try to flash away at the traffic light and "gun" up to the speed limit in first or second gear waste gas. By shifting to the next highest gear as soon as practical, maximum operating economy is attained.

Finally, a driving habit probably well established but always worthy of emphasis, is the sound plan of "engineering" your motor car operation. Since your automobile is your own private transportasystem, it deserves the same careful checking and attention any bus or train or plane receives. Periodic inspections, regular lubrications (always cheaper than repair bills), and consistent attention to the air pressure in your tires will pay real motoring dividends.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

—AND EVEN MORE IMPORTANT IS THE STEEL IN OUR BACKBONES.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky
C. J. ALFORD, Pastor

10:15 a. m. Bible School
11:00 a. m. Morning Worship
7:00 p. m. Baptist Training Union. A fully graded Training Union for all ages.
8:00 p. m. Evening Worship
8:00 p. m., Wed. Prayer Meeting

METHODIST CHURCH

Walton. Kentucky
REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor

Sunday School 10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship 7:00 p. m.
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

—alton, Ky.

Bible Sch... 10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
Sermon by Rev. Geo. S. Caroland
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church

J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.
10:00 A. M. Bible School
11:00 A. M. Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. Evening Worship
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.

Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Union, Kentucky

Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister
Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.
10:00 a. m., Sunday School.
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship.
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.
Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor
First and Third Sunday—
Sunday School 10:00 a. m
Preaching Service 11:00 a. m
Evening Service 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor

Sunday School 10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship 7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH

Verona, Ky.

REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor

Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Morning Worship 11 a. m.
Evening Service 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8 p. m.
All times given Central War time

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .

W. E. TAIT, O.D.
OPTOMETRIST
OPTICIAN
27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.
Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.
For appointment phone—
HE. 2088

EYE AID

FOR BETTER HEALTH

Some indications of eye-strain are; Squinting, frowning, straining to see, drowsiness after reading, headaches, nervousness, discomfort of eyes after reading, sensitiveness of eyes to light, wrinkles and crow's fee taround eyes, imperfect vision, and have to hold reading matter very close or at arm's length.

We examine eyes and furnish glasses that will correct eye-strain.

Frank Riggs

POULTRYMEN WARNED AGAINST DISEASE —

Boone County poultrymen are increasing the number of chickens raised this spring in cooperation with our Government's Victory Program request, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The largest number of young chickens on record will probably be raised. Disease is the greatest hazard in production and poultrymen are warned to be on the lookout for disease trouble.

Coccidiosis is the disease causing greatest losses both to the growing bird and profitable winter layers. Poultrymen are already reporting trouble. The recommendations are to prevent coccidiosis if possible. Recognize it quickly and control it if it appears.

The organisms causing coccidiosis are passed in the droppings and must be in the presence of warm air and moisture for a day or more to become dangerous. They enter the bird with feed and water from contaminated feeders, water founts, floors and ground and are carried into the intestinal tract where they thrive, multiply and cause severe damage. There may or MAY NOT be bloody droppings. Affected birds become pale, drowsy, weak and dull quickly. Death losses may be high in broods under 10-12 weeks of age.

Warning: The organisms causing coccidiosis and other chick diseases may be carried long distances on shoes, or by birds, flies, rats and mice. Don't visit other brooder houses or poultry flocks and don't permit visitors in yours.

Treatment of sick birds is not satisfactory but many affected birds recover and outbreaks of the disease can be checked quickly if the birds are prevented from picking up additional supplies of the infective organism. Confine the birds to the house and avoid dampness. Don't spray or scrub but dry clean the house and scrub and scald the feeders and founts each day for 8 or 10 days. Put down clean litter after each cleaning and burn the soiled litter or take it to a part of the farm never used by poultry.

The demand for fresh eggs will be good throughout the coming summer. Flock owners should therefore keep laying hens at least two months longer than usual and maintain high average production by (1) continuing the feeding of a good laying mash; (2) keeping the flock supplied with clean, fresh water at all times; (3) controlling lice and mites, and (4) culling all hens that have quit laying.

Too many farm flock owners do not know how to cull for production but all can and should learn. Extension Circular No. 330 is supplied without cost by your County Agent or the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Save valuable feed and increase your profits by keeping only the laying hens.

Warm weather is here and millions of eggs needed to feed our soldiers, sailors, workers and allies will spoil unless farmers give them better care than they have in past summers. It is our patriotic duty to prevent this loss. Sell all roosters as soon as the hatching season is over. Gather the eggs more often and hold them in the coolest place available until they are sold.

Rapid feathering and quick growth are inherited. Don't eat or sell all the bette reockerels and save the culls for next year's breeders. The time to begin selecting breeding males is before they reach frying size. Select and mark at least three times the number you expect to use.

Our Job Is to Save Dollars
Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day

CONSTIPATED?
Spells of constipation often bring aggravating bowel gas, sour stomach, bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, dizziness, listlessness. ADLERIKA effectively blends 6 carminatives for relief of gas pains and 3 laxatives for gentle but quick bowel action. Get ADLERIKA today!
ADLERIKA
Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton

Desert Fun

Jim and Marian Jordan, "Fibber McGee and Molly" whose Tuesday laffcast is heard at 9:30 p. m., EWT, over WLW-NBC, take time out for some desert air at one of California's popular resorts.

DEAD STOCK REMOVED
SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS
CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887
REVERSE PHONE CHARGE
Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.
LOCKLAND — OHIO

Quality....

In electrical appliances is more important than ever now!

WITH the manufacture of virtually all electrical appliances banned for the duration, it's going to be necessary to take good care of your present equipment. Make it do if you can, but if replacements are necessary, buy only best quality appliances that will assure you of lasting, trouble-free service. They may have to serve you a long time, so it's short-sighted economy to buy anything but the best.

Right now, you can still find nationally-advertised appliances of proven reliability in stock at your dealer's and in our showrooms. But the present supply is limited and most items cannot be replaced, so early purchase is advisable. Take advantage of present favorable terms by buying your essential needs now.

FOR Thrifty ELECTRICAL LIVING

Use your appliances for essential purposes but learn to do it with economy.

Keep all your appliances in first-class operating condition.

Replace worn-out, wasteful appliances with best-quality new ones.

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE CO.
INCORPORATED

BUY U.S. WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

This Week on The Home Front

The government's bold stroke to combat the rising cost of living and inflation by a comprehensive control of prices overshadows every other even on the "Home Front" as the nation enters its sixth month at war.

In a single sweeping order—General Maximum Price Regulation—Price Administrator Leon Henderson set the highest prices charged in March as an absolute ceiling on virtually everything Americans eat, wear and use.

For wholesalers and manufacturers the price order is effective next Monday, for the retail trade, on May 18.

Prices on literally millions of articles of all sorts are thus automatically controlled. When a given commodity because of special conditions required special price treatment, separate order was issued.

In the first World War the U. S. paid 31 billion dollars to crush German imperialism and it is estimated that 13 billion of this was wasted paying swollen prices for war supplies.

Back of the present drastic price regulation is this lesson of World War I and the determination of the government that it shall not happen again.

Thus goes into effect the most drastic and far-reaching step ever taken to control the American economy.

Rents will not be permitted to skyrocket, while other components in the cost of living are stabilized. The rent fixing order of the week will affect rents in 302 "defense rental areas" housing 76,000,000 people in addition to the 21 areas previously designed. It reaches into every state except North Dakota and Idaho and extends even into Puerto Rico. The order does not have the immediate affect of law, as does the price control order. OPA is giving state and local officials 60 days to cut back rents to varying previous levels. After that, if adjustments are not made voluntarily, OPA will take things into its own hands.

—o—

"A program as vast as this," said Mr. Henderson, "will need the fullest public support, and we know that we shall have the backing of all landlords who have not attempted to take advantage of abnormal conditions."

—o—

The nation's farmers are assured that there will be no upping of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash, by an OPA ceiling price order, making permanent a temporary order which expired. The prices on bulk amounts of 250 pounds or over are those which prevailed in March. Smaller sales are covered by the General Price Ceiling Order.

Said Price Administrator Leon Henderson: "Because of the great expansion of agricultural activity due to the war effort, the demand for fertilizers has sharply increased. To permit sales without a maximum price regulation at such time—might result in an unreasonable increase in prices which would be unfair to the farmers and a hindrance to their efforts in producing vital commodities and foodstuffs. High fertilizer prices at this time can only serve to hinder the national food production program."

—o—

President Roosevelt told the nation during the week that we are spending at the rate of 100 millions daily for war, and will be spending double that rate before this year is over. Said he about the whole war Program: "The blunt fact is that every single person in the United States is going to be affected by this program—the price of civilization must be paid in hard work and sorrow and blood."

—o—

Figures which picture as accurately as possible the economic effort on the "Home Front," were made available this week. War funds made available by Congress for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation since June, 1940, have reached the staggering total of $162,416,000,000. The sixth supplemental appropriation of $19,-138,000,000 signed by the President, significantly budgets $8,761,-000,000 for planes.

—o—

Service station gas prices will be under ceiling throughout the nation effective May 18. Ceiling is at the maximum March level except in 17 rationed eastern states and the District of Columbia where the March base is raised 4 cents a gallon, to adjust the market to wartime transportation conditions.

—o—

War production demands alcohol for explosives. Known to the industry as "high wine," beverage alcohol from 100 to 189 proof has been brought under allocation control by the War Production Board to supplement the industrial alcohol supply.

—o—

The fate of the taxicab which last year carried almost a billion passengers, will depend largely on how carefully the business conserves its machines and tires. Office of Defense Transportation warns against cruising, dead mileage, and individual hauls.

—o—

Jurisdictional disputes between rival labor organizations are stopped for the duration. William H. Davis, Chairman of the National War Labor Board, announced that an agreement to this effect had been arrived at with heads of the American Federation and the CIO.

—o—

Day by day steel is more and more at a premium. War Production Board now restricts the amount of metal for hairpins and bob pins, and is even urging the American woman to save the metal containers in which they buy lipstick and other beauty aids.

—o—

Mr. Henderson publicly praised the school teachers for their work carrying out the industrial, commercial and institutional sugar registration. "We asked the public school teachers to handle the registration, because we were confident they would do a good job," he said. "They came through 100 per cent."

—o—

Even the Kentucky Derby felt the impact of the war. OPA asked hotel men in Louisville not to increase their rates for war workers living there, during Derby week.

Sowing and Reaping

It is a well-known fact that in the cultivation of a garden, we reap what we sow, that like produces like. For instance, we know that if we plant vegetable seeds, we cannot pick flowers after the seeds have germinated and the plants matured. If we want flowers, we must plant flower seeds. In our mental gardening we do not always see this fact so readily. Have not many people who bewail the lack of good in their lives, failed to sow the seed from which good could grow?

A much-loved teacher used to give the school children "memory gems" to learn. One of the stanzas reads:

"The garden of life it beareth well,
It will repay our care;
But the blossoms must always and ever be
Like the seed we're planting there."

. . . If we sow thoughts of fear, discouragement, resentment, ingratitude, and selfishness, can we expect a harvest of good from such sowing? Jesus said (Matthew 7:16), "Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?" No more can we gather a harvest of abundance, health, love, success, or joy from wrong mental sowing, or expect a bountiful crop when we have sown sparingly.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 331) makes it plain that when thought is "abiding in Truth, the warmth and sunlight of prayer and praise and understanding will ripen the fruits of Spirit, and goodness will have its springtide of freedom and greatness." Holding thought to the truth that man is the reflection of God, infinite Love, heals and delivers us from belief in evil or error. When we reflect Love by sowing the seeds of kindness, faith, patience, purity, and joy, we gather a rich harvest of good in sickness healed, discord vanquished, and sin and death overcome.

Does one need health, supply, harmony, and protection? Does the harvest of good seem scanty to eyes blinded by materiality? In reality the harvest of good is always abundant. Jesus said (John 4:35), "Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest." Let us stop looking at error as real, and lift our thought to God, good. Fear blinds our eyes to the good by which we are surrounded. God is omnipotent and omnipresent. In the infinitude of good, where is there any room for evil? When we realize the fact of God's allness we are no longer afraid, for we know there is nothing to fear. Fear is an illusion. We must realize that man, God's reflection, expresses His perfection, even as the sun is expressed in the sunshine. And as there is no darkness in the sunshine, so there is no evil in the man of God's creating, who ever reflects Him in health, abundance, all good.

One verse of a beautiful hymn declares (Christian Science Hymnal, No. 3):

"A grateful heart a garden is,
Where there is always room
For every lovely Godlike grace
To come to perfect bloom."

Gratitude makes us receptive to the abundance of good which God constantly gives to His children. We seem to lack good only because we are not ready to receive all He gives. When we are receptive to Truth, we shall realize that God never withholds good.

Sometimes when we think we have sown good seed, but see no evidence of having accomplished good, we may well remember Paul's words (I Corinthians 3:6), "I have planted, . . . but God gave the increase." Our work is to sow the seed, leaving the results to God's care. Even though we may never see the results of some of our own spiritual sowing, we may be sure that somewhere good has resulted. . . . And God is constantly preparing the soil. Our own responsibility is to reflect God in every thought, word, and deed. . . .

Let us not be too concerned over the reaping. Our sowing prepares for that. Sometimes our human plans would limit us. Jesus declared (Matthew 13:39), "The reapers are the angels." . . . Knowing that angels do the reaping and that God, good, is infinite, can we not leave the results of our sowing of good seed, and the thought of how soon or how great the harvest shall be, in our heavenly Father's hands?—The Christian Science Monitor.

NICHOLSON

"By their fruits ye shall know them." Truly, has it been said that "What you are speaks so loudly that we cannot hear what you are saying." Love of God and loyalty to our fellowman always is proved by actions, rather than words.

"If we can let into some soul a little light, if we some pathway, dark and drear, can render bright, i fto one in gloom can show the sunny side, though no reward we win, let us be satisfied."

"Into each life some rain must fall, some grief provoke a tear, but through the parting clouds at last the rainbow will appear—so may the sunshine filter through the clouds that no wovershadow."

Deeply appreciated was a lovely cluster of woodland violets from Miss Jackie Morgan and Miss Betty Bolening.

Miss Dorothy Rankin, Mrs. Sherman Barberick and son Warren Van Horn recently called on friends.

Deepest sympathy of a wide circle is extended to Mrs. John Schmidt and daughter Miss Ruth in the recent bereavement that has befallen them.

Anderson county women enjoyed lessons on "Growing Flowers for Health, Happiness and Recreation."

Eleven farmers in McCracken county set 34,000 pine and locust seedlings this spring.

Fred Polson of Metcalfe county is planning to sow four acres of dwarf essex rape for hog pasture.

Sixty College of Agriculture farm account books are being kept in Breckinridge county.

"Love in the Kitchen" was the title of a moving picture enjoyed by members of homemakers' clubs in Hopkins county.

The tobacco growers' dream in Wolfe county: 1,800 pounds to the acre, selling for $600.

Jackson county expects to exceed its quota of 134,000 extra gallons of milk this year.

An Estill county man who has been feeding hogs for 50 years is using tankage for the first time.

Members of homemakers' clubs in Oldham county canned 101,967 quarts of vegetables, fruits and meats last year.

Sales of chicks in Todd county have been sunning a third more than a year ago.

Forty-two hybrid sugar corn demonstrations are being planned in Boone county.

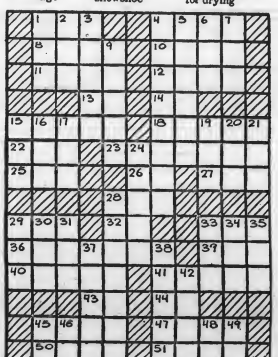
OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

LONG YEARS OF WIDE AND VARIED EXPERIENCE HAVE MADE HIM A "TRIPLE-THREAT" ADMIRAL FOR HE HAS COMMANDED SURFACE CRAFT, SUBS AND PLANES. A GUNNERY EXPERT, GOOD ADMINISTRATOR,—AND-STRICT DISCIPLINARIAN,—HE HAS BEEN ONE OF THE MAIN FACTORS IN MAKING OUR NAVY AIR ARM THE BEST IN THE WORLD.
A STORM-TOUGHENED, DARING WAR COMMANDER—HE KNOWS HIS OCEANS.

Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas For May

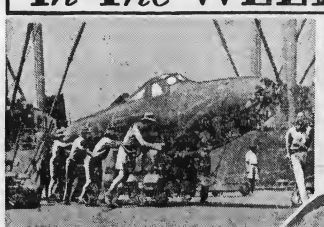
The above map of Kentucky shows the War Bond quotas, by counties, for the month of May, 1942. Total War Bond quota for the State is $5,557,700. Every income earner in the State is expected to step up War Bond purchases on a basis of ten per cent or more of income. This is necessary to help America's armed forces take the offensive against the Axis powers. The American voluntary method of War Bond purchases must be successful in reaching the quotas set by the Treasury Department for every county in the nation. The job of every American now is to stop spending and save dollars to help win the War.

Crossword Puzzle



No. 3

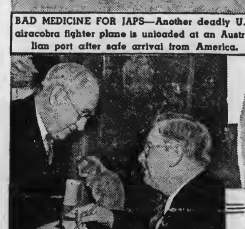
ACROSS
1. Weapon
4. Voided escutcheon
8. Unable to hear
10. Flesh of calf
11. Fuss
12. Tortoise
13. Natrium (sym.)
14. Sun god
15. Sacred plate
18. Faithful
22. Sight organ
23. Church part
25. Tiny
26. Ahead
27. Genus of lizards
28. A sprout
29. Swiss river
32. Land measure
33. Short dose
36. Limp
39. Frozen water
40. Doctrine
41. Made of wax
43. Pronoun
44. Exclamation
45. Affirm
47. For fear that
50. Rumanian coins
51. Body of water
52. Girl's name
53. Performed



DOWN
1. Public notices
2. Soak flax
3. A State
4. Across land
5. Stay
6. A song
7. Old times
9. French coin
15. Church seat
16. Affirmative vote
17. Golf implement
19. European coin
20. Obtain
21. Guido's highest note
24. Mohammedan nymph
28. Microscopic organisms
29. Astern
30. Malt beverage
31. Flowed
33. No (slang)
34. Single-spot card
35. Writing implement
37. Adhesive mixture
38. Live
42. Forward
45. Short for Abraham
46. Cistern
48. Long wooden snowshoe
49. Spread grass for drying

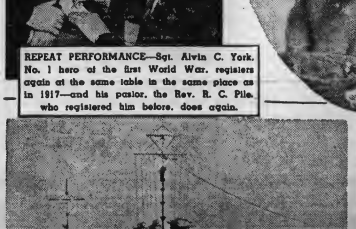
SNAP ABAS
HOBART JUNK
EMBRYO ALTO
DEER MARKET
HEN
INDIA OKRA
DATE FABRIC
LID SAT ARR
EVOKED SLIO
REST LITER
ERO
TARGET CREW
OVER INHUME
MERE COUSIN
BREW SENE

Answer to Previous Puzzle

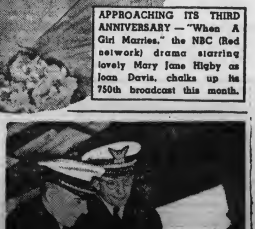


In The WEEK'S NEWS

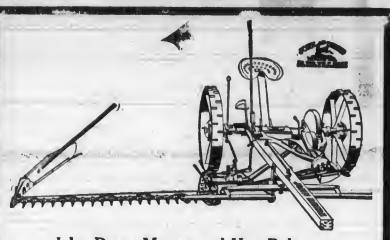
BAD MEDICINE FOR JAPS—Another deadly U.S. airacobra fighter plane is unloaded at an Australian port after safe arrival from America.



LOCAL BOY MADE GOOD — St. Louis gave a hero's welcome to Lt.-Comdr. Edward O'Hare, on his return home after receiving the Medal of Honor from President Roosevelt. He brought down six Jap bombers.



REPEAT PERFORMANCE—Sgt. Alvin C. York, No. 1 hero of the first World War, registers again at the same table in the same place as in 1917—and his pastor, the Rev. R. C. Pile, who registered him before, does again.



APPROACHING ITS THIRD ANNIVERSARY — "When A Girl Marries," the NBC (Red network) drama starring lovely Mary Jane Higby as Joan Davis, climbs up its 750th broadcast this month.

NEW SUB MOTHER SHIPS are being rushed to completion. Each will act as supply base for a fleet of submarines. Powered by General Motors Diesels in main and auxiliary engines, the ships have high speed, maneuverability and wide cruising range.

HE WANTED IN—The Navy wouldn't take George Dreyfous (right) because he was 48 and had no experience. So he studied navigation, bought a 68-foot yacht, and now both he and his boat are in the Coast Guard.

John Deere Mower and Hay Rakes—
We still have some on hand.
Also DeLaval Cream Separators and Milking Machines. Louden Barn Equipment.
—Order Repairs for your old Machinery Early—

The Jansen Hardware Co.
108-110 PIKE STREET COVINGTON, KY.
Phone: COlonial 0910

Classified ADS

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

WHITE LEGHORN CHICKS—Hanson Strain, $10.00 per 100. Frank Lang, Buttermilk Road, Erlanger, Ky., Box 185, Route 4. Dixie 7084. tf18

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

FOR SALE—Baby chicks. Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

WANTED—We want thousands of Burlap Feed Sacks at once. We pay five cents each for good sacks, and will also pay you a fair price for damaged sacks. Turn your sacks into cash now. T. C. Crume Nursery & Landscaping Co., Highway 42, Florence, Ky. Phone Florence 782. 4t24

FOR SALE or RENT—2 cottages in Verona, Ky., for sale or rent. One store building near Verona Bank fo rsale or rent. On account of failing health will sell reasonable. Call or write A. C. Roberts, Verona, Ky. 3t25

FOR SALE—Sow and eight pigs; also boar hog. J. H. Tomlin, Banklick. Phone Ind. 6252. 2t26*

FOR SALE—Fresh No. 1 Jersey cows. Phone Walton 284. Dick Baker, Highway 42. 2t26*

FOR SALE—Home Comfort range, wood or coal, good condition. See Pollie Belew, Bracht Station. P. O. Crittenden, Ky. 2t26*

FOR SALE—Fordson Tractor, with 2 Gang Oliver plows. E. L. Webster, Walton, Green Road. 2t26*

FOR SALE—1939 Ford DeLuxe; radio and heater. In good condition; good tires. Price $450.00. J. W. Powers, Verona, Ky. 2t26

NOW is the time to buy your winter coal. See Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

BUY your winter coal now! Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE—Hybrid seed corn. U. S. No. 13, while it lasts. $6.75 per bushel. Walton & Readnour Walton. tf27

FOR SALE—3 fresh Jersey cows; 2 white-face male calves; Jersey male calf; 3 purebred Jersey heifers; 2 mares, 4 and 5 years old; 2 tons straw. A. C. Johnson, Beaver Pike. Phone Walton 208. 2t27*

WHITE ROCK Chicks, unexcelled for early feathering, rapid growth and bred for high egg production. Price $10 per 100 at hatchery. Menefee Poultry Farm Crittenden, Ky., R-1. Telephone Williamstown 5705. 4t27

MILK GOAT and Kid for sale, cheap. Phone Independence 6718 2t27

FOR SALE—Sow and pigs; also riding cultivator plow, and Holstein bull, ready for service. J. B. McHugh, Independence 'Station. 2t27*

FOR SALE—18 head stock cattle, heifers and bulls. Ottis Readnour, Walton. tf27

WOOL WANTED—Will pay top prices. F. D. Cooke, Walton & Readnour place, Walton. tf27

FOR SALE—Two milk goats. C. A. Richardson, Independence, Ky. Phone Ind. 6301.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all who were so kind and helpful in the sickness and death of our beloved son and brother. Especially do we wish to thank Bro. A. M. Smith for the kind words, and C. L. Carlton & Son for their kindness.
—Father and Mother, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Jackson, Brother and Sisters.

CARD OF THANKS

To Our Friends and Customers:
We wish to try and express our sincere thanks for all the kind words and many favors that have been extended us since our misfortune last Friday. Especially are we grateful to the Florence Fire Department. We assure you these acts of kindness shall never be forgotten.
—Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Lusby and Florian Lusby.

SAVE
YOUR CAR and MONEY
RIDE A BIKE
We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.
LIBERAL TERMS
DIXIE CYCLE SHOP
16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

BE SAFE - BUY NOW

SPECIAL This Week Only $45
Dixie Bargain House
Better Furniture--Less Money
221 Pike St., Cov. CO 1750

MICKIE SAYS—

Don't Forget Mother

Next Sunday is Mother's Day. Be sure to remember her with a gift of some kind. A box of Really Fine Candy is the most acceptable gift of all and would make her heart glad. We have a wide assortment of Beautiful, Decorated Mothers Day packages, filled with Delicious, Double Dipped Chocolates, in One, 1¼ and two pounds at prices 69c, $1.00, $1.10, $1.50 and $2.20. Don't fail to see this attractive line. Any one of the lot is an ideal gift. Jones' Drug Store, Walton, Ky. —adv.

NEW JAMES THEATRE
WALTON, KENTUCKY
Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m. —Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY & SAT., APRIL 8-9
THE COURTSHIP OF ANDY HARDY
Mickey Rooney - Cecilia Parker

SUNDAY, APRIL 10
Tyrone Power - Betty Grable in
YANK IN THE R. A. F.

MONDAY, APRIL 11
Bud Duncan - Edgar Kennedy in
PVT. SNUFFY SMITH

TUESDAY & WED., APRIL 12-13
DANGEROUSLY THEY LIVE
John Garfield - Nancy Coleman

THURSDAY, APRIL 14
SPOOKS RUN WILD
with Bela Lugosi

HEMP PLANTING MEETING FIRDAY

Boone County's first hemp planting demonstration will be held on Friday, May 8th at 1:30 p. m., Eastern War Time, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The hemp will be planted for seed in cooperation with the Government's program to meet war emergency needs.

The meeting will be held at the farm of Hugh Stephens, 2 miles South of Rabbit Hash, across the road from the East Bend Church. All farmers who are interested in hemp seed production are urged to attend. Hemp is a new crop for Boone County and its importance has been greatly increased by the war.

SUCCESSFUL FLOWER SHOW

(continued from page 1)

Florence.

Inglescombe Yellow—Mrs. Gertie Fossett, Florence; Mrs. Courtney Kelly, Burlington.

Mrs. Moon—Mrs. Geo. Morith of Florence.

Breeder Tulips—Mrs. Jake Cleek of New Haven; Mrs. Gertie Fossett of Florence; Mrs. George Morith, Florence.

Parrot Tulips—Mrs. Geo. Morith of Florence.

Any other variety—Mrs. George Morith, Florence, Crystal White; Marlene Morith, Florence, Dido.

Lilac—Mrs. Joe Berkshire, Florence; Mrs. Jessie Martin, Florence.

Collection of Shrubs—Mrs. Joe Berkshire, Florence; Mrs. Mabel Sayre, Florence.

Arrangement Flowering Shrubs —Mrs. Chas. Clore, Hebron.

Miniature Arrangement — Mrs. George Morith, Florence; Mrs. Hazel Kelly, Burlington; Mrs. Lillian Schram, Florence.

Table Arrangements—Mrs. Chas. Clore, Hebron; Mrs. Geo. Morith, Florence.

Potted Plants—Miss Kit McHenry, Florence; Mrs. Jake Cleek, New Haven; 3rd Grade, Florence School

Champion Tulips (Pride of Harrlem)—Mrs. Geo. Morith.

Champion Arrangement— Mrs. Charles Clore.

There were 55 entries made by persons from Burlington, Florence, Hebron, Walton, Constance and New Haven.

Ribbons were given and a Narcissus Milford Haven bulb will be presented to each blue ribbon holder, 3 to each championship ribbon holder, when the bulbs are ordered this fall.

It is regretable that many persons seem to think the Homemakers have a monopoly on the show because they are sponsoring the event. It takes flowers to make a show. Anyone who loves flowers should plant now to participate next year, according to the county committee: Mrs. Garnet Tolin, Mrs. Jake Cleek, Mrs. Chas. Engle, Mrs. John Vest, Mrs. J. C. Layne and Mrs. Mary S. Moore, Acting Home Demonstration Agt.

Stephenson Mill Road

Behold I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people.

Mrs. Hubert Sheron is getting along nicely after an operation at St. Elizabeth Hospital. She will be home in about ten days.

Miss Mary Sleet is some better at this writing.

We are glad to learn Miss Frances Chapman is home from the hospital.

Levi Pennington and Mrs. Pennington entertained Sunday the following guests: Mrs. Sarah Helms and son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pennington of Cincinnati; Mrs. Henry Ferguson and two sons of Crittenden; Willie, George and Robert Pennington of Dayton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Trapp and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pennington of Alexandria; Stanley Allen, Leon, Lucy and Jimmie Pennington.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. R. E. Brugh. We are praying for her speedy recovery.

NEW HAVEN 4-H CLUB NEWS

New Haven presented a 4-H Club chapel program on Friday, April 24. The program was as follows: Songs by all. "America" and "God Bless America," led by Mrs. Mary Scott Moore; Pledge to Flag by all; 4-H Club pledge, led by Floyd Ryle; Devotional, Bruce Fergusin; Why I Am a 4-H Club Member, Wanda Pennington; Activities and Accomplishments of New Haven 4-H Club, James Stephenson; The Importance of 4-H Club Foods Project, Mrs. Walter Ferguson; Why I Am a 4-H Club and Local 4-H Club Program Outlined, Mr. Frazier; Recognition of 4- HClub Members Who Have Received Victory Buttons, Mary K. Shields; Presentation of 4-H Club Trophy, Supt. D. H. Norris; Reception of Trophy, Clinton Shields; Songs, led by Mrs. Moore; Invitation to New Members, Mary Katherine Shields.

By several members bringing ribbons which they had won in 4-H Club work, we had a very beautiful display.

Wanda Pennington will give her speech on Rally Day, May 6th.—Ella Ruth Black, Reporter.

SOUTH FORK

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Dean spent Thursday night and Friday in Indiana the guests of his sister, Mrs Lucille Rider and family.

Lee West spent Thursday night with his brother, John West.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler called on Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lavon and family of Zion, Wednesday night.

Ishmael Sisson was a visitor in Covington, Tuesday.

Mrs. Lula Noell spent Monday with her son, Ceaberry Noell and family.

Ottis Rider was a visitor in Covington, Friday and called on his sister, Mrs. Bertha O'Donnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler, Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and children and Mrs. Lula Sisson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Sisson and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rider and daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Rider and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cayton are rejoicing over the arrival of a new baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Sisson and daughter and Mrs. Lula Sisson were shopping in Covington, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Struve (nee Juanita Chapman) are the proud parents of a baby boy.

Mrs. Dora Rider and children called on Mrs. Helen Densler on Wednesday afternoon.

UNION

T. E. Denton of Dayton, was visiting his sister, Mrs. W. S. Friend and family here last Tuesday evening. They were glad to learn that he has accepted a nice position at the Wright Aeronautical Company of Cincinnati.

Mrs. George Smith and son Floyd attended the funeral of their friend, Mrs. Frank Goins, held at Paint Lick Baptist Church last Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Goins once lived on Mt. Zion Road so she leaves many friends and neighbors here who extend deepest sympathy to her family.

The many friends of Miss Hazel Stevenson will be glad to know she is able to attend school again.

Ie was necessary that Miss Doretta Jones be treated for an ear infection by Dr. Hiesel of Covington last week and he reports that her condition is much improved at this time. It is hoped that she can return to school next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bristow were pleasantly surprised last Saturday evening when their children gathered to celebrate both their birthdays. A delicious six o'clock dinner was served to the following; the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Bristow; Harry Riley; Mrs. Ella Weaver; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weaver and children Billy, Gene, Norman and Sandra Sue; G. E. Stevenson; James and Emely Bristow and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Noe and son Jimmie. Many nice gifts were received and all left wishing there lovely old people many, many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. John Points and children of Cincinnati spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Doane.

Miss Vera Robinson has accepted a position in Erlanger.

UNION

Mrs. Lummie McHutton continue squite ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. D. Foree.

Mrs. Willie Howell is quite ill at her home at Vera Cruz.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Wilson and son of near Williamstown were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bradney.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hensley, two daughters and their families spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Devore.

Miss Virginia Davis is spending a few days with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Luke Davis.

The community was saddened Sunday morning when it was learned that A. E. Rea, 73, had died suddenly. While in ill health for several years Mr. Rea had seemed as well as usual upon retiring and was ill only a few minutes when death came. He was the only son of the late Oliver and Louana Kemper Rea. Early in life he was married to Miss Katherine Whitley, who survives him. He is also survived by three children: Mrs. Noble Crouch of Carson; Mrs. Randal Lucas of Covington, and Ollie Rea of Pontiac, Mich.; three granddaughters and four grandsons. Two sons, Chester and Howard preceded him to the grave several years ago. Funeral services were held at the Carlton funeral home, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Warsaw cemetery. Mr. Rea was one of Gallatin County's best known citizens and will be sadly missed by his friends, as well as by his family and relatives.

INDEPENDENCE

Miss Roberta Speagle of Piner was calling on Mrs. J. Oliver, the former Margaret Armstrong, last week.

Mrs. John Belew and baby of Visalia visited the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Bagby.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Phillips and son Franklin of Richwood were Sunday guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Herndon Thomas.

Mrs. Hazel Peebles visited this week with Mrs. J. Oliver.

Miss Kate Folmer of Clinton Memorial St. John, Detroit, Mich., who spent from Thursday until Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Folmer, has returned to Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Nuxoll and baby of Cincinnati spent Sunday with Mrs. Nuxoll's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Peebles, and sister, Miss Virginia Peebles.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Maher of McCullum Drive are the proud parents of a son, born recently at St. Elizabeth Hospital, whom they wil lcall Jerry Edward. Mrs. Maher is the former Mildred Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Stephens and children Myra and Gayle of Klette Avenue visited recently with Mrs. Stephens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Butler at Brookville.

Her friends here are glad to know that Mrs. Howard Folmer, the former Virginia Armstrong, has recovered nicely from a recent operation performed at Booth Hospital, Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Stephens and daughter Miss Leola Stephens of Latonia were calling on Miss Carrie and Ollie Smith, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Baird and baby of Cincinnati were guests the past week of his mother, Mrs. Mary Baird, and Mrs. Baird's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter House and family.

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.
CHAMBERS & GRUBBS
Funeral Directors WALTON
Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation
Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.
DIXIE STATE BANK
WALTON, KENTUCKY
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

ATTACK! ATTACK! ATTACK!

America's attacking on both the fighting front and the home front today!
We're giving the Axis a bitter taste of what's to come.
We're fighting the inflationary 6th column that blows prices sky high here at home, too.
And every one of us who saves at least 10% of his pay in War Bonds is an important soldier in the attack!
Join the attack yourself!

Notice to Wool Pool Members
Due to the fire at Mr. Lusby's store, the Wool Bags have been moved to Conrad Hardware, Walton.
—L. S. Scott, Secy.

Cheapest Farm in Kenton Co.
191 Acres—2 houses; 2 barns; 3½-acre Tobacco Base; on good road. 10% down. Possession today. Sale price $7,500.
Rel C. Wayman
623 Washington Street Covington, Ky.
HEm. 5107; Branch Office COl. 5111; INd. 5064

Fifty Dollar Reward
FOR INFORMATION LEADING TO ARREST AND CONVICTION OF ANY PERSON OR PERSONS MOLESTING THE PROPERTY OF THE Boone Lake Club
Incorporated

SAVE THE SURFACE WITH
BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT
and save money—GOOD PAINT not only preserves your property, but beautifies it and increases its value as well. With Boehmer's Wearmore Paint you get a paint that has maintained its high quality for nearly 50 years. Engage a good painter and instruct him to use our paint.
There is a Boehmer Wearmore Paint for Every Painting Need.
We carry a complete line of Painters' Supplies.
There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You
Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.
THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.
114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212
Phone COlonial 0212

Yessir! WE ALWAYS GET EGGS ON WAYNE
Your hens will make you happy if you feed them right. When your egg production goes up, your feed cost per dozen goes down. Get on the Wayne Program and enjoy More Eggs—Bigger Profits.
WAYNE EGG MASH

COLONIAL
COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING, TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS, MAPS, PAPERS OR PERIODICALS BELONGING TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES.
See Ky. Statutes, Article 1264
University of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance

WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MAY 14, 1942

Volume 28; Number 28

Fair Grounds Plan Building Program

The Boone County 4-H and Utopia Council is developing plans for a Fair Grounds building program that will be carried out over a period of years. This year's plans call for the construction of a lake, secretary's office, speakers stand, toilets, floral hall and lunch stand.

The grounds improvement is being greatly handicapped by the war emergency and lack of funds. However, every effort is being made to get the grounds in the most usable state of development at the earliest possible date. Everyone is showing a splendid spirit of cooperation in the program.

Prof. N. R. Elliott, landscape architect of the College of Agriculture, visited the grounds the past week and stated they represented the finest location he had seen in the State. He advised that the grounds under the proposed plan were ideal for landscaping and for locating buildings. He promised cooperation and assistance in further planning this work.

NAVY RECRUITING OFFICER HERE EACH WED.

Until further notice, a Navy Recruiting Officer, C. H. Cramer, Covington, will be at the Walton Postoffice each Wednesday at 10:30 a. m., Eastern War Time. Men between the ages of 17 to 50 are eligible to enlist for service.

METHODIST LADIES AID SOCIETY TO MEET SAT.

The Ladies Aid society of the Walton Methodist Church will meet Saturday, May 16 at the home of Mrs. Ella Green, on the Dixie Highway, South of Walton, for an all-day meeting. All members are invited to be present.

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS TO MEET FRIDAY, MAY 22

The next regular meeting of the Florence Homemakers will be held at the Town Hall on Friday, May 22nd at 10:30 a. m. Answer to roll call with "Some fact about Kentucky."—Mable G. Sayre, Reporter.

49 Tomato Growers Produce 110 Acres

John Wood of the Walton Packing Company reports contracts have been signed by 49 Boone County tomato growers, who will produce 110 acres in 1942. Canning tomatoes is one of the war crops that the Department of Agriculture has requested maximum production of this year.

Mr. Wood states that the Walton Packing Co., has signed up 350 acres, which represents its maximum capacity. Approximately 200 additional acres could have been contracted for had capacity permitted.

John S. Gardner, Garden Specialist, College of Agriculture, met with growers at Walton last Friday afternoon and advised with them on fertilizer and cultural practices that would increase the yield of marketable tomatoes.

Wool Pool To Sell Clip On June 8

Boone County Wool growers have voted to sell their pool clip under sealed bids at Walton, Monday, June 8th according to H. E. White president of the Pool. June 1st has been set as the closing date for growers to sign up. Approximately 60,000 pounds of wool, representing 90% of all wool produced in the county is expected to be pooled by that time.

Mr. G. P. Summers, Marketing Specialist, addressed growers at the meeting and advised that they should receive a higher price than in 1941. The price outlook for both lambs and wool is reported as good for this year with July and August being the low months for Kentucky lambs.

All wool growers were urged to list their flocks with these local committeemen immediately in order that the pool may notify buyers as to the number of 1942 fleeces that will be offered for sale.

Dr. Paul S. Powell, District Superintendent of the Covington District of Methodist Churches, and Mrs. Sallie Miller and Miss Emma Jane Miller were the Sunday evening dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Talley and son Jimmie.

Rev. C. J. Alford spent the first part of the week with his mother, Mrs. S. C. Alford of Stanford.

Mrs. Rubbe Entertains Ryland Homemakers

Mrs. Harry Rubbe entertained members of the Ryland Homemakers Club at her home in Covington, last Tuesday.

Miss Zelma Byerly gave an interesting talk on training everyone to be able to check their own meals to be sure they are receiving proper nourishment. Children are easily trained to eat correctly if given a chart to follow.

Miss Byerly also led a discussion of skillful shopping hints.

Mrs. J. C. Brown gave the nutrition lesson, urging Homemakers to make needed foods attractive, that they will appeal to everyone.

Mrs. Alfre dRich in her citizenship talk, asked that everyone cease complaining, be cheerful, do not listen to rumors, do not say things that would lead to disloyal talk, and above all ask God for strength and courage.

Mrs. William Mendenhall read an interesting article about "the unseen harvest." The author told of planting zinnias, petunias and marigolds and reaping a harvest of solace and quietude.

Mrs. Horry Rubbe proudly reported that fourteen members of the First Aid class, under the competent supervision of Kenneth Ralrden, instructor, have completed the standard course. Mr. and Mrs. Al Sizemore, Mr. Bruce Kenady and Mrs. Lois Rubbe are taking the advanced course, preparatory to taking the instructors course.

A Gift From Patriotic Citizens of The County

Before England organized its own blood-donation centers, the American Red Cross collected and shipped 17,000 plasma units to Britain. A year ago our own government asked the public for a like amount. From these first donations shipments were made to Pearl Harbor and the Philippines. Blood is being collected today at Red Cross centers in 18 cities. The taking of the blood is handled by trained nurses under the supervision of a skilled physician. It is a simple and painless process, requiring about 15 minutes. Each blood unit, in a carefully sterilized bottle, goes at once to a laboratory where the plasma is separated from the blood cells, dehydrated and frozen.

Here is a gift which, unlike money, unlike time or even work, is a part of yourself.

SAYS "IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE ADVERTISER"

R. T. Heizer, Covington, says, "It pays to advertise—in the ADVERTISER". Mr. Heizer, last week, purchased a sow and seven pigs from Kenneth Maines, Richwood, through an avertisement in our classified section. If YOU wish to purchase something or have something for sale, place an ad in our Classified Section.

Thank you, Mr. Heizer.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR LEWIS SHIELDS, FRIDAY

A farewell party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeMoisey last Friday night in honor of Lewis Shields, basketball coach here for the past four years, who was inducted into the Army, Saturday at Ft. Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. DeMoisey and Mrs. Aleen Conner served as host and hostesses.

A delightful meal was served consisting of Chow Mein (Frank's own recipe), Waldorf salad, hot rolls, butter, iced tea, strawberry shortcake, and all the necessary trimmings.

A good time was enjoyed by all guests present, including Lewis Shields, Miss Martha Wilson, Miss Blanche Brittenhelm, Desha McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. Al Warner, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Thompson, Miss Mary DeMoisey, Buddy Walker, Miss Georgia Rouse, Florian Lusby, Gayle McElroy, and the host and hostesses.

4-H RALLY DAY AT BURLINGTON, MAY 16

The annual 4-H Club Spring Rally Day will be held at the Burlington school on Saturday, May 16 at 10:30 a. m, Eastern War Time, according to the local Extension Agents.

4-H boys and girls from all the clubs in the county will gather to participate in the demonstration team contests, games and picnic. Clothing exhibits and the style revue will be special features sponsored by a large number of girls from several clubs.

Winners of demonstrations given by teams and individuals will represent Boone County in the District Contest at Williamstown on May 22nd.

Florence Club members will present "The Barkley Family Plans the American Way," a skit describing various ways farm people can be of great service during the war.

Parents and friends of 4-H Club work are invited to attend.

AT GREAT LAKES NAVAL TRAINING STATION

Charles Brooks, 21, son of Henry Brooks of Independence, Route 1, arrived at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station last week and will begin his active duty in the Navy by undergoing several weeks of recruit training. This training teaches the new recruit elementary naval procedure and allows the Navy an opportunity to decide whether or not he will be retained for further specialized instruction, or will be sent directly for service at sea.

Mrs. John Roberts was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Tuesday by Chambers & Grubbs. She was suffering from the third attack of Gall stones. Mrs. Wilford Sleckman of Hebron was with her mother before she left for the hospital.

Club Organizations To Grow Castor Beans

Boone County Utopia Club. Future Farmers and 4-H Club members will grow castor beans in cooperation with our National Defense program, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

Castor beans supply vital oil that is needed in our National Defense program. The county has been assigned a quota of beans to grow to meet the emergency. The Government is supplying the seed to be grown on farms under the Agricultural Conservation Program. All seed grown will be under contract to the Government at $4.00 per hundred pounds.

Castor beans yield equally well on land of low fertility compared with more fertile land. The crop from all reports is very easy to raise with the biggest job being picking the beans at regular intervals. This job can be done by children or unexperienced help. Average yields should return around $80 per acre.

Dorothy Soutner of Burlington has secured enough seed to produce one acre. James Robert Huey of Hebron, Vocational Agricultural Leader, has secured seed for Future Farmers Club members. Seed is available this week to 4-H Club members. Eight pounds of seed are required to plant one acre. Club members growing the seed will usually plant from one-tenth to one acre.

Seed is available to all farmers who may want to grow this crop. Detail information on growing the crop and seed is available at the County Agent's office, Burlington. Those who are interested should contact the office at the earliest date possible. All who can grow the seed will be rendering a valuable service to our Nation at War.

STENOGRAPHIC POSITIONS AVAILABLE

Frankfort, Ky., May 14.— Open competitive examinations will be held in the near future for the position of clerk-stenographer at an annual salary range of $1200-1440, J. P. Glasgow, merit system supervisor of the Kentucky Personnel Division, announced today. The examinations will be used to establish registers for positions with the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission, the U. S. Employment Service for Kentucky, and the Divisions of Child Welfare and Public Assistance in the Department of Welfare.

Applications must be filed not later than May 20 and may be obtained from the U. S. Employment Service offices, county school superintendents, State Department of Welfare offices, or by writing to J. P. Glasgow, Merit System Supervisor, Division of Personnel, at Frankfort.

Locally, examinations will be held in Covington.

Mrs. Mattie Powers is visiting her sister, Mrs. Luther Stone, and Mr. Stone in Covington.

Home Nursing Classes For Boone County

Any community in Boone County desiring a Home Nursing Class, and who can get enough women over 18 who want to take the course, may have the services of the County Nurse for teaching if they get at it right away.

These classes must be organized within the next two weeks in order to complete them in time for other activities, which are coming on.

If you are interested and can get up a class in your community, please get in contact with any of the following persons:

Rev. J. Russell Cross. Walton; Mrs. J. K. Cropper, Burlington; Miss Lucy Lee Grant, RFD, Burlington; Mrs. Jane Utz, Florence; Mrs. Walter Ferguson, Union; Mrs Lula Huey, Walton; or Miss Elizabeth C. Lowry, Burlington.

Walton Homemakers Hold May Meeting

Mrs. Pearl Bedinger was hostess to the Walton Homemakers Club for the May meeting.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Marie Hughes. The time of meeting, in the future, will be 11 o'clock instead of 10:30. Mrs. Blanche Franks gave a very interesting talk on planting and cultivation of flowers, also on prunning shrubs Mrs. Anna Pearl Gaines gave a report from the flower show held in Florence. Mrs. Gaynelle Flynn gave a very interesting talk on serving meals for a community group, also planning meals to meet the needs of the entire family. Adjournment for lunch.

After lunch the group was called to order again by the president. Mrs. Gaines gave a talk on consumers education program. Mrs. Moore, our Demonstration agent, gave a talk on the care of woolens. A report of the meeting of the Bluegrass District, Kentucky Federation of Homemakers Clubs held in Paris, April 28th was given by club members who attended.

Mrs. Gaines gave a talk on salvage collection of tin cans, also papers and magazines.

Mrs. Moore announced a canning demonstration to be held at Burlington, June 18th.

Members present were Mrs. Rod Hughes, Mrs. L. A. Gardiner, Mrs. Hess Vest, Mrs. John L. Vest, Mrs. Alan Gaines, Mrs. Clinton Cleek, Mrs. Ralph Carpenter, Mrs. Alta Chambers, Miss Allela Neumeister, Mrs. Leo Flynn. Mrs. W. O. Rouse, Mrs. Stanley Ranson, Mrs. Howard Stephenson, Mrs. Mary S. Moore, and the hostess, Mrs. Bedinger. Visitors were Shirley Lou Carpenter, Dennie Flynn, Miss Marie Chambers.

Adjournment to meet with Mrs. Rod Hughes in June.—Mrs. W. O. Rouse, Reporter.

IN THE ARMY NOW

Jimmie Cleek, in his new U. S. Army uniform, and Lewis Shields, who are stationed at Ft. Thomas, were in Walton for a few hours Monday evening. In addition to these two, Kircher Johnson and Tom Brewster, also of Walton, were inducted into the Army at Ft. Thomas, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norvin Bickers and family of Ft. Knox and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oesting and family of Latonia visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Kelly and family recently.

MARRIED AT WILLIAMSTOWN

Mr. Rudolph Stanley and Miss Kathlene Binder of Independence were married on Wednesday, May 7th at Williamstown.

Mrs. Frank Storks, the former Miss Mary Flowers, and a former teacher in the school here, and her young son of Camp Shelby, Miss., were guests of Mrs. Estelle Gordon, Mary Rensler and other friends here the latter part of the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Johnson were Sunday guests of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and son Jerry of Ft. Mitchell.

Senior Class Night May 19 at W.-V.

The class of 1942 of the Walton-Verona High School will present the annual class night program on Tuesday evening, May 19 at 8:00 p. m., Eastern War Time.

All parents and friends of the graduates are cordially invited to attend.

The following program will be given by the members of the class:

"On Furlough"

Salutatory— Stanley McElroy
Class President's Address— Paul Simpson
Class History— Nathan Northcutt
Class Motto— Geraldine Elliott
Class Flower— Laura Marsh
Composite Picture— Clifford Ryan
Grumbler— Marian Hancock
Class Doctor— J. O. Dudgeon
Statistics— Rose Ann Bickers
Prophecy— Ellen Miskell
Advice to Juniors— Ruth Haley
Gratitudes— Gladys Dudgeon
Obituary— LaVerne Ryan
Class Will— Russell Groger
Giftorian— Mildred King
Valedictory— Wanda Lou Conrad

The class wishes to thank Mrs. Rose and Miss Scott for their kindness in sponsoring the program.

WALTON FIRE DEPT. TO MEET FRIDAY

If you are interested in the Walton Fire Department, and who isn't, you are urged to attend an open meeting of the department at the Town Hall on Friday evening, May 15. The Fire Department needs the cooperation of every citizen. Give the boys a hand and we'll have a more efficient fire-fighting unit.

Eighteen Attend Hemp Planting Demonstration

Eighteen farmers attended the hemp planting demonstration at Hugh Stephens' farm in the East Bend section last Friday, according to County Agent Forkner. The planting of hemp was found to be a very simple job and there was increased interest growing among the farmers attending. Russell Hunt, Field Agent from the College, was in charge of the demonstration.

A total of 12 growers have signed up for growing 55½ acres of hemp this year. A slightly larger acreage is expected before the planting season is over.

HERE'S HOW TO STRETCH YOUR SUGAR RATION

Are you concerned about how to stretch your sugar ration to reach around to all the sweetening needs of your household? If you are, Mrs. Mary S. Moore, Acting Home Demonstration Agent, offers suggestions for using substitutes:

1—One and one-half cups of molasses, corn syrup and maple syrup should be used for every cup of sugar ordinarily used.

2—Three-fourths of a cup of honey is equal to a cup of sugar.

3—One-fourth cup of liquid should be subtracted for each cup of any of these liquids used.

4—One-fourth teaspoon of soda should be added for each cup of honey, molasses and maple syrup.

Sugar contains no vitamins or minerals, so the important problem is to learn how to substitute for this sweet in food preparation. Prepared cake mixtures, pudding powders, gelatin products will come in for their place in sugar "stretching." Dried fruits, properly prepared need little or no sugar (soak for 18 to 24 hours at room temperature before cooking). Fresh fruits are satisfying, nutritious substitutes for candy or between meal eating.

Roy Colwell of Mansfield, Ohio was a guest of Mrs. Hattie Metcalfe, the first of the week. Mr. Colwell, who had been spending some time in Florida, was on his way home.

Mrs. Wendell Rouse is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wm. Bertram, and family at Greenville, Ohio.

EYES OVERWORKED ?

Men whose vocations depend upon sight often are surprised to learn that "rest from work" does NOT end eye fatigue. But Glasses do! We've equipped many artists, writers, draftsmen with—not just Glasses, but Better Vision.

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER—Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1860

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

The farm labor situation is not likely to improve as the harvesting season progresses. Mr. Wood hinted that labor shortages were likely to develop in many of our mid-western agricultural states and that farmers should cooperate, as much as possible, to harvest the crops which have been planted.

We have heard it said, "An army travels on its stomach." If this is true, the production of agricultural commodities is as vital to our success in war as is our production of guns. The Federal Government has pledged all possible aid to the farmer this summer so that the maximum amount of food may be produced for ourselves and our allies.

Money Talks

By Frederick Stamm, Economist Director of Adult Education UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

The problem of securing enough farm labor to harvest our crops is rapidly becoming one of major importance. Right now millions of dollars worth of garden crops are going to waste because of labor shortage in New Jersey and other eastern states. Hundreds of acres of asparagus, needed by our Army and Navy, already have gone to waste. Because of labor shortages many truck farmers are cancelling their contracts to grow tomatoes, an important lend-lease commodity.

Regional Director Wood of the Farm Security Administration calls this situation "a Bataan on the farm front" and attributes the shortage to the drafting of farm labor, the high wages paid in defense industries, the tire rationing, and the impending gasoline restrictions.

BEAVER LICK

(Too Late for Last Week)

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James Moore, a fine son at Booth Hospital, Saturday, May 2nd.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sleet and Mrs. Fannie Howard were shopping in Covington, Saturday.

There was no Sunday School at Hughes Chapel Sunday as the church is being redecorated.

Clifford Afterkirk left Saturday for Ft. Thomas to enter the army. His many friends know the enemy will live harder now, since old Cliff is on the job.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCabe and Mrs. Emma Cleek were recent guests of Clint Blankenbeker and family of Florence.

The New Haven Homemakers Club met at the Richwood Community House lost Tuesday for their regular monthly meeting. About ten ladies were present. The next meeting will be held at the Community House, May 19th and all ladies of the neighborhood are urged to be present.

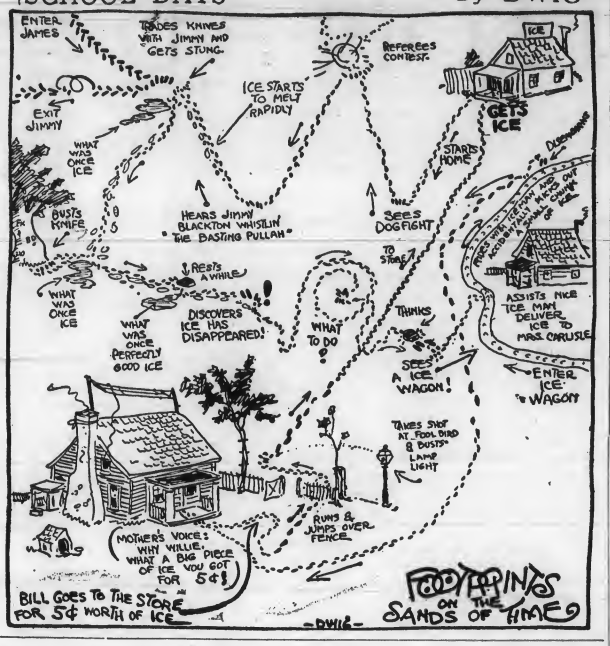
Eight pressure cookers have been ordere din Nelson county, in planning for the canning season.

Union county homemakers' clubs voted to invest $500 in war bonds.

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

BY Gordon Wilson Ph.D. WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE BOWLING GREEN, KY.

"Jump On Comebody Your Size"



Since Germany has got into the habit of swooping down on a helpless small country and overwhelming it, I have thought again and again of the retort we boys used to make when a bully gave himself airs by attacking a small boy: "Jump on somebody your size." Small boys suffered a species of martyrdom at the hands of older boys in the form of pinching, nagging, and such insulting things, but it was not often that a really he-boy attacked a small boy in an actual fight. There was a sort of unwritten law that such a deed warranted all that other big boys could do with the bully. The typical bully, then and now was likely to be a coward among his own kind, afraid to be hurt, ashamed to be teased. As if to get even with society, he would offer indignities, sometimes, to the little fellows, who rarely would try to attack him. Not long did he escape just punishment, though, for the little boys would tell larger ones, and the bully was brought to a species of justice that I shall maintain was and is appropriate. Instead of being tried by a jury of his peers, in any legal sense, he was given a sound thrashing by a group of his own size and lectured into the bargain.

I wish it were permissible to chronicle some of the happenings that I have witnessed, language and all. It would be a lesson in language as it is spoken and would also get the editor of this paper indicted for indecency. Suffice it to say, the language was strong and hit the spot, though it may have dragged in too many of one's family. A dressing-down like this was usually enough to put the bully in his place and to stop his future depredations.

A saying that was often heard had a ring somewhat similar to this. Whenever a person stepped down from his own level and then got what was coming to him, regardless of his color or station, we said, "If you put yourself in a nigger's place, you must take a nigger's fare." When I hear people lamenting wronged or outraged dignity, whenever rI read how some person is suing somebody for slander, whenever I witness a bit of acting on the part of some scheming fellow to get out of a situation that he knows is not up to his standard, I want to say the trite but pat thing about putting yourself in a nigger's place. Boys may be cruel in a coarse sense, but basically they respect fairness and say so in their age-old maxims.

Mere quarreling and fighting were formerly not to be regarded as traits of being a bad boy. Everybody fought to show his mettle. Not to fight on any or all occasions was to be a sissy. But even the toughlike boys respected a fair fight and would see to it that two little fellows did not resort to underhanded tricks. "No biting, no gouging, not hitting below the belt." A boy who took unfair advantage of his opponent was likely to be disliked so thoroughly that he became an outcast until he fought again fairly and won fairly. It sometimes happened that the bully was the very boy to "go tell the teacher." That usually complicated matters and was likely to get the bully more consideration temporarily than he deserved. There was always another recess or playtime, though, and wonders could be accomplished away in the woods on the "boy's side" where the lady teacher could not come. After all, even a bully must respect the combined power of his male schoolmates; most of the bullies whom I have known were far more afraid of a licking at the hands of a schoolmate than at the hands of the teacher, for in the latter case there was some honor in taking the licking without crying and showing the little girls how brave a fellow can be.

SCHOOL DAYS — By DWIG

MT. ZION

(Too Late for Last Week)

Miss Marcella and Eugene Lawrence spent Saturday at the Kentucky Derby in Louisville. Eugene works in Cincinnati and is on a two week's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Jump and daughter entertained Mr. and Mrs Ottis Lee Alexander and daughter of Latonia over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Menefee had as guests Sunday, Barnett Sleet Noell and daughters of Covington and Mrs. Lula Vest of Walton.

Miss Rita Ewald and friend, Joe Feldmer of Covington visited Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Alexander last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira G. Stephenson and Mrs. Frances Jump were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Sullivan.

Sorry to report little Donna Lou Lambert has scarlet fever, and is quarantined.

Eighteen enrolled in the Home Nursing class last Wednesday evening at the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Herd and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Greene and daughter Ruth, Miss Betty Gouge of Covington spent Sunday with E. A. Greene.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Roberts and children entertained relatives from Butler, Sunday.

Mrs. Jim Wood sis visiting in Covington, this week.

Jim Woods and Jay McClure of our community were among the number of boys who left William town, Thursday morning for training camps.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jackson and Frank Jump of Covington spent the weekend with relatives.

The Truthseekers Sunday School Class met with Mrs. Anna Franks on Friday night.

Mrs. Ava Baird and daughter Bernice left last Monday for several weeks visit with relatives in Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Jump and daughter Eunice were shopping in Covington, Friday.

Mrs. Geneva Lambert was a visitor in town Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Johnson and daughter Ruth Ann were visitors of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Johnson an dmother, Saturday night.

Word was received from Rev. Moman that he could not accept the call as pastor of our church, due to the fact he wasn't called at Crittenden. We are expecting another preacher.

Warren county 4-H club girls are being organized to help in the canning programs in their homes.

Studying Kentucky history is a secondary project of homemakers' clubs in Campbell county.

Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day
★ ★ ★
Let's Double Our Quota

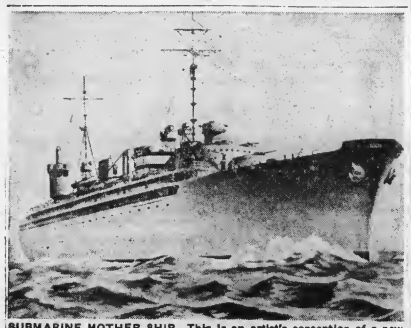
COULD YOU run your present business if you were blind? Can you get the most out of it if you are half blind? If your eyes need attention, see
L. J. METZGER
Optometrist Opticias
631 Madison Ave. Covington
Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

KENTUCKY HATCHERY Baby Chicks
All leading breeds U.S. Approved, Blood-tested, started chicks one, two and three weeks old. Prices right. Also Sexed chicks. FREE CATALOG. Write: KENTUCKY HATCHERY 827 WEST FOURTH STREET • LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY

When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
—24-Hr. Wrecker Service—
Cars Washed - Storage

OVER THE TOP FOR VICTORY with UNITED STATES WAR BONDS-STAMPS

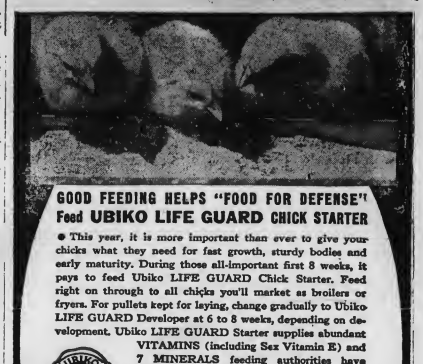
Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria
Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package
Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

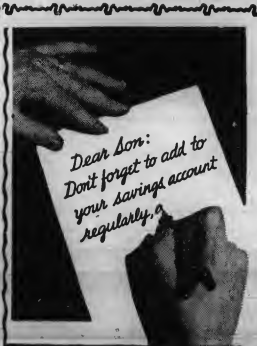


Don't Let HIGH PRICES UNPLEASANT TASTE INCONVENIENCE
Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.
You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take
ONE A DAY VITAMINS & MINERALS
Pleasant-tasting • Convenient Economical
Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping

To Relieve Misery of COLDS take 666
LIQUID, TABLETS, SALVE, NOSE DROPS

PEOPLES LIBERTY BANK & TRUST CO.
COVINGTON, KY.
MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.





Keep Up WITH EVENTS EVERY WEEK from THE NATION'S CAPITAL
Read PATHFINDER
PATHFINDER brings to you in words and pictures the drama of events fresh from Washington, D. C., the nation's capital, today the world's news center. News, features, and facts, events boiled down into 20 interesting, inspiring departments. Complete, unbiased, non-partisan, non-sectarian, dependable—gives both sides. Improved new features. World's oldest, most-read news weekly at one-fourth the cost of others. Furnishes clean, reliable reading for the entire family.
This Newspaper & PATHFINDER BOTH one year Only $1.80

SUBMARINE MOTHER SHIP—This is an artist's conception of a new submarine tender, one of several such ships being rushed to completion for the United States Navy. Each of these vessels will be used as a supply base and mother ship for a fleet of submarines in action against the Axis powers. Both the main and auxiliary engines in these vessels are General Motors Diesel engines. Such service demands high speed, ready maneuverability and exceptionally wide cruising range.

MAY SPECIALS AT THE Powder Puff Beauty Salon
Carter Wireless Oil Wave—a $5.00 Wave for $3.50 during May; also a Mel-O-Tone $5.00 Wave on Machine—2 Waves for $5.00, if two come together.
EDNA STAMLER
78 S. Main St. (Phone 682) Walton, Ky.

NAGGING BACKACHE
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!
Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, wholesome, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.
After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.
Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.
THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS
All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say, ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILLS

GOOD FEEDING HELPS "FOOD FOR DEFENSE"
Feed UBIKO LIFE GUARD CHICK STARTER
● This year, it is more important than ever to give your chicks what they need for fast growth, sturdy bodies and early maturity. During those all-important first 8 weeks, it pays to feed Ubiko LIFE GUARD Chick Starter. Feed right on through to all chicks you'll market as broilers or fryers. For pullets kept for laying, change gradually to Ubiko LIFE GUARD Developer at 6 to 8 weeks, depending on development. Ubiko LIFE GUARD Starter supplies abundant VITAMINS (including Sex Vitamin E) and 7 MINERALS feeding authorities have found essential to life, health and growth. For simple, safe, economical feeding of your baby chicks this year — come in now for your Ubiko LIFE GUARD Chick Starter!
And be sure to ask for your FREE CHICK RAISING BOOK!
Walton & Readnour
Walton, Ky.

You can begin your Insured savings account today with as little as $5
FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK SYSTEM
INSURED
SAFETY is INSURED
FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1348

Because of the income tax, many farmers in Meade county are keeping complete records this year.

Is Your Subscription Paid?

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .

DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?

Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.

LANG'S CAFETERIA
623-625 Madison Avenue
COVINGTON KENTUCKY

This Week on The Home Front

Steel is the number 1 raw material of victory, and during the past week, the War Production Board emphasized the fact by ordering manufacturers to cease using this major war metal in more than 400 commodities of civilian use.

The steel order is so drastic and far-reaching that as time passes, it will work remarkable changes in our way of life. Scores of things we have come to accept as essential to our standard of living will no longer be made at all after a 90 day tapering off period, and gradually will disappear from the shelves of the merchant.

The WPB scrutinized the list of domestic goods, utensils, gadgets, and building supplies of all kinds, and cut every ounce of steel possible out of them.

Some of the prohibitions may have seemed trivial, but they were not. For example, it was discovered that a class of toilet articles like manicure scissors, nail files and nippers, cuticle pushers, hairpins and bobby pins and tweezers and gadgets for squeezing blackheads, consumed 1,815 tons of steel in 1941, enough to make more than 170 big 155 millimeter guns — the blackhead squeezers alone claiming enough steel for four such guns.

Factories that make such things must convert to war production.

—o—

The War Production Board, however, is attacking the steel situation on more than one front. All over the nation the agents of the Auto Graveyard Section of the Bureau of Industrial Conservation are scouring the towns and cities and farms in a drive to push the wrecked and worn out jalopies through the "auto graveyard" into the hungry steel furnaces.

The "auto graveyard" owners, too many of whom have been hoarding their old cars for their spare parts business are being told they must move these cars out of their yards to the mills by July 1, and replace them with others. In Ohio alone, the BIC expects to collect nearly 80,000 tons of auto scrap during the current two months, and 200,000 tons by the end of the year.

—o—

Two western scrap metal dealers were put out of business for three months because they refused to fill three WPB allocation orders. They are Hueben and Ralph Finkelstein, doing business in Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas.

—o—

In all the major shopping centers of the nation this week OPA officials are holding meetings with retail merchants explaining the operation of the new General Maximum Price Regulation. OPA urges us to be patient with our retail store keepers while the new price ceiling is going into effect. OPA points out that the regulations impose many novel and difficult burdens on retailers and their suppliers" and that "the long run success of the program requires the complete co-operation of the consumer."

—o—

Here is OPA's three-point guide to shoppers:

1. Before July 1 educate yourself as to how the price rules work but don't try to be a price policeman.

2. After July 1, report established violations to war price and rationing boards.

3. For the duration, remember that you have a personal obligation to buy at or below the ceiling price and the plan won't work unless you make it work.

—o—

Office of Defense ransportation — ODT in the alphabetical list of war agencies — becomes more and more in evidence. It now bans all grain shipments on the great likes. This means that 3,000,000 tons of shipping capacity in 340 boats, for ore transportation. Order is effective Friday, this week.

—o—

Copies of plan to mobilize the entire country for war conservation of private and public transportation are now in the hands of all the governors and the mayors of all towns of 10,000 people or over. Program of ODT. Therell be local administrators and state administrators. Program is in three parts: (1) Stagger of business school and work hours; (2) Improved traffic regulations; (3) Group riding, in private autos to and from work. ODT study shows cars are being run, carrying an average of less than two persons, when most hold five or six.

—o—

WPB asks all utility systems to discontinue installation of all street lighting extensions except those needed for public safety, for the duration.

—o—

Movies are now hit by war restrictions. Without WPB approval, producers cannot spend more than $5,000 on materials for sets, which cost ordinarily between $10,000 and $150,000. Most movie sets are made of material salvaged from old, so only about 25 percent of the sets cost above $5,000 for new material. WPB must approve higher costs.

—o—

Most of our spices come from East and West Indies. Available shipping is used for war supplies and naval enemy has stopped most of rest. So WPB has restricted distribution of block pepper, allspice, cinnamon, cloves, ginger, nutmeg, mace, 50 to 75 percent. However, supply now on hand will last an estimated 12 to 18 months.

—o—

One third of ordinary pins are made of brass. This production will stop after June 15, because WPB has forbidden use of copper alloys in 100 odd civilian products. Banned is the copper metal for neon signs and flourescent tubes for advertising.

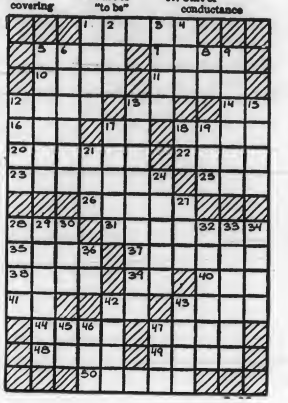
—o—

Furniture industry, second largest producer of the "consumer durables" a billion dollar annual business, must convert to war work. It will make airplane parts chiefly wooden and metal. Wooden training planes and gliders will be produced. In the same process the machine tool shops for furniture making, will also convert.

OPA has put a price ceiling on all new and used mechanical refrigerators pushing the price back to February level. Production of refrigerators stopped April 30.

That typewriter order which worried so many businessmen is now clarified on one important point. There is no restriction on renting used typewriters from dealers, except that the government reserves the right to take them back. If you buy you're rationed.

Crossword Puzzle



No. 4

ACROSS
1. Fast
5. Infirm
7. Crafts
10. Mimicked
11. Peasant of India
12. Chew
13. International language
14. Whether
16. Part of a play
17. Pronoun
18. A constellation
20. Titters
22. Mound
23. Gloomy
25. Fuel
26. Sorrow
28. Watch secretly
31. Railroad car
35. Circlet
37. To have ideas
38. Volcano in Sicily
39. Nova Scotia (abbr.)
40. Greek letter
41. Masurium (sym.)
42. King of Bashan
43. Blood vessel
44. Cistern
47. Refuse from grapes
48. Hebrew measure
49. Sound made by snake
50. Cart

DOWN
1. Merganser
2. Marry
3. Card game
4. Attempt
5. Surgical instrument
6. Want of feeling
8. Toward
9. Mark of disgrace
12. Channels between cliffs
13. Sailing again
15. Dandies
17. Dams
18. Exclamation
19. Floor covering
21. Ovum
24. Requires
27. Charge for services
28. Son of Noah
29. Edible tuber
30. Yonder
33. Horses that pace
33. Morals
34. Check
36. Father
42. Vegetable
43. Conceited
45. Part of "to be"
46. Modern
47. Unit of conductance

Answer to Previous Puzzle

By JEAN MERRITT
Heinz Home Institute

Luncheon Quickie for the Children

When your ravenous youngsters dash home for lunch see that there's plenty of good solid food on the table for them. Hefty food. The ribsticking kind that will fill them up and stand by them through an afternoon of work and play. Authorities say a five-year-old child has as much energy to burn as a laboring man. A grown man will conserve his strength though, while a child will squander all he has in one short morning, so that by noontime he is really starved and in great need of quick refueling.

To save your own time and still serve substantial food, build the children's luncheon around a quick meal-in-one-dish. Something like a Hot Potato Salad made of tender boiled potato cubes and spicy wieners, moistened with mayonnaise and condiments, with, as a special tasty treat, snibblins of cross cut sweet pickles tucked in for extra flavor. This Hot Potato Salad served with a tall cool glass of milk, a dish of fruit, and cookies makes an ample children's menu that will not tax your time or talents:

Hot Potato Salad

Cook, then dice into medium sized pieces—

4 large potatoes.

Add—

¾ cup sweet pickles or cross cut sweet pickles, diced
4 leftover cooked wieners, sliced and sliced.

Mix together—

1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup sweet pickle liquor
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Heat just to simmering. Pour over potatoes and combine very lightly. Serve as vegetable with scrambled eggs, if desired. Serves 6.

Pickle Pointers

1. Mix two parts ready-to-serve peanut butter with one part tart India relish for a Pic-Nut picnic spread.
2. To turn out tasty canapés, spread very thin whole wheat wafers with a layer of prepared peanut butter and edge with a border of India relish, chopped fresh cucumber pickle, or very finely chopped, crisp cooked bacon.
3. For fine first course nibbling, slice delicious dills and spread with a topping made of 1 package cream cheese blended with 1 tablespoon evaporated horseradish soaked for 10 minutes in twice the amount of cold water.
4. To pickle beets quickly, cover with the juice from preserved sweet mixed pickles or from cross cut sweet pickles and let stand several hours.
5. To pickle eggs use juice from any of the preserved sweet pickles. If you prefer a little color add some beet juice or vegetable coloring.
6. Pert and piquant is this mixture of 2 cups mayonnaise and ¼ cup chopped chow-chow. Sumptuous on salads!
7. For a cunning canapé, toast thin rounds of white bread on one side. Spread lightly with prepared mayonnaise, add a slice of fresh cucumber pickle, another fluff of mayonnaise, and top with a chilled shrimp.
8. Add ½ cup sweet mustard pickle, chopped, to a three-pound meat loaf when mixing ingredients. Makes grand sandwich filling when sliced cold.
9. Spiced peaches can be prepared quickly, and effortlessly, any season of the year by simply soaking canned peaches in the juice from preserved sweet gherkins, preserved sweet mixed pickles, cross cut sweet pickles, or spicy sweet pickles.
10. For a tart and tasty coleslaw, thin mayonnaise with spicy pickle juice.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

FROM KITTY HAWK...TO FLYING FORTRESS.

AT KITTY HAWK TWO GREAT AMERICAN CHARACTERISTICS AGAIN ASTOUNDED THE WORLD—THE INGENUITY TO BUILD THE AIRPLANE—THE DARING TO FLY IT.

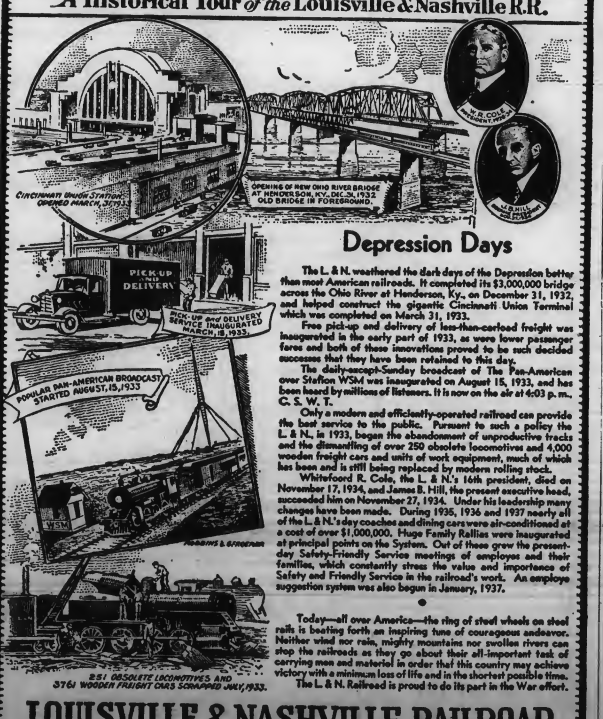
AGAIN TODAY THESE TWIN ASSETS ARE AT WORK—AMERICAN INGENUITY BUILDING THE GREATEST AIR FLEET EVER KNOWN—AMERICAN DARING FLYING IT TO VICTORY.

NO ONE WILL BEAT US AT OUR OWN GAME.

TIRES!
MUST BE SAVED
Align Those Wheels and Save Time and Money
COlonial 0670
R. MICHELS Welding Co.
722 Washington St., Covington

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

UNCLE SAM is the personification of the proud American spirit — its idealism, its ingenuity, its strength-its "will to do and soul to dare."



NEW LINES OF POWER AND INFLEXIBLE RESOLVE ARE GRAVEN IN UNCLE SAM'S FACE TODAY AS EVERY ONE OF US ADDS HIS FULL STRENGTH TOWARD OUR UNITED DRIVE TO VICTORY.

92 YEARS of PROGRESS

A Historical Tour of the Louisville & Nashville R.R.

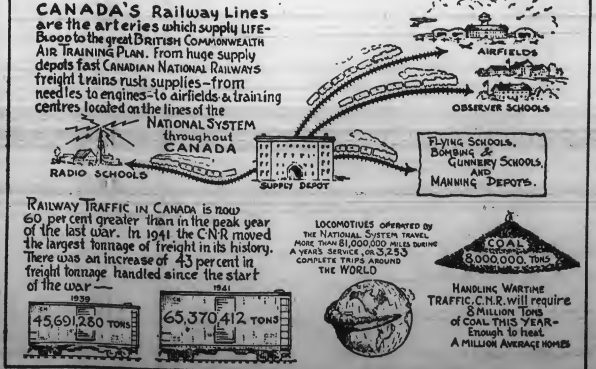
Depression Days

The L. & N. weathered the dark days of the Depression better than most American railroads. It completed its $3,000,000 bridge across the Ohio River at Henderson, Ky., on December 31, 1932, and helped construct the gigantic Cincinnati Union Terminal which was completed on March 31, 1933.

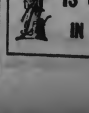
Free pick-up and delivery of less-than-carload freight was inaugurated in the early part of 1933, as were lower passenger fares and both of these innovations proved to be such decided successes that they have been retained to this day.

The daily-except-Sunday broadcast of The Pan-American over Station WSM was inaugurated on August 15, 1933, and has been heard by millions of listeners. It is now on the air at 4:03 p. m., C. S. W. T.

Only a modern and efficiently-operated railroad can provide the best service to the public. Pursuant to such a policy the L. & N., in 1933, began the abandonment of unproductive tracks and the dismantling of over 250 obsolete locomotives and 4,000 wooden freight cars and units of work equipment, much of which has been and is still being replaced by modern rolling stock.



Whiteford R. Cole, the L. & N.'s 16th president, died on November 17, 1934, and James B. Hill, the present executive head, succeeded him on November 27, 1934. Under his leadership many changes have been made. During 1935, 1936 and 1937 nearly all of the L. & N.'s day coaches and dining cars were air-conditioned at a cost of over $1,000,000. Huge Family Rallies were inaugurated at principal points on the System. Out of these grew the present-day Safety-Friendly Service meetings of employes and their families, which constantly stress the value and importance of Safety and Friendly Service in the railroad's work. An employe suggestion system was also begun in January, 1937.



Today—all over America—the ring of steel wheels on steel rails is beating forth an inspiring tune of courageous endeavor. Neither wind nor rain, mighty mountains nor swollen rivers can stop the railroads as they go about their all-important task of carrying men and material in order that this country may achieve victory with a minimum loss of life and in the shortest possible time.

The L. & N. Railroad is proud to do its part in the War effort.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE RAILROAD

Wartime Railroading in Canada By Thurstan Topham

10% OF INCOME IS OUR QUOTA IN WAR BONDS

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Hattie Metcalfe, who has been spending the winter in Florida, returned to her home here last week.

Mrs. S. S. Moore of Cynthiana was the guest Tuesday and Wednesday of her niece, Mrs. Claude Norman and family.

John Roberts, who has been confined to his bed for the past several weeks with inflamatory rheumatism, is not improving as it was hoped he would.

Miss Ethel Shields and Elmer Shields of New Albany, Ind., were visiting their brother, Lewis Shields on Friday.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Bolton of Park Hills will be pleased to know that Mr. Bolton is able to be out after several months illness.

Mrs. L. A. Gardiner spent Monday in Lexington with her husband, who is Machinist Instructor in the Lafayette Vocational school. They expect to move to Lexington in the near future.

Mrs. Sallie Miller and daughter Miss Emma Jane Miller attended a family dinner Sunday at the home of their relative, Mrs. J. L. Jones of Florence.

Mrs. Mary Stephenson of Dry Ridge, was the Sunday guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bess Conrad.

Guests of Mrs. L. A. Gardiner and family Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. John Hesser of Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. William Breeden and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Breeden spent Sunday in Dayton, Ohio, with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Laws and son Tommy. They also motored to Xenia, Ohio to visit Rev. T. L. Wooten, pastor of the Baptist Church there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sanders and Mrs Nancy Spencer of Hyde Park, Cincinnati, Ohio, spent the week end with Mr. Sanders' mother, Mrs. Lena Sanders, and his sister Louise.

Mrs. Emma Menefee of Covington spent the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Rod Hughes. Mr. Hughes and son Jack o fCrittenden.

Mrs. Mary Humphrey spent the weekend in Hebron with Mrs. Amanda Terrill.

Miss Helen Gillespie visited with her parents in Georgetown over the weekend.

Mrs. B. W. Stollard of Madisonville was a recent guest of her aunts, Mrs. Fannie Brittenhelm and Mrs. W. O. Rouse, and Mr. Rouse.

Miss Georgia Rouse and Miss Martha Wilson entertained with a dinner Wednesday evening in the Club Dining Room of Stephens Restaurant in honor of Lewis Shields. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rod Hughes and son Jack, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson and son Tommy and Walter Vest.

On Thursday evening, Lewis Shields was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson and son Tommy.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hall visited relatives in Hazard over the week end.

We have a beautiful line of garden hats, so try one, to keep the sun off. Town & Country Shop, Walton.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simons spent Sunday with Mr. Simons' brother in Covington. In te evening they attended the special Mother's Day pageant at the Latonia Christian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Nicholson and sons were entertained Sunday by their daughter, Mrs. C. D. Benson. Mr. Benson and family of Burlington.

Mrs. Minnie Carpenter of Burlington came home with her sister, Mrs. C. L. Gaines, Sunday.

Mrs. Joe Sizemore of Dayton, Ohio is here visiting her children.

Mrs. Mabel Stansifer visited in Lexington Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Sallie Day and son entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Paris and friends of Lexington and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Madden and family of Covington, Sunday.

Wilbur Kelly was called to Ft. Knox, Thursday by the death of his grandson, Charles L. Bickers.

Mrs. O. P. Mann is slowly improving since her recent fall.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Webster and daughter Ernestine spent Sunday with her mother, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones of English.

We would appreciate your coming in and looking over our wallpaper, before buying. Town & Country Shop, Walton.

WALNUT LICK

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hughes had as their dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Edrington and James Whitson and Clifton Webster was an afternoon caller.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wilson of Covington; Miss Nora Cole of Cincinnati; Mrs. Sallie Whitson of Verona; Mrs. Addie Chapman of Sunman, Ind.; Rev. and Mrs. Smith of Oxford; were entertained at the Ross Chapman home Sunday.

The shower that was given by Concord Church for Mr. and Mrs. Tevis Thomas was well attended at the W. N. Robinson home Saturday night. They received a lot of nice gifts.

Sorry to hear of Bill Turley passing away at his home in Warsaw. His funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the Carlton funeral home at Warsaw and his remains were brought to the Odd Fellows Cemetery at Nepaleon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Beach were calling on Miss Elva Speagle on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Lena Speagle will leave the last of this week to see her son, Robert, who is going to school in Michigan. Robert has not been home since he left to work for Uncle Sam.

James Whitson was a business caller in Covington, Monday.

Sorry to hear of Miss Christine Hensley having to be operated on for appendicits. Hope she gets along nicely.

Mrs. Clyde Chapman and two children of Louisville were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chapman on Sunday and attended Church here.

VERONA R-1

Jim Huffman of Big Bone celebrated his 70th birthday Sunday. At noon a table of delicious foods were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks and Mary Katherine Black of Verona; Mrs. Lucy Holsclaw of Walton; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turney and family of Indiana. In the afternoon Anna and Gladys Dudgeon of Walton were present.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Marksberry and son and Mr. and Mrs. Landy Young and family of Verona spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Orba Baker and family of Patriot, Ind. It was Mrs. Baker's birthday.

Charlie Sparks spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sparks and family of Big Bone.

Mr. and Mrs. Remley Williams spent Sunday afternoon with his mother, Mrs. Della Williams of Independence.

Don't forget the services at the South Fork Christian Church on Sunday, May 17 at 11 o'clock, CST You are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks, Charlie Sparks and Mary Katherine Black were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Omer Dudgeon Saturday night.

Russell Sparks had the misfortune to lose one of his fine calves last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Baker spent last Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Marksberry.

Russell Sparks had the misfortune to drop a post on his foot and mash it quite badly.

VERONA

Mrs. Ted Locke and two children of Lexington were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Locke and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Roberts and two daughters, Janice and Linda Lu of Latonia were calling at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Elliston, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fox, nee Fannie Stamper, of Cory, Ohio, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stamper and son Herbert over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Stevenson were Sunday guests of the Stampers.

Miss Betty Kannady of Cincinnati came ou tSunday afternoon for a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cloyd Kannady and family.

George Robert Powers spent the weekend in Danville, the guest of friends there.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Waller and sons Billy Mac and Marion Arch were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. Hiram English an dfamily of Walton.

Mrs. Bertha Blaesy is still confined to her home by illness.

Elmer Elliston visited his brother in Louisville, Sunday.

Miss Evelyn Coffman of Eastern State Teachers College, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. G. C. Ransom, and Mr. Ransom.

Mrs. W. B. Franks was calling on Miss Irene Hudson last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Allen Lindsey of Carrollton, Mrs. Dal Rae Cleek and Mrs. Evelyn Cornelius of Covington were guests over the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Elliston and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Powers of Erlanger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Points of Covington were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Roberts, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Renaker were guests of relatives in Williamstown, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Margolin and children of Cincinnati visited Mrs. Margolin's parents, John Kannady and wife, Sunday afternoon. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Kannady had as their guests also, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kannady and family of Crittenden; Miss Marie Whitson of Covington; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allphin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sleet Allphin of Gallatin County; Mrs. Clyde Chapman and two children of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chapman, Pete Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cloyd Kannady and family.

Ben Hopperton and Joe Kannady left Saturday to take their places in the military forces of the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hunt and son Albert were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Johnson of Walton, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tevis Thomas were guests at a "shower" given in their honor at the home of Mr. Robinson of Concord. Saturday evening. The young couple received many nice presents, expressing the high esteem which is felt toward them by the Concord folk.

Don't forget to attend the operetta "Lazy Town" to be given by the pupils of the Verona school on Friday evening.

Mrs. John Boyer and two children spent the past weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spinreberg of Carrollton. Mr. Boyer joined them on Sunday and accompanied his family home.

The P. T. A. will hold its regular monthly meeting at the school house next Thursday afternoon. We hope for a large attendance of the membership.

BRACHT STATION

Where wast thou when I laid the foundation of the earth? Declare if thou hast understanding. —Job 38:4.

We know little of the material universe. We should not assume that we know all about spiritual things. We know little about life, but it in essence a unity and God is over all and in all. He upholdeth all things. The universe is the subsetance of his thought:

For in him we live and move and have our being.—Act 17:28.

Therefore let us realize that in this terrible war in which our country is so deeply involved, can not and will not be won with Victory for us, only through God our Almighty power it will not be through our own selfish power, but through the power of our Almighty God. If God sees cause for America to win in these great battles—he will bestow the strength and power upon us; but without him our victory wil ibe lost.

So it is not money all alone to win, but our faith and trust in God, our Almighty Savior. For whatsoever we ask in his name, that shall we receive.

Several of our boys from this vicinity were called to take their places in the Army, leaving last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walton spent the weekend in Frankfort, observing Mother's Day.

Miss Janet Huff is confined to her room with a light case of the mumps.

Clarence Riley and wife and little daughter Beatrice visited Mr. Riley's mother near Sherman on Mother's Day.

Several from this vicinity attended the wedding of Miss Wanda Bales which occurred in Covington on Saturday, May 9th.

E. Huff and family will move this week into their new apartment which has been just recently completed.

Curtis Bales spent last Thursday evening with his parents at Maple Lawn Farm.

— VERONA ROUTE 1 —

Wesley Scott, wife and children visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Scott, Sunday.

Bert Kennedy, wife and sons, Ronny and James of Crittenden were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy, Sunday.

Mrs. Raymond Sisson and son J. R. and two daughters, Mary Jane and Pollyann and girl friend, Rose Robinson of Westwood, Ohio were visiting her mother, Mrs. Pearl Allphin, Sunday afternoon.

Arch Noel and Mrs. Jim Lamn were shopping in the city Saturday.

NEW JAMES THEATRE
WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m. —Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY & SAT., MAY 15-16
SHANGHAI GESTURE
with Gene Tierney

SUSDAY, MAY 17
Alice Faye - John Payne in WEEK-END IN HAVANA

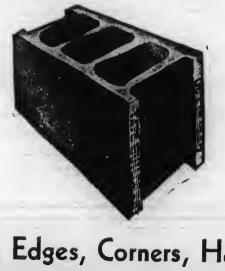
MONDAY, MAY 18
PRIVATE NURSE
with Jane Darwell

TUESDAY, MAY 19
Jane Wyman - Jeffrey Lynn in
The BODY DISAPPEARS

WEDNESDAY, MAY 20
Abbott and Costello in
KEEP 'EM FLYING



THURSDAY, MAY 21
Lloyd Nolan in
STEEL AGAINST the SKY

RELIABLE MONUMENT CO.
912 Madison Ave., Covington 11th & Lowell Sts., Newport

Our New 1942 Spring showing of memorials is now on display at our two convenient show rooms. Hundreds of stones to select from in Rock of Ages, foreign and domestic materials. Higher Quality or Better Workmanship is Not-To-Be-Had.

—WHERE MOST PEOPLE BUY—
— Ask About Our Deferred Payment Plan —
NORTHERN KY.'S LARGEST MONUMENT ERECTORS

For Your Protection
THE BLOCK WITH FULL DRESSED TOP

Faces, Edges, Corners, Have Beauty Of Cut Stone

Many of our 4x8x16" Block are being used to build Milk Houses and many other buildings on the farm. Buildings from these blocks are permanent and economical construction.

—See Us for Further Information—
COLONIAL
COAL and SUPPLY CO.
Phone Dixie 7626
DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER, KY.

FEED FOR EGG PROFITS!
With Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS
$4.50 PER 100
DR. SALISBURY POULTRY REMEDIES
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

—: FARM FOR SALE :—
WARSAW - STEEL BOTTOMS
60 Acres—Borders river and highway; house and barn; tobacco base. Will sell for $3,500, $500 down or rent for $250 per year, with privilege of purchase.
REL C. WAYMAN
HEm. 5107 623 Washington, Cov. INd. 5064

Fifty Dollar Reward
FOR INFORMATION LEADING TO ARREST AND CONVICTION OF ANY PERSON OR PERSONS MOLESTING THE PROPERTY OF THE Boone Lake Club
Incorporated

SAVE THE SURFACE WITH
BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT
and save money—GOOD PAINT not only preserves your property, but beautifies it and increases its value as well. With Boehmer's Wearmore Paint you get a paint that has maintained its high quality for nearly 50 years. Engage a good painter and instruct him to use our paint.
There is a Boehmer Wearmore Paint for Every Painting Need.
We carry a complete line of Painters' Supplies.
There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You
Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.
THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.
114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212
Phone COlonial 0212

J. L. HAMILTON & SON
FUNERAL SERVICE
VERONA -:- KENTUCKY

La Rose Beauty Salon
Ph. Erl., 6252
406 Dixie Hiway
Get your Permanent Now for Commencement and Decoration Vacation—
$5.00 PERMANENT for $4.00
$4.00 PERMANENT for $3.50
PERMANENTS ... $3.00 up
Children's Perm. $2 & $2.50

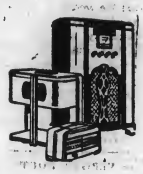
Special Price On GRASS SEEDS

U. S. No. 13 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu.	$6.50
Iowa No. 939 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu.	6.00
Wilson Black Soybeans, per bu.	2.65
Virginia Brown Soybeans, per bu.	2.75
RED CLOVER, per bu.	$14.10
KOREAN, per 100 lbs.	8.25
TIMOTHY, per bu.	4.40

Walton Feed Mills
PHONE 57 WALTON, KY.

CHASE DRY CLEANERS
34 EAST 7th ST. HE 2126 COVINGTON, KY.
Opposite Doctors Building 6 HOUR SERVICE
SUITS - OVERCOATS
PLAIN DRESSES
PLAIN LADIES COATS
75c
Dry Cleaned and Pressed 100% UNION SHOP

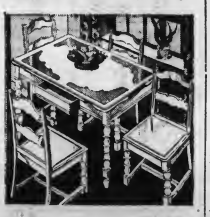
EARLY TO MARKET



● WAYNE shortens your feeding period, and helps you hit the high market.
SOLD BY
COLONIAL
COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

-:- PHONE WALTON 137 -:-

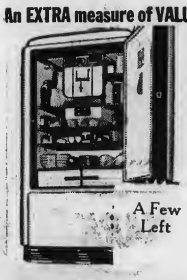
FOR FREE ESTIMATES ON



INLAID LINOLEUM for YOUR KITCHEN

RADIO REVUE

It doesn't make any difference what size you want—from tiny desk sets to a large living room console—we have it. We suggest you hear them soon.



DINETTE SETS

Your breakfast nook should be one of the friendliest, most "personal" places in your home. It can be, too, if you select one of our new sets.

REFRIGERATORS

An EXTRA measure of VALUE

A Few Left

Hotpoint

USED REFRIGERATORS
FURNITURE
RADIOS

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.

CHAMBERS & GRUBBS

Funeral Directors WALTON

Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation

Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.

DIXIE STATE BANK

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Classified ADS

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

FOR SALE—18 head stock cattle, heifers and bulls. Ottis Readnour, Walton. tf27

WOOL WANTED—Will pay top prices. F. D. Cooke, Walton & Readnour place, Walton. tf27

WHITE LEGHORN CHICKS—Hanson Strain, $10.00 per 100. Frank Lang, Buttermilk Road, Erlanger, Ky., Box 185, Route 4. Dixie 7084. tf18

FOR RENT — 6-room house, 1½ acres garden. Inquire Adkins Restaurant, Walton. Also 1934 Chevrolet for sale. Good tires, good condition. 2t28*

FOR SALE—Sow and pigs; also riding cultivator plow, and Holstein bull, ready for service. J. B. McHugh, Independence Station. 2t27*

FOR SALE—Baby chicks. Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE—28 ewes, 25 lambs and 3 bucks, unclipped. Quick sale, $400. Complete dispersal. S. Whitehouse, Dunlap Farm, Richwood. 1t28*

NOW is the time to buy your winter coal. See Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

BUY your winter coal now! Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE—Hybrid seed corn, U. S. No. 13, while it lasts, $6.75 per bushel. Walton & Readnour Walton. tf27

FOR SALE—2½-horse power used gasoline engine, on wheels. Good condition, overhauled. ZIMMER HARDWARE Co., 537 Pike St., Covington. HE 4741. 1t28

FOR SALE—3 fresh Jersey cows; 2 white-face male calves; Jersey male calf; 3 purebred Jersey heifers; 2 mares, 4 and 5 years old; 2 tons straw. A. C. Johnson, Beaver Pike. Phone Walton 208. 2t27*

MILK GOAT and Kid for sale, cheap. Phone Independence 6718 2t27

FOR SALE—Cow, heavy milker, George Howard, Walton, Ky., Route 2. Phone 649. 1t28*

FOR SALE—Tobacco setter; cultivator; hay rake, and roller; all two-horse machinery. J. W. Mires, Independence, Ky. Phone Ind. 6131. 3t28*

WHITE ROCK Chicks, unexcelled for early feathering, rapid growth and bred for high egg production. Price $10 per 100 at hatchery. Menefee Poultry Farm Crittenden, Ky., R-1. Telephone Williamstown 5705. 4t27

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

NOTICE — Would the ones who took the evergreens off my mother and father's graves, please replace them or send money for same to Grace W. Baker. 1t23*

SAVE YOUR CAR and MONEY RIDE A BIKE

We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.

LIBERAL TERMS

DIXIE CYCLE SHOP

16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

Avenue Furniture Co.

434 Madison, Cov. HE 9273

LIVING ROOM SUITES $49

Special This Week Only

Avoid Disappointment-Buy Now

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

Our Job Is to Save Dollars

Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day

Walkin' Roun' With Walker

by 'Buddy' Walker

Wow! Did you notice the knot on little Gene McElroy's head last week? I'll bet he's been at it again.

—o—

Mrs. Frank DeMoisey was kinda' worried one nite last week, when hubby Frank called from down town and said he was in the Newport jail. I think she really believed it at first — but was much relieved when he called a little later and told her he was only kidding.

—o—

I'll contribcte a quarter to the five dollars it takes to get Jim Bob Allen to clip off that mane he wears under his nose.

—o—

Who is this gal down near the Rouse Camp that treats the men so rough. First she picked on Florian Lusby, blacking both eyes and putting him in a terrible fix. Now I find out that she has started to work on Spuds Rice, our dependable mail carrier. What's this I hear about him being shoved into the creek.

—o—

I hardly know which hurts Emma Cluster the most — to see the Reds lose a ball game or a knife in the back. I believe the knife would be a pleasure to her tho, if the Reds were fortunate enough to capture the pennant this year.

—o—

I've been told that Frenchy DeMoisey is the father of a 9-pound son, born some time last week. At last report the "Frenchman" was getting along as well as could be expected for a second-time father.

—o—

I saw Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wallace one nite last week, fresh back from Florida, both wearing a good suntan. But I still didn't see any trophies that Fisherman Wallace was supposed to have brought home.

—o—

Although I do not know him personally, I am sorry to hear that Jimmy Wisdom, former Walton boy, now serving with the U. S. Army, is in an Army hospital suffering from a broken neck.

Jim's address is: P. F. C. Jimmie Widsom. Co. D.-1st Sign. (Armed) Bn., A. P. O. 351, Indio. Calif.

Let's everyone try to make it a little more cheerful for him by sending cards and letters from home—the thing he would appreciate most.

—o—

Glad to see "my boy" Tommy Kephart out again after a short stay-in due to a minor accident. Tom looked kinda' peeked but I think he has everything under control now.

—o—

Lusby says think nothing of it if you've noticed him in the same suit every day since the fire. That is all he saved, and would not have been able to save that had he not been wearing it at the time.

—o—

I know of one guy who likes to work the crossword puzzles now appearing in the Advertiser each week. I saw Ed Orr with a dictionary in one hand and the paper in the other, one nite recently.

—o—

Those of you who got to see Louie's brother and sister the other day, while they were in town, were bound to have noticed the resemblance. I did.

—o—

Frank and "Wannie" had a very nice party the other nite in honor of Louie, who went to the Army the following day. Frank is a pretty good cook, and I think "Uncle Chollie" Thompsin will vouch for that.

—o—

Everyone there, I think' wanted the recipe to make some of the delicious chow mein that was served. Frank says to take just a tiny bit of everything in the kitchen, stir it all togeher, and you have the same thing he had.

—o—

Pete Johnson was among the rest of the boys that departed the other day for the Army. I'll bet Pete will make an excellent soldier. Anyway, I wish him luck.

—o—

NOTICE! Al Warner has a new shirt.

—o—

Someine told me the other day that they were going to start guarding all public libraries. Seeing on sense in that, I wanted to know why. I found out alright. "They found dynamite in the dictionary."

—o—

Charlie Ransler is starting something else different now. I saw him with pepper in a Coca-Cola not long ago.

—o—

Boy, Paul Simpson is another of those "getter arounder" guys. I saw him the nother nite at the Blue Star with still another gal. How does he rate so many.

—o—

Congrats, this week, go to Homer Lee Osborne, who has been selected to take the place of Lewis Shields, as W.-V. basketball coach. We know that Os is capable of taking care of the job, and wish for him a successful year.

Al.

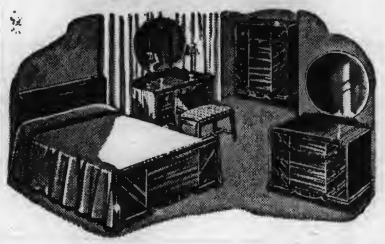
—o—

Ernestine can't look at a Middie blouse without yearning for her Navy Man.

—o—

REMEMBER: It's better to do without sugar, tires, pants cuffs, and even a few lives than to have America tainted with Nazi filth by Hitler, or made into a rat rendezvous by a bunch of low-life rice eaters for one day.

—o—



It's rumored that Walton's first aid class, made up mostly of homemakers, will learn to don straightjackets before long. Look out Pappy, Olive belongs to that organization — remember?

—o—

Mrs. Vallandingham radiates happiness, even when she says hello.

Mrs. Warda Brown of Cow Creek, Floyd county, operated a lantern brooder at a cost of 2 cents a day.

BEDROOM SETS

According to statistics, a person 60 years of age, has spent 20 years in sleep, a third of the time. Spend this time in comfort—inspect our 4-piece Walnut Veneer bedroom sets of super construction. We always say, "Them that trys 'em, likes 'em.

DE MOISEY FURNITURE & ELECTRIC SHOP

Phone 137 (Open till 10 p. m.) Walton, Ky.

PETERSBURG

Sorry to know of the illness of Mrs. E. W. Scott.

Little Jimmie White was taken to the hospital several days ago for treatment of the foot.

Mrs. Lawrence Chambers painfully scalded her foot one day last week.

Mrs. Olga Geisler was called to Aurora, Ind. last Thursday due to the sudden death of her mother, Mrs. Ella Stephens.

Our local school closed last Friday.

Mrs. Stella Gaines and Miss Artie Ryle were called to Greensburg last Thursday, their brother having passed away after ten days serious illness. He had been in declining health for the past 3 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Carver entertained Sunday with a family dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rhom from Lawrenceburg, Ind., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walton, Mrs. Nan Burts returning with them for a short visit.

Frank Hitzfield severely burned his hands last week while trying to start a fire with coal oil.

The W. M. U. met at the home of Miss Artie Ryle and Mrs. Stella Gaines last week.

Quite a number from here attended the baccalaureate sermon at Hebron last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Williamson left last Thursday for Arkansas where they will visit their son, James Russell.

John Ducy was visiting with friends in Petersburg last weekend.

PINER

"My house shall be called a house of prayer for all peoples."

Everyone enjoyed the Mother's Day program at Goshen church, given by the young people.

We are sorry to hear that Woodrow Worthington is sick. Hope he will soon recover.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wayman and daughter Sandra Jean spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dickson and Lucille and Elouese Wayman.

Miss Bettye Sue Caldwell was hostess at a party at her home on Mother's Day. Those present were Joyce Ann Rich, Evelyn and Frances Flynn, Lucille and Elouese Wayman; Franklin Kidwell and Gordon Johnson. Everyone had a joyful time.

Come to Church, Sunday!

Homemakers' clubs in Rockcastle county plan to entertain the husbands of members every three months.

The Livingston County Cooperative Soil Improvement Association is encouraging the use of better seeds.

HOME COMFORT

Of course you want your furniture to be pleasing to the eye, but first you want it to be "comfortable." We keep this in mind when we select furniture.

MATTRESSES

Sleep badly last night? Maybe your mattress is at fault. And even if you slept well, a new mattress will add extra comfort. Remarkable values. Better see them!

BED SPRINGS

Modern bedsprings are wired for comfort, but not for sound, as the young woman above can testify. These bedsprings are an ideal companion for an inner-spring mattress.

DeMOISEY Furniture & Electric Shop

OPEN EVENINGS TILL 10:00

Phone 137 Walton, Ky.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D.D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for May 17

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

TUESDAY: THE DAY OF CONFLICT

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 22:41-23:11.
GOLDEN TEXT—The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner.—Mark 12:10.

"By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?" Such was the challenge Christ faced when He came into the temple on the last day that He was to be able to teach there. The chief priests and elders (Matt. 21:23) asked it because they knew that they had received their authority with their offices, whether appointive or hereditary.

Jesus held no such position, yet He had just driven the money changers out of what He called "my house" — the temple. They challenged Him, and through the long day He answered and also asked them questions. Here we find a rich store of parables, illustrations, unanswerable arguments, as He met the Pharisees, Sadducees, Herodians—all His enemies who, though they hated each other, made common cause against Jesus. The discussion concludes with His facing of the Pharisees with

I. The Ultimate Question—"What Think Ye of the Christ?" (22:41-46).

The crux of the entire matter was right there for them, as it is for us, though in a somewhat different sense. They were looking for the Messiah—the Christ; but their idea of Him was that He would come as their royal leader, to break the yoke of Roman bondage and set them free. They knew He was to be the son of David, but they did not see in their own Scriptures that this one was to be David's greater son (Matt. 12:42); that in the line of David was to come the one whom David "in the spirit" called "Lord" (Ps. 110:1). They knew about Christ, but they did not know Him, and thus they were like many today. They have heard of Him; they may even admire His character and His teachings, but they do not know Him. What think you, reader, of Christ? Christ then states

II. The Final Test—Doing, Not Just Saying (23:1-4).

Having finally closed their mouths (22:46) Jesus proceeded to a solemn indictment of the scribes and Pharisees. First of all He declared that they failed in the final test of life, which is not words but actions.

Notice that He recognized their authority and their teaching, but in severe condemnation pointed out that they did not live what they professed. That is the criterion by which we shall all be judged. Those who think that because they belong to some church, or subscribe to a creed, or speak a smooth word of testimony they may then live as they please, will find themselves standing with the scribes and Pharisees on the judgment day. Why keep that kind of company?

Such men are capable of

III. The Great Hypocrisy—Pride Posing As Piety (23:5-9).

They were, oh, so religious! Interpreting literally and mechanically God's command that they keep His law always near them in action (hand) and in thought (mind) (see Deut. 6:8; 11:18), they made showy leather cases and wore them on wrist and forehead as containers of the written Word. They loved the chief seats and the titles of distinction. And all this was done in the name of religion. What hypocrisy!

But wait —are we any better? What about the preacher who is not happy unless he is invited into the pulpit? What about those who take or accept the titles which our Lord expressly forbids? What about those in the pew, as much as in the pulpit (and perhaps more), who want to be recognized as "the masters" of the church? To be sure, they do not always wish it to be so crudely put as that, but they do expect to be recognized as such "or else—." This too, under the name of Christianity. There indeed is the great hypocrisy!

We are thankful that our lesson does not close here. Our Lord next revealed

IV. The Right Attitude—Service Not Recognition (23:10, 11).

He that is mastered of Christ is ready to be the servant of all. To exalt Him is to at once do away with self-praise and self-glory. Pride in position, and the desire to be praised and recognized by men, inevitably lead a man into a pitfall in which he is humbled. On the other hand, the one who in humility serves the Lord will, to his own surprise, find that God has exalted him. The way up is down.

"Torrey," said a well - known preacher with whom Dr. Torrey was associated in a great conference, "you and I are the most important men in Christian work in this country." Not long afterward God set that man aside. Quite different was the spirit of D. L. Moody, who at the height of his ministry for God would say, "There are better men here behind me on the platform to speak when I am through"—and he really believed it!

Classified Ads Get Results

FLORENCE

Mrs. Jennie Dobbins spent the weekend with her niece Mrs. Robert Tanner of Route 42.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Higgins of Bradford Subdivision have sold their beautiful home and will move to Erlanger.

Audrey Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith fell one day last week and cut her knee. It took four stitches to close the wound.

Friends of Robert Rouse are sorry to hear he does not improve very rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Corbin of Hyde Park, Cincinnati attended Class Night at the Florence High School. Mr. Corbin's niece, Miss Marion Bradford is one of the '42 graduates.

Mrs. Zeffa Osborne left Saturday for Norwood, Ohio where she will spend several weeks.

Mrs. S. J. Zapp called on Mrs. Helen Byrne Monday afternoon.

All the children of school age of this vicinity are very hoppy due to the fact school is out for the summer vacation.

Miss Sarah McCardle, who just returned to her home in Cincinnati following several week's stay in Florida, come out Friday evening to visit her brother, Robert McCardle and family and other friends.

Mrs. R. L. Day has returned to her home here following a two weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Whitaker.

Mrs. Emma Cleek has returned to her home here to spend the summer and Mrs. R. L. Day will stay with her.

Mrs. Fannie Beemon has returned home following several days stay with her daughter, Mrs. Ira Ryle and family at Aurora, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Aylor have for their guest, his brother from Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Robbins entertained with a family dinner on Sunday in honor of her mother, Mrs. R. T. Snyder, it being Mother's Day.

Lawrence Pope of Lexington spent the weekend with his daughter, Mrs. Anna Hamilton and family of Limaburg.

Mrs. Chester Elam was calling on her mother and friend sin Covington Wednesday. They accompanied her home for six o'clock dinner.

Dr. Wallace Tanner of St. Petersburg, Fla., arrived here for a few weeks stay at his summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Matin, Mrs. Eliza Marksberry and Elmer Corbin motored to Louisville Sunday to visit Robert Marksberry, who is a patient in a hospital there.

Friends and neighbors of the Schram family have deepest sympathy for them in the loss of their loved one, Fred Schram, Sr. He had been confined to his bed since December and developed pneumonia, which resulted in his death Thursday evening at Booth Hospital. His funeral was held at the Christian Church on Sunday afternoon and he was laid to rest in the Florence Cemetery.

Rev. O. M. Huey has returned to his home after enjoying a visit the past week with his son in Louisville.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky

C. J. ALFORD, Pastor

10:15 a. m. Bible School
11:00 a. m. Morning Worship
7:00 p. m. Baptist Training Union. A fully graded Training Union for all ages.
8:00 p. m. Evening Worship
8:00 p. m., Wed. Prayer Meeting

METHODIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky

REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor

Sunday School 10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship 7:00 p. m.
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

...lton, Ky.

Bible Sch... 10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
Sermon by Rev. Geo. S. Caroland
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church

J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.
10:00 A. M. Bible School
11:00 A. M. Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. Evening Worship
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.
Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Union, Kentucky

Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister

Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.
10:00 a. m., Sunday School.
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship.
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.
Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scout

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor

First and Third Sunday—
Sunday School 10:00 a. m
Preaching Service 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor

Sunday School 10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship 7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH

Verona, Ky.

REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor

Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Morning Worship 11 a. m.
Evening Service 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8 p. m.
All times given Central War time

Remember Bataan
Invest
A Dime Out of Every Dollar in
U.S. War Bonds

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .

W. E. TAIT, O.D.
OPTOMETRIST
OPTICIAN

27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.
Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.
For appointment phone—
HE. 2088

EYE AID

FOR BETTER HEALTH

Some indications of eye-strain are: Squinting, frowning, straining to see, drowsiness after reading, headaches, nervousness, discomfort of eyes after reading, sensitiveness of eyes to light, wrinkles and crow's fee tareund eyes, imperfect vision, and have to hold reading matter very close or at arm's length.

We examine eyes and furnish glasses that will correct eye-strain.

Frank Riggs

In the romantic dimout at Atlantic City, Dick Robertson serenades lovely Starita Sterling on the famous Atlantic City beach.

landingham brought us the nutrition lesson. Among those present were Mrs. Alice Riggs, Mrs. L. J. Rapp, Mrs. Mabel Vanlandingham, Mrs. Emil Stein, Mrs. Della Williams, Mrs. Denver Binder, Mrs. George Klein, Mrs. Keeney and Mrs. Beall; also guests, Marjorie and Randall Binder.

Quite a number from this community assisted the teachers with the task of registering the citizens for war ration books at the Independence schol.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney called on her mother, Mrs. Augusta Stephens on Surday afternoon.

Sunday, May 17 will be regular preaching services at Staffordsburg Church. Come let us worship together. Many are agreed that the present crisis in our world is because we have strayed ayay from God and His teachings. So let's make our community a God respecting place.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stallcup entertained a large number of relatives and friends Sunday.

STAFFORDSBURG

The rains of the past week were of great benefit to early gardens and pastures.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanna spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Craigmyle, who had also as guests Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hanna and son.

The Staffordsburg Homemakers Club was entertained by Mrs. Inez Beall at the home of Mrs. J. A. Keeney on Thursday. Not a large number was present but all seemed to injoy the day. Mrs. Klein gave as the citizenship lesson an interesting history of Mother's Day and Mrs. Keeney gave the better speech lesson. Mrs. Mabel Van-

CONCORD

Quite a crowd gathered at the W. N. Robinson home Saturday night for a shower given for Tivis Thomas and wife. They received many nice gifts, for which they were very thankful. We wish them the best of luck.

Miss Nora Cole of Cincinnati spent the weekend here at Ross Chapman's and attended church at Concord. All were glad to set her, as this was her home a few years back.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wilson of Covington spent Sunday at D. R. Chapman's after church. We hope to see Mrs. Chapman out soon.

Dallas Whitson purchased a horse Saturday afternoon near Erlanger.

Services were well attended at Concord, Sunday. Rev. G. N. Smith and wife were dinner guests at Ross Chapman's; also Miss Nora Cole, Mrs. Addie Chapman and Sallie Whitson were there.

Come out for Sunday School at 10:30 and bring someone with you.

SOUTH FORK

Ceaberry Noell was a visitor in Louisville, Wednesday.

Mrs. Kate Dengler spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler.

Mrs. Dora Rider and son called on Mrs. Sue Rider and son Thursday afternoon.

Miss Helen Dean spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents.

Mrs. Lula Sisson and little grandson Ronald Ray Noell, Mrs. Katie Densler and Mrs. Sue Rider and son were Tuesday afternoon guests of Mrs. Helen Densler.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon called on Mr. and Mrs. Owen Noell and son Friday night.

J. T. Lamn was a visitor in Covington, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Sisson and daughter.

Ottis Rider was a visitor in Covington, Friday.

Mrs. Lula Sisson and grandchildren, Martha Lee and Ronald Ray Noell spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler. Afternoon caller was little Miss Rose Evelyn Rider.

Mrs. Katie Densler spent Thursday with Mrs. Mary Edrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and son Billy Louis were shopping in Covington Thursday.

Christian county 4-H club members are planning to hold a pig sale in August.

MT. ZION NEWS

Miss Mollie Chapman of Cincinnati spent Friday night with Mrs. Pearl Dunn.

Mrs. Walters of near Flingsville visited her sister, Mrs. Glass and family a few days the past week.

Mrs. Cora Smith is in Jewish Hospital. She underwent an operation Monday. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Miss Chestine Hensley was taken ill Monday night with appendicitis. She was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday where she underwent an operation. Her friends here are glad to know she is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Justice and Mrs. Byrd and daughter from Florida spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Justice. Mr. and Mrs. Justice returned home with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. James McGuire of Covington spent the weekend here with relatives. They expect to leave soon for California where Mr. McGuire has a position awaiting his arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Morey spent several days the past week with their mother, Mrs. Basha Hopkins. Mr. Morey is expecting to leave Monday for U. S. training.

Mrs. Lula Vest of Walton is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. M. Menefee.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence, son Eugene and daughter Marcella and Bill Lillard of Crittenden attended the Renfro Valley show Saturday night.

George Lewrence of Cincinnati is visiting his siseer Mrs. A. T. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lawrence and family and Mrs. Cora Greene were shopping in Covington, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Jump and daughter entertained Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Glenn of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Claxtin of Burlington, Mrs. Flora Woods and family of Walton and Mr. and Mrs. James Woods.

James Woods returned to Ft. Thomas Monday after seven days visit with his wife and other relatives.

Harry Massie, Robert Collier and Clay Mann left Saturday for U. S. training. We sure wish all our young men the best of everything that Army life can hold for them.

The Rose Marlowe Circle met with Mrs. Basha Hopkins Tuesday afternoon with eight members and five visitors present. Glad to have one new member, Mrs. Cora Greene. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ravin Glass.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Points entertained a number of relatives with a family reunion Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Day of Steubensville, Ohio spent Mother's Day with her mother, Mrs. Maggie McClure and other relatives.

Approximately 1,000 acres of soybeans—for-oil will be grown in Graves county.

"Grouchy" Husbands

and wives, may be suffering from aggravating bowel gas, sour stomach or headache, caused by spells of constipation. Try ADLERIKA. It effectively blends 8 carminatives for relief of gas pains, and 3 laxatives for gentle, quick bowel action. Your druggist has ADLERIKA.

Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton

DEAD STOCK REMOVED

SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS

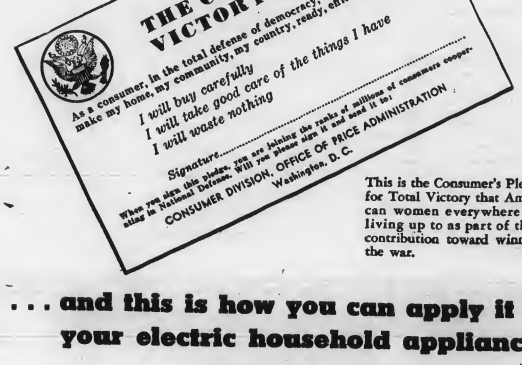
CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887

REVERSE PHONE CHARGE

Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.

LOCKLAND —:— OHIO

Is YOUR SUBSCRIPTION Paid In Advance?



It Should Be, You Know!

WALTON ADVERTISER

PHONE 30

This is the U. S. Government's

CONSUMER'S Victory Pledge

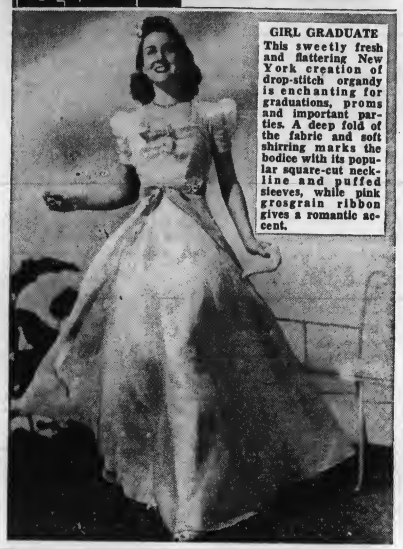
This is the Consumer's Pledge for Total Victory that American women everywhere are living up to as part of their contribution toward winning the war.

. . . and this is how you can apply it to your electric household appliances

- Make full use of your appliances for essential purposes, but learn to do it with economy. Avoid wasteful practices that cause needless wear.
- Keep all your appliances in first-class operating condition. If repairs are needed have them made promptly by a competent serviceman.
- Replace worn-out, wasteful appliances with best quality new ones that will assure trouble-free service for the duration. Stocks of most appliances are still available at your dealer's or this company.



GET YOUR FREE COPY of this helpful booklet on the care and use of electric appliances. Published by Westinghouse, but written to apply to all makes of appliances, it tells you how to make your electrical equipment last longer and serve you better. Ask for a copy next time you're in our office. No obligation!

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE CO.
INCORPORATED

BUY UNITED STATES WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

STRAIGHT FROM NEW YORK

GIRL GRADUATE
This sweetly fresh and flattering New York creation of drop-stitch organdy is enchanting for graduations, proms and important parties. A deep fold of the fabric and soft shirring marks the bodice with its popular square-cut neckline and puffed sleeves, while pink grosgrain ribbon gives a romantic accent.

Thornes wheat, Tennex oats and Swedish North Star oats are being tried by farmers in McCreary county.

Customers of the Barren county homemakers' market are being encouraged to place orders a week ahead.

Receipts at milk plants indicate that production in Pulaski county is running 25 percent over last year.

—FOR VICTORY: BUY BONDS—

Ordinance No. 166

An ordinance fixing the several Tax levies of the Town of Walton, Kentucky, for the year 1942.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE TOWN OF WALTON, KENTUCKY, DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. That an advalorem tax of 49 cents on each one hundred dollars worth of property subject to taxation by the town of Walton (except unmanufactured agricultural products, and shares of stock of state banks and trust companies incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth) is hereby levied for the use of the general expense fund of the town of Walton for the year 1942.

Section 2. That an advalorem tax of fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars worth of all unmanufactured agricultural products subject to taxation by the town of Walton, be, and the same is hereby levied for the use of the general expense fund of the town of Walton, Kentucky, for the year 1942.

Section 3. That a tax of twenty cents on each one hundred dollars of their fair cash value, is hereby levied and imposed upon the shares of stock of state banks and trust companies incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth and located in the town of Walton, Kentucky, for the use and benefit of the general expense fund of the town of Walton for the year 1942.

Section 4. That an advalorem tax of 26 cents on each one hundred dollars worth of property subject to taxation by the town of Walton (except unmanufactured agricultural products and shares of stock of state banks and trust companies incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth) is hereby levied for the year 1942, for the purpose of paying interest on all outstanding unpaid Water-Works Bonds of the town of Walton, and creating a fund sufficient to pay off and retire such bonds according to their terms and provisions as to maturities.

Section 5. That a Poll or capitation tax of one dollar, be, and the same is hereby levied upon all male citizens of the town of Walton past Twenty-One, and under Seventy years of age, for the use and benefit of the general expense fund of the town of Walton for the year 1942.

Section 6. That this ordinance be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication as by law required.

Passed by the vote of 3 members of the board of trustees of the town of Walton, Kentucky, this 8th day of May, 1942.

J. R. CONRAD.
Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Town of Walton, Kentucky.
Attest: D. H. VEST, Town Clerk.

HAROLD TEEN

BY CARL ED

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

HEALTH—FOUNDATION OF OUR NATION'S STRENGTH.

AMERICA NEEDS A STRONG HEALTHY CIVIL POPULATION JUST AS IT NEEDS ITS STALWART ARMED FORCES.

THE NATIONAL ASSET OF HEALTH CAN BE INCREASED—THE DRAG AND BURDEN OF SICKNESS DIMINISHED—BY FOLLOWING THE COUNSEL OF LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES, AND PAYING EXTRA ATTENTION TO HYGIENE, SLEEP, EXERCISE AND SCIENTIFIC NUTRITION.

TO DO OUR BIT WE MUST KEEP FIT.

DOLLARS AND SENSE

Let an idea or two act as down payment on a modern home! The frame and foundation of an old house usually are worth more than the down payment on a new one.

Without the over-balanced porch and ungainly eaves, this house actually has good proportions. By adding a wing, modern millwork and front entrance, a new porch and some attractive landscaping the old house looks as new and appealing as any home built today. A project of this kind represents a saving of several thousand dollars over the sale of the old house at a reduced value and the construction of a new home.

NICHOLSON

"The mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting." His followers should ever be channels for His mercy with hearts touched by the needs of mankind, and know the joy of giving and lending a helping hand. In this trying hour of our country's peril let each one do his utmost in hastening victory with freedom for all. "A good example is the best sermon." "It is always right to do right."

"Fond hopes often bloom but to wither. Ambition may glow and soon fade. Joy frequently turns into sorrow, and life makes us afraid. Then a rainbow appears on the storm could, and our doubtings and questioning ceases when we know that although life may break us, God knows what to do with the pieces."

Mrs. J. N. Williams and daughter, Miss Alice Jane, paid a brief call Saturday afternoon, and deep appreciation is expressed for their lovely gifts.

Most heartily do we thank friends for kindly sending lovely clusters of Spring blossoms, including magnolia, pink dogwood, snow drops, tulips, spirea, lilacs, iris and snowballs.

Kenton Farm News

Oak Island Farmers Study Feeding

Oak Island farmers met at the Oak Island Farmers club on Wednesday, May 6 at 8:00 p. m. to study farm problems. Lamb feeding practices were taken up by the farmers attending.

Well planned grazing programs save feed. The discussion on the feeding of lambs brought out many good practices that can be used to save feed.

Small grain cover crops, such as wheat, rye and mixtures of winter vetch provide an abundance of early pasture. This can be followed by sweet clover, orchard conducting demonstrations with Balbo rye as a small grain cover crop. S. W. Durr, in the Walton-Nicholson section also has a Balbo rye seeding.

Lamb Grading Demonstration Scheduled

A lamb grading demonstration is planned for the sheep growers in the Oak Island section, the latter part of May. A grading demonstration is also planned for the Morning View hill section.

Robert Hawkins will test sorghum varieties for making syrup. He has an outstanding early garden for his section. His certified potatoes are showing a fine stand and growth.

Cutworms and Flee Beetles

Cutworms and flee beetles are doing damange on some farms. Watch your plant beds and practice control meaures. Get copy of insect control circular from your County Agent.

Suggested Ways to Fight Grasshoppers

Deep plowing and use of poisoned bait will help check a possible grasshopper plague this year, says Prof. W. A. Price in a statement issued at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

The plowing of fields this spring, in which grasshoppers were abundant last fall, should be done with considerable care, he says. Plow to a depth of at least six inches and compact the soil. This operation will bury the grasshopper eggs to a depth that will prevent the newly hatched young reaching the surface of the soil.

Later when plowing fields where grasshoppers are present in numbers it is suggested that the plowing be started on the outside working toward the center. Leave for a few days a narrow strip of unplowed ground in the center of the field where the concentrated insects can be poisoned.

A poisoned bait is used for the purpose. It is made by mixing while dry 100 pounds of wheat bran and 5 pounds of Paris green or white arsenic and then adding and mixing well 2 gallons of fresh (not used) lubricating mineral oil such as is used for automobile crankcases of 20 to 30 S. A. E. rating, the latter being preferable in very hot, dry weather. This bait should be broadcast by hand at the rate of 10 to 12 pounds dry weight to the acre. (For a small garden 50x100 feet use 1¼ pounds, bran, 1½ ounces of poison and ½ pint of oil). Scatter the poison in the morningbe tween 6 and 8 a. m.

Do not look for results until about three days after applying the bait. Two or three applications may be necessary. Dead grasshoppers will be found under trash and litter—few of them die in the open spaces. A complete kill should not be expected in any instance, the reduced population is important, however, from the standpoint of possible damage.

Since grasshoppers migrate readily, its is strongly advised that control measures be undertaken cooperatively on a neighborhood or community basis.

A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON

May 1, 1942

TO THE PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY:

This week a new campaign for the sale of War Bonds and Savings Stamps is under way throughout the Nation. It is the War Bond Quota Campaign.

It is urgently necessary that you double the rate at which you are now buying War Bonds and Stamps. This will mean the sale direct to individual Americans of War Bonds and Stamps to the amount of not less than one billion dollars every month.

One billion dollars a month is the National quota. It is equal to one-tenth the combined incomes of all Americans.

This money is needed to buy the tools of war for your fighting forces. It will not pay for all of them. Our war expenditures now are at the rate of about FOUR BILLIONS a month, and they are growing daily. But a billion dollars a month direct from the people will make all-out production possible. Without it we cannot do our best; without it we cannot put forth our full effort.

It is desperately needed for another reason. We can't fight a war and at the same time live and spend as usual. There are not enough goods to go around — the things we buy with money. If we go on spending at the 1941 scale, we'll be robbing the fighting men to add to our own comfort or pleasure. We'll be driving up the cost of living for all of us. We'll be imposing dire hardships on our neighbors.

What is asked of you is ten per cent of your earnings — a tithe for Liberty. It is not a tax; it is not even a contribution; it is a loan at interest, for your use and protection later.

Your Government asks you to cut down your expenditures, TO SAVE — your boys on the firing line and in the training camps, through your Government, ask you to save so that they may have what they need to win YOUR WAR for you — America asks you to save; to SAVE TO WIN THE WAR; to buy War Bonds and Stamps up to not less than ten per cent of your income.

Is Liberty worth it? Is Democracy worth it? Is America worth it? I think I know your answer.

Sincerely,

H. Morgenthau Jr.

The above letter was sent to this newspaper by Secretary Morgenthau in Washington. We publish it in the interest of the War Bond Quota Campaign and earnestly recommend that all our readers do their share in the tremendous job ahead of financing the War effort.

The Afternoon Homemakers' club in Madison county donated $30, cleared at a rummage sale, to national defense.

WITH THE REDS

Cincinnati:—The man who coined the phrase, "Take nothing for granted in baseball," knew what he was doing, and if you don't believe it, look at the way things have been going in the major leagues since the season opened. There are many great examples of unexpected results. If you're going to pin somebody down, you don't have to go any farther than the Cincinnati Reds.

All last year, the Reds' cry was for more base hits. This year's team is getting more base hits, but the greatest pitching staff in the major leagues has had trouble finding its balance and the result is that the Reds aren't off to the flying start everybody thought more punch would give them.

Plans are now being made for the Reds' first night game of the season on Monday, May 25, when the Reds and Pirates tangle. Tickets are now on sale for this first night game, and also for every game the Reds will play at home for the remainder of the season. Mail orders receive prompt attention. Address all requests for tickets to the Cincinnati Baseball Club, 307 Vine Street, Cincinnati. If possible, a self addressed, and stamped envelope should be enclosed.

On Tuesday, May 27, the Reds and Chicago Cubs will play a benefit game for the Army and Navy Relief at Wrigley Field, in Chicago. Another benefit game for the Army and Navy Relief will be played at Crosley Field in Cincinnati on Tuesday, June 30. All of the receipts of both games will be turned over to the benefit fund.

SCHOOL DAYS — By DWIG

Wartime Railroading in Canada By Thurstan Topham

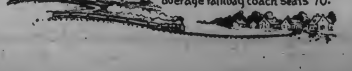
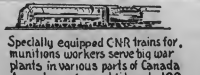
War brought a Tremendous increase in rail travel, but efficient peacetime maintenance of roadbed and equipment has enabled the Canadian Railways to cope with this abnormal traffic. There are constant and heavy troop movements -between camps, air training centres, and manning depots, to and from embarkation ports — and many thousands of civilians are travelling daily on war business. The cooperation of the public is greatly assisting the railways in carrying out this big wartime job.

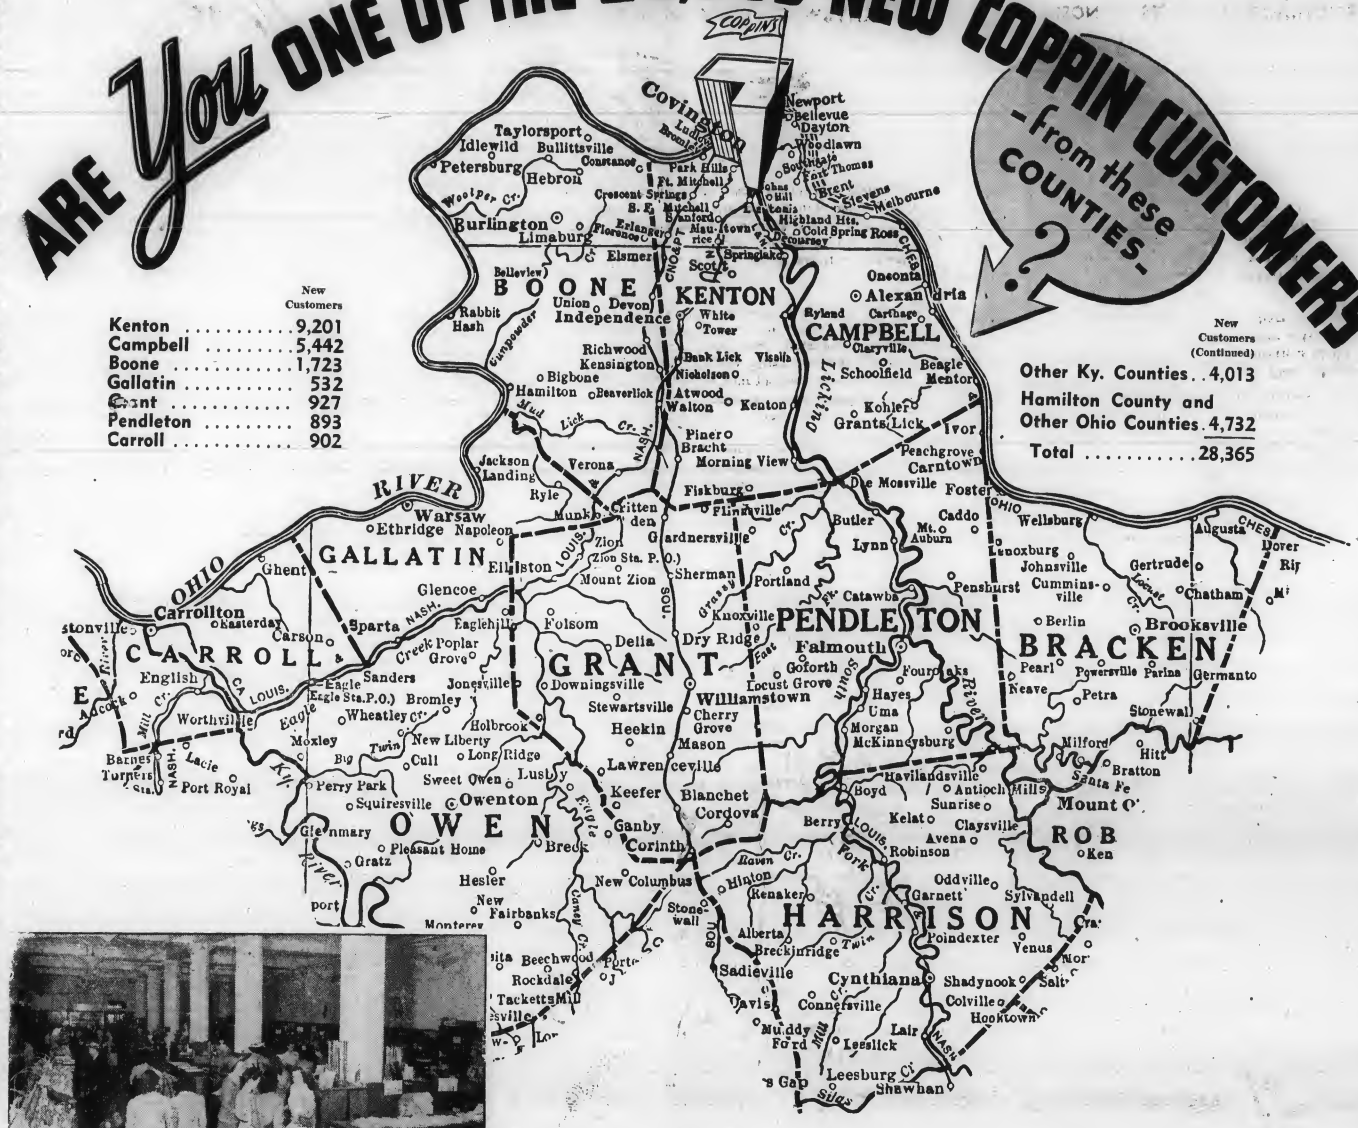




The famous "6400" which, decked out in purple and gold, hailed the Royal Train in 1939, is now in war service handling troop trains.

The transport of troops requires very exacting schedules of train movements. The first Canadian contingent was moved to a Canadian port in 17 special National Railways troop trains. These arrived at the ships side at two hour intervals.

There are only three transcontinental railway lines in North America. All three are in Canada. Two are operated by the National System.



Specially equipped CNR trains for munitions workers serve big war plants in various parts of Canada. A new type of car which seats 122 passengers was designed by mechanical engineers of the National System for use in these trains. The average railway coach seats 70.

ARE You ONE OF THE 28,365 NEW COPPIN CUSTOMERS - from these COUNTIES - ?

	New Customers
Kenton	9,201
Campbell	5,442
Boone	1,723
Gallatin	532
Grant	927
Pendleton	893
Carroll	902

New Customers (Continued)
Other Ky. Counties	4,013
Hamilton County and Other Ohio Counties	4,732
Total	28,365

Typical shopping scene, First Floor Departments. Looking towards Madison Avenue entrance. You'll find each of the four floors of the New Coppin's equally interesting, with their modern arrangement, and open displays of the season's authentic styles and best values gathered for your selection.

GOOD NEWS travels fast! One neighbor tells another. That must be the reason we had the pleasure, in 1941, of serving 28,365 more customers than in 1940. Notice the number from your county alone.

You friends, who visited the New Coppin's during recent months, evidently spread the news about the many improvements made for your pleasure and convenience—the spacious new Seventh Street windows for exciting "window shopping;" the wide, uncrowded aisles with their resilient Flexatile floor; the unobstructed view from department to department, with natural daylight flooding all sections.

You've evidently told your friends about the smart new fixtures and displays in each department, presenting wide varieties of merchandise that invite you to stop, examine, compare. And about the modern new lounge, with its attractive "powder bar" and shadowless lighting.

And you ladies tell us that the New Coppin's second floor Ready-to-Wear Department brings you a new pleasure in shopping. Here, in an atmosphere of ease and convenience, you choose from lovely creations gathered from the nation's style centers. Here you find styles, sizes and varieties for yourself, for the children, for the teen ages, to make your shopping a grand success!

Don't miss visiting our enlarged Third Floor Home Furnishings Department. See the wide selections of the newest in everything from draperies to floor coverings. Here's real inspiration for giving fresh charm to your home this spring.

In every department, the new features installed represent our method of expressing our thanks for your patronage. And our program calls for continued improvements, so that our many thousands of old friends, and our 28,365 new friends, may continue to say—"It's always a pleasure to shop at Coppin's."

IN KENTUCKY IT'S Coppin's

THE JOHN R. COPPIN COMPANY MADISON at SEVENTH, COVINGTON

5 REASONS why
"It's Always a Pleasure to Shop at Coppin's"

1. Wide selections of staple and style merchandise
2. Prices that meet your budget
3. Cheery, friendly atmosphere
4. Operated by Kentuckians for Kentuckians
5. You meet your friends and neighbors at Coppin's

Universary of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING
TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS
PAPERS OR PICTURES
PUBLIC LIBRARIES
Sec. Ky. Statutes Article 1283

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance

WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1942

Volume 28; Number 29

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Awards Boone Co. 4-H Scholarships

The Early and Daniel Feed Co., Cincinnati, and The Dearborn Mills Feed Company of Aurora, Ind., this past week awarded Boone County 4-H Club members two scholarship trips to Junior Week at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, June 1 to 6th, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The scholarships will be awarded to outstanding 4-H Club members selected by the 4-H and Utopia Club Council. Both the above business organiations have sponsored Junior Week scholarships to outstanding 4-H Club boys and girls for a number of years. This splendid cooperation is greatly appreciated. Junior Week is the state's gathering of outstanding 4-H Club members from all parts of the state.

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS HOLD MAY MEETING

Owing to a mistake of the reporter, who made the date of the meeting the 22nd instead of the 15th, as it should have been, the attendance was small at the May meeting of the Florence Homemakers Club.

The lesson and leaflets will be a great help in the preparation of church or other organization suppers. In the luncheon, the Deep Sea Delight, met with enthusiastic approval.

Committees were appointed for a tour in July and a picnic in August. Your reporter will try to be more accurate in the future, but the regular meeting time is the third Friday in the month.—Mabel G. Sayre, Reporter.

Homemakers Advisory Council to Meet May 27

The Homemakers Advisory Council consisting of the presidents of each club and the chairmen of the standing committees will meet at the Town Hall in Florence, on Wednesday, May 27 at 1:30 p. m. It is important that all members attend, as several important matters of business will come up at that time. Miss Lulie Logan, Assistant State Leader of Home Demonstration Agents, will meet with this group.

Certificates In Home Nursing Are Awarded

Certificates stating that the Standard Course in Red Cross Home Nursing have been awarded to the members of the class conducted by the Boone County Chapter at the Union Presbyterian Church, Union. Miss Elizabeth C. Lowry, R. N., Boone County Red Cross Health Nurse taught the class.

Certificates were awarded to Miss Cara Louise Watts, Mrs. Marguerite Young, Miss Corrine McCormac, Miss Frances Barlow, Mrs. Jennie C. Hicks, Mrs. Gertrude M. Oliver, Mrs. Susie Sullivan, Miss Evelyn Franks, Mrs. Alma Hamilton, Mrs. Viola D. Friend, Mrs. Elaine Greenup, Mrs. Anna H. Smith, Mrs. Martha Lassing Huey, Mrs. Marie Pennington, Mrs. Emily Hughes Cleek, Mrs. Roberta Hatfield, Mrs. Myrtle Marshall, Mrs. Bernice D. Hedges, Mrs. Alma Head, and Mrs. Ora B. Presser.

Poultry Market Tour Thursday

Northern Kentucky Poultrymen will hold an educational tour of the Cincinnati Poultry and Egg Market on Thursday, May 21, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The tour was planned last winter as part of the county poultry improvement program of work.

J. E. Humphrey, poultry field agent, College of Agriculture, will be in charge of the tour. C. Eberle & Sons, commission establishment, The French-Bauer plant's egg department and other market points of interest will be visited.

The Boone County group will leave the County Agent's office at Burlington around 8:30 and will meet other Northern Kentucky groups at the Kenton County agent's office, Room 6, new Post Office, 6th and Scott Streets, Covington, at 9:30 a. m.

All who are interested in poultry marketing problems are invited to attend.

FLORENCE BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday School 10:00 a. m.
Joe Rouse, Superintendent
Morning Worship 11:00 a. m.
Evening Services 8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting 8:00 p. m.

Rev. Harold Wainscott will have charge of the services Sunday.

FOR GOOD LOOKS:

Our obligation is far from filled when we provide Glasses correctly suited to individual Sight needs. We must also provide frames that complement one's Personality. Smart women today know how important THAT it!

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

Proclamation By The Walton Mayor

To All To Whom These Present Shall Come, Greetings:—

WHEREAS, in the year 1775 on the 28th day of May the first religious service was held in Kentucky at Boonesborough by the reverend John Lythe under a great Elm; and

WHEREAS, This is Kentucky's Sesquicentennial year and the people of this vicinity have enjoyed the blessing of an all-wise God, and with the state and nation have survived the vicissitudes and crises of a century and a half within the boundary of Kentucky and of Religious freedom set forth in the first constitution and all subsequent constitutions and the Bill of Rights of Kentucky; and

WHEREAS, The Kentucky Sesquicentennial Commission has suggested that all churches in the state participate in a day of meditation May 24, in commemoration of that eventful day of May 28, 1775.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, D. L. Lusby, Mayor of Walton in the name and by authority of the good people of said city, and in virtue of my office as chief executive, I do hereby declare and proclaim that Sunday, May 24, 1942, shall be the day for all citizens of this vicinity to observe as Kentucky Meditation Day.

Done at the City Hall, and given under my hand as Mayor, with the seal of the city attached hereto affixed this the 18th day of May, 1942.

D. L. LUSBY, Mayor of Walton.
D. H. VEST, City Clerk
(Town of Walton Seal)

To Represent County In District Contest, Friday

Winners in the Farm Practice and Home Demonstration team contest at Rally Day, Saturday will represent Boone County in the District Contest to be held at Williamstown, Friday, May 22.

4-H Club members who will attend and subjects of their demonstration, are as follows: Elaine Gardiner and Bernice Sebree of Florence, Use of Commercial Dress Patterns; Cecil Kenyon and Earl Washmuth of Constance, New Electric Lamp Brooder; Bernice Sebree will give an individual demonstration entitled, "Do's and Don't's in Vegetable Preparation, So as to Retain Vitamins and Minerals."

Winners at the District contest will compete in the State Demonstration Contest at the University of Kentucky, during Junior Week, June 1-6.

4-H Foods and Clothing Contests to Be Held May 25

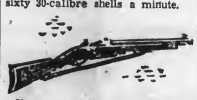
The County 4-H Clubs foods and clothing pudging contests will be held at the Burlington school on Monday, May 25, beginning at 10:30 a. m., EWT.

The foods judging contest will be held in the morning. All girls who have had 2 or more years of foods work are eligible to compete in this contest, whether or not they are taking foods as their project this year.

The clothing judging contest will begin at 1:30 p. m. All girls who have had as much as 2 years of clothing are eligible to compete in the clothing judging, whether or not they are taking clothing this year or not.

Three rings of clothing will be judged: Cotton school dresses; commercially made slips, and street costumes with accessories. Four rings of foods will be judged: Ginger bread; whole wheat rolls; Victory menus, and flower arrangements for the dining room table.

All girls are asked to bring sandwiches and cookies.



FISH FRY, CARD PARTY AT INDEPENDENCE, SAT.

A fish fry and card party will be given for the benefit of the St. Cecelia Church, Independence, on Saturday evening, May 23 from 6 to 11 p. m. The affair will be held in the church basement.

The public is invited.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Garand semi-automatic rifle, which is the standard issue today for the U. S. army, is superior to the old Springfield rifle in many respects. We literally need millions of these fast shooting powerful rifles to equip our army. They cost $85 each and are being manufactured at the rate of one a minute. They fire sixty 30-calibre shells a minute.

Every one of the 40,000,000 employed persons in America could easily buy one of these rifles for the army. Not that we need that many, but the reserve could go into shells and other much needed supplies. Buy more and more War Bonds and top the quota in your county by investing at least ten percent of your income every pay day.

NOW SITUATED IN NEW LOCATION

Chubby Cherington

Chubby Cherington recently moved his City Auto Service business from Seventh Street to Pike and Scott Streets, Covington, and has just completed the new building at this location.

This is an outstanding Pure Oil Station, where the best of service is given by the ever congenial Chubby and his assistants. Here, your car is well taken care of in every way. Stop in whenever in Covington.

Major Project Leaders Meet Fri.

The Major Project leaders from local Homemakers organizations will meet for their regular training school, with Mrs. Pearl J. Haak, foods specialist from the University, on Friday, May 22 in the lunchroom at the Burlington school. All leaders are urged to attend, or send a substitute. Arrangements for the meeting re being made by Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Acting Home Demonstration Agent.

LOCAL AIR CORPS LIEUTENANT KILLED

Mrs. Bertha Bauers, Dixie Highway, Florence, said Monday she had received news that her son, Lieut. Cornelius L. Reagan, 26, U. S. Army Air Corps, was "killed in action in defense of his country February 25."

The news was contained in a War Department telegram to Mrs. Bauers.

Young Reagan, well known in this section, was a graduate of Florence High School, and had completed his air training at Kelly Field, Texas.

COVINGTON DRY CLEANER NOW SERVING HIS COUNTRY

Ohmer Padgett, 615 Washington Street, Covington, was inducted into the U. S. Army service about three weeks ago. He is now stationed at Biloxi, Miss. Mr. Padgett is well known in Covington, having managed the Covington branch Store of Chase Dry Cleaning Co., 34 East 7th St. His wife, Rose Mae Padgett, will continue in the management of this store for the duration of the war.

Mr. Padgett was a former resident of Dry Ridge and Burlington. Mrs. Padgett is a niece of James Bolington, Walton.

Sheep Shearing Well Under Way

Boone County sheepmen began the past week the sheep shearing job in earnest. Most of the county's 16,000 old sheep will be sheared during the next two weeks, according to County Agent Forkner.

Most of the county wool clip grades 3/8 and quarter blood which are two of the highest priced grades. Following are a few important points that will help produce more valuable wool at the market delivery points:

1.—Never shear sheep when the wool is wet or even damp. Buyers do not want wet wool and usually want to give a dock on wet wool.

2.—Tag and pick out theburs before the sheep are sheared.

3.—Shear in a clean place keeping straw and filth out of fleeces.

4.—Tie fleeces only with paper twine. Other twine injurs the fleece value. Roll and tie carefully with the clear flesh side out.

5.—Put second grade wool, as black, gray, burry, steely, dead and fleece grown wool in a separate sack. These grades usually sell for a 3 to 6 cents per pound less than clear wool.

A large portion of small growers depend on commercial shearers to clip their flocks. Commercial shearers this year are scarce and are charging around 25 cents per head compared with the 15 cents charged last year. Commercial shearers who are known to be operating this year are Roy Kenney at Beaver Lick; Wilford Dixon at Burlington, and Gilbert Brewster at Verona.

FORMER SHERIFF DIES IN INDIANA

Millard Filmore Wingate, 83, passed away Sunday, May 17th at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Maude Terrill, Lawrenceburg, Ind. after an illness of two years. He had resided with his daughter for the past three years. Mr. Wingate was born in Boone County, and was a former Sheriff and a stock trader here, many years ago.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, May 19th in the Petersburg Cemetery, by the Rev. McConnell.

Besides his daughter, Mrs. Terrill, he leaves one son, Holman Wingate of Chicago, Ill.

Chambers & Grubbs, Walton, had charge of funeral arrangements.

MRS. AMANDA WARD DIES HERE MAY 17th

Funeral services for Mrs. Amanda Ward, who died Sunday, May 17 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Luther Marksberry, High Street, Walton, were conducted on Wednesday at 3:00 p. m. at the Richwood Presbyterian Church. The funeral was held from the daughter's residence. Burial was in the Richwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Ward is survived by her husband, Robert Ward; two daughters, Mrs. Marksberry and Mrs. Jessie Justice of Covington; six sons, Everett Ward of Covington, Andy Ward of Florence, Lyle Ward of Erlanger, Thomas Ward of Cincinnati, Edward Ward of Burlington, and Russell Ward of Walton; a brother, Ben Chandler of Rising Sun, Ind.; 28 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

SUNDAY AT WALTON METHODIST CHURCH

The subject for Sunday morning at 11:10, will be 'God Withhold His Judgment." The pastor, Rev. J. H. Talley, will have charge of the service.

Youth Fellowship will be held at 7:00 p. m. The evening service at 8:00 will be in charge of the young people. Theme: Youth and Adults. There will be special music, and all are cordially invited to be present, to encourage our youth, as well as to receive a benefit for ourselves.

The zince in a 3½-pound toy locomotive would make a carburetor for a jeep.

JOHN W. CARPENTER DIES AT RICHWOOD

John Woodford Carpenter, 65, passed away Wednesday, May 13 at his residence near Richwood.

Mr. Carpenter is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lucy Powers Carpenter; seven daughters, Mrs. Lena Youell, Mrs. Willa Maude Hetzel, Mrs. Lucille Sorrell, Mrs. Virginia Harris, Mrs. Hattie Kerns, Mrs. Ocella Callen and Mrs. Kenneth Williams; two sons, Gilbert Carpenter and J. W. (Pete) Carpenter; a brother, Benjamin F. Carpenter of Cincinnati; 17 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home last Friday at 2:30 p. m. in charge of Rev. D. E. Bedinger. Pallbearers were Carrie Carpenter, Theodore Carpenter, William Woodward, Charles Finnell, Tom Carpenter and Ben Carpenter.

Funeral arrangements were made by Chambers & Grubbs.

Former Resident Dies In Washington

Mrs. Mary Hance DeHarte, 44, passed away in Washington, D. C., on Friday, May 15th from coronary thrombosis after a year's illness. She was born in Boone County and was a member of the Christian Church.

Funeral services were conducted May 18th from the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Walton, by the Rev. R. F. DeMoisey. Burial was in Highland Cemetery. Mrs. DeHarte was born in Walton, and was a graduate of Walton High School. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hance.

Besides her husband, C. Langhorne DeHarte, the deceased is survived by her mother, Mrs. Sally Hance of Cincinnati, Ohio; three brothers, Milton Hance of Indianapolis, Ind., David Hance of Chicago, Ill., and Evan M. Hance of Walton; four sisters, Mrs. L. A. Gardner of Mt. Sterling, Mrs. Jane Sleet of Beaver Lick, Miss Susan Hance and Miss Julia M. Hance of Cincinnati; besides other relatives, and a host of friends.

Chambers & Grubbs had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Florence First Aid Class Is Completed

The First Aid class sponsored by the Boone County Chapter of the American Red Cross at Florence, and taught by Dr. G. R. Coe, has been succefully completed.

Certificates have been issued through the National Headquarters, and countersigned by J. Russell Cross, Chairman of the Boone County Chapter. These certificates showing completion of the Standard Curse of instruction in First Aid to the injured have been awarded to Mrs. Arville Jones, Everett Jones, Clarence Lee Jones, Mrs. Brady Johnson, J. O. Huey, William David Houston, Mrs. Lucille Houston, Mrs. Al E. Hue, Al Hue, Raymond Hightower, Mrs Effie Herrington, Charles Fibbs, Jeff E. Eddins, Wendell Easton, Mrs. Joe Dringenberg, Joe Dringenberg, Mrs. Frank L. Dils, Mrs. Harold Conner, Ralph S. Coppage, Ivan Clements, Robert W. Carroll, George Byrne, Ernest Brown, Jr., Mrs. Joseph J. Berkshire, Mrs. Lela S. Ashcraft, Mrs. E. A. Beall, Virgil Day, James Pettit, Mrs. Robert Eads, Mrs. Tim Osborn, William Feldhaus, Mrs. Louis Braun, Louis Braun, Elbert E. Wilson, Mrs. Earle Wilson, Mrs. Charlotte Wilson, Mrs. R. W. Tanner, Clifford Tanner, Mrs. Lora Sullivan, Mrs. Ralph Stith, Luis Sime, Dolpha Sebrie, Jane Scott, Mrs. Eunie Pettit, Mrs. George Morith, Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Mrs. Verda Martin, Mrs. Sarah Marksberry, Mrs. Irma Marksberry, Mrs. Kitty McHenry, Mrs. Stanley Lucas, Robert Louden, Mrs. James C. Layne and Mrs. W. H. Jones.

Fifty women attended a homemakers' club rug judging contest in Mason county, where hooked, crochated and braided rugs were judged.

W.-V. Commencement To Be Held Friday

Commencement exercises for the 1942 graduating class from the Walton-Verona High School will be held on Friday evening, May 22nd at 8:00, EWT, in the school auditorium.

The commencement address will be given by Dr. J. C. Adams, of the University of Kentucky. Music will be furnished by a string ensemble from Cincinnati.

Sixteen are in the graduating class, and they are: Russell Groger, James Omer Dudgeon, Paul Simpson, Ellen Miskell Nathan Northcutt, Jr., Clifford Ryan, Geraldine Elliott, LaVerne Ryan, Mildred King, Gladys Dudgeon, Wanda Lou Conrad, Laura Marsh, Rose Ann Bickers, Stanley Lee McElroy, Marion Hancock and Ruth Haley.

Class night exercises were held Tuesday evening and, according to reports, they presented a very good program.

Baccalaureate Sermon Delivered by Rev. Cross

Last Sunday evening, the Rev. J. Russell Cross, pastor of the Richwood Presbyterian Church, delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the local High school. A large crowd was present to hear the fine sermon presented by Mr. Cross. His topic was, "Being Up-to-Date." It was a message well worth hearing, and would apply to all of us, as well as to the graduates addressed.

Vocal selections were supplied by Mrs. Olivia Wills and Mrs. Fay Conner, with Mrs. Sam Hudson, accompanying on the piano.

EARLY LAMBS BRING $11.81 PER HEAD

Robert Grant of near Idlewild reports he sold 14 lambs the past week that brought 16c per pound. They grossed $12.16, and cleared $11.81 per head. The fourteen lambs netted $165.34.

Mr. Grant, William Burns and Howard Huey were among farmers in Petersburg community busy setting tobacco last Friday. The rains of last Thursday made the first good tobacco season of the year.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET MAY 21

The Woman's Missionary society of the Walton Baptist Church will hold their all-day meeting at the church today (May 21). A covered dish dinner will be served at the noon hour.

The program will begin at 1:20 p. m., with Mrs. Tom Percival, leader. Subject for the month, "Think on These Things—Whatsoever Things Are Lovely."

LARGE NUMBER OF 4-H'ers ATTEND SPRING RALLY

More than 200 persons representing the 10 local 4-H Clubs attended the Boone County 4-H Spring Rally held Saturday at the Burlington school.

Wanda Pennington of New Haven, was acclaimed champion in the Style Dress Revue, and will represent Boone County in the State contest at Junior Week.

The meeting was called to order by H. R. Forkner, at 11:00 a. m. The program was concluded with the awarding of ribbons about 4:00 o'clock.

A seed, blub and shrub exchange was a feature of the home beautification work of homemakers' clubs in Kenton county last month.

An effort is being made to enroll 1,500 Pike county farm families in the "make the farm feed the family" program.

The largest potato acreage in the history of Lee county was planted this spring.

Our Job Is to Save Dollars
Buy War Bonds
Every Pay Day

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER — Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1860

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

Money Talks

By
Frederick Stamm, Economist
Director of Adult Education
UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

The purchase of Defense Bonds and Stamps is making it possible for our Government to engage in the greatest war production effort ever attempted by any nation. Recent figures on war production are not only encouraging — they are startling. Instead of the 40 billion dollar estimate, which seemed high when it was made, our total war production for this year will undoubtedly reach the 60 billion dollar mark.

The magnitude of the United Nations' war production program is well illustrated in the case of airplanes. The British inform us they are now producing as many planes as Germany and by June 1 the United States will be producing as many fighter and bomber planes as Germany, Italy and Japan combined. And Russia is also producing many more.

Our airplanes have already reached the fighting fronts as is indicated by the steady flow of British and American planes over Germany and German-held industrial areas. These mass raids are carried out regularly night after night and are inflicting heavy damage on the mighty German industrial war machine.

Many of our other war materials are not reaching the battle fields as quickly as planes. The tanks completed in Detroit and Cleveland have not had much effect on the Battles of North Africa and Burma as yet. The lack of shipping space has slowed up the movement of materials to foreign shores. But we are gaining momentum on every front — production, shipping, and war experience. Our shipyards are producing more ships than ever before in our history and within a few months we will be shipping tanks, guns, and other war materials in an ever-increasing stream to all the war fronts.

With our war production reaching new heights each month, the outlook for victory grows much brighter.

But we must remember that all this war effort takes money. We must continue to buy bonds and stamps in larger and larger amounts. They are our best investment today!

WITH THE REDS

Return to Crosley Field of the Cincinnati Reds is scheduled for Monday, May 25. This will be a return for only the one game against the Pittsburgh Pirates, but it will be a ceremonious game, inasmuch as it will be played at night, the first one of the season under the Crosley Field lights. Too add to the occasion, the pre-game attractions will take on a military aspect, with the soldiers at Fort Thomas participating. Smittie's Band also will help in the proceedings.

After that one-game stand, the Reds will rest for a day, then go to Chicago for three games against the Cubs, the first of which will be the contest of Wednesday, May 27. This game will be a charity event, as all of the gross receipts will be turned over to the Army-Navy Relief Fund. The Reds and Cubs will team in a second charity contest for the same Army-Navy Relief Fund, this one to be played in Cincinnati on Tuesday, June 30th.

On Saturday, May 30 (Memorial Day) the Reds will return to their own grounds to start a long home stand. That stand will be started with a bang, for a doubleheader is scheduled on that first day, May 30, against the St. Louis Cardinals, then, on the following day, Sunday, May 31, the Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates will bastle in another doubleheader. On the following Tuesday, June 2, the Phillies will oppose the Reds in a ladies' day game, and the next night, June 3, the lights will be turned on again as the Reds and Phils clash in a night game.

Tickets for all of these big attractions are now available at the Reds' downtown ticket office at 307 Vine Street in Cincinnati. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

COULD YOU

run your present business if you were blind?
Can you get the most out of it if you are half blind? If your eyes need attention, see

L. J. METZGER
Optometrist — Optician
631 Madison Ave.
Covington
Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

OVER THE TOP
FOR VICTORY
with
UNITED STATES WAR BONDS • STAMPS

MAY SPECIALS AT THE
Powder Puff Beauty Salon
Carter Wireless Oil Wave—a $5.00 Wave for $3.50 during May; also a Mel-O-Tone $5.00 Wave on Machine—2 Waves for $5.00, if two come together.
EDNA STAMLER
78 S. Main St. (Phone 682) Walton, Ky.

Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria
Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN FREE Odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package
Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

Don't Let
HIGH PRICES
UNPLEASANT TASTE
INCONVENIENCE
Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.
You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take
ONE A DAY
VITAMIN A and D TABLETS
Pleasant-tasting - Convenient
Economical
Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping

NAGGING BACKACHE
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!
Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.
After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.
Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.
THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS
All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say, Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILLS

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

BY
Gordon Wilson Ph.D.
WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE
BOWLING GREEN, KY.

Personal and General

Some years ago an elderly friend of mine gave me a dressing-down for being so personal in my writings. He said that all I have said could be said in the third person with as good an effect and without appearing so egotistic. I listened attentively to him and tried then to explain my point of view, but it did no good. If you are patient enough, I will now explain to you, knowing that you cannot talk back very soon.

As I have so often said in this column, I have deeply resented the writings about folk life that are so generalized that they seem dry and with the life all squeezed out. Most people who record folklore take this method — not bad, it is true, but likely to make their achievements a closed book to most readers. Other writers choose to laugh at folk thinking and acting, in a foplofty way that we often assume to impress other people with. That is equally foolish to me, for I resent the person who declares that he has no connection with the average human being. In trying to find a middle course for these articles and for the speeches that precede and follow them, I decided to adopt the personal tone. In no sense do I imagine that what I did personally was unusual; my actions an datitudes were and are so average that I can truthfully chronicle my experiences as if I were actually chosen to act for the whole generation of boys and children generally.

Emerson told his audiences that when we speak of our own latent convictions we discover that we are actually speaking the convictions of those around us. When we try to make ourselves unique, we succeed only in making ourselves silly. "No man liveth to himself." The basic customs of my experiences were yours and of countless other people who have lived before us. Change Fidelity to whatever you like, and there you are; if you had come into my little village, you would have probably seemed as much a part of it as I was, and I know from experience that I could have gone into yours with equal results.

Statistics about boy life a generation ago would sound learned and might convince somebody, but they would leave many of us cold. Let us try a few. An eighth-grade education in 1900 in Kentucky was no less distinctive than a college degree is today. There were no state-supported high schools until 1908. Roads were little better than trails until after the World War.

In my own county there were 3,500 people in 1920 who could not read and write. A single murder trial in a county in western Kentucky cost the county more than the schools of the entire county received in a single year while the trial was dragging through the courts. Now aren't those interesting facts? One could sit down and cry over the predicament of humanity in our poor benighted state.

But right in the midst of these conditions you and I were born and then grew up. We rode stick horses and then calves and young mules; we took our dinners to school in tin buckets and played Antny Over and Dare Base; we attended the country Sunday School and got little cards to show that we knew the Golden Text and the other memory verses; we visited the country store and learned the bewhiskered old yarns that Adam propably told Cain; we even went to the county seat on county court or circus day; we chased rabbits and hunted coons and set traps for minks; we—but why tell how in the midst of what might have been a calamity we lived our lives and enjoyed them, too, as much as if we had been the first persons in the world at its creation.

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

HOW much money John Doe will pay for the things he needs during the war is still a favorite topic of discussion here. Opinion in most quarters seems to be that while prices may be frozen for a time by the present ceilings they will slowly creep upwards after a short period at their current levels.

One reason is that labor is expected to continue its demands for wage increases. A check of labor leaders and key New Dealers reveals that they do not regard President Roosevelt's reference to wages as placing a ceiling on existing pay levels.

The major showdown on whether there will be wage ceilings or union labor will succeed in obtaining wage boosts is expected to come in the "Little Steel" and General Motors disputes. In these cases, now pending before the War Labor Board, the unions are demanding a dollar a day increase.

Should the increase be granted, legislation is expected to be introduced in Congress immediately to establish wage ceilings. Supporters of such legislation will cite the fact that Price Administrator Leon Henderson has opposed the "Little Steel" wage increases because they would induce an inflationary spiral.

NOW that the nation has been rationed for sugar rationing, officials here are turning their attention to the procedure that will be followed in the rationing of other articles.

Present plan is to set up a group rationing system, as contrasted with the present procedure of individual rationing of such products as autos, tires, and sugar. This means that instead of having one ration card and quota for coffee, another for sugar, another for tea, and so on for each item that is rationed, similar items will be lumped together, and cards issued for the whole group. Consumers will then have a choice of using all their points on one item or of dividing them among the group.

PATENT authorities here are calling attention to the fact that the government has long had the power to have goods produced for it, regardless of patents on them.

This is a fact which has been ignored by the Senate Patents Commitee. It has been holding hearings on a new bill, ostensibly drafted to make inventions available for use in the war emergency.

An Act passed in 1910, and amended in 1918, makes it possible now for anyone to make anything for the government, without considering whether any patents may apply. This is true whether the country is at war or at peace.

Regardless of laws governing the situation, industry generally has made its patents fully available for the all-out war effort, and many feel that the present attack on the patent practices of industry is paving the way for far-reaching legislation which has little or no connection with the immediate job of winning the war.

In view of the laws in existence, the government could have had synthetic rubber, carboloy, or any other of the products now in the headlines, produced at any time. Patents, according to noted patent authorities, have in no way interfered with such action by the government.

"FUN'S A PART OF KEEPING FIT"

"Fun's a part of keeping fit," is the war time slogan of Coney Island, Cincinnati, 'America's finest amusement park," as it opens its 1942 season on Saturday, May 23. This is in harmony with the expressed wishes of President Roosevelt and other war leaders, who have repeatedly pointed out the importance of maintaining recreational facilities and programs to stimulate morale and relieve the physical, mental and emtional strain of war.

The all-steel steamer Island Queen, one of the largest and finest river excursion steamers in the world, will again be in serivce for the delightful 20-mile round-trip river ride between downtown Cincinnati and Coney Island on its regular daily schedule. Motorists and bus riders can reach it via U. S. Route 52.

Art Kassel and His Kassels in the Air will be the featured attraction in Moonlite Gardens, at Coney's palatial summer ballroom, during the opening week. Featured soloists with the band will be Gloria Hart, smooth song stylist; Cub Higgins, the one-man band; Harvey Crawford, romantic tenor; the Doodlers, male vocal trio, and the Saxophone Sextet.

Two other entertaining bands will be featured at Coney—Bruce Scott and His Orchestra at the Clubhouse, and Jimmie Ault and His Orchestra on the Island Queen. Ann Houston will be Scott's vocal star.

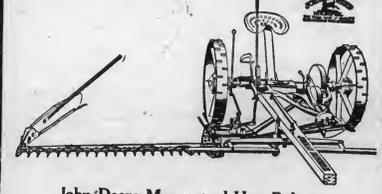
A War Show, depicting the war efforts of the United States, Great Britain, China, Russia and their allies, is a special attraction at Coney this year.

INDEPENDENCE

Mrs. O. T. Tapp of Latonia entertained the Independence Homemakers Club on Thursday, May 12th. Talks were given by Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, president, on Home Beautification; Mrs. Foster Armstrong, nutritional leader, on Foods for Fitness; Mrs. O. T. Tapp, Gardens; Mrs. C. W. Carter, Better English; Miss Zelma Byerly, Home Demonstration Agent, on the Centennial and about the canning demonstration to be held at the Simon Kenton High School, June 10th.

Members attending this meeting were Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mrs. C. W. Carter, Mrs. William House, Mrs. Foster Armstrong, Mrs. O. T. Tapp, Mrs. E. F. Tapp, Mrs. F. H. Shanklin, and Miss Zelma Byerly, Kenton County Home Demonstration Agent.

—FOR VICTORY: BUY BONDS—



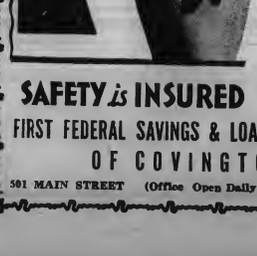
A dime out of every dollar we earn
IS OUR QUOTA
for VICTORY with
U. S. WAR BONDS

TIRES!
MUST BE SAVED
Align Those Wheels and Save Time and Money
COlonial 0670
R. MICHELS Welding Co.
722 Washington St., Covington

HEALTH and HAPPINESS Await You At
DILLSBORO
Home of the Famous White Crane Mineral Water
Although Dillsboro's fame is based largely on the excellent results obtained from treating arthritis, rheumatic afflictions, stomach troubles and nervous disorders, more people daily find Dillsboro the ideal place to vacation. Here, amidst pleasant, quiet surroundings, one rests, relaxes and builds up a reserve of health that wards off trouble in the future.
Visit Dillsboro for a week or so. Take the mineral baths and drink the waters. The glowing health, the peace of mind and the general rejuvenation you receive from the Dillsboro treatment will give you a new lease on life.
RATES $27.00 to $37.00 WEEKLY
Include delicious Meals, Attractive Room, Mineral Baths
E. F. Gerkepott, Mgr.
DILLSBORO HEALTH RESORT
U. S. Route 50 — DILLSBORO, INDIANA

KENTUCKY HATCHERY Baby Chicks
All leading breeds U.S. Approved. Blood-tested, started chicks one, two and three weeks old. Pullets right. Also Sexed chicks. FREE CATALOG. Write: KENTUCKY HATCHERY 227 WEST FOURTH STREET • LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY

When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
—24-Hr. Wrecker Service—
Cars Washed - Storage



John Deere Mower and Hay Rakes—
We still have some on hand.
Also DeLaval Cream Separators and Milking Machines. Louden Barn Equipment.
—Order Repairs for your old Machinery Early—
The Jansen Hardware Co.
108-110 PIKE STREET — COVINGTON, KY.
Phone: COlonial 0910

PEOPLES LIBERTY BANK & TRUST CO.
COVINGTON, KY.
MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Keep Up WITH EVENTS
EVERY WEEK from THE NATION'S CAPITAL
Read PATHFINDER
PATHFINDER brings to you in words and pictures the drama of events fresh from Washington, D. C., the nation's capital, today the world's news center. News, features, and facts, events boiled down into 20 interesting, inspiring departments. Complete, unbiased, non-partisan, non-sectarian, dependable—gives both sides. Improved new features. World's oldest, most-read news weekly at one-fourth the cost of others. Furnishes clean, reliable reading for the entire family.
This Newspaper & PATHFINDER BOTH one year Only $1.80

You can begin your Insured savings account today with as little as $5

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK SYSTEM
INSURED
SAFETY is INSURED
FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1242

This Week on The Home Front

Emphasis this week is upon solution of the transportation problem — how to keep war supplies moving and essential war workers traveling, and how to make existing transportation facilities public and private last as long as possible.

From one point of view, the fact that the nation is having transportation trouble is good news, because it means that war production has progressed to a point of accomplishment where it is taxing our rails, our streets and our highways.

Gasoline rationing in the eastern states, and the rationing to come in Washington and Oregon, are caused, not by oil shortage, but by transportation crowding.

Office of Defense Transportation which has this problem in its lap, is moving on all fronts to save our transportation systems for essential uses, just as we are saving materials and manpower. We may yet have to ration train and bus space to hold civilian travel to a minimum.

Procedure for setting up and operating the nation emergency transportation program is now defined by ODT. Mayors will appoint local transportation administrators to act, and governors, acting state administrators. Purpose of program is to prolong the life of all transportation facilities, public and private and increase efficiency of mass transportation systems.

Attention retailers: General Maximum Price Regulation effective last Monday for retail, will supercede state fair trade laws and fair trade agreements, if there is conflict. This is Price Administrator Leon Henderson's ruling. If a retailer violated a fair trade agreement in March and sold low, he'll be frozen there, even if the price is below the ceiling.

Less chocolate is going to be available for the American sweet tooth. Because the country has less than a normal year's supply of cocoa beans on hand April 1st, WPB has restricted the amount which may be ground or pressed into chocolate to make the amount available last 16 months.

Civilian supplies of dyes will last longer as a result of action of the WPB Bureau of Industrial Conservation which has asked that no more colored bed sheets or sheets with colored edges be manufactured after July 1st.

The death sentence on clothes hangers has been listed by WPB. A new regulation has excluded from the list of restricted household articles coat hangers made of wood or paperboard if their only use of scarce maetrial is for a steel wire hook.

Drastic restriction of manufacture of cook stoves and ranges of all kinds is ordered by the War Production Board effective July 31. Order saves 350,000 tons of iron and steel for war. Only smaller firms may continue making cooking appliances. The same order designated 39 "labor shortage areas" in 15 states. In these areas no stoves can be made after July 31. Order covers both cooking and heating stoves, except electric. Nation now has 1,200,000 non-electric stoves new, and 800,000 will be made between now and July 31. Making of repair and replacement parts is not restricted. Stocks on hand should last a year.

Under the stove order, Akron, Cleveland and Massilon are designated labor shortage districts, and stove making will cease in these cities.

Large part of the cotton textile industry is being convirted to war work. Half the mill capacity of the nation is now turning out sand-bag fabric, camouflage cloth, food bag weaves and other war necessities. In general mills kept on civilian production will make the simpler, cheaper, more serviceable cloths, with emphasis on utilty for war work. Non-essential cloth is being curtailed. There'll be plenty of denims, seersuckers and unbleached cottons.

Women and children will find soon that their nightgowns, slips, petticoats and pajamas will contain fewer ruffles, pleating, tucking and sleeves that are not as full. The sweep and length of the garments also will be limited under a new WPB Limitation Order intended to save about 15 percent of the yardage used by lingerie manufacturers.

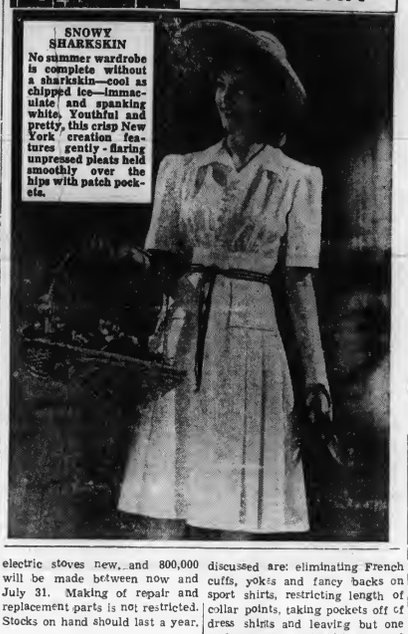
Ways of making more men's shirts with less cloth are under discussion in Washington. Changes discussed are: eliminating French cuffs, yokes and fancy backs on sport shirts, restricting length of collar points, taking pockets off of dress shirts and leaving but one pocket on the sport shirt. Yes, and shirt-tails will probably be shorter.

Three tire dealers in Houston, Texas, are under indictment for violation of tire rationing and price regulations in Federal Court. They are also charged with conspiracy to evade rationing and price regulations.

Two companies in Chicago and one in Indianapolis have been caught by the War Production Board for dealing illegally in critical aluminum. WPB is punishing these companies by forbidding them materials for from two to three months.

OPA is now delegated the WPB's rationing control over sale, transfer or other disposition of adult bicycles, sale of which was frozen April 2. WPB still controls production.

Production of anti-freeze for automobiles will be placed on a quota basis this fall. The quota is expected to be about 50 percent of the amount sold by each producer in 1941.



OPA's Consumers Division is aiming at a recapped tire that will travel 10,000 miles and give two years of limited service.

Consumer's Division of OPA offers women a three-point guide to buying wartime clothes: "Buy practical outfits, mix them up and make them last."

Have you put in your coal supply for next winter? Donald M. Nelson, War Production Board Chairman, urges that all consumers lay in their stockpile to the limit of capacity now to avoid a transportation pinch next fall.

Suggestion of J. J. James, a New Orleans tailor, decided the WPB to urge all tailoring establishments to turn over all their wool clips and old samples to the Red Cross. Cloth thus salvaged will be reprocessed.

STRAIGHT FROM NEW YORK

SNOWY SHARKSKIN

No summer wardrobe is complete without a sharkskin—cool as chipped ice—immaculate and spanking white. Youthful and pretty, this crisp New York creation features gently-flaring unpressed pleats held smoothly over the hips with patch pockets.

JUST ROLLING HIS HOOP

CONCORD

"If sinners entice three, consent thou not."—Prov. 1:10.

May is bringing us some good rains, which are needed.

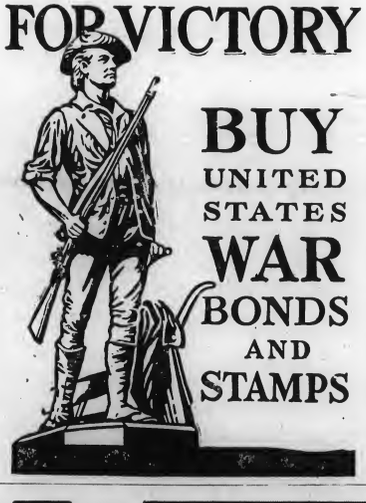
Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Robinson were business visitors in Williamstown on Tuesday afternoon. She was calling on Mrs. Mitts.

The W. M. S. met with Mrs. C. D. Hughes Wednesday. The meeting was enjoyed by all and the absent ones were missed. There were 12 members present.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Struve and baby of Latonia visited her parents Sunday, the first for the new baby. Harry Chapman and daughter also were there. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Manford Craft, daughter Barbara, and mother, Mrs. Emma Willeford.

Mr. and Mrs. Cash Martin and children spent Sunday with her mother who has been on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Chapman took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilhoite, Sunday; also visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bingham of Crittenden in the afternoon.



Miss Chestine Hensley came to her brother's here from the hospital, where she underwent an appendicitis operation. We hope to see her out soon.

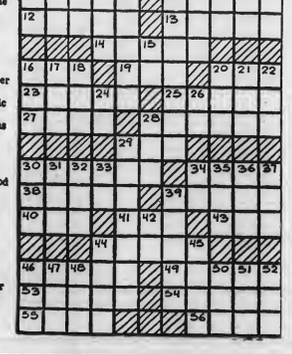
Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chapman and Pete Chapman attended the sale of Mrs. Tomlin, Saturday at Mt. Zion.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Robinson entertained Sunday, Mrs. H. C. Fossitt, Mrs. Lulu Hopper and Mrs. Noel Sams of Florence; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Connley of Warsaw; Howard Miller and family of Napoleon; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rex and son of Ludlow.

Preaching at Concord, Saturday night and Sunday morning and evening. Come!

WPB's order ending use of steel in toy manufacture will save 100,000 tons for war purposes.

Crossword Puzzle



No. 5

ACROSS
1. Having color
5. Live in a tent
9. Nautical term
11. Gazelle
12. Mingle
13. Slightly crazy
14. Strip of leather
16. Narrow inlet
19. Twitch
20. Swiss river
23. Mixture of metals
25. Door part
27. Narrow valley
28. Leased
29. Public vehicle
30. Person of consequence
34. Verbal
38. Bay window
39. Banish
40. Network
41. Piece of timber
43. A sack
44. Kind of fabric
46. Spurt
49. Examinations (contr.)
53. Flocks
54. Confederate war song
55. Greek war god
56. Theme

DOWN
1. Quadruped's thigh
2. U. S. Indian
3. Go astray
4. Excavates
5. Harvest
6. Islet in a river
7. Encountered
8. To go back and forth
10. Drilling
11. Parisian
15. Rhode Island (abbr.)
16. Torn cloth
17. Sick
18. Malt beverage
20. Insect
21. Grow old
22. A color
24. Ahead
26. At home
28. Floor covering
29. Quarters, as soldiers
30. A weapon
31. Anger
32. A tomcat
33. Pronoun
34. Farm animal
35. Umbrella part
36. A wing
37. A support
39. Pelted with eggs
42. Conjunction
44. Soppy water
45. Egress
46. Thin silk
47. Through
48. Metallic rock
50. Hewing tool
51. Blend together
52. Egyptian god

Answer to Previous Puzzle

JONESVILLE

(Too Late for Last Week)

Rev. C. B. Love filled his regular appointment here last Sunday and he and Mrs. Love were entertained in the home of Mrs. Flora Mason and son Byron.

Jimmie Jump was taken to Martinsville, Ind., last Thursday to take treatment for rheumatism. He will have to stay for several weeks. His many friends hope for him a complete recovery.

Mrs. Sula Stewart, who was taken to Booth Hospital for examination and treatment recently, was brought home last week and continues very ill.

Price Furnish took his brother, Clarence Furnish of Poplar Grove to the Baptist Hospital in Louisville, Sunday, where he is to undergo an operation this week.

Miss Geraldine Thornton and Billy Samford spent Sunday with Misses Bonnie and Bernice Poe and Bernard Poe.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollie Webb and daughters and William Poe of Louisville spent the weekend here with relatives.

Word was received by the family Monday that Bradford Kemper is now stationed at Camp Walters, Texas. He had been in the Hospital at Ft. Thomas with a crippled foot for four weeks previous to being sent to Texas.

Miss Peggy Webb of Louisville is visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Cook and family of near Dry Ridge spent Sunday with Mrs. Price Furnish.

Revival services closed at the Methodist Church here, Sunday night with several conversions. Rev. Lewis did the preaching.

SAYERSVILLE ROAD

(Too Late for Last Week)

Mrs. Mollie Kinman is spending a few days with her daughter and family of near Dry Ridge, Mrs. F. Hensley and Mr. Hensley.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burke and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Stamper of Jonesville spent Sunday with Mrs. Pearl Smith and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence House moved from Glencoe to the farm of C. C. Kemper. We welcome the good people in our midst.

Raymond Smith called on his brother, Ernst Smith and family one evening last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Perrie spent last Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Perrie's father and brother, Jim Maxwell.

Little James Fletcher had the misfortune to break his arm.

Verry sorry to say Mrs. Hattie Cleveland is still in St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Little Tommie Smith spent Sunday with James Cleveland.

Annie Cleveland spent Monday with Mary K. Fletcher.

Noah Groves spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Clarence House and family.

Mrs. Gladys Fletcher spent one day last week with her children and mother in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond House and little son James Ray and Mrs. Nancy Perrie were callers in Warsaw, Saturday evening.

CONSERVE FOR VICTORY

Timely Tips on the

Use and Care of Your Electric Refrigerator

Uncle Sam wants you to take good care of your electric equipment—to make it last. Here are some suggestions that will help you get longer life and better service from your always economical electric refrigerator:

Defrost whenever frost is about ¼ inch thick. Frost acts as an insulator—retards cold making.

Be sure door gasket seals tightly. Wipe off any grease that falls on gasket as grease destroys rubber.

Wash inside of refrigerator, including freezer, with weak baking soda solution each time you defrost.

Wash exterior with cloth dampened in lukewarm water and mild soap. If non-porcelain, wax occasionally to preserve finish.

If an open unit model, keep oiled per manufacturer's instructions. Closed unit models need no oiling.

Remove dust from fins of condenser coils occasionally. Keep unit compartment clean.

Don't overcrowd shelves. Air circulation is needed for efficient cooling.

Don't set cold control for lower temperature than necessary. Forty-five degrees is safe.

Cover all liquids. Moisture drawn to freezer speeds formation of frost.

Don't put hot foods in refrigerator. Wait until they cool.

Don't clutter refrigerator with ketchup, canned goods and other items that do not need refrigeration.

Avoid quick freezing as much as possible. It increases running time of motor.

• • •

GET YOUR FREE COPY of 32-page Westinghouse booklet on care and use of appliances. Packed with helpful information and useful household hints, it's yours for the asking.

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
INCORPORATED

BUY U.S. WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

Fun's a Part of Keeping Fit!

CONEY ISLAND Cincinnati, Ohio

OPENS SATURDAY, MAY 23rd

Join the Fun! Everything Ready at New, Fresh, Clean, Colorful and Exciting 1942 Coney!

Thrilling Rides & Fun Devices Galore!

Sensational new "MOON ROCKET"—Dire Boating on the new "LOST RIVER" — 80 Rides in the Children and Many Others!

Delicious Dinners at the CLUBHOUSE BRUCE SCOTT'S MUSIC

SWIM AND PLAY SUNLITE POOL Adults 50c—Children 20c (Including Tax)

ART KASSEL and His Orchestra MOONLITE GARDENS Adm. 50c (Incl. Tax)

1000 FREE PICNIC TABLES

American, British, Allied Nations WAR EXHIBIT Exhibition Building

Bring the Children . . . Ride the Island Queen

Boat Lvs. ft. Broadway, Cincinnati, 11 a. m., 2:30, 5:30 & 8 p. m.; Extra Trip at 10:15 p. m., Sat., Sun. & holidays. Round Trip Fare, (incl. adm. to Park) CHILDREN 20c — ADULTS 35c Admission at Auto Gate 10c

DANCING FREE

FREE PARKING AT PUBLIC LANDING AND AT CONEY Only 10 Miles from Fountain Square

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .

DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?

Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Step in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.

LANG'S CAFETERIA

623-625 Madison Avenue

COVINGTON KENTUCKY

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

A birthday dinner was given on Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O Rouse, in honor of the 13th birthday of their grandson, Jack Rouse. Other guests, besides the honored one, were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rouse and son Asa Myron. Mrs. Fannie Brittenheim and Mrs. B. W. Stallard of Madisonville, Ohio.

N. S. Blau and son, N. G. Blau, attended the State Association Convention of Master Plumbers, held in Louisville, Monday, held in the Roof Garden of the Brown Hotel.

Mrs. H. R. Daugherty of Florence and Miss Virginia Beverly of Erlanger were guests last Wednesday evening of Mrs. Zella Walton.

Mrs. Georgia Arnold entertained last Thursday evening with dinner at Stephens Restaurant for her sisters, Mrs. T. B. Darbro of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Earl Wilson of Florence and her daughter Mrs. J. W. Isley of Ft. Mitchell.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kemper of Verona was the guest Thursday of Miss Corinne Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simons of South Walton had as Sunday dinner guests, their niece, Miss Mary Lucy Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hoket and Fritz Hoover of Dayton, Ohio. Sunday was the 32nd wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Simons. Miss Fowler was formerly employed at Madisonville, but is now a government employee at Dayton.

Mrs. John Noell and Mrs. Lula Vest had as their guest a few days last week, their sister, Mrs. L. M. Menefee of Mt. Zion.

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Chipman and young daughter Ruth Ann to our community. The Chipmans have purchased the Model Food Store from Charles Rouse and will make their home with Mrs. Chipman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reamy Simpson of No. Walton, for a short time. They expect to move to the property to be vacated by Charles Rouse and family, in the near future.

Jean (Fox) DeMoisey spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. DeMoisey, of South Main street.

Sam Tussey, of the U. S. Navy, was saying goodbye to the DeMoiseys before reporting to Norfolk, Va., where he will be assigned to his ship. He is a close friend and schoolmate of Jean DeMoisey.

Mrs. Bessie Johnson and son, Kircher, entertained the following guests Sunday: Mrs. E. W. Van Winkle and Mrs. S. A. McGuire of Newport, and Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Callahan of Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Rev., and Mrs. Olus Hamilton of Mt. Sterling and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. DeMoisey and daughter Mary were dinner guests Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Allen of Nicholson Road.

John R. DeMoisey, Superintendant of Kentucky Houses of Reform at Greendale, stopped to say hello to his parents Tuesday, he being in Northern Kentucky on business. He is the proud father of a new son.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Mamm and daughter Sue spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Benson and family of Forest Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Northcutt and family called on Mrs. Mary Howe of Crittenden, Sunday.

Mrs. W. R. Powers has returned home from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Luther Store of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hughes and son Jack of Crittenden and Mrs. Mabel Stansifer and daughter Julia Ann spent Sunday in Hanover, Ind.

Mrs. Naomi Crayeroft of Cincinnati visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Johnson, Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Howe of Crittenden spent Tuesday night with Thelma Howe.

Mrs. C. J. Wallick of Warsaw, was a business visitor in Walton last week and made the Advertiser a pleasant call.

Mrs. John E. Roberts, who was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital last week, was operated on Monday morning for gallstones by Dr. Joe Northcutt. Thirty-two stores were removed. Mrs. Roberts' many friends are pleased to know she withstood the operation and is now getting along nicely.

Mrs. Zella Walton entertained at dinner Monday evening at Stephens Restaurant for her sisters Mrs. R. G. Macke and two children, Dorcie and Richard, of Covington, and Mrs. Marion Isbell and son Walker.

Miss Geneva Dixon, who was ill left week, has returned to her place at Stephens Restaurant.

Mrs. Gaines Robinson and two attractive children, Bonnie and Bobbie and Miss Frankie Keeton of Covington, spent the weekend with Mrs. Robinson's brother, Andy Price at Camp Knox.

Mrs. Georgia Arnold spent Monday and Tuesday with her niece, Mrs. Mary Ieula in Mt. Washington, Ohio.

Mrs. S. L. Maze and daughter Sue Ann of Florence attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Hance DeHarte, Monday afternoon.

A 10-inch phonograph record contains about two ounces of shellac, which is the amount that goes into the manufacture of one military signal flare.

FLORENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Worthington and son of Lloyd Avenue left Saturday for Maysville to spend a week wih Mr. Worthington's parents, who reside there.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hensley and daughter of Woolper visited Mr. and Mrs. Harold Aylor and family on Saturday.

Mrs. Edna Eggleston of Hilltop is the house guest of Mrs. R. L. Brown.

Bluford Aylor of Illinois is enjoying a visit here with his sister, Miss Cora Aylor and Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Aylor.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs. Fred Kleemire being on the sick list.

W. E. Snyder and wife visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Snyder Saturday afternoon.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs. H. V. Tanner still remaining ill at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Marksberry will have for their house guest her uncle Rev. Fielding Howard, who is holding a revival at the Florence Methodist church.

Corp. Lawrence Aylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Aylor of Gunpowder, who spent a 15-day furlough visiting with his family and friends, left Friday evening for Camp Shelby, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Aylor of Big Bone spent Wednesday with Mrs. Lutie Aylor.

Mrs. Lenrie Easton was the dinner guest last Sunday of her aunt Mrs. Fannie Utz.

Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Aylor entertained with a family reunion on Sunday, May 10th in honor of their son Lawrence Aylor who was home from Camp Shelby, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carpenter have returned home following a two week's visit with relatives in Tennessee.

Quite a number attended the Holzworth sale which was held on Saturday.

Charlie Corbin of Covington visited his mother, Mrs. Lillie Corbin Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rouse have sold their place of business in Walton and will move bock to their property on Lloyd Avenue.

We are sorry to hear of Jake Lolhine remaining very ill at his residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert England were dinner guests on Sunday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William England of Hebron.

Miss Hattie Higgins and friend spent ore day the past week in Covington shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Marksberry and sons spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Tanner.

Harold Tanner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tanner was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital one day the past week where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. His friends here are glad to know he is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sayre and son have moved in with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Sayre of Youell Street, as Mr. Sayre has left to take his place in military training at Ft. Thomas.

FOR VICTORY - BUY BONDS

Kenton Farm News

Save Soil Moisture

by John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics—

In most counties of Kentucky there has been too little rain this spring, and in many, the winter rains and snows were so light that soil moisture reserves are small. If home gardens are to meet the aims set for them, the complete filling of the family's all-year vegetable needs, steps should be taken to save whatever moisture there now is and to conserve whatever may fall in the showers that may come.

Time was when gardens were "worked" deep stirring done with bull-tongues or shovel plows. By their means, the deeper, moisture soil was brought to the surface, in the notion that this was of benefit. Actually, the reserve was true. Crops so "worked" almost always showed it by "standing still" for a day or two until they would heal their roots injured or dislodged by the plow points. Old-fashioned "working" worked the garden double harm, and except in extra moist times amounted to garden suicide.

With the dry season coming, or, in fact, here, "dry farming" methods need to be adopted by home gardeners. These are:

1.—Never stir the soil any deeper than to shave off the weeds, or upset them. The vegetables' roots must never be even touched.

2.—Keep the garden surface strictly level, no hills and no ridges made. A level surface exposes least area to exaporation to the sun. Besides, as soil is "borrowed" from about the plants as hills and ridges are made, the soil moisture level is lowered, sometimes quite below the reach of the vegetables roots.

For precious soil moisture's sake, let "working" and "hilling" stop and cultivation start!

Evergreen Bagworms Should Be Destroyed

Evergreens may be destroyed unless controls are applied, warns Professor N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist for the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. The worst insects attacking evergreen, the young emerge from bags or cocoons and are voracious feeders. The two methods of control are as follows:

Remove all the bags that can be seen and burn them.

The second method is to spray as soon as the bags begin moving, with a solution made of one level tablespoon of arsenate of lead to a quart of water. Apply in the late afternoon, after the sun is off the plants. Usually one spraying is sufficient to kill the worms, but a second application may be necessary.

Northern Kentucky Poultrymen To Study Marketing of Poultry and Eggs on Tour, May 21

According to J. E. Humphrey, Extension Poultry Husbandman from the College of Agriculture, Lexington, poultrymen in Northern Kentucky — Boone, Campbell, and Kenton counties — will go on a marketing tour to Cincinnati on Thursday, May 21.

The purpose of the tour is to study marketing of poultry and eggs in the Cincinnati section. The party will visit C. Eberle & Sons and the Egg Department of the French-Bauer Company.

BIG BONE

Mrs. Mary Hamilton remains quite poorly.

Mrs. Charles Stephens spent the weekend with her daughter, Mrs. Artie Stephens and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Riggs and daughter Shirley and Glenna Rose Atha were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Miller and family Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Mayme Wilson spent a few days last week in Covington, helping Mrs. Henry Storey and family move.

Wayne Robbins of near Rising Sun, Ind. spent a few days last week with some of his former schoolmates, Eugene Becknell and Tommy Atha.

Mr. and Mrs. Fields from Ludlow and Mrs. Mattie Griffith attended the play "Toby Helps Out" given by the seventh and eighth grades of Hamilton school. Their niece, Mattie Marie Miller, was one of the eighth grade grads.

Delbert Hubbard of the U. S. Marine Corps, has been here visiting his relatives and friends. He, with Mrs. Hubbard, Miss Lucille Williamson and Russell Miller, Jr. spent several days at Muncie, Ind. visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Len Hubbard.

Jimmie Edwards of Dayton, Ohio spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Myrtie Marsh and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Atha and son and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Robbins and daughter were Thursday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Atha and family. Other callers were Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Robbins and family, and the Misses Beulah May and Sara Libby Miller.

J. L. HAMILTON & SON

FUNERAL SERVICE

VERONA -:- KENTUCKY

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our thanks and gratitude to those who were so kind to us during the illness and death of our beloved father and husband, John Woodford Carpenter.

Especially do we wish to thank our Dr., F. E. Bedinger for his untiring faithfulness; Rev. Bedinger for the consoling words; Chambers & Grubbs, and those who gave the beautiful flowers; also we thank our neighbors and kindred.

—Mrs. John W. Carpenter and Family.

Four dollars, these days, buys about three dollars worth of goods — the war program has given us more money to spend but fewer things to spend it on.

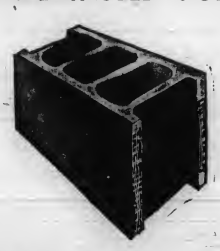
Is Your Subscription Paid?

YOU NEVER NEED WORRY

About a Job You Do With

BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT

You can rely on Wearmore Paint to give a dependable long-wearing surface with beauty of finish and shade.



THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.

114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212

Phone COlonial 0212

For Your Protection

THE BLOCK WITH FULL DRESSED TOP

Faces, Edges, Corners, Have Beauty Of Cut Stone

Many of our 4x8x16" Block are being used to build Milk Houses and many other buildings on the farm. Buildings from these blocks are permanent and economical construction.

——See Us for Further Information——

COLONIAL

COAL and SUPPLY CO.

Phone Dixie 7626

DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER, KY.

FEED FOR EGG PROFITS!

With Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS

$4.50 PER 100

DR. SALSBURY POULTRY REMEDIES

FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE

512 Pike Covington

YOU MAY NOT BE ABLE TO FIGHT...

But Your Dollars Can

Today, Americans are dying so that America — your free America — can live. The men in our armed forces are out there fighting every inch of the way . . . fighting for your right to the freedom for which this nation stands . . . freedom the axis hordes would take away! Our fighting men need more planes, more tanks, more guns . . . they must have more and better weapons than our enemies have, if America is to smash through to Victory! We can . . . we will . . . we must provide them.

WAR STAMPS AND BONDS give each one of us an opportunity to help win the war . . . an American way to find the billions needed for Victory. Every Stamp and Bond YOU buy will help our boys at the front . . . and keep the skies over America clear of Axis raiders. And remember, your government guarantees that your money will come back to you with interest, as much as $4 for every $3 when Bonds are held to maturity. Send more of YOUR fighting dollars out to win the war. Give our boys in uniform a hand!

Dixie State Bank

WALTON : : KENTUCKY

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

HELP FIGHT THE WAR WITH THE MONEY YOU SAVE . . .

Buy U.S. WAR BONDS & STAMPS

Walkin' Roun' With Walker
by 'Buddy' Walker

FLASH! Just got word from "Gentleman Jimmy" Cleek, recent selectee, that he is in Fort Bragg, N. C. He likes it fine, and would like a letter from the ones back home. His address is: Pvt. James O. Cleek, Bat. E—10th Bn., 4th Reg., F. A. R. C., Fort Bragg, N. C. I dare everyone to write Jimmy. I am sure he would appreciate a letter, and would answer them all.

If Sam Hudson, the "wise guy," at Conrad's tries to tell you that Jimmy Cleek has a different address, don't listen to him. Take a tip from one who "bit" on his practical joke, and don't ask where he is located.

Speaking of servicemen's addresses — Rollie had a card from Bud Young, who has been in the Navy a short time. Rollie has this card on display over at the restaurant, and I'm sure he would be glad to show it to you, should you care to see it. It is very interesting—on the front it has a Sailor's prayer, which I think, is pretty cute. Bud's address is: Virgil A. Young, U. S. Naval Training Station, Co. 319, Great Lakes, Ill.

(Leave it to Charlie) Ransler has already started something else, that I think will be practiced often around here. He came back from Transylvania the other day with his already red hair just a little bit redder. He had bleached it, using Peroxide and alcohol. Ella Mae tried to make him think that she did not like it, but I got it straight from her that she liked it much better that way.

Some mighty strange things have been going on down at that camp of the Rouses. First Spuds Rice gets ducked in the creek. Now I have been told by some that witnessed the fun, that John L. Vest, local attorney, was trying to get out of a skiff and fell into the creek, also. Spud said that John L. was taking his swimming lessons a little bit early this year.

Pete Johnson has been busier than a one-armed paper hanger since he got to come back home for a ten-day furlough. Every time I see him, he is talking to someone different.

Tom Brewster, one of the fellows inducted into the Army recently has been sent somewhere in Missouri. I'll try to have his address by next week.

Joke of the week is on Emma Lou McElroy — the gal who went on a picnic and took a bag of dirty sox instead of food. It was somewhat embarrassing to her, I suppose, when she opened the bag which she had taken by mistake and started to eat sandwiches, and it turned out to be several pair of dirty sox that were ready for the laundry.

I think Plucker has found someone to take the place of his Florence cutie. He sure spent a lot of time with that little Judy Ann gal that was visiting Mrs. Ora Fry, right across Pluck's driveway, when she was here last week end. He is already planning a trip to Rising Sun to see her. He has it bad. His eyes seem to say "I Can't Get Indiana Off My Mind."

Katy has begun to look like a human, once more, since he started letting his hair grow again. I think he must have his seasons mixed up, or he just wants to be different or something. He has his head shaved in winter and starts letting it grow out again in the hottest time of the year.

Millie Rice is a great help to this column. She tells me lots of stuff, but she told me something the other nite that I don't think would make such good copy. It was on myself.

Pop Farris, one of Walton's grand old men, says he doesn't think so much of these blackberry winters. It would be alright, I think, if he did not have to build so many fires.

George's theme song seems to be "I Guess I'll Have to Dream the Rest," since "Chollie" Ransler cut him out entirely.

I have definitely decided that Mary Neal is much younger looking than her young-looking daughter, Wanda, the Ft. Mitchell beauty.

PICTURE SECTION OF WALTON: Spring, loafing here like it had a year to hang around, touching last winter's work with a lacy trim of green. Soft breezes blowing cheerfully by day and mourning the sun's absence at night — the flowers getting rid of that just born look, and taking on the full bloom of their youth — the soldiers an sailors who visit Main Street, walking up and down with chests thrown out, knowing that they are loved and happy about wearing that new suit, whether it be Navy Blue or Khaki — the Walton-Verona Seniors riding high on the crest of happiness, because soon their lives will branch out into new fields of profit, success, or blind alleys of satisfied living — little Negros not as big as a school gal's appetite, salvaging a big cigar butt from the gutter of the street.

Remember — the (YOU)SO campaign is now going on, and a couple bucks that you might spend for cigarettes, gasoline, a movie or a coke, will go a long way helping the boys who are fighting, so there will always be an American History for Coregidor, Bataan and the Alamo, to sand out in.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Army's fighter planes are the finest in the world and develop speeds up to 400 miles an hour. They cost approximately $100,000 each, provide fighter escorts for the huge flying fortresses, and combine speed, range, altitude and blistering fire power.

America's plane production plants are working over-time turning out thousands of these fighter planes. War Savings Bonds will help pay for them and the American people are committed to, at least ten percent of their income to finance their cost in War Bonds. Every American, buying his share every pay day, will make it comparatively easy to supply our army and navy air corps with these supreme Eagles of the air.

MT. ZION

Miss Margie Franks of Covington and Gordon Jarmen of Laurel, Ind. were united in marriage on Saturday, May 16 at Covington by Rev. Rose, a Baptist minister. Misses Clara Elizabeth Franks, a sister of the bride, and Clara Rose were the only attendants. Mrs. Jarmen is the daughter of Mrs. Clara Franks Gross and is a graduate of Crittenden High School in the class of '36. In the year of '39 she graduated as nurse from the Mercy Hospital at Hamilton, Ohio and at the present time employed as nurse at St. Mary's Hospital in Cincinnati. Mr. Jarmen has employment in a defense plant in Indiana. Their many friends wish them a happy and prosperous married life.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bingham and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bingham of Crittenden.

Mrs. L. M. Menefee spent a few days the past week with her sisters in Walton.

Melvin Miller, our truck driver, took Hugh Bingham's class from the Dry Ridge school one picnic Saturday. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Bingham also enjoyed the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sanfield and son of Covington spent the week end here at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Johnson and daughter were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Johnson and mother. Mr. Johnson is leaving Monday for South Carolina, where he will enter U. S. training.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Becker and daughter Jo Ann of Covington spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon.

Misses Evelyn Anderson, Kathleen Lawrence and Harry Anderson spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lawrence and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jones and daughter of Sherman spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones and daughter Wilma.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence and son entertained the young folks Saturday night, May 16 with a party in honor of their daughter, Marcella's 18th birthday. Those from a distance who attended were Mary Price Morris of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Bingham, Helen Anderson, Mrs. Kenneth Bush, Hobart Franks and Harold Massie of Covington; Herrington Drake of Cincinnati; Miss Birdie Keal and mother and Eli Jo Ferrell of Latonia; Dorothy, Ray and Theodore Woods of Walton; Dorcie and Alberta Miller and Jean Collins of Napoleon. Marcella received many nice present. All left at a late hour wishing her many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin New of Frankfort were callers at the A. T. Johnson home, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Kenneth Bush and baby of Covington were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Losey and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James McGuire of Covington visited their brother, Bert Beach, who is ill.

Four of the fifteen who are graduating from Crittenden school are from our community. They are Mary Louise Barnes, Delores Losey, Glenn Anderson and Winston Franks. We extend congratulations to each.

A large crowd attended the sale of Mrs. Dora Tomlin's Saturday. Everything brought a good price.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kenny of Elmwood, Ohio spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kenny.

Gus Kenny returned to his position in Detroit, Mich., after a few days vacation with his parents.

Rev. Spahr will preach at our church Sunday. Everyone invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Alexander and daughter were visitors in Erlanger, Wednesday.

WATERLOO

(Delayed from Last Week)

Mrs. Alice Aylor and son Harold called on Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Walton, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Addie Ryle is visiting her granddaughters, Mrs. Paul Craven and Mrs. Manny Goodridge at Constance.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cook spent the weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jake Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Purdy, W. G. Kite and John Stevenson were shopping in Covington, Monday.

Tommy Stephens and mother entertained his older sister and family Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Sam Hamilton and daughter were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kruse and family.

Rev. and Mrs. Toney Conley spent Friday night with the Kite-Purdy family.

Mrs. George Cook, Mrs. Lon Williamson and daughter were shopping in Covington, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williamson entertined their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wills of Cleves and other relatives Sunday.

Virginia Stephens, Bill Kruse, Gene Purdy, Charles Porter Shinkle, John Kruse, Everet Stephens and Jack Purdy were baptized by Rev. Sam Hamilton, pastor of the Belleview Church of Christ, in the lake here Sunday morning.

INDEPENDENCE R-1

We love God because he first loved us.—John 4:19.

Several from this community attended the Fireman's supper at Simon Kenton Saturday evening and reported a large attendance and plenty to eat.

Mrs. Ora Ballanger is spending a few weeks with her son and wife, Mrs. Ballanger, who has been confined to her bed the past week with a heart ailment, and we wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rapp of Latocia spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rapp.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Riley and family spent Saturday afternoon in the city shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney and son Donald visited Sunday with her brother, Thomas Stephens and family of Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Duecer are entertaining his parents the past few days.

Mrs. Inez Chawning spent the day Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanna.

Mrs. Daisy Richardson and daughter Helen called on Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richardson, Sunday afternoon.

VERONA ROUTE 1

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Marksberry and son spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Landy Young and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks and Charlie Sparks and Mary Katherine Black were visiting in the Robert Wood home Friday.

Bill Scott was taken to the hospital Sunday and was operated on for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. George Prigge, Miss Violette and son Danny were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sutton and Jane and Mr. and Mrs. Remley Williams, Sunday afternoon.

Mary K. Black is visiting her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sparks, for a few days. Mrs. Sparks and Katherine and Raymond are very sick at this writing.

Russell Sparks was calling on Tom Carr, Friday morning.

GLENCOE

We are glad to report Uncle Abb Ward and Mr. Elza Ross, who have been sick, very much improved.

Miss Vaughn Stewart entertained Evelyn House, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Clements entertained her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Elza Webster, Saturday nite and Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Gordon called on her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Snyder, Thursday.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Snyder were Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Snyder and three children of Louisville.

Mrs. J. Chapman is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Ross had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Otna Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McCannoughey.

We are glad to report Sam Jones is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Webster and family entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crouch and Rodney Dunaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennie entertained their daughter Clara Frances over the weekend.

Rev. and Mrs. Dunaway entertained their niece, Opal Beach, of near Concord on Thursday night. They also entertained their son Rodney on Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Worth Chapman spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Crouch and other relatives. She was very much grieved over the loss of her husband, who died three weeks ago.

Rev. W. T. Dunaway filled his regular place in the pulpit Sunday morning and evening, with a goodly number attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Mat Webster spent several days in Indianapolis with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cooper.

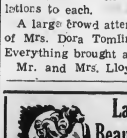
Mrs. Bessie Bowie and son Ralph called on Mrs. Luther Swango and Mrs. Sylvester Clements, Monday afternoon.

Miss Julia Ward Garvey is spending her vacation at home with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Crouch entertained her mother, Mrs. Jennie Eggleston, of Cincinnati over the weekend.

Mrs. Baker was a business visitor to the city Monday.

The Junior G. A. and Sunbeams will meet at the church Saturday afternoon. We hope the mothers will see that their children are present.



You could build a four-engine bombing plane with the aluminum in 20,000 1-pound skillets.

Like Great Britian, Canada has been controlling prices since the outbreak of war.

NORRIS, BROCK CO.
Cincinnati Stock Yards
Sellers of
Cattle, Hogs and Sheep
—Live Wire and Progressive—
An organization second to none. We are strictly sellers on the best all around market in the country.
We work for our customers first, last, and all the time.
Reference: Ask the first man you meet.
Hope that you will eventually ship to us. Why not now?
—SERVICE THAT SATISFIES—

—: SECOND ANNIVERSARY :—
Friday, May 22
Maple Tree Tavern
On Highway 25, 1 Mile South of Walton
. . . MUSIC AND FUN FOR ALL . . .
- - - Public Invited - - -

Announcing..
The opening of our New Store, in the same quarters formerly occupied by Stella Cluster.
We extend to everyone our sincere appreciation of past patronage and cordially invite you to visit our New Store—
Beginning Saturday, May 23, Coupons will be issued to Each Visitor—no purchase required—said Coupon will represent an opportunity to the holder to win one of 5 Baskets of Food, which will be given away, by drawing Wednesday, May 27 at 9:00 p. m. at the store.
Your presence at the drawing will not be required and should you hold a winning coupon, your prize will be held for you.
Lusby's Grocery
PHONE 25 WALTON, KY.

La Rose Beauty Salon
Ph. Erl. 6252
400 Dixie Hiway
Get your Permanent Now for Commencement and Decoration Vacation—
$5.00 PERMANENT for $4.00
$4.00 PERMANENT for $3.50
PERMANENTS ... $3.00 up
Children's Perm. $2 & $2.50

NOTICE To Farmers
My Cream Station, formerly in Mr. Rouse's Grocery, has been MOVED DOWN THE STREET THREE DOORS
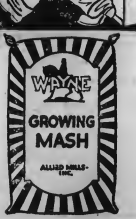
—Come In and See My New Station—
Viola Roberts

RELIABLE MONUMENT CO.
912 Madison Ave., Covington 11th & Lowell Sts., Newport
Our New 1942 Spring showing of memorials is now on display at our two convenient show rooms. Hundreds of stones to select from in Rock of Ages, foreign and domestic materials. Higher Quality or Better Workmanship is Not-To-Be-Had.
—WHERE MOST PEOPLE BUY—
— Ask About Our Deferred Payment Plan —
NORTHERN KY.'S LARGEST MONUMENT ERECTORS



Prepare For A Good Position
Salaries to Start — $18.00 to $35.00 Per Week.
National Defense and Private Industry Needs
More Stenographers and Typists—
DAY & NIGHT CLASSES — Start Your Course at Once.
Curtis Commercial College
EDWARD C. BADER, Principal
COlonial 0583 7 West Pike St., Covington, Ky.

SEE OUR FINE SELECTION OF GOOD Used Cars
AT
2300 MADISON AVE., COVINGTON
Rockcastle Motor Sales
— ALL MAKES & MODELS —

THE WAY TO GET REAL FALL EGG-PROFITS IS TO FEED YOUR BIRDS RIGHT DURING THE SUMMER

GET THOSE EXTRA EGG PROFITS
Try feeding your birds WAYNE GROWING MASH this summer. It's a sure way to make more egg profits. Your pullets will develop uniformly. They'll come into production at exactly the right time. And they'll have the reserve strength that will keep them from breaking down under the strain of steady heavy laying.
WAYNE GROWING MASH

COLONIAL
COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

COPPIN'S
FUR STORAGE
Protect Your Furs with Storage backed by our Sterling Reputation. A real Guarantee and all risk insurance. Every coat put through our Steel Letheal Gas Chamber, then into our new frigid storage until wanted.
Cost You Only
2 per cent or 2.00
Per $100. Valuation
EXPERT FUR REPAIR
5.00 Cleaning the New FURVIVE Process as described in Mademoiselle.
Call HEmlock 1500
And a Bonded Messanger will call for Your Coat.
The JOHN R. COPPIN Co.
MADISON, AT SEVENTH COVINGTON, KY.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for May 24

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THURSDAY: THE LAST DAY WITH THE DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT—Luke 22:14-30.
GOLDEN TEXT—This do in remembrance of me.—Luke 22:19.

The last day! How quickly it comes, and how fleeting yet meaningful its moments.

We do not know what our Lord did on Wednesday of Passion Week. In all probability He remained in Bethany to rest in fellowship with His friends. Surely He needed that day of quiet, for that which had gone before, difficult and strenuous as it had been, was as nothing to that which lay before Him.

Late on Thursday He and His disciples came to the upper room where Peter and John had already made preparation for the observance of the Passover (Luke 22:8). This feast had (since that great and awful night of Israel's redemption out of Egypt's bondage) pointed forward to the Christ and to His cross as the fulfillment of the type of redemption by the shedding of blood. But now the hour had come for Him to give Himself in that death, and so He set aside the Passover (because it has been fulfilled) to establish the great Christian feast of remembrance—the Lord's table, which now shows forth His death till He come.

I. The Final Passover (vv. 14-18).

Our Lord looked forward with intense desire to the Passover which He now observed with His disciples, for it was the last celebration of that feast recognized by God. All that it had foreshadowed of deliverance and hope was fulfilled in Him who now sat at the table. He had moved forward with resolute purpose to this day when His mission on earth was to be accomplished, and He was to become the Christian's Passover lamb (I Cor. 5:7).

The fact that He had looked forward to it with desire does not minimize the deep darkness of either Gethsemane or Calvary. Remember that, when in the garden He faced that hour and thought of the possibility of the cup being taken from Him, He said to the Father, "Not what I will, but what thou wilt." Praying concerning the same matter (in John 12:27), He said, "Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour."

II. The First Communion (vv. 19, 20).

Taking the unleavened bread and the unfermented wine of the Passover which had just been observed, Jesus established a new feast, the Christian feast of remembrance, which we call communion or the Lord's table.

His words are significant, "For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come" (I Cor. 11:26). At the Lord's table His followers find spiritual strength in recalling His death for them, but they also find joy as they remember that He is to come again. They thus testify to the world that they believe and cherish these truths.

This feast is rightly called "communion," for down through the ages and until He does come the saints of God have at His table sweet communion with Him and with one another. Let us not neglect it!

Our Lord also spoke of the cup as "my blood of the new testament." The word "testament" means covenant. The Lord's table therefore speaks of our allegiance to Him, of our loyalty to our Lord, and our devotion to His service. That is why the Christian Church speaks of communion as a sacrament, a word from the Latin sacramentum, meaning oath, and essentially an oath of allegiance.

III. The Folly of the Disciples (vv. 21-30).

Someone may say, "That point does not belong with the other two. Both the Passover and the Lord's Supper are for the joyful remembrance of deliverance and redemption." The objection is well taken except for one thing—we are dealing with human beings as they are, not as they should be and could be by the grace of God.

Here in the inner circle of the twelve there was one traitor. It seems impossible, but apparently Judas had maintained such outward conduct as to turn no suspicion in his direction, even though all along he had in his heart the blackest of treachery against his Lord. A sad and soul-searching fact is here revealed, that it is possible for one to make a high profession of faith in Christ and even so to live as to give no cause for criticism, and yet to be unregenerate and in fact the enemy of Christ.

What about the strife regarding position? Shameful as we agree that it was, it still goes on in the church. Not even the remembrance of our Lord's death and the reminder that He is coming again is enough to keep men from wanting to be greatest.

Classified Ads Get Results

HEBRON

Harry Lee Aylor has a nice position at the B. & O. Railroad office in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whitaker were the Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker.

The ladies of the Hebron Lutheran church are sponsoring a chicken dinner at the church on Saturday, May 30th, and will serve from 12 noon to 4 p. m. Price 60c. Everyone welcome.

Mrs. James Tanner had for her guests Saturday her sister, Mrs. Jess England and children of Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Garnett spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Val Heyl of Price Hill.

Miss Anna Gaines was taken suddenly ill Sunday. Her many friends wish her a hasty recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Conner and children attended a reception and dinner Saturday night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wernz near Bromley, for their daughter Irene, who was recently married.

(Delayed from Last Week)

Mrs. Mamie Stephens of Bullittsville and Mrs. Lillie Garr, her guest, spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Aylor.

Miss Imogene Stephens of Cincinnati called on friends here on Thursday afternoon.

Wm. Crigler had the misfortune to lose two horses in the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Conner, Miss Mary Conner, James Conner, June and Jeanette Conner spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Hempfling and children of Taylorsport.

A large crowd attended baccalaureate services Sunday night at the Lutheran Church for the 19 graduates of Hebron High school. A very interesting sermon was delivered by Rev. Noble Lucas, pastor of the Bullittsville Christian Church.

Mrs. Henry L. Aylor, who has been ill several weeks, is slowly improving.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky

C. J. ALFORD, Pastor

10:15 a. m. Bible School
11:00 a. m. Morning Worship
7:00 p. m. Baptist Training Union. A fully graded Training Union for all ages.
8:00 p. m. Evening Worship
8:00 p. m.. Wed. Prayer Meeting

METHODIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky

REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor

Sunday School 10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship 7:00 p. m.
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Walton, Ky.

Bible School 10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
Sermon by Rev. Geo. S. Caroland
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church

J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.

10:00 A. M. Bible School
11:00 A. M. Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. Evening Worship

Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.

Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Union, Kentucky

Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister

Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.

10:00 a. m., Sunday School.
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship.
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.

Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.

Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor

First and Third Sunday—

Sunday School 10:00 a. m
Preaching Service 11:00 a. m
Evening Service 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor

Sunday School 10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship 7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH

Verona, Ky.

REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor

Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Morning Worship 11 a. m.
Evening Service 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8 p. m.

All times given Central War time

The Nation's No. 1 Life Insurance Policy

Courtesy Detroit Free Press

POPLAR GROVE

The Memorial services will be held at the Poplar Grove cemetery on Saturday, May 30th at 1 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Sammie G. Connelly spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moore.

Miss Jane Lee Harrison spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Connelly.

Steel Gordy spent a few days last week with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gordy and family.

Pat Harrison was the Friday afternoon guest of Mrs. Alma Beatty and daughter Doris Jean.

Mrs. Raymond Brock and girls, Flossie, Betty, and Joie, were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughter, Lillian.

(Delayed from Last Week)

When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your ownselves that summer is now high at hand. —St. Luke 21:30.

Some of the Sunday visitors were: Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Connelly and daughter with Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Giles of near Hesler; Mr. and Mrs. Don Hedges with Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Hanks; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coates and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stewart and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Coates with Mrs. Belle Coates; Mr. Bennie Griver with Mr. and Mrs. Owen Yancy; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Carver and son Tommy with Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Connelly; Mr. and Mrs. Sammie Connelly with Mr. and Mrs. Willie Moore; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brock with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughter Lillian with Mrs. Ila Stamper and son Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Stewart spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughter Lillian.

NICHOLSON

"Whatsoever man soweth that shall he also reap." In the cultivation of gardens, we are fully assured that we shall reap what is sown, so to insure the best possible harvest, plant the very best seeds. The garden of life, it beareth well. It will repay our care, but the blossoms must always and ever be like the seed we are planting there. To forget self and live for the glory of God and the good of our fellowmen, are seeds well pleasing to the Heavenly Gardener and will produce an abundant yield.

On Mother's Day, Mrs. Rankin entertained with a family dinner.

Aggravating Gas

When stomach gas seems to smother you, and you can hardly take a deep breath, try ADLERIKA. FIVE carminatives to warm and soothe the stomach and expel gas, and THREE laxatives for gentle, quick bowel action. At your Drug Store.

ADLERIKA

Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton

DEAD STOCK REMOVED

SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS

CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887

REVERSE PHONE CHARGE

Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.

LOCKLAND OHIO

Is YOUR SUBSCRIPTION Paid In Advance?

It Should Be, You Know!

WALTON ADVERTISER

PHONE 30

Remember Dataan
Invest
A Dime Out of Every Dollar in
U.S. War Bonds

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .

W. E. TAIT, O.D.

OPTOMETRIST
OPTICIAN

27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.

Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

For appointment phone—

HE. 2088

FOR BETTER HEALTH

Some indications of eye-strain are: Squinting, frowning, straining to see, drowsiness after reading, headaches, nervousness, discomfort of eyes after reading, sensitiveness of eyes to light, wrinkles and crow's fee taround eyes, imperfect vision, and have to hold reading matter very close or at arm's length.

We examine eyes and furnish glasses that will correct eye-strain.

Frank Riggs

JOB PRINTING

Give Us Your Next Printing Order And See For Yourself If You Are Not Satisfied

JUST CALL 30

and we will be glad to give you

FREE ESTIMATES ON

HANDBILLS, BOOKS, ENVELOPES, STATEMENTS, POSTERS, CARDS, LETTERHEADS, RULED FORMS, TAGS, BLOTTERS, ETC.

The ADVERTISR

Phone Walton 30

Time To Shine

Although their combined ages barely reach the proverbial three score and ten, Bob, Dick, Don and Andy Williams are a veteran group of happy harmony. The youngsters are a weekday feature on the "Time to Shine" program on WLW at 8:00 a. m., EWT.

—Courtesy United Feature Syndicate

Memories

This is where Eddie Cantor came in — assisting Bedini and Arthur, jugglers, in vaudeville thirty years ago. Arthur, shown with Banjo Eyes, now assists him, providing some choice laughs on the WLW-NBC "Time to Smile" broadcasts aired at 9:00 p. m., E WAR T. Wednesdays.

Snerd In Clay

Mortimer Snerd, country cousin of Charlie McCarthy, grins with approval at his statuette. Charlie appears in the role of William Tell and Mortimer his trusting son. The amorous McCarthy is also well known for his poor aim with the Cupid's bow on Edgar Bergen's program heard at 8:00 p. m., EWT, over WLW-NBC on Sundays.

Standout

Standout blonde in the "Contented Program" chorus featured over WLW-NBC Mondays at 10:00 p. m., E WAR T, is Ada Beth Peaker, who lends a lyric soprano and her decoratvie presence to the musicast.

Backstage

GEE — That's what the boys shout when they see Lucy Gilman, titan-haired star of the WLW-NBC "Backstage Wife" serial heard Mondays through Fridays at 4:00 p. m., E WAR T.

Ducklings

Ivena Wright, WLW Agricultural Department secretary and Dorothy McVitty (right), former Ohio State singing co-ed, now featured on the Nation's Station's farm programs, spend many of their leisure hours romping about "Everybody's Farm" at Mason, Ohio. A couple of lucky ducklings are the objects of their attention for the moment.

Birthday

Lucille Wall, leading lady on "Portia Faces Life" aired weekdays over WLW-NBC at 5:15 p. m., E-WAR-T, recently celebrated the first anniversary of the popular serial.

Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day
★ ★ ★
Let's Double Our Quota
V

He "Do'od" It A-gain

Red Skelton, Red Net's bad boy "Junior", "do-od" it to the jam closet and you can bet his mother will break his "widdle" arm when she catches him at 10:30 p. m., E-WAR-T, during a WLW-NBC Tuesday broadcast.

ON AND OFF THE AIR

— A TYPICAL AMERICAN BOY —

By Fred Emery

Dick Holland is a radio actor. He has also been in a half dozen movies. He knows how to model clay. He has lived in New York, Chicago, Hollywood and Toronto. He has worked on a California ranch and lived with a bunch of cowpunchers. All of that experience might be quite normal for a fortunate grownup, but it so happens that Dick is a youngster in his teens.

All this dramatic business of Dick's started ages ago — in June of 1936 — when he appeared in the title role of "Cachoo the Clown", a commencement program sketch at St. Nicholas School in Evanston, Ill. From that amateur performance it was just one short jump for Dick into the big time. In fact, twelve months later, the youngster had successfully waded through the Hollywood casting mills and was launched on a movie career.

DICK HOLLAND

In another short year, young Richard Holland was cast in such top-notch productions as "Love in the Oven," "Tom Sawyer", "Make a Wish", "It Happened in Hollywood", "The Last Gangster", and "The Boss of Lonely Valley". This last picture was with Buck Jones, who had a part written in for Dick after the rolland lad had appeared with Jores in a radio show.

These days Dick is heard in the leading role of the WLW-NBC weekday serial, "The Bartons". A sophomore at St. George High School in Evanston, Ill., Dick is identified by a fair complexion, bright hair and inquisitive brown eyes. As Dick Holland or Bud Barton, he is a typical American boy in a typical midwestern town.

* * *

DIALGRAPHS:

BILL GOODWIN of the CBS BLONDIE series signed a long term movie contract with Paramount.

KATE SMITH and JACK BENNY programs will not have summer replacements.

MEL BLANC, multi-voiced actor on the AL PEARCE BLUE show is likewise the voice of "BUGS BUNNY" and "PORKY PIG" in the Merrie Melodies and Loony Tunes shorts.

ANITA, charming songstress of the WLW "SCRAMBY AMBY" show is off to Hollywood to become an NBC vocal staffer.

RED SKELTON, the NBComic received a letter recently addressed, "I Dood It, Hollywood, California."

ED GARDNER wears a battered old felt hat to help him characterize "Archie" in the CBS "DUFFY'S TAVERN" show.

EDITH TALLIAFERO, star of Noel Coward's hits, is frequently heard in character roles on the NBC "ALDRICH FAMILY".

NBC War Clinic

Executives of the National Broadcasting Corporation gathered in Cincinnati recently to meet with representatives of the various NBC affiliated stations in the second district of the NBC Planning and Advisory Commission. Pictured here in informal discussion are, left to right, Dr. James R. Angell, NBC Educational Counselor, William S. Hedges, NBC vice-president in charge of stations, and Lewis M. Crosley, executive vice-president of the Crosley Corporation, WLW-WSAI.

Prizewinner

No typewriter addict is Sandra Michael, author of the WLW-NBC serial, "Against the Storm", just given "First Award for Drama" by Radio's Peabody Committee. Her interests are as varied and vital as the characters in her radio drama heard at 3:00 p. m., E WAR T, Mondays through Fridays.

Classified ADS

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

FOR SALE—18 head stock cattle, heifers and bulls. Ottis Readnour, Walton. tf27

WOOL WANTED—Will pay top prices. F. D. Cooke, Walton & Readnour place, Walton. tf27

WHITE LEGHORN CHICKS—Hanson Strain, $10.00 per 100. Frank Lang, Buttermilk Road, Erlanger. Ky., Box 185, Route 4. Dixie 7084. tf18

FOR SALE—Baby chicks. Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

NOW is the time to buy your winter coal. See Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

BUY your winter coal now! Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

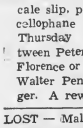
FOR SALE—Hybrid seed corn, U. S. No. 13, while it lasts, $6.75 per bushel. Walton & Readnour Walton. tf27

FOR SALE—Tobacco setter; cultivator; hay rake, and roller; all two-horse machinery. J. W. Mires, Independence, Ky. Phone Ind. 6131. 3t28*

WHITE ROCK Chicks, unexcelled for early feathering, rapid growth and bred for high egg production. Price $10 per 100 at hatchery. Menefee Poultry Farm Crittenden, Ky., R-1. Telephone Williamstown 5705. 4t27

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

WANTED—A good used Binder, cheap. John Conrad, Walton, Ky. Phone 517. 3t29



FOR SALE— Good single-shovel plow. Sidney Gaines, Walton. 1t29*

FOR SALE—2 sows and pigs, one has 12, other with 5. Hugh Semones, Verona, Route 1. Phone Walton 842. 2t29*

SHEEP SHEARING—Native 25c. W. R. Kenney, Walton, Ky. Phone 1392X Walton. 2t29

LOST — Consumers Educational Exhibit loaned by Sears, Roebuck and Company to the Boone County 4-H and Homemakers organizations. Double packed in cardboard boxes; contained 5 silk and rayon slips and one percale slip, packed individually in cellophane wrappers. Lost last Thursday either on road between Petersburg - Burlington - Florence or on Route 42, between Walter Pennington's and Erlanger. A reward is offered.

LOST — Male Maltese cat. Last seen in vicinity of Whites Tower. Reward. Phone Independence 5005. 1t29*

10% OF INCOME IS OUR QUOTA IN WAR BONDS

SAVE YOUR CAR and MONEY RIDE A BIKE

We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.

LIBERAL TERMS

DIXIE CYCLE SHOP

16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

BE SAFE - BUY NOW

SPECIAL This Week Only $45

Dixie Bargain House

Better Furniture--Less Money

221 Pike St., Cov. CO 1750

SUGAR CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Van Spencer of Cincinnati spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor.

Mrs. Emma Wallick and Mrs. Donnie Radford attended the show at Carrollton, Sunday.

Miss Della Skirvin and girl friend of Cincinnati spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Story.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carlton and family of Warsaw called on Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Story Sunday afternoon.

T. V. Sisson of Covington was a business caller here Sunday.

Garnet and Willie Clifton and Johnny Poland of near Jonesville called on Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton, Saturday.

Miss Roberta Clifton spent Sun-

Rose Hamlin of Hamilton, Ohio, spent Thursday with Mrs. Grover Clifton.

Miss Roberta Clifton spent Sunday night with Misses Helen and Faye Miskell of Glencoe.

(Delayed from Last Week)

Mrs. Clarence Smitha and children of Madison, Ind., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ellis and sons.

Sympathy is extended to John and Dave Clifton and Mrs. Lottie Eglain in the death of their brother, Lige, of Rising Sun, Ind. Having been in ill health for some time, he suffered a hemorrhage of the brain and died Saturday, May 9th at his home. Funeral services were held at the Rising Sun Church of Christ. Burial in Cedar Hedge Cemetery. Mr. Clifton was formerly of this place and has many old friends and neighbors here who will be sorry to hear of his passing.

Jack Story visited Buford and Roy Lee Winchester of Science Hill the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wallick called on Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton Sunday evening.

VERONA

Mrs. John Hamilton was the guest of her sister, Miss Agnes Scott of Florence over the week end.

Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Harry W. Hamilton were Dr. and Mrs. Francis Bedinger.

Mrs. Irvin Conrad and her mother, Mrs. Powers, were calling on Miss Irene Hudson one afternoon last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Washum of Covington spent the weekend with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gordon and family.

Mrs. "Lefty" Shetler visited her sister, Mrs. Wilbert Chapman and family of Campbellsburg, the latter part of last week.

Mrs. W. A. Brown spent several days the last week with her son Atwood Brown and family of Lagrange. On Thursday Mr. Brown Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lamn began a two-days visit with the Atwood Browns. These grandparents were on hand to witness the graduation from High school of Mr. Donald Brown.

Rev. Shirley Spahr preached at the Baptist Church, Sunday morning. Mrs. Spahr and their children together with Bro. Spahr were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hamilton and Mr. Fred Hamilton on that day.

For their May meeting the Y. W. A. girls and their leader, Mrs. W. T. Renaker met at the home of Mrs. Robert Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Yates of Covington were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chapman.

UNION

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilbur Craddock of Louisville and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barlow of Mississippi are spending their vacations with friends and relatives here at this time.

J. R. Bristow has accepted a position with the Reading Tool Co. of Cincinnati, since last Wednesday.

Several from here attended the Holzworth sale last Saturday and reported a large crowd with things selling at a good price

Russell Doane of Frogtown road is now an employee of the John Shillito Co. of Cincinnati. He and his sister, Mrs. John Points, and family spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Doane.

Mr. and Mrs. Surface Barlow and small son Bary Allen are now pleasantly located in an apartment at the Baptist parsonage.

W. S. Friend is now enrolled as an arc and acetylene welding student with the Kenton County Vocational School of Covington.

The annual picnic of the Feldhaus family was to have been held in the Gatewood woods last Sunday.

The old creamery building, an old landmark, is being torn down at this time by J. W. Doane and son, who plan to build a barn on their farm from the materials salvaged.

Some local farmers report tobacco plants large enough for setting, so with the nice rains of the past week we hope they will have a natural season.

J. H. Friend of Beaver visited his son Sherman and family here Sunday.

We take this means to extend our congratulations to the graduating class of New Haven High school and their coach, Mrs. John Masters, in the excellent manner in which their exercists were rendered. These fine boys and girls are the cream of the crop and we wish them the very best of everything as they go on down the highway of life.

W. M. U. News

The Missionary Society of the Union Baptist church met on Wednesday afternoon, May 13th at the church for its regular monthly meeting. The meeting was brought to order at 1:30 by our president, Mrs. Kirtley McWethy, with opening prayer by Mrs. Austin Gschwind. Singing our hymn "The Light of the World Is Jesus" and the repeating of our Watchwords followed.

Our secretary, Mrs. Winston Mason, gave the reading of the minutes and the roll call with 17 members present. Young People's leader, Mrs. Gschwind, gave a glowing report from the following organizations: Sunbeam Band, G. A., R. A. and Y. W. A.

The resignation of our treasurer, Mrs. Jimmie Head, was accepted at this time with Mrs. Gschwind voted to replace her. Our Stewardship Chairman, Mrs. Emerson Smith, reported several new tithers and the renewed pledges of others.

Mrs. McWethy then called for a discussion on plans to attend the Associational Mission Study classes to be held in Devou Park early in July. The plan met with favor with all present, with details to be worked out later.

All present joined in singing the hymn "Footsteps of Jesus," after which followed a beautiful prayer for all our boys in service and the youth of the world of today, by Mrs. Myrtle Marshall.

Mrs. McWethy brought to us a beautiful interpretation of the book of Ester, as our devotional. The topic for this month's study was "Think on these things: Whatsoever Things Are Lovely," with parts taken by members, as follows: Whatsoever Things Are Lovely, by Mrs. Elaine Greenup; Youth-Lovely and Unlovely, by Mrs. Viola Friend; The Call To Lovely Service, by Mrs. Anna Smith; Training for Lovely Service, by Mrs. Laura Pressor; Grace McBride Y. W. A., by Mrs. Ruth Mason; Youth Aronud the World, by Mrs. Opha Bristow; Revealing the Heart of Youth, by Mrs. Pearl Blankenbeker.

We were dismissed in prayer by Mrs. Anna Bristow and our meeting closed until Wednesday, June 10th at which time we hope all members will be present.

We were happy to have one visitor with us at this time, but it was with deep regret that we granted the request to remove from our honor roll the name of our very loyal member, Mrs. Doretta Rouse. But since she now lives in Burlington, we know they will learn to love her just as we love her here. We do miss her and pray God's richest blessings be with her and her family, always.—Pub. Chairman.

U. S. industry this year is producing at a rate 60 percent above that of 1929.

BEAVER LICK

Miss Wanda Lee Jones is enjoying a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brown and daughter of Centerville, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kennedy entertained a number of friends and relatives Sunday in honor of their daughter Betty's second birthday.

We sympathize with Mrs. Sam Sleet and the other members of the Hance family in the death of their sister, Mary.

Clifford Afterkirk is now stationed at Camp Forest, Tenn. We know he would appreciate hearing from his friends and his address is: Co. A., 95th Signal Bn., Camp Forest, Tenn.

Rev. and Mrs. S. B. Godbey had for their guests over the weekend their daughter, Mrs. William Souder and Mr. Souder of Cincinnati.

Glad to repirt that Mrs. Raymond Shields is much improved after several days illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hodges, Mrs Ben Hodges and Mrs. Clarence Clifton enjoyed a visit to the Zoo on Sunday.

Thieves have again visited the Christian Church here, breaking a window and taking one of the large pulpit chairs and two portieres.

Miss Dorothy May Judge, who recently was operated on for appendicits, is getting along nicely and was able to leave the hospital last Saturday.

A large crowd of 4-H club members attended Rally Day at Burlington, Saturday. The New Haven club brought back a number of ribbons and Miss Wanda Pannington was awarded the championship ribbon and will represent the county at Junior Week to be held at Lexington in June.

Rev. Shirley Spahr, pastor of the local Baptist Church, announces a revival will begin here on June 8th, with services each evening at 9:30 Eastern War Time. On June 14th there will be preaching in the morning and afternoon, with a basket lunch at noon, to which everyone is invited, and all present and former members of the church are especially urged to attend. A Bible School will be held each day during the revival at 2 p. m. Plan to attend each of these services, if possible.

INDEPENDENCE

Miss Carrie Schoborg visited her sister, Mrs. James Fierock and daughter Miss Eleanor in Covington, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Ralph Ervin visited her sister, Mrs. Larry Perkins in Cincinnati last week.

The Misses Dudley Mae and Sue LaVerne Bruiz of Covington, spent the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Richardson.

Friends of Dr. F. A. Daugherty, who is ill at his home, will be glad to know that he is slowly recovering.

Miss Mary Slater visited relatives in Covington Sunday.

Miss Kathlene Binder surprised her many friends Wednesday when she and Rudloph Stanley of Covington were married at Williamstown. They will reside in Covington.

Miss Madalene Selman of California, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Lizzie Selman, has returned home.

Mrs. Clarence Baird, who has been ill at the home of her daughter's, Mrs. Fred Requardt is now improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baird of Covington were guests of his mother, Mrs. Clarence Baird last weekend.

Misses Virginia Kline, Elizabeth Dickson, Virginia Hand and Virginia House visited the theatre in Cincinnati recently.

J. Oliver of Terra Haute, Ind., who has been visiting relatives here, with Mrs. Oliver, the former Margaret Armstrong returned to Terra Haute where Mrs. Oliver will visit for some time.

Mrs. Fred Requardt and daughter Mrs. Ray Groger and Mrs. Earl Brandenburg visited the former's husband, Fred Requardt, who is at the U. S. VeteransHospital, Lexington, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herndon Thomas attended the funeral of their uncle Johnnie Darnell in Covington last week.

FOLSOM

(Too Late for Last Week)

The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof; the world and they that dwell therein.—Psalm 24:1.

Rev. Buttler filled his place at Vine Run Church Sunday and was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ashcraft entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beach and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ashcraft and children.

Mrs. Minnie Isaac entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee Jones and daughter and Jim Jones.

Mrs. Dan Beach spent Monday evening with Mrs. J. H. Mershon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Price spent Sunday with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Beverly.

Mr. and Mrs. Brackie Collins spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Asby Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. Broadus Beach were visiting their parents of this community, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beach were visiting their parents here recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dowell of Covington and Mrs. Bertha Salyers of Cincinnati were visiting their sister, Mrs. Lawrence Crouch and family and their mother, Mrs. Al Crouch over the weekend.

Afternoon callers of Mrs. Law-

NEW JAMES THEATRE

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m.—Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY & SAT., MAY 22-23
Randolph Scott - Gene Tierney in BELLE STARR

SUNDAY, MAY 24
SWAMP WATER
Walter Brennan - Walter Huston

MONDAY, MAY 25
THIS TIME FOR KEEPS
Ann Rutherford - Robt. Sterling

TUESDAY & WED., MAY 26-27
WILD BILL HICKOK RIDES
Constance Bennett - W. William

THURSDAY, MAY 28
Conrad Veidt - Ann Ayars in NAZI AGENT

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.

CHAMBERS & GRUBBS

Funeral Directors WALTON

Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation

Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.

DIXIE STATE BANK

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

CHASE DRY CLEANERS

34 EAST 7th ST. HE 2126 COVINGTON, KY.

Opposite Doctors Building 6 HOUR SERVICE

SUITS - OVERCOATS
PLAIN DRESSES
PLAIN LADIES COATS
Dry Cleaned and Pressed

75c

100% UNION SHOP

BABY CHICKS

Heavy Mixed Per 100

$8.00

REGULAR STRAIGHT RUN, Unsexed—per 100 $10.50

SEARS - ROEBUCK AND CO.

720 WASHINGTON ST. COVINGTON, KY.

Special Price On GRASS SEEDS

U. S. No. 13 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu.	$6.50
Iowa No. 939 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu.	6.00
Wilson Black Soybeans, per bu.	2.65
Virginia Brown Soybeans, per bu.	2.75
RED CLOVER, per bu.	$14.10
KOREAN, per 100 lbs.	8.25
TIMOTHY, per bu.	4.40

See Us for Prices Before Buying Your COAL!

Walton Feed Mills

PHONE 57 WALTON, KY.

GEO. C. GOODE

A Partial List of Garden Supplies

All Merchandise Complies with Ceiling Prices of OPA

"Black Leaf 40"
Red Arrow
D—X
Evergreen
Paris Green
Arsenate of Lead
Caloium Arsenate
Magnesium Arsenate
Dutox
Bordeaux Mixture
Rotenone Dust
Slug Shot
Sulfocide
London Purple
Garden Flit
Transplantone
Rootone
Vitamin B
Liqua-Vita
Squill Powder
Mologen
Ratnip
Sodium Flouride
Pratt's Zene-A-Trol
Pic-no-mor
Poultry Worm N-K Capsules (adult & pullet)
C-Ka-Gene
Poultry Inhalant
Lice Powder
Disinfectant
Lee's Germozone
Gizzard Capsules
Vapo-Spray
Liquid Lice Killer
Tonax
Hess Panamin
Worm Powder
Hog Tonic
Cow Spray
Walko Tablets
Dogzoff
Cyanogas Dust
Sergeants Sure Shot Capsule
Pine Tar
Hilo Dip for Dogs
Black Flag
B-K Powder
Pratts Chick Starter (Mash or Pellets)
Pratts Growing Mash (Mash or Pellets)
Pratts Laying Mash (Mash or Pellets)
Pratts Chick Scratch
Large Scratch
Intermediate Scratch
Kow-Kare
Tree Taughfoot
Bag Balm
Caladium Bulbs
Edible Soy Beans
Crow Repellant
Fertilizer—All Kinds
Binder Twine
Wool Twine
Wool Bags
Sprayers—15c and Up
Dust Guns
Antrol

GEO. C. GOODE

23 Pike St. Covington, Ky.

University of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING, TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS, NEWSPAPERS OR PERIODICALS BELONGING TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES.
See Ky. Statutes, Article 1264

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MAY 28, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 30

County Health Program Progressing

Many boys and girls worked for Blue Ribbons in Boone County this year, and as a result 89 received Blue Ribbons at the end of school. There were only 21 ribbons for the entire county last year, and is hoped there will be many more next year.

The following persons from Hebron have completed the Home Nursing course and will receive certificates from Washington.

Mrs. Nannie Lee Siekman, Mrs. Elizabeth Youell, Mrs. Lorraine Siekman, Mrs. Dorotha Goodrich, Mrs. Nellie Goodridge, Mrs. Sue Rogers, Mrs. Blanch Aylor, Mrs. Katherine Peel, Mrs. Lorena Clore, Mrs. Hilda Hogan, Mrs. Gladys Jackson and Mrs. Mattie Ratcliff.

Also a group from Belleview are getting their certificates. They are Miss Elma Ryle, Mrs. Cara Hensley, Miss Marian Rogers, Mrs. Kathryn Clore, Mrs. Margurite Rogers, Mrs. Florence McArthur, Mrs. Espy Ligon, Miss Marjorie Lucinda, Mrs. Mary Jane Jones, Mrs. Mary F. Louden and Mrs. Hilda Rogers.

New classes are being organized and taught at Florence, Bullittsville, Constance, Taylorsport, Verona, and Hamilton.

A class for colored women is being taught at Florence, with a very good attendance. As there are so few colored people in Boone County, one class had to take in the entire county, but the women are coming from all parts of the county, no matter how far, and the attendance has been usually good.—Elizabeth C. Lowry.

WINS TRIP TO JUNIOR WEEK AT LEXINGTON

Miss Elaine Gardiner, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Gardiner, won a championship ribbon in a 4-H demonstration on Rally Day at Burlington, and on Friday, May 22 won a red ribbon on the same demonstration at Williamstown, ten counties competing.

On Monday, May 25 at Burlington, Miss Gardiner won another championship ribbon on a clothing judging contest and a blue ribbon on a foods judging contest. As a result, she wins a trip to Junior Week in Lexington, next week.

She also won the champion ribbon last year in Style Revue and a free trip to Lexington.

YOUTH GROUP ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The Rose Sub-District meeting was held at Hughes Chapel recently, with a fine group of young people present. After the worship service, an election of officers for the year took place. Those chosen were:

President, Mary Belle Alexander, Walton; Vice President, Ruth Yelton, Florence; Secretary, Ruth Southey, Burlington; Treasurer, Bobby Gregory, Erlanger; Publicity Secretary, Nell McCarty, Erlanger; Counsellor, J. H. Talley, Walton.

The Walton group is honored to have the President-elect from its number. Prospects are for a good year in this fine work.

The June meeting of this group will be held in Walton.

WALTON LITERARY CLUB CHANGES MEETING PLACE

Mrs. J. C. Bedinger will be hostess to the Walton Woman's Literary Club on Wednesday, June 3rd. Mrs. Sam B. Sleet was to have entertained for this meeting. —Helen Jones, Pub. Chr.

ELECTRIC BROODERS PROVE SUCCESSFUL

Cecil Conner and Lucy L. Graut of Hebron report successful results from electric brooders used in colony type brooder houses this year, according to Franklin Frazier Assistant County Agent.

Conner's brooder operated for a 35-day period, from March 25 to April 30, for a cost of 2.2 cents per chick raised. The Community Public Service Company furnished a separate meter for this demonstration, which showed a total consumption of 194 kilowatt hours. 350 two-week-old chicks were placed in a 12x14 house, with a 500-chick capacity brooder. 347 of these were raised.

Miss Grant raised 329 of the 363 day-old chicks started March 29. The electric brooder was used 36 days. The operating cost of this brooder was reported substantially lower than for oil or coal type stoves. No unusual trouble was experienced with wet litter.

A greater number of poultrymen in this county each year have been purchasing electric brooders because of their labor saving features and economical operation.

SIGHT IS PRECIOUS!

Maintaining its full effectiveness is a patriotic duty. For keen vision is needed, as never before, in the countless fields where industry and science are working to keep America for Americans. Glasses we provide will save your sight and enable you to serve more fully.

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

County USO Goal Is Set At $1,000

A meeting was held Tuesday evening in Burlington, at which time County Chairman, Walter Ferguson, outlined plans for the drive in Boone County to raise $1,000 for the United Service Organization. The USO is doing a grand piece of work for the boys in service, and it behooves all of us to contribute all that we possibly can toward reaching the goal. Remember, "You Give to Someone You Know, When You Give to the USO."

Local USO chairmen are Powers Conrad and Lula Huey, and they have selected as their co-workers, Mrs. Stanley Ranson, Miss Jean Chambers, Mrs. Helen Jones, Mrs. Stanley Bush, Mrs. Howard Stephenson, Mrs. Lucy Breeden, Mrs. Ethel Breeden, Mrs. C. O. Carlisle, Mrs. Mabel Webster, Mrs. Roberta Duchemin, Mrs. Louise Rouse, Miss Louise Conrad, R. M. Hall, C. F. Cleek, and Mrs. J. S. Thornton.

A meeting of the chairmen and co-workers is to be held on June 1 at 8:30 p. m. in the Dixie State Bank building. The drive will be conducted on June 4, 5 and 6.

GIVE TO THE USO!

41 Graduate From Simon Kenton, Fri.

Commencement exercises for the 1942 graduating class of Simon Kenton High School, will be held Friday evening, May 29 at 8:00 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Dean William Jesse Baird of Berea College, will deliver the Commencement address; music is to be furnished by a trio composed of Wayne Sanders, Frank Denus and Mickey Donovan, and presentation of the class will be handled by R. C. Hinsdale, Principal of the school. Foeman Rudd, Chairman of the Board of Education, will award the diplomas to the 41 graduates.

The presiding officer is to be J. A. Caywood, Superintendent of Schools in Kenton County. Rev. Burton Thurston will give the invocation, and Rev. Shirley Spahr will deliver the benediction.

The graduates are: William Adrian, Dorothy Aanderson, Jean Bankemper, Doris Benson, John Dudley Breeden, Ruth J. Bristow, Martha L. Brown, Robert Carter, Gene Casey, Mary J. Cavanaugh, Aline Chambers, Audrey Cross, Dale Cross, June Culbertson, Betty Duncan, Cecile Elliott, Kenneth Elliott, Donald Frakes.

Byron Galloway, Billy Gray, Laura Haase, Virginia Hardgrove, Hardy V. Heyes, Jr., Julia Hoffman, Mabel Lipscomb, Bessie Losey, Dorothy McMillian, Dorothy Moore, Wally Morgan, Wm. Moss, Nellia Oliver, Mary Perry, Christine Price, Raymond Russell, Betty Smith, Clifford Surface, Emma Thornton, Lavada Veach, Betty Wintring, Edith Wrenn and Doris Yancey.

To Celebrate Second Anniversary May 28th

The Covington NYA Master Shop, War Production Training Project will celebrate its second anniversary by throwing open to the public its building at 12th & Russell Streets, Covington. You are requested to visit this project on Thursday, May 28, from 7:00 to 10:00 p. m. The following units will be in full operation: Machine Shop, Foundry, Radio and Power Sewing.

Cemetery Association To Meet Saturday

The 12th annual meeting of the Richwood Cemetery Association will be held at the Richwood Church on Saturday, May 30 at 11:00 a. m., Eastern War Time. The purpose of this meeting is to elect a trustee and transact any other business pertaining to the cemetery. All lot owners please attend.—B. F. Bedinger, Secy.

Club Members To Grow 6 Acres of Castor Beans

Six acres of castor beans will be raised by 4-H, FFA and Utopia members in Boone County, according to Franklin Frazier, Assistant County Agent. These beans, to be grown under a contract with the Government, are needed in the production of war materials.

4-H members growing castor beans are Earl Conner of Burlington, Route 1; L. K. Duvall of Florence; Bruce Ferguson of New Haven, and John F. Jones, also of New Haven. Future Farmer, C. R. Willis of Hebron. Utopia Club, Dorothy Souther of Burlington.

The first shipment of seed to this county has been distributed, and the State AAA Office has advised it is unlikely that more seed will be available for planting this year.

"Celebrating Week" At James Theatre

"Celebrating Week" will be observed at the James Theatre, Walton, from June 1 to June 6th, inclusive. There will be two shows each night at 7:30 and 9:15, Eastern War Time, and the admission is to be only 11c each to everyone.

Mr. Falls, theatre manager, has set as his quota for this gala week 5,000 admissions. Civilian Defense Councils, President Roosevelt and Leon Henderson have proclaimed theatres their greatest allies in the building of morale, and morale is an important factor in our fight for Victory over the enemy.

You are invited to attend the James and see these great pictures on the following dates:

Monday, June 1, "Never Give A Sucker A Break," with W. C. Fields and Gloria Jean; Tuesday, June 3, a cartoon feature, "Mr. Bug Goes to Town"; Wednesday, June 3, "Sons of the Sea," with Michael Redgrave and Valerie Hobson; Thursday, June 4, "Badlands of Dakota," featuring Richard Dix, Andy Devine, Ann Rutherford and Frances Farmer; Friday, June 5, "Small Town Deb," with Jane Witchers in the leading role, and on Saturday, June 6, the "ace" of them all, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy in "Great Guns."

Remember, two shows each nite for the week, 7:30 and 9:15, and the admission is 11c to everyone.

Young People Conduct Evening Services

The Young People had charge of the evening service at the Walton Methodist Church last Sunday. Mary Belle Alexander, program chairman, presided and gave a very fine talk on "What Youth Have a Right to Expect from Adults." Mrs. D. E. Bedinger made a very inspiring response on "What Adults Have a Right to Expect from Youth."

Prayer was led by Marie Meyers. Scripture by Margaret Hanks. Geraldine Simpson sang "I Would Be True." A poem, "Bridge Builders," was read by Guyclen Carlisle. The meeting was closed with Grace Hanks giving the benediction. The choir was filled with the young people.

It was a most inspiring service, and greatly appreciated by those present.

STOCK YARDS TO SPONSOR A RADIO PROGRAM

Starting Monday, May 25th, all interests at the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards, Cincinnati, Ohio, will sponsor a radio program over station WKRC, 550 on your Dial. The program is planned to bring first hand livestock market information to farmers and stockmen. The program will be on the air daily Monday through Friday each week. From 12:30 to 12:35, Eastern War Time the livestock market report prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be given. From 12:35 to 12:40 all interests at the Cincinnati Yards will sponsor a program discussing the Cincinnati Terminal Market and this will be followed by twenty minutes of further interesting data for the farmers and stockmen of this area.

Large Crowd Attends Commencement Here

A large crowd attended the Commencement held in the Walton-Verona High School auditorium last Friday night, when 16 graduates received diplomas.

The address was given by Dr. Jesse Adams of the University of Kentucky, and it was well received. He mixed humor with sound thoughts in a capable manner, a good combination at all times, we believe.

Music was supplied by a trio from Cincinnati, consisting of piano, violin and flute.

Supt. W. F. Coop gave a short talk before presenting the diplomas, and an award to Miss Wanda Conrad, the valedictorian of the class. Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Acting Home Demonstration Agent of the county, presented Miss Mildred King, one of the graduates, an award received through her work in the 4-H Club.

Invocation was given by the Rev. J. H. Talley and the benediction by the Rev. C. J. Alford.

Baptist D.V.B.S. To Begin June 8

The Daily Vacation Bible School of the First Baptist Church, Walton, will begin Monday, June 8th and continue five days a week for two weeks. The hours are from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 Noon, Eastern War Time.

The school is open for children from three years up through 16 years of age, and will feature the same Bible, music, recreational, craft and handwork activities as in previous years.

All departments will be the same with the exception of the Intermediate Department, which will be replaced by an Advanced Department for students of the same age group.

Preparation Day will be held on Friday, June 5th from 1:00 p. m. to 3:00 p. m. All students are expected to register on this day. Registration room will be in the church basement.

WILLIAM MITCHELL DIES AT HIS HOME HERE MAY 21

William L. Mitchell passed away at his home on Verona Road on Thursday, May 21 from a heart attack. He leaves his wife, Helen Schindler Mitchell.

Funeral services were conducted Monday, May 25 from a Covington funeral home, with burial in Highland cemetery.

POULTRY MARKETING TOUR HELD MAY 21

C. Eberle & Sons, Commission Merchants, The Cincinnati Produce Commission Exchange, and the French Bauer Egg Plant were visited on the Northern Kentucky Poultry Tour held last Thursday, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The tour was of special importance in securing a better understanding of the Cincinnati Wholesale Marketing Program. Reasons why better quality eggs and poultry brought a higher price and lower quality eggs and poultry brought a less profitable price were demonstrated.

The Cincinnati Produce Market Exchange, where the sales are made, that set the market price and market quotations for that day were of special interest. Walter Eberle of the C. Eberle Commission Company, was host to the tour group at the noon hour.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY

The Hickory Grove Baptist Church will join with Rev. C. J. Alford's congregation on Sunday night at 8:30 at the Walton Church in a special baptismal service, when several from the Hickory Grove Church will be baptised.

Ninety-one acres of tomatoes are being grown in Shrewsbury community in Grayson county.

Farmers Asked To Cooperate In Inflation Control Program

Farmers have been asked to cooperate with the Government in the Inflation Control through Price Ceiling or Control Cost of Living Program. A complete understanding by the farm people on the evil influences by further inflation has been requested, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. An educational program will be conducted during the next few weeks to get the farmers to get a true picture of the rapid inflation trends of recent weeks and the dangers to the present war program and the post war program that are inevitable.

This program will prove unpopular at the present to a few of the many farm people who have experienced low farm prices following the last war and to a few people who may want to get rich regardless of the War. However, people at heart want to be just as patriotic and will render full cooperation when they have grasped a full picture of the program as a whole.

The President recently outlined his seven point program on the "National Economic Policies to Control the Cost of Living." They are:

1—Tax heavily and hold profits down,

2—Fix ceilings on wholesale and retail prices,

3—Stabilize wages paid to workers,

4—Stabilize prices received by farmers,

5—Encourage the purchase of War Bonds,

6—Ration essential commodities that are scarce,

7—Discourage credit and installment buying. Pay off debts.

Inflation trends so far have been on a whole identical with those of the last war. Below are some thoughts that every farmer in cooperating with our National Inflation Control Program should consider.

Inflation causes suspicion of undue advantages and profiteering between farmer and worker, and worker and employer. True unity of purpose must rest on the conviction that reward and sacrifice are received and rendered in common. The price rises which have occurred since September, 1939, will increase by 35 billions of dollars the money cost of the war program now authorized. The total cost of the first World War, by comparison was 31 billions, and of that 31 billions, it is estimated, included 13½ billions of inflated prices. If unchecked, inflation will launch a race between the wages of the stronger bargaining groups and the cost of living. This means constant revision of wage contracts, constant bargaining and negotiation, and the certain prospect of interrupted production. In a sense, inflation is a substitute for production. Money is made not by producing commodities, but by withholding them from use. Savings, investments, life insurance policies, all the results of past thrift become worthless. Legitimate business disappears; speculation and profiteering remain. Organized government itself is undermined.

What the Farmer Should Know About the Program and What Action He Must Take—

1—Must understand the President's seven point program,

2—Must understand what will happen to the farmer if rise in prices is not controlled,

3—It is important for all farmers to maintain the farm plant, his soil, his buildings, his equipment,

4—It is important for all farmers to increase production through better management. (a) Must plan his work better; (b) Do more work with less labor; (c) Plan crops better; (d) Cooperate with all his neighbors in utilizing available machinery to the fullest extent,

5—Keep out of debt,

6—Pay his taxes,

7—Purchase all war bonds possible.

What Does Inflation Mean to the Farmer?

1—Makes farmer feel prosperous

2—Causes farmer to go into debt on a long time basis

3—Gets him in the habit of living beyond his income

4—Increases the farmers taxes and the public debt structure

5—Reduces the value of life insurance

6—Reduces the value of farmers savings and causes him to lose interest in a program of thrift

7—Establishes a price level higher than normal to which farmers adjust their business. Also causes the farmer to have a higher outlook on life financially, reaching a level that can't be maintained.

Farm leaders will be given a complete picture of the Control Cost Living Program during the next few weeks in order that they may advise with their neighbors.

Sugar Obtainable For Canning Purposes

Applications for sugar for canning purposes may be made at the City Hall in Walton, at any time between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., Eastern War Time. This registration is for canning and preserving of strawberries and cherries only. No registrations will be made on Saturday.

You MUST bring your War Ration Book with you and have an inventory of the canned fruit you now have on hand.

—Boone Co. Rationing Board, 8, R. E. Brugh, Chairman.

First Aid Course To Start at New Haven

The Civilian Defense Organization of the New Haven School District will begin its First Aid Course on Thursday evening, May 28 at 8:00 o'clock, Eastern War Time.

The class will be held at the school building, under the direction of Mrs. J. C. Layne, Florence.

All who registered for first aid, guard service, and auxiliary police are urged to be present and take this course. Also anyone else who desires to take this course in encouraged to be present for the training.

CHANGES MEETING DATE

The Woman's Missionary society of the Walton Baptist church will meet in the church on June 4th, because of the Daily Vacation Bible School beginning on June 8.

June Is Selected As Dairy Month

The Secretary of Agriculture, Claude Wickard, has asked that June be selected as Dairy Month and that every effort be made to increase sales of milk and milk products. This is necessary, because of huge supply of these products on hand and necessity of maintaining milk prices so that farmers will continue production increases.

The slogan adopted is "Victory Demands Healthy Americans" and Gov. Keen Johnson has been selected as Honorary Chairman of the Kentucky June Dairy Month Committee.

Stores are cooperating by featuring milk products in window displays, advertising, luncheon counters and store displays.

An intensified campaign will be carried on in Kentucky because of the importance of dairying in the State.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Johnson of Cincinnati and nephew, Bobby Mills of Covington, were guests the first of the week of Mr. Johnson's father, W. B. Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson and son.

Our Job Is to Save Dollars
Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER—Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1868

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

Washington Snapshots
by JAMES PRESTON

WHILE Washington is awaiting the emergence of a clear-cut labor policy covering wage ceilings and the closed shop, it is also spending considerable time and energy talking about other aspects of the labor situation.

Latest news is that the War Manpower Commission is formulating plans for what will amount to a labor draft. Already Chairman McNutt has warned that there must be a complete utilization of labor for war production. If the nation's factories are to continue to beat their promise on their scheduled output of munitions, millions of new workers must be found to man the production lines. McNutt places the number at 15 million—double the present supply. This means, he says, that workers must be transferred from one job to another and that large-scale migrations of labor will become necessary.

Exactly when this will begin to occur and on how large a scale—these are facts that have not been revealed to date, but present indications are that the labor shortage will become acute by the end of this year.

ATTORNEY GENERAL BIDDLE'S recent message to labor unions, advising them to accept "added responsibility" in return for the gains that labor has made in recent years, is thought here to have been intended to offset criticism of two of his recent public statements. One was his refusal to permit Assistant Attorney General Arnold to testify before Congress in connection with the bills to outlaw labor racketeering, and the other was his statement that New Deal objectives must be supported irrespective of the war.

Admitting that "unfortunately there are still racketeering labor leaders," the Attorney General asked members of labor unions to "think of themselves as expressing the interests of the general public. Thus it would have a tremendously potent effect on the country at large if unions were not only willing to accept public accountability of their finances but themselves insisted on it."

WASHINGTON tax experts are busy trying to work out some formula that will provide a post-war refund to companies to help them change back from wartime to peacetime production and provide jobs for war workers and men released from the armed services when the guns cease firing.

Both the Ways and Means Committee and Treasury officials are seeking a plan to issue war bonds or certificates to companies in amounts of 10 to 20 percent of the present excess profits tax. According to one point of view, unless companies are given such a rebate after the war on the taxes they pay now, the proposed war profits taxes "will seriously hamper the war effort."

At the present time the percentage of taxes that should be returned has not been decided. Treasury experts have suggested a figure of 10 percent, but many members of the Ways and Means Committee believe that at least 20 percent should be allowed — the amount England now allows on a 100 per cent excess profits tax.

The plan provides that the bonds would be paid off within five years after the war at a rate to be determined. Uses to which a company could put its refund would be specified and might include all business operations except payment of dividends.

COULD YOU

run your present business if you were blind?
Can you get the most out of it if you are half blind? If your eyes need attention, see

L. J. METZGER
Optometrist Optician
631 Madison Ave.
Covington
Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

—— VERONA ——

(Too Late for Last Week)

This community has been visited with a good rain.

The operetta, "Lazy Town," given by the local school last Friday evening was well presented, doing credit both to the teachers and pupils.

Friends of Joe Albert Kannady, who joined the Army on May 9th, will be glad to learn that he is located at Fort Bragg, N. C.,

The W. M. S. had a very good meeting at the church Wednesday with thirteen members present. Mrs. Elizabeth Boyer had charge of the program. Mrs. Harry C. Chapman will lead the June meeting.

School closed this week.

Tom Ryan is on the sick list.

MAY SPECIALS AT THE
Powder Puff Beauty Salon

Carter Wireless Oil Wave—a $5.00 Wave for $3.50 during May; also a Mel-O-Tone $5.00 Wave on Machine—2 Waves for $5.00, if two come together.

EDNA STAMLER
78 S. Main St. (Phone 682) Walton, Ky.

NAGGING BACKACHE

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

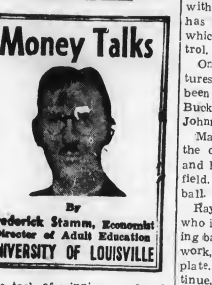
After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS
All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say, Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS



Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore
by
Gordon Wilson, Ph.D.
WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE
BOWLING GREEN, KY.

"Not Much of Nothin'"

It is amusing how often the farmer boys and men that I knew pretended that they were just idling their time away. Though they got up, like the women in Proverbs long ere day and worked until night drove them in, when asked what they were doing, they would often reply, "Not much o' nothin'." After all, the ordinary duties of the farm were standardized, so that there was nothing unusual about hoeing corn or setting tobacco or breaking land. We accepted these duties as a part of the game. To be doing something was to be engaged in some extra work or to be planning a fishing trip. Probably barn-raisings, wheat-threshings, and log-rollings seem so big in memory because they came so seldom in our busy farm lives. We made ample preparations for them and tried to prolong them as much as possible. We enjoyed the extra dinners that we ate with neighbors, probably no better than we were accustomed to but at least different.

Following a custom of mine, I have looked over some of my old diaries, kept when I was following the plow near Fidelity in the early years of the century. Fortunately I put down nearly every day the exact place I worked and what I got done. This was perfectly silly to the older people who knew about my diary, but today these passages are most revealing. I can find just how many tobacco hills we made in a day, how many sweet potato slips we set out, how many hogs we killed and the exact weight of each, the number of sticks of tobacco we cut and housed, the number of blocks we sawed for stovewood. A fondness for preserving records has thus made me know pretty well what manner of boy I was as to accomplishment of labor with the few implements we had. I wish I had more of these records and could compare them with actual records kept by other boys and men away from Fidelity, where working conditions and machinery were different.

"Not much o' nuthin'." Did you ever plow a team of hard-headed mules in a newground? Did you refrain from using strong language when the coulter stuck on a stump and the mules would not stop long enough for you to get the plow extracted? Did the plow handles ever slap you down as you double-shovelld corn and struck a hidden root? Did you ever work in heavy tobacco covered with a cold dew that wet your all over? Have you suckered tobacco when the ground was wet and the temperature was 100 in the shade? "Not much o' nuthin'." Did you ever stack straw after a horse-power thresher, again when the temperature soared up to the top of the thermometer? Have you lifted at a log-rolling until you couldn't straighten your back, or set tobacco in such a muddy field that you had to remove your shoes and roll up your pants? Have you taken up hay when you had to hurry to keep the rain from spoiling things? And have you tied bundles behind a cradler in a rye field, when the barbs almost drove you wild? How prosiac this may seem now, with all of your modern machinery! But we had to pit our strength against that of untamed nature, much as John Henry, the Black River giant, tried to do more with his own strength than could be accomplished with a steam drill. It was modest, at least, for us to declare that our ordinary daily life was so humdrum that we were doing "not much o' nothin'."

The task of winning a war usually calls for as much cooperation on the home front as on the war fronts in distant lands. The other day I heard of a cooperative effort on the part of a number of farmers in an eastern community which interested me and which I thought should be passed along to the farmers in every community.

These eastern farmers found out that since farm implement manufacturers were producing tanks, trucks, etc., for the Army, they couldn't secure new tractors, plows banders and other machinery so badly needed. Therefore, they canvassed their neighborhood and found there was a considerable amount of farm machinery in usable condition remaining idle on their farms. This machinery was brought together to a central point and an auction held.

The results of their effort were twofold: first, farmers needing machinery were able to buy used equipment at moderate prices without contributing to a shortage of new machinery; and second, farmers were able to realize some money on their machinery not in use.

I am sure farmers in every locality would welcome the opportunity to cooperate in such a plan. If there is a scarcity of farm machinery in your community, why not organize an auction and not only help yourselves but also help your Government?

Cooperation is the key to winning a war.

OVER THE TOP FOR VICTORY with UNITED STATES WAR BONDS • STAMPS

Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria

Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN Odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package

FREE

Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

Don't Let HIGH PRICES UNPLEASANT TASTE INCONVENIENCE

Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.

You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take

ONE A DAY
VITAMIN A and D TABLETS
Pleasant-tasting - Convenient
Economical

WITH THE REDS

The night game Monday was the first for the Cincinnati Reds at home in more than two weeks, and it was the only game at home until Saturday. Decoration Day, the Reds and St. Louis Cardinals will meet in a doubleheader, and, on the following day, Sunday, May 31, the Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates will battle it out in another double header. This should be a gala weekend for Redleg fans.

Those two doubleheaders will mark the start of a long home stand that will continue through Sunday, June 14. Much depends on this home stay, for the Reds must make some hay at home to return to the position they occupied when they departed for the East.

With all the doubleheaders, etc., coming up, the Reds' prospects appear brighter. This is so because the Reds have a much better balanced pitching staff than any club in the league. Balance of a mound corps starts to show up when the doubleheaders are played. McKechnie will be happy to see the doubleheaders for another reason—it will give his pitchers more work. One of the biggest troubles with his mound corps this spring has been lack of sufficient work, which usually leads to lack of control.

One of the most heartening features of the Reds' recent play has been the good pitching shown by Bucky Walters, Ray Starr and Johnny Vandermeer.

Max Marshall has looked well in the outfield. He has hit timely, and has done well enough in the field. He's fast and can throw the ball.

Ray Lamanno, rookie catcher, who is the National League's leading batsman, is continuing his good work, both at bat and behind the plate. Should his good work continue, he could easily be named the "rookie of the year."

Tickets for all the games the Reds will play for he remainder of the season are now on sale at the Reds' downtown ticket office at 307 Vine Street, Cincinnati. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

June 1st is an off day, but on June 2 and 3, the Reds will meet the Philadelphia Phillies. The Wednesday contest is a night game. Following this two-game series with the cellar-dwellers, the surprise team of the National League, the Boston Braves, move into Crosley Field. Single games will be played on June 5, 6, and another doubleheader on Sunday, June 7. The series ends, with a single game on Monday, June 8. Following the Braves, the Giants and Dodgers will visit the Reds.

PRIZES OFFERED TO FARM BOYS AND GIRLS

Two hundred ten farm boys and girls have an opportunity to win valuable prizes in a big farm safety and fire prevention contest now being conducted by the Colonial Coal & Supply Co., in cooperation with a new farm magazine, "The Business of Farming."

There is no entry fee. The contest is for the best 150 word essay. A choice of two subjects is given: "How to Prevent Farm and Home Accidents," or "How to Prevent Fire On the Farm." Contestants may write on either subject or on both.

First prize winners who write on the first subject will receive a yearling beef heifer. Second prize is a six months beef heifer; third prize, an early spring gilt; fourth prize, a late spring gilt; and fifth prize, 20 U. S. Approved pullets. In addition, there will be 100 honorable mention prizes of a dollar's worth of Defense Stamps.

Prizes for those who write on "How to Prevent Fire On the Farm," are: First, yearling dairy heifer; second, 6 months dairy heifer; third, yearling ewe; fourth sprin glamb; and fifth, 20 U. S. Approved pullets. There will also be 100 honorable mention prizes of $1.00 in Defense Stamps.

Choice of representative breeds will be given the winners. Judges will be selected by "The Business of Farming." Entry blanks may be obtained from Colonial Coal & Supply Co. The contest closes on June 15, 1942. Winners of all awards will be announced in the September issue of "The Business of Farming" magazine.

KENTUCKY HATCHERY Baby Chicks

All leading breeds U. S. Approved, Blood-tested, started chicks one, two and three weeks old. Prices right. Also Sexed chicks. FREE CATALOG. Write: KENTUCKY HATCHERY 27 WEST FOURTH STREET • LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY

When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
—24-Hr. Wrecker Service—
Cars Washed - Storage

PEOPLES LIBERTY BANK & TRUST CO.
COVINGTON, KY.
MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

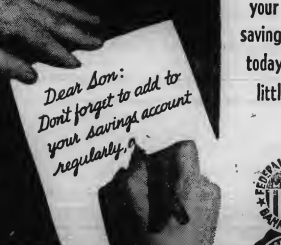
Keep Up WITH EVENTS EVERY WEEK from THE NATION'S CAPITAL

Read PATHFINDER

PATHFINDER brings to you in words and pictures the drama of events fresh from Washington, D. C., the nation's capital, today the world's news center. News, features, and facts, events boiled down into 20 interesting, inspiring departments. Complete, unbiased, non-partisan, non-sectarian, dependable—gives both sides. Improved new features. World's oldest, most-read news weekly at one-fourth the cost of others. Furnishes clean, reliable reading for the entire family.

This Newspaper & PATHFINDER BOTH one year Only $1.80

INTERESTING and TRUE!



MASTODONS ONCE ROAMED KENTUCKY! BONES OF THESE PREHISTORIC ELEPHANTS HAVE BEEN FOUND AT BIG BONE LICK IN BOONE COUNTY.

MORE THAN HALF OF THE MILLION DOLLARS IN STATE TAXES PAID BY KENTUCKY'S LEGAL BREWING INDUSTRY IN 1941, WAS USED FOR EDUCATIONAL PURPOSES THROUGHOUT THE STATE!

BEER'S TAXES ARE VITALLY IMPORTANT TO KENTUCKY. KENTUCKY'S LEGAL BREWING INDUSTRY HELPS SAFEGUARD THESE BENEFITS BY HELPING LAW-ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITIES KEEP BEER RETAILING AS WHOLESOME AS BEER ITSELF.

BREWING INDUSTRY FOUNDATION
KENTUCKY COMMITTEE
FRANK E. DAUGHERTY, STATE DIRECTOR
1182 STARKS BUILDING LOUISVILLE, KY.

You can begin your Insured savings account today with as little as $5

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK SYSTEM
INSURED SAVINGS AND LOAN SAFETY INVESTMENT
INSURED UP TO $5000 INSURANCE CORPORATION

SAFETY is INSURED
FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION
OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1242

STAFFORDSBURG

He that willeth to do my will shall know the doctrine. To me this means that if we first make up our minds that God's way is the best way, then give ourselves to obey, follow every step that we know. He will open the way before us.

We misesd a few faces at Sunday School. Hope they are back next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Hanna and son Jimmie were guests of his parents, Sunday.

A large number from this community were at the Baccalaureate at Simon Kenton, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Bessie Schnider spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rapp.

Mrs. Emmo Sweeney is taking care of the home of Mrs. Joe McQueen, who is recovering from an appendicitis operation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney and son Donald spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Stephens of Independence.

Don't forget preaching services here on the fifth Sunday morning and evening. Come!

Mrs. Sophronia Mills visited her nephew, Dawson Ballinger, and wife over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pruitt were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Hoffman on Sunday.

Relatives and friends were rejoicing over news that Seaman Wayne Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Stephens, arrived safely at the destination of the convoy on which he was serving.

GLENCOE ROUTE 1

Dan Webster was in Covington on business Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Davey Wilson and mother spent Sunday as guests of L..s Poland.

C. A. Wilson and niece were shopping in Glencoe Saturday.

Mrs. Snowdie Harrison and daughter attended the commencement at New Liberty, Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Fayne Boaz lost their brooder house and a hundred chickens around five weeks old by fire last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Riley were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Perry, Thursday evening.

Napoleon Homemakers Meet

The Napoleon Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Wilma Perry in Steels Bottom last Tuesday. Due to quite a bit of sickness, only fourteen members were present. All had a nice time and enjoyed the day very much. Also the wonderful dinner which was enjoyed by all. Everyone left at a late hour thanking Mrs. Perry for the nice day spent in her home. Our next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ethel Perry near Glencoe.

SOUTH FORK

Mrs. Bertha Mae O'Donnell spent a couple of days last week cleaning house for her mother.

Miss Helen Dean of Covington visited Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bird of Crittenden, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lamn called on Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler on Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon were visitors in Walton, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Sisson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and family and Mrs. Lula Sisson.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler entertained Tuesday night with ice cream and cake, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Dean and John West.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Rider and family entertained Mrs. Dolly Rex and Mr. and Mrs. James Rex of Pennsylvania the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Noell and son had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods and son, Mrs. Helen Scott and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon called on Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler and Martha Lee Noell, Saturday night.

Ceaberry Noell was a visitor in Covington, Saturday.

FOLSOM

For behold the day cometh that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up saith the Lord of hosts; that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.—Malachi 4:1.

Services at Vine Run church were well attended Sunday. We were fortunate in having three preachers: Rev. Buttler, Rev. A. A. Parson and Rev. Obanion. Rev. Parson, a former pastor, delivered a message which was enjoyed by all. Rev. Parson and Rev. Obanion were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beach, and Rev. Buttler was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Jump.

This community has been saddened in the last week, having 3 deaths in the community. Mrs. Marion Webster, one of our most highly respected Christian women, was called; and Tom Jump, a most highly respected man, and the beautiful little girl of Mr. and Mrs Virgil Breeden. This community extends its heartfelt sympathy to those in their sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Jump entertained several of their relatives to supper Saturday evening in honor of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Jump of New York. Those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Tanner and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beach.

Mrs. Minnie Isaacs entertained Sunday, Mrs. Raymond Nix, John Chapman and Wilmer Nix.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Pettit entertained Sunday, Mrs. Ottis Pettit and children. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pettit and children, Mr. and Mrs. Brackie Collins and son and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Doud.

Miss Imogene Beach spent Sunday with Miss Roberta Hubbard.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beverly spent Sunday with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Price.

Jim Crouch, who has been on his vacation for two weeks, will return to Covington today.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood Blackburn and granddaughter and Jess Collins spent Sunday with her brother Mr. and Mrs. Will Collins of Sparta.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thornton and children of Covington were visiting her mother, Mrs. Kate Delf

Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Stewart of Eagle Hill spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Price.

HEBRON

Mr. and Mrs. Denver Moore left Thursday for a visit with relatives in Mississippi.

Remember the chicken dinner, sponsored by the ladies of the Hebron Lutheran church, Saturday, May 30th. Service from 12 noon until 4 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert England of Florence were the Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. England and Mrs. Addie Aylor.

Ed Baker lost a good work horse Sunday.

Miss Jessie Gordon spent one day last week with Mrs. Hattie Berkshire and sister, Miss Laura McGlasson.

Miss Anna Gaines improves slowly.

John Crigler of this place and Edwin Crigler of Madisonville, spent a week's vacation in Mich.

Misses Ruth Bradford and Marilyn Garnett spent Tuesday evening with Miss Shirley Howard of Florence.

Miss Mary Margaret Fowler was the Sunday guest of Miss Mary Marshall of Bullittsville.

Mrs. Henry Souther and daughter Henrietta of Constance are nursing their aunt, Miss Anna Gaines, who was paralized more than a week ago.

Miss Mattie Kryleigh of Petersburg visited Miss Anna Gaines last week.

Wyman and Ruth Stephens of Petersburg spent Tuesday here calling on relatives and friends.

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .
DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?
Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.
LANG'S CAFETERIA
623-625 Madison Avenue
COVINGTON KENTUCKY

THE CHURCH AND THE CRISIS — NO BLACKOUT OF SPIRITUAL VALUES

by Governor Payne Ratner, Kan.

This war has made us all intensely realistic. We know the necessity of keeping our production plans going at top speed, the necessity of producing weapons and materials of war. We know, too, the necessity of training men for war duties.

Since Christianity is at stake, should not the followers of Christ be equally realistic? Is it not time for the strongest of Christian leadership to exert itself? Has not the church an obligation to meet the challenge against Christianity with all the force of its spiritual power?

You and I can call this an "all-out" war, because it imposes heavy obligations upon every citizen. You and I know that in this hour of need America must have the full strength of all her natural resources, the unlimited use of all her facilities of war production, and the wholehearted support of all her people. Yet, are we truly engaged in an "all-out" war if we fail to be "all-out" in our Christianity? Can material efforts succeed without Christianity?

The preservation of Christianity is an obligation resting upon all Christians—not only upon the ministers and church leaders. Generals alone cannot win battles. Church leaders alone cannot save Christianity.

What part, we ask ourselves, can Christianity play in this war? Shall we turn our pulpits into sounding boards for war propaganda? Shall we stop teaching brotherly love in our Sunday schools, and substitute the doctrines of hate? Shall we ignore all spiritual values in order to concentrate upon material values?

There is only one answer to such questions. Our churches must teach Christianity more forcefully and effectively than ever before. Our spiritual values must remain as high as ever. In our fight to preserve Christianity, we must arm ourselves with the strongest of spiritual weapons, and clothe ourselves with invincible spiritual armor.

During periods of great stress such as this it is natural to expect a certain tendency toward relaxing moral laws. At least, this has been true in other wars. People laboring under heavy strain seem to require some outlet to relieve their minds. In the past, too many have turned toward immorality, toward un-Christian activities.

One of the great challenges the church must meet today is that of upholding the high standards of truth, morality, decency, and injustice in a world saturated with the forces of evil.

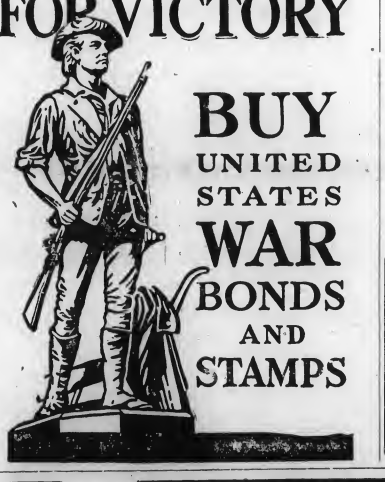
True Christianity is the same every day, every year, every age, in the history of mankind. We cannot have one kind of Christianity for peace and another kind for war. Real Christians cannot call an act immoral today and that same act moral tomorrow. There is no such thing as a rationing of morality — so much for wartime and so much for peacetime. Neither can we afford to depart—even in time of war—from any of the eternal truths of Christianity which serve us in peacetime.

In these days of all-out sacrificing and high patriotism we must hold firm to Christian principles. There must be no blackout of spiritual values.

The place of the minister in his church and the place of the church in the lives of the people are made even more important by present conditions. There is always a place for the minister in his church. There is always a place for the church in the hearts of Christian people.

Practical Christianity in wartime is often expressed in ways which would be unusual in peacetime, but the objectives are always the same. For example, many churches are contributing to the war effort by helping with the Red Cross and with the U. S. O. program of maintaing morality and morale among our men in uniform. Ministers are going outside their own congregations to reach the families of servicemen in order to help them endure the anxiety of these dreadful days.

What a great field of service this is for pastors—not only among the families of their own churches, but among families not affiliated with any church. Ministers have the responsibility as well as the opportunity, of lightening the load of anxiety for parents, wives, and children of the men away in our armed forces. Ministers, more than any others, can bring a measure of comfort and consolation to homes which have been darkened by the shadow of the death of loved ones who have died in their country's service. These are war jobs, in the field of war, yet they are entirely within the proper and invaluable sphere of pastoral activities.



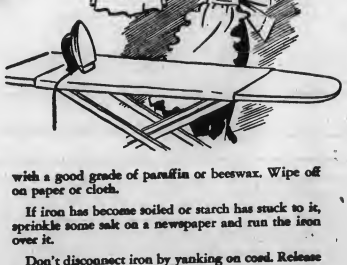
To meet the challenge of this time, we must pray, we must work we must sacrifice. Whatever may be our walk of life, we all have our place in our country's cause. As a public official, I am glad to assume the additional tasks which come to me as the result of the war because I feel that in doing so I am helping America. Ministers of the gospel are happy to do their part to preserve Christianity and democracy.

Just as no public official can succeed in his duties without the co-operation of the people he serves, no minister can make his church a living, useful institution in a community without the co-operation of his congregation.

As the bugle summons all loyal Americans to the patriotic tasks of this hour, so does the church bell sound the call for a mobilization of the forces of Christianity.

You and I are patriotic. We believe in Americanism. We are willing to do our part in its preservation by carrying out the material tasks assigned us. We cheerfully bear the burdens of necessary war taxes. We gladly make the sacrifices we know our war effort demands.

You and I are "all-out" for Americanism. and we are "all-out" for Christianity. We are accepting the full challenge of this troubled hour. We are answering that challenge spiritually as well as materially. With God's help, we will pray together, work together, sacrifice together, until Christianity and democracy are saved.—Signs of the Times.



Your Dime's In The Army Now!

—Courtesy Richard Yardley and Baltimore Sun.

CONSERVE FOR VICTORY

HOW TO MAKE YOUR Electric Iron LAST LONGER

An electric iron is a necessity in the modern home—but irons are no longer being manufactured and you may not be able to get a new one later on, so it's a good idea to take good care of the iron you have. Here are some maintenance hints that you will find helpful:

Keep bottom of iron clean. Wait until iron is cool, then wipe off with damp cloth. If necessary, use soapsuds or very mild scouring powder. Wipe off with clean damp cloth afterwards.

Never immerse your iron in water. Doing so may result in damage to heating elements next time you connect it.

Avoid scratching sole plate. Do not iron over buttons, zippers or other hard articles. Iron around them.

Be careful not to drop your iron. Dropping puts more irons out of commission than any other one thing.

Don't let iron cord touch the hot iron or rub continuously on edge of board. Either may wear off insulation. Replace the cord at the first sign of wear.

Rub the sole plate of your iron once a month or so with a good grade of paraffin or beeswax. Wipe off on paper or cloth.

If iron has become soiled or starch has stuck to it, sprinkle some salt on a newspaper and run the iron over it.

Don't disconnect iron by yanking on cord. Release by pulling plug at convenience outlet.

Always be sure the iron is perfectly cold before putting it away.

Remember this: It's the contact of heat with the dampened garment that removes wrinkles, not pressure or weight. So save your strength and let the heat do the job.

* * *

GET YOUR FREE COPY of 32-page Westinghouse booklet on the care and use of appliances. Packed with helpful information and useful household hints, it's yours for the asking.

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
INCORPORATED

BUY U.S. WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

SCHOOL DAYS — By DWIG

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Mary DeMoisey had a very delightful dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Buddy Walker, Advertiser employee, who is leaving for Morganfield, where he has a position. The menu consisted of hot biscuits, butter, country baked ham, string beans, creamed potatoes, a delicious salad, iced tea and strawberry shortcake alamode. Those enjoying this delightful meal included Mr. and Mrs. R. F. DeMoisey, Truett DeMoisey, Buddy Walker, Miss Mary DeMoisey, Charlie Ranster, Jr., and Miss Ella Mae Chambers. A good time was had by all present.

Tommy Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson, expects to leave the latter part of the week for Bloomington, Ind., where he will be the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Anna Renaker.

Mrs. Lawrence O. Kendall spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Barnett at Campbellsburg, and while there attended the graduation of her niece, Miss Helen Neill.

Ronnie Cleek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton F. Cleek, left Tuesday to spend a month with his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Howard Huey, Mr. Huey and family near Petersburg.

Joseph Lee Barnett of Campbellsburg, is the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O. Kendall.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stephenson spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stephenson at Worthville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey of Huntington, W. Va., Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Anderson of Ashland and Mrs. E. R. Hume and children Elaine and Buddy of Covington were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Percival.

Joe Stephenson is spending his vacation with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stephenson of Worthville. Joe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stephenson.

Guyolen Carlisle spent the week end with Albert Neal in Ft. Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Taggert and son Terry and Mrs. W. C. Stephenson of Columbus, Ohio, spent the weekend in Walton with relatives.

Mrs. Donald Stephenson of Columbus, Ohio spent from Monday until Friday with her sister in Cincinnati and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Linzie O'Banion of Williamstown. She returned home on Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Carnes and daughter Diane of Covington, are spending the week in Walton, Mr. Carnes being on his vacation.

Miss Ellen Mitchell and J. O. Dudgeon spent the weekend with friends and relatives in Covington and Cincinnati.

Mrs. M. Wines and small son, Richard, of Washington, D. C. arrived here Tuesday to spend a few days with Mrs. Ora Fry and Mrs. Mabel Stansifer and other friends. Mr. and Mrs. Wines resided in Walton before moving to Washington.

Miss Evelyn Coffman of Richmond, was in Walton, Friday nite to attend the Commencement at the Walton-Verona High school. She was the guest of Miss Geraldine Elliott,, who was one of the graduates. She also spent some time in Verona with her mother, Mrs. Grover Ransom, and Mr. Ransom. Miss Elliott accompanied Miss Coffman to Richmond, Sunday for several days visit.

Mrs. Tom Percival has received word from her son, Dr. Layle Baker of Cridersville, Ohio, that he is now with the Army and his address is: 1st Lt. C. L. Baker, M. C., 431 Separate Bn., C. A., Camp Stewart, Ga. Dr. Baker has many friends and relatives here who are pleased to hear from him.

Mrs. O. W. Workman left Sunday morning for Astabula, Ohio to spend two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Grace Robinson, and niece, Miss Jo Ann Robinson. Miss Robinson is graduating from High School this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wayman of Cincinnati were guests of Mrs. Wayman's mother, Mrs. J. D. Mayhugh of South Walton, Sunday.

Miss Georgia Rouse and Miss Martha Wilson spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Rod Hughes and son Jack, near Crittenden.

L. T. Kenton of Georgetown spent the end-of-the-week with his sister, Mrs. Mary Stephens.

Miss Helen Gillespie spent Friday in Covington and Cincinnati with her friend, Mrs. Mary Carnes. Mrs. Carnes is now employed in the office of Montgomery, Ward & Co. Department store, Covington.

Miss Elizabeth Rigg of Lagrange is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Thompson of South Walton. Miss Rigg, fomerly with the Dixie State Bank, returned to Lagrange after spending some time in California.

BEAVER LICK

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Black and family entertained John Slayback and family and Bobbie Moore on Sunday.

Mrs. Nellie Adams and family of Richmond, Ind., visied their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Kite, on Saturday and Sunday.

Ralph Pitcher of Big Bone is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hodges this week.

Mrs. Anna Lightly of Saylor Park, Ohio was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. S. B. Godbey, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCabe spent Sunday in Georgetown, where they visited their friend, Miss Rena Calhourn.

Friends of Robert Green are glad to see him out again after being confined to his home for several days with mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hamilton and children and Mrs. Ben Hodges visited their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Tanner of Erlanger, Sunday.

Hughes Chapel presents a very nice appearance now, with the new paint, paper and carpet. The members of the committee in work, and Rev. Godbey and the charge of the rerecorating are being congratulated on their fine members of the church also wish to thank everyone who helped to make this work possible.

POPLAR GROVE

A change has been made—The Memorial services will be held on Sunday afternoon, May 31 at 1:00 at the Poplar Grove Cemetery.

Some of the Sunday visitors were: Mr. and Mrs. Densel Stewart and family with Mr. and Mrs. Alton Stewart and family; Mrs. Clara Bradley, Jesse Cristy, Arthur Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Jackson with Mrs. Susie Jackson and family; Miss Emma Hicks spent the weekend with Mrs Myrtle Hicks and family; Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Giles, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Giles and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Connelly and daughter with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brock and "Meck"; Hugh Adkins with his family; Mrs. Martha Adkins and family, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Carver and son with Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Connelly; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart, Miss Jane Harrison and mother Snowdy with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brock, and Herschel Coates with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Coates

WALTON COLORED HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Colored Homemakers met Wednesday, May 20 at the home of Mrs. John Brown in Erlanger. We had a very interesting meeting. Each member answered the roll call by telling, "What we are doing to make our home beautiful." Our president was presented a club pin by Mrs. R. P. Hughes. Mrs. M. Moore gave the lesson on "Community Meals," also some ideas on canning, storing woolens, rubber goods and rayons. It is important that all members be present at the next meeting, as the election of new officers takes place.

Members present were Mrs. Elmer Ross, Mrs. Walter Sleet, Mrs. Wm. Sleet, Magdalene Sleet, Mrs. Robert Sleet, Mrs. James Riddell, Mrs. Joe Howlett, Mrs. Estill Sleet Lola Sleet, Anna Pearl Ross, Mrs. Thomas Lewis, Grace Carrol, Mrs. John Porterfield, Mrs. Earl Porterfield, Mrs. M. Moore, Mrs. R. P. Hughes, a visitor, Estella Sleet, and the hostess, Mrs. John Brown.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, June 17 at the home of Mrs. Walter Sleet.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Our army spells and pronounces it ponton, not "pontoon", as you do. Ponton bridges cost all the way from $15,000 to $700,000. The smaller bridge using individual metal pontons is pictured here. The largest ponton bridge is 1,080 feet long and is made of rubber instead of aluminum.

One small bridge has a weight capacity of 25 tons, using about 2,000 individual metal pontons. The smallest is used only to take troops over smaller streams. But whether our army uses the smaller or largest ponton, our engineers need plenty of them. If you and every American invests at least 10 percent of income in War Bonds every pay day we can supply our fighting forces with these essentials to a victorious war.

FLORENCE

Mrs. Belle Corbin of Covington visited Mrs. C. A. Hellebusch on Saturday afternoon.

Cecil Martin and family visited W. M. Markeberry and family on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Howard entertained with a six o'clock dinner Wednesday evening in honor of Rev. Fielding Howard, who is holding a revival at the Florence Methodist Church.

Mrs. Robert England visited Mrs. Bernard Scott on Friday afternoon.

Miss Edna Huston of Covington spent Tuesday with Mrs. Louis Huston and family.

Harold Tanner, who has been a patient in St. Elizabeth Hospital, has been removed to the home of his sister in Erlanger.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs. Eva Osborn being on the sick list.

Miss Ruth Bradford and Miss Marylin Garnett of Hebron called on Miss Shirley Howard, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Frank Platt had as her house guest the past week her mother, Mrs. O. Riley of Oklahoma.

Miss Ardelle Tupman accepted a nice position at Shillito's in Cincinnati, recently.

We are sorry to hear of Jake Lolhine being very low at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Dugan had as weekend guest, her brother, Tof Dugan.

Dan Carpenter was rejected from the Army and has returned to his home.

Bert Rich of the Dixie Highway has sold his farm.

John Cain of the Dixie Highway has sold his beautiful home to a party from Ft. Mitchell.

J. D. Lucas has been ill with a cold this week.

Mrs. George Byrne and daughter spent Sunda ywith relatives in Covington.

Miss Millie Zapp is taking a course in radio technical work in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Zetta Osborne has returned to her home after staying in Westwood for several weeks.

Mrs. Alberta Truitt (nee Stephens) formerly of Florence, has the best wishes of all of her friends in her marriage of May 9th.

The Methodist revival, which was held the past week by Rev. Fielding Hiward, was a great success and well attended.

County Agent News

In keeping with the war program to produce sweets at home, many Harlan county farmers are growing a half-acre of sorghum each.

Anderson county homemakers have had a series of lessons on the subject, "For childen and adults alike, milk means good health."

"Why didn't the 'food for victory' campaign start years ago?" queried an Oldham county homemaker cooperating in the new program.

Pasture improvement plots in McCracken county, sponsored by the Greater Paducah Association, have shown excellent results.

Poultry production is up one-fourth in Bourbon county, probably in response to war demands.

Meade county farmers, who have contracted to grow 360 acres of tomatoes, have good plants.

Ohio county 4-H'ers have assumed entire responsibility for the castor bean program.

was brought in on Scrap Metal Day

A total of 4,655 pounds of scrap in Boyle county by Parksville 4-H club members.

Estill county farmers are planning to use alfalfa to take the place of soybeans for hay, and are doubling alfalfa seedings.

C. N. Shaw of Casey county has purchased 20 purebred hogs to consume the skimmilk from his dairy.

The Carlisle Wool Growers' Association expects to handle 40,000 pounds of wool.

As as result of food discussion meetings, Rockcastle county families are using more whole wheat flour and cornmeal.

Five hundred and forty-two families in Bourbon county have enrolled in the live-at-home program.

Due to a surplus of whole milk, farm families in Graves county are making more butter and cheese

Timber thinning demonstrations were conducted on two farms in McCreary county.

Castor beans and hemp are new crops in Whitley county. Production of sorghum cane is being stepped up.

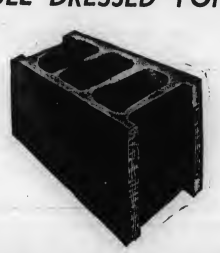
Gallatin county will have no fair this year, but the fair board will invest $200 in war bonds.

More than 100 members of Negro 4-H clubs will attend a conference at the Kentucky State College at Frankfort, June 16-20.

Is Your Subscription Paid?

J. L. HAMILTON & SON
FUNERAL SERVICE
VERONA -:- KENTUCKY

NORRIS, BROCK CO.
Cincinnati Stock Yards
Sellers of Cattle, Hogs and Sheep
—Live Wire and Progressive—
An organization second to none. We are strictly sellers on the best all around market in the country.
We work for our customers first, last, and all the time.
Reference: Ask the first man you meet.
Hope that you will eventually ship to us. Why not now?
—SERVICE THAT SATISFIES—



FARMS FOR SALE
3 acres—5-room house, fruit and shade, on 3-L Highway at Fiskburg—$2,000.
4 acres—6-room house, outbldgs., some fruit, on Highway at Atwood; school bus, electric in the house—$500 down, balance $2,000 at $20 per month.
REL C. WAYMAN
623 Washington St., Covington
HEm. 5107; INd. 5064

La Rose Beauty Salon
Ph. DIx. 6252
400 Dixie Hiway
Get your Permanent Now for Commencement and Decoration Vacation—
$5.00 PERMANENT for $4.00
$4.00 PERMANENT for $3.50
PERMANENTS --- $3.00 up
Children's Perm. $2 & $2.50

Coppin's Will Be Open Until 9 P.M. Friday
Have Fun DECORATION DAY IN A NEW SUMMER OUTFIT FROM COPPIN'S
- SLACK SUITS
- SLACKS
- DRESSES

A COMPLETE LINE FOR MISSES, WOMEN AND CHILDREN—
—Second Floor—
Special Event
134 SUMMER HATS
Regular $3.00, $3.95 and $5.00
Now $2.00
—Second Floor—
SEE COPPIN'S
Grand Selection Of OUTDOOR FURNITURE
—Third Floor—
Coppin's
MADISON AT 7th - COVINGTON, KY.

For Your Protection
THE BLOCK WITH FULL DRESSED TOP

Faces, Edges, Corners, Have Beauty Of Cut Stone
Many of our 4x8x16" Block are being used to build Milk Houses and many other buildings on the farm. Buildings from these blocks are permanent and economical construction.
——See Us for Further Information——
COLONIAL COAL and SUPPLY CO.
Phone DIxie 7626
DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER, KY.

FEED FOR EGG PROFITS!
With Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS
$4.50 PER 100
DR. SALSBURY POULTRY REMEDIES
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

Brighten up Your Home With BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT
Boehmer's Wearmore House Paint is weather resistant, made of highest grade ingredients for permanency of color and durability. It will withstand sun, rain and cold weather. For nearly 50 years the name BOEHMER has been associated with good paint.
Use Boehmer's Wearmore Creosote Shingle Stain, and Enamels, Varnish Stains and Wall Finishes for Interior work.
THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.
114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212
Phone COlonial 0212

Prepare For A Good Position
Salaries to Start — $18.00 to $35.00 Per Week.
National Defense and Private Industry Needs More Stenographers and Typists—
DAY & NIGHT CLASSES — Start Your Course at Once.
Curtis Commercial College
EDWARD C. BADER, Principal
COlonial 0583 7 West Pike St., Covington, Ky.

RELIABLE MONUMENT CO.
912 Madison Ave., Covington 11th & Lowell Sts., Newport
Our New 1942 Spring showing of memorials is now on display at our two convenient show rooms. Hundreds of stones to select from in Rock of Ages, foreign and domestic materials. Higher Quality or Better Workmanship is Not To Be Had.
—WHERE MOST PEOPLE BUY—
— Ask About Our Deferred Payment Plan —
NORTHERN KY.'S LARGEST MONUMENT ERECTORS

Walkin' Roun' With Walker

by 'Buddy' Walker

In the newspaper world, the term "30" means "all," and that is what I am trying to say—that is all for me. After this week Walking With Walker will be no more. I have accepted a position with a large, top-ranking newspaper down in the Western part of the state. It is much nearer my home, so naturally I took advantage of the offer.

It was hard for me to make a decision like that. I have found lots of friends in Walton, that I shall never forget, and have had lots of good times that will linger in my mind forever, and everyone has treated me so swell that it is hard for me to leave.

—o—

A few of the mental pictures that will always [illegible] Kent grining about losing so much sleep—Sha McElroy's pretty curly hair—Aleen wanting to read WRWW before it is ever set up on the linotype—Plucker trying to hitch-hike to Indiana—Pop Farris with that odd laugh — Sue Mann's silent hello—Tom Percival with that big black cigar—Sam Hudson with a new joke—Mrs. Pruett, with that cheerleader-like voice of hers, calling, Supper—Mrs. Wallace always in a flurry on press day—and a lot of other things that I don't have space to mention.

—o—

Looks like Tom Percival is going to lose on that deal he made last week with Pop Farris, concerning an apron. It seems as tho Tom said Pop could have the bright-colored apron, if he (Pop) would wear it a week. I don't think Pop has had it off yet.

—o—

I believe that I promised to give the addresses of Tom Brewster and Louie Shields this week. Well thanks to Aleen and "Pal" Linton, I can. Tom's is: Pvt. Tom Brewster, 4th Platoon, Co. C., 30th Bttn., Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. Louie's is: Pvt. Lewis W. Shields, Co. C, 72nd Bn., 15th Training Reg., Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Ark. I'll start it off with a letter to each of the boys, if the rest of you will write too.

—o—

The Commencement program was a very pretty one, I thought. Dr. Adams turned out to be a very nice speaker, and an interesting one, instead of one of those long-winded guys that talk forever and never say anything.

—o—

Congratulations this week go to Walter Vest, who has secured a Civil Service position in Cincinnati, for the duration. We all wish Walter success on the new job.

I filled a coupla' swell invites this week. One, a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. DeMoisey on Monday night, which was very beautifully planned, and the other, luncheon with Mr. and Mrs. Nick Welsh on Wednesday at noon. I really think that they are glad to see me leave, but want me to go away with a full stomach.

Kenton Farm News

Market Lamb Grading Demonstration Thursday May 28th

A lamb grading demonstration will be held at the farm of Fred Nelhoff, in the Oak Island Community, 2:30 p. m. Eastern War Time, on Thursday, May 28. The purpose of the demonstration will be to study production and grading of market lambs. Better price for lambs can be obtained if they are properly graded and marketed at the most favorable season.

R. Z. Asbury, Sheep field representative from Producers Cooperative commission Association will demonstrate practices used at the Union Yards in grading Market lambs. Sheep producers in this section of the county are invited to attend the demonstration, and study the factors that help to make market lambs most profitable, such as breeding, feeding and timely marketing.

Says Farmers Have Big Stake In Move to Stop Inflation

Farmers have a tremendous stake in the success of the government's policies to control prices and precent inflation, points out Dr. H. B. Price, head of the department of markets and rural finance in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. They have much to gain from the success of measures to check inflation, and they are in a position to exert great influence in bringing about the success of those measures. Many will recall the boom in farm prices and incomes in 1917 to 1919 but will also remember the disastrous collapse of farm prices and land values in the succeeding years.

Farmers are not only producers and sellers of commodities, but also purchasers of large quantities of fertilizer, feeds, machinery and other supplies for production and large quantities of goods and services for farm famil yliving. They stand to benefit directly from stabilization of prices of these modities which farmers have for sale are guaranteed against decline below 85 percent of parity, and for the most part are not yet subject to price ceilings.

By loyal cooperation with every phase of the government's program to increase production and prevent runaway prices, farmers should be able to conduct their business in a profitable manner and make a maximum contribution to the total war effort. The more complete the success of the government program, the smaller will be the necessary sacrifices in blood and living standards, the more quickly will victory be won, and the sooner will agriculture and the country as a whole be able to return to the ways of peace.

Farmers Urged to Plan Seed Saving

Forseeing a possible seed shortage next year, the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics is carrying on a state-wide campaign to encourage farmers to produce and save all the seed possible this season. The dmeand for grass and legume seed has been increasing for several years, partly as a result of the agricultural conservation program. At the same time the importation of seed from other states and other countries has decreased. Still another reason for farmers producing their own seed is that such seed often is better adapted to Kentucky conditions than is seed brought in from a distance.

A small threshing machine, developed by the Tennessee Valley Authority and state experiment stations, will be used on small farms in several Kentucky counties. In Johnson county, a small machine was used recently to thresh crops that had been put up for hay. The College has published several leaflets dealing with the production of seed of various kinds of grasses and legumes.

4-H'ers Excel In Gathering Salvage.

With only a little more than a third of the counties reporting, Kentucky 4-H club members have collected 3,589,274 pounds of scrap metal, 72,403 pounds of old rubber material, 4 283,442 pounds of paper and 31,027 pounds of rags. These figures are expected to double when all reports are in. During the recent 4-H clubmobilization week, 4,800 new club members were enrolled, making a total of 55,000 in the state.

Many Benefits In Pasture for Hogs

In addition to the benefits of pasture for hogs, already cited in articles by Prof. E. J. Wilford of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, there are three other minor but nevertheless important considerations.

One of the first benefits to consider is that when feed is high or hard to get, forage makes it possible, with a small amount of grain to maintain health and fair gains during the summer. However, many hog men make the serious mistake of forcing the hogs to live on pasture alone. It has been previously stated that growing pigs are unable to maintain their weight on forage alone. The pig may grow slightly, but will also lose some of the baby fat which should be maintained.

Again, it has often proved that the beneficial effects of forage are not confined to the pasture period alone. Pigs which have had the advantage of green feed during the summer do better subsequently when placed in the dry lot for finishing than those which have not had the advantage of pasture. In other words, there i a reidual effect which aids the pigs to make faster and more economical gains in dry lot.

In comparison to dry lot feeding, where the manure is allowed to accumulate and waste away, the droppings will be left where the land will receive the full benefit from the fertility contained. It is estimated that about 80 percent of the important fertilizing material of the feed, namely, nitrogen, phosphoric acid, and potash, is ordinarily recovered in the feces and urine. This is an important consideration, as it aids materially in maintaining soil fertility, which has been one of the government's main projects.

MT. ZION

School closed here Friday. An interesting program was given by pupils graduating from the 8th grade and it was enjoyed by all present.

Several from here attended the graduating exercises at Crittenden and Dry Ridge the past week.

Rev. Spahr of Independence preached two interesting sermons at our church Sunday. He and Mrs. Vella Pettit and daughter were entertained in the A. T. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Menefee were visitors in Covington last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jump, son and friends from Cincinnati spent Sunday at their home here.

Mrs. Mary Beach and nephew, Brian Dallas, of Covington spent the past week with Bert Beach, who has been seriously ill, but somewhat improved.

Glad to report Mrs. Cora Smith returned home from Jewish hospital last Monday and getting along nicely.

The W. M. S. held their regular meeting at the church Thursday with only 8 members present. We hope to have a better attendance next time.

Miss Kathleen Lawrence spent Sunday in the D. K. Chapman home at Concord.

Jimmy Gibson of Ft. Knox spent Sunday with his wife and family and attended church services here.

Mrs. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Melvon Miller and Mrs. Jim Wood accompanied him back to camp, and Mrs. Wood visited her husband while there.

Ben Larkson and family have moved to town.

Mrs. John Roberts, son Thomas and little daughter of Covington were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jump and family Saturday.

Clifford and Cora Schulker were visitors in Covington, Wednesday.

Guests of Mrs. Minnie Schulker and family Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Acha of Napoleon and Mr. and Mrs. Arthu rGress.

Marion Carnes is very ill at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Belew and son of Crittenden attended church services here Sunday night.

A special meeting will be held at the church Saturday night to consider the calling of a pastor. All members should attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Washum of Covington visited their mother, Mrs. Hopkins, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones and daughter Wilma spent Monday with Mrs. Abbie Jones and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jones and daughter were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones and daughter.

BIG BONE

Garfield Hamilton helped Sam Kite shear sheep one day last week.

Mrs. Thelma Setters and daughter spent Friday with her sister, Miss Sarah Feldhaus of Erlanger.

Mrs. Roy Pitcher and Mrs. Alfred Robbins and daughter were shoppers in Covington, Friday.

Miss Lois Glore has been staying with Mrs. Al Crouch, who has been ill the past few days.

Miss Wanda Miller returned home with her sister, Mrs. Virginia Eades, Thursday for a short visit.

Dale Williamson of the U. S. Army, who is stationed at Fort Knox, spent the weekend with home folks.

Mrs. Thomas Black and son were at Union, Sunday to see their relative, Mrs. Ira Smith, who remains quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and family of Paint Lick, Gallatin county, were pleasant callers here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Doolin and son Gene spent Sunday with Mr. Doolin's sister, Mrs. William Arasmith and husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Marsh spent Sunday with Mr. Marsh's parents, of Walton.

James B. Jones is home from the University of Kentucky, for the summer.

FOR VICTORY - BUY BONDS

YOUR OWN quota, is 10%!

★ ★ ★

Lend your country 10% of your pay or have the Nazis and Japs take (not borrow) 100%!

That's what we and every one of us face today!

Victory or defeat!

Buying War Bonds or selling ourselves into slavery!

Getting tough with ourselves or getting taken by the Axis!

Your quota—and everybody's quota—is 10% of wages or income saved in WAR BONDS and STAMPS!

Join America's all-out offensive . . . increase your WAR BOND savings to at least 10%—NOW!

Get the details from your employer, bank, post office or other WAR BOND sales agency . . . TODAY!

Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day

★ ★ ★

Let's Double Our Quota

Answer the Call With WAYNE I-Q

When you answer Uncle Sam's call for more poultry and eggs, start with good chicks and feed them Wayne—a simple formula for success backed by the Wayne I-Q Seal of Quality. I-Q is your protection against the nutritional uncertainties of untested feeds. Triple tested Wayne supplies an abundance of the vitamins and other nutrients your chicks must have if they are to produce the most for you and Uncle Sam.

See us at once for all the facts about Wayne I-Q, the logical strategy in the battle for Food.

It Pays to Feed WAYNE CHICK STARTER

COLONIAL COAL & SUPPLY CO.

Phone Dixie 7626

DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER

Blocks — Ready Mixed Concrete - Roofing

"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 P. M., EWT

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The power of the greatest Navy in the world, our own two-ocean fleet, rests in large measure on its backbone—the Battleships of the Line. They displace approximately 35,000 tons and cost up to $70,000,000. We have something like a score of these huge ships in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Eight huge battleships are under construction and more are contemplated. To finance these modern goliaths of the sea it is necessary for every American everywhere to buy more and more War Bonds. We can do it if everybody does his share. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day to help your county go over its Bond Quota.

U. S. Treasury Department

The JOHN R. COPPIN Co.

Madison at 7th Covington

LARGE SIZE

Armstrong Linoleum Rugs

12x12 $ 8.95 12x15 $10.95

Madison Linoleum Store

531 Madison Ave. - Covington - HE. 9313

YORK LINOLEUM STORE

6th & York Sts. - Newport - CO. 4805

Killing Two Birds With One Stone . . .

Killing two birds with one stone is an old slogan — but now, more than ever, is the time to do such a thing.

If you have been wanting to clean out that closet, or go over the basement contents, or see what is in the attic — now is the time to do this. You can help the United States to have victory sooner, if you will donate all the old papers, waste metals, rags and other things that are of no value to you whatever, but can be used again by the Government

If you will just take time out to clean out these places, and save the waste materials needed by the Government. You will be doing your Patriotic Duty, as well as getting the Spring housecleaning done.

With this in mind, it will be much easier for you to do that much-hated task—Spring cleaning. Gather all the excess waste you have together and call upon any Boy Scout, who will be glad to take it off your hands.

You might also find some things that are neither needed by you or Uncle Sam—and if you do, use the Classified Column of the Advertiser and turn these articles into CASH $$$$$.

...V

The Walton

ADVERTISER

Phone 30

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for May 31

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

FRIDAY: THE DAY OF SUFFERING

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:32-34, 44-46; 15:1-5.

GOLDEN TEXT—Not my will, but thine, be done.—Luke 22:42.

Suffering such as no man ever faced came upon our Lord in the night between Thursday and Friday as He prayed in Gethsemane. Hatred and condemnation were poured upon Him as He went through the mockery of false trials on Friday.

The important events of last week's lesson bad taken place, the precious words of comfort and assurance had been spoken, and now as midnight brings the darkness of night to its deepest bue, the Son of Man goes alone into the depth of the garden where we see Him

I. Sorrowful unto Death (14:32-34).

This Scripture portion uses many words to convey the depth of His soul's agony, as though it were impossible to express it in the faulty medium of speech. So it is, for our Lord here experienced something far more serious than a dread of physical death. He was not a coward. He was not afraid to die. But now His soul was about to have put upon its spotless sinlessness the stain and dishonor of the world's sins.

As Krummacher says: "Something approached Him which threatened to rend His nerves and the sight of it to freeze the blood in His veins." Little wonder that He was "sorrowful even unto death" (v. 34). It should break our hearts to see His loving heart break!

Since this was the road the Master trod, should not His servants tread it still? Service for Christ may call for passing through deep and chilling waters, but never as deep or as cold as those of Gethsemane.

Jesus took with Him into the garden the three who were closest to Him in the circle of disciples. He counted on their fellowship and sympathy in His hour of anguish. Merely to have them near Him, to know that they were there to watch and pray even though they could not share His holy burden, was to be a comfort to Him.

How ignominiously they failed. The spirit was willing (v. 38), but the flesh took the upper hand, and they slept! He was alone with His Father when He prayed that if it were possible the hour might pass from Him, but in true and beautiful submission said, "Not what I will, but what thou wilt."

II. Betrayed With a Kiss (14:44-46).

To betray the one who had done nothing but good, who had loved him and served him even in the washing of his feet, this would have been far more than one could have expected of even the sin-blackened heart of a Judas. But he filled the measure of his ignominy to overflowing by betraying his Lord with the sign of affection—a kiss.

We know that we may not stand on the same ground as our Lord even here, for, whereas He had done nothing to merit betrayal, we at our best are not able to stand forth without fault. Nevertheless, great is the hurt when we face the betrayals of life. It may be one whom we have befriended, who has been the object of our loving thought and care, and who in the hour when he thinks to gain himself some advantage or avenge some fancied wrong strikes us in the back, even as he smilingly professes to be a friend. Shall we be embittered in soul and give like for like? God forbid! Let us rather say as Jesus did to Judas, "Friend, wherefore art thou come?" (Matt. 26:50).

III. Condemned by Hatred and Cowardice (15:1-5).

We have only a partial picture of the betrayal of Jesus in our lesson, but it is typical of all that took place, for it reveals the hatred-inspired false witness of the Jews, which, combined with the cowardice of Pilate, resulted in His being condemned to death.

Pilate was convinced of His innocence, but because of the pressure by Jewish leaders he was in a difficult position. He was afraid to follow his convictions, feeling that it was more expedient to yield to the will of the populace. So he lost his great opportunity to write his name large among the heroes of history.

Many there are who follow in Pilate's steps. They know what they ought to do with Jesus, but fearing the comments of friends or the possible loss of earthly advantage, they let Him be crucified afresh by their unbelief.

The Jewish leaders and those whom they had misled hated Jesus with a malicious hatred which made them relentless in their determination to destroy Him. Now they had their quarry at bay and they were determined to close in for "the kill."

They have their present day counterpart in those who have so long rejected Christ that they have become embittered against Him.

Classified Ads Get Results

BRACHT STATION

I, the Lord thy God am a jealour God.—Exodus 20:5.

He is jealous only for our safety and happiness. God can get along without any praise from us, but a divided allegiance he knows is ruinous to us.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walton entertained friends from town Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Huff have moved to their new flat which has just recently been completed.

Several of the young folks from this vicinity attended the commencement exercises at Crittenden High School Thursday evening.

Mrs. Sam Murphy was a business visitor in Crittenden, Friday.

The friends of G. W. Menefee of Dry Ridge were greatly grieved to hear of his death, which occurred last Wednesday morning in the early hours. Mr. Menefee was a good friend and neighbor, was well liked by all who knew him. He was a man that possessed many good qualities. He always had a smile, a hearty handshake, a friendly good morning or afternoon for his fellowmen. Mr. Menefee had been in failing health for two or three years, gradually growing weaker every day. His friends could see his life ebbing away. Our community needs just such citizens as Mr. Menefee (better known as Uncle George), but alas God needed him more. We extend our sympathy to his beloved wife and son, besides a host of friends and relatives who were left to mourn his passing to the great beyond. His funeral was conducted at Crittenden Baptist Church on Friday. His frail body was laid to rest in Crittenden cemetery, beneath a ray of beautiful flowers.

Some of the farmers in this section have been setting tobacco.

Mr. Noel and wife spent the weekend on their farm at this place

Miss Wilma Rae Clemons visited Miss Janet Huff one evening last week.

Several from here attended the funeral of G. W. Menefee at Crittenden, Friday.

A Thought! It doesn't pay to say too much when you're mad enough to choke, for the word that stings the deepest, is the word that's never spoke. Let the other fellow wrangle, till the storm has blown away; then he'll da a heap of thinking "About the things you didn't say."

BAPTIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky
C. J. ALFORD, Pastor

10:15 a. m. Bible School
11:00 a. m. Morning Worship
7:00 p. m. Baptist Training Union. A fully graded Training Union for all ages.
8:00 p. m. Evening Worship
8:00 p. m.. Wed. Prayer Meeting

METHODIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky
REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor

Sunday School 10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship 7:00 p. m.
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. ... 8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

...alton, Ky.

REV. GEO. CAROLAND, Pastor
Bible School 10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
Sermon by Rev. Geo. S. Caroland
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church

J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.
10:00 A. M. Bible School
11:00 A. M. Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. Evening Worship
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.
Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Union, Kentucky

Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister
Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.
10:00 a. m., Sunday School,
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship,
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.
Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scout

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor
First and Third Sunday—
Sunday School 10:00 a. m.
Preaching Service 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor
Sunday School 10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship 7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH

Verona, Ky.

REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor
Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Morning Worship 11 a. m.
Evening Service 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8 p. m.
All times given Central War time

SUGAR CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton and son spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Ellis of Bromley.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taylor entertained as their Saturday evening guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman of Lakeland and Mr. and Mrs. Owens of Indiana.

Mrs. Reuben Poland and Jimmie Shelton spent Thursday with Misses Helen and Faye Miskell of Glencoe.

George Spencer entertained the following guests in honor of his birthday Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Van Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Elza Spencer and children and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lillard and daughter of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Blaine Spencer and baby, Frank Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lillard and baby of Napoleon and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taylor.

Robert and Nellie Clifton and Mrs. Grover Clifton and son were business visitors in Carrollton on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wallick and Miss Myrtle Edwards attended Class Night at Gallatin County High School, Friday night.

Miss Estelle Baker of South Fork spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Story and son Jack.

WALNUT LICK

Mrs. Lena Speagle returned home last Wednesday from a visit with her son, Robert, who is in Michigan. We are glad she found him fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Lucas were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lucas, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boyer and children were calling at the H. D. Edrington home Sunday afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller and daughters Alberta and Glenna and Mr. and Mrs. Noel Robinson spent Sunday at the Manford Craft residence.

We were glad to see Mrs. Dora Brown out again after getting her arm broken in an auto accident quite awhile back.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hughes spent Wednesday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edrington.

Mrs. George Baker and two children and Miss Blanche Webster of Beaver attended Sunday School at Concord Sunday and Mr. Baker joined them afte rSunday School and they went to visit Mr. and Mrs. Edd Webster Sunday for dinner.

Miss Christine Hensley is visiting her brother Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hensley since she came from the hospital. Glad to see her able to be back in Sunday School and Church, Sunday.

Stephenson Mill Road

(Too Late for Last Week)

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Stephenson and sons entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sexton and son, Mrs. Mary Sexton of Erlanger, and Mrs. Emma Flynn and Alva Marie Flynn of Walton.

We were sorry to hear that Miss Mary Sleet is ill in the St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington.

Malcolm McDonald and J. T. Boulton of Park Hills called on Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington and family Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Ida Sharon, who had been in the hospital, is at home now.

Mr. and Mrs. George McLoney were on the sick list the past week

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington and family entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Nick Trapp and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pennington and son.

NICHOLSON

"Choose ye this day whom ye will serve."

"By grace are ye saved." We are saved to serve. He serves Christ best who serves others. Make glad the hearts of the weary by little acts of beauty and help them bear the burden of life's load. A thousand words do not make as great an impression as one deed. In this trying hour of our nation's peril, let each one do his utmost in hastening victory, with freedom for all. "A good example is the best sermon."

Recognized as one of the world's outstanding evangelists, Rev. Jackie Burris and the Musical Messengers, who are conducting an evangelistic campaign at Music Hall, Cincinnati, will cordially welcome all readers of the Advertiser to the services. His helpful and inspiring messages, and their musical numbers, so beautifully rendered, are broadcast through WCPO twice daily, at 10:15 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. Let everyone most earnestly pray for a great spiritual awakening and that thousands may realize that eternal destiny is trembling in the balance of decision and turn to the path crimsoned by the blood of Him who gave Himself for them.

Wally Lambert Morgan, Billy Richard Gray and Miss Dorothy Moore are numbered among a group of 43 seniors to be graduated from Simon Kenton High School, Independence, Friday evening, May 29th, all of whom have our heartiest congratulations. Commencement is ever a "re dieter" day in the bright calendar of youth and as the entire class stand on the threshold of life, may they choose lofty ideals, ever "seeking first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness."

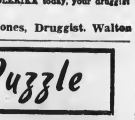
The many friends of Mrs. Oscar Rankin regret her return to the hospital and prayerfully trust that she returns shortly to her home fully restored.

Mrs. Bolening recently called on friends here.

Barren county farmers cooperated in ordering a carload of "feeding" wheat, which came out at 1,600 bushels.

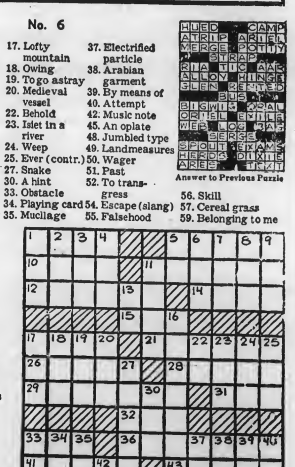
THAT "HATE TO WORK" FEELING

Does your work have to wait because you "don't feel like doing anything"? This listlessness may be due to delayed bowel action. Give those lazy bowels a gentle nudge with ADLERIKA'S 3 laxatives and 5 carminatives. Try ADLERIKA today, your druggist has it.



Robt. W. Jones, Druggist. Walton

Crossword Puzzle



No. 6

ACROSS
1. Large rodent
5. Wild
10. Acknowledge
11. To rail at
12. To erase
14. Tortoise
15. Simpleton
17. City in Arabia
21. King's residence
26. Entices
28. French river
29. Flawless
31. Norse god
32. Regret
33. Pouch
36. Amulet
41. Sharp
43. Staid
44. To cause to remember
46. Not one
47. Peak
49. Iberian river
53. Column
58. Mode of rule
60. Breezy
61. Full of stones
62. To allot

DOWN
1. Cushion
2. Avenue (abbr.)
3. Pass between peaks
4. Solemn wonder
5. Ferrum (sym.)
6. Girl's name
7. Border
8. Like ale
9. Gulded
11. Harvest
13. Toward
16. Hesitates
17. Lofty mountain
18. Outing
19. To go astray
20. Medieval vessel
22. Behold
23. Islet in a river
24. Weep
25. Ever (contr.)
27. Snake
30. A hint
33. Obstacle
34. Playing card
35. Mucilage
37. Electrified particle
38. Arabian garment
39. By means of
40. Attempt
42. Music note
45. An oplate
48. Jumbled type
49. Landmeasures
50. Wager
51. Past
52. To transgress
54. Escape (slang)
55. Falsehood
56. Skill
57. Cereal grass
59. Belonging to me

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Remember Bataan
Invest
A Dime Out of Every Dollar in
U.S. War Bonds

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .

W. E. TAIT, O. D.
OPTOMETRIST
OPTICIAN

27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.

Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

For appointment phone—
HE. 2088

EYE AID

FOR BETTER HEALTH

Some indications of eye-strain are: Squinting, frowning, straining to see, drowsiness after reading, headaches, nervousness, discomfort of eyes after reading, sensitiveness of eyes to light, wrinkles and crow's fee taround eyes, imperfect vision, and have to hold reading matter very close or at arm's length.

We examine eyes and furnish glasses that will correct eye-strain.

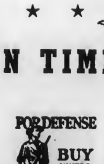
Frank Riggs Optometrist

NATIONAL SPOTLIGHT TURNS ON BEET SUGAR

Counties in which sugar beets are grown in the United States.

Grown on 1,000,000 acres by 100,000 American farmers, sugar beet production has more than doubled since World War I. It is anticipated, according to the United States Beet Sugar Association, that in response to the emergency, production in 1942 will top the peak production of nearly four billion pounds in 1940. This amount of sugar will be more than sufficient, with a ration of eight ounces a week, to meet the household sugar allowance of every consumer in the United States for a year. Beet sugar, produced within the borders of the continental United States, is subject to none of the hazards of war-time shipping, and can always be made available to consumers.

Your Eyes Opto trist



Are You Irritable — Nervous? Perhaps your eyes are the cause. An examination may reveal it.

JOS. B. SCHNIPPERING
Optometrist and Optician
(Formerly with F. Pieper)
5 Pike Street, Covington
Phone HElock 0700

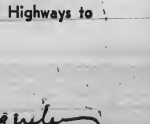
DEAD STOCK REMOVED
SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS
CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887
REVERSE PHONE CHARGE
Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.
LOCKLAND —:— OHIO

Is YOUR SUBSCRIPTION Paid In Advance?
It Should Be, You Know!
WALTON ADVERTISER
PHONE 30

IN TIMES LIKE THESE

IN normal times, every organization is thought of in terms of its normal function.

With GREYHOUND, it is transportation . . . the means of carrying you from where you are to where you want to go . . . comfortably, dependably, inexpensively.



But in times like these, GREYHOUND assumes a much broader aspect: As the family car becomes an item to be preserved, GREYHOUND moves into the breach to play a dual role.

To its normal function as a carrier, it now contributes a service of incalculable value as a conservator of rubber, metals, and fuel. With greater carrying capacity per pound and per gallon of these precious elements, buses are in the forefront in the efforts toward national defense.

Carrying business men on trips, war-workers to jobs, selectees to induction centers, service men to camps and on furloughs, GREYHOUND is doing double duty on America's Highways to Victory!

Guy A. Huguelet,
President

SOUTHEASTERN GREYHOUND LINES

"KEEP 'EM ROLLING . . . Safely"

This Week on The Home Front

Here is a resume of Important Happenings—

Price Control campaign goes on.
Pork products get ceiling.
More sugar given home canners.
Tube collection planned.
Steel scrap collections up.
"Keep saving paper"—WPB.

TIRES!
MUST BE SAVED
Align Those Wheels and Save Time and Money
COlonial 0670
R. MICHELS Welding Co.
722 Washington St., Covington

A campaign "to get complete and official information about the new price ceiling regulation into the hands of every storekeeper, down to the last cross roads," is being launched by OPA. In 1000 retailer meetings over the last two weeks, OPA speakers have reached but half of the nation's 1,900,000 storekeepers. OPA plans first to distribute 1,700,000 copies of Bulletin No. 2, entitled "What Every Retailer Should know About the General Maximum Price Regulations." Several hundred more retail meetings will be scheduled where the regulation will be explained.

—o—

Ham, bacon and other pork products representing about 10 per cent of the consumer dollar spent for food, are now under a special price ceiling ordered when the temporary 60-day ceiling expired. Prices of dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts are fixed at levels no higher than those actually prevailing for each individual packer seller during March 3-7 period. Individual ceilings for each seller's prices are established, based on his price list sand highest sales of the period February 16-20, plus certain stated additions representing the rise in raw material costs from February 16 to March 7.

—o—

New - OPA regulation permits home canners one pound of sugar above previously rationed family allowance for every fur quarts of fruit canned. Each member of the family will also get an extra lb. for preserves, jams, jellies and fruit butters. The previous regulation alloted each person a flat five pounds. Under the new regulation, if this five pounds has been purchased, it will be computed in the new home canning sugar allotment. To get canning sugar you go to your local rationing board and fill out OPA Form N. R-315. False explanations and reports to the boards to obtain this sugar are punishable.

—o—

We now know where and how war clothing shouldn't fade, says Consumer Division.

WPB looks at toiletries.
Ball games must start earlier.
Steel containers will be out.
Street car, busses, controlled.
Waste, scrap dealers licensed.
War work to use more women.
Retailer hoarding crimped.

—o—

Municipal traction systems cannot get delliveries of any more street cars or motor busses, except by specific instructions of the Director of Industry Operations, War Production Board. This order holds without regard to preference ratings assigned to any particular contracts.

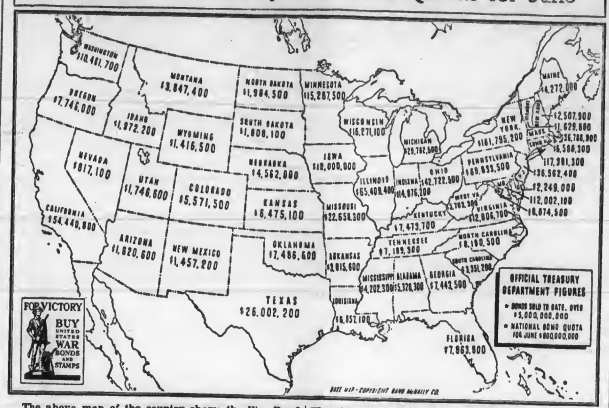
—o—

Another ruling on fair trade Laws: Price ceiling regulation does not empower merchant to break fair trade agreements and laws as to minimum prices at retail. Fair trade laws and agreement shold when they are not in conflict with the General Maximum Price Regulation.

—o—

All dealers selling waste, scrap and salvage material to consumers are now automatically licensed, and must register with OPA on or before June 20. Registration forms are being mailed to them, and if anybody is left out, the forms can be obtained at OPA offices. U. S. Bureau of Census is handling the registration.

—o—



War Manpower Commission finds that in 21 key war industries women can do 80 percent of the jobs. "Women," reports Chairman Paul V. McNutt, "have shown that they can do or learn to do almost any kind of work. Thousands already are working in jobs which have customarily been filled by men." Conclusion: War work will tend now to use more women.

—o—

"Feed a pig for war-victory" say Taylor county farmers, who are feeding 200 pigs to be sold and the money investe din war bonds.

—FOR VICTORY: BUY BONDS—

Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas for June

The above map of the country shows the War Bond Quota by states for the month of June totalling $800,000,000. Everybody every pay day is expected to invest at least ten per cent of his income in War Bonds to aid in financing America's offensive against the Axis powers.

The ultimate quota for the nation will be on a basis of one billion dollars per month effective in July. This sum is necessary to provide for all-ont production of planes, guns, ships and munitions adequate to arm our fighting men with the tools necessary to win the war.

Canary Captures a Star

LOVELY Frances Langford, singing star of radio and screen, has lost her heart to "Billy," a pet canary she is training to trill replies to her daily morning greeting.

"Billy" often sits on her shoulder, too, and sings out for bits of apple. He got into that habit after a few feedings, and now considers these tid-bits his regular dish. "I don't know who is supposed to do the singing at times," Miss Langford says. "Often 'Billy' will listen; but most frequently he tries to join right in with me."

In the homes and studio dressing-rooms of many Hollywood stars, canaries are the latest hobby craze. Cares and worries are forgotten in watching this pet's merry antics; and his joyous song is an unfailing tonic to work-weary nerves.

Bi-monthly report of WPB Industrial Salvage Section for period ending May 15, showed further increase in flow of scrap, in addition to the normal flow back into production. Nearly 5000 plants reported during the two weeks and 473,062 tons went to the mills and foundries as a result of the salvage campaign.

—o—

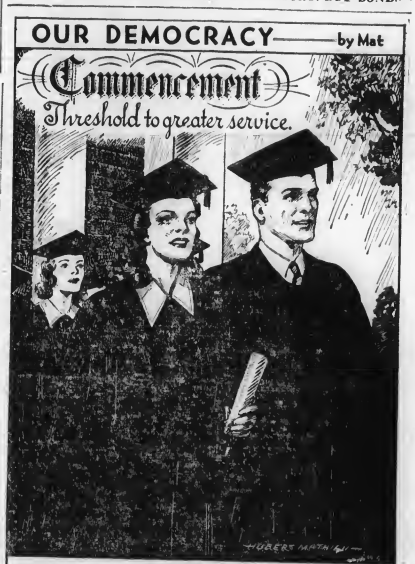
The highly successful waste paper collection campaign has caused a temporary surplus, and upped production of paperboard containers which had to be limited last fall by 50 percent. Bureau of Industrial Conservation, however, points to possible shortage next winter, and urges continued collection. From the paper drive, Lessing J. Rosewald, Chief of the Bureau, draws this moral: "If similar intensive efforts in the collection of scrap rubber and scrap metals can be carried out, the public can go a long way toward filling the nation's need for these vital materials."

—o—

"Rumor consumer" item: It is not true, as rumored, that preshrunk and color-fast clothing manufacture interferes with military production. OPA Consumer Division states officially: "There is no reason why limitations in the amount of chemicals available should result in the production of poorly dyed fabrics."

—o—

Study of the "relative esse nuality" of toiletries and cosmetics and the materials used in their manufacture, will be made by WPB. Toiletries and Cosmetics Branch of the Board wants to keep production for "essential civilian needs" when it can be done without interference with war production. Use of "critical" materials would be restricted by substitution simplification and curtailment of non-essentials.



—o—

The major leagues will be asked to start their ball games earlier, because the 3:15 "Play Ball" time dumps crowds on the overtaxed transportation systems of the cities between 5 and 6 p. m., the rush hour. Joseph B. Eastman, Director of the Office of Defense Transportation, has written Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, baseball tsar, urging that league officials confer with local transit people and make plans.

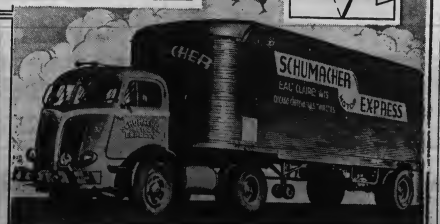
—o—

WPB is warning steel container users to find substitutes for steel. If they do not, they may be forced out of business until they do. The warning mentions steel drum users those tooth paste and shaving cream tubes are going. The RFC's Metals Reserve Co. has designated the Tin Salvage Institute of Newark, N. J., as the sole agent for their collection. They all go to Newark. Here's how: Retailers who collected the tubes turn them over to their nearest accessible wholesaler. Wholesalers pick them up in trucks, if possible, or retailers may ship collect the cheapest way in lots of five pounds or more to wholesalers. Wholesalers, junk dealers, or others having tubes ship collect in lots of 100 pounds or more to Institute, 411 Wilson Avenue, Newark. Institute refunds to wholesalers collect freight they paid.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

EDUCATION IS ONE OF DEMOCRACY'S GREAT STRENGTHS. WE AMERICANS HAVE PROVIDED THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOL SYSTEM IN THE WORLD— HALF OF OUR BOYS AND GIRLS FINISH HIGH SCHOOL —ONE OUT OF 16 IS GRADUATED FROM COLLEGE — GIVEN THIS OPPORTUNITY BY THE SAVINGS OF MOTHERS AND FATHERS, EDUCATIONAL INSURANCE POLICIES, SCHOLARSHIPS— AND THROUGH INDIVIDUAL EFFORT.

The ADVERTISER SNAPSHOTS



Florence Rice and Tom Brown soon to be featured in Monogram Pictures' new production "Lets Get Tough," enjoy a Pepsi-Cola during rehearsals on the set and even the Buddha looks pleased!

OPTICAL SHOP FOR A.E.F.—This spectacle shop on wheels, first of its kind, will repair or replace broken or lost glasses of overseas soldiers in the field. Approximately 15 per cent of the men in the armed forces wear spectacles. This unit, built for the U. S. Army by the American Optical Company, Southbridge, Mass., has facilities for edging and mounting 120 single lenses daily, sufficient for the average requirements of a field army of 300,000.

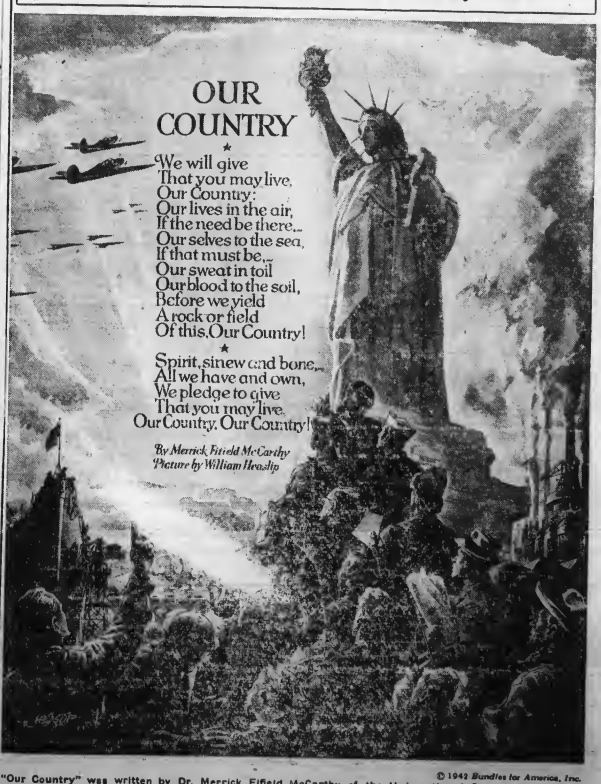
Mrs. William Barry of Greensboro, N. C., mother of 13, was named the American mother of 1942 by the Golden Rule Foundation at New York.

MODERN MEAT TRANSPORTATION—There is nothing more modern for the transportation of perishable foods than this stainless steel Fruehauf trailer. This is a refrigersted unit carrying freah meat for soldiers and civilians at accurately controlled temparatures regardless of weather. 122

BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS FOR VICTORY

A dime out of every dollar we earn IS OUR QUOTA for VICTORY with U.S. WAR BONDS

What You Buy With WAR BONDS



The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaisance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning batle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your county go over its War Bond Quota.

U. S. Treasury Department

"We Pledge to Give that You May Live"

© 1942 Bundles for America, Inc.

"Our Country" was written by Dr. Merrick Fifield McCarthy of the University of Cincinnati for Bundles for America, Inc., as his gift to this national organization which is furnishing comforts to men in the armed forces of the United States, their families and others adversely affected by war conditions. William Heaslip, noted American artist, conceived and executed the striking illustration. A revised version of the poem has been set to music by Jacques Wolfe, author of "Glory Road." "Shortn'n Bread" and other delightful melodies, and published by G. Schirmer Inc., of New York. Post card size reproductions of the illustrated poem will soon be available through branches of Bundles for America where they will be sold to raise funds to help carry on its manifold services.

—FOR VICTORY: BUY BONDS—

Classified ADS

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

FOR SALE—18 head stock cattle, heifers and bulls. Ottis Readnour, Walton. tf27

WOOL WANTED—Will pay top prices. F. D. Cooke, Walton & Readnour place, Walton. tf27

WHITE LEGHORN CHICKS—Hanson Strain, $10.00 per 100. Frank Lang, Buttermilk Road, Erlanger, Ky., Box 185, Route 4. Dixie 7084. tf18

FOR SALE—Baby chicks. Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

NOW is the time to buy your winter coal. See Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

BUY your winter coal now! Walton & Readnour, Walton Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE—Hybrid seed corn, U. S. No. 13, while it lasts. $6.75 per bushel. Walton & Readnour Walton. tf27

FOR SALE—Tobacco setter; cultivator; hay rake, and roller; all two-horse machinery. J. W. Mires, Independence, Ky. Phone Ind. 6131. 3t28*

WHITE ROCK Chicks, unexcelled for early feathering, rapid growth and bred for high egg production. Price $10 per 100 at hatchery. Menefee Poultry Farm Crittenden, Ky., R-1. Telephone Williamstown 5705. 4t27

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

FOR SALE — Seed Potatoes, late variety. Clayton Percival. 1t30

FOR SALE — New 2-horse Sled; Hay bed; Wagon bed. Call or see A. J. Harrell, Hands Road, off 3-L Highway. Phone Independence 6687. 2t30

FOR SALE—A good sound work mare Mule, 15½ hands high, 5 years old. for $125.00. E. S. Rader, Stephenson Mill Road, Walton, Ky. 2t30*

FOR SALE—Good Holstein bull, 15 months old. See E. H. Tomlin, on Riggs Road, just off Taylor Mill Pike. 1t30*

FOR SALE—Or Trade for Blue Grass hill land—lands in Florida and in New Mexico. Write to Spears Havely. General Delivery, Richmond, Virginia. 2t30*

FOR SALE—2-story frame house, barn, chicken houses, good well and cistern, with 5 acres land, on Nicholson Pike, ½-mile from Dixie Highway. Known as Mrs. L. A. Simpson's home. A. Felrock, 448 Elm St., Ludlow, KY. 2t30*

FOR SALE—A table-top kerosene Range, used two months; four burners and large burner under oven. Price $45. M. E. Quick, LLL Highway, 6 miles South of Covington. 1t30

"Feed a pig for war-victory" say Taylor county farmers, who are feeding 200 pigs to be sold and the money investe din war bonds.

SAVE YOUR CAR and MONEY RIDE A BIKE

We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.

LIBERAL TERMS

DIXIE CYCLE SHOP

16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

Avenue Furniture Co.

434 Madison, Cov. HE 9273

LIVING ROOM SUITES $49

Special This Week Only

Avoid Disappointment—Buy Now

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

NEW JAMES THEATRE

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m.—Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY & SAT., MAY, 29-30

"HOW GREEN WAS MY VALLEY"

Walter Pidgeon - Maureen O'Hara

SUNDAY, MAY 31

Tyrone Power in

"SON OF FURY"

One Show Each Night at 8 p. m.

MONDAY, JUNE 1

W. C. Fields - Gloria Jean in

"NEVER GIVE A SUCKER A BREAK"

Shows: 7:30 & 9:15 — Adm. 11c

TUESDAY, JUNE 2

A Happy Full Length Cartoon

"MR. BUG GOES TO TOWN"

Shows: 7:30 & 9:15 — Adm. 11c

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3

Michael Redgrave-Valerie Hobson

"SONS OF THE SEA"

Shows: 7:30 & 9:15 — Adm. 11c

THURSDAY, JUNE 4

Richard Dix - Ann Rutherford in

BADLANDS of DAKOTA

Shows: 7:30 & 9:15 — Adm. 11c

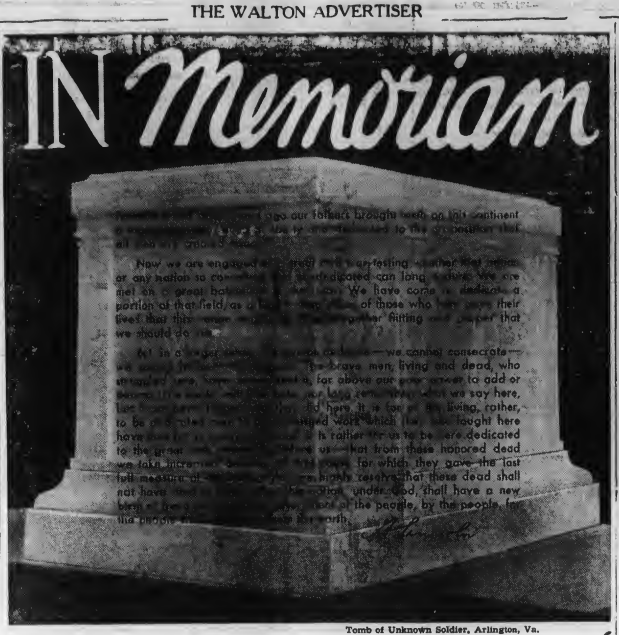
MORNING VIEW

Mrs. Grover Baker and son of Camden, Ohio are visiting relatives here.

William G. Finnell, clerk in the Schadler grocery, is on the sick list. His many friends hope he will soon be back on the job.

First Aid Class, under C. W. Thake, is progressing nicely, and the course will soon be completed. The class meets each Tuesday and Thursday evening at the Boy Scout Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dunn of Detroit, Mich., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Cross and family.



H. H. Hopper spent last week with his wife here. He is employed in Ewing.

(The members of St. Mary's church aregiving a baked chicken supper at the Boy Scout Hall on Saturday, from 4 to 8 p. m. Bingo and dancing will be an evening feature. The public is invited.

The many friends of Dr. F. A. Daugherty are glad to know he is able to be out again.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the Crowly family of Pendleton county in the recent death of their sister Bessie, who passed away last Sunday in Cincinnati.

IN Memoriam

Tomb of Unknown Soldier, Arlington, Va.

ADDITIONAL WALTON SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Susie Watson of Florence and Miss Jessie Swetnam of Covington were weekend guests of Miss Graham Roberts of North Main St.

Bryan Rector has been ill at his home here for the past several days

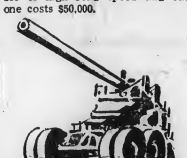
Mrs. Bessie Johnson of South Main Street was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Stanley McGuire and Mr. McGuire of Newport last Sunday.

Pvt. Kircher Johnson, who has been home on a ten-day furlough, left Saturday for Ft. Thomas, expecting to be sent elsewhere some time this week. When we receive his mailing address we will publish same, as all the boys enjoy hearing from the folks "back home."

Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Tullis and son Frankie of Lawrenceburg, were guests Tuesday of Mrs. Tullis' brother, Rev. J. H. Talley, Mrs. Talley and son Jimmie. Rev. Tullis is pastor of the Methodist Church at Lawrenceburg.

John Conrad entertained Friday evening in honor of his daughter, Wanda Lou Conrad. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson of Latonia; Eli Conrad, Mrs. Sue Keeney, Mrs. Ann Keese, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Arrington, all of Cincinnati; Miss Anna Rae Metcalfe of Erlanger, Miss Conrad and the host.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Mann and daughter Sue and Jean Farris called on Mrs. Sarah Mullins of the Piner neighborhood, recently.



Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Benson and family of Forest Hills, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Mann, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Kelly and family visited relatives in Sparta, Sunday.

Mrs. Minnie Carpenter, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. C. L. Gaines, and Mr. Gaines, returned to her home in Burlington, Sunday.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 155-millimeter gun is the modern version of the old "GPF" of World War I days. It has a range fifty percent greater than the old gun, heaving a 95-pound projectile approximately 15 miles. It is capable of high road speed and each one costs $50,000.

Arsenals of America are working at terrific speed turning out this long range, effective weapon for our armed forces. You and your neighbor working hand-in-hand in unity can make possible the purchase of an adequate number of these guns by buying War Bonds. Put 10 percent of your income in War-Bonds to help reach your county quota, every pay day.

LOCAI MINISTERS ATTEND CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP COUNCIL MEETING TUES.

A new State organization, "The Christian Citizenship Council" met in the First Methodist Church in Lexington, Tuesday. This is a non-denominational Christian organization, through which the churches of Kentucky are uniting for the purpose of combating the forces of evil — liquor, vice and gambling, and promoting Christian citizenship. A strong program was enjoyed and many encouraging reports were given from various points over the State. Attorney Henry M. Johnson of Louisville is President of the organization.

Rev. C. J. Alford, President of the Boone County Ministerial Association and Rev. J. H. Talley, both of Walton; Rev. F. E. Mosley and Rev. T. O. Huey of Florence, and Rev. T. O. Harrison of Burlington, attended this very interesting meeting.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Woman's Missionary society of the Walton Baptist Church held their monthly meeting in the church on May 21.

A business session was held at 11 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. C. J. Alford, in charge. Lunch was served at noon. The program leader was Mrs. Tom Percival.

The following members and guests were present: Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Alford, Mrs. John Noell, Mrs. William Sturgeon, Mrs. Bryan Rector, Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Mrs. Barnett Franks, Mrs. Levi Pennington, Mrs. Randolph Beach, Mrs. Fannie Brittenhelm, Mrs. F. E Fisher, Mrs. T. W. Jones, Mrs. D. K. Johnson, Mrs. Bess Conrad, Mrs. Joe Neumeister, Mrs. Elnora Hodgts, Mrs. Nell Hunt, Mrs. A. K. Johnson, Mrs. Ed Hankinson, Mrs. Sarah N. Sleet, Mrs. Jesse Wilson, Mrs. Susie Norman, Mrs. Virginia Gaines, Mrs. Fannie Sleet, Mrs. Tom Percival, Mrs. Helen Stamper, Mrs. E. B. Powers, Mrs. Natan Northcutt, Mrs. Elmer Breeden, Mrs. Bennie Elliott, Mrs. R. E. Ryle, Lucy Pennington, Margaret and Anna Belle Percival, Janet Fae Stamper and Irma Rector.

SPARTA BOY WEDS WASHINGTON GIRL

William P. Riley, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Riley of Sparta, was married in Annapolis, Md., on May 5th to Miss Beryl Weeks of Washington, D. C. "Billy" was employed as accountant in Washington for almost four years and was transferred in March of this year to St. Louis, Mo.

Bill's young sister, Ester Cecilia Riley, accompanied him to Annapolis to act as brides maid. They motored back and stopped off in Sparta for two days, enroute to St. Louis, where they will make their home.

All Sparta's citizenry wish them much happiness and a long life.

Barren county farmers cooperated in ordering a carload of "feeding" wheat, which came out at 1,600 bushels.

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.

CHAMBERS & GRUBBS

Funeral Directors WALTON

Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation

Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.

DIXIE STATE BANK

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

CHASE DRY CLEANERS

34 EAST 7th ST. HE 2126 COVINGTON, KY.

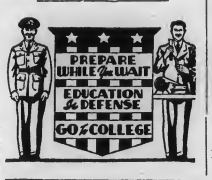
Opposite Doctors Building 6 HOUR SERVICE

SUITS - OVERCOATS

PLAIN DRESSES

PLAIN LADIES COATS

Dry Cleaned and Pressed

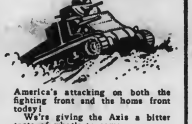


75c

100% UNION SHOP

SPARTA YOUTH ENTERS AIR CORPS TRAINING

Giles Keeham Riley, third son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Riley of Sparta left Lexington on Monday, May 25 for Santa Anna, Calif., where he will go into training as Cadet in the Air Corps. Giles enlisted four months ago, while employed with the Lunkenheimer Valve Co. of Cincinnati.



Young Riley attended Citizens Military Training Camp at Ft. Benjiman Harrison, Indiana, for two summers, after graduating from the New Liberty High school in 1938. Giles will be missed by his many friends in Sparta community, who are proud of his patriotism.

OPERATING SERVICE STATION

B. F. Elliott, Jr., is now operating the service station owned by his father in South Walton. Jr. is a very pleasant young man and is getting along nicely with the business.

ATTACK! ATTACK! ATTACK!

America's attacking on both the fighting front and the home front today!

We're giving the Axis a bitter taste of what's to come.

We're fighting the inflationary 5th column that blows prices sky high here at home, too.

And every one of us who saves at least 10% of his pay in War Bonds is an important soldier in the attack!

Join the attack yourself!

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION PAID?

Special Price On GRASS SEEDS

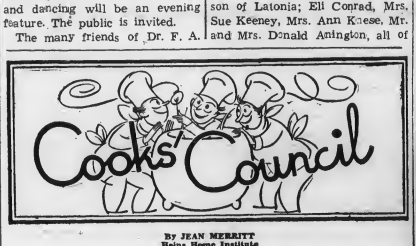
U. S. No. 13 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu. $6.50

Iowa No. 939 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu. 6.00

Wilson Black Soybeans, per bu. $2.20

Virginia Brown Soybeans, per bu. 2.30

RED CLOVER, per bu. $14.10



KOREAN, per 100 lbs. 8.25

TIMOTHY, per bu. 4.40

See Us for Prices Before Buying Your COAL!

Walton Feed Mills

PHONE 57 WALTON, KY.

By JEAN MERRITT
Home Economics Institute

Meat and Pickle Partners

Pickles are the perfect accompaniment to meat. A pungent pickle, steeped in vinegar and spice, brings out the lusty flavor of a piece of meat, adds a contrasting crisp and crunchy texture, and dresses the dish with an attractive useful garnish folks always enjoy eating.

Any pickle is good with meat. But certain types of pickles are so superbly suited to certain kinds and cuts of meat they just naturally belong together. For instance, a sharp, tart pickle brings out the best in such highly spiced meats as many of the sold cuts. Old-fashioned, pungent mustard pickle seems to have an affinity for ham. A choice steak is enormously enhanced by mild and delicate fresh cucumber pickle slices.

Balancing your pickle service with the proper meat course, as suggested in the chart below, can become a quick and easy way of serving subtly flavored combinations to your family.

— Beef —
Roast Beef	Cross cut sweet pickles Fresh cucumber pickle India relish
Pot Roast	Sweet mustard pickle Fresh cucumber pickle Preserved sweet onions
Boiled Beef	Sweet mustard pickle India relish
Fillet Mignon	Preserved sweet gherkins Cross cut sweet pickles Fresh cucumber pickle
Corned Beef	Sweet or sour mixed pickles
Cold Sliced Beef	Sweet mustard pickle India relish Fresh cucumber pickle
— Veal —
Veal Roast	Preserved sour gherkins India relish
Breaded Veal Chops	Fresh cucumber pickle Preserved sweet onions Pickled onions
— Lamb —
Leg of Lamb	Cross cut sweet pickles Preserved sweet onions
Lamb Chops	India relish Fresh cucumber pickle
— Fish —
Strong flavor	Chow chow Pickled onions
Delicate flavor	India relish Fresh cucumber pickle
— Pork —
Roast Pork	Sweet mustard pickle India relish Preserved sweet onions
Pork Chops	Fresh cucumber pickle Preserved sweet gherkins
Baked Ham	Sweet mustard pickle India relish
Cold Boiled Ham	Chow chow Sweet mustard pickle
Sausage	Fresh cucumber pickle

FEED WAYNE for EGGS

It helps produce MORE Eggs at less cost per dozen.

Look for this I-Q Seal of Quality on the Wayne Bag.

COLONIAL COAL & SUPPLY CO.

Phone DIxie 7626

DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER

Blocks - Ready Mixed Concrete - Roofing

"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 P. M., EWT

NOTICE

OUR CEILING PRICE ON VALSPAR HOUSE PAINT

(which now lists at $3.75 gal.) Now Is Same As March, 1942 Price of

$2.98 per gallon or $2.89 in 5 gal. Kits

CHAS. ZIMMER HARDWARE CO.

537-539 Pike Street - Covington, Ky.

PHONE: HEmlock 4741

University of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING, TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS, NEWSPAPERS OR PERIODICALS BELONGING TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES.
See Ky. Statutes, Article 1964

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 31

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

To Resurface And Widen Road, Report

The following letter was received from the Federal Works Agency, Work Projects Administration, Louisville, which was a follows:

May 27, 1942

Dear Editor:

A project has just been released for operation and will start as soon as is practicable to widen the base and surface the entire roadway U. S. 25 near Walton and extending through Richwood with bituminous material, length of 4.14 miles.

This project is sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Highways at a cost to the Department of $36,387, and a cost to the Federal Government of $24,663, making a total cost of $61,050. Approximately one hundred men will be given employment for three months.

Yours very truly,
R. D. Hutchcraft,
Director Division of Information.

CLOYD C. WALLER DIES AT VERONA

Funeral services for Cloyd C. Waller, 50, who died at his home at Verona, Saturday, were held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Hamilton Funeral Home. Burial was in New Bethel Cemetery, Verona.

Mr. Waller was a retired carpenter, and had been employed by the L. & N. railroad. He had been in ill health for about a year, and heart trouble was the cause of his death. Rev. A. K. Johnson, Walton, had charge of the funeral.

He leaves three sisters, Mrs. Cecil Tharp, Smithfield, Mrs. Charles Ryan, Verona, and Mrs. John Farrell, Crittenden; a brother, Hubert Waller of Florence, and two nieces and seven nephews.

J. L. Hamilton & Son, Verona, were in charge of funeral arrangements.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The June meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Walton Methodist Church, Friday, June 5th at 2:30 p. m. We are looking forward to this meeting, as one of the subjects will be, "For Mothers, or Women of America for Defense." A cordial welcome to all who attend.—Pub. Com.

4-H CLUB DELEGATES ATTEND JUNIOR WEEK

The Boone County 4-H delegates left Monday for the Annual 4-H Club Convention at Junior Week, U. of Ky., Lexington, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Delegates to the convention are: Earl Washmuth, Constance Corncracker Club; Melvin Ray McGlasson, Hebron Norbeh Club; Calvin Kelly, Burlington Blue Ribbon Club; Eugene Keyes Purdy, Grant True Blue Club; James Stephenson (tobacco champion), New Haven Boosters Club; Mary Katherine Shields (County Foods Judge), New Haven Booster's Club; Wanda Pennington (Style Revue Winner), New Haven Booster's Club; Elaine Gardiner, Florence X-All Club, (Clothing Judge); Mary Hope Chipman, Verona Willing Workers' Club, and Frances Bonta, Petersburg Good Will Club.

The members were accompanied by Franklin Frazier, Assistant County Agent, and Mary Scott Moore, Acting Home Demonstration Agent.

All delegates attending Junior Week were selected by the County 4-H and Utopia Club Council on their outstanding achievement and leadership qualities. Scholarship trips were awarded through the splendid cooperation of the Early & Daniel Feed Co., Cincinnati; Dearborn Feed Mills, Aurora; Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago; Kenton Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Co., Covington, and Coppin's Department Store, Covington.

PVT. JOHNSON AT SHELBY

Mrs. Bessie Jhnson received a card from her son, Kircher Johnson, recently inducted into the Army, stating that he was located at Camp Shelby, Miss. His address is: Pvt. Kircher M. Johnson, Co. C, 337th Inf., A. P. O. 85, Camp Shelby, Miss.

SPARTA POST OFFICE REPORTS WAR BOND SALES

During the month of May, business in War Bonds and Stamps at Sparta surpassed all previous records. The Bond sale amounted to $2,450 and Stamps, $97.50, for a total of $2,547.50. For the past six months, beginning in December, the Bond and Stamp sale amounted to $9,820. This was reported by Mrs. P. L. Riley, the Sparta Postmaster.

CYCLE CLUB VISITS WALTON

The above group, members of the Dixie Cycle Club, visited Walton one Sunday recently, and the picture was snapped by Cameron Brakefield, of the Jones Drug Store.

Those pictured above, from left to right, are: Wilbur Zeveley, Mrs. Geo. Maher, Mrs. W. Zeveley, Geo. Maher, Ruth Robbins, Earl Born, Elsie Ireland, Katherine Fisher, Carol Hobbs, Mrs. C. Hobbs, John Caldon, Mrs. John Caldon, and Marcello Gasparini.

Eleven members of the Club left Covington, by train, last Saturday morning for Paris. After a brief stay in that city, they left on their cycles for a two-day trip through Central Kentucky. They spent the night at Herrington Lake, and other points visited were Shakertown, Brooklyn Bridge, and other beautiful and interesting spots.

This is a most congenial club who enjoy this wholesome recreation free from the regular routine of their business lines.

Red Cross Entertains For Soldiers

The Ohio Valley Beagle Club, just South of Union, on Highway 42 was turned, for a little while, last Sunday evening into a combination USO Club and Red Cross Center. Several of the ladies of the Beaver, Richwood and Union neighborhoods united under the leadership of Mrs. J. F. Cleek and Mrs. Martha L. Huey to serve a picnic supper to thirty-five soldiers.

These boys were from Fort Knox, Ky. Each weekend the branch of the USO sponsors a sight-seeing trip for some thirty or more of the soldiers. This past weekend the bus headed toward Cincinnati. The boys were entertained for supper Saturday evening by a group of interested Red Cross workers at Warsaw, and overnight at the Y. M. C. A. in Cincinnati. They saw the Reds play baseball Sunday afternoon as guests of the ball park Sunday morning they attended a Cincinnati church and were guests of one of the women's organizations for lunch. That evening they had a fried chicken supper in Boone County.

Such pleasure trips for our soldier boys is one of the many ways in which the USO is using the money which is being raised nationally now. Let's remember their slogan—"When you give to the USO, you give to somebody you know!"

Sheep Dipping Service Available

The Carroll County Sheep Protective Association and Farm Bureau Sheep dipping service will be made available to Boone County sheepmen in the near future, provided a sufficient number of farmers are interested, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The cost of the service in 10c per head, with the farmer putting his sheep in the barn.

Local farmers in their community agricultural improvement plans last winter requested portable dipping vet service. Due to the present emergency new vats are not available, but it was found the Carroll County portable dipping vat service could be secured on the same basis as it is now serving Carroll County farmers.

All dip, equipment and labor, after the sheep are delivered to the dipping chute, are included in the 10c per head service charge Coopers' Dipping Powder which kills all lice, ticks and scab mites is used. Only one dipping is required as the dip remains in the wool, keeping the sheep clean of external parasites throughout the year. Because ticks and lice go from the old sheep to the lambs additional protection is given the lamb crop.

Experiments show that approximately one pound more wool per sheep is secured from the dipped flock. Wool at fifty cents per pound represe nts a considerable saving.

All farmers interested in having their sheep dipped are urged to contact the County Agent's office at Burlington—phone 412 — immediately. A schedule and routing of the service will be made up in the near future.

COUNTY WOOL CLIP TO BE SOLD MONDAY

The Boone County Wool Pool members will sell their clip at Walton, this coming Monday, June 8th, between the hours of 2:00 and 3:00 p. m., EWT.

The pool clip represents approximately 13,000 fleeces from about 90 percent of the County's sheep. While no one at the present time knows what the wool will bring, growers are expecting a price between 50 and 53 cents.

Red Cross Benefits To Tune of $7.00

The Walton Girl Scout Troop recently sponsored a play for the benefit of the Boone County Chapter of the Red Cross.

Miss Blanche Brittenhelm, the sponsor, has turned over $7.00 to Rev. J. Russell Cross, Chapter Chairman, the amount cleared on the production.

General MacArthur has said: "The Red Cross has never failed us!" It is good to know that we at home can help in such a beneficient way.

NEW FOOD STORE TO HAVE FORMAL OPENING SATURDAY

The Model Food Store, formerly owned by Charles Rouse, has been remodeled, made much larger and redecorated. A large supply of groceries, meats, canned goods and everything it takes to make a complete, modern "Self Service Store" has been arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Chipman are the new owners. They, with their able clerks, will be pleased to have you call at their new store and to get acquainted.

See their ad in this issue.

AN INTERESTING FACT

A single machine for making center wing sections at one airplane plant now simultaneously performs 87 operations that formerly were done individually and by hand.

Read Your Home-Town Newspaper

Miss Mildred King Receives 4-H Honor

Boone County 4-H Clubs have again a signal honor in the selection of Miss Mildred King of Verona, to the cooperative house at the University of Kentucky. Miss King will take up her residence at McDowell House when she enters the University in September.

The opportunity comes to Mildred because of the excellent 4-H club record she has made in this county. She has participated in 4-H Club work for eight years, as a member of the Verona and Walton Clubs. During that time she served as President, Vice-President, Secretary, Reporter, holding an office each year. Her work as assistant 4-H leader during the past year was envaluable. Projects in foods, clothing, canning and agriculture have added prize-winning awards to her collection. She has attended the State 4-H Club meeting at Lexington, representing Boone County two years, one of these was in 1939 when she participated in the clothing judging contest at Junior Week.

McDowell House is one of two cooperative houses conducted by the 4-H Club Department of the Office of the Dean of Women for deserving girls. This method of residence was adopted on the University campus in 1934 and since that time three Boone County girls have been selected on their records to share this opportunity of dividing expenses and responsibilities to make their University pursuits cost them a minimum.

Katherine Sebree of Florence, and Bobby Reimer of Hebron have lived at Shelby House.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH "CHILDREN'S DAY"

Sunday, June 7th will be observed as "Children's Day" at the Walton Christian Church.

A special program will be given Sunday morning at 10:30 by the children of the Sunday School.

Those to take part are as follows: Virginia Lou Schwab, Maida St. Clair, Virginia Richards, Wanda Dixon, Rosaline Ballinger, Joe Richards, Johnnie Grubbs, Buddy Grubbs, Richard Collins, John Watson, Otto Watson, Thelma Moore, and Ruth Haley.

ADVERTISER LATE

We are indeed sorry to have your Advertiser reach you a day late this week, and trust it will not occur again.

"Discovery"

Are you confused in mind about what is right and wrong? Do you in these days, doubt that "anything of merit can endure?" Is your faith in your fellowman weak, or on the verge of crumbling?

Then meditate upon these encouraging words of the poet, L. M. Thornton:

Discovery

I whispered, change is making all things terrible, and strange;
I am not sure
That anything of merit can endure.
And then I found
That faith, and truth, and honor,
still abound.
I tasted life
Before it withered in the blasts of strife.
I knew the days
Of lands at peace, and calm, untroubled ways;
But now as then
There is the love of God, and good in men.

It is heatening to all of us when we discover anew—as we need to do—that the things which are rooted in God will abide eternally, even though for a time they are apparently "blacked out."

Who of us, also, will not benefit by repeating, with new faith and understanding, the Psalmist's conviction—

"Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place
In all generations.
Before the mountains were brought forth,
Or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world,
Even fro meverlasting to everlasting, thou are God."

His love, even in judgment, still remains, and because that is true, the good in men, the truth, beauty and honor, will be found in our world today and in the future. Let us pray, hope and work in that faith, that God's will may be done.—Geo. S. Caroland, Pastor, Christian Church, Walton.

John R. DeMoisey Lauded In Report

Dr. F. C. Helbing of New York, one of the men whose report of "abominable" conditions at the Kentucky Houses of Reform at Greendale, resulted in a "new deal" there last November, this week visited the institution and his report was:

"Superintendent DeMoisey has done a remarkable job, one I didn't dream could be done within so short a space of time as six months."

"I ate in the mess hall with the girl inmates," Dr. Helbing said, "and I could never have done it seven months ago."

Dr. Helbing expressed amazement at the change which had come over the school. At the same time, he pointed to conditions there as "by no means perfect yet," but he said that the major remaining ill could be traced directly to the war.

John F. (Frenchy) DeMoisey, youthful superintendent who was appointed by Gov. Johnson to head the institution, is fighting two major handicaps, Dr. Helbing said. One is a continuing loss of capable administrators to the armed services and the other is inability to construct additional buildings due to the war.

This is a fine compliment to Mr. DeMoisey, and all Walton should feel proud of his achievements, as he is the son of Rev. and Mrs. R. F. DeMoisey of South Main Street.

LOCAL USO DRIVE SET FOR JUNE 4th, 5th & 6th

All is in readiness for the local USO drive which will be conducted Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The local Chairmen, Powers Conrad and Mrs. Lula Huey, and their co-workers held a meeting Monday night at the Dixie State Bank and final plans completed.

Voting precincts were divided among the workers for the extensive drive June 4, 5, and 6.

GIVE TO THE USO!

REMEMBER TO THINK OF US

SIGHT IS PRECIOUS!

Maintaining its full effectiveness is a patriotic duty. For keen vision is needed, as never before, in the countless fields where industry and science are working to keep America for Americans. Glasses we provide will save your sight and enable you to serve more fully.

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

BIDDING FOR STARDOM—Marguerite Chapman, vivacious newcomer recently placed under contract by Columbia studios, is gaining screen recognition by playing leading roles in three pictures in as many months. Giving the young actress a chance to display both talent and beauty, the films are "Submarine Raider," in which she plays opposite John Howard; "Parachute Nurse" and "Man's World."

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER—Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1868

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

TAXATION continues to be one of the most-discussed topics of the week here. With the war currently costing over 3 billion dollars a month, need for new revenue is obvious. The only question is: how to get it? This is an election year, and the lawmakers are doubly anxious not to do anything that will send votes to rival candidates in the November battle of the ballots.

Administration leaders continue to exert strong opposition to a sales tax, although the proposal to apply such a levy keeps cropping up. Their action to lower personal income tax exemptions to bring millions of new wage earners into the tax fold was interpreted in many quarters as an attempt to forestall the sales tax demand. As the income tax plan is set up now, a single man earning $10 a week would have a file a return.

At present the House Ways and Means Committee has approved a provision for requiring joint income tax returns of a husband and wife. Unless there is a sharp shift of sentiment in the Committee, it appears likely that this controversial legislation will be the subject of another bitter floor fight in both the House and the Senate.

Meanwhile a sales tax is still a possibility. Whether or not it will be enacted remains to be seen, but, at the moment at least, the proposal is far from dead.

THE Administration continues to oppose labor reform legislation, but here, too, Congress is displaying a mind of its own.

The House Judiciary Committee plans to begin drafting a bill shortly after June 1 that will permit the Department of Justice to prosecute labor unions for violations of the anti-trust laws and make labor unions subject to the Federal Anti-Racketeering Act. This would represent a combination of provisions from several other labor bills that have been introduced recently.

MEANWHILE, a resolution has been presented in the House to require government officials to appear on request before Congressional committees to testify concerning pending legislation. This springs from the recent refusal of Attorney General Biddle to permit Assistant Attorney General Arnold to testify about labor practices which, in the opinion of some legislators, would have shown the need for labor reform legislation.

CONGRESS is about to write into law a subsidy for manufacturers who are caught in a squeeze between price ceilings and rising production costs. This legislation would empower the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make payments to such business concerns to help them over the rough spots of price control.

As the bill now stands, the RFC would be authorized at the request of the Price Administrator and with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce to make payments in conjunction with the production, procurement, processing, servicing, or distribution of any article of commodity for the purpose of stimulating production or holding down prices, and to "purchase, acquire, carry, sell, or otherwise deal in any article or commodity."

Meanwhile, legislation has been offered in the House to revise the present price control law completely. One bill would establish a three-man war labor unit to enforce adjustable ceilings on wages and salaries and eliminate the 110 per cent of parity provision on farm products.

POPLAR GROVE NEWS

Frank Lafferty and mother, Mrs. Lena Printy and Printy Lafferty were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sipple and son Raven.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Connelly entertained as their Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Lon Harrison and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bonds and Mrs. Ruth Crouch.

Herschel Coates and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Held spent the weekend with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Coates.

Mrs. John Davis and children, Hazel Marie and Paul Douglas, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughter Lillian.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stephens were the Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brock.

Miss Vivian Stewart, who has been working at the Good Samaritan Hospital, has returned to her home for awhile.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION PAID?

OVER THE TOP FOR VICTORY with UNITED STATES WAR BONDS·STAMPS

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

BY
Gordon Wilson, Ph.D.
WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE
BOWLING GREEN, KY.

"Y'ALL BETTER GO WI' ME"

Just what do you say when you are departing, if and when you can get mobilized? Can you get away gracefully, or do you have to resort to many a feint? Sometimes I have had callers who took a whole hour to depart after they had spent the necessary fifteen minutes to discuss their affairs with me and receive such advice as I could give. Some humorist has written "Seven Lamps of Departing," in which he gives minute directions about taking up your hat, taking hold of the doorknob, saying good-bye, going thru the door, shutting it behind you, and then walking away. I wish he had known some of the people that used to visit us at Fidelity.

Father's callers constituted most of our problem. They were after medicine or prescriptions ("descriptions," "scripts," "subscriptions," or "little pieces of paper") or had come for the doctor himself before the days of the telephone. Father dosed out the requisite drugs or wrote the prescriptions or had one of the boys to saddle his yellow horse; meanwhile the caller had to be entertained by the rest of us. We pumped him dry by asking him about what was going on in his section, what he was doing on the farm ("Not much o' nothin'," of course), and how his folks were, that is, the ones not bedfast. He was equally eager to know all the news. Even after he had got the medicine or after Father had his horse and saddlebags ready, the caller stayed on, knowing that he must go but unable to get started. Finally he would rise rather languidly, take a few steps toward the door and say, "I guess I'd better be gettin' along." Mother suggested that he "needn't while to hurry," as a gentle hint that he had better run along. With a final spurt he would drawl, "Y'all better go wi' me." Of course we couldn't do such a thing. "Well, call around some time." And he was off.

This was real speed. Ordinarily the caller arrived as nearly at meal time as possible, for the doctor was said to set a good table; he was a "good provider." Though the sickness in the home might be dangerous and require the medicine at once, nearly always the caller could be persuaded to remain at least until after dinner. Even then there was no hurry. The ordinary formality of leaving had to be carried out like a royal edict. To have hurried away immediately after a meal would have shown a lack of courtesy. Pipes were lit or twists of tobacco appeared from hip pockets. The Civil War, or a goodly portion of it, was fought over again, with the Yankees going down in defeat for the ninetieth time. And then "Y'all better go wi' me." "No, I guess we can't." "Well, call around some time." Multiply this a sufficient number of time, and you will have the country doctor's home.

However, there was some value to all this time-killing. The boy in the home, forced to be courteous to all who came, learned more about humanity in this way than any books can ever teach. He watched the comers and goers through eighteen years and felt then and now that he had seen a big cross section of life. There were few means of entertainment, especially in the long, drab winters; these callers brought us in contact with people in a social way and helped us to form standards of judging the good and bad of our immediate surroundings. If the people had come with curt requests and departed when they should have, were would this column be today? I might have to ask you who had such experiences to tell me your stories rather than depend upon memory and my old diary.

Money Talks

By
Frederick Stamm, Economist
Director of Adult Education
UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Congress is now working on the new income tax law, and from all indications we are all going to turn over to Uncle Sam a much larger share of our incomes than ever before.

This proposed law will lower exemptions for single persons to $500 and for married couples to $1200 per year. When this law passes, as it undoubtedly will, from 7,000,000 to 10,000,000 persons who now pay no taxes at all will be taxed, on the average, about the equivalent of half a month's salary. The single person now making $600 a year, or $50 a month, will pay a tax of $14 under the proposed schedule while a single person making $1200 a year will pay $119 tax. Last year a married person with two dependents who earned $2400 annually paid only $6 federal income tax; if he made $2500 he paid only $12 tax. Under the proposed law these persons would pay $58 and $75 respectively.

The married person with no children who earned $2500 last year paid only $90 tax, but under the proposed law he will pay $219 next year.

The new law also proposes to raise the normal tax rate from 4% to 6% and to increase the beginning surtax rate from 6% to 12%.

You may ask why I am writing on this subject nine months before you will pay your tax, March 15th next. It is because I think you should begin planning for next year's taxes. Why not put aside out of each pay check an amount which will enable you to pay your tax in full next March? This plan should eliminate some financial worries when you are struggling with your tax return. To be on the safe side, just figure that your tax next year will be at least twice what you paid this past March. This is especially true for persons making between $800 and $5000 per year.

"Uncle Sam" needs to carry on this war, and he is going to reach into our incomes for larger and larger amounts. We had better face these facts now and prepare for them rather than wait.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaisance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your county go over its War Bond Quota.

U. S. Treasury Department

A RESOLUTION

WHEREAS our Country is now engaged in war with certain foreign powers whose principles and aims are alien to those democratic principles and institutions which we cherish and hold dear; and

WHEREAS hundreds of thousands of young men have been called into the military and naval service of our Country to aid in defending and maintaining our democratic principles and institutions by laying down their lives if necessary; and

WHEREAS thousands of young Kentuckians representing all religious creeds, races and political affiliations have volunteered or been called by draft into the service of our Country; and

WHEREAS a great many of these young Kentuckians have been and are members of our Young Democratic Clubs throughout the State and because we wish to keep in touch with them and demonstrate to them that we deeply appreciate their efforts and sacrifices;

THEREFORE, Be It Resolved that in recognition of the great service our Young Democratic members are rendering to their Country, their Commonwealth and their fellowmen, they shall be signally honored and rewarded by the Young Democratic Club members in each county of the Commonwealth in the manner as follows, towit, that membership cards showing all dues paid for the duration of the present war shall be promptly issued and forwarded to each and every young Democratic member in the military and naval services of our Country.

RESOLVED further that we call upon the press and all members of the Democratic party in Kentucky, young and old, to aid us in this enterprise by supplying the names and addresses of all these young Democratic members now in the service or who may hereafter be inducted therein; and that these names and addresses shall be forwarded without delay to William H. Natcher, President of the Young Democratic Clubs of Kentucky, Young Democratic Clubs Headquarters, Capitol Hotel, Frankfort, Ky.

TO SHARPEN YOUR MILITARY I. Q.

1. Who is the Chief of Staff of the United States Army? From what military school did he graduate?
2. The commanding officer of a regiment is a; the commanding officer of a battalion is a....., and sometimes a.....; a company commander is a.....
3. What grade in the Army does this chevron indicate? Remember Napoleon?
4. When and where was the armored tank first used in battle?
5. Distinguish a "jeep" from a "peep."
6. What branch of the service in the Army is indicated by this bronze "castle" worn on an officer's collar or on an enlisted man's blouse?
7. What is a ponton?
8. American soldiers have seldom won a defensive battle; what celebrated victory, attended by the death of the enemy commander, is a notable exception?
9. In Army slang a bugler is referred to as a "rooster's helper." Why?
10. Name this award which has been given to many American soldiers since Pearl Harbor.

WALNUT LICK

Mrs. Emma Willeford is visiting her niece and husband in Norwood, Ohio, for awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Struve and son of Covington were calling at the D. R. Chapman home over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Greenwell Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edrington and James Whitson decorated the graves of their loved ones at Concord, Pleasant View and Mount Zion, Sunday morning, and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Atwood Greenwell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hughes will leave the last of the week for Indianapolis, Ind., to visit their son Byron and family for a few days.

D. R. Chapman lost a fine cow Saturday from bloat.

Sorry to hear of Mike Waller of Verona passing away Sunday morning from heart trouble. The family have our sympathy.

A 4-year-old cow belonging to Laurin Wilkins of Logan county, made a net profit of $76.53 in 131 days.

Hemp raising, as a war contribution, has aroused unusual interest in Oldham county.

A series of barley variety tests are being conducted in Christian county.

When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
—24-Hr. Wrecker Service—
Cars Washed - Storage

THIS PIG BANK'S UNSAFE!
Invest your money in United States WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS!
U. S. Treasury Department

KEEP YOUR EYES "ON THE ALERT"
Have your eyes checked—it's your patriotic duty to keep them in perfect condition. Let us examine your eyes at once.
L. J. METZGER
Optometrist Optician
631 Madison Ave.
Covington
Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

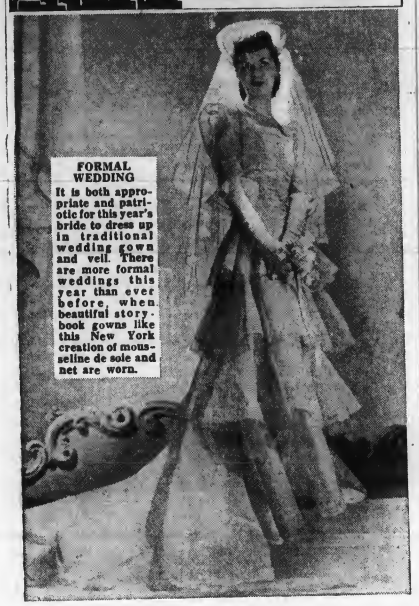
PEOPLES LIBERTY BANK & TRUST CO.
COVINGTON, KY.
MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

JUNE SPECIALS AT THE
Powder Puff Beauty Salon
Carter Wireless Oil Wave—a $5.00 Wave for $3.50 during May; also a Mel-O-Tone $5.00 Wave on Machine—2 Waves for $5.00, if two come together.
EDNA STAMLER
78 S. Main St. (Phone 682) Walton, Ky.

Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria
Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN FREE Odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package
Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

NAGGING BACKACHE
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!
Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion or chill, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.
After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.
Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS
All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say, Ask your neighbor!
In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.
DOAN'S PILLS

Don't Let
HIGH PRICES
UNPLEASANT TASTE
INCONVENIENCE
Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.
You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take
ONE A DAY
Pleasant-tasting · Convenient
Economical
Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau



Keep Up WITH EVENTS EVERY WEEK from THE NATION'S CAPITAL
Read PATHFINDER
PATHFINDER brings to you in words and pictures the drama of events fresh from Washington, D. C., the nation's capital, today the world's news center. News, features, and facts, events boiled down into 20 interesting, inspiring departments. Complete, unbiased, non-partisan, non-sectarian, dependable—gives both sides. Improved new features. World's oldest, most-read news weekly at one-fourth the cost of others. Furnishes clean, reliable reading for the entire family.
This Newspaper & PATHFINDER BOTH one year Only $1.80

Save any amount, any time.. for a home of your own! Liberal earnings are added
INSURED
Systematic thrift will bring you financial security.

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1347

STRAIGHT FROM NEW YORK

FORMAL WEDDING

It is both appropriate and patriotic for this year's bride to dress up in traditional wedding gown and veil. There are more formal weddings this year than ever before, when beautiful storybook gowns like this New York creation of mousseline de soie and net are worn.

VERONA

Roy Lamn of Latonia was the guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lamn.

Mrs. Nannie Hind and Miss Arrelda Hind of Louisville were the weekend guest of relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Whitson of Detroit were visiting relatives and friends over the weekend.

Bob Harris and family of Lexington were dinner guests of the Jerdie Harris family, Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Alister of Battle Creek spent several days last week visiting relatives at Verona, Walton and Erlanger. Dr. Alister returned home Sunday, but Mrs. Alister is remaining for a more extended visit in Northern Kentucky and Cincinnati.

We have just learned of the marriage of Miss Lillian Brooks to a Mr. Portwood of Nicholson. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Portwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Judy and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Judy were the guests of Mrs. Robert Gordon and family Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Myers and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Renaker visited Denton Cotton and family of Jonesville, Sunday and attended a Sunday School convention at that place. With their hosts they also witnessed the laying of the cornerstone of the new Baptist parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Elliston and family, together with their guests Mrs. Eva Mae Cleek of Covington and Mrs. Allen Lindsey of Carrollton, drove up to the Williamstown cemetery Sunday and had dinner at The Grill at Dry Ridge. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Roberts and daughters of Latonia were also guests of the Ellistons on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Blaesy of Frankfort, Ind., spent last week the guests of Mrs. Harry W. Hamilton and Mrs. Bertha Blaesy. Weekend guests of Mrs. Hamilton and her mother were Mr. and Mrs. William Schnerer and Mrs. Burkhardt of Columbus, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. John Meiner of Cincinnati were recent dinner guests of Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Blaesy.

The meeting of the Verona Homemakers has been postponed until Tuesday, June 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lamn, Mrs. Arch Noel, Mrs. Pearl Allphin attended the funeral of J. T. Jump at Clarks Creek, Monday week. Interment was at Hillcrest cemetery, Dry Ridge.

Miss Sallie Vest of Washington, D. C., is visiting her sister, Miss Lizzie Vest and other relatives in Kentucky.

Try the Classified Ad Section!

NICHOLSON

"Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy." Only one day in seven is known as the Lord's Day, so let it be filled with worship to God, ministries of kindly service and friendship, quiet talks with little children and scores of the deeds the Lord loves and for which He wants a day given to Him and used refraining from work of all kinds. Those who have never learned how to use the day of rest in the best way have missed one of the greatest joys of life. Sunday ought to be the happiest and most joyful day of the week. The very peace of the Sabbath dawn quiets the soul.

Numbered among thousands of admirers of the world's renowned evangelist, Rev. Jackie Burris and His Musical Messengers, is your humble scribe. The soul stirring messages of this man of God, the lovely poems read by Mrs. Burris, the sweet ministry of song and music so beautifully rendered on sleigh bells by Mr. Best are indeed a great spiritual uplift, especially to the "shut-ins" of the radio audience which are broadcast twice daily, 10:15 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. over WCPO from Music Hall, Cincinnati, where they are engaged in an evangelistic campaign. Support it with your prayers and gifts.

Radiant in all the glory of their Spring time beauty are the spacious lawns of Mrs. E. B. Rankin and Mrs. Ida Stephens and the lovely hedge adorning the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Butler evoking admiration from passersby.

The many friends of Dr. F. A. Daugherty of Independence, one of the leading physicians of Kenton county, are pleased to learn of his convalescence.

Mrs. Oscar Rankin returned to her home Saturday from Jewish Hospital and is convalescing satisfactorily.

Mrs. George Carroll, Mrs. Ellery VanLandingham, Mrs. Harry Fisk and little friend Phyllis, Mrs. Neil Rankin White, Miss Geneva Maddox and Miss Mary Louise Rector recently called on friends here.

Twenty-two Green county farmers set 52,000 black locust seedlings and 5,000 short-leaf pines during one recent month.

Mason county farmers sheared their sheep early this year to catch the premium prices offered.

A tile drainage system is making usable six acres of low, wet bottom land in Carter county.

HAVE YOU BOUGHT YOURS ?

—Courtesy Washington, D. C., Star

SYMBOL OF PATRIOTISM

MINUTE MAN FLIES HIGH.—This is the new Minute Man War Bond Flag, designed by the Treasury Department for firms and organizations which attain more than 90 percent participation in War Savings Bonds purchases by their employees or members through a systematic purchase plan. The Minute Man is emblazoned in white on a blue background, surrounded by thirteen stars, representing the Nation's thirteen founding States. When companies, labor unions, and other organizations top the 90-percent figure, they will receive a special Minute Man Certificate of Award signed by Secretary Morgenthau, the State Administrator, and the State Chairman of the War Savings Staff, the Treasury Department announced. This certificate entitles the recipient to fly the flag, which is being manufactured in various sizes and is sold by licensed suppliers at a nominal price.

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .

W. E. TAIT, O.D.

OPTOMETRIST
OPTICIAN

27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.

Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

For appointment phone—

HE. 2088

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .

DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?

Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.

LANG'S CAFETERIA
623-625 Madison Avenue
COVINGTON KENTUCKY

Killing Two Birds With One Stone . . .

Killing two birds with one stone is an old slogan — but now, more than ever, is the time to do such a thing.

If you have been wanting to clean out that closet, or go over the basement contents, or see what is in the attic — now is the time to do this. You can help the United States to have victory sooner, if you will donate all the old papers, waste metals, rags and other things that are of no value to you whatever, but can be used again by the Government

If you will just take time out to clean out these places, and save the waste materials needed by the Government. You will be doing your Patriotic Duty, as well as getting the Spring housecleaning done.

With this in mind, it will be much easier for you to do that much-hated task—Spring cleaning. Gather all the excess waste you have together and call upon any Boy Scout, who will be glad to take it off your hands.

You might also find some things that are neither needed by you or Uncle Sam—and if you do, use the Classified Column of the Advertiser and turn these articles into CASH $$$$$.

...-V

The Walton
ADVERTISER
Phone 30

CONSERVE FOR VICTORY

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE CARE OF YOUR

Electric Washer

Your electric washer is a friend in need these busy wartime days. It not only saves you time and energy; it helps you conserve clothes and linens and reduces your laundering costs. Here are some timely hints that will make your washer last longer and give you better service:

Drain washer immediately after washing. Rinse tub thoroughly. Remove agitator or suction cups and rinse.

Remove any soap curd or lint that may have remained in tub, agitator or suction cups with soft cloth or sponge.

Rolls and frame of wringer should be wiped dry. Release pressure on rolls when not in use. Saves the spring and the rubber.

Wipe connecting cord dry, coil and hang up carefully. Do not allow to kink and crack rubber insulation.

Leave cover off tub until all dampness has evaporated, to prevent mustiness.

Follow manufacturer's instructions concerning oiling and lubricating requirements. Consult dealer from whom you bought washer if in doubt.

If washer is stored outdoors, bring inside and let stand an hour before using in very cold weather. This gives grease in gear case a chance to soften and may prevent a burned-out motor.

Do not overload washer with too many pieces and do not use too much water. Follow manufacturer's directions.

Remove large buttons, buckles, etc., before running clothes through wringer. Otherwise you may break same or chew up wringer rolls.

Put a cover over your washer when not in use, if stored where dust can accumulate.

* * *

FREE BOOKLET ON APPLIANCE CARE yours for the asking. Published by Westinghouse, it tells you how to keep your household electric servants working at top efficiency. Come in for your free copy today. No obligation!

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
INCORPORATED

BUY U.S. WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Sarah Edwards and Susan Simms of Covington were guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Alan H. Gaines.

Mrs. Charles D. Smith and son are visiting Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. A. H. Gaines, and Mr. Gaines before leaving for Ft. McClellen, Ala., where she will join her husband, Capt. C. D. Smith, who has been stationed at Ft. Clellen for some time.

Mrs. Elwood Stephenson (nee Sammie Mangum) and young daughter, Sandra Lee, of Louisville are visiting relatives in Covington and Walton.

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Alister of Battle Creek, Mich., were visiting relatives in Walton and Verona the latter part of last week. Dr. Alister left for his home Sunday and Mrs. Alister remained for a longer visit with her mother, Mrs. B. B. Powers, and her sister, Mrs. Bess Conrad and other relatives.

Attorney Walter Vest, who is now an investigator with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, was home a short time the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Price of Georgetown, were the recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Vest.

Jo Ann Elliott is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. L. McMiller of near Falmouth.

Geraldine Elliott returned home Wednesday, after a pleasant visit at Richmond, with Miss Evelyn Coffman.

Miss Martha Wilson spent the weekend with friends in Maysville.

Miss Georgia Rouse spent Saturday and Sunday in Morrow, O., with her cousin, Miss George Elliston.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wilson and son spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Clemons and motored to Williamstown, on Sunday and spent the day with a cousin.

Miss Bonnie Joy Clemons spent last week with her grandmother, in Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Norvin Bickers and family of West Point visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Kelly and family over the weekend.

Miss Sue Mann spent the week end with relatives in New Castle, Indiana.

Sheriod Wright of Richwood, Herman Shenker and Berry Watson of Cincinnati called on C. L. Gaines and family, Sunday.

Sharon Graff is visiting relatives in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Fields and daughter of Covington visited his mother, Mrs. Dora Field, and family Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Mary Howe of Crittenden visited in Walton over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Benson and daughter called on her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Nicholson, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Powers and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Powers and friends spent the weekend with their mother, Mrs. W. R. Powers. Mrs. Clifford Powers and son remained for a longer visit.

Miss Thelma Howe visited friends in Cincinnati and Covington part of last week.

Mrs. Bluff W. Adams, Mrs. Kirtley D. Adams of Covington and Mrs. C. Presley Adams of Palm Springs, Calif., were the guests of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Julia A. Rouse, and daughter, Miss Georgia Rouse, Sunday.

Roy Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Presley Adams, is stationed at Anchorage, Alaska, and the other son, John, is with the American Embassy at Aukara, Turkey.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Busby and son Carl of Marimont, Ohio spent the weekend with Mrs. Busby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Adams of near Bracht, and her sisters, Mrs. Marvin Gaines, Mr. Gaines and Miss Sarah Willett Adams.

Mr. Alley, the hustling representative of the Wester Newspaper Union, was a pleasant visitor Wednesday evening at our office.

Mrs. Bettie Olds of Anchorage spent Friday and Saturday with Misses Elizabeth and Sallie Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Flynn had as their guests Saturday and Sunday her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rekers of Hamilton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stone spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. H. H. Summey, and Mr. Summey at Independence.

Miss Colleen Vallandingham has returned home after spending a week with her cousin, Mrs. Alton House, and Mr. House at Independence.

Miss Ruby Ballard of Covington is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Lena Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Lancaster and son Bobbie, accompanied by Mrs. Lancaster's brother, Robert Perry and wife of Covington enjoyed a delightful motor trip to Newark, Ohio, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Blaesy of Frankfort, Ind., spent the past week with Mr. Blaesy's mother, Mrs. B. A. Blaesy, and his sister Mrs. Edna B. Hamilton, at her beautiful home near Verona.

Michael Prusack is spending two weeks vacation with his parents in Salina, Penn.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marshall motored to Rising Sun, Ind., Saturday and decorated the graves of their loved ones and also visited friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marshall had as dinner guests Thursday evening, Dr. an dMrs. J. C. Rosebrook of Covington, and Harry Applebloot of Avondale, Ohio.

Miss Luke Gordon will arrive home Saturday to pass the summer months with her mother, Mrs. J. C. Gordon. Miss Gordon is a senior in the University of North Carolina, where she is majoring in Dramatic Art and English.

George G. Bedinger of Camp Gordon, Ga., arrived home Tuesday night to spend a few days furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bedinger of Richwood Road.

Mrs. Sarah C. Coper of Pittsburgh, Pa., spent last week end with her brother, B. F. Bedinger, and Mrs. Bedinger at their home on Richwood Road. Their sister, Mrs. Hattie B. Stevenson, who has spent the past two months with Mr. and Mrs. Bedinger, returned to Pittsburgh, Monday with Mrs. Cooper. A picnic lunch was served for them Sunday afternoon and the following relatives were present to bid them goodbye: Mr. and Mrs. John Bedinger, Rev. and Mrs. Everett Bedinger, Mrs. Allie Hughes, Mrs. Agnes Roberts and Tommie Guard.

Mrs. Charlie Poor of Covington spent Saturday with her father, J. A. Farris and family.

Mrs. T. O. Ballard spent Tuesday with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Albert of Northside, Cincinnati.

Miss Violena Norris of Fort Mitchell is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Farris and daughters.

Rose Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Johnson of Covington, is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Franks, while employed at Farris' Restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Northcutt W. B. Stallard and daughter, Miss Manell, were the holiday guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rouse, Mrs. Fannie Brittenhelm and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Rouse and sons.

Miss Helen Gillespie spent last Thursday and Friday with her aunt, Mrs. Eddie Gillespie of Williamstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Telfer of Dayton, Ohio were the guests of their aunt, Martha R. Wallace Friday night and Saturday. Other guests Saturday were C. A. Rouse of Huntington, W. Va., Mrs S. L. Maze and daughter, Sue Ann of Florence and Mrs. Pearl R. Johnson of Lexington. Mr. Rouse returned to his home on Sunday, after spending awhile with his daughter, Mrs. Maze, Mr. Maze and daughter.

Mrs. Bruce Franks and daughter, Miss Evabel, spent Sunday in Corinth, with Mrs. Franks' sister, Miss Emma Morgan.

Mrs. Edna Stamler spent Saturday with her sister, Mrs. Geo. of Covington and Dr. and Mrs. Dryer and family of Park Hills.

SUGAR CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Ellis and daughters of Bromley spent Decoration Day with Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton.

Mrs. Minnie Wallace of Cincinnati spent Sunday night with Mrs. Hannah Edwards and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ball and Mr. and Mrs. George Fessler and daughter of Latonia called on Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Grover Clifton and son entertained as their guests Sunday, Mrs. Mabel Clemons, Mrs. Rose Hamiln and George Compton of Hamilton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Elige Webster and children of Cleves, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miller and son of Dry Creek.

"Row, Row, Row Your Boat . . ."

Lucky is pretty Maxine Arlen to be living in Atlantic City, N. J., where the Boardwalk and Thoroughfare provides the perfect answer to gasoline rationing. Maxine rows to work daily, dons a skirt after tying up her rowboat, doffs it for the row home after her stenographic chores are completed.

Mrs. Alice Combs entertained her children from Muncie, Ind., over the weekend.

Miss Mary Lou Poland of Glencoe spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Viola Poland.

B. F. Sisson entertained in his home over the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Caldwell and children of Lawrenceburg, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grazell and son and Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mays of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Carson of Latonia called on Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wallick, Saturday.

"Aunt" Hannah Edwards attended the home-coming at Paint Lick Church, Sunday.

Folks will be glad to know that we received letters last week from our home boys, Dallas Wallick, Johnny Ellis, Richard and "Bill" Shelton, stating that they were OK.

GLENCOE R-1 NEWS

Rev. Mullens of Frankfort preached a trial sermon at Glencoe Christian Church, Sunday and was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spencer.

Mrs. Tom Ringo and daughter spent Wednesday and Thursday in Covington and Cincinnati.

Mrs. Pearl Boaz spent one day recently with Mrs. Dona Brashears.

George Waller spent Friday here with his wife and children.

Clay Groves called on Harry Ell on Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Arrasmith and daughter were Sunday guests of Paul Carver and family.

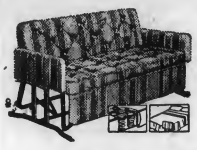
Tom Spencer purchased a horse from Robert Courtney, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wallace and children spent Sunday with Mr. Temp Courtney and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Powell of Cincinnati were weekend guests of Mrs. Callie Jones and son Ed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hoskins spent Saturday night and Sunday in the city visiting relatives.

Sorry to hear of Mrs. Jessie Duncan Tandy being operated on last week, but glad she is getting along nicely.



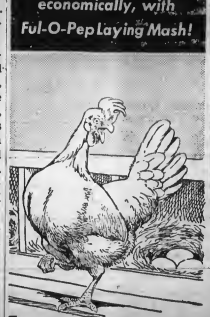
Mrs. Lula Waller and children called on Mr. and Mrs. Elfrie Henderson, Sunday evening.

ANSWERS TO MILITARY I. Q.

1. General George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff of the United States Army, is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute.
2. The commanding officer of a regiment is a colonel; the commanding officer of a batallion is a lieutenant colonel, and sometimes a major; a company commander is a captain.
3. The double barred chevron indicates the grade of corporal.
4. The armored tank was first used by the British at the Battle of the Somme in 1915.
5. Under a new ruling the name "peep" has been discarded. The "jeep" is the four-wheel drive quarter-ton truck.
6. The Corps of Engineers.
7. A ponton is a portable boat unit to support a floating bridge. Webster still uses "pontoon."
8. Gen. Andrew Jackson's victory at New Orleans January 8, 1815.
9. The bugler's reveille getting troops up at sunrise comes when the rooster is doing his loudest crowing.
10. The distinguished flying cross.

J. L. HAMILTON & SON
FUNERAL SERVICE
VERONA -:- KENTUCKY

La Rose Beauty Salon
400 Dixie Hi. Ph. Erl. 6252
$5.00 PERMANENT for $4.00
$4.00 PERMANENT for $3.50
PERMANENTS ___ $3.00 up
Children's Perm. $2 & $2.50



GLIDERS
BEAUTIFUL as well as COMFORTABLE
ALSO A COMPLETE LINE OF
Awnings, Hammocks, Porch and Lawn Furniture.
Covington Awning & Roofing Co.
3rd & SCOTT STS., COVINGTON Hiland 1735

We'll Show You HOW TO SAVE
Walton Perpetual Bldg. & Loan Assn.
DIXIE STATE BANK BLDG. WALTON, KY.
E. S. West, Clerk A. M. Edwards, Pres.
SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

IT'S NO SECRET, THAT DESPITE THEIR HIGH QUALITY
Boehmer's Wearmore Paints
are not expensive. They are a good investment, enhance the value of your property and preserve it against deterioration. For outside painting, use Boehmer's Wearmore House Paint for color and durability—it's weather-resistant. For shingle roofs and sidings, use Boehmer's Creosote Shingle Stain. Whether you paint inside or out, we have just the paint, floor enamel and varnish stain you need.
There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You,
Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.
THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.
114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212

Is YOUR SUBSCRIPTION Paid In Advance?
It Should Be, You Know!
WALTON ADVERTISER
PHONE 30

GET THOSE EGGS
economically, with Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS
$4.50 PER 100
DR. SALSBURY POULTRY REMEDIES
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

PUBLIC SALE!
In order to settle the estate of the late J. W. Carpenter, we will offer for sale to the highest bidder at the J. P. Powers home, located 1 mile North of Richwood, Ky., on U. S. Highway 25, on
SAT., JUNE 6th
11:00 A. M., EASTERN WAR TIME
The following: 6-room frame house, electric and water; side porch and front porch; cellar; 1¾ acres of good land, with good orchard; well and cistern; barn, 30x30, and other outbuildings; garden already planted. Possession immediately. Come and see this property—an ideal country home.
Personal Property—One 6-year-old horse, steel roan; one 4-year-old fresh Jersey cow; 17 Shoats, weigh 60 lbs.; 1 double set Work Harness; 2 leather Collars; 1 set Check Lines; one 20-Oliver Chill plow, and jointer; one 5-shovel plow; 1 Riding Cultivator; 1 Cutter plow; 1 Hillside plow; 1 Mowing Machine; 1 Hay Rake; 4 Tobacco Knives; 2 Spears; Beam Scales; Corn Sheller; 2 Pitchforks; 1 Sledge Hammer; 1 Grubbing Hoe; 2 Axes; 1 Log Chain; 1 50-gallon Oil Drum; 1 Long Handle Shovel; 1 Garden Rake; 1 Briar Scythe; 1 Croscut Saw; 2 Buck-saws and 1 hand-saw; 1 Nail Puller; 2 Crowbars; 2 Potato Diggers; 20-gallon Iron Kettle; 50 ft. ¾-in. Wire Cable; 3 Augers; Horse Yoke; Plow Clevices; 1 Hack Saw; odd Plow Shovels; 1 Doubletrees, and Singletrees; 1-horse Corn Planter; 1 Fence Stretcher; 1 Brace and Bit; 3 Drawing Knives; 1 Oil Brooder; 1 Sausage Mill; 1 Curtain Stretcher; 1 Fruit Press; 1 Wood Heater; 3-burner Oil Stove; 1 Stepladder; 1 Lard Press; 1 20-ft. Ladder; 1 Bath Tub; 4 Tables; 1 Antique Cupboard; 1 Scalding Box; 3 Bedsteads; 1 lot odd Chairs; 1 light oak Bedroom Suite; 2 Settees; 1 leather Davenport; 1 Iron Cot; 2 Writing Desks; 1 leather Rocker; 1 Antique Sideboard; 1 Library Table; 2 9x12 Axminster Rugs; 1 Antique walnut Bedstead, and other articles too numerous to mention.
— TERMS MADE KNOWN ON DAY OF SALE —
Lunch Served on Grounds.
J. G. CARPENTER,
ADMINISTRATOR OF THE JOHN W. CARPENTER ESTATE.
COL. A. F. WORTHINGTON, Auctioneer

KENTON COUNTY FARM NEWS

The "Warm" Vegetables
by John S. Gardner

Despite the season's lagging, by the calendar it is high time the "warm" vegetables were in. These are tomatoes, peppers, egg-plants, okra and lima beans.

The fertilizing for all should be about average, that is, with high grade complete fertilizer or with manure reinforced with superphosphate. In fact, these five show unmistakably, by low fruiting, when phosphorus is lacking.

TOMATOES — Doubtless, the early plants are set, but the remainder is timely now to start a pinch or two of Marglobe, Rutgers or Greater Baltimore for plants to set in cabbage-row gaps or to follow early greens or radishes to make first-class fruit with which to end the season. By the way, waning tomato plants may be made to take a new lease on life by side-dressing with sulphate of ammonia, two teaspoons spread over a two-foot square about the plant.

PEPPERS—The old-time favorite Ruby King is still good, but more shapely, better to use for "stuffing," is California Wonder.

EGGPLANTS—To ensure carrying eggplants to harvest, it is almost essential to spray with Bordeaux or with "yellow" copper oxide, to ward off the black flea-beetle and the blight. Black Beauty and New York Improved are both good varieties.

OKRA—To guarantee a perfect stand of okra, the seed should be pre-soaked and sown in pairs, the extra seedlings removed, and the favorite sorts are White and Green Velvet.

LIMA BEANS—Kentucky's dry atmosphere makes it difficult to grow well the fancy sort, Fordhook, but Burpee's Bush does passably. More reliable, however, are the small-seded Henderson Bush and the slightly larger Yopp's Bush. Of the large-seeded pole sorts, King of the Garden is the most dependable, but the smaller Yopp's Pole and Florida Speckled are more sure of yielding bountifully. It is of decided advantage to plant all lima beans with the "eye" down.

Make Plans Now to Store Wheat and Grains On Your Farm This Fall

Because of the lack of public storages, many Kentucky farmers are faced with the necessity of building bins on their farms this season.

A circular prepared by Prof. J. B. Kelley, head of the agricultural engineering department of the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics, stresses the importance of having grain as dry as possible when stored. Wheat, for instance, should have a moisture content of less than 14 per cent. This will mean that threshing or combining cannot be done on damp days.

Thorough cleaning and fumigating to destroy weevil and other insects will be necessary where old bins are used. New bins should be so constructed that they can be fumigated.

To save materials, most farmers will make bins in tobacco barns, stock barns, cribs or other buildings. Consideration should be given to the fact that wheat, rye and corn are heavy. This means there should be good footings and strong joists, girders and walls.

Rat proofing is advisable, although not required by the government, due to shortage of metals. Bins should be so located and constructed that the grain can be measured.

Copies of Prof. Kelley's circular which gives details on grain storage and bin construction, can be obtained from county agents or bywriting to the college at Lexington.

Surgical Sutures Supply Endangered by Sheep Disease

A shortage of surgical sutures may come from the "nodular worm" infesting the intestines of sheep, warns the animal pathology department of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. In a special communication, attention is called to the fact that sheep intestines are used for sutures and also for sausage casings, but that nodules formed in the wall of the intestine renders it useless. The worms may be removed from the intestines by phenothiazine, but not the nodules already formed. A program of prevention is the only answer.

Treat the ewes with Phenothiazine in July or August after the lambs are weaned. Treat the same ewes in the late fall or early winter, 30 to 60 days before lambing and again a week or ten days after they lamb. The ewes that have been treated and their lambs should go out on a pasture that has not been used as a sheep pasture for at least 12 months, preferably longer. Adjust farm practices so that there will be available each spring a clean pasture for the ewes and lambs. A clean pasture means a field that has had no sheep on it for 12 to 24 months. It may have been used as a pasture for other species of animals, a field from which hay was harvested, or a field that has been under cultivation and reseeded to grass.

Writes On Repair of Mowing Machines

To help farmers with their machinery problems, Prof. J. B. Kelley, head of the agricultural engineering department of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and circular dealing with the repair Home Economics, has written a and adjustment of mowing machines. Many mowing machines have been used for years and need repairing and adjusting, he says. Where machines are beyond repair, it is advised that they be sold for scrap, after the good parts have been removed for repairing other machines. Prof. Kelley's Circular, No. 375, "Mowing Machines, Repair and Adjustment," which gives practical information about fixing up mowing machines, can be had at county agent offices, or by writing to the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, Lexington.

In Calloway county, the milk plant reports the amount of milk received is double last year's.

In Harrison county, a few almost-blind ewes were found, suffering from a vitamin deficiency, according to the veterinarian.

10% OF INCOME IS OUR QUOTA IN WAR BONDS

NORRIS, BROCK CO.
Cincinnati Stock Yards
Sellers of
Cattle, Hogs and Sheep
—Live Wire and Progressive—
An organization second to none. We are strictly sellers on the best all around market in the country.
We work for our customers first, last, and all the time.
Reference: Ask the first man you meet.
Hope that you will eventually ship to us. Why not now?
—SERVICE THAT SATISFIES—

Grand Opening
SATURDAY SALE SATURDAY
FREE 10 BASKETS OF GROCERIES WILL BE GIVEN AWAY AT 4:30 AND 8:30, P. M. — TICKETS FOR EVERYONE — 10 FREE
SELF SERVICE STORE
Every Item Marked - Large Variety to Choose From SERVE YOURSELF & SAVE!
- Everyday Low Prices -

CORN—No. 2 can . . . 10c SUGAR—Pure Cane; lb. . . 7c

PEAS—No. 2 can	12½c	PEAS & CARROTS—No. 2 can	11½c
TOMATOES—No. 2 can	11½c	BAKING SODA—Arm & Hammer	11½c
PORK & BEANS—No. 2 can	12½c	BAKING POWDER—Clabber Girl, small	9c
APPLE SAUCE—No. 2 can	10c	10 lbs. TABYE SYRUP	59c
LIMA BEANS—No. 2 can	10c	KRAFT DINNER—box	10c
JELLO—3 boxes	17c	MILK—large can	8c
NAVY BEANS—5 lbs.	29c	PINTO BEANS—lb.	7½c
SALT—box	4c	SWEET PICKLES—qt. jar	25c

WHEATIES — box . . . 10c CORN FLAKES—11 oz. pkg. . 8c

CORN MEAL—10 lb. bag	29c	AMMONIA—Full Strength—quart	10c
CRACKERS—pound box	10c	ARGO STARCH—3 lb. box	20c
SANDWICH CAKES—pound	15c	SPIC & SPAN—package	23c
GRAPEFRUIT JUICE—46 oz.	20c	OCTAGON CLEANER—3 boxes	10c
ORANGE JUICE—46 oz.	26c	FLEECY WHITE Clothes Bleach—½-gal.	22c
PINEAPPLE—No. 2 can	25c	P. & G. SOAP—bar	5c
PALMOLIVE SOAP—4 bars	24c	JURGINS SOAP—4 bars	19c
COFFEE—3 pounds	59c	COCOA—2 lb. box	17c

SALAD DRESSING — quart . 29c Pure PRESERVES - asst.; 2 lb. jar 30c

Vegetables

POTATOES—U. S. No. 1, new, large, 10 lbs.	35c
GREEN BEANS—Tender, 3 lbs.	25c
FLORIDA ORANGES—large size, doz.	25c
BANANAS—pound	10c
HEAD LETTUCE—large size, 2 for	19c
CABBAGE—solid head, pound	4c
TOMATOES—ripe, pound	12½c
CORN—3 ears	10c

MEATS

ALL STEAKS—pound	38c
HAMBURGER—pound	25c
BOILING BEEF—pound	17c
SMOKED CALLIES—whole, pound	30c
BOLOGNA—piece	18c
FRANKS—Juicy, Plump, pound	23c
JOWL BACON—whole strip	18c
OLEO BUTTER—pound	17c

MODEL FOOD STORE
WE DELIVER 11 A. M. DAILY — C. W. CHIPMAN — PHONE WALTON 21 — Close 8 P. M. Except Saturday
WALTON - KENTUCKY

Ahoy!

Mary Ann Mercer, singing starlet of "Uncle Walter's Dog House" featured over WLW-NBC on Wednesdays at 8:30 p. m., E-WAR-T, by virtue of her popularity with the 13th. Coast Guard Artillery, has been named to the rank of Honorary Lieutenant Colonel.

A thrifty way to FEED for EGGS

The thrifty farmer gets high egg production at low cost per dozen by balancing his farm grains with Wayne 26% Mash Supplement. Wayne 26% supplies the proteins, vitamins and minerals lacking in grains, but necessary for hens to do their best.

WAYNE 26% MASH SUPPLEMENT — WAYNE 26% SUPPLEMENT

COLONIAL COAL & SUPPLY CO.
Phone DIxie 7626
DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER
Blocks - Ready Mixed Concrete - Roofing
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 P. M., EWT

Prepare For A Good Position
Salaries to Start — $18.00 to $35.00 Per Week.
National Defense and Private Industry Needs More Stenographers and Typists—
DAY & NIGHT CLASSES — Start Your Course at Once.
Curtis Commercial College
EDWARD C. BADER, Principal
Colonial 0583 7 West Pike St., Covington, Ky.

Special Price On GRASS SEEDS

U. S. No. 13 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu.	$6.50
Iowa No. 939 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu.	6.00
Wilson Black Soybeans, per bu.	$2.20
Virginia Brown Soybeans, per bu.	2.30
RED CLOVER, per bu.	$14.10
KOREAN, per 100 lbs.	8.25
TIMOTHY, per bu.	4.40

See Us for Prices Before Buying Your COAL!
Walton Feed Mills
PHONE 57 WALTON, KY.

The Following Prices Are Quoted from the
WILLIAMSTOWN STOCK YARDS
WILLIAMSTOWN — KENTUCKY
MAY 27, 1941

FAT HOGS	$13 to $14 per hundred
SOWS	$12 to $12.60 per hundred
STOCK HOGS	$13 to $16.00 per hundred
COWS & CALVES	$50.00 to $150.00
BULLS	$8 to $10 per hundred
VEAL CALVES	tops—$14.50
LAMBS	$12 to $15.60 per hundred
FAT SHEEP	$2.50 to $6.90 per hundred
BUCKS	$3 to $5 per hundred

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 7

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

FRIDAY: THE DAY OF SUFFERING (II)

LESSON TEXT—Luke 23:33-46; Mark 15:33, 34.

GOLDEN TEXT—But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.—Isaiah 53:5.

Dark and distressing days have often come upon the earth, but the darkest day of all history was that day when cruel men with wicked hearts laid unholy hands upon the Son of God and crucified Him. And yet, by the grace of God, it was a day of bright hope for the sinful sons of men, for on that day complete redemption was wrought out. The veil was rent and the new and living way into the holy presence of God (Heb. 10:20) was opened for you and for me.

The cross is popular as an ornament on a church or on a golden chain, but it is far more than that. It speaks of the black hour of the Saviour's cry, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" and it also tells us of the One who became sin for us that we might know the righteousness of God (II Cor. 5:21).

Three thoughts emerge from our lesson.

I. Crucifixion — Bringing Life (Luke 23:33, 34a).

"There they crucified him"—four words summing up the almost unbelievable thing that took place on Calvary. He died; but in that death life and immortality were brought to light (II Tim. 1:10).

As believers in Christ, we are interested in all that took place at the crucifixion, for we know that as we contemplate Him on the cross we can say with Luther, "For me, for me!" And yet it was not for us alone that He died—it was for all mankind. So we turn to our unconverted friends and direct them to "the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29). He was crucified that they might live eternally. He who had only a plea for the forgiveness of His persecutors (v. 34a) tenderly offers His forgiveness to men today.

II. Rejection—Bringing Acceptance (Luke 23:34b-43).

Those who appear around the cross afford an interesting and striking picture of humanity. There were the indifferent ones, those not interested at all in who was being crucified, but only eager to share in the division of His garments.

There stood the people "beholding"—perplexed, unable to believe that the miracle-working Christ was about to die. Verily, they were as sheep without a shepherd.

Then we see those who scoffed. They knew His claim to be the Son of God and hated Him for it. Now at last they had their chance to rail at Him, to ridicule and taunt. More ignorant and yet equally derisive, we see the mocking soldiers.

Even one of the thieves by His side "railed on him" (v. 39), ridiculing His claim. But here is the marvelous thing—the other thief, rough and wicked person that he was, saw in Christ a Saviour to whom he turned in faith, which was quickened and fully honored (vv. 42, 43).

The picture is thus complete. The Rejected One is "the way" to acceptance for all who believe (John 14:6). He said, "I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved" (John 10:9).

III. Darkness — Bringing Light (Luke 23-44, 45; Mark 15:33, 34).

Physical darkness fell over the scene at the cross, as though all nature would go into mourning, or sought to shield the suffering Saviour from the curious and hateful eyes of men. Then, too, it was God's sign that this was not the death of any ordinary man, even as it spoke of the judgment of those who had laid violent, sinful hands on His Son.

But deeper yet was the spiritual darkness into which Jesus went, as bearing the horrible load of the sins of the world He "was made sin for us" (II Cor. 5:21), and God the Father turned away from Him. We cannot fathom the full meaning of that hour, and we dare not attempt to explain it. We can only accept it and thank God that because He was made sin for us we may by faith be "made the righteousness of God in him."

Out of the darkness of that hour shone forth the one light which nothing in time or eternity can dim.

Route to Happiness

The truest and happiest of earthly lives, proven over and over again by hard actual experience, is that life which accepts and observes most which nearly St. Paul's great postulate, "Here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come." Rightfully pursued, it in no way interferes with the intensest enjoyment of our time here on earth. We have but to see that we do God's will in everything.

Classified Ads Get Results

BAPTIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

C. J. ALFORD, Pastor

Bible School 10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:15 a. m.
B. T. U. 7:30 p. m.
Evening Worship 8:30 p. m.
Prayer Meeting, Wed., 8:30 p. m.

METHODIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor

Sunday School 10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship 7:00 p. m.
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

GEO. CAROLAND, Pastor

Bible School 10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church

J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.
10:00 A. M. Bible School
11:00 A. M. Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. Evening Worship
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.
Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Union, Kentucky

Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister

Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.
10:00 a. m., Sunday School.
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship.
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.
Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scout

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

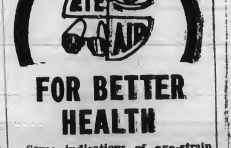
PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor

First and Third Sunday—
Sunday School 10:00 a. m.
Preaching Service 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHUECH

REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor



Sunday School 10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship 7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH
Verona, Ky.

REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor

Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Morning Worship 11 a. m.
Evening Service 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8 p. m.
All times given Central War time

Remember Batson
Invest
A Dime Out of Every Dollar in
U.S. War Bonds

FOR BETTER HEALTH

Some indications of eye-strain are: Squinting, frowning, straining to see, drowsiness after reading, headaches, nervousness, discomfort of eyes after reading, sensitiveness of eyes to light, wrinkles and crow's fee tareund eyes, imperfect vision, and have to hold reading matter very close or at arm's length.

We examine eyes and furnish glasses that will correct eye-strain.

Frank Riggs

FINISHING TOUCHES!

Unlike the average old homestead, this house needed the addition rather than the subtraction of decoration. Way back, when the Civil War was the major topic of conversation, the farmer who built this as his home neither had the time nor the inclination to add decorations.

New windows, shutters, a "stock" front entrance and a side porch of early Colonial design were added to modernize the exterior appearance. The finishing touches needed to change a plain, old house into an attractive, up-to-date home were the addition of several evergreens, shrubbery and a wood fence.

INDEPENDENCE R-1

If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will and it shall be done unto you.—St. John 15:7.

The many friends of Miss Re:a Richardson are glad to learn she is doing nicely after an appendicitis operation at Booth Hospital one day last week.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rector motored to Indiana, Sunday and spent the day with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rapp of Latonia called on Mr. and Mrs. Lybrian Richardson, Friday evening.

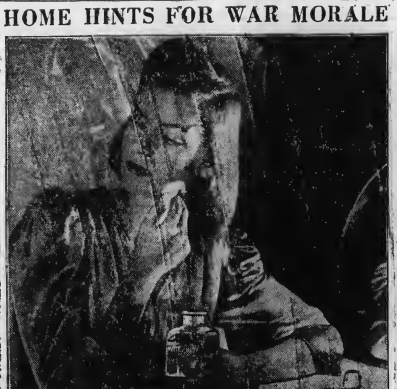
Mr. and Mrs. Pearlie Martin of Covington spent Decoration Day with their son, Edgar Martin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klein and Pat Lundwring motored to Augusta, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Marshall of Dry Ridge spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richardson.

Mrs. Lee Faulkner spent the weekend with relatives in Cynthiana.

Miss Ruth Keeney returned to her home Friday from the University of Kentucky, Lexington.



Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sweeney and Mr. and Mrs. George Binder, Jr. and children spent the day Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Binder.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gilligan of Batavia, Ohio visited Sunday with her father and brother, Charles Losey and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Hanna and son spent the weekend with his parents, W. E. Hanna.

Rev. Kidwell fulfilled his regular appointment at Staffordsburg, Sunday. We had a better attendance at Church School on Sunday and we hope to have better next Sunday. All come back and bring your neighbor with you —Everybody welcome!

HOME HINTS FOR WAR MORALE

Good grooming is necessary for good morale. Beauty treatments must be simplified but they should not be eliminated. Such basic products as good quality witch hazel will prove invaluable in the lives of busy women. A witch hazel facial that cleanses, freshens and tones up the skin, need take only one minute of a busy day.

WOMEN who have homes to run, cooking to do and children to take care of, are asking, "What can I do to help in the war effort?"

Perhaps they haven't the time that will allow them to play a part in one of the volunteer organizations. But there are important parts to be played by housewives. Morale is as important as munitions in winning a war—and morale begins at home.

Home morale includes maintaining a normal routine of family life, with particular care in keeping life as usual for the children. During war time, housewives should take care to have their medicine cabinets well-stocked. In addition to equipment such as cotton, bandaging, antiseptics and the like, every home should have on hand such products as a bottle of good quality witch hazel that has such a variety of uses—all important today. Not only can the housewife use good quality witch hazel for minor bumps and bruises, but she finds it a delightful soother of tired nerves, when applied on cotton pads to the eyes and wrists.

Good Grooming

Home morale includes the maintenance of the high standard of good grooming that Americans have achieved. Beauty treatments may necessarily be streamlined and simplified to take fewer of the busy hours, but they must not be neglected. An army marches off to battle with buttons shining, weapons polished, men neatly uniformed. The civilian army of workers and homemakers should look as well—for the sake of their morale.

Simplified beauty care means the use of basic, many-purpose products. A busy housewife can borrow the good quality witch hazel from her medicine chest and give herself an excellent facial. Witch hazel, applied with a piece of cotton, cleanses, freshens and tones up her skin all in one swift operation.

Remember Salvage

For active defense work at home, housewives can aid immensely by saving cans, newspapers, cartons, even the tin tops from milk bottles, used pots and pans, magazines and books, tin foil, scrap rubber, toothpaste tubes, clean rags and razor blades. The collection can be given to the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts or any other organization that is equipped to collect. A phone call to one of these organizations will bring a collection truck around, or call your local salvage committee. The point is to save the wealth of the United States—its resources and products—for the important job of winning the war. War materials can be made of waste materials. For example, one newspaper would make three 26 pounder shell cups, 1 popular magazine would make interior components of two mines, 60 cigarette cartons would make one outer shell container.

These efforts to salvage material and to maintain morale in your home may seem a small contribution, but multiply them by the millions of homes in America and you have a great saving of products and an unbeatable morale.

SPARTA

Mrs. Etha Henneberry of Chicago, Ill., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Record, Thursday.

Mrs. Lela Record of Memphis, Tenn., was a caller in Sparta on Monday. She has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Lester Ransdell in Owen County.

Mrs. Ona Green of Lexington, called on her brother, Charlie Brock and wife, Saturday.

Misses Este Riley and Katherine Belle Carver have accepted positions at Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati.

Thos. McCardwell and family of Falmouth spent the weekend here the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson.

The many friends of Mrs. H. Winn will regret to learn of her serious illness at her home here, and hope for her recovery.

Mrs. Golden Sanders, Miss Jean Riley and Billie Maynes of Cincinnati spent Sunday here the guests of Miss Marjorie Riley.

P. E. Stallard and wife of Indianapolis were weekend guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Stallard.

Misses Virginia Ann McCormack and Mary Angela Jacobs, who attend Villa Madonna Academy in Covington, spent the week end with home folks.

Mrs. Virginia Felton and son left Monday for her home in Key West, Fla. She has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Minnie Samuels, for some time.

Boo Roberts and wife of Indianapolis spent the weekend here with relatives.

Mrs. Norvin Record of Memphis visited her sister, Mrs. Lester Ransdell in Owen county and was a caller here Monday.

Miss Ester House, who holds a position in Cincinnati, spent several days the guest of her parents Less House and wife.

Mrs. Allen Grimes of Ohio spent several days here the guest of her uncle, Fred Grimes, and wife.

Our Boys In Camp—

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Riley received a letter from their son Giles who enlisted in the Air Corps is a flying cadet, that he had arrived at his destination and was feeling fine. He is stationed at Camp St. Ann, Calif.

Claud Eckler and wife received word from their son, James, that he has been transferred from Texas to South Carolina.

Mrs. George Noel received a letter from her son, Bobby Carver, who is stationed at Camp Beauregard, La., that he likes army life and is now chauffeur for an army officer.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson received news from their son, Robert, who is at Randolph Field, Texas, that he is well and enjoying life with Uncle Sam.

Letter from Lt. McCormack

The following letter was received by Mrs. Mary McCormack of Sparta from her son, Lt. Geo. W. McCormack of Camp Beauregueard, La.:

Dear Mom—

Today was my lucky day, Mom, listen to this: I was appointed First Battalian Adjutant. Now I know you don't know what this is but I'll try to tell you. In the first place I represent the Battalion Commander, Colonel Perwlin. I have an office in the Battalion Headquarters. The good part about it is the job has to be for a First Lieutenant, which means as soon as my time is up (6 months) I'll get my promotion. I don't know how came them to select me for the place, but I know I'm glad someone did.

With much love,
Your son,
Geo. W. McCormack.

FOLSOM

Truly my soul waiteth upon God from him cometh my salvation.—Psalm 62:1.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beach spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ashcraft and went to the convention Sunday afternoon at Jonesville.

Mrs. Minnie Isaacs entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Jones and Lin Jones, Jep Osborh and Bob and Elizabeth Osborne and Imogene Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hall of Covington were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beach of Covington were visiting their parents and relatives in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Salyers spent Saturday with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beach. Afternoon callers were Mrs. Edward Dowell, Mrs. Al Crouch, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Crouch and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Hutton and daughter and Jim Crouch.

Mrs. Jim Price spent Monday evening with Mrs. Dan Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Broadus Beach were visiting their parents and relatives in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Pettit entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pettit and children, Mr and Mrs. Ottis Pettit and children and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Doud.

Miss Della Pough spent Sunday with Miss Marjorie Jump.

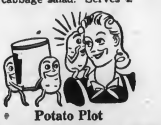
Dempsey Beach spent Sunday with Ray Hutton.

Ray Hutton spent Saturday nite with Dempsey Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beach were visiting their parents and relatives in this community.

Cooks Council

By JEAN MERRITT
Heinz Home Institute



For Nutrition Plus

When you begin to plot a food schedule for the week, to include all the minimum daily requirements recommended for nouriahing adult eaters, you will soon find there are several short cuts to achieving the total allotments of vitamins and minerals your family needs One of the most satisfactory tricks is to combine several nutritionally rich foods in a single dish In this way you will soon have each meal well on the plus side of the nutritional scale. Ready-to-serve oven-baked beans for instance, which are important for their growth and repair properties, may be combined with vitamin-B-rich round steak in these Ground Meat Muffins to make a doubly nutritious dish.

Ground Meat Muffins with Oven-Baked Beans

Combine—
1 lb. ground round steak
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup tomato ketchup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.
Mix thoroughly. Divide into eight portions. Grease muffin tins and line with meat mixture, then fill center with—
1 medium (18-oz.) can oven-baked beans, Boston style.
Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 20 minutes. Serve two per person with crisp cabbage salad. Serves 4.

Potato Plot

If you can whip up a little family interest, while you are expanding the daily diet to include all the foods needed for body growth and repair, you will find their co-operation a big help. One of the simplest ways to do this is to serve foods attractively. Reduce the whole matter to a routine of vitamins and minerals and you will loose the family interest in a hurry But make it extra good food, served with a few flourishes, and they will be solid behind your body-building project. For instance, instead of serving plain boiled potatoes for supper tonight, try toning them up a trifle with a fine, creamy mushroom sauce. It will not add to your kitchen duties if you use ready-to-serve cream of mushroom soup in a sauce this way:

Creamed Potatoes with Mushrooms

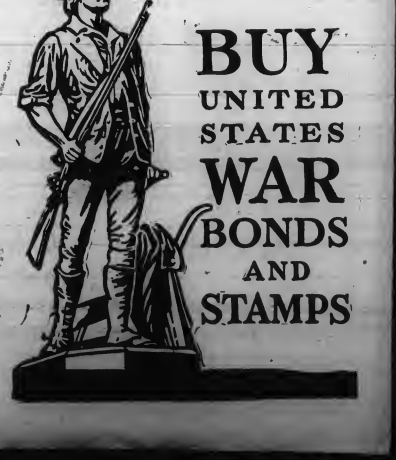
Peel and dice—
4 large potatoes
and cook in salted boiling water until tender. Drain. Add—
1 medium can (2 cups) cream of mushroom soup.
Combine thoroughly, heat and serve. Serves 4-6.

Extra Vitamin Value

When you begin looking for combinations that are doubly nutritious remember the recipes in your party file. There you will find many dishes, reserved generally for company service, that have just the extra vitamin value you are seeking Party fare is nearly always richer than the food you serve your family, and is likely to include a wider variety of nutritious ingredients For instance, this Chicken and Mushroom Curry with Rice, which makes a perfect luncheon party dish, also has more of the vital food elements than you are apt to find in an ordinary main course recipe The combination of chicken, creamy mushroom soup, rice, and broccoli puts this dish well on the plus side for both vitamins and minerals:

Chicken and Mushroom Curry with Rice

Combine and heat thoroughly—
1 madium can (2 cups) cream of mushroom soup
1½ cups cooked rice
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 cup diced cooked chicken
Serve hot over hot cooked fresh or frozen—
Broccoli.
Serves 4-6.



Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day
★ ★ ★
Let's Double Our Quota

Your Eyes Optometrist

Are You Irritable — Nervous?
Perhaps your eyes are the cause. An examination may reveal it.

JOS. B. SCHNIPPERING
Optometrist and Optician
(Formerly with F. Pieper)
5 Pike Street, Covington
Phone HElock 0700

DEAD STOCK REMOVED
SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS
CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887
REVERSE PHONE CHARGE
Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.
LOCKLAND OHIO

This Week on The Home Front

Rent ceilings ordered.
ODT appeals to farmers.
OPA warns meat men.
Rug manufacturers cautioned.
Auto Salvage looking up.
WPB cracks down on scrap owner.
Kiddies to "get in scrap."
Gas ration violators indicted.
Sporting arms ban eased.
Consumer Division visits Kentucky.
Army gets "first helping" of salmon.

—o—

The battle lines of the nation's two-front war—the fighting front and the home front—are being more closely drawn every day.

While military leaders calculate the possibility of opening a second fighting front in Europe, the three main sectors on the Home Front are more and more active.

The past week brought new proof that America is growing leaner and harder in the struggle on all fronts and sectors. On the economic flank of the home front, the attack against inflation becomes fiercer with the beginning of rent control in 20 populous defense rental areas.

More than 1,900,000 retail merchants are working to comply with the new General Maximum Price Regulation, which became effective for the retail trade on May 18.

The War Production Board, streamlining its system of priorities and allocations, continues to throw vaster amounts of materials of war into the battle of production beneath the factory roofs. This is the mobilization of materials and plant facilities for victory output.

—o—

The week saw the opening of the home front struggle on a new sector when the War Manpower Commission began its campaign for the complete mobilization of the nation's manpower.

To win the war, we are already moving to raise a possible fighting force of 8,000,000 soldiers, sailors and marines. In addition, it is estimated that a labor force of 20,000,000 men and women and an agricultural force of 12,000,000 will be needed. Here, then are three gigantic "armies" that must be recruited — the military army, and the two home front armies.

The War Manpower Commission has been casting about for recruits for these home front armies. It is estimated that between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 will come from suspended civilian industries; 500,000 to 600,000 from the farms; 400,000 from professions; 1,500,000 from the temporarily unemployed, and 2,000,000 from the home.

If you fall into any of these three groups and want to do your part, get in touch with the nearest office of the U. S. Employment Service, and see if they have a war job which you fit. If you have the aptitude but lack the necessary training, there are 2,400 vocational schools and 10,000 public school shops throughout the nation which offer technical courses. Or, you may be able to get a job in one of the 3,195 factories providing "in-plant" training for their employees, teaching them while they work.

The Manpower Commission is devising ways and means to apply the first rule of total war: not to waste manpower by putting square pegs into round holes.

—o—

Rent ceilings which push back rents in 20 of the nation's designated defense rental areas as far back as levels of January, April, and July, 1941, went into effect Monday. In Ohio, the rent ceiling order covers Akron, Cleveland, Canton, Ravenna and Youngstown-Warren areas, where newly-appointed rent directors are now in charge. Defense rental areas are spreading. With 19 additional area designations during the past week, including Chillicothe and Disney, Ohio, the number is now up to 342, populated by 86 of the nation's 131,000,000 people.

—o—

The Office of Defense Transportation and the Department of Agriculture are appealing to farmers to co-operate in a comprehensive program for conservation by more efficient use of farm trucks and automobiles. This is to save rubber and repair parts which are scarce. The two government agencies recommend that farmers not only eliminate unnecessary driving, but also form transportation pools both for hauling their produce to market, but also for transporting supplies back to the farm. ODT is asking city drivers, truck and delivery organizations to do essentially the same thing.

—o—

The number of special orders, interpretations and warnings issued by OPA during the last week indicate that in certain lines of products, manufacturers and dealers are trying to beat price control. Administrator Leon Henderson had to caution the nation's meat industry against manipulation of trade differentials of various kinds to evade the General Maximum Price Regulation. Mr. Henderson threatened sellers, particularly packers of beef and veal with a system of fixed differentials and a revision of the price level downward to correct such practices.

—o—

He also warns the meat men not to try to get out from under the price ceilings. "Ignorance, professed or actual, will not be accepted as an excuse," Mr. Henderson asserted.

—o—

OPA likewise warned distributors of floor rugs that refusing to accept orders for 9x12 rugs and offering slightly different sizes was an evasion of the price regulation on floor coverings. He told distributors to stick by their low basis key sizes.

—o—

The Bureau of Industrial Conservation's Auto Graveyard section is getting results. During April, it salvaged 350,000 tons of this jalopy scrap, which is 200,000 tons more than the 1941 monthly average.

—o—

Allan J. Dick, farmer scrap machinery collector near Little London, Ohio, felt the determination of the BIC to move scrap into war production. After more than two months of oppsition to BIC, the War Production Board issued a requisition and sent a U. S. Marshal down to his place. His 300 tons is being trucked away this week to the mills in Mansfield.

—o—

Now that school is out, the boys and girls and their juvenile organizations may join the great nation-wide program of salvage. The youngsters can "get in the scrap" by collecting old rubber, tin, steel, copper, paper and rags.

—o—

Two South Carolina gasoline dealers are under criminal indictment for violating gas rationing regulations. The indictment, first of its kind, charges the two service station men with selling gasoline without asking for a look at the purchaser's ration card.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION PAID?

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 75-millimeter gun is a divisional weapon used by the Artillery as an anti-tank gun. It has been replaced to some extent by the more modern "105", known as the heaviest of divisional weapons. The 75-mm gun costs $12,000 and has been converted by our Ordnance into a "blaster" twice as efficient as in the first World War.

This gun gets maximum power for minimum weight and cost, and the American people are providing the finance through the purchase of War Bonds. If you do your share and invest 10 per cent of your income in War Bonds, adequate supply of this efficient gun can be assured our fighting forces. Buy War Bonds every pay day. U. S. Treasury Department

TIRES!
MUST BE SAVED
Align Those Wheels and Save Time and Money
COlonial 0670
R. MICHELS Welding Co.
722 Washington St., Covington

A dime out of every dollar we earn
IS OUR QUOTA for VICTORY with U. S. WAR BONDS

Official U. S. Treasury
KENTUCKY WAR BOND QUOTAS FOR JUNE

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1.—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, today made known June War Bond Quotas for the 3,070 counties in the nation to all State and County War Savings Staffs.

The June quota for the State of Kentucky is $7,473,700.

The county quotas, based upon a substantial increase over May quotas, are expected to reach ten per cent of income when the nation goes on a billion-dollar-a-month War Bond basis in July to help meet the war cost. "Everybody, every pay day, ten per cent," is the battle cry throughout the country. You can buy War Bonds at your Bank, Building & Loan Association, Post Office and at many department stores.

Quotas by counties are:

Adair, $8,200; Allen, $6,800; Anderson, $17,800.
Ballard, $8,000; Barren, $28,800; Bath, $5,000; Bell, $58,200; Boone, $15,900; Bourbon, $38,000; Boyd, $132,900; Boyle, $53,800; Bracken, $15,700; Breathitt, $10,500; Breckinridge, $21,100; Bullitt, $11,500; Butler, $6,300.
Caldwell, $15,200; Calloway, $20,800; Campbell, $312,000; Carlisle, $7,400; Carroll, $11,700; Carter, $11,200; Casey, $8,800; Christian, $101,300; Clark, $38,600; Clay, $10,500; Clinton, $4,600; Crittenden, $12,900; Cumberland, $5,300.
Daviess, $126,500.
Edmonson, $5,000; Elliott, $3,800; Estill, $10,700.
Fayette, $335,900; Fleming, $16,400; Floyd, $23,300; Franklin, $115,100; Fulton, $43,200.
Gallatin, $6,500; Garrard, $18,600; Grant, $10,500; Graves, $43,400; Grayson, $11,600; Green, $6,900; Greenup, $22,700.
Hancock, $10,400; Hardin, $65,700; Harlan, $114,000; Harrison, $40,500; Hart, $22,800; Henderson, $68,500; Henry, $19,500; Hickman, $10,400; Hopkins, $62,500.
Jackson, $7,200; Jefferson, $3,528,500; Jessamine, $20,900; Johnson, $11,600.
Kenton. $409,100; Knott, $8,800; Knox, $13,700.
Larue, $22,500; Laurel. $11,300; Lawrence, $12,700; Lee, $9,100; Leslie, $6,600; Letcher, $24,000; Lewis, $15,700; Lincoln, $13,800; Livingston, $4,100; Logan, $23,100; Lyon, $8,700.
McCracken, $149,400; McCreary, $7,200; McLean, $10,200; Madison, $55,400; Magoffin, $7,700; Marion, $24,600; Marshall, $43,900; Martin, $4,900; Mason, $58,600; Meade, $13,100; Menifee, $2,500; Mercer, $22,000; Metcalfe, $4,700; Monroe, $6,100; Montgomery, $34,000; Morgan, $7,400; Muhlenberg, $42,500.
Nelson, $28,000; Nicholas, $11,800.
Ohio, $14,500; Oldham, $10,100; Owen, $12,700; Owsley, $3,900.
Pendleton, $17,100; Perry, $27,200; Pike, $49,900; Powell, $3,300; Pulaski, $29,800.
Robertson, $2,400; Rockcastle, $15,600; Rowan, $8,200; Russell, $6,000.
Scott, $59,400; Shelby, $38,200; Simpson, $14,900; Spencer, $6,100.
Taylor, $8,500; Todd, $8,700; Trigg, $5,700; Trimble, $7,100.
Union, $21,100.
Warren, $85,100; Washington, $20,500; Wayne, $7,600; Webster, $11,500; Whitley, $45,300; Wolfe, $4,400; Woodford, $30,300.

U. S. Treasury Department

WITH THE REDS

On Friday, June 5, the Boston Braves, the current sensations of the National League, will meet the Cincinnati Reds in a doubleheader at Crosley Field. A single game Saturday, which will be the occasion for the first knothole day of the season, another doubleheader Sunday, and a single game Monday will close the hostilities between these clubs. Monday, June 8, will be Safety Patrol Day.

On Tuesday, June 9, the New York Giants will invade Crosley Field for a ladies' day game, to be followed by a night game on the next night, Wednesday, June 10. An open date will be followed by another night game on Friday, June 12, this one against the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Dodgers also will play here Saturday afternoon, June 13, and will close with a doubleheader Sunday, June 14.

That week, in which the Reds will battle the Braves, Giants, and Dodgers in succession will be a big one for the Reds, and will present their greatest opportunity to do some climbing in the pennant race. Inasmuch as the Braves and Dodgers have been the top clubs of the league, and the Giants have been a particular nemesis to the Reds, it looks like the Reds have their work cut out for them.

The Reds are in a good position to face the toughest of opposition for their pitching staff has straightened itself out, and some of the other boys are playing up to their usual standard. These pitchers are gunning for the New York Giants, for it was that club that mauled them around so completely in New York a short time ago. The hurlers won't forget what happened, and there's only one thing for them to do—get even.

Tickets for all of the games the Reds will play at home for the remainder of the season are now on sale at the downtown ticket office at 307 Vine Street, Cincinnati. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

INSURE YOUR HOME AGAINST HITLER!

Dr Seuss

Buy WAR SAVINGS BONDS & STAMPS

U. S. Treasury Department

CONCORD

"Serve the Lord with gladness."—Psalm 100:2.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rex and son of Ludlow were the weekend guests of their parents here.

Tobacco setting is the order of the day.

Mrs. Hannah Chapman is improving after having broken a small bone in her ankle last week.

Ernest Hughes and sister, Elva and Mrs. Ed Brown were calling at Ross Chapman's, Saturday afternoon; also were at the cemetery at Concord.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Struve and little son of Covington and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hughes spent Sunday at D. R. Chapman's.

Mr. and Mrs. Cash Martin and little son went to Cincinnati over the weekend and attended the baseball game at Crosley Field.

The Sunbeams met at the church Thursday afternoon. The ones who attended enjoyed the program. The absent are always missed.

The W. M. U. will meet with Mrs. Laura Beach the second Sunday in June. All members are urged to attend. Any visitors are welcome.

This community was saddened to hear of the death of Cloyd Waller at Verona, Saturday afternoon. He has had heart trouble for some time. His family have our sympathy.

Sunday School each Sunday morning. All come out that can. Our crowd Sunday was small.

Two Crittenden county 4-H'ers have been giving first aid demonstrations in several communities.

Our Classified Ads Get Results—

STRAIGHT FROM NEW YORK

AMERICAN GINGHAMS
For suburban and country life there is nothing as fresh and right as tubable gingham such as this charming New York creation. Clean cut, colorful, fashioned of brown and white Anderson plaid, it boasts an easy-swinging, bias cut skirt with front and back kick pleats and softly tailored top.

NAVY OFFERS MANY OPPORTUNITIES....

Men who enlist in the U. S. Navy and the Naval Reserve not only have a chance to travel and see something of the world, but in addition, are given every opportunity to learn a useful trade.

The Navy Service Schools are available to men who have completed their recruit training and have been selected from applicants who aspire to the Navy ratings of Electrician's Mate, Fire Controlman, Gunner's Mate, Torpedoman, Aviation Ordanceman, Aviation Radioman, Radioman, Pharmacist's Mate, Signalman, Quartermaster, Yoeman, Storekeeper, Machinist's Mate, Shipfitter, Metalsmith, Boilermaker, Molder, Carpenter's Mate, and Patternmaker. All naval training stations send men to these schools.

The Courses of instruction are short but comprehensive. They are so planned as to give each student the foundation on which the career of a finished artisan can be built. The Graduate's training is continued and rounded out by practical experience on board a vessel of the fleet where the Navy develops its skilled personnel.

Graduates from these schools are constantly needed in the Navy to fill vacancies left by men who have been promoted or have completed their naval service. Since graduates are expected to fill petty officer ratings in the Navy, qualities of ambition, education and character from which leadership can be developed are required of applicants for these schools.

A Graduate, who perseveres in his ambition to become a petty officer in the Navy, obeys regulations, keeps his record clear, and puts forth the proper effort, is sure to be successful.

If these things appeal to you as a career, call at the Navy Recruiting Station, Post Office Bldg. 7th & Scott Streets, Covington, Ky. You will be given the fullest information and all questions gladly answered.

Castor bean growing, now that the oil is needed for war purposes is again coming forward in Hopkins county.

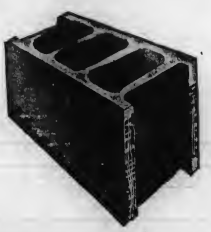
As the big farm event of the year, Letcher county held a "Farmers' Round-Up" attended by 500 people.

In Morgan county, "an increasing number of farmers are selling whole milk and cream," reports County Agent Yandal Wrather.

Our Classified Ads Get Results—

Our Job Is to Save Dollars
Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day

SCHOOL DAYS — By DWIG



FARMERS...
Make every market-day BOND DAY!

For our fighting men, for our country's future and for freedom we must meet and beat our county War Bond quota and keep on doing it.

Pick up your War Bonds and Stamps on your second stop in town... right after you've sold your eggs, milk, poultry, stock or grain. No investment is too small and no investment is too large... the important thing is to buy every time you sell!

U. S. Treasury Department

For Your Protection
THE BLOCK WITH FULL DRESSED TOP

Faces, Edges, Corners, Have Beauty Of Cut Stone
Many of our 4x8x16" Block are being used to build Milk Houses and many other buildings on the farm. Buildings from these blocks are permanent and economical construction.
—See Us for Further Information—
COLONIAL COAL and SUPPLY CO.
Phone Dixie 7626
DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER, KY.

. Ceiling Prices .

Did Not Effect Our Regular Prices
Because They Are And Always
Were Way Under The Ceiling Price.

We Sell Better Shoes For Less and Prove It

Every Pair Guaranteed Perfect!

What We Say It Is—IT IS!

Men's - Boys' Second Floor

Ladies' - Girls' First Floor

WE FIT THE HARD TO FIT !

QUALITY SAMPLE SHOES

627 MADISON AVE., COVINGTON, KY.

NEW JAMES THEATRE

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m. —Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1942
Jan Withers in
"SMALL TOWN DEB"
Shows: 7:30 & 9:15 — Adm. 11c

SATURDAY, JUNE 6, 1942
Stan Laurel - Oliver Hardy in
"GREAT GUNS"
Shows: 7:30 & 9:15 — Adm. 11c

SUNDAY, JUNE 7, 1942
"HELLZAPOPPIN"
Starring Olsen & Johnson

MONDAY, JUNE 8, 1942
Lloyd Nolan in
"DRESSED TO KILL"

TUES. & WED., JUNE 9-10, 1942
DOUBLE FEATURE
Mr. District Attorney
In the Carter Case
and
Target For Tonight

THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1942
George Montgomery in
"RIDERS OF THE PURPLE SAGE"

VERONA NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brewster and family had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Walter McClure and children of Erlanger, and Miss Erma Banford of Cincinnati.

William Whitson and wife of Detroit spent the weekend here with relatives.

Mrs. Cecil Thorpe has been spending a few days with her brother and caring for him.

Edgar McClure and son entertained for Sunday dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McClure and children, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brewster and daughter and Miss Erma Banford.

The community sympathizes with the Waller family in the loss of their brother, Cloyd "Mike" Waller.

Rev. and Mrs. A. K. Johnson and Mrs. A. C. Roberts took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hunt and son, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brewster, and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Brewster entertained for dinner Decoration Day, the following: Henry Edmondson, Bob Edmondson of Louisville; Edgar McClure and son Eldon of Verona; Mr. and Mrs. Walter McClure and children of Erlanger, and Miss Erma Banford of Cincinnati.

Farmers are busy cutting hay, planting corn and setting tobacco.

Mrs. Nannie Hinds and daughter, Miss Arrelda Hinds, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Noel took dinner Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ransom.

The Sunbeams meet at the church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brewster entertained Sunday with a family dinner, Mrs. Laurel Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Miller and children, Blanche Turner and a friend of Covington.

UNION
Gallatin County

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Davis were at Warsaw, Saturday.

Mrs. Alice McClure of Cincinnati is the guest of Miss Emma Kemper.

Mr. and Mrs. George Knox and mother, Mrs. Emma Kemper, of Boone County called on Miss Emma Kemper, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones and daughter Bonnie Jean passed Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Jack Howell and family above Warsaw.

Mrs. Albert Lusby and family of Madison, Ind., called on Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Devore, Decoration Day.

F. M. Bradney is suffering from a broken rib, by falling across his horse while attempting to mount from a stump in the pasture.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Wilson and two sons of Grant County spent a day recently with her sister, Mrs. F. M. Bradney and Mr. Bradney. Alvin, who is 1st Pvt. at Camp Shelby, Miss., returned to camp Saturday night after a week's visit with his parents.

We sympathize with Mrs. Fred Coomer and family who were called to the death-bed of her brother, Silas Smith of Burdisville, last Saturday. Mr. Smith had been County Clerk of Cumberland County for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Griffin of Madison, Ind. were at their old home here recently and called on a former teacher, Mrs. L. S. Kemper, and other old friends and neighbors. This was their first visit to Kentucky for 27 years. Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Griffin will be remembered as the Misses Florence and Dorothy Walters.

SOUTH FORK NEWS

Mrs. Lucille Rider and children of Patriot, spent Saturday night with her brother, D. O. Dean, wife and daughter.

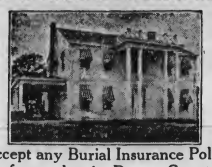
Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler and niece Martha Lee Noell called on Mr. and Mrs. John Lamn and daughter Blanche, Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Rider and son called on Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rider and children, Sunday night.

Mrs. Lula Sisson and little grandson Ronald Ray Noell and Mrs. Lucy Dean were Tuesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon called on Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brashear, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler and Martha Lee Noell were visitors in Covington, Friday afternoon.



Mrs. Lucy Dean, Mrs. Helen Densler and Martha Lee Noell called on Mrs. Fannie Rider, on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lamn and daughter Blanche spent Wednesday with Mr. Lamn's sister, Mrs. Febba Jump and family.

Mrs. Snowdie Noell and daughter and Hazel Hood were visitors in Covington, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and children and Mrs. Lula Sisson called on Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler, Sunday night and made ice cream.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION TO THE ADVERTISER PAID IN ADVANCE?

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.

CHAMBERS & GRUBBS
Funeral Directors WALTON
Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation
Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.
DIXIE STATE BANK
WALTON, KENTUCKY
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

CHASE DRY CLEANERS

34 EAST 7th ST. HE 2126 COVINGTON, KY.
Opposite Doctors Building 6 HOUR SERVICE

SUITS - OVERCOATS
PLAIN DRESSES
PLAIN LADIES COATS
Dry Cleaned and Pressed

75c

100% UNION SHOP

BUY UNITED STATES WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

The Robards community, Henderson county, contributed more than 8,000 pounds of scrap metal during a two-day collection.

Classified ADS

Any Number Insertions

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

FOR SALE—18 head stock cattle, heifers and bulls. Ottis Readnour, Walton. tf27

FOR SALE—6 O. I. C. gilts, ready to pig in July or August. Weigh around 175 and 200 lbs. each. 9 ewes and lambs. M. J. Worthington, Piner, Ky. 2t31x

HOUSE FOR RENT—3 rooms on Walton-Verona Road, 2 miles from Walton. Call Dixie 7554-W. tf31

FOR SALE—Baby chicks. Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

LOST — Black and tan Hound, white ring around neck, wearing chain callor bearing name of D. B. Casey. If found notify James Vest, Walton. 1t31

FOR SALE—Hybrid seed corn, U. S. No. 13, while it lasts, $6.75 per bushel. Walton & Readnour Walton. tf27

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

FOR SALE — Seed Potatoes, late variety. Clayton Percival. 1t30

FOR SALE — New 2-horse Sled; Hay bed; Wagon bed. Call or see A. J. Harrell, Hands Road, off 3-L Highway. Phone Independence 6687. 2t30

FOR SALE—A good sound work mare Mule, 15½ hands high, 5 years old, for $125.00. E. S. Rader, Stephenson Mill Road, Walton, Ky. 2t30*

FOR SALE—Or Trade for Blue Grass hill land—lands in Florida and in New Mexico. Write to Spears Havely, General Delivery, Richmond, Virginia. 2t30*

FOR SALE—2-story frame house, barn, chicken houses, good well and cistern, with 5 acres land, on Nicholson Pike, ½-mile from Dixie Highway. Known as Mrs. L. A. Simpson's home. A. Felrock, 448 Elm St., Ludlow, Ky. 2t30*

NOW is the time to buy your winter coal. See Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

MAN WANTED for Rawleigh Route of 800 families. Write today. Rawleigh's, Dept. KYF-258-SA, Freeport, Ill. 1t31

WANTED—Farm hand; one who can milk. Mattie Griffith, R-1, Walton. Phone 656. 2t31

BUY your winter coal now! Walton & Readnour, Walton Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE—Hogs, 6 shoats, wght. 70 lbs. each; 18 shoats wght. about 40 lbs. each; O. I. C. reg. boar, 1 year old; 2-horse Cultivator, used one season. W. D. Johnson, Green Road, Walton. Phone Indep. 6721. 2t31x

WAIT until the Rawleigh man comes to your home in South Kenton County, or write or telephone your order direct. Wm. H. Florence, R-1, Florence, Ky. Phone Burlington 221. 1t31x

LIBERAL REWARD for return of man's English made bicycle, name (Comrade); two gold wrist watches, and other jewelry; Airguide field glasses; rare old coins. Ask for particulars or give information to Box 67, Walton, Ky. tf31

NOTICE

I will apply for renewal of my Retail Package Liquor license, and Retail Beer license, for the year July 1, 1942, through June 30, 1943. My place of business is located on South Main Street, Walton, Ky.
2t31 —H. R. DIXON.

"Feed a pig for war-victory" say Taylor county farmers, who are feeding 200 pigs to be sold and the money investe din war bonds.

New Protection for your CHICKS

"Wayne I-Q (Ingredient Quality)" is a short way to describe the sensational new feeding protection offered by the Wayne Triple Test System. Here is your safeguard against hidden nutritional deficiencies not apparent on the analysis tag.

WAYNE CHICK STARTER

IT PAYS TO FEED WAYNE

COLONIAL COAL & SUPPLY CO.

Phone Dixie 7626
DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER
Blocks - Ready Mixed Concrete - Roofing

"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 P. M., EWT

SAVE YOUR CAR and MONEY RIDE A BIKE

We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.

LIBERAL TERMS
DIXIE CYCLE SHOP
16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

BE SAFE - BUY NOW
SPECIAL This Week Only $45

Dixie Bargain House
Better Furniture--Less Money
221 Pike St., Cov. CO 1750

The War isn't fought in Fox Holes alone

IT'S fought in the mind. It's fought with a will to win. It's fought with a belief in a cause worth dying for.

That will, that belief, is known as morale.

Our enemies have had years of indoctrination. They have been conditioned to believe themselves part of a "new order" . . . to which the contribution of their lives is small but all-important. They believe themselves cogs in a vast machine.

Our soldiers do not fight that way—because they do not live that way. Theirs is the belief in the sancity of the individual.

To maintain their morale in the American way, the USO has devoted all its time and energy since practically the beginning of conscription.

It has done this by staffing and maintaining club houses near all training camps and in outlying possessions of the United States.

Today its work is far greater than ever, its need for funds to carry on more than doubled.

The USO needs your help now more than it has ever needed it before.

High government and military officials — including General MacArthur — have praised the work done by the USO and recognized its importance in the war effort.

But it needs recognition from you—recognition in the way of dollars and cents. For the six national agencies which comprise the USO are publicly supported.

Now above all times, to make your dollars count, give to the USO!

* * *

Send your contributions to your local USO Committee — Powers Conrad and Lula Huey — or to National Headquarters, USO, Empire State Building, New York, N. Y.

Give to the USO

University of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING, TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS, NEWSPAPERS OR PERIODICALS BELONGING TO OR IN LIBRARIES
Sec. [illegible], Acts, [illegible]

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 32

Wool Pool Bids Are Rejected

The Boone County Wool Pool Committee rejected all bids offered for the county's 60,000-pound clip at Walton, Monday, June 8. The bids did not reflect the true market value of the wool, according to the committee.

During the past two weeks the mills for some unexpected reason have not purchased any wool. This left the market temporarily depressed and in the hands of speculators, who were willing to purchase wool only at a great discount on its true market value. The cooperative selling through the pool renders three important services to its farms: First, because of its large size, it is able to sell more direct to the mill at a higher price, resulting from less overhead cost to the purchaser. Second, through its sales committee, it is able to see that every farmer gets the same price and the same fair treatment and consideration from the buyer; and, third, the pool through its volume and collective powers is better able to know the true market value and, if necessary, not sell until the market value is received. Your pool is better able to render these services for the individual than he would normally be able to do for himself.

The Sales Committee deeply regret that the bids offered did not justify the sale of the clip now. Most sheepmen at this time of the year need their money. However, we are confident they acted in the interest and desire of all pool members. They assure all members the slip will be sold at the earliest possible date and its true market value. It is hoped and expected that the sale will be completed in the very near future. Members are urged to cooperate with their sales committee in this work.

JOINS U. S. NAVY

Jesse William Thornton, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Thornton of High street, enlisted in the U. S. Navy last week and has been sent to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Taylor county 4-H'ers have 176 pigs on full feed, sales-money to be used for war bonds.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Woman's Missionary society of the Walton Baptist Church met in the church June 4 for an all-day meeting.

Business session was held at 11 a. m., with Mrs. Alford presiding. Lunch was served at noon.

The program began at 1:30 p. m., with Mrs. Tom Percival as leader. Mrs. McWethy, guest speaker for the day, brought an inspiring message in song, also a message on being faithful, which was very much enjoyed by all present. We were glad to welcome Mrs. Clifford Powers as a visitor.

Members present were Mrs. C. J. Alford, Mrs. W. L. Sturgeon, Mrs. B. W. Franks, Mrs. Susie Norman, Mrs. R. E. Ryle, Mrs. Elnora Hodges, Mrs. Nathan Northcutt, Mrs. Cecil Gaines, Mrs. Helen Gaines Graff, Mrs. Mollie Powers, Mrs. F. E. Fisher, Mrs. Myrtle Beach, Mrs. T. W. Jones, Mrs. A. K. Johnson, Mrs. D. K. Johnson, Mrs. Fannie Brittenhelm, Mrs. Bryan Rector, Mrs Nell Hunt, Mrs. Bess Conrad, Mrs Helen Stamper, Mrs. To m Percival. Guests were Rev. C. J. Alford, Mrs. McWethy, Mrs. Clifford Powers, Mrs. Dave Vallandingham, Miss Geraldine Elliott, Bettie and Glena Northcutt and Irma Rector.

ROBERT L. SLEET, COLORED, PASSES

Robert L. Sleet, Colored, age 91, passed away at his home on Walton, Route 2, Saturday, June 6, from senility, after an illness of some time. He was born in this county, and was a member of the Baptist Church.

Funeral services were conducted from the Richwood Church on Monday, with burial in the Richwood Cemetery. Six ministers, White and Colored, had part in the funeral services. A large crowd, from both races, were in attendance, the church not being large enough to accommodate those present.

The deceased is survived by his widow; seven sons; two daughters; 18 grandchildren; 2 great-grandchildren, and many friends. Twelve granddaughters acted as flower girls and six grandsons were the pallbearers.

Chambers & Grubbs, Walton, had charge of the arrangements.

Food Preservation Demostration June 16

As a part of the live-at-home program for Kenton County, a food preservation demonstration will be conducted at the Simon Kenton High School, on Tuesday, June 16th. The program will be in charge of Miss Florence Imlay of the Extension Service, College of Agriculture, U. of Ky.

Drying, storing and canning will be discussed. Home preservation of food releases that much more to the army, defense workers, and allies.

The public is invited to attend this meeting which will start at 10:00 a. m., EWT., and is being sponsored by the Kenton County Homemakers.

Miss Imlay will be assisted by Mrs. Bluch Rich, Mrs. Denver Binder, Mrs. Harold Eubanks, and Miss Zelma Byerly, Kenton County Home Demonseration Agent.

GOOD CROP PROSPECTS

Crop prospects in Boone County are the best in year, says H. R. Forkner, Co. Agt. Favorable rains in recent weeks have greatly improved hay and pasture prospects. New grass and clover seedings have made the best showing in four years. Most corn planting has been done and tobacco transplanting is well under way.

Farmers in most sections of the county were busy setting tobacco the first of this week. Warm nights, cloudy days and abundance of rain have been most favorable for good stands. The rains over the weekend were especially heavy in sections. Farmers on the south side of Verona, Monday ha dan excellent tobacco season; around Verona it was so dry as to require water in transplanting, while further north a good season was had.

Unusual heavy rains recently caused considerable washing of the soil in Richwood, Idlewild and other sections of the county. The rains as a whole have been good.

WARSAW MAN DIES ON SUNDAY

Funeral services for Oscar T. Arrasmith, Route 42, Warsaw, who died at his home Sunday, were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the residence, with burial in the Warsaw Cemetery. He was 71 years of age.

A former carpenter, he served as secretary of Carpenters Local No. 712, Covington, for many years.

He leaves his widow, two sons, two daughters, two sisters and two grandchildren.

WAYMAN SELLS TWO KENTON COUNTY FARMS

Bernie Cornelius sold his home on Hempling Pike to William and Mary Miller formerly of Walton-Verona Road.

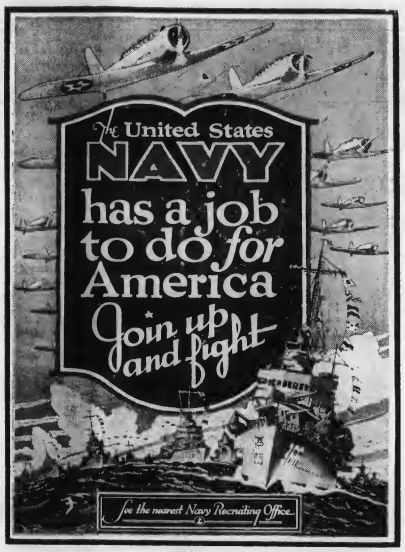
Raymond Miller of Latonia purchased the Ed Dickson farm of 191 acres, 2 miles East of Piner a farm that had been in the Dickson family for 60 years.

These two sales were made by Rel C. Wayman.

KNITTERS WANTED

If you are not now knitting, please contact your local chairman or Mrs. Joseph A. Huey of Union, Chapter Chairman of War Production, for yarn.

RYLAND HOMEMAKERS MEET



The Ryland Homemakers held their last meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Harry Caldwell at Visalia.

Mrs. Harry Rubbe, club president, presided over the business session.

The responses to roll call were interesting facts concerning the flag of the United States.

Miss Zelma Byerly discussed the natural results of tire rationing which will be more cooperation among neighbors in shopping

(continued on page 8)

Should Save Fruits And Vegetables

Every Boone County woman, interested in her "Victory" project should plan to attend, or be represented, at the county demonstration to be given by Miss Florence Imlay, specialist from the University of Kentucky, and her assistants at the Burlington school on Thursday, June 18, at 10:30 a. m., EWT. This demonstration will include information on canning, drying and other methods of saving fruits and vegetables. Picnic lunches are the order of the day. Plan to attend for a profitable, enjoyable activity.

Arrangements for the meeting are being made by Mrs. Mary S. Moore, Acting Home Demonstration Agent.

WELL KNOWN BRACHT STATION MAN PASSES

Requiem High Mass for George E. Jarman, who died Saturday at his home near Bracht Station, were sung at 8:00 a. m., Tuesday at St. Patrick Church, Verona, following prayers at 7:45 a. m. at the Hamilton Funeral Home.

A resident of Kenton county for 40 years, he was 77. He was a retired farmer.

Mr. Jarman leaves his widow, Mrs. Marie M. Jarman; two sons, Henry H. Jarman of Erlanger, and James F. Jarman of Covington; five grandchildren, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Burial was in St. Mary Cemetery, South Ft. Mitchell.

J. L. Hamilton & Son, Verona, had charge of arrangements.

LOCAL USO DRIVE NETS SUM OF $200

According to Powers Conrad, one of the local chairmen, the USO drive conducted in Walton, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, netted a total of $200 for the Service organization.

We think this a very nice sum and shows the patriotism of the citizens of our town. It also indicates that the solicitors were "on their toes" and overlooked no prespects.

TO PLAY OWN COMPOSITION AT VESPER MUSICAL SUNDAY

Miss Grace Weller, teacher in the Piner School, will play her original piano composition "Scherzo" at the Vesper Musical to be presented Sunday at 4:30 p. m. by the combined choirs of the Madison Avenue Christian Church (Covington) at that church.

The program will be dedicated to "Our Boys and Men in the Armed Forces."

BOONE CO. HOME NURSING CLASSES

The Home Nursing class at Hamilton is progressing nicely, with the following members attending:

Miss Mary Lou Jones, Miss Jeanette Edwards, Miss Ella Ruth Black, Miss Dorothy, Shields, Mrs. Orene Black, Mrs. Carrie Ogden, Mrs. Mildred Carroll, Mrs. Mary Edwards, Mrs. Ollie Baun, Mrs. Lena Binder, Mrs. Bertha Huff, Mrs. Sallie Moore and Mrs. Dora Jones.

The classes are held in the Hamilton school gymnasium, and it is so nice and cool, we do not know the weather is hot. It is particularly fine we have such a cool place to meet, because some of the ladies have walked several miles to the class.

This class is conducted for Big Bone and East Bend neighborhoods, and we could take as many as twenty. New persons may join next Wednesday, and they can make up the time which has been lost. The meetings are held at 2:30, Eastern War Time.—County Nurse.

WALTON W. C. T. U. MEETS LAST FRIDAY

The Walton W. C. T. U. met at the Methodist Church on Friday afternoon, June 5th. Mrs. R. E. Ryle, president, presided over the business session. Mrs. Horace Simpson, was program leader. Opening prayer was given by Mrs. John C. Bedinger. The devotional was given by Mrs. D. E. Bedinger. Rev. J. H. Talley gave a talk on, "Inspiration or Information."

The meeting was closed with the benediction by Mrs. Lula J. Hudson. The next meeting will be held at the Walton Baptist Church. The time will be announced later.

Those who attended were Mrs. J. D. Vallandingham, Mrs. Sallie Miller, Miss Emma Jane Miller, Mrs. D. E. Bedinger, Mrs. Wm. Sturgeon, Mrs. Horace Simpson, Mrs. Lula J. Hudson, Mrs. Lotta Powers, Mrs. J. C. Bedinger, Mrs. R. E. Ryle, Mrs. R. O. Hughes, and Rev. Talley.—Recording Secretary.

NOW WITH ARMY STORE

Al White, who has been selling shoes in Covington for the past 16 years, is now located with the Army store, 508 Madison Ave., Covington.

During these years Mr. White has made many friends by his courteous manner, in this section, whom he will be pleased to serve at his new location. Here you will find "Hot Weather Needs" for father, husband or son.

Have You Paid Your Subscription

County Scores Well At Junior Week

Boone County 4-H'ers scored again when awards were made on Friday evening, at the close of Junior Week at the University of Kentucky.

Mary Katherine Shields, New Haven, rated superior in the foods judging contest and received a blue ribbon. Elaine Gardiner of Florence, scored excellent and received a red ribbon in clothing judging.

Wanda Pennington, New Haven, modeled her tailored suit in the Style Revue on Thursday evening in competition with 76 winners from other counties. Although no ribbon was received for this entry, Boone County had every reason to be proud of the showing she made. Many of the girls were older and much more experienced in the art of sewing. Wanda was complimented on her work and selection.

Other Boone County members who attended Junior Week, were Frances Bonta, Petersburg; Mary Hope Chipman, Verona; James Stephenson, New Haven; Calvin Kelly, Burlington; Melvin Ray McGlasson, Hebron; Earl Washmuth, Constance; Eugene Purdy, Grant. Delegates were accompanied by Mary Scott Moore, Acting Home Demonstration Agent, and Franklin Frazier, Assistant County Agent.

WINS RED RIBBON AT JUNIOR WEEK

Elaine Gardiner, who won the champion ribbon in Boone County in the 4-H Club clothing judging contest at Burlington recently and a free trip to Junior Week at Lexington last week. She won a red ribbon in the State contest. This makes Elaine 21 ribbons won in 4-H work.

ROBERTS-ARNOLD NUPTIALS MAY 30th

Mr. Morris Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Arnold, Cincinnati, formerly of Walton, and Miss Mary Frances Roberts, daughter of Kirtley Roberts of South Main street, motored to Versailles on May 30th and were united in marriage by Rev. J. M. Ervin, pastor of the Christian Church of that city. Rev. Ervin is a former pastor of the Walton Christian Church, where these young people attended.

Mr. Arnold is employed by the Wright Aeronautical Corporation in Cincinnati, and Mrs. Arnold is a bookkeeper in the office of the Island Creek Coal Co., Cincinnati.

After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold returned to Cincinnati, where they had an apartment prepared for their residence.

This young couple is quite popular, and their many friends here extend congratulations and best wishes for the future.

A CARD FROM PVT. SHIELDS

The Advertiser received the following communication from Lewis Shields, this week:

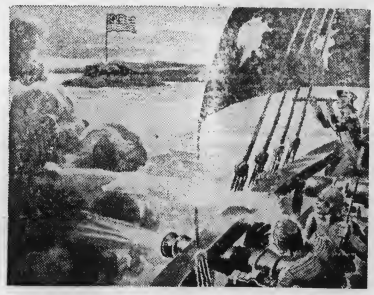
Hello Malcolm:

Just a thanks for all those letters I have gotten from all the people in Walton, and a hello from me to them.

I am still deep in the heart of Arkansas and doing fine.

—Pvt. L. W. Shields, Co. C, 72 Bn., 15 Training Regt., U. S. Army, Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas.

HOME ON FURLOUGH



Geo. G. Bedinger, a clerk in a supply platoon of the J. M. Dept. of the U. S. A., returned to his company Monday after a five-day furlough, spent at his home with his parents and sister on Richwood Road.

FOR GOOD LOOKS

Our obligation is far from filled when we provide Glasses correctly suited to individual sight needs. We must also provide frames that complement one's personality. Smart women today know how important THAT is!

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

"By the Dawn's Early Light . . ."

THE SIGHT of our flag still waving at Fort McHenry in 1814 inspired the words of "The Star Spangled Banner" . . . "By the dawn's early light" at Pearl Harbor on December 7th, Japan attacked the United States . . . and once more Americans knew that our flag was still there . . . that a nation firmly united would more than meet the challenge to its future life . . . its Freedom.

AMERICAN'S TOOK up the fight as they have in the past, confident and unafraid, with faith in "the power that hath made and preserved us a nation" . . . in our way of life . . . our armed forces . . . in fellow Americanseverywhere who will win this war with their work, their courage, their sacrifice . . .

BACK OF the battle lines stands a united people . . . a people determined to let nothing get in the way of the victory effort . . . to give their dimes and dollars to the very limit so that our fighting men will have more and better equipment to crush the enemy. Make more of YOUR dollars fight for America . . . for Victory.

Help to Win the War—the American Way—the War Bond Way—Every Pay Day!

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER — Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1860

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

AMERICA has won the first round in the battle of production. That's what Washington officials are saying. The statement of General Brehon B. Somervell, Chief of the Army's Services of Supply, that "American industrial concerns are winning the war on the production front" is typical of comment here.

This does not mean, however, that danger is past. Officials are quick to point out that even though manufacturers have more than done their part to date, they must be prepared to make even greater contributions to victory. The war is by no means won.

That industrial leaders recognize this is shown by the fact that they have by no means relaxed their efforts to turn out more and still more of the materials needed to lick the Axis. Current production figures indicate that they are ahead of schedule on their output of many weapons and are continuing to break theirpast records in this respect.

WPB Chief Nelson's statement that one tank or airplane this summer is worth a dozen in 1944 indicates the stress that is being put on current production. Mr. Nelson has said that from now on this nation's industrial plant will make nothing but war goods. There is to be an absolute maximum of production in combat weapons.

This means that during the war no more new plants will be built —building them takes critical raw materials and labor away from armament manufacture. In place of new plants, existing facilities will be used to the utmost, and civilian manufacturing will be further curtailed to enable the consumer industries to turn more completely to war work.

IN connection with the current discussion about wage control and inflation, it has been pointed out here that wages in manufacturing industries have increased more than the cost of living has risen during the past year.

Figures issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics show that from March, 1941, to mid-March, 1942, average hourly earnings increased 16.1 percent in all manufacturing industries. Average hourly earnings of workers rose to 80.9 cents.

During the same period, however, the cost of living increased 12.89 percent.

In the opinion of officials who are familiar with all angles of the situation, such figures indicate the need for keeping wages from getting out of hand and contributing to an inflationary trend that would raise the cost of winning the war and play havoc with the national economy.

THE Senate Patents Committee is continuing its work on a new patent bill providing for sweeping changes in the present patent system. The new bill is intended as a substitute for two other measures on which the Committee has been holding public hearings for two months.

Present indications are that this bill will not have the approval of the U. S. Patent Office. Commissioner Conway P. Coe has not been given an opportunity to testify before the Committee, but in previous testimony before the Senate Appropriations Committee he made it clear that he was not in accord with attempts to give a drastic overhauling to the patent system or to destroy the incentive for invention that has given America world leadership in producing new products to raise the general standard of living.

The Commissioner said he feared that the attitude of the Department of Justice and the Courts had given many inventors the impression that there was less security and value to be obtained from a patent than formerly was the case.

Stephenson Mill Road

If you are losing confidence of men, read the 13th chapter of 1st Corinthians.

Miss Lucy Pennington is spending two weeks in Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bowlen of Hamilton, Ohio were visiting her mother, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Pennington and little daughter of Dayton, O., Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pennington and son David of Alexandria, Miss Jean Bankemper of Simon Kenton and Stanley Allen were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington, Sunday.

Margaret and Gracie Hanks are visiting friends and relatives in East Burnstead.

Mrs. Frona Ferrill is very sick at this writing.

The farmers are very busy setting tobacco, after the nice rain.

When a tanker loaded with gasoline is sunk by an Axis submarine enough gasoline is lost to have driven 5,000 autos for a whole year at the normal rate.

KEEP YOUR EYES "ON THE ALERT"
Have your eyes checked—it's your patriotic duty to keep them in perfect condition. Let us examine your eyes at once.

L. J. METZGER
Optometrist Optician
631 Madison Ave.
Covington
Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

BY
Gordon Wilson, Ph.D.
WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE
BOWLING GREEN, KY.

DO TELL!

A whole book, and a big and interesting one, could be written on the ways that people keep the conversation going when they are being talked to or at, as the case may be. Many of these ways are standardized and official, but they are not necessarily the most interesting. If you do not understand the talker, of course you say, "I beg your pardon," or some simular formula. If you agree, you can say, "Surely," or "Yes," or any number of other mainingless modes of assent. If you are surprised, it is quite natural to express yourself with "Is that so?" which is capable of many interpretations, ranging from perfect English to rather flat slang. But these are common things and as yet do not demand any notice, just as antique furniture was good and fine, but common, long before somebody decided that it merited attention. Folk ways of doing their part of the conversation have always amused and pleased me.

If you tell something astonishing, many people used to remark, "Do tell!" That combined a tone of surprise and one of great interest in the remarkable thing they had just heard. There was also a sound of expectancy, a desire to hear more of this same sort of talk. Quaint old people were most often the users of this phrase; I loved to watch their facial expression as they said it, fo rthere was often a combination of wonder and joy. Negroes had an even better form of interest "M-m-m-m," prolonged indefinitely, somewhat proportioned to the immensity of the impression given by the speaker.

When the yarn being spun seemed incredible, a different set of expressions appeared. The commonest in my memory was "Aw, shucks." A little more elegant was "You don't say so." Then there were others, ranging all the way from "Well, shut your mouth" to "I'll be dad-burned." An eminent Southern educator, with a whole string of letters to his name, was born and raised in Butler County, Kentucky. He knew from boyhood the folk ways of speaking and probably did not suspect that he was still the boy of the farm. He and his wife were invited to be guests of the Governor of Florida when the educator was teaching one summer in the great University of Florida. The governor's wife told a remarkable story of some sort; forthwith the professor said, in true Butler County lingo of forty years ago: "Well, shut your mouth." My informer has not told me what was the effect on the gracious lady, but I suspect that she rather liked the informality and folk flavor of the language.

If the story being told were a disappointing one, what was more pat than "Aain't that too bad?" Probably the commonest expression with this meaning was plain "Aw." Since cuss-words were ruled out among most of the people I knew, one had to find as good a word as possible, so that the sound could be interpreted for what one wanted to say. Stylish modern slang tries to veer as close to the edge of the precipice as possible, sometimes combining sounds that might be thought of as both obscene and profane.

Often I wnder just what you should say, anyway. Not to assent, not to mirate, not to show disgust or disappointment would brand you as an unfeeling brute, incapable of sharing in the emotions of your fellow men; to say nothing opens the way for insincerity or even satire.

Money Talks

By
Frederick Stamm, Economist
Director of Adult Education
UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

The farmers of this country are likely to benefit more than they will lose from the recent price stabilization order, the Department of Agriculture said last week.

"It is probable," the Department reported in its monthly review of the farm income situation, "that the price order will affect prices paid by the farmers more than prices received for products sold so that the purchasing power of farm income during 1942 may be increased by price stabilization." You may recall that in the recent price stabilization order a rigid ceiling was placed on manufactured goods but the ceiling on farm products was made flexible. Thus we may expect a further rise in farm prices.

Cash income from farm marketings in April, 1942, totaled $973,000,000 as compared with $665,000,000 received in April, 1941. This was a 46% increase.

The nation's farmers received in April $263,000,000 from crops and $710,000,000 from all livestocks. In this month cash income from meat animals total $366,000,000; dairy products $189,000,000; and poultry and eggs totaled $134,000,000.

The Department further stated that the total cash marketings of farm products from January to April, 1942, totaled $3,712,000,000 which was 49% higher than the first four months of 1941.

The outlook for the farmers remains excellent. The production of farm crops is much higher than that of last year, and prices are also on the increase. It appears that farm income this year will be about 50% higher than it was last year. If the present trend continues (and I believe it will), our farmers will receive the greatest cash income in the history of this country.

FOLSOM

And certain men which came down from Judea taught the brethren and said: except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan H. Beach entertained Sunday, Mrs. Carl Lafferty and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Beach and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Brackie Collins and baby.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Hutton entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carson and Mr. and Mrs John Pipes and children. Afternoon callers were Jim Crouch and Miss Lena Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beach and baby were visiting their parents and relatives of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Broadus Beach were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Beach.

Misses Elizabeth and Juanita Osborne were weekend guests of Miss Imogene Beach.

Miss Elizabeth Osborne, Miss Geneva and Roberta Hubbard were guests of Miss Marjorie Jump.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones and daughter were Sunday guests of Mrs. Minnie Isaacs.

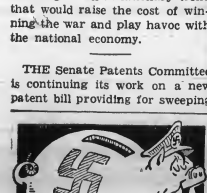
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pettit and children and Ottis Pettit were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Pettit.

John Chapman and daughter, Gladys Nix were visiting their relative, Pete Chapman.

All parents are invited to attend the diphtheria clinic for all children under school age, at the Vine Run Church, June 18th.

The District Deputy, Mrs. Lena Marshall of Sadieville, Mrs. Stephens of Williamstown and Mrs. Tina Vallandingham of Mason visited the D. of A. lodge at this place Saturday. An enjoyable evening was spent.

The 70,628 tons of lead which were used last year in autos, golf clubs, toys and refrigerators figures out at about four pounds for each of 35 million American families. This four pounds of lead would provide all the lead needed in making five big shells for 240 mm howitzers.

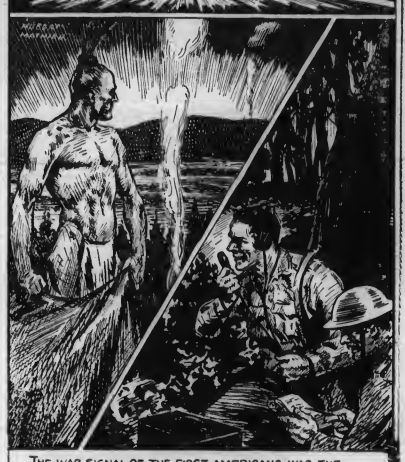


Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria
Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARHORN odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package.
FREE
Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

Don't Let HIGH PRICES UNPLEASANT TASTE INCONVENIENCE
Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.
You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take
ONE A DAY
VITAMINS A and D TABLETS
Pleasant-tasting - Convenient
Economical
Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping

When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts,
COVINGTON, KY.
— 24-Hr. Wrecker Service —
Cars Washed - Storage

JUNE SPECIALS AT THE
Powder Puff Beauty Salon
Carter Wireless Oil Wave—a $5.00 Wave for $3.50 during May; also a Mel-O-Tone $5.00 Wave on Machine—2 Waves for $5.00, if two come together.
EDNA STAMLER
78 S. Main St. (Phone 682) Walton, Ky.



NAGGING BACKACHE
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!
Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. Theafter effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.
After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.
Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.
THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS
All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say, Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILLS

THIS PIG BANK'S UNSAFE!
Invest your money in United States WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS!
U. S. Treasury Department

Keep Up WITH EVENTS EVERY WEEK from THE NATION'S CAPITAL
Read PATHFINDER
PATHFINDER brings to you in words and pictures the drama of events fresh from Washington, D. C., the nation's capital, today the world's news center. News, features, and facts, events boiled down into 20 interesting, inspiring departments. Complete, unbiased, non-partisan, non-sectarian, dependable—gives both sides. Improved new features. World's oldest, most-read news weekly at one-fourth the cost of others. Furnishes clean, reliable reading for the entire family.
This Newspaper & PATHFINDER BOTH one year Only $1.80

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mott

MESSAGE MAGIC

THE WAR SIGNAL OF THE FIRST AMERICANS WAS THE "SMOKE TELEGRAPH"—A BISON-SKIN BLANKET WAS THE "KEY," ...TODAY THE U.S., THROUGH THE WORLD'S MOST COMPLETE COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM, BINDS THE UNITED NATIONS—INSURING SPLIT-SECOND CO-OPERATION IN THEIR AXIS-SMASHING DRIVE.

NICHOLSON

"Fear God and keep His commandments." Friendship reveals a readiness to help others. Deeds of today become memories of tomorrow. Spiritual birth is as necessary to enter Heaven as physical birth is to enter the world, for "there shall in no wise enter into it only those whose names are written in the Lamo's book of life." Is your name written there? Through Christ alone is an entrance gained to that fair city. Men find forgiveness and redemption through a personal acceptance of the Savior.

The noblest end of life is to live for the service of God and everything is His service by which we can be a blessing to our fellowman. Any man can sing by day but only those whose hearts have been tuned by the gracious hand of the Savior can sing in the darkness.

"Friends are little lamps to me. Their radiance warms and cheers my ways, and all my pathway dark and lone, is brightened by their rays. I try to keep them bright by faith, and never let them dim with doubt. For every time I lose a friend, a little lamp does out."

Grateful appreciation is expressed to Mr. and Mrs. James Metcalfe for a lovely gift. They called on friends recently.

The many friends of Mr. Bravard learn with regret of his illness, and wish him a speedy recovery.

Sunday afternoon callers were Mrs. Anderson Crowder, Miss Mary B. Crowder, Mrs. Charles Banks, daughters and friends.

Several Whitley county farmers are growing 2½ acres of castor beans.

OVER THE TOP FOR VICTORY with UNITED STATES WAR BONDS • STAMPS

TIRES!
MUST BE SAVED
Align Those Wheels and Save Time and Money
COlonial 0670
R. MICHELS Welding Co.
722 Washington St., Covington

PEOPLES LIBERTY BANK & TRUST CO.
COVINGTON, KY.
MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

INSURED
Save any amount, any time.. for a home of your own! Liberal earnings are added
Systematic thrift will bring you financial security.
FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1342

KENTON COUNTY FARM NEWS

Harvesting Bluegrass Seed

J. T. Spencer—

Hand stripping has long been used to harvest small amounts of bluegrass seed in central Kentucky. It is done with a small scoop-shaped tool with narrow slots in the leading edge and is equipped with a short, shovel-like handle. Stripping is accomplished by swinging the stripper backward and forward among the blue grass heads. When the stripper is filled, the contents are dumped into a large burlap bag carried along for that purpose. This method of harvesting bluegrass seed is by far the most practical for the farmer who has only a few acres to strip. Approximately one-half acre per day per person can be stripped in this manner.

Stripping may begin when the heads are partially straw colored. Inferior seed is obtained by harvesting when the heads are definitely green, and much seed may be lost from shattering if harvesting is delayed until after the heads become straw colored, especially if wet, windy weather occurs. However, it is believed that crops that are to be handled as suggested herein should be almost or fully ripe when harvested.

The field mower may be used to cut bluegrass seed, of course, and the material then put into windrows with a side-delivery or sulky rake. If the crop is ripe and dry, it should be raked only when there is a little dew on it. A better method is to windrow the crop as it is cut, using a windrow attachment to the mower. Windrows should be turned carefully, if necessary, to prevent heating.

The mowing machine can be adapted for bluegrass seed harvesting by attaching a metal pan to the rear of the cutter bar. The heads are swept back into the pan and removed to bags when the pan is filled. This rough seed should be cured in the same way as stripped seed. Pan harvesting should prevent much shattering of seed. In harvesting with a mower, the crop should be cut above the basal leaf mat unless the stems are shorter than 12 in.

Whichever method is employed in harvesting bluegrass heads, careful curing of the material is important. Seed heads taken directly from the field in large burlap bags should be removed from the bags as quickly as possible and never remain in the bags overnight. Curing may take place outdoors or on a clean floor in a tobacco barn or other convenient building. If the curing is done outdoors, the spot chosen should be well drained and the surface very clean. A closely mown bluegrass sod is often used.

Commonly the seed is placed in ricks 18 inches or less high, and 3 to 5 feet apart. It may also be spread in a thin layer, especially if cured indoors. Whether cured in the rick or layer, the seed must be turned often enough to prevent heating.

Material put into small windrows in the field following mowing should be turned, if necessary, to prevent heating, but handled carefully to prevent shattering.

Satisfactory experiences have been reported with threshing in ordinary grain separators and combin harvesters. All or nearly all the air blase must be cut off, and suitable screens must be used. For best cleaning, the top screen must be slightly larger, and the bottom screen slightly smaller than the bluegrass seed. Wire screens having 6x24 to 6x30 openings per inch are recommended.

Perhaps the most satisfactory method of processing rough-cured bluegrass seed for home use is to put it through a hammer mill. The mill should be equipped with screens that will allow the seed to pass through without breaking the seed. Screens with openings ⅛-inch to ¼-inch have been used, the former in mills operating at 1000 to 1500 rpm, the latter in mills operating at 3000 rpm. Whether the seed could be put through ⅛-inch openings without damage in mills operating at 3000 rpm is not known, but it would seem likely.

Rough-cured seed processed in a hammer mill is not pure seed, and it does not sow as freely as cleaned seed; therefore about two and a half times as much should be sown per acre as cleaned seed. When using seeders to sow it, the seed must be worked down by hand continually because it does not feed readily.

It will be impossible to separate most weed seeds from bluegrass seed harvested by the methods discussed. Therefore weedy fields should not be harvested, and areas of weeds in otherwise clean fields should be avoided. Too much care cannot be taken to insure harvesting clean seed. If weedy bluegrass seed is sown, one is almost certain to have a field of weeds with a little bluegrass in it rather than a field of bluegrass.

ON THE SET—Offering an inside glimpse into studio technique, this is the way an upstairs window scene, with Joan Bennett, looks to members of the crew filming Columbia's hilarious comedy, "The Wife Takes A Flyer." In foreground, Director Richard Wallace ponders how to play the scene.

HEBRON

Miss Mary Lou Lucy is home from Richmond College for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker and Mrs. Addie Aylor spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. M. M. McClung of Nicholson. Mr. McClung has been confined to his room since February. He is very much improved. We wish him continued improvement.

Miss Evelyn Conrad and Wood Edwards were united in marriage Friday at 2:30 p. m. in the Lutheran church by Rev. H. M. Hauter Attendants were Misses Lucille Edwards and Betty Yelton, Mr. Orville Conrad and Mr. Chester Edwards. The bride was gowned in white with pink rose corsage. Miss Yelton wore blue with white carnation corsage and Miss Edwards wore pink with white carnation corsage. The many friends of this young couple wish them a happy and prosperous married life.

Miss Anna Gaines remains very ill.

Mrs. W. R. Garnett and Mrs. Wm. England called on Mrs. Henry L. Aylor and Mrs. Mettie Gaines, Sunday evening.

FLORENCE

Miss Edna Huston of Covington has returned home following a few days visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Huston and Uncle Bob Huston.

Rev. Wilford Mitchell and family of Alexandria spent last Sunday here with relatives.

Mrs. Ruth Lorch has returned to her home in Turners Station after several days visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Aylor.

We are sorry to hear of Oddis Richards being quite ill at his home.

Mrs. Morris Beard and mother, Mrs. Emma Hambrick, spent last Thursday with Mrs. Clara Sorrell and mother, Mrs. Ella Anderson, of Limaburg.

W. L. Stephens and Russell Mitchell spent the weekend on Eagle Creek, fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Baxter of Portland, Ind., are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a fine son, born Tuesday, May 26th. The little one has been named Emmet Franklin. James Baxter is a nephew of Minnie Baxter.

We are sorry to hear Uncle Bob Huston is in a serious condition at his residence.

Mrs. V. P. Kerns entertained a group of friends Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Jennie Dobbins spent the weekend with her niece, Mrs. Viola Ruth of Walton.

Joseph Clinton, little son of Joe Berkshire, has the whooping caugh.

Mrs. Mollie Lucas participated in a recital in Newport, Thursday evening. She sang two songs

Mrs. Hattie Owens is employed in Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Skirvin of Louisville visited his sisters, Mrs. Lillie Corbin and Mrs. Lora Laile on Tuesday.

Mrs. Edd Bentham and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Murphey and daughter have returned home following several days visit with relatives in West Virginia.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs. Betty Long being on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fulton entertained on Wednesday evening with a six o'clock dinner in honor of Mrs. Ruth Alice Lorch of Turner Station.

Charles Beall and Minnie Baxter visited C. L. Tanner, Saturday afternoon. He still remains in bed, suffering with heart trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rouse and Mr. and Mrs. Bronnie Tanner and daughter Jennie Lee spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horton and family of Hopeful neighborhood.

Miss Dell Utz of Covington recently visited her sister, Miss Fannie Utz.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Snyder and granddaughter spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Robbins.

Quite a number from here attended the Rouse sale Friday afternoon. Everything brought a fancy price.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Marksberry and sons were the dinner guests Sunday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Tanner.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gross and daughter of Walton spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Tanner.

Calling off the agricultural fair, Gallatin county citizens used funds to buy a $200 war bond.

Nelson county farmers are growing soybeans for crushing purposes, with markets lined up in advance.

The 8,000 tons of steel which was used to go into novelties and souvenirs would make 160,000 .50 calibre machine guns.

Automobile riding was reduced 60 percent during the first two days of gasoline rationing in North Carolina.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION PAID? Read the Advertiser

ON THE SCREEN—This is the way the scene will appear to theater audiences, who have no idea of the mechanics involved in photographing the star so beautifully. In the story, Miss Bennett portrays a Dutch girl posing as the wife of her co-star, Franchot Tone, to help him escape Allyn Joslyn, of the Gestapo.

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .

DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?

Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.

LANG'S CAFETERIA

623-625 Madison Avenue

COVINGTON KENTUCKY

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .

W. E. TAIT, O.D.

OPTOMETRIST

OPTICIAN

27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.

Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

For appointment phone—

HE. 2088

CONSERVE FOR VICTORY

HINTS ON THE CARE OF YOUR

Vacuum Cleaner

Your electric vacuum cleaner speeds up housecleaning and helps prolong the life of rugs, draperies and upholstered furniture. It will serve you betser and last longer if you follow these suggestions:

Empty dust bag every time cleaner is used. Dirt in the bag reduces power of suction.

Keep brushes free from lint and hair. Replace brushes if tufts become worn.

Avoid running cleaner over pins, nails, coins or other metal objects. Pick them up by hand.

Clean brushes, wipe off other attachments after using.

Follow manufacturer's instructions as to cleaning and oiling. Consult dealer from whom you purchased cleaner if you have lost instructions.

Vacuum rugs frequently. It removes embedded grit that cuts rug fibres under the pressure of constant walking.

Use hand cleaner or vacuum attachments to clean drapes and upholstered furniture. Don't use vacuum on down cushions. They don't like it.

If cleaner is not picking up threads, check belt to see if it is turning brush. If in doubt, replace belt.

Be sure that brush is properly adjusted. The bristles should extend an eighth of an inch below bottom of nozzle.

* * *

FREE BOOKLET ON APPLIANCE CARE yours for the asking. Published by Westinghouse, it tells you how to keep your household electric servants working at top efficiency. Come in for your free copy today. No obligation!

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

INCORPORATED

BUY U.S. WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

Killing Two Birds With One Stone . . .

Killing two birds with one stone is an old slogan — but now, more than ever, is the time to do such a thing.

If you have been wanting to clean out that closet, or go over the basement contents, or see what is in the attic — now is the time to do this. You can help the United States to have victory sooner, if you will donate all the old papers, waste metals, rags and other things that are of no value to you whatever, but can be used again by the Government

If you will just take time out to clean out these places, and save the waste materials needed by the Government. You will be doing your Patriotic Duty, as well as getting the Spring housecleaning done.

With this in mind, it will be much easier for you to do that much-hated task—Spring cleaning. Gather all the excess waste you have together and call upon any Boy Scout, who will be glad to take it off your hands.

You might also find some things that are neither needed by you or Uncle Sam—and if you do, use the Classified Column of the Advertiser and turn these articles into CASH $$$$$.

...-V

The Walton

ADVERTISER

Phone 30

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Mary Ella Bedinger of the Mountain Mission field of the Diocese of Virginia, spent last weekend with her brother, Geo. G. Bedinger and parents, returning to Charlottesville, Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Kelly and sons spent Sunday with his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Anderson and family of Erlanger. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oesting and family of Latonia and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stevens of Burlington.

Ray Tucker of Winchester was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richards and family, Friday.

Attorney R. T. Heizer of Covington was a business visitor in Walton, Wednesday, on his return from Frankfort and Carrollton.

Jerry Johnson of Ft. Mitchell is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Johnson and attending Bible School at the Baptist Church.

Mrs. Naomi Craycraft of Cincinnati, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Johnson, Friday.

Mrs. Margaret Graff and her granddaughter, Jean Huff, of Louisville, brought Sharon Graff home Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gaines and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Obie Cook entertained Earl and Esther Sizemore of Dayton, Ohio, and Harold Menke of Cincinnati, Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Allison of Gardiner, Ill., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Rod Hughes. Mr. Hughes and son Jack and her grandmother, Mrs. Emma Menefee. She and her grandmother expect to leave for Gardiner the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Helen Tomlin of Cincinnati was visiting in Walton, with friends Tuesday.

Miss Emma J. Morgan and Mr. Hallie Lancaster of Corinth were guests of their sister, Mrs. B. H. Franks, and family, Tuesday evening.

Miss Luke Gordon, who attended college at Chapel Hill, N. C., returned to her home here Saturday to spend her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Estelle Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ringo and son Raymond of Covington were guests Wednesday of their daughter, Mrs. Russell Ward, and family.

Allen Hieatt of Lexington, who is now with the Navy Recruiting office in Covington, was a visitor in Walton, Wednesday.

Harry Evans of Wilmore, representative for the Lexington Cream Flour, was a visitor in Walton, Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Whitaker and two children, Peggy and Bobby, who recently moved from here to Williamstown, were Tuesday guests of Mrs. Bruce Franks.

Allie Lawrence, father of Mrs. Powers Conrad, suffered a stroke here at their home last Wednesday, and remains very ill. Another daughter, Miss Etta Mae Lawrence, of New York City, arrived last Friday to be with her father during his illness; also his daughters, Mrs. Florian Link of Corinth and Mrs. Walter Zulager of Covington. Mr. Zulager was here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Gardiner of Lexington spent Sunday night with their cousin, Mrs. Claude Norman.

PURCHASES HAMPSHIRES

Hugh Baker of Petersburg and James Gayle of Burlington, recently purchased registered Hampshire sheep breeding stock and are planning to produce breeding stock for sale. Fred Siekman and Sons of Hebron are also breeders of Hampshire sheep and recently applied for membership in the American Hempshire Sheep Association.

Our Classified Ads Really Get Results . .

La Rose Beauty Salon

400 Dixie Hi.
Ph. Erl. 6252

$5.00 PERMANENT for $4.00
$4.00 PERMANENT for $3.50
PERMANENTS ... $3.00 up
Children's Perm. $2 & $2.50

VERONA

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Harris of Ft. Knox were visiting Mr. Harris' relatives, the Jerdie Harris family, over the weekend.

Hayden Hendy, who has had a position in Newport for the past several months, stopped in Verona to attend the alumni banquet and visit friends over the weekend. Hayden resigned his position and was on his way to Falmouth, where he expects to help his uncle, John Hendy, in the operation of his dairy farm.

Mrs. Allen Lindsey of Carrollton and Mrs. Eva Mae Cleek were visiting the homefolks over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ransom and little daughter of Georgetown were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ransom.

Rev. Spahr filled his regular appointment at the Baptist Church, Sunday morning and evening. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Waller and sons were hosts to Bro. Spahr and family that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Renaker and family and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gravitt of Lexington were guests over the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Renaker. Master Roger Neal Renaker is continuing his visit with his grandparents.

Miss Maggie Roberts, Charles Bolington and Harold Vaugh of Concord were attendants at the Baptist Church here Sunday.

Miss Evelyn Coffman came home last week for a few days vacation from Eastern State Teachers College. Miss Coffman expects to continue her studies through the summer semester so returned to Richmond this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Myers had as their guests over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Myers and Mr. and Mrs. John Soule and daughter of Covington, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Myers and daughter of Florence. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cobbman of Cincinnati were also guests in the Myers home.

Last Saturday afternoon during a thunder storm the house of Walter King was struck by lightning, causing some damage to some furnishings. Luckily the family all escaped any harm.

Last Thursday a class in Home Nursing was organized at the local school house, with Miss Lowry as instructor. We will have the first lesson next Thursday at the same place at 1:30, CWT. We hope many of our women and girls will avail themselves of this opportunity, so come on and join the class.

Monday afternoon Ed Chipman and Sam Vest piloted a group of boys and girls to Crosley Field to see the Reds play baseball. Those enjoying the trip were Vernon Myers, Johnny Locke, Billy Mac Waller, Mary Hope Chipman, Zada Lee Caldwell, Anna Frances Sturgeon and Donald Vest.

Greenwell-Hamilton Nuptials

A wedding that comes as a happy surprise to their many friends was that of Miss Ellena Greenwell to Mr. Fred Hamilton, on May 27. The wedding took place in the Ft. Mitchell Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. Geo. B. Bush performing the marriage rites, while the organ furnished a lovely background of appropriate music.

For her wedding, Mrs. Hamilton wore a street length navy blue silk dress with a harmonizing white hat and accessories of white.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Greenwell and a graduate of Crittenden High School. She is an accomplished musician.

Mr. Hamilton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hamilton, and a graduate of Centre College, in the class of 1938, and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity. He is also a graduate of the Indiana College of Embalming and is associated with his father in the firm of J. L. Hamilton & Son funeral service. May God bless this union of two fine young people.

High Style

Lovely Elizabeth Wragge, who charms listeners daily, Mondays through Fridays over WLW at 3:30 p. m., E.W.A.R.T., on "Pepper Young's Family" wears the newest thing in summer hats. It's cream-colored non-priority straw designed by Lilly Dache. The high crown makes it high style for this year.

MORNING VIEW

Mrs. Charles L. Cross spent several days last week visiting her sister-in-law, Miss Clara Cross of Covington.

Mrs. Amanda Johnson, who has been bedfast for the past 5 weeks at the home of her sister, Mrs. Phil Jennings, was removed to Booth Hospital, Monday in the Allison & Rose ambulance, for medical treatment. Her many friends hope for her early recovery.

Mrs. Ella Earls spent the week end with relatives in Corbin.

Mrs. Nannie Kelton and Miss Carrie Pettit called on their sister Mrs. Bruce Lowder, Sunday, who is a patient at General Hospital, Cincinnati.

Little Mona Gayle Murphy is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Murphy.

Elmo and Otis Forehan, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Forehan were recently inducted into the army and are now stationed at Kessler Field, Miss.

Harold Fisk, Carrol Cavanaugh and Bernard Parr spent Tuesday at Coney Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Fisk spent Sunday with friends in Boone county.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wiley in their recent loss of their little son, who was buried Saturday.

Back

Peter Grant, top-flight WLW newscaster, is back in radio again, announcing and producing programs for the QMRTC at Ft. Warren, Cheyenne, Wyoming. He's Private Melvin M. Maginn in the Army.

Fountain pens and automatic pencils used up 2,800 tons of steel last year, enough for 430,000 shells for 75 mm field guns.

In Boone county, several sorghum demonstrations are "off to a good start," reported the county farm agent.

WITH THE REDS

Cincinnati:—This is a week of feverish baseball activity in Cincinnati. After the Reds' series with the New York Giants, which was to conclude with a Wednesday night game, the Reds have a four-game series with the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers staring them in their faces.

First of the Dodger games will be played under the lights on Friday, then will come a Saturday afternoon contest, to be followed by a series' closing double-header Sunday. These four contests will be the most important of the season for the Reds, for if they are to get into the pennant picture, they much knock off the leading team, which, in this case, is Brooklyn.

Following Sunday's twin bill, the Reds will take to the road and will not return until Tuesday, June 30, the day of the big Army-Navy Relief event at Crosley Field.

Tickets for all of this week's games, the relief show, and all the games the Reds will play at home this season are available at the Reds' downtown ticket office at 307 Vine St., Cincinnati.

Mother

It's amazing how Harriet Hilliard can stay so charming and still be the mom of Red Skelton's bratty "Junior" every Tuesday night on NBC's Red Net show aired over WLW at 10:30 p. m., E-WAR-T.

First

Bill Stern, whose "Sports Newsreel of the Air" is heard over WLW-NBC Saturdays at 10:00 p. m., E-WAR-T, was awarded the title of "Best Sports Commentator" for the third consecutive year in the 1942 Radio-Movie Guide Poll.

J. L. HAMILTON & SON

FUNERAL SERVICE

VERONA -:- KENTUCKY

YOU, Too, CAN SINK U-BOATS

BUY A United States War Savings Bonds & Stamps

U. S. Treasury Department

10% OF INCOME IS OUR QUOTA IN WAR BONDS

"Every garden in Owsley county is larger or has more variety than previously," reports the county farm agent.

Ef-Ko ARMY Store

508 MADISON AVENUE

Near 5th - Covington - Near 5th

Hot Weather Needs!

FOR YOUR

VACATION

Straw HATS - 98c - $1.45

Sport SHIRTS 89c - $1.19

T SHIRTS 45c - 59c

COOL WASH

PANTS 1.39-2.98

MATCHED SHIRTS & PANTS

ENSEMBLE SUITS

COOL CAPE - SUN HATS

USEFUL GIFTS FOR

SOLDIERS

Fitted KITS.....$1.69 to $2.98

Trench MIRROR....35c - 50c

SOAP, box 25c BELTS 50c

Money BELTS.....50c - 69c

TIES - SOX - BELTS - SHOES

Ef-Ko ARMY Store

508 MADISON AVENUE

Near 5th - Covington - Near 5th

LARGE SIZE

Armstrong Linoleum Rugs

12x12 $8.95 12x15 $10.95

Madison Linoleum Store

531 MADISON AVE. - COVINGTON - HEm. 9313

YORK LINOLEUM STORE

6th & YORK STS. - NEWPORT - COl. 4805

IN KENTUCKY . . . IT'S COPPIN'S

COPPIN'S

DELIGHTFULLY

AIR-CONDITIONED

SHOP IN COMFORT

REMEMBER

FATHER

JUNE 21st

A COPPIN'S GIFT

WILL BE GRAND

The John R. Coppin Company

MADISON, AT 7th —:— COVINGTON, KY.

DON WINSLOW OF THE NAVY by FRANK MARTINEK

—Courtesy Bell Syndicate

We Have Become the Dealer for the

DELAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR

and the

DELAVAL MILKING MACHINE

Repairs for John Deere Implements and Other Makes

The Jansen Hdw. Co.

CO. 0910 108-110 PIKE ST. COVINGTON, KY.

GLIDERS

and

GLIDER CUSHIONS

BEAUTIFUL as well as COMFORTABLE

ALSO A COMPLETE LINE OF

Awnings, Hammocks, Porch and Lawn Furniture.

Covington Awning & Roofing Co.

3rd & SCOTT STS., COVINGTON Hiland 1735

PETERSBURG

Glad to report Mrs. E. A. Stott improving after several weeks illness.

Mrs. Nan Burts of Birmingham, Ala., returned to her home last Tuesday after having spent several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Edward Walton and other relatives here.

Ben Hensley, a kind and respected old gentleman, who has lived here in this neighborhood his entire life passed away last week at Moores Hill, Ind. His remains were brought here for interment.

The Parent-Teachers gave a strawberry and ice cream supper here Saturday night, the 6th. A good crowd was present.

Rev. Roy Johnson of Covington is conducting a meeting here. Come out and hear his fine sermons, beginning at 8 p. m., CWT each evening.

Jim Feeley has been ill thepast few days and not able to meet appointments at Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Max Gridley had the misfortune to get his new car badly damaged last week by fire (cigarette spark supposed to have started it). The car was tightly closed and when he opene dthe door at six a. m. to start to work in Cincinnati he discovered it had been burning all night. The upholstering was consumed and still burning, however the fire had not reached the gas tank.

Little June Brown of Burlington spent several days last week with her aunt, Mrs. Al Stephens.

Miss Mary Bess Jarrell of Burlington spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Jarrell.

We have had plenty of very fine strawberries here.

Rev. Dunaway of Glencoe, made a buisness trip here last week. His friends here are always glad to see him.

Misses Leotha and Frances B. Deck are spending their vacations with their parents on Woolper.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Watts spent last Monday and Tuesday with Mrs. Ella Brady in Cincinnati.

Mr. Cantley of Hawaii spent Thursday and Friday night with Mrs. Nellie Helm and son, he being a friend of FrankHelm, who is stationed in Hawaii.

Mrs. Louis and daughter of Aurora, Ind., spent Sunday p. m. with Mrs. Olga Geisler.

Rev. Hilton and family spent last week in Southern Kentucky visiting relatives.

WATERLOO

Rev. and Mrs. Sam Hamilton and daughter were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hightower.

Miss Virginia Stephens spent Friday with Miss Corrine Walton.

Eugene Purdy returned home from Junior Week at Lexington, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Badger Buckler entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buckler and relatives of Marion, Ind., Mrs. Herman Buckler and daughter and Miss Bonnie Buckler.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Conner and children spent the weekend at the farm here.

Little Eddie Eddins spent several days with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Willie Presser.

W. J. Newhall and son Wilbert were Monday dinner guests of his father, W. J. Newhall andsister, Mrs. Irene Stephenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lambkin and daughter visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Alloway one day last week

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Purdy and daughters called on Mrs. Lelia Kite, Saturday night.

Wilbert J. Newhall, III, returned to his duties at Norfolk, Va., after a visit with his father here.

Mrs. Sallie Setters visited her relatives here the past few weeks.

Rev. and Mrs. Sam Hamilton moved their trailer to Lake Waterloo, Monday where they plan to spend part of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ryle visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cam White, this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cook visited Mr. and Mrs. Jake Cook last week.

Mrs. Zophie Bagby and children spent Friday with Mrs. Bill Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stephens spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Pope.

N. J. Newhall and John Stephenson entertained Mr. Stephenson's daughter, Anne, and husband of Covington this weekend.

Bernard McNeely and son Bobby were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McNeely.

UNION

Miss Lucille Deane of Frankfort is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Points and family of Cincinnati at this time.

Mrs. George R. Smith has returned home after having spent the past two weeks with relatives in Tennessee. Her sister accompanied her home for a visit with Mrs. Smith and other relatives of Covington and Newport.

Miss Emily Bristow is now employed in Lexington.

Mrs. Elmer Noe and Miss Margaret Kearns have entertained their Sunday School classes with picnics the past week.

Mrs. W. S. Friend had her two brothers, Ed and Roy Denton of Dayton, as her guests last Saturday afternoon.

Miss Thelma Robinson is now employed in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Newman entertained the following guests last Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Feldhaus of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hedges of Union; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Feldhaus and William Feldhaus of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ryan and family, and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hedges and daughter Evelyn.

The many friends of Mrs. Willford Stevens will be happy to know she is able to be out again.

Marion Walton and a group of friends of Newport spent the past weekend touring the central part of Kentucky. They visited High Bridge, Georgetown, and Lexington. Berea College and Renfro Valley and other points in interest.

Most farmers in this section are through setting tobacco, thanks to the heavy rain of last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Emral have the framework of their new home erected at this time.

Mrs. John Masters and daughter Crystal have returned home from a visit with their relatives of near Louisville.

Do your bit—contribute to the U. S. O.

BEAVER LICK NEWS

George W. Baker, Jr., had his tonsils removed at a Cincinnatai hospital last week, and is doing nicely.

Edward Hamilton is suffering from a dislocated knee, due to a fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Odom are occupying rooms at Mrs. Fannie Howard's, while Mr. Odom is employed on the Beaver-Big Bone road.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Arnold and son J. L., Mr. and Mrs. Rex Kite and Mrs. Fannie Howard enjoyed an automobile trip to Paris, recently.

Mrs. Ralph Carpenter and daughters of Walton are enjoying a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack, and attending services at the Baptist Church.

Pvt. Clifford Hamilton of New York, was the Saturday night guest of his sister, Mrs. Elbert Moore and family.

A large crowd of folks of this neighborhood attended the funeral of uncle Bob Sleet, Monday afternoon.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Jim Sleet is ill at her home in Beaver.

Rev. and Mrs. Godbey and Mrs. Kate Wilson called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones to see Mrs. Addie Burris, who is ill.

Mrs. Boyd Jones left Tuesday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stone of Louisville.

Omer W. Cleek purchased the farm of Mrs. Jessie Ryan last week.

A revival is in progress at the Baptist Church, with services at 9:30 p. m., daily—Eastern War Time. A Daily Vacation Bible School is being held each afternoon at 2:30 and all the young folks of the neighborhood are especially invited to come and take part each day. Sunday, June 14 has been set aside as Home-Comng Day and everyone is invited. There will be preaching at 11 a. m. and in the afternoon and in the evening—so come, bring your lunch and stay all day. Rev. Spahr will speak each evening and Mike and Rachel Acree will have charge of the singing.

OVER THE TOP
FOR VICTORY
with
UNITED STATES WAR
BONDS-STAMPS

Bonnie

Bonnie Stuart, Philadelphia's top gal vocalist, is the latest songstress-extraordinary to join WLW's staff of singing artists. Songs by Bonnie are heard over WLW at 6:15 p. m., E-WAR-T, Mondays, Thursdays, and Fridays.

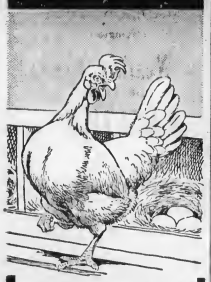
International

Traveler and vocalist is raven-haired Mimi Cabanne, songbird who trills in Spanish, Russian, Italian, German, French and even — English featured on the WLW-NBC Horace Heidt show at 8:30 p. m., E-WAR-T, Tuesdays.

Vague

Barbara Jo Allen (Vera Vague) is Bob Hope's special treat for the service men in his troupe's swing around the military centers. Hope and troupe are heard Tuesdays over WLW-NRC at 10:00 p. m. E-WAR-T.

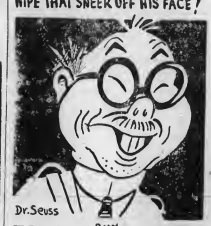
Art For Art



Art Baker and Art Linkletter, co-emcees of the new "People Are Funny" radio parlor game, are heard over WLW-NBC at 10:30 p. m., E.WAR.T. Thursdays.

Ship Ahoy!

Rita Ascot, of "Ma Perkins" fame, heard over WLW at 3:15 p. m., E.WAR.T., weekdays, shows insignia for "Chief Pretty Officer" post at U. S. Great Lakes Training Station — powder puff, lipstick rampant.



GET THOSE EGGS
economically, with Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS
$4.50 PER 100
DR. SALSBURY
POULTRY REMEDIES
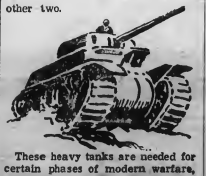
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

PAINTERS ARE BUSY THESE DAYS
Decorating Northern Kentucky Homes With
BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT
Arrange for the beautification of your home with this high-grade paint of guaranteed satisfaction for durability, covering capacity, brilliancy and permanency of shade and beauty of finish. Our paints save you money—last longer and add years to your property. Get A BOEHMER WEARMORE PAINT FOR EVERY PAINT NEED.
There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You,
Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.
THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.
114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212



WIPE THAT SNEER OFF HIS FACE!

Dr. Seuss
BUY
WAR SAVINGS BONDS & STAMPS
U. S. Treasury Department

Goode Has It!
ROTENONE DUST—The best of all killers for bean beetles, etc.—1-lb. bag 30c; 2-lb. bag 50c 5-lb. bag $1.00
LEE'S GERMOZONE—For poultry—4 oz. bottle 40c; 12 oz. 75c; 32 oz. $1.50; ½ gallon $2.50; 1 gallon $4.50
PRATT'S FLY SPRAY—For cows and livestock—quart can 45c; 1 gallon can $1.25
"BLACK LEAF 40"—For garden spray and roosts—1 oz. bottle 35c; 5 oz. $1.00; 16 oz. $2.35; 32 oz. $3.45
CYANOGAS—A dust—Kills moles, rats, etc.—
CYANOGAS ANT KILLER—For outside ants—30c - 45c - 75c
GOLDEN CROSS BANTAM HYBRID SUGAR CORN—1 lb. 35c; 3 lbs. $1.00; 10 lbs. $3.00
BEANS—Ideal Pole, McCaslon Pole, Ky. Wonder, Missouri Wonder, Cranberry Pole, Cut Short, Ky. Wonder Wax Pole, etc., lb. 25c
Bill Snyder's 60-day Field Corn, bushel $3.00
Wilson's White Dent, Red Cob bushel $3.00
U. S. No. 13 Hybrid bushel $6.50
GEORGE C. GOODE
23 PIKE ST. - 22 W. 7th ST. - COVINGTON, KY.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS
These huge 60-ton heavy tanks cost $120,000, and America's automotive and locomotive plants are turning them out on a never-ending assembly line. Our army uses light tanks, weighing 14 tons, and medium tanks of 28 tons also, but we favor the medium tank over the other two.

These heavy tanks are needed for certain phases of modern warfare, and with their thick armor and heavy-gauge guns they are almost unstoppable. They are considered superior in gun power, in maneuverability and in the power of their huge tractor motors to Axis tanks. Americans everywhere are helping to pay for these monsters of war through their purchase of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. U. S. Treasury Department

We'll Show You HOW TO SAVE

Walton Perpetual Bldg. & Loan Assn.
DIXIE STATE BANK BLDG. WALTON, KY.
E. S. West, Sec'y A. M. Edwards, Pres.
— SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDENDS —

Prepare For A Good Position
Salaries to Start — $18.00 to $35.00 Per Week.
National Defense and Private Industry Needs
More Stenographers and Typists—
DAY & NIGHT CLASSES — Start Your Course at Once.
Curtis Commercial College
EDWARD C. BADER, Principal
COlonial 0583 7 West Pike St., Covington, Ky.

Special Price On GRASS SEEDS
U. S. No. 13 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu. $6.50
Iowa No. 939 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu. 6.00
Wilson Black Soybeans, per bu. $2.20
Virginia Brown Soybeans, per bu. 2.30
RED CLOVER, per bu. $14.10
KOREAN, per 100 lbs. 8.25
TIMOTHY, per bu. 4.40
See Us for Prices Before Buying Your COAL!
Walton Feed Mills
PHONE 57 WALTON, KY.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 14

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

SUNDAY: THE RISEN CHRIST AND HIS DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT—Luke 24:33-48.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye are witnesses of these things.—Luke 24:48.

The glory and gladness of the resurrection morning drove back the darkness of the tomb and replaced the disciples' sadness with holy gladness. God's message to His people is one of assurance and hope. The night may be dark, but the dawn will surely come.

Two of Jesus' disciples had been walking sadly along the road to Emmaus when suddenly a stranger was with them, telling them what the Scriptures taught about the Christ—His sufferings and His glory. Their hearts burned strangely within them (Luke 24:32), but they did not recognize Him until He broke the bread of their evening meal—and then He was gone.

But now they had a joyous message which sent them hurrying back to Jerusalem to the eleven who had gathered behind locked doors to discuss the reports which had also come to them of His resurrection. And suddenly—

I. "Jesus Himself Stood in the Midst" (vv. 33-43).

What a blessed and conclusive confirmation of their report. He, their beloved Lord and Master, stood there before them, alive and speaking! His tender message of "Peace."

The disciples, however, were bewildered and slow to believe. Observe how kind and patient He was with these frightened and unbelieving men. And note what a splendid testimony it is to the truth of the resurrection that they who knew Him best expected proof before they believed.

Before we condemn them for lack of faith let us ask ourselves if we would have done better, and let us be thankful that their hesitation made assurance doubly sure. He was really there—alive. Partaking of food (which He did not need), and giving them opportunity to touch his body. He demonstrated the reality of the resurrection.

He next gave them a sure foundation for faith.

II. "Then Opened He Their Understanding" (vv. 44, 45).

This He did that they might "understand the scriptures." Their minds had become confused and He literally "disentangled" them. We need to have the knots and kinks taken out of our thinking about God's Word, Then we too will understand.

Dealing with the entire Old Testament (divided by the Hebrews into law, prophets, and psalms), He thus gave it His endorsement. Men may deny, but Jesus approved the Scriptures of the Old Testament—and we are ready to take His word. "All things must be fulfilled" is His statement concerning Himself. There is our Lord's guarantee that the promises of His second coming, and all that is associated with it, as well as with His future reign, will be fulfilled.

This time of fellowship with the Lord around the Word of God was strengthening to their faith, but it had another purpose. The blessings of God are not for our own satisfaction alone, for it is His will that there be—

III. "Repentance Preached in His Name" (vv. 46-48).

There is a message to go out through His disciples to all nations. He died for the sins of the world. He arose for the justification of those who believe. There is remission of sin for those who in repentance and faith turn to Him.

Fellowship with Christ and an understanding of His Word which does not result in aggressive witness for Him is quite useless. We meet Him and study His Word not only that we may grow in grace, but that we may be witnesses to all nations.

To be a witness involves knowledge of a fact, to the truth of which the individual can bear testimony. The disciples were called to be witnesses "not speculators, philosophers, moralists or legislators. They had neither to argue nor to dissertate, nor to lay down rules for conduct, nor to ventilate their own fancies. They were witnesses, and their business was to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth" (Alexander Maclaren).

The Christian by life possibly more than by word is to "adorn the doctrine of God," as Paul put it (Titus 2:10), commending it to those round about him. Observe that such a witness is to start right at home, "beginning at Jerusalem" (v. 47).

It may be difficult in our times to send witnesses to distant lands, for ships are busy carrying the men and implements of war. But right in your Jerusalem there is a spiritual need, in your little town or rural community, in the city where you live, in your home, office, shop, or school. You who read this who are in the service of the country will find a "Jerusalem" in your camp or on your ship.

Classified Ads Get Results

BAPTIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky
C. J. ALFORD, Pastor

Bible School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:15 a. m.
B. T. U.....7:30 p. m.
Evening Worship.....8:30 p. m.
Prayer Meeting, Wed., 8:30 p. m.

METHODIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky
REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor

Sunday School 10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship 11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship 7:00 p. m.
Evening Service 8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky
GEO. CAROLAND, Pastor

Bible School.....10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:30 a. m.
Evening Service.....8:00 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church
J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.
10:00 A. M. Bible School
11:00 A. M. Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. Evening Worship
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.
Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Union, Kentucky

Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister
Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.
10:00 a. m., Sunday School,
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship,
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.
Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scout

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH
Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH
REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor
First and Third Sunday—
Sunday School 10:00 a. m.
Preaching Service 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH
REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor

Sunday School 10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship 7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH
Verona, Ky.
REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor

Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Morning Worship 11 a. m.
Evening Service 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8 p. m.
All times given Central War time

Remember Bataan
Invest
A Dime Out of Every Dollar in
U.S. War Bonds

FOR BETTER HEALTH

Some indications of eye-strain are: Squinting, frowning, straining to see, drowsiness after reading, headaches, nervousness, discomfort of eyes after reading, sensitiveness of eyes to light, wrinkles and crow's fee taround eyes, imperfect vision, and have to hold reading matter very close or at arm's length.

We examine eyes and furnish glasses that will correct eye-strain.

Frank Riggs

Adjustment, Not Shortage

RIGHT adjustment in human affairs does not involve shortage When human thinking is kept in accord with the law of God, lack, limitation, and shortage must disappear. Proper adjustment in world conditions today can be made only through spiritual insight and an increased understanding of God's law of unfailing supply. Supply can be proved equal to demand, because in God's universe there is no shortage of good.

God's abundant supply never changes. It does not come and go with the tide of mortal thinking. God is abundantly pouring forth all good, and the real man is continually receiving this good. For proper human adjustment, thought must yield to the divine in every instance. Personal planning, ambitions, habits, and fixed rules of human conduct must accord with that which is best for the greatest number. An understanding of what constitutes reality will adjust any sense of shortage that would try to present itself. There is a right idea present and available to give us daily whatever to our limited sense of things seems essential for human use. In the thought which is tractable, spiritual, peaceable, these ideas will come to light.

Right adjustment, then, is spiritually mental adjustment to God's law. This adjustment relinquishes human will and selfishness and resigns all to the dear Father's tender, loving care. No shortage can occur from this adjustment, and many latent possibilities of increase will be brought into expression

When our dear Master, Christ Jesus, discerned the human need of the multitude for food, after they had listened long to his preaching and he found that among them there were but five loaves and two fishes, he commanded that all be seated "And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves. . . . And they did all eat, and were filled" (Mark 6:41, 42). To human sense, the visible supply seemed very inadequate, and there was much room for doubt as to the possibility of meeting the need. Nevertheless, the unfailing confidence of the Master and his recognition of infinite power put to silence any argument of limitation, and all accepted the increase without question.

Jesus did not entertain an argument of shortage. He did not question whether there was enough to go around. Neither did he consider what he would do when the supply was depleted. He knew that God was supplying the needs of all, and that this supply was at hand regardless of the testimony of mortal sense. "He looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves." He looked to God, w] law was adequate to bring proper increase. By his spiritual wisdom Jesus proved for us that supply comes through spiritual thinking, and that no human condition can deprive the right thinker of anything he needs. . .

In "Miscel.aneous Writings" Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, states (p. 307): "God gives you His spiritual ideas, and in turn, they give you daily supplies. Never ask for tomorrow: it is enough that divine Love is an ever-present help; and if you wait, never doubting, you will have all you need every moment." What a blessed assurance this is! . . .

A state of mortal thought which would delay proper adjustment is that one which hoards material things at the sacrifice of others' well-being and comfort. Hoarding is an act of selfishness, and deprives the one who indulges it of his reliance upon God, the source and substance of all true supply. To hoard is to admit shortage and limitation and to invite their appearing. Those who wish to abide by our Master's commandments, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength," and "Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself" (Mark 12:30, 31), will not engage in the practice of limiting their sense of good.

Let the one who is contemplating future inconveniences and losses turn his thoughts to God, who is the Giver and Protector of all good. Can anything change God's universal plan? Can Mind, which gives us daily supplies, ever cease in its production of ideas? Can good lapse into evil or Love change into hate? No, the universal law of Love can never be touched by anything base or unworthy. Nothing can ever change the uninterrupted continuity of Spirit. God's law is continually in operation. Hence, whatever adjustment needs to take place is in individual thinking, so that the human may yield to the divine and God's omnipotence be demonstrated on earth.

God's law is a law of sufficiency. It does not take away from one to give to another. He "is no respecter of persons" (Acts 10:34), but He supplies all of His children with spiritual ideas, and all who will accept them can demonstrate daily supply. Jesus fed the multitude and there was food enough and to spare, "and they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes" (Mark 6:43). This experience proved that God not only supplies our needs but supplies them abundantly. As thought is adjusted to God's law of universal harmony, the beliefs of limitation and shortage will yield to a broader and increasing unfoldment of spiritual ideas. . . .
—The Christian Science Monitor.

Several Kenton county 4-H club members established model gardens with the aid of the local Kiwanis club, which contributed seed.

In order to complete our wartime merchant ship program, we shall have to turn out an average of three ships a day during this year and the next.

Cumberland county farmers, as a patriotic gesture and a good farming method, are growing 175 acres of hemp.

A dime out of every dollar we earn
IS OUR QUOTA for VICTORY with U. S. WAR BONDS

INDEPENDENCE

Mrs. Nellie Riley of Covington visited recently with her mother, Mrs. G. C. Rothman and sister, Mrs. Stella Kenney.

Miss Colleen Vallandingham of Walton, who visited her cousin, Mrs. Alton House, and Mr. House, has returned to her home.

Pvt. J. D. Conner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Price Conner, who was inducted into the army recently is now stationed at Ft. Bragg, North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephenson of Dayton, Ohio visited last week with his sister, Mrs. Will Frazier an dMr. Frazier.

Mrs. Gordon Riley and sister, Mrs. Harold Snyder were recent dinner guests of Mrs. Marion Schadler at Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gross and little daughter Pauline of Erlanger spent the weekend with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hez Durr.

Miss Dorothy Adams, who is a student at Eastern State Teachers College, Richmond, is the guest of her aunts, Misses Bessie and Mabel Howe.

Miss Bettie Snape is visiting her aunt in Covington.

Mrs. Drude Smith of Covington is spending some time with Miss Carrie and Ollie Smith.

Mrs. Gordon Riley left Wednesday to spend some time with her husband, Pvt. Gordon Riley, who is stationed at Ft. Cowber, Mo.

Welcome guests of Mr. and Mrs. Price Conner were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conner of VanBuren, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Wittner of Covington, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Easybuck and daughter of Erlanger, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rector of Atwood, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Rector of Elsmere, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Blackburn of Latonia, Jodeana, Alberta and Roselyn Bird, Ornetta and Hilda Curley, Jean Rivard, Miss Carrie Smith, Mrs. Eva Wade and Mrs. Finnell, Mr. and Mrs. Will Tippett, Mrs. Edith Armstrong, Frank Rouse of Burlington ,Mae and Naomi Blackburn, Jo Ann Wingate and Charles Ray Ramsey.

Our Classified Ads Get Results—

Kingdom For A Horse

To hear Frank Morgan boast he is a hard-ridin', rootin', tootin' equestrian of the old Western school. Times will really get tough if Morgan has to make good all his WLW-NBC Coffee Time talk. Heard at 8:00 p. m., E.WAR.T., Thursdays.

CONCORD

The dry weather was broken by a violent storm Saturday... heavy rain and bad lightning. The barn of Price Webster was struck and burned, with a great loss of hay and farming tools.

Harry Chapman, his daughter and husband, were calling Sunday at D. R. Chapman's.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Robinson spent Sunday with their daughter and family in Ludlow.

A. J. Stone, Wilbur Bingham and wife were calling at Ross Chapman's Sunday afternoon.

J. K. Chapman and daughter, Mrs. Nix of Folsom spent Sunday at Floyd Chapman's.

Mrs. John Kennedy and Mrs. John Boyer were business visitors in Walton, Friday.

Quite a number of our people attended the opening of the new Chipman store in Walton, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Jones received a letter from their son, Richard, in North Ireland. He says it is such a beautiful country. They were on the ship 13 days and never saw the sun. We rejoice with them in hearing from him. They also entertained their son William and family of Latonia on Sunday.

Preaching at Concord, Sunday morning and evening. Everyone attend that can. A gracious welcome is extended.

NAPOLEON

Misses Dorcie Miller, Mary Eva Allphin, Mary Katherine Ewbank Alberta Miller and James Lee Allphin were among those that attended Junior Week at Lexington last week. Mary Eva and Alberta won second as a team in demonstration of sugarless deserts. 18 other teams competed against them.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Webster of Berea and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clifford Webster and two sons of Hamilton, Ohio spent last week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Spaulding.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Collins and daughter Marlene of Covington spent a couple of days last week with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hendrix and family and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rogers and family of Sharonville, Ohio spent last Sunday with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rogers.

Miss Bessie Lee Richerson left for Erlanger, Sunday night, where she contemplates getting a job.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simolton and sons of Ohio spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Woolery.

Rev. Wm. Smith conducted church services here Sunday nite and was accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mary Belle.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Collins of Covington spent Sunday with Mr and Mrs. E. W. Collins and family.

Mrs. Mary Alexander of Latonia spent several days last week with her sons, William and Charles Alexander, and their wives.

To Rebuild Ten Mile Church

Plans are progressing nicely toward rebuilding Ten Mile Church once more. Much enthusiasm exists among the members, also those that are not members. The sister churches extend a lot of encouragement, with that and everyone working and planning cooperatively and faith, there is no reason why we should not be worshiping in a new building by fall. There are church services each 2nd and 4th Sunday and 1st and 3rd Sunday nights by Rev. Wm. Smith at the I. O. O. F. hall. The doors are open and a hearty invitation is extended to everyone. Come!

Trigg county farmers have held several meetings to study the best methods of pest control.

Many orders for hybrid corn delivery already have been booked in Webster county.

Tops

Bernadine Flynn, Sade of Red Net's "Vic and Sade", weekday family saga heard over WLW at 5:45 p. m., E-WAR-T, knits for VICTORY between rehearsals. The 1942 Radio-Movie Guide Poll rated her program the best daytime serial.

NORRIS, BROCK CO.
Cincinnati Stock Yards

—Live Wire and Progressive—

An organization second to none. We are strictly sellers on the best all around market in the country.

We work for our customers first, last, and all the time.

Reference: Ask the first man you meet.

Hope that you will eventually ship to us. Why not now?

—SERVICE THAT SATISFIES—

DEAD STOCK REMOVED

SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS

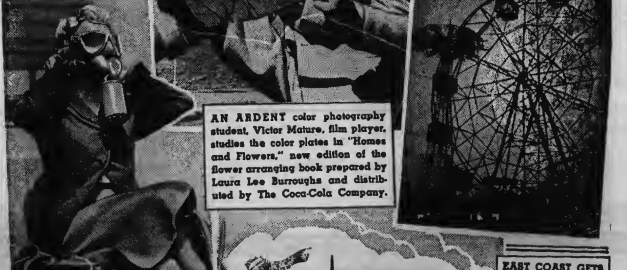
CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887

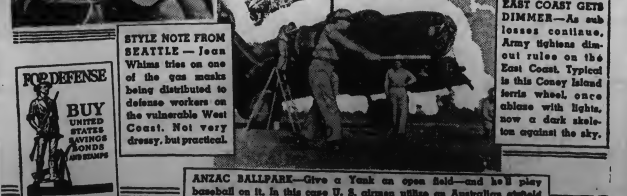
REVERSE PHONE CHARGE

Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.

LOCKLAND —:— OHIO

In The WEEK'S NEWS





INDUSTRIAL WARRIORS—Typical of thousands of women now filling U. S. war factories are these skilled women craftsmen employed at an Army Ordnance Arsenal. At some jobs women surpass male workers.

RESCUE SHIP LAUNCHED—New type warship, a rescue vessel, is launched on the Great Lakes for the British. Powered by General Motors Diesel engines, the boats can tow home from mid-ocean disabled vessels as large as a battleship.

AN ARDENT color photography student, Victor Mature, film player, studies the color plates in "Homes and Flowers," new edition of the flower arranging book prepared by Laura Lee Burroughs and distributed by The Coca-Cola Company.

STYLE NOTE FROM SEATTLE — Jean Whims tries on one of the gas masks being distributed to defense workers on the vulnerable West Coast. Not very dressy, but practical.

EAST COAST GETS DIMMER—As sub losses continue, Army tightens dim-out rules on the East Coast. Typical is this Coney Island ferris wheel, once ablaze with lights, now a dark skeleton against the sky.

FOR DEFENSE BUY UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

ANZAC BALLPARK—Give a Yank an open field—and he'll play baseball on it. In this case U. S. airmen utilize an Australian airfield between bombing raids on Jap bases in the East Indies.

This Week on The Home Front

Here is a resume of important happenings:
OPA at grips with inflation.
More rent control coming.
Retail Compliance check starts.
Price adjustment starts.
Gasoline prices ordered posted.
Handicapped found useful.
WPB forecasts more sacrifices.
Salvage still vital issue.
Pocket knife manufacture out.
Allies trade knowledge, supplies.

Our nation at war on the seven seas is fast coming to grips with inflation at home.

With the General Maximum Price Regulation in effect and rent control an actuality in an increasing number of defense rental areas, the Office of Price Administration now finds itself in the thick of the fray.

While merchants work to comply with the price ceiling regulation, landlords in rent controlled communities this week are trying a few with not very good grace, to reconcile their minds to the fact that OPA is not going to let them inflate rents.

For the retailer and the landlord, therefore, these are days of drastic adjustment to the necessities of a total war economy.

In the major departments of our emergency war effort on the domestic front, progress is reported.

OPA will begin this week a national checkup to see whether retail merchants are complying with the General Maximum Price Regulation by posting properly the selling and ceiling prices of the cost-of-living commodities. The Cleveland Regional Office, which handles work on West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan and Indiana, is now checking in Detroit. The OPA investigators will be in Columbus, Ohio; Charleston, West Virginia; and Louisville, Kentucky, in a few days. The checkup if officially described as educational, but records of results will be kept.

Process of adjusting pre-retail prices where retailers are being squeezed has begun. OPA is considering a "roll back" of wholesale prices of men and boys' work clothing at wholesale, manufacturing, and cloth stages. Mximum price of refined lard to wholesaler and retailer has been ordered cut back to the February level.

Government rent control is being gradually extended. During the past week, 24 additional defense rental areas were designated, bringing the total of designated areas to 366 with a population of 89 million people. March 1, 1942, is the maximum rent date for Mansfield, Ohio, area (Ashland, Crawford, and Richland Counties), and Parkersburg, West Virginia, area (Wood County in West Virginia and Washington County in Ohio).

Gasoline business is now brought into line with the General Maximum Price Regulation. Gas stations, by order of Price Administrator Leon Henderson, must post ceiling prices and the grade of gas, "premium, regular, third." The dealers must file their prices with the OPA on or before July 1.

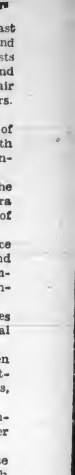
A few days ago War Manpower Commission Chairman Paul V. McNutt released figures of the United States Employment Service showing that a growing army of physically handicapped men and women is taking a place in war production. "Performance records of handicapped men and women who have been hired in war industries," said Mr. McNutt, "...show clearly that in many occupations they produce as efficiently as the physically normal worker."

We cannot afford to waste manpower, nor can a nation fighting for the freedom of all permit discrimination against any group because of race or color or creed. The President's committee on fair employment practice, which has been hearing complaints that negroes weren't being trained to meet the shortage of shipyard workers in the Southeast, has called on educational authorities in Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, and Florida, to set up training courses for colored workers "in all major shipyard occupations."

Because we are pouring everything we have into the war effort, we are faced with shortages in vital materials, shortages which, according to WPB's Division of Materialsc, will grow more serious as the war progresses. This has meant and will continhe to mean less and less for the civilian, widespread shbstitution, and an increasing necessity for getting scrap metals and other materials back to the processing plants.

That last necessity, more than ever before, indicates a spare-time job for each of us. WPB stresses the urgent need for civilian collection of scrap, especially metals and old rubber. Only by scraping the bottom of the barrel shall we have enough for victory. This was true some months ago, today, it is a matter of pressing, immediate, continual need. Unless we get in the scrap, furnaces will grow cold, and cold furnaces can lose wars.

The U. S. A. is going to have less melody so that our avitaors may sing a song of destruction over Germany and Japan. A recent WPB order stops manufacture of almost all musical instruments in order that more guns may be fired, more bombs dropped. The 15,000 tons of war materials which went into pianos, saxophones and other musical instruments in 1940 would have supplied the iron for 11,500 6-ton army trucks, steel for 83 medium tanks, brass for 49,000,000 rounds of .30 calibre ammunition, copper for 500 155-mm field pieces, aluminum for 40,000 aircraft flares.



We're going to get along without any new carving sets, pen and pocket knives and manicuring scissors. WPB decided they were not necessary in wartime, ordered their production stopped after June 30. WPB also cut, and sharply, manufacture of tableware and other cutlery.

Here's what the saving means in terms of metals and materials badly needed in the fight for freedom—6,000 tons of iron and steel, 2,000 tons of stainless steel, 600 tons of copper alloy, and smaller amounts of nickel, chrome, ruober and plastics.

The U. S. A. has put more materials and finished products into the United Nation's pool than any other of the democracies, because we have had more to give. We've sent and are sending vast quantities of weapons and supplies to our Allies in the form of lend-lease shipments.

Now, however, the adventure in cooperation is working both ways—we're getting help from these Allies as well as giving it. Lend-lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., the other day disclosed that the British are feeding our troops in Northern Ireland, furnishing them with supplies and building their camps and that Great Britian also has turned over much military equipment to us, including a complete gun factory.

Russia has sent us valuable data on building tanks and technical experts on explosives, Australia is servicing our forces in the Far East. American warships are being repaired in British ports, just as British warships are repaired in American shipyards, and American airplanes are supplied at Bustralian airdromes. It's one for all and all for one, in the fight to lick the Axis.

AN IMMEDIATE SUCCESS—Seventeen-year-old, blonde Glynis Johns has been awarded Hollywood's first post-war movie contract by Columbia Pictures, as a result of her performance in "The Invaders" opposite such seasoned performers as Laurence Olivier, Leslie Howard and Raymond Massey. Her characterization of a Hutterite girl is one of the highlights of this Canadian-made production, which is a current release. Presently in England, Glynis will await the war's end to report to Columbia.

MT. ZION

Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Gatewood and daughter Margaret of Cincinnati spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gatewood and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Frakey of Covington were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Collins.

Mrs. Pearl Dunn is visiting relatives in Cincinnati.

Pvt. Johnnie B. Franks arrived home Saturday from California, where he has been in a hospital for some time. He has been in the army for over two years and relieved from service with a disability discharge.

Ed Jones was taken seriously ill Tuesday. He was rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital and operated on immediately for appendicitis. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Friends here were sorry to hear of the death of little Thomas Wiley, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wiley of Nicholson. Sympathy is extended to the entire family in their sorrow.

Mrs. Nannie Mae Miller spent a few days the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Gibson of Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ferrell Misses Gwyndolyn and Fredricka Ferrell spent the weekend with Mrs. Works at Morning View.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Connelly and daughters of near Elliston.

Mr. and Mrs. Ossage of Butler spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lon Roberts and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Weghorn and children of Covington were weekend guests of Mrs. Basha Hopkins.

Mrs. Jim Wood has a position at Ft. Knox, staying in the home of an officer—to be near her husband, who is in camp.

Mary Louise Barnes and Winston Franks, who recently graduated from Crittenden school, have positions in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jones and daughter Winona, Wilma Jones and Mrs. Abbie Jones all visited Ed Jones at the hospital Thursday.

The Y. W. A. and Glad Girls Sunday School class will meet at the home of Mary Lucas, Saturday for an all-day meeting. Each member is invited to attend.

The Truth Seekers Sunday Sunday School class will meet at the home of Mrs. Roberta Jones, Friday night.

Mrs. Margaret Glass entertained the Rose Marlowe Circle last Tuesday afternoon.

The Leavelle Circle met with Mrs. Flora Kennedy, Thursday for an all-day meeting.

(Delayed from Last Week)

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gross of this place, Mrs. Howard Beach of Elliston, Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander and son of Napoleon, attended the graduation of Miss Clara Elizabeth Franks, as nurse from the Mercy Hospital, Hamilton, Ohio, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira G. Stephenson entertained the following guests during the weekend: Mrs. Della Greenwell and son Lee, Mildred Albert, Charles Halloway, Lelia Stephenson and boy friend, all of Cincinnati; Miss Ellena Greenwell of Covington; Freddy Hamilton of Verona, and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Kuhn and daughter of Williamstown.

Mrs. Jimmy Gibson and Mrs. James Woods are spending a few days with their husbands at Ft. Knox.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Roberts are entertaining a little daughter, which arrived Wednesday—named Hope Elona.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Menefee spent Sunday at Walton with relatives.

Mrs. Lester Lusher of Toledo, Ohio spent a few days the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Blair. Sunday guests in the Blair home were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mueller, Robert Blair and friend of Covington; Mrs. Wallace Carnes and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Kline Menefee of Flingsville spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Pettit and family.

Mrs. Cora Greene spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Vallandingham and daughter of Crittenden.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lawrence had as Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Anderson and family, Evelyn Anderson, and Kathleen Lawrence.

A large crowd visited the graves of their loved ones here Memorial Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Jarmen and Mary Ben Franks spent Saturday night with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gross.

Mrs. Basha Hopkins entertained her children from town over the weekend.

Rev. Spahr of Independence was called as pastor of our church Saturday night at a special meeting.

Marion Carnes remains ill at this writing; also Mrs. Allen Vaughn.

SOUTH FORK

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rid and children were visitors in Covington, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler called on Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon, Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and children and Mrs. Lula Sisson were callers in Walton, Monday night.

W. W. Scott was a visitor in Cincinnati and Covington, Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Scudder, Mrs. Sue Rider and son spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Bess Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler and Elden Stahl spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. John Lamn. The men were shearing sheep.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler called on Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Dean and John West, Tuesday night and had ice cream.

Mrs. Pearlene Lillard spent Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Scudder and brother, Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and children and Mrs. Lula Sisson called on Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donnell spent Sunday afternoon with her parents.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION PAID?

Our Job Is to Save Dollars
Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day

HEALTH and HAPPINESS Await You At
DILLSBORO
Home of the Famous White Crane Mineral Water

Although Dillsboro's fame is based largely on the excellent results obtained from treating arthritis, rheumatic afflictions, stomach troubles and nervous disorders, more people daily find Dillsboro the ideal place to vacation. Here, amidst pleasant, quiet surroundings, one rests, relaxes and builds up a reserve of health that wards off trouble in the future.

Visit Dillsboro for a week or so. Take the mineral baths and drink the waters. The glowing health, the peace of mind and the general rejuvenation you receive from the Dillsboro treatment will give you a new lease on life.

RATES $27.00 to $37.00 WEEKLY
Include Delicious Meals, Attractive Room, Mineral Baths
E. F. Gerkepott, Mgr.

DILLSBORO HEALTH RESORT
U. S. Route 50 DILLSBORO, INDIANA

Is YOUR SUBSCRIPTION Paid In Advance?
It Should Be, You Know!

WALTON ADVERTISER
PHONE 30

Fixer

Walter Tetley is working on that blame NBC mike so more people can hear his contribution to "The Great Gildersleeve" over WLW Sunday nights at 6:30 p. m., E-WAR-T.

ON THE OFFENSIVE AMERICA!

* * *

Wars are won by attacking, not by sitting in a fort!

And today America is taking the offensive against the Axis with hard-fighting, non-stoppeble men and materials!

We're taking the offensive, too, against the enemy at home—the inflationary 6th column that blows prices sky high.

You can help in both fights by saving at least 10% of your money in U. S. War Bonds every pay day. Attack the Axis with your dollers today.

You can start with as little as a 10c War Stamp and you can get a $25.00 War Bond (maturity value) for only $18.75—at your local post office, bank or other convenient sales agency.

U. S. Treasury Department

FOR VICTORY

BUY UNITED STATES WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

ON A PICTURE SET—Joan Crawford plays hostess to Mrs. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., widow of America's first war hero. When the star learned that Mrs. Kelly was in Hollywood, she invited her to tea on the "He Kissed The Bride" set at Columbia, where Miss Crawford is co-starring with Melvyn Douglas under the direction of Alexander Hall. It was Mrs. Kelly's first visit to a motion picture studio, despite the fact that before the war she was stationed with her late husband at nearby March Field, Riverside, Calif.

For Your Protection
THE BLOCK WITH FULL DRESSED TOP

Faces, Edges, Corners, Have Beauty Of Cut Stone

Many of our 4x8x16" Block are being used to build Milk Houses and many other buildings on the farm. Buildings from these blocks are permanent and economical construction.

—See Us for Further Information—

COLONIAL COAL and SUPPLY CO.
Phone DIxie 7626
DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER, KY.

. Ceiling Prices .

Did Not Affect Our Regular Prices
Because They Are And Always
Were Way Under The Ceiling Price.

We Sell Better Shoes For Less and Prove It

Every Pair Guaranteed Perfect!

What We Say It Is—IT IS!

Men's - Boys' Second Floor

Ladies' - Girls' First Floor

WE FIT THE HARD TO FIT !

We Carry More Nationally Known Makes to Select from Than Any Other Store in Northern Kentucky.

QUALITY SAMPLE SHOES

627 MADISON AVE., COVINGTON, KY.

NEW JAMES THEATRE

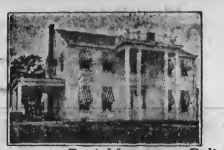
WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m. —Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY & SAT., JUNE 12-13
"THE SPOILERS"
Marlene Dietrich - Randy Scott

SUNDAY, JUNE 14
Claudette Colbert in
"REMEMBER THE DAY"

MONDAY, JUNE 15
Lynn Bari - Alan Curtis in
"WE GO FAST"



TUESDAY & WED., JUNE 16-17
Betty Grable - Victure Mature in
I WAKE UP SCREAMING

THURSDAY, JUNE 18
George Montgomery in
"LAST of the DUANES"

Succeeds Peter Grant

With Peter Grant off to the Army, Jay Sims is engaged to carry-on. Witnessing the signature of the popular New York newscaster are James D. Shouse, vice-president of the Crosley Corporation in charge of broadcasting, and Robert Dunville, vice-president and general sales manager. Sims is heard over WLW at 11:00 p. m. EWT, nightly, and at 4:30 p. m. EWT, as moderator of the Sunday "Views on the News" broadcast.

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.

CHAMBERS & GRUBBS
Funeral Directors WALTON
Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation
Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.
DIXIE STATE BANK
WALTON, KENTUCKY
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

CHASE DRY CLEANERS

34 EAST 7th ST. HE 2126 COVINGTON, KY.
Opposite Doctors Building 6 HOUR SERVICE

SUITS - OVERCOATS
PLAIN DRESSES
PLAIN LADIES COATS
Dry Cleaned and Pressed

75c
100% UNION SHOP

Classified ADS

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

FOR SALE—18 head stock cattle, heifers and bulls. Ottis Readnour, Walton. tf27

FOR SALE—6 O. I. C. gilts, ready to pig in July or August. Weigh around 175 and 200 lbs. each. 9 ewes and lambs. M. J. Worthington, Piner, Ky. 2t31x

HOUSE FOR RENT—3 rooms on Walton-Verona Road, 2 miles from Walton. Call Dixie 7554-W. tf31

FOR SALE—Baby chicks. Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE—Sow and 9 shoats. Raymond Gross, Walton, Ky. Phone 61. 1t32

FOR SALE—Hybrid seed corn. U. S. No. 13, while it lasts. $6.75 per bushel. Walton & Readnour Walton. tf27

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

SALESMEN WANTED—Rawleigh Route now open. Real opportunity for man who wants permanent, profitable work. Start promptly. Write Rawleigh's, Dept. KYF-258-K, Freeport, Ill. 1t32

WANTED — 25 pounds Clean Cotton Rags—5c per lb. or a year's subscription to paper. Walton Advertiser.

FOR SALE — Bed of Tomato plants, ready to set. Phone Walton 773. 1t32

NOW is the time to buy your winter coal. See Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE or RENT—Cottage, 4 rooms, electric lighted, in Verona, Ky. Terms reasonable. A. C. Roberts, Verona, Ky. 3t32

WANTED—Farm hand; one who can milk. Mattie Griffith, R-1, Walton. Phone 656. 2t31

BUY your winter coal now! Walton & Readnour, Walton Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE—Hogs, 6 shoats, wght. 70 lbs. each; 18 shoats wght. about 40 lbs. each; O. I. C. reg. boar, 1 year old; 2-horse Cultivator, used one season. W. D. Johnson, Green Road, Walton. Phone Indep. 6721. 2t31x

FOR RENT — 4-room modern apartment; $20 per month. Inquire at Advertiser Office. 2t32*

FOR SALE — Frying chickens, 2 and 3 pounds; market price. George Burris, phone 602, Walton, Route 1. 2t32

FOR SALE — Tobacco plants. Homer Huffman, Greenlawn Farm. Phone Florence 904. 1t

LIBERAL REWARD for return of man's English made bicycle, name (Comrade); two gold wrist watches, and other jewelry; Airguide field glasses; rare old coins. Ask for particulars or give information to Box 67, Walton, Ky. tf31

PTZ

DR. HESS & CLARK'S NEW WORM TREATMENT for Farm Animals — packed in Capsules and Powder Form.

CONRAD HARDWARE
Walton, Ky.

AVOID DISAPPOINTMENT —BUY NOW!
Special This Week Only
LIVING ROOM SUITES $49

Avenue Furniture Co.
434 Madison, Cov. HEm. 9273
MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

SAVE
YOUR CAR and MONEY
RIDE A BIKE
We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.
LIBERAL TERMS
DIXIE CYCLE SHOP
16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

NOTICE

I will apply for renewal of my Retail Package Liquor license, and Retail Beer license, for the year July 1, 1942, through June 30, 1943. My place of business is located on South Main Street, Walton, Ky.

2t31 —H. R. DIXON.

NOTICE

I will apply for renewal of my Retail Package Liquor license, and Retail Beer license, for the year July 1, 1942, through June 30, 1943. My places of business are located on North Main Street, Walton, Ky.

2t32 —J. A. FARRIS.

NOTICE

I will make application for renewal of Retail Package Liquor License for term July 1st, 1942 through June 30th, 1943. My place of business, Cor. Main & High Sts., Walton, Ky.

2t32 —ROBT. W. JONES.

COAL BIDS WANTED

Walton-Verona School Board asks for bids on coal per ton in car load lots. About two-thirds to be delivered to the Walton School and one-third to be delivered to the Verona School. Place bids on one and one-half nut and slack and regular stoker coal, oil treated if possible. State in bid name and grade of coal and coal mine from which coal bid is placed.

Bids to be received until Monday, July 6 at 4:00 p. m. and opened at Walton-Verona School meeting Monday evening, July 6.

The school Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

—Walter F. Coop, Secretary, Walton-Verona School Bd.

Read the Advertiser Want Ads

RUPTURE

Shield Expert Here Again

E. J. MEINHARDI, widely known Expert of Chicago, will personally be in Cincinnati, Ohio, at the Gibson Hotel, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, June 15th, 16th, and 17th, from 1 P. M. to 4 P. M. and 6 P. M.to 8 P. M., daily.

MR. MEINHARDI says: The Meinhardi Shield is a tremendous improvement—well known for producing immediate results. It prevents the Rupture from protruding in 10 days on the average—regardless of size or location of Rupture and no matter how hard you work or strain. It has no leg straps. (No Surgery or Injection Treatments used.) Mr. Meinhardi has been coming here for 15 years He has thousands of satisfied customers.

Caution: If neglected —Rupture may cause weakness, backache, constipation, nervousness, stomach pains, etc., or sudden death from strangulation.

Men having large Ruptures which have returned after Surgical Operations or Injection Treatments are also invited. When all others fail — see MEINHARDI. He will be pleased to demonstrate to you privately without charge. (Only men invited.) White only.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our thanks to all who assisted in any way during the illness and death of our brother, Cloyd C. Waller.

Especially Rev. A. K. Johnson, J. L. Hamilton & Son, and those who prepared the grave.

—Brother and Sisters.

A planting demonstration for hemp seed was held in Jackson county, to illustrate the best methods.

Casey county club members have bought 10 purebred Duroc gilts in their better livestock campaign.

WARSAW R. 1

Mr. and Mrs. Guy S. Lucas spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. Lafe Kendall in Steels Bottom.

Mrs. Madge Rider and daughter Miss Louise, who have had the flu, are better at this writing, we are glad to say.

Anyone wishing to correspond with Private Otto Virgil Noel, better known as Tommy, this is the address: Pvt. Otto Virgil Noel, Co. B, 39th Engineers, No. 35-45-35-00, Camp Bowie, Texas, U. S. Army. Let's all write Tommy a long letter.

Ira Ray Hon and family of Indiana have been spending their vacation with his parents and also in Louisville and Charlston.

Mrs. Osa Noel and daughter, Miss Wilma Lee spent Thursday with Mrs. Nell Hon and family.

Mrs. Lucy Hon is visiting at the home of Mrs. Pearl Hendrix.

Mr. and Mrs. Temp Courtney and sons spent Sunday with Bill Wallace and family.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs Buck Perry (nee Dorothy Black.) May they have a long and happy life together.

BIG BONE

This community was blessed with a good rain Sunday afternoon.

Jimmy Moore of Highway 42, is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Black and son.

Friends of Mrs. Addie Burrows regret her continued illness at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jones, Erlanger.

Mrs. Grace Sparks has been quite poorly the past week. She went to Walton to see a doctor on Tuesday.

Mrs. Cloyd Johnson and young son Sam have returned from an enjoyable visit with her parents in Tennessee.

Mrs. Louise Storey and two charming little girls of Covington were end of the week guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Robbins and daughter Donna spent Sunday near Florence with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Robbins.

Dale Williamson of Camp Knox of near Louisville and Howard Ryle of Norfolk, Va., two local boys of Uncle Sam's forces, were home for the weekend.

James Smith was honor guest at a dinner at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roymand Smith on Sunday, May 31. Relatives and friends who enjoyed the day together were: Mrs. Fanny Miller and children, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Riggs and daughter, Colon Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and two little daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Napier and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burrows and Thelma Howe, Eddie Napier and daughter, Misses Jean and James Smith. On Tuesday, June 2nd, Jim enlisted in the Army at Ft. Thomas. Here's luck to you, Jim.

SCHOOL DAYS — By DWIG

RYLAND HOMEMAKERS

(continued from page 1)

tours, business trips and social activities.

Plans to aid in the wise spending of family incomes were offered and Miss Byerly explained inflation and price ceilings as applied to the American housewife. She again stressed the importance of homemakers aiding in the war effort by being wise homemakers and nutritional experts.

A canning demon tration is to be held at Simon Kenton School on June 17th.

Mrs. Clarence Armstrong gave an enlightening talk on the methods of controlling insects on roses and shrubs.

Those who enjoyed the day Harry Rubbe, Mrs. Oliver Gee, Harry Rubbe, Mrs. Olivr Gee, Miss Zelma Byerly. Mrs. Wm. Damon, Mrs. Harry Caldwell, Mrs. John Murchison, Mrs. J. C. Brown, Mrs Clarence Armstrong.

The club will meet in September with Mrs. Wm. Dickman at Ryland.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION TO THE ADVERTISER PAID IN ADVANCE?

BUY UNITED STATES WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

Dinah

Dainty Dinah Shore, the throaty diva of the airways, will continue to be heard through the summer over the BLUE network via WLW on Saturdays at 7:30 p. m., E-WAR-T

On the C. R. Stinett farm in Ballard county, an acre of fine crimson clover was turned under for tobacco. "It pays," says Mr. Stinnett.

We're Paying a DOLLAR A DOZEN for EGGS . . .

Yes sir, that's what we are paying to the owner of the pullet laying the most eggs in our big Egg Derby. Come on over and see how Wayne I. Q. Feed makes 'em lay. The race is on NOW . . . don't miss it. Come in and make your guess on the winner!

IT PAYS TO FEED WAYNE

COLONIAL COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway —— Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

Universary of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING, TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS, NEWSPAPERS OR PERIODICALS BELONGING TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES
See Ky. Statutes, Sec. Art. 1284

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 33

Local Soldier Urges "Prayer Time" For Boys In Service

The following letter was received this week by Mrs. Charity Brewster, from her son, Pvt. Tom Brewster, who is in the U. S. Army, stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Mrs. Brewster resides on High street.

Ward B - 4 Hospital,
Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.
June 11, 1942.

Dear Mother:

I will write and let you know that I am getting along fine, and that I am setting up. Hope you are all well.

I haven't gone to Church yet, for last Sunday I was in the hospital and the Sunday before I didn't feel like going. But just as soon as I get out of the hospital, and feel like it, I am going, for that is the best place in the world to go. I wish everybody felt that way. Then this old world would be a good place to live. There is a town here in this state that has prayer time for the boys in service. Everything stops at that time, for prayer, and I wish every town in the world would do that, for Ibelieve that would have more to do with stopping the war than anything else. It would do more good than all of the fighting all of the boys could do.

I wish that somebody there in Walton would start the prayer time for the boys from there, that are in service. Maybe that would start another town. But instead, I guess that they will all go to the beer joints and road houses, outside of a few people that believe in the Bible. Wish that you and Dora would see preacher Alford, and see if he wouldn't start that, for I think he is a good man and Dora knows him very well, and I think he would try and see if the people would do that. This is about all that I can think of, so I will close.

Answer soon,

From your son,
Tom.

—— NOTICE ——

All chairmen of the U. S. O. who have not made their reports to A. B. Renaker, treasurer, will please do so at once.

—Walter Ferguson, Co. Chr.

SOLDIERS GET CHICKEN HERE SUNDAY

Sunday evening a group of 33 soldiers from Fort Knox, were entertained at the Walton-Verona school dining room, with a delicious chicken dinner. This meal was prepared by some of the ladies, who have been active in the U. S. O., and donated by the citizens of Walton and community.

The boys were returning from Cincinnati, where they had attended the baseball game.

These weekend trips and entertainment enroute are under the auspices of the U. S. O.

MOW PASTURES NOW FOR IMPROVEMENT

The mowing of pastures just before most of the weeds bloom is a great aid in pasture improvement, according to H. R. Forkner. Research work shows that this practice not only aids in weed control, but increases the productivity and nutritional value of the pastures. It also greatly improves the looks of the farm.

The importance of pasture mowing was stressed by the leaders in the New Haven Agricultural Improvement program of work plans made early last spring. J. W. Huey, one of the leading farmers of near Union, was selected as project leader on this work. Mr. Huey considers the timely mowing of pastures one of the most important jobs on the farm.

Now is an ideal time to mow pastures. Bluegrass seed is mature and if mowed will fall down to reseed. Most of the noxious weeds, as oxeye-daisy, buckhorn, plantian, and other weeds are blooming. Pasture mowing can be done when it is too wet to do other farm work. Farmers who can find other time should mow pastures at their earliest opportunity.

VISITS OLD HOME TOWN—SPARTA

Lieut. Thomas A. Weldon, formerly of Sparta, visited home folk Sunday, enroute to Oklahoma, where he will be rated Adjutant, in the Division of Personnel. He is a graduate of Purdue University; majored in Agronomy, and received his B. A. and B. S. degrees at Kansas State College. Lieut. Weldon was a graduate of the Sparta High school in 1933.

CAN YOU SERVE?

America expects every man, woman, child to guard health and efficiency in the emergency. Preservation of evesight is vitallv essential. Optical care, now, if needed will help you to more effectively do your bit for National Defense.

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

Allie Lawrence Dies At Home of Daughter

Allie Lawrence, 66, a retired farmer of Corinth, Grant County, passed away here at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Powers Conrad, from cerebral hemorrhage, after an illness of two weeks, on Friday, June 12. He was born in Grant County and had resided there most of his life; he was a widower, and a member of the Christian Church.

Funeral services were conducted from the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with the Rev. Joseph Bachman, a friend of the family, of Sadieville, officiating, assisted by Rev. Geo. Caroland of the Walton Christian Church. Music was furnished by Miss Mary Rensler, vocalist, and Mrs. Lula Huey, pianist. Pallbearers were John Lawrence, Walter Lawrence, Virgil Lawrence, Grooms Evans, Ben Lawrence, D. L. Lusby, Howard Link, and Sam Hudson. Interment was in the Williamstown Cemetery.

The deceased is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Florian Link of Keefer, Mrs. Katherine Zulager of Covington, Mrs. Powers Conrad of Walton, and Miss Etta Lawrence of New York; a brother, Joe Lawrence of Cincinnati; two half-brothers, John and Joseph Lawrence of Dayton, Ohio; a half-sister, Mrs. Chas. Heidenraich of Dayton, Ohio, and nine grandchildren.

Among those from out-of-town who were here for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cole of Covington; Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence of Dayton, O.; M. Lawrence of Dayton, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lawrence of Dayton, O.; Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards of Covington; Asa Lawrence of Newport; Joe Lawrence of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Howard and son of Norwood, O.; Mr. and Mrs. William Landrum of Covington, and a host of friends and relatives from Grant County.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Chambers & Grubbs, Walton.

AVIATION CADET PASSES TESTS

Giles K. Riley, Aviation Cadet in the U. S. Army Air Crops at Santa Ana, Calif., writes that he has successfully passed his five mental and one physical test, and had the highest rating in mathematics of the group that left Kentucky with him. He will probably be commissioned as Navigator. Giles likes the Air training fine; went on his test flight last week, to a height of 28,000 feet, and stood it fine. His address is: Aviation Cadet Giles K. Riley, Squadron 38-A. C. R. T. C., U. S. Army Air Corps, Santa Ana, Calif.

Young Riley is from Sparta.

ENTERTAINS CIRCLE II OF W. S. C. S. TUESDAY

Circle No. 2 of the W. S. C. S. of the Walton Methodist Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Conner on Tuesday afternoon.

Members attending this meeting were Mrs. J. H. Talley and small son Jimmy, Mrs. Scott Lancaster, Mrs. Cameron Brakefield, Mrs. Bruce Wallace, Mrs. Clay Myers, Mrs. C. O. Carlisle, Mrs. Sam Hudson, Miss Emma Jane Miller, Mrs. Howard Stephenson, Mrs. Hattie Metcalfe, and Mrs. Werks. Delicious refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

Members of homemakers' clubs in Nelson county will make an exhibit of refinished furniture this month.

BUY UNITED STATES WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

Read the Advertiser Want Ads

ANNA M. GANES DIES AT HEBRON

Miss Anna Gaines, 77, died at her residence in Hebron, June 16 after a short illness. Miss Gaines was born and reared in this county.

Funeral services were held from the Hebron Lutheran church with burial in the Hebron cemetery on Thursday, June 18 at 2:30.

Rev. J. W. Campbell had charge of the funeral services.

She is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Henry Souther and Mrs. Lee Aylor; two cousins, Mrs. Laura Jasper of Richmond, and Mrs. Lizzie Kreylich.

Chambers & Grubbs, Walton, had charge of arrangements.

County Red Cross Receives $380.98 From Tobacco Fund

The Boone County Chapter, American Red Cross, has received the sum of $380.98, representing this county's participation in the fund created by the sale of tobacco in Carrollton. A hand of tobacco was taken from each basket after it was weighed at the tobacco warehouse in Carrollton and this leaf was later sold for the benefit of the American Red Cross. Through the generous cooperation of the tobacco warehouses, the tobacco buyers, the tobacco companies, the Carrollton Board of Trade, and the Carroll County Chapter of the American Red Cross, this fund was made available.

Checks were delivered to the Boone Chapter, American Red Cross by the three tobacco warehouses: Marshall-Harris Tobacco Warehouse Co., $73.87; Big Burley Warehouse Co., $39.31, and Carrollton Tobacco Warehouse Co., $267.80.

We wish to express our appreciation for this splendid cooperation by the tobacco warehouses of Carrollton, and the other organizations and persons who made this fund possible.—Boone County Chapter, American Red Cross.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wichterman of Independence are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter on Saturday, June 13th at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington. The baby has been named Patricia Ann. They have one other child, Carl, Jr.

Sheep Dipping Service Starts Monday

The Carroll County Sheep Dipping Service will begin work in Boone County on Monday, June 22, according to H. R. Forkner. This is about two weeks earlier than was formerly planned.

Already requests have been received for the dipping of more than one thousand head. Approximately seventy-five head are dipped per hour, after the equipment is set up. This means that approximately two days work to date, has been requested.

The Cooper's dip used, gives protection from ticks, lice and mites for one year. The control of external parasites results in an average of about one pound more wool per sheep. Most of our flocks are infested with these parasites, which cause heavy losses of wool, and bad conditions of sheep and lambs each year.

Sheepmen for the past two years in planning their improvement programs have requested the service of a dipping vat. Few sheepmen can afford a dipping vat or if they had a vat could not dip as cheaply as this service is offered. The cost is ten cents per head for old sheep and ten cents per head for lambs. The charges are paid for in cash by the flock owner at the time of dipping. Those sheepmen who have not already requested this service and desire their flocks dipped, should contact the county office not later than Saturday of this week.

Walton Homemakers Hold June Meeting

Mrs. Marie Hughes was hostess for the Walton Homemakers for the June meeting, which was held at her beautiful country home. Before noon plans were made for the dinner for the soldiers in camp at Ft. Knox, who were on a little recreation trip.

After a delicious lunch, business was called to order by the president. Mrs. Moore, our leader, gave a report of the Advisory Council meeting. She also stated that Boone County clubs were asked to be responsible in beautifying the floral hall in the new county fair building. Our club voted to give our quota. Mrs. Gaynelle Flynn gave a review on Meal Planning, stressing nutrition, wise buying and proper food balance. The club decided on a varlety program for the coming year.

The following members answered to roll call: Mrs. Lula Lusby, Mrs. Ora Stone, Mrs. Louise Rouse, Mrs. Edna Vest, Miss Alicia Neu meister, Mrs. Pearl Bedinger, Mrs. Ora Fry, Mrs. Nannie Ranson, Mrs. Mary Stephenson, Mrs. Mable Stansifer, Mrs. Blanche Franks, Mrs. Mollie Sturgeon, Mrs. Carrie Rouse, Mrs. Fredrica Mann, Mrs. Gaynelle Flynn, Mrs. Anna Pearl Gaines, Mrs. Hope Vest, Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, and our hostess. Four visitors were also present.

Mrs. Hope Vest was elected as president of the club, during a brief business session; Mrs. Glenna Cleek, vice president; Mrs. Nannie Ranson, secretary and treasurer.

This meeting was the final of the current year. The opening of the fall meetings will be on Sept. 10th at the home of Mrs. Hope Vest.

The club members will enjoy an outing at Camp Hutton on the next regular meeting day in July. —Reporter.

HOME ON 20-DAY LEAVE

Virgil A. Young of the U. S. Navy is home with his family to spend a 20-day leave. He has been located at the Navel Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill., where he received his first training. At the end of his leave he will return to Chicago, Ill., where he will take special study and instructions at Navy Pier for Aviation Mechanist for the next four months. At the end of this period he will complete the course with three months training, probably at San Diego, Calif.

METHODIST LADIES AID TO MEET SATURDAY

The Ladies Aid society of the Walton Methodist Church will meet Saturday, June 20 at the home of Mrs. Mayme Simpson for an all-day session.

RICHWOOD LADIES ENTERTAIN SOLDIERS

The ladies of the Richwood Red Cross entertained on June 14 at 7 p. m. with a delicious chicken dinner for 35 of our U. S. A. soldiers from Camp Knox, Ky., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Robinson, who are in charge of the Red Cross in that community. After dinner the soldiers boarded the bus bound for Camp Knox. A wonderful time was had by all those attending.

Aiding Mr. and Mrs. Robinson were Mrs. Maggie Glacken, Mrs. Sara Carpenter, Mrs. F. A. Decker, Mrs. Tom Brumback, Mrs. Geo Knox, Mrs. C. A. Wolfe, Mrs. G. L. Robinson, Mrs. Bill Abdon, Mrs. Albert Parker, Mrs. John Rice, Mrs. Sallie B. Garrison, Mrs. Ben Bedinger, Mrs. Emily Cleek, Mrs. Robbins, and Rev. J. R. Cross.

HOME NURSING CLASS AT TAYLORSPORT

A very interesting class in Home Nursing is being held at the home of Mrs. Essie Goodridge, Taylorsport, each Friday at 2 o'clock.

Those who have joined are Mrs. Essie Goodridge, Mrs. Moorehead, Mrs. Jackie Humphrey, Mrs. English, Mrs. Sadie Humphrey, Mrs. Katherine Aylor, Mrs. Louise Sprague, Mrs. Iva Aylor, Mrs. Pearl Fugate, Mrs. Thelma Sprague, Mrs. Electa Sprague, Mrs. Bettie Snelling, and Miss Deli Goodrich.

There is also a class being taught at the Church of the Brethren, Constance.

Mrs. Jimmison Aylor has been assisting the County Nurse with classes for some time. Mrs. Aylor is an enrolled Red Cross Nurse and this help is needed and very much appreciated.

UTOPIA CLUB TO HOLD OUT-OF-DOORS MEETING

Boone County Utopia Club members will hold an out-of-doors meeting this Thursday evening, June 18, according to Elva Akin, Club Reporter.

The Chairman of the County Civilian Defense Board has been invited to address the club on Civilian Defense Needs and Purposes.

The Program Planning Committee for the last half of the year will submit its report to the club. The committee is composed of Elva Akin, J. O. Griffith, Walton Stephens, Mary Rector, Lucille Cotton and John Crigler.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET TUES.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Walton Baptist Church will meet in the church Tuesday, June 23 at 1:00 p. m. for the Mission Study class.

Mrs. Susie Norman will review the book, "Signs of the Times." All ladies are requested to be present.

Let Everybody Know You're Investing 10 Percent of Your Income in War Bonds

The attractive red, white and blue window sticker, pictured above, is the new yardstick of patriotism in the War Bond drive throughout the nation. With the slogan, "Everybody every pay day, ten percent," sweeping the country, patriotic Americans on the home front are rallying to their Government's appeal for funds with which to help finance the war. The home which displays the "ten percent" sticker is doing its share toward Victory for America and the United Nations. The stickers are being distributed through local War Savings Chairmen. U. S. Treasury Department

Leaders To Assist In Cost of Living Control Program

Three hundred and seventy-seven Boone County leaders have been appointed to contact 2,027 farm families and 1,397 non-farm families in our National Inflation Control and Cost of Living Control education program, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Each leader will contact between five and ten families in his neighborhood and each non-farm leader will contact between 15 and 20 families in his or her town group.

Ten Community leaders' training meetings will be held during the next two weeks in order to give leaders additional educational material and supplies for family visits. A schedule of these meetings is as follows:

Hebron—June 15, 9 p. m., Hebron school.

Grant—June 16, 8:30 p. m., at Grant school.

Florence, June 17, 8:30 p. m., Town Hall.

Burlington, June 19, 8:30 p. m. at County Agent's office.

Verona—June 20, 9 p. m., at Verona school.

Walton—June 22, 9 p. m., Dixie State Bank bldg.

Constance—June 23, 9 p. m. at Constance School.

Petersburg—June 24, 9 p. m. at Petersburg school.

New Haven—June 25, 9 p. m. New Haven school.

Hamilton—June 30, 9 p. m. at Hamilton school.

(All times given are Eastern War)

The understanding and necessity of the plans for the President's seven-point control- program by every family, whether rural or urban, is considered vital for the fullest cooperation in the war on the Home Front. The seven points in the program are: (1) Tax heavily and hold profits down; (2) Fix ceilings on wholesale and retail prices; (3) Stabilize wages paid to workers; (4) Stabilize prices received by farmers; (5) Encourage the purchase of War Bonds; (6) Ration essential commodities that are scarce, and (7) Discourage credit and installment buying. Pay off debts.

The seven point program may be summed up under three major headings:

1. Removal of surplus buying power through taxation, purchase of war bonds, paying cash for purchases and paying off debts.
2. Stabilize wages and prices.
3. The rationing of commodities to insure equitable distribution.

"KENTUCKY DAY" AT PATRIOT, INDIANA

Kentucky friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stewart gathered at the Stewart home near Patriot, Ind., June 7th with well filled baskets of good eats. They were all Kentuckians, so they named it "Kentucky Day."

Mrs. Stewart was formerly Miss Kate Baker.

Those enjoying the occasion were as follows: Mrs. Katie Stewart May and children, Helen, Louise and William T. May of Oxford, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Stewart, Charles L. Johnson Olin Decker of Gary, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Johnson and son Sam of Beaver Lick; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Stewart and children, Christine and John C. of Steeles Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Stewart and nephew, Bobbie Stewart of Crittenden; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown, E. E. Wilson, Mrs. Pearl Lamn of Verona; Ronnie Reffitt of Erlanger; Mrs. Pearl Allphin of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Atwood Brown and sons Donald and Harry of Pendleton. Afternoon callers were Mrs. Louis Searcy, Harve Searcy and Mrs. Hattie Gibson of Indiana.

All left in the afternoon hoping to spend many more such happy days with Mr. and Mrs. Stewart.

Four hundred thousand tomato slips were purchased in Georgia for growers in Calloway county.

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER—Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

This Week On The Home Front

Here is a resume of important happenings—
Home Front line stighten.
WPB cites workers.
Lima plant breaks record.
More shortages predicted.
Fish, pork may be scarce.
War styles may change.
Travel to be restricted.
Eastman issues warning.
Milk delivery threatened.
OPA checks merchants.
WPB hints punitive action.
Farm machinery supply guarded.

—o—

During the week, Americans at home read the news from the military front—the dramatic story of the defeat of the Japanese fleet and invasion force at Midway Island.

At home, nothing happened so spectacular. The government by deed and word continued to stress with greater emphasis the shortages of critical materials, of metals, of transportation, of rubber—always rubber—and of manufacturing capacity to make the things to which civilian America has always been accustomed.

At home, there were no ramparts to watch, no pyrotechnics of battle. It is manpower mobilization, more work and more skimping.

Yet, what Americans at home have accomplished in six months of hum-drum plugging — finally exploded and made history and heroes at Midway.

The privations which the Home Front will be called upon to accept in the next six months of war will be many. For the most part, they will be only extensions of the sacrifices already being made. Generally speaking, where we now have had little, we shall have less.

A summary of six months of war is heartening.

We are now turning out ships and weapons at a rate that must give Hitler and Hirohito nightmares.

Production is one of the orders of the day, as well as the sinking of Jap warships off Midway, and the strategists of our war realize that this must be so.

—o—

A few days ago, officials of the War Production Drive journeyed to Rochester, N. Y., for a ceremony which resembled that which accompanies a citation on the battle front. They went to celebrate the victory won by workers in the war plant of a company, the Symington-Gould Corporation, which had increased its war production 14 percent in a single month.

—o—

Official government statements did not omit to note that men in the Lima, O., plant of the American Rolling Mill Co. had for the third successive month broken all production records, announcement came from the War Production Board.

—o—

There are, however, production difficulties. The chief of these is the shortage of metals and rubber. The metal shortage threatens to close blast furnaces, and everybody by now knows what that means in terms of ships and guns and tanks and the motive power and machinery of modern war. The answer to the metal shortage is the salvage of scrap. More and more scrap must the auto grave yards produce. The scrap issue will soon boil down to the last man, woman, and child in the nation will be picking up every stray piece of metal, rubber, plastic, and cloth.

—o—

Continued conversion of industrial plants from civilian to war manufacture will continue to cause shortages of many manufactured things for which materials might be theoretically plentiful. Crowding of our transportation systems, submarine sinkings on the high seas, will have the same result. In the coming months, these scarcities will cause us to change our lives so that war industry may have first preference—our habits of travel, of eating and the clothing we wear will change. Fish will be harder to get. Pork will be scarces, because we are sending so much to our Allies. The passage of the tin can will cause us to look to fresh vegetables, dried fruits and local crops.

—o—

Clothing will not be rationed this year, but we can expect further changes in style to conserve textiles.

—o—

As war traffic jams our railways and taxes every bus and truck with their vanishing tires, traveling may be restricted to the bare bone of necessity, to day coaches and upper berths, instead of parlors, lowers and compartments.

—o—

If people don't conserve their tires in business and pleasure, gasoline rationing may do it for them. There's no prospect of synthetic rubber for civilian use before 1944. Joseph B. Eastman, Director of the Office of Defense Transportation, and Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the nation's foremost transportation authority, put the proposition in this quaint fashion before a meeting of Cleveland Business men during the week: "If automobile operations are not restricted by some form of mandate, they must be restricted voluntarily."

—o—

Most of the country's milk trucks will be off the street in two years, a survey prepared by the Milk Industry Foundation and the International Association of Milk Dealers disclosed. The survey covered 389 milk distributors of which 206 reported tire shortage would stop their deliveries within a year unless conservation programs were put into effect.

—o—

Office of Price Administration inspectors are checking up on merchants in Louisville, Charleston, Columbus, (O.) and Indianapolis, this week to see whether they are posting their selling and ceiling prices on cost-of-living commodities correctly or at all. Many merchants are a little slow in finding out about the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

—o—

While OPA moves to tighten up on rent and price control, the Regional Office of the War Production Board issues a warning to manufacturers who violate priorities, allocations and limitation orders. Said Frank M. Aldridge, Regional Compliance Chief, for this state: "Violations.... when they are clearly established as willful, will be met with legal or punitive action."

—o—

So that farmers may "meet the food requirement goals set by the Department of Agriculture," WPB has ordered that products made under the farm machinery and equipment program, must actually reach the farm and not be diverted to any non-agricultural use. It was found that domestic water systems and garden tractors, were being so diverted. WPB also has eased restrictions on deliveries of iron and steel for agricultural manufacturing purposes.

—o—

Said William R. Tracy, chief of WPB's Farm Machinery and Equipment Branch: "Sales for farm use do not require a rating. Whenever a sale is made on an unrated order for non-agricultural use, it deprives the farmer of goods which were intended for his use, and is flagrant and unjustified violation of the orders which make available preference ratings for materials going into the manfacture of farm equipment."

—o—

OPA is keeping a firm hand on prices. It denied application of the Lima, O., Packing Co., protesting the ceiling on dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts. The Company filed too late, OPA rules. Appeal for a higher price ceiling filed by a Nevada company was also denied.

A trailer threshing machine was used to demonstrate the threshing of korean lespedeza seed in Adair county.

Kidneys Must Work Well-

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

DOAN'S PILLS

Keep Up WITH EVENTS
EVERY WEEK from THE NATION'S CAPITAL
Read PATHFINDER

PATHFINDER brings to you in words and pictures the drama of events fresh from Washington, D. C., the nation's capital, today the world's news center. News, features, and facts, events boiled down into 20 interesting, inspiring departments. Complete, unbiased, non-partisan, non-sectarian, dependable—gives both sides. Improved new features. World's oldest, most-read news weekly at one-fourth the cost of others. Furnishes clean, reliable reading for the entire family.

This Newspaper & PATHFINDER BOTH one year Only $1.80

SUPERMEN OF THE U.S. ARMY

PREPARED IN COOPERATION WITH U.S. WAR DEPT. PERMISSION TO REPRODUCE IS HEREBY GRANTED

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

The country is in revolt—at least, that's what many Congressmen think as they read their mail these days. Protests from the folks back home are pouring in—protests about the administration of many of the current wartime controls, particularly those imposed by the Office of Price Administration and the Office of Defense Transportation.

The majority of the protesters seem to realize that some controls are essential for the duration of the war. But they don't want the controls abused; they don't want more restrictions than are absolutely necessary; and they want to be sure that when the war is won the controls will be removed.

Wage stabilization is still a burning issue as pressure continues for an effective check on all the factors that contribute to inflation. Observers here believe that President Roosevelt will be requested to set up a board to coordinate and direct national stabilization of voluntary wage agreements. Armed with a White House directive, the board could step into the field of negotiated wage adjustments with several weapons.

Among other things, it could declare "disputes" and certify them to the War Labor Board, which now has the power to adjust and dispose of all labor disputes which may affect the conduct of the war; it could have the WPB Labor Division negotiate industry-wide wage agreements; it could request the Army and Navy to re-negotiate contracts with firms so that future profits would be cut to a point where companies could not grant pay raises.

Whatever the methods used, opinion here is that some way will have to be found quickly to prevent wages from getting out of hand and pushing prices up.

Legislation to prevent labor unions from escaping liability under the federal anti-racketeering laws is scheduled for early consideration on the House floor. A bill introduced by Representative Hobbs of Alabama in effect would repeal a recent Supreme Court decision which exempts labor unions from coverage by the 1934 anti-racketeering act.

Labor spokesmen and some Administration leaders are urging rejection of the bill on the ground that it would prevent any type of transportation strike and would invite an anti-labor movement in Congress.

Key provision of the bill is contained in this sentence: "Whoever in any way or degree obstructs, delays, or affects commerce, or the movement of any article or commodity in commerce, by robbery or extortion, shall be guilty of a felony."

The recent order of the War Manpower Commission requiring many employees in war industries not to change their jobs is regarded as only the first of similar orders to come, as the Commission works out details of its plan for wholesale mobilization of workers for war work.

A dime out of every dollar we earn
IS OUR QUOTA for VICTORY with U. S. WAR BONDS

A WEEK OF THE WAR

Pacific Fleet Commander Nimitz reported two and possibly three Japanese aircraft carriers and a destroyed were sunk, and three battleships, six cruisers and three transports were damaged in the battle of Midway Island. All planes on the two carriers definitely known to be sunk were lost, Admiral Nimitz said. One U. S. carrier was hit and some planes were lost, but casualties among the U. S. personnel were light, he said. Admiral King, commander in chief of the U. S. fleet, said the enemy fleet has apparently withdrawn from the Midway area but battle maneuvers are continuing in the Hawaii-Dutch Harbor area. The Navy said the first Japanese attack on Dutch Harbor on June 3rd resulted in few casualities and no serious damage, appearing to have been made "primarily to test our defenses." The Japanese planes which flew over the harbor six hours after the initial attack were "engaged solely in reconnaissance," the Navy said.

Gen. MacArthur reported within six days Allied naval and air forces sank seven and possibly eight enemy submarines, two heavily loaded armed supply ships and an armed transport, and also badly damaged a 7,0000-ton vessel. Allied losses in the Southwest Pacific were two cargo vessels. In air raids over Rabaul, Lae, Salamaua, Atamboea, Tulagi, Kelppang and Dili, and Burma, 12 enemy planes were destroyed, one enemy tanker sunk, and runways, airdrome installations and parked planes damaged. Three allied planes were lost.

The Navy said Allied merchant ship losses totaled 21 during the week, including nine U. S. Ships.

Production

U. S. production of planes has reached the level of "nearly 5,000 a month," and by next year we will have reached the President's goal of 10,000 a month, the Senate Appropriations Committee announced. Army Air Forces Commander Arnold congratulated the Vega Airport Corporation at Burbank, Calif., on being six months ahead of schedule on production. WPB Chairman Nelson, after a tour of the automotive industry in Detroit, said that American industry could "more han double present production by 1944." He also said the Government synthetic rubber program would be able to take care of "all war production and essential civilian needs" by 1944. Depiste the fact that almost twice as many light arms are required per man since the development of parachute troops, the Army has enough weapons to arm every soldier in the U. S., and all it can send abroad under present shipping conditions, War Under Secretary Patterson reported. He said over-optimism regarding production schedules is unwarranted, however, because of rubber, nickel and copper shortages.

A record total of 58 ships were delivered into service during May, while 65 other ships were launched and keels were laid for 75, the Maritime Commission reported. This compared with 36 delivered and 51 launched in April. The President asked Congress for an appropriation of $1,100,000,000 for the WSA to acquire and operate merchant vessels to carrry American arms.

Federal agencies asked labor-management committees in 800 war production plants to keep American workmen fit and healthy because sick and injured war production workers are now causing a loss of 6,000,000 work days every month.

War Declared Against Balkan States

The U. S. declared war against Bulgaria and Rumania. The President said the three countries previously declared war on the U. S. as instruments of Hitler, and currently they are engaged in military operations against the United Nations and are planning to extend those operations. The Justice Department said enemy alien restrictions will be applied against nationals of the countries in the United States. Assets of these countries here have already been frozen.

The U. S. signed a Lend-Lease agreement with China, substantially the same as it said to Britain, and proposed Lend-Lease agreements on the same terms with the Norwegian, Belgian, Polish, Greek and Netherlands Governments in exile. Lend-Lease Administrator Stettinius said under the joint control of the combined boards in London and Washingon the resources of the United Nations are now in effect, one big pool, with each nation contributing to the extent permitted by its resources and military position. Reciprocal aid from nations receiving supplies from the U. S. is providing material for American troops abroad without dollar payments, he said. The Agriculture Department reported 5 million pounds of farm products were delivered to United Nations' representatives between April of 1941 and May 1, 1942. The American Red Cross said it has added almost 750,000 war victims in the Middle East and distributed more than $2 million worth of relief material there, largely purchased with U. S. Government allocated funds. The State Department said 1943 persons, including many U. S. citizens who have been awaiting passage in Sweden, arrived in New York on the S. S. Gripsholm, and 10 Axis officials and approximately 930 Axis civilians sailed or Lisbon on the Drottningholm.

The Armed Forces

The House passed and sent to the Senate a three billion dollar supplemental Naval approriations billto provide 200,000 tons of submarines, 500,000 tons of auxiliary vessels, one hundred and fifty million dollars for aviation plant facilities, and other funds. Chairman Vinson of the House Naval Affairs Committee said approximately 99 more combatant ships will be commissioned during the remainder of 1942. Three more destroyers were launched. The CAA and the Navy completed arrangements to train 20,000 Naval Reservists as pilots at 600 CAA training centers during the coming year, if money is appropriated. U. S. Army training films, especially those showing mechanism and tactical use of U. S. equipment, are being recorded in Universal Spanish, Portuguese and Chinese, the War Department said, for exchange with other members of the United Nations.

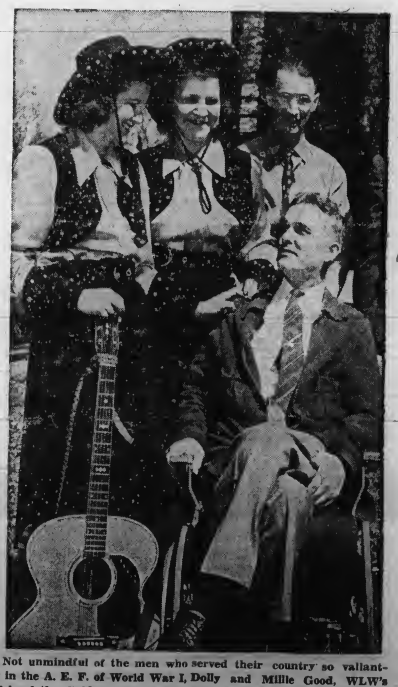
Civilian Supply

WPB materials A. I. Henderson said vital materials can no longer be used except for war and maintenance of those things necessary to the war because from now on "it will be a continuous problem to provide materials to meet the needs of our fighting forces." The WPB said preferred applicants for new telephones cannot obtain service unless they prove the service is essential to the discharge of their responsibility for public health, welfare or security. The Board issued an order relieving from restrictions lumber deliveries for more than 100,000 of the most essential housing units now under construction. The FHA authorized its field offices to begin insuring to the extent of $500,000,000 loans of private lending institutions for contsruction of housing for war workers. A Food Requirement Committee, headed by Agriculture Secretary Wickard, was set up to control production and allocation of all civilian and military food supplies.

Rationing

All motorists will receive "A" books containing a year's base supply of 48 coupons under the new permanent gasoline rationing system which will be established in the East about the first week of July, OPA said. Supplementary "B" books with an additional 16 coupons will be issued to motorists who prove need for extra rations, providing they are members of a car pool. No unlimited privileges will be granted any one, but "C" books containing 96 coupons will be issued to some motorists. "S" books for trucks and buses, good for a four month period, will cover just enough fuel for the mileage allowed in forthcoming ODT regulations. Motorcyclists will receive "D" books, good for 40 percent as much gasoline as "A" books. Under the new system, service vice stations and distributors will be required to turn in collected coupons when purchasing new stocks. The OPA released about 10,000 bicycles to war production plants qualified to buy them for transportation of workers.

Hundreds of war plants have stepped up production as much as 50 per cent as a result of job instructor training that is now being provided for new employees.



To keep employee morale high and to speed production one company set up a table-type board in the factor and placed miniature soldiers on it. The soldiers are moved forward each week, and their position indicates the amount of work that has been done by each division in the entire plant.

Dehydrated vegetables have only about one-fifth the weight of fresh vegetables and for that reason save valuable shipping space today.

Remember Bataan
Invest
A Dime Out of Every Dollar in
U.S. War Bonds

They Also Served

Not unmindful of the men who served their country so valiantly in the A. E. F. of World War I, Dolly and Millie Good, WLW's Girls of the Golden West, joined with a unit of the Boone County Jamboree in giving the veterans at the Soldiers' Home in Dayton, O., an evening of entertainment.

UNION

Two of our beloved citizens, Mrs. C. A. Sheets and Tom Burkett, are ill at their homes at this time. We wish them a very speedy recovery.

Mrs. T. G. Denton and children Stuart and Evelyn of Dayton were guests of her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Friend and family last Sunday afternoon.

Miss Crystal Masters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Masters, entered a Covington hospital on Monday for the removal of her tonsils.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Aylor and small son Jerry Wesley were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Omer Black, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hedges have her niece, Miss Frances Fisk of Morning View, as their house guest at this time.

Much damage was done to crops and gardens here late Saturday afternoon, due to wind and a torrential rain.

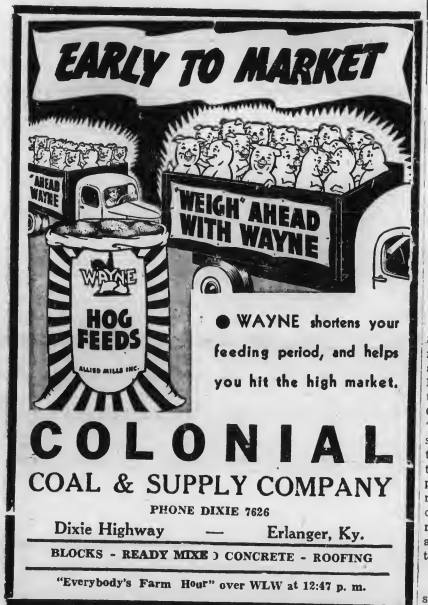
Mrs. Sallie K. Hicks has her grandchildren visiting her at this time.

Miss Emily Bristow of Lexington was visiting her family here on Sunday.

Leslie Sullivan, our efficient rural carrier, is enjoying a vacation at this time.

Mrs. Alberta Hopperton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Craddock at this time.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Odis Richards and children in the death of their husband and father, since last Monday.



Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Head and baby daughter of Latonia were the Sunday guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Head.

Marion Walton was in Pendleton county in the interests of his business last Monday.

W. M. U. News

The W. M. U. of the Union Baptist church held their June meeting on Wednesday afternoon June 10th. This meet was held at the church and was opened by Mrs. Kirtley McWethy at 1:30 p. m., EWT, by the singing of our W. M. U. hymn, "The Light of the World Is Jesus."

The Watchwords were repeated in unison, followed by our secretary, Mrs. Winston Mason, reports and roll call, with 15 members answering. A beautiful prayer was offered up at this time by Mrs. Sally K. Hicks. Mrs. Austin Gschwind, young people's leader, gave her reports, which were followed by a discussion on the selection of material for our Mission study books, and a motion to change our meeting time to 2:00 on each second Wednesday. We sincerely hope this later hour will enable more of our members and friends to attend all future meetings. Plans were discussed in regards to the Group meeting to be held late in July at the Hickory Grove Baptist church in Kenton county, at which time this society hopes to be well represented.

● WAYNE shortens your feeding period, and helps you hit the high market.

COLONIAL
COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

These discussions closed our business hour and our program, under Mrs. William Greenup was as follows: Devotional and a beautiful interpretation of the Book of Ruth was given by Mrs. Sally K. Hicks, followed by prayer by Mrs. Myrtle Marshall, with the group singing, "Take Time to Be Holy." The topic for June was, "Think on these things—Whatsoever things are of good report," with members taking parts as follows: Mrs. Greenup, Things of Good Report; Mrs. Mertie Marshall, Christian Graces in Women; Mrs. Mason, Stories of Christian Graces; Mrs. Smith, She Serves Faithfully; Mrs. Newman, She Stands for the Right and She Lets Her Light Shine; Mrs. A. Bristow, Good Report of the Margaret Fund, with Mrs. Gschwind closing with the poem, "Broader Fields," from a late issue of Western Recorder. Singing the hymn, "We've A Story to Tell to the Nations," and a closing prayer by Mrs. J. T. Bristow dismissed us until 2:00 p. m., EWT, on Wednesday, July 8th, when all members are urged to be present and a standing welcmoe is extended to visitors.—Pub. Chr.

Sugarless refreshments will be served at a county-wide style show in Bourbon county.

MT. ZION

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Menefee were visitors in Cincinnati, Tuesday.

Mrs. Della Franks and sons, Hobart and Bobby and Mrs. Kathryn Beach motored to Mammoth Cave, Friday.

Fearnot Blackburn of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Lula Blackburn of Zion were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence and family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Justice returned home last Monday after a month's visit with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Justice of Milton, Fla.

Mrs. Otto Johnson and daughter, Ruth Ann, visited Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Vest and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Johnson and mother over the weekend.

Miss Virginia Massie spent the past week with Johanna Lairson in Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stephenson left for Lexington, and Miss Ruth Bingham for Georgetown, where they expect to attend school this summer.

Hobart Franks, who has a position in Cincinnati, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Franks and family.

Miss Mary Lucas spent the weekend with her father, Fred Lucas in Latonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Kline Menefee were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Pettit and daughters. Nancy returned home with them for a visit.

Mrs. Frances Jump is visiting her children in Covington and Cincinnati, and attending the graduation of her granddaughter Vanita Jump.

Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Lee Alexander and two children of Latonia, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Alexander and daughter were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Jump on Sunday.

Miss Evelyn Anderson of Covington spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Anderson and family.

Little Dorothy Jane Points spent two weeks in Latonia and Covington with relatives.

Some of the young folks from here attended a party given in honor of Wilmeth Smoot's birthday, at the home of his parents at Crittenden, Saturday night.

SUGAR CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Story entertained as their dinner guests on Thursday, Miss Della Skirvin and friend of Latonia, Mrs. Grover Clifton and son David, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Story and son Jack.

This community was saddened by the death of O. T. Arrasmith who passed away at his home here June 7th. Mr. Arrasmith had been in ill health for quite some time and confined to his bed for several months. He will be greatly missed by his old friends and neighbors and we wish to extend our deepest sympathy to his bereaved wife and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grizell and son Ronnie of Newport spent the weekend with her grandfather, B. F. Sisson and Miss Minnie Sisson.

Jack D. Story left Friday for the Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill., where he will take training in Air Craft mechanics. Jack is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Story and graduated from the Gallatin county high school in the class of '42. He will surely be missed by his family and friends, but we're proud that he wants to learn to "Keep 'em Flying," for his country.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hall and Miss Emma Sleete of Warsaw Heights attended church here on Sunday.

SOUTH FORK

Mrs. Lula Sisson is spending a few days with her son, Ishmael Sisson and family.

Mrs. Katie Densler and daughter spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler.

Mrs. Nora Brashear, Georgia Hon and Mrs. Pearlene Lillard called on Mrs. Ethel Noell and little son Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donnell of Covington.

Ceaberry Noell lost a fine cow last week from lightning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Rider and son spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rider and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon spent Friday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler, Mrs. Katie Densler and daughter.

VERONA

We are having plenty of rain in this vicinity.

Mrs. A. T. Hunt has been at the bedside of her mother, who has been operated on at Christ Hospital.

Mrs. Frank White and daughter of East Alton, Ill., are visiting her father and other relatives and friends in Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vest and daughters entertained on Sunday with a family dinner in honor of his daughter, Mrs. Frank White and daughters of East Alton, Ill. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. James Vest and son and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Waller and sons and Jimmie Smith.

Mrs. J. C. Kannady has had word from her son, Ben, who has at last reached land after three months on water. Ben's address is: Corp. Ben B. Kannady, 20507412, Hq. Det. Bn., 147 Infantry, A. P. O. 930, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

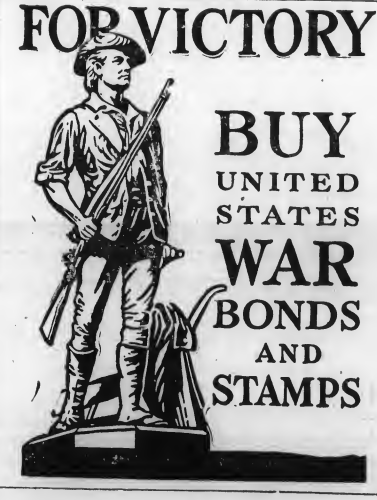
Joe Kannady's address is: Joe A. Kannady, U. S. Army, Barrack No. 502, Btty B-7th Bn., C. F. A. R. T. C., Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Our Classified Ads Get Results.

POPLAR GROVE

He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living; ye therefore do greatly err. — St. Mark 12:27.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Carnes and son Tommy were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Connelly.



John W. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Bedfort Stewart and daughter were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Stewart and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bonds are spending a few days with Mrs. Ruth Crouch and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ellis Crouch.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Herndon and children, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughter and Miss Fannie Herndon were the Sunday guests of Mrs. Birdie Herndon and family.

Mrs. Myrtle Hicks and children were the Saturday night guests of Mrs. Susie Jackson and children.

The adults, Juniors and Young people of Poplar Grove have organized a B. T. U. organization. The following officers were elected for the year: Mrs. Foster Ellis, Director; Lillian Stewart, Secretary; Walter Ellis, Treasurer; Peggy A. Johnson, pianist; Mrs. Rena Yancy, song leader; Mrs. Clarence Yancy, Junior leader; Adult group—Mrs. Blanton Hanks President; Mrs. Rena Yancy, Vice President; Blanton Hanks, Secy.-Teras.; J. S. Riley and Herschel Yancy, group captains; Young Peoples' group—Walker Ellis, Pr.; Opal Hicks, Secy.-Treas.; Mary J. Johnson and Emojean Ellis, group captains. There are other officers to be elected at the next meeting of the B. T. U.

CONSERVE FOR VICTORY

Properly used, your electric range can save you time, money, food and work. It helps conserve vitamins, too. Here are hints that will help you keep it in A-1 operating condition:

Clean outside of your range as you would a china plate. Wash, when cool, with warm soapy water; rinse and wipe dry. Do not put cold water or cold objects on outside finish when hot. It may crack or craze the finish.

Avoid letting spilled foods dry or harden on range. Food spilled on surface units should be burned off. Avoid using stiff brush or sharp instrument.

Most surface units can be raised and the pan beneath removed for scouring. This should be done every day.

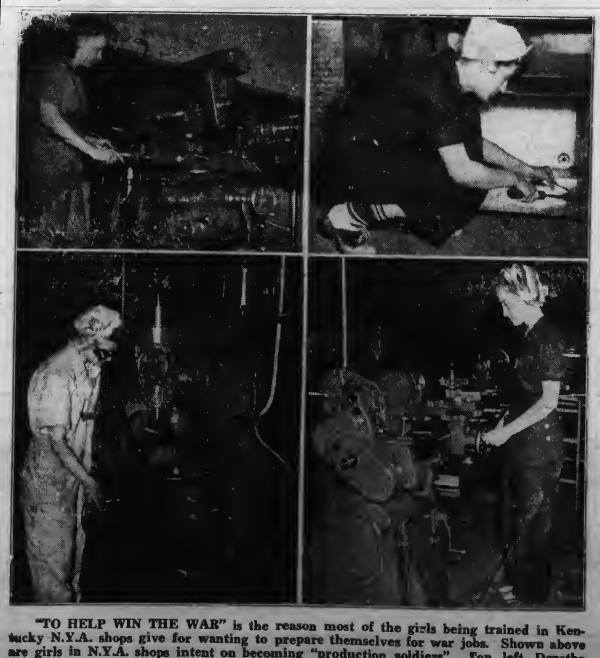
To clean oven, first be sure it is cool and switch is off; then remove heating units by pulling them straight out. Wash oven linings with warm soap and water, scouring charred spots with steel wool. Rinse and dry. Scour oven shelves lightly with steel wool.

Never wash oven or surface heating units. Keep dripping rags away from switches. Use a rag that is merely damp.

Aluminum deep well cookers should be kept bright and shining by scouring with steel wool and soap and water. Porcelain enamel cookers should not be heated before adding fat, water or foods, should not be permitted to boil dry, and should not be subjected to sudden changes of temperatures.

Have a competent serviceman check your range occasionally, to make sure it is "sitting level" on the floor, that the vent is clean, that the units are operating satisfactorily, and that wiring is in tiptop shape.

Remember — an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, so give that range of yours the best of care and it will last you longer and give you better service.



* * *

FREE BOOKLET ON APPLIANCE CARE yours for the asking. Published by Westinghouse, it tells you how to make the most of your electric household servants. Get your free copy today.

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
INCORPORATED

BUY U.S. WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

N. Y. A. Trains Girls for War Work

"TO HELP WIN THE WAR" is the reason most of the girls being trained in Kentucky N.Y.A. shops give for wanting to prepare themselves for war jobs. Shown above are girls in N.Y.A. shops intent on becoming "production soldiers". Top, left, Dorotha Smith, Covington, operating a complicated milling machine in the Covington shop; right, Hilda Brizendine, Printer, Ky., in the Bowling Green shop soldering an ice box being made for Fort Knox. Bottom, left Mary Futrell, Mayfield, making a small tool in the Mayfield shop; right, Fay Shepherd, Morgantown, operating a metal cutting lathe in the Bowling Green shop.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Mann and daughter Sue and granddaughter, Ruby Benson, were entertained in the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Blackwell and son of Erlanger, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson and daughters entertained Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Johnson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wilson and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moser of Latonia, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dudgeon of Latonia visited his mother, Mrs. Horace Simpson, and Mr. Simpson, Sunday. Mr. Dudgeon left for Washington, D. C., Monday, where he has been transferred to a better position with a railroad company.

Miss Jeanne Perrow of Erlanger spent the weekend with Miss Thelma Howe.

Mrs. Clifford Powers and son, Bobby, who have been visiting relatives and friends here, returned to their home in Charleston, W. Va., Wednesday.

Miss Ruby Benson of Forest Hills, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. O. P. Mann, and family this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnson of Ft. Mitchell, called on their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Johnson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Benson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benson of Burlington, called on their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Nicholson and sons, and Mait Benson, recently.

Mrs. N. T. Welsh spent Wednesday in Covington.

Mrs. Louise Stephenson and Mrs. Sexton attended the Holmes High school graduation Tuesday in Covington.

Miss Rose Johnson spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Johnson, in Covington.

Miss Melva White has returned home from a week's vacation in Columbus, Ohio. Her sister, Mrs. W. C. Stephenson, was in charge of the cream station while she was away. Mrs. Stephenson returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stephenson of Columbus, Ohio spent the weekend in Walton and Williamstown, with relatives.

Miss Ellen Miskell has accepted a position in Cincinnati, and assumed her duties Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Readnour entertained recently with a six o'clock dinner. Those to enjoy this delightful occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooke of Atwood, Mrs. Harry Powers of Dunbar, W. Va., Mrs. Zella Walton, Mary Jane and Jimmie Readnour, and the host and hostess.

Last Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Doan entertained at their attractive home with a splendid dinner in honor of the birthday of their daughter, June. Guests included Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Ervin of Versailles, Rev. and Mrs. George S. Caroland—this also being the wedding anniversary of these two couples, Mrs. Estelle Gordon and Miss Mary Rensler.

Mrs. John LaFontaine and son Jimmie of Erlanger spent Thursday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Callender, and her sister, Mrs. John Guth, of North Walton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wallace attended a birthday dinner Sunday given for Laurence Turner, by his wife, at their home in Independence. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McKinley of Cincinnati.

Rev. James H. Talley, pastor of the local Methodist Church, is in Winchester for the annual pastors school of the Kentucky and Louisville Conferences in session there this week.

The home of Mrs. Sallie R. Miller narrowly escaped serious damage last week, when the switch box of the electric service developed a short circuit and set fire to the cable housing the electric wires. The fire was discovered, happily for the Millers, before it gained much headway and extinguished.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis of Buffalo, N. Y. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wallace, Monday and Tuesday, leaving Tuesday evening for Warsaw to visit Mrs. Lewis' grandfather, George Winters, and other relatives.

Mrs. Lillie England was the end of the week guest of her sister, Mrs. Jasper N. Williams and family of Walton Rural Route. On Saturday evening, Mrs. England Mrs. Williams and daughter, Miss Alice Jane, were dinner guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Randell of Erlanger.

Mrs. Bertha D. Miller and Dr. J. G. Slater of St. Petersburg, Fla. arrived in Northern Kentucky on Wednesday night, being called here by the death of Mrs. Addie Burrows, lately of Big Bone, who was a close neighbor and friend of the Miller family. They will return to St. Petersburg the latter part of June.

Mrs. Sallie P. Smith of Louisville, came up on Sunday for a stay with relatives in Boone and Kenton counties, and to be with her sister, Mrs. Bertha D. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt VanLeuven of Ft. Thomas were the guests on Sunday of Mrs. Edna Stamler.

Mrs. Mary Stephens spent Monday evening and Tuesday in Georgetown with her sister and brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rice, returning from Florida, where they had been for several weeks, were dinner guests Wednesday of Mr. Rice's son, Ward Rice, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rouse and son Jerry, are moving to their home in Florence, this week. We will miss this fine family, who has been in the grocery business here for several years.

Mrs. A. K. Johnson, who was taken to Christ Hospital, Friday and operated upon for appendicitis, is getting along nicely at this time.

Bruce Wallace was a business visitor in Warsaw, Tuesday.

The many friends of Mrs. Clarice Fisher, formerly with the Advertiser, regret to learn that her small son, James, fell and broke his arm in the elbow, which necessitated his being taken to a Cincinnati Hospital.

Mrs. Edna Stamler, proprietor of the Powder Puff Beauty Parlor, attended the convention of beauticians in Cincinnati, Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Talley and son Jimmie went to Gardnersville on Friday, where they spent the evening with Mrs. Talley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cornelius.

Dr. J. G. Slater of St. Petersburg, Fla., spent the weekend with Mrs. Sallie R. Miller and daughter, Emma Jane.

Fred Huey Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller of Carrollton, just recently returned from Vincinnes, Ind., where he underwent an operation for a diseased appendix.

Buddy Walker of Morganfield, was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. R. F. DeMoisey and family, from Friday until Sunday evening. While here he was calling on several of his friends, who were pleased to see him.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartwig Mottler Indianapolis, Ind., were guests on Saturday and Sunday of their aunt, Mrs. D. B. Wallace. Mr. Mottler returned to his home on Monday, but Mrs. Mottler remained for a longer visit.

C. A. Rouse of Huntington, W. Va., is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Martha R. Wallace. Mrs. Julia A. Rouse and daughter Miss Georgia, and his daughter, Mrs. S. L. Maze, Mr. Maze and daughter of Florence.

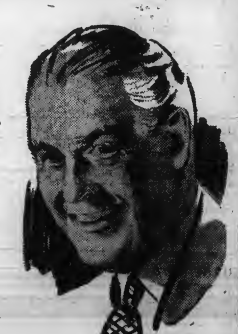
Brooke Ranson of Baltimore, Md., and William Wade Ranson of Gallion, Ala., visited their father, Stanley Ranson, and wife last week. They left Monday for New York, where Brooke will soon sail for Africa, where he has accepted a position with Pan-American Airlines.

Mrs. Geo. W. Ranson, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Orr and son James of Paris, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ranson.

A hatchery in Lewis county produced 60,000 chicks this year, compared to 50,000 last year.

Your Eyes Optometrist

Better have your eyes examined —they may be the cause of your feeling tired and irritable.



JOS. B. SCHNIPPERING
Optometrist and Optician
(Formerly with F. Pieper)
5 Pike Street, Covington
Phone HElock 0700

NOTICE

In Cooperation with the Conservation Program of Our Government — We will Close Our Store at 1 P. M. on Wednesday, during the summer.

CHAS. ZIMMER HDWE. CO.
537-39 PIKE STREET COVINGTON, KY.

Let's Get Together For FATHER'S DAY

Buy a Real Father's Day Gift from

COPPIN'S

Madison, at 7th - Covington, Ky.

CAMERAGRAPHS

"HERE'S WHAT YOU DO"—Due in Hollywood for a movie career, Betty Phipps of Dallas, Tex., learns about cameras from Norris Harkness, noted lens authority and co-conductor of Popular Photography-Canadian National camera fan tours to Jasper National Park in the Canadian Rockies. Above, Harkness is showing the Dallas girl how to read a meter before "shooting" a picture.

KEEPING FIT in the great outdoors has assumed added importance this summer and pretty Delores Lindgren, Minneapolis miss, is planning plenty of healthful picnic meals to do her bit. The insulite icebox conserves food, as it is made of the same material now being used extensively to insulate farm buildings and in remodeling attics and basements of homes to create more space.

CANARY IS MIRACLE WORKER—Dolores Del Rio declares a miracle happens to her when she hears a canary sing. And all Hollywood is "that way" about these feathered pets that are the newest hobby sensation with film stars.

A FIGHTER GOES FOR SOMETHING SWEET—and nothing tastes so good to a tired soldier as a cookie and a cup of coffee, according to the experience of 1350 Salvation Army lassies, such as this one with a dimpled cheek, who are now on duty in USO clubs, troop transfer centers, mobile canteens, and wherever a man in uniform may pause for a snack.

WHEW! TIME FOR A COKE—At least it appears that way from the manner in which these air[illegible]re studying the mounting thermometer at the Muñoz [illegible] a Park, San Juan, Puerto Rico. Left to right, the [illegible] are Private First Class, John A. Howlett, Du Bois, Pa., and Corp John L. Evans, Konawa, Okla., of an interceptor Command, U. S. Army Air Corps.

MRS. SUMMEY ENTERTAINS INDEPENDENCE HOMEMAK'RS

The Independence Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Summey on Thursday, June 11th.

Interesting talks on "Our Flag and What It Means to Us" were the answers to the roll call.

Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, president, read the history of the flag and outlined the summer activities, including a picnic to be given at her home.

Mrs. Foster Armstrong told about the correct ways of cutting meat that she had learned from her trip to the Albers store on 7th street, Covington.

Mrs. C. W. Carter, Better English and lessons from book No. 9

Mrs. O. T. Tapp gave a timely talk on spraying and how to eliminate the cocoon on cedar trees.

Miss Emily Leslie gave the talk on Nutrition, Stretching the Food Dollar, and Recipes.

Mrs. Reynolds reminded the members of the Sesquicentennial, the Canning Exhibition to be held at Simon Kenton High school, and of the reports to be turned in.

Members and visitors attending were Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Wm. House, Mrs. O. T. Tapp, Mrs. C. W. Carter, Mrs. Foster Armstrong, Mrs. G. H. Houston, Mrs. F. H. Shanklin, Mrs. Wm. Summey, Mrs. Elizabeth Damron of Olive Hill, Mrs. Leo Flynn of Walton, and Miss Emily Leslie. —Reporter.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 75-millimeter gun is a divisional weapon used by the Artillery as an anti-tank gun. It has been replaced to some extent by the more modern "105", known as the heaviest of divisional weapons. The 75-mm gun costs $12,000 and has been converted by our Ordnance into a "blaster" twice as efficient as in the first World War.

This gun gets maximum power for minimum weight and cost, and the American people are providing the finance through the purchase of War Bonds. If you do your share and invest 10 per cent of your income in War Bonds, adequate supply of this efficient gun can be assured our fighting forces. Buy War Bonds every pay day. —U. S. Treasury Department

CELEBRATE TWENTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, June 14th the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Miller of Carrollton was the scene of an enjoyable "get-together" in their honor, it being the twentieth anniversary of their wedding day, and also commemorating the birthday of M. C. Carroll, a cousin of Mr. Miller.

While Mr. and Mrs. Miller and family were attending church, cars from Boone, Kenton and Jefferson counties arrived at their home, with relatives, and laden with every good thing to eat, including lots of fried chicken and a wedding cake made by Mr. Miller's mother, and decorated fittingly for the occasion.

When the Millers returned to their home they were quite taken back to see so many cars and find their home filled with guests. It was a complete surprise and an especial surprise was the presence of Mrs. Bertha D. Miller and Dr. J. G. Slater of St. Petersburg, Fla., who having come up for the funeral of Mrs. Addie Burrows on Thursday had joined the party.

Others present were Mrs. Sallie P. Smith, Mrs. H. W. Branch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. George M. Ratterman of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs H. F. Jones of Erlanger; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Carroll, Kathryn, Bertha Mae and M. C., Jr. of Big Bone; Mrs. Sallie R. Miller and Emma Jane Miller of Walton, and Sara Kathryn and Fred Huey Miller, Lena Seitzinger and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller of Carrollton.

J. L. HAMILTON & SON
FUNERAL SERVICE
VERONA KENTUCKY

Medicine Marches On With Men in War

MEDICINE, and especially surgery, has always made great strides in war. Many of the things learned are of great value at home and in peace-time.

Each month, Good Housekeeping records practical progress made in medical science for the benefit of its readers. In the June issue, it reports on a new technique, refrigeration, for amputating limbs without anesthesia. The limb is packed thoroughly in ice and covered with a rubber blanket. Salt added to the ice maintains the low temperature. Ice bags are applied for thirty minutes, to shut off the pain before the tourniquet is applied. After the leg has been in ice for two and a half hours, it has no sensation of pain and the operation can be performed without an anesthetic.

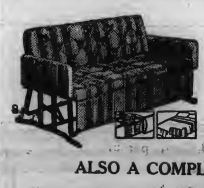
Another lesson, of more frequent use in civil life, involves the frequent necessity of removing a ring that is too tight, on a swollen finger. First, soap the finger thoroughly; then slip a thin cord string under the ring. Hold the near end of the string tight and wind the other end tightly around the finger from the edge of the ring to the fingertip. This will compress the finger uniformly. Then take the near end of the string, and still holding it tight, unwind it against the upper edge of the ring. As the string is unwound, the ring slides down the finger the distance of the width of the string with each turn.

Have You Paid Your Subscription

La Rose Beauty Salon
400 Dixie Hi.
Ph. Erl. 6252
$5.00 PERMANENT for $4.00
$4.00 PERMANENT for $3.50
PERMANENTS $3.00 up
Children's Perm. $2 & $2.50

LARGE SIZE
Armstrong Linoleum Rugs
12x12 $8.95 12x15 $10.95
Madison Linoleum Store
531 MADISON AVE. - COVINGTON - HEm. 9313
YORK LINOLEUM STORE
6th & YORK STS. - NEWPORT - COl. 4805

LOOK AT YOUR HOME



Does the outside look weather-beaten? Wouldn't it look fresher with a new coat of paint? Of course, it would. When you paint, do it right, with a JUALITY paint for nearly 50 years. It will both preserve and beautify your home, and is much cheaper in the long run than inferior paints. Use a BOEHMER WEARMORE PAINT for every painting need.

BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT

There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You,
Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.

THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.
114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212

GLIDERS
and
GLIDER CUSHIONS
BEAUTIFUL as well as COMFORTABLE
ALSO A COMPLETE LINE OF
Awnings, Hammocks, Porch and Lawn Furniture.
Covington Awning & Roofing Co.
3rd & SCOTT STS., COVINGTON HIland 1735

How to Display Ceiling Prices

Ceiling Price may be shown for a group of identical items on the same shelf—such as canned tomatoes.

Approximately 30,000 tons of agricultural limestone will be distributed in Graves county this yr.

EYE AID

A WARNING!

Because they have no pain, many persons never suspect they are subject to eyestrain. This is a harmful situation. Eyestrain is a constant drain on the nervous system, and may cause headaches, lassitude, etc. If neglected, it may work serious injury.

Let us carefully examine your eyes and furnish proper glasses, if needed. Relief from eyestrain will make you feel like an entirely different person.

Frank Riggs

MORNING VIEW

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Lockhart of Latonia are the proud parents of a little son, born June 12 at Booth Hospital. Mrs. Lockhart was formerly Alberta Rich.

Cletus Fisk, who is employed in Dayton, Ohio spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Fisk and family.

Congratulations are extended to Corporal W. C. and Mrs. Schadler on their recent marriage. They are the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schadler and family of Independence. W. C. is stationed at Camp Wheeler, Ga.

Friends of Mary F. Feder are glad to know she is at home after an operation at St. Elizabeth Hospital, recently.

The First Aid class is holding their last meeting Tuesday night, June 16 for the examination. The class has been taught by C. W. Thake, until he was called East. Mrs. Dewey Fisk and Miss Ervin have finished the course, with 17 or 18 members completing the 20 hours required.

Mrs. Maude Finnell spent the weekend visiting relatives in Latonia.

The many friends of Charley Elliott are sorry to learn that his condition is very low at this time.

BEAVER LICK

Miss Allie May Shields is enjoying a visit with relatives in Covington.

Miss Rose Adams of Big Bone has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sleet and attending services at the Baptist Church.

Mrs. Guy St Clair of Walton took supper with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCabe, Friday evening.

Mrs. David Houston was at Bank Lick last week to see her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Turner, who is seriously ill.

Howe Henry of Connersville, Ind., visited his sister, Mrs. Harry Moore, and family Sunday.

Jimmy McCubbin and family were at Verona, Monday to see his aunt, Mrs. Frone Farrell, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Wood and daughter of Big Bone were here Sunday for the home-coming at the Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin of Route 25 were calling on friends in this locality Sunday.

Edward Hamilton and family were at Big Bone, Sunday to see their grandmother, Mrs. Susan Hamilton, who is very ill at this time.

Rev. S. B. Godbey left Monday for Winchester to attend a meeting of the pastors of the various districts of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brown and daughter of Centerville, O., visited Wm. Brown and family over the weekend.

Quite a large crowd attended the all-day meeting at the Baptist Church, Sunday and a very enjoyable day was spent by all. The revival will continue through Friday night of this week, with services each evening at 9 p. m., E. W. T. Daily Vacation Bible School each afternoon at 2 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mrs. Ruth Green, chairman of the USO drive in the Beaver precinct, and her corps of workers, are proud to announce that they collected the neat sum of $93.00 for this worthy cause.

Approximately 15,000 sheep were insured in Lincoln county last year, with losses amounting to $509.

VERONA

Mrs. Emma Alexander had as her dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Chapman and daughter, Frances, Mrs. Tom Cook and sons of Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Powers of Piner and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dawson and daughter of Erlanger.

Mrs. Harry W. Hamilton was shopping in Covington and Cincinnati, last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Bertha Blaesy is improving in health at her home here.

Mrs. W. B. McCormick was in Lexington from Thursday of last week until Monday visiting her mother and other relatives.

Little Miss Bobby Ann Gordon is visiting her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Washum of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hamilton returned last Friday from Louisville where they had been attending a Convention of Funeral Directors and Embalmers.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus McMullen of Richmond were weekend guests of J. J. Myers and family.

Michael Prusack returned recently from a visit with his relatives in Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Chapman and daughter, Betty Jo of Campbellsburg were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Roberts, Sunday evening. Betty Jo is spending the week with her grandparents.

Don't forget the Homemakers meeting next Tuesday at the school house.

Those who fail to come to the Wednesday evening prayer service at the Baptist Church, are missing something worth while.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Johnson and Kruse Johnson have returned from a delightful motor trip to Kansas City, Kansas, where they spent a week with their brother and sister, Lester and Bitha Johnson.

CONCORD

Mr. and Mrs .Omer Elliston of Latonia and Mrs. Bess Riley of Newport all attended church at Concord, Sunday and were dinner guests at D. R. Chapman's; also Sallie Whitson. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chapman and daughter and her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown, Earnest Hughes and sister, Ella Hughes, were at church here Sunday. Earnest and Elva spent the day at the Ross Chapman home, and Mr. and Mrs. Brown went to her sister's, Elva Speagle.

Rev. Smith and wife spent Sunday at W. A. Glacken's. He told of their trip to Florida to visit their son. It was a wonderful trp and they were glad to find him so well.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hughes had such a nice trip to Indianapolis, week before last, to the graduation of their granddaughter, Virginia Hughes.

The farmers are still putting out tobacco, as the rains have been plentiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilhoite returned home Sunday after spending some time here on their farm

Mr. an dMrs. Raymond Rex and little son of Ludlow were the Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Robinson.

Lets not forget our revival at Concord beginning July 20. Bro. Enlow of Dry Ridge will assist Bro. Smith in the meeting. A welcome is extended to all.

NAPOLEON

A surprise birthday dinner was given at the home of Jim Lillard in honor of Mrs. Frank Woods birthday, Sunday. There were about ninety present. At the noon hour Rev. Wm. Smith presented a Bible to Mrs. Wood, which was given her by her husband. The afternoon was spent in singing popular and sacred songs. Then after a patriotic talk, made by Rev. Smith, it was followed by patriotic songs. Everyone left at a late hour wishing Mrs. Woods many, many happy returns of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cayton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Odor. Mrs. Lee Hendren, son Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ed Perry and little daughter were afternoon visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil Warwick of Covington and Chas. William Alexander spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Alexander.

Misses Jean and Lucille Collins and Miss Dorcie Miller, Messrs. Jack Allphin and Ray Woods spent Sunday at Coney Island.

The G. A. met at the home of Mrs. Chas. Alexander, Saturday for the day.

HEBRON

Miss Anna Gaines is in a serious condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. John Baker and Mrs. Nan Baker. Mrs. Baker returned home with her son Ed and wife for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Weghorn entertained several friends on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beacom and son are spending several days in Detroit, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Evens of Covington spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Russel Hodges.

R A DULL ...OMENT IN THE RINEHART HOUSE . . . NOT WITH STANLEY, ALAN AND FREDERICK ABOUT!

TANLEY RINEHART, of the well-known publishing firm of) Farrar and Rinehart, is one of the three sons of the beloved thor of so many novels, short stories and plays that have carried the ...me of Mary Roberts Rinehart to the four corners of the world.

In the June number of Good Housekeeping Magazine, in which :as appeared so much of his mother's work, Stanley breaks down and ells us of how he and his two brothers contributed to the gaiety of nations and the consternation of the neighbors back in that Golden Age of 1907, in Pittsburgh.

In her biography, published a few years ago, she used as an illustration a photograph showing her, surrounded by her three sons, all sitting in studied relaxation in her workroom. For the first time Stanley divulges the source of the self-satisfied look that appears on the faces of the three boys. For the first time Mrs. Rinehart will learn that five minutes before that picture was taken, they had been up in the playroom, shooting pigeons in the church steeple across the street, with a rifle. Their only problem was the cop on the beat. They solved this by firing from across the room through the open window, dropping the pigeons at the very feet of the cop—apparently gifts from God. But that evening the cop, an old friend of their father, told him: "I'm not sure, you understand, Doctor, but I'm only sayin' they're either shot from that open window, or the curse of God's on 'em. And I'd hate to think that, even if it's a Protestant church they're livin' in."

After reading the stories he tells of the bubbles blown with illuminating gas and lighted with a match; of the balloons filled with hydrogen which nearly blew the Vienna apartment; the twenty-thousand volt transformer that only left Stanley and his brothers unconscious for a moment or two—and finally, the piece de resistance—the under-water bomb that blew the bathtub into the nowhere . . . it is quite clear that if the United States Engineer Corps ever want a demolition squad that will really function, they should not overlook the brothers Rinehart.

And it also makes quite clear why their famous mother occasionally turned to a thriller like "Seven Keys to Baldpate", if only to relieve the tension.

Here's Mine, Where's Yours?

ON THE OFFENSIVE AMERICA!

* * *

Wars are won by attacking, not by sitting in a fort!

And today America is taking the offensive against the Axis with hard-fighting, non-stoppable men and materials!

We're taking the offensive, too, against the enemy at home—the inflationary 6th column that blows prices sky high.

You can help in both fights by saving at least 10% of your money in U. S. War Bonds every pay-day. Attack the Axis with your dollars today.

You can start with as little as a 10c War Stamp and you can get a $25.00 War Bond (maturity value) for only $18.75—at your local post office, bank or other convenient sales agency.

U. S. Treasury Department

Sugarless refreshments will be served at a county-wide style show in Bourbon county.

NURSE's DAY OUT

by Margaret Fishback

(From Good Housekeeping for June)

He falls asleep exactly when
It's time to have his bottle. Then
The moment that the sprout's been fed
And I have tucked him back in bed,
His eyes grow big as silver dollars
And how the little demon hollers!
So loud he hollers, and so long,
You'd think that I had done him wrong.
So long he hollers and so loud
He'd keep a fire department cowed.
Nor does he close his little trap,
Or even contemplate a nap,
Until it's bottle time, and then
He promptly falls asleep again.

Keep him Smiling!

Sunday . . . Is Father's Day

There's not a luxury in the lot of them . . . just the sturdy, long-lasting styles that make for good living and dressing! Dad will be proud of these practical gifts . . . and glad you bought them at Eilerman's so he can wear them with justifiable pride in their good taste and smart styling.

SHIRTS - - -
Arrow Summer Meshes
Two exclusive open weaves
Whites and Solid Shades
2.25

TIES - - -
Beau Brummel Palm Beach
Wembly's Nor-Easts
1.00

HOSE - - -
INTERWOVENS
Regular or short lengths
Plain or fancy patterns
3 for 1.25

'KERCHIEFS - - -
Initialed 3 to the Box
Many smart designs
Also $1.50 the Box
1.00 box

SLACK SUITS . . .
Famous "MacGregors"
Shirt and Slacks to match or contrast. All sizes
8.95

POLO SHIRTS . . .
Open weaves and broadcloths. All shades and sizes
1.50

WASH SLACKS . . .
Plain or pleated fronts
Light and dark shades
Sizes 29 to 50 waists
1.98

JEWELRY . .
Key chains, Tie chains
Collar pins, Belt buckles
1.00

GIFT BOXED FREE

EILERMAN'S

PIKE and MADISON COVINGTON

Kentucky's Best

We'll Show You HOW TO SAVE

Walton Perpetual Bldg. & Loan Assn.

DIXIE STATE BANK BLDG. WALTON, KY.
E. S. West, Sec'y A. M. Edwards, Pres.
—— SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDENDS ——

Prepare For A Good Position

Salaries to Start — $18.00 to $35.00 Per Week.
National Defense and Private Industry Needs
More Stenographers and Typists—
DAY & NIGHT CLASSES — Start Your Course at Once.

Curtis Commercial College

EDWARD C. BADER, Principal
COlonial 0583 7 West Pike St., Covington, Ky.

Special Price On GRASS SEEDS

U. S. No. 13 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu. $6.50
Iowa No. 939 Hybrid Seed Corn, per bu. 6.00
Wilson Black Soybeans, per bu. $2.20
Virginia Brown Soybeans, per bu. 2.30
RED CLOVER, per bu. $14.10
KOREAN, per 100 lbs. 8.25
TIMOTHY, per bu. 4.40

See Us for Prices Before Buying Your COAL!

Walton Feed Mills

PHONE 57 WALTON, KY.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 21

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE TASK COMMITTED TO THE DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 28:16-20; Mark 16:14-20; Luke 24:49-53.

GOLDEN TEXT—Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.—Mark 16:15.

Witnesses of the resurrection—that privilege of the disciples carried with it the responsibility of declaring the good news of completed redemption to all the nations of the earth. In doing so they were destined to meet opposition and unbelief, to feel weariness and to know discouragement. So the Lord, before leaving this world for His present ministry at the Father's right hand (Mark 16:19; Heb. 7:25), prepared them by giving them a divine commission, which they accepted and acted upon with the assurance of His power and blessing. The lesson is summarized in the words, "Go ye" (Matt. 28:19); "They went forth" (Mark 16:20); "And He . . . blessed them" (Luke 24:50).

I. "Go Ye" (Matt. 28:16-20).

God's plans are never small plans. World evangelization, nothing less, was the goal He had in mind, and to which Christ commissioned this little group of humble folk who were His disciples. It was not only a great commission, but a daring one.

Back of such marching orders there must be authority and power—and Christ had them (v. 18)—all power and all authority. No need to measure or compare for His is the ultimate and complete authority. This is the One who said, "Come unto me"; then, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men," and who now says, "Go." If we heed one command, should we not absolutely obey the others?

The message is His message, the gospel (Mark 16:15). It is the only message! The witnesses of Christ are not called to educate and civilize the heathen without winning them to Christ. To do so is only to prepare stronger and more skillful enemies of all that we count holy.

But a great program means nothing if it is not carried out; a great commission is only words unless it is accepted and obeyed. We read of the disciples that—

II. "They Went Forth" (Mark 16:14-20).

The call and command are given in this passage. The power is made clear and somewhat in detail, but the significant thing is that they actually went forth to preach.

The response of these early Christians was immediate and enthusiastic. Would that such a spirit had characterized the church through all the generations since then, for if it had, the commission would long since have been carried out. Dr. R. A. Torrey has estimated that if everyone in a church of 2,000 were to win one soul a year, and each convert win one soul each year, the world would be evangelized in less than 35 years.

But while on the whole the church has failed, there have been valiant souls all down through its history who have given themselves to the business of soul-winning. With them, as with these of the first century, the secret is ever "The Lord working with them." We read that as He was leaving this earth and His disciples, He lifted up His hands—

III. "And He . . . Blessed Them" (Luke 24:49-53).

God has always honored those who in faith have obeyed His command. The whole history of missionary endeavor bears eloquent testimony to that fact.

Sometimes we marvel at the success of a great movement, such as that founded by John Wesley. The answer is that God found a man, or a little group of men or women, willing to take Him at His word and step out in earnest purpose to obey Him. "For forty years John Wesley carried on his mission of canvassing for Christ 'as a parliamentary candidate canvasses for votes in his constituency in the strenuous three weeks before an election'" (Arnold's Commentary). Little wonder that with the blessing of Christ upon his work brings joy to many even to this day.

Note that the disciples who had been made sad and despondent by their parting with Christ at Calvary now went away in joy. The joy of the Lord is the strength of the Christian worker. It gives him abundant grace and power in the hour of need and makes him a fruitful servant.

A Warm Soul

I saw once lying side by side in a great workshop, two heads made of metal. The one was perfect; all the features of a noble, manly face came out clear and distinct in their lines of strength and beauty; in the other, scarcely a single feature could be recognized; it was all marred and spoiled. "The metal had been let grow a little too cool, sir," said the man who was showing it to me. I could not help thinking how true that was of many a form more precious than a metal. — Canon Teignmouth Shore.

Classified Ads Get Results

BAPTIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

C. J. ALFORD, Pastor

Bible School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:15 a. m.
B. T. U.....7:30 p. m.
Evening Worship.....8:30 p. m.
Prayer Meeting, Wed., 8:30 p. m.

METHODIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor

Sunday School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship.....7:00 p. m.
Evening Service.....8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed.... 8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

GEO. CAROLAND, Pastor

Bible School.....10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:30 a. m.
Evening Service.....8:00 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church

J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.
10:00 A. M. Bible School
11:00 A. M. Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. Evening Worship
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.
Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Union, Kentucky

Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister

Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.
10:00 a. m., Sunday School.
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship.
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.
Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scout

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor

First and Third Sunday—
Sunday School 10:00 a. m.
Preaching Service 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor

Sunday School 10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship ...11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship 7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH
Verona, Ky.

REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor

Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Morning Worship 11 a. m.
Evening Service 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8 p. m.
All times given Central War time

Fulwin and winter turf oats did well in Breckinridge county, with yields estimated up to 55 bushels to the acre.

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

BY
Gordon Wilson, Ph.D.
WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE
BOWLING GREEN, KY.

THE PASSING OF AN ERA—1

When my generation said farewell to the customs that they had known as children, it was no mere outgrowing of what we alone had known. Every person outgrows something, but with us it was really a part of a whole change, I almost said a "cosmic" change. The circumstances under which we had lived seemed in our earliest days the only natural ones. They had lasted unchanged for generations. They had been hallowed by their connection with the Old World and with pioneer life in the New. Thousands of people, poor and rich, had had the same early life, had worn homeknit yarn stockings and homemade clothes, had participated in log-rollings and barn-raisings and shiverees and serenades, had attended the one-room ungraded school, where one never dreamed of an orderly pursuit of an education from the kindergarten through the university. Railroads had come long ago, the Industrial Revolution was a fact in many places, slavery had been abolished, but the old, old customs lived on, vital yet in the early nineties in nearly all places and absolutely untouched in remote areas where the roar of machinery had not penetrated.

Then, almost within a dozen years, came the modernizing of this staid world that we had known. Before we were hardly conscious of it, the things that we had known and loved became passing institutions. Unlike many other changes, this one came with a bound andin every part of the country. It was once possible to tell whether a person hailed from one or another neighborhood, up or down the creek. So rapidly have we become standardized that such lines of demarcation have long since passed away. Nothing so brought this to my attention as an experience my wife and I had about 1923 or 1924. We had been invited by the teacher of a rural high school to spend the day with him and some of his pupils in a boat trip on a small river. My wife dressed, rather cautiously, in knickers, a little fearful that she would shock the girls of the community where we were going. Imagine our surprise when we arrived at our destination to find all the girls in mannish attire, from overalls to fashionable knickers. Thus rapidly had modern methods of dressing found their way into remote corners of the hills.

It cannot fail to be a source of regret to many of us that the lives of our children seldom cut across our own early experiences. Christmas, for instance, is just as rea lto them as it ever was to us, but something of the picturesqueness of the occasion is dead forever. Oranges and apples are no longer the wonderful fruits they once were; candy is no nine-day's wonder; Christmas trees have largely superseded stockings. Roman candles and firecrackers, since we are on the edge of the South, are still here, usually for weeks before the actual holiday, and also at the Fourth of July, a thing unheard-of in our lives. The scattering out of the Christmas season seems to an old-timer to destroy much of the thrill we once got out of the one day of the year. Even the parents did not purchase presents until on Christmas Eve or a day earlier. Tearing down Thanksgiving decorations to put up Christmas decorations was unknown, partly because we waited until Christmas to celebrate Christmas. For that matter, Thanksgiving Day then meant very little; I can recall that in my early college days, no holiday was decreed in my college for it or even though of, though we always made much of Christmas.

Lambs brought into Clinton county last November at a cost of $9 a head sheared $3 worth of wool this spring.

Apprixamtely 30,000 tons of agricultural limestone will be distributed in Graves county this yr.

Terrace lines totaling 4,750 ft. have been made for Elbert Spurrier and Milburn Hornback in Grayson county.

JONESVILLE

(Too Late for Last Week)

Rev. C. B. Love filled his regular appointment at the Clark's Creek Baptist Church, Sunday. Sunday night Enlow Cammack, B. T. U. president, and Miss Edna Miller, the Junior leader, and a group of Junior members from here went to Clark's Creek and put on a program.

Mrs. C. B. Love is visiting her parents and family at Bridgeton, New Jersey.

Mrs. Addie Samford and Mrs. Mollie Howell of near Sparta visited Mrs. Eva Kemper last Wednesday afternoon.

Misses Peggy and Jo Ann Bowie of Paris are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowie.

Miss Della Beatty spent Sunday with Misses Ann and Mary Sue Conrad.

Miss Geneva Lee Skirvin is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Kemper.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Orsborne and daughter of near New Liberty spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Orsborne and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Poe and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jep Cammack.

Mrs. Lentie Dressman and sons of Covington called to see Jack Noel one day last week.

"Somewhere they are saying, 'Good Morning' when we are saying 'Good night' and somewhere the shadows are lifting while sorrow is yelling our sight." Deeply mourned is the recent passing of Robert Lee Smith, who died in a Louisville Hospital on May 20th, at the age of 71 years. He was born on May 12, 1871 and in early life accepted Christ as his Savior, becoming a member of the Jonesville Baptist Church, where he remained faithful unto the end. In 1891 he was married to Miss Margerite Herndon, and to this union were born two daughters and a son. Some years after the death of his wife, he was again married, on Jan. 21, 1921, to Mrs. Atta Fenwick Smith of Illinois, who survives. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church here on May 23 by his pastor, Rev. C. B. Love, assisted by Rev. E. F. Wright of New Liberty. No better evidence of his popularity could be found than the large number of relatives and friends who gathered to pay the last tribute to his memory. Flower bearers and pallbearers were J. L. Goldsberry, Ralph Glore, Kirtley Beatty, J. H. Threlkeld, Willis Hammonds and Rash Orsborne.

He leaves to mourn his going his devoted wife, Mrs. Atta Smith, his daughters, Mrs. Ollie Wofford of Lexington and Mrs. Ida Baker of near Long Ridge, a son, Arthur S. Smith of Metcalfe, Ill., four sisters, Mrs. Addie Samford and Mrs. Mollie Howell of near Sparta, Mrs. Lizzie Wright of New Liberty and Mrs. Lulu Kemper of Long Ridge, two brothers, Stonewall Smith of Long Ridge and Albert Smith of near Owenton, ten grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, besides a host of other sorrowing relatives and friends by whom he will be missed greatly. He was laid to rest in the Owenton Cemetery with Watson & Orr, undertakers, in charge.

Though many lives have been made sad by his going, Heaven has been made dearer by his entrance. He has responded to the call of his Heavenly Father, who hath said, "It is enough, thy task is done. Come thou from earth away."

POPLAR GROVE NEWS

(Too Late for Last Week)

Miss Jessie Adkins and Emmitt Scott were married Saturday at Glencoe. We wish them much success and happiness in their married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece Wilson and son Jerry Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Moore were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Connelly.

Arthur Jackson, who is working in Covington, spent the week end with his wife and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brock and children, Betty Jean and Virginia Jo were the Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brock.

Lewis Gordy spent the weekend with his brother, Archie Gordy and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Stewart of Warsaw were the Sunday guests of Hubert Stewart and daughters Vivian and Lillian.

Mrs. Hubert Stewart is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Poland and family.

Miss Jane Lee Harrison spent Monday night with Miss Evelyn Harrison of near Long Ridge.

Elisha Stewart spent Monday night and Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bonds of Cincinnati spent the weekend with Mrs. Ruth Crouch and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ellis Crouch.

FARMERS . . .

Make every market-day BOND DAY!

For our fighting men, for our country's future and for freedom we must meet and beat our county War Bond quota and keep on doing it.

Pick up your War Bonds and Stamps on your second stop in town . . . right after you've sold your eggs, milk, poultry, stock or grain. No investment is too small and no investment is too large . . . the important thing is to buy every time you sell!

U. S. Treasury Department

WALNUT LICK

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Lucas were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lucas, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown were calling on her sister, Miss Elvie Speagle, from church at Concord, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Elliston of Latonia and Mrs. Bessie Riley of Newport attended church at Concord, Sunday. Glad to have them back with us at church. They were formerly of this place.

Mrs. Mag Chapman is still on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Edrington and James Whitson and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Webster were business callers in Warsaw, Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hughes were shopping in Covington, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Struve and little son of Covington were visiting her parents Sunday.

Miss Blanche Webster spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Webster.

James Whitson called on Mr. and Mrs. Atwood Greenwell on Saturday night.

James Lee Allphin left for the Navy, Friday.

The W. M. S. met with Mrs. Laura Beach, Wednesday, with 10 members and 4 visitors present. The next meeting will be with Miss Ella Roberts the second Wednesday in July. All that can be present. We miss the ones who are absent, and visitors are always welcome.

Don't forget our revival at Concord Baptist Church will begin on Monday night, July 20th. Rev. Enlowe will be the speaker.

In Boyd county, $613 received from the sale of scrap last month was used to help maintain a canteen for soldiers.

KEEP YOUR EYES "ON THE ALERT"

Have your eyes checked—it's your patriotic duty to keep them in perfect condition. Let us examine your eyes at once.

L. J. METZGER

Optometrist Optician

631 Madison Ave.
Covington

Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

DEAD STOCK REMOVED

SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS

CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887

REVERSE PHONE CHARGE

Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.

LOCKLAND OHIO

New Type Warship Launched

Here's a kind of warship that seldom gets its name in the papers, let alone its picture. This is His Majesty's Ship, the "Bold," latest of the fleet of British rescue vessels being built in this country on contract by General Motors. GM supplies the Diesel engines and other propulsion machinery and the boats are built on sub-contract by various American shipyards. Photo ahows the "Bold" as she was launched at the Defoe Shipbuilding Company yards at Bay City, Michigan.

The bull-dog tug-boat appearance of these ships fails to reflect the romantic and important character of their job, which is to dash through submarine and raider infested seas—to the middle of the ocean if necessary—and tow to safety vessels that have been disabled by torpedo or gun fire. They can tow anything from a fishing boat to a battleship. Vessels in this service have rescued more than two million tons of United Nations shipping since the war began, shipping that might have gone down but for the chance to fight another day.

GET THOSE EGGS

economically, with Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS
$4.50 PER 100
DR. SALSBURY POULTRY REMEDIES
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

SCHOOL DAYS — By DWIG

Kenton Covnty Farm News

4-H Boys Attend Junior Week

Wallace Gabriel, Stanley Sallee, Gilbert Damon and Kline Haney, accompanied by Maurice Williams Assistant County Agent, attended 4-H Junior Week at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, during the first week in June.

Scholarship trips for the boys were provided by the Early and Daniels Company, George W. Hill & Company, and Covington Kiwanis Club.

The boys were on county terracing team. They have been conducting demonstrations in terracing work.

Salvage Your Scrap Rubber for Victory

According to M. D. Royse, chairman of Kentucky U. S. D. A. War Board, a national program to collect old scrap rubber will begin June 15 and continue for two weeks.

The Government program to salvage old rubber will be carried out throughout the United States. The success of the rubber program may be a large factor in determining whether gasoline rationing will be carried out on a national scale.

According to Mr. Royse, all gasoline service stations will be instructed to receive the old rubber during the two weeks.

Contact your local service station for details about the program, before delivering your scrap rubber.

Home-Saving of Vegetable Seed

by John S. Gardner

Whether or not last spring's high seed prices are a portent of high prices to stay, the old art of saving vegetable seed from the gorden well bears reviving. It is not difficult to do and its advantages are many. For one, it is guaranty that fresh seed is had; much of that that came to the home gardeners this year was not. Besides, a gardener may thus have well suited sorts, whether he knows their seed catalogue names or not.

Happily, the easiest seed to save is of the most important vegetables, tomatoes and beans. Beans "mix" almost not at all, and tomatoes "come true" well over 95 percent.

To save tomato seed, one need not wait until the fruit has become dead ripe but there is mature seed in tomatoes only fairly well colored. Selection should be made in the first cluster, called the "crown" cluster, of fruits that please the eye. These are pulped into a non-metal container and set away, perhaps covered with cheesecloth to keep out insects. After 3 days or so, fermenting starts, and this cuts loose the phlegm in which the seeds are enclosed, and the good seed falls to the bottom. The waste is then poured off, the seed gathered and spread to dry, but not in the sun, as intense light tends to kill germination of seed of all kinds.

Kale seed and that of all the cabbage greens is easy to save, and a half-dozen plants yield enough for an average garden. However, there is danger of mixing; for example, curly kale tends to become smooth, grown too close to rape. One hundred feet is reasonable far enough to separate them, though, for that matter, such mixing is of little importance except possibly for looks.

All Farm People to Get Information on Inflation Control

Definite progress in the statewide program to inform all Kentucky farm people about the inflation control measures of the Federal government, is announced by Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. With the assistance of several thousand local leaders, arrangements have been completed to hold meetings in all counties, communities and neighborhoods in the state, he said.

Presenting to farm people, including those living in small towns information about the national plans to hold down the cost of living was the job assigned by the government to the Extension Service of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. There are 240,000 farm families in Kentucky, and thousands of families living in towns under 2,500 population.

"To reach all these people is a gigantic job," Dean Cooper pointed out, "but it is a job that must be done in the interests of the welfare of the entire country. We must not, if it in any way can be avoided, have another inflation such as followed the other world war."

The President's seven-point program to check inflation and control the cost of living is set out at all meetings of farm men and women and 4-H club members. Various features of the inflation-control program are discussed, with special attention to the effect of inflation on farming.

Twelve district conferences of county farm agents and county home demonstration agents were held immediately after the College was notified that it was to conduct a thorough educational program among farmers. These conferences were followed by the organization of the 120 counties, and finally the program will reach into every community and neighborhood.

Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria

Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package.

FREE

Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

Don't Let HIGH PRICES UNPLEASANT TASTE INCONVENIENCE

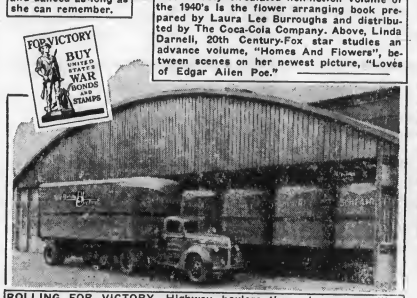
Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.

You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take

ONE A DAY VITAMIN A and D TABLETS

Pleasant-tasting - Convenient Economical

Recommended by Parents Magazine Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping

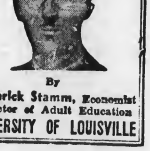


SNAPSHOTS

LIVELY STEPPER—Blonde Virginia Dale realizes an ambition cherished since childhood as she becomes Fred Astaire's dancing partner in current filming of "Holiday Inn." She has sung and danced as long as she can remember.

STUDENT WINNERS OF AD CONTEST—Winners in The Gruen Watch Company's recent collegiate advertising contest are left to right, Sydney M. Cohen, night student at Northwestern University, first prize of $500, and Marshall Kissel, University of Wisconsin, second prize of $250. William Carr, presenting checks is president of The Chicago Federated Advertising Club. Students from more than 70 universities from coast to coast submitted entries.

Most widely circulated non-fiction volume of the 1940's is the flower arranging book prepared by Laura Lee Burroughs and distributed by The Coca-Cola Company. Above, Linda Darnell, 20th Century-Fox star studies an advance volume, "Homes And Flowers", between scenes on her newest picture, "Loves of Edgar Allen Poe."



ROLLING FOR VICTORY—Highway haulers these days are pulling essential war materials and are proud of it. Here is part of a big fleet of Fruehauf trailers. Prominently lettered on the sides of the trailers is the slogan "Hauling for Victory." Approximately 65 per cent of this highway hauler's loads are for war purposes these days.

PHONE GETS FAMILY'S GOAT—Rock Glen, N. Y.—And literally, too, for this six-weeks-old pet goat of the John Fettis family runs to the telephone every time it rings. Members of the family claim it can even distinguish their ring from others on the party line.

293

Money Talks

By Frederick Stamm, Economist Director of Adult Education UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

The retail merchants of this country (especially the small retailers) are beginning to feel the effect of the federal price stabilization ruling. The National Retail Grocers Association at its Chicago meeting called for a "mandatory national price policy," under which retail price ceilings would be accompanied by effective controls over all major items of costs, including the price of farm products and all wages.

"Unless relief (from conditions caused by price ceilings) is speedily forthcoming, tens of thousands of retail grocers face bankruptcy within six months," the organization stated. The report also stated that grocers were contending with an estimated overall average increase of 10% in replacement costs over those on which the March ceilings were established; that the prospects of at least a 50% increase in taxes over last year would be accompanied by an increase in wages and delivery costs and by a scarcity of merchandise. The report went on to say that "the cost of farm commodities and labor costs represent approximately 85% of the total cost of food to the consumer" and "are subject to no effective controls but on the contrary are everywhere advancing."

The plight of the retail grocer indicates the trouble that always arises when a government agency tries to regulate some prices but lets others run wild. How can we expect a healthy condition in our economic system if we say to one class of people, "You can charge only so much for your products," but let other classes charge what they please? If we are to regulate prices, let us recognize the necessity of regulating all prices, including prices of farm products and the prices (wages) which labor charges for its services.

War economy often calls for strict regulations, but let it fall on all groups as evenly as possible so that no classes are unduly favored at the expense of any other class. To secure economic justice we must regulate all prices and all wages.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaisance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your county go over its War Bond Quota.

U. S. Treasury Department

How to Use Your Flashlight Indoors or Outdoors in Blackout

EACH family should have one or more flashlights to help prevent accidents in blackouts and to promote good morale. Such flashlights should be used, however, only in accordance with instructions that have been reviewed and passed by the Office of Civilian Defense. These include the following, which the National Carbon Company is helping distribute.

Select a convenient, accessible place for your flashlight and always keep it in this place. If you must use the light about the house, never point it toward unshielded windows, skylights, or open doors.

If you have to be outdoors when a blackout comes, do not use an unshielded flashlight when you can avoid it. If you must use it, (1) switch it off again as soon as possible, (2) keep the beam level or downward—never even slightly upward, and (3) keep the beam away from all surfaces that may reflect light.

As a rule, you will have time to shield your light before using it. You can do this by covering the lens quickly with a couple of thicknesses of newspaper or other paper, or with your handkerchief, dimming and diffusing the beam until you can see only objects nearby. The paper or other covering should be tied firmly in place to prevent the likelihood of any sudden exposure of the beam.

If you know in advance that you must be outdoors in a blackout, cut two discs of newspaper and insert them under the lens. Deep red paper may also be used (blue is unsatisfactory). And remember: The Office of Civilian Defense has not yet approved any so-called "blackout lights." So for your own protection, follow the instructions given here until further instructions are issued.

The foregoing applies in areas where no more stringent regulations have been adopted by the local defense authorities.

Most families already have flashlights which can easily be put in good working condition. Usually these lights need only new bulbs, perhaps a new lens, or fresh batteries. Such minor repairs cost little and help conserve the available supply of new lights for families which are without any equipment.

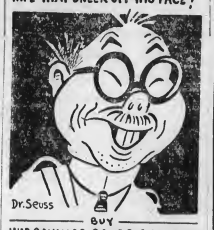
Keep your flashlights loaded with fresh batteries. Finally, have an extra set on hand for your light in case of long-continued use.

NICHOLSON

"The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want." He alone sooths and comforts.

"Leaves have their time to fall and flowers to wither at the North wind's breath and stars to set, but thou hast all seasons for thine own O, death."

The household of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wiley has been darkened by the shadow of death, thereby plunging them into deepest grief. After a brief illness their beloved youthful son, Thomas Lee, passed on Wednesday, June 3, 1942 at the early age of eleven years. Has he been called from earth to eternity before the cold wintry blast of time could chill and blight his young life. Death is no respector of homes or happiness and his blight has fallen upon them most heavily, but "Neath withered hopes God's plans are blossoming." To the silver lining in their dark clouds is the golden glow of the rainbow of promise of a reunion in that cloudless land, where twilight breaks into eternal morn. Among lovely blossoms adorning his casket were those given by his classmates and friends. Following the last rites at the Independence Christian Church, Saturday afternoon at which Rev. Burton Thurston officiated, interment took place in the Independence cemetery, where he slumbers in the beauty of the hills. Boyhood friends serving as pallbearers were Charles Otis Morgan, Junior Weldon, Chester Armstrong and Paul Wiley. "His sun went down in the morning, while all was fair and bright, but it shines today on the far-away hills, in the land that knows no night."



Through the kindness of Miss Betty Bolening and Miss Florence Armstrong friends and classmates donated a beautiful floral tribute to Thomas Lee Wiley.

Deeply appreciated were luscious strawberries from Mrs. Harry Fisk.

Mrs. Frances Guffey and children paid a brief call on Friday evening.

A hatchery in Lewis county produced 60,000 chicks this year, compared to 50,000 last year.

WIPE THAT SNEER OFF HIS FACE!

BUY WAR SAVINGS BONDS & STAMPS

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1860

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

When In Covington STOP AT CITY AUTO SERVICE

Pike and Scott Sts. COVINGTON, KY.

—24-Hr. Wrecker Service—

Cars Washed - Storage

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .

W. E. TAIT, O.D. OPTOMETRIST OPTICIAN

27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.

Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

For appointment phone— HE. 2088

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .

DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?

Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.

LANG'S CAFETERIA

623-625 Madison Avenue COVINGTON KENTUCKY

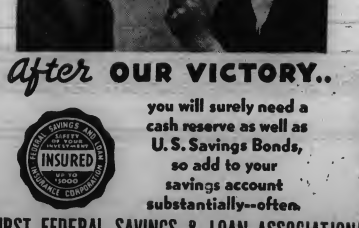
TIRES!

MUST BE SAVED

Align Those Wheels and Save Time and Money

COlonial 0670

R. MICHELS Welding Co.



722 Washington St., Covington

JUNE SPECIALS AT THE Powder Puff Beauty Salon

Carter Wireless Oil Wave—a $5.00 Wave for $3.50 during May; also a Mel-O-Tone $5.00 Wave on Machine—2 Waves for $5.00, if two come together.

EDNA STAMLER

78 S. Main St. (Phone 682) Walton, Ky.

After OUR VICTORY..

you will surely need a cash reserve as well as U. S. Savings Bonds, so add to your savings account substantially--often.

INSURED

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF COVINGTON

501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1242

HEALTH and HAPPINESS Await You At DILLSBORO

Home of the Famous White Crane Mineral Water

Although Dillsboro's fame is based largely on the excellent results obtained from treating arthritis, rheumatic afflictions, stomach troubles and nervous disorders, more people daily find Dillsboro the ideal place to vacation. Here, amidst pleasant, quiet surroundings, one rests, relaxes and builds up a reserve of health that wards off trouble in the future.

Visit Dillsboro for a week or so. Take the mineral baths and drink the waters. The glowing health, the peace of mind and the general rejuvenation you receive from the Dillsboro treatment will give you a new lease on life.

RATES $27.00 to $37.00 WEEKLY

Include delicious Meals, Attractive Room, Mineral Baths

E. F. Gerkepott, Mgr.

DILLSBORO HEALTH RESORT

U. S. Route 50 DILLSBORO, INDIANA

Is YOUR SUBSCRIPTION Paid In Advance?

It Should Be, You Know!

WALTON ADVERTISER

PHONE 30

Have You Paid Your Subscription

SPECIAL!!

LADIES' AND GIRLS' STYLES
Made to Sell for $5 to $6.50

NOW $2.90 and $3.87

All selected from our higher priced stock. All-white ties with sturdy heels . . . two tones with blue or brown accents . . . perforations for comfort . . . dainty dress sandals . . . sport oxfords. Leather and rubber soles. Sizes 3 to 9. All widths, but not in every style.

Ladies-Girls First Floor

SPECIAL!!

MEN'S AND YOUNG MEN'S STYLES
Made to Sell for $5.50 to $6.50

NOW $3.87

All selected from our higher-priced stock. Sport styles for men and young men . . . custom made construction, sturdy sewed leather soles and rubber heels. Many toe shapes to choose from. Black, brown, all white and brown and white. Sizes 6 to 11. All widths, but not in every style.

Men's—Boys' Second Floor

★ WE FIT THE HARD TO FIT ★

Here You Will Find More Nationally Known Makes to Select From Than Any Other Shoe Store in Northern Kentucky

QUALITY SAMPLE SHOES

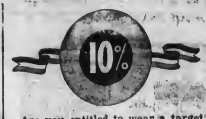
627 MADISON AVE., COVINGTON.

OPEN EVERY THURSDAY AND SATURDAY EVENINGS

NEW JAMES THEATRE

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m. —Eastern War Time.



FRIDAY & SAT., JUNE 19-20
'THE LADY HAS PLANS'
Ray Milland - Paulette Goddard

SUNDAY, JUNE 21
Ginger Rogers in
"ROXIE HART"

MONDAY, JUNE 22
William Boyd in
"THE OUTLAWS OF THE DESERT"

TUES. & WED., JUNE 23-24
"APPOINTMENT FOR LOVE"
Charles Boyer- Margaret Sullavan

THURSDAY, JUNE 25
"FLYING CADETS"
with Edmund Lowe-Peggy Moran

Are you entitled to wear a target lapel button?

You can ONLY if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds to do your part on the home front toward winning the War.

The target lapel button is a badge of patriotism, a badge of honor. You should feel proud to display it. The buttons are obtainable at your plant management, at the office of your local War Bond chairman, or at your Payroll Savings Window where you authorize your ten percent payroll deductions.

Enlist in the ten percent War Bond army and do your part to win the War.

U. S. Treasury Department

INDEPENDENCE R-1

Give thanks unto the Lord; for He is good; for His mercy endureth forever.—Psalms136:1.

We were sorry to learn of Mrs. Will Moore falling and breaking her arm Saturday afternoon at her home on Bowman Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Williams and family entertained with a basket dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. Williams' mother, Mrs. Della Williams birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Tuenhofel of Wisconsin have returned home after spending the past week with relatives of this place.

Miss Minnie Rapp of Dayton, Ohio spent the weekend with her brother, Lafe Rapp and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Richardson of Texas are spending this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Klein entertained Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ballanger for dinner Thursday evening.

Mrs. Daisy Richardson and her daughter, Helen, returned home from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Richardson of Missouri.

Miss Nannie Ballanger visited Sunday with her brother, Dawson Ballanger and wife.

Several from this community attended the wedding of Miss Alma Jean Faulkner and Mr. Robert Knox, Tuesday morning at St. Cecelia Church at Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanna spent Sunday with their son Harley and family of Latonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Morriss Wharton and Paul Keeney of Dayton, Ohio spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney and family.

We were glad to see a good crowd out to church School on Sunday. Remember the regular church services at Staffordsburg on Sunday morning and evening. Preaching by the regular pastor, Rev. Kidwell. Keep in mind the revival services which begin at this church on July 6th with Rev. Adrieck assisting with the meeting.

Come out and join us in this meeting—all are welcome.

FLORENCE

Miss Hattie Higgins and friend spent Friday in Covington shopping.

Mrs. Russell Lucks and children visited relatives in Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blackburn had as their weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGuire and daughter of Covington.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs. Ed Newman having the misfortune to fall at her home one day the past week and break an arm.

Russell Mitchell and wife spent Friday evening at Verona the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Kinard.

Miss Jean Hanna of Huntington, W. Va., left Thursday for her home after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Maze and daughter, Sue Ann.

Mrs. Helen Crouch had as her guest the past week, her mother, Mrs. Lottie Richards of Mt. Zion Road.

Arnold L. Craddock, who has been a patient in St. Elizabeth Hospital, having underwent an operation, has been removed to the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stephens, and is improving nicely.

We are sorry to hear of the Osborn department store being robbed on Thursday night.

The Fire Department of Florence is planning to have a picnic on June 26 and 27 at Zimmer's Gardens.

Friends of Mrs. Lora Morgan, formerly of Florence, were sorry to learn of her death the past week. Her funeral was held at the Florence Christian church Saturday morning.

Mrs. Helen Oerschell has the sympathy of her friends in hearing of her brother being missing the last month. He is over seas.

Brother Harold Wainscott has been called by the Florence Baptist Church to begin his pastorate June 14th. He is a native of Owen county and has been pastor of the Wilmington Baptist church at Fiskburg. Rev. Wainscott and wife will move to Florence in the near future.

James E. Smith, who has been a teacher in the Florence school for several years, left last Tuesday for Ft. Thomas, where he enlisted in the Army.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Philip Taliaferro, Erlanger, over the arrival of a little daughter at Christ Hospital, Cincinnati on Wednesday, June 10. Both Mrs. Taliaferro and daughter are reported doing nicely. The Taliaferro's have one other child Philip, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lutes have announced the engagement of their daughter Jean Carolyn to Mr. Bradford Buckshorn of Macon. They are to be married in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Maze of Ashland, were the weekend guests of their son, S. L. Maze, Mrs. Maze and daughter. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Love of Charleston, W. Va., were also weekend guests at the Maze home.

The Kingdom Builders class of the Erlanger Baptist Church enjoyed a picnic on Monday evening at the country home of Mrs. John Martin of Burlington Pike.

Tom Osborn of Youell street is very ill at his residence.

Mrs. Margaret Bell (Ward) was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital on Friday morning with appendicitis. Her friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer and daughter spent Thursday at Walton, the guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Marksberry and son entertained with a six o'clock dinner party on Saturday evening in compliment of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Coyle and son of Ludlow.

Roy Lutes has purchased a farm at Limaburg, known as the C. S. Tanner place.

Last Sunday Mrs. Sterling Rouse, Mrs. Dick Garnett and Allen Darby celebrated their birthday anniversaries at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Darby. Other guests were Miss Nina Darby and Mrs. Minnie Bradford and Albert Pennington. A most enjoyable day was spent together.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blackburn Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGuire and daughter were dinner guests on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Schadler of Erlanger.

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.

CHAMBERS & GRUBBS

Funeral Directors WALTON

Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation

Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.

DIXIE STATE BANK

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

CHASE DRY CLEANERS

34 EAST 7th ST. HE 2126 COVINGTON, KY.

Opposite Doctors Building 6 HOUR SERVICE

SUITS - OVERCOATS
PLAIN DRESSES
PLAIN LADIES COATS
Dry Cleaned and Pressed

75c

100% UNION SHOP

CARD OF THANKS

Through the medium of the Advertiser, we wish to thank all those who in any way, lent a helping hand during the illness and death of our wife and mother.

Especially do we appreciate those ladies who stood by and aided in the last hours; the preachers for their service, and Mr. Taliaferro for the efficient way he conducted the funeral.

—ROBT. WARD & FAMILY.

Classified ADS

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

FOR SALE—18 head stock cattle, heifers and bulls. Ottis Readnour, Walton. tf27

HOUSE FOR RENT—3 rooms on Walton-Verona Road, 2 miles from Walton. Gall DIxie 7554-W. tf31

FOR SALE—Baby chicks. Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE—Sow and 9 shoats. Raymond Gross, Walton, Ky. Phone 61. 1t32

FOR SALE—Hybrid seed corn. U. S. No. 13, while it lasts, $6.75 per bushel. Walton & Readnour Walton. tf27

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

WANTED — 25 pounds Clean Cotton Rags—5c per lb. or a year's subscription to paper. Walton Advertiser.

NOW is the time to buy your winter coal. See Walton & Readnour, Walton. Phone 154. tf23

FOR SALE or RENT—Cottage, 4 rooms, electric lighted, in Verona, Ky. Terms reasonable. A. C. Roberts, Verona, Ky. 3t32

FOR RENT — 4-room modern apartment; $20 per month. Inquire at Advertiser Office. 2t32*

FOR SALE — Frying chickens, 2 and 3 pounds; market price. George Burris, phone 602, Walton, Route 1. 2t32

LIBERAL REWARD for return of man's English made bicycle, name (Comrade); two gold wrist watches, and other jewelry; Airguide field glasses; rare old coins. Ask for particulars or give information to Box 67, Walton, Ky. tf31

BUY your winter coal now! Walton & Readnour, Walton Phone 154 tf23

FOR SALE — Fresh Jersey cows; also some bred Heifers; 4 Hereford Bulls, ready for service; registered Jersey Bull; sow and pigs; mare, with mule colt, will trade for cattle; 4-year-old mare, work anywhere. A. C. Johnson, Walton, Ky., Beaver Road. 2t33

IF IT NEEDS FIXING — Call Campbell, phone Walton 23. Electric, Plumbing, Heating, Refrigeration, Stokers and Oil Burners, Controllers of all kinds. tf33

FOR SALE—Oak Lumber, seasoned and newly sawed. R. Hume, R-1, Walton. Phone Independence 6745. 5t33*

FOR SALE—Red sow and nine pigs; 2-year-old Jersey heifer, calf ready to veal. Ray W. Reffitt, Toll Gate house, Hicks Pike. 2t33*

FOR SALE—Fryers, 2½ to 3 lbs.; young fat hens. W. P. Robinson, phone 852. 1t33

WHY WASTE TIME looking for a job? Be independent. Sell Rawleigh Products. Good nearby route open. Write today, Rawleigh's Dept. KYF-258-D, Freeport, Ill. 1t33

FOR SALE—Fresh cow, Holstein heifer, milking 3 to 4 gallons daily. C. R. Hume. Nicholson-Walton Highway. Phone Independence 6745. 1t33*

WANTED—Young man, with experience, to clerk in grocery store. Apply Model Food Store, Walton, Ky. Phone 21. 1t33*

FOR SALE — Tomato plants, cheap. Bryan Armstrong, phone Independence 322, Independence, Ky. 1t33*

WANTED—6 acres wheat cut and threshed. What will you charge? Send me word by mail or phone DIxie 7181J. Al Hesselman, R-4, Box 415, Turkeyfoot Rd, Kenton County, Ky. 1t33

FRYERS FOR SALE — 25c per pound. Robert Chambers, ph. Walton 706. 1t33

FOR SALE—White Rock fryers. Phone Walton 761X. Relda Powers. 1t33

ADMINISTRATRIX NOTICE

All persons having claims against the estate of Cloyd C. Waller, deceased, please present them proven according to law; and all persons indebted to said estate, please come forward and settle same.

—NAOMA RYAN, Admrx.

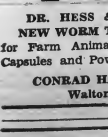
2t33* Cloyd C. Waller Estate.

NOTICE

I will apply for renewal of my Retail Package Liquor license, and Retail Beer license, for the year July 1, 1942, through June 30, 1943. My places of business are located on North Main Street, Walton, Ky.

2t32 —J. A. FARRIS.

Eighteen 4-H club boys in Carroll county are growing a total of 10 acres of castor beans.



Thirty Jefferson county farmers are growing 120 acres of hemp for seed.

Eight farmers in Lawrence county are saving vetch seed to sow as a cover crop next fall.

PTZ

DR. HESS & CLARK'S NEW WORM TREATMENT for Farm Animals — packed in Capsules and Powder Form.

CONRAD HARDWARE
Walton, Ky.

SAVE YOUR CAR and MONEY
RIDE A BIKE

We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.

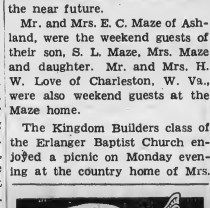
LIBERAL TERMS
DIXIE CYCLE SHOP
16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

BE SAFE - BUY NOW
SPECIAL This Week Only—
BREAKFAST SETS$19

Dixie Bargain House
Better Furniture-Less Money
221 Pike St. Cov. Co. 1750

NORRIS, BROCK CO.
Cincinnati Stock Yards

—Live Wire and Progressive—



An organization second to none. We are strictly sellers on the best all around market in the country.

We work for our customers... first, last, and all the time.

Reference: Ask the first man you meet.

Hope that you will eventually ship to us...why not now?

—Service That Satisfies—

Invest your money in United States WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS!

U. S. Treasury Department

How to Display Ceiling Prices

A single poster may show the ceiling prices for a group of related items—such as cigarettes, tobacco and razor blades. The list should be located near the place where the merchandise is sold and should be printed in letters large enough to be clearly readable from the point of purchase.

Notice To All Tax Payers of Walton, Ky.

On August 1, 1942 all delinquent taxes will be advertised in this paper, by order of the Town Board.

TOWN OF WALTON

D. L. LUSBY, Mayor

Public Sale

In order to settle the estate of the late Cloyd C. Waller, we will offer for sale to the highest bidder at his late residence in

VERONA, KENTUCKY

Saturday, June 27

1:00 P. M. - CENTRAL WAR TIME

The following: 5-room frame house, electric and water, two porches, cellar; other outbuildings. Three acres land. Immediate possession. Ideal truck or poultry farm.

PERSONAL PROPERTY—Dining table and 6 chairs; 2 dressers; wardrobe; sewing machine; Walnut bedstead; half bed; day bed; 3 rockers; antique rocker; kitchen table; 3 cane-bottom chairs; antique Cherry chest; 3 mattresses; 3 feather beds; several feather pillows; 9x12 Brussels rug; 9x12 Congoleum rug; several small rugs; Coal Oil stove; Coal range; Coal heater; Oil heater; stand table; Crosley radio; vacuum sweeper; eight-day clock; alarm clock; Seth Thomas weight clock; curtains, window shades and screens; ice box, 75-lb. capacity; washing machine and tubs; porch swing; 2 iron kettles; stone jars; glass jars; electric iron; food chopper; sausage stuffer; apple parer; dishes; glassware; kitchen utensils; several antique pieces of glassware; silverware; garden plow; 1 ton of coal; block and tackle, with 200 ft. Manilla rope, used once; a lot of good carpenter tools; stepladder, and other articles too numerous tomention.

TERMS MADE KNOWN ON DAY OF SALE

Naoma Ryan, Admrx.

COL. A. F. WORTHINGTON, AUCTIONEER

Universary of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING, TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS, NEWSPAPERS OR PERIODICALS BELONGING TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES.
See Ky. Statutes, Article 1294

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 34

ADVERTISER ADDS NEW FEATURES FOR READER INTEREST

With this issue The Advertiser has added numerous syndicated features, thus keeping our subscribers well-informed on current war happenings, news of national events, as well as providing reading entertainment for the entire family.

The features, all by prominent writers, are in addition to the regular coverage of local and county happenings. This service is an advancement in journalism, a step forward in the newspaper field which has and will continue to be the goal of The Advertiser.

Readers will find the first installment of the war serial, "Bombs Burst Once," in this issue. Nazi espionage in the vital Canal Zone, so vital to America's continued freedom, is told in the exciting chapters to follow each week. The story is full of war action, constructed around a richly authentic background. Start the first installment today!

The names of Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen are known in the newspaper world. Now The Advertiser brings the two famous writers to you each week with their Merry Go Round column. They give you news from Washington before it makes the headlines.

An analysis of the news, comics for the children, household news and patterns for the women are other features in this issue.

Farmers will find important information in the Farm Topics. Readers who like to read between the lines will enjoy reading Washington Digest by Baukhage, news analysis and commentator. All in all the new features will find readers in every home.

Our subscribers can rest assured there will be no relaxation in the complete coverage of all the news as usual. The same interesting and accurate reporting will be maintained. The publisher feels the new features are just a little more for your money.

Stanley Bailey of Gardnersville, was a business visitor in Walton, Monday.

Ben Cook, who has charge of the pump staton near Boone Lake for the L. & N. Railroad, is taking a much needed vacation at his home in South Walton.

WAYMAN FAMILY REUNION JUNE 28

The Wayman family reunion is to be held Sunday, June 28 at Pleasure Isle, LLL Highway, about 8 miles South of Covington.

The Wayman Family of 300 have decided to get together for the first time in the history of the Waymans, since the first settlement West of the Allegheny mountains in 1775. Aren Wayman and his wife, Rosalin, came on horseback to this part of the country and settled at Fowler's Creek and Banklick Creek at Independence Hill. He bought 1,000 acres of land for 30 cents per acre.

His descendants since that time have settled in various parts of the United States. Every means possible is being used to notify every relative of the Waymans, so that they may be present at this reunion at Pleasure Isle. Your name does not have to be Wayman to attend. All relatives are urged to attend.

Bus fare from Covington is 15c. The 10c admission to the grounds will be refunded by the clerk of the day. You are urged, by the committee in charge, to bring your family and relatives, your fishing tackle, your bathing suit and a full basket.

Notice To All Merchants . . .

Every merchant must file a statement of his ceiling prices for all cost-of-living commodities carried by him with the Local War Price and Rationing Board of Boone County, by July 1, 1942.

You may call at the Board at Walton, Ky., and receive a bulletin of instructions on how these reports must be filed.—Boone Co. Rationing Board, No. 8, R. E. Brugh, Chr., Walton, Ky.

LOCAL SOLDIER WEDS SOUTH CAROLINA GIRL

Miss Grace Morris, 28, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris of Columbia, S. C., and Pvt. James Cheesman, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cheesman, of near Walton, were married June 7th at Columbia.

Pvt. Cheesman, who is stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., and has many friends and relatives here who were surprised to learn of his marriage, and wish he and his bride much happiness. They will make their home in Columbia, for the time being.

SEE AND LEARN

So often children in school are backward in studies only because handicapped by visional defects. Correction of eye weakness in time pays dividends, not only during school years but in after years as well.

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

Wife of Well Known Minister Dies Monday

Mrs. Maude E. Powers Johnson, 69, passed away at Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, Monday morning following a major operation for strangulated hernia, performed a week ago.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Boone County, July 17, 1872, and had spent most of her life in Kentucky. She united with the New Bethel Baptist Church when about 15 years of age, and remained an ever faithful Christian--believing in prayer and trusting in her God. On March 1, 1893 she was married to Rev. A. K. Johnson. To this union five children were born, four of whom survive: Mrs. N. F. Pinner, Norwood, Ohio; Mrs. B. C. Griffith, Burlington; Mrs. A. T. Hunt, Verona, and Mrs. O. L. Hamilton, Winchester. The only son, John L., died at the early age of 10 months.

Also three grandchildren survive: James K. Pinner and Doris J. Pinner, Norwood, and Albert Hunt, Verona.

Besides the family, she leaves a host of other relatives, and friends.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 2:00 p. m. at the Walton Baptist Church, with the Rev. C. J. Alford officiating, assisted by a number of Baptist ministers. Music was furnished by the choir, singing "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer," and by a special friend, Mrs. R. L. Duncan of Lagrange, who sang "Sunrise Tomorrow," and "When They Ring the Golden Bells."

Pallbearers were her four sons-in-law and two grandsons. Many beautiful floral tributes were in evidence of the esteem in which this lady was held.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of J. L. Hamilton & Son of Verona.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cook and family motored to Lagrange, Saturday. This was their old home and they were delighted to meet their many friends again.

Mary K. Black spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Omer Dudgeon.

NAVY WELCOMES NEW RECRUIT

Great Lakes, Ill.—Now serving with the U. S. Navy is Jesse W. Thornton, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Thornton, 53 High St., Walton, Ky., who was received at the U. S. Naval Training Station here and is now undergoing recruit training. The new recruit will be given a series of aptitude tests to determine whether he will be sent for further instruction at one of the Navy's many service schools, or assigned for duty at sea or at some other naval station.

LEARN TO DO YOUR PART

Wouldn't this country be in a "fix" if it weren't for the women? Now that this war is on and we're up against a stiff opposition, don't you think you could help out just a little?

In many of our large factories, where guns, tanks, airplanes, and amunitions are made, it's the women behind the machine. With our boys risking their lives on the front, the women and young girls have to take over at home to keep the flag waving over the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Wouldn't you like to be behind one of the machines, such as a lathe, miller, planer, grinder, etc., and know how to operate it? That little piece you may make on the machine may save a life.

You can learn to operate a machine at the NYA War Production and Training Project in Covington, Ky. If you feel that you would not like to work in the machine shop, the NYA offers power sewing and radio training, also. All you have to do is apply at this office or any U. S. Employment Service Office. Come in today and learn to do your part.

By enrolling in one of these shops you are helping your country in this hour of crisis as well as being paid while in training.

TWO MORE LOCAL YOUTHS JOIN THE U. S. NAVY

Peter Hamilton Robinson of Union and Melvin Lee Snow of Route 2, Walton, were enlisted in the Naval Reserve, June 15th. They were transferred to the Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill.

Hamilton is the son of Everett Robinson, Union, and Snow is the son of Robert Lee Snow, Route 2, Wayton.

Both boys were accepted for enlistment at the Covington Recruiting Office.

Red Cross First Aid Instructor Appointments

Red Cross First Aid Instructor Appointments for Mrs. Delia B. Dils and Mrs. Nora G. Layne, both of Florence, have been received by Rev. J. Russell Cross, Chairman of the Boone County Chapter, from A. W. Cantwell, Director of First Aid, Water Safety and Accident Preventation for the Eastern Area Headquarters.

These two Instructors, Mrs. Dils and Mrs. Layne, successfully completed the course conducted for instructor-training held in the Campbell County Chapter by T. C. McDaniel, Jr., Red Cross Field Representative, May 11-15.

Mrs. Layne is already busily engaged in teaching a class in First Aid for the New Haven Civilian Defense Program. It is hoped that other classes will be started throughout the county in the near future.

USO Campaign A Huge success

Boone County went over the top in the USO campaign. It was announced by A. B. Renaker, Boone County Treasurer, that, to date, $1,282.86 had been turned over to him, and there is a possibility that this sum may be increased when some of the late contributions are turned over to him.

He reported the following amounts subscribed by the various communities, as follows:

Walton	$200.00
Verona	75.00
Beaver	92.50
Florence	292.25
Union	166.35
Burlington	184.71
Petersburg	110.25
Bullittsville	52.75
Hebron	48.15
Constance	39.35
Belleview	19.35
County	2.00
Total	$1,282.86

Walter Ferguson, the county USO chairman, wishes, in behalf of the campaign committee, to thank every worker who, through their untiring efforts, made this campaign such a success.

Boone County can be justly proud of her citizens, who have always been anxious to do their share toward winning this war.

Malcolm Howard of the U. S. Navy, stationed at Norfolk, Va., arrived here Tuesday to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Howard, and family.

Miss Ruby Benson, who has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Mann, and their daughter, Sue, returned to her home in Forest Hills, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willis of Huntington, W. Va., were guests last Wednesday of C. A. Rouse, Miss Georgia Rouse and Mr. and Mrs. Rod Hughes.

Pvt. James O. Cleek arrived on Tuesday to spend a ten-day furlough with his father, O. W. Cleek, and grandmother, Mrs. Mollie Cleek. Jimmy is stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stith and two sons of Cincinnati were Sunday guests of their relative, Miss Libbie Ingram.

C. A. Rouse returned to his home in Huntington, W. Va., on Tuesday morning, after spending a week with "home folks." He received word Monday night of the sudden death of his friend, William Clevenger, by drowning at South Point. Mr. Rouse attended the funeral, which was held at Catlietsburg, Tuesday.

Red Cross First Aid Class Finished

Under the instructorship of Clyde Steelman, Taylorsport, an authorized First Aid Instructor, a class of nineteen have completed the Standard Course in First Aid in Petersburg.

This class was started March 9 and the last class period was held May 18. The final examination was conducted June 3, under the supervision of Mr. Steelman.

Those completing the course and receiving credit are Mrs. Owen Watts, Mrs. Emma Helms, Hildreth Dolwick, H. R. Hensley, Mary Rector, Mrs. Julia Rector, Carrie Mahan, Gladys Clopp, Jessie G. Louden, Viola Louden, Lois L. Klopp, Mary Walton Carver, Mrs. Howell Hensley, Mrs. Edgar Snyder, Edgar Snyder, Laura May Mathews, Julia Berkshire, Dorothy Gaines and Louise Gaines.

This is the second class in First Aid in the county to be completed. Classes are now in progress at Walton, New Haven, Constance Hebron, Burlington and two at Florence. The first class completed in Boone County was held in Florence, under the leadership of Dr. G. R. Coe of Union.

MRS. SIMPSON ENTERTAINS METHODIST LADIES AID

Mrs. Mayme Simpson was hostess on Saturday to an all-day meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Walton Methodist Church.

Mrs. W. O. Rouse, presided at the business session, and Mrs. Lotta Powers, had program leader.

Those members and guests enjoying the day, were: Mrs. Ella Green, Mrs. Wm. Lancaster, Mrs. Scott Lancaster, Mrs. Sallie Miller, Miss Emma Jane Miller, Mrs. W. O. Rouse, Rev. and Mrs. D. E. Bedinger, Mrs. John C. Bedinger, Miss Graham Roberts, Mrs. Lotta Powers, Mrs. Howard Stephenson and son Joe, Mrs. Ottis Elliott and son Delbert, Mrs. R. E. Ryle, Mrs. Dave Vallandingham, Mrs. Elnora Hodges, and the hostess, Mrs. Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dorsey are entertaining her niece, Miss Margaret, of Cincinnati.

Sesquicentennial Celebration Pageant For Kenton County, July 3 and 4

On Friday and Saturday, July 3 and 4, at the Holmes High School stadium in Covington, the Kenton County Historical Society will present the Pageant spectacle "Cavalcade of Kenton County." This pageant and the accompanying events are in honor of the Sesquicentennial Celebration.

Harry B. Mackoy, prominent lawyer and historian, has written the basic script of the pageant. It will trace the history of Kenton County from the time of the Indian to the present day.

C. Lisle Kays is executive chairman of the committee which has engaged the John B. Rogers Producing Company, who enjoy national fame for the presentation of historical spectacles, to rehearse and stage the production of "Cavalcade of Kenton County." The cast will number well over 500 participants dressed in brilliant and authentic costumes. With the cast will appear the Holmes High School Acapella Choir, the Holmes High School band and the drill teams of the Kentucky Active Militia.

Governor Keen Johnson, Judge Samuel M. Wilson and Mayor Beuttel of Covington will act as the coronation officials in the ceremony during which the winner of the Popularity Contest will be crowned Miss Kenton County.

The advance tickets are now available from the girls competing in the contest, from cast members, or from Celebration Headquarters in the Covington YMCA. (HIland 1866).

The entertainment on both evenings has been so arranged so that people driving any distance may arrive in time to see everything. The activities will not start until 8:30 and there will be a great deal of available parking space very near the Holmes Stadium.

The girls competing in the Popularity contest, are:

Martha Wellbrock, Margy Black, Doris Sipple, Nancy Foster, Mildred Dietz, Anna Frank, Helen Johnson, Esther Granneman, Eddie Jane Poindexter, Margaret Pendergast, Gloria Frazier, Ruth Schroeder, Joy McColium, Billie Collier, Doris Benson, Hallie Graven, Jean Stewart, Luella Ruth Nash, Mary Wigglesworth, Dorothy M. Kenney, and Virginia Dare Snowden.

The Episodes of this spectacle will be enacted in the following order:

Prologue—Salute to the Colors.
Episode 1—Dawn of Creation.
Episode 2—Peace with the Indians.
Episode 3 — Kenton Rescues Daniel Boone.
Episode 4—Scene I,Capture of Commander Rochblave; Scene II, Kenton Runs the Gauntlet; and Scene III, Fifty Year Pledge.
Episode 5—Laying Out Covington.
Episode 6—Reception for Lafayette.
Episode 7 — Establishment of Kenton County.
Episode 8—An Early School.
Episode 9—Civil War.
Episode 10—American Unity.
Episode 11 — The Suspension Bridge.
Episode 12—The Gay Nineties.
Episode 13—World War I.
Episode 14—Guardians of our Future.
Episode 15—Twentieth Century.
Episode 16—Salute to Victory.

The proceeds of this event will go to War Relief Agencies. The support of everyone in Boone, Kenton and Campbell Counties is solicited.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Maze of Florence entertained with a delightful dinner Saturday evening in honor of Father's Day, for Mrs Maze's father, C. A. Rouse, Mr. Maze, father of Sue Ann, and other guests, Miss Mary Rensler and Mrs. Martha R. Wallace.

SUSAN S. HAMILTON, 96, PASSES JUNE 18

Susan Story Hamilton, 96, died at her home near Big Bone, June 18. She was born Jan. 8, 1846, and in March, 1862, was united in marriage to Allen Hamilton. She was a member of the South Fork Christian Church.

Funeral services were conducted from the late residence Saturday afternoon at 4:00 p. m., Eastern War Time, by Rev. D. E. Bedinger of Walton, assisted by the Rev. Branham of Big Bone. Interment was in the family cemetery, near the home.

The deceased is survived by a son, John J. Hamilton, 13 grandchildren, 4 great-grandchildren, one great-great-grandchild, and several other relatives and many friends. A daughter, Nannie Lee, and a son, James C., preceded her in death.

Chambers & Grubbs, of Walton, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

YOUNG PEOPLE AT YOUTH CONFERENCE

Elizabeth Bradie Cox, Betty Jo Parker, Pauline Carpenter, and Ann Howard from the Richwood Presbyterian Church are in Lyndon attending the Pioneer Camp, a young people's conference sponsored by the Presbytery of Louisville. The Camp is being held at the Kentucky Military Institute, with various ministers and workers of the Presbyterian Church acting as instructors and counsellors.

Rev. J. Russell Cross is teaching and drove the group down Monday morning. They were accompanied by Rev. J. Brent Wood, Jr., pastor of the Fort Thomas Presbyterian Church, who is also serving as an instructor in the conference.

Mrs. Bessie Johnson of South Main street entertained her brother, Hayden Callahan, and Mrs. Callahan of Cincinnati, her sister, Mrs. Sallie Van Winkle of Newport and Tommy Richards recently.

Mr. and Mrs. West Scott are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine son, born Saturday. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

Final Canning Sugar Rationing Period July 1 to July 25

The final rationing period for canning sugar will be held from July 1, 1942 to July 25, 1942 by the Boone County Rationing Board, No, 8. Sugar will be issued for all canning purposes for the remainder of the year between these dates, at the following places:

City Hall, Walton—Between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., Eastern War Time, Monday thru Friday. NO REGISTRATIONS WILL BE MADE ON SATURDAY.

Hebron Garage, Hebron—Monday thru Friday, between the hours of 4 p. m. and 10 p. m., Eastern War Time, from July 1 to July 25. NO REGISTRATION ON SATURDAY.

Court House, Burlington—From July 1 to July 25.

After the 25th of July, you will not be able to register for canning sugar, so be sure to register before this date, as this is the last registration for canning sugar in Boone County this year.—Boone Co. Rationing Board, VIII, R. E. Brugh, Chairman.

KNITTERS WANTED

The Red Cross desires knitters. If you are interested, contact Mrs. C. Scott Chambers, Walton Local Chairman.

Elliott-Harris Nuptials Sunday

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the Baptist minister, Rev. C. J. Alford, Sunday morning, June 21 at 9:30, when Miss Geraldine Elliott, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Elliott of Walton, and Mr. Ira Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerdie Harris of Verona, were united marriage. Their attendants were a sister of the groom, Mrs. Joe Rouse, and Mr. Rouse of Florence.

The young couple left immediately for a week's trip to places of interest in Kentucky.

On their return, they will make their home at the residence of the groom's parents.

Mrs. Harris was graduated from Walton-Verona High School in the class of '42, and Mr. Harris was graduated from the same school a few years ago.

This young couple has many friends here who wish for them much happiness and success in life's journey.

CHRISTIAN AID SOCIETY MEETS

The Ladies Aid Society of the Walton Christian Church met at the home of Miss Libb Ingram last Thursday. Mrs. Geo. Caroland was leader.

Those attending were Mrs. Geo. Caroland, Mrs. Mollie Cleek, Mrs. George Fisher, Mrs. Ora Fry, Mrs. Ralph Miller, Mrs. Georgia Arnold, Mrs. Marie Pennington and daughter Wanda, Mrs. Craig Dean Mrs. John Campbell, Mrs. E. F. Vallandingham, Mrs. Harris Moore Mrs. Raymond Gross and daughter Lora D., Miss Alicia Neumeister, and Mrs. T. H. Alderson of Flemingsburg.

Mrs. Kenneth Johnson and children, Kenneth, Jr., and Patricia Ruth, are enjoying their vacation with Mr. Johnson, Sr., in DeMoines, Iowa.

Mrs. Estelle Gordon and Miss Luke Gordon are now employed at Shillito's Department Store in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Beacher Callihan were guests Sunday of Mrs. Gordon and Luke Gordon and Miss Rensler and Mr. and Mrs. Maze of Florence. Sgt. Callihan has been with the U. S. Air Corps for two years and is stationed at Guatemala, Central America. He is on a month's vacation, spending part of the time in Cincinnati. Mr. and Mrs. Callihan were married Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Milner and Julia Ann Stansifer of Aurora, Ind., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rod Hughes and son, Jack.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Churchill-Roosevelt Meetings Presage New Action on Second European Front; Mediterranean Naval Battles Indicate Rising Anglo-American Air Strength

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Gone are the days when this unholy trio of American Nazi chiefs paraded around in their Bund uniforms. George Froboese (left) of Milwaukee, Midwest bund head, killed himself under a train en route to a grand jury hearing in New York. Fritz Kuhn (center), former national Bund chief, is ill in Sing Sing prison, and Dr. Otto Willumeit, Chicago leader, is under indictment as a spy.

CHURCHILL:
Third Meeting

For the third time within a year Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt met face to face to discuss war problems, when the British statesman arrived unheralded in Washington for a series of conferences. Their first meeting occurred last August aboard ship and resulted in the Atlantic charter. The second was Mr. Churchill's visit to Washington last December after America's entry into the war. It resulted in the declaration by the United Nations.

This third meeting, following closely on Russian Foreign Minister Molotov's historic conferences in Washington recently, promised momentous consequences in the prosecution of the war. Two matters of pressing need—the opening of a second European front and further steps to curb dangerously rising Allied ship losses by Axis submarines—faced the two leaders.

Another leader of the United Nations to reach American shores was Queen Wilhelmina of Holland.

REDS VS. NAZIS
History Repeats?

Balaclava, famed site of Tennyson's poem, "The Charge of the Light Brigade," took its place in modern battle headlines as Hitler had rammed his massed power against the defenses of Sevastapol's fortifications.

The Crimean fishing port—Balaclava—where the legended charge by the British occurred in 1854, was a fierce point of contention between the Russ and Nazi forces in the battle for control of the western Black sea coast.

Possession of the Sevastapol naval base was vital to the hard-pressed Russians, for it represented a powerful barrier to the approaches of the Caucasus oil fields—a prize which would give the Nazis coveted oil and bulwark their war effort.

To the north in the Ukraine, where the Nazis were attempting to straighten out their long circular line at Kharkov, battles raged doggedly, with Red army communiques reporting successful counterattacks.

FATS AND OILS:
Housewives Contribute

Frying pans, pots and roasters in millions of American homes yielded up a harvest of fat as the national program to salvage grease and oils from the nation's kitchens got under way.

Fats collected in this household campaign will be used in making glycerine an important element in explosives manufacture. Meat markets everywhere will be collection agencies where housewives will deposit the salvaged fat. Butchers will then turn the fat over to the renderers.

In Chicago where a fat salvage program has been in progress for months past, it was reported that collections averaged 50,000 pounds weekly.

AUSTRALIA:
Japs Still Menace

Lest his countrymen be lulled into a belief that the battle of the Coral sea had removed all danger of a Jap invasion, Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia held aloft a warning finger. Declaring that "Australia can be lost," he declared if the commonwealth fell to Nippon, that Hawaii and the entire North American coast would lie open to Japanese attack and west coast cities would be in danger.

MEDITERRANEAN:
Axis Gamble Fails

As the swiftly moving battle for world naval supremacy shifted to the Mediterranean, Germany and Italy had made a supreme gamble by throwing every available airplane, submarine, torpedo boat and virtually the entire Italian fleet into an effort to knock out the British forces. The stakes were the strategic convoy routes supplying Axis-menaced Tobruk and Malta.

That the Axis gamble had failed was due in part to the timely intervention of United States army heavy bombers which made their Mediterranean debut by scoring 35 direct bomb hits on two Italian battleships, setting them afire and sending the whole force of 15 Italian warships scurrying home to port.

The epic sea and air fighting centered around two heavily laden British convoys—one leaving Alexandria for Tobruk and the other leaving Gibraltar for Malta. Both carried badly needed supplies for hard-pressed British garrisons.

In two days of death-struggle fighting, the British and Americans beat off Axis attacks, shepherded the convoys safely to their destinations, sank or damaged seven Italian warships and shot down 33 planes.

LIBYAN FRONT:
Nazi Fox

With the Suez canal as his eventually hoped-for goal, foxy Nazi General Erwin Rommel continued his harrassing thrust against the British forces in Libya.

Whether Rommel's dream of a drive to the Suez and a possible link with Japanese forces pushing west would ever materialize depended on how stout was the British resistance. Tobruk, recently reinforced by a huge British convoy, was the immediate target. The tide of battle had surged back and forth, with the Nazi desert force registering a superiority in tanks and anti-tank strength. Hope for the British lay in receiving further supplies and replacements and in a wearing down of Nazi power due to its sustained exertions.

The seriousness of the Libyan situation was evident from the fact that the Axis offensive succeeded in splitting the British army—one force withdrawing to Tobruk to make a stand while the other withdrew to positions near Egypt.

ARMY PAY:
$50 for Bucks

Uncle Sam prepared to add at least $20 more per month to the pay check of every enlisted man in the nation's armed forces, when President Roosevelt signed legislation granting the first general military pay increase in 20 years. Non-commissioned officers, "shave-tails" and ensigns shared in the raise.

American soldiers and sailors thus became the highest paid fighting men in the world. The lowest grades—buck privates and apprentice seamen—will receive $50 a month, as against $30 formerly.

Officers above the rank of second lieutenant or ensign got no pay raises, but were allowed boosts in their subsistence and rental allowances.

One result was hoped for by sponsors of the new legislation—that was to eliminate recruiting competition between the army and navy. It had been charged that the navy had been in better position to obtain recruits since it could offer more attractive ratings. The uniform pay schedule would, it was believed, equalize the appeal of all services.

AIRCRAFT CARRIERS:
Lessons Learned

Lessons learned in the battles of the Coral sea, Midway island and the struggle for the Aleutian islands were applied by the house naval affairs committee when it approved an $8,500,000,000 expansion bill projecting a "five-ocean navy." For a definite swing to sea airpower was discernible in the bill's provisions calling for immediate construction of 500,000 tons of aircraft carriers, while postponing the construction of five 60,000-ton super-battleships.

This trend was the immediate result of the smashing blows dealt Japanese seapower in recent weeks by American airplane carriers and their accompanying forces. It was tacit recognition that a revolution in naval tactics has occurred as a result of the battles in the Pacific.

In place of the postponed battleships, the navy will rush construction of more than a score of aircraft carriers with escort vessels and submarines. Scheduled to be completed within a year, they will be distributed among naval forces in all areas in which Axis fleets are operating.

CHINA:
Japs Push On

As Jap armies drove deeper into China and two pincer columns were converging on the strategic 450-mile Chekiang-Kiangsi railroad, the China high command appealed again for an Allied blow that would divert the steadily mounting power of the enemy's invasion.

Discouraging news was made public in the announcement that Shangjao, an important station on the line and capital of Kiangsi province, had fallen.

With all highway sources cut off by the Japanese, China had to depend on giant American cargo planes to deliver supplies for her embattled armies. This trickle would have to be augmented to a full-scale flow of supplies if effective resistance was to continue by Chiang Kai-shek's armies.

PEACE TECHNIQUE
'Cooling Off'

A clue to post-war peace table technique was disclosed by Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, when he advocated a "cooling off" period after the war before final terms are made.

In effect, the American statesman urged that both the victor and vanquished plan together and prepare an equitable settlement that would preclude future wars.

SUMNER WELLES
"Cool Off."

Speaking before a United Nations rally, Welles declared co-operation is no less essential in maintaining peace than in winning a war.

"The final terms of peace," he said, "should wait until the immediate tasks of the transition period—after the defeat of the Axis powers—have been completed and final judgments can be coolly and rationally rendered."

VICHY FRANCE:
'Discontent Grows'

Somber were the words 86-year-old Marshal Petain spoke to the French people on the second anniversary of his nation's military collapse.

Admitting that his recovery program had suffered many setbacks, the aged chief of state declared that "discontent is growing" and warned that the government must undertake sterner measures of punishment to stamp out unrest, public anger and greed.

Petain made no reference to Pierre Laval in his brief radio speech, although he had declared recently that he and Laval are going along "hand in hand and in complete understanding."

Not only the opposition of the people, but a "slack and sometimes incapable administration" by the government was blamed by the Marshal for present conditions.

MISCELLANY:

VICTORIA: Canadian air force squadrons and Canadian anti-aircraft units have been operating for some days with the United States force in Alaska, it was reported by Lieut. Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the Canadian general staff. This marked the first time in World War II Canadian forces have taken part in any operations with the United States army.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON & ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington, D. C.

CUTTING NAVY TAPE

Behind Admiral King's forthright order slashing navy red tape 50 per cent and ordering more navy officers out of Washington, was an interesting comparison with the Japanese navy, conducted backstage by some of the President's advisers.

Americans, recently familiar with Japan, have reported that the Japanese navy is staffed by only about 1,000 personnel in Tokyo. In contrast, the navy department in Washington has more than 30,000—not including the navy yard.

The Japanese navy also is reported to have cut red tape and government reports to the bone and it gives widest latitude to commanders at sea. The U. S. navy also gives wide latitude to commanders in distant posts, such as Admiral Leary in New Zealand, Admiral Nimitz at Pearl Harbor. But in home waters, especially in anti-submarine warfare along the East coast, insiders say the navy has suffered from a constant stream of reports and orders to and from Washington requiring a tremendous staff for the paper work alone.

Now Admiral King offers promotions to officers who will decrease their Washington bureaus rather than increase them.

• • •

GASOLINE CZAR

The one-man dynamo who runs the gas rationing system of the U. S. A. is a preacher's son and a former professor of economics. Though one of the most harassed men in Washington, he is constantly on the verge of breaking into a broad smile.

Only 35 years old, he has gray hair about the ears, thin hair on top, works so late into the night that his wife, mother of a new-born boy, seldom sees him. "I generally make the 2 a. m. feeding," he says.

Joel Dean was born in Vermont, schooled in California, and has a doctor's degree from Harvard, where he wrote a thesis on small loans. He spent a year as European manager of a travel bureau, two years as traveling salesman for International Business Machine, and seven years as teacher and research expert.

As a fellow economist, he always admired Leon Henderson, but never met him until he came to Washington less than a year ago.

To effect his own economy in gasoline, he formed a "Drive-In Club" with four other OPA officials. They take turns driving to the office from Arlington, Va., across the river.

When brickbats fly in the OPA office, Dean recalls that his father, a Congregational minister, wanted him to be a missionary on a South Sea island.

"Many people," says Dean, "wish that I had fulfilled that mission."

• • •

ARMY HOUR PROGRAM

"Jamming" radio programs is one of the recognized weapons of modern warfare. But it is a two-edged sword, and the war department radio branch is ready to swing on the Axis if the prize Army Hour, on Sundays, is jammed again.

Jamming by manufactured static or other interference is feasible in the United States only on short-wave broadcasts. The Army Hour features short-wave talks from all over the world, made by such noted personages as Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, General MacArthur, General Wavell, and others. The most recent case of jamming was during a talk by a high ranking army officer from the Dutch island of Curacao. A piano banged loudly all the time he spoke.

Winston Churchill's latest speech, which came on the radio immediately before the army hour, was jammed by a gutteral Teutonic voice carefully observing Churchill's own pauses in an effort to escape detection.

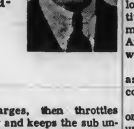
These two cases of jamming were traced by triangulation to Axis broadcasting stations. The army proposes to retaliate if this deliberate interference doesn't stop.

• • •

WAR FLASHES

¶ If you are a business executive, and uncertain about tax deductions for advertising and pay increases, you can get "informal" advice by applying to the internal revenue bureau under a new treasury ruling.

¶ OPA agents are checking up on private airports on tips that they are bootlegging high octane gas to car drivers. High octane won't run a car by itself, but makes a very smooth-running fuel if mixed with lower grade gas.



¶ Guerrilla warfare in Russia has become so highly organized that every third guerrilla now is armed with an automatic rifle.

¶ The war department soon will break still more precedents. It will start accepting women doctors in the army medical corps. They will be assigned chiefly to the WAAC, and also for general eye, ear, nose and throat work.

¶ The army's new M-1 helmet, that comes far over the cheeks, neck and forehead and is much stronger than the old raky "tin-hat," is now being distributed to all soldiers.

Washington Digest

U. S. Beginning to Realize Value of 'Blimp Armada'

Dirigibles Found Successful in Anti-Submarine Warfare; One Man Given Credit For Stepped-Up Production.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

Until two navy training "blimps" bumped into each other some days ago, most people had almost forgotten—if they ever knew—what those lazy looking, cigar-shaped airships were doing in the war.

The dirigible has been unlucky that way—its mishaps get into the papers, its achievements are forgotten. But today a prediction made in March of 1941 is being borne out and the blimp is coming into its own as a vital factor in anti-submarine warfare.

It was in March a year ago that I wandered into the Press club one afternoon and a friend beckoned me to join him at a table where he was sitting with a bronzed gentleman with a very square jaw and a mouth taut as a halyard and the look of the sea and wind in his eyes. It was Capt. C. E. Rosendahl and he was saying, in less formal language:

"Believe it or not, as far as the navy is concerned, more fearful than even the swashbuckling airplane are the slinking submarine and the mine . . . our continental coastal sea lanes of nearly 5,000 miles and the approaches to many of our important seaports would be a tempting feasting ground for enemy subs . . ."

Actually that sentence was quoted from a manuscript that he had just written and had with him in his portfolio. A leading weekly had just refused it because it was considered "untimely"—what nonsense to think that enemy submarines would ever reach our coastal waters! Later, in September of the same year, the article appeared but to most people the subject was still purely academic.

It is no longer academic. After one of the most determined and for a long time futile battles in the history of naval achievement, Captain Rosendahl, now in charge of the navy's lighter-than-air activities, has won his point. He got the 48 blimps he begged for and most of them are in service. Their record has been so good that there is little doubt that congress will approve the building of 72 more—and perhaps some of the big ones.

The story of Captain Rosendahl is the story of another man in our naval history who "wouldn't give up the ship."

• • •

Abiding Faith

He started that program when he found himself in mid-air, aboard one-half of the dirigible Shenandoah, the other half torn loose and hurtling to the earth. He landed his half safely. The accident that shocked the world didn't even jolt Rosendahl's faith. It simply gave him some tips about strengthening the construction of dirigibles. Later the dirigibles Akron and the Macon were lost, and public sentiment was such that the ideas of dirigibles as practical craft was shelved. There was a renewed interest when the Hindenburg made its successful flights from Germany but when its hydrogen-filled bag exploded a damper was cast on efforts to build an American lighter-than-air fleet. Experts knew that what happened to the Hindenburg could never happen to an American dirigible because America had what Germany didn't have—plenty of non-explosive helium gas.

But Captain Rosendahl kept everlasting at it. Too late to help combat the submarine menace when it struck he had managed at least to start his program. Now it is well under way and he is one of the busiest men in Washington. He won't leave his office for lunch to go farther than the navy cafeteria in the same building. He works Saturdays and Sundays and merely talks wistfully about "getting in some golf."

I visited him in his sacrosanct domain where I hardly dared look at the maps on the walls for fear I would sneak a military secret.

"An observer in an airplane," said Captain Rosendahl, "has to go at such speed that if he turns his head for a moment he may miss an object below him. The blimp can hover and carefully observe air bubbles, oil slicks, and the tell-tale periscope 'feather' in the wake of an enemy submarine. When the blimp approaches a sub it gives it a burst of machine gun fire, drops bombs or depth charges, then throttles down, flies low and keeps the sub under observation until the destroyers or planes which it has summoned appear. In World War I, Allied blimps spotted 49 submarines and dropped bombs on 27. European waters are now covered with too many enemy planes for a blimp to survive. But the absence of enemy planes along our coasts, our unbounded monopoly of non-inflammable helium gas, our geographical situation make the blimp an ideal weapon for American defense."

• • •

Blimp Capabilities

As a warship, the dirigible's proponents say, it can be an effective aircraft carrier.

A rigid airship can carry ten attack bombers and has a range of 10,000 miles without re-fueling. Its planes would not need the heavy landing gear required of planes that land on the ground and therefore their speed could be greatly increased. Furthermore they could be launched at high speed for the airship itself has a top speed of 84 nautical miles per hour.

In answer to the charge of vulnerability, the airship's friends say that surface air-carriers are highly vulnerable, too. (Japan found that out at Midway.) That the airship is vulnerable to only one enemy weapon —planes. The surface carrier can be attacked by the guns of other ships and submarines as well as planes. The airship keeps out of range of gun fire. And the loss of an airship carrier would not be as costly in money, replacement time or personnel as a surface carrier.

In peacetime, with America's monopoly of non-explosive helium gas to carry it, the dirigible could do all that the Germans proved could be done with the successful flights of the Hindenburg—and more.

Captain Rosendahl has a light in his eye when he talks about that.

—Buy War Bonds—

Amphibious America

America is going amphibious.

That sounds professorial. It is really just a natural deduction of what happened at Midway. A deduction that I made in the light of a conversation I had before the battle of Midway with a wind-tanned, salt bitten sailor-man with a lot of stripes on his sleeve. He was kin of the men who made the Yankee clipper queen of the seas, weather-beaten as a piece of driftwood, mellow as old port.

Here is the way he sized up the war in the Pacific, as he saw it before Midway through the calm eyes of experience, tempered by the proofing of memories before a crackling fire that warmed his snug harbor and in whose dancing shadows he re-read a long life with his face bared against salt spray.

"As I see it," he said, "our navy has nothing to be ashamed of."

He had read, he said, the books about naval warfare, most of them. He reeled off the titles I couldn't follow. But, he said, none of them ever talked about airplanes. And there was very little about submarines. And not much about landing parties, when soldiers on the sea, leave their ships under war conditions and become land fighters—amphibians. This the Japs worked to perfection in their fight on Singapore. The Japs have written several new chapters for the war books.

"I don't know where they learned what they did. Some of our fellows preached it. Nobody listened.

"You don't always have to be bigger and stronger than the other fellow," he said, "but you've got to know what he's going to do next. As I read the reports and the newspaper accounts, the Japs had eyes that we didn't. They had planes that we didn't. They knew what we were going to do. What we wanted to do.

"In the battle of the Macassar straits they didn't know, and we licked 'em. And when the history of this war is written you'll find out that there would have been a lot more Macassar straits if the Japs hadn't learned what we were doing before we did it. You'll find that more than once, when they did find out, they ran away."

At Midway, we "found out" and they had to run away.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

A 35,000-ton battleship requires 42,000 acres of land to launch it. That's just the amount of land required to feed the workmen who built it.

—Buy War Bonds—

The United States marine corps has a word for its parachutists. It calls them "paramarines." The men are armed with knives, pistols and sacks of hand grenades.

During World War I, airplane engines had to be overhauled every 50 hours. Today, because their vital parts are machined to within a few ten-thousandths of an inch, they can go 600 hours without repair.

• • •

Charges for funeral services must conform to ceilings established by the general maximum price regulation.

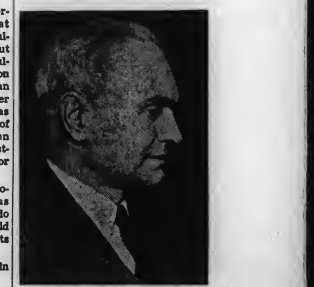
Sportlight

BY GRANTLAND RICE

THERE are now thousands of college football players, not overlooking 148 National leaguers, on active service in the army, navy and marines. This is an underestimate. And there are many more on their way.

In the face of this we have been asked far and wide what will become of football this next fall.

As far as one can offer a guess on a June date, football will keep under steam with the men that are left. This goes for both the colleges and the pros. It has been the wish of both army and navy that football be carried on, even with an increased number of players. Army and navy teams will be at full speed.



Above all other games, this is a football nation. I am referring to high school, college and professional players, plus the many millions who make up the camp followers. So you can figure it out that football will be the last game to go, if it goes at all. Which it won't.

Typical Case

In the matter of college play we can take Minnesota as a typical case along the upper plateau.

In this connection, George Barton, the sage of Gopher football, writes, "I am afraid Minnesota's national championship days are over for the duration, but the Gopher will do pretty well in Big Ten competition.

"Six regulars are gone from the great line of the past two years—Fitch and Ringer, ends; Odson, tackle; Levy and Pukema, guards; Flick, center. And, of course, Bruce Smith and Bob Sweiger from the backfield. Gone also is Bernie Bierman and three of his coaching staff."

BERNIE BIERMAN

But it might be mentioned here that as long as Minnesota has a back named Bill Daley and a tackle named Dick Wildung, the Gopher has something more than a mere nucleus on hand. Daley is a big part of any backfield and Wildung is a big part of any good line. And there are others around in Norsemen gold.

Two Others

From this crow's nest two of the best-looking college squads will belong to Georgia and Texas A. and M. And you can add Texas. Of course, you must remember that more than one or two things may happen between now and late September.

The strength of the different service teams is still a summer guess, but judging from most of their schedules they will have something more than tackling dummies on guard.

It might be noted here that football is only a part of these cadet training centers. Football will be but one-fifth or one-sixth part of the 10 or 12-hour conditioning drills, at which boxing, wrestling, hurdling, etc., will keep them spinning like human tops from dawn to dark.

The added rivalry between college and service teams will add to the general interest of the game, despite the fact that 40,000 or 80,000 crowds might not be on hand when the whistle blows.

Pro Football

There are now 148 National league football players in active service, with others on their way soon. Twenty-eight of these players hold commissions. Eighty-three joined up with the army, 56 with the navy, and nine with the marines.

Each year the pros draft some 200 top-rank players. They will get few from the draft list this fall. But as Steve Owen of the Giants puts it, "While we've all lost good men and key men; we'll have enough left to carry the game along until more men are called. This will make it a closer race—a better race.

"We won't have those Chicago Bears of last season to look at," Big Steve said. "Halas has lost his share of stars, and he had more stars to lose. At this spot I can't see any standout team. But I'm sure we'll have an interesting season with enough material left to go around."

All of which, with the colleges, the navy and army teams, plus the pros, should find the American landscape and atmosphere packed with more flying footballs than any past season ever knew.

History in the Headlines

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Saviors of the Flag

WHEN a press dispatch carried the news recently that an army captain and three enlisted men had braved heavy Japanese fire to restore the American flag atop a 100-foot pole on siege-bound Corregidor, it sent the editorial writers scurrying to their history books to look up the name of a soldier who performed a similar heroic deed during the Revolution. So the story of the defense of Fort Sullivan, during the month of June, 1776, was told again and once more Americans were reminded of one of their almost-legendary heroes.

He was Sgt. William Jasper and beside his name in the annals of America are now written, as "saviors of the flag," the names of Capt. Arthur E. Huff of St. Louis, Mo., Corp. Louis A. Roark of Gypsum, Kan., and Privates Roy O. Bailey of Kansas City, Mo., and Harley H. Leaird of Durant, Okla. For their feat at Corregidor they were awarded the silver star decoration. What their fate has been is unknown at the time this article is written, for Corregidor no longer flies the flag which they rescued. They may be prisoners of the Japanese, or they may have died gloriously in that last battle, just as did Sergeant Jasper in his last battle.

William Moultrie

Jasper was born in South Carolina about 1750 and soon after the outbreak of the Revolution enlisted as a sergeant in the Second South Carolina regiment, commanded by Col. William Moultrie. Early in June, 1776, when a British land and naval force under Sir Henry Clinton and Admiral Sir Peter Parker appeared off the Carolina coast to invest Charleston, Moultrie was trying to complete a fortress on Sullivan's island at the mouth of the harbor.

On the morning of June 28 five ships of the British armada sailed in close to the unfinished fort and opened a furious fire. Moultrie had only a limited supply of ammunition, so his return fire was very light compared with that of the enemy. In the midst of the bombardment a shot struck the staff from which flew the South Carolina banner—a blue flag, with a crescent moon in the upper corner — and it fell to the bottom of the ditch outside the entrenchments. A great cheer went up from the British man-of-war when they saw the patriots' flag go down.

The Flag

But the next moment Sergeant Jasper had sprung from an embrasure, seized the flag, tore it from its shattered staff and tied it on to the staff of a sponge which he had been wielding as he helped serve one of the guns of the fort. Then he sprang back to the parapet and, amid a hail of enemy fire, supported it there until another flagstaff had been secured to take its place. And above the roar of the cannonade could be heard the cheers of the Americans acclaiming the sergeant's deed!

All day the battle raged fiercely with the Americans conserving their ammunition and making every shot tell upon the hulls or the rigging of the British ships. Only one of the guns of the fort having been dismounted, the enemy's fire began to slacken and that night the attack was abandoned.

In recognition of his brave act, Sergeant Jasper was presented by Governor Rutledge of South Carolina with his own sword. The governor also offered him a lieutenant's commission but Jasper declined the honor because he could neither read nor write. However, Moultrie was so impressed with his daring that he gave the sergeant a roving commission and allowed him to select six kindred spirits to carry out raids against the British.

Jasper proved to be a successful partisan leader. His daring career came to an end on October 9, 1779. During the assault on the Spring Hill redoubt in the attack on Savannah by the American and French forces, led by General Lincoln and Admiral D'Estaing, Jasper was mortally wounded while attempting to fasten the regimental colors to the parapet. A square in the city of Savannah and a county in Georgia perpetuate his name.

William Moultrie, his commanding officer, was destined to have a longer and more distinguished career. In commemoration of his bravery in defending Fort Sullivan, the fort was later named Fort Moultrie. Soon afterwards he was commissioned a brigadier general in the Continental army and placed in charge of military affairs in Georgia and South Carolina where he repeatedly distinguished himself in battle against the British and Tories. In April, 1778, he again saved Charleston from being captured by a British force under General Prevost.

TO YOUR Good Health

by DR. JAMES W. BARTON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

A CAUSE OF GOITER

For years physicians have always looked for the "cause" of the severe form of goiter. Infection of teeth, gums, sinuses, and other parts were blamed, and if no cause could be found, it was said to be due to some cause unknown.

Dr. Barton

In a recent book, Dr. Leonardo C. Perrusi, Buenos Aires, points out that careful study of 24 selected cases of hyperthyroid goiter, he finds in each case some emotional disturbance to be the cause.

In one chapter he reports a case brought about by sudden fright. In another case, the cause was an inferiority complex and exaggerated ambitions. Another was due to a domestic or family problem that could not be solved. Intense or unbearable pruritis (itching) was the cause in another case. Watching an unusually sentimental play in a theater was the cause of one case. The fear of venereal disease caused the thyroid condition in another case. Cases were due to (a) death of a relative and a situation of desperation and (b) prolonged sickness of the husband.

After analyzing the above and 15 other cases, Dr. Perrusi concludes that in almost all cases of severe goiter, the disease is produced by emotional disturbances which excite the thyroid gland to intense activity by way of the sympathetic nervous system. He does not think that infection or other factors cause many of the cases, as the majority of the cases that he has seen have occurred "in predisposed individuals as a result of emotional disturbances."

What are the predisposing factors in thyroid disease?

Among the predisposing factors are inferiority complexes, lack of harmony or co-ordination of the various glands of the body, emotional disturbances, the geographic position of the country, the activity of the patient's life.

What is the treatment suggested by Dr. Perrusi? The usual treatment should be given, that is, rest, iodine, X-rays, or surgery, and in addition all patients should be psychoanalyzed to find out and remove the emotional factors responsible for the development of the disease.

• • •

Ulcerative Colitis Subject to Emotions

Some years ago it was found that many nervous and emotional individuals suffered with diarrhea for a time, followed by a period of constipation and then by diarrhea again. There was a constant "uneasiness" in the abdomen. The stools were often covered with mucous and the ailment was and is called mucous colitis.

With this mucous colitis some patients also had ulcer of the stomach and of the small intestine, which is often within an inch or fraction of an inch of the stomach. This is called peptic ulcer, and it is now known that both peptic ulcer and mucous colitis are due to the same conditions—nervousness and emotional disturbances. The treatment in both ailments is the same—eating bland non-irritating foods and trying to keep as calm as possible.

There is, however, a severe form of colitis called ulcerative colitis where the colon—large intestine—is greatly inflamed with severe or dangerous bleeding.

That even this severe form of colitis is also due to emotional disturbances, particularly anxiety—prolonged fear—has been the opinion of many physicians and a statement of two Mayo Clinic physicians, Drs. Charles J. Donald and Philip W. Brown, recently substantiates this.

In the American Journal of Digestive Diseases, these physicians state: "There is no question that the mental attitude of the patient may contribute to the onset of an attack of ulcerative colitis just as anxiety can aggravate the condition of patients who suffer from duodenal ulcer. Fear of food, fear of getting too far away from the toilet, and what is referred to as 'just fear' seem to add greatly to the problem in the case of these patients. Their chances for recovery depend upon good food. Protein is the most important article; chiefly red meats, liver, kidneys, sweetbreads, and lean pork in those that can tolerate pork as it is very rich in vitamin B-1."

• • •

QUESTION BOX

Q.—Please give me some information on trifacial neuralgia?

A.—Trifacial neuralgia is most cases can be relieved by use of alcohol injections which are effective for months or years. Where the injections fail to relieve, surgery is used.

Q.—What would cause my 15-year-old daughter's hair to turn gray?

A.—See your physician. It may be that there is a lack of vitamins or gland extracts.

PATTERNS

SEWING CIRCLE

8169

8161

IT IS no trouble at all to slip into this smart slack suit—with its practical bib top—you'll probably insist on wearing it all day long while you are enjoying the wide outdoors! Note the smart treatment in back—which exposes a generous area of skin to sun tanning—and the buttoning which closes the slacks. Make the bolero to match and trim with the latest in decorative braid—giant ric rac!

• • •

Pattern No. 8169 is for sizes 8 to 16 years. Size 10 years slack suit takes 2½ yards 35 or 39-inch material, bolero ⅞ yard.

Two-Piece Dress

BRIGHTEST new fashion idea in years! A two piece frock which looks like a suit. You can wear it as a suit, in fact, with a blouse or dickey. Nothing could be more useful in a summer wardrobe, made in a washable seersucker, gingham or chambray. Tops for tailored smartness, tops for comfort and tops for figure flattery—it makes you look straight and slim and ready to go places.

• • •

Pattern No. 8161 is designed for sizes 12 to 20; 40 and 42. Size 14, short sleeves, takes 4⅛ yards 35-inch material.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1116
211 West Wacker Dr. Chicago

Enclose 20 cents in coins for each pattern desired.

Pattern No.....Size.....
Name.....
Address.....

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

The stock left from spinach should be saved and used in vegetable soup. It contains valuable food properties.

• • •

When frying in deep fat use a heavy aluminum kettle. It holds the heat and does not tip over easily. Use a wire basket to transfer food from and to hot fat.

• • •

Red raspberry leaves are said by some to be an excellent substitute for tea, now that tea is scarce. They are to be picked and then dried before using.

• • •

To prevent marmalade from graining, do not boil it too fast and take it off the stove as soon as a little of it jellies on a cold plate. Be careful that you have pure sugar for this and all preserves.

HELPS HAIR GROW MOROLINE TONIC

Sign of Wisdom

The most manifest sign of wisdom is a continual cheerfulness.

HEY! DON'T SCRATCH

soothes the itch of mosquito and similar bites with Mexican Heat Powder. Large size most economical—sold everywhere.

PREPAREDNESS by the AMERICAN RED CROSS

NEWEST of all the American Red Cross activities is the Wool Conservation program. Under it, volunteers from the more than 3,700 Red Cross chapters throughout the nation collect scraps of new, unused wool and place them in reprocessing channels.

The Wool Conservation program was developed jointly by the War Production board and the Red Cross when it became apparent that the nation faced a serious wool shortage. There were only two ways in which this shortage could be alleviated within the next year. The first was by cutting down wool consumption in every possible way by restyling and redesigning garments to save wool. The second was to have every scrap of new, unused wool reprocessed as rapidly as possible. The Red Cross was selected to do this job.

Under the agreement between the Red Cross and the War Production board, the 3,700 Red Cross chapters arrange for the collection of trousers cuff clippings, wool samples and other wool clips from tailors, men's clothing stores, department stores, clothing manufacturers and cleaners. These are then placed in reprocessing channels by selling them to wool reclaiming firms.

When reprocessed into wool cloth, the clippings from 21 pairs of men's trousers will be enough to make a complete soldier's uniform or another civilian suit.

Proceeds from the sale of the wool clips collected under the Wool Conservation program are retained by the local Red Cross chapters to carry on their work of War Relief and Civilian Defense Preparedness training.

Prepared Exclusively for WNU.

NEW IDEAS for Home-makers

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

MOST quilts today are planned as bedspreads and have a color scheme to harmonize with other decorations. If a variety of figured scraps is used one color is generally repeated in each block to give the design unity.

The beauty of any quilt is enhanced if it is set off with a valance around the bed. The bed in the sketch had no particular tradition and the footboard was much too high to display the quilt to advantage. What a difference in the effect when the board was cut down and the crisp frills of dotted Swiss were added! Surely, any quilt worth piecing is worth this extra touch.

• • •

NOTE: If you have a metal bed that you would like to modernize you will find sketches and directions in Mrs. Spears' Book 3. There are eight of these booklets of 32 pages of things to make from odds and ends which accumulate around the house, or from inexpensive new materials. Copies are 10 cents each and with an order for three (No. 1 to 8) you will receive a set of three different quilt block patterns including the Whirl Wind illustrated herewith. Send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for each book desired. Nos.....

Name.....
Address.....

Wartime Problem Solved

Necessity has forced the American people to do many new things. While in the past many bird lovers have raised canaries at home for the pleasure and satisfaction they derived, now the breeding of canaries at home has become a new, worthwhile hobby—a money-making hobby that is spreading all over this country.

With the major supplies of canaries from abroad abruptly stopped . . . with a strict wartime ban placed on the importation of hundreds of thousands of canaries formerly shipped yearly from Central Europe and Asia, the ingenuity and foresight of the American people have met the situation with smiles of satisfaction—as they turned this canary shortage into a wartime opportunity.

But a small out-lay was required to start this worthwhile hobby—turning a most pleasurable undertaking into a profitable, money-making business at home.

Fortunately Hole in Barrel Was Discovered in Time

The particular unit in question had taken on a large number of new recruits and some of them were a little raw. During the first rifle inspection, the officer approached one of the men, had a look at his rifle, and then called to the N.C.O. in charge.

"Look at this man's rifle!" he announced.

The sergeant looked down the barrel, swung the rifle around to the recruit, and barked: "Take a look at that rifle, you!"

The recruit peered carefully down the barrel, then muttered in a surprised tone:

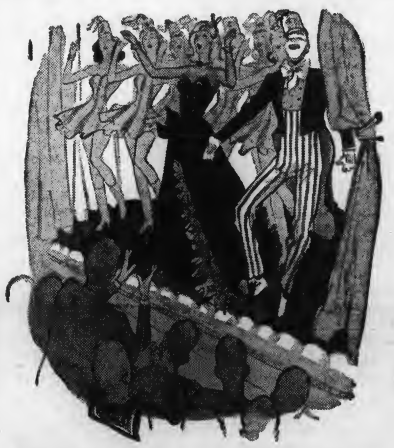
"Well, what do you know. Got a hole clean through it!"

If you know a Navy man, don't ever, call him a "gob"—sailors consider the name an insult. You can get on the right side of him though if you offer him a Camel—or better yet, send him a carton. Camels are the favorite cigarette with men in the Navy (Army, Marines, Coast Guard, too, for that matter) based on actual sales records from the service men's stores. Local dealers are featuring cartons of Camels to send to any member of our armed forces anywhere. Send him that Camel carton today.—Adv.

Swim or Sink

Poverty is uncomfortable, as I can testify; but nine times out of ten the best thing that can happen to a young man is to be tossed overboard and compelled to sink or swim for himself.—James A. Garfield.

Kool-Aid MAKES 10 Big Cool DRINKS 5¢ 7 Flavors



—Buy War Savings Bonds—

One famous food that hasn't gone up in price!

Order several packages today and enjoy the "SELF-STARTER BREAKFAST"!

A big bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes with some fruit and lots of milk. It gives you VITAMINS, MINERALS, PROTEINS, FOOD ENERGY!

What's a musical comedy got to do with winning a war?

PLENTY! We're building an army of men—not machines. And men have minds. And minds need freshening... change... relaxation.

So one of the biggest undertakings of the USO is its sponsoring of free entertainment, through the cooperation of the movie and theatrical industries, at army camps, naval bases—wherever the fighting men of the USA go to train or dig in.

USO Camp Shows, Inc. is actually the biggest single theatrical enterprise the world has ever seen. It books 264 shows for the boys every week, which play to an average nightly attendance of 50,000.

It contacts movie stars, theatrical headliners, big name bands and their leaders. It routes all these ...plans their itinerary... arranges the most convenient times when soldiers and sailors can take time out to sit and be entertained.

For it realizes that the one great advantage of the American fighting man is his ability to think for himself, to make the most of any situation, to fight as a liberty-loving individual.

And this is one of his great differences from our enemy.

To help carry on the all-important work of maintaining the morale of our fighting forces, the USO needs your help... it needs your contribution.

Your dollar has many demands on it this year. Many of these demands must be met—others deserve to be met. And among these latter, the plea of the USO for whatever sum you can contribute merits your earnest consideration.

For we have a war to win, and the USO is directly concerned with the men who must—and will—win it.

Dig deep—for the men who are digging in!

Send your contribution to your local chairman or to USO, Empire State Building, New York.

GIVE NOW TO THE USO

—Advertisement.

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER—Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1860

STAFFORDSBURG

Rev. Elmer Kidwell and Mrs. Kidwell were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Borkers.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rapp called on his parents Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stallcup entertained a number of relatives and friends Sunday evening.

Wm. Tieman left recently for a visit with his uncle at Russell, where he has found employment in a railroad shop.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klein entertained their children and other relatives Sunday. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Bybrian Richardson and children Larry Ray and Donna Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Klein and children Jacqueline, Bobby and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Martin and Edgar, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Riggs and son Wayne, Mrs. Rachel Riggs, Billy Durr and Jetta Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Goedde and daughter Joyce were guests Sunday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Goedde. This was the first time Mr. Goedde had been out since undergoing a rather serious operation at Jewish Hospital some time ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gadker have as guest for a few days his sister. Miss Gadker.

Miss Ruth Keeney returned on Thursday after spending a few days attending a special class at Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richardson. Mr. and Mrs. Cloyde Richardson and Miss Reva Richardson were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lybran Richardson, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Maggie Lamb is quite ill at present.

Mrs. Sophronia Mills visited her nephew, Dawson Ballinger, and wife the past week.

Rev. Kidwell attended pastors' school at Winchester the past week, while Mrs. Kidwell visited with her family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Miss Hope Keeney and Donald Keeney spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wharton of Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. Daisy Richardson and daughter, Miss Helen, returned from a pleasant stay with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Richardson in Missouri. They found the country needing sunshine there, as here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dryden visited her mother, Mrs. Stella Richardson, over the weekend.

We are all quite proud of the new dress given our church. Come and worship with us. Especially when Rev. Averitt holds the revival from July 6 to 19. Pray for us, that the whole community be awakened. We believe that the principles of Jesus, practiced by all of us, is the only way to have lasting peace.

We rejoice over a good Sunday School, but covet the interest of the parents, as well as the children.

FLORENCE

Mrs. Ida Summers has returned home after enjoying several days with her friend, Mrs. Maggie Clarkson of near Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Clore of Belleview visited her mother, Mrs Lutie Aylor, Saturday.

Miss Alice Snyder is enjoying a two week's vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Craven in Newport.

Dr. Wallace Tanner left Monday for his home in St. Petersburg, Fla., after passing several weeks here remodeling his home on Burlington Pike.

Mrs. Gilby Green entertained the W. M. U. of the Florence Baptist church at her home on Thursday with an all-day meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Snyder entertained with a family dinner party Sunday. All children came in, it being Father's day.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Howard and family have returned home after receiving a few days with relatives at Owenton.

Miss Marie Snelling of Woolper is enjoying a few days visit with her sister, Mrs. Harold Aylor and family.

Congratulations to Rev. Paternoster and wife of Cincinnati, upon the arrival of a fine son at Christ Hospital, June 19. Mrs. Paternoster was formerly Miss Lula Caton of Florence. Both Mrs. Paternoster and young son are reported doing nicely. They have another child, a little daughter.

We are sorry to hear of the serious illness of Harvey Mitchell at his home in Philadelphia, Ohio.

Miss Betty Eastman, a nurse at Christ Hospital, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eastman.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Conner were dinner guests Tuesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Conner.

Mrs. Fred Bennett of Limaburg has returned home after enjoying a visit with Mr. Bennett, brother and family of Atlanta, Ga., and they motored to Florida to visit relatives and friends.

Robert Rouse was removed to Christ Hospital, Friday for treatment. He does not show any improvement at this writing.

Little Jimmie Bell, grandson of Andy Ward, had the misfortune to have one toe severed while at play Saturday afternoon. Dr. Daughrity is his physician.

Jim Aylor of Big Bone and Paul Aylor of Belleview visited relatives here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ryle of Aurora, Ind., visited her mother, Mrs. Fannie Beemon, and C. L. Tanner and wife.

Mrs. Margaret Bell remains very ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Ward. We wish for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Howard and family had as guests Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Tupman and children, Mrs. H. Howard and son of Erlanger.

Miss Marie Murphy of Price Hill, will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lucks and family.

Bobbie Tanner, who attended medical school in Louisville, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Yealey.

Miss Beverly Marksberry is enjoying two weeks vacation with her aunt, Mrs. Elby Slayback and family of Crescent Springs.

CONCORD

Ask and it shall be given three, seek and ye shall find.—Matt. 6:7.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Robinson and son visited Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rex and little son of Ludlow, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert King of Latonia visited her parents Wednesday. Her mother, Mrs. Mag Chapman, returned home with them to visit their doctor, as she is still suffering from rheumatism We hope she soon recovers.

We were sorry to hear of the death of the wife of Rev. Kirtley Johnson at the hospital, Monday morning. The bereaved ones have our sympathy.

Mrs. Sallie Whitson of Verona spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Kate Spillman.

The W. M. U. will meet with Miss Ella Roberts the 2nd Wednesday in July. Every member should attend. Visitors welcome.

We heard last week of Mrs. Bernard Wilson's appendix operation in Covington, and hope she soon recovers and comes home.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chapman are entertaining their little grandson from Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Struve and baby spent Saturday night at her parent's home. Sunday they went to Latonia, and her father, D. R. Chapman, accompanied them. They live in Louisville where Mr. Struve is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Cotton and mother of Covington were visiting at the Floyd Chapman home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Webster of Berea spent the weekend here with their parents.

Preaching at Concrod, Saturday night, and Sunday morning and evening. Hope to have a good attendance each service.

NICHOLSON

"Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." True friends are like diamonds. Precious but rare. False friends, like autumn leaves, are found everywhere.

Reverently, earnestly, a most beautiful prayer fell from the lips of Rev. Talley, Sunday afternoon pleading for the indwelling of the Spirit of our Unfailing Friend. It was a joy to look into the youthful face of this man of God, marked with sincerity, untouched with any sort of evil, and welcome him to our room.

Like a gleam of sunlight in a shadowed valley was a lovely gift of Mr. W. L. Grubbs, kindly delivered Sunday afternoon by Rev. James H. Talley, highly efficient pastor of the Walton Methodist Church, for which grateful appreciation is expressed. Oh, that many others would emulate his noble example in brightening the drabness in many lives, giving roses while their fragrance could be inhaled. Truly, "a rose to the living means more than countless wreaths for the dead," and from those he has scattered in the lives of the unfortunate, may there be yielded back to him a perpetual fragrance.

Truly "a thousand words do not make as deep an impression as one deed."

The many friends of Rev. and Mrs. Courtland Weldon regret to learn that their son, Kirtley, suffered a fractured arm in a fall from a horse.

C. O. Morgan is steadily improving under the skillful treatment of Dr. Otis Senour of Erlanger, one of Kenton County's leading physicians.

Deeply appreciated was a lovely Sunday dinner, consisting of fried chicken, sliced tomatoes, slaw, delicious cake and other things, brought over by Mrs. Harry Fisk and her sister, Mrs. Wagner.

Most heartily do we thank Misses Florence and Norma Armstrong for a lovely cluster of pink rambler roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thomas, their sons, Harry and Howard, and attractive granddaughter, Miss Edna Thomas, were recent callers.

WALTON PERSONALS

Mrs. A. C. Marsh of Verona was called to Covington, Monday as her brother is very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stephenson are now in Warrensburg, Mo., where Mr. Stephenson has employment on an air base in that city.

Miss Ellen Miskell spent the weekend with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Omer Dudgeon.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore entertained with a delicious dinner recently. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Atha and son, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Readnour and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sparks and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Moore, Jimmy Moore, Clem Readnour, Harvey, Ethelyne and Dick Readnour, John Readnour of Cleveland, Ohio, Charlie Sparks, Mary K. Black, Robert Tingle, and the host and hostess.

Katherine Sparks spent the weekend with Gladys Dudgeon.

George Burris is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks attended the wedding shower of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Perry (nee Dorothy Black) near Warsaw, Saturday night.

Miss Martha Wilson spent the weekend with her parents in Sparta.

Mrs. Pearl R. Johnson is spending several days at her home, while having it painted.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Rouse of Fort Thomas were guests of their relatives, C. A. Rouse and Martha Wallace, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Woods entertained Sunday night, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sparks and family, and Mary K. Black.

Tommy Kephart visited Jack Hughes of Crittenden, a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gaines and family are entertaining their relatives, Mrs. Minnie Carpenter of Burlington and Melvin Snyder of Newport, this week.

Mrs. N. T. Welsh and Mrs. Edna Stamler visited relatives in Fort Thomas, Sunday.

Miss Thelma Howe spe nt Sunday with Mrs. Mary Howe of Crittenden.

Mrs. Arthur Fain of Elliston, spent Tuesday with her niece, Mrs. E. O. Webster, and daughter Ernestine.

Joe Richards of the Community Public Service Co., is in Mt. Vernon this week, on business.

Betty Jane Northcutt is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Mary Howe, of Crittenden, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clemons and daughter Bonnie were Monday night guests of her mother, Mrs. Brumback of Erlanger.

Mrs. Grace White and daughters of East Alton, Ill., were Friday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Northcutt and family.

Ralph Edwards of Detroit, Mich. is visiting this week with his sister, Mrs. Hattie Metcalfe, and other relatives.

Have You Paid Your Subscription

4th of July PICNIC

AND

Chicken Dinner

AT

Warsaw High School

Warsaw, Kentucky - U. S. Highway 42

Benefit of St. Joseph's Church

CHICKEN DINNER . . . 50c

SERVED FROM 11:00 A. M. TO 8:00 P. M.

— BAND CONCERT —

GAMES AND MANY OTHER ATTRACTIONS

COME - - - RAIN OR SHINE

—Make Arrangements to Meet Your Friends Here—

DON'T FAIL TO SEE . . .

"THE CAVALCADE of KENTON COUNTY"

—A MAMMOTH HISTORICAL SPECTACLE—

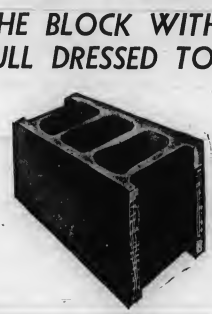
* * * *

CAST OF 500!

SPECIAL SCENERY! COLORFUL LIGHTING!
BRILLIANT AND AUTHENTIC COSTUMES!

* * * *

A Living, Breathing Story of Kenton County honoring the 150th Anniversary of Kentucky —



Holmes H. S. Stadium - Covington
Friday & Sat., July 3-4; 8:30 p. m.

(Adm. 50c plus tax; Children, 10c incl. tax)

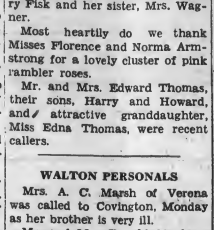
PROCEEDS TO WAR RELIEF

For Your Protection

THE BLOCK WITH FULL DRESSED TOP

Faces, Edges, Corners, Have Beauty Of Cut Stone

Many of our 4x8x16" Block are being used to build Milk Houses and many other buildings on the farm. Buildings from these blocks are permanent and economical construction.



—See Us for Further Information—

COLONIAL

COAL and SUPPLY CO.

Phone Dixie 7626

DIXIE HIGHWAY ERLANGER, KY.

GLIDERS and GLIDER CUSHIONS

BEAUTIFUL as well as COMFORTABLE

ALSO A COMPLETE LINE OF

Awnings, Hammocks, Porch and Lawn Furniture.

Covington Awning & Roofing Co.

3rd & SCOTT STS., COVINGTON Hland 1735

J. L. HAMILTON & SON

FUNERAL SERVICE

VERONA -:- KENTUCKY

La Rose Beauty Salon

400 Dixie Hi. Ph. Erl. 6252

$5.00 PERMANENT for $4.00
$4.00 PERMANENT for $3.50
PERMANENTS — $3.00 up
Children's Perm. $2 & $2.50

KEEP YOUR EYES "ON THE ALERT"

Have your eyes checked—it's your patriotic duty to keep them in perfect condition. Let us examine your eyes at once.

L. J. METZGER

Optometrist Optician

631 Madison Ave. Covington

Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

Public Sale!

To settle the estate of Addie Burrows, deceased, I will offer for sale to the highest bidder, at

Landing, Kentucky
SAT., JUNE 27th

1:30 P. M., EASTERN WAR TIME

THE FOLLOWING: 3-room house and lot; cook stove; oil stove; kitchen cabinet; ice box; buffet; diping table; set of dishes; lot antique dishes and glassware; cooking utensils; tablecloth and towels; clock; electric iron; Victrola and records; antique bedroom suite; 3 feather beds; 2 bolsters; pair pillows; 2 mattresses; brass bed; 2 sets springs; rocking chairs; 3 antique chairs; window blinds and curtains; Rayo lamp; day bed; sofa pillows; washing machine; 2 rugs, 9x12; Linoleum; carpet sweeper, and mop; many other household items

TERMS MADE KNOWN ON DAY OF SALE

GERTRUDE JONES, Admrx.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky

C. J. ALFORD, Pastor

Bible School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:15 a. m.
B. T. U.....7:30 p. m.
Evening Worship.....8:30 p. m.
Prayer Meeting, Wed., 8:30 p. m.

METHODIST CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky

REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor

Sunday School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship.....7:00 p. m.
Evening Service.....8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed.....8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Walton, Kentucky

GEO. CAROLAND, Pastor

Bible School.....10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:30 a. m.
Evening Service.....8:00 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church

J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.

10:00 A. M. ---- Bible School
11:00 A. M. ---- Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. ---- Evening Worship

Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.

Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Union, Kentucky

Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister

Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.

10:00 a. m., Sunday School,
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship,
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.

Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.

Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scout

Florence Baptist Church

Florence, Kentucky

Harold Wainscott, Pastor

Morning Worship.....11:00 a. m.
Evenlig Service..... 8:00 p. m.
Prayer Service, Wed., 8:00 p. m.

You are invited to come—worship and work with us.

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor

Sunday School ---------- 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor

Sunday School ---------- 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor

First and Third Sunday—

Sunday School ---------- 10:00 a. m.
Preaching Service ------- 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service ---------- 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor

Sunday School ----10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship --11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. ----------6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship -----7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH

Verona, Ky.

REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor

Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.

Sunday School ---------- 10 a. m.
Morning Worship ---------- 11 a. m.
Evening Service ---------- 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. ----- 8 p. m.

All times given Central War time

GLENCOE R-1

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shirley of Latonia spent Sunday with her father, Essie Ayres.

Mrs. Nan Wharton was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Poland a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper and daughter spent Sunday week in Louisville as guests of Miss Nancy Cooper.

Mrs. Lon Noel of Glencoe was the weekend guest of Mrs. Eva Poland.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Perry attended church at Oakland, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harrison and children attended a picnic at Miss Inez Black's at Glencoe on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Garvey and Miss Minnie Garvey of Latonia spent the weekend as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Garvey.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Arrasmith and daughter of Oakley, Ohio spent the weekend at home.

Friends of Miss Thelma Boaz will be glad to learn she is very much improved and will soon be able to leave the hospital. She was in an automobile wreck a week ago.

Napoleon Homemakers

The Napoleon Homemakers were entertained at the home of Mrs. Ethel Perry last Tuesday, with Mrs. Snowdie Harrison assisting hostess. Twenty-six were present including the visitors. A very enjoyable day was spent and a wonderful dinner was served at the noon hour, which all enjoyed. Mrs. Rena Yancey was one of our visitors this month. She gave several readings which all enjoyed very much. Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mable Ewbank on July 21st.

Prepare For A Good Position

Salaries to Start — $18.00 to $35.00 Per Week.
National Defense and Private Industry Needs
More Stenographers and Typists—
DAY & NIGHT CLASSES — Start Your Course at Once.

Curtis Commercial College

EDWARD C. BADER, Principal
COlonial 0583 7 West Pike St., Covington, Ky.

Portable Plastic Autographic Register - $12

AUTOGRAPHIC FORM MADE TO SPECIFICATIONS

Stewart-Carr

505 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.

LOOK AT YOUR HOME

Does the outside look weather-beaten? Wouldn't it look fresher with a new coat of paint? Of course, it would. When you paint, do it right, with a JUALITY paint for nearly 50 years. It will both preserve and beautify your home, and is much cheaper in the long run than inferior paints. Use a BOEHMER WEARMORE PAINT for every painting need.

BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT

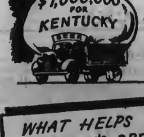
There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You,
Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.



THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.

114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212

INTERESTING and TRUE!

BOMB SHELTERS ARE NOTHING NEW IN KENTUCKY! THE HISTORIC LANGSTAFF HOME, IN PADUCAH, HAS A TWO-ROOM SHELTER THAT WAS BUILT IN THE 1860'S.

SINCE 1935, KENTUCKY'S LEGAL BREWING INDUSTRY HAS PAID MORE THAN $7,000,000 IN STATE TAXES. LAST YEAR, THESE TAXES AMOUNTED TO $1,234,164!

WHAT HELPS KENTUCKY, HELPS YOU! KENTUCKY'S BREWING INDUSTRY WORKS TO PRESERVE THE ECONOMIC BENEFITS OF LEGAL BEER BY INSISTING ON CLEAN, WHOLESOME CONDITIONS WHEREVER BEER IS SOLD.

BREWING INDUSTRY FOUNDATION
KENTUCKY COMMITTEE

FRANK E. DAUGHERTY, STATE DIRECTOR — 1182 STARKS BLDG., LOUISVILLE, KY.

SOUTH FORK

Mrs. Bertha O'Donnell returned to her home in Covington, Sunday after a week's stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rider, as her mother has been ill.

Ceaberry Noell and son Billy, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Dean were visitors in Covington, Friday.

Mrs. Myrtle Sisson and daughter and Mrs. Lula Sisson spent Wednesday with Mrs. Isa Noell.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rider and little son called on Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rider and daughter, Friday night.

Mrs. Helen Densler spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Fannie Rider and Mrs. Bertha O'Donnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon called on Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brashear, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler had as Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Sisson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and three children and Mrs. Lula Sisson.

John O'Donnell called on his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Con O'Donnell, a short while Sunday.

Mrs. Snowdie Noell, baby son Ronald, and daughter Martha, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler.

Mrs. Lula Sisson returned home Sunday after a visit with her son Ishmael Sisson, wife and daughter

POPLAR GROVE NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coates of Indiana were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Coates.

Bradford Stewart spent Sunday with Mrs. Martha Adkins and family.

Herschel Coates of Lexington spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughters, Vivian and Lillian.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Johnson and daughters were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Riley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughters Lillian and Vivian and Henry Ray Cooper were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Stewart and son, Herschel Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Connelly were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Durard Estes of Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brock and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hern were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schooler.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Connelly and daughter were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Giles.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hedger of Covington were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Hanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Shirley and sons Franklin and William were Sunday afternoon guests of Mrs. Lucy A. Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Eual Snell and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Barnie Irons were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Headley Maddox.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stewart spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Stewart and son Herschel.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Harrison and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Black and daughter Inez.

JONESVILLE

In the world ye have tribulations; but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.—John 16:33.

Rev. C. B. Love taught the Previews for the next quarter's Sunday School lessons at the church last week and a goodly number took the test on Saturday night.

Mrs. C. B. Love returned last Tuesday from a two week's visit with her parents and family at Bridgetown, N. J.

The R. A. and Y. W. A. met at the church Saturday afternoon for their monthly program.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Furnish and son Hubert of Poplar Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Furnish of Covington, Mr. and Mrs. Price Furnish and Mr. and Mrs. Everet Furnish and daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Furnish.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Webster and daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Greene of Williamstown spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Greene.

Mrs. Flora Mason is suffering with blood poisoning in her foot.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Caldwell and Archie Caldwell spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alton Caldwell and Mrs. Eva Ennis in Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson of Covington are visiting here.

Mrs. Hollie Webb and two daughters and Wilburn Poe of Louisville, are visiting home folks here.

Miss Lucy Smith is visiting relatives in Indana.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burke entertained Sunday in honor of his birthday, the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. John Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stewart and daughter Verna, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Stamper, Mrs. Mollie Bonds Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thornton and Stell Gorcy.

Bruce Conway Cotton recently spent two weeks with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Holbrook of Owenton.

Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Love left Monday for Lee County, where they will conduct a Daily Vacation Bible School and hold revival services.

Mrs. Allena King has been very ill the past week but is some better at this writing.

Walter Skirvin received word last week of the serious illness of her brother, Ernest, who underwent a major operation at King's Daughters Hospital in Frankfort. At last reports he was still in a critical condition. We are anxious about his recovery.

SUGAR CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mays of Cincinnati spent Sunday with Mr and Mrs. C. J. Wallick.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Kinman entertained as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lewellyn of near Ghent, Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Leary of near Glencoe and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hon and son Gene of Napoleon.

Little Miss Alma Lee Miskell of Glencoe spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Grover Clifton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cayton and Shelby Ellis enjoyed a lovely birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wallick, Sunday, it being Mr. Wallick's birthday.

Miss Roberta Clifton spent Friday night and Saturday with the Miskell sisters of Glencoe.

Mrs. Mary Wells of Witchita, Kansas is here visiting Mrs. Grover Clifton and son David.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pikes spent Sunday with Mr. Geo. Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Grubbs and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Ott Price spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shelton.

MT. ZION

Pvt. Doyle Smith of Alabama, is spending several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Smith and other relatives.

Mrs. Russell Alexander and family entertained her sister and little son from Illinois a few days the past week.

Harold Massie, who has a position in Oakley, O., spent the past week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Massie and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Jump were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Alexander and family of Latonia.

Miss Eunice Jump is visiting Mrs. Perry and family of Ludlow.

Della Williams of Whites Tower Raymond Williams of Latonia, Miss Sallie Cotton of Indiana, Omer Kite and Ed Kennedy were Tuesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kennedy and family.

Clay Mann, who was operated on for appendicitis at St. Elizabeth Hospital, is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Jimmie Gibson of Sherman spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Miller the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lawrence and baby of Cynthiana spent the weekend with G. A. Lawrence and other relatives.

Mrs. Hiner Losey and daughter Delores were visitors in Cincinnati, Thursday. Delores remained to enter as a student in Miller's business school, Monday.

Miss Ruth Bingham of Georgetown College spent the weekend with her parents.

Mrs. Ray Lawrence and son Eugene spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Lula Blackburn at Zion.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Kate Stone at Vine Run, Monday. Mrs. Stone was the sister of Cad Armstrong of this place. Sympathy is extended to the family in their sorrow.

Bill Alexander of Richmond, Ind., is visiting Uncle Perry Massie.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stephenson of Lexington spent Sunday at their home here.

Misses Lucille McBee, Helen Smith and Doyle Smith were visitors in town last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Manison Roland and sons visited relatives at Lawrenceville, Sunday.

The Home Nursing class met at the homes of Mrs. Mayme Franks and Blanche Alexander, Wednesday and Friday afternoons to give and take a bath, under the direction of Miss Noble, County Nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kennedy and family of Milton, Ind., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr and Mrs. J. F. Kennedy.

The family of Ed Jones were called to the hospital early Wednesday morning on account of Mr. Jones being seriously ill, but last report, he was improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Greene of Covington spent Sunday with his father, E. A. Greene.

Mrs. Russell Alexander and daughter, sister and little son spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sorrell of Erlanger.

A WARNING!

Because they have no pain, many persons never suspect they are subject to eyestrain. This is a harmful situation. Eyestrain is a constant drain on the nervous system, and may cause headaches, lassitude, etc. If neglected, it may work serious injury.

Let us carefully examine your eyes and furnish proper glasses, if needed. Relief from eyestrain will make you feel like an entirely different person.

Frank Riggs

The W. M. S. had their monthly meeting at the church Thursday with a very good attendance.

Several from here attended the party Saturday night, given by the Hutzell sisters in honor of Ervin L. Baird and Raymond Massie.

GLENCOE R-1 NEWS

(Delayed from Last Week)

Mrs. John Wallace and Mrs. Jim Wallace were shopping in Glencoe, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Bagby were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Bagby.

Mrs. Julia Winters called on Mrs. Jennie Ell, Monday.

Dawson Courtney was in a wreck Saturday night and received a broken nose.

Misses Hazel and Dorothy Hon of Covington spent the weekend here with their father, Alva Hon.

Mr. and Mrs. Elfrie Henderson attended church at Oakland, on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Arrasmith and daughter spent the weekend at their home here.

Elza Beatty last a horse last wk.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Groves, son and daughter spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Henderson and sons of Covington visited Mr. and Mrs. Elfrie Henderson, on Sunday.

Miss Edna Lee Jones of Cincinnati is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Callie Jones.

"Uncle" Tom Hughes and Miss Norma Jean Carver were Sunday afternoon guests of Mrs. Margaret Arrasmth and family.

Perry Cleveland has completed the new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Noel.

FOLSOM NEWS

(Delayed from Last Week)

And he said unto them, why are ye troubled and why do thoughts arise in your hearts.—Luke 24:38.

This little town was the scene of a terrible tragedy last Sunday night, week ago, when Mrs. John Stone almost burned to death by the explosion of a lamp. She was rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where she lingered until Friday night when she died. Her son, Orville Stone was severely burned. Her funeral was preached today Monday, at Vine Run by Rev. Abernathy, assisted by Rev. Buttler. Her remains were laid to rest beneath a bank of flowers in the church cemetery by Claud Carlton & Son of Warsaw. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Allan Sipple, two sons, Orville, at home and Melvin Stone of Warsaw Pike, three grandchildren, several sisters and brothers. The family have the sympathy of this community.

Mrs. Lillie Armstrong and daughter Gererude of Winchester are visiting Mrs. Janie Beach of Elliston.

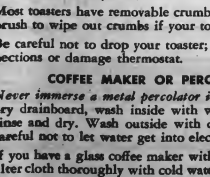
Lester Orsborne and Chester Delf, who are working in Louisville, spent the weekend with their parents and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beverly were Sunday guests of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Price.

Miss Norma Lee Mire, who has been working in Good Samaritan hospital, has returned home.

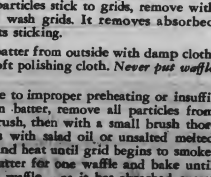
LARGE SIZE
Armstrong Linoleum Rugs
12x12 $8.95 12x15 $10.95
Madison Linoleum Store
531 MADISON AVE. - COVINGTON, - HEm. 9313

YORK LINOLEUM STORE
6th & YORK STS. - NEWPORT - COl. 4805



We Have Become the Dealer for the
DELAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR
and the
DELAVAL MILKING MACHINE

Repairs for John Deere Implements and Other Makes



The Jansen Hdw. Co.

CO. 0910 108-110 PIKE ST. COVINGTON, KY.

CONSERVE FOR VICTORY

How to Get Better Service

FROM YOUR ELECTRIC TABLE APPLIANCES

With electric table appliances out of production due to war, you'll want to take good care of the ones you have in order that you can continue to enjoy their step-saving convenience. Here are some suggestions that will prove helpful:

ELECTRIC TOASTER

Be careful in cleaning your toaster. Never put it in water. Wipe outside with damp cloth, using mild abrasive if necessary. Heating element cleans itself when you turn on the current.

Most toasters have removable crumb trays. Use a small brush to wipe out crumbs if your toaster has no tray.

Be careful not to drop your toaster; it may break connections or damage thermostat.

COFFEE MAKER OR PERCOLATOR

Never immerse a metal percolator in water. Stand on dry drainboard, wash inside with warm soapy water, rinse and dry. Wash outside with damp cloth, being careful not to let water get into electrical connections.

If you have a glass coffee maker with cloth filter, rinse filter cloth thoroughly with cold water after each using. Between usings, keep cloth in glass of cold water.

If you have a metal coffee maker or percolator, substitute a tablespoonful of baking soda for coffee occasionally and proceed as though you were making coffee. This will remove coffee oil adhering to metal and eliminate that bitter taste.

If your percolator refuses to heat, a fuse may have burned out. Remove bottom plate and replace with spare fuse or get another from your dealer.

WAFFLE BAKER

To clean waffle baker, wipe edge of grids with clean dry cloth. If any particles stick to grids, remove with wire brush. Never wash grids. It removes absorbed grease that prevents sticking.

Wipe any spilled batter from outside with damp cloth, then polish with soft polishing cloth. Never put waffle baker in water.

If waffles stick, due to improper preheating or insufficient shortening in batter, remove all particles from grids with wire brush, then with a small brush thoroughly cover grids with salad oil or unsalted melted fat. Connect iron and heat until grid begins to smoke. Pour in enough batter for one waffle and bake until done. Discard this waffle — as it has absorbed excess conditioner — and you won't have to grease waffle baker again if you take good care of it.

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
INCORPORATED

BUY U.S. WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

BOMBS BURST ONCE

By GRANVILLE CHURCH

W.N.U. SERVICE

CHAPTER I

Arriving at Cabeza de Negro was like coming home. Neither Curt nor Lee had ever visited the one-time small fishing port in the old days, but that was the way it hit them now as it rose up out of the sea. Once it had been only a collection of manaca shacks on stilts, cut off from inland by fever-ridden marshes. An unhealthy spot for white men. Today all that was changed—or fast changing.

They were up at dawn for the early docking and to watch the long, low blur on the horizon which slowly became the Tierra Libre coastline. Lee caught her breath as that blur took shape. Her memories of it were precious.

True, she'd been happy since, and now she had the boys. But no happiness, not even the children, could ever erase from her mind those first years here with Curt. Hard working days for him, in a job for which he was born, romance and beauty in the tropic setting for her.

Unconsciously she snuggled closer under Curt's arm as they stood at the rail staring landward. Unconsciously, too, Curt was scowling, but Lee did not see this.

Meanwhile, Buddy and Chuck were clamoring and tugging unnoticed at the ends of their split leash—they couldn't be allowed free run of the deck.

"Anuvver dog wace, Daddy," begged Chuck in the fuzzy tones of a four-year old.

He didn't yet have Buddy's clarity of speech, for Buddy was all of six and quite a man.

Curt obligingly called, "One, two, three, go," and the children scampered down the deck on all fours, barking and pulling their leashes taut.

This play brought Curt and Lee to the vessel's stern where their eyes caught the flat black smudge in the distance. A lean, low gray vessel was cutting in toward the coast farther to the north.

"Headed for Soledad," Curt muttered, and the frown returned to his forehead.

Lee clutched his arm.

"It's a destroyer! One of ours, Jeff! Must be. And it's racing! Do you suppose . . . there wasn't any word on the bulletin hoard . . ."

Curt patted her hand and smiled down at her.

"Don't he getting any ideas," he said, and was immediately conscious he'd taken a second or so too long in replying. "There's no revolution here. Uncle Sam's just paying a courtesy call. We're doing more of that than we used to throughout the Caribbean."

"But it's speeding! See how the smoke lays flat from the funnels!"

"That's caused by the wind from around Punta Cauca, honey. Our smoke would look the same if we were in that position."

Once more, as he stood against the rail with Lee, Curt went over in his mind the string of events leading up to their presence here on the Pisces—as he'd done so many times these past several nights, lying awake in the dark.

He started with the proposition itself.

He and Lee had been dawdling over a late breakfast, while the children played on the lawn within range of the open windows. He had the morning paper folded to handy size and propped against the coffee urn, and was sunk in a roving reporter's column purporting to give the progress of bomb-proofing the Panama Canal.

It took Lee several efforts to break through to him. It was the final "Jeff Curtis!" that did it, and he looked up to discover she'd been running over the morning mail. There was a storm signal in her eyes and she was tapping the knuckles of one hand with a long, flat envelope.

"Who do I know in Cristobal?" he said easily. "Why, no one, I guess. There's old Jim Bragg over on the Pacific side. Letter? Gimme."

"Some day, my fine lad," she began promisingly, "when you bury yourself in the paper—oh, what's the use?"

She gave up and handed him the letter. He ripped it open, slid out the several sheets of enclosure.

"Only mailed from Cristobal." He read aloud the letterhead: "Compania Agricola Tropical, San Alejo, Tierra Libre. Port, Cabeza de Negro. Cable, CAT.' Huh. Who do you suppose they are? Cabeza's that little fishing village down the coast from Soledad, but I never heard of San Alejo." He glanced at the end of the letter. "Signed, 'Apolonio Montaya, President and General Manager.' Never heard of him."

He ran his eye down the first page and looked up to exclaim:

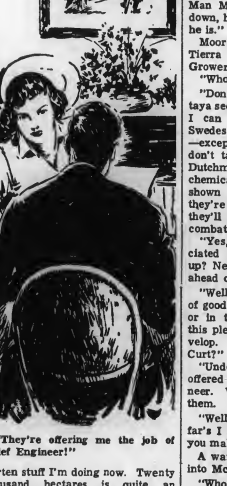
"Why, honey, it's a new banana outfit! Opening up twenty thousand hectares between the rivers Maslca and Negro. But that stuff's all swampland! You remember, Lee, that big stretch of swamp across the Negro, dotted with a few spots of jungle?"

"And the mosquitoes!"

Curt grinned and skimmed over the rest of the letter hurriedly. Lee saw his growing excitement as he straightened in his chair.

"Lee! They're offering me the job of Chief Engineer!" He took a deep breath and went on more slowly, soberly. "But they say the offer's contingent upon residence with family for term of contract. Three years. Of course, if I had the job I'd like to have you and the kids with me, but—"

Lee rose and went around to him, pushing back the table to sit on his knees and look him gravely, misgivingly, in the eyes. Here was a situation to be handled, one to be nipped in bud. It took her a moment to find the right words.



"You'd like that job, wouldn't you, darling?"

It was more statement than question.

He lowered his eyes. "Well, I'd—I'd—yes, sure I would! That'd be a real job! Just think, Lee. Drainage, levees, floodgates, railroad, power plants—all kinds of projects! And honey," his eyes flamed, "a chance to work on that overhead irrigation system I missed out on when we came north."

He broke off again and his eyes went blank to hide, or try to hide, how much this could mean to him.

"Well," he went on carefully, "it'd be something more than this kinder-

"They're offering me the job of Chief Engineer!"

garten stuff I'm doing now. Twenty thousand hectares is quite an order."

"Yes, I know. But you'll leave it to me to decide, won't you?"

"Well-l, yes, Lee," he faltered. "I guess I'll have to."

She looked a long moment into his eyes, then pushed a forefinger in circles through his thick, curly hair before kissing him lightly.

"It will hurt, dear," she said quietly, "but you'll have to forget it. There are Buddy and Chuck. We can't take them to a malarial swamp—and with Buddy ready for school this year."

"But, Lee, they cover that here! They say—" He swallowed hard, dodging her steady gaze. "They say they have excellent accommodations halfway up the Quebrado Mountains, including school, hospital, clubhouse, swimming pool, tennis courts. They claim there's no fever in their settlement—San Alejo they call it—and Lee, we ought to like it as well as we liked Puerto Soledad."

"We were happy in Soledad, darling. Don't think I can ever forget. But we left Tierra Libre because we wanted children and thought this country and climate best for them."

"I know," he answered unhappily.

She got up and stood at the window, hands locked behind her.

At length, without turning, Lee asked, "How do you know they're responsible people?"

"I wouldn't accept without investigating them!"

"The letter is headed San Alejo, Tierra Libre, but it's mailed in a plain envelope from Cristobal," she mentioned.

"Oh, that's explainable. They put their mail aboard an Associated ship at Soledad, no doubt, whose purser dropped it at Cristobal for faster air service. It came by air, you know."

"And the plain envelope?"

"Well-l . . ." Curt fidgeted. "I don't think that means anything. Maybe they were out of printed ones. Or perhaps," his voice quickened, "in mailing it on an Associated vessel they were being wary of Associated finding out too much about them. They're rivals, Lee."

"I have a feeling, I can't explain, but—" She hit her lip. "No, that's a woman's trick, that's not fair." Finally, with reluctance, she said, "Well, at least it wouldn't do any harm to find out more about these people."

"Sweetheart!" Curt shouted, and jumped for her.

Her next words were muffled against his shoulder: "Well, I hope I'm not a sugar-and-water wife." He didn't see the tears in her eyes.

And that was the first step that led to their being here on the Pisces. The second?

Curt had put in a short-wave phone call for Jerry McInnis, his closest friend during the years he'd worked in the tropics. McInnis was now Chief Engineer for the Associated Fruit Growers at Puerto Soledad. The call came through later that morning. Greetings were quickly over. Then:

"Jerry, what do you know about the Compania Agricola Tropical? Claim to have that swamp between the Negro and the Maslca—"

"Yeh, I know, only it won't be a swamp much longer. They're doing a swell job of reclamation, Curt. Well, I don't know much about them. Guy called Montaya heads the outfit. There's a whisper around he was hooked up with Cedillo in Mexico and got out by the skin of his teeth when that revolt failed. But that's only gossip, take it for what it's worth. Seems to have plenty dough behind him, but I don't know where it comes from. Old Man Moore probably has the low-down, but you know how tight-lipped he is."

Moore was General Manager in Tierra Libre for Associated Fruit Growers.

"Who's in with this Montaya?"

"Don't rightly know, Curt. Montaya seems the only top man so far's I can see. There's a couple of Swedes I don't know anything about —except they hold their liquor and don't talk. Youngish guys. And a Dutchman—Hollander, I mean—a chemical man. Panama disease has shown up over on our side and if they're going to raise bananas they'll have to find some means of combating—"

"Yes, sure. But how come Associated didn't have that piece tied up? Never heard of anyone getting ahead of Old Man Moore before."

"Well, we've already got plenty of good land, all we can handle now or in the reasonable future. And this piece'll cost real money to develop. Why all these questions, Curt?"

"Under your hat, Jerry, they've offered me the job of Chief Engineer. Wanted to know more about them. Think they're reliable?"

"Well-l, yes, Curt, they are, so far's I know. But I'd hate to have you make a decision on my say-so."

A wary, reluctant note had crept into McInnis' voice.

"Who's been handling the job?" "Chigger Mitchell."

"What! Old Mitch? He's a good man. What happened they need another?"

"Well, you know how Mitch was kind of tough on labor. A driver and all that. And he could sure find a guy's weak spot and dig under the skin. He didn't get the name 'Chigger' for nothing. Well, he must've made an enemy over there who wanted a souvenir. Anyway, his ears were missing when they found him—just a few days ago. It was—and they had to use a basket for the rest of him. These machetes are had stuff, as you know well enough."

Early in the morning Curt wired his acceptance to the C. A. T. people's New Orleans office. Back came, overnight, a contract for signature. And things moved fast.

The freighter Pisces, one of a small fleet of Norwegian vessels chartered to the C. A. T. outfit, would be held over a day in New Orleans awaiting them. Loaded with rails, cement, lumber, machinery, it was bound for Cabeza de Negro, the new C. A. T. port at the mouth of the Rio Negro.

Curt had less than twenty-four hours to wind up all his affairs in the States, store the car, arrange for care and lease of the house through an agent, for forwarding of their mail . . .

Their mail! The first batch, re-addressed and sent by air to New Orleans, caught up with Curt just before they sailed. Busy with details of baggage and boarding ship, he hastily stuffed the handful of letters into his pocket.

It was hours before he thought of it and hauled it forth for inspection. The ship had reached the mouth of the Mississippi; they'd dropped the pilot and were headed out into the Gulf. One letter was a small plain envelope, postmarked Puerto Soledad, Tierra Libre.

Inside was a brief note.

"Mr. Curtis. Don't bring your family to San Alejo, don't come yourself. Don't come! Zora Mitchell."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 28

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

ALCOHOL FACTS VERSUS DRINKING PROPAGANDA

LESSON TEXT—Proverbs 21:17; 23: 32; Isaiah 5:20-23; Hosea 4:11; Joel 3:3, 3; Ephesians 5:18.

GOLDEN TEXT—If sinners entice thee, consent thou not.—Proverbs 1:10.

The facts are on the side of the one who opposes the liquor traffic, and they are so plentiful and so devastating that the industry does not care to face them. Their "best bet" is to use propaganda so skillfully prepared as to disarm the reader. If the propaganda is truthful, it is only because it has to be, and only in that measure.

Our lesson suggests several points in the liquor propaganda, each of which we can prove to be untrue.

I. They Say, "Enjoy Life, That's What We Are Here For" (Prov. 21: 17).

Consider the ads of the liquor trade. They carry the beautiful lady, the brilliant young man, the socially correct surroundings, riches, ease, etc. They suggest that even the grandmother in the home approves the use of intoxicants to bring comfort and pleasure to the breadwinner in the home.

What is the truth? Man is not here for pleasure; he is here to serve God. History demonstrates that the nation that lives for pleasure, especially in connection with the use of intoxicants, is doomed to extinction.

II. They Say, "Liquor Is Not Dangerous" (Prov. 23:32).

It is presented as a pleasant and harmless stimulant, when in fact it is known to science, to police and social welfare workers as a narcotic which not only upsets digestion and deranges physical processes hut, most vicious of all, "affects personality by its action upon the certain specific brain area. It disturbs, confuses, slows down, and removes the restraints, the checks and balances which make a well-rounded personality. It is the highest functional level of the brain, the personality level, which is first put into eclipse hy the action of alcohol" (Carson Taylor).

III. They Say, "Those Who Oppose Liquor Are Fanatics" (Isa. 5: 20, 21, 23).

The prophet answers that claim by pointing out that those who favor the use of alcohol are the ones who call evil good and good evil, etc. A little study of liquor propaganda as it appears in the advertising of the industry soon demonstrates that fact. Of late they have been trying to convince us that beer is just a soft drink for the home. Any policeman who has seen a man drunk on beer, and any social or religious worker who has seen the destruction it has wrought in the home and in society, knows that is not true.

IV. They Say, "Strong Men and Leaders Are Drinkers" (Isa. 5:22).

Sadly enough, many of our leading men do indulge in liquor, but if the truth were out, it would be known that they are less capable as leaders and weaker men for their use of it. And who has not seen a leader become a poor dereliict by the alcohol route, or a strong man become a jittery mental, moral, and physical wreck in the same way.

The work of a nation in both war and peace is done by sober, steady, trustworthy men who have a "clear head," not because they use a certain whisky but because they do not use it.

V. They Say, "The Pleasure Is Worth the Price" (Hosea 4:11; Joel 3:2, 3).

The wicked ones who captured Israel felt they made a good trade when they gave a boy for a harlot, or exchanged a girl for wine. The modern system of making merchandise of boys and girls is not as openly crass as that, but when you figure the cost of alcohol to our land, be sure to add in the girls who have gone into iniquity by the way of tavern hostesses and the boys who have lost everything sacred because of "booze."

Remember too that the beer makers are deliberately using this war to cultivate a taste for beer in millions of young men—their future customers—and we are letting them get away with it, right in the army camps.

VI. They Say, "Drinking and Religion Go Well Together" (Eph. 5:18).

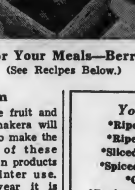
The contrast of Paul gives that claim the direct brand of falsehood. Being drunk with wine is the exact opposite of spirituality.

Liquor interests know that if church members can be led to believe that wine at dinner, beer as a soft drink—and an occasional social cocktail—is not incompatible with religious life, they will have effectually shut the mouth of the opposition they fear the most—the church.

Let pastors and church boards deal plainly and drastically with drinking church members, and the church will profit spiritually, and again become an effective means of stemming the tide of social iniquity which is engulfing our nation.

Household Hints

by Lynn Chambers

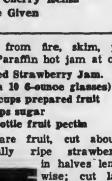


Magic for Your Meals—Berry Jams

(See Recipes Below.)

Time for Jam

With the arrival of the fruit and jelly season, you homemakers will want to make the most of these garden products for winter use. This year it is doubly important for you to can fruits and jellies wisely, as this will help you not only in conserving the nation's resources, but also assure you of delicious accompaniments to your meals during cooler weather.



Since sugar is used in canning not only as a sweetener, but as a preservative, the government will allot five pounds of sugar per person, in addition to what you receive in your ration, so that you will have sugar for canning.

Ripe Raspberry Jam.
(Makes 10 6-ounce glasses)
4½ cups prepared fruit
6 cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, crush thoroughly or grind about 2 quarts fully ripe raspberries. Remove some of seeds by sieving part of pulp, if desired.

Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure prepared fruit into a 5- to 6-quart kettle, filling up last cup or fraction of cup with water if necessary.

Place over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. (To reduce foaming, ¾ teaspoon butter may be added.) Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute.

Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

Jam takes slightly less sugar than jelly, and you will work an economy by making use of the fruit in addition to the saving on sugar:

Ripe Blackberry Jam.
(Makes 11 6-ounce glasses)
4½ cups prepared fruit
6½ cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, grind or crush thoroughly about 2 quarts fully ripe blackberries (not black cap). Sieve about ½ of ground or crushed pulp. (For Spiced Blackberry Jam, add ⅛ to ½ teaspoon each cloves, cinnamon, and allspice, or any desired combination of spices.)

Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure prepared fruit into a 5- to 6-quart kettle, filling up last cup or fraction of cup with water if necessary.

Place over hottest fire, adding powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. (To reduce foaming, ¼ teaspoon butter may be added.) Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute.

Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

Syrup for canning fruits is made by combining sugar and water in proportions given in the following table:

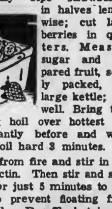
	Sugar	Water	Yield
Very thin	2 cups	5 cups	6 cups
Thin	2 cups	4 cups	5 cups
Medium	2 cups	3 cups	4 cups
Heavy	2 cups	2 cups	3 cups

Lynn Says:

The Score Card: The status of tin available for commercial canning has at last been clarified, and now we know exactly what will be available to use by way of canned goods.

The "Big Four" in canned vegetables, peas, tomatoes, string beans and corn, plus asparagus, pears, peaches, evaporated milk and fish will be allowed unlimited amounts of tin for canning purposes.

"Secondary" products such as spinach, beets, cherries, berries, applesauce, grapefruit, aasuage, luncheon meats, beef and others will continue to be canned, but they will be allowed only the same amount of tin as used in 1940, with some exceptions having more or less.



Foods packed last year will last until fall at least, and the goods packed this year will be available even before last year's are gone. There's no need to hoard.

Your Jam Shelf
Ripe Raspberry Jam
Ripe Blackberry Jam
Sliced Strawberry Jam
Spiced Ripe Peach Jam
Cherry Relish
Recipe Given

Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

Sliced Strawberry Jam.
(Makes 10 6-ounce glasses)
4½ cups prepared fruit
7 cups sugar
⅛ bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, cut about 2 quarts fully ripe strawberries in halves lengthwise; cut large berries in quarters. Measure sugar and prepared fruit, solidly packed, into large kettle; mix well. Bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 3 minutes.

Remove from fire and stir in bottle fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

Spiced Ripe Peach Jam
With Brazil Nuts
(Makes 11 6-ounce glasses)
3½ cups prepared fruit
¼ cup lemon juice
7½ cups sugar
1 cup sliced Brazil nuts
1 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, peel about 2½ pounds fully ripe peaches; pit and grind or chop very fine. Add ½ to 1 teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves and all-spice, or any desired combination of spices, to ground or chopped peaches. Squeeze juice from 2 medium lemons. Slice Brazil nuts very thin. Add to fruit mixture.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, filling up last cup with water, if necessary. Add lemon juice and nuts well.

Bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute.

Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

Relishes are excellent to serve with meats of any kind for they give the meal added zest. Here's a recipe for a real sugar-saver:

Cherry Relish.
2 cups pitted cherries
1 cup seedless raisins
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup brown sugar
¼ teaspoon cloves
½ cup honey
½ cup vinegar
¾ cup pecan nutmeats

Mix all the ingredients except pecans and cook 1 hour, slowly. Add pecans and cook 3 minutes longer. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal at once.

Sugar Substitutes.

If you feel that you cannot use sugar in all of the canning recipes given here, even with your extra canning ration, here are the rules for substitutions:

If you are using a bottled fruit pectin recipe, you may substitute 2 cups light corn syrup for 2 cups of the sugar. Do not use more than 2 cups of corn syrup in any recipe, however, as this will give unsatisfactory results.

In a powdered fruit pectin recipe, you may use 1 cup light corn syrup for each cup of sugar omitted. But, do not try to use all corn syrup in the recipe instead of sugar. You may substitute corn syrup for only ½ the sugar required. If, for example, the recipe calls for 6 cups of sugar altogether, you may use 3 cups of light corn syrup, but you must also use 3 cups of sugar.

Why get hot and bothered over your cooking and household problems when you can get expert advice on them? Write, explaining your problem to Miss Lynn Chambers, Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago, Illinois. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

NEW FINE Cannon FACE CLOTH FREE IN EVERY BOX OF SILVER DUST YOU BUY

I'M THE WHITE SOAP, THE RIGHT SOAP FOR LAUNDRY AND DISHES

Acid Indigestion

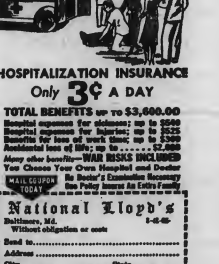
What many Doctors do for it

When excess stomach acid causes gas, sour stomach or heartburn, doctors prescribe the fast-acting medicines known for symptomatic relief — medicines like those in Bell-ans Tablets. No laxative. If your very first trial doesn't prove Bell-ans better, return bottle to us and get double your money back, 25c.

FOR QUICK RELIEF CARBOIL A Soothing ANTISEPTIC SALVE

Used by thousands with satisfactory results for 40 years—six valuable ingredients. Get Carboil at drug stores or write Spurlock-Neal Co., Nashville, Tenn.

To Relieve distress from MONTHLY FEMALE WEAKNESS



Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help relieve monthly pain, backache, headache, with its weak, nervous feelings—due to monthly functional disturbance.

Taken regularly thruout the month, Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such distress of "difficult days." Thousands upon thousands of girls and women have reported gratifying benefits. Follow label directions. Well worth trying!

HIT THAT RHEUMATIC PAIN RIGHT WHERE IT HURTS

And look at the Silver Lining in those Clouds of Pain

The big idea is that you want to feel better. When pain eases, your mind eases. You get rest that means deliverance. So use something that gets at the pain. C-2223 brings you pain-relieving help. Now you will feel as good as others who enjoyed its help. Don't put it off. Get C-2223 now. 60c, $1 everywhere. Use only as directed. Purchase price refunded if you are not satisfied.

HOSPITALIZATION INSURANCE Only 3¢ A DAY

TOTAL BENEFITS up to $3,600.00
Hospital expenses for sickness: up to $360
Hospital expenses for injuries: up to $225
Surgical fees at each time: up to $360
Accidental loss of life: up to $2,000
Many other benefits—WAR RISKS INCLUDED
Yet Costs Only a Few Pennies a Week Per Person
MAIL COUPON TODAY — No Doctor's Examination Necessary — No Policy Issued for Under Twenty Years of Age — Actual Policy Sent on Free Examination

National Lloyd's
Baltimore, Md. 1-E-42
Without obligation at cost
Send to
Address
City State
Your Hospitalization, Health and Accident Plan.

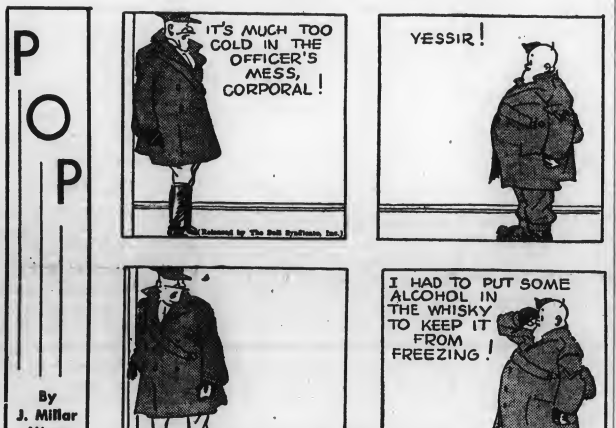
WNU—E 25—42

When Your Back Hurts—

And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.



There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is better than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

DOAN'S PILLS

OUR COMIC SECTION

PAY UP, PAL

"What business are you in, sir?"
"I'm a skipper."
"Well, don't practice your profession here till you settle your bill."

Double Talk

"I want some consecrated lye," said the customer.

"You mean concentrated lye," corrected the druggist.

"It does nutmeg any difference," the man retorted. "That's what I camphor. How much does it sulphur?"

"Fifteen cents. Bright fellow, aren't you? I've never cinnamon with so much wit."

"Well, I should myrrh-myrrh. And as yet ammonia beginner at it."

TALL TALE

"Annette says she can knit a sweater in one day."
"Some yarn!"

Transportation Pools Requested

Program Planned Has Vital Double Purpose

The Office of Defense Transportation and the United States department of agriculture asked farmers throughout the country to co-operate in a comprehensive program for conservation and more efficient use of farm trucks and automobiles.

Because of the rubber shortage, the limited supply of new vehicles and the increasing scarcity of repair parts, farmers are urged to use their trucks and cars as little as possible.

The two government agencies recommended that farmers not only eliminate unnecessary driving but also form transportation pools both

Courtesy U. S. Department of Agriculture

Kansas City, Kan., wheat elevators holding the precious grain, part of Uncle Sam's enormous "Food for Freedom" larder. There are thousands of similar grain elevators throughout the United States.

for hauling their produce to market and for transporting needed supplies to the farms.

Program's Double Aim.

The program has the double aim of conserving vital equipment and assuring a continuous flow of farm commodities to market.

In a letter to state and county war boards urging the conservation of farm transportation facilities, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard said: "The department is glad to co-operate in this program to the fullest extent, realizing that attainment of agricultural production goals will be meaningless unless there is assurance that essential farm products, when ready for market, can quickly be brought to processing, storage or consumption centers."

Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, said: "Farmers can assist in the nation-wide farm transportation program by avoiding trips to market with less than full loads wherever possible, and by making every possible effort to purchase their supplies at times when it will be possible to haul them to their farms on return trips."

Operators of farm trucks also are urged to follow the "preventive maintenance plan" of the ODT in order to prolong the life of such equipment as long as possible.

AGRICULTURE INDUSTRY
Sugar Cane

By FLORENCE WEED

(This is one of a series of articles showing how farm products are finding an important market in industry.)

Some of the attractive colorful rooms in modern homes are made with wall board of pressed sugar cane. Time was when no one knew what to do with sugar cane bagasse after the sugar was extracted. Tons were either destroyed or burned as fuel in the sugar mills. Then industrial chemists found a way to press the cane refuse into long fibers, to felt and weave it into long board sheets.

Chemists have also found that a cheap molding compound can be made from bagasse. By grinding the cane to a powder, combining it with chemicals, the substance can be molded into flat panels or floor tiles.

Backers believe that this low cost molding compound will enable the plastics industry to branch out into broader fields such as the manufacture of furniture, building materials and parts for automobiles since it can be made for less than half the cost of the cheapest synthetic compound known.

Farm Notes

The U. S. department of agriculture has announced a program for diversion of up to 5,000,000 bushels of Irish potatoes into starch and dextrine.

• • •

For roughage in feeding lambs, allow one half alfalfa and one half Johnson grass or Sudan hay. The hay should be green in color, well cured and free from mould.

Children's Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

GRANDFATHER FROG GIVES UP HOPE

WITH his legs tied together, hanging head down from the end of a string, Grandfather Frog was being carried he knew not where by Farmer Brown's Boy. It was dreadful. Half way across the Green Meadow the Merry Little Breezes of Old Mother West Wind came dancing along. At first they didn't see Grandfather Frog, but presently one of them, rushing up to tease Farmer Brown's Boy by blowing off his hat, caught sight of Grandfather Frog.

Now the Merry Little Breezes are great friends of Grandfather Frog. Many, many times they had blown foolish green flies over to him as he sat on his big green lily-pad, and they are very fond of him. So when this one caught sight of him in such a dreadful position he forgot all about teasing Farmer Brown's Boy. He raced away to tell the other Merry Little Breezes. For a minute they were perfectly still. They forgot all about being merry and dancing.

"It's awful, just perfectly awful!" cried one.

"But what can we do?" asked another.

Nobody replied. They just thought and thought and thought. Finally

A great cloud of dust and sticks and tiny leaves was dashed into his face.

the first one spoke. "We might try to comfort him a little," said he.

"Of course we will do that!" they shouted all together.

"And if we throw dust in the face of Farmer Brown's Boy and steal his hat perhaps he will put Grandfather Frog down," continued the Merry Little Breeze.

They wasted no more time talking, but raced after Father Brown's Boy as fast as they could go. One of them, who was faster than the others, ran ahead and whispered in Grandfather Frog's ear that they were coming to help him. But poor old Grandfather Frog couldn't be comforted. He couldn't see what there was that the Merry Little Breezes could do. His legs smarted where the string cut into the skin, and his head ached, for you know he was hanging head down. No, sir, Grandfather Frog couldn't be comforted. He was in a terrible fix and he couldn't see any way out of it. He hadn't the least bit of hope left. And all the time Farmer Brown's Boy was trudging along whistling merrily. You see, it didn't occur to him to think how Grandfather Frog must be suffering and how terribly frightened he must be. He wasn't cruel. No, indeed. Farmer Brown's Boy wasn't cruel. That is, he didn't mean to be cruel. He was thoughtless, like a great many other boys, and girls, too.

So he went whistling on his way until he reached the Long Lane leading from the Green Meadows up to Farmer Brown's dooryard. No sooner was he in the Long Lane than something happened. A great cloud of dust and leaves and tiny sticks was dashed in his face and nearly choked him. Dirt got in his eyes. His hat was snatched from his head and went sailing over into the garden. He dropped Grandfather Frog and felt for his handkerchief to wipe the dirt from his eyes.

"Phew!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy as he started after his hat. "It's funny where that wind came from so suddenly!"

But you know and I know that it was the Merry Little Breezes working together who made up that sudden wind. And Grandfather Frog ought to have known it, too, but he didn't. You see, the dust had got in his nose and eyes just as it had in those of Farmer Brown's Boy, and he was so frightened and confused that he couldn't think. So he lay just where Farmer Brown's Boy dropped him, and he didn't have any more hope than before.

Associated Newspapers—WNU Features.

Life Increases

American women are crowding the biblical life span of three score and ten years. The expectation of life at birth in 1939 was 66.4 years for white females and 62.6 years for white males, statisticians of a life insurance company said. Their figures showed that since 1900 women had added 15¼ years and men 14½ years to their average life expectancy, a record which the statisticians said "bears eloquent witness to the vitality of the American people."

THINGS for You TO MAKE

A PATRIOTIC kitten is Tom, the tea towel cat. From Monday to Saturday he is a willing subject for illustrating six timely and clever captions, and on Sunday he dons his best cap and hangs out a V for victory. You'll adore Tom on your kitchen towel rack; a few quick stitches will put him there. And he is not stopped then, since he also poses for a trio of panholders—Hip, Hip, Hooray.

• • •

Order this "Man of the Hour" as pattern 2947S, 15 cents; make tea towel and panholder sets for yourself and for gifts—bridal or otherwise. The transfer is the kind that stamps several times. Send your order to:

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City, Mo.
Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired. Pattern No.....
Name.....
Address.....

NONE SURER St. Joseph ASPIRIN WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10¢

J. Fuller Pep
By JERRY LINK

I been readin' about some of these divorces and it seems to me husbands are like automobiles. If you take good care of them, you don't have to keep getting new ones all the time.

And one way of takin' good care of him is to see he gets all his vitamins. And that's where KELLOGG'S PEP comes in. 'Course it hasn't got 'em all, but it's extra-rich in the two most likely to be short in ordinary meals—vitamins B, and D. What's more, PEP'S one grand-tastin' cereal, too!

Kellogg's Pep

A delicious cereal that supplies per serving (1 oz.): the full minimum daily need of vitamin D; 1/4 the daily need of vitamin B1.

JUST JESTING

Cause Enough

Professor—Why were you late to school this morning, Henry?

Henry—Because the bell rang before I got here.

Different Views

Sonny—Dad, what do you call a man who drives a car?

Dad (a pedestrian)—It all depends on how close he comes to me, son.

Beduff takes rationing so seriously that instead of calling his wife "Sugar," he now calls her "Honey."

Few Virtues

Lady—That parrot I bought here swears frightfully.

Dealer—I don't deny it, madam, but you must admit he doesn't drink or smoke.

If You Bake at Home . . .

We have prepared, and will send absolutely free to you a yeast recipe book full of such grand recipes as Oven Scones, Cheese Puffs, Honey Pecan Buns, Coffee Cakes and Rolls. Just drop a card with your name and address to Standard Brands Inc., 691 Washington St., New York City.—Adv.

Lehn & Fink Products Corp., Bloomfield, N.J.

FEET HURT?
Stop suffering! For fast relief from your foot troubles, go to your dealer THIS WEEK. Say the Dr. Scholl Remedy or Arch Support you need. The cost is small.
Dr. Scholl's FOOT COMFORT WEEK

FEED AT ITS BEST
DIXIE 20% PIG 40% HOG FEEDS
PELLETS or MEAL
See Your DIXIE better FEEDS Dealer Today — DIXIE MILLS, E. St. Louis, Ill.

"JUMP!"

*With men in the Army, Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard, the favorite cigarette is Camel. (Based on actual sales records in Post Exchanges and Canteens.)

Classified ADS

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum.
Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

FOR SALE—Red sow and nine pigs; 2-year-old Jersey heifer, calf ready to veal. Ray W. Reffitt, Toll Gate house, Hicks Pike. 2t33*

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

FOR SALE—Fryers, 2½ to 3 lbs.; young fat hens. W. P. Robinson, phone 852. 1t33

HOUSE FOR RENT—3 rooms on Walton-Verona Road, 2 miles from Walton. Call Dixie 7554-W. tf31

FOR SALE or RENT—Cottage, 4 rooms, electric lighted, in Verona, Ky. Terms reasonable. A. C. Roberts, Verona, Ky. 3t32

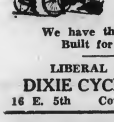
FOR SALE—Sow and 9 shoats. Raymond Gross, Walton, Ky. Phone 61. 1t32

LIBERAL REWARD for return of man's English made bicycle, name (Comrade); two gold wrist watches, and other jewelry; Airguide field glasses; rare old coins. Ask for particulars or give information to Box 67, Walton, Ky. tf31

FOR SALE — Fresh Jersey cows; also some bred Heifers; 4 Hereford Bulls, ready for service; registered Jersey Bull; sow and pigs; mare, with mule colt, will trade for cattle; 4-year-old mare, work anywhere. A. C. Johnson, Walton, Ky., Beaver Road. 2t33

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

FOR SALE — 3 shoats, weighing about 55 lbs. George Ballinger. Phone Independence 6353. 1t34*



IF IT NEEDS FIXING — Call Campbell, phone Walton 23. Electric, Plumbing, Heating, Refrigeration, Stokers and Oil Burners, Controllers of all kinds. tf33

I AM doing the best I can to canvass my territory. Southern Boone and Kenton counties. All in need of products, let me know. Mail or telephone the orders to W. H. Florence, R-1, Florence, Ky. Phone Burlington 221. 1t34*

AVOID DISAPPOINTMENT
—BUY NOW!
Special This Week Only
LIVING ROOM SUITES $49

Avenue Furniture Co.
434 Madison, Cov. HEm. 9273
MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

SAVE
YOUR CAR and MONEY
RIDE A BIKE
We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.
LIBERAL TERMS
DIXIE CYCLE SHOP
16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

NORRIS, BROCK CO.
Cincinnati Stock Yards

—Live Wire and Progressive—
An organization second to none. We are strictly sellers on the best all around market in the country.
We work for our customers... first, last, and all the time.
Reference: Ask the first man you meet.
Hope that you will eventually ship to us...why not now?
——Service That Satisfies——

NEW JAMES THEATRE
WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m.—Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY & SAT., JUNE 26-27
Robert Cummins - Ann Sheridan
Ronald Reagan - Betty Field in
"KINGS ROW"

SUNDAY, JUNE 28
"BIRTH Of The BLUES"
with Bing Crosby - Mary Martin

MONDAY, JUNE 29
'MISSISSIPPI GAMBLER'
Kent Taylor - Frances Langford

TUES. & WED., JUNE 30-JULY 1
Gene Autry in
"SIERRA SUE"
Two Shows Wednesday 7:30-9:15

THURSDAY, JULY 2
Ken Murray - Harriet Hilliard in
"JUKE BOX JENNY"

MAN WANTED for Rawleigh Route of 800 families. Good profits for Hustlers. Write today. Rawleigh's, Dept. KYF-258-S, Freeport, Ill. 1t34

FOR SALE—Oak Lumber, seasoned and newly sawed. R. Hume, R-1, Walton. Phone Independence 6745. 5t33*

FOR SALE—2 acres land, opposite Walton Reservoir. James Falls, Walton. tf34

FOR SALE—Gasoline Range, $15; Kelvanator Refrigerator, $49.50; Norge Washer, $29.50; 3-room Circulating Oil Heater, $39.50; Philco Radio, console, 8-tube, $19.50. Edw. P. Cooper, 805 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

WANTED — Alfalfa, second cutting 1941. Telephone Walton 491. S. Whitehouse, Dunlap Farm, Richwood, Ky. 1t34*

ADMINISTRATRIX NOTICE

All persons having claims against the estate of Cloyd C. Waller, deceased, please present them proven according to law; and all persons indebted to said estate, please come forward and settle same.

—NAOMA RYAN, Admrx.
2t33* Cloyd C. Waller Estate.

Read the Advertiser Want Ads

3 ACRES
LLL Highway — 5-room house, fruit and shade trees. Vacant. Possession now.....$2,000
Rel C. Wayman
623 Washington Covington, Ky.
Phones: HEm. 5107; INd. 64

NOTICE !

The Town of Walton will accept bids on a 3-horse power, also 5-horse power, Fire Siren, to be installed. Bids to be opened 8:30 p. m., June 29th.

The town has a right to reject any or all bids.

—D. HESS VEST, Clerk
D. L. LUSBY, Mayor.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our neighbors and friends, during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father, Robert L. Sleet.

Especially do we wish to thank all donors of flowers, those who sang, and to the ministers of both races for their consoling words, and Chambers & Grubbs for their splendid service. Thanks!

—WIFE & FAMILY.

BEAVER LICK

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Black and son Robert of Big Bone were the Sunday guests of James Moore and family.

Miss Kathleen Kenny enjoyed a week's visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler of Rising Sun, Ind., recently.

Mrs. Sam Sleet spent part of last week at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Sally Hance of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Arnold and son visited relatives at Paris, over the weekend. J. L. remained for a two-week's visit with his grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Jones visited their relatives at Richmond several days last week.

Cloyd Johnson left Thursday for Memphis, Tenn., going there to meet his brother, Lewis, who is a survivor of the torpedoed battle ship Lexington, and who is enjoying a furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Points of Sherman visited relatives here on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perry Baker of Walton were calling on friends here Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCabe visited Mrs. Emma Cleek at Florence Sunday and attended church services there.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Kite, Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Hamilton and children, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hamilton and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kennedy and daughter and Al Hamilton attended the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Susan Hamilton, Saturday.

Don't Let
HIGH PRICES
UNPLEASANT TASTE
INCONVENIENCE
Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.
You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take
ONE A DAY
VITAMIN A and D TABLETS
Pleasant-tasting - Convenient
Economical
Recommended by Good Housekeeping

HARDWARE
FOR June and July

Sewing Machine Needles
Belts, Bobbins, Shuttles.
New Shipman of Linoleum Rugs — all sizes — 6x9 to 12x15.
Small Mats—all sizes.
Linoleum by the Yard
Croquet Sets
Thermos Jugs—$1.50 up
Lawn Chairs— $1.50
Lawn Chair Covers—50c
Hammocks—$2.95
Camp Cots—$2.50
Cold Pack Canners
Cans, Lids and Rings
BeeVac Washers, $54.95
Dayton Water Systems $72.50
Dr. Hess Stock Tonic and Worm Capsules

Mower Repairs
Sickle Grinders
Scythe Snaths
Scythe Blades
Scythe Stones
Garden Hoes
Hay Forks
Handles—all kinds
Rastus Plows
Three Shovel Plows
Five Shovel Plows
Extra Shovels for All Cultivator Shovels
Binder Twine
Electric Fence Controllers
For Bean Bettles: Rotonone, Barri Cide, and Garden Flit
Arsenate of Lead
Paris Green
Sprayers and Dusters
Cow Spray
Sheep Dip

Conrad Hdwe.
PHONE 23 —o— WALTON, KY.

WE INVITE YOU TO ATTEND OUR Big SKATING Party at the
MAYFLOWER ROLLERDROME
WILLIAMSTOWN KENTUCKY
Saturday, June 27th
Special Music by Western Hills Orchestra
CINCINNATI'S OUTSTANDING ORCHESTRA
HOURS: 8:30 TILL 11:30, CENTRAL WAR TIME

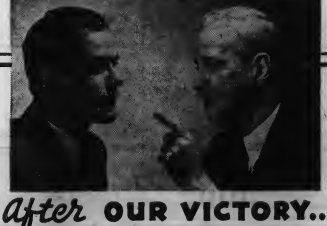
The meeting at Beaver closed Friday night, and while there were no additions to the church, all who attended were helped spiritually by the splendid sermons delivered by Rev. Spahr, and by the fine singing of Mike and Rachel Aeree. The Bible School that was held each afternoon under the leadership of Mrs. Sara Sleet, Miss Jean Besterman and Rev. Spahr, was attended by about 28 children and on Friday night, when they gave a demonstration of the songs and scripture they had learned in the two weeks, it was truly wonderful.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore had for their guests Sunday the following friends and relatives: Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sparks and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Atha and son, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Readnour and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Wilson, Miss Ethaline Readnour, Miss Mary K. Black, Clem Readnour, John Readnour, Charlie Sparks, Dick and Harvey Readnour, Robert Tingle and Jimmy Moore.

HEBRON

Mrs. Henry L. Aylor of this place and Mrs. Henry Souther of Constance have the sympathy of their friends in the death of their aunt, Miss Anna Gaines, who passed away Tuesday at her home here.

Mrs. Amy Kreiger of Oklahoma is visiting her mother, Mrs. Virginia Regenbogen and other relatives. She attended church services at the Lutheran Church on Sunday, where her many friends were glad to see her.



Miss Martha Winchester and brother Roy of Science Hill spent the past week with their sister, Mrs. Emily Furnish. Mrs. Furnish returned home with them Saturday for the weekend.

TIRES!
MUST BE SAVED
Align Those Wheels and Save Time and Money
COlonial 0670
R. MICHELS
Welding Co.
722 Washington St., Covington

COAL
See Us For PRICES
Before You Buy
WALTON FEED MILLS
PHONE 57 WALTON, KY.

Walton Perpetual Bldg. & Loan Assn.
DIXIE STATE BANK BLDG. WALTON, KY.
E. S. West, Sec'y A. M. Edwards, Pres.
—— SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDENDS ——

After OUR VICTORY..
you will surely need a cash reserve as well as U. S. Savings Bonds, so add to your savings account substantially--often.
FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION
OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1342

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.
CHAMBERS & GRUBBS
Funeral Directors WALTON
Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation
Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.
DIXIE STATE BANK
WALTON, KENTUCKY
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Misses Marilyn Garnett and Mary Margaret Fowler returned home Saturday from Camp Meacham where they attended the Christian Conference.

Mrs. Eva Williams and daughter Betty and Miss Hazel Akins returned home last week from a visit of several weeks with friends in Winchester.

Watch Your Kidneys!
Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILLS

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION and PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .
W. E. TAIT, O.D.
OPTOMETRIST
OPTICIAN
27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.
Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.
For appointment phone—
HE. 2088

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .
DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?
Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.
LANG'S CAFETERIA
623-625 Madison Avenue
COVINGTON KENTUCKY

When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
—24-Hr. Wrecker Service.—
Cars Washed - Storage

DEAD STOCK REMOVED
—— SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS ——
CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887
—— REVERSE PHONE CHARGE ——
Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.
LOCKLAND —:— OHIO

Classified Ads Get Results

Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria
Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN Odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package.
FREE
Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

Public Sale
In order to settle the estate of the late Cloyd C. Waller, we will offer for sale to the highest bidder at his late residence in
VERONA, KENTUCKY
Saturday, June 27
1:00 P. M. - CENTRAL WAR TIME
The following: 5-room frame house, electric and water, two porches, cellar; other outbuildings. Three acres land. Immediate possession. Ideal truck or poultry farm.
PERSONAL PROPERTY—Dining table and 6 chairs; 2 dressers; wardrobe; sewing machine; Walnut bedstead; half bed; day bed; 3 rockers; antique rocker; kitchen table; 3 cane-bottom chairs; antique Cherry chest; 3 mattresses; 3 feather beds; several feather pillows; 9x12 Brussels rug; 9x12 Congoleum rug; several small rugs; Coal Oil stove; Coal range; Coal heater; Oil heater; stand table; Crosley radio; vacuum sweeper; eight-day clock; alarm clock; Seth Thomas weight clock; curtains, window shades and screens; ice box, 75-lb. capacity; washing machine and tubs; porch swing; 2 iron kettles; stone jars; glass jars; electric iron; food chopper; sausage stuffer; apple parer; dishes; glassware; kitchen utensils; several antique pieces of glassware; silverware; garden plow; 1 ton of coal; block and tackle, with 200 ft. Manilla rope, used once; a lot of good carpenter tools; stepladder, and other articles too numerous tomention.
TERMS MADE KNOWN ON DAY OF SALE
Naoma Ryan, Admrx.
COL. A. F. WORTHINGTON, AUCTIONEER

University of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FOR CUTTING,
ING BOOKS, NEWS-
ODICALS BELONGING TO LIBRARIES.
Sec. Statutes

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 35

Mrs. Sallie F. Hance, Former Resident, Dies

Mrs. Sallie Finnell Hance, 79, a former resident of Walton, died at her home, 1321 Michigan Ave., Hyde Park, Cincinnati, Ohio early Sunday morning, after a long illness. The remains were brought to the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Walton, for preparation and remained there until the funeral.

Mrs. Hance was born in Boone County, near Walton, and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jameson Finnell. She was married to A. R. Hance and they resided here for many years. To this union nine children were born, of which seven survive; Mrs. Wilella Gardiner of Carlisle, Ky; Mrs. Jane Sleet, Beaver Lick; Miss Julia Moss Hance and Miss Sue Hance of Cincinnati; Milton Hance of Indianapolis, Ind.; David Hance of Chicago, Ill., and Evan Hance of Walton.

Just a few weeks ago, her daughter, Mary DeHarte, passed away, her funeral being held here. A son, Will, passed away a number of years ago. Mr. Hance died many years ago.

Besides her children, she also leaves six grandchildren, and a host of other relatives and friends who mourn her loss.

Mrs. Hance was a member of the Walton Christian Church, a devout Christian all of her life, and a most loving and devoted wife and mother.

Fuperal services were conducted at the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home Tuesday afternoon a 2 o'clock, by the Rev. R. F. DeMolsey, with prayer by the Rev. Geo.S. Caroland. Interment was in Highland Cemetery.

The pallbearers were her three sons and three sons-in-law, Dr. Gardiner, Sam Sleet and Geo. L. DeHarte. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

A large crowd was present at the funeral of this fine lady.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Chambers & Grubbs.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET FRIDAY

The Walton W. C. T. U. will hold their regular meeting Friday at 2:30 p. m. in the Walton Baptist Church. All members and friends are urged to be present.

NOTICE TO ALL AUTOMOBILE OWNERS IN WALTON

Please post with the Police Department of Walton, the size, make of tire, and serial number of all automobile tires you own, so that in case any of your tires are stolen, we will be able to have same for identification.

—R. E. Brugh, Chief of Police

FLORENCE GIRL WED TO COVINGTON MAN

Mr. William Ausbon Fox of Covington, and Miss Elizabeth Ardelle Tupman of Florence, were married at the home of the officiating minister, R. F. DeMoisey of South Main Street, on Saturday, June 27th. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Beetem of Florence.

After a short honeymoon, they will be at home to their many friends in Latonia.

JANSEN TO HEAD RETAIL MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION

Edward Jansen, Covington hardware merchant, was elected president of the Covington Retail Merchants' Association, Monday night at a meeting held at the Summit Hills Country Club. The other officers chosen were Edward Love, vice president; Harry Humpert, treasurer, and Ted Gross, secretary. Directors: Max Rose, Francis Vehr, Elmer Herzog and Edward Cooper.

Jansen succeeds Max Rose as president. Rose was complimented on the efforts he put forth for the association during the past year.

Francis Vehr presided as master of ceremonies. There was a short dinner-meeting. Ted Gross inducted the newly-elected officers of the association.

RED CROSS SEWERS WANTED

Anyone interested in doing sewing for the Red Cross, please call at the home of Mrs. Ora Fry, South Main Street, and receive materials.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller have purchased a 130-acre farm near Felicity, Ohio and are moving to same this week, after having lived on Clover Hill Farm owned by R. T. Hizer, for the past year.

"CAN YOU SEE?"

Observe, on the Fourth, how our National Anthem itself reminds of the need for preserving your Sight! See our flag still waving and continue to wave with our Free way of life with Correct Glasses. We provide for the only pair of Eyes you will ever have.

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

Winners At Home Economics Fair

The fourth annual Home Economics Project Fair sponsored by home economics classes of Northern Kentucky high schools was held last Wednesday at Ludlow High School. Winners in the various events, reading from left to right, are Mary Taylor, Lloyd High School; Jean Chestnut, Dixie Heights; Georgia Haberle, Ludlow; Mildred Salyers, Simon Kenton; Pat Mills, Simon Kenton; Joyce Marksbury, Dixie Heights; Charlotte Perkins, Ludlow, and Ruth Johnson, Lloyd.

—Photo Courtesy The Enquirer

HART-WALTON NUPTIALS JUNE 27

The marriage of Miss Mildred Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hart, formerly of Richwood, to Mr. John Turner Walton, Jr., son of Mrs. John Walton of Birmingham, Ala., was solemnized at 8 p. m., Saturday at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. O. J. Steger, pastor of the Southside Baptist Church, Covington.

CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES FRIDAY

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Carlisle entertained with a croquet party on their lovely lawn. This was the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William Breeden and Mr. and Mrs Carlisle.

Other guests, besides those honored, were Mr. and Mrs. Scott Lancaster and son Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Breeden, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stephenson and son Joe. A delicious luncheon and social time was enjoyed by all.

NAVY WELCOMES NEW RECRUIT

Great Lakes, Ill.—Now serving with the U. S. Navy is James Lee Allphin, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Allphin, Route 1, Verona, who was received at the U. S. Naval Training Station here and is now undergoing recruit training. The new recruit will be given a series of aptitude tests to determine whether he will be sent for further instruction at one of the Navy's many service schools, or assigned for duty at sea or at some other naval station.

Work On Airport To Begin July 10

WPA officials in Louisville were notified to begin work on the Kenton County Airport, near Constance, Boone County, on July 10.

Albert Hohnhorst, Kenton County auditor, said Saturday that a letter was sent to Geo. Goodman, state director of WPA, informing him that the site would be acquired by that time.

The WPA in the early stages of the airport negotiations asked for 15 days notice in order to move its equipment into the county.

Hohnhorst said that six pieces of the property aggregating about 400 acres has been purchased out of the $75,000 fund set aside by the Kenton County Fiscal Court for that purpose.

The remaining pieces of property are being negotiated for and a report is expected soon.

Plans for the airport call for four runways of about 5,000 feet each and additional runways later.

The Federal Government has set aside money to assist in building the proposed airport.

Methodist Revival To Begin July 6th

Rev. B. G.Carnes

A revival will begin at the Walton Methodist Church on Monday, July 6th and will continue through Sunday, July 19th. The guest speaker is to be Rev. G. B. Carnes, General Evangelist, of Wilmore, Ky. He will be assisted by the regular pastor, Rev. J. H. Talley.

Young people's meetings will be held at 9 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Regular services are to be held daily at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m., Eastern War Time.

The local choir, under the direction of Mrs. F. E. Bedinger, is to furnish special music for this series of revival meetings.

You are invited to attend all of these meetings—a cordial welcome awaits you.

A STORY OF FOREIGN INTRIGUE

"Don't bring your family to San Alejo!" That was the warning Jeff Curtis received from a friend. But the young engineer was already headed for the Caribbean, and neither he nor his brave young wife turned back from the danger, which threatened our hemisphere defense.

Bombs Burst Once By Granville Church

READ IT IN THIS PAPER

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS MEETING WELL ATTENDED

The Florence Homemakers' meeting of June 19th was well attended, 22 members being present. Mrs. Frances Berkshire could not be present, but had delegated Mrs. Lillian Schram to give the lesson in her place, which Mrs. Schram did in a very able manner.

The lunch was much enjoyed, especially the Sally Lunn bread. During our nutrition lessons we have been introduced to many new and delicious dishes.

The election of officers in the afternoon resulted in the ticket chosen by the nominating committee, Mrs. Verda Martin, Pres.; Mrs. Sarah Markesberry, Vice President; Mrs. Thelma Smith, Secretary and Treasurer, being elected unanimously and by a rising vote. We are planning a tour for July and a picnic at the hospitable home of Mrs. Frank Dils on Highway 42 for August.—Reporter.

UTOPIA CLUB PLANS WAR PROJECT WORK

The Boone County Utopia Club at their meeting recently approved plans of the program committee that war project work receive first consideration in their project work.

The summer meetings are planned for out-of-doors, while the fall and winter meetings will be devoted to discussion groups and the use of outside speakers.

John Y. Brown To Oppose Chandler

John Young Brown, former Congressman and former Speaker of the House, has announced he would oppose Senator A. B. (Happy) Chandler for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate. His declaration papers were filed at Frankfort shortly before the deadline.

"Two weeks ago," said Mr. Brown, "I had no idea of running. I was out of politics. I had a comfortable job. I was satisfied to let the other fellow have the office.

"Now, I am back in politics. I have quit my job. As a loyal American, I can't be satisfied to see our Junior Senator returned to Washington."

Brown will supply the "shocking" reasons for his decision in a series of advertisements and in radio speeches.

Brown served two sessions in the Kentucky House of Representatives, one as Speaker and one term in the United States Congress as representative from the State at large.

To make the race for the senatorial nomination, he resigned his position as attorney for the United Mine Workers of America.

COST OF LIVING CONTROL MEETINGS ARE WELL ATTENDED

Two hundred and thirty out of 369 appointed leaders in the National Cost of Living and Inflation Control educational program, attended leaders training meetings held in ten community centers during the past two weeks, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. All leaders were eager to serve but circumstances prevented many from attending the meetings.

The National program calls for every farm family and every nonfarm family in America to receive direct information through leaders on the purpose and working of the cost of living and inflation control program. The success of this program is considered vital to the war program.

Both leaders and citizens are showing a splendid cooperative and patriotic spirit in this program. An analysis of the reaction show that they are 100% patriotic in their attitude and are ready to meet any and all sacrifices necessary for the successful conclusion or winning of the war.

Patriotic Address At Warsaw Picnic

The program for the fourth of July picnic celebration being held for the benefit of St. Joseph Church, Warsaw, Ky., on the Gallatin County High School grounds on Route 42, will be augmented by a patriotic address by Joseph Thomes, runner-up in the recent Sir Thomas More Oratorical Contest held at Newport Catholic High school. His subject will be "The Precious Word of Liberty." The Rev. Geo. L. Stier, pastor of the Warsaw Church, announces that the program will begin at 3:00 p. m., Central War Time.

Other features of the program will be a flag-raising conducted by the American Legion, and Senator Alvin Kidwell of Sparta, will be the principal speaker, and a concert by the Newport Catholic High School Band. A chicken dinner will be served from 11 a. m. until 8 p. m.

Morgan county farmers are showing unusual interest in saving seed, following community meetings explaining its importance.

FAIR GROUNDS LAKE CONTDACT LET, REPORT

The contract to construct a large lake on the Boone County 4-H and Utopia Club Fair Grounds has been let, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Construtions is to be done by the hour and will begin within the next two weeks, if the weather permits.

Construction of a minimum of essential buildings will begin as soon as materials can be secured. Friday night the 4-H and Utopia Council voted to proceed with plans for a county picnic and educational fair to be held on the tentative date of August 22nd. All people of the county and their friends are invited to plan to take part in the event.

The Fair Grounds Construction committee is composed of John L. Conner, John E. Crigler and H. R. Forkner. Their activities in this program are directly under the supervision of the county 4-H and Utopia Club Council.

NEW HAVEN P. T. A. TO MEET TONIGHT

All members and friends of the New Haven P. T. A. are urged to attend the meeting to be held at the school gym at 8 o'clock, Eastern War Time, Thursday evening, July 2nd, as much of the business for the coming school year will be brought up for discussion at this time.

Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Home Demonstration Agent, will meet with us to give valuable information and outlines on the nutrition programs and menus for 1942-43. This meeting is planned for you —parents—so be there.—Secy.

Home Economics Fair At Ludlow

The Home Economics girls of Simon Kenton High School participated in the annual Kenton County Home Project Fair, which was held at the Ludlow High School last week. This fair represents the work done in Home Economics by the girls in their homes during the month of June. Among the different projects entered were: Dressing tables, chairs refinished, quilts, pillow cases, wardrobe sets, curtains, laundry work, home-made soap, flower arrangements, cakes, meat dishes, canned fruits and vegetables, jellies and preserves, print dresses, sport clothes, afternoon dresses, formals, housecoats, pajamas, shorts, children's clothing, skirts, suits, blouses. Other projects carried on which could not be entered at the fair were the redecorating of living and bed rooms, the managing of time and the budgeting of money made from their employment.

The other schools besides Simon Kenton, which took part in the fair were: Dixie Heights, Dry Ridge, Erlanger and Ludlow.

The girls from Simon Kenton who won blue ribbons at the fair were Betty Mae Wilson, Loretta Meiman, Mildred Salyers, Edna Egger, Rose Recker, Geraldine Arnold, Elaine Frances, Jean Cook, Louise Linville, Elouese Wayman, Flonnie Barnett, Pat Mills, Betty Winstead, Mary Frances Surface, Ella Mae Hawkins, Edith Alsep, Gladys England, Ruby Bell, Betty Farrell, Bettye Cockrell, Edith Shirley, and Margaret Vastine.

Other girls who won red and yellow ribbons are: Betty Kline, Mary K. Roden, Erma Hardgrove, Audrey Richardson, Janet Huff, Lucille Wayman, Roberta Webb, Billy Jean Allen, Ruth Dehner, Mary Lou Sander, Mildred Tebelman, Lucille Points, Ruth Anderson, Virginia Kline, and Beverly Gers.

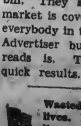
Out of a total of 68 entries by Simon Kenton, 51 of these received ribbons, and some of the girls are carrying on their work into the summer.

FEATURES IN THIS ISSUE

Hope Is Left To Man—

You've often heard the expression: "What is to become of the world?" With nations now in deadly conflict, the question is even more difficult to answer. Man has made a blunder of things since the beginning of time, and our Sunday School lesson today presents the picture with all hope up to Man.

A News Summary For You—



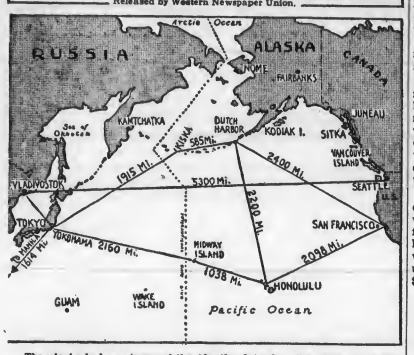
The War is going at a fast pace and historic happenings come too fast for the average reader to keep abreast with the news. Our News Analysis feature sums up the news for you, an analysis to keep you posted on important events.

Worried About The Draft?

If you are between the ages of 20 and 45 and worried about your draft status, read the Merry Go Round column today in the Advertiser, Pearson and Allen give you prospects of being called to the army, including what congress may approve in November.

Getting Quick Results!

Business firms and readers know that for immediate selling or buying results an advertisement in the Advertiser fills the bill. They know, too, the rural market is covered thoroughly. Not everybody in this section takes the Advertiser but nearly everybody reads is. That's why ads get quick results.



Wasted money is wasted lives. Don't waste precious lives. Every dollar you can spare should be used to buy War Bonds. Buy your ten percent every pay day.

Read the Advertiser Want Ads

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Fresh Nazi Offensive Forces Red Army To Yield Key Post Back of Kharkov; Rommel Drive Perils All Middle East; U. S. Names Leader for European Zone

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

The strategic importance of the Aleutian Islands, off Southwest Alaska, is indicated by the above map. From Kiska, near the western end of the chain, to Tokyo the distance is less than 2,000 miles. Dutch Harbor lies 2,400 miles northwest of San Francisco. Jap landings in the fog-blanketed Aleutians have focused America's attention on that area.

RUSSIAN WAR:
Nazis Pay Dearly

Marshal Timoshenko's Red army had sustained blow after blow on the Kharkov front as General von Bock's Nazi hordes tried a breakthrough to swing around Rostov, gateway to the Caucasus oil fields.

Stubbornly resisting German forces numerically and mechanically superior to them, the Russians had been compelled to fall back to new lines. Here they had withstood heavy attacks of tanks, infantry and planes.

A Russian communique acknowledged the loss of the railway junction city of Kupyansk, 60 miles southeast of Kharkov.

The Reds were following a strategy that had served them well in last year's bloody campaigns—of fighting fiercely until forced to fall back, then withdrawing slowly to strongly prepared positions. Meanwhile they were taking an enormous toll in Nazi dead and slowing down Hitler's timetable.

Meanwhile, Britain brought additional grief to the Nazis with a world record raid on the German port city of Bremen. More than 1,000 planes raided Bremen, leaving it in flames. A British communique reported the loss of 52 planes.

TAX BILL:
Biggest on Record

The average income taxpayer faced the prospect of paying about twice as much as he is now paying when the new federal revenue bill becomes operative.

As approved by the house ways and means committee, the new bill would provide a gross revenue estimated at $5,924,000,000—the largest tax ever collected in United States history. At that, it was a billion and a half short of the treasury department's original request for new levies to help finance war outlays.

Surprising to many fiscal experts was the house committee's action in striking out a provision making it mandatory for husbands and wives to file joint income tax returns.

The average wage-earner would be affected three ways under the new tax measure. The bill provides a normal income rate increase of from 4 to 6 per cent; exemptions for single men would be reduced from $750 to $500 and for married men from $1,500 to $1,200; surtaxes would be increased from 6 to 12 per cent on the first $1,000 of net taxable income.

U. S. INCOME:
To Hit 117 Billion

Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Reserve board told the nation that a new all-time record of 117 billion dollars for the annual national income would be reached during the war years.

Mr. Eccles warned Americans that this tremendous spending power will be far in excess of the consumer goods available to the buying public. Strict curtailment of all but necessary purchases, greater personal savings and steady buying of government war bonds, he said, will stop inflation.

The 1942 national income will be about 110 billion dollars, he said in a radio address. This will be about 30 billion more than it was in 1939.

EUROPEAN FRONT:
U. S. Takes Steps

A further step in the program to make the fighting efforts of the United States and Britain more effective and to pave the way for the second front was taken when the war department announced the establishment of a "European theater of operations for United States forces."

Director of this European theater was Maj. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, recently assistant chief of staff of the war department general staff, who had already arrived in London when the announcement of his appointment was made.

Laconic was the statement issued by the new commanding general in which he said that "formal establishment of a European theater is a logical step in co-ordinating the efforts of Great Britain and the United States."

EGYPT:
Tank Steeplechase

Sidi Barrani had fallen and Salum had been abandoned as the British strove by fierce rearguard actions to slow down the rush of Marshal Rommel's victory-flushed tank armies in engagements on which the fate of Egypt and Suez depended.

The serious plight of the British had been apparent following the surprise surrender of Tobruk in nearby Libya. Foxy General Rommel lost no time in following up his advantage by slicing into Egypt.

General Ritchie's battered forces had not made a stand at the Egyptian border because of the danger of encirclement, but had withdrawn to Mersa Matruh, 157 miles east of the Libyan frontier.

The British had been in possession of Sidi Barrani since December 11, 1940, when they drove out Italian troops which had occupied the town less than three months before and then launched a drive which swept 400 miles across the Libyan desert.

FAMILY MEN:
Deferred by Draft

The departure of many a married draft inductee for training camp was halted when President Roosevelt signed legislation authorizing deferment of family men until the supply of single men is exhausted. This marked the first time in American military history that the policy of so preserving established families had been fixed by law.

Draft headquarters announced that married men with children would be the last to be called into service, but emphasized that they could count on no permanent deferment. The deferment clause applied only to men married before December 8, 1941.

Financial assistance to dependents of service men was provided in the measure, with the government furnishing the bulk of the monthly allowance check and the service men the balance. The allotments would go to army men up to and including the grade of line sergeants and navy men including third class petty officers.

Allowances include $50 a month for a childless wife of a service man, $62 for a wife with one child and $72 for a wife with two children.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

PRAGUE: The Nazi information service announced that 26 more Czechs had been shot in reprisal for the killing of Reinhard ("The Hangman") Heydrich.

WASHINGTON: The house ways and means committee voted to direct the post office department to increase third class mail rates to the point where the service pays for itself.

ROME: Improvement in the health of Pope Pius was reported in a dispatch by the Vatican City press. Although the pope is giving no audiences, he is receiving his immediate collaborators, the dispatch disclosed. Doctors attending the pontiff were hopeful he could go to St. Peter's on the eve of St. Peter's day for the traditional visit to the apostle's tomb.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON & ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington, D. C.

DRAFT PICTURE

If you are registered on the draft rolls, here is the general picture of your prospects under the selective service amendments just passed by congress:

If you are between 20 and 45, unmarried with no dependents, your status is unchanged.

If you are married and now classified as 1-A, your draft board will be directed to shift you to 3-A. That means the chances are strong you will not be called for at least another 8 to 12 months, depending on the trend of the war and on what is done about lowering the draft age to 18.

If you are unmarried, but have dependents and are classed 3-A, you will be moved up to 1-A and headed for induction by fall. The new allowance and allotment act, under which soldiers with dependents put up $22 a month and the government $28, is the basis for this change.

As selective service officials figure it, by offsetting these two switches against one another, the 4,500,000 army which the war department wants to raise by January, can be obtained from 1-As in the 20 to 45 age groups. After that, if the army still needs men, selective service either will have to turn to married men now deferred, or the draft age will have to be lowered to 18, as strongly favored by military chiefs.

That will take congressional action, and until next November, there is no chance of anything being done by congress. Even after November elections there is no certainty congress will be any more eager to act. It will depend on what happens in the elections and the way the war is going. If it is not going well, congress is likely to be more willing to follow the demands of the military and include 18-year-olds.

If that is done, then married exempts will get another breather, probably into the summer or fall of 1943. It is estimated that 18-19 year-ers will furnish 1,200,000 new soldiers. This would bring the army to over 6,000,000 by next July.

If by that time still more men are needed, then will come the turn of married registrants, beginning with the lower age groups.

Note: Privately, military experts believe that before the war is over the U. S. will have from seven to eight million men in the army and navy.

• • •

EUROPEAN REVOLT

After returning on the Drottningholm, Leland B. Morris, U. S. charge d'affaires in Berlin, and George Wadsworth, charge in Rome, gave the senate foreign relations committee some eye-opening slants on international conditions in the Axis countries, coupled with a blunt warning. The warning was:

"Don't depend on the peoples of Germany and Italy revolting against their masters."

There is only a long-shot chance of an Axis collapse through revolution, the two diplomats reported. The German and Italian people, they said, are under such severe military rule and surveillance, that it would be extremely difficult to plan, much less carry out, revolts at present.

Morris, who served in Berlin about 18 months, also pooh-poohed rumors that the German people are not loyal to Hitler.

"They are weary of war," he said, "but they are still faithful to Hitler. Make no mistake about that. They may not consider him the idol they once did, but they are still behind him. Anyone who thinks otherwise is fooling himself."

Asked about German "morale," Morris replied that from the standpoint of loyalty to the fuehrer, "it was good."

Wadsworth said the Italian people are kept in such subjugation and fear by the Germans that it was difficult to get a true expression of their feelings, though the morale of the Italians definitely was not as good as that of the Germans.

"Do you think there is any possibility of a revolt in Italy in the next year?" he was asked.

"I do not," Wadsworth replied.

• • •

WAR NOTES

¶ Here is more good news for U. S. cotton growers: Camouflage requirements in the far-flung war areas are making heavy inroads in the huge cotton surplus. Vast quantities of cotton cloth are being bought by the army for camouflage purposes.

• • •

¶ Suggestion to the army and navy air branches: How about giving the navigators and radio operators of plane crews a favorable mention in announcements of successful attacks. Pilots and gunners, who of course richly deserve credit, are always cited.

• • •

¶ Australian External Minister Evatt, busy flying between Sydney, London and Washington to beg planes for his government, nevertheless found time to write a book on the Australian labor movement.

Farm Topics

Sick Soils Have Effect on Animals

Earth Should Be 'Factories,' Not Mines

By DR. WILLIAM A. ALBRECHT
(Department of Soils, College of Agriculture, University of Missouri.)

That sick soils will not build healthy animals any more than they will produce sturdy field crops is significant in view of our national tendency to combat soil erosion by allowing much of the fertility-depleted soil to go back to grass.

In place of giving attention to soil fertility measures that feed growing plants, we have too often adopted the practice of "crop hunting" in the mistaken belief that when one crop starves another can be found that will thrive on the same depleted land. But we can't breed crops against starvation any more than a sterile parent can transmit the character of sterility.

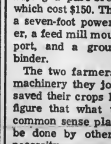
Evidences of declining soil fertility are seen in the greater number of deficiency diseases among our farm animals. Veterinarians are constantly faced with increasing cases of strange animal ailments for which no specific body weakness or visible physiological cause can be found. Eye ailments, a tendency to blindness, bad gaits, rounded back lines, inferior condition, poor feeding progress, and even debility and death can be traced to deficiencies in animals' nutrition.

If newer legumes or non-legumes grow more successfully on less fertile land, then such crops must be taking less nutrient from the soil. Thus these crops can offer the animals that feed on them less of protein and of ash which, for animals the same as for plants, are the items drawn from the soil.

Animals Limited in Feeding.

Confined as they are, animals are limited in their feeding by the soil fertility of the farm. Supplements such as proteins contain too little of the minerals needed. And when animals protest by rooting up the very earth or climbing the fence in search of better forage, such actions are met by rings in the nose or cumbersome yokes about the neck. Human serfs have been prohibited in this country for about 75 years, but animal slaves can be seen on any trip through the country. Too often they are almost in a state of starvation because their master, the farm owner, neglects his soil fertility.

Our soils must become factories instead of continuing as mines from which the fertility is unendingly drawn. Raw materials such as limestone, phosphorus, potash, and other fertilizing elements, organic matter and other plant nutrients must go back into the soil. In our "soil factories" we must produce more usable nutrients for plant service. Such nutrients must not be hauled off unless equal amounts are restored.



Consumption of Fats, Oils

Recently the United States used approximately 6½ billion pounds of fats and oils in edible products; two billion in soaps, one billion in paints, varnishes, printing inks and linoleum products, and 0.5 billion was used for a variety of industrial purposes.

Cutting Costs

The department of agriculture is strongly urging partnership in use and purchase of equipment.

Two Floyd county, Texas, farmers have been showing their neighbors the value of this kind of joint action. These Farm Security administration borrowers first bought a tractor outfit together in 1940. Sharing the $1,030 outlay and the operating expenses proved to them the advantages of partnership.

Their second enterprise was buying a pure-bred Jersey bull, which cost $150. Then they bought a seven-foot power-take-off mower, a feed mill mounted for transport, and a ground-driven row binder.

The two farmers say that the machinery they joined in buying saved their crops last fall. They figure that what they did as a common sense plan will have to be done by others from sheer necessity.

Urea for Growing Lambs

Farmers were told of tests in the laboratories of a university's division of animal nutrition in which the performance of growing lambs fed urea was compared with that of lambs fed diets containing such protein sources as soybean oil meal, casein, skim milk and corn gluten feed. With rations of a 12 per cent protein level, 80 per cent of the nitrogen as urea is as satisfactory a source of nitrogen as commonly used protein concentrates.

PATTERNS
SEWING CIRCLE

1602-B

A FLOUNCING skirt, fitted "long torso" top and kimono sleeves are the leading features of the pretty pinafore frock for girls offered in Pattern No. 1602-B. It buttons down the back—and at the shoulders and is as cool and comfortable to wear on a hot day as a romper suit would be.

Run ric-rac edging around the edges of the kimono sleeves, the neckline and shoulders—and use ric-rac in rows around the full, flaring skirt—the result will be a decorative frock which will call forth ohs and ahs from all who see it. There are panties to match, too—which may also be edged with ric-rac braid.

• • •

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1602-B is designed for 3, 4, 5, 6 and 8 years. Size 4 dress and panties require 2¼ yards 35-inch material. 6 yards ric-rac.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1116
211 West Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 20 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No.....Size.....
Name.....
Address.....

ASK ME ANOTHER?
A General Quiz

The Questions

1. In British slang, what is meant by a limey?
2. The American bird, the chickadee, is also called what?
3. The island of New Guinea is sometimes called what?
4. How many lines has a poem called a triolet?
5. Which is the Panhandle state?
6. What country leads the world in amount of irrigated land?
7. Where is the original Bridge of Sighs?
8. Do heavyweight parachute jumpers use the same size parachutes as the lightweights?
9. In what year did Japan start its undeclared war on China?
10. Which spot is considered the most isolated in the world?

The Answers

1. A sailor or soldier.
2. Titmouse.
3. Papua.
4. Eight.
5. West Virginia.
6. India.
7. Venice.
8. Parachutes come in two standard sizes: a 24-foot chute goes to pilots weighing up to 180 pounds; a 28-footer to any flier over that.
9. 1937 (July 7).
10. Bouvet island, a small, uninhabited Norwegian possession in the South Atlantic. Within a radius of 1,000 miles, or an area containing 3,146,000 square miles, there is no other land.

JUST JESTING

Just That!

She—You had no business to kiss me.

He—That wasn't business; that was a pleasure.

Proof

"It is midnight, the moments when miracles happen."
"I think—"
"There, didn't I tell you?"

Sound Sleep

First Recruit (the morning after his first 15-mile hike under full pack)—Boy, did I sleep last night. I slept like a log.

Second Recruit — Yeah, man. Like a log with a saw going through it.

Some men know better as they grow older. Others merely know more.

Discretion

First Rookie—What are you writing, a book?

Second Rookie—No, a love letter.

F. R.—But you've been working on it more than an hour.

S. R.—Yeah, but I want to be sure that if it's ever read in court I won't look like a fool.

Kool-Aid Makes 10 BIG COOL THIRST-QUENCHERS FAMILY SIZE PKG. 5¢ Try All 7 Flavors

With a Purpose

Have a purpose in life and, having it, throw into your work such strength of mind and muscle as God has given you.—Carlyle.

St. Joseph 10¢ ASPIRIN WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT

NEW FREE GIFT WITH SILVER DUST

SILVER DUST

FINE Cannon FACE CLOTH WORTH 10¢ OR MORE FREE IN EVERY BOX YOU BUY

The white soap, the right soap for laundry and dishes

Victory by Inspiration

The best preacher wins men by inspiring them.

BUNIONS Get this quick relief. Lifts shoe pressure, soothes, cushions the sensitive spot. Costs but a trifle. Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

WHY PAY YOUR WAGES TO FLIES? USE TANGLEFOOT FLY PAPER! AT GROCERY, HARDWARE AND DRUG STORES

FLIES are worse enemies than Japs. Japs drop bombs . . . flies eat dirt and then they come in and drop disease germs on the family's food—and then you pay doctor bills, and lose time from work. WHY PAY YOUR WAGES to flies? STOP SUMMER SICKNESS before flies can start it! Use low-cost TANGLEFOOT Fly Paper all around the place. "Tanglefoot Fly Paper catches the Germ as well as the Fly."

FEED AT ITS BEST— DIXIE 20% LAYING 18% EGG MASHES PELLETS or MEAL

See Your DIXIE better FEEDS Dealer Today—DIXIE MILLS, E. St. Louis, Ill.

IT'S CAMELS WITH ME ON EVERY RUN. THEY HAVE THE MILDNESS THAT COUNTS

AND FLAVOR APLENTY! THERE'S NOTHING LIKE CAMELS FOR STEADY PLEASURE

IMPORTANT TO STEADY SMOKERS: The smoke of slow-burning CAMELS contains LESS NICOTINE than that of the 4 other largest-selling brands named—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself!

• Camel cigarettes are "standard equipment" with veteran engineer Frank Dooley (left, above) and his fireman, Bill Lyons, Jr., of New York Central.

Kenton Farm News

Most Early Home Gardens Look Good—

Most of the home gardens on the farms are looking good. Insects are becoming troublesome, however, and plans should be made to fight insects in the early stages.

Get a copy of Extension Circular No. 359 on control of garden insects and keep it for reference from time to time. It deals with Bean Beetle, Cucumber Beetle, Cabbage Worms, Plant Lice, Potato Bugs, Cutworms, Grasshoppers, Flea Beetles, Squash Vine Borer, Squash Bug and other insects.

The indications are at present for a heavy infestation of grasshoppers this summer and fall. poison bait and other control measures may be necessary to combat this insect pest. Farmers in each neighborhood should make plans early to fight the grasshopper in an organized way. When mowing hay in fields where they are plentiful, a block should be left in the middle of the field where the grasshoppers can be poisoned in large numbers, because they will move towards the center of the field during mowing.

Make Plans for The Late Summer and Fall Garden—

If you have not already started your late garden, it should be done without further delay. Get a copy of the garden circular No. 376 from your Extension Agent and plan a good fall garden for canning and storage of vegetables.

SAVE YOUR GARDEN SEED. Much garden seed can be saved each year.

Save Seed on Kentucky Farms—

Unless far more seed than usual is saved on Kentucky farms this year, our quotas for war production of foods and feeds will not be met. We may not be able to buy, transport, or pay for seed from outside sources.

Local production of seed is a vital part of the country's war effort. Some of our supplies of imported seed have been cut off or seriously reduced, transportation means are jammed, and bagging material is scarce. In addition, our allies need large amounts of American-grown seed.

Seed saving in an important part of the Live-at-Home Program. A dollar saved on seed is a dollar available for winning the war!

Kentucky farmers need to produce more seed of orchard grass, bluegrass, fescue (Ky. No. 31), ryegrass, vetch, clover (red, crimson, and sweet), Balbo rye, and improved varieties of barley, oats, wheat and ryegrass.

Classified Ads Get Results

Your Eyes Optometrist

Better have your eyes examined —they may be the cause of your feeling tired and irritable.

JOS. B. SCHNIPPERING
Optometrist and Optician
(Formerly with F. Pieper)
5 Pike Street, Covington
Phone HElock 0700

There is a MAN from this family IN THE NAVY

FOR FAMILIES OF NAVY MEN
This window sticker is being issued in color. It may be obtained by applying to the nearest Navy Recruiting Station.

RAILROADS ...and War

To the Public:

From the scant business of a great depression the railroads are now handling the largest volume of freight and passenger business since the boom times of 1929. The demands of war required immediate carriage of men and supplies to the front lines. That the railroads could so quickly and ably meet the crisis shows meritorious performance. Many attest to that conclusion. Read these typical expressions:

Congressman Clarence F. Lea, Chairman, Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce:

"Today we have a railroad management schooled in our transportation difficulties in the World War and trained in efficiency under the pressure of unfavorable economic conditions and keen competition of the last two decades.

"In all the world no job is being better done today than by the American Railroads."

(From speech in House of Representatives, September 25, 1941)

* * *

Director of Office of Defense Transportation, Joseph B. Eastman:

"The carriers have also been on the alert, and last year made a record in increased efficiency of operation which is both remarkable and highly commendable."

(From address at Atlanta, Ga., February 27, 1942)

"Notwithstanding the meager additions to equipment which have been made since 1939 in the face of a tremendous increase in traffic, the railroads have met all needs, with a few minor and temporary exceptions, adequately and efficiently. Every one must concede that they have done an outstanding piece of work."

(From address at Philadelphia, Penn., April 9, 1942)

* * *

Senator Clyde M. Reed:

"The railroads have been through some lean years. With very few exceptions their credit was impaired during these lean years. About one-third of the mileage of the American railroads was in bankruptcy. Substantial mileage is still in bankruptcy . . .

"Yet the railroads of the United States are doing the most phenomenal job in their history . . .

"Outside the production of essentials, no factor in our economic structure is so important as transportation. The railroads of the country have an ample supply of ability in their executives, and of efficient and loyal service from the million men who operate the trains and man the offices and yards. To all of those men who have contributed to this almost miraculous result, I pay my tribute . . ."

(From speech in the United States Senate, May 11, 1942)

* * *

The American Magazine:

"The American Magazine believes that railroad efficiency is one of America's modern marvels. No industry has responded more completely to the call for extra work and greater responsibility. The railroads have taken on the war load instantly and effectively, and they have done it without impairing their regular services. Passenger travel was never handled better, and the standards of comfort are the highest in the world's transportation history.

"A train may be late occasionally because of troop movements, but what good American would squawk about that?"

(From "The Girl on the Train" pamphlet, June 1942)

The Louisville & Nashville is glad to have made its contribution to the war effort. It not only put its entire facilities in good condition in anticipation of the demands, but in addition has since January 1938 spent or contracted for over $46,000,000 in improvements to roadway and equipment.

Its Federal taxes in 1941 were $9,391,531; taxes for railroad social security, pensions, etc., were $3,087,523, and for purposes of local government, $5,183,378—a total of $17,662,432.

As further calls are made upon us, management and employes will face the demand with confident courage. We greatly appreciate the many ways in which our patrons have been co-operative and helpful.

Properly, precedence must be given to the essential requirements of war. Government freight and soldier trains must have the right-of-way. If occasional delays or inconveniences ensue, we hope these will be accepted as a part of your contribution to what it takes to win this war.

To merit and hold your patronage and good will is our earnest desire.

L&N

J. Bell
President

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE RAILROAD COMPANY

Money Talks

By Frederick Stamm, Economist Director of Adult Education UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

The Office of Price Administration has set July 1 as the date on which it will put into effect the new price regulations on many "retail services."

Some of the more common consumer services which will come under this regulation are laundry and dry cleaning, shoe repairing, lubrication and repair of private automobiles and other garage services, the repair and servicing of home radio sets and electrical appliances, tailoring, and even the sharpening of household knives and scissors. The maximum price which retailers may charge for these services is the highest price which was charged during March, 1942.

Every person or firm supplying these services is automatically licensed under this regulation. These firms will receive no certificate or formal license, but the Government will nevertheless consider them licensed. The purpose of this automatic license is to secure a method of enforcement. If a seller, after a warning from the O. P. A., violates the regulation, a court of proper jurisdiction may suspend the license for as long as twelve months, and without a license it is illegal to sell services which come under this regulation.

In case these price regulations work an undue hardship on the retailers performing these services, the O. P. A. has set up machinery by which a person may apply for relief. But it is absolutely necessary that retailers performing various services investigate and see if they come under these regulations. If they are not sure of their status, they should contact the nearest O. P. A. office and secure the full regulations.

Professional services, such as those of doctors, dentists, and lawyers, are exempt from price control by the general regulation. Barber shop and beauty parlor prices are also exempt.

Thus we see the Government is enlarging its control over prices of commodities and services which the consumer buys. We may expect more of this, for inflation must be curbed if our living standards are to be maintained.

Girl Reporter Goes to Town

THAT'S what they called Dorothy Kilgallen not so long ago that she isn't still in the forenoon of the first draft. And in the July Cosmopolitan she not only goes to town in telling what goes on, but covers the field from the sophistication of jive to the rusticity of a hayride.

Among other things, she calls attention to the imagination which makes an American boy such a resourceful soldier. That imagination, coupled with a definite quality of being no respecter of persons is reflected in the nicknames he gives his battle equipment. Thus, the heating devices worn by high-altitude fliers in the Air Corps are known as "Lana Turners". The bulging safety paraphernalia worn on their chests by dive-bomber pilots are called "Mae Wests", a nickname borrowed from the R.A.F. The biggest field guns are termed "Kate Smiths", and those huge mechanical ears used to detect enemy planes are referred to, without the slightest disrespect, as "Clark Gables". Who says our Army hasn't a sense of humor?

Dorothy Kilgallen

Dorothy also goes in a big way for the new band organized by Ray McKinley, formerly Will Bradley's virtuoso on the drums and now a maestro, full-fledged. Uncle Sam's first claim on the musicians Ray originally had in mind forced him to make a tour of ten states in search of "kid" talent, and he found his boys in high school auditoriums. They play great jazz, and why not? They grew up in the years since swing has become a national craze.

So keen an eye on the Girl Reporter, if you want to know "What's Going On".

When Your Back Hurts

And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

DOAN'S PILLS

SAVE EVERY BIT OF RUBBER, WOMEN TOLD

Re-emphasizing the need to save for the county salvage committees every bit of scrap rubber not urgently needed, Miss Myrtle Weldon, state leader of county home demonstration work in Kentucky, calls attention to the following figures released by national officials:

On the B-19 planes, the flying fortresses, the bullet-proof gas tanks require 1,200 pounds of rubber.

Each tire on the main landing wheel of the B-19 bomber weighs half a ton.

In a battleship, there are 150,000 pounds of rubber, as much as in 10,000 auto tires.

This merely shows how much the government needs rubber for war. Much reconditioned can be used for vital national needs, so that "fresh" rubber can go solely for war. Discarded overshoes or boots, rings for cans, atomizers, etc., may be contributed.

NICHOLSON

"Bear ye one another's burdens." The worship and love of God and loyalty to our fellowmen must flower in the deed rather than words. Hearts should be touched by the needs of the unfortunate knowing the joy of giving, lending a "helping hand." So live "that many may rejoice that you have passed their way." We best serve Christ by serving others and "to lift another's load is to lighten your own."

Thousands of ardent admirers of Rev. and Mrs. E. Howard Cadle unite in extending heartiest congratulations on their wonderful achievements at the Cadle Tabernacle in Indianapolis. He is a minister of distinction and an internationally prominent figure, and Mrs. Cadle possesses a voice of exceptional beauty, sweetly singing the theme song each morning. Her voice blends beautifully with that of her husband, Mr. Davis and other vocalists of the staff. Their beloved son Buford is greatly missed as announcer on their excellent programs, but desiring to serve our country in these dark days, he is pilot of a large plane risking his life that we may not taste defeat, so let each Advertiser reader breathe a prayer for his safety. Sunday and Monday the widely known Gospel singer, Mr. Homer Rodeheaver, and sister favored the radio audience with beautiful numbers. Strongly did he urge all listeners to help liquidate the $87,000 debt on the Tabernacle, and be a participant in the burning of the mortgage. Radio sets have been installed in more than 600 abandoned churches and a number of jails and we prayerfully trust that many will liberally give to them for advancement of His cause. Through the kindness of Mrs. Walter Maddox in loaning several copies of "Cadle Call," we enjoy a close perusal. These helpful, inspiring messages are broadcast over WLW each Sunday at 12 o'clock, noon, and daily at 7 a. m.

Pvt. John Butler, who is home enjoying his furlough with loved ones, was guest of honor at a lovely luncheon Father's Day, when Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Butler entertained a number of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Hume paid a brief call last week.

Recent callers were Mrs. John Hume, Mrs. Fisk and Mrs. Williams. Deeply appreciated were their lovely gifts.

SAVE THE COFFEE CAN!

Soon coffee will be packed in paper packages or, in some cases, in glass containers. The day of the tin or steel coffee can is about over for the duration of the war. Therefore, it may be well to keep on hand one or two good coffee cans and to store coffee bought in paper packages in the tin can. It will not in itself make all the difference between good an dbad coffee, but it may be a factor. Keep coffee can tightly covered, and in the icebox. The oil in coffee starts getting rancid in less than nine days.

NEW PONDS BEING BUILT

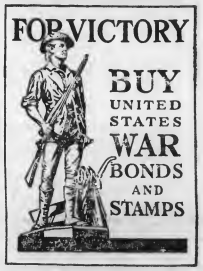
There have been a number of new ponds constructed in the county during the past month, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

Farmers who have ponds constructed should be sure they core down to impervious clay soil before starting to construct their dams and that there is a clay core center. This prevents leaks.

Ponds on most farms are the cheapest source of abundant supply of livestock water.

Edmonson county farmers have seen demonstrations of the small economy-type thresher.

EYE AID



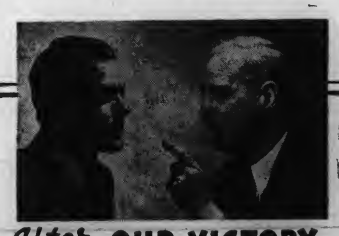
A WARNING!

Because they have no pain, many persons never suspect they are subject to eyestrain. This is a harmful situation. Eyestrain is a constant drain on the nervous system, and may cause headaches, lassitude, etc. If neglected, it may work serious injury.

Let us carefully examine your eyes and furnish proper glasses, if needed. Relief from eyestrain will make you feel like an entirely different person.

Frank Riggs

FOR VICTORY



BUY UNITED STATES WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

Don't Let
HIGH PRICES UNPLEASANT TASTE INCONVENIENCE

Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.

You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take

ONE A DAY
VITAMIN A AND D TABLETS
Pleasant-tasting - Convenient Economical

After* OUR VICTORY..

you will surely need a cash reserve as well as U.S. Savings Bonds, so add to your savings account substantially—often.

FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN INSURANCE CORPORATION INSURED $5000

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF COVINGTON

501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1343

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Ruth Haley is the guest this week of Miss Elaine Gardiner of Lexington.

Anna Dudgeon and Gladys Dudgeon entertained with a dinner Sunday in honor of the following: Mr. and Mrs. Omer Dudgeon, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sparks and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks, Mrs. Edith Black and Mary Katherine Black, Charlie Sparks, and Miss Ellen Miskell.

Miss Nellie Sparks spent a few days last week with Miss Betty Ashcraft of Covington.

Miss Mary Katherine Black has gone to work for Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Chipman.

Miss Helen Ruth Gardiner, a faculty member at Simon Kenton High School, expects to enroll for graduate work at the University of Kentucky next week.

Miss Ellen Miskell spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Omer Dudgeon and son.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Burris and family spent Thursday with her mother, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmink of Cleveland, Ohio, former residents of Walton, recently adopted a baby girl, Carolyn Ann, who was born June 20th. Mr. Schmink is an employee of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

William Lloyd sold a 170 pound calf at the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards that brought $15.00.

Michael Prusack and Florian V. Lusby, who are with the Army in Ft. Thomas, were visiting friends here for a few hours last Friday.

Mrs. Nick Welsh spent from Monday until Wednesday evening in Sanders, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Deatherage.

Mrs. Alpha Hance of Georgetown was called here by the death of her aunt, Mrs. Sallie Hance.

Miss Masil Falls has returned to her home here after spending some time with her sisters, Mrs. J. C. Maples of Hampton, and Mrs. R. F. Sulzberger of Ft. Monroe, Va. Miss Falls' nephew, Steve Denby, and niece, Betty Denby, of Norfolk, Va., accompanied her home for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hastings and bright little daughter, Jane Ogle, of Cincinnati, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Julia A. Rouse and Miss Georgia Rouse.

Moore and Henderson, Walton, had 15 red and white 232 pound hogs at the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards which brought $14.80 the top.

Mrs. R. M. Callendar left Friday for Louisville, being called there by the illness of Mr. Callendar's sister, Miss Ida Callendar.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Johnson and son of Beaver were visitors in Walton, Tuesday. Mr. Johnson has recently returned from a visit with relatives and friends in Tennessee.

Miss Jane Alderson of Flemingsburg, was the guest of Miss Betty Jean Wills, the past week.

Rev. and Mrs. George S. Caroland attended commencement at the College of the Bible, Lexington, on Sunday evening of last week, and remained to visit with relatives and friends there. Later in the week they visited relatives in Glasgow, returned home here on Friday.

Miss Helen Ruth Gardiner left Sunday for Lexington to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr and Mrs. L. A. Gardiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Guilfoyle and son of Lexington were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hall. Mrs. Guilfoyle is the sister of Mrs. Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Knox are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Chandler since their home was destroyed by fire. The entire community sympathizes with them in their great loss.

Miss Mary Rensler, Mrs. J. B. Doan and daughter June were the guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Ervin of Versailles, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Vallandingham left Thursday for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Dwight Webber, and Mr. Webber in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Percival and two daughters, Margaret and Annabelle, are spending the week with Mr. Percival's brother, Lynn Percival, of the LLL Highway, near Nicholson.

D. L. Lusby has begun work on his new store building, on the site where his store and home recently burned.

Mrs. John B. Walton of Burlington is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Lula J. Hudson, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stephens of Burlington were guests Saturday of Mrs. Stephens' mother, Mrs. Zella M. Walton.

Miss Corinne Moore spent last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Franks of Sherman.

Mrs. A. E. Kirkpatrick and son of Burlington visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gaines, and family on Monday.

Miss Thelma Howe spent the weekend with Miss Jeanne Perrow of Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stout and son of Winchester, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dunn and son of Lexington called on their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stephenson and son Joe, Sunday.

Mrs. Elmer Sizemore of Dayton, Ohio visited Mr. and Mrs. Obie Cook and son, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Kelly and family entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Norvin Bickers and family and Janice Mair of Ft. Knox.

O. P. Mann and daughter, Sue, spent Monday in Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. John Paris of Lexington are spending their vacation with her mother, Mrs. Sallie Day, and Jimmy Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hanna had as guests Sunday, Mrs. Hanna's niece, Mrs. Leslie and family, also afternoon guests were Wanda and Harold Williams.

Mrs. Caroline Armstrong and son attended the Wayman reunion Sunday.

Remember the revival services at Staffordsburg beginning Sunday evening, July 5th and continuing through the 19th. Rev. Kidwell, pastor, with James W. Averitt, evangelist. Services will begin at 8:30 p. m. Come out and join us. If ever there was a time when we should go back to God, it is now. Everybody welcome.

Try Our Classified Ad Section!

Official U. S. Treasury

War Bond Quotas

FOR JULY

and May War Bond Scoreboard

38 States Top Quota; 10 States and District of Columbia Fall Short

(June Sales to be published soon)

State	July Quota	May Sales	% Above or May Below May Quota
Alabama	$ 7,881,000	$ 5,265,030	$ 3,737,000	+29.6
Arizona	2,945,000	1,965,000	1,358,000	+44.8
Arkansas	5,079,000	3,556,000	2,682,000	+32.6
California	61,687,000	41,225,000	40,011,000	+ 3.0
Colorado	6,840,000	4,327,000	4,086,000	+ 5.9
Connecticut	25,534,000	16,518,000	13,228,000	+24.9
Delaware	2,657,000	1,649,000	1,861,000	−11.4
Dist. Columbia	6,250,000	3,958,000	6,179,000	− 3.6
Florida	9,842,000	6,716,000	5,794,000	+15.9
Georgia	9,797,000	6,439,000	5,365,000	+20.0
Idaho	3,375,000	2,208,000	1,451,000	+52.2
Illinois	84,925,000	52,527,000	49,900,000	+ 5.3
Indiana	18,800,000	14,910,000	10,926,000	+36.5
Iowa	15,000,000	13,870,000	9,000,000	+54.1
Kansas	8,073,000	5,290,000	4,617,000	+14.6
Kentucky	9,504,000	6,177,000	5,558,000	+11.1
Louisiana	8,623,000	5,875,000	4,944,000	+18.8
Maine	6,384,000	4,146,000	3,295,000	+25.8
Maryland	13,535,000	8,382,000	9,079,000	− 7.6
Massachusetts	46,144,000	28,738,000	28,771,000	− .1
Michigan	39,466,000	26,240,000	21,647,000	+21.2
Minnesota	19,580,000	12,574,000	11,657,000	+ 7.9
Mississippi	5,343,000	3,698,000	2,905,000	+27.3
Missouri	27,827,000	18,713,000	17,075,000	+ 9.6
Montana	3,222,000	2,156,000	2,785,000	−22.6
Nebraska	7,235,000	4,590,000	3,286,000	+39.7
Nevada	1,038,000	692,000	581,000	+19.1
N. Hampshire	3,360,000	2,168,000	1,895,000	+14.4
New Jersey	35,247,000	22,889,000	26,727,000	−14.4
New Mexico	1,771,000	1,185,000	1,055,000	+12.3
New York	$171,596,000	$106,671,000	$125,000,000	−14.7
No. Carolina	12,153,000	8,190,000	5,889,000	+39.1
North Dakota	3,112,000	2,039,000	1,393,000	+47.8
Ohio	55,151,000	35,899,000	31,789,000	+13.0
Oklahoma	8,855,000	5,919,000	5,389,000	+ 9.8
Oregon	8,965,000	5,676,000	5,611,000	+ 1.2
Pennsylvania	81,050,000	53,514,000	53,814,000	− .6
Rhode Island	6,936,000	4,404,000	5,352,000	−17.7
South Carolina	4,320,000	3,097,000	2,453,000	+26.3
South Dakota	2,464,000	1,731,000	1,339,000	+29.7
Tennessee	10,092,000	6,484,000	5,141,000	+26.1
Texas	33,877,000	22,479,000	18,594,000	+20.9
Utah	2,879,000	2,057,000	1,201,000	+71.3
Vermont	2,188,000	1,449,000	1,205,000	+20.3
Virginia	12,698,000	9,092,000	8,065,000	+ 1.4
Washington	13,415,000	11,082,000	7,581,000	+46.2
W. Virginia	6,111,000	4,062,000	4,108,000	− 1.1
Wisconsin	19,265,000	12,280,000	11,977,000	+ 2.5
Wyoming	1,519,000	984,000	1,003,000	− 1.9
Alaska	738,000	492,000	198,000	+148.5
Canal Zone	321,000	(No Report)
Hawaii	8,439,000	5,985,000	992,000	+503.3
Puerto Rico	296,000	183,000	214,000	−14.5
Virgin Islands	16,000	(No Report)	9,000
Unallocated	37,000,000*
Total	$1,000,000,000	$634,356,020	$600,000,000	+5.7

*Not distributed by States.

Henry Morgenthau Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, today made public the official War Bond Quotas by States for the month of July, which places the nation on a Billion-dollar-a-month basis to aid in meeting the War cost. The above table also gives May War Bond sales in the various states in comparison to the May Quotas. (June sales by states will be available for publication shortly.) The percentage of Quotas range from 71.3 percent above quota in Utah, to 22.6 percent below the quota in Montana, but puts the nation as a whole above the $600,000,000 total May quota. Vulnerable Alaska and Hawaii led all states in sale of War Bonds on quota basis.

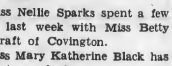
"Everybody, every pay day ten percent" is the Treasury slogan which is expected to place one of the attractive new window stickers in every American home. "We're Buying at Least 10%" reads the sticker, printed in the national colors. The new window stickers and the new "10%" lapel button, which indicates that the wearer is investing at least ten percent of his income in War Bonds every pay day, are yardsticks of patriotism in the War Bond Drive.

U. S. Treasury Department

J. L. HAMILTON & SON

FUNERAL SERVICE

VERONA -:- KENTUCKY



Adolph, Benito and Hirohito —the three blind mice. Make them run with ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day.

Pike county homemakers have engaged in the task of helping with public information on sugar rationing.

The Bourbon county seed association will require all members to clean and treat barley seed to be sold.

Scott county already has launched a scrap paper campaign, following a huge success with the scrap metal drive.

Up to May 1, Barren county contributed 1,369,000 pounds of war scrap.

KEEP YOUR EYES "ON THE ALERT"

Have your eyes checked—it's your patriotic duty to keep them in perfect condition. Let us examine your eyes at once.

L. J. METZGER

Optometrist Optician

631 Madison Ave.

Covington

Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

4th of July SPECIALS

EVERYDAY LOW PRICES—

Advance Flour—24 lb. bag 78c

Peaches—Honey Grove, 1 gal. can 69c

Baking Powder—Clabber Girl, 2 lb. can 22c

Cocoa—Our Mothers 2 lb. can 17c

Corn—Elmdale Cream Style. No. 2 can 10c

Pork & Beans—Del Haven, No. 2½ can 12½c

Salmon—Brook-Dale 1 lb. can 20½c

Bring Your Sugar Orders for Canning to Model Food Store—lb. 7c

Corn Flakes—Millers 11 oz. pkg. 8c

Apricots—2½ can 19c

FREE Tag Soap with Werko Soap Powder 25c

Macaroni or Spaghetti—7 oz. pkg. 4c

Milk—White Villa 3 tall cans 23c

Brooms—each 39c

Matches—Safe Home 6 boxes 28c

FREE—1 pt. Ice Cream with each $5.00 Grocery Order

Dog Food—ABC 2 1-lb. cans 15c

Ivory Soap—Large size 3 bars for 31c

Corn Meal—Old Ky. 25 lbs. 69c

SATURDAY ONLY—

Wheat Tempties—2 8-oz. pkgs. 15c

Peaches—Freestone No. 2½ can 15c

Salad Dressing—pint jar 15c

Octagon Cleaner—3 for 10c

Spam—Luncheon Meat can 39c

Candy Bars—All 5c bars 3 for 11c

Grapefruit Juice—Bestex—No. 5 can 17½c

Place Your Orders for Dressed Poultry

Bologna—2-lb. piece or more—lb. 16c

Cream Cheese—Longhorn; 2-lb. piece; lb. 26c

Jowl Bacon—Strip pound 18c

Cheese—Kraft American 2 lb. box 55c

Pure Lard—Partridge 50 lb. can $7.19

Veal Chops—Lb. 39c

Round Steak—Lb. 39c

Pork Bone—3 lbs. 27c

Oleo Butter—Honey Grove; 1 lb. pkg. 16c

Whiting Fish—Lb. 14c

Tomatoes—Home Grown; lb. 10c

Oranges—doz. 19c

Bananas—lb. 9c

Potatoes—size B 10 lbs. 25c

New Apples—lb. 7½c

MELONS ON ICE

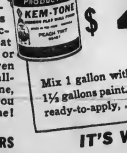
WE DELIVER — 10:30 a. m.; 4:30 p. m.

Model Food Store

C. W. CHIPMAN, Prop.

WALTON, KY. PHONE 21

IMAGINE PAINTING AS EASY AS THIS!



•THIN PAINT WITH WATER! •PAINT ON ANY SURFACE! •USE JUST ONE COAT! •IT'S DRY IN ONE HOUR!

New Kem-Tone SHERWIN-WILLIAMS

FOR PAINTING WALLS, CEILINGS AND OVER WALLPAPER

It's the latest miracle from the paint laboratories of the world's largest paint manufacturers. It's a paint that covers almost any wall or ceiling surface . . . even paints right over wallpaper! Imagine the time, trouble and money you can save with Kem-Tone! See us today!

$2.98 GAL.

PASTE FORM

Mix 1 gallon with water and make 1½ gallons paint. Your cost ready-to-apply, . . . per gal. $1.98

NEWEST PASTEL COLORS

IT'S WASHABLE!

I also have a Full Line of Oil Cook Stoves, Electric Fans, Genuine Parts for McCormick-Deering Machinery, Cream Separators, Five Shovel Cultivators, Bailing Ties — Come to this Store for Your Farm and Home Needs — I have the goods.

B. F. ELLIOTT

WALTON KENTUCKY

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS

INDEPENDENCE R-1

Watch therefore, for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.—Matthew 24:42.

We are very sorry to report Mrs Maggie Lamb seriously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stella Richardson. We certainly wish her a speedy recovery.

The farmers are very much delayed in working out their crops on account of the heavy rains, but the rains were very much appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crouch and sons visited relatives at Sparta, Sunday.

Mrs. Sallie Cotton is spending a few days with her grandson, Earl Williams and family.

Mrs. Pearl Yelton visited her mother, Mrs. Lamb and her sister Mrs. Stella Richardson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney and family entertained Sunday for her mother, Mrs. Stephens, and sisters, Alma and Mary, of Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Giles and children spent the day Sunday with his parents in Harrison County.

Mrs. Will Gedkar visited with her mother, Mrs. Lon Richardson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Hoffman

The McCreary county hybrid corn acreage this year adds up to eight times as much as any previous year.

WANTED — 25 pounds Clean Cotton Rags—5c per lb. or a year's subscription to paper. Walton Advertiser.

SLAP THAT JAP!

BUG SWATTERS cost money!

BUY U.S. WAR BONDS-STAMPS

HOME NURSING CLASS PROGRESSING NICELY

The class in Home Nursing which is being held at the Church of the Brethern, Stringtown, is progressing nicely, This includes Constance.

Those attending are Mrs. Geo. Kottmyer, Mrs. Ollie Kottmyer, Mrs. Myrtle Reeves, Mrs. Nora Hankins, Mrs. Paul Craven, Mrs. James Clayton, Mrs. Pearl Tunning, Miss Cora L. Holt, Miss Emogene Austin, Miss Ethel Reeves, Mrs. Wyoma Reeves, Mrs. Grace Layne, Mrs. Hannah Rodamer, Mrs. Orion Erbaugh, Mrs. Lawretta Hankins, Mrs. Nora Hankins, Mrs. Cora Reeves, Mrs. Pearl Peeno, Mrs. Sam Peeno, Mrs. Elmer Peeno, Mrs. Virginia Peeno, Miss Helen Peeno, Miss Henretta Cox and Miss Vivian Craven.

July Clearance Sale

of all

Men's, Women's & Children's

Summer Shoes

MEN'S $6 All White, Brown and White Two-Tone —size 6½ to 12, A to E width $4.69

MEN'S $3.85 and $5.00 All White, Brown and White Two Tone—sizes 6½ to 11, B to E $3.45

WOMEN'S Brown and White Pumps—Ties and Oxfords $3.85 values. All $2.69

WOMEN'S Blue and White Pumps—sizes 5 to 9, AAA to D $2.69

WOMEN'S White Nurse Oxfords—sizes to 9—$3.85 value $2.69

ALL CHILDRENS' White Straps, Brown and White Oxfords, Toeless Shoes, up to $3.45 values, sizes 6 1-2 to 8, 8 1-2 to 11 1-2, 12 to 3—widths AA to D. All $1.89

GROWING GIRLS' White Toeless Brown and White Oxford Pumps—size 4 to 9, widths AAA to D. All $2.69

LUHN & STEVIE SHOE STORE

34 PIKE ST. COVINGTON, KY. HE. 9558

X-RAY FITTINGS

4th of July PICNIC

AND

Chicken Dinner

AT

Warsaw High School

Warsaw, Kentucky - U. S. Highway 42

Benefit of St. Joseph's Church

CHICKEN DINNER . . . 50c

SERVED FROM 11:00 A. M. TO 8:00 P. M.

— BAND CONCERT —

GAMES AND MANY OTHER ATTRACTIONS

COME - - - RAIN OR SHINE

—Make Arrangements to Meet Your Friends Here—

FAIR GROUNDS LAKE BIDS ARE REJECTED

The 4-H and Utopia Club Fair Ground's building committee received only two sealed bids for the construction of the proposed lake on the grounds. One bid was $1,239.50 without the spillway, and the other was $1,600.00 for construction of both lake and spillway. Both bids were rejected.

Five hundred dollars was allotted in the Fair Grounds purchasing program for the construction of the lake. The war will necessitate a higher expenditure for the lake and the 4-H and Utopia Council was prepared to meet a reasonable increased expenditure.

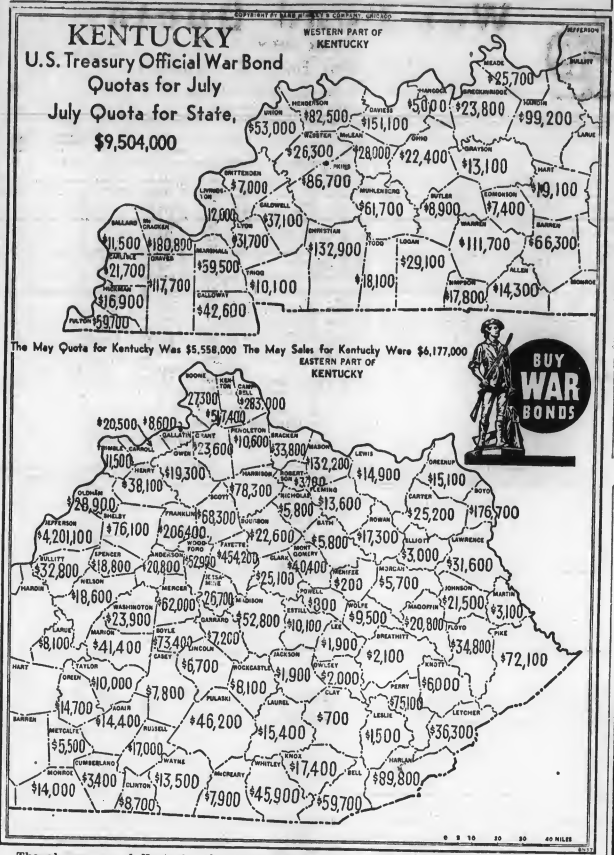
The 4-H and Utopia Club Council feels that those who made the purchase of the grounds possible want our war effort to have first choice of all other programs. While the completion of some of the plans for improving the grounds may have to be postponed until after the war, the council pledges full support to the completion of the Fair Grounds program and recognition to all who gave it their most loyal support.

Boone county 4-H'ers and Utopia members have procured seed for planting six acres of castor beans.

ENTERTAIN FOR DAUGHTER IN LATONIA

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Conrad entertained recently with an interesting party in honor of their daughter, Alma Blanche, who graduated from Holmes High School, June 16th, at their home in Latonia.

Those enjoying the occasion were Misses Dorcas Coyle, Emogene Gordon, Ruth Baker, Lois Anderson, Marguerite Sturgeon, Wanda Clifford, Virginia Sturgeon, Richard Albers, Bud Edington, Kenneth Baldwin, Tommy Rowlette, Harold Miller, James Webb, Wayne Conrad, Bobby Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sturgeon and daughter Ida Mae, Mrs. Cecil Parker, Rev. and Mrs. D. B. Eastep and son Danny, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stephenson and daughter Annelle, Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Lebus Stephenson, Mrs. Mary Sexton and Miss Alva Marie Flynn.



Miss Alma was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

The evening was spent in games and singing of school songs. Dainty refreshments were served.

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

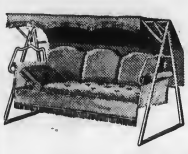
OFFICIAL U. S. TREASURY WAR BOND QUOTAS FOR JULY

The above map of Kentucky shows the War Bond quotas, by counties, for the month of July, 1942. Total War Bond quota for the state is $9,504,000. With the National quota total placed at a billion dollars, the nation goes into high gear in its support of the War financing and to give our fighting forces adequate implements of war which will bring ultimate Victory. American Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Airmen are on every front. They are giving 100 percent for their country. What are we doing here on the home front? Are we lending at least ten percent of income to help them? It's very little. But to fight this war successfully our country needs a billion dollars in War Bonds every month from us—the People. Let's Go, America.

U. S. Treasury Department

wool, are in such demand that the War Production Board has recently stepped up its requirements to 15½ million before the end of next year. This is several times normal production.

The most practical way of getting a large number of these pelts from Kentucky is to shear during the last two weeks in July all lambs that are not ready for market by the middle of that month and finish in the fall, at which time most of them will have the proper length of wool for a No. 1 pelt, which is from ½ to one inch in length. Skins with ¼ to ½ inch of wool classifies as No. 2 pelts. The ceiling price on a No. 1 pelt is $2.15 and on No. 2, $1.90.



All lambs weighing under 75 pounds by the middle of July should be weaned, sheared during the last two weeks of that month and finished at 85 to 100 pounds for fall marketing.

In order to carry lambs through in condition to make good gains when the nights get cool in the fall, they should be treated at least every month and preferably every three weeks for the control of internal parasites. In most cases, the combination bluestone "Black-leaf 40" treatment will be sufficient.

A Carter county farmer has reclaimed a 10-acre field by building a tile drainage system.

A dime out of every dollar we earn
IS OUR QUOTA for VICTORY with U. S. WAR BONDS

Is YOUR SUBSCRIPTION Paid In Advance?
It Should Be, You Know!
WALTON ADVERTISER
PHONE 30

GLIDERS
and
GLIDER CUSHIONS
BEAUTIFUL
as well as
COMFORTABLE
ALSO A COMPLETE LINE OF
Awnings, Hammocks, Porch and Lawn Furniture.
Covington Awning & Roofing Co.
3rd & SCOTT STS., COVINGTON HIland 1735

Prepare For A Good Position
Salaries to Start — $18.00 to $35.00 Per Week.
National Defense and Private Industry Needs
More Stenographers and Typists—
DAY & NIGHT CLASSES — Start Your Course at Once.
Curtis Commercial College
EDWARD C. BADER, Principal
COlonial 0583 7 West Pike St., Covington, Ky.

Boehmer's Wearmore House Paint is weather resistant, made of the highest grade ingredients for permanency of color and durability. It will withstand the scorching sun, drenching rain, and bitter cold. All of which makes it quite evident that it is no ordinary paint. It has withstood the test of nearly half a century—that's how long the name of Boehmer has been associated with good paint.
There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You,
Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.
THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.
114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212

COPPIN'S ARE OPEN
FRIDAY NIGHT
UNTIL 9 P. M.
RELAX
and ENJOY
the 4th
IN A NEW SWIM SUIT or
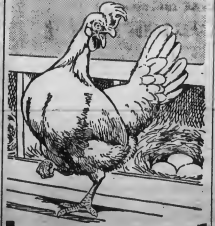
SLACK SUIT
A Complete Line for Misses, Women and Children—
Second Floor
COPPIN'S
1st and 2nd Floors are Air-Conditioned for Your Shopping Comfort.
The John R. Coppin Company
Madison, at Seventh - Covington, Ky.

HICKORY GROVE W. M. U. MEETS WITH MRS. FRAKES

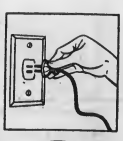
The Woman's Missionary Union of the Hickory Grove Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. J. A. Frakes on South Taylor Mill pike June 9th.

The morning was taken up with the business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. J. C. Reynolds. Roll call was answered by twelve members present with a love offering and a verse of scripture.

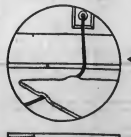
A lovely covered dish luncheon was served to the following: Mrs. Edward Carr, Mrs. C. W. Carter, and mother, Mrs. Dudgeon, Mrs. C. S. Weldon, Mrs. Walter Moffett, Mrs. Fleming Glass, Mrs. Walter Maddox. Mrs. Ada Alexander, Mrs. W. H. Summey, Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mrs. J. A. Frakes, Mrs. F. H. Shanklin and son Kenton Leigh, and Mrs. Arthur O'Neal



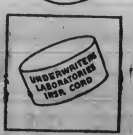
Mrs. C. W. Carter, the program chairman, had charge of the afternoon session. It was opened with prayer by Mrs. J. A. Frakes. Watchword for the year was given—Oh send out Thy light and Thy truth.—Psa. 43:3.



All members took part in the program, taken from the June issue of Royal Service. Topic for the month: Think on these things—Whatsoever things are of good report. A very interesting and inspiring lesson closed by prayer by Mrs. Walter Moffett.



Next meeting July 14th at the home of Mrs. F. H. Shanklin. Everybody come!



KENTUCKY PELTS TO HELP WIN THE WAR

Kentucky sheepmen are being asked by he War Production Bd. to supply as many shearling pelts as possible from which warm clothing can be made for aviators and their ground crews. Shearling pelts, which are sheep and lamb skins with less than one inch of

GET THOSE EGGS
economically, with Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS
$4.50 PER 100
DR. SALSBURY POULTRY REMEDIES
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

CONSERVE FOR VICTORY
HOW TO GET LONGER WEAR FROM YOUR
Appliance Cords
With appliance cord production curtailed, you'll want to make your present ones last, so you can make full use of your electric appliances. These tips will help:

Don't pull plug from outlet by yanking on cord. Eventually, you'll loosen connections and break wires. Take hold of plug itself.
Don't place cords in door jambs. Squeezing action from opening and closing door will break protective covering around wires.

Don't run cords under rugs. Constant walking on them will wear off insulation and allow wires to come in contact, causing a "short."
Don't use appliance or extension cords as substitutes for permanent wiring. Such makeshifts are dangerous. Never tack or nail through a cord.

Don't run cords across radiators or other hot metal objects. Heat may burn through insulation and allow wires to touch metal.
Insist on approved cords, identified by a band certifying inspection by Underwriters Laboratories. They wear longer and are safe.

Don't wad up cords and store in drawer when not in use. Hang loosely from a hook or nail. Avoid knots and kinks.
COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
INCORPORATED
BUY U.S. WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER—Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1860

BAPTIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

C. J. ALFORD, Pastor

Bible School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:15 a. m.
B. T. U.....7:30 p. m.
Evening Worship.....8:30 p. m.
Prayer Meeting, Wed., 8:30 p. m.

METHODIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor

Sunday School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship.....7:00 p. m.
Evening Service.....8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed.....8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

GEO. CAROLAND, Pastor

Bible School.....10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:30 a. m.
Evening Service.....8:00 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church

J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.
10:00 A. M. Bible School
11:00 A. M. Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. Evening Worship

Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.

Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

Florence Baptist Church
Florence, Kentucky

Harold Wainscott, Pastor

Morning Worship.....11:00 a. m.
Evening Service.....8:00 p. m.
Prayer Service, Wed., 8:00 p. m.

You are invited to come—worship and work with us.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Union, Kentucky

Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister

Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.
10:00 a. m., Sunday School,
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship,
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.

Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.

Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor

Sunday School 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor
First and Third Sunday—
Sunday School 10:00 a. m.
Preaching Service 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor

Sunday School 10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship 11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship 7:30 p. m.

Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH
Verona, Ky.

REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor

Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Morning Worship 11 a. m.
Evening Service 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. 8 p. m.
All times given Central War time

Lost and found columns of Tokio newspapers are crowded these days. Every time an American buys a War Bond, the Japs lose face. Buy your 10% every pay day.

Our Classified Ads Really Get Results. . .

MT. ZION

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Johnson and mother entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Kline Menefee of Flingsville, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Pettit and family, and Geo. Lawrence of Pleasant Ridge, O.

Mrs. Basha Hopkins entertained her children from town Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Miller and son Ervin of Covington spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Justice.

The Carnes children are at the bedside of their father who remains seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jones and daughter and Miss Wilma Jones visited their father, Ed Jones at the hospital. Glad to report Mr. Jones much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lawrence and family and Mrs. Cora Greene were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiner Losey entertained their daughter from the city, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Jarmen and Miss Mary Ben Franks and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clarke were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gross and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Alexander entertained a number of relatives Sunday, also Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gordon.

Sure glad to have Harry Massie of Ft. Knox and Wilbur Bingham of Ft. Thomas with us at Sunday School Sunday. Other visitors were Mrs. Wilbur Bingham, Mrs. Gilpin, Pauline Riley and Margaret Gatewood.

Mrs. Myrtle Eubanks of Crescent Springs and Evelyn Anderson were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Anderson, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant of Covington, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jump.

Several from here attended the funeral services of Rev. Johnson's wife at Walton, Wednesday.

The Kings Daughters Sunday School class enjoyed an all-day picnic near the home of Mrs. Effie York, Wednesday.

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .

DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?

Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.

LANG'S CAFETERIA
623-625 Madison Avenue
COVINGTON KENTUCKY

When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
—24-Hr. Wrecker Service—
Cars Washed - Storage

JONESVILLE

What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who is against us?—Romans 8:31.

Rev. Ross Abernathy filled the pulpit at the Baptist church here Sunday in the absence of Rev. Love, the pastor, who is at Irvine in a revival. Rev. Abernathy was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Cotton and children spent several days last week in Virginia sightseeing and attending some sheep shows.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Furnish and daughter spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall.

Walter Skirvin received word Saturday of the death of his brother, Ernest, who died in the Frankfort Hospital following a major operation. Funeral services were held Monday at the Pleasant Ridge Church with burial in the I. O. O. F. cemetery at Jonesville. The family have the sympathy of this entire community. He leaves his wife and three children, besides his mother and several sisters and brothers.

Miss Edna Miller entertained the G. A. group with a social at her home last Wednesday night. There were 15 girls present and all enjoyed the games and delicious refreshments.

Mrs. Martha Greene entertained the Young Married Women's Sunday School class at her home last Wednesday night. She was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Lenora Stewart. After a business period, games and contests were enjoyed by the guests and refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served.

Miss Mabel Kemper and Miss Geneva Lee Skirvin called on relatatives and friends in Glencoe, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Allena King, who has been very ill for several weeks, is able to be out again, much to the delight of her many friends.

Miss Wilma Hardy of Elizabethtown is visiting relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Greene entertained with a miscellaneous shower at their home last Thursday night for Miss Edith Stewart, who is soon to be wed. She received many nice and useful presents.

Last Saturday night the home of Floyd Stewart was the scene of a quiet wedding—that of his daughter, Edith, to Jessie Lewis of Dayton, Ohio. Rev. Day of God's Bible School sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh, Love That Will Not Let Me Go." The wedding was solemnized by Rev. Gilbert, pastor of the M. E. Church here, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. Miss Rita Garvey and James Shields were their only attendants. After the ceremony a reception was given at the home. They left on Sunday for Dayton, where they will make their home and where the groom has employment.

SPARTA

(Too Late for Last Week)

Mrs. Orville Riley of Newport spent the weekend the guest of the former's mother, Mrs. Emma Robinson.

Miss Jean Riley returned this week from Good Samaritan Hospital, where she was operated on for appendicitis.

Pvt. James Eckler of Camp Charleston, S. C., spent several days here the guest of his parents Claude Eckler and wife.

Billy Bryon Coates returned recently from Christ Hospital, where he was operated on for appendicitis.

Mrs. Grace McCardwell and daughter of Falmouth are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson.

Tommy M. Wilson spent the past week at Ghent the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Riley Ellis.

Ed Russell McCormack was in Latonia the past week in service of the L. & N. Railroad.

Mrs. Velma Juett of Georgetown is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson.

Bobby Riley is spending the week in Cincinnati, the guest of his brother, Lawrence Riley and wife.

Mrs. Beulah Bibb and children of Monterey, Thurston Perry and family and Mrs. W. M. McKendric and daughter Sybil of Owenton were Sunday guests of W. B. Dunavent.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Adams of Indianapolis and John Chambers of Sanders were guests of mine host, B. Judy and wife of Sparta Hotel, Sunday.

CONCORD

The sick of the community are improving. Mrs. D. R. Chapman returned home from her daughter's where she was under the doctor's care.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Robinson went to Ludlow, Friday to assist in their daughter's moving. They purchased a home, with the barber shop attached.

Mrs. Lena Speagle and son Hobert entertained Rev. Smith and wife over the weekend. Services were very well attended. We were glad to have Wilbur Bingham and wife at church. He is stationed at Ft. Thomas now, and is home on a ten-day furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chapman entertained their son and family of Louisville, her mother, Mrs. Gurley and son and grandson of Laconia, Ind., all for the weekend. Sunday, Jim Hedger and family were also dinner guests. In the afternoon John Kenneody and wife, Bert Kennedy and family were there.

Lets all try to attend the W. M. S. meeting at Miss Ella Roberts' the 8th of July, Wednesday.

Kash Martin and family spent the weekend at Mt. Sterling visiting her sister and family. Cleo stayed over for a week.

Come out for Sunday School each Sunday morning.

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. It's your badge of patriotism.

MORNING VIEW

(Too Late for Last Week)

Miss Clara Cross and Mrs. C. L. Cross are in Georgia visiting Pvt. C. L. Cross, who is stationed at the Army Air Base hospital at Savannah.

A shadow of deep gloom has been cast over this community at the passing of James J. Duyer, who died at his home here Friday morning. Although Jimmie had been in bad health for quite some time, his death was sudden and a shock to his family and many friends. He was a valued and true member of St. Mary's Catholic Church, was the son of Jas. E. and the late Matilda (Cook) Duyer, was 47 years of age at the time of his death. In June, 1933, he was united in marriage to Miss Katherine Maloney of Falmouth. Jimmie was all that could be asked of as a neighbor and friend, always willing to help his fellow man. He was a World War veteran, having served overseas. Besides his widow, Mrs. Katherine Duyer, he leaves his aged father, a sister, Mayme, and one brother, John, a host of relatives and friends. Funeral services were held Monday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Mary's Church by his pastor, Father Donnelly, assisted by a former pastor, Rev. Wm. Gockel of Mt. Sterling. Pallbearers were four friends: Wm. Cross, Henry Parr, Dewey Fisk, James Carlisle and two brothers-in-law, Mike and Tom Maloney. Burial was in the church cemetery. Fryer & Peoples conducted the service. The family have the sympathy of their many friends.

INDEPENDENCE

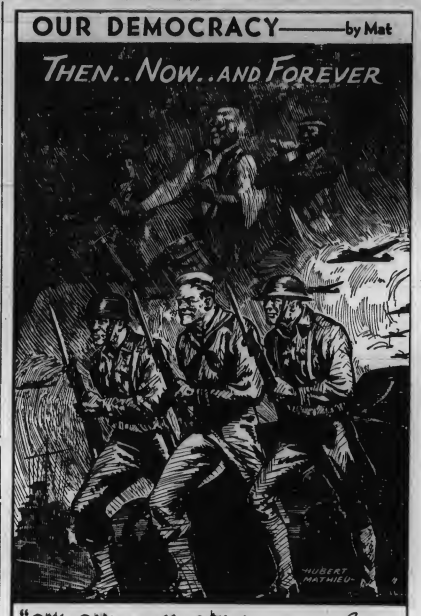
Miss Carrie Smith entertained recently, Mrs. Charlie Tupman of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Cotton of Covington and Mrs. Sallie Cotton of this place, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chapman at Concord.

Mrs. Clarence Baird is visiting her father, John Candy, at Maysville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bagby are entertaining as house guests their relatives Mrs. John Marqua and Miss Roena Osborn of Covington.

Rev. and Mrs. Burton Thirston of Lexington, he being the pastor of the Independence Christian Church, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Baird.



Mr. and Mrs. John Conway and family of Ft. Thomas were guests last week of his sister, Mrs. Walter House, Mr. House and family.

Mrs. Clarence Baird entertained last week her brother, Tom Candy, and Mrs. Candy of St. Louis, Mo.

Miss Myra Stephens is visiting down on the farm with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Butler at Brooksville.

Al Jaegers has returned home from Bowling Green, where attended the Postmaster's convention.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

"We Mutually Pledge our Lives, our Fortunes & our Sacred Honor."
DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE - JULY 4, 1776.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Stephens entertained Friday evening with a six o'clock dinner for Mrs. Stephens' brother, Pvt. Johnnie Butler of Camp Lee, Va., and Mrs Butler, Loraine Galloway, who is being inducted into the army, and Miss Genevieve Stephens.

Mrs. Sallie Cotton, who with her daughter, Mrs. Della Williams of Decoursey, and son Raymond Williams of Latonia, visited on Tuesday her brother, J. F. Kennedy and Mrs. Kennedy at Mt. Zion.

Mr. and Mrs. Herndon Thomas had as Friday evening guests, her cousins, Mrs. Paul Fitzpatrick of St. Bernard, Mrs. Ada Shannon, and Mr. Stewart of Cincinnati.

SUGAR CREEK

Mrs. Pansy Turner and mother Mrs. Clara Stephenson of Covington spent Wednesday at the old home place here.

Letters received here from our neighbor boy, Jack Story, give a glowing account of the Navy and he says he would enjoy hearing from all of his old friends back home. Here's the address: Jack D. Story, A. S. Co. 457, U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill. Come on folks, let's write Jack a card.

Miss Lillian Beach of Cincinnati, Ohio spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Beach.

Herbert Hall called on Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Kinman and Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Lewallyen visited Mrs. Lillie Mae Leary at Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, Sunday, where she is recovering from an appendicitis operation. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton, son and daughters entertained as their guests on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miskell, son and daughters and Miss Ruby Caldwell of Glencoe, Leslie Clifton and Avery Furnish of near Jonesville.

Mrs. Eliza Wallick called on Mrs. Eunice Ellis, Saturday afternoon.

Dallas S. Wallick, E. M. 3/c, U. S. Navy, is home on a furlough. We were much surprised but glad to see Dallas home again.

In Carroll county, where 75 tons of scrap metal were collected, proceeds went to the USO.

Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria

Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN Odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package.

FREE

Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

DEAD STOCK REMOVED
SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS
CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887
REVERSE PHONE CHARGE
Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.
LOCKLAND —:— OHIO

Your hens will make you happy if you feed them right. When your egg production goes up, your feed cost per dozen goes down. Get on the Wayne Program and enjoy More Eggs—Bigger Profits.

WAYNE EGG MASH

COLONIAL COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

JOHN YOUNG BROWN says—

NOW IT MUST BE TOLD!

★

A Statement— Personal Political Patriotic

★

I HAVE filed for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate.

Two weeks ago I had no idea of running. I was out of politics. I had a comfortable job. I was satisfied to let the other fellow have the office.

Now, I have gone back in politics. I have quit my job. As a loyal American, I can't be satisfied to see our Junior Senator returned to Washington.

Why?

The shocking answer to that question I shall give to the people of Kentucky in later advertisements and in radio speeches.

It is enough to say now that information came to me that made it seem unpatriotic and cowardly to let the nomination go virtually by default to the man who holds the office.

I believe Kentuckians, remembering Bataan, and the Coral Seas and all the theatres of war where Kentucky boys have distinguished themselves in the service of our country, will rise up when they hear the news I have to tell. I believe they will be outraged, one and all, remembering the old and tragic report, "too little and too late." I believe their blood will boil, as mine has boiled.

Read your papers! Tune in on your radios! I have more to say.

JOHN YOUNG BROWN.

This Advertisement Paid for by John Young Brown Campaign Committee

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

RAZOR BLADES

KENT BLADES Single or Double Edge The Outstanding Blade Value

PERSONALS

PROSTATE SUFFERERS Gurney booklet "Gateway to Better Health" is now available. Free. Send for it now. P. O. Box 8 CENTERVILLE, MICHIGAN

BEAUTY SCHOOL

MILTON ACADEMY Post Graduate Course AVAILABLE EASY TERMS—Free Kit—Call or Write MILTON ACADEMY, 7 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, Ohio

Bouquets Are Gay For Your Bed Set

Easy Cross Stitches

BOUQUETS of cross stitch and lazy daisy flowers make bed sets colorful—finish with the crocheted edging.

• • •

Pattern 302 contains a transfer pattern of a 4¾ by 28¾ and two 4¾ by 13½ inch motifs; color schemes; illustrations of stitches; materials required. Send your order to:

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York

Enclose 15 cents (plus one cent to cover cost of mailing) for Pattern

No.

Name.....

Address.....

BEAT THE HEAT Soothe and cool away heat rash and help prevent it—dust all over with Mexican Heat Powder—use after your bath. Costs little.

3¢ A DAY PAYS ALL

• Hospital • Doctor • Lost Wages • Sickness Expenses

And in addition

IT PROVIDES $2,000 Accident Life Insurance

TOTAL BENEFITS up to $3,600.00
Hospital expenses for sickness; up to $540
Hospital expenses for injuries; up to $525
Benefits for loss of work time; up to $300
Accidental loss of life; up to $2,000
Many Other Benefits
MAIL COUPON TODAY WAR RISKS INCLUDED

National Lloyd's
Baltimore, Md.
Without obligation or cost:
Send to.....
Address
City..... State.....
Your Combination Health and Accident Plan.

WNU—E 26—42

Kidneys Must Work Well-

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

DOAN'S PILLS

THE STORY SO FAR: Jeff Curtis and his wife, Lee, are already on their way to Tierra Libre when Jeff receives a note from Zora Mitchell warning them not to come. It is too late to turn back, so Jeff decides not to tell Lee, who was opposed to their returning to the tropics. She finally agreed to go only after Jeff persuaded her that the job of chief engineer for a newly organized fruit company is the chance of a lifetime. He nearly changed his own mind about going after talking long distance to Jerry McInnis, a former associate of his in Tierra Libre, who told him that Zora Mitchell's husband had been killed. It is Mitchell's job that Jeff has been called to fill. They are docking now at Cabeza de Negro, Jeff thinking of Zora's note, "Don't come." NOW CONTINUE WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER II

Don't come! And here he was with Lee in the curve of his arm, Buddy and Chuck tugging at his trousers, with Tierra Libre rising up out of the morning sea, the buildings of Cabeza de Negro taking shape. His arm unconsciously tightened about Lee.

Long before they drew close enough to make out details of the sturdy new docks and receiving sheds they saw the motor launch cutting along the coast as though to intercept them. It, too, was headed for the port, and at last Curt recognized the figure standing in the cockpit.

He yanked off his hat to wave it wildly.

"Jerry, you old muckle-head," he shouted. "I might've known you'd come down to meet us."

"Yeh, got your wireless you were coming through Cabeza. Hiya, Curt. Hiya, Lee," called the stocky man in the launch. "It's good to see you folks again. Where're the kids?"

Curt and Lee each picked up a child and stood him on the broad rail. Buddy, from his new vantage point, piped up: "Mummy, what's a muckle-head?"

"A muckle-head, darling," she answered gravely, "is your Uncle Jerry down in the little boat. See?"

There was no opportunity for dallying here. The launch drew away and by the time the Pisces warped up to the dock Jerry McInnis—leathered face, close-cropped hair, weather-stained clothes—was waiting for them.

A dockhand delivered a message from Senor Montaya on a company briefhead. The senor had been delayed in getting down river to meet them but would reach Cabeza in another hour or so.

"That one of their river boats?"

"Yep. They have two. But we can talk later, Curt." Jerry scooped up the children, one in each arm. "Let's find a more comfortable spot for the wait. Lee, you're looking great! If I didn't know better I'd guess you were twenty. Hard to believe these are yours. Marta sends her love and can't wait to see you."

McInnis, chuckling, nodded from Curt's piled luggage to his own launch boy, and the mestizo immediately took possession to stand guard. Then the Associated man led the way from the dock to the one main street of the town. There were signs of recent construction. The new company was booming the village.

"That's a good dock they've built," Curt said. "I suppose Mitchell did it?"

"Sure."

Just the one word, and it sounded strange. Clipped and odd, for McInnis. Curt threw his friend a sidelong glance.

"Looks like they're really going it big here."

Associated Fruit Growers—where Curt and McInnis, fresh from M. I. T., had their first years of practical engineering — stretched along the north bank of the Rio Negro, a hundred kilometers or more of banana plantations in an almost unbroken line. These were fed by a narrow-gauge railroad, and there was one handling of fruit from farm pick-up platforms to conveyor belts at shipside.

But the new Compania Agricola Tropical, south of the Negro, had more of a problem. It wasn't possible to run a railroad through to the sea. Salt marshes lay between their concession and the coast and made it necessary to handle fruit by rail from farm to river port, and by steamer or lighters from there to Cabeza where ocean vessels could pick it up. Not so good, two handlings of perishable fruit. Costly, too. And the delay and expense of hauling construction materials up river was sharp in Curt's mind.

"Well, here we are."

McInnis stopped before a small cantina, the facade a blinding, billious green in the raw sunshine. McInnis put the boys down, led them inside. Lee and Curt followed.

"It's nearly lunch time," McInnis remarked. "Shouldn't the kids be fed, Lee? You know what the cooking is like here, but we can probably get canned soups."

Lee smiled.

"I don't need a brick wall to fall on me. Go ahead, you two. Have a drink. I know you have plenty to talk over. I'll drag out my rusty Spanish and get along."

The men turned to the deserted bar at the end of the room, mounted uncomfortable stools and ordered gin rickeys. While the native bartender mixed them nearby, Curt made conversation.

"Jerry, it'll cost so much to produce and ship fruit here that I don't see how these people can hope to compete with Associated. Not without a subsidy, and Tierra Libre does not grant subsidies."

McInnis grunted.

"Well, that's their business."

"Of course," Curt mused on, "it's a pretty slick hombre who could put anything over on Old Man Moore. I could give even money the Old Man figures they'll go broke getting into production, then plans to bid in and take over the concession cheap. Maybe throw a bridge across the Negro and handle the fruit once from pick-up to the dock at Soledad."

McInnis grinned, but said nothing. The bartender placed the drinks before them, then left to lend a hand in the kitchen lean-to.

Alone now, and with a furtive glance to be sure Lee was occupied with the children, Curt pulled forth Zora Mitchell's letter. He spread it open before the other, and his face was serious, his voice low.

"Jerry, what've I got into?"

McInnis read the note, refolded it, slid it back to Curt. He frowned. He took a long pull at his drink.

"All right, Jerry, out with it," Curt spoke again. "What's up?"

"Well, Curt," his friend said finally, "my reason for coming down

"There's nothing I can put a finger on."

to the coast to meet you wasn't altogether social. But now I'm here, I have my doubts. There's nothing I can put a finger on." He paused.

"Come on, pal, we know each other's first name. Spill it."

It came out slowly and in pieces.

"Well, Curt, I can't help feeling there's something fishy about your new outfit. They have more men on their payroll than we have, for instance, Americans as well as natives, trying to get things set before the next rainy season. That's all right. But Soledad's the only live spot—such as it is—within their range. You couldn't call Cabeza a satisfactory place to liven a fellow up over a holiday.

"So—well, damn it all, you'd expect that gang to come to Soledad once in a while. But no one ever does. The two Swedes and the Dutchman I told you about are the only ones who ever get to Soledad, and that's only on business, to supervise receipt of shipments.

"And they don't talk! We tried to get up a ball game with your people once. No go. It's as though this Montaya was afraid his men'd spill something to our advantage. And that's carrying the rivalry theme a bit far for this business and this country. I—well, you see how vague it is, only a feeling . . ."

Curt reflected. He pushed his glass around in circles on the bar. "Ever get over to the new planting yourself?"

"No," grinned McInnis. "That wouldn't be etiquette. The Old Man paid them a courtesy visit once, but we're rival outfits. If I went over they'd think it snooping. All the dope I've had on them is picked up from natives. You know how stuff gets around.

"And that leads right into what I really came down here for. It was especially to—uh, warn you. But, he held up his hand, "don't ask me against what. I don't know. That note from Zora Mitchell—I'd talk to her as soon as I could. Sounds like she knows something."

He held an uncomfortable silence for a moment. Then:

"I got hold of a rumor after you called me several days ago. There's no evidence, mind you, and it was too late to stop you by cable. Well, the natives working for me have their own ideas about Mitchell's death. They say it was no native did the job, but a couple of white men. But Curt," he expostulated, "you know no white man would hack a guy to pieces the way Mitch was found."

Curt thought this out.

"Huh, unless it was to hide the fact that it was a white man's killing. And suppose it was a white man, Jerry, or a couple of them? So what? Old Mitch knew his job, but he certainly piled up enemies. You and I know that well enough. He made engineers out of us, first job out of college, but we got plenty bruised in the process. Men with less sense of humor than we have can't take the treatment he dished out."

Curt pulled at his drink reflectively.

"You didn't give me any details," he mentioned after another moment.

"There aren't many. A track-walker found him early in the morning—fortunately before the buzzards did. Let's see, the 11th, it was. About a kilometer outside of Tempujo, in a ditch by the track. The damn zopilotes were wheeling overhead, so he got the section handcar, loaded the body onto it—"

"The 11th?" interrupted Curt. "That's the date of their letter to me! They didn't waste any time. Wonder how they picked a man so quickly?"

"Well, the date's correct. I remember because we had an early evening dinner-dance on the Tekla at Soledad the night before Mitch was found. And the Tekla pulled out for Cristobal about 9:00 p. m. on the 10th."

"It did!" exclaimed Curt softly. He looked at McInnis. "Their letter to me was dated the 11th, but air-mailed from Cristobal on the 12th. Didn't notice that discrepancy at first. When I finally did, I figured the letter either made a plane to the Canal Zone, or was misdated in error."

"We have no air service in Panama from Soledad—direct. Course, it's less than two hours by air to the Zone, but I doubt they'd make the flight just for a letter. Anyway, I know a messenger from Tempujo brought mail to the Tekla just before it sailed. Came as our party was breaking up and going ashore."

"Then the chances are the letter to me, dated the 11th, was put aboard the Tekla which sailed the 10th. Actually mailed before Mitch was found murdered. Right?"

"By God, Curt, that's so!" McInnis brought his palm down on the bar. "Mitch was killed some time after dark on the 10th and discovered early on the 11th."

"Meanwhile . . ." Curt fell silent, then looked up keenly. "The two Swedes are white men."

McInnis frowned. "And there are plenty more white men where you're going. No, Curt, the Swedes are not what we'd want for bosom pals, but we've no right to jump to conclusions. Besides," he dropped the scowl and grinned, "I did some checking up myself. Had my motor boy ask questions here and there. The Swede made the run from Tempujo to San Alejo late that afternoon, while Mitch was staying in Tempujo overnight."

Another silence fell between them. Then Curt spoke harshly.

"Jerry, there's more here than meets the eye. If Mitch's killing was a grudge payment, then, Tierra Libre being what it is, there's little we can do about it. Nothing, in fact. And there's nothing for me to worry about. I don't make enemies like Mitch did. But if there's more behind it . . ."

McInnis heaved a sigh.

"Curt, be careful! Don't mount any white charger over Mitch. He asked for it. He's been asking for it for years. And you've got Lee and the kids here now. But if—well, I don't have to say it, but if you find you're in a spot, call on me."

They downed the last of their drinks and swiveled to face the room. But before rejoining Lee Curt brought up another matter.

"By the way," he said slowly, studying his friend's face, "I saw a destroyer headed for Soledad this morning. American, I suppose—looked like ours. Any particular reason for it?"

"No. The country's quiet as a church meeting. Dr. Arecas only one step removed from being a dictator, sure, but a good one. Seems to be what the people need, they're satisfied. He's solidly entrenched, too, there's no opposition to speak of. But . . ." He paused.

"Well?"

"Well, we had a Navy visit only a couple of weeks ago, and they certainly aren't scheduled to stop in again so soon." He added, in a puzzled tone, "Funny I didn't see the ship as I came down the coast."

"You were pretty low in the water and they were some distance off."

"Huh. Well . . ." He shrugged. They started across the room to rejoin Lee and the boys. McInnis dug his fingers into Curt's arm.

"See Zora Mitchell, Curt, first thing you get to San Alejo. But only to find out if you have anything personal to guard against," he said insistently. "Don't borrow trouble. You're a family man now. What's more, the family's right here with you."

"Yeh, I see what you mean," Curt answered dryly, his eyes on Lee and the children.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for July 5

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

GOD THE CREATOR

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:1-5, 24-31; 2:1.

GOLDEN TEXT—In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.—Genesis 1:1.

What is to become of this world? That is the question on the mind and lips of everyone as they see all mankind engaged in a struggle which bids fair to wipe out everything called civilization.

In such a time it is good to remind ourselves that man did not make this world, nor is it the product of natural forces. God made it.

God, who is eternal, infinite, knowing all from the beginning, is not moved by the impulses of the moment nor staggered by the catastrophes of a day. He made the world. He made man. He had a plan for them, and still has a plan which in due season He will work out for His own glory.

I. God Made the Heavens and Earth (vv. 1-5, 24-25).

The plain biblical account of creation—"In the beginning God"—stands as a dignified, satisfactory, intelligent explanation of the origin of things, and in bold contrast to the confusing and almost unbelievable theories of men.

The best of scientists admit that they know nothing of the origin of things, and some even confess that they never will know. The answer to the query with which every human philosophy opens is the affirmation with which the divine account in Genesis opens—"In the beginning God."

Space forbids full discussion of the account of creation, but a study of it will reveal its beautiful order, symmetry, and completeness. Science, when it gets beyond theories to facts, finds them confirmed by Scripture. Please do not reverse that and speak of science confirming Scripture. If my watch does not agree with the time of the stars, it is the watch that must be reset.

II. God Made Man in His Own Image (vv. 26-30).

Although man, under the control of Satan, does not give much ground for the observation, it is nevertheless true that he was made in the likeness and image of God. Because that is true, we never give up hope for him. That image, no matter how deeply defaced by sin, still may be touched by redeeming grace and restored to fellowship with God.

The likeness and image of God in man undoubtedly refers to a moral and spiritual likeness. Man is a living soul with intelligence, feeling, and will power. He is a moral being, knowing the difference between right and wrong. He is a self-conscious, personal being.

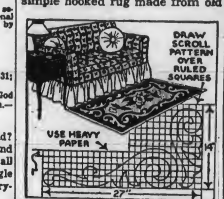
To man God gave dominion over the earth and all its potential powers. Sometimes one has been hopeful that man was making good progress in the development of the earth's resources for his own good and the glory of God. But one is almost tempted to conclude now that he has used this great God-given opportunity only for destruction and death. Only a revival of real Christianity can bring him back to his senses. Let us pray and work for it.

Observe that the family was established as the center of man's life on earth, as God gave him a "help meet unto him." Woman was taken "not out of man's head that she should rule over him; nor out of his feet to be trampled upon; but out of his side to be equal with him, under his arm to be protected by him, and near his heart to be loved by him" (Matthew Henry).

The decay of family life and the substitution of social or civic units as the basis of life have led to disastrous results. Not only do we need a revival of religion, we also need a revival of the home life of the nation.

III. God's Creation Was Complete and Good (1:31; 2:1).

When men do recognize the hand of God in creation they all too often seem to feel that what He made was very limited and defective. It would almost seem that God ought to be grateful that man has been so clever about perfecting His work, developing it and making it useful. As a matter of fact, God who had all knowledge and whose standards are higher than man's standards could possibly be, looked over His creation and "behold, it was very good" (v. 31). It was a "finished" job (2:1).



Man has destroyed much of its beauty. Sin came in and marred the whole creation. What man's inventive cleverness has developed of the possibilities of this world is only a minute fraction of what is yet available. Instead of boasting, man might well be ashamed of the pathetic slowness with which he has "thought God's thoughts after Him."

Instead of fighting and destroying, he ought to give his energies to building, developing, and above all, to loving God with all his heart and his neighbor as himself (Matt. 22: 37-40). This is God's first and great commandment to you and to me.

NEW IDEAS for Home-makers

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

WOMEN today are not the first to discover a war-time shortage of floor coverings. The glowing Oriental rugs of the Colonial mansion ceased to be imported during the Revolution; and the simple hooked rug made from old clothing began to be developed in more elaborate designs.

Then, as now, scroll borders around a flower motif were popular. The posies were designed according to individual taste but scroll patterns went the rounds of neighbors who traced the patterns on the burlap or canvas rug foundation. Today wax crayon is generally used for tracing. You will find it easy to make a cut-out pattern by first ruling paper into one-inch squares and then copying the curves in the sketch.

• • •

NOTE: If you wish to make a scroll pattern be sure to clip this diagram and save it as it is not in any of the booklets which Mrs. Spears has prepared for readers; however, Book 5 contains two designs and directions for making original designs. To get a copy, send your order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for Book 5.

Name

Address

FOR MINOR BURNS CUTS MOROLINE PETROLEUM JELLY 5¢

Room for Courtesy

In life there is always room for courtesy.—Emerson.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Add a pinch of salt to your cream before whipping.

• • •

When bed sheets become worn, pillowcases may be made from the best portions. Seams may be sewed at the sides, if necessary.

• • •

Maple toast is delicious with hot or cold tea. Mix shaved maple sugar with a little cinnamon and melted butter and spread on hot toast. Reheat and serve.

• • •

Before working in the garden, put soap under and around your finger nails. You will find them much easier to clean.

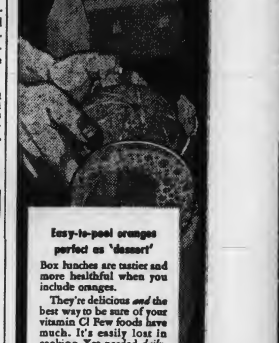
• • •

To remove finger marks around a doorway, use a cloth dipped in kerosene and then wipe with a cloth wrung out of hot water.

• • •

If the sewing machine needle will not penetrate heavy canvas, try rubbing the canvas where it is to be sewn with a piece of soap.

• • •



If strawberry jam should sugar, mix it with two parts of cooked rhubarb to the one of jam, cook together for a few minutes and you will have an excellent pie filler, cobbler filler or sauce.

• • •

When ironing puffed sleeves, fold the sleeve in halves, pulling apart as it sticks. In this way you can get down into the gathers at the top. Iron it dry and you will have a pretty puffed sleeve when it is done.

One thing a soldier is afraid of is a display of emotion. That's why his slang so often sounds derogatory. For example, he refers to the silver eagles on his colonel's shoulder straps as "buzzards." But when he speaks of his favorite cigarette, he says: "Camels." They're first with men in the Army as well as with Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen. (According to actual sales records in service men's stores.) A gift of a carton of Camels is always well received. Local tobacco dealers are featuring Camel cartons to send to any member of our armed forces. Hint for the day: Send "him" a carton of Camels.—Adv.

Lunch box Vitamins

Easy-to-peel oranges perfect as 'dessert'

Box lunches are tastier and more healthful when you include oranges.

They're delicious and the best way to be sure of your vitamin C! Few foods have much. It's easily lost in cooking. Yet needed daily, since you do not store it.

Oranges also have vitamins A, B_1 and G; calcium, and other minerals.

Those stamped "Sunkist" are the finest from 14,500 growers. Ideal for juice and recipes. Stay kept!

Sunkist Best for Juice and Every use!

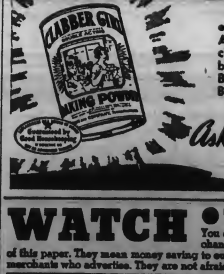
Copr., 1942, California Fruit Growers Exchange



RED BALL ORANGES packed by Sunkist growers are a dependable brand of juicy, well-flavored California oranges. Look for the trademark on skin or wrap.

Here's a Gentler Way to Treat Constipation!

Do you think you have to take harsh cathartics or purges every time constipation makes you miserable? You don't—if you are one of those people with normal intestines who suffer from constipation due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. There is a pleasanter and gentler way.

All you do is eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly and drink plenty of water. ALL-BRAN is a crisp, delicious cereal. It works quite differently from many medicinal laxatives. They work by prodding the intestines into action or by drawing moisture into them from other parts of the body. But ALL-BRAN acts principally on the contents of the colon, helping you to have easy and normal elimination. ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is not helped by this simple treatment, see a doctor.

CLABBER GIRL Baking Powder

• Clabber Girl's Positive Double Action makes it the natural choice for economical home baking... Clabber Girl means Better Value when you buy; Better Results when you bake.

Ask Mother SHE KNOWS

WATCH ● THE SPECIALS

You can depend on the special sales merchants of our town announce in columns of this paper. They mean money saving to our readers. It always pays to patronize merchants who advertise. They are not afraid of their merchandise or their prices.

PUT YOURSELF IN OUR SHOES

We know how many years of satisfying service and consistent value-giving it takes to build such a reputation as this store enjoys. So you can bet your boots we'll always make sure you get more than your money's worth whether you buy the simplest play shoe or the finest dress or Arch footwear. We're that proud of our reputation—Wouldn't you be?

We are Not Selling Copies. But the Kind That Are Copied.	One Look Will Tell You That These Shoes Were Made To Sell for Much More.	A Size for Everybody But Not In Every Style.

We Sell Better Shoes for Less and Prove It! EVERY PAIR GUARANTEED PERFECT. What We Say It Is . . . It Is!

QUALITY SAMPLE SHOES

627 MADISON AVE., COVINGTON

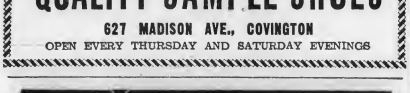
OPEN EVERY THURSDAY AND SATURDAY EVENINGS

NEW JAMES THEATRE

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m.—Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY & SAT., JULY 3-4
James Cagney in
"CAPTAINS OF THE CLOUDS"



SUNDAY, JULY 5
Claudette Colbert - Ray Milland in
"SKYLARK"

MONDAY, JULY 6
'ALL-AMERICAN CO-ED'
Frances Langford - Johnny Downs

TUESDAY & WED., JULY 7-8
Joan Blondell--John Wayne in
"LADY FOR A NIGHT"

THURSDAY, JULY 9
"RED RIVER VALLEY"
with Don Barry

21 YEARS
WELDING SERVICE
TO NORTHERN KENTUCKY
R. MICHELS
WELDING CO.
722 Washington St., Covington
CO 0670

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

HOUSE FOR RENT—3 rooms on Walton-Verona Road, 2 miles from Walton. Call Dixie 7554-W. tf31

LIBERAL REWARD for return of man's English made bicycle, name (Comrade); two gold wrist watches, and other jewelry; Airguide field glasses; rare old coins. Ask for particulars or give information to Box 67, Walton, Ky. tf31

FOR SALE—2 carloads of stock cattle, good quality, priced to sell. Boyd Elliott, Ottis Readnour, Frank Cooke. Phone 154 Walton. tf35

FOR SALE—2 acres land, opposite Walton Reservoir. James Falls, Walton. tf34

FOR SALE—Oak Lumber, seasoned and newly sawed. R. Hume, R-1, Walton. Phone Independence 6745. 5t33*

FOR SALE—1933 Chevrolet, good condition, good tires. Inquire Adkins Restaurant, Walton. 1t35*

FOR SALE — 2 cows, one with calf. M. J. Crouch, Verona Road, Walton. 1t35*

FOR SALE—Modern 6-rm. house. F. M. DeMoisey. Phone Walton 137. 1t35

FOR SALE — Male hog. E. B. McClure, Verona, Ky. 2t35*

IF IT NEEDS FIXING — Call Campbell, phone Walton 23. Electric, Plumbing, Heating, Refrigeration, Stokers and Oil Burners, Controllers of all kinds. tf33

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

FOR SALE—Team of horses, 7 years old, and harness. Will sell separate. Call M. F. Stephenson, Stephenson Mill Road. Phone Walton 746. 2t35*

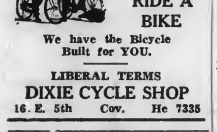
FOR SALE—Southdown rams — large, big bone type. 15 yearlings. Buyers choice until July 6th. Ryle Ewbank, Warsaw. Phone 2318.

FOR SALE — Shetland Pony, 2 years old; new Western saddle and bridle. F. M. DeMoisey. Phone Walton 137. 1t35

FOR SALE — 12 shoats, average 75 pounds. L. K. Cornelius, near Piner. Phone Independence 6226. 1t35

FOR SALE—Walton: J. D. Mayhugh residence, with three adjoining lots. Will consider trade for small house. Jennie Wayman, 3201 Babel Ave., Latonia, Ky. Phone Hemlock 6263. tf35

BE SAFE - BUY NOW
SPECIAL This Week Only—
BEDROOM SUITES $45.00



Dixie Bargain House
Better Furniture-Less Money
221 Pike St. Cov. Co. 1750

SAVE
YOUR CAR and MONEY
RIDE A BIKE
We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.
LIBERAL TERMS
DIXIE CYCLE SHOP
16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

NORRIS, BROCK CO.
Cincinnati Stock Yards

—Live Wire and Progressive—

An organization second to none. We are strictly sellers on the best all around market in the country.

We work for our customers... first, last, and all the time.

Reference: Ask the first man you meet.

Hope that you will eventually ship to us...why not now?

—Service That Satisfies—

NOTICE !

The Town of Walton will receive bids on 75 tons of 1½ inch Chips, and 60 tons ½ inch Chips; 6,000 gallons Asphalt, to be put on Streets of Walton. All material is based on ton and gallon price. The Town has the right to reject any or all bids. Bids to be opened July 10th at 8:30 p. m. at the Town Hall.

—D. L. LUSBY, Mayor

Is Your Subscription Paid?

Not everybody with a dollar to spare can shoot a gun straight—but everybody can shoot straight to the bank and buy War Bonds. Buy your 10% every pay day.

FLORENCE

Mrs. Annie Clore spent Tuesday in Covington the guest of Mrs. Ralph Watts and family.

Miss Hattie Higgins spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Sally Warten, who is ill.

Mrs. Russell Bethel and son and Mrs. Raymond Bethel and children spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Ruth Wingate of Covington.

Mrs. Lillian Schram and Mrs. Carrie Martin spent Tuesday with Mrs. Lelia Ashcraft of Covington.

Mrs. Annie Clore had as dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Malone and daughter of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Easton and son and Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Beemon and family.

Mrs. R. H. Carter was delightfully surprised Wednesday with a birthday party, given by the ladies of the Christian Church. Those who attended were Mrs. Eva Osborne, Mrs. K. McHenry, Mrs. Rufus Tanner, Mrs. Chas. Bradford, Mrs. Geo. Newton, Mrs. A. M. Yealey, Mrs. Hattie Owens, Mrs. Virginia Goodridge, Mrs. Fred Bennett, Mrs. Minnie Bradford, Mrs. C. Blankenbeker, Mrs. Nan Tanner, Mrs. E. S. Wilson, Mrs. Lillie Kirchoff, Mrs. G. Wayman, Mrs. Lillian Schram, Bonnie Schram, Mrs. Russell Bethel and sons and Glenna Marie Tanner. Mrs. Carter received many useful gifts, and an enjoyable time was had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Stephens will move to the property of Mrs. Fannie Utz on Shelby street.

Mrs. Ora Owens and son and Miss Betty Herrington spent one day the past week in Covington, and visited Mrs. Irene Lyon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Knox have received a letter from their son, P. F. C. Aubrey E. Knox in Northern Ireland.

The Sunday School of the Florence Baptist Church had their annual picnic at the Cincinnati Zoo on Saturday. A most enjoyable day was had by all.

Rev. Wilford Mitchell and family of Alexandria spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mitchell.

Miss Ardell Tupman and Mr. William Fox of Latonia surprised their friends Saturday afternoon by being quietly married.

Billy Dinn of Lawrenceburg, Ind., is enjoying a visit with his uncle, Harry Dinn, and family.

Mrs. R. T. Day spent Sunday with her son, Franklin Ryle and family of Francesville, and attended services at the Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Maddox and sons, Mr. and Mrs. John Conley and son were dinner guests on Sunday of Emmet Baxter and family of Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Mrs. J. K. Ammerman of Cynthiana enjoyed a visit the past week with her sister, Mrs. R. R. Miller and family.

Mrs. D. I. Tanner visited Miss Florence Marquis one afternoon last week.

Mrs. A. T. Knox and two daughters visited her father in Cincinnati, Friday.

Mrs. Ella Anderson has returned to her home after a few days visit with her son, Clyde Anderson, and family of Price Pike.

Mrs. Zeffa Osborne spent the weekend in Covington with relatives.

Mrs. Lon Allphin of near Warsaw spent one day the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Markesberry.

Mrs. Fred Schram will spend the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Cody and husband on Burlington Pike.

Mrs. Ella Anderson has returned home after a few days visit with her son, Clyde Anderson and family of Price Pike.

Mrs. Zeffa Osborne spent the weekend in Covington with relatives.

Charlie Caston has sold his property in Bradford Subdivision and has moved to Kentaboo.

Mrs. Harold Aylor spent Saturday in Cincinnati.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs. J. P. Tanner being on the sick list the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nixon of Covington spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cristler.

BEAVER LICK

Rev. Shirley Spahr will conduct regular services at the Baptist Church here, Sunday, July 5th at 3:30 p. m., EWT.

Charles Howe Cleek was inducted into the Army at Ft. Thomas last Tuesday. His many friends extend their best wishes to him as he goes with all the brave boys to defend their country.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCabe spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Guy St. Clair of Walton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller and Mr. Rhodes and family, who have been living on Raymond Heizer's farm, moved away last week.

We sympathize with Mrs. Sam Sleet and other members of the family in the death of their mother, Mrs. Sally Hance.

Mr. and Mrs. David Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wood and son Albert enjoyed a picnic at McCool's Park near Ghent, Sunday.

Mrs. Sue Kidd and son William of Cincinnati, visited her brother, A. A. Roter, and family Sunday.

GLENCOE R-1

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rodgers of Indiana attended church at Glencoe, Sunday morning. Their many friends were glad to see them.

Rev. I. E. Stephenson preached two very interesting sermons at Glencoe Christian Church on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Snow, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Snow, Jr., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinman and family.

Mrs. Grace Duncan and daughters spent the weekend at Warsaw, with her father.

Alva Hon called on Mr. and Mrs Jacoby, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wallace and children Donald and Euia Mae were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elfrie Henderson.

Bill Wallace called on Georgie Alcorn of Union neighborhood on Monday morning.

Milburn Courtney was home on a furlough recently, but was called back to camp before his furlough was out.

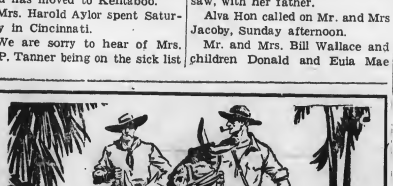
John Kinman and daughter Miss Garnet attended church at Glencoe, Sunday and were guests of his sister, Mrs. Fannie Hedger.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wallace and children were supper guests Friday night of Mr. and Mrs. George Waller and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spencer and daughter Irene visited Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Peak and son on Sunday.

HEBRON

Mrs. Alice McGlasson is on the sick list.



Mrs. Emma Schlears of Cincinnati spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. John Dye.

Mrs. Wood Edwards (nee Evelyn Conrad) departed Monday to join her husband in Pittsburgh, where he has a position.

Mr. and Mrs. John Conner and son Mickey spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Conner.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodford Crigler Mr. and Mrs. Omer Dolwick, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sottmyer and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Dolwick were entertained Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Hempfling near Taylorsport.

A very pretty wedding took place at the Lutheran Church Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, when Miss Virginia Reimer and Mr. Billy Graves were united in marriage by Rev. Noble Lucas. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reimer of Francesville.

BOMBS BURST ONCE
By Granville Church

The story of a dauntless young engineer who, with the aid of the Naval Intelligence, outwits an international spy ring operating in Central America, and foils a plot to blast our hemisphere's defense.

IN THIS NEWSPAPER

Notice To All Tax Payers of Walton, Ky.

On August 1, 1942 all delinquent taxes will be advertised in this paper, by order of the Town Board.

TOWN OF WALTON
D. L. LUSBY, Mayor

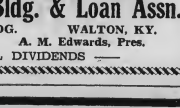
ATTENTION
Coal Buyers!

Coal is getting hard to get, due to Transportation difficulties. Now is the time to buy that Big 10 and Blue Diamond.

—SEE US ABOUT PRICES AT ONCE—

WALTON & READNOUR
PHONE 154 WALTON, KY.

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.



CHAMBERS & GRUBBS
Funeral Directors WALTON
Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation
Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.
DIXIE STATE BANK
WALTON, KENTUCKY
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .
W. E. TAIT, O.D.
OPTOMETRIST
OPTICIAN
27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.
Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.
For appointment phone—
HE. 2088

We'll Show You HOW TO SAVE

Walton Perpetual Bldg. & Loan Assn.
DIXIE STATE BANK BLDG. WALTON, KY.
E. S. West, Sec'y A. M. Edwards, Pres.
— SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDENDS —

HARDWARE
FOR
June and July

Sewing Machine Needles	Mower Repairs
Belts, Bobbins, Shuttles.	Sickle Grinders
New Shipman of Linoleum Rugs — all sizes — 6x9 to 12x15.	Scythe Snaths
	Scythe Blades
	Scythe Stones
Small Mats—all sizes.	Garden Hoes
Linoleum by the Yard	Hay Forks
Croquet Sets	Handles—all kinds
Thermos Jugs—$1.50 up	Rastus Plows
Lawn Chairs—$1.50	Three Shovel Plows
Lawn Chair Covers—50c	Five Shovel Plows
Hammocks—$2.95	Extra Shovels for All Cultivator Shovels
Camp Cots—$2.50	Binder Twine
Cold Pack Canners	Electric Fence Controllers
Cans, Lids and Rings	For Bean Bettles:
BeeVac Washers, $54.95	Rotonone, Barri Cide, and Garden Flit
Dayton Water Systems $72.50	Arsenate of Lead
	Paris Green
Dr. Hess Stock Tonic and Worm Capsules	Sprayers and Dusters
	Cow Spray
	Sheep Dip

Conrad Hdwe.
PHONE 23 —o— WALTON, KY.

Universary of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING, TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS, NEWSPAPERS OR PERIODICALS BELONGING TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES.
See Ky. Statutes, Article

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 36

Kenton County Soil Conservation District Now In Operation

Kenton county now has its own Soil Conservation District operated by its own board of supervisors, consisting of five farmers, duly elected by the farmers in Kenton county. These men are: Earle Metcalfe, Piner, Chairman; S. W. Durr, Walton, Vice-Chairman; F. D. Cooke, Morning View, secretary; B. F. Stambaugh, Independence, and Geo. A. Eubanks, Ludlow.

The purpose of the district is to provide assistance to farmers in Kenton county in the conservation of soil and water. Part of the effort will be directed toward securing farm ponds and springs as sources of water supply for livestock; the prevention of soil erosion through the use of contour planting and cultivating of row crops, according to S. W. Durr, acting chairman. The district will assist in the establishment of diversion ditches, and the planning of good crop rotations to build up the much needed organic matter in the soil. A limited amount of equipment will be available through the district but there will be no labor available at this time.

The Kenton County Soil Conservation District has asked the United States Department of Agriculture to furnish technical assistance for the purpose of bringing about a widespread improvement in the conservation of soil and water resources in Kenton county with farmers wishing to cooperate with them. This assistance will be furnished by the Soil Conservation Service, and other agencies of the federal and state governments, Mr. Durr said.

The district has an office set up in the Bank Building in Independence, and it is now ready to furnish assistance free-of-charge to farmers upon request. Application cards can be secured from any member of the Board of Supervisors. These applications will be justly considered by the board and assistance will be given in the order in which they are approved.

Members of homemakers' clubs in Graves county attended demonstrations in canning peas and carrots in a pressure cooker.

About 500 acres of vetch was plowed under for corn and tobacco in Fleming county.

ROBERT GREENWELL DIES AT ELSMERE

Robert Lee Greenwell, age 75, passed away at the home of a son, Hobart Greenwell, at Elsmere, Wednesday, July 1st. He was born in Owen county, but had lived in the Mt. Zion (Grant county) community most of his life. He was a member of the Dry Ridge Christian Church.

Funeral services were held Friday, July 4th from the Hamilton funeral home, with services at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church at 11:00 a. m., with Rev. Herbert Tinsley of Warsaw, in charge. Burial was in the Mt. Zion cemetery.

Mr. Greenwell is survived by three sons, Hobart Greenwell of Elsmere, Howard Greenwell of Covington and Leonard Greenwell of Little Rock, Ark.; two brothers, 7 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

J. L. Hamilton & Son, Verona, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

DEMONSTRATIONS ON CANNING AND DRYING FOODS TO BE HELD

Demonstrations on canning and drying food will be held according to the following schedule:

July 10—Verona school, 1:00 p. m. (CWT).

July 14—Hamilton school, 1:30 p. m. (CWT).

July 16 — Constance Christian Church, 1:30 p. m. (EWT).

July 17—Florence school, 10:30 a. m. (EWT).

July 21—New Haven school, 2:00 p. m. (EWT).

Although these meetings are being sponsored by local Homemaker organizations, they are open to every interested person. The demonstrations are being given by Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Acting Home Demonstration Agent, and Miss Billye Irvin, Farm Security Supervisor, assisted by local club members. Come and bring the neighbors.

A demonstration in making a sugarless cake took second place in 4-H club contests in Fulton county.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

Geo. S. Caroland, Minister
Church School.....10:15 a. m.
Cloyd Johnson, Gen. Supt.
Worship, Lord's Supper 11:15 a. m.
Evening Worship.....8:30 p. m.
Go To Church—
Give God A Chance!

Daily Vacation Bible School At Richwood

The annual Daily Vacation Bible School of the Richwood, Union and Beaver communities will be held at the Richwood Presbyterian Church, beginning Monday, July 13th at 9:30 a. m., E. W. T. The sessions will be from 9:30 to 12 o'clock each morning through Friday.

On Monday the scholars will be shown moving pictures taken of last year's school and pictures of this year's school will be taken on Monday and shown to the group on the last day of the Bible School.

On Friday the final assembly period will be held and parents and friends are cordially invited to attend this interesting session and the picnic which will close the Bible School.

Supervised play, work, study periods and handwork will feature the school's activity. Acting as leaders and teachers in the school will be Miss Jean Chambers, Miss Rebecca Sleet, Mrs. Hubert P. Baker, Mrs. Stanley Ranson, Mrs. Jake Cleek, Mrs. Bradie Cox, Rev. J. Russell Cross, Mrs. Gaines L. Robinson and Mrs. George Howard.

Some eight or ten others will assist in transportation committees, picnic committees and handwork helpers.

Boys and girls of these communities, don't miss this opportunity of practicing "Living Together as Christians" for a week in the Bible School program.

ANYONE INTERESTED IN AN ADVANCED FIRST AID COURSE?

The Boone County Chapter of the American Red Cross will offer an Advanced Class in First Aid Training if there is a sufficient number of interested people. Several classes have finished the Standard Course (20 hours) already, and it is hoped that several from each of these classes will wish to take the Advanced Course. A time and place will be set for the meeting as soon as it is known if there are those interested in taking the course.

If you are interested, please call the Chairman, Rev. J. Russell Cross, Walton 655, or Mrs. James C. Layne, Certified First Aid Instructor, Florence 65, right away.

SCOUT TROOP HAS COURT OF HONOR

The Troop Committee of Boy Scout Troop, 128, Union, recently conducted a Board of Review for the purpose of reviewing the achievements of scouts in advancement. Walter Ferguson, Chairman of the Troop Committee, acted as Chairman of the Board of Review; Ben P. Tanner as Secretary, and Harold Weaver completed the Board.

At the Court of Honor which followed the following awards were made: To Walter Ferguson, Merit Badges in Personal Health, Public Health, First Aid, and Safety; to John Franklin Jones, Merit Badges in First Aid, Firemanship and Safety; to Bruce Ferguson, Merit Badges in Farm Home and Planning, Gardening, Pathfinding and Personal Health; to Ben Perry Tanner, Merit Badges in Athletics, Safety, Firemanship, Pathfinding and Pioneering; to Billy Weaver, Merit Badges in Personal Health.

Ben Perry Tanner was advanced to the rank of Life Scout and Bruce and Bunny Ferguson were advanced to the rank of Star Scout.

The Scoutmaster of this troop, Rev. J. Russell Cross, urges all boys who have reached their 12th birthday to make a visit to the Troop No. 128 at its regular meetings on Tuesday evenings at 8:00 p. m., E. W. T. at the Union Presbyterian Church rooms.

BAPTIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

C. J. ALFORD, Pastor
Bible School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship....11:15 a. m.
B. T. U.....7:30 p. m.
Evening Worship.....8:30 p. m.
Prayer Meeting, Wed., 8:30 p. m.

About 75 farmers in Trigg county are growing soybeans for oil.

CREDIT ASSOCIATION REPRESENTATIVES TO ATTEND DISTRICT MEET

When directors and secretary-treasurers from six production credit associations meet in Lexington, July 14 for this section's annual group directors' conference. The Northern Kentucky Production Credit Association will be represented by Leonard C. Taylor of Williamstown, secretary-treasurer, and the following farmers who are directors of the association: A. Threlkeld, Mason; Roscoe Jump, Elliston; W. H. Parker, Sanders; Frank Marquette, Falmouth, and C. Liston Hempfling, Constance.

The conference is held each year to permit an interchange of ideas and suggestions on ways and means to improve the service to the farmer-members of the cooperative, short-term credit organizations.

Fall Fatal To Gallatin Woman

Mrs. Eupha A. Elliston, age 85, passed away Wednesday, July 1st at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, after suffering about two weeks from a broken hip. She had resided in upper Gallatin county most of her life, but was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Harris, Verona, when the accident occurred. Early in life she united with the South Fork Christian Church, and had ever been a faithful member.

Funeral services were held at the Verona Baptist Church on Friday, July 3rd at 2:00 p. m., with Rev. Shirley Spahr in charge. Burial was in the Hance cemetery.

Mrs. Elliston is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Harris; two sons, Omer Elliston and George Elliston, both of Covington; several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

L. J. Hamilton & Son, Verona, were in charge of funeral arrangements.

CELEBRATES SECOND BIRTHDAY SUNDAY

Relatives and friends who gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Robbins on Sunday, June 28th to celebrate the second birthday of their little daughter, Donna, were:

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Beach of Napoleon; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Atha of Bank Lick Station; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Berkshire and son Galen of Walton; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Burris and son Gene of Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Snyder and granddaughter, Faye, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Robbins and daughter Goldie, all of Florence; Mr. and Mrs. Omer Atha and family and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Robbins and daughter Donna.

A splendid basket dinner was served at the noon hour, and all left wishing Donna many more happy birthdays.

WITH THE REDS

Cincinnati—There's going to be a hot time at Crosley Field starting Thursday night, July 9, for the Reds will be opening a 10-day home stand, during which time they will play four double-headers and three night games. Two of the night games and the first of the doubleheaders will be played against the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers. The schedule is as follows:

Thursday, July 9—Brooklyn—Night game.

Friday, July 10 — Brooklyn — Night game.

Saturday, July 11—Brooklyn—Doubleheader.

Sunday, July 12—Philadelphia—Doubleheader.

Monday, July 13—Philadelphia—Knothole day.

Tuesday, July 14—Philadelphia—Knothole day.

Wednesday, July 15—Boston—Doubleheader—Ladies' Day.

Thursday, July 16 — Boston — Night game.

Saturday, July 18—New York.

Sunday, July 19—New York—Doubleheader.

Tickets for all of the games the Reds will play at home for the remainder of the season are now on sale at the ticket office at 307 Vine Street.

Mobilizing Efforts To Collect Tin Cans

Kenton county communities are mobilizing efforts for the collection of tin cans to aid the Tin Salvage campaign with householders asked to start saving cans prior to the collection date in about a month.

Kenton county communities discussed the salvage work at a meeting in Covington City Hall this week. Representatives of Covington, Ludlow, Park Hills, Ft. Mitchell, South Ft. Mitchell, Erlanger, Elsmere, Lakeside, Bromley, Southern Hills, Forest Hills, Independence, Winston Park, Lookout Heights and Ft. Wright took part in the meeting.

City Manager Jack Maynard of Covington and Mrs. Edwin Duhme will be Kenton County chairmen, and have arranged to have another meeting of the community representatives with a few days to discuss additional phases of the collection problem.

Spencer Allen, general chairman of the Greater Cincinnati Metropolitan District for the Tin Salvage Campaign explained to the groups from Kenton County, that the tin can salvage is for the duration of the war, as it is impossible to get sufficient tin from other sources.

"There is no substitute for tin," Allen said, reviewing how tin is used in all war machines and equipment such as tanks, planes, machine guns, gas masks, ration containers and other items.

In presenting the urgency of the tin salvage campaign, Allen said that "90 percent of our tin supply is in the hands of the Japs."

Explaining the process of the tin salvage, Allen urged householders to wash cans, remove the labels and then open the tops and bottoms before flattening the cans by foot-power.

Bond Quota For Boone Is $27,300

The proportionate part of the sales of War Bonds and Stamps for July, which has been assigned to Boone County, is $27,300.00.

Can we do it? Many of our people are doin gmore. What they are doing is not of such a quality as may be measured in dollars and cents. We of Boone County have sent 203 of our finest men since Selective Service. They and their value cannot be measured in money of this realm or any other.

Yes, when we think of what their loved ones have given, and are giving, we will meet our quota of a few bonds and stamps. We too will sacrifice—we too, will join in the Victory chorus and do our best. Boone County will not be found wanting when the sales for July are totaled, if we will let our conscience be our guide, and realize that but for the valor of our armed forces, we too, might be a conquered people.

The quota for June was $15,900. We bought $17,747.50 for that month, but in July we must buy $10,000 more than in June.

Meeting our quota will take us to our goal of Victory. Won't you join the march?

BORON DEMONSTRATION ALFALFA STARTED

Four Boron and potash demonstrations have been started in the county, according to H. R. Forkner. S. C. Jones, Field Agent in Agronomy, assisted in visiting these demonstrations last Friday.

Boron is one of the rare elements that is giving outstanding results on old alfalfa fields on certain types of soils under certain conditions. The element is secured in the form of Borax, which is commonly bought under the name of 20 Mule Team Borax. Sufficient information as to amounts to use and conditions under which it is needed is not available to make general recommendations. Where needed, 20 pounds per acre is the maximum amount recommended at the present time. One hundred pounds per acre in a check plot on the farm of Sam B. Sleet of Beaver killed all vegetation.

Try Our Classified Ad Section!

FUNERAL TUESDAY FOR THEO. NEWLAND

The body of Theodore Newland, 41, of Verona, Route 1, Gallatin County, was found late Sunday in the rear of a barn at his home, with a bullet wound in the left temple. A rifle was near by. Gallatin County Coroner, Ulous Carlton of Warsaw, rendered a verdict of suicide. It is said Mr. Newland had been worried about possible induction into the Army. He left his home Saturday, and, according to reports, told his mother not to look for him, as he was going fishing.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, July 7 at 2 p. m. in the Hamilton funeral home, with the Rev. A. K. Johnson officiating. Burial was in New Bethel cemetery, Verona.

The deceased is survived by his mother, Alma Newland of Gallatin County, one sister, Mrs. Ed Hopperton of Crittenden, two brothers, Roscoe Newland of Hebron and John Newland of Cincinnati.

J. L. Hamilton & Son, Verona, had charge of funeral arrangements.

LOCAL W. C. T. U. HOLDS JULY MEETING

The July meeting of the Walton W. C. T. U. was held at the local Baptist Church, on Friday, July 3rd. The President, Mrs. R. E. Ryle, presided. The membership is increasing, which is very encouraging. Mrs. Lula Hudson, as leader, gave the devotional, assisted by different members of the group, reading passages of scripture. Rev. C. J. Alford told of the work being done. Dr. M. J. Crouch gave an educational talk on alcohol and the ill effects from one generation to another. A poem, "Just One Little 'Spree'," was given by Mrs. C. J. Alford.

Members and guests present were Mrs. Grover Young, Mrs. Ida Simpson, Mrs. Lula J. Hudson, Mary Margaret Stone, Mrs. Nathan Brewster, Mrs. Dora Fields, Mrs. L. Stephenson, Miss Alma Conrad, Mrs. Lotta Powers, Mrs. Wm. Sturgeon, Miss Lib Ingram, Mrs. C. J. Alford, Rev. C. J. Alford, Dr. M. J. Crouch, Mrs. Elnora Hodges, and Mrs. R. E. Ryle. —Recording Secy.

ENTERTAIN WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schwab entertained with a surprise birthday party at their home on South Main Street, Wednesday afternoon, July 1st in honor of their daughter, Virginia Lou, who was celebrating her eighth birthday.

Those present were June Doan, Lois Glenn, Eugene McElroy, Joe Richards, Walter Isbell, Charles and Gayle Roberts, Jo Ann Elliott, Betty June Bolington, Janette Chapman, Sharon Graff, Carole DeMoisey, Coreta Rice, Emma Lou Farris, Fay Brakefield, Charlotte and Donald Menke, Joyce Ann Schwab.

Virginia Lou received a number of very nice presents.

Refreshments of lemonade, ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Schwab.

Methodist Revival Being Well Attended

The revival now in progress at the Walton Methodist Church is being well attended and a great deal of interest is being shown. Rev. G. B. Carnes, General Evangelist of Wilmore, the guest speaker, is delivering forceful messages and is being well received.

Services are being held twice daily—10:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. Young people's meetings are held at 9:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

This series of meetings began on Sunday evening, and will continue through Sunday, July 19th.

Special music is being furnished by members of the choir.

A special invitation is extended to all to avail themselves the opportunity of hearing Rev. Carnes.

Florence Baptist Church
Florence, Kentucky

Harold Wainscott, Pastor
Morning Worship.....11:00 a. m.
Evenig Service.....8:00 p. m.
Prayer Service, Wed., 8:00 p. m.
You are invited to come—
worship and work with us.

Operator's License May Be Obtained Here July 17-18

Operator's License may be obtained at the following places on the followng dates:

Constance — Kottmyer's store, afternoon of July 28th.

Verona—Verona Bank, July 22.

Florence—Feed Store, July 24 and 25th.

Grant — Citizens Bank, afternoon of July 27th.

Hebron—Hebron Bank, July 20.

Union—Union Bank, July 21st.

Petersburg — Farmer's Bank, July 23rd.

Walton—Walton Garage, July 17 and 18th.

Burlington—Circuit Clerk's office every day except Sunday.

Persons who have not had an Operator's License must apply in Burlington on Monday of any week, in order that they may take the test given by the Highway Patrol.

All persons must present their old license when they apply for a renewal of their license.

The clerk in announcing the above schedule said that it was rather a hardship on him to go to the various places in the county and that he hoped that people in the vicinity of those towns would endeavor to get their license while he was in their locality.

Applicants under the age of 18 must be accompanied by their father when applying for license.

RED CROSS CHAPTER MAKES REPORT

During the year, from April 1, 1941 to March 31, 1942, the Boone County Chapter of the American Red Cross, under the direction and leadership of Mrs. Joseph A. Huey, War Production Chairman, made and shipped 1,863 garments and forty-five layettes.

There were 225 engaged in the Production Corps, who gave 11,410 hours to the work.

Fifty-five assisted in the 1942 Roll Call and 65 helped put the War Fund Campaign over for the Boone County Chapter.

All told there were 351 volunteers, giving 14,448 hours of volunteer special services during the year to the local chapter. This report has been sent to National Headquarters by the local chairman.

FEATURES IN THIS ISSUE

Sin and Temptation

Sin is a deliberate choice to trangress the law of God, thus points out the Sunday School lesson in this week's Advertiser. Sin is a subtle creature, working smoothly with temptation. Be sure to read and study the lesson in this issue.

Sure Way For Relief

With the mercury soaring and you trying to find relief from the summer heat, the surest way to ward off fatigue is a healthful, fruit-juicy drink. Five recipes for summer refreshments are listed in our Household News col'm.

FSA Is Given Support

Continuation of the Farm Security Administration has been authorized by seven groups, indicating that farmers and workers are united in less-than-parity issue. Full account of the story is given in the Washington Digest feature in this paper. All farmers will be interested in the article.

Your Health Comes First

Many readers never miss the Good Health col'm in this paper each week. Why? Well, the answer is simple. They know that health comes first and a thorough knowledge of diseases and cures is essential. You get what me mean?

Thought Just Struck Us

It's odd to be talking about Christmas, but a thought just struck us. Why not send the Advertiser to a friend or relative? Make the subscription a gift. The receiver will appreciate it and more so, too, for we have only one Christmas a year and the Advertiser makes 52 visits to the home in a year. Doncha forget what we've told you!

CAN YOU SERVE?

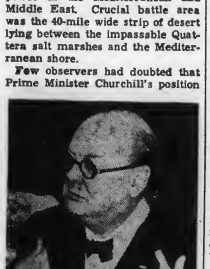
America expects every man, woman, and child to guard health and efficiency in the emergency. Preservation of eyesight is vitally essential. Optical care, now, if needed, will help you to more effectively do your bit for National Defense.

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Egypt Defenders Turn on Axis Armies In Struggle for Middle East Control; Nazi Spy Ring Smashed in Canal Zone; Allies' Wheat Pool Aids Famine Areas

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.



EGYPT:
Defenders Hit Hard

Even as parliament by a 475 to 25 majority voted its confidence in Prime Minister Winston Churchill after a prolonged debate over the Libyan defeat, reports from Egypt revealed that British imperials, heavily reinforced from the Middle East, had struck fiercely at the flank and rear of Marshal Rommel's Axis army to counter its assault on the main British positions.

At the same time it was disclosed that United States army air force and Royal air force planes had unleashed a terrific air offensive throughout the eastern Mediterranean area. In one assault on Marshal Rommel's supply port of Bengazi, hundreds of bombers rained destruction down on munition dumps and equipment concentrations.

Reinforcements of both men and material had strengthened the British Egyptian position in the battles on which rested the fate of Allied power in the Mediterranean and Middle East. Crucial battle area was the 40-mile wide strip of desert lying between the impassable Quattera salt marshes and the Mediterranean shore.

Few observers had doubted that Prime Minister Churchill's position would be sustained. Facing his critics in the most critical period since the fall of France, Churchill had admitted that Marshal Rommel's victorious drive from Libya into Egypt had placed Britain in "mortal peril."

PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL

Meanwhile on the Russian front, the Nazis had opened a new drive north of Kharkov, while hand to hand fighting in the ruins of Sevastopol, Russia's last stronghold in the Crimea, had highlighted what the Reds termed "an extremely grave situation."

SHIPBUILDING:
Yanks Break Records

Hope that American shipyards would soon equal and then exceed the total sunk by Axis submarines was seen in a report issued by Vice Chairman Howard L. Vickery of the maritime commission which disclosed that 66 vessels totaling 731,900 tons deadweight had been delivered in June and that production was speeding ahead toward a level of 900,000 deadweight tons a month.

Admiral Vickery reported that 288 ships of approximately 2,544,000 deadweight tons had been delivered by American shipyards in the first six months of 1942.

SECRET SPENDING:
F. D. R. Accounts

How President Roosevelt spent $239,500,000 in secret emergency funds since the war crisis became acute in June, 1940, was revealed in an accounting which the Chief Executive presented to congress.

Eighty-seven per cent of the total was allocated to the army, the navy, maritime commission and Federal Loan agency, the President said.

Large sums were spent to suppress subversive radio activities in connection with the German submarine campaign.

Important among expenditures was $32,000,000 for secret naval bases in the Western hemisphere, $12,000,000 for purchase of Australian wool for uniforms, $8,000,000 for development of air, rail and highway transportation in Latin America and $36,500,000 for construction of merchant ships.

NEW NAVAL BASE:
Mystery Explained

Why hundreds of American workers embarked for Northern Ireland last summer to toil on a mysterious construction project long before the United States entry into the world war, was explained when the navy department announced formal completion of a giant operating base at Londonderry, guarding the western approaches of Britain. Capt. William J. Larson, was placed in command of the strategic new post.

NAZI SPIES:
Rival Fiction

In a series of dramatic moves matching the thrills of a mystery best-seller, the United States Caribbean defense command arrested 20 alleged Axis agents and broke up what was believed to be a Nazi spy ring refueling submarines and supplying them with vital information on United States shipping.

Nineteen of the enemy agents were rounded up in a trap in Belize, British Honduras. The twentieth—a trusted employee of a labor recruiting office for the Panama canal—had been seized a few days earlier in the Canal Zone. The army disclosed that the leader of the ring was George Gough, a British citizen, who was a shipping executive in Belize.

Details of the seizure of the spies were disclosed by Lieut. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, chief of the Caribbean defense command.

WHEAT POOL:
To Balk Famine

With famine stalking many nations and wheat surpluses taxing the storage capacities of others, an agreement of historic importance to the future of the world's bread supply became effective when five nations signed a pact creating a vast international wheat pool.

Signers of the agreement were the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia and Argentina. The agreement, initiated at a Washington meeting last April, created a wheat pool of not less than 100,000,000 bushels for the relief of famine in war-stricken areas. It forecast international action toward control of prices, production and export of bread grains after the war.

The United States is to provide 50,000,000 bushels of wheat or flour to the relief pool and Canada and the United Kingdom 25,000,000. These nations, with Argentina would furnish additional supplies as needed on a basis to be worked out by their respective governments.

Agriculture department officials pointed out that benefits to American wheat farmers would be of a long-term rather than immediate nature. The agreement will have no effect on the 1943 farm program calling for a planted area of not more than 55,000,000 acres of wheat and assuring farmers of parity returns.

PRICE CEILINGS:
First Hole

First hole in the universal price ceiling instituted by the OPA was made when Price Administrator Leon Henderson announced that he was "compelled to take measures that will raise retail prices of the 1942 pack of canned and dried fruits by as much as 15 per cent and possibly more."

Henderson indicated that congress was to blame for this, because of special price concessions it granted to farm products and its failure to vote government subsidies to maintain price ceilings.

LEON HENDERSON

Throwing down the battle gage to congress, the fiery price official issued a statement in which he said that the $75,000,000 appropriation contemplated for the OPA in a bill passed by the house, or any amount below the $161,000,000 he originally requested, would cripple his agency and mean "in short that price, rent and rationing controls are all placed in jeopardy."

Mr. Henderson termed the canned fruit price situation "inflationary" and said it constituted "a serious threat in the battle being fought to maintain stability in the cost of living."

"This is not a satisfactory solution," his statement continued: "It is inflationary. It translates into retail price increases a burden that the government might properly assume as a charge connected with the war. This burden will fall heaviest on large families, especially in the low income groups who can least afford the added expense."

Rubber Hunter

His eyes as alert for rubber as a hawk's are for chickens, Petroleum Co-ordinator Harold Ickes was happy when he spied this 75-pound rubber mat inside the door of the White House. He told his chauffeur to take it to the nearest gas station to contribute to the rubber drive. When asked for a comment, a White House spokesman declared, "There's no complaint."

COMMANDOS:
Strike at Japs

Serving notice on Tokyo that the Australians, the Yanks and the Dutch were ready for hit-and-run thrusts preparatory to the general land offensive which Gen. Douglas MacArthur has promised eventually, Allied Commandos swept down on the big Japanese base at Salamaua, New Guinea.

Using the elements of surprise and terror which have made Commando raids on Europe so spectacular, the United Nations' raiders slashed through the defense screen and carried away prisoners, booty and information about the layout of one of the most important Nipponese bases in the Southwest Pacific.

Salamaua, on the Huon gulf, lies 170 miles north across New Guinea from Port Moresby, last Allied outpost north of Australia. It was captured by the Japs early in March and ever since the enemy has been attempting to use it as a base for widening their occupation of New Guinea. It has served as one of the principal air bases for attacks against Port Moresby.

SCRAP:
U. S. Wants More

A "new and greatly intensified" program that will reach into every American home and industrial plant and increase the flow of vital scrap materials to the nation's war plants was announced by War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson and Lessing J. Rosenwald, chief of the bureau of industrial conservation of WPB.

The new program has a threefold objective:

1—To collect metals, and rubber and other waste materials which will flow through regular channels of trade.

2—To gather up waste kitchen fats, such as bacon drippings from households via meat dealers.

3—To collect tin cans in specified areas.

"The immensity of our task," said Mr. Nelson, "makes it absolutely necessary to step up the tempo of our national salvage program."

REPATRIATION:
Nazis Break Pact

Termination of the exchange agreement by which more than 1,400 American nationals were brought home from Axis territory in Europe resulted when Germany withdrew the safe conduct granted the Swedish liner Drottningholm which had docked at New York with 800 repatriated Americans and alien refugees.

The agreement for exchange of nationals held by the respective belligerent governments had provided for continued voyages of the Drottningholm under safe conduct until all Americans held in Europe and Germans held here were repatriated.

No reason was assigned for Germany's withdrawal of the safe conduct, but it was understood the Nazis cancelled the agreement to emphasize its "paper blockade" of America.

Suspicion that the Axis powers might be attempting to get saboteurs or spies into this country in the guise of friendly aliens, caused the government to institute the most rigid scrutiny of passenger credentials ever conducted in any eastern harbor.

MISCELLANY:

MINNEAPOLIS: The American worker's pay check is now 34 per cent above 1939 levels while his living expenses are up only 13 per cent—net gain of 21 per cent, it was revealed in a family income study by Northwestern National Life Insurance company. Figured in terms of the family pocketbook, a typical wage earner's family has $56 a month more now than in 1939.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON & ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington, D. C.

SUPPLIES TO RUSSIA

The fates and the weather were good to the Russians last winter. But now another twist of fate and the weather are working against the United States and Russia.

It so happens that the polar ice cap this year has come farther south than at any other time in 100 years. This has pushed the shipping lanes by which U. S. convoys carry supplies to Murmansk, closer and closer to Norway and the powerful Nazi bases there.

Result is that only 200 miles of sea separate the polar ice packs and the coast of Norway—a very narrow gauntlet for ships to run, facing simultaneous attack from Nazi submarines, airplanes and destroyers.

This is why there have been losses on the route to Russia. It is also why the United States has not been able to deliver all the supplies promised Russia—though it has tried desperately and the Russians have tremendously appreciated the effort.

To prey on this shipping, the Nazis have developed one of their strongest bases at Trondheim, Norway. There they have not only submarines, but land-based airplanes. They also have the advantage during the summer of nearly 24 hours of daylight.

Therefore, convoys skirting the north tip of Norway have to fight a running battle for three days before they can reach Murmansk. It is continuous day and night fighting, with scarcely a wink of sleep for the crews. Merchant vessels bristle with armament. Gunscrews have been giving a magnificent account of themselves, but the odds are tremendous.

• • •

FRANCE GOES ANTI-NAZI

It can be no secret to the Nazis that scores of Frenchmen are sneaking out of France to England by small boat or even airplane. Some eventually have found their way to the United States.

The story they tell is one of the most encouraging of the war pictures, but it shows our state department to be lagging months behind in its policy toward France.

The people of France, say these heroes of midnight channel-crossings, are so far ahead of the U. S. state department that it would be humorous if it were not pathetic. U. S. food shipments to French North Africa, they say, won't help win over the French people; if anything, will retard the independence movement there.

The French have been won over by much greater issues than food, and are insulted at the state department's idea that they would sell their souls for a mess of pottage.

Here are the major developments which have really influenced France:

1. The behavior of the Germans in France.

2. The fact that Britain was not only able to prevent Nazi invasion, but now is so effectively bombing the continent.

3. The resistance of the Russians.

4. American entry into the war.

Of all these, one of the most effective incidents was the British bombing of the Renault motor plant (Frenchmen had been tipped off to leave in advance), and the dropping of the French flag along the Champs Elysee by a British fighter plane last week.

So when the Big Push does come, it will find an enthusiastic French people anxious to co-operate.

Note: The French fleet, these Frenchmen say, now will not be turned over to Hitler—not because of food shipments, but because the French sailors won't permit it; and the Nazis haven't got the 35,000 naval personnel available to man them.

• • •

AXIS OILFIELDS

Behind the frequent Jap bombing raids on North Australia is a very important fact which has escaped the headlines. As long as General MacArthur's planes are based on North Australia, the Japs can't go ahead with their long-cherished plans to develop the oil fields of Java.

For long-range U. S. army bombers can carry pay loads to Java and make a shambles of oil tanks and oil wells.

That is why the Japs still want to take North Australia, though since the Coral sea battle they have cooled off on the idea of landing troops in the more populated and richer areas of southeast Australia—which, incidentally, are now strongly defended.

This same principle of long distance raids by U. S. army bombers is cutting into Hitler's oil supply in Rumania. For Rumanian oil tanks are well above ground and easy targets.

To date, Hitler's only source of gasoline, so vital to his tanks and airplanes, are (1) synthetic plants in Germany, and (2) Rumania. That's why he has to take the Russian oil fields or the war can't continue. So the most valuable help army bombers can give Russia is to blow up Rumanian oil wells.

Washington Digest

Farmers, Workers United In Less-Than-Parity Issue

Seven Groups Back President on Continuing Farm Security Administration; Veteran Observers See New Trend.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

There is an interesting story yet to be told, behind the letter sent to the President urging him to take to the public the issues of continuation of the Farm Security administration and the sale of grains for feed below parity.

The story lies in the signatures to that letter. There were seven of them and they represented two farm organizations, three labor organizations and two religious groups.

The combination of names, united in a single plea, marks one of the few occasions when farmer and worker found common ground on which to take a stand on policy. And some persons in Washington who are working for a closer farm-labor alliance see in the move the beginnings of a realignment of the farm organizations, with the formation of a new group that has at least a loose agreement with the AFL and the CIO behind it.

Veteran observers who have watched agriculture and labor pull in opposite directions for many years still feel these two groups have more to disagree than to agree upon. But they admit that this time the situation was ideal for mutual logrolling. Backers of a new day in farm organizations say it is more than that.

They point to significance in the signatories of the letter to the President. The seven signatories of this letter were:

First, James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers union, the most radical of the farm groups. This group contains more tenant farmers and fewer farm owners, than the other farm groups. It is a virile, growing outfit.

Second, Murray Lincoln, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation of Ohio. The Farm Bureau federation is not a left-wing organization. Its President O'Neal is opposed to selling grain below parity. But Mr. Lincoln, head of the Ohio Farm bureau units, has a mind of his own. He runs buying co-operatives in the country. He is very consumer-minded.

The next signature is that of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and the next Philip Murray, head of the CIO. The fifth of this group is J. G. Luhrsen, executive secretary of the American Railway Labor Executives association.

The religious groups are headed by L. G. Ligutti, executive secretary of the National Catholic Rural Life association, and Benson Landis of the Federal Council of Churches.

Those who don't know the whole story behind efforts to realign the farm organizations see only the surface reasons why all the organizations represented by the above names were willing to support the issues mentioned in the petition.

The tenant farmer who is ambitious wants to own his own farm. He sees in the Farm Security administration an aid to that end. He considers this help a substitute for the vanished frontiers—the days when a man with a strong will, a willing wife and a sharp axe could cut a new home out of the wilderness to which the government was glad to hand him the deed.

Cheaper Food

This concept concerns labor less directly but the question of cheaper food concerns him considerably. The argument for sale of grain below parity is that it is necessary to keep dairy and meat products prices down and the Farmers union claims that opposition to Farm Security comes from "interests solely committed to the high-price-through-scarcity concept" which of course is the opposite of labor's platform.

Those are the obvious and immediate reasons why the signature of two of the country's leading labor leaders rest among the seven. The religious organizations have the family and general welfare in mind of course.

But there may be another reason why Mr. Murray and Mr. Green signed up, and why their one-time colleague, John Lewis, didn't. The story of the part Mr. Lewis didn't play is closely connected with the effort to create a new farm organization which will have the blessing of labor.

This is what happened. John Lewis, head of the powerful United Mine Workers of America, as you all know, has been trying to organize farm labor. He has made some progress under the so-called District 50 of his union in signing up hands in the dairy industry.

But he has encountered obstacles of all kinds among farmers who are all potential employers and capitalists at heart. If he could only get some really respectable farm organization, or a man connected with some such organization to take up his banner it would help.

He settled on the Farmers union not because of the name for it is not a union at all in the sense labor employs the word. But because it was left-of-center and had an aggressive president. Through negotiators he made an offer to Mr. Patton something like this:

"Fall down and worship me, get your organization to stand behind my District 50 drive and here is a million dollars to play with."

Mr. Patton's answer was "no."

But that move made Messrs. Murray and Green very Pattonconscious. It also called the attention of other up-and-comers with a left-of-center inclination to the possibilities of developing an organization which without in any way getting under the direct influence of a union labor movement such as Lewis', might work out a practical working agreement for pooling common interests.

Whether this is a practical idea will be revealed by the amount of activity the labor whips show when farm issues are up in the next months—whether this is just another temporary log-rolling alliance which has made stranger bedfellows before, or whether it has the basis of a more permanent working agreement.

Times are changing. It's worth watching.

• • •

'Victory Pig Clubs' Prove Successful

A prominent former Washingtonian, who moved to Kansas City with his cohorts in order to make room for war workers, was in the capital on business recently. He is A. D. Black, head of the Farm Credit administration.

He was full of the story of the "Victory Pig."

He said the Victory Pig movement, which is getting a good start in the South, promises to spread into the northern states. The first Victory Pig auction was held at Jonesboro, Ark., recently and the farmers and farmer boys who signed up to deliver pigs were paid in war bonds and stamps. The cry of the auctioneer worked prices up to $15.30 per hundred pounds, and that was more than top hogs were bringing on either the Memphis or St. Louis market.

The idea was hatched by the secretary of the local Production Credit association. He held a contest, offering $5 for the best name for the plan and so the Victory Pig club was born. The local chamber of commerce joined with the association and the whole countryside soon was feeding pigs to trade for war bonds. This, in spite of the fact that this agricultural county, Craighead, had signed up for $600,000 in bonds in the last 12 months.

Although Jonesboro claims to have held the first auction, Quitman, Ga., boasts of the organization of the first Victory Pig club.

Many of these auctions will be held this fall prior to the date when Secretary Wickard says there is likely to be a bottleneck in hogs. By this he means that there has been so many million more hogs raised this year than normally it is going to tax both transportation facilities and the capacity of packing houses. The secretary is urging farmers not to try to market too many hogs between Thanksgiving day and Washington's birthday, which is the time of the year when the pack is ordinarily particularly heavy.

• • •

More accidents happen to farm people than to any other class of workers, and in wartime accident rates usually rise sharply. Careless use of the tractor and other farm machinery causes 29 out of every 100 farm accidents.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

Important in the list of aeronautical equipment in these days of aerial combat in the cold regions high above the earth are the electrically heated underwear suits which many pilots don when going up to 30,000 or 40,000 feet. Interwoven with wires like an electric heating pad, it will begin warming the flier as soon as he plugs himself in on the heating circuit.

—Buy War Bonds—

Approximately 5,000,000,000 pounds of farm products had been delivered to representatives of the United Nations for lend-lease shipment up to May 1, the United States department of agriculture has reported. Total cost of the 4,977,475,000 pounds bought by the Agricultural Marketing administration and delivered at shipping points since the program began in April, 1941, was $651,529,000.

THINGS

A FOURSOME of twosomes—puppy dogs, lovebirds, bluebirds and hen and rooster—are for use as small flower holders. Products of your workshop, they are as fascinating to make as they are decorative when finished.

It's all a matter of tracing the outlines for this octet from pattern Z9481. 15 cents, to thin lumber, cutting out with jig, coping or keyhole saw, assembling and painting. You'll like the fruits of your labors—clever holders for cacti, succulents and other small plants. Send your order to:

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City, Mo.
Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired. Pattern No.....
Name.....
Address.....

NO ASPIRIN FASTER

than genuine, pure St. Joseph Aspirin. World's largest seller at 10¢. None safer, none surer. Demand St. Joseph Aspirin.

What Choice?

If the choice of remaining at peace rests with us, we are bound to do so. But if another person, with sword in hand, talks of peace but wages war, what is left but to defend ourselves?—Demosthenes.

Devout Thoughts

Certain thoughts are prayers. There are moments when whatever be the attitude of the body, the soul is on its knees.—Victor Hugo.

CORNS GO FAST

Pain goes quick, corns speedily removed when you use thin, soothing, cushioning Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. Try them!

Dr Scholl's Zino-pads

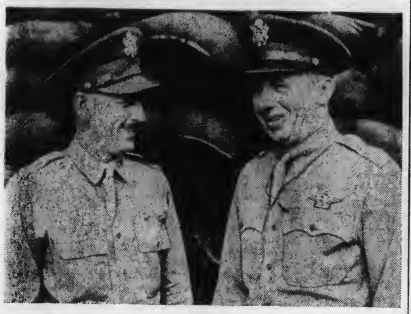
Find the Scrap to Eliminate the Jap

"MIDDLE-AGE" WOMEN (38-52 yrs. old)
NEED THIS ADVICE!!

If you're cross, restless, suffer hot flashes, nervous feelings, dizziness, distress of "irregularities"—caused by this period in a woman's life—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once!

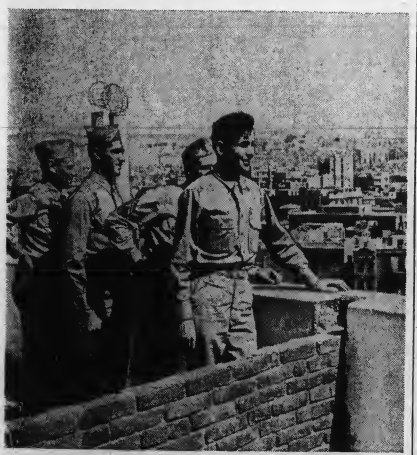
Pinkham's Compound is made especially for women, and famous to help relieve distress due to this female functional disturbance. Thousands upon thousands of women have reported gratifying benefits. Follow label directions. WORTH TRYING!

"All the Traffic Would Bear"



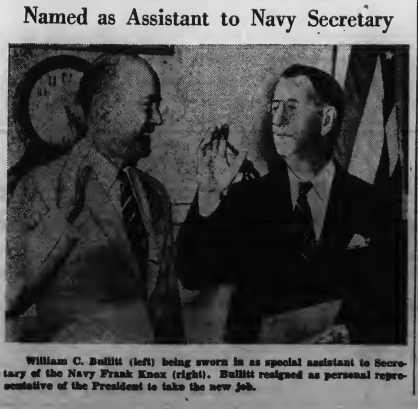
● There was a time in America when there were no set prices. Each merchant charged what he thought "the traffic would bear." Advertising came to the rescue of the consumer. It led the way to the established prices you pay when you buy anything today.

A King Takes a Ride in a Jeep



Shown in this picture are Edsel Ford, Detroit manufacturer, and King Peter of Jugoslavia, as they take a ride in a "jeep" at the Ford River Rouge plant, in Detroit. This "shot" was taken when the boy king visited the great defense plants in the former automobile manufacturing center. Before stopping at Detroit, Peter visited in Washington.

Leader of Latest Raid on Wake Island



Lieut. Col. R. M. Ramey, left, who led the latest air raid on Japheld Wake island, is pictured with Brig. Gen. Willis H. Hale, in command of the Hawaiian air force bomber command, who made the announcement of the raid. Colonel Ramey is chief of operations for Brigadier General Hale.

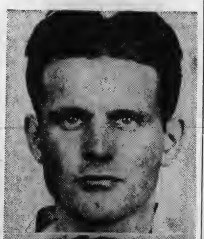
U. S. Troops Survey New Post in Cairo

U. S. soldiers look over the Cairo rooftops from their new billet in the Middle East. Since this picture was taken the battle of Egypt has been raging furiously, with Field Marshal Erwin Rommel directing the Axis thrust toward Alexandria and Suez, while huge U. S. Liberator bombers struck heavily at the enemy in and behind the battle area.

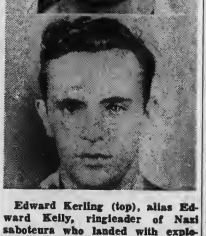
Named as Assistant to Navy Secretary

William C. Bullitt (left) being sworn in as special assistant to Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox (right). Bullitt resigned as personal representative of the President to take the new job.

Nazi Star Witness



Wearing full uniform of the Nazi Luftwaffe, Lieut. Hans Peter Krug is shown (right) leaving federal court in Detroit after testifying against Max Stephan, the Detroit restaurant keeper accused of aiding the German flier when he escaped from a Canadian prison camp last April. Accompanying Lieutenant Krug is a Canadian officer of equal rank.



At New Air Post

Gen. M. Scanlan, center, greets Gen. Ralph Royce, head of Pacific air forces, left, and Lieut. Comdr. Lyndon Johnson, congressman from Texas, at an American-Allied air base, somewhere in New Guinea. These are the first pictures of the new base.

Nazi Saboteurs

Edward Kerling (top), alias Edward Kelly, ringleader of Nazi saboteurs who landed with explosives from a submarine near Jacksonville, Fla., to be used in bombing key rail centers and bridges near New York city. Below: Herbert Hans Haupt, 22, of Chicago, a saboteur caught with another group.

New Army Paper

"Yank," new army newspaper now being sent to U. S. troops overseas, installs full world-wide wire service. Pvt. Bill Richardson, editor of "Yank," is shown with Seymour Berkson, managing editor of a national news service.

Sportlight by Grantland Rice

ONE of the most mysterious and colorful figures in this modern conglomeration of golfing talent is Joe Kirkwood. Joe is almost complete proof as to the vital part the emotional or psychological side can play in this ancient Scottish game.

When Kirkwood came to this country from Australia over 20 years ago he was even then the master of every shot in the game. In his exhibitions Joe could call a low hook or a high slice, a low slice or a straight hook, a fade or a pull. He could even call, in advance, that hardest of all shots to play—a straight ball.

Grantland Rice

At 200 yards away he could make a caddie duck with either a slice or a hook. It was an easy game in trick shot or exhibition play. But Kirkwood could never win a big championship.

"Competition," he has always said, "is an entirely different game from any exhibition stuff."

How It Works

Years ago I followed Kirkwood in a North and South championship at Pinehurst. He wasn't scoring any too well. He was having more than his share of trouble.

"What seems to be the matter?" I asked.

"I've developed a fade I can't stop," he said.

"Why don't you call for a hook, or even for a straight ball, as you do in your exhibitions?" I asked.

"If I tried that," he said, "I'd be all over the course. This tournament-scoring game has nothing to do with exhibition play.

The Curse of Golf

"Golf would be an easy game for anyone to play," Joe continued, "except for one thing."

"What's that?" I asked.

"Tension," he said. "That's the killer—the poison.

"If it weren't for tension almost anyone could play golf well. But tension grabs them all by the throat—or the nerves. Take the average duffer. Watch his practice swing. Watch him swinging at a dandelion or a cigar butt. You'll see an 80 swing. Then watch the difference when he has to hit a golf ball. He immediately tightens up. He plants his feet in the turf. He takes an iron grip with both hands. His legs and body promptly stiffen up. He has wrecked his swing before he even moves the clubhead.

True of the Pro

"After a fashion, this is also true of most pros. Most of the good ones can hit the ball long and straight, can play almost every club well. In practice they can give you a 67 or a 68. But when some big tournament starts, especially a championship, it is too often another story.

"You can tell this in the more hurried pace of their backswings and downswings. You can tell it in their restricted, or more restricted, body turns. The temptation in a big tournament is to steer the ball—to keep it away from trouble.

"Only a few can keep their true form or their true swings working smoothly, as they do in a practice round."

"Leo Diegel told me once," I said to Joe, "that the longest walk in golf was from the practice tee to the first hole of tournament play."

"Leo was 100 per cent right," Kirkwood said. "It's about ten miles—or ten strokes.

"For those who know how to swing a club, golf is about 75 per cent tension, nerves and concentration. It is harder on the nervous system than any other game, since it carries less physical action or motion. The more motion you have, the less tension there is.

"Football players are always extremely nervous and packed with tension before the kickoff. But most of this is removed in the first clash of bodies—after the first impact. You don't get that in golf.

"In golf tension begins to get worse—especially around the greens when you find you've lost your putting touch. I've never seen a golfer who was good enough to win a big tournament when he was putting poorly. And when you get what Tommy Armour calls 'the yips,' you are just about through."

"How can tension be cured?"

"The only sure cure I know," Kirkwood said, "is to cut off your head."

Foot Action

Henry Picard, a master stylist, is among those who believe that good foot action is the most difficult of the golfing arts.

"Only a few stars know how to use their feet properly," Picard says, referring to weight shift through the swing.

Chick Evans had no superior in this respect. You had only to watch the work of his feet to get a big part of the answer concerning especially his iron play.

To Your Good Health by Dr. James W. Barton

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

CANCER OF THROAT

A surgeon friend of mine showed me a patient, 65 years of age, who had consulted him because of a sore throat and persistent hoarseness.

Dr. Barton

When examined it was found that he had cancer of the throat and, owing to its location, surgery was inadvisable. Accordingly, treatment by radium was given and as I looked into the throat I was amazed at the size of the "hole" left in the throat and the healthy condition of the tissues. The man looked and felt very well. Had this case gone on a while longer it would have been too late for treatment, yet his only complaint was a slight soreness and persistent hoarseness.

It is because cancer of the throat often comes on with slight soreness only and hoarseness that it is overlooked by the patient and sometimes even by the physician. It is for this reason, therefore, that Dr. Chevalier Jackson and Dr. G. E. Pfahler, Philadelphia, keep reminding us that hoarseness that persists for more than two weeks should be investigated.

"Cancer of the larynx is best prevented by avoiding irritation, excessive or faulty use of the voice, inhaling smoke, dust or fumes. From 70 to 80 per cent of such cancers can be cured if caught in the early stage when only a part of a vocal cord is involved. Danger signals are hoarseness or pain in the larynx."

We may be inclined to become discouraged about cancer because of the general statement, "Until the cause of cancer is discovered there is not much that can be done about it." As a matter of fact, much is known about the cause of cancer in that "irritation," not a single irritation but continuous irritation can cause cancer in any "surface" tissue of the body in some individuals.

Remember, then, that "throat cancers are difficult to prevent and recognize. General warming is swelling or soreness around the throat or tonsils that doesn't improve in two weeks."

If, then, you or any member of your family has a sore throat and hoarseness that does not respond to ordinary home treatment you should consult your physician.

• • •

New Treatment Of Stomach Ulcer

For many years the treatment of peptic ulcer—ulcer of the stomach and ulcer of the small intestine into which stomach empties—has been small meals taken often and an alkali powder to overcome the excess acid digestive juice in the stomach. This is known as the Sippy treatment.

It will come as a surprise to ulcer patients and to many physicians also to learn that a series of 41 cases has been successfully treated by a different method. Drs. George F. Dick and C. Wesley Eisele, in the Journal of the American Medical Association, state that the treating of stomach and duodenal ulcers (peptic ulcer) will progress satisfactorily without the attempted neutralization of acidity with alkalies.

"Under hourly treatment with milk and cream without the use of alkalies, the speed of healing of peptic ulcers compares favorably with that under other methods of treatment. Such treatment brought about (1) the prompt disappearance of symptoms and the complete comfort of the patient, (2) the disappearance of blood from the stool when blood was present, and (3) the disappearance of the cavity of the ulcer as shown by X-rays."

These physicians state that while the present treatment of overcoming the excess acid stomach juice by the use of alkalies has been accepted as the "best" treatment nevertheless the fact that different alkalies are being used from time to time for peptic ulcer treatment shows that alkali treatment is not altogether satisfactory.

"In their series of 41 cases, seven were suffering from stomach ulcer and 34 from duodenal or intestinal ulcer. X-ray studies were used to show the progress of the treatment. Seventy per cent of the 'cavities' of duodenal ulcers disappeared within 75 days. Complete relief of symptoms occurred in nearly all cases before the cavity was completely healed. In 31 cases all symptoms were controlled within one week."

The treatment—milk and cream every hour without use of alkalies.

• • •

QUESTION BOX

Q.—Are there any Sulfa drugs that are helpful in tuberculosis treatment?

A.—The Sulfa drugs are most helpful in acute or early conditions. Their use in chronic conditions is not very successful as yet.

Q.—How can nervous spasms of the intestines be treated?

A.—Nervous spasm in intestine is due to nervousness or emotional disturbances. Trying to keep calm in spirit and avoiding rough foods will give relief.

PATTERNS SEWING CIRCLE

High-Waisted.

THE high waisted style in children's dresses is never failing in its appeal! Here is the high waistline in a pert, cheerful dress for little girls—matched with an adorable sun bonnet and practical panties! You'll use this pattern again and again for your own little girls' frocks—and then your neighbors will borrow it for their children! Your daughter will enjoy wearing this frock with its flouncy, full skirt, puffed sleeves and gay ric rac braid.

• • •

Pattern No. 8175 is designed for sizes 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. Size 3 years dress takes 2¾ yards 35-inch material, bonnet ½ yard and panties ⅝ yard.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1116
211 West Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 20 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No.....Size.....
Name.....
Address.....

ASK ME ANOTHER? A General Quiz

The Questions

1. The earliest flag of the American colonies was called what?
2. The familiar cross used by the Red Cross is sometimes called what?
3. What do the Australians call one who favors strict blue laws?
4. A viva voce vote is taken how?
5. Do the governors of all the states have the power to veto legislative acts?
6. What city lies on the Golden Horn?

The Answers

1. The Cambridge flag.
2. A Geneva cross.
3. A wowser.
4. A viva voce vote is taken orally.
5. Of all the states, only North Carolina does not give the governor the right to veto a legislative act.
6. Istanbul.

A most welcome gift to any pipe-smoker or roll-your-own fan now in our armed forces is a pound of his favorite tobacco. Numerous surveys have shown that tobacco is the No. 1 gift on the service man's list. A favorite with many of our soldiers, sailors, marines, and Coast Guardsmen is Prince Albert, the largest-selling smoking tobacco in the world. If you have a friend or relative in the Army, Navy, Marines, or Coast Guard who smokes a pipe or rolls-his-own, send a pound can of Prince Albert. Your local dealer is featuring the National Joy Smoke as an ideal gift for service men.—Adv.

Leather-Backed Turtle

The leatherback turtle, Dermochelys coriacea, found in warm seas, is unique in two ways, says Collier's. Of the three hundred species of existing turtles, it is the only one that is not encased in a shell, having only a leathery skin.

Secondly, it is the largest animal of its kind, often measuring nine feet from nose to tail and weighing over 1,000 pounds.

J. Fuller Pep
By JERRY LINK

Sittin' down in Jed's General Store the other day, it was kinda impressed on me that the weaker a fellow's argument is, the stronger he words he uses!

Well, when I get to talkin' about KELLOGG'S PEP and vitamins I don't need any high-powered words. You see, to feel really good you got to eat right, which includes gettin' all your vitamins. And while PEP hasn't got 'em all, this swell-tastin' cereal is extra-long in the two that are oftenest extra-short in ordinary meals—B, and D. Try PEP, won't you?

Kellogg's Pep

A delicious cereal that supplies per serving (1 oz.) the full minimum daily need of vitamin D; 1/4 the daily need of vitamin B1.

HIT THAT RHEUMATIC PAIN RIGHT WHERE IT HURTS

And look at the Silver Lining in those Clouds of Pain

The big idea is that you want to feel better. When pain eases, your mind eases. You get rest that means deliverance. So use something that gets at the pain. C-2223 brings you pain-relieving help. Now you will feel as good as others who enjoyed its help. Don't put it off. Get C-2223 now, 60c, $1 everywhere. Use only as directed. Purchase price refunded if you are not satisfied.

FOR QUICK RELIEF
CARBOIL
A Soothing ANTISEPTIC SALVE
Used by thousands with satisfactory results for 40 years—six valuable ingredients. Get Carboil at drug stores or write Spurlock-Neal Co., Nashville, Tenn.

★ ★ ★ ★
BUY UNITED STATES BONDS AND STAMPS
★ ★ ★ ★

FEED AT ITS BEST
DIXIE 34% 32% 24% 16% DAIRY FEEDS
See Your DIXIE better FEEDS Dealer Today—DIXIE MILLS, E. St. Louis, Ill.

Shop with Confidence in Your Home Town Newspaper—You will see America's best known and most reliable merchandise featured.

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER—Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Harold Menke, an employee of the Westinghouse Corp., Cincinnati, is spending his vacation with his sister, Mrs. Louis Schwab, Mr. Schwab and daughters.

Miss Thelma Moore returned home Friday after a pleasant visit with friends in Ft. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wayman of Covington were guests of Mrs. Wayman's mother, Mrs. Mattie Mayhugh and family, Sunday.

Martin Code of Pittsburgh, Pa., returned to his home Tuesday, after spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Code of Walton, Route 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Mayhugh and family of North Walton, moved last week to their beautiful new home on the LLL Highway near Nicholson.

Pvt. Joseph W. Marshall of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., spent the first of this week with Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sleet and son, John R. Sleet, and other relatives in Grant county, before going to Ft. Belvoir, Va., for further training.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. B. Allen had as guests July 4th their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Taylor of Bluefield, Va., Mr. and Mrs. John Blanchard of Huntington, W. Va., and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Glasser of Bethel, Ohio.

Dwight Maddox, Eddie Hankinson, John Baker, Jack Hughes, Misses Barbara Crouse, Anna Lee Coop, and Barbara Jane Robfogel of Cincinnati, who is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Elmer Breeden and family, all spent Tuesday at Butler Park, Carrollton.

Mrs. Pearl R. Johnson is visiting in Walton.

Omer Johnson and daughter, Mary E., and baby, called on Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Johnson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Northcutt and family entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bohl and son of Miami, Ohio, Mrs. Mary Howe of Crittenden, and Miss Thelma Howe.

Miss Evelyn Sizemore of Dayton, Ohio is visiting her sister, Mrs. Obie Cook, Mr. Cook and son.

Mrs. Sally Day visited her daughter in Covington, Wednesday.

Mrs. H. R. Morris of Covington and daughter, Mrs. E. S. Fields of Ft. Thomas, were guests Tuesday of Mrs. Morris' sister, Mrs. Pearl Fink and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stephenson spent a two week's vacation in Walton, before going to his next work in Warrensburg, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson left Monday morning to join Donald Stephenson and wife, who live at 202 Clark Ave., Warrensburg.

Miss Alma Blanche Conrad of Latonia spent the past week with her cousin, Mrs. Lebus Stephenson. She returned home Monday.

Mrs. Warren Stephenson entertained with a six o'clock birthday dinner in honor of her husband, last Saturday. Those present were his father, J. W. Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Conrad, son and daughter, Wayne and Blanche, Mr. and Mrs. Lebus Stephenson, Alice Traylor, Mrs. Cynthia White and daughter, Melva. All enjoyed themselves and left wishing Mr. Stephenson many more happy birthdays.

Miss Melva White spent one afternoon last week in Covington, shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Arnold of Cincinnati were guests Saturday of Mrs. Arnold's father, Kirtley Roberts, and Mr. Arnold's grandmother, Mrs. Georgia Arnold.

John Forsee of Owenton spent Wednesday with his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brugh. While here Mr. Forsee made a pleasant call at the Advertiser office.

George Flynn of near Walton sold a small lot of lambs at the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards that averaged 80 pounds and brought $15.25.

Miss Ruth Ellen Boswell left Sunday for her home in Hope, Ark., after a pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. Joe Neumeister, Mr. Neumeister and son of the Dixie Highway, South of Walton.

Moore and Houston, of near Walton recently had 15 red and while 232-pound hogs at the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards which brought $14.80, the top. Last week we stated this was Moore & Henderson, which was incorrect.

VERONA

Rev. Spahr filled his regular appointment Sunday. The service Sunday evening honored our boys who are in service for Uncle Sam. There were 16 names on the honor roll from this community.

The Light Bearers Sunday School Class was entertained by Mrs. Spahr at a picnic at the Simon Kenton Grill on Wednesday for their June meeting. There were 19 members and visitors present. In the afternoon we had our Bible study and business meeting.

We welcome Rev. A. K. Johnson to our community. He is making his home with his daughter, Mrs. A. T. Hunt, and family.

On Sunday, Mrs. Marvin Waller entertained the following at dinner: Her husband, Marvin, who is working at Dayton; Hazel of Richmond; Harry of Lexington, and W. E. Waller and family.

The Sunbeams had their meeting on Thursday with seven in attendance.

Miss Irene Hudson is still ill at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

BEAVER LICK

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Carson of Covington spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Besterman.

Pvt. Charles Howe Cleek of Ft. Thomas spent a few days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howe Cleek, the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wood are moving to the Raymond Heizer farm, to the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Ryan and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hartman visited Cecil Dickerson and family of Verona, Sunday.

Miss Mary Alice Black is staying with relatives in Covington, while taking a course of study at Curtis Commercial College.

Correction: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCabe were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. St. Clair, instead of Mr. and Mrs. Guy St. Clair, as stated in last week's paper. This correspondent got the names wrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Clifton and daughter Bernadine and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Maddin and children, all of Covington, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Maddin over the weekend.

Miss Jo Anne Hance of Indianapolis, Ind., who came on for the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. Sallie Hance, visited Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sleet last week.

FLORENCE

Mrs. Zeffa Osborne was a recent guest of relatives in Covington.

Mrs. Jennie Dobbins has returned from a visit with her niece at Walton.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Byrne entertained over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson of Latonia.

A number of Boy Scouts left for a two week's camping trip near Union, Friday.

Cecil Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Finnel Osborne, left Tuesday for the Navy.

We wish to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mulroney of Shelby Street. We wish them a long and happy married life.

Mrs. Hattie Owens has returned home following several weeks nursing a patient in Covington.

The picnic given by the Florence Volunteer Fire Dept. was a treat success, and we wish to thank everyone for their patronage.

Mrs. Cecil Frame and children of Virginia are guests of her sister, Mrs. Marie Kinman of Main Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brock and family and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Garnett and family of Louisville are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shears.

Henry Smith spent Sunday with Chas. Beall of Francisville.

Sam Hambrick of Burlington was a welcome visitor here Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Carter returned to their home Tuesday, following a brief visit in Butler, with friends.

Mrs. Emma Cleek of the Dixie Highway entertained a number of relatives Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Platt had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Louis Farmer of Ashland.

Mrs. Maude Bennett called on Mrs. Russell Bethel, Tuesday.

Mrs. Anna Clore had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watts and family of Covington, Mrs. Sanders of Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Beemon and family, Mrs. Minnie Bradford and Mrs. Mary McGuire and son and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Webster and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Higgins of Cincinnati called on Miss Hattie Higgins, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Fannie Utz is now nicely domiciled in her new home on Shelby Street.

C. L. Tanner and wife had as guests Saturday afternoon, their friends, Chas. Beall and Minnie Baxter of Francesville.

Mrs. Fred Schram will spend several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Cody and husband on Burlington Pike.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ellis spent the holiday with her mother, Mrs Walton, near Burlington.

We are sorry to hear of Carl Clutterbuck being ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kelly spent Saturday evening with their son, Virgil Kelly and family.

Mrs. Lelia Ashcraft and daughter spent Thursday here with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Crandle Acree and son spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Connley of Devon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton of Verona visited relatives here Friday.

Mrs. Belle Corbin of Hamilton, Ohio visited friends here Friday.

Russell Mitchell and wife spent Thursday with his mother, Mrs. G. K. Kindard near Verona.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Corbin of Covington visited his mother, Mrs. Lillie Corbin, Wednesday.

Miss Nora Cahill is the house guest of Mrs. Irena Renaker and mother.

Friends and neighbors of the Huston family have deepest sympathy for them in the loss of their dear loved one, Robert Huston, Sr. He had been confined to his bed for several months, which resulted in death Monday afternoon. Funeral services were held from the Tharp & Stith funeral home Thursday afternoon, with interment in Hopeful cemetery.

Henry Smith has received a letter from Pvt. F. C. Audrey E. Knox in Northern Ireland.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Hensch are receiving felicitations from their many friends in Florence, over the arrival of their first baby daughter at Middletown, Ohio. The little one has been named Mary Rowland. Mrs. Hensch was formerly Miss Mary Elizabeth Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Kennedy, who reside in the Hopeful neighborhood. They are all smiles since July 3rd.

Public Sale

Saturday, July 11th

2:30 P. M. - Eastern War Time

AT THE TOM POWERS FARM
BAGBY PIKE — NEAR CRITTENDEN, KY.

The following personal items—

Buick automobile; mowing machine; 600 building brick, wire cut; ice box; kitchen range; shotgun; 2 bedroom suites; Royal Blue bed springs; feather bed; pillows; eight-day clock; two alarm clocks; 53 yds. rag carpet; rag rugs; pair andirons; pair brass andirons; iron kettle; side saddle; buggy; stone jars; milk crocks; jugs; cream cans, new; chairs; 4 rocking chairs; carpet sweeper; tables; dishes; tea kettles; antiques; 2 wash stand sets; lamps; 30 yds. floor matting; iron pots; skillets; griddles; waffle iron; 2 flat irons.

TERMS—All sums of $10 and under, cash; over $10, a credit of six months without interest, purchaser executing bankable note before removing property.

Cynthia H. Powers, Owner
HARRY F. JOHNSON, AUCTIONEER

21 YEARS
WELDING SERVICE TO NORTHERN KENTUCKY
R. MICHELS
WELDING CO.
722 Washington St., Covington
CO 0670

DEAD STOCK REMOVED
SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS
CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887
REVERSE PHONE CHARGE
Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.
LOCKLAND — OHIO

CONSERVE FOR VICTORY

Longer Life for YOUR RADIO

You depend a lot upon your radio these days so take good care of it and make it last, as no more will be manufactured until the war is over. Here are some suggestions that will help.

Is your radio located near a window? Then move it before you forget. An open window—a sudden shower and the cabinet may be damaged or the wiring short circuited.

Is your radio near a heater or fireplace? Too much heat may warp the cabinet—may dry out the insulation—may shorten the life of the set. Better move it to another spot.

Young children ought not to operate the radio-phonograph. They may damage the player mechanism or put it out of adjustment. Load it for them and avoid trouble.

Don't clean out back of radio with dust cloth. You may loosen tubes or disturb wiring. Dust won't harm your radio. If you must clean it, use vacuum cleaner attachment.

Be careful in moving your radio from one location to another. Hard shocks or jars may damage tubes or connections. Radios are delicate instruments. Handle with care.

GET YOUR FREE COPY of 32-page Westinghouse booklet on the care and use of your electric servants. Contains a wealth of valuable information, applicable to all makes of appliances. Stop in for your free copy.

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
INCORPORATED

BUY U.S. WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .
DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?
Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.
LANG'S CAFETERIA
823-825 Madison Avenue
COVINGTON KENTUCKY

KEEP YOUR EYES "ON THE ALERT"
Have your eyes checked—it's your patriotic duty to keep them in perfect condition. Let us examine your eyes at once.
L. J. METZGER
Optometrist Optician
631 Madison Ave.
Covington
Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

J. L. HAMILTON & SON
FUNERAL SERVICE
VERONA -:- KENTUCKY

Keep prepared to meet rising prices and taxes by adding regularly to your Savings Account here... with liberal earnings and insured safety.

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION
OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1342

AUCTION SALE

TUESDAY, JULY 21, '42

10:00 A. M. (E. W. T.)

On account of the recent death of my wife, I will sell at Public Auction, my farm and my home at Walton, Ky.

167 acre Farm will be sold on the premises, 1 mile off the Verona and Glencoe Road. This farm is in good state of cultivation, has a new tobacco barn and house, 49-10 acres tobacco base, 22 acres corn, 5 acres alfalfa, 16 acres in clover, the balance in grass and woodland. The growing crops and good tenants will be taken over by the purchaser on the day of sale. TERMS: ½ down, balance in 1, 2 and 3 years at 5% interest.

The following livestock and implements will be sold: 1 new hay rake; 1 mowing machine; 1 wagon; 1 disc harrow; 1 sled; 7 plows; lot of work harness; 1 pair of 3-year-old horses; 1 8-year-old brown work horse; 1 5-year-old grey work mare; 1 5-year-old black work horse.

At 2 P. M. (E. W. T.) on the same date, I will sell my home on South Main St., in Walton, Ky. This home has 5 rooms, pantry, basement, and two porches, and is in excellent condition. Has 2 acres of land, good barn, hen house, double garage, and all necessary outbuildings. TERMS: 1-3 down, balance in 1, 2 and 3 years at 5% interest.

At the same time and place, I will sell a good cow and calf; 1935 Ford pick-up truck, good tires; 1936 Pontiac Coach, extra good, with good tires; 200 locust posts; new Perfection oil stove; extra good range; almost new living room suite, and a lot of household goods. Personal property will be sold for cash.

A. K. Johnson, Owner
Walton, Ky.

Rowland Auction Co., Selling Agts., Winchester

STEPHENSON MILL ROAD

Mrs. Maurice Dixon and daughter of Louisville are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McLoney.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss Pennington of Dayton, Ohio are the proud parents of a fine 7 pound baby girl, born June 28. They have named the little one Vickie Sue.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington and family and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pennington and son motored to Dayton, Ohio, Sunday and visited relatives there. Miss Lucy Pennington, who had been visiting there returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Marsh of Beaver are the proud parents of a fine 9¾ pound baby son, born on June 28th. The little fellow had been named Elmer Curtiss.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Helms and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Raymond Pennington and son spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington.

Jimmie Pennington spent last week with his brother, Raymond, of Alexandria.

Miss Virgie Pennington of Norwood, Ohio visited Miss Lucy Pennington on Saturday night.

E. S. Rader has just returned from Burning Springs.

Mrs. Ralph Marsh and sons are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington.

Miss Joanne Pennington of Dayton, Ohio is spending the week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Pennington and daughter of Dayton, Ohio spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington.

NICHOLSON

"God is our refuge and strength a very present help in trouble." We must trust God in dark days of sorrow and affliction, as well as bright days of sunshine and prosperity. No matter how tangled may seem the threads in the loom of life, the Great Weaver behind the scenes is weaving a pattern of beauty that some day shall be revealed. "Not till the loom is silent and the shuttle ceases to fly, shall God unroll the canvas and explain the reason why the dark threads are just as needful in the weaver's skillful hand as the threads of gold and silver in the pattern He has planned."

Rev. O. J. Steger, highly efficient pastor of the Southside Church, Covington, assisted Rev. Courtland Weldon, recently in a series of evangelistic services at the Hickory Grove Church. He is widely recognized as one of the foremost preachers of the Baptist denomination, and is a most effective speaker, much in demand for special meetings. On Sunday, Home Coming services were well attended and a delightful luncheon was enjoyed under the sheltering boughs of the trees. Through the kindness of Mrs. Walter Maddox, a lovely plate lunch was received, for which deep appreciation is expressed.

A furlough with loved ones was recently enjoyed by Pvt. John Butler, who returned Saturday to Camp Lee, Va., where he is stationed, accompanied by his devoted companion who will reside in Petersburg, Va., to be near her soldier husband. Prior to his induction he was a member of the firm of Butler Bros., operating a general store. Friends everywhere are breathing a prayer for the speedy termination of the war, and expressing a hope that this gallant, youthful soldier may soon come home to stay, and enjoy a future peaceful world where horrors of war will never recur, but where security and freedom prevail.

Pvt. and Mrs. John Butler paid a brief call Saturday morning.

Nineteen-year-old Blaine Trapp has enlisted in the Navy, and left recently for the Naval Training Base at Norfolk, Va. He was a former resident of Kenton, and this noble young sailor would greatly appreciate words of cheer from his many friends. He is the son of Mrs. Bessie Trapp of Tiffin, Ohio, whose visit here next week is eagerly awaited by her grandchildren, Charles, Jackie and Bessie Morgan.

Mrs. Hugh Hemingway has sufficiently recovered to return home from the hospital, to the delight of many friends.

Mrs. Amos Lawson and sons, Jr. and Howard, were recent callers.

POPLAR GROVE

For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the spirit. —I Peter 3:18.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Herndon (nee Edna Webster) who were married Monday. We wish them much success and happiness through life.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brock spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Carver and son Tommy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart were the Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Stewart and family.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Connelly were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hedger were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Hanks. Mrs. Hanks returned with them for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Connelly and daughter were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Giles of Hesler.

Mrs. Lucille Allnut and daughter Betty Joe of Tennessee spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Connelly.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughter were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stone and daughter. Sunday afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Stewart and Miss Fannie Herndon

SOUTH FORK

Mrs. Bertha O'Donnell and Mrs. Sallye Dallas called on Mrs. Fanny Rider, Mrs. Sue Rider and Mrs. Hellen Densler, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brashear. We are sorry to hear Mrs. Brashear is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rider and daughter called on Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Rider and son, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and children and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Horton and daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Sisson and daughter.

Mrs. Hellen Densler and Mrs. Sue Rider and son were callers in Glencoe, Thursday morning.

Mrs. Lula Sisson is visiting her sister, Mrs. Flora Franks, of Hamilton, Ohio.

The many friends of Dr. J. W. Shupert regret to hear of his illness. We hope for his speedy recovery.

Aunt Belle Rider spent last week with her son, Wm. Rider, and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Rider and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Horton and baby, Betty Jane, of Cincinnati, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and family.

Miss Grace Densler spent Sunday with Mrs. Lucy Dean and family.

SUGAR CREEK

Robert Clifton attended the Utopia Club convention at Bingham Memorial Camp in Washington county over the weekend.

Mrs. Eliza Wallick called on Mrs. Eunice Ellis, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Story called on J. D. Southerland of Glencoe, who is ill, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Story entertained relatives from Cincinnati, Sunday.

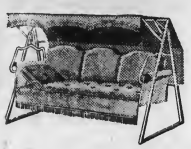
Mrs. C. J. Wallick spent several days last week with her sister, Mrs. Reva Smith of Union, who is very ill.

Mrs. Sarah Densler and son of Aurora, Ind., called on Miss Myrtle Edwards, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton entertained as their guests Friday evening, Mrs. Grover Clifton, Mrs Dona Clemons, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Story, Wendell Carlton and Dallas Wallick.

Thelma and Juanita Thomas spent the weekend with relatives near Carrollton.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Dr. J. W. Shupert of Warsaw, and wish for him a speedy recovery.



We are glad to report that Mrs Lillie Mae Leary has returned from the hospital to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Kinman.

Prepare For A Good Position

Salaries to Start — $18.00 to $35.00 Per Week.
National Defense and Private Industry Needs
More Stenographers and Typists—
DAY & NIGHT CLASSES — Start Your Course at Once.

Curtis Commercial College

EDWARD C. BADER, Principal
COlonial 0583 7 West Pike St., Covington, Ky.

GLIDERS
and
GLIDER CUSHIONS
BEAUTIFUL
as well as
COMFORTABLE

ALSO A COMPLETE LINE OF
Awnings, Hammocks, Porch and Lawn Furniture.

Covington Awning & Roofing Co.
3rd & SCOTT STS., COVINGTON Hiland 1735

COLONIAL
COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

A WARNING!

Because they have no pain, many persons never suspect they are subject to eyestrain. This is a harmful situation. Eyestrain is a constant drain on the nervous system, and may cause headaches, lassitude, etc. If neglected, it may work serious injury.

Let us carefully examine your eyes and furnish proper glasses, if needed. Relief from eyestrain will make you feel like an entirely different person.

F. Frank Riggs
OPTOMETRIST
MRS. R. RUSSELL

Don't Let
HIGH PRICES UNPLEASANT TASTE INCONVENIENCE

Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.

You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take

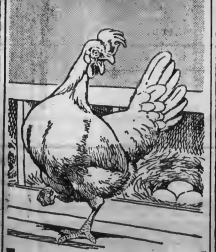
ONE A DAY
VITAMIN A AND D TABLETS
Pleasant-tasting - Convenient Economical

Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping

When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
—24-Hr. Wrecker Service—
Cars Washed - Storage

Kidneys Must Work Well-
For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.



If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

DOAN'S PILLS

GET THOSE EGGS
economically, with Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS
DR. SALSBURY POULTRY REMEDIES
Poultry & Dairy Feed
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

EILERMAN'S SUMMER Clearance

Positively every garment represented in this ad is below ceiling prices and every garment guaranteed as represented. Selections now are plentiful . . . but shop while merchandise is available. It's not American to hoard . . . but buy now what you need . . . that's strictly American.

SALE! MEN'S SUMMER SUITS

Every summer suit in both stores and some very choice light weight all wool gabardine suits are included in this . . . our most outstanding sale on men's finer clothing . . . in our fifty-seven years of business. All sizes.

Group No. 1 . . .
Were 22.50, 25.00, 27.50 - NOW 19.90

Positively Every Summer Suit in these three price ranges are included.

Group No. 2 . . .
Were 30.00, 32.50, 35.00 - NOW 27.90

Sale! Men's Gabardine Slack Suits - - - - 5.59
Sale! Men's Straw Hats - - - now 1.59 to 3.19
Sale! Men's 1.79 and 2.00 Shirts now - - 1.59
Sale! Men's Regular 1.00 Quality Ties - - - 69c
Sale! Men's Regular 1.50 and 2.00 Ties - - 1.10
Sale! Men's Regular 35c and 45c Hose - - 29c
Sale! Men's Regular 65c and 75c Hose - - 57c

SALE! Men's Oxfords!

No hold backs . . . in this great summer clearance of men's sport oxfords . . . choose now while styles and sizes are available. Sizes AA to D, 6 to 12.

Group No. 1 . . .
Florsheim's 10.00 Sports - NOW 8.95

Group No. 2
6.95, 7.95, 8.65
Crosby Squares, Sport Styles - 6.29

Rodney Courts . . . 5.50
Jarman Sports . . . 5.95 . Now 4.85

EILERMAN'S
COVINGTON
NEWPORT
Kentucky's Best

BOMBS BURST ONCE

By GRANVILLE CHURCH

W.N.U. SERVICE

THE STORY SO FAR: Jeff Curtis and his wife, Lee, are already on their way to Tierra Libre when Jeff receives a note from Zora Mitchell warning them not to come. It is too late to turn back, so Jeff decides not to tell Lee, who was opposed to their returning to the tropics. She finally agreed to go only after Jeff had persuaded her that the job of chief engineer for a newly organized fruit company is the chance of a lifetime. They arrive in Tierra Libre to find Zora's husband dead. In a conversation with Jerry McInnis, Jeff learns that Mitchell's death was murder and that there is something strange going on. Jeff and Lee are waiting now for Senor Montaya, who hired Jeff. In spite of the fact that his investigation of the company revealed nothing, Jeff is suspicious. NOW CONTINUE WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III

McInnis shoved off for Puerto Soledad at once. His launch was built for service, not speed, and bucking the tides along the coast would slow him down further.

On the dock it took the combined efforts of both Lee and Curt to keep the boys out of mischief.

Presently a downriver boat snuggled into its herth with the ease of a ferry. It gave a pair of toots, delicate as a French railway train's, as the gangplank was wheeled to the vessel's side and the joh of berthing completed.

Senor Montaya was unmistakable—tall, erect of hearing, very clearly the gente de pelo, the gente principal of these countries. He wore faultless whites, a crisp panama on curly black hair. Straight from the ship to the little group he came.

"My sincere apologies, Mr. Curtis, Mrs. Curtis," were his first words. He spoke with very little accent, though the timbre of his voice betrayed his Spanish origin. He made a deep bow to Lee, held out his hand to Curt. "I have heen more than husy since—ah, Mr. Mitchell's unfortunate happening. You bave discovered by now the reason I need a new Chief Engineer, no?"

Lee took the hoys in hand, holding their interest with the selection of a gigantic, gaudy straw hat for each of them, from stock piled a dozen high on a vendor's bead, while Senor Montaya led Curt on a quick survey of the docks and facilities here.

In the sheds, two items instantly caught the eye—two boxes forty feet long, ten wide, and quite thin for these dimensions. Curt cocked a brow at them.

Montaya said briefly, "Spare wings. We have two planes. One of them was tied up for weeks once by a damaged wing, so now we have spares on hand."

"I heard you've bad considerable use from your planes."

"Yes," was the monosyllabic reply.

"What make are they?"

It was s conversational question. It would have made no difference one way or another what Montaya answered, yet the question brought s sharp, quick glance from eyes that were beady black here in the gloom of the hig receiving shed—and a rotund vagueness in reply.

One end of the bodega was piled high with barrels hearing the stencil of a well-known chemical firm. Curt paused before them, looked them over with considerable interest. Lime.

"So you treat the soil hefore planting?" he asked. "Over-acid, I suppose, from centuries of flooding."

A frown definitely stamped Montaya's forehead at this, but was immediately chased away hy s smile that showed even, white teeth.

"That, Mr. Curtis," the senor replied smoothly, "is a question that would come under the head of chemical research. We have a chemical expert, Dr. Toenjes, from Amsterdam. If be likes you, he may be willing to answer your questions. But I wouldn't count on it," he said, with another flash of teeth. "Dr. Toenjes is quite jealous of his theories, which I expect will produce more and better fruit than Associated across the river."

As Curt was turning this over in his mind, Senor Montaya pulled at his lower lip—a lip unusually red even for his swarthy skin.

"I expect you to work along with us in this fashion. You are responsible for the engineering work assigned to you, just as Dr. Toenjes is responsible as Agricultural Superintendent, just as Mr. Lannestock is responsible for aviation and Mr. Ryden for transportation."

"Lannestock? Ryden?"

"Most of our contract employees are Americans. These two are Swedish. I brought them here as pilots. But we no longer need two full-time pilots. As Mr. Ryden proved himself capable in transportation matters, I have given him charge of that department."

Curt had a long-estahlished babit of fiddling with his pipe when mulling over some point that needed thought. He suddenly discovered he'd been stuffing it during this polite harangue. Since the senor while talking had been leading the way into the open, Curt now lit up, expelling a huge cloud of smoke before he said mildly, with a smile:

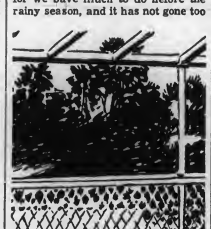
"All of which is hy way of telling me to mind my own business? Well, that's all right. You've bired me for the engineering end of your venture, and that's where my interest lies. I'll try to curb my wandering curiosity."

Senor Montaya eyed Curt a moment.

"I am quite sure we shall get along, Mr. Curtis."

They took a rapid look-see in the port office, Montaya introducing Curt casually, then returned to Lee and the children, seated on their pile of luggage. The boys' leashes were on them again, much to their audible disgust.

A pair of quick toots now came from the river steamer that had been loading all morning, even as the Pisces docked. The baggage was hauled aboard, the little party followed. As they headed slowly upstream, Senor Montaya made his guests comfortable under a deck awning.



Iced coffee was served as the children, exhausted from heat and excitement, slept on a sarape spread on the deck, each jealously clutching his new hat, big as himself.

To Montaya Jeff said casually, "I suppose there's no reason why you shouldn't say who recommended me to you?"

"No, none," admitted his host. "It was Mr. Mitchell."

"Mitchell!"

"Yes, himself. Though perhaps unknowingly, I explain. Many times I bad to warn him about his attitude toward the men under him. Of course, I—what do you say? ah, yes, I hounded him to get the work done, for we have much to do before the rainy season, and it has not gone too well. But certainly I did not want him to antagonize the workers.

Each jealously clutching his new hat big as himself.

"One can—ah, drive some men, others not. It is a fine point to know how far one can go with workers. When I saw the many enemies Mr. Mitchell was making, I thought, 'But this is unfortunate.' I feared—ah, an 'accident.' So it was bappy for me that I led him into talk of competent engineers. You were one he mentioned above others. You see?"

Two hours of fighting the current upriver, and they found at Tempujo another modern dock, with a long floating stage built to allow for the rise of the river in flood-time. Now, the river at low point, the wharf towered high above them. Their baggage was swung upward in a cargo net, a deckhand riding the hook to avoid the stairs, while Curt and the others climbed the long flight of steps from the floating stage to the landing above.

Spread before them, on the only rise of land for miles along this side of the river, was a small town built arrowbead-fashion around a fan-shaped railroad terminus of storage tracks.

Montaya pointed out a centrally located hungalow. "Your Tempujo office, Mr. Curtis. There is sleeping accommodation there for you. There will be nights when you are unable to get back to San Alejo."

Montaya led the party to two motorcars, automobiles with flanged wheels to operate on the narrow-gauge railroad tracks. Side windows of the sedan bodies rolled completely into the framework, making all-weather cars for the variable climate.

Montaya ordered the two motor boys ahead with the baggage, while he drove the Curtises in the second car.

Off they sped across the flat, uninteresting country.

Far off on Curt's right was what appeared to be a tremendous salt field, but be knew it couldn't be that. Lime, went his thoughts, laid by airplane before planting.

San Alejo sat prettily on an outjutting hump of the range a full thousand feet above the flats, and the railroad took to sharp curves and steep grades in climbing to the town. Slanting down from a bowl of summits above was a pipe line, indicating a reservoir.

Senor Montaya preened himself. "A good site, no? The whole year there are winds that sweep across this face of the mountains in late afternoon and evening, but never does the wind come up from the old swampland. The result? We are happy to have no malaria here where we live. This makes the senora more comfortable, no?"

He pointed as the car rounded a curve and the town came into fuller view.

"You see that long, low building? Our bospital. Larger than we need, perhaps, but it is more better to be prepared. Across the plaza is our clubhouse. That building of two stories which looks out over the valley from between, it is our administration building. The ground floor is commissary where the senora can get anything she needs. We are very proud of San Alejo."

"Reason to he," grunted Curt. "Good layout."

"So we think, too. There is nothing to break our view. In back of the cluh we have the swimming pool, the tennis courts, also the schools—three of them. For the different ages of the children, no?"

And now the car took another curve that brought into sight the farther down-slope of Mt. San Alejo. Below, about a kilometer from the town, was an exceptionally long, cleared field, with a broad well-worn strip down its length. A branch of the railroad led to it around the base of the mountain.

"Good sized field," Curt commented. "You've several buildings besides hangars."

"Yes." Just the one word.

"But is that a fence I see around the field?"

"Your eyes are sharp, Mr. Curtis. Yes, the field does have a fence. Our chief pilot nearly lost his life during his first month here because of a native's mania for souvenirs. We had not thougbt to properly protect the planes. It is a serious thing to risk one's life in the air, Mr. Curtis, so I felt I should put a fence around the field."

Curt saw a flash behind the living-quarters. "Swimming pool?"

"Yes, a small one. I do all I can to keep the men contented. It is much worth the cost, It pays well."

At the far end of the field was a sizeable copse of trees, and Curt wondered that they should he left standing within the field. Before be could see more, however, another switch-back of the climbing railroad lost the field to view.

The motorcar, laboring up the grade, came out onto a level stretch, picked up speed, and at once they were in the heart of the small town.

"It is late," Montaya was saying. "You have yet to unpack and get settled. I will take you to your house now. I trust, Senora, that the cook and house servant we furnish you will prove satisfactory."

Lee made a vague sound in reply.

"In the morning," Montaya turned to Curt, "if you will come to my office at eight, I will spend the day with you. We shall—how do you say it? ah, yes, buckle down to work."

The sidewalks were not wide enough for the group ahreast. Montaya walked ahead, carrying the two children whose shoes made smudges on his spotless coat. The boys were silent with this stranger. Lee wrinkled her nose in distaste at the senor's faultlessly tailored back.

"Ha!" she murmured. "Look at him, the dark lily!"

"Sh." Curt tightened his hold on ber arm. "He may bave ears," be whispered.

"Well, I don't care," she muttered resentfully. "Look how he carries the kids. He likes children? I lsugh, ha-ha."

Montaya deposited the boys carefully hefore a hedge of hibiscus, opened the wire gate, smiled them through onto the neatly scythed lawn where a mango, a fast-growing tree, already offered some shade to lawn and house. He was about to turn away with s gallant lift of his hat, when Curt mentioned Mrs. Mitchell for the first time.

"We were close friends with the Mitchells a few years ago. It must have been a terrible blow to her," he said. "I think we should express our regrets as soon ss possible."

"Ah." Senor Montaya pulled at his lower lip. "It was a most terrible sbock to her, Mr. Curtis." He cast a glance at Lee. "I—ah, bad not meant to speak of it before the senora, but to be sure she will bave to know. Mrs. Mitchell—ah, committed suicide only yesterday. From grief. This morning she was buried. A sad affair, yes. That was wbat delayed me."

Curt managed a blank face to hide the disturbing shock, but Lee was frankly astonished. She reached for Curt's hand. Not until Montaya was out of bearing, however, did she exclaim:

"Sbe never! Zora Mitchell commit suicide? Not Zora! She wasn't the type. Besides, she never cared that much for him."

"She never seemed to," admitted Curt slowly. "They were a cool enough couple."

He turned to the bouse. Absently be held Lee's band ss they climbed the steps. But his free hand, in his pocket, was crushing Zora Mitchell's note.

Before going to bed that night, Curt held a lighted match to the note. But the words were burned into his mind.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Farm Topics

High Egg Production While Prices Are Good

Suggestions Given for Improved Pullet Flocks

By H. H. ALP

(Extension Poultryman, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.)

In times of good prices one is not likely to think in terms of losing money, certainly not so much as when prices are low. There is a great deal more at stake, however, when prices are high, or favorable to the producer. If low egg production exists then, the loss is actually

Courtesy U. S. Department of Agriculture

It is a smile of Victory this young miss has. For with the eggs from her own chickens for consumption here, and abroad where they are sent in powdered form, the necessary energy to carry on the great fight against the enemy is being partly supplied.

greater than it would be if egg production were low during a period of poor prices.

For good egg production at this season of the year, the pullet flock should bave:

1. A poultry house which provides four square feet of floor space for each bird.

2. Some form of insulation in the house.

3. A good ration in small feeders, which are freshly filled every day, or at least every other day.

4. Two water containers in a room approximately 20 by 20 feet.

5. A ration featuring some form of milk, whole oats, a good grade of alfalfa, and a vitamin-D oil.

6. A supplemental feeding of moist mash once a day, if necessary. This practice is not essential for all flocks, but in the case of flocks "going stale" or losing weigbt, and for late, immature pullets.

7. Lights if necessary. Ligbts might be used in the same situations in which moist mash feeding is suitable. A successful practice has been to use two 10-watt lamps all night in a room 20 by 20 feet.

8. Fresh litter to keep up the spirits of the flock and for the maintenance of health.

9. Regular attention; irregularity plays havoc with egg production.

10. The benefit of some good common sense. It is not bougbt in bottles and bags.

AGRICULTURE INDUSTRY
Peat Moss

By FLORENCE WEED

(This is one of a series of articles showing how farm products are finding an important market in industry.)

Peat miners, you might call them, those farmers who are lucky enough to find a bed of peat located on their land. Domestic peat is needed now to supplement the reduced supply being imported from Europe.

Most of the beds in this country are located in northern states: Maine, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio and northern Washington.

Moss, sedge and reed pest are considered safe as a fertilizer for gardens and golf course greens. Other kinds which have an acid reaction and are not chemically adapted to combination with soil are found useful as insulating material, as stable litter, and as an absorbent layer for poultry bouses in winter. Peat dust is found to be an effective deodorizer. Peat can be used as a substitute for medicated cotton in the making of surgical dressings. It bas been used in the making of paper.

Peat mining is not a difficult job. The peat is first ripped up from the earth, shredded in a machine, pressed or dried to get rid of excess moisture, then cleaned and sacked. For some uses, the peat is pulverized to powder. All of these are farm operstions that can be done by one man.

Agricultural Notes

Wet mash bas been used from the beginning of the poultry industry to encourage the birds to eat more, and to increase or maintain production.

• • •

The U. S. department of agriculture bas recommended to war emergency officials that increased amounts of dairy equipment be made avsilable to farmers in 1942.

Improved Uniform International | SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for July 12

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

ADAM AND EVE: TEMPTATION AND SIN

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 3:1-13, 23, 24.
GOLDEN TEXT—The soul that sinneth, it shall die.—Ezekiel 18:4.

The finished creation of God was "very good," but before long it was marred by sin. Dr. Hart-Davies in his book on Genesis speaks of a brick from the walls of ancient Babylon, now in the British museum. It "bears the imprint of one of Babylon's mighty kings. Right over the center of the royal seal is deeply impressed the footprint of s 'pariah' dog which apparently trod upon it when it was soft and plastic. Human nature is like that brick. Man originally was made in the image of God, but over the divine likeness there has been superimposed the dirty disfigurement of the devil's imprint."

We see first in our lesson the appearance of the serpent who is the subtle emissary of—

I. Satan (vv. 1-5).

Man, because he was made in God's image, was not a mere automaton, having no moral choice. He was s free being who had to choose between good and evil. Obedience to God is the underlying moral principle of the universe. Man was given an opportunity to obey the prohibition of one tree in the Garden of Eden. The principle of prohibition in the midst of a world of privilege thus has divine sanction.

Satan provided the occasion for man's fall into sun. He came, not ss the cloven-hoofed monstrosity of modern cartoonists, but ss s creature more subtle than all other creation. His approacb in our day is just as smooth and cultured (II Cor. 11:14).

II. Sin (v. 6).

Let us be clear that sin is not a necessity, not a natural weakness of man, not a falling upward in the progress of the race, but a deliberate choice to transgress the law of God. At once it sbowed its true nature by reaching out and leading another into transgression.

The one who listens to a slander against God can easily begin to douht His Word, and then it is not difficult to look at wbat God has forhidden. Then the desire of the flesh takes hold and disobedience follows (cf. I John 2:16).

III. Shame (vv. 7-13).

The breaking of a right relationship with God broke the perfection of man's fellowship with man. Innocence was swallowed up in s sense of shame. But the shame is far deeper than a sense of nakedness. It speaks of a beart marked with sin which makes man bide from God.

Satan had promised Adam and Eve that they should know more about good and evil (v. 5), but all the good they learned about was what they had now lost, and the evil they learned was the sin which now blackened their souls and darkened their lives.

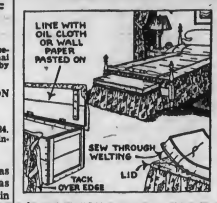
And with them fell the whole human race, for Paul tells us in Romans 5:12 that "by one man sin entered the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all bave sinned."

IV. Sorrow (vv. 23, 24).

Man and his help meet, who had begun with such glorious promise in the garden, now had the great sorrow of being driven out by God. No longer to be trusted, man was kept out by the cherubim, mysterious angelic beings with the awful flaming sword.

Labor, which in the garden had been but a pleasant diversion, became a struggle against a thorn-infested ground. Sorrow was linked with motherbood, and man began to bear the heavy responsibilities of life (see Gen. 3:14-19).

But we must not close our lesson without pointing out that in the midst of judgment God provided mercy. The promise of man's redemption is written first in God's Book in Genesis 3:15, and from there the scarlet thread of redemptive truth runs right through the Bible to its last chapter.



Even in judging the first Adam for his sin, God thus promised the coming of the second Adam who was to redeem the race. We became members of the first Adam's family by natural birth—without the privilege of choice. We become members of the family of the second Adam by a new birth—a spiritual, supernatural rebirth. But the latter is by our own choice! (I Cor. 15:21, 22, 45).

Wayside Ministering

Jesus was never bound down to the size of his audience. He was neither elated by a big crowd nor discouraged by an audience of one. In fact, some of his most wonderful teachings were given to individuals whom he met by the wayside; the woman of Samaria, Zacchaeus, Mary and Martha, the Syrophoenician woman, Nicodemus, the woman taken in adultery, the blind man in the temple, are only a few of those to whom Jesus gave of his best as he passed them on the way.

NEW IDEAS for Home-makers

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

A SMARTLY flounced blanket chest with contrasting cushion is a useful addition to any bedroom. It serves as a convenient seat; and extra covers are right at hand on chilly nights. A pair of these, covered to match spreads, would go well with twin beds.

Plan the size of your chest to fill your needs and space. It may be made of one-inch pine and should be about 15 inches high without the cushion. Make the flounce with double fullness—that is, twice as long as the space it is to fill after it is gathered. The cushion may be filled with cotton padding, feathers or down.

• • •

NOTE: Book No. 8 of the series of booklets offered with these articles gives directions for flowered blanket protectors and a bedside bag for books and magazines. Also many other things to make for almost nothing from odds and ends to be found in almost every home. To get a copy of Book No. 8 send your order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for Book 8.

Name.....

Address.....

Kool-Aid
Makes 10 BIG THIRST-QUENCHERS
7 Delicious Flavors
5¢

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Equal amounts of coffee and heated milk, sweetened to taste, make an appetizing drink.

• • •

When ironing no matter what the article, the important thing is to iron it until absolutely dry.

• • •

Save all soot that accumulates in fireplaces and chimneys. Applied dry as a dressing on lawns or in liquid form to plants it makes an excellent fertilizer. After mixing soot with water let stand until water is clear. Twice a week is often enough to use it on plants.

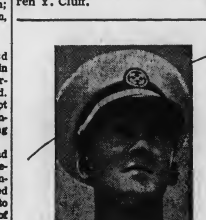
• • •

Apply several coats of boiled linseed oil to the soles of your shoes and let dry thoroughly to conserve them.

• • •

To make a jelly bag, use a piece of thin muslin, hem the top after seaming it. Leave the hem open a little at each end. Run two strings or pieces of tape through the openings and fasten the ends of the tape. This leaves you a string to pull at either end. When fruit is in the bag, pull up each string, tie them together and hang on a hook to drip.

True Optimist



An optimist is one who believes in optimism as a practical, workable, philosophy of life. Believing in the goodness of God and the ultimate victory of right over wrong, a real optimist is one who continues to fight the good fight against all difficulties, giving his best, and expressing in a life of action those fundamental ideals of faith, courage, love, and service, which make for happiness, goodwill and enduring success.—Warren Y. Cluff.

PERFECT GROOMING
MOROLINE HAIR TONIC 10¢

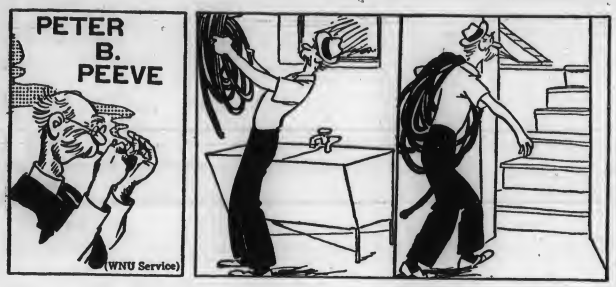
Remember the End
Whatsoever thou takest in hand, remember the end, and thou shalt never do amiss.—Ecclesiasticus.

Dream Sight
A sight to dream of, not to tell.
—Coleridge.

NEW FREE GIFT WITH SILVER DUST
SILVER DUST
FINE Cannon FACE CLOTH WORTH 10¢ OR MORE FREE IN EVERY BOX YOU BUY
The white soap, the right soap for laundry and dishes

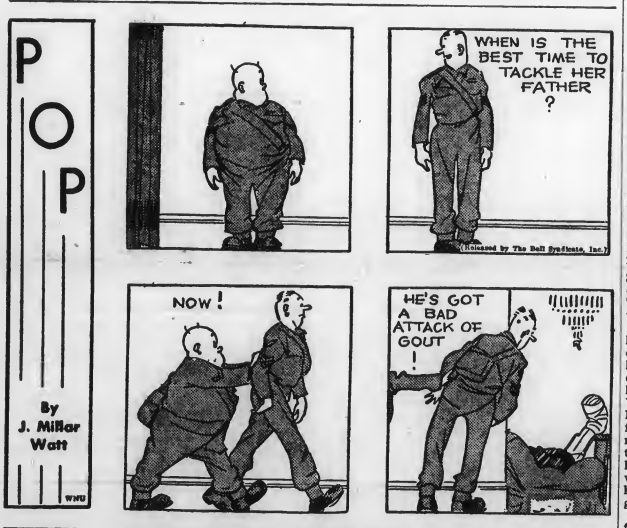
Sailfish on the center line!

HE'S A "SELF-STARTER"

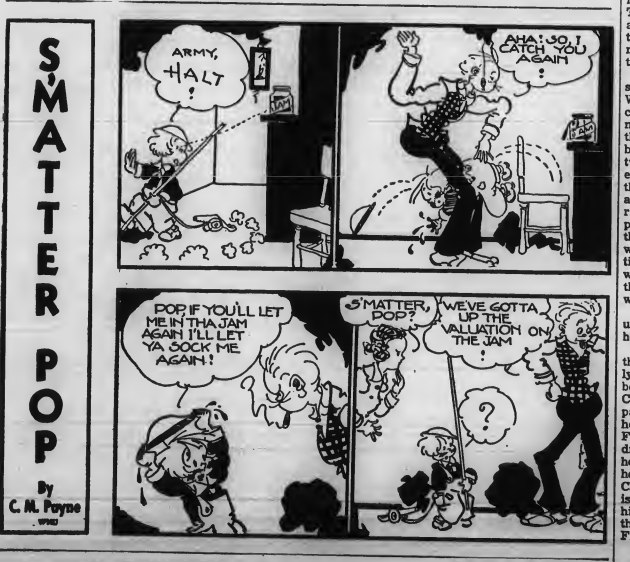


CAPTAIN HAROLD ANDREWS, Skipper of the Riptide, deep-sea fishing yacht, stalks the Gulf Stream off the coast of Florida for coveted "sails" and blue marlin. He's kept hopping all the time, he says: "For my money, there's nothing to help start you off right like Kellogg's Corn Flakes with fruit and milk! Boy—there's a dish!"

Copr. 1942 by Kellogg Company



CONSISTENT ADVERTISING



When advertising is carried on for a long enough time, the name of the product advertised becomes a part of the daily life of the household, a trusted and respected thing. No thing can be consistently advertised unless it is worthy of that trust and respect.

OUR COMIC SECTION

Children's Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

STRIPED CHIPMUNK CUTS THE STRING

"Happy hop! Flippy Flop! All on a summer day,
My mother turned me from the house and sent me out to play!"

STRIPED CHIPMUNK knew perfectly well that that was just nonsense, but Striped Chipmunk learned a long time ago that when you are just bubbling right over with good feeling there is fun in saying and doing foolish things, and that is just how he was feeling. So he ran along the old rail fence on one side of the Long Lane saying foolish things and cutting up foolish capers just because he felt so good.

Now Striped Chipmunk and the Merry Little Breezes of Old Mother West Wind are great friends, very great friends indeed. Almost every morning they have a grand frolic together. But this morning the Merry Little Breezes hadn't come over to the old stone wall where Striped Chipmunk makes his home. Anyway, they hadn't come at the usual time. Striped Chipmunk had waited a little while and then, because he was feeling so good, he decided to take a run down the Long Lane to see if anything new had happened there. That is how it happened that when one of the Merry Little Breezes did go to look for him, and was terribly anxious to find him to ask him to come to the help of Grandfather Frog, he was nowhere to be found.

"Why, Grandfather Frog, what under the sun are you doing here?" he shouted.

But Striped Chipmunk didn't know anything about that. He scampered along the top rails of the old fence, jumped up on top of a post and sat up to wash his face and hands, for Striped Chipmunk is very neat and cannot bear to be the least bit dirty. Then he kicked up his heels and whisked along the old fence again.

Half way across a shaky old rail he suddenly stopped. His bright eyes had seen something that filled him with curiosity, quite as much curiosity as Peter Rabbit would have had. It was a piece of string. Yes, sir, it was a piece of string. Now Striped Chipmunk often had found pieces of string, so there was nothing particularly interesting in the string itself. What did interest him and make him very curious was the fact that this piece of string kept moving. Every few seconds it gave a little jerk.

For a few minutes he watched it from the top rail of the old fence. Then he scurried down to the ground and, a few steps at a time, stopping to watch sharply between each little run, he drew nearer and nearer to that queer-acting string.

Striped Chipmunk sat down and scratched his head thoughtfully. Whoever was pulling that string couldn't be very big or they would never have been able to crawl under that old board, therefore, he needn't be afraid. A gleam of mischief twinkled in Striped Chipmunk's eyes. He seized the other end of the string and began to pull. Such a jerking and yanking as began right away! But he held on and pulled harder. Then out from under the old board appeared the queer webbed feet of Grandfather Frog tied together. Striped Chipmunk was so surprised that he let go of the string and nearly fell over backward.

"Why, Grandfather Frog, what under the sun are you doing here?" he shouted.

When Striped Chipmunk let go of the string Grandfather Frog promptly drew his feet back under the old board, but when he heard Striped Chipmunk's voice he slowly and painfully crawled out. He told how he had been caught and tied by Farmer Brown's Boy and finally dropped near the old board. He told how terribly frightened he was and how sore his legs were. Striped Chipmunk didn't wait for him to finish. In a flash he was at work with his sharp little teeth and had cut the cruel string before Grandfather Frog had finished his story.

Associated Newspapers—WNU Features.

Phosphorescent Blackout

The large electrical research laboratory is advocating the painting of all factory walls with phosphorescent paints. These store up energy when the lights are shining and give it off for a short while when illumination stops. When the blackout comes, the walls would continue to give off a faint glow for a short time during which the workers' eyes would become adapted to the darkness. This would also give time for the workers to find their way to their emergency posts.

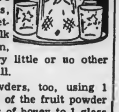
Household Hints

by Lynn Chambers

Cool, Ice-Tinkling Drinks Ward Off Summer Fatigue
(See Recipes Below.)

Sugar-Saving Drinks

When the thermometer's perched on the highest rung of the temperature ladder, do you feel your spirits sagging, your energy running low? Yes, the warm weather begins to take its toll just about the time you feel you need push and drive most. But, make a comeback, quickly and easily with a healthful, fruit-juicy drink served in a tall, colorful frosty glass.



An attractively served drink will perk up your spirits more quickly than you can say "Jack Sprat!" Plan to freeze some of those fragrant mint leaves and those few odd berries left over from the shortcake, with water in the ice cube trays for they make a pretty drink. Or, if you like colored ice cubes that prevent your summer beverage from taking on a watery taste, freeze fruit juices diluted with water into ice cubes. You'll like this.

There's a lot more to be said for cool drinks other than their general nice appearance. Besides providing your system with the vitamin C, in excellent quantity, and A and B in good quantity, the citrus fruits, oranges and lemons, act as alkalizers for the system. This acts as insurance against fatigue, which is a big thing in warmer weather.

Milk and ice cream are perfect ingredients with fruit juices for cooling drinks. Not only do they contain most of the requisites for a well-balanced diet, but they are easy to take and lend themselves in pleasant combination with other foods.

Your biggest problem with summer drinks will come in trying to save sugar. But don't let this stump you, for you can use fruit juices that have natural sugars, honey as a sweetener, and milk and ice cream, which need very little or no other sweetening at all.

Try fruit powders, too, using 1 level tablespoon of the fruit powder with 3 teaspoons of honey to 1 glass of water or milk. Fill the glass with shimmering ice chips and you have an excellent thirst quencher in a wink.

Fruit juices used with ice cream and honey are kind to the sugar ration:

Orange Cooler.
(Makes 1½ quarts)

2 cups orange juice
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup maraschino cherry juice
1 cup ginger ale
2 tablespoons honey

SUMMER REFRESHMENTS

I.
*Chocolate Crunch
*Orange Cooler

II.
*Honey Chocolate Nut Cookies
*Root Beer Flip
*Recipes Given

1 pint vanilla ice cream
2 tablespoons sliced maraschino cherries

Mix fruit juices and ginger ale; add honey; mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add ice cream and stir until blended. Serve in chilled glasses topped with cherry slices.

Orange Ginger Ale Punch.
(Serves 12 to 15)

1 quart orange ice
2 quarts ginger ale
Orange slices
Maraschino cherries with stems
Sprigs of mint leaves

Place orange ice in punch bowl and pour in ginger ale. Garnish with orange slices attractively cut and floated in punch. Add cherries and mint sprigs.

Milk drinks make cool, tempting refreshments, and are just the thing for afternoon or evening snacks:

Orange Quench.
(Serves 1)

¾ cup milk
¼ cup orange juice
1 teaspoon sugar

Combine ingredients and beat until thoroughly blended. Serve chilled.

Root Beer Flip.
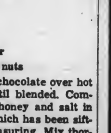
(Serves 1)

½ cup root beer
½ cup milk
1 serving vanilla ice cream



Pour root beer and milk into a tall glass. Add ice cream and serve immediately.

Maple Cooler.
(Serves 1)

2 tablespoons maple syrup
¼ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk
Few grains salt

Combine ingredients and beat one minute. Top with whipped cream, if desired.

You will be driving around less these summer evenings for your breath of fresh air, but you will probably spend more time on your back porch, having the neighbors drop in and serving them simple drinks and a few sugar-saving cookies for the in-between-meal snack. You'll enjoy both of these recipes:

Honey Chocolate Nut Cookies.

½ cup butter
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
2 eggs, well beaten
½ cup honey
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup sifted flour
½ cup chopped nuts

Melt butter and chocolate over hot water and stir until blended. Combine eggs, sugar, honey and salt in bowl. Add flour which has been sifted once before measuring. Mix thoroughly, add chocolate mixture and beat until smooth. Add nuts. Drop from spoonfuls on greased baking sheet, and bake in a slow (300-degree) oven 15 minutes. Remove from sheet immediately. The cookies taste better when mellowed, so pack in a tight container between layers of waxed paper.

Chocolate Crunch.

½ pound semi-sweet or sweet milk chocolate
1 cup oven-popped rice cereal

Melt chocolate over hot water. Add cereal and stir until blended. Pack into a pan lined with waxed paper. Allow to set until chocolate hardens, then cut into squares.

Send your summer refreshment queries to Miss Lynn Chambers, Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply.

Released by Western Newspaper Union

Lynn Says:

The Score Card: Definite news has reached me on the spice situation, so now you homemakers can see exactly what is available in this line.

There's enough to go around freely of: cayenne, red pepper, mustard, chili powder, dill seeds, oregano, paprika, curry, cake spice, mixed pickling spice, celery seed, onion and garlic salt and powder, bay leaves, marjoram, cardamom, anise and black pepper.

Careful use is indicated for these spices: cinnamon, mace, allspice, white pepper, cloves, nutmeg and ginger.

Canning rubbers, lids, jars, etc. are available in sufficient quantity for this season's produce. An extra ration of sugar for canners will be allowed, amounting to five pounds per person for the year.

There's a possibility that coffee, tea, and cocoa may come in for rationing. Homemakers are also advised to save and conserve all fats, grease and oil. If you cannot use the fat at home, keep it well preserved in a cool place to prevent its becoming rancid, then bring to your butcher.

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

MONUMENTS

Help Wanted—Female

An Alarming Scarcity of Beauty Operators! Your chance to save. Our $75 course reduced to $50; easy terms; maintenance. Operators earning $20-$40 weekly. Learn at home. Nation-wide placement. 8th grade education; no age limit. Write Royal Beauty Academy, 401 Roosevelt Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

PERSONALS

LADIES don't take unnecessary risks with Health and Hazeltine "For Feminine Hygiene use Boric Antiseptic Capsules—Silmilmatic Douche powders or money Jellies—Boric Capsules are correct to use—Kill germs at contact, safe for delicate tissue. Non-Poisonous—Non-Irritating. No Apparatus—Small handy flesh white capsules in purse size box of 20 sent postpaid for only $1.00. Or trial size of 5 Capsules only 50c. Nickels cash, check or money order.
JOHNSON PHARMACAL CO.
861 3rd Ave. Dept. B New York City

JUST JESTING

And That Fast

"My dad takes things apart to see why they don't go."
"So what!"
"You'd better go."

"My wife has a queer way of getting even with the telephone company," Brown confided to a friend. "She used my car to knock down their poles."

Qualified

Summer Theater Manager—That new actress is clumsy as a cow.
Critic—Well, maybe that's why she's trying to get into your stock company.

Twiddle Twaddle

Bobby—A little bird told me what kind of lawyer your father is.
Johnny—What did the bird say?
"Cheep, cheep."
"Well, a duck told me what kind of a doctor your father is!"

Double or Nothing

"You saved me from drowning young man," said the wealthy old miser, "and I would gladly give you a half dollar, but I've only a dollar bill."

"Oh, I'll fix that," replied the rescuer, "jump in again."

FOOT IRRITATION RELIEVED quickly with comforting medicated Mexican Heat Powder. Soothes, cools and refreshes.

Deception

Individuals indeed may deceive and be deceived; but no one has ever deceived all men, nor have all men ever deceived any one.—Pliny.

Gas on Stomach
Relieved in 5 minutes or double money back
When acid gas, sour stomach and heartburn, doctors usually prescribe the fastest-acting medicines known for symptomatic relief—medicines like those in Bell-ans Tablets. No laxative. Bell-ans brings comfort in a jiffy or double your money back on return of bottle to us. 25c at all druggists.

Black Leaf 40 KILLS LICE
Use our new "Cap-Brush" Applicator makes "BLACK LEAF-40" SO MUCH FASTER
JUST A DASH IN FEATHERS... OR SPREAD ON ROOSTS

The Unbeliever

It is the pert, superficial thinker who is generally strongest in every kind of unbelief.—Sir Humphry Davy.

That Nagging Backache
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILLS

WNU—E 27—42

BARGAINS
—that will save you many a dollar will escape you if you fail to read carefully and regularly the advertising of local merchants . . .
IN THIS PAPER

DOMESTIC

"My vacation doesn't seem to be doing me a bit of good."
"I've got my wife along, too."

It's a Gyp

When a Scottish barber was engaging a new assistant he pointed out.
"I pay lower wages in the summer because the work's lighter."
"But surely people get their hair cut quite as often, if not oftener, in the summer than the winter?" protested the applicant for the job.
"Aye," agreed the barber, "but you dinna ha's to help them on wi' their overcoats."

RECIPROCATION

Bug—Did you go to the crickets concert last night?
Grasshopper—Yes, and they're all coming to our hop tonight."

Don't Miss These Values

SALE!

Every Spring Shoe Reduced

Girls'— Main Floor

Hundreds of Pairs of Smart Spring Shoes Reduced for Quick Selling

Women's— Main Floor

These are the same shoes that have been selling for much more money, we must make room for our advance fall shoes now coming in daily.

We sell better shoes for less and prove it. Every pair guaranteed perfect. What we say it is. It is!

1.65 Values to $4.00 — Odds and ends from our regular stock of better shoes in this clearance sale.

2.65 Values to $6.50 — Every Spring shoe in our store now drastically reduced.

3.65 Values to $8.75

Boys'— 2nd Floor

Every pair of men's and boys' spring shoes now reduced for this sale. One group of men's shoes that sold regularly for $5.00 to $6.50, now $3.65

MEN'S and BOYS' on SECOND FLOOR

Men's— 2nd Floor

Open Every Thursday and Saturday Evenings

Quality Sample Shoe Shop

627 Madison Avenue —:— Covington, Kentucky

NEW JAMES THEATRE

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m. —Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY & SAT., JULY 10-11
Madeleine Carroll in
"BAHAMA PASSAGE"

SUNDAY, JULY 12
Betty Grable - Victor Mature in
"SONG of the ISLANDS"

MONDAY, JULY 13
'CHARLIE CHAN IN RIO'
with Sidney Toler

TUESDAY & WED., JULY 14-15
Fred Astare - Rita Hayworth in
'YOU'LL Never Get RICH'

THURSDAY, JULY 16
"MAN from MONTANA"
with Johnny Mack Brown

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.

CHAMBERS & GRUBBS

Funeral Directors WALTON

Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation

Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.

DIXIE STATE BANK

WALTON, KENTUCKY

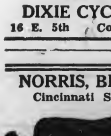
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Classified ADS

Any Number Insertions

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

FOR SALE—4-year-old horse; 2 3-year-old horses, or will trade for cattle, hogs, sorghum mill. C. H. Sewell, Union, Ky. 1t36*



RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

FOR SALE — Frying chickens. Mrs. C. S. Finnell, R-1, Verona. Phone Walton 765. 2t36*

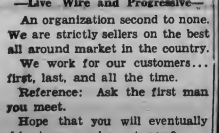
FOR SALE—2 carloads of stock cattle, good quality, priced to sell. Boyd Elliott, Ottis Readnour, Frank Cooke. Phone 154 Walton. tf35

FOR SALE—Registered Spotted Poland-China boars and gilts, large enough for service; also extra good 5-year-old farm mare. James W. Huey, Union, Ky. Phone Florence 550. 2t36

FOR SALE — Male hog. E. B. McClure, Verona, Ky. 2t35*

SAVE YOUR CAR and MONEY RIDE A BIKE

We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.



LIBERAL TERMS

DIXIE CYCLE SHOP

16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

NORRIS, BROCK CO.

Cincinnati Stock Yards

—Live Wire and Progressive—

An organization second to none. We are strictly sellers on the best all around market in the country.

We work for our customers... first, last, and all the time.

Reference: Ask the first man you meet.

Hope that you will eventually ship to us...why not now?

—Service That Satisfies—

FOR SALE—2 acres land, opposite Walton Reservoir. James Falls, Walton. tf34

WANTED — Light housework, 8 hours per day. Beulah Prince Wisdom, 14 Needmore Street, Walton. 1t36*

FOR SALE—Oak Lumber, seasoned and newly sawed. R. Hume, R-1, Walton. Phone Independence 6745. 5t33*

FOR SALE—11 pigs, nine weeks old. Wm. Brumback, Shoemaker Road, R-3, Covington, Ky. 1t36

IF IT NEEDS FIXING — Call Campbell, phone Walton 23. Electric, Plumbing, Heating, Refrigeration, Stokers and Oil Burners, Controllers of all kinds. tf33

FOR SALE — Team large aged mules, good workers. Phone Independence 5100. 1t36*

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

FOR SALE—6 yearling bulls, Angus, Shorthorn and Hereford stock; also 6 young Guernsey cows—or trade for beef cattle. J. B. Walton, Burlington, Ky. Phone 643. 1t36*

FOR SALE—Walton: J. D. Mayhugh residence, with three adjoining lots. Will consider trade for small house. Jennie Wayman, 3201 Babel Ave., Latonia, Ky. Phone Hemlock 6263. tf35

FOR SALE — McCormick grain binder; sow and pigs; three fresh cows. Harry Fisk, Nicholson. 1t36*

AVOID DISAPPOINTMENT —BUY NOW!

Special This Week Only

LIVING ROOM SUITES $49

Avenue Furniture Co.

434 Madison, Cov. HEm. 9273

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

KENTON CO. FARMS

3 acres, LLL Highway, 5-room house $2,000

31 acres, near Dixie, buildings $3,800

Warsaw — 60 acres, buildings, vacant $3,500

REL C. WAYMAN

623 Washington St., Cov. HEm. 5107; INd. 5064

FOR SALE—Team of horses, 7 years old, and harness. Will sell separate. Call M. F. Stephenson, Stephenson Mill Road. Phone Walton 746. 2t35*

FOLSOM

By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report as deceivers, but yet true.—Cor. 6:7.

The Bible School of Vine Run Church was well attended.

We are sorry to report Dan Beach very ill at this writing. We hope for his speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beach spent the weekend with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beach of Covington spent the weekend visiting their parents.

Miss Joyce Jones spent the week with Mrs. Minnie Isaacs.

Jim Crouch spent Saturday and Sunday with his sisters, Mrs. Ike Hutton and Mrs. Iva Beach.

Virgil Hutton spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Hutton.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beach entertained for supper Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rothman of Cincinnati and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reardon of Cincinnati, and Estil Skirvin of Covington.

Ervin Jump and two friends spent their vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Jump.

Chester Delph, who is working in Louisville, spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Kate Delph.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thornton and children of Covington spent a week with her mother, Mrs. Kate Delph.

VERONA

Mrs. Sarah Coleman of Hamilton, Ohio is visiting her brother, H. C. Mills, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fooks had as guests Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Hamilton and Mrs. Sophronia Mills of Forest Hills, and Mrs. Sarah Coleman of Hamilton, Ohio.

NAPOLEON

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Beach entertained as dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Mon Odor, Mrs. Myrla Odor and son Ralph C., Miss Louanna Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller and daughters Alberta and Glenna.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Webster and sons Leroy and Billy and Ruth Bowling of Hamilton, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Webster of Berea, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Spaulding.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Collins spent Sunday at Mt. Zion.

Several from this community attended the Sunday School Convention at Oakland, Sunday afternoon. Ten Mile received the banner.

Mrs. Bert Cayton and children of Madison, Ind., spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Spaulding and son.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Spaulding entertained with an ice cream social Saturday night. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Webster and sons, Mr. and Mrs Howard Miller, daughters Alberta and Glenna, Miss Louanna Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Webster, Bernard Spaulding and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Alexander.

Miss Lillian Richerson returned home to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Richerson, on Sunday. She has been employed in town for several weeks.

CONCORD

"Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth."

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Robinson and son Stanley spent Sunday in Ludlow, at the Raymond Rex home.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Elliston, Wednesday at Verona. Burial was in the Hance cemetery. The family have our sympathy.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hensley, a boy, Tuesday. Dr. Marshall was the attending physician. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

The farmers are putting up hay and cutting wheat. Some are finishing setting tobacco.

Opal Beach is helping at Glencoe with the Daily Vacation Bible School.

We were all glad to welcome Robert Speagle back in our midst last week. They all visited in Erlanger over the weekend. He is stationed in Detroit, Mich., and home on a 10-day furlough.

Mrs. Floyd Chapman spent Saturday in Walton visiting Anna and Mollie Chapman. Anna is ill with high blood pressure.

Ross Chapman was calling in Zion, on Everett Webster, Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chapman spent Sunday with Mrs. Fannie Hedger and son of Glencoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Webster of Berea were visiting relatives here over the weekend.

Bill Jones and family of Latonia were Sunday guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Jones and sons.

Preaching as usual Sunday a. m. and p. m. Lets get ready for our revival, begining July 20th. Bro. Enlow of Dry Ridge will assist Bro. Smith. Come!

INDEPENDENCE

Mrs. Grafton Mills and children of Covington were recent guests of her mother, Mrs. Ed Mills.

Miss Ruth Gullion of Louisville spent the 4th with Miss Betty Snape.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Ryan of Russell were guests over the weekend of Mrs. Grover Morgan and Mrs. Metcalfe.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephenson and daughter, Mrs. Ralph Slyger of Dayton, Ohio were visiting his sister, Mrs. Will Frazier, and Mr. Frazier, Thursday.

Mrs. Ayers and daughter of Louisville were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Schobers.

Miss Mary Gunning of Covington, who spent the winter in Miami, Fla., is spending her vacation with her aunt, Miss Carrie Schoberg. She is returning to Miami, July first where she has employment.

Mrs. James Flerock and cousin, Mrs. Emma Gorman of Covington, spent the 4th with Mrs. Flerock's sister, Miss Carrie Schoberg.

Charles Stephenson and daughter, Mrs. Ralph Slyger, called on Mrs. J. M. Chambers, Thursday.

Pvt. Billie Schoberg and friend, a Pvt. at Ft. Knox, were the weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Schoborg.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bruck and baby of Covington were guests on Friday of Mrs. Bruck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Tippett.

Rev. R. F. Turner and Mrs. Turner were callers Friday evening on Mr. and Mrs. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fisk and baby of Nicholson visited with Mrs. Fisk parents, Sunday.

UNION

The many friends of Mrs. Ira Smith will be glad to know she is somewhat improved at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Jones and daughters attended the Jones reunion held Sunday, July 5th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Aylor near Big Bone.

Miss Lucille Doane was visiting Mrs. Maude Rachell and family over the weekend.

Mrs. Myrtle Hicks of Frankfort was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Pressor, thru the 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Huey entertained for several members of their family from Friday until Sunday of last week.

Mrs. Joe Ryan and daughter were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newman, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Friend and son had the following guests last Tuesday evening: Mrs. T. G. Denton and children, Stuart and Evelyn, Mrs. Howard Bramble of Paris, and Mrs. Herbert Whitiker and daughters Barbara and Brenda of Montgomery, Ala.

Mrs. J. W. Doane has returned home after having spent several days with her relatives in Cynthiana.

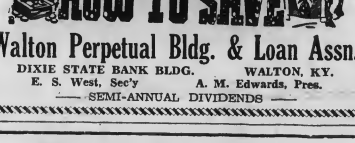
Miss Doretta Jones is spending this week with her cousin, Miss Allie Mae Shields, near Beaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Shermon Friend and son Scottie, Mr. and Mrs. C. Preston Hedges and daughter Evelyn and Roy J. Burkett spent Sunday at Bowman Field, Louisville. A grand time was had by all, since several foreign planes were on display, to promote the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. The thousands of people were in the holiday mood, but patriotism was the keynote of the day.

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .

W. E. TAIT, O.D.

OPTOMETRIST



OPTICIAN

27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.

Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

For appointment phone—

HE. 2083

Walton Perpetual Bldg. & Loan Assn.

DIXIE STATE BANK BLDG. WALTON, KY.

E. S. West, Sec'y A. M. Edwards, Pres.

SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

Paint the Roof

AND GUTTERS OF YOUR HOME

With Boehmer's Wearmore Paint

Now is the time to consider the painting of the outside of Your Home. REMEMBER it's cheaper to paint than to repair. Use BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT for guaranteed satisfaction in durability and covering capacity.

There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You,

Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.

THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.

114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212

ATTENTION Coal Buyers!

Coal is getting hard to get, due to Transportation difficulties. Now is the time to buy that Big 10 and Blue Diamond.

—SEE US ABOUT PRICES AT ONCE—

WALTON & READNOUR

PHONE 154 WALTON, KY.

We Have Become the Dealer for the

DELAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR

and the

DELAVAL MILKING MACHINE

Repairs for John Deere Implements and Other Makes

The Jansen Hdw. Co.

CO. 0910 108-110 PIKE ST. COVINGTON, KY.

University of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING, TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS, NEWSPAPERS OR PERIODICALS BELONGING TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES.
See Ky. Statutes, Article 1264

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 37

Miss Irene Hudson Passes July 10th

Miss Irene Hope Hudson, 57, of Louisville and Verona, died at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, on Friday, July 10, 1942.

Miss Hudson received her education at the League Institute, Verona; Littliford Dramatic Art School, Cincinnati; Richmond Training School, Richmond, Va., and the White Bible School, New York City. She taught Dramatic Art in the Walton school after her graduation from the League Institute.

She served for 8 years as Secretary of Young People's work in the First Presbyterian Church of Spartanburg, South Carolina. In 1929 the Executive Committee of Christian Education and Ministerial Relief of the Southern Presbyterian Church called Miss Hudson as Field Secretary. She gave her all in unselfish service. Her devotion to the will of God, her quiet determination to do His will and her cooperative spirit in helping to make His will known and done by others, has made a lasting impression with the many students and young people she has contacted in her life of service.

Surviving her are two sisters, Mrs. Mattie H. Whitson, Verona, and Mrs. J. E. Thompson, Augusta, Ky.; three brothers, D. O. Hudson, Verona, Rev. N. H. Hudson, Redland, Calif., and J. E. Hudson, Tolleson, Arizona; besides other relatives and a multitude of friends.

Funeral services were held at the Richwood Presbyterian church of which she was a member, on Monday afternoon, July 13 at 3 p. m., with Dr. Henry H. Sweets and Rev. J. Russell Cross conducting the service. Interment was in the church cemetery, by the side of her father and mother.

Pallbearers were Fred Hamilton, Robert Hamilton, Clayton Jones, Owen Hudson, Lloyd Yates and George Robert Powers.

The numerous floral tributes were beautiful.

A host of friends called at the Hamilton funeral home, Verona, Sunday to view the remains.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of J. L. Hamilton & Son.

Have You Paid Your Subscription

EXTRA TWO POUNDS OF SUGAR AVAILABLE

Stamp No. 7 in the consumer's War Ration Book has been set aside as having a value of two pounds of sugar for the consumer. To clarify this, please note the following:

Stamp No. 5 is good for two pounds of sugar during the period from June 28 to July 25, 1942.

Stamp No. 6 is good for two pounds of sugar for the paried from July 26 to Aug. 22, 1942.

Stamp No. 7 is good for two pounds of sugar during the period from July 10 to August 22, 1942.

This means that the No. 7 stamp will be good for the purchase of sugar for sixteen days from July 10 to July 26 before Stamp No. 6 becomes valid.

During this 16-day period, No. 7 stamp only should be removed from the consumer's War Ration Book and not Stamp No. 6. Of course, if Stamp No. 5 has not been used, it is valid during that period.

What this sugar bonus amounts to is increasing a consumer's allotment from one-half pound per person per week to three-quarters of a pound per person per week for the period beginning June 28 and ending August 22.

SPECIAL STORY ABOUT KENTUCKY THIS WEEK

When one thinks of racehorses, beautiful women, gracious hospitality and bluegrass—got forgetting the historic name of Daniel Boone—thoughts are automatically turned to Kentucky.

To honor the 150th anniversary of Kentucky's admission to the Union, a special column appears in the Advertiser today.

The writer, Elmo Scott Watson, editor of the Publishers' Auvillary and widely known for his "History In the News" column, admits in the article that Kentucky has been the land of romance from its beginning down to the present time.

The whole nation is joining with Kentucky in celebrating its 150th birthday. Having weathered "the dark and bloody ground" era, the Bluegrass state is now in its romantic period. Fo rwho does not know "My Old Kentucky Home?"

By including the article on the syndicated feature pages, the Advertiser offers its many readers an additional reader-service.

BE ALL-PREPARED

New responsibilities fall upon every citizen in this war emergency. New demands are being made upon efficient Sight. In war-work, in home-front occupations accurate vision is a "Must!" Let us make an unbiased dependable Examination of your sight.

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

4-H Fair And Picnic Saturday, August 22

The Boone County annual 4-H and Utopia Club Free Fair and County picnic will be held Saturday, August 22nd, according to a recent announcement by the 4-H and Utopia Council. All Boone county people and their friends are urged to make plans to take part in this event.

The holding of the fair and picnic this year has received the serious consideration of the Council for the past several weeks. Three factors were outstanding in making plans to continue this annualy event: First, the fair and picnic as developed so far, is only a one-day educational and recreational gathering; second, the Federal Government and the U. S. Department of Agriculture this year are sponsoring many Victory Garden and smiliar exhibits that are in line with the county fair plan; third, the people of Boone County and their friends recently donated funds for the purchase of the grounds and many of these people have never seen the fair site.

A one-day educational fair should promote county-wide recreation, education an dinspiration that should help our people to do a better job in the war effort. The fair and county picnic this year will be held under extreme difficulties from the standpoint of financial and organization problems. Let's all work together to make this annual event the kind we would want it to be.

WORLD WAR VETERAN DIES AT BELLEVIEW, JULY 10th

Benjamin Alfred Abdon, 44, died at Belleview, Friday, July 10. He was born March 31, 1898 in Dearborn County, Indiana. He was married to Mabel Setters, and to this union four children were born: Geneva, Mary Lou, Richard and Bettie. He served four years in the World War over seas.

He leaves his widow, four children, his mother, six brothers, and four sisters.

Funeral services were held from the home at Dam No. 38, Boone County, Monday at 2:00 p. m., with the American Legion Post of Lawrenceburg, Ind., holding services at Greendale cemetery in Lawrenceburg.

Chambers & Grubbs, Walton, had charge of funeral arrangements.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET

The Woman's Missionary society of the Walton Baptist Church will meet Thursday, July 16 in an all-day meeting at the church.

Business session will begin at 11:00 a. m., followed by a covered dish dinner at the noon hour.

The program, under the leadership of Mrs. Tom Percival, will begin at 1:30 p. m.

QUARTERLY MEETING OF NORTH BEND W. M. S.

The North Bend Quarterly W. M. S. of the Baptist Church will meet on July 23 at the Hickory Grove Baptist Church in an all-day meeting.

WITH THE REDS

It will be a battle for third place in the National League pennant race, when the Cincinnati Reds and the New York Giants meet this weekend at Crosley Field. The Giants arrive in Cincinnati, Saturday for a single game, then will help the Reds conclude their home stand with a doubleheader Sunday.

Before tackling the Giants, the Reds were due to meet the Boston Braves in a ladies' day doubleheader Wednesday afternoon and a night game Thursday.

Following the Giant doubleheader Sunday, the Reds will take to the road until August 4, when they return to meet the Cardinals in a ladies' day game, followed by a night game.

July 17th Is American Hero Day—Observe It by Buying An Extra War Bond or Stamp.

ENTERTAINS FIDELIS CLASS TUESDAY EVENING

Mrs. C. J. Alford, assisted by Mrs. John Wood, delightfully entertained the Fidelis Sunday School class of which she is teacher, at her home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Ethel Breeden presided during the business session. Mrs. Bryan Rector gave an inspirational talk and the remainder of the evening was spent in a social time with lots of fun and delicious refreshments were served to the following:

Mrs. Helen Graff, Mrs. Alma Johnson, Mrs. Ethel Breeden, Mrs Lucy Breeden, Mrs. June Neumeister, Mrs. Blanche Roberts, Mrs. Lola Mae Bolington, Mrs. Myrtie Beech, Mrs. Bryan Rector, Mrs. Helen Stamper, Mrs. Louise Stephenson, Mrs. Susie Haney, Mrs. Roberta Duchemin, Erma Winifred Rector, Mrs. Minnie Davis, Rev. C. J. Alford, and the hostesses, Mrs. Alford and Mrs. Wood.

Hon. Brent Spence Seeks Re-election

Brent Spence.

Hon. Brent Spence, Ft. Thomas, makes his formal announcement for re-election as Congressman from the Fifth Congressional District in this issue of the Advertiser.

Mr. Spence needs no introduction to the voters of Boone County, as he is well known throughout this section. He has served as Congressman for the past 12 years.

He is well qualified for the position he seeks, as has been proven during his time in the House. He has given careful attention to legislation affecting this section of Kentucky and has represented his district in a most efficient manner.

Due to the war, and added work placed upon representatives in the House, Mr. Spence probably will be unable to make an active campaign, but will depend largely upon his friends throughout the district to carry on his campaign in event he has opposition.

Mr. Spence made his first successful race for Congressman in 1930 and has held this office since that time.

RYLAND HOMEMAKERS SPONSOR PICTURE SHOW

The latest releases of British War films, showing the Commandos in their surprise attack on Norway; the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor; how the United States forces attacked the Marshall Islands, and General MacArthur in action, will be shown at the Visalia school auditorium on Thursday evening, July 23rd at 8:30.

The prices of admission will be 25c plus 5c tax for adults, and 15c plus 3c tax for children.

This showing of "talkie movies" is sponsored by the Ryland Homemakers Club and they are planning to give you a full evening of entertainment. Tell your friends that they may see these pictures too.

Fair Grounds Lake Construction Starts

Construction on the lake at the Fair Grounds started the past week. Construction of the dam is expected to be completed by the last of this week, according to the construction committee, composed of John E. Crigler, John L. Conner and H. F. Forkner.

The cost of construction is going to be approximately double that allotted in the fair grounds purchasing program sponsored last fall by more than 350 leading Boone County citizens and friends. Because the lake was a part of the grounds' purchasing program in which citizens made their donations, the 4-H and Utopia Council voted to borrow the necessary money and continue to develop and carry out a program that will keep faith in full to all who so nobly sponsored this program for the county.

The Council plans to continue the development and improvement of the grounds, but many improvements will have to be postponed in keeping with the present War emergency effort.

The lake is being constructed by J. G. Robertson & Sons of Eminence. Two bulldozers are being used on the job at a cost of $7.00 per hour for each outfit.

MUCH INTEREST BEING SHOWN IN REVIVAL

Services at the Walton Methodist Church, under the earnest preaching of Rev. G. B. Carnes, is being well attended and much interest shown. Sunday night the church was filled with attentive listeners, who heard a splendid sermon, which should have made every listener want to live each day and hour nearer to their Master.

Miss Geraldine Simpson sang a solo very sweetly at the services Saturday night.

Sunday morning Malcolm Simpson sang a beautiful solo in a very impressive manner.

Sunday evening a trio, composed of Mrs. Olivia Wills, Mrs. F. E. Bedinger and Mrs. Sam Hudson, very capably gave the special vocal number.

The music under the leadership of Mrs. F. E. Bedinger and Rev. J. H. Talley, with Mrs. Sam Hudson at the organ, with members from the choirs of other churches is greatly appreciated.

All are most cordially invited to attend the remaining services, which will be brought to a close Sunday, July 19.

PAUL JOHNSON JOINS MARINES

Paul Harold Johnson, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Johnson, Beaver Road, enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps last Friday. He left for Paris Island, S. C., Tuesday morning, with another group of newly enlisted Marines, where he will get his basic training.

4-H CLUB MEMBER SELLS RUBBER—BUYS WAR BONDS

Martha Pfalzgraf of Hebron 4-H Club reports the past week that she sold 52 pounds of scrap rubber and that all together the family sold enough scrap rubber to buy two $25.00 bonds. This is a mighty fine record and an example many families could follow.

Let's all work together to get in the scrap metal needed by our nation and buy all the War Bonds possible.

SELLS FOUR FARMS

Boone County—John Bell purchased 30 acres on Burlington pike from Bert Rouse.

Boone County—Ed Meyer purchased 8-acre dahlia farm on the Dixie Highway from John Cain.

Kenton County—Earl Barringer purchased 44 acres at Kenton.

Campbell County—Anna Elliott purchased 19 acres on Route 10, from Charley Hawkins.

Rel C. Wayman made the sales.

The Kraft Cheese Company has placed a dairy bull in Lusby Mill community in Owen county.

TEN MILE ASSOCIATIONAL GROUP MEET

The Ten Mile Associational Group meeting will be held July 28th at the Concord Church.

The program is as follows:

Theme: Expectation; hymn, "The Light of the World is Jesus"; prayer; devotional: Psalm 62:5, Mark 11:24, Mrs. Vevie Webster; Expectation in Efficiency, Reports, by Superintendent; Expectation in Stewardship, Mrs. C. B. Love; special music, Mrs. George Smith; Inspirational message, Expectation in Service, Miss Ada Jackson; lunch.

Hymn, "Jesus Calls Us"; scripture and prayer, Mrs. Julian; playlet, "Pretty Mothers," Concord girls; hymn by congregation; What the Young People Expect of W. M. S., Mrs. Flora Mason; closing prayer.

CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Missionary society of the Walton Christian Church met in the home of Mrs. Nick Welsh on Thursday, July 8th.

Those enjoying the day were Mrs. J. N. VanLeuvan and niece, Joann Solar, Mrs. W. K. Ramey, Mrs. J. R. Harris of Ft. Thomas; Mrs. James Bolington and daughter, Betty June, Mrs. J. A. Watson, Mrs. T. C. Mason, Mrs. R. F. DeMoisey, Mrs. A. L. Jockey, Mrs. G. C. Ransom of Verona, Mrs. O. P. Mann, Mrs. Lotta Powers and her house guest, Mrs. Fanny Bagby, Mrs. Mollie Cleek and granddaughter, Jill Fagan, Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Caroland, Mrs. Charles Ransler, Mrs. Georgia Arnold and her guest, Mrs. Craig Dean, Mrs. Ora Fry, Mrs. Harris Moore, Mrs. J. C. Bedinger, Miss Alicia Neumeister, Mrs. Edna Stamler, Mrs. Scott Chambers, Mrs. Robt. Moore and Miss Liberty Ingram, and the hostess.

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS TO MEET JULY 17th

The next regular meeting of the Florence Homemakers will be held on Friday, July 17 at the school house, beginning at 10:30 a. m.

There will be a canning demonstration in the morning. Bring your own box lunch and a glass for a cold drink, which will be served. In the afternoon new officers will be installed, and plans completed for the tour in July and the picnic in August.—Reporter.

ANOTHER LOCAL YOUTH NOW AT GREAT LAKES

Great Lakes, Ill.—A new Bluejacket is James Harold Coyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Coyle of Walton, who recently enlisted in the U. S. Navy and is now going through recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Station here. Upon completion of this training, he will either be assigned for duty at sea or some other naval station or retained for further specialized training at one of the Navy's many service schools.

A Letter to Our Friends And Customers—

This is a copy of the letter we are sending to every manufacturer serving us:

We are writing this message in the desire to acquaint you with the policies of our store.

Ever since we opened this store we have adhered strictly to the idea of—

FIRST — Supplying our trade with quality shoes.

SECOND — Selling our shoes at a close and reasonable profit.

You have orders from us for fall delivery and if for any reason you cannot help us carry out our standard of merchandising good shoes in every way, such as good soles, good insoles, and upper stock, we prefer that you notify us at once, if you cannot meet these requirements.

Yours very truly,
Quality Sample Shoes.

It's common sense: to be thrifty. If you save you are thrifty. War Bonds help you to save and help to save America. Buy your ten per cent every pay day.

Notice To All Retailers

EVERY RETAILER (this includes grocery stores, filling stations, garages, restaurants, dry goods stores, dress shops, hardware stores, men's shops, department stores and any other place of business which handle and sell any of the articles listed in the Ceiling Price for the Cost-of-living commodities), must file a statement of his ceiling price for all cost-of-living commodities with the Local War Price and Rationing Board of Boone County, for all commodities carried in their store, by July 1, 1942.

You may call at the Board at Walton, Kentucky and receive a bulletin of instructions on how these reports must be filed. This is an ORDER of the Federal Government and must be filed at once by all dealers who have not already filed their list. — Boone Co. Rationing Board, No. 8, R. E. Brugh, Chm.

HOMEMAKERS VISIT SUPER MARKET

The Independence Homemakers Club visited the Alber's Super Market in Covington for a meat demonstration, given by James Schwartz, manager of the meat department. Mr. Schwartz explained the various ways of cutting meat—attraction, the economical side, the best meats for invalids, how to keep meats in the refrigerator, and how to tell a lamb from sheep.

Members were asked to save the fat and greases, to pack in cans after straining (not in glass or crockery), take to the butcher, who will pay for the pounds, by the pound.

Mrs. C. J. Reynolds will entertain the club for an all-day picnic at her home at Independence on August 13th.

Members and visitors attending were Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Wm. Summey, Mrs. C. W. Carter, Mrs. O. Wayman, Mrs. Foster Armstrong, Mrs. Wm. House, Mrs Mabel C. Fallon, Mrs. J. A. Frakes and Miss Emily Leslie.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR EDNA STAMLER

On Sunday, July 12 several of Mrs. Edna Stamler's relatives surprised her by coming to celebrate her birthday anniversary, and bringing well filled baskets of delicious food for the occasion.

Those enjoying this day were Mr. and Mrs. George Dryer and son Roy of Park Hills, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. VanLeuven, Jack and Joan Solar of Ft. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dryer and son Jack and daughter Shirley of Ft. Mitchell, Miss Evabel Franks and Mrs. Opal Bentley.

FEATURES IN THIS ISSUE

Contrast of Brothers

Yes, it is surprising how completely different two sons in the same family can be. A contrast between Cain and Abel is given today in the Advertiser's Sunday School lesson. With their differing personalities, the weed of sin brought forth bitter fruit.

Do You Like Sports?

If you like sports—and most of us do—be sure to read the interesting col'm prepared weekly by Grantland Rice, now appearing regularly in the Advertiser.

Support Needs Support

A newspaper is as much of a community as business, schools, civic organizations, etc. In other words the hometown paper is the community's publicity, its living record. Without a paper, a town soon loses support and falls behind in every day life. The Advertiser has always given support to any activity or promotion to advance the welfare of the town and community. Isn't it only fair that you should support your hometown paper?

Set of Straw Yarn Quickly Crocheted

7308

THE hat's a darling in two colors and there's a big roomy purse, too—all crocheted in pliable straw yarn! Turn these out in a twinkling!

• • •

Pattern 7308 contains directions for hat and purse; illustrations of them and stitches; materials needed. To obtain this pattern send your order to:

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York

Enclose 15 cents (plus one cent to cover cost of mailing) for Pattern

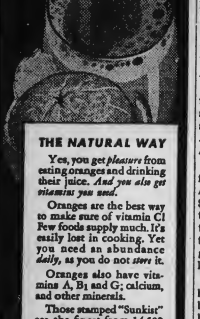
No.

Name.....

Address.....

FAMOUS ALL-BRAN MUFFINS. EASY TO MAKE. DELICIOUS!

They really are the most delicious muffins that ever melted a pat of butter! Made with crisp, toasted shreds of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, they have a texture and flavor that have made them famous all over America.



KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN MUFFINS

2 tablespoons shortening	¾ cup milk
¼ cup sugar	1 cup flour
1 egg	½ teaspoon salt
1 cup All-Bran	2½ teaspoons baking powder

Cream shortening and sugar; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 6 large muffins, 3 inches in diameter, or 12 small muffins, 2½ inches in diameter.

Delicious Vitamins

YOURS IN ORANGES

THE NATURAL WAY

Yes, you get pleasure from eating oranges and drinking their juice. And you also get vitamins you need.

Oranges are the best way to make sure of vitamin C! Few foods supply much. It's easily lost in cooking. Yet you need an abundance daily, as you do not store it.

Oranges also have vitamins A, B1 and G; calcium, and other minerals.

Those stamped "Sunkist" are the finest from 14,500 cooperating growers. Buy in quantities. They keep!

Sunkist
Best for Juice and Every use!

Copr., 1942, California Fruit Growers Exchange

RED BALL ORANGES
packed by Sunkist growers are a dependable brand of juicy, rich-flavored California oranges. Look for the trademark on skin or wrap.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nazis' Drive Into Don River Sector Endangers Rich Caucasus Oil Fields; Jones Warns U. S. of Inflation Peril; FDR Says Tire Seizure Is Possible

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel (left), receives report from General Navarini, commander of Italian forces supporting the Nazi armies in Egypt. The picture, made after the German victories in Libya, was received from a neutral source.

RUSSIA:
Nazi Menace

Breaking through the Russian front east of Kursk end Kharkov, a Nazi armored assault had driven 100 miles into the upper basin of the Don river and given Adolf Hitler his first significant success in his summer offensive against the Reds.

With both sides throwing in all available manpower and equipment, the greatest armored battle in history raged.

To hard-pressed Marshal Timoshenko it must have seemed that he faced more disastrous threats than he could meet. Although counterattacking gallantly and fighting grimly, the Red forces had been forced steadily back. Violent combat had centered around Voronezh, key link between Russia's central and southern armies.

And the goal, as before, was the rich oil fields of the Caucasus to the southeast. Possession of this prize would mean unlimited fuel for Hitler's mechanized legions.

Two immediate targets of the Nazi offensive were the Don river, one of Russia's chief transportation arteries, and the Moscow-Rostov railway which parallels the Don and feeds much of the Soviet's industrial and military machine.

Meanwhile in Egypt, Marshal Rommel's headlong drive had been stopped by the British under General Auchinleck. Refusing to be bottled up in stationery fortresses, the "Auk" had chosen his own battleground when he turned on the Nazi army. The site was a narrow funnel-shaped front between El Alemein on the seacoast and the Quattera marshes 40 miles inland. Here, aided by reinforcements, fresh equipment and slashing blows by the RAF and their American flying Allies, he had brought to a halt the Nazi steamroller headed for Alexandria and the Suez canal.

INFLATION:
Perils Revealed

Like a stern pedagogue pounding the three R's into the skulls of his scholars, gray-haired Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, read the American people a lecture on the ABC's of economics.

His theme: The dangers of inflation. Mr. Jones said that the American people will have "over $30,000,000 more income in 1943 than the value of the things for which the money will be spent" and termed this "a potential 'inflationary gap' greater than any the world has ever known."

The secretary's remarks followed hard on press conference warning by President Roosevelt that it would be necessary for Americans to adopt a national economic policy which would control inflation.

Among maxims Mr. Jones laid down were:

"No business man or industrialist can expect higher prices for his products without paying higher prices for having them made."

AIR TRANSPORT:
Saga of Service

The answer to what had become of civilian luxury airliners taken over by the army after Pearl Harbor came when it was announced that these planes were among craft that had flown 5,000,000 miles during the past five months rushing war equipment and personnel to strategic points in the Pacific.

The saga of this bold aerial venture included chapters highlighting the heroism of hundreds of pilots.

RUBBER:
Tire Confiscation?

The administration's nation-wide rubber hunt had produced disappointing results. Only a portion of the hoped-for scrap rubber stock pile had been turned in and meanwhile 30,000,000 American motorists continued to roll along on steadily thinning tires.

Hence it was not a surprise when President Roosevelt declared at a press conference that if war conditions grew worse, the government might be forced to confiscate every automobile tire in the country.

The President tempered his warning with the cautious hope that nation-wide gasoline rationing could be avoided. But, he emphasized, he was trying to save the nation, not gasoline and rubber.

Mr. Roosevelt's review of the situation came after the army, the nevy and Petroleum Co-ordinator Ickes' office had appealed to East coast motorists to discontinue immediately all unnecessary use of gasoline, regardless of what their ration cards entitled them to. A joint statement said joyriding in the gas rationed area was preventing war workers from getting enough motor fuel to get to work and back and was threatening to hamper seriously the war production program.'

Fortunate were congressmen, members of state legislatures, other government officials and candidates for public office. For under regulations promulgated by the OPA for permanent East coast rationing, such persons were given "preferred" mileage ratings providing them with gasoline for transportation needs "in pursuit of legislative business."

SABOTEURS:
History Recalled

Once before a military commission had sat in Washington deliberating over evidence that was to send a band of conspirators to their death. That was 77 years ago when eight defendants were tried in the dingy old penitentiary building for the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

Now again, a military commission sat in Washington. This time it was to pass sentence on eight Nazi saboteurs who had landed on the East coast to launch a campaign of destruction against American arms plants. The trial this time was held in the new department of justice building.

In proceedings marked with the same secrecy that characterized the former trial, the prisoners learned whether they were to meet a firing squad or go to the gallows—for death was the penalty they faced.

Observers who noted the coincidence between the two famous trials—eight defendants in each case—remembered that only five of the Lincoln conspirators, including a woman, Mary Surratt, were put to death.

MISCELLANY:

SYDNEY: A highway capable of maintaining heavy military traffic has been completed across the trackless northern territory of Australia, in a little more than a year, a government report revealed. The highway is so designed that army vehicles will not be halted during the rainy season. Civilian road workers, including several United States engineers, worked on the project.

Kentucky in the News

By EDWIN SCOTT WATSON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Kentucky's 150th Birthday

RECENTLY the post office department issued this new three-cent commemorative postage stamp to honor the 150th anniversary of Kentucky's admission to the Union. It was quite appropriate that there should be reproduced on it the Thomas Gilbert White mural in the state capitol at Frankfort, which shows Daniel Boone, long rifle in hand, standing on a promontory high above the Kentucky river looking out over the beautiful valley where the capital of the future stete was to be located.

For if ever two names have become synonymous in the minds of Americans those names are "Kentucky" and "Daniel Boone." Dan'l Boone was the pioneer par excellence, the trail blazer who led his people to the Promised Land beyond the Alleghenies and there laid the foundations for the first truly "Western" state. He is a romantic figure in American history and Kentucky, perhaps more than any other in the sisterhood of states, has been a fend of romance from its beginnings down to the present time.

Daniel Boone

Before ever the white man came, the Indians who roemed its forests, its canebrakes and its fertile valleys geve it the name of Kan-tuck-see, which means "the dark and bloody ground," becouse it was the scene of interminable warfare between half a dozen tribes of fierce red men. It was a "dark and bloody ground" indeed during the period of early settlement, but when it was over there came another romantic period—the era of the antebellum South, of "My Old Kentucky Home." And even today the memory of that era still lingers, conjured up whenever Kentucky's name is mentioned. For blooded racehorses, beautiful women, gracious hospitality—all these are epitomized in the name "the Bluegrass state."

If you would capture the essence of this commonwealth, with whom the whole nation is joining in celebrating its 150th birthday this year, you can do no better than to read "The Kentucky," the latest volume in the "Rivers of America" series, published by Farrar and Rinehart. In the preface, the author, Thomas D. Clark of the faculty of the University of Kentucky, writes:

"The Kentucky is not alone a river or a drainage system, it is a way of life. In fact before it injects its merry flood deep into the side of the Ohio at Carrollton, it becomes a powerful way of life. It would be an extremely imaginative person indeed who could stand down at its mouth and conjure up the story of the river and its numberless tributaries. How much humanity this story contains is difficult to explain. The pattern is both varied and complex.

"Other rivers, much more pretentious in length and certainly so in girth, go drifting nonchalantly past large industrial cities. Or they dally along through wide and pleasant bottom lands. They can boast loudly of romantic days when men raced proud steamboats to the sea, or of the grand parts played as rich pawns in both national and international politics.

"No unusually proud paddle wheels have churned the waters of the Kentucky, nor have any proud steamers been humiliated in the ceremony of having their horns stripped from them, because they were defeated. No momentous international decisions have interrupted the course of its history. Yet the Kentucky is not e humble stream; rather, it is bold in its course. Like its buckskinned pioneers of another era, it wears no silver buckles at shoe tongue or knee, but it is American along every inch of it, and it personifies the American dream of rugged independence and self-determination. Steep palisades and deep rock-lined gorges are vigorous testimonials of a rugged determined current. In its race to the Ohio it has cut a deep sweth before it. The proud Bluegrass is pierced deeply through its heart, and as the river enters its last lap it rushes like a seasoned thoroughbred with a final burst of magnificent force past the finish line.

"The story of the land along the Kentucky river is made up of all these things which have served as marks of regional distinction, but there are many more. The history of the Kentucky in comparison with that of other rivers might lose some of its major significance, but even this would only be a relative matter. The story of this river is completely American, and its people have both preserved and created at least three distinct aspects of American culture. Other rivers have stretched their history over larger patterns, but none has exceeded it in the intensity of interesting native background.

"Any comparison between it and other rivers would again call for a verse from Samuel Woodworth's famous song which eulogized the old huntsmen who stood guard with their long squirrel rifles atop the ramparts of Jackson's famous line across the Plains of Chalmette:

THE HUNTERS OF KENTUCKY
We are e hardy, free-born race,
Each man to fear a stranger;
Whate'er the game we join in chase,
Despising time and danger;
And if a daring foe annoys,
Whate'er his strength and forces,
We'll show him that Kentucky boys
Are alligator horses.
O, Kentucky, the hunters of Kentucky!
O, Kentucky, the hunters of Kentucky!

Sportlight
by GRANTLAND RICE

SUPPOSE we could put on a baseball carnival that included Cy Young, Ty Cobb, Nap Lajoie, Tris Speaker, Joe Jackson, Ed Walsh, Babe Ruth, George Sisler, Rogers Hornsby and Hans Wegner. It would be something to look at—especially for those who carry memories of other baseball days.

Or suppose you could put on a series of fights that knew such names as Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, John Lawrence Sullivan, Jim Jeffries, Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney and Joe Louis. That, also, would be something to see.

Gene Tunney

In a wey, after this fashion, the Hale America open golf show in Chicago, for war fund purposes, was the closest approach anyone could make along the lines of past and present sterdom when it comes to a matter of past color and skill, hooked up with modern ability to wreck par.

Turning Back the Clock

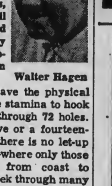
When it comes to turning back the clock in Chicago's golf ensemble we can give you Chick Evans, an ex-caddie from the Edgewater G. C. in Chicago, who was a star golfer 35 years ago—and who is still good.

We could give you Francis Ouimet, another ex-caddie who at the age of 20, turned back Harry Vardon and Ted Rey 29 years ago at Brookline in Massachusetts. And he is still good.

Or we can give you Walter Hagen who threatened at Brookline in 1913, and came along to win the U. S. Open in 1914 at Midlothien, Chicago.

Or Bobby Jones who starred at Merion in 1916, only 26 years ago, at the age of 14.

Or Gene Sarazen, who at the age of 20, won the U. S. Open at Skokie, another Chicago course, in 1922—a mere lapse of 20 years.



And don't think that Jones and Sarazen can't break 70 today.

Hagen, Jones and Sarazen together have won something like 30 national and international championships. Jones and Hagen have been the two great golfers of all times and when it comes to the combined check-up of skill and color Sarazen isn't far away. Harry Vardon had his full share of skill, but not the color that goes with the three we have named.

The Modern Group

No one could expect Cobb, Ruth, Speaker, Young, Lajoie, Sisler or Hornsby to compete with the present day crop—Ted Williams, Joe Gordon, Bobby Doerr, Joe DiMaggio, Pete Reiser, Terry Moore, and others.

So no one could expect Jones, Hagen, Sarazen and other old-timers to match sterling swings with Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan, Sammy Snead or Craig Wood.

Walter Hagen

But this is one outstanding feature of golf. The old-timers, here and there still will play holes and shots as brilliantly as any Nelson, Hogan or Snead can produce.

They no longer have the physical or the concentrative stamina to hook up shot after shot-through 72 holes. This means a twelve or a fourteen-hour grind, where there is no let-up on nerve pressure—where only those who have battled from coast to coast, week after week through many months, are well enough seasoned to go the route. But these old-timers still can play all the shots any of the modern crop can produce.

The only trouble is that they can't link them together, stroke after stroke, and hole after hole. It is the linking process that counts. Even 20-handicap golfers have made holes in one, or hammered brassie shots dead against the pin.

So it would be foolish to expect any member from the Old Guard to keep on the heels of a Nelson, Hogan or Snead, to mention only three members from the modern group.

Jones and Sarazen might—in an 18-hole test. But not over the 72-hole route, where concentration and nerves begin to disintegrate and fall apart, and the old urge fades out—not overlooking a little matter known as youth—competitive youth.

For all that, the golfers hang on the longest. They still can stick around when the others are merely records covered with dust.

A Faster Pace

There isn't any debating the fact that modern golfers have set a faster pace than old-timers could after. Their game is more standardised—a 270-yard drive and then a wallop for the pin.

But I still think they lack the variety of shots old-timers could play—the half and three-quarter iron, for example.

The dynamiter or blaster of the modern crop has made a big difference in bunker play. You also can call it the "wedge."

PATTERNS
SEWING CIRCLE

KNEE deep in June she'll be a ravishing picture in this cunningly designed bonnet, pantie and frock with its bright rosy red apple for a pocket! The pinafore frock just ties in place at the sides and has no seams at all so it is very, very simple to make. Panties to match and a shady, wide brimmed sun bonnet complete a set which every child should own for summer.

• • •

Pattern No. 8198 is designed for sizes 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. Size 3 set takes 2¼ yards 36-inch material, 7 yards braid to trim.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1116
211 West Wacker Dr. Chicago
Enclose 20 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No.....Size.....
Name.....
Address.....

Shaw at 2 Cents a Word

One of the most famous encyclopedias in the English language pays its celebrated authors at the incredibly low rate of two cents a word. As an example, George Bernard Shaw, for a difficult article of 3,420 words, received $68.40.

St. Joseph 10¢ ASPIRIN
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT

Surface Errors

Errors, like straws, upon the surface flow.

CALLOUSES
To relieve painful calluses, horny tissue or tenderness on bottom of feet and remove calluses—get these thin, soothing, cushioning pads.
Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

BABIES SICK? FEEL LOW?
MAYBE FLIES BROUGHT DISEASE! USE
TANGLEFOOT
FLY PAPER

Flies pick up dirty disease germs and drop them on your food. Then you and the children are sick.

STOP SICKNESS NOW!
Buy low-cost TANGLEFOOT Fly Paper—"It catches the Germ as well as the Fly!"
Sold at Grocery, Hardware and Drug Stores

This Paper Appreciates Your Business

FEED AT ITS BEST
DIXIE 20% PIG 40% HOG FEEDS
PELLETS or MEAL
See Your DIXIE better FEEDS Dealer Today — DIXIE MILLS, E. St. Louis, Ill.

FIRST IN THE SERVICE
CAMEL
...AND AT HOME

★ With men in the Army, Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard, the favorite cigarette is Camel. (Based on actual sales records in Post Exchanges, Sales Commissaries, Ship's Service Stores, Ship's Stores, and Canteens.)

Money Talks

By
Frederick Stamm, Economist
Director of Adult Education
UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Economically speaking many Americans are still looking upon this war as a money making proposition. At the present time the emphasis seems to be on how to dodge sacrifices and take advantage of every war opportunity.

Let us look at the situation. The nation's farmers received during 1941, $11,830,000,000 in cash income from farm marketings (including government payments) the highest amount in any year since 1930, according to the Department of Agriculture. Yet farmers are not satisfied with the highest purchasing power in history. Farm leaders are putting pressure on Congress for higher subsidies and new price guarantees.

Wages for industrial labor are not the highest in history, yet labor leaders are demanding big new wage increases. They are asking for a dollar a day increase in the "Little Steel" companies, and if this is obtained, it will touch off the spark for a general increase in many industries. Labor has also resisted all efforts to place a ceiling on wages.

Big business has responded to the demand of the government for increased production but it is still seeking high profits.

Various groups of taxpayers are fighting for special privileges and trying to figure out various ways of making the other fellow pay the tax. For example, everyone knows a federal sales tax would raise from two to three billion dollars annually for the war effort, but it has been killed by special groups because it would "hit" them. Very recently I noticed where a national stockholders organization was being formed to protect the dividends of stockholders during these times.

Now what does this mean to you? To me it means we are still a nation of pressure groups, afraid of each other and unwilling to make sacrifices. Unless we as a united people are willing to put our shoulders to the wheel, I am afraid it will mean more government control of prices and profits, and an extension of rationing to many more products. War calls for sacrifice, not after a while, but NOW—not by one or two groups, but by ALL of us.

GRASSHOPPERS ABUNDANT IN NSECTIOS OF KENTUCKY

Grasshappers, content to feed and remain in the meadows and along the road sides as long as the grass remains green, are now leaving the tough, dry grass in many parts of the state and moving into fields of corn, tobacco and vegetables where the plants are green and succulent. The migration is comparatively slow. The insects usually start feeding on the edge of the planting and gradually move deeper into the field, consuming the plants as they go.

It often happens during migration that there is a fence-row between the field left and the one invaded. In this instance, the grasshoppers, after feeding during the day, return to the fence-row to pass the night. Advantage of this knowledge is taken in applying control measures. Apply the bait to that part of the field where the grasshoppers are feeding and to the space between their bed and breakfast — or between the fence-row where they spend the night and the plants upon which they feed.

If the grasshoppers are now in clover, timothy, and alfalfa fields, it is suggested that these hay crops be harvested as soon as possible. In harvesting the crop, leave an uncut swath around the margins and in the middle of the field. The grasshoppers will congregate in the uncut grass where they can be poisoned. A poisoned bait should be scattered in the uncut swath and on either side of it for a distance of several feet. The bait should be spread at the time cutting starts since the purpose of this procedure is to kill the insects before they migrate to other fields.

The poisoned bait is made by mixing while dry 100 pounds of wheat bran and 5 pounds of Paris green or white arsenic and then adding and mixing well 2 gallons of fresh (not used) lubricating oil such as is used for automobile crankcases of 20 to 30 S. A. E. rating, the latter being preferable in very hot, dry weather. This bait should be broadcast by hand at the rate of 10 to 12 pounds dry weigth to the acre. (For a small garden 50x100 feet use 1-1/2 ounce of poison and 1/4 pint of oil.) Scatter the poison in the morning between 6 and 8 a. m.

Do not look for results until about three days after applying the bait. Two or three applications may be necessary. Dead grasshoppers will be found under trash and litter—few of them die in the open spaces. A complete kill should not be expected in any instance, the reduced population is important, however, from the standpoint of possible damage.

Since grasshoppers migrate readily, it is strongly advised that control measures be undertaken cooperatively on a neighborhood or community basis.

MT. ZION

(Delayed from Last Week)

Again our community was saddened by the death of two of our highly respected citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carnes. Mrs. Carnes passed away Friday afternoon and Mr. Carnes, Saturday night. They leave to mourn their passing five daughters and four sons: Mrs. W. C. Smith of Mt. Zion, Mrs. Clara Bracht of Warsaw, Mrs. Lola Mae Lloyd of Ohio, Mrs. Vera Myers and Pauline Carnes of Covington; Walker, Herman, Wallace and Raymond Carnes, all of Mt. Zion; one sister, Mrs. J. F. Tomlin, and a host of other relatives and friends. Funeral services were held for both at the Mt. Zion Church Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with burial in Hillcrest cemetery at Dry Ridge. Sympathy is extended to the family in their sorrow.

R. L. (Tobe) Greenwell passed away Wednesday evening at the home of his son, Hobart Greenwell of Ft. Mitchell. Mr. Greenwell was a former resident of this place and had many friends here. He was 75 years of age and was a member of the Christian Church at Dry Ridge. He leaves to mourn his death, three sons, Hobart of Ft. Mitchell, Howard of Covington, and Leonard of Arkansas; 7 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, and a host of friends. Funeral services were held at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church on Saturday by Rev. Tinsley. Sympathy is extended to the family in their sorrow.

Mrs. Nellie Dunlap and granddaughter, Jo, of Sherman, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence and family.

We are glad to report that Ed Jones has returned from the hospital and is improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. James Woods and Harry Massie of Ft. Knox spent the weekend with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Kline Menefee of Flingsville spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Pettit and family.

Misses Gwyndolyn and Fredricka Ferrell are spending their vacation with their brothers in Covington.

Pvt. Howard Carnes of Camp Shelby, Miss., was called home by the serious illness of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carnes.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Greene and daughter Ruth of Covington are on a two weeks vacation and spent a few days the past week with Mr and Mrs. Roy Lawrence and family and Mrs. Cora Greene.

Mrs. Nannie Lambert of Zion was moved to the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lambert last Sunday. Mrs. Lambert has been ill for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ferrell and daughter of Sidney, Ohio are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Ferrell; also Miss Ella Jo spent the week end at home.

The Home Nursing class was completed last Wednesday night. The ones completing the course and taking the examination were Mrs. Sylvia Beach, Mrs. Vella Pettit, Mrs. Helen Varner, Mrs. Mayme Franks, Miss Ruth Franks Mrs. Cornelia Lawrence, Mrs. Roberta Jones, Mrs. Losey, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Blanche Alexander and Mrs. Anna D. Franks.

Sorry to hear of the illness of Miss Anna Chapman of Walton, who is suffering from a slight stroke.

WARSAW R. 1

(Delayed from Last Week)

Mr. and Mrs. John Rider entertained Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rider of Paint Lick, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hon called on Mr. and Mrs. Will Hon, on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lafe Kendall of Steeles Bottom were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lance Noel on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spencer and little daughter were shoppers in Warsaw, Saturday.

This correspondent is very sorry to hear of Dr. Shupert being so very ill in Booth Hospital, but hope he will soon be better.

Mrs. Nell Hon has been in Ind. helping care for her new grandson, Donald Ray, who arrived on June 22nd.

Mrs. John Rider called on her daughter, Mrs. Nell Wallace, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Lucy Hon is visiting her son, Leslie, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hon and son Gene called to see Mrs. Lula Mae Leary at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Kinman, Sunday night. Hope she will be out soon.

Have You Paid Your Subscription

WE CAN'T CONTROL THE WEATHER

—so we can't control some prices!

Mother nature herself has exempted some things you buy from having prices limited.

Congress has exempted others.

Following is a list of Foods that you should study carefully so you will not criticize your store when you find the prices on these items not controlled.

STUDY THIS LIST

- Butter
- Cheese
- Canned Milk
- Fresh Fruits
- Fresh Vegetables
- Flour
- Mutton—Lamb
- Sea Food
- Nuts
- Prunes
- Dry Beans
- Poultry
- Eggs

Remember—the prices on these items are NOT CONTROLLED

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER—Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1860

CONCORD

"Abstain from all appearances of evil."

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Scuffer were all smiles over their first grandchild, born last week to their daughter and husband; also Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Robinson were visiting their new granddaughter at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Sunday. The name is Marilyn Ray. All are doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lucas entertained from church Sunday, Rev. G. N. Smith, Manford Craft and family, Witt Edrington and wife and Jimmie Whitson.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert King of Latonia visited her parents here Sunday — Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Chapman.

The W. M. S. was very well attended at Miss Ella Roberts' on Wednesday, despite the rainy day. We were glad to have Dean and Laura Allphin and children meet with us.

Mrs. Alice Glacken was baptized Sunday at the C. D. Hughes pond, having united with the church awhile back.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Chapman and son of Blanchester, Ohio were visiting at the Ross Chapman home Sunday.

Robert Speagle returned to his camp after visiting here for ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Struve were visiting here last week. They live in Louisville now. He is employed as brakeman on the L. & N.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hughes were business visitors in Walton, Saturday.

Mrs. Lena Speagle received word of her aunt's death, Mrs. Ella Ryder of Erlanger, Saturday. She was buried at Paint Lick, Tuesday afternoon.

Revival at Concord begins July 20th, Monday night. Bro. Enlow will assist our pastor. A welcome is extended to all.

Classified Ads Get Results

Don't Let
HIGH PRICES UNPLEASANT TASTE INCONVENIENCE

Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.

You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take

ONE A DAY VITAMIN A and D TABLETS

Pleasant-tasting · Convenient Economical

COMMENDED 8223713 ACCEPTANCE NUMBER

Advertised in Good Housekeeping

AUCTION SALE
TUESDAY, JULY 21, '42

10:00 A. M. (E. W. T.)

On account of the recent death of my wife, I will sell at Public Auction, my farm and my home at Walton, Ky.

167 acre Farm will be sold on the premises, 1 mile off the Verona and Glencoe Road. This farm is in good state of cultivation, has a new tobacco barn and house, 4 9-10 acres tobacco base, 22 acres corn, 5 acres alfalfa, 16 acres in clover, the balance in grass and woodland. The growing crops and good tenants will be taken over by the purchaser on the day of sale. TERMS: ½ down, balance in 1, 2 and 3 years at 5% interest.

The following livestock and implements will be sold: 1 new hay rake; 1 mowing machine; 1 wagon; 1 disc harrow; 1 sled; 7 plows; lot of work harness; 1 pair of 3-year-old horses; 1 8-year-old brown work horse; 1 5-year-old grey work mare; 1 5-year-old black work horse.

At 2 P. M. (E. W. T.) on the same date, I will sell my home on South Main St., in Walton, Ky. This home has 5 rooms, pantry, basement, and two porches, and is in excellent condition. Has 2 acres of land, good barn, hen house, double garage, and all necessary outbuildings. TERMS: 1-3 down, balance in 1, 2 and 3 years at 5% interest.

At the same time and place, I will sell a good cow and calf; 1935 Ford pick-up truck, good tires; 1936 Pontiac Coach, extra good, with good tires; 200 locust posts; new Perfection oil stove; extra good range; almost new living room suite, and a lot of household goods. Personal property will be sold for cash.

A. K. Johnson, Owner
Walton, Ky.

Rowland Auction Co., Selling Agts., Winchester

EYE AID

A WARNING!

Because they have no pain, many persons never suspect they are subject to eyestrain. This is a harmful situation. Eyestrain is a constant drain on the nervous system, and may cause headaches, lassitude, etc. If neglected, it may work serious injury.

Let us carefully examine your eyes and furnish proper glasses, if needed. Relief from eyestrain will make you feel like an entirely different person.

Frank Riggs

DEAD STOCK REMOVED

SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS

CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887

REVERSE PHONE CHARGE

Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.

LOCKLAND — OHIO

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Joann Hance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hance of Indianapolis, Ind., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Sam Sleet, and Mr. Sleet of Beaver.

Anna Frances Sturgeon was recently the weekend guest of Misses Mollie and Belle Wolford of Verona.

Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Bush entertained relatives Sunday. Those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Boy Ginden and four children, all of Anderson, Ind., Mrs. Abbie Bush and daughter, Linda Mae, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Penick and two children of Covington, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mann of Nicholson.

James Littrell was the weekend guest of John M. Sturgeon.

Pauline Stephenson has returned home after spending a week with her aunt, Mrs. Pascal Bush, and Mr. Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watson of Lexington were the guests Sunday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Watson of near town.

Zada Lee Caldwell was a guest of Anna Frances Sturgeon, Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Conner Littrell and son Harley motored to Owenton, Thursday and called on relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Littrell were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conner Littrell, of near Verona, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gross and daughter of Walton visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Tanner, Sunday.

Miss Fanny Bagby is the guest of Mrs. Lotta Powers of High School Court.

Mrs. A. E. Stephens of Burlington spent Thursday with her mother, Mrs. Zella Walton.

Miss Mary Hedges is the guest of Mrs. Virgie Norman and family and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marshall of Edwards Ave.

Mrs. Ora Fry, and Mrs. Mable Stansifer motored to Petersburg, Saturday to meet Mrs. Stansifer's daughter, Miss Julia Ann Stansifer of Aurora, Ind., who returned home with them to visit until Tuesday evening when she returned to her home.

Mrs. Ira Stephenson and daughter, Pauline, Mrs. Pascal Bush have returned home after spending a few days with their brother in Lexington. James Henry, a former Walton boy, left Friday for Denver, Colo., to join the service of Uncle Sam. He is a Lieutenant. His wife and two children hope to join him later.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sizemore and sons of Dayton, Ohio, visited his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sizemore, Sunday.

Mrs. Hazel Hartsock of Michigantown, Ind., was the weekend guest of her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Sturgeon. Other guests on Sunday were Margaret and Paul Hartsock of Michigantown, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Arnold of Cincinnati.

Miss Evelyn Sizemore returned to her home in Dayton, Ohio after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Obie Cook, Mr. Cook and son.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Benson and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Benson of Burlington called on their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Nicholson and son and Mart Benson, Monday.

Janice Mair has returned home from an extended visit with relatives near Ft. Knox.

Attend Sister's Funeral

Rev. and Mrs. D. E. Bedinger, Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Bedinger, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bedinger, Mrs. R. O. Hughes and Mrs. Shirley Guard were in Cincinnati, Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. E. Pearlee Smith, a sister of Mrs. D. E. Bedinger and Mrs. Hughes. Mrs. Smith passed away Sunday, after a lingering illness, caused by an auto accident several years ago. Funeral services were held at the Mack Johnson funeral home in Walnut Hills, with Dr. Harry Eversull, a Presbyterian minister and lifelong friend, having charge of the services. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery, by the side of her departed husband.

Mrs. Cecil Gaines of South Main street, who has been ill at her home, is improving at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mullins of Stanford were weekend guests of Mrs. Mullins' sister, Miss Susan Pursley of South Main street. On Sunday they enjoyed the beautiful Eden Park, and a visit with Mr. Mullins' sister. They left for their home Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Jasper Williams and daughter, Alice Jane, of Walton R-1 were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wallace. Mrs. Wallace has been ill the past few days

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington and family were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John Hanks.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Elliott left Sunday for a trip to Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Harris and Bennie Elliott are in charge of the store during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott.

MT. ZION NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Menefee and Mrs. Vella Pettit were visitors in Cincinnati, Tuesday. Mrs. Menefee is under a doctor's care.

Mrs. Elsie Gehagan returned home Tuesday after a few days vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon.

George Beach passed away at his home near Mt. Zion. Funeral services were held at the church Friday afternoon by Rev. Enlow of Dry Ridge. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Sorry to report Andy Ingram has typhoid fever.

Mrs. W. H. Justice was called to town Friday by the serious illness of her sister.

Mrs. Agatha Gordon entertained the Rose Marlowe Circle on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Johnson visited Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, who are ill at Dry Ridge, Friday.

Pvt. Howard Carnes returned to Camp Shelby, Miss., Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Melvon Miller spent Sunday with Early and Harve Miller.

Rev. J. S. Ransdall of Louisville preached two interesting sermons at our church Sunday, and was the Saturday night guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Franks, and on Sunday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Johnson.

Rev. George Bond of Louisville will preach at our church next Sunday. Everybody invited to attend.

Mrs. Ethel Points and son Jr., Mrs. Freda Barnes and Mrs. Maggie McGuire spent Thursday in Covington.

Mrs. Mildred Klosterman and daughter Greta Hayes of Norwood are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon.

Mrs. Henry Jackson of Covington and son from camp in Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jump and son, Frank Jump and son of Cincinnati, spent the weekend at their country homes here.

The Y. W. A. enjoyed a picnic at the church, Saturday.

Johanna Lairson of Covington spent the week here with Virgin a Massie.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Anderson had as Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eubanks of Crescent Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Anderson and children and relatives of Covington, John and Paul Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lawrence and daughter Peggy spent the weekend with their father, G. A. Lawrence.

Jimmy Whitson of Concord and Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Greenwell of Erlanger were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Atwood Greenwell.

CANNING AND DRYING DEMONSTRATIONS

Demonstrations will be held at Constance Christian Church at 1:30 p. m., July 16; Florence school lunch room, 10:30 a. m., July 17, and New Haven school lunch room, 2:00 p. m., July 21.

The public is invited to these meetings sponsored by Homemakers clubs, and given by Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, Acting Home Demonstration Agent, and Miss Billye Irvine, Farm Security, assisted by leaders.

Information on canning or drying fruits may be obtained by writing to Mrs. Moore or calling Burlington 412. Your agent will be glad to help you. Literature is free.

VICTORY GARDENS BEING PLANTED

Summer and fall gardens are being planted this month. Beans, tomatoes, carrots, beets, late cabbage and certain varieties of corn are still listed for this planting season. All vegetables and fruits should be canned or stored. Persons who have pledged to raise 75 percent of their food supply on the farm this year will find that good late gardens are necessary to attain this goal.

GLENCOE ROUTE 1

Fifty-two relatives and friends met at the home of O. B. Courtney to celebrate with him another birthday. A very enjoyable day was spent by all present. Mr Courtney received many useful gifts. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Will Courtney, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Courtney and children, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Courtney and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Courtney, Mr. and Mrs. Temp Courtney and sons, Mr. and Mrs. John Courtney and children, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lillard and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wallace and children, Mrs. Lula Waller and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stewart, Fate Littrell, Miss Jean Spencer, E. J. Rider, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rider, Mrs. Gaynell Webb, Whitney Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fanman, and sons and Kenneth Hedger. All left wishing Mr. Courtney many more birthdays.

This community is very much grieved over the grave condition of Dr. J. W. Shupert.

Mr. and Mrs. Artie Coleman were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Snow, Jr.

Miss Frances Adams spent the past week with her grandmother, Mrs. Callie Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Elfrie Henderson spent Friday in the city.

Mrs. May Jump has returned home after a pleasant visit with friends and relatives in Indiana.

Misses Hazel and Dorothy Hon spent the weekend at their home here.

Chester Ray Noel is ill at this writing. We hope for him a speedy recovery.

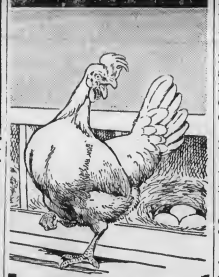
Caldwell county children are to have better lunches in the school year already begun.

Five Logan county 4-H club boys have started herds of registered Poland-China hogs.

Visiting markets and produce houses in Cincinnati, Campbell county poultry raisers saw how poultry and eggs are handled.

Grant county dairy farmers are interested in building silos, as soon as conditions permit.

After attending demonstrations in making butter and cheese, 8 Rockcastle county farm women bought thermometers.



In addition to a complete fertilizer, many tobacco growers in Bullitt county used superphosphate this year.

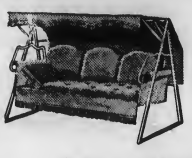
21 YEARS
WELDING SERVICE
TO NORTHERN KENTUCKY
R. MICHELS WELDING CO.
722 Washington St., Covington
CO 0670

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .
DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?
Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.
LANG'S CAFETERIA
623-625 Madison Avenue
COVINGTON KENTUCKY

KEEP YOUR EYES "ON THE ALERT"
Have your eyes checked—it's your patriotic duty to keep them in perfect condition. Let us examine your eyes at once.
L. J. METZGER
Optometrist Optician
631 Madison Ave.
Covington
Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

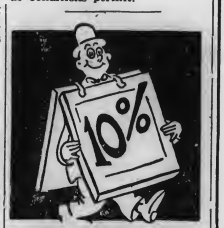
GET THOSE EGGS
economically, with Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS
DR. SALSBURY POULTRY REMEDIES
Poultry & Dairy Feed
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

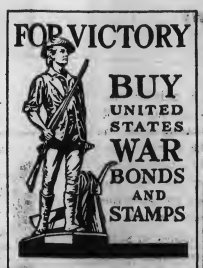


Friday, July 17
AMERICAN HEROES DAY
Buy Bonds and Stamps
COPPIN'S
Madison, at 7th
Covington, Ky.

Is YOUR SUBSCRIPTION Paid In Advance?
It Should Be, You Know!
WALTON ADVERTISER
PHONE 30



J. L. HAMILTON & SON
FUNERAL SERVICE
VERONA -:- KENTUCKY



When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
—24-Hr. Wrecker Service—
Cars Washed - Storage

GLIDERS
and
GLIDER CUSHIONS
BEAUTIFUL as well as COMFORTABLE
ALSO A COMPLETE LINE OF
Awnings, Hammocks, Porch and Lawn Furniture.
Covington Awning & Roofing Co.
3rd & SCOTT STS., COVINGTON Hland 1735

Ten Per Cent OF YOUR INCOME should be going into U.S. War Bonds and Stamps

SEARS
American Heroes Day
JULY 17th
Buy An Extra War Bond Today!

Sears, Roebuck and Co.
13 W. 7th St. - - Covington, Ky.
FARM STORE - 720 Washington Ave.

INDEPENDENCE R-1

We are very sorry to report Mrs Maggie Lamb still seriously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stella Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney and son Donald called on Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stephens and family, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Kirby Richardson and daughter Helen entertained Sunday, Rev. E. K. Kidwell and wife, Rev. James Everett and Miss Hope Keeney.

The revival meeting at Staffordsburg will continue all this week. You who are not attending are missing some real spiritual food. Come out and hear Rev. Everett, as he is a real man of God. We need you. Come and worship with us. Services begin at 8:45 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hanna entertained Sunday her sister, Mrs. Clarence Ervin and husband from Middletown, Ohio. Other guests were Miss Anna Highball, Mrs. Alice Ervin of Covington, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Hanna and son from Latonia, Mrs. G. H. Craigmyle, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Riley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Ervin, Mrs. R. J. Cavanaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rapp have moved from Latonia to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rapp.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballanger and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ballanger spent one day last week with Mr. and Mrs. Will Brannock of Kelat.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Marshall of Dry Ridge spent a couple of days the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richardson and family.

Mrs. Inez Chowning of Latonia has returned home after spending most of last week with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanna.

Mrs. Joe Sweeney has returned home from several weeks nursing Mrs. Pruett's father on Madison Pike.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Thornton entertained several of their children and husbands Sunday.

MORNING VIEW

The many friends of Junior Finnell are sorry to learn of his misfortune. He is suffering from a neck fracture, cuts and bruises sustained in a machine wreck recently. He is in Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shafer and Miss Ethel Finnell are spending their vacation with Wm. Finnell.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Neva Elliott and family in their recent loss of Chas. Elliott.

Pvt. Charles L. Cross returned to Camp at Savannah, Ga., after spending an eight-day furlough with friends and relatives here on Tuesday evening, July 7, a crowd gathered at Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bridges' to spend the evening with Charles. Those present were Pvt. and Mrs. C. L. Cross, Clara Cross and friend, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cross and children Billie, Dale and Audrey, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beck and children Billie Jean and Mary Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Fisk and sons Bryson and Harold, Mrs. Henry Parr and children Juanita and Bernie, Mrs Myrtle Jennings, John Henry and Katherine Jennings, Dorothy Rankin, Wm. Goshorn and Lennie Heidemann and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bridges. The evening was spent in card playing. Mrs. Bridges served a nice lunch, with iced tea. All left at a late hour wishing Charley a safe return to camp and a bright and happy future.

Mrs. Helen Willis of Covington spent one day last week with Mrs Gene Hempfling and son Chas.

The many friends of Grant Sabree, Clarkson, Ky., are glad to learn he is recovering nicely from injuries received when he accidentally shot himself. He is in the Ky. Baptist Hospital, Louisville.

The ladies club of Morning View Methodist church met with Mrs. F. Hempfling, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cooper (nee Velma Baker) of Camden, Ohio, are rejoicing over the arrival of a little son, who has been named Donald Cecil.

The annual picnic and chicken dinner will be held at the Boy Scout Camp, July 25. Dinner 50c. Everyone is welcome to come and spend the evening with friends. This is sponsored by members of St. Mary's Church.

FLORENCE

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Knox and daughter of Paris visited his uncle, A. T. Knox and family Friday.

We are sorry to hear of Edd Newman being quite ill at his residence the past week.

Miss Lula (Ted) Sine entertained on Friday her sister, Mrs. Arthur Maurer and children of Burlington, and her niece, Miss Glenna Sine of Louisville.

Ben Lucks ha sbeen on the sick list the past week.

Mrs. Hattie Creel has returned home after several days visit with Mrs. O. Rouse and Miss Una Boarders.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Scott and son of Waterloo were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Clore.

Mrs. Fannie Utz, Mrs. Ida Summers and Mrs. T. B. McHenry spent Monday in Covington.

Mrs. Anna Cleek is enjoying a few days visi twith her daughter in Maysville.

Mrs. C. J. Fraime and children left Monday for their home at Roanoke, Va., following a week's visit with relatives and friends.

Mrs. R. R. Robbins of Indiana spent Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Robbins.

Mrs. Tennie Beemon, Miss Ada Aylor and Miss Lida Snyder spent a pleasant day Thursday with Mrs. Lloyd Aylor and Mrs. Robt. England.

Mrs. T. B. McHenry entertained with a dinner Thursday in honor of her brother, C. L. Tanner and wife, Mrs. Raymond Gross and daughter, Mrs. Fannie Utz and Mrs. Lennie Easton.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Robbins and daughter Goldie, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Snyder and granddaughter, Mr. an dMrs. Ralph Coppage and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Robbins and daughter, Mrs. Clarence Sturgeon and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burris and son Eugene and Miss Arrasmith, all motored to Cincinnati, Sunday and visited Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sturgeon and daughter. From there they went to the Zoo and had a picnic dinner, and enjoyed the day.

Mrs. Nellie Boarders of Goodridge Drive visited Mrs. Hattie Creel, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Ella Aylor of Springfield, Ill., spent Tuesday with Mrs. L. L. Clore.

Wm. Snyder and wife and Howard Kelley and wife spent last Sunday with the Beemon sisters and brothers of Pleasant Valley.

Mrs. John Martin entertained in a most gracious manner for noon luncheon Thursday, the following guests: Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Orville Willeford, Mrs. George Morith, Mrs. Mable Sayre and Mrs. Sarah Markesberry.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Worthington, Jr., of Lloyd Ave. had for their guests Friday evening, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Worthington, Sr., of Maysville.

Miss Beverly Markesberry and Master Nelson H. Markesberry entertained a group of 35 of their little friends with a party Monday afternoon, it being the birthday anniversary of each. All enjoyed the afternoon and refreshments served and they received a number of nice gifts. All left wishing them many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. John Connley and son of Devon spent Sunday with Mrs. Connley's aunt, Miss Minnie Baxter, and Chas. Beall of Francesville.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Clore entertained Thursday with a dinner party in honor of Mrs. C. J. Fraim and two children, Betty and Johnny, of Roanoke, Va. Other guests were Mrs. Marie Kinman, Miss Jo Kinman, Mrs. Lillian Ryle and son, Mrs. Louise Beetem and Mrs. Hattie Creel.

The Sunday School of the Florence Methodist Church held their annual picnic at the Zoo, Saturday afternoon.

We were sorry to hear of Mrs. R. L. Day having the misfortune to fall at the home of Mrs. Green and sprain her angle badly, one afternoon last week.

Friends of Tom Osborn regret to learn he remains very low at his residence.

WALTON-VERONA SCHOOL DISTRICT
ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT —1941-1942

RECEIPTS

Balance beginning of year	$ 253.41
From State per capita	5,168.90
General property	7,400.24
Bank shares	175.13
From taxpaying franchise	7,065.49
Poll tax	175.64
Receipts from loans	2,700.00
Receipts from insurance adjustments	47.17
Receipts from temporary loans	4,200.00
Grand total, all receipts	$27,191.98

DISBURSEMENTS

Salary of superintendent	$ 1,800.00
Office supplies and equipment	91.75
School board per diem and expenses	72.80
Cost of surety and expenses of officials	30.00
Operating and maintenance of administrative offices	50.00
Salary elementary teachers—men	1,006.56
Salaries elementary school—women	6,833.48
Salaries high school teachers—men	2,235.35
Salaries high school teachers—women	2,053.73
Educational supplies	358.57
Library and supplementary books	201.24
Other expenses of instruction	39.00
Wages of janitors	1,224.00
Janitorial supplies	141.76
Fuel	569.60
Water, light and power	373.42
Maintenance of school plant	847.11
Insurance premiums	369.86
Enforced attendance	196.85
Transportation of pupils	1,950.74
Transfer tuition to other districts	711.50
Debt service	1,010.00
Payments of temporary loans	5,000.00
Grand total of disbursements	$27,167.80

Total receipts for the school year	$27,191.98
Total disbursements for school year	27,167.80
Balance on hand at close of year	$ 24.18

J. B. DOAN, Treasurer,
J. E. STEPHENSON, Chairman,
W. F. COOP, Secretary.
WALTON-VERONA SCHOOL BOARD, WALTON, KY.

Condensed Statement

Peoples Deposit Bank

BURLINGTON — KENTUCKY

At close of business June 30, 1942

RESOURCES

Loans and mortgages	$339,105.59
Overdrafts	5.46
U. S. Government obligations	493,035.55
Obligations of State and political subdivisions	8,200.00
Other bonds	139,493.15
Corporate stocks	988.00
Cash and due from banks	176,052.09
Banking house and lot	17,500.00
Furniture and fixtures	1.00
Other real estate	1.00
TOTAL	$1,174,471.84

LIABILITIES

Capital	$ 50,000.00
Surplus	100,000.00
Undivided profits	13,077.52
Deposits	1,011,394.32
TOTAL	$1,174,471.84

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

4% semi-annual dividend paid to stockholders June 30th

Bank of Independence

INDEPENDENCE — KENTUCKY

Report of condition at close of business June 30, 1942.

ASSETS

Cash, balances with other banks, and cash items in process of collection	$241,995.84
U. S. Government obligations, direct and fully guaranteed	115,914.56
State, County and Municipal obligations	10,100.00
Other bonds	25,836.00
Loans and Discounts	206,478.25
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures	20,660.00
Other assets	1,298.67
TOTAL ASSETS	$622,283.32

LIABILITIES

Demand deposits	$259,480.39
Savings deposits	240,993.25
Time certificates of deposits	39,804.50
Certified and cashiers checks	292.78
Total Deposits	$540,370.92
Dividends declared but not yet payable	345.00
Other liabilities	1,471.93
Capital stock	43,000.00
Surplus fund	10,000.00
Undivided profits	11,295.46
Other reserves	15,600.00
TOTAL LIABILITIES	$622,283.32

Verona Bank

Report of condition of "Verona Bank" of Verona in the State of Kentucky at the close of business on June 30, 1942.

ASSETS

Loans and discounts	$ 82,313.31
U. S. Government obligations, direct and guaranteed	50,500.00
Obligations of States and political subdivisions	5,500.00
Other bonds, notes, and debentures	3,829.75
Cash, balances with other banks, including reserve balances, and cash items in process of collection	36,234.45
Bank premises owned $900, furniture and fixtures $650	1,550.00
Other assets	941.74
TOTAL ASSETS	$180,969.25

LIABILITIES

Demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations	$ 78,438.39
Time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations	68,817.17
Deposits of U. S. Government (including postal savings)	603.80
TOTAL DEPOSITS	$147,859.36
TOTAL LIABILITIES (not including subordinated obligations shown below)	$147,859.36

CAPITAL ACCOUNT

Capital*	$ 24,400.00
Surplus	4,500.00
Undivided profits	1,166.89
Reserves (and retirement account for preferred capital)	3,043.00
TOTAL CAPITAL ACCOUNT	33,109.89
TOTAL LIABILITIES AND CAPITAL ACCOUNTS	$180,969.25

*This bank's capital consists of 1128 shares first preferred stock with total par value of $9,400.00, total retirable value $9,400.00; 600 shares second preferred stock with total par value of $7,500.00, total retirable value $7,500.00; and 600 shares common stock with total par value of $7,500.00.

MEMORANDA

Subordinated obligations:

(a) Unpaid dividends on preferred stock and unpaid interest on capital notes and debentures, accrued to end of last dividend or interest period, not included in liabilities or reserve above	$ 150.00
(a) On date of report the required legal reserve against deposits of this bank was	7,597.46
(b) Assets reported above which were eligible as legal reserve amounted to	36,234.15

I, O. K. Whitson, Cashier, of the above-named bank, do solmenly swear that the above statement is true, and that it fully and correctly represents the true state of the several matters herein contained and set forth, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

O. K. WHITSON.

W. T. Renaker, G. C. Ransom, W. B. McCormick, Directors.
Correct—Attest: Arch Noell, J. L. Hamilton.

State of Kentucky, County of Boone, ss:

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 7th day of July, 1942, and I hereby certify that I am not an officer or director of this bank. My commission expires Dec. 10, 1944. A. C. Roberts, Notary Public.

State No. 73-763

Dixie State Bank

Report of condition of "Dixie State Bank" of Walton in the State of Kentucky at the close of business June 30, 1942.

ASSETS

Loans and discounts	$271,012.47
U. S. Government obligations, direct and guaranteed	37,600.00
Other bonds, notes, and debentures	6,602.50
Cash, balances with other banks, including reserve balances, and cash items in process of collection	179,092.73
Bank premises owned $12,900.00, furniture and fixtures $2,700.00	15,600.00
Real estate owned other than bank premises	850.00
TOTAL ASSETS	$510,757.70

LIABILITIES

Demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations	$252,987.16
Time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations	173,276.31
Deposits of U. S. Government (including postal savings)	7,079.34
Deposits of States and political subdivisions	15,848.89
TOTAL DEPOSITS	$449,191.90
Other liabilities	1,000.00
TOTAL LIABILITIES (not including subordinated obligations shown below)	450,191.90

CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

Capital*	30,000.00
Surplus	25,000.00
Undivided profits	5,565.80
TOTAL CAPITAL ACCOUNTS	60,565.80
TOTAL LIABILITIES AND CAPITAL ACCOUNTS	$510,757.70

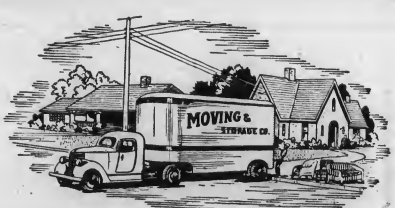
*This bank's capital consists of 500 shares common stock with total par value of $30,000.00.

MEMORANDA

Subordinated obligations:

(a) On date of report the required legal reserve against deposits of this bank was	24,312.36
(b) Assets reported above which were eligible as legal reserve amounted to	$179,092.73

I, Chas. W. Thompson, Cashier, of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, and that it fully and correctly represents the true state of the several matters herein contained and set forth, to the best of my knowledge and belief.



Chas. W. Thompson.

Correct—Attest:
George W. Baker, A. H. Gaines, J. W. Conley, Directors.

State of Kentucky, County of Boone, ss:

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 7th day of July, 1942, and I hereby certify that I am not an officer or director of this bank. My commission expires May 8, 1946. Olive Johnson, Notary Public.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS

IF YOU ARE PLANNING TO MOVE

Read These New Government Regulations Limiting Extensions of Utility Service

In order to conserve materials for the war effort, the government, through the War Production Board, has issued new rules regarding service extensions by public utilities, effective June 23 and expiring September 30, 1942.

Under these new WPB regulations, we will not be permitted to build extensions to our distribution system to serve customers, except under the following conditions:

(1) The extension must not exceed 250 feet in length, (facluding service line from distribution system to building to be served.)

(2) Building to be served must have been piped or wired ready to receive service prior to July 1, 1942.

(3) In case of new construction, foundation under main part of building must have been completed prior to July 1, 1942.

(4) Cost of material for extension must not exceed $1,500 for underground jobs or $500 for overhead extensions.

The above regulations apply only to ordinary non-defense extensions. In case of new consumer building projects bearing a preference rating of A-5 or better, we are permitted to use such rating in placing orders for material necessary to serve such projects without prior approval from the War Production Board, although this does not guarantee that the material will be immediately available.

Nothing in the above regulations applies to buildings already connected to our distribution system and which are piped or wired but are not now receiving service because of vacancy or for other reasons. Service to such buildings may be resumed at any time upon application at our office.

However, if you are planning to move into a new home or other building which will require an extension of our system to receive service, we suggest that you consult us before making any commitments or taking any action. We can assist you in determining whether or not service can be provided under the new government regulations.

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE CO.
INCORPORATED

Buy U S. War Bonds and Stamps

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

Geo. S. Caroland, Minister
Church School.....10:15 a. m.
Cloyd Johnson, Gen. Supt.
Worship, Lord's Supper 11:15 a. m.
Evening Worship.....8:30 p. m.

Go To Church—
Give God A Chance!

METHODIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor
Sunday School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship.....7:00 p. m.
Evening Service.....8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed....8:00 p. m.

A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

BAPTIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky

C. J. ALFORD, Pastor
Bible School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:15 a. m.
B. T. U.....7:30 p. m.
Evening Worship.....8:30 p. m.
Prayer Meeting, Wed., 8:30 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church
J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister

Services every first and third Sunday.
10:00 A. M. ----- Bible School
11:00 A. M. ----- Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. ----- Evening Worship
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, - Boy Scouts.

Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Union, Kentucky

Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister

Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.
10:00 a. m., Sunday School.
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship.
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.
Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scout

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH
Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor
Sunday School ----- 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor
Sunday School ----- 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH
REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor
First and Third Sunday—
Sunday School ----- 10:00 a. m.
Preaching Service ----- 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service ----- 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH
REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor
Sunday School -----10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship -----11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. -----6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship -----7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH
Verona, Ky.

REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor
Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.
Sunday School ----- 10 a. m.
Morning Worship ----- 11 a. m.
Evening Service ----- 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. ----- 8 p. m.
All times given Central War time

Read the Advertiser Want Ads

JONESVILLE
(Delayed from Last Week)

The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good.—Proverbs 15:3.

Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Love returned Saturday from Lee County where they have been the past 2 weeks in revival services.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stewart and daughters of Poplar Grove, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stewart and daughter. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Stewart of Covington, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Herndon and Miss Fannie Herndon.

Miss Geneva Lee Skirvin is visiting Rev. and Mrs. Louis Day of Covington this week.

Mrs. Birdie Webb returned home Sunday with Mrs. Lucille Webb and family of Louisville, for a visit

Miss Naomi Ruth Caldwell spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Caldwell.

Mrs. Anna B. Skirvin and sons Henry Floyd of Needmore and Pvt. Owen Skirvin of Camp Niantic, Conn., spent last Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Skirvin and family.

Jep E. Cammack and little daughter of Indianapolis spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. Jep F. Cammack. Other visitors in the home were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Poe and family and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilson and daughter.

Miss Mabel Kemper spent the weekend with Misses Jessie and Opal McPherron of Owenton.

Harry Bonds and family of Covington spent the weekend with Mrs. Mollie Bonds and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Stamper.

Mrs. Adda Beatty, Misses Mabel Kemper, Edna Miller, Daisy B. Cannon, Sue Conrad, Della Beatty and Master Clarke Beatty attended the Rally Day program at Poplar Grove, June 30th.

Congratulations to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Herndon (nee Miss Edna Webster).

In the early morning hours of June 27, the death angel visited the King's Daughters Hospital in Frankfort and took away the spirit of Ernest H. Skirvin. As silently as the night glides into the day, so his spirit like the shadow of a passing cloud was wafted gently to realms of eternal day. Ernest was born June 11, 1915, being 27 years of age at his passing. In 1934 he was married to Naomi Smith and to this union were born two sons, Bradford and Buford, and one daughter, Nellie Ruth. In 1941 he united with the Pleasant Ridge Baptist Church, where he has been a faithful member. Funeral services were held at the Pleasant Ridge Church, June 29 by Rev. Sams, with burial in the I. O. O. F. cemetery at Jonesville. No better evidence of his popularity could be found than by the large number of friends who gathered at the home and church to pay the last tribute to his memory. Flower girls were Misses Geneva Lee Skirvin, Dollie Brock, Myrtle Smith and Laverne O'Banion. Pallbearers were Thomas and Wilburn Poe, Evert Estes, Melvin O'Banion, James Shirley and Frank Acree. He leaves to mourn for him his devoted wife and 3 children; a loving mother, Mrs. Anna B. Skirvin; three sisters, Mrs. Edna Brock of Owenton, Mrs Opal Colcord of Williamstown, and Miss Hattie Skirvin of Covington; four brothers, Walter of Jonesville, Pvt. Owen of Camp Niantic, Conn., Porter and Henry at home; several nieces and nehews, besides a host of other sorrowing relatives and friends. May the great comforter graciously soothe and sustain them in this dark hour of bereavement, and cause them to rejoice in the divine truth that when their pilgrimage is ended, they may meet their dear departed in a land where there is happiness unmixed with sorrow, loss or disappointment.

Our Classified Ads
Really Get Results...

In The WEEK'S NEWS

BEST OF ALL — Popular response shows that of all American Flag covers carried on July Fourth issues of magazines, this one from Collier's Weekly, taken of General MacArthur in Australia, got the biggest ovation. It was flown across the Pacific.

HOSPITAL EVACUATION PRACTICE —Red Cross Motors Corps Volunteers at Norfolk, Va., practice the evacuation of patients from hospitals to safe emergency quarters.

HUGHES LONESOME!—Carol Hughes, Republic film player, relaxes in solitary comfort alongside her Hollywood swimming pool, with a bottle of "Coke" as companion.

"LIKE FATHER LIKE SON" — Clarence Patten and his eight sons, of Portland, Ore., are all in the U. S. Navy. Wayne, the youngest (at bottom), just enlisted.

DARK FOR SERVICE, WHITE FOR COOL—With more women in industry and war work, practical ensembles which look smart and feel cool are a necessity. Here is a serviceable ensemble with that inimitable touch of white.

NOW MADE OF PLASTIC—A pilot sits at the controls of a finished plastic plane and is all set to take the ship aloft. Plane was produced at a Camden, New Jersey, plant.

4144

STAFFORDSBURG
(Delayed from Last Week)

Bernard Goedde, who was inducted into the army during the past week, spent Sunday evening at his home.

A nice number for the evening meeting were at services here Sunday. Let's all come out every night and pray for the services as Rev. Averitt comes to speak to us.

Funeral services for Walter Simmons, who was found dead on Visalia Hill, Friday, were held at the home of his sister, Mrs. Rose Fisher, Monday at 2 p. m. by Rev. Kidwell.

Mrs. Inez Chowning is spending a few days with friends in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. C. Pruitt spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanna.

Miss Ruth Keeney left Sunday for a position which she has secured in Eastern Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Keeney and daughters spent Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Caroline Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crouch entertained a number of friends and relatives Sunday afternoon.

Edgar Martin, who suffered an insect bite recently, is much better.

WHETHER it's carrying selectees to examination points and induction centers . . . war workers to defense plants . . . men of the armed forces to military posts, on official business or on furloughs . . . or government personnel speeding war activities . . . THAT is Greyhound's FIRST JOB.
There can be none other so imperative!
After that, comes Mr. and Mrs. Civilian. We urge civilians to limit travel to necessary trips—and then during the early days of the week, to leave more week-end accommodations for those who can travel only at that time.
We are expending every possible effort to adequately serve the public's needs for transportation. Some of the time we can accomplish our aims . . . bus service as you were accustomed to in days of peace. Other times, our war requirements, like those of other carriers, cause us to fall short of the best of service.
In times like these, we hope that you, too, realize that THE WAR EFFORT COMES FIRST . . . with ALL of us.

Guy A. Huguelet,
President

BUY UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

SOUTHEASTERN GREYHOUND LINES

★ ★ ★ "KEEP 'EM ROLLING . . . Safely" ★ ★ ★

NICHOLSON
"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." Hope of heaven brightens life's horizon.

Mrs. Harley Bird paid a brief call Wednesday evening.

Pvt. A. T. Patton, a noble young southern soldier recently enlisted in the ranks of the defenders of liberty, our most precious heritage, and is stationed at Camp Paris, South Carolina. Deeply appreciate dwas his recent, lovely gift. Earnest prayer is requested from Advertiser readers for the safety of every one in the armed forces, especially that God's protecting care may enfold Pvt. John Butler, Pvt. A. T. Patton and Pvt. Blaine Trapp, as these fine young men march to the front.

Mrs. Bessie Trapp of Tiffin, O., is warmly welcomed to Kentucky for her annual visit. On Thursday, Mrs. Trapp, Mrs. J. L. Pickett and Mrs. Thomas McClure were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Morgan and children. Mrs. Herbert Ragan is also warmly welcomed to Kentucky from Birmingham, Ala., for a visit to her mother's, Mrs. George Carroll, her sister, Mrs. Oscar Rankin, Mr. Rankin, Miss Dorothy Rankin, and other relatives. Mrs. Ragan was a recent caller.

A box of luscious plums from Mrs. Boeling was greatly appreciated.

"How beautiful to be with God when earth is fading, like a dream and from this mist encircled shore we launch upon the unknown stream. No doubt, no fear, no anxious care, but comforted by the staff and rod. In the faith-brightened hour of death, how beautiful to be with God."

Friends everywhere are expressing their sorrow for the recent loss of Mrs. Johnson, beloved wife of Rev. A. K. Johnson, prominent minister of Walton, and their profound sympathy for the sorely bereaved ones. Her quiet devotion was the radiant reflection of the sunshine of God's love, beautifully exemplifying in her life the spirit of her Master, who "went about doing good." Kindly and amiable traits characterized her life, and like the afterglow of the sunset, the warmth and radiance of her pleasing personality shall long linger in many hearth. The happiness of her home has been marred by this shadow of sorrow, and there remains the memory of a life filled with loving service and kindly deeds. In the silver lining in the dark clouds that now overshadow is the golden glow of a joyous reunion in that cloudless land where twilight breaks into eternal dawn. "Not dead, but gone within the veil, just a step or two. Our mortal eyes are holden. We cannot get their view of life immortal. Life eternal Life—real life at last."

HEBRON
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Peel (nee Kathryn Jane Casper) are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a little daughter since July 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rouse (nee Frances Beacom) are the proud parents of a baby girl, born July 10. She was named Myra Frances.

Miss Marjory Getker and Carrol Lee Aylor were united in marriage Saturday, July 11 at the home of Rev. H. M. Hauter. Congratulations to this young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hickey of Covington were Sunday guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Graves.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ernst and family of Hyde Park, were guests Sunday of his mother, Mrs. Bessie Ernst.

Mrs. Ottie Aylor is nursing Mrs. E. I. Rouse, who is confined to her bed.

(Delayed from Last Week)

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Acra of Dayton, Ohio are spending a few weeks here with his mother, Mrs. Joanna Graves and other relatives

Misses Mary and Cora Mae Dickey of Corinth are spending their vacation with their brother, Sterling Dickey, and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Tanner are at their home here for a few weeks

Mrs. Robert Aylor and daughter were the Saturday afternoon guests of Mrs. Ed Baker and Mrs Nan Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Graves left Thursday evening for a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGlasson of Stanberry, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Masters, Miss Henrietta Masters and Lewis C. Hossman spent the weekend at Mammoth Cave.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Baker of Ludlow, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lukey and two children of Crescent Springs, Mrs. Sterling Dickey, Misses Mary and Cora Mae Dickey were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker and Mrs. Nan Baker.

The Ludlow Baptist Church gave their annual picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Faulkner, July 4th. There were 97 present with well filled baskets. In the afternoon ice cream was served. All left tired but happy, hoping to meet together again next year.

Your Eyes Optic trist

Better have your eyes examined —they may be the cause of your feeling tired and irritable.

JOS. B. SCHNIPPERING
Optometrist and Optician
(Formerly with F. Pieper)
5 Pike Street, Covington
Phone HElock 0700

Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria

Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN FREE odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package. Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

INSURED

Keep prepared to meet rising prices and taxes by adding regularly to your Savings Account here... with liberal earnings and insured safety.

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1343

Feed Wayne Hog Supplement, save corn and get fast, profitable gains.

COLONIAL COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

NAGGING BACKACHE
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbances sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS
All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say, Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

TURKEYS

RAISE TURKEYS in your back yard. Profitable new confinement rearing way. Write Turkhand Farm, Murray, Utah.

BEAUTY SCHOOL

MILTON ACADEMY Best Beauty Course AVAILABLE
EASY TERMS—Free Kit—Call or Write
MILTON ACADEMY, T W. 6th St., Cincinnati, Ohio

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

When you want to thicken gravy, put the flour and water into a wide-mouthed jar, with a screw top and shake well.

• • •

Use the tab in opening and closing slide fasteners. Don't force them. Before washing a "zip" garment close the zipper. Guard it in pressing so the teeth will not be thrown out of alignment.

• • •

To keep lemons, sift dry sand into a stone jar, then bury the lemons in the sand, so that they will not touch each other.

• • •

Clothes iron much easier if they are hung up carefully, pinned securely with plenty of clothespins and shaken occasionally to remove wrinkles.

The new steel helmet just adopted by the Army is no longer called a "tin hat." It's a "head bucket" and when you see one you'll know why. Our soldiers have changed much of their slang since the last war, but not their preference for Camel Cigarettes. Now—as then—Camels are the favorite. They're the favorite cigarette with men in the Navy, Marines and Coast Guard as well, according to actual sales records from service men's stores. If you want to be sure of your gift to friends or relatives in the service being well received, stop in at your local dealer's and send a carton of Camels.—Adv.

BEAT THE HEAT Soothes and relieves heat rash on you or baby, with cooling Mexican Heat Powder. Absorbs perspiration, often forerunner of heat rashes.

NEW FREE GIFT FINE Cannon FACE CLOTH
WHEN YOU BUY A BOX OF SILVER DUST
I'M THE WHITE SOAP THE RIGHT SOAP FOR LAUNDRY AND DISHES. FINE CANNON FACE CLOTH WORTH 10¢ OR MORE PACKED INSIDE
SILVER DUST

To Relieve MONTHLY
FEMALE PAIN
If you suffer monthly cramps, backache, nervousness, distress of "irregularities"—due to functional monthly disturbances—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once! Pinkham's Compound is one medicine you can buy today made especially for women.
Taken regularly thruout the month — Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such symptoms. Follow label directions. Worth trying!
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

WNU—E 28—42

Sentinels of Health
Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.
When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, scanty, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.
Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.
The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.
DOAN'S PILLS

BOMBS BURST ONCE

By GRANVILLE CHURCH

W.N.U. SERVICE

THE STORY SO FAR: Jeff Curtis and his wife, Lee, are on their way to Tierra Libre when Jeff receives a note from Zora Mitchell warning them not to come. Later he learns from Jerry McInnis that Zora's husband has been murdered and that it is his job as chief engineer for a fruit company that Jeff has been called to fill. When they arrive in Tierra Libre, Jerry tells Jeff there is something strange going on. Jeff and Lee meet Montaya, Jeff's employer, and go with him to San Alejo, where Montaya tells them that Zora Mitchell has "committed suicide." Neither Jeff nor Lee believes that her death was suicide. Zora, they agree, was not the type to commit suicide. Jeff suspects Montaya of arranging, or at least of knowing about both Zora's and her husband's death. NOW CONTINUE WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IV

Every day was a new day at San Alejo, fresh and cool and clean at dawn no matter what the blazing sun might bring later. Even the asphalt underfoot was toned up by the dew as Curt swung along for his early appointment with Montaya. Curt's mind should have been toned up, too, by the tangy air so much like a Fall morning at home, but his last words to Lee just now—he'd read the pucker between her eyes—were still in his ears.

"Don't you be worrying about Zora Mitchell," he'd told her. "I admit suicide doesn't sound like her, but we hadn't seen her for six years and that length of time will work changes in any of us."

"It was her little girl I was thinking of," Lee had answered him soberly.

"I'll find out about her."

Curt made his way to Montaya's office, a high-ceilinged room paneled and furnished in unvarnished whitewood. An impression of coolness was heightened by Venetian blinds and a grass rug.

Curt came to the point before Senor Montaya could broach business. He said, suggestively, "The news of Mrs. Mitchell's death was a considerable shock to us—to my wife and me."

Montaya looked at him in silence as though the words needed elaboration.

"I mean, we should hardly have expected suicide of Zora Mitchell, especially as she was leaving a small child."

"Nor did I expect it." The senor made this statement as a sort of admission. He fumbled among papers on his desk, bringing forth two large square envelopes.

From one he spread several photographs before Curt. They showed, from different angles, Zora Mitchell slumped over in a bamboo "peacock" chair, her head at a curious angle. There was a bullet-hole in her left temple, and blood had run from the wound, coagulated, stained her dress.

Her left band, hanging over the arm of the chair, held a gun Curt recognized as a Luger. A Luger! he thought instantly. Funny! Where'd she get that?

He recalled how Mitchell had always favored a Colt .45 against all foreign makes of small arms.

Another question forced itself on Curt's mind. Why hadn't the physical shock relaxed Zora's fingers and made her drop the gun?

"Now, in the case of her husband, we had no chance to obtain photographs on the ground. The body was moved to Tempujo. But we did the best we could. I had sketches made."

From the second envelope Montaya spread out these sketches, and with them a map marked with an X and two photographs of the body as it lay on the flat handcar.

"An inquest was held, of course, as in the case of Mrs. Mitchell. Both—ah, incidents were quite properly handled by our local police. We have a comandancia here, another at Tempujo."

The sketches and the map were valueless, but the photographs . . . Curt picked up one of them. The picture was sickening, the body slashed and mutilated beyond recognition. Many of the cuts were clean, however, and something about these clean cuts rang a bell in Curt's mind. Yet the reason didn't at once click—that cuts which didn't bleed had to be made after death, after the blood atops coursing in the body.

"What about their little girl?" he asked. "Only five, isn't she?"

"Ah, but it is sad about her. Poor little thing. We have her at the hospital for the present, where the nurses can look after her. I am trying to get in touch with relatives in the States."

Montaya stacked the photographs and sketches, replaced them in their envelopes. He drew from his pocket an oversize cigarette case and tamped against the lid one of the special six-inch Turkish cigarettes he used. Apparently he was considering some problem.

At length he said, picking his words, "It would be natural for you to want to see the murderer of Mr. Mitchell brought to justice. I also do. But I assure you everything was done that could be done. You may believe me, Mr. Curtis, it would be a waste of time for you to try where we have failed."

Curt stared before he managed, "Oh, quite."

"Splendid. Besides, shall I confess to a selfish motive? If—if, I say, we have been mistaken and the murderer is still about, then he is a more clever man than we think. And if you should interest yourself in the case, you might perhaps invite a similar fate, no?"

Montaya put an end to the subject with an apologetic flash of teeth. "I cannot risk that. Engineering work is behind schedule. I need you so very badly, Mr. Curtis."

The next hour was spent in meeting key workers of the general staff, persons with whom Curt would have frequent contact.

It was a whirlwind tour. The bulk of employees, numbering fifty to sixty, were Americans, with a sprinkling of Britishers and other Europeans.

Then said Montaya, "This is the best time of day for you to meet Dr. Toenjes. Later he is likely to be in the field."

Using a handy phone he called for the laboratory, and when he got his connection spoke in French.

"French?" queried Curt, as the other hung up. "I thought the name was Dutch."

Montaya smiled perfunctorily. "Oh, Dr. Toenjes also speaks Spanish and English—after a fashion. He is more successful with French. You do not, then, speak French?" As Curt shook his head, "I thought not. He will use English with you."

The Agricultural Department occupied an adjacent building, filling a corner left by the administration building and the hospital. Montaya pushed on through the outer office, vacant except for a young man typing cards, and on to a door at the rear.

In the huge working laboratory there was shelf upon shelf, and row upon row, of carefully labeled boxes and jars. Along one side of the room a number of steel filing cabinets stood in a straight line. On the work tables were odd-shaped vessels—alembics, glass funnels, retorts.

"Ah, but it is sad about her. Poor little thing."

Dr. Toenjes, below medium height, in a dirty linen laboratory smock, proved a colorless individual. In fact, with his full-bearded face and careless dress he looked fair prey for a caricaturist. Near-sighted, he wore thick-lense spectacles which gave him a bug-eyed appearance.

The first words were conventional greeting. Then:

"Your shipment of—ah, chemicals at Cabora aroused Mr. Curtis' curiosity yesterday," Montaya said. "I told him such questions were your special province."

Geniality left the bearded face. Hostile gray eyes bored through the thick lenses into Curt.

"You ver vonce with der beebles across der rifer?" asked the Dutchman.

Curt nodded, smiled. Montaya's deprecation of the doctor's English hadn't been an exaggeration.

"Six years ago. I know Panama disease has shown up with them and that they've tried a lime treatment for it. It was a simple question I put. The quantity of lime landed on the docks—"

"Ah, ja. It iz trooth I use der lime—but alzo der oder chemicals. Vat I use iz my zegred. Der banana pla-ant will be der more healthy und vigorous from my chemical treatment uff der soil, und so ve combat der fungi more better as-yet. Den vill ve haff der reechest pla-anting in Tierra Libre."

If Dr. Toenjes did have a miraculous cheap compound for soil treatment, something to allay the dreaded fungus disease, something with which Associated could rejuvenate their used lands, then there was good reason for guarding the secret.

"You still haff friends ofer der Negro vith Associated?"

The amusement in Curt's eyes was a better answer than his words.

The trend of the interview, Curt's feeling that Montaya was exhibiting him to the doctor, a certain indefinable deference in Montaya's attitude toward the Dutchman, convinced Curt that whatever the dumpy, bearded man had, he'd sold Montaya on it pretty solidly.

At last, as final courtesies were being said, the worthy doctor let down the bars. He asked with what could best be described as a cunning look, "You blay gribbage, ja?"

"Cribbage?" Curt laughed. "Sure, I know the game."

"Goot. We blay sometime, ja?"

"Certainly."

Montaya explained as they left the laboratory.

"Dr. Toenjes' one regret here is that he has no good opponent at his favorite game." He smiled politely. "He is very good at it. I bope, Mr. Curtis, you will be able to stand up to him."

Curt chuckled. "If I can't, I'll sic' my wife onto him. She can play the game backwards and forwards." He added, with another chuckle, "If he'll comb out his beard first."

Their final stop was the engineering office, a one-story structure, square like the laboratory. It occupied the corner between the general offices and the clubhouse, thus completing the layout of principal company buildings about the square and balancing the community center.

Here Curt was introduced to his own staff. It was now midmorning. Three draftsmen were at work, two at detail drawings, the third on maps. One room was reserved for the field men when they came to San Alejo to submit their progress reports. There was a dark-room, and a big vault containing records and master charts. From photostatic machine down to electric eraaers the equipment througbout was ultra-modern.

Curt's own office was airy, light, cool, with both desk and big table on which to spread out his papers, a swivel chair between, a handy upright rack for rolls of blueprints. But the one thing which instantly took his attention was the huge aerial photographic map of the C. A. T. tract permanently framed against the wall. Here was something!

Montaya led the way across the room, to tap proudly with his finger tips. "I'd never have gotten my planting under way without this."

This map showed a rough triangle of about 20,000 hectares, or 50,000 acres. The Quebrado Mountains formed the western boundary. Along the south and east flowed the Masica River, joining the turbulent, unruly Rio Negro, the northern boundary, just below the rise of land where stood Tempujo.

No buildings and no engineering work showed on the map. It had been made before any preliminary work had been done. But it gave Curt an instant picture of the entire project; of the drainage necessary to clear the huge swamp, dotted with stands of jungle; of the levees necessary to bold back the rivers; of the best terrain for spur tracks to feed the farms.

"The Negro is a wild stream that requires taming," said Montaya. "We work on that now. Along here," he indicated with a pointer taken from a rack beside the map, "we make a twenty-three-foot levee. Your most important job, Mr. Curtis, is to see that it is completed within the next five months. On that I gamble 8,000 acres of planting!

"The Masica will hardly worry us this year. In fact, since the—ah, unfortunate bappening to Mr. Mitchell, I have halted work on the Masica levee and put those machines on the Negro levee. Flooding of the Masica will not endanger present planting.

"Along this line," he indicated with the pointer, "is our main canal. Already it has drained several thousand acres. Here will be secondary ditches. But we have so much to do, yes, so many laterals to dig. The canals in the upper half of the tract must also be completed before the rains come.

"Now, we have four draglines and a three-yard shovel and 6,000 laborers at work on the engineering projects . . ."

This wasn't even the beginning. More and more Curt realized he'd stepped into a man-size job. And with people who knew where they were going—what they wanted and how to go about getting it.

"Who made this map?"

"Mr. Ryden and Mr. Lannestock," was the answer. "In a plane I chartered especial for the purpose, a year before I was ready to start work. It takes long to secure a concession, to plan. It is good work, no? They are competent young men. That is why I am so happy now to have them under contract.

"Bueno. Here are progress reports on the Negro levee, the main drainage system, and the railroad. You will wish to look them over, but you will be brief agout it, no? Directly after lunch we shall start on an inspection tour of the valley. For this we shall take the rest of today and tomorrow, so you will bring what personal articles you need for overnight. In the meantime, I have much to do myself . . ."

Curt hardly noticed Montaya's departure. He even forgot the worries in the back of his mind. What a job! The best equipment to work with, a challenge to meet, with the next season's rainfall the deadline. He swelled to the task, his eyes shone. He could have stood for hours before that map. Noon rolled around all too soon.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for July 19

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

CAIN AND ABEL: A CONTRAST

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 4:1-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous.—Hebrews 11:4.

The weed of sin is fast growing, and brings forth bitter fruit. The disobedience of Adam and Eve resulted in their being put forth from the garden, but that judgment did not terminate the awful plague of sin. We see it in this lesson showing forth in their son, as it has in all the sons of Adam down through the centuries.

It is a dark picture and one which would discourage us did we not know that redemption has been wrought out by "the second man, the Lord from heaven" (I Cor. 15: 47).

We have here two sons of Adam with their differing personalities, a clash and the first murder, and then one man, a vagabond on the face of the earth.

I. Two Sons (vv. 1-7).

The birth of a child is always an exciting occasion, and one can readily imagine what it must have meant when the first boy ever to be born put in his appearance. What joy, what concern for his welfare, what plans for the future! And then, what disappointment and sorrow!

But before speaking of that, let us observe how he and his brother differed in their interests and personalities. It is a surprising thing how completely dixerent two sons in the same family can be.

Abel chose the work of a shepherd, much honored in the early history of man. Cain became a tiller of the soil, which with the passage of time haa come to be more important than the other.

They also had a different viewpoint on worship. Cain was a religious man. He apparently was the first to worship, but he came in the spirit of one who recognized God only as his Creator, the One worthy of his homage. Abel came also with a gift, but his attitude was quite different. His offering spoke of sacrifice, the need of a covering for sin (cf. Gen. 3:21). It was more than homage, it was a plea for forgiveness.

The Lord's acceptance of Abel's sacrifice made Cain angry (v. 5). Here again he differed from Abel, for there was no angry response on his part. Abel had recognized God's desire in worship. Cain not only failed to do so, but rejected God's instruction and His plea (vv. 6, 7).

Jealousy led to anger, and anger (as it so often does) led to

II. Murder (vv. 8, 9).

Instead of repentance and correction, the anger of Cain carried him to the awful conclusion of hatred, the taking of life. We tend to think of murder as a crime whicb only a desperately wicked man would commit. We hardly think of the "respectable" little sin of envy as being the root of murder, but it is, often and sometimes very quickly.

Actually there is no little sin, for it is the genius of sin to grow, to increase, to go step by step, yes, often by leaps and bounds, to its horrible fruition. "The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?" (Jer. 17:9). Why trust it?

The deceitfulness of Cain's heart is shown by the callous evasiveness of his reply to God concerning his murdered brother. His sin brought God's question. It always does. Do not assume that you can hide from Him. It has been suggested that committing sin is like touching a burglar alarm—the bell rings, and one must answer for his act.

"Am I my brother's keeper?" is the perfect expression of the selfish and indifferent attitude of the world. Human beings are regarded as simply those to be exploited, beings upon whom they may prey. For example: Just to make money, men are willing to destroy a fellow man with intoxicating liquor, or break down his decency and morality by selling him indecent books or magazines.

Murder having taken one of the two sons, we find that the remaining one is just

III. A Vagabond (vv. 10-15).

Judgment for sin made Cain a wanderer and a fugitive. Never would he be able to get away from the cry of his brother's blood (v. 10). No wonder he said he could not bear it. But notice that his cry was not one of repentance or contrition, but only of fear, of retribution.

So God shows mercy, forbidding the judgment of men upon Cain. Vengeance belongs to God, and in this first murder He reserved judgment to Himself. Later He put upon man the responsibility of judging and punishing murder by death (Gen. 9:6), but here He put His protecting hand on Cain.

Yet, to be a fugitive, with no real abiding place on earth, and every man's hand against him, was indeed a heavy punishment. One could have wished that it had brought repentance, but it did not. May none of us go the way of Cain.

NEW IDEAS for Home-makers

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

UPHOLSTERY repair work is rather costly hand labor. However, if you can clear a corner where you may work on it a little at a time, it is easy to do. Use boxes or an old table to rest the piece on at a comfortable working height. Remove the outside covering first, keeping it whole to use as a pattern; then remove padding, springs and webbing, writing down everything you want to remember about how they were placed; also the amount of webbing used. When the last tack is out, re-web the bottom of the seat, as shown, with strong new webbing and a homemade stretcher. Use No. 4 tacks or regular webbing tacks, and a tack hammer.

NOTE: You will find some upholsterers' tricks clearly sketched in Book 7, and the new Book 8, of the series prepared by Mrs. Spears for readers, shows you how to make a simple chair frame. To get a copy send your order to:

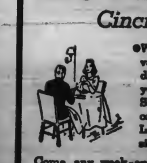
MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Drawer 10
Bedford Hills New York

Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.
Name.....
Address.....

MOROLINE PETROLEUM JELLY 5¢ FOR MINOR BURNS CUTS

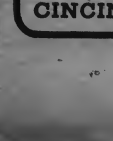
Servant Knows Master
The truest report comes from a man's servants.—Cicero.

Kool-Aid MAKES 10 Big Cool DRINKS 7 Delicious FLAVORS 5¢



HE'S A "SELF-STARTER"

CAPTAIN HAROLD ANDREWS.
Skipper of the Riptide, deep-sea fishing yacht, stalks the Gulf Stream off the coast of Florida for coveted "sails" and blue marlin. He's kept hopping all the time. He says: "For my money, there's nothing to help start you off right like Kellogg's Corn Flakes with fruit and milk! Boy—there's a dish!"
Copr. 1942 by Kellogg Company



CLABBER GIRL
Baking Powder

• Enjoy Better Results when you use Clabber Girl for quick breads, biscuits and other nourishing foods . . . Enjoy Better Value when you buy Clabber Girl.

Ask Mother SHE KNOWS

You'll Enjoy a
"Victory Vacation"
2 DAYS—1 NIGHT—ALL EXPENSES PAID!
ONLY $5.95 per person at
HOTEL GIBSON
Cincinnati's Largest!

•Write for full details of this new, timely vacation that includes a delicious Saturday night dinner, Sunday breakfast in your room, and your choice of a special Sunday Town 'N Country Dinner at noon or in the evening, with dinner dancing. Large, pleasant double room (twin beds or single occupancy, 50c extra per person).

Come any week-end during July, August or September.
For illustrated folder and full details, write today!
HOTEL GIBSON
Famous for Friendliness
CINCINNATI, OHIO RANDALL DAVIS General Manager

Classified ADS

Classified advertising rate — 1c per word—25c minimum. Cash, check or stamps should accompany all orders.

FOR SALE — Frying chickens. Mrs. C. S. Finnell, R-1, Verona. Phone Walton 765. 2t36*

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

FOR SALE—2 carloads of stock cattle, good quality, priced to sell. Boyd Elliott, Ottis Readnour, Frank Cooke. Phone 154 Walton. tf35

FOR SALE—Registered Spotted Poland-China boars and gilts, large enough for service; also extra good 5-year-old farm mare. James W. Huey, Union, Ky. Phone Florence 550. 2t36

FOR SALE — Male hog. E. B. McClure, Verona, Ky. 2t35*

FOR SALE—Team of horses, 7 years old, and harness. Will sell separate. Call M. F. Stephenson, Stephenson Mill Road. Phone Walton 746. 2t35*

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

FOR SALE—2 acres land, opposite Walton Reservoir. James Falls, Walton. tf34

FOR SALE—Oak Lumber, seasoned and newly sawed. R. Hume, R-1, Walton. Phone Independence 6745. 5t33*

FOR SALE—Hay rake, road wagon, chill plow, buggy, lard press, sled, and many other used articles; 5 tons of hay. B. D. Adams, near Crittenden. 1t37

FOR SALE — White Rock fryers, 2 pounds; sow and pigs; 2 fresh cows; Hereford bull calf, ready for service; 2 Hereford male calves, 7 months old; Registered Jersey bull, 1 year old; 5-year-old mare and mule; 4-year-old mare. A. C. Johnson, Beaver Road, Walton. Phone 208. 2t37*

LOST—Red Jersey heifer, 11 mo. old. Finder notify E. L. Webster, Green Rd., Walton, R-1, and receive reward.

FOR SALE — Purebred O. I. C. boar pigs. Papers furnished if desired. Ottis Readnour, Walton. tf37

WANTED—Mowing machine attachment for Fordson Tractor. Harlie Fisk, Morning View, Ky. 3t37*

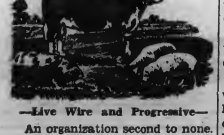
FOR SALE—Southdown Rams—"The large type that sire market tops" from ordinary ewes. Ewbank Farms. Phone Warsaw 2318. 4t37

WANTED — Unencumbered middle-age lady, accustomed to all household duties, in modern home. To live with family of four, as one of the family. For further details phone Walton 123. 3t37

WANTED—5,000 Tobacco sticks, split or sawed oak; one two-gang Cultipacker. Ewbank Farms, Warsaw, Ky. 1t37

SAVE YOUR CAR and MONEY RIDE A BIKE

We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.



LIBERAL TERMS

DIXIE CYCLE SHOP

16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

NORRIS, BROCK CO.

Cincinnati Stock Yards

—Live Wire and Progressive—

An organization second to none. We are strictly sellers on the best all around market in the country.

We work for our customers... first, last, and all the time.

Reference: Ask the first man you meet.

Hope that you will eventually ship to us... why not now?

—Service That Satisfies—

NEW JAMES THEATRE

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m.—Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY & SAT., JULY 17-18
Joel McCrea - Veronica Lake in
"SULLIVAN'S TRAVELS"

SUNDAY, JULY 19
Carole Lombard - Jack Benny in
"TO BE or NOT TO BE"

MONDAY, JULY 20
"BULLET SCARS"
with Regis Toomey

TUESDAY & WED., JULY 21-22
Jane Wyman - Edw. Robinson in
"LARCENY, INC."

THURSDAY, JULY 23
Marjorie Weaver - Geo. Reeves in
"MAN AT LARGE"

FOR SALE—Laundry stove and Estate Heatrola. Joe Richards, Walton, phone 66. 1t37*

BE SAFE - BUY NOW

SPECIAL This Week Only—
BREAKFAST SETS..$19, Up

Dixie Bargain House

Better Furniture-Less Money

221 Pike St. Cov. Co. 1750

Political Announcements

DEMOCRATIC PARTY

We are authorized to announce BRENT SPENCE as a candidate for re-election to Congress from the Fifth District, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held on Saturday, August 1, 1942.

—Your Support Is Solicited—

10% OF INCOME IS OUR QUOTA IN WAR BONDS

WALNUT LICK

There was a good attendance at the W. M. S. meeting at Miss Ella Roberts' last Wednesday. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Bessie Glacken, the 2nd Wednesday in August.

Miss Blanche Webster and Elmo Worthington were calling on her parents Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Alice Glacken was baptized at C. D. Hughes' pond Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Glacken were visiting his parents Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Chapman entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jay Chapman and little son Sunday for dinner.

Rev. G. N. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Manford Craft and daughter Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Edrington and James Whitson were entertained at the George Lucas home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rex are entertaining a new baby girl since Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hughes were calling on her parents Friday.

Last Friday the creeks in this vicinity were higher than they have been for several years. All crops were destroyed in the creek bottoms.

There was a dog visited the Concord neighborhood last Saturday, week ago, and bit some dogs—and these dogs have been killed, but the strange dog got away. It is not know if it was mad or not, but everyone had better keep their eyes open for dogs, as there are mad dogs in some places

RABBIT HASH

Vincent Ryle will leave Friday, the 17th, to be inducted into the Army.

Miss Madge Fritz and friend of Cincinnati called on her grandmother, Mrs. Lou Van Ness, Saturday.

Buster Smith, Howard Edward has employment at Seagrams, in Lawrenceburg. He went to work up there last week.

Mrs. Etta Stephens of Cincinnati is spending a week here visiting her many relatives in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stephens spent Monday visiting Benj. Stephens and family and their sister-in-law, Mrs. Nannie Stephens of near Belleview.

Smith Walton ,one of our oldest citizens, who has been in California for several years, arrived here last week to make his home with his nephew, Geo. Walton, Jr.

Walter Moore and family from Indianapolis spent a week here visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wilson.

L. M. Stephens and wife from Newport passed through here on Sunday, after visiting the East Bend cemetery. Lee has been seriously sick since panuary, although some better, he is still on the sick list.

The many friends and relatives of Mrs. Adah Wilson came in Friday night and surprised her on her birthday, with a dinner party.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith received word from their son Jimmie, who is in training at Randolph Field, Texas, that he would soon be transferred to a field in Iowa, where he will finish his course as a pilot for glider planes. Jimmie has been in Texas for over a year now. His many friends back here are proud to hear of his wonderful progress and wish him much more success.

The Rabbit Hash Homemakers went on a two-days tour June 28 and 29 to Natural Bridge and other points of interest in the southeastern part of the state. They visited Bryants Station and Boonesboro and saw the Monument of old Daniel Boone, the great pioneer.

Mrs. James Wilson and sons Jimmie and Davy spent Sunday near Lawrenceburg visiting with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sullivan and children.

GLENCOE

Leland Boaz of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station spent last weekend with his mother, Mrs. Lou Boaz and sisters here.

Mrs. Blanche Poland is spending a few days in Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Reid of Covington were Sunday guests of Mrs. Carlton and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snow spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Noel and son Paul.

Rev. Walters of Cincinnati filled the pulpit at the Christian Church Sunday and was entertained in the home of John Cooper and family.

Mrs. Elza Ross, Mrs. Maude Jones, Mrs. Matt Webster and Mrs. Maude Thomas called on Miss Jessie Taylor recently.

Miss Opal Beach of Concord spent the past two weeks with her aunt and uncle, Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Dunaway and assisted with D. V. B. S. at the Baptist Church.

ELLISTRON ROUTE 1

Miss Thelma, Christine, Janice Blackburn and Lovanna Hon were shopping in Covington, Monday.

Miss Lovanna Hon was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital Wednesday where she was operated on for appendicitis. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Word was received here from Guilford Lee Blackburn, who has a defense position in Red Hill, Honolulu. He is getting along fine and enjoys eating pineapples.

Mrs. Dolores Alexander visited her daughter and family in Covington, Wednesday.

Emmit and Gale Hon called on Ike Brashear one night last week.

WATERLOO

(Delayed from Last Week)

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Norris spent the 4th with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hightower.

Quite a crowd attended the swimming party and vesper services at the pond Saturday night. Come out and enjoy these parties. Bring your lunch and swim suits.

Smith Walton arrived here Saturday to make his home with his nephew, George, and family.

Mrs. Mary Williamson returned home Monday from Indianapolis, where she attended the funeral of her nephew, Colbert West.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Kite, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brown and daughter, Mrs. Mag Feldhaus and Mrs. Spillie of Cincinnati spent Sunday with the Kite-Purdy and Hamilton family at the lake here and called on Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown.

The Conner family spent the holiday at their farm here.

Miss Evelyn Hickey spent Sunday with Miss Corrine Walton.

Mrs. Rose Stephens and family were Sunday guests of relatives in the city.

Mrs. Mag Feldhaus spent a few days last week with her relatives here.

Bro. and Mrs. Tony Conley spent Monday night with the Kite-Purdy family.

Miss Margie Philson spent the weekend with her cousins, the Rector girls here.

Mrs. Myrtle Stephens spent Friday with her father, Cliff Pope, and family.

PETERSBURG

(Delayed from Last Week)

Mrs. Herma Mathews entertained her little grandson, Scottie Mathews over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Feeley had their daughter and family from Aurora, Ind., for Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Berkshire are entertaining his brother-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Will Crisler from New York.

The large home of Mr. and Mrs Courtney Jarrell was considerably damaged by fire Saturday afternoon, due to the explosion of a coal oil stove.

Mrs. Al Stephens had as guests Thursday, Mrs. Earl Smith, Mrs. Walter Brown and daughter June, Mrs. Ella Jarrell and Mrs. Marge Hensley of Burlington. The guests reported a good time and splendid dinner.

Joe Kelly Smith spent last Thursday with Mrs. Stella Gaines.

Rev. Helton leaves this week for a meeting in Franklin County.

Mrs. Stella Gaines is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ryle. Mrs. Ryle is considerably indisposed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Rosenbaum of Cincinnati spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Akin.

Dortha B. Christy was baptized last Sunday evening in the baptistry at Bullittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Less Goodridge and family spent last Saturday with Mrs. Jennings Acra and mother and called on Mrs. Lena Grant in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Myers and children of Cincinnati and Perry Carver and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Eva Carver.

SOUTH FORK

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Noell and son called on Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon, Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lamn and daughter Blanche spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Waller and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and children called on Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler, Monday night.

Miss Virginia Coleman spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Dora Rider and family.

Miss Blanche Lamn spent last Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Helen Densler.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson E. Lillard, (nee Pearlene Scudder) at St. Elizabeth Hospital, a baby girl.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Scott a baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Dean and John West called on Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler, Mrs. Katie Densler and daughter Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lamn and daughter entertained guests from Williamstown, Saturday night.

Mrs. Dora Rider called on Mrs. Helen Densler, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Rider had as Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. June Raisor, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Raisor and children Donald, Wanda and Mary Jo, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rider and daughter Ellene and in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. William Rider.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler and Mrs. Katie Densler spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and family.

Miss Helen Dean and Grace Dens ler were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Dean; also other company were guests from Crittenden.

Miss Geraldine Webster of Fleming County is the guest of her cousin, Martha Lee Noell.

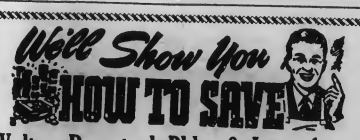
Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donnell spent Sunday morning with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rider.

Gardens in Pike county are thought to be about the best ever produced in that county.

A majority of the farm families in Barren county are producing 75 percent or more of their food supply.

The Northern Kentucky Sportsmen's Club distributed 2,000 young forest trees to 4-H club members in Campbell county.

Farms For Sale



3 ACRES on LLL Highway, good 5-room house, newly papered, clean, vacant, ready to move into. Land lays good, facing on two highways, lot of fruit—300 bearing—grapes, apples, cherries, berries of all kinds—$2100.

Near Covington, on bus line, possession now; 1½ acres, all in good garden; new 3-room cottage; shade, deep well, fruit trees$1000, ½ cash.

Rel C. Wayman

623 Washington St., Cov.

HEm. 5107; INd. 5064

Walton Perpetual Bldg. & Loan Assn.

DIXIE STATE BANK BLDG. WALTON, KY.

E. S. West, Sec'y A. M. Edwards, Pres.

—SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—

Anything Looks Well

When it's new, paint included. But that's not all that counts. What you want to know is what your paint job will look like in a year or two.

BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT

is weather resistant and will hold its color and beauty much longer than inferior paints.

There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You, Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.

THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.

114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.

CHAMBERS & GRUBBS

Funeral Directors WALTON

Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation

Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.

DIXIE STATE BANK

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

BEAVER LICK

(Delayed from Last Week)

Misses Ruth Ann and Jean Sleet of Covington are spending part of their vacation with their relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Jones were in Richmond for several days recently, to be with his brother, Sergeant Rector A. Jones, who was home on a short leave. Rector was teaching in the Florence High school when he enlisted in the Army and has many friends in this section whose good wishes follow him wherever he goes.

BIG BONE

(Delayed from Last Week)

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rich are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a baby daughter, named Bonny Sue, at St. Elizabeth Hospital last Thursday night.

Mrs. Faye Molique was a recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs Roy Pitcher and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Atha and little son L. C., spent Sunday with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moore and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pitcher have moved from the T. C. Hamilton house here to the Andrew Rich house.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Robbins and little daughter, with a number of his relatives, spent Sunday at the Cincinnati Zoo.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adams of this place, joined a number of relatives at a family dinner party at the home of Albert Craig, in lower Gallatin County, complimenting Mr. Craig's brother, Robert Milton Hance, who will soon be among Uncle Sam's Armed forces.

Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day

* * *

Let's Double Our Quota

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .

W. E. TAIT, O.D.

OPTOMETRIST

OPTICIAN

27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.

Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

For appointment phone—

HE. 2088

ATTENTION

Coal Buyers!

Coal is getting hard to get, due to Transportation difficulties. Now is the time to buy that Big 10-in. Blue Diamond Coal.

—SEE US ABOUT PRICES AT ONCE—

WALTON & READNOUR

PHONE 154 WALTON, KY.

Labor On the Farm Is SCARCE . . .

Time is valuable—so save time and labor with a DE LAVAL MILKER and SEPARATOR. We can give you quick installation. Also Separator Parts in Stock at All Times.

BOURBON ROTENONE DUST — Safe to use. Kills Bean Beetles, Leaf Hoppers, Flea Beetles, Cabbage Worms, Thrips, Potato Beetles, etc.— 25 lb. bags—5 lb. bags—2 lb. bags—1 lb. bags.

Pratt's Fly Spray — Kills Flies on Cows, etc. — 5 gal. bulk $4.25; 1 gal. $1.25; ½ gal. 75c; qt. 50c

Bellows Dusters $1.75; Sprayers 25c and Up

Geo. C. Goode

COVINGTON :-: KENTUCKY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING, TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS, PAPERS OR PERIODICALS BELONGING TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES.
See Ky. Statutes, Article 1264
University of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance

WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 23, 1942

Volume 28; Number 38

Mass Meeting At New Haven, Shnday

There will be a mass meeting of the pastors and their people at the New Haven School, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This should be a great rally with all of the Christian people of Boone County coming together to consider the setting up of a Boone County Christian Citizen Council. This is an opportunity for the people of all Creeds to unite in a great battle against present day evils. The pastors of the county are counting on their members as they make a special effort to bring all of our forces together in an effort to adequately face present day conditions.

Dr. Henry W. Bromley, Secretary of the Kentucky Christian Citizens Council, will be the principal speaker. Before the meeting closes the laymen present will have an opportunity to ask questions or express themselves in any way.

This meeting is sponsored by the Boone County Ministerial Association.

DR. WOLFE ESTATE TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION, JULY 25

There will be an auction sale of the Dr. E. F. Wolfe estate on Saturday, July 25th. The sale will start at Farm No. 1 on the Carlisle road, about half way between Piner and Bracht. The stock and tools will also be sold here.

This sale is conducted by the R. M. Lucas & Co., Realtors and Auctioneers, of Cincinnati.

Mr. Lucas has conducted several successful sales in this community and is widely known over the U. S. See their ad on page 8.

CHRISTIAN AID SOCIETY MEETS

The Aid society of the Walton Christian Church met in the home of Mrs. Pascal Bush of Verona Road, Thursday, July 16.

Those attending were Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Caroland, Mrs. Marie Pennington, Mrs. Irene Bush, Mrs. Ora Fry, Miss Libb Ingram, Mrs. Geo. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watson, Mrs. Carry Durr, Mrs. Ira Stephenson, Mrs. Conner Littrell, Mrs. Harry Spenser and little daughter Betty Lue, Miss Betty Merriel, Miss Wanda Pennington, Miss Pauline Stephenson and Mr. and Mrs. Bush.

Dr. Henry H. Bromley To Speak Here Sunday

Dr. Henry W. Bromley, a General Evangelist of the Methodist Church, will be the guest speaker at the Walton Methodist Church, Sunday, July 26 at 11:10 a. m.

Dr. Bromley is a dynamic speaker and it is a high privilege to have him in the service. The public is cordially invited to attend this, as well as the other service, Sunday.

BAPTIST W. M. S. MEETS AT CHURCH

The W. M. S. of the Walton Baptist Church held the July meeting in the church. Business session was held at 11 o'clock, with Mrs. C. J. Alford, president, in the chair. A bountiful lunch was served at the noon hour.

With Mrs. Tom Percival as leader, a splendid program was rendered by members present.

Those who enjoyed the day were Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Alford, Mrs. B. W. Franks, Mrs. T. W. Jones, Mrs. Elmer Breeden, Mrs. W. L. Sturgeon, Mrs. R. E. Ryle, Mrs. Kate Noell, Mrs. Minnie Davis, Mrs. Elnora Hodges, Mrs. Susie Norman, Mrs. Helen Graff, Mrs. Charles Montgomery, Mrs. O. P. Mann, Mrs. F. E. Fisher, Mrs. D. K. Johnson, Mrs. Lula Vest, Mrs. Fannie Sleet, Mrs. Tom Percival, Mrs. Bess Conrad, Mrs. Fannie Brittenhelm, Mrs. Margaret Wilson, Mrs. Bryan Rector, Mrs. Ed Hankenson, George Heginbotham, Sue E. Mann, Jo Anne and Dona Noell and Irma Rector.

ENTERTAINS METHODIST LADIES AID SOCIETY

The Ladies Aid society of the Walton Methodist Church was entertained Saturday for an all-day meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ott Elliott of near Nicholson.

Those present at the meeting were Rev. B. G. Carnes, Mrs. J. H. Talley, Mrs. D. E. Bedinger, Mrs. Allie Hughes, Mrs. Lottie Powers, Miss Fannie Bagby, Mrs. William Lancaster, Mrs. J. C. Bedinger, Mrs. J. O. Jockey, Mrs. Sallie Miller, Mrs. Russell Piner, Miss Emma J. Miller, Mrs. J. D. Vallandingham, Mrs. Ora Fry, Mrs. Charles Carlisle, Mrs. Howard Stephenson and son Joe, Miss Stout, Mrs. W. O. Rouse, Mrs. Grover Young, Mrs. Clay Myers and children, Marie and Donnie, Mrs. Scott Lancaster and son Bobbie, Ruby Arnold, Ed Bailey, Delbert Northcutt and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott.

COUNTY USO DRIVE MAY REACH $1,332.92

The total amount of cash collected to date in the recent USO drive in Boone County is $1306.17 with $26.75 in pledges yet to collect. Seventy five percent of the above cash collection has been remitted to National Headquarters and upon recommendation of the State Chairman, 25 percent is retained for use in Boone County in providing entertainment for soldiers in accordance with the USO policy.

Walter Ferguson, Chairman, plans to have a meeting of the county committee in the near future to formulate a plan whereby the county fund may be used as needed from time to time to meet the approval of USO. Should the county not be called upon to provide entertainment for soldiers, the amount remaining in the County Treasury can be remitted to National Headquarters any time by order of the County Committee. It will be appreciated by the Committee if those having made pledges will pay them as soon as convenient in order to close the drive.

ATTENTION, FARMERS OF NORTHERN KENTUCKY

Many Covington boys 15 to 18 years of age, willing to do farm work, are being urged to enroll with the Covington Y. M. C. A. in an effort to assist farmers with their work during the busy summer season. Contact can be made by calling Secretary Wade, of the Y. M. C. A. at HEmlock 8140, the Covington "Y." About ten boys have been interested in the project, according to Fred Macklin, who is assisting Mr. Wade in the undertaking.

Former Resident Dies In Cincinnati

Mrs. Emma Hunt, age 74, died in Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, on Saturday, July 18, from a heart attack. Mrs. Hunt had been employed by the J. G. Tomlin family for forty-one years. She formerly resided in Walton, and was an active worker in the Baptist Church. The deceased had been a patient in Christ Hospital for the past two years, suffering from a hip fracture.

Funeral services were conducted in the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Walton, Monday afternoon, July 20, at 2 o'clock, with Rev. C. J. Alford in charge. Burial was in the Belleview cemetery.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Chambers & Grubbs.

WITH THE REDS

Cincinnati:—The Reds are following the same policy now that they did several years ago, when they put together the team that produced two National League and a world's championship for Cincinnat. They are rebuilding with younger fellows who are on the upgrade, and when you closely look at the roster, you realize just how many changes have been made since last year.

All of the outfielders except Mike McCormick and Ival Goodman are new this year. Bert Haas and Damon Phillips are new infielders and Ray Lamanno and Al Lakeman are catching additions. Ray Starr and Clyde Shoun are new hurlers.

Latest of the players added to the Reds' roster are Outfielders Eric Tipton and Frank Kelleher. Tipton came from Kansas City for a pile of cash and the contract of Harry Craft, while Kelleher came from Newark. To get him the Reds gave cash and the contracts of Joe Abreu and Jim Turner.

Both Kelleher and Tipton compiled spectacular records in the minors, Kelleher as a home run socker, and Tipton as a hard battling, all around good ball player. Their records indicate that they are the type that a club needs in a rebuilding program.

The Reds are scheduled to return to Crosley Field, from their third Eastern trip, on Tuesday, Aug. 4, with they play St. Lotis in a ladies' day tilt. A night game will follow, with St. Louis.

NOT ENOUGH!

Willingness is not enough, for success. Efficiency, is the quality by which one is judged. Efficiency demands quick, sure Sight. If your work tires, slows, irritates you — if success seems to elude you—have us Examine your eyes. If you do NOT need Glasses, know that, at least!

DR. J. O. TYSON

OFFICES WITH

MOTCH

Optician —Jewelers

613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.

Established 1857

Warsaw Youth Serving Fourth Year In Navy

Dallas Wallick

Dallas Wallick, Electrician 2/C, is serving his fourth year in the U. S. Navy. At present he is attending motion picture school in New York City. He has seen some action while doing duty in the convoy, but still thinks the Navy is "tops."

Wallick recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wallick of near Warsaw.

Miss Nida Tomlin to Wed Navy Man on August 4th

Mrs. John Grant Tomlin requests the honour of your presence
at the marriage of her daughter
Nida Howell
to
Robert Crenshaw Watts, junior
Ensign, United States Navy
Tuesday afternoon, August 4th
Nineteen hundred and forty-two at half after four o'clock
Seventh Presbyterian Church
Cincinnati, Ohio

Immediately following the ceremony a reception will be held in the Cincinnati Country Club.

Mrs. Tomlin and her family are former residents of Walton, and have many friends in this section.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call Mrs. Maude Johnson, wife of Rev. A. K. Johnson, from our midst June 22, 1942.

Therefore be it resolved: That the First Baptist Church and W. M. S. of Walton has sustained a great loss. She was devoted to her family and a faithful member of the church. To her, death was not a door which shut out life, but one which opened into a larger life.

Secondly. That we extend to the family our deepest sympathy and prayers.

Mrs. Ethaline Ryle,
Mrs. D. K. Johnson,
Mrs. Katie Hankenson,
Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richards and family will leave for their new home in Texas, some time this week.

FORMER EMPLOYEE NOW IN IRELAND

In a card from Mrs. Bertha Jarvis of Central City, we learn that Virgil Jarvis, Jr., a former employee of the Advertiser, is now stationed in Ireland, with the U. S. Army. He entered the service Sept. 9, 1941. His address is:

Pvt. Virgil Jarvis, Jr., 35108445, Co. A - 16th Armd. Engrs. Bn., A. P. O. 251, c/o Postmaster, New York City, N. Y.

MRS. C. A. HAZELRIGG PASSES ON JULY 20th

Mrs. Luly Galbriath Hazelrigg, wife of Clarence A. Hazelrigg, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Straugham, Birmingham, Ala., Monday, July 20. A former resident of this section, Mrs. Hazelrigg was a sister of the late Mrs. I. L. Hopkins, and an aunt of Mrs. Lotta Powers of High School Court, Walton.

Funeral services were held at the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Walton, on Wednesday, July 22 at 3:00 p. m., conducted by Rev. J. H. Talley, pastor of the Walton Methodist Church. Interment was in Independence cemetery.

Besides Mrs. Straughan, the deceased leaves another daughter, Mrs. Joseph Garan of Chicago, a son, Lyle Hazelrigg, and eight grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Chambers & Grubbs.

GRACE McBRIDE Y. W. A. MEETS

The Grace McBride Y. W. A. of the Walton Baptist Church met at the home of Miss Jean Farris, Monday evening. The subject of the program was, "Voices and Echoes of House Beautiful."

Those in attendance were Miss Mary Jane Readnour, Miss Sue Evelyn Mann, Mrs. Bryan Rector, and the hostess, Miss Farris.

Town Of Walton Improves Streets

D. L. Lusby, Mayor, and the Board of Trustees of Walton, recently accepted a bid for repairing the streets of Walton from The Eaton Oil Co.

This work has been completed, and every side street is in first class condition. The streets were refurfaced with crushed stone and tar—a high type "black top" material.

The approximate cost of this improvement was $1,500, and the Board is to be commended for their good work.

LAMBS BRING GOOD PRICE

Mrs. Kate Noell, Walton, had 12 lambs at the Cincinnati Union Stock Yard Co. that averaged 78 pounds and brought $15.25, the tail end of this shipment brought 13c. Mrs. Noell says anyone wishing top prices for stock, should ship to Union Stock Yards.

Read the Advertiser Want Ads

Mail Schedule for Walton

The Walton Post Office presents the following policies and mail schedule for the benefit of its patrons.

This office is operated in accordance with Eastern War Time. It is opened, on week days, at 7:00 a. m., and closed at 5:00 p. m. The office lobby is open on all days until 7:00 p. m. for the benefit of patrons renting lock boxes. The office suspends window service for one hour each day from 12:00 noon until 1:00 p. m.

All mail must be in the Post Office thirty minutes in advance of dispatch time. This applies to all trains except Cin. & Chatt. train 16. This mail must be in the office at 4:30 p. m.

It is the policy of this office, through the splendid cooperation of the Walton Advertiser, to keep the patrons informed as to the current mail schedule. We suggest that you clip and retain this schedule for further reference.

DISPATCH—

Cin. & Chatt. Train 2 or 28	First Class	7:12 a. m.
Cin. & Chatt. Train 15	Parcel Post	9:28 a. m.
Cin. & Chatt. Train 3	First Class	9:17 a. m.
Cin. & Nash. Train 99	First Class	9:41 a. m.
Cin. & Nash. Train 104	All classes	11:35 a. m.
Cin. & Nash. Train 8	First Class	4:19 p. m.
Cin. & Chatt. Train 16	All classes	7:42 p. m.

ARRIVAL—

Cin. & Nash. Train 2	All classes	6:32 a. m.
Cin. & Chatt. Train 2 or 28	First Class	7:12 a. m.
Cin. & Chatt. Train 15	Parcel Post	9:28 a. m.
Cin. & Chatt. Train 3	First Class	9:17 a. m.
Cin. & Nash. Train 99	First Class	9:41 a. m.
Cin. & Nash. Train 104	All classes	11:35 a. m.
Cin. & Nash. Train 8	First Class	4:19 p. m.
Cin. & Chatt. Train 16	All classes	7:42 p. m.

(NOTE: All even numbers are North bound trains and uneven numbers are South bound trains).

—Clinton F. Cleek, Postmaster.

Revival Services End at Methodist Church, Sunday

A very fine series of revival services closed at the Walton Methodist Church, Sunday evening. Rev. B. G. Carnes, General Evangelist of Wilmore, Kentucky was the guest speaker. Those who attended the services with any degree of regularity deeply appreciated the earnest effort of Bro. Carnes to strengthen our faith and help us find the best possible way of living. He did not forget for a moment to honestly condemn sin but he showed the kindest sort of attitude toward all who are victims of sin. We may have to suffer before we break down and turn from our evil ways but the time will come when every knee shall bow and every tongue confess the name of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Special music was enjoyed in each service by a representative group from all of the churches. We deeply appreciate the interest shown by the other churches, and trust that we have been mutually blessed.

Let us remember these words. "If my people which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."—Pub. Com.

ACCEPTS NEW POSITION

Miss Sue Evelyn Mann, formerly with the Community Public Service Co., has accepted a position as secretary, with the National Art Studio, Cincinnati, and began her duties Monday morning.

HOME SUNDAY

Jesse William Thornton, who is in training at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, accompanied his parents home Saturday evening and spent Sunday with home folk and friends. He returned to the Training Station, Sunday night.

Jesse William says he is well satisfied with Navy life.

HOME ON FURLOUGH

George Noe, Jr., and Jack Farris, Jr., who are stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, arrived here Tuesday evening to spend a few days with relatives.

LATE GARDEN PROGRAM

JULY—

Beans (15th and 30th) Stringless Greenpod or Refugee (double sized plantings for canning purposes).

Summer lettuce—Cos Trianon.

Beets (for storing) — Detroit Dark Red.

Toward end of month greens may be sown — Siberian Kale, Southern Curled Mustard, Bloomdale Savoy Spinach.

Garden peas (55 day varieties) Plant late July, early August—Laxatonian, Thomas Laxton, Little Marvel. Innoculate garden peas for better crops.

AUGUST—

Kale—Siberian.

Turnip greens—Seven Top.

Table turnips — Purple Top or White Globe.

Chinese cabbage—Pe Tsai.

Lettuce—Grand Rapids or New York (Wonderful).

Radishes—Any early variety.

Many garden seed are likely to be scarce and difficult to get in 1943, so it is desirable to save all the garden seed you can for next year's garden.

FLOYD E. LOUDEN DIES IN PADUCAH

Floyd Edward Louden, formerly of Belleview, died in Paducah, Ky. on Saturday, July 18th.

The remains arrived in Cincinnati, Monday morning, and funeral services were held Tuesday, July 21 at 2 p. m. at the Belleview Baptist Church. Burial was in the Belleview cemetery.

Funeral arrangements were completed by Chambers & Grubbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Edwards, Jr., and son, Adolph, III, of Pineville arrived Saturday to spend some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Edwards, and his sister, Mrs. Lula Huey, and son Gaines Edwards.

Mrs. R. E. Brugh, Local High School Teacher, Dies Sat.

Mrs. Henrietta F. Brugh, wife of R. E. Brugh, Walton's Chief of Police, passed away at her home here Saturday night, July 18th, after a long illness, suffering from carcinoma. She was born in Owenton, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Forsee. After her marriage to Mr. Brugh, she came to Walton, and had been a member of the High school faculty for the past 13 years. Mrs. Brugh became ill at the start of the past school year and was forced to resign her position.

She was well and favorably known throughout this section, being an active worker in extra curricular activities of the school, as well as a member of the Walton O. E. S., and a devoted member of the Baptist Church.

Throughout her illness Mrs. Brugh had been tenderly cared for by her husband, her sisters, Misses Anna May and Louella Forsee, and Mr. Brugh's sister, Miss Blanche Brugh of Troutville, Va.

Funeral services were held from the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home at the Walton Baptist Church, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with the pastor, Rev. C. J. Alford, in charge, who delivered a most appropriate funeral discourse, before a large audience. Mrs. Olivia Wills and Mrs. R. R. Rose sang two pretty hymns, "In the Garden" and "Saved by Grace," accompanied by Mrs. C. J. Alford and Mrs. G. C. Ransom.

The pallbearers were W. F. Coop, D. L. Lusby, H. P. Baker, William Collins, John Wood and J. B. Doan. The Junior and Senior Girls Reserve of the Walton school acted as flower girls—and the floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Following the last rites interment took place in the Owenton cemetery.

Mrs. Brugh is survved by her husband, R. E. Brugh; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Forsee, two sisters, Misses Anna May and Louella Forsee, two brothers, John and Billie Forsee, all of Owenton; a nephew, Jack Forsee of Dayton, Ohio, and a niece, Mrs. Lyde Forsee Syrgley of Nashville, Tenn.

Chambers & Grubbs were in charge of the funeral arrangements.

FEATURES IN THIS ISSUE

Three Gifts To Man

Each week an understandable message is brought to readers throught the Advertiser's Sunday School lesson. Today God's three gifts to a believing man are explained. How many readers can name the three gifts? If you're stumped, read the lesson.

Time-Tested Receipes

When homemakers get together you hear different ways for canning with the result being ideas and suggestions. But here's something that is time-tested. Turn to our House hold News col'm. You'll find special preparations for canning apples, pears, peachers, plums, etc.

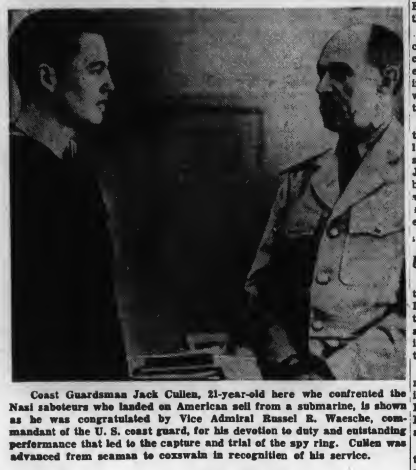
New Angle On The War

Perhaps you never looked at the war from the angle today in our Merry Go Round col'm. Why is America increasing the strength in the Pacific rather than the Atlantic? Why are the Aleutian islands so important to Japan? These questions are answered by Pearson and Allen in the col'm.

Bonds To Stop Inflation

The purchase of war bonds, thus keeping money out of circulation, will stop the threat of inflation. The purchase of bonds is safe for you and safe for the country. You'll find an interesting article in today's Washington Digest column elsewhere in this paper.

Life-Blood Of A Business



Advertising is the life-blood of a business. It may be big or small. Advertising has made small firms bigger. Failure to use it has made big firms smaller. So, big or small, business depends upon Advertising. . . . And the best medium for quick results is an ad, big or small, in the Advertiser each week.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nazi Steamroller Pushes Soviets Back In Struggle for Control of Caucasus; Government Wheat Sells for 83 Cents; Wage Pattern Set by Ruling on Steel

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Coast Guardsman Jack Cullen, 21-year-old hero who confronted the Nazi saboteurs who landed on American soil from a submarine, is shown as he was congratulated by Vice Admiral Russel R. Waesche, commandant of the U. S. coast guard, for his devotion to duty and outstanding performance that led to the capture and trial of the spy ring. Cullen was advanced from seaman to coxswain in recognition of his service.

RUSSIA:
Nazi Steamroller

Adolf Hitler had demonstrated that the long delay before he launched his monster offensive against the Soviet Union had not been wasted and that despite terrific losses his tank forces had lost none of their striking power.

For the mighty thrusts which started originally in the Kursk and Kharkov areas had steadily gained in weight and momentum, forcing their way through the Don basin. The attack developed three spearheads aimed to split the armies of Marshal Timoshenko in the Ukraine and those of Marshal Zhukov in the Moscow area. The northern objective was Voronezh on the Moscow-Rostov railway; the central thrust was aimed at Kuibyshev; and the southern had Stalingrad as its goal.

Moscow made no effort to minimize the danger of a broad breakthrough. For once holding a line from Rostov to Stalingrad, the Nazis would be in position to swing southward to Astrakhan on the Caspian sea and into the Caucasus itself, where waited their supreme prize—the fabulous oil pools of Tiflis and Baku. Moreover, such a move would pave the way for a junction by Nazi Marshal Von Bock with the armies of Japan poised on the borders of India far to the east and those of Field Marshal Rommel, on the shores of the Mediterranean.

EGYPT:
Collision of Tanks

Air-borne from Crete came Rommel's long-awaited reinforcements. Tough and battle-seasoned were they and expert at storming defenses such as the British were manning against them in Egypt's crucial El Alamein sector.

Tricky Marshal Rommel employed a battle device that had won for him on many a previous occasion—that of beginning his attack at dusk when the sun was in his opponents' eyes.

Bringing up heavy tank reinforcements, both sides battered each other in battles on which the fate of Alexandria and Suez depended.

The Nazis' immediate goal was a desert coastal ridge five miles west of El Alamein which the British had won from him days before. In the fiercely contested struggle, the RAF was actively engaged, with fighter bombers and light bombers scoring many direct hits on tanks and ranging far to the rear to harass Rommel's thinned-out supply and communication lines.

DRAFT:
'War Effort'

"Contributing to the war effort" will be an important factor in determining the draft status of married as well as single men.

In defining what constitutes "contributing to the war effort," selective service headquarters outlined 34 different types of jobs which would place a man in that category and thus delay his induction. Draft officials emphasized that the supply of single men of all classes would have to be exhausted first.

Trends were clarified in the revised policies announced by Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service. While reiterating that "bona fide family relationships will be protected as long as possible," General Hershey instructed local draft boards that when the time comes for calling men with dependents to service, those who are not contributing to the war effort should be called first. Last class to be inducted would be married men with children who are contributing to the war effort.

WAGES:
Raise for Steelmen

In a decision regarded as a yardstick for future wage disputes, the War Labor board laid down the principle that workers were entitled to a 15 per cent increase, based on higher living costs between January, 1941, and May, 1942.

The ruling was made when the board approved a daily wage increase of 44 cents for workers employed by the so-called "Little Steel" companies: Bethlehem, Republic, Inland and Youngstown Sheet and Tube. Directly affected were 157,000 men. Indirectly the decision was expected to affect more than a million workers, including 600,000 throughout the steel industry generally and 400,000 automobile plant workers.

The CIO United Steel Workers originally had asked for a $1 a day increase. The WLB voted the compromise wage increase 8 to 4, the labor members dissenting.

SURPLUS WHEAT:
To Sell at 83c

News bulletins had carried the bare announcement that the house of representatives had concurred with a senate proposal to convert government owned surplus wheat into United Nations war needs by feeding it to livestock to produce meat, milk and eggs.

But back of that announcement was the story of the breakup of a six-months' legislative log-jam, a victory for the administration's anti-inflation program and acknowledgement by the farm bloc that it must accept less than a parity rate for the sale of this grain.

Twice before the house had voted to bar the sale of surplus wheat unless it was made at the full parity price of $1.35 a bushel. Now it agreed to go along with the senate and allow the sale of 125,000,000 bushels of government-owned wheat at 85 per cent of the parity price of corn—or about 83 cents a bushel—for feeding cattle and hogs. The house also agreed that any amount of government-owned grain might be sold below parity prices for the manufacture of alcohol for rubber or munitions.

MIDWAY SAGA:
Better Than Expected

When a naval communique released the first official detailed account of the Battle of Midway, the steadily growing conviction that the United States had won a victory of major importance was confirmed.

The communique revealed for the first time that Japan had sent an armada of 80 ships to assault Midway as a prelude to the conquest of Hawaii.

Final score of the battle was 20 Jap ships sunk or damaged, including four aircraft carriers sunk and three battleships hit; 275 planes destroyed, and 4,800 men killed or drowned. American losses included the destroyer Hammann sunk, the aircraft carrier Yorktown put out of action and 307 officers and enlisted men lost.

SUBMARINES:
Menace Grows

Official acknowledgement that something drastic must be done to counteract the Axis unrelenting submarine attacks on United Nations shipping was seen in Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox's announcement that a convoy system had been set up in the Caribbean area and would be established in the Gulf of Mexico.

Coastwise convoys, however, would have to get along without the help of destroyers, it was indicated.

CHINA FRONT:
Doolittle Sequel

Ever since the attack on Tokyo by Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle and his squadron of American bombers, Japanese objectives in China have been the seizure of areas from which United States bombers might strike again.

Thus when Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's battered armies acknowledged the loss of Wenchow and Julan, seaports in southern Chekiang province, after steady withdrawals from strategic points in the Kiangsi-Fukien-Chekiang area, another air threat to Tokyo had been removed.

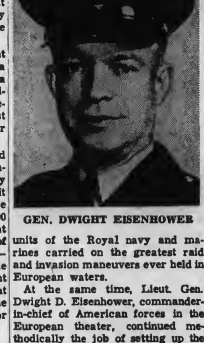
Bravely, however, a Chinese official spokesman pledged that with increasing air support from the United States, the Chinese army would intensify its counterattacks and would immobilize more Japanese troops in China than ever before.

Elaborating on China's view of the war and her role of tying up large numbers of Japanese, the spokesman said both Germany and Japan were "now making desperate bids, as they must score certain successes this summer in order to sustain a long war against the United Nations."

'FIGHTING FRENCH':
U. S. Encourages

More effective co-operation between the followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle and the governments of the United Nations was forecast as a result of several steps which coincided with the celebration of Bastille day.

First of all, the De Gaullist movement acquired a new name—"Fighting France" instead of "Free France." At the same time the French National committee became an administrative central body.



To symbolize the new relationship the United States announced the appointment of Admiral Harold R. Stark, commander of U. S. naval forces in Europe, and Brig. Gen. Charles L. Bolte, chief of staff of the army's European headquarters, as military representatives to General De Gaulle's headquarters in London.

This step did not affect United States relations with Vichy, already badly strained by Pierre Laval's refusal to accede to President Roosevelt's request that French naval vessels interned at Alexandria, Egypt, be removed from the danger of Axis capture.

SECOND FRONT:
Dress Rehearsal?

From London came two significant reports indicating that plans for the long-heralded Anglo-American second front in Europe were going steadily forward. Just when such a front would be possible, however, no military observer would hazard a guess.

Described as a "prelude to what may be major military operations on the European coast," powerful American and Canadian forces plus units of the Royal navy and marines carried on the greatest raid and invasion maneuvers ever held in European waters.

GEN. DWIGHT EISENHOWER

At the same time, Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander-in-chief of American forces in the European theater, continued methodically the job of setting up the organization that will carry on the offensive. Giving attention to land, air and supply forces, he announced that Maj. Gen. M. W. Clark would command all ground forces, Maj. Gen. Carl Spaatz would command air forces and Maj. Gen. J. C. H. Lee would be responsible for supplies.

OPA:
'Politics Out'

Price Administrator Leon Henderson has won many an enemy among professional politicians for his blunt disregard of partisan tactics. Hence his latest warning to OPA employees that any political activity would result in instant dismissal, was not calculated to gain him any new friends among the politicos. But observers believed it would step up the OPA's efficiency.

"No one in the OPA organization is going to be permitted to play politics with the war effort," Mr. Henderson said, in an administrative order reminding workers of their status under the Hatch act.

"I have said from the beginning that OPA is going to be run on non-partisan lines. I do not want anyone to have the slightest doubt about the consequences that will result from failing to comply with the law. As I have said in the past, if the Hatch act doesn't get them, the Henderson axe will."

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON & ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington, D. C.

ALEUTIANS IMPORTANT

Behind the army-navy attempts to blast the Japs out of the Aleutian islands is more than natural antipathy to having an enemy on American soil or the fear of an invasion of Alaska.

These are important. But, in addition, events in Egypt may mean that more than ever we shall have to use these vital stepping stones of the Aleutian islands to carry the war to the heart of Japan.

To get the full significance of the picture it is necessary to recall that ever since Pearl Harbor there has been an honest difference of opinion among U. S. war strategists as to whether we should concentrate on fighting Japan in the Pacific or Hitler in Europe.

At one time, shortly after Pearl Harbor, high-up U. S. naval advisers worked out an elaborate war plan, which is no longer a secret, for concentrating almost all our naval strength in the Pacific and making a direct attack on the Japanese islands—at a time when the Japs had their lines dispersed to Manila, Singapore and the South Seas.

But the plan meant leaving the Atlantic coast relatively unguarded, also virtually abandoning convoys to Britain and Russia. In the end it was decided that the Russian front was all-important and must be supplied at all costs. The wisdom of this decision seems to have been borne out by subsequent events.

Japs Worried.

However, those who urge the all-out war in Asia have persisted, and their argument has been strengthened by recent developments. One is the fact that the Japs, obviously scared at the prospect of a second front in Asia, are fighting feverishly to clean out the Chinese before China gets important help from us. Fear of a second front in Asia also was why the Japs nipped part of the Aleutian islands.

Main development, however, was the defeat at Tobruk and the serious Nazi threat to the entire Near East; for if the Near East falls, with its vital supply route opened by American railroad engineers from the Gulf of Persia to the Caucasus, then it may be absolutely imperative to open new supply lines to Russia via Alaska and Siberia.

And, even more important, the entire focus of the war, so far as the United States is concerned, may turn to the Far East; for, if Hitler secures the oil of Iran, Iraq and Mosul, it may be the wisest strategy to knock Japan out of the war first—because the Nazis will have the resources to continue for a long time.

• • •

WHAT IS AN EXPERT?

When Federal Communications Chairman Lawrence Fly appeared before the house interstate commerce commission recently, he was asked by Representative Clarence Brown of Ohio:

"What is your definition of an expert?"

"Well," replied Fly, "I once heard an expert described as any damned fool away from home."

"Do you pick your experts at the FCC on that basis?" inquired Congressman Brown.

"No," said Fly. "We generally take them from the industry, where they have proven their worth."

"I am asking these questions because of a peculiar experience I had recently," explained the Ohio congressman, and went on to tell how a congressional committee had referred him to an expert on accounting, "a young man who graduated from college in 1939 and was still a trifle wet behind the ears."

A short time later, Brown continued, he called at the War Production board on another matter and was referred to an "agricultural expert." Lo and behold, the expert proved to be the same young man.

"Following this, I again called at the WPB on a matter pertaining to metal," said Brown. "This time I was referred to an expert on copper and, believe it or not, Mr. Fly, it was the same agent.

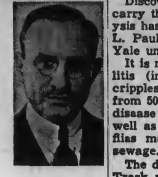
"And," Brown warned the chairman of the Federal Communications commission, "if I ever come down to your commission and find this chap, you and I are going to tangle."

• • •

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Favorite rejoinder of Senator Harry S. Truman, when a member of his war contracts investigating committee objects to his strenuous pace: "If you don't like the heat, get out of the kitchen."

Silver-thatched Representative Cliff Woodrum of Virginia faces a primary fight from Moss A. Plunkett, a militant Virginia liberal.



Mrs. Roosevelt's close friend, Congresswoman Caroline O'Day of New York, will have Democratic competition this year—Miss Martha Palmer, active worker among the Young Democrats.

Buffalo, N. Y., has joined the select list of big cities in which all the large stores have turned over their sales forces to pushing the sale of war stamps and bonds.

It costs taxpayers $3,500 a year to operate the senate's subway train that shuttles lazy senators one-block from the Senate Office building to the Capitol.

Washington Digest

U. S. Bond Purchases Are Better Than Forced Savings

Federal Taxes Unable to Cover Total of Present War Expenses; Transport Planes' Importance Growing.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Washington, which never hesitates more at offending the electorate than in election year, today is faced with doing that most offensive thing of all—taking away the people's money.

The President's anti-inflation program has not been carried out and nobody dares take the first cruel step to put it into force.

The love of money may be the root of all evil, but the presence of too much money in too many pockets has become an evil, too. The two methods of rooting out this evil are to stop the money coming into all these pockets and to take it away after it gets there. I have had an interesting glimpse into plans for the taking away process through the eyes of some of the men who have some very decided views on that subject.

My story begins in a very ornate corner of the Capitol building just off the senate floor.

Senator Z was opposite me. I always call on him when I want an idea in a couple of pungent paragraphs. He was once a newspaper man himself, and as a timid representative of a news syndicate many years ago I used to beard him in his news den.

"Senator," I said, "what are you going to do about taxes?"

Senator Z's eyes lighted up. He shifted his cigar. "Baukhage," he said and slapped my adjacent knee, "I am not going to do anything—now. When the time comes I am going to do a lot. Let me tell you something. Last January Secretary Morgenthau came and talked to some of us. He said: 'I know it's hard for you folks to vote for a big tax bill in election year. But it's got to be done. And I'll tell you what I want. I want the country to pay for the war two-thirds of the way as we go. I want you men here to make a team and agree to that. Taxes to equal two-thirds of expenditures.'

"So we agreed. But in the five months since then the expenditures have increased so that the balance has been thrown completely out. Instead of paying with taxes two-thirds of current expenses we will be lucky if we can pay one-third.

"And let me tell you this: It is a lot better to make tha taxes lower, to leava some money in the taxpayers pocket and force him to buy bonds. I'm not coming out for compulsory savings now for that would defeat itself. I am going to wait until Joe Doaks begins to realize what is happening.

"And let me tell you this!"

"When this war is over, unless the money is found the war debt is still in Joe Doak's pocket, Joe is going to lose it and the whole economic framework of the country will go to pot. Joe doesn't know that. He thinks the money in the bank is still his. It isn't. It's the bank's. Now Joe won't keep the actual money in his pocket. He'll spend it. Eventually the bank will get it if he does. But if he buys a government bond and puts that in his pocket, he will be safe. So will the country."

"Well," I asked the senator, "when are you going to do something about this, are you going to come out for compulsory savings?"

"No," he said, "but I have a plan, and when Joe Doaks realizes that Henry Morgenthau's voluntary purchase of bonds has fallen down I'll be ready."

Americans Show They Can Do It

Nobody dislikes anything compulsory more than red-blooded Americans, but when an emergency arises, if they feel it is a real, national emergency, they will do what they are told and do it willingly. Three million men did it willingly in the last war when they were told they had to go and fight. Millions are preparing to do it in this war.

Now saving is something that Americans talk about but never have done so much about. In the piping times of peace the insurance agents used to tell me that 90 per cent of the American people had no estate at all when they died and were utterly dependent when they quit work.

Working men and farmers are two of the most independent thinking classes in America today. But strangely enough, the same day that I talked with Senator X in the overstuffed chair in the senate anteroom I ran into P. F is a great friend of the oppressed. He is also a great friend of the laboring man, oppressed or otherwise.

After an exchange of greetings I said to him:

"How do you fellows expect the farmer to be willing to let farm prices be curtailed in any way when wages aren't frozen?"

"I don't," he said, "but I have a great idea. I have been working on Phil Murray about it. It is simple. Let all wage raises from now on be paid in non-negotiable war-bonds. That will stop inflation, for it will keep the money out of circulation."

Well, as I say, I'm no economist but after those two experiences I have begun to get ready to sign up right now for so many bonds a month.

• • •

Military Transport Planes For Troop Movements

"Which would you rather try to lick? One wild cat or a swarm of hornets?"

Naturally, I chose, not too willingly even for a purely mental combat, the wildcat.

"So would the Germans!" My lunch partner leaned across the frail restaurant table and pounded it until the tomato-juice cocktails leapt into tha air and frightened waiworkers looked at us apprehensively.

"You could take a million men across the English channel in ten days in small planes that could be built in six months. They would be as thick as hornets. Those planes could be built without the slightest strain on our war effort."

"That's just an example," my friend went on, "of what we could do with planes if we could get those fossils to build them. Check my figures with the Civil Bureau of Aeronautics if you want to.

"What I am really getting at is this—" my friend went on and then atopped to absorb the agitated tomato juice. Soon he was off again on a most interesting exposition concerning air-power. I tried to keep up with him.

It is hard for a layman to assay these enthusiasts. What they say is always studded with figures quoted from official records. And they usually can quote volumes to prove that people who disagree with them said the same things about Billy Mitchell's ideas all of which have been proved correct.

What my friend was getting at was this: That military transport has been woefully neglected. That only now are we beginning to build transport planes on a scale to meet the demands.

Germany has 19,000 transport planes in service. We only have five plying between China and India. But even a plane carrying 1½ tons could do the work of a hundred and fifty trucks over the Burma road.

I had just heard the surprising word from the lips of a Chinese general that even before the Burma road was destroyed, China was getting very little more in the way of supplies than she is today. Why didn't we begin plane transport then? I thought of the couplet by Pope:

Be not the first by whom the new is tried
Nor yet the last to lay the old aside.

I though we had gone a long way in transport already. Our transports or ferries are over every continent except Antarctica. The Pan American Airlines, which established a regular service across Africa, transporting its own supplies and men to equip the fields, is about to be taken over by the army.

But, according to my friend, we would have been much further along if it hadn't been for "Brass hats who think only in terms of text books that don't even contain the words 'dive-bomber,' or 'glidar' or more than passing mention of any aircraft except balloons."

I don't know—perhaps it is time "to lay the old aside."

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

American aircraft manufacturing has increased its annual production rate of warplanes almost 1,000 per cent in 25 months.

• • •

More military airplanes will be built during 1942 than were manufactured between the time the first military plane was delivered to the army in 1909 and the first of the present year.

—Buy War Bonds—

It looks now as if farmers will send to market this fall and winter 5½ to 6 million more hogs than ever before marketed in the period from October 1 through next April.

• • •

There's a new mascot at the medical department of the Orlando air base in Florida—a cat, by the name of Leukocyte Lymph Haemophylia III, or "Here, Pussy" for short.

Fly Is Paralysis Carrier

Discovary that common flies carry the virus of infantile paralysis has been made by Drs. John L. Paul and James D. Trask at Yale university medical school.

It is now evident that poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis), which cripples 10,000 persons and kills from 500 to 1,000 every year, is a disease of the intestinal tract as well as the spinal cord, and that flies may carry the virus from sewage.

The discovery of Drs. Paul and Trask makes the common house fly more than ever an enemy to health and even to life itself, especially among children.

Admirals may be admirable, but that isn't where the word comes from. It comes from an old Arabic word "amir-al" meaning "commander of." That's what the Admiral is, the top-ranking officer in the Navy. Top-ranking cigarette with our Navy men is Camel—the favorite, too, with men in the Army, Marines and Coast Guard, according to actual sales records from their service stores. Camels are their favorite gift, too. Local dealers are featuring Camel cartons to send anywhere to any member of our armed forces. Today is a good time to send "him" a carton of Camels.—Adv.

BEAT THE HEAT Soothe and cool away heat rash and hot spells—dust all over with Mexsana Heat Powder—use after your bath. Costs little.

As We Think

There is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so.

Acid Indigestion
What many Doctors do for it
When excess stomach acid causes gas, sour stomach or heartburn, doctors usually prescribe one of these medicines known for symptomatic relief—medicines like these in Bell-ans Tablets. No laxatives. If your very first trial doesn't prove Bell-ans better, return bottle to us and get double your money back, etc.

AWAY GO CORNS
Pain goes quick, corns speedily removed when you use this, soothing, cushioning Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. Try them!
Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

DEFENSE needs RUBBER
Do Your Part by Saving Your Tires

Black Leaf 40 KILLS LICE
JUST A DASH IN FEATHERS... OR SPREAD ON ROOSTS

NEW FREE GIFT
FINE Cannon FACE CLOTH IN EVERY BOX OF SILVER DUST YOU BUY
FACE CLOTH WORTH 10¢ OR MORE
SILVER DUST
I'M THE WHITE SOAP, THE RIGHT SOAP FOR LAUNDRY AND DISHES

WATCH the Specials
You can depend on the special sales the merchants of our town announce in the columns of this paper. They mean money saving to our readers. It always pays to patronize the merchants who advertise. They are not afraid of their merchandise or their prices.

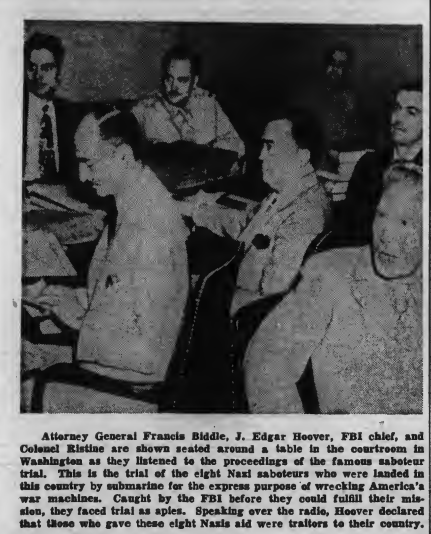
WPB Chief Testifies on Rubber

Donald M. Nelson, director of the War Production board, is shown facing the congressional subcommittee before which he testified on the rubber situation. Mr. Nelson said that we would have ample synthetic rubber for all war purposes by 1944, but added that automobile driving for pleasure would have to wait until the completion of the war.

'Flying Tiger'

James Regis of Bangor, Maine, aerial photographer with the "Flying Tigers" during that group's heroic fight in defense of Burma, shown with a souvenir he brought back from innumerable battles against the Japs. The "Tigers" are now in the U. S. air force.

Doughboys in Guatemalan Parade



United States soldiers, some afoot and some riding in jeeps, are shown as they participated in the big parade that marked the celebration of the anniversary of the 1871 revolution in Guatemala City. The United States now has bases in Guatemala, which is allied with the United Nations against the Axis powers.

Finis for Finns?

The U. S. has notified Finland that Finnish consular offices in this country must close. Above, Finnish minister Hjalmar Procope is shown as he received news of the action.

U. S. Leaders at Saboteur Trial

Attorney General Francis Biddle, J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, and Colonel Kistine are shown seated around a table in the courtroom in Washington as they listened to the proceedings of the famous saboteur trial. This is the trial of the eight Nazi saboteurs who were landed in this country by submarine for the express purpose of wrecking America's war machines. Caught by the FBI before they could fulfill their mission, they faced trial as spies. Speaking over the radio, Hoover declared that those who gave these eight Nazis aid were traitors to their country.

Norway Lend-Lease

In this soundphoto, Norway's Ambassador Wilhelm Morgenstierne and Secretary of State Cordell Hull are shown signing the lease-lend agreement between the United States and Norway. Through the terms of this agreement Norway will receive substantial aid in the maintenance of her merchant marine, which is the fourth largest in the world.

Commander in Chief Visits Atlantic Fleet

At Sea . . . Adm. Harold Stark (arrow) commander in chief of the European fleet, inspects the guard of honor on one of the ships of the Atlantic fleet.

In Libyan Action

Maj. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., senator from Massachusetts, who was in the midst of heavy action in the Libyan desert. He had accompanied U. S. armored units to Middle East.

History in the News

By Edmund Watson

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Molly Pitcher Fights Again

OUT of the ghostly land of tradition and myth, they've summoned Molly Pitcher to fight for her country again. This time she isn't serving a cannon, as she did at the Battle of Monmouth during the Revolution. But she's serving in the cause of liberty just the same—selling war savings stamps and bonds to help beat the Axis.

And it isn't just one Molly Pitcher who's doing this, either. There are 5,000,000 Molly Pitchers. Clad in colorful red, white and blue costumes, they're presiding over one of the Molly Pitcher war bond booths that have been set up in thousands of independent grocery stores all over the United States. They're volunteer women workers who are members of women's clubs, church and parent-teacher organizations, the Red Cross and the grocer's own family. They started it on July 1—three days after the 164th anniversary of the battle in which the original Molly Pitcher won immortality—and they're going to keep it up until they've helped the members of the Independent Food Distributors' council sell their share of the $1,000,000,000 worth of bonds and stamps per month, the goal which the United States treasury department has set for the nation-wide campaign through retail outlets.

Thus the name and fame of a Revolutionary war heroine will be heard again throughout the length and breadth of the nation to whose founding she contributed. Although history has preserved her fame under the name of Molly Pitcher, that wasn't her real name. She was born Mary Ludwig at Carlisle, Pa., on October 13, 1744, the daughter of John George Ludwig, who came to America from the German Palatinate.

A modern Molly Pitcher sells a war bond to a food store customer.

When Mary grew up she was employed as a servant in the family of Gen. William Irvine of Carlisle, who was destined to become a famous Revolutionary leader. There on July 24, 1769, she was married to John Hays, a barber. At the outbreak of the Revolution Hays enlisted in Proctor's First Pennsylvania artillery in the Continental line troops and when he marched away for service as a gunner, Mary marched with him, as was the custom of wives of privates in those days.

Little is known of either John Hays or his wife until the battle of Monmouth, N. J., fought on June 28, 1778. At that battle Hays' battery was stationed on rising ground between Livingston's and Varnum's brigades. It was a terrifically hot day, the mercury rising to 96 degrees in the shade. During the fighting Mary Hays discovered a little brook running back of the hill where her husband was stationed and she began carrying water to him in a pitcher. Soon she was serving other thirsty soldiers as well and there was no more welcome sound amid the roar of the cannon than the cry "Here comes Molly with her pitcher!"

As the battle grew fiercer and her trips to the brook more frequent, the call was abbreviated into "Molly Pitcher" and thus her nickname was born. Suddenly Hays fell, seriously wounded, during a charge made by the British cavalry and infantry. As no one was competent to take Gunner Hays' place, the cannon which he was serving was ordered moved to the rear.

Thereupon Molly, dropping her pitcher, seized the rammer which her husband had been using and declared that she would carry on in his place. She proved to be a good substitute and so won the admiration of the soldiers that they told their officers about her heroic conduct. As a result next morning Gen. Nathanael Greene presented her to Gen. George Washington, the commander-in-chief, who praised her gallantry and then and there made her a sergeant in the artillery.

Later she was placed on the list of half-pay officers and for many years after the Revolution she lived at the Carlisle Barracks, cooking and washing for the soldiers. Some years after the death of Hays she was married to Sergt. George McCauley or McKolly, who seems to have been a worthless sort who lived on her earnings and abused her cruelly. In 1822 the Pennsylvania legislature voted her a gift of $40 for her services in the Revolution and $80 annually for life. She died January 21, 1823, and was buried with military honors.

Household News

by Lynn Chambers

Prepare for Winter With Delicious Canned Fruit
(See Recipes Below.)

Fruit Canning

Plan now to put up those fruits from the market or your victory garden while you can still capture their garden-freshness and summer sweetness. This year's canning will require more careful planning than ever before, for waste in the fruit itself, canning jars, rubbers or sugar is highly undesirable.

Chart your plans before embarking on the canning program. Consider first how much sugar you will have available, with the five pounds per person allotment for people who are canning. Plan this amount so it will do for the jams, jellies, preserves, and sugar syrups for fruit canning.

If possible, can in the early morning hours when you are rested and your mind free from too many other thoughts. You will then be able to follow recipes more carefully, to work with more energy and spirit. The day before you will, if you are the bright and alert homemaker, have gathered together your jars, washed them, bought necessary supplies of rubbers and covers and other equipment.

Bring out the preserving kettles and pressure cookers, too. See that they are well scoured, that you have the racks, petcocks, pressure gauge, and steam-tight cover on the pressure cooker well in order.

A hot water bath is best for processing fruits because they are acid. They can safely at high temperatures, and texture, flavor and color are best. Oven canning is good also. For the hot water bath, use a large wash boiler or vessel with tight fitting cover. Fit this with a rack at least ½ inch from the bottom. Fill the rack with enough water to cover jars at least one inch over the top. Count the processing time as soon as water surrounding the jars begins to boil. There should be free circulation of water around jars.

For oven canning, set the temperature at 250 degrees. Set jars on a rack in the cold oven, however. Start counting time when the oven is switched or turned on. Do not allow the temperature ever to exceed 250 degrees as this causes liquid to boil away and evaporate.

In placing your jars in the oven, allow for free circulation of heat between them. Do not allow the jars to touch each other, as this will often cause breakage, and do not allow them to come in contact with the sides of the oven.

If liquid evaporates during the processing in the oven, do not fill the jars after you take them out. Some evaporation does not affect successful canning of the fruit.

The Sugar Question.

Fruit may be canned successfully without sugar or sugar syrup with water or fruit juice used in its place. Sugar, however, does mellow and ripen the fruit, giving it a better flavor. You might try making your fruit syrups for fruit canning less sweet than usual if you are short on sugar.

Honey may be used in place of sugar in making the sweet syrup, but the fruit will be somewhat more dark than if sugar is used and the fruit flavor will be intensified. Use honey for each cup of sugar in the substitution.

Lynn Says:

How many jars are you putting up of the fruits? Here's a guide to help you pick out jars:

Cherries: 9 baskets yield 2 pints pitted, 7 pints, if whole.

Peaches: 2¼ pounds (small basket) yields 1 quart.

Plums: 1 14-pound basket yields 25 pints.

Strawberries: 1 crate yields 26 pints, if canned whole; 31 (7½-ounce) glasses of jam.

THIS WEEK'S MENU

Smothered Steak With Onions
Green Beans Scalloped Potatoes
Tomato-Lettuce Salad
Bran Muffins
Whipped Fruit Gelatin
Beverage

White corn syrup is another acceptable substitute, but since it is less sweet than sugar, substitute 1½ cups of corn syrup for 1 cup of sugar.

Syrups to Use.

Thin syrups (No. 1) are used for small, soft fruits such as cherries and berries. Make the syrup by using three parts of water to one part of sugar.

Medium syrup (No. 2) does best by sour berries, acid fruits as cherries and rhubarb, and peaches. Boil two parts of water with one part of sugar.

Heavy syrup (No. 3) is prescribed for the large, sour fruits in which you desire extra sweetness. Measure one part water to one part sugar and bring to a boil.

Apples or Pears.
(Hot Pack)

Wash, pare, core uniform-sized apples and cut to desired sizes. (If fruit is to stand long enough to discolor, drop into water which has been slightly salted, until ready to use.) Drain from brine. Boil 3 to 5 minutes in a medium syrup and pack into clean jars, filling with syrup to ½ inch of the top. Put on cap, screw band tight, process in hot water bath 25 minutes, or in the oven (at 250 degrees) 75 minutes. If using a pressure cooker, process at 5 pounds for 10 minutes.

Apples or Pears.
(Open Kettle)

Select uniform fruit, wash, pare and core. Cut into halves or slices. Drop into boiling No. 1 syrup, and boil for 20 minutes. Pack into clean, hot, sterilized jars and seal tight.

Peaches.
(Open Kettle)

Select firm, ripe peaches. Peel or dip peaches in hot water, then in cold and slip off peel. Leave whole or cut in halves or slices. Boil 20 minutes in No. 2 or 3 syrup, and pack in clean, hot, sterilized jars. Seal tightly.

Peaches.
(Hot Pack)

Prepare as above, removing peel and pits. Precook for 3 minutes, then pack into clean jars, add syrup to within ½ inch of the top. Put on top, screw on firmly, and process in a hot water bath for 30 minutes, or in the pressure cooker for 10 minutes at 5 pounds, or in the oven (250 degrees) for 68 minutes.

Plums.
(Hot Pack)

Use the same method and time as for peaches, except do not peel the fruit, merely prick the skins.

Berries.
(Cold Pack)
(Except strawberries and cranberries)

Wash, stem and pack berries. Pack into clean jars and add No. 2 or 3 syrup. Put on cap, screw tightly. Process in hot water bath 20 minutes or in pressure cooker 8 minutes at 5 pounds or in the oven at 250 degrees for 68 minutes.

Cherries.
(Cold Pack)

Wash, stem and pit cherries, if desired. Pack into well cleaned jars, fill with No. 2 or 3 syrup depending on the sweetness desired. Put on cap and fasten tightly. Process 20 minutes in a hot water bath, 10 minutes in the pressure cooker at 5 pounds, or 68 minutes in a 250-degree oven.

If the directions for the fruit you desire to can are not given here, or if you have any query on other canning problems, write to Miss Lynn Chambers, explaining your problem to her. Address your letters to her at Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago, Illinois. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

NEW IDEAS for Home-makers

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

GIVE an old wicker chair a smart cover of gay chintz and it will be ready to start a new life. The chintz for this chair has a quaint pattern of strawberries with green leaves and the skirt with its trim box pleated corners is plain green. The cover is removable with a zipper opening down the center back and long stitches with heavy thread through the cover and the wicker are used here and there to hold it neatly in place.

The padding for the inside of the back lends both style and comfort. The cotton batting is fitted and cut on the chair. It is then used for a pattern to cut a slightly larger muslin foundation and the chintz, as shown at the upper left. These three layers are then basted and stitched together to make the puffed ridges for this part of the cover. Plain seams are used to stitch the pieces of the cover together.

• • •

NOTE: Mrs. Spears' booklet No. 1 gives complete directions for making the ottoman shown in this sketch. Also more than 30 other fascinating homemaking projects, each with working drawings. If you have never made slip covers you will want Book 1, as it shows the beginner exactly how to cut, fit and sew them. Send your order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Bedford Hills New York
Drawer 10

Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.

Name

Address

HIT THAT RHEUMATIC PAIN RIGHT WHERE IT HURTS

And look at the Silver Lining in those Clouds of Pain

The big idea is that you want to feel better. When pain eases, your mind eases. You get rest that means deliverance. So use something that gets at the pain. C-2223 brings you pain-relieving help. Now you will feel as good as others who enjoyed its help. Don't put it off. Get C-2223 now. 60c, $1 everywhere. Use only as directed. Purchase price refunded if you are not satisfied.

FOR QUICK RELIEF
CARBOIL
A Soothing ANTISEPTIC SALVE

Used by thousands with satisfactory results for 40 years—six valuable ingredients. Get Carboil at drug stores or write Spurlock-Neal Co., Nashville, Tenn.

TRY THIS IF YOU'RE NERVOUS on "certain days" of month

If functional monthly disturbances make you nervous, restless, high-strung, cranky, blue, at such times—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—famous for over 60 years—to help relieve such pain and nervous feelings of women's "difficult days."

Taken regularly—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such annoying symptoms. Follow label directions. Well worth trying!

HOUSEWIVES: ★★★
Your Waste Kitchen Fats Are Needed for Explosives
TURN 'EM IN! ★★★

When Your Back Hurts—

And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

DOAN'S PILLS

SHOPPING Tour

The best place to start your shopping tour is in your favorite easy-chair, with an open newspaper.

Make a habit of reading the advertisements in this paper every week. They can save you time, energy and money.

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER—Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1880

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Bush were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mann of Nicholson, Sunday.

Jo Ann Elliott spent last week with her aunt, Mrs. Lum McMillen of Falmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Gintner, Mrs. Gault and granddaughter, Geraldine Gault, were guests Sunday of Mr. Gintner's aunt, Mrs. Geo. P. Nicholson, Mr. Nicholson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Elliott arrived home Friday night after a very enjoyable week's trip to interesting points in Wisconsin, Michigan and Chicago, Ill. They were also guests of Mr. Elliott's brother, H. M. Carnes, and Mrs. Carnes of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ransom of Verona spent Saturday in Georgetown visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Ransom and daughter. James has accepted a government position in Louisville and will move his family in a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Fanthrop are spending a few days with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Hudson, of Verona.

Mrs. G. C. Ransom spent the weekend with her daughter, Miss Evelyn Coffman, in Richmond. Miss Coffman is attending summer school at Eastern Teachers College.

Misses Jo Ann and Donna Lee Noell, attractive young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Barnett L. Noell of Covington, are spending some time with their grandmother, Mrs. Kate Noell, and their aunt, Mrs. Lula Vest.

Mrs. Andrew Penn of Covington was visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. John E. Roberts, and family Monday. Mrs. Roberts is getting along nicely since returning from the hospital. Mr. Roberts continues to be confined to his bed most of the time with rheumatism.

B. D. Adams of near Crittenden recently sold his farm of 72 acres to J. W. Mires of Independence.

Mrs. Elmer Werks, daughter, Miss Evelyn Werks, and George Dinon of Covington were in Walton, Monday evening and had dinner at Stephens Restaurant. They were returning from Smokey Mountains, where they had been enjoying a vacation since last Thursday. Mr. Dinon is with the B. A. C. Corp., Cincinnati.

B. D. Adams of Crittenden was visiting friends in Walton, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Bess Conrad and mother, Mrs. E. B. Powers, were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Powers' son, O. K. Powers, and Mrs. Powers at Verona.

William Pope of Troy, Ohio and niece, Miss Frances Pope of Covington were guests Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Richey of North Main street. While in town they made a pleasant call at the Advertiser office.

Miss Alice McClintock of Paris arrived here Monday to spend several days with Mrs. Julia A. Rouse and Miss Georgia M. Rouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks, Charles Sparks and Nellie Sparks were Sunday guests of Mrs. J. R. Stevens and family.

Mrs. Tom Neal of Ft. Mitchell was the guest Wednesday night of Miss Masil Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Remley Williams, Jane Sutton and Oatney Worthington were calling on "Uncle Buddy" Norman at Lakeland, recently.

Miss Martha Wilson, secretary for Vest & Vest, is spending her vacation with her brother, Lieut. William Wilson, in Alexandria, La.

Katherine and Charles Sparks spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks.

Mrs. Naomi Wilhoite of Lexington spent last Friday night in Walton, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson and son Tommy.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Price had as Monday evening guests, Mrs. Bell Holt and two children.

Mrs. Katherine Sparks was calling on Mrs. Grace Baker, Saturday afternoon.

Everett Baker was calling on Lennie Moore and Lee Hoard last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Marksberry and son were calling on Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Baker and family and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sparks and family were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Benny State, Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Childers and granddaughter, Ann Lou Childers of Pikeville, are spending some time at their country home on the Dixie Highway, south of Walton, known as the "Lamb" Hopkins home place.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Thornton of High street spent the end-of-the-week with their son, Jesse William Thornton, a member of the U. S. Navy, in training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

R. E. Brugh and sisters, Misses Blanche, who has been so faithfully assisting in caring for Mrs. Brugh, during her illness, Mary and Mattie, left Tuesday evening for their home in Troutville, Va.

Misses Helen and Elaine Gardiner of Lexington are guests of Mrs. Claude Norman, and Miss Anna Marie Caldwell of Kensington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Thornton and family were in Elliston, Sunday to see Mrs. Thornton's father, W. S. Collins, who is very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace K. Grubbs attended a meeting at the Netherland Plaza, Tuesday afternoon for the Morticians of Southern Indiana, Southern Ohio, and Kentucky.

Circuit Court Clerk A. D. Yelton of Burlington was in Walton, Friday and Saturday issuing automobile drivers license.

Miss Elizabeth Lowry, Boone County Red Cross Nurse, attended a Red Cross meeting in Louisville last week.

Mrs. N. E. Nortcutt and son attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Reva Smith at Union, Sunday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Elnora Hodges.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Benson and family of Forest Hills called on Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Mann and daughter Sue, Monday.

Mrs. Joe Sizemore returned to her home in Dayton, Ohio, Saturday after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Obie Cook and son.

Miss Thelma Howe spent Sunday in Crittenden with Mrs. Mary Howe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Madden and sons of Covington were weekend guests of her mother, Mrs. Sallie Day and son.

Glenna Rose Northcutt is spending this week with her aunt, Mrs. Mary Howe of Crittenden.

Bonnie Clemons has returned home from a visit with her grandmother in Erlanger.

Miss Lula Mae Stout of Worthville is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Howard Stephenson, Mr. Stephenson and son Joe.

Paul Worthington of Sherman is the guest this week of his brother, Charles Worthington, Mrs. Worthington and daughter.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our deepest gratitude to all those who assisted in any way during the recent illness and death of our wife, daughter and sister, Mrs. R. E. Brugh. We also wish to thank the many donors of the beautiful floral tributes and those who offered the use of their cars. Especially do we wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, Dr. Francis E. Bedinger, Rev. C. J. Alford and Chambers & Grubbs for their untiring personal services.

—R. E. Brugh,
Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Forsee,
Sisters and Borthers.

SUGAR CREEK NEWS—

Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Hopkins of Petersburg visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wallick recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Turner, Mrs. T. V. Sisson and Mrs. Clara Stephenson of Covington are spending a few days at Mrs. Stephenson's home here.

Helen Miskell of Glencoe spent several days with Roberta Clifton.

Mrs. Lillie Kinman of Warsaw and Mrs. Lula Russell Lewallyen of Carrollton spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Kinman, helping to nurse their daughter, Mrs. Lillie Mae Leary, who is recovering from a recent operation, but sorry to report that Lillie Mae had to return to the hospital on Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mays were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wallick.

Mrs. Grover Clifton and son David, Mrs. Dona Clemons and George Campton spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miller and son. A nice dinner was served in honor of Ronny's birthday.

Mrs. Emma Wallick received word of the death of her sister, Mrs. Reva Smith of Union, Thursday. The community wishes to express sympathy to the bereaved relatives in their loss of a loved one.

Roberta Clifton and Helen Miskell were business visitors in Covington, Thursday.

Mrs. Stella Orsborn and Mrs. Emma Wallick were business callers in Verona, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Spencer of Cincinnati were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taylor.

Jessie Noel and sisters, Mildred and Mrs. Grace Threlkeld of Indianapolis, Ind., called on relatives here Monday.

MT. ZION NEWS—

Mrs. Louisa Hensley spent two weeks with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bennett and family of Georgetown.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Elliott and Mrs. Pearl Dunn entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Blaine and daughter Martha, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Blackburn and grandson of Dry Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gordon and son of Latonia spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gordon.

Rev. Bond of Louisville preached for us Sunday. He and his wife were entertained in the Arthur Barnes home.

A large crowd from this community attended the funeral of the little baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Burgess at Crittenden, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Burgess was Alma Belle Blackburn, formerly of this place. We extend sympathy to the family.

Mrs. Justice's sister passed away Sunday at her home in Covington. Burial was Wednesday at Highland cemetery.

Mrs. Robert Beach spent last week with her husband at Columbus, Ind. Mr. Beach is employed by the Bell Telephone Co.

Seventy-seven, both young and old, enjoyed a trip to Coney Island last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence and family had as Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Connely and Mrs. Lula Blackburn of Zion, Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Connely and daughter of Elliston.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lawrence moved back to the home of his father last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Johnson and Mrs. Vella Pettit spent Sunday afternoon at the Will Bennett home. Mr. Bennett passed away Saturday.

Mrs. Harve Ferrell and daughters visited Mrs. Works at Morning View, Thursday and spent the remainder of the week with her sons in Covington.

The W. M. S. held its regular meeting at the church, Thursday.

SOUTH FORK NEWS—

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rider and Mrs. Katie Densler and daughter were Sunday guests of Mrs. Alice Densler and son. An afternoon caller was Mrs. Eva Stahl.

Misses Geraldine Webster and Martha Lee Noell spent Saturday with Mrs. Helen Densler.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon called on Albert and Elza Densler, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler were callers in Crittenden, Monday.

The many friends of Dr. J. W. Shupert are pleased to know he has returned home from the hospital and doing nicely.

Miss Victoria Rider spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Helen Dean.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler had as their Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Rider and son Jimmie, Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Noell and children and Geraldine Webster.

Mrs. Sue Rider and son called on Mrs. Laura Lamb and daughter, Friday afternoon.

CONCORD NEWS—

"Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God."-Matt. 5:8

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hughes entertained their son, B. V. Hughes and wife, their daughter, Virginia and husband of Indianapolis, last week. They visited relatives at Williamstown also.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Robinson are entertaining their grandson from Ludlow, while his mother is in the hospital.

Mrs. John Boyer and children spent Saturday night with her parents at Worthville. He went down Sunday and all went to a reunion at his father's. Her father is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubble Hughes and daughter of Indiana were the Sunday guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hughes. Their daughter remained for the revival.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chapman and Mrs. John Kennedy were shopping in Covington, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Chapman of Cincinnati were calling at Ross Chapman's Sunday afternoon.

The revival is going on at Concord. Everyone attend that can.

VERONA NEWS—

Sympathy is extended to the relatives of Miss Irene Hudson. The Christian world has lost an earnest worker—but our loss is her gain.

Revival services will begin on Aug. 10 at the Baptist church, at which time Dr. C. B. Jackson of Texas, who left here in 1923, will deliver the sermons and conduct the Daily Vacation Bible school.

In a letter to Mrs. J. C. Kannady from her son, Joe, we learn that he is on Angel Island. His address is: Pvt. Joe Kannady, U. S. Army, APO 2028, San Francisco, Calif., Serial No. 35454609.

The W. M. S. met at Mrs. A. C. Roberts' for their July meeting, with 12 members and visitors in attendance. An interesting program was presented, with Mrs. J. J. Myers as leader.

Mrs. John Boyers and children spent Saturday night with her father who is ill. On Sunday they joined her husband, going to Campbellsburg for a family reunion at her mother's.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Roberts are entertaining their granddaughters Janice, Rita and Betty Joe this week.

BEAVER LICK NEWS—

Pvt. Joseph Besterman, Jr. and Pvt. Marshall Glore, who were inducted into the army last week, spent Sunday with their parents here.

Mrs. Jack Moore of Florida is enjoying a visit here with her sister, Mrs. Howe Cleek and other relatives.

Mrs. Fannie Howard spent last week in Louisville, where she visited her nephew, Wesley Brown, and wife.

Mrs. John Lewis Fagan and children spent Saturday evening with Mrs. Anna Belle Stevenson and children.

Mrs. Mollie Cleek of Walton, Mrs. Clint Blankenbeker and Mrs Emma Cleek of Florence visited Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCabe several days last week.

Jackie, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson, suffered a broken arm while at play last week and it was necessary to take him to thehospital for a few days. He is at his home now and doing very nicely.

Rev.S. B. Godbey announces that a revival will be held at the Hughes Chapel church beginning Aug. 3. Rev. G. B. Traynor, formerly of Walton, will do the preaching.

JONESVILLE NEWS—

A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold.—Prov. 22:1.

The two weeks Vacation Bible School came to a close Friday. The children were all taken on a picnic Friday afternoon and commencement exercises were held that night. There was a total enrollment of 59. A youth's revival was also held last week in connection with the Bible School, with Rev. C. B. Love doing the preaching. The following officers and leaders filled their places faithfully during our school: Charles L. Satterwhite, supt.; Rev. C. B. Love, principal; Mabel Kemper, general secretary; Gladys Cotton, handwork instructor; Kathryn Satterwhite and Mattie Stewart, leaders of Beginners; Evelyn Greene, Primary leader; Pearl King, Junior leader; Jean Love and Eva Poe, Intermediate leaders; Carolyn Cotton, pianist.

"Uncle Jack" Noel died suddenly Friday afternoon while cutting weeds in his garden. When his son, Paul, came and could not find him at the house, he began looking and calling for him, and found him in the garden, where he had been dead, it is thought, for less than an hour. A few hrs. before that Paul had been talking with him and he seemed all right. However, he had been in failing health for some time and was 78 years old. Besides the son, he leaves two granddaughters, Jo Ann and Mary L. Noel. Funeral services were held at the Baptist Church, Sunday morning, where he was a member, by the pastor, Rec. C. B. Love. Burial was in the I. O. O. F. cemetery, by Watson & Orr.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cannon and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson of Covington spent the weekend with relatives here.

(Delayed from Last Week)

Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong Let all that ye do be done in love. —I Cor. 16:13-14.

Rev. C. B. Love filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church last weekend. Communion services were held Sunday night.

Our Vacation Bible School is in progress, with an enrollment of 47. A youth's revival, conducted by Rev. Love, is being held this week in connection with the D. V. B. S.

Miss Helen Hutchinson of Dry Ridge visited Miss Carolyn Cotton last Monday night.

Grover Rennacker of Covington spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Kline King, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Caldwell and son Archie, and Mr. and Mrs. Mav Caldwell spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hollie Brock and family of near Corinth.

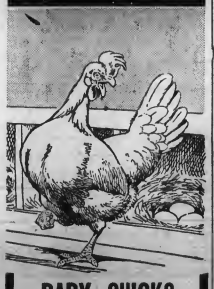
Mrs. J. W. Smith of Detroit, Mich. and Mrs. K. H. Smith and family of Pleasant Home recently spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Cotton and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Kemper and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Skirvin and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Furnish and daghter. This was the first time that Mrs. Kemper has been able to be out for nearly a year.

Several from here attended the Associational B. T. U. mass meeting held at the Vine Run Church last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Furnish and son Hubert of Poplar Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. Furnish and daughter.

Mrs. Lucinda Jump is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jep Cammack.



Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Minch and son spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Leschal Wright and son of South Fork.

Mrs. Nannie Cammack and Miss Geneva Skirvin spent last week with Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Day of Covington. They were accompanied home Friday night by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Steger.

Relatives and friends here are sorry to hear of the critical illness of Dr. J. W. Shupert of Warsaw.

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE .
DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?
Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes. Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.
LANG'S CAFETERIA
623-625 Madison Avenue
COVINGTON KENTUCKY

KEEP YOUR EYES "ON THE ALERT"
Have your eyes checked—it's your patriotic duty to keep them in perfect condition. Let us examine your eyes at once.
L. J. METZGER
Optometrist Optician
631 Madison Ave.
Covington
Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

GET THOSE EGGS
economically, with Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS
DR. SALSBURY POULTRY REMEDIES
Poultry & Dairy Feed
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

To Relieve Misery of COLDS take 666
LIQUID, TABLETS, SALVE, NOSE DROPS

SPARKLING BEAUTY LUSTROUS COLORS
Become inviting characteristics of every home after it has been painted with
BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT
The paint that makes homes alive with interest and inspires comments of "How Beautiful" or "Isn't This Attractive." REMEMBER It's Cheaper to Paint than to Repair — Use BOEHMER'S WEARMORE PAINT for beauty, durability and covering capacity.
There's a Wearmore Paint Dealer Near You,
Where you can buy Boehmer's Paint at Boehmer's Prices.
THE A. L. BOEHMER PAINT CO.
114 Pike St., Covington Phone: COl. 0212

EYE AID
A WARNING!
Because they have no pain, many persons never suspect they are subject to eyestrain. This is a harmful situation. Eyestrain is a constant drain on the nervous system, and may cause headaches, lassitude, etc. If neglected, it may work serious injury.
Let us carefully examine your eyes and furnish proper glasses, if needed. Relief from eyestrain will make you feel like an entirely different person.
Frank Rizzi

J. L. HAMILTON & SON
FUNERAL SERVICE
VERONA -:- KENTUCKY

When In Covington.
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
—24-Hr. Wrecker Service—
Cars Washed - Storage

GLIDERS
and
GLIDER CUSHIONS
BEAUTIFUL as well as COMFORTABLE
ALSO A COMPLETE LINE OF
Awnings, Hammocks, Porch and Lawn Furniture.
Covington Awning & Roofing Co.
3rd & SCOTT STS., COVINGTON Hiland 1735

Now You Can Have
INSURED SAFETY
and get a liberal return on your savings!
Complete information with no obligation
FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1343

FLORENCE NEWS—

Corp. George R. Louden, who is stationed at Camp Shelby, Miss., spent a few days the past week with his sister, Mrs. T. H. Webster of Kenta-boo.

Miss Jean Taylor was visiting her aunt of Union the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Martin and family have returned home from Virginia after visiting his relatives there.

C. S. Acra was home one day last week on business.

Mrs. Mary Humphrey and Miss Dorothy McHenry have returned home from Richmond, where they were attending Teachers' college.

Mrs. Helen Byrne and daughter Janet spent one day the past week in Cincinnati, shopping.

Tom Osborne is very ill at his residence, at this time.

Cecil G. Rouse of Cincinnati is enjoying a few weeks vacation with his uncle, Albert Rouse, and family.

Ed Bentham, who has a nice position in Boston, spent the week end with his family, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Tanner.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Murphy and daughter have returned home from a visit with his parents in West Virginia.

John Powell Crouch spent the weekend with Chas. Beall.

Mrs. Winchester was shopping in Cincinnati, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kensey and Mrs. Anna Clore were shopping in Covington, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Beemon and family spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dringenberg.

Mrs. Gordon McGuire and son are spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Easton.

Mrs. Walter May of Chicago spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wayman.

Mrs. Hattie Mae Stone (nee Bradford) of Danville enjoyed a visit with her mother, Mrs. Anna Bradford and Mrs. Chas. Bradford and daughters on Wednesday.

Mrs. Bertha Bowers of the Dixie Highway left Friday for Lexington to spend a week with friends.

Mrs. Fannie Utz was a dinner guest Wednesday of Mrs. Clara Sorrell and mother of Limaburg. In the afternoon they all visited Mrs. E. O. Rouse, who is confined to her bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barlow spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burris and son Eugene of near Burlington.

Mrs. L. L. Stephens spent last Thursday in Cincinnati, shopping.

Mrs. R. L. Day has returned home from a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Whitaker and family of Francisville.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Martin visited Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Aylor, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert England spent Thursday evening with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. England of Hebron.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Beemon spent Sunday with Mrs. Fannie Utz.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Craddock and family of Hebron visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stephens last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burris and son Eugene were dinner guests last Sunday of Mrs. Burris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Snyder and granddaughter.

Mrs. Emma Cleek has returned home from a week's visit with her brother, N. Clemons and Mr. and Mrs. McCabe of Beaver.

Mrs. Lottie Richards spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Newman.

Wilford Aylor and family of Aurora, Ind., spent several days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Aylor of Florence. Wilford Aylor was taken to Dr. Howard Kirtley in Covington for a sprained back. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster and sons of Crescent Springs have moved into the Grant property on Shelby Street.

Miss Lula Sine was called to the bedside of her aunt who is very ill at her home at Alexandria, the past week.

Mrs. Mary Humphrey spent Saturday with Miss Dorothy McHenry.

Mrs. Harold Conner enjoyed a visit the past week with her sister at Lexington.

Mrs. Frank Maddox of Devon spent Friday evening with Mrs. Minnie Clore and Mrs. Hattie Creel.

STEPHENSON MILL ROAD

"A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold."—Proverbs 22:1.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Stephenson and sons had as dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Conrad and family of Latonia, Mr. and Mrs. Lebus Stephenson of Verona Road and Mrs. Mary Sexton.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Flynn and son called on Mrs. Flynn's aunt, Mrs. Stone at Walton, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington had as guests Sunday afternoon, Miss Jean Bankemper of Bond Hill, Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pennington and family of Norwood, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Pennington and son of Alexandria.

The people of this community were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Robert Brugh. She will be greatly missed by her former students.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dixon of Cincinnati were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McLoney.

Miss Lucy Pennington is spending this week with Miss Virgie Pennington of Norwood, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McLoney were visitors in Covington, Saturday.

Stanley Allen joined the U. S. Marines last week. He left Friday morning for Paris Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pennington and son of Alexandria and John Greenlee were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Trapp and son, on Sunday.

HEBRON NEWS—

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Dickey spent Tuesday with his parents at Corinth. Misses Mary and Cora Mae Dickey returned home with them after several weeks visit here.

The Lutheran Sunday School will have their annual picnic Sunday, July 26 on the church grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Garnett, Mrs. Hallie Herbstreit and son Donald attended the wedding of Miss Mary Katherine Hafer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Hafer of Greenbriar Ave., Ft. Mitchell, to Mr. Robert Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cook of Sturgeon, Ky., Thursday evening at 8 o'clock

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Hempfling and daughters of Taylorsport were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Conner.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Dickey spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Easly of Latonia.

Mrs. E. I. Rouse, who has been ill the past few weeks, is improving.

SPARTA NEWS—

Last rites were held Wednesday at Sparta Christian Church for Mrs. Lummie McHatton, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dall Foree, Monday. Mrs. McHatton was born Jan. 20, 1852, and had passed the 90th milestone down the lane of life. She spent the greater part of her life in Owen county. The eldest daughter of Grand and Mariam J. Bond, prominent early pioneer scions of Owen county, "Aunt Lummie," as she was familiarly called by her friends, was a woman of high ideals, endowed with rare native ability. She possessed an unusual amount of wit and humor. She was a charter member of the Sparta Christian church from which the funeral was conducted by Rev. W. J. Clarks, a nephew, Wednesday at 10 a. m. A large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives were present to pay the last tribute of respect to one who had lived among them for more than 90 years. The deceased, early in young womanhood, was united in marriage to Robert McHatton, who preceded her to the grave many years ago. To this union was born one daughter, Mrs. Doll Foree of Gallatin County, with whom she made her home the past few years. Besides her daughter, she leaves to mourn the loss a granddaughter, Mrs. Roberta Rea, five grandchildren, a number of nieces and nephews and one sister-in-law, Mrs. H. Winn of Sparta. The remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground in the Bond cemetery. The sympathy of the entire community is extended the family by a host of friends.

Last Saturday night, July 11th the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilson of Sparta was the scene of a farewell party, given in honor of Mr. Beverly Jouett, the husband of Velma Wilson Jouett, who left for service in the U. S. Army, Tuesday, July 14th.

The guests included the immediate families of the Wilson sons and daughters and the close friends of the young couple. The lovely home was very tastefully decorated with dozens of American flags and the color scheme of the buffet supper table was carried out in red, white and blue. A huge bouquet of graceful gladiolus in red, white and blue was the centerpiece, and small flags were interlaced between the many plates of appetizing food. Platters of fried chicken, baked country ham, assorted sandwiches, salads, baked beans, olives, pickles, crackers, frozen salads, and tall, sparkling glasses of cold beverages and the guests enjoyed this delightful repast at occasional tables scattered throughout the spacious rooms of the Wilson home. During the evening Private Robt. Wilson called over long distance from Randolph Field, Tex., to talk to his home folk and helped make complete, a perfectly enjoyable evening.

The many friends of Velma and Beverly were saddened at his early departure, but proud too, to know that he felt the worthy cause for his enlistment into Uncle Sam's Army. These friends left this gathering wishing Beverly "Good luck" and "God speed."

'42 HOG PRODUCTION GOAL

The Nation's farmers have been asked to produce 83 million hogs for slaughter in 1942. This goal was set by the Secretary of Agriculture to make certain we meet the requirements of our armed forces and the needs of our Allies, and also that there will be enough hog products to supply our own increasng domestic needs.

Looking Ahead

Prospects are that there should be no difficulty experienced to reaching the 1942 production goals. In this respect, hog marketings and slaughter this year will include some pigs from the 1941 spring crop, practically all of the 1941 fall crop and part of the 1942 crop. Commercial slaughter in the first three months of 1942 (mainly from the 1941 spring crop) was about as large as was expected. And indications as to the final outcome of the 1941 fall and 1942 spring crops appear favorable.

Though further advances in hog prices will be limited by the ceiling prices established by the Office of Price Administration, the outlook for hog production continues favorable. With Lend-Lease purchases of pork and lard expected to continue large thruout the fall and winter, with continued strong civilian demand for meats, and with increasing requirements of our armed forces, strong support for hog prices during the period of heavy marketing is in prospect.

Feed prices may advance somewhat relative to hog prices during the next few months but the hog-corn price ratio is now much above average and it is expected to continue favorable for hog producers. The April ratio was the most favorable for feeding corn to hogs since the fall of 1938 when the average price for hogs at Chicago was $7.75 a hundredweight and corn sold at 45 cents a bushel.

Transportation, slaughtering and processing facilities will be severely taxed for a few weeks during the peak of the hog marketings next winter. Various factors, however, including the expectation that Lend-Lease purchases will continue large, indicate a fairly stable level of hog prices during the period. Therefore, with no marked changes in hog prices likely, farmers should be able to adjust their feeding and other operations so as to spread their marketings of spring pigs over a longer period.

The Department cannot emphasize too strongly that meats and fats are major food needs of our armed forces, and of our civilian workers. Therefore, a tremendous contribution that farmers can make is to produce more hogs and to market them at heavier weights. And for those who make such contribution, the indications are that prices will continue to be favorable.

NICHOLSON NEWS—

"The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth His handiwork."

The hand which made the mighty heavens, made a grain of sand, which made lofty mountains, also made a drop of water, which made strong oaks, made the tender grass of the field. Think of these things.

Eternal night is at the end of a godless life, but as man's redemption runs like a scarlet thread throughout the pages of the Bible and Christ stands ready to save all who will come unto Him, it is a privelege of choice to accept or reject His proffered mercy.

The life of Jesus cn earth was one long ministry to others, and His life is an example to all who would follow Him. "If any man have not the Spirit of Christ he is none of His."

Deep appreciation is expressed for the lovely little service from the car of Rev. James H. Talley Thursday afternoon on which were affixed amplifiers, bringing inspiring message of Rev. Carnes clear and plain to our window. He is guest speaker in a series of evangelistic meetings at the Walton Methodist Church, efficiently aiding the beloved pastor, Rev. James Talley, in quest of lost souls.

These loyal men of God honored us with a brief call, and the devotional period was a blessing to our hearts. May God's richest blessing rest ever upon them, giving them many trophies to lay at the feet of the Master, winning His welcome plaudid, "Well done."

Most heartily do we thank Mrs. Lottie Powers for a box of luscious plums, and a lovely plate lunch kindly delivered by Bro. Talley.

Mrs. Bessie Trapp, Mrs. J. L. Pickett and Mrs. C. O. Morgan and little daughters were recent callers of Mrs. John Hume.

Mrs. E. B. Rankin and Mrs. Nell Rankin White are enjoying these warm summer days in the delightfully cool climate of Michigan, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Congdon.

Extension of the bus line to Piner is a boon to the citizens throughout that section.

Mrs. Vincent ... Stephenson called on relatives last week.

Mrs. Trapp, Mrs. Pickett, Mrs. McClure and Miss Dotty Settle were Tuesday guests of relatives Deeply appreciated were their lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Darrell recently moved to their new home. That many bright days of happiness and prosperity be theirs is the united wish of their host of friends.

James E. Gray and Thomas McClure have been called to the colors and left for Ft. Thomas on Saturday.

Prior to his induction James E. Gray was the guest of honor at an elegant luncheon given by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Richardson.

Have You Paid Your Subscription

Don't Let HIGH PRICES UNPLEASANT TASTE INCONVENIENCE

Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.

You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take

ONE A DAY

Pleasant-tasting · Convenient Economical

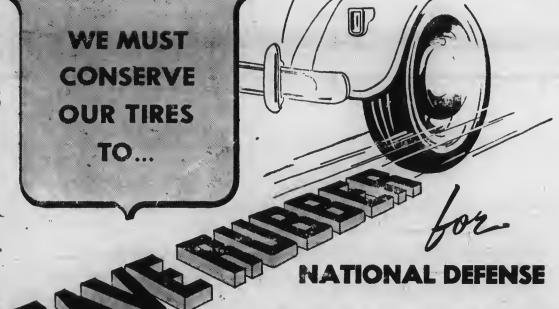
Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.



There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria

Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN GARLIC Tablets. Come in FREE and get a FREE trial package

Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

Like all other businesses, we are complying with the Office of Defense Transportation's order to reduce tire mileage 25% as compared to last year. This means fewer trips for our cars and trucks, so if we are unable to answer service calls or make deliveries quite as promptly as in the past, please remember that it is due to circumstances imposed by wartime conditions. Every ounce of rubber we can save is that much more for our armed forces.

How You Can Help Us Reduce Car Mileage and Still Maintain a High Standard of Service

1 Learn to replace blown fuses yourself. It's easy as changing a light bulb. Ask any of our employees to show you how. Keep extra fuses on hand.

2 Please do not ask for delivery of small items such as light bulbs or appliance cords. Buy them when shopping for other things and carry them home with you.

3 Give us as much advance notice as possible if you decide to move so your call may be grouped with others and taken care of on a single trip.

4 Arrange to pay for service by check or in person at our office before expiration of payment period and save tire wear caused by special collection trips.

5 Avoid requesting "rush" service. You can help us conserve rubber by making it possible for us to handle your service calls and deliveries on regular trips.

Prompt and courteous service to our customers has always been a policy of this company and we look forward to the day when we can again make deliveries and service calls without restrictions. In the meantime, we know you understand the reason for this message and will be glad to cooperate. We'll give you the best service possible under present conditions and will sincerely appreciate your help. With a little advance planning, you will be occasioned little or no inconvenience.

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

INCORPORATED

Buy U. S. War Bonds and Stamps

Kentucky Needs Every Dollar of Taxes from its Legal Industries!

War is costly, and you, as an individual, may be called upon to make up the deficit in tax revenue the Commonwealth will suffer this year. Most sources of revenue are shrinking. But one, the legal industry of brewing, will pay into our treasury more than it paid last year! Here are the figures for the past five years:

Fiscal Year	Amount
1937-38 . . .	$1,113,952
1938-39 . . .	1,071,769
1939-40 . . .	1,059,962
1940-41 . . .	1,234,164
1941-42 (estimated)	1,300,000

Think what these taxes mean to Kentucky today—with other sources of revenue drying up.

To preserve the important benefits of legal beer to Kentucky, the brewing industry is cooperating with State and local law-enforcement officers to maintain wholesome conditions wherever beer is sold.

During the past two years, 36 retail beer licenses have been revoked for law violations; 10 have been suspended; 4 places have been padlocked; and 1 put on probation—all on our recommendation. With your cooperation, the remaining few undesirable beer outlets can be cleaned up or closed up—without eliminating the great majority of respectable, law-abiding beer retailers.

BREWING INDUSTRY FOUNDATION KENTUCKY COMMITTEE

FRANK E. DAUGHERTY, State Director 1182 Starks Bldg., Louisville, Ky.

21 YEARS WELDING SERVICE TO NORTHERN KENTUCKY

R. MICHELS WELDING CO.

722 Washington St., Covington

CO 0670

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .

W. E. TAIT, O.D.

OPTOMETRIST

OPTICIAN

27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.

Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

For appointment phone—

HE. 2088

DEAD STOCK REMOVED

SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS

CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887

REVERSE PHONE CHARGE

Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.

LOCKLAND —:— OHIO

WAYNE GROWING MASH

COLONIAL COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY

PHONE DIXIE 7626

Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.

BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING

"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

BOMBS BURST ONCE

By GRANVILLE CHURCH

W.N.U. SERVICE

THE STORY SO FAR: Jeff Curtis and his wife, Lee, are on their way to Tierra Libre when Jeff receives a note from Zora Mitchell warning them not to come. Jeff is to be chief engineer for a newly organized fruit company. They arrive in Tierra Libre to find both Zora Mitchell and her husband dead, and Jeff suspects they were murdered. He learns from Jerry McInnis, a former associate who works for a rival fruit company, that there is something strange going on and that Mitchell and Zora were killed because they knew too much. A conversation with his employer, Senor Montaya, confirms Jeff's suspicions. Montaya shows him pictures of Zora's body. Her fingers, holding a German gun, are not tightly clasped, as they would be if she had pulled the trigger herself.

NOW CONTINUE WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V

On his way home to lunch Jeff's step was springy as a boy's. As he let the gate slam behind him, Buddy and Chuck jumped from ambush behind the hedge. This brought about a free-for-all on the lawn until the resultant hedlam made Lee, watching from the screened living room-veranda, put fingers to her ears.

"Hey, Man-mountain!" she called to Curt. "You're worse than the boys. You know better, they don't. We have neighbors, remember."

Curt snatched up the youngsters to march inside.

"Lunch ready? I'm starved."

"Yes, but you!" she eyed him sorrowfully. "Look at you. Your only fresh whites! You look like a street cleaner on a rainy day."

Curt chuckled and pulled her to him.

"Well, you didn't marry a glamour boy. Anyway, I won't need these again for a while. I'm making the first round this afternoon, so get out my boots and field clothes. And pack my old musette bag for overnight. Won't be back till sometime tomorrow."

During lunch Curt was full of the job ahead of him, but the meal was nearly over before he realized Lee hadn't been listening with the proper enthusiasm. That pucker had returned to her forehead and it brought back a string of questions to his own mind. He paused to give her a chance.

"About Zora Mitchell, Jeff," she began.

"Yes." Curt set down his glass of iced tea, carefully. "I saw photographic evidence this morning. They took pictures when they found her. I reckon it's pretty conclusive." He tried to speak lightly.

She was silent a moment.

"But her child, so little and all alone. I kept thinking all morning what if it were Buz—" Lee bit her lip. "Don't you think, Jeff, we could take her until arrangements are made to send her north?"

"A swell idea, Lee! I should've thought of it myself. They're looking after her at the hospital nursery. I'll speak to Montaya this afternoon."

Curt reached the San Alejo station before Montaya, equipped for the field on this first tour of the C. A. T. tract. His khaki breecbes, though just unfoided from his trunk, bore stains no soap could ever remove. His hattered Stetson was faded and spotted from sun and rain.

A .45 hung loosely at his side, as integral a part of his outfit as the scarred hoots. A hulging musette bag that bad seen much service and a pair of field glasses were slung over his shoulder.

First sight of Montaya swinging down the path to the station brought a chuckle to Curt's lips. Lee's epithet, "The Dark Lily," popped into mind—and settled there for good.

He kept his promise to Lee, raising the subject of the Mitchell child before they set out.

Montaya knit his brows, selected one of his long Turkish cigarettes, fished a lighter from his pocket.

"Your former acquaintance with the Mitchells," he finally said, "is no reason for you to feel responsibility toward the child."

"We're not making the suggestion out of duty," Curt replied, a bit shortly.

Montaya studied the ash forming on the end of his cigarette. Why so much deliberation, Curt wondered, over so simple a matter? He frowned. At length Montaya spoke.

"I have been unable yet to locate the relatives. According to the records there are only two—sisters of Mrs. Mitchell, and they—ah, travel in theatrical work. It will take time to make arrangements. If Mrs. Curtis will be so kind, then. The child is not happy at the nursery."

As they rolled down the mountainside Curt had a better view of the airfield than from the unexpected glimpse of it the day before.

Again today Curt noted the length of the field, but at once realized a very runway was necessary for heavily loaded planes. His eyes traveling down the wide strip caught a glimpse, but hardly more than that, of what seemed to be a duplicate set of buildings at the far end. They were shaded by the big copse of trees left standing there, but at that end of the field the grass was grown, there was no runway. Evidently these buildings were not in use—at least as hangars.

However, along the barely visible front of the buildings ran a platform breast high, and serving this platform was a spur track leading from the airfield branch. Curt would have missed the platform if the track hadn't suggested it.

"A bodega?" he asked, and before realizing the impertinence ha was offering, "Funny place for it."

But Montaya was not offended. He gave a short, deprecative laugh.

"My reason for locating them where I did was to take advantage of those trees for the comfort of the men. It is so very hot on the field. A good idea, no?"

Curt thought he detected a sardonic overtone and waited for the other to go on.

"Then arrived my aviators. They showed me that the wind is had for that location. And the wind here never varies much. So," Montaya spread his hands, "there was no steering. "I built new hangars at the upper end of the field, the site they selected."

"And the old huildings?"

"I will tear them down when I need the materials. Meanwhile, they serve as a bodega. I have some choice stocks of rosewood and hard mahogany curing there. And cirueliillo. Also much pipe and pump machinery which I was able to pick up very cheaply in bankrupt sales. Ona must save where one can. For the overbead irrigation system we install later. I shall send you the inventory for your perusal."

Twice on the run Curt stopped Montaya to inspect the work of hallasting in progress. On the second stop, where a crew was cribbing a section of the roadbed and installing a culvert, he found the engineer in charge was a man he'd known previously in Tierra Lihre.

Bill Henderson was a lanky, happy-go-lucky individual, with a mop of sandy hair burnt hy tropic sun. His skin was like leather, his eyes

"Uh, no, Curt, I cut up a bit one night."

so straight and pale that they made him seem to stare. But for all his rough exterior, he had a sheepish air in greeting Curt.

"Hiya, fella." Henderson grinned amiably, it might have been only yesterday they last met. "Heard you were coming."

"So, Bill, you finally hroke away from Associated. You threatened to often enough."

"Well, uh, guess it was the other way around, Curt. They broke loose from me."

"How come?"

"Oh, reckon I went on one too many benders."

"What! Have they gone Sunday School on us over there?"

"Uh, no, Curt, I cut up a bit one night."

"Oh."

Curt surveyed the other. Under Henderson's open shirt were spots and hlotches of dull red forming a solid hlemish of the skin, ending jaggedly at the collarbone. Curt remembered that Henderson had always been too lazy to treat this skin fungus.

But there was something decidedly peculiar in Henderson's manner, in his careful words. The man didn't have to be on good behavior with Curt. He'd never been so restrained in the old days. Perbaps Montaya's silent presence threw a damper on the meeting. Curt commenced to stuff his pipe absently.

"Didn't get in any serious trouble, did you?"

"No." Henderson grinned feebly. "But they kinda thought a change of scenery might do me some good."

"So you crossed the river! Should've gone home. How you doing now?"

"Oh, I've been off the stuff for some time."

"Shake on that, Bill." Nothing wrong with his grip, thought Curt, wincing. "Tell you what, when you feel the urge again, look me up before you start in. I'll see you don't go too far. Anyway, we'll have to have a get-together soon for old time's sake. Come up to San Alejo. Lee will be glad to see you again."

"Sure, Curt, thanks."

Inspecting the job in band, questioning the capacity of that size culvert, passing a few more words, took twenty minutes. Montaya took little or no part in the talk. Once Curt noticed the senor looking attentively from bim to Bill Henderson, but gave it no thought.

On their way again Curt said, "Darn good worker, Bill Henderson. Only fault is he never could leave liquor alone. He can usually handle it, but it does him out of a future."

Montaya shrugged noncommittally.

They reached Tempujo hy mid-afternoon. From here they'd take a power launch up the river to the main levee camp. First, however, Montaya led the way down the ridged asphalt footpath to the Tempujo engineering office.

Half of this building, all ona side of it, was a single large room with almost continuous windows in three walls. Here was drafting equipment, engineering instruments.

An intelligent-looking native, at present tracing maps, was in charge of the office. Lauriano Duro bowed stiffly when introduced, then went on with his work.

While Montaya selected a couple of maps to take along on their trip upriver, he explained, "We maintain a duplicate set of our important drawings here, Mr. Curtis. This serves two purposes, convenience and insurance against fire."

Curt nodded approvingly.

The other half of the building was further divided. A screened porch in front was combination livingroom and outer office. In back of this was a small bedroom. Through an open door on the other side of the bedroom Curt could see a shower cubicle.

"This you will find most convenient when your work holds you at this end of the planting," Montaya remarked. "You use the messhall for meals."

Curt grinned. "Good enough!" They had thought of everything here.

The old Tempujo radio shack at the river dock now housed the dispatcher and his small switchhoard that served Tempujo. Here ended the two telephone lines from San Alejo, one used by the dispatcher, one for general utility. They still maintained the radio, too, against emergency. Montaya entered this office to talk with San Alejo before leaving for the levee camp. Curt strode about outside.

The dock hoist was lifting a huge case from the deck of a river steamer. It was one of the crated airplane wings Curt had seen in the wharf shed at Cabeza.

Rising up over the edge of the wharf, it loomed even bigger than Curt had thought, bigger than necessary for the plane he'd seen on the ground at the airfield that afternoon. Then he remembered there were two planes in use here. But both were alike, Montaya had mentioned, as a matter of economy in servicing and replacing parts. Well, boxing increases size, Curt reasoned.

Senor Montaya joined him as Curt was nodding his satisfaction. Answering the raised brows, Curt said, "Good idea, spares. I hope you're as generous with the Engineering Department."

Montaya showed his excellent teeth. Ha didn't mind praise. "You will have no cause to complain, Mr. Curtis."

Tha Negro rolled swift, even at this season, obliging the launch to fight its way upstream. When they reached the ever-moving camp of the levae gang it was too late to go out on the job that night. After a wasb-up, Montaya and Curt husied themselves with maps and progress reports in the office tent, until the fast-obliterating darkness drove the construction gang into camp.

Again Curt found an old friend among these workers.

"Slats!" he called to the bulky man pushing his feet wearily down the camp road. "I'll be damned!"

"Hello, Curt! Glad you're on the job. It'll seem like old times again."

"Has all the old guard left Associated, Slats?"

"No. We've got a number over here, but I reckon you won't know many of 'em. Myself and Bill Henderson—"

"Yeh, met him."

"—and Steve Harvey, and Lawson . . . well, only us, I guess, from the old days."

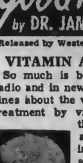
Slats, naked to the waist, his dirty shirt slung across his shoulder, a filthy hat pushed back until sweat-soaked hair escaped in a tangle, showed strong teeth as he smiled, teeth yellow with tobacco stains. But for all the friendliness of the grin, be seemed uneasy.

Montaya stood naarby. Again Curt caught a thoughtful look in tha Spaniard's eyes. Or was it speculative? At any rate, the look vanished as Montaya said, "Mr. Harvey and Mr. Lawson are on the drainage laterals."

To Monahan Curt said, "Slats, how come so many of you left Associated?"

"Oh," Monahan replied hesitatingly, "they started pinching pennies for one thing, and Senor Montaya pays good wages." Then, as though he hadn't said enough, "Besides, this's a new planting, and you know how most of us feel about a new job. It's more fun building than maintaining."

(TO BE CONTINUED)



TO YOUR Good Health

by DR. JAMES W. BARTON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

VITAMIN A AND EYES

So much is being ssid over the radio and in newspapers and magazines about the wonderful results of treatment by vitamins that many thoughtful physicians are naturally becoming a little doubtful as to the truth of all these claims.

Dr. Barton

The vitamins are going through the same "trials" as bave other special forms of treatment for various ailments and it may be a considerable time yet before we learn the full or true value of vitamins in the treatment of simple and serious ailments.

For years it has been known that vitamin A was effective in the treatment of eye diseases, particularly those that affect the covering of the eyeball.

One of the common eye ailments seen mostly in children is follicular conjunctivitis where there is inflammation of the covering of the eyehall together with formation of little pink lumps the size of a pinhead (lymph follicles) on the covering of the eyeball and edges of eyelids. Thera is also some photophobia—fear of light. It is found mostly in schools.

The usual treatment has been use of eya washes, attention to the general health, hot and cold applications, tinted lenses, correction of eye strain or other defects. Although all cases recover in time, there are some where the symptoms persist for many months.

What about vitamin A in this particular type of eye ailment—follicular conjunctivitis?

Doctors M. R. Sandels, H. D. Cate, K. P. Wilkinson and L. J. Graves, in the American Journal Diseases of Children, report the results of their investigation of 119 children with follicular conjunctivitis treated by vitamin A. Twenty-one of the 22 children in series 1, who received extra vitamin A, showed improvement, and of these 11 were entirely free of conjunctivitis at the end of the nine-week experimental period. No improvement occurred in the eyes of any of the 17 children wbo were not given vitamin A.

In another series, 60 children who received graded amounts of vitamin A were improved while of 20 children who received no vitamin A during the same period, only two who had received a more generous diet showed any improvement.

These physicians state, therefore, that lack of enough vitamin A appears to be the cause of follicular conjunctivitis.

• • •

Relaxation Key to Sleep

A broker who claimed he had not slept for many days journayed 1,500 miles to consult a woman skilled in the treatment of nervous conditions. Upon arrival he was ushered into the woman's office and given a particularly easy chair to recline in. He told his long story to the patient bealer and when he had told his pathetic account of many sleepless nights, he was told that going without sleep so long really did not matter very much, that his health had not suffered. The healer was summoned from the office for 10 minutes, and upon her return she found ber patient wrapped in deep slumber, snoring so loudly that her office windows had to be shut. He slept for many hours and awoke much refreshed."

I am quoting from an article on sleep by Dr. Robert L. Pitfield, Philadelphia, in Medical Record.

Why did this hroker go off to sleep so easily?

It was because when told that loss of sleep had not affected his health, he stopped worrying about it.

It is worrying over the effects of loss of sleep that actually prevents many individuals from going to sleep. It is allowing the mind and body to become limp or languid that brings on sleep.

I know a physician who has overcome his inability to sleep by just "going dead," mentally and physically—not a thought on his mind and every muscle relaxed.

It has been found that, if we lie at complete rest with nothing on our minds and with body completely relaxed, the temperature of the body, the heart rata, and the blood pressure go down almost to the same extent as when we are asleep. Naturally, knowing that relaxation of mind and body is 80 per cent as restful to the body as sleep itself, we are very apt to go off to sleep.

• • •

QUESTION BOX

Q.—Is there any cure for phlebitis?

A.—There is special cura for phlebitis. Rest is the usual treatment. Your physician is always quite willing to call in a consultant if you wish.

Q. — What would cause several strands of white hair to appear suddenly? I am only 20 years old.

A.—This is not an unusual condition. See your own physician and see if any gland condition is present.

Improved Uniform International

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for July 26

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

NOAH: GOD'S COVENANT WITH MANKIND

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 9:1-16.

GOLDEN TEXT—I will remember my covenant.—Genesis 9:15.

God does not forget. He keeps His promises now just as He did in the days of Noah. Since our lesson of last Sunday, a long period of time had elapsed. A generation after generation had come and gone, and all the while man grew more and more wicked. Finally, God saw that He must put an end to the corruption of the human race, saving just ona righteous family, that of Noah, with which to begin anew.

He warned Noah of the judgment of the flood, and he in turn doubtless warned others, but finally the day came when God shut him in the ark and poured forth tha waters of judgmant upon the then inhabited earth. But the same God who shut Noab in (Gen. 7:1), in due time called him out (Gen. 8:15, 16).

Noah had obeyed God, and Ha now rewarded him. The man who had borne the ridicule was now honored by Him. The experience of Noab brings before us—

God's Three Gifts to a Believing Man:

I. Power (vv. 1-4).

Man is the "lord of creation," not because be has brougbt about its subjection, hut because God gave him that power. It was first given to Adam (Gen. 1:26), and it is renewed here, with the additional promise of the animal as food. This was not to be, however, after the manner of wild bessts (v. 4).

No man ever lost anything by oheying the commands of God, even though appearances may seem to so indicate. The ridicula of those who called Noah foolisb for obeying God, had now been silenced by the judgment of the flood, and he stood forth vindicated, empowered by God, with authority over the wbole earth.

Faith is still tha victory. Men who put their bopes in the kings and empires of this earth hava seen them "rise and wane," and even unbelievers are heginning to talk about the necessity of a spiritual anchorage for the souls of men. It is found only in Christ, but in Him is found both peaca and power for victorious living.

But we see a second gift of God—

II. Protection (vv. 5-7).

Human life is not as cheap as men would have us think. Their estimate based on greed and lust for power makes man hut a unit in a machine designed to build up political power. The blood of those who are not profitable to such an enterprise, is shed in utter callousness.

Those who do such things, need to read the words of God, "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man" (v. 6). What a tremendous bill some men will have to pay when they stand before the seat of judgment of our God. Even the animals who kill men are to ba slain (v. 5). How much greater shall be the condemnation of the man who violates God's command.

But we see a third gift of God, designed to remove a deep fear from his heart, namely God's—

III. Promise (vv. 8-16).

God made a covenant with Noah and with his descendants and every living creature (vv. 9, 10). This is tha third of God's eight covenants with man, beginning with the one to Adam in the Garden of Eden (Gen. 1:28), and closing with tha new covenant (Hab. 3:3).

This was a promise of God's grace that there should be no more judgment by flood, and as a sign He chose the rainbow, which, appearing in the very time when rain should fall, would reassure men that a new flood was not coming upon them. What a beautiful symbol!

"I will remember," said God, and He has not forgotten. Though thousands of years have passed, there has never been such a cataclysm of judgment. How unspeakably precious it is to recall that God has not forgotten a single one of us; that He remembers every promise He has ever made; that He keeps every covenant. And on the contrary, how disturbing it must be to the unbeliever to realize that God has not forgotten his sin and unbelief, nor the judgment whicb is sure to come.

The story of Noah should stimulate our faith, causing us to trust God, to obey His avery command, and to look to Him for His power in our lives, His protection over us, His promise of grace to all who believe.

Faithful in Small Things

Duty, be it in a small matter or a great, is duty still, the command of Heaven, tha eldest voice of God; and it is only they who are faithful in a few things who will be faithful over many things. Only they who do their duty in everyday matters will fulfill them on great occasions. —Charles Kingsley.

PATTERNS

SEWING CIRCLE

WHAT a practical idea there is in this cunning small outfit for little girls! Off with the jacket and you have a cunning play dress without sleeves—so that it permits rollicking freedom and plenty of healthy sun tan. It is a dress which your daughter can wear in comfort for hours of back-yard play, beach games and farm life!

The jacket which dramatically transforms the princess frock into a smart street outfit is just waist length, has tiny short sleeves and a simple square neck. You'll like the effect if you apply to the skirt two bands of the material you use in the jacket. Band the panties, too, to complete the cheerful ensemble. Pattern No. 1607-B gives you complete instructions for making each of the three pieces.

• • •

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1607-B is designed for sizes 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. Size 3 years dress requires 1⅝ yards of 35- or 39-inch material, bolero plus bands for dress and panties, ⅝ yard and panties, ¾ yard.

New Dirndl.

A SLICK new long torso frock with a swish skirt—and just shoulder ruffles for sleeves—is ideal for summer wear. You can have sleeves, if you want them, and a bright row of braid to bring attention to the flattering low-cut neckline—as you can see in our smaller view. Just the frock junior girls from coast to coast are asking for this season!

• • •

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1606-B is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19. Corresponding bust measurements 29, 31, 33, 35 and 37. Size 13 (31) with shoulder ruffles, requires 3½ yards 35-inch material. With short sleeves, 3⅜ yards.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1136
211 West Wacker Dr. Chicago

Enclose 20 cents in coins for each pattern desired.

Pattern No. Size

Name

Address

YOU CAN'T BUY ASPIRIN that can do more for you than St. Joseph Aspirin. Why pay more? World's largest seller at 10c. Demand St. Joseph Aspirin.

The Book

There is but one book; bring me the Bible.—Walter Scott.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Clean your oil mops in hot water to which has been added washing powder, with a little ammonia.

• • •

Shake your turkish towels vigorously before hanging up to dry. This removes wrinkles and raises the nap.

• • •

If you cannot get candleholders for the birthday cake, decorate top with marshmallows and stick a candle into each one.

• • •

To keep fish from breaking when cooking, put the pieces in hot fat with skin side uppermost and allow them to brown before turning.

• • •

Flower pots can be made from buckets or cans. Paint them, paste on magazine pictures in color and then shellac.

• • •

To keep coat buttons from tearing out, sew a smaller button on the under side, running the thread through both.

• • •

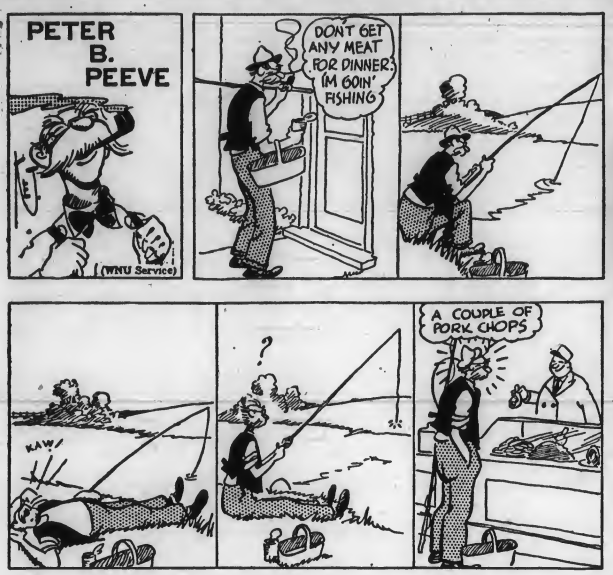
Ravel the thread from an old silk stocking and use it for catching and mending runners in other hose. It is stronger and less noticeable than darning thread.

J. Fuller Pep

By JERRY LINK

Nothing much gets by Old Judge Wiggins! "Fuller," he says to me, "just about the only thing that can keep on growing without nourishment is some folks' conceit."

And speakin' o' nourishment reminds me that you got to get all your vitamins. That's why I keep tellin' folks about KELLOGG'S PEP. 'Course PEP hasn't all the vitamins. But it's extra-rich in the two most likely to be short in ordinary meals—vitamins B₁ and D. And PEP's a jim-dandy tastin' cereal, too. Why not try it tomorrow?

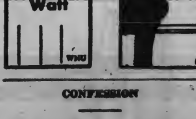


Kellogg's Pep

A delicious cereal that supplies per serving (1 oz.): the full minimum daily need of vitamin D; 1/6 the daily need of vitamin B₁.

FEED AT ITS BEST—
DIXIE 20% LAYING 18% EGG MASHES
PELLETS or MEAL
See Your DIXIE better FEEDS Dealer Today—DIXIE MILLS, E. St. Louis, Ill.

ADVERTISERS OFFER CONSUMERS A FREE CHOICE OF A WIDE RANGE OF DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE



OUR COMIC SECTION

CONFESSION

Nephew—A man ought to know himself.

Aunt—And yet he ought to be particular about the company he keeps.

STUCK WITH IT

For five or six days he had been digging in the garden for an air-raid shelter. What with the rain and the clay he was not in the best of tempers. Suddenly an old friend looked over the wall.

"Digging your shelter?" asked the friend.

"No," returned the digger, "as a matter of fact I bought a swing for the children and the ropes are too long."

PESSIMIST

"Would you prefer taking in the ball game or the movies?"

"The movies. I'm sure of a happy ending there."

Sportlight

By GRANTLAND RICE

Grantland Rice

WHAT are the toughest, hardest running distances for man and for horse? We shoved this debate along to a number of well-known trainers who handle both the human and the equine breed.

"Years ago, many years ago," an old-time track coach told us, "we figured it was the quarter mile, which was all sprint. Then we moved it up to the half, which now is all sprint. But in the last few years we've decided that the mile is the hardest test on the human system. It was different when they were running the mile around 4:18 or 4:20. But when you turn in a mile at 4:10 or better, you are giving out all the system has to offer.

"It is possible to run a mile around four minutes flat. But we won't see that for some time. Such miles as Glenn Cunningham ran were largely sprints. They were terrific. I should say that a fast 4:10 or better mile today is the toughest race on the track."

Same for Horse

"This distance goes for a horse, too," John Partridge, the veteran, said. "The mile is the hardest race. I mean a fast mile.

"You hear people talking about the strain of a mile and a half or even two miles. They forget that in these longer distances there is a lot of half loafing. Steeplechasers can go two miles or longer, carrying 150 pounds, taking the jumps, without being worn down. But when a horse runs a mile around 1:36 he is going all out. Ha can't be saving anything."

This recalls Johnstown's speed and what it did to him. Johnstown in more than one workout beat 1:34. No other horse ever ran that fast.

"You hear a lot," an observing old-timer said, "about the fighters and the ball players and the football players and other competitors from years ago outranking present stars. Don't believe it. Everything is getting better. And I can prove it."

"Just how?" I asked.

"Because everything that can be measured or timed shows a sure and steady improvement over old records. New records are being set in every sport from year to year. Can't you remember when 13 feet was a record pole vault? Wermerdam will make it 16 feet before long. They are now close to seven feet in the high jump. You'll see 9.1 seconds in the 100 soon. Look at all the old swimming records. Look at practically every competition you can time or measure."

Going On

"They talk about the great pitchers of the past," he continued. "We know they were good. But suppose Bob Grove or Bob Feller had been allowed to work with a dead, half-black, or fuzzy ball? Or Dizzy Dean? You'd have seen 20 strikeouts more than once. And you'd have seen more than a few no-hit games.

Bob Grove

"Can't you remember when around 295 was almost sure to win a National Open? Today they are shooting at 280. Or at least 285. I know the clubs and the balls are better and the courses are better, but the main point is that year by year they are setting new marks for a target.

"It's the pressure of competition that is forcing a faster pace.

"Certain critics are always talking about the millions who sit and watch the few play," the old-timer went on. "I wonder if they know how many millions are also playing games? Football and basketball are two of our fastest games. If you take the high schools and the colleges and the clubs, there are more than a million or two taking active part in these sports.

"It is only natural that anyone who plays a game, whatever the game, is interested in seeing stars at play in his favorite sport. But that doesn't mean that all those who sit in stands or sit and watch don't also play when they get the chance.

"Notre Dame, to many, is a university with 40 crack football players. Do they know that in one form or another Notre Dame has from 500 to 1,000 football students?"

• • •

About Jock Hutchison

Chicago has had another brilliant golfer in Jock Hutchison. Jock won the British Open, but he was never quite able to land on top in the U. S. major show.

In the old days they had to qualify in the National Open at 36 holes, and then move the next day into the tournament proper. Using his first 72 holes of play, under this order, Jock would have run away with several championships.

Farm Topics

Milk Distribution Changes Pending

Labor, Transportation, Material the Reason

By T. G. STITTS

(Chief of Co-Op Research and Service, Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C.)

Shortages of critical materials and resources threaten to bring about more dramatic changes in milk distribution methods within the short space of a few weeks than the combined forces of competition and industrial ingenuity have brought about in the past few years.

Shortages of rubber, labor, trucks, machinery, paper and possibly other materials may accentuate the trend away from home delivery, speed up every-other-day delivery, cause zoning of sales areas and may spell the end of special deliveries and particular special services.

These war-time factors overshadow temporarily the longer-run trend toward new methods of distribution which have been going on for several years in the fluid milk industry. These longer-run developments, however, retain a basic importance not only during the war but in the post-war period.

Courtesy U. S. Department of Agriculture

This little miss from Washington, D. C., knows what is good for her. The millions of gallons of milk consumed each week, both here and abroad in these nations to which Uncle Sam has sent it, is preventing malnutrition which so sorely afflicted war time nations during the last war.

Paper Instead of Metal

The introduction of paper containers, growth of gallon and half-gallon containers, increase in store sales, increased sale of special milks, growth of peddlers, use of retail price-quantity discount schemes and development of all wholesale dealers are among the more important recent changes that were well under way in several larger cities before the defense and the war emergency developed.

From experiences so far, it is difficult to conclude how many of these changes will be permanent. Many of them will be, but others may prove to be unsatisfactory for one reason or another.

AGRICULTURE INDUSTRY
Cotton

By FLORENCE WEED

(This is one of a series of articles showing how farm products are finding an important market in industry.)

Cotton seed will soon be more important than cotton lint, according to a cotton economist. This change has come about since science has discovered new uses for linters, hulls, oil and meal.

Linters are the short fuzzy fibers left by the gin. They are used for gun cotton, varnishes, mattresses, fine writing paper, kodak films, smokeless powder and shatter-proof glass. Mixed with chemicals, the linters form plastics that can be molded into thousands of useful articles from radio cases to knife handles. Linters, spun into yarn, make the new rayon fabrics.

Cotton hulls go into bran for cattle, blotting paper, packing materials, baseballs and horse collars. Oil pressed from the seed is sold for food uses and goes into auto cup grease, roofing tar, cosmetics and in emulsifying medicine. Cotton cake and meal, left after the oil is extracted, is used for stock feed and fertilizer.

Cotton cloth has been used experimentally in making hard surfaced highways in 25 states.

Research has produced a cotton cloth that looks like wool and is being used for blankets. A new cording, strong enough for parachute harness and bomb slings, is taking the place of linen, once imported before the war.

Rural Briefs

For best production milking should be done at regular hours. After milking is started, it should be completed without interruption and as rapidly as possible.

• • •

A new method of cheese-making developed at the Virginia Polytechnic institute cuts the customary time in half and has been selling at a premium on the market.

Tell me a Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

GRANDFATHER FROG JUMPS INTO MORE TROUBLE

SOME people are heedless and run into trouble. Some people are stupid and walk into trouble. Grandfather Frog was both heedless and stupid and jumped into trouble. When Striped Chipmunk told him where the spring was it seemed to him that he couldn't wait to reach it.

Jump, jump, jump! Grandfather Frog was going as fast as ever he could in the direction Striped Chipmunk had pointed out.

At last the ground began to grow damp, the farther he went the dampder it grew. Presently it became fairly wet, and there was a great deal of soft, cool, wet moss. How good it did feel to Grandfather Frog's poor tired feet.

"Must be I'm most there," said Grandfather Frog to himself, as he scrambled up on a big mossy hummock so as to look around. Right away he saw a little path from the direction of the Long Lane. It led right past the very hummock on which Grandfather Frog was sitting and he noticed that where the ground was very soft and wet old boards had been laid down. That puzzled Grandfather Frog a great deal.

"It's a sure enough path," said he, but what under the blue,

Grandfather Frog saw him dip up water and drink it.

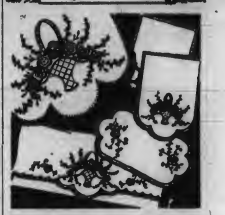
blue sky does anyone want to spoil it for by putting those boards there?"

You see Grandfather Frog likes the soft, wet mud and he couldn't understand how anyone, even Farmer Brown's Boy, could prefer a hard, dry path. Of course he never had worn shoes himself so he couldn't understand why anyone should want dry feet when they could just as well have wet ones. He was still puzzling over it when he heard a sound that made him nearly lose his balance and tumble off the hummock. It was a whistle. It was the whistle of Farmer Brown's Boy! Grandfather Frog knew it right away because he often had heard it over by the Smiling Pool. The whistle came from over in the Long Lane. Farmer Brown's Boy had had his dinner and was on his way back to look for Grandfather Frog at the place where he had been dropped when the Merry Little Breezes threw dust in the face of Farmer Brown's Boy and ran away with his hat.

Grandfather Frog actually smiled as he thought of how surprised Farmer Brown's Boy was going to be when he could find no trace of him. Suddenly the smile seemed to freeze on Grandfather Frog's face. That whistle was coming nearer! Farmer Brown's Boy had left the Long Lane and was coming along the little path. Tha truth is he was coming for a drink at the spring. But Grandfather Frog didn't think of this. He was sure that in some way Farmer Brown's Boy had found out which way he had gone and was coming after him. Ha crouched down as flat as he could on the big hummock and held his breath. Farmer Brown's Boy went straight past. Just a few steps beyond he stopped and knelt down. Peeping through the grass Grandfather Frog saw him dip up beautiful clear water in an old cup and drink. Then Grandfather Frog knew just where the spring was.

A few minutes later Farmer Brown's Boy passed again, still whistling, on his way to the Long Lane. Grandfather Frog waited only long enough to be sure that he had really gone. Then with bigger jumps than ever he started for the spring. A dozen long jumps and he could see the water. Two more jumps and then a long jump and he had landed in the spring with a splash.

"Chugarum!" cried Grandfather Frog, "how good the water feels!"



And all the time without knowing it Grandfather Frog had jumped straight into more trouble.

Associated Newspapers—WNU Features.

Phosphorescent Blackout

The large electrical research laboratory is advocating the painting of all factory walls with phosphorescent paints. These store up energy when the lights are shining and give it off for a short while when illumination stops. When the blackout comes, the walls would continue to give off a faint glow for a short time during which the workers' eyes would become adapted to the darkness. This would also give time for the workers to find their way to their emergency posts.

THINGS for You TO MAKE

HARMONIOUS beauty for bedroom linens is offered in these new designs. Graceful baskets of brown filled with colorful flowers are for pillow slips, dresser scarf and vanity set. Outline, lazy daisy, blanket stitch and French knots are the simple stitches required for the motifs.

• • •

Pattern No. 7243, 15 cents, brings a usable-several-times transfer which includes all of the motifs shown, together with directions. Send your order to:

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City, Mo.
Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired. Pattern No.....
Name.....
Address.....

FOR BETTER GROOMED HAIR
MOROLINE
HAIR TONIC
10¢ 25¢

Youthful Soul

The soul never grows old—Longfellow.

Kool-Aid
MAKES 10 BIG, COOL DRINKS!
KOOL-AID
5¢ TRY ALL 7 FLAVORS

Kellogg's CORN FLAKES
AMERICA'S FAVORITE READY-TO-EAT CEREAL GIVES YOU...

Whole Grain Nutritive Values..!

As recommended by the U.S. NUTRITION FOOD RULES

U.S. needs us
EAT NUTRITIONAL FOOD

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are restored to Whole Grain Values of Thiamin (Vitamin B1), Niacin and Iron—important food elements everyone needs in daily meals.

ALL Kellogg's CEREALS supply WHOLE GRAIN natural or restored VALUES as recommended by the WAR INVENTORY FOOD BOARD

YOUR ASSURANCE
The buyer's assurance is the advertising he or she reads in the newspaper. That is the buyer's guide. It tells the prices one must expect to pay. Let the seller who tries to charge more beware!

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.

CHAMBERS & GRUBBS

Funeral Directors WALTON

Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation

Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.

DIXIE STATE BANK

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

NEW JAMES THEATRE

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m. —Eastern War Time.

FRIDAY & SAT., JULY 24-25
Bob Hope - Vera Zorina in LOUISIANA PURCHASE

SUNDAY, JULY 26
Barbara Stanwyck - Henry Fonda
YOU BELONG TO ME

MONDAY, JULY 27
Lynn Bari - John Sutton in
MOON OVER HER SHOULDER

TUES. & WED., JULY 28-29
Geo. Murphy - Linda Darnell in RISE AND SHINE

THURSDAY, JULY 30
John Mack Brown in ARIZONA CYCLONE

Classified ADS

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

FOR SALE—Walton: J. D. Mayhugh residence, with three adjoining lots. Will consider trade for small house. Jennie Wayman, 3201 Mabel Ave., Latonia, Ky. Phone Hemlock 6263.

FOR SALE—New radio, at bargain, financed, cabinet model. Greenlawn Farm. Phone Florence 4605W. 1t38

FOR SALE—2 carloads of stock cattle, good quality, priced to sell. Boyd Elliott, Ottis Readnour, Frank Cooke. Phone 154 Walton. tf35

FOR SALE—2 acres land, opposite Walton Reservoir. James Falls, Walton. tf34

FOR SALE — White Rock fryers, 2 pounds; sow and pigs; 2 fresh cows; Hereford bull calf, ready for service; 2 Hereford male calves, 7 months old; Registered Jersey bull, 1 year old; 5-year-old mare and mule; 4-year-old mare. A. C. Johnson, Beaver Road, Walton. Phone 208. 2t37*

FOR SALE — Purebred O. I. C. boar pigs. Papers furnished if desired. Ottis Readnour, Walton. tf37

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

WANTED—Mowing machine attachment for Fordson Tractor. Harlie Fisk, Morning View, Ky. 3t37*

FOR SALE—Southdown Rams—"The large type that sire market tops" from ordinary ewes. Ewbank Farms. Phone Warsaw 2318. 4t37

WANTED — Unencumbered middle-age lady, accustomed to all household duties, in modern home. To live with family of four, as one of the family. For further details phone Walton 123. 3t37

FOR SALE — Team large aged mules, good workers. Phone Independence 5100. 1t38

WANTED—Man to crop on shares. Good land. Chance of partnership with livestock. New 4-room tenant house, well built. Move any time after Jan. 1. Send inquiries to Advertiser, c/o C. A. 2t38

FOR SALE—Fine yearling Southdown rams from registered ram; 5-year-old registered Percheron mare; two 2-year-old colts; one yearling colt. C. A. Taylor, Morning View. Phone Ind. 6140. 2t38*

FOR SALE—Welsh folding baby buggy, in good condition. Mrs. Art Kent, 16 High School Court, Walton, Ky. Phone 108. 1t38*

FOR SALE—Coal range; chifrobe. Mrs. Mitchell, 27 Verona Road, Walton. 1t38*

WRITE or CALL H. F. Jones, 125 Division St., Erlanger, phone Erl. 6229W, for the well known Rawleigh products, including fly spray, dip, and insect dust for bean beeties, extracts, spices, etc. 4t38*

FOR SALE—100-lb. ice box, good condition, $3. Call Walton 108 Mrs. Nannie Stephenson, Walton, across from James Theatre. 1t38*

BE SAFE - BUY NOW

SPECIAL This Week Only—
BEDROOM SUITES...$45.00

Avenue Furniture Co.

434 Madison, Cov. HEm. 9273

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

Political Announcements

DEMOCRATIC PARTY

We are authorized to announce BRENT SPENCE as a candidate for re-election to Congress from the Fifth District, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held on Saturday, August 1, 1942.

—Your Support Is Solicited—

STAFFORDSBURG NEWS—

We regret that the very challenging services which were conducted here by Rev. James Averitt of Jefferson Street Church of Louisville came to a close Sunday afternoon. While not a large number united with the church, many were the avowals of spiritual uplift. We can not stay always on the mountain top, there is "work to do and loads to lift." Let's all be busy at the common tasks of life, but with a new zeal for the Master's service. A basket lunch on Sunday was enjoyed by all who took part. Let us pray for Brother Averitt as he returned to his home church.

Charles Pruett sustained painful bruises but no broken bones when thrown from a horse last Saturday.

Mrs. Clyde Richardson, after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Richardson, left to join Capt. Richardson at Randolph Field, in Texas.

Mrs. Mat Swinford of Berry, who came for a few days visit with her niece, Mrs. Lee Faulkner, and her nephew, W. E. Hanna, was called home by the sudden death of her son-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rapp are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan.

Our Classified Ads Get Results...

SAVE YOUR CAR and MONEY RIDE A BIKE

We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.

LIBERAL TERMS

DIXIE CYCLE SHOP

16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

NORRIS, BROCK CO.

Cincinnati Stock Yards

—Live Wire and Progressive—

An organization second to none. We are strictly sellers on the best all around market in the country.

We work for our customers... first, last, and all the time.

Reference: Ask the first man you meet.

Hope that you will eventually ship to us...why not now?

—Service That Satisfies—

Walton Perpetual Bldg. & Loan Assn.

DIXIE STATE BANK BLDG. WALTON, KY.

E. S. West, Sec'y A. M. Edwards, Pres.

—— SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDENDS ——

ATTENTION

Coal Buyers!

Coal is getting hard to get, due to Transportation difficulties. Now is the time to buy that Big 10-in. Blue Diamond Coal.

—SEE US ABOUT PRICES AT ONCE—

WALTON & READNOUR

PHONE 154 WALTON, KY.

DAIRY COWS, WORK STOCK, SHEEP, 4 FARMS AND A BEAUTIFUL HOME

To Settle the Estate of

DR. E. F. WOLFE

4 - FARMS - 4

352 - ACRES - 352

ALSO A BEAUTIFUL MODERN 6-ROOM BRICK IN EDGEWOOD

AT AUCTION

SATURDAY, JULY 25

10 A. M. SHARP - RAIN OR SHINE

SALE TO START AT FARM NO. 1 - 10 A. M.

FARM NO. 1—About 100 acres, two and one-half miles from Bracht Station, on Dixie Highway No. 25, located on the Carlisle Road. Farm improved with a 6-room frame house, 1 large feed and tobacco barn and other outbuildings. Farm fenced in several pastures, all in grass except the present crop now in cultivation.

FARM NO. 2—About 96 acres, improved with a 3-room cottage, extra good large feed and tobacco barn, corn crib, poultry house, smoke house and other outbuildings, fenced in several fields, practically all in grass, same location as the farm above.

FARM NO. 3—About 50 acres, no buildings, all in grass, same location.

3:30 ON PREMISES

FARM NO. 4—About 108 acres, two and one-half miles of Fiskburg, known as Cruise Creek Farm. Turn off the LLL Highway just North of Fiskburg on little Cruise Creek Road. Farm improved with 4-room house, chicken house, stripping house, extra good stock and tobacco barn and other outbuildings. Farm fenced in several fields, all in grass except the present crops.

The above farms are in Kenton County, Kentucky, and in good state of cultivation, limestone, and black locust land good for tobacco, corn, wheat and alfalfa, excellent dairy or sheep farms. There have been dairies run on these farms for years. Cows make a good farm. Well watered and fenced for sheep, cattle, etc.

Farms No. 1, 2 and 3—Follow LLL or Dixie Highway No. 25 to Bracht, Kentucky or Piner, Kentucky. Take the Bracht-Piner Road to Carlisle Road.

Farm No. 4—Follow LLL to Fiskburg, Kentucky, just North of Fiskburg take Cruise Creek Road...

LIVE STOCK, TOOLS, ETC.

Dairy cows, work stock, hogs, sheep and farming tools. 18 head of good dairy cows, some fresh and some to be fresh by day of sale. 2 males. 60 head of ewes, 7 bucks, several shoats weigh about 135 pounds. 1 3-year-old brood sow, 5 good work horses. Farm tools, wagon, mowing machine, hay rake, plows, several items too numerous to mention.

ALSO THE SAME DAY AT 7:30 P. M. - EVENING SALE

6-room brick, strictly modern residence of the late Dr. Wolfe located in Edgewood, corner of Dixie Highway No. 25 and Edgewood Drive. Here is a beautiful modern home that is impossible to replace under the present building restrictions. An extra large lot with beautiful shade trees, shrubbery, corner lot, city water, gas and electric, built-in garage. Bus service every 17 minutes, about 20 minutes run from Cincinnati. Within one square of the new $200,000 Dixie Heights high school.

FREE $75.00 IN WAR STAMPS FREE

Everybody invited—You do not have to bid or buy to participate in the drawing.

FREE - Also Old Fashioned Ky. Burgoo

...TERMS...

Real Estate - Attractive. Announced Day of Sale.

Personal - $10 and under, Cash; over this amount, bankable notes for 6 months.

R. M. LUCAS & CO.

Realtors and Auctioneers

115 West Third St. Cincinnati, Ohio Cherry 8537-4330

IF YOU HAVE ANYTHING TO SELL, SEE US - OUR TERRITORY, U. S. and CANADA

Universary of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING, TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS, NEWSPAPERS OR PERIODICALS BELONGING TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES
See Ky. Statutes

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 39

TWO MORE FIRST AID CLASSES COMPLETED

Two more classes in Standard First Aid have been completed under the direction of the Boone County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Dr. Francis Bedinger taught the class in Walton, and Dr. H. R. Daugherty the class in Florence.

Those who will receive certificates in Standard First Aid, are in the Walton Class: Fay Conner, Mrs. W. J. Crouse, Gaynelle Flynn, Katie Hankinson, Lula Huey, Marie Hughes, Eleanor Isbell, Mrs. D. K. Johnson, Mrs. A. L. Jockey, Olive Johnson, Mrs. Edith Percival, Viola H. Roberts, G. M. Rouse, Lula Ryle, Rebecca Sleet, Mrs. Howard Stephenson, Mrs. J. A. Watson, Mabel Webster, Olivia Wills, Lill Young.

Those completing the class in Florence are: Eldon Ashcraft, Charles Bradford, F. D. Caton, Clifford Coyle, E. J. Dickman, George McClanahan, Joe Meiman, Joe Nusbaum, Floyd O. Roberts, John Schram, George E. Scott, Ralph Stith, R. B. Taylor.

WILLING WORKERS CLASS MEETING

The Willing Workers Class met for ts regular meeting at Ruth's Picnic Grounds on Tuesday evening of last week. A picnic covered dish supper was served. The meeting was called to order by the president, and Rev. Geo. Caroland gave an interesting devotional. A short business meeting followed.

Those who enjoyed the picnic supper and meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. Powers Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ransler, Mr. and Mrs. Burgess Haley, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Doan, Aleen Conner, Florence Norman, Mary Rensler, Mrs. Mary Stephens, Helen Ruth Gardiner, Mrs. Estelle Gordon, Luke Gordon, Rev. George Caroland, Patsy Jones, and June Doan.

ATTRACTIVE WINDOW AT COPPIN'S

One will see a very attractive window at Coppin's, Covington, showing equipment of modern warfare. It features parachutists, fighter and pursuit planes, dive bombers, raiding parties, etc. In the distance a flash of light is seen from an exploded bomb.

Some time can profitably be spent studying this window, which has been so well arranged.

Christian Citizenship Council Organized

A meeting at the New Haven School last Sunday, planned by the Boone County Ministerial Association and attended by members from nearly every church in the county, was very successful. The Rev. C. J. Alford, of the Walton Baptist Church, presided. After singing a verse of America, Bro. Alford gave the purpose of the meeting, which was to consider setting up a Boone County unit of the Kentucky Christian Citizenship Council. Dr. H. W. Bromley, Executive Vice President, could not be present, because of illness. However, his place on the program was very ably filled by Rev. John L. Tilton, Vice President in Charge of Legislation and Legal Affairs.

The purpose of the Council is as follows:

To boldly meet and strategically deal with:

(a) The Liquor problem in all its aspects,
(b) All forms of gambling,
(c) Political corruption,
(d) Social sins,
(e) Objectionable movies.

And to promote a vital program of Christian Citizenship, through:

(a) Christian education,
(b) Youth welfare,
(c) Evangelism,
(d) Christian solidarity.

The Christian people in Boone County are keenly aware of the importance of such an organization, in which all right-thinking people can unite in the great battle against evil and in the promotion of the good.

A temporary organization was set up after the meeting Sunday. Mr. D. H. Norris was made the chairman, and Rev. T. O. Harrison, Secretary-Treasurer. Plans are under way for a mass meeting in August, with Attorney Henry M. Johnson, of Louisville, as the speaker. Mr. Johnson is president of the Business Men's Research Association and The Kentucky Christian Citizenship Council, and is one of our outstanding Christian laymen in Kentucky. Other announcements will be made later.—Pub. Com.

Mrs. Bess Conrad, accompanied her brother, O. K. Powers, and Mrs. Powers, of Verona, to Williamstown, Friday to attend the wedding of her nephew, George Robert Powers, and Miss Dorothy Taylor.

Quarterly Conference at Methodist Church, Mon.

Dr. Paul S. Powell, Superintendent of the Covington District, will be in a service at the Walton Methodist Church, Monday evening, August 3rd at 8:00. After the service Dr. Powell will conduct the fourth quarterly conference.

Everyone is invited to attend this important meeting.

JOHNNY GAULT IS PROMOTED

Mr. and Mrs. John Gault, Sr., received a cablegram from their son, Johnny Gault, who is with the U. S. Army Air Corps in Australia, on July 23rd informing them he has been promoted to the rank of Technician, 5th/Gr. Johnny seems to like his new position, and says he is getting along swell.

HOUSEWIVES ASKED TO SAVE FATS AND GREASES

The WPB is asking all housewives to save their kitchen fats and greases, because they are urgently needed in the war effort. Our supply of vegetable fats from the Far East has been reduced.

Chain stores and other retailers having meat markets will purchase these fats from the housewife at prices set by the government.

The fat should be saved in a tin can with smooth edge and top. Carefully strained and kept in a cool, dark place. Do not take less than one pound to your meat dealer.

Fats make glycerine and glycerine makes explosives for us and our allies.

We need millions of pounds of glycerine and the housewives of America can help supply it.

Revival At Christian Church Begins Mon.

The Walton Christian Church begins a special two-week's revival effort on Monday, August 3, 8:30 p. m., under the leadership of Rev. Lee Davis Fisher, evangelist, and Rev. George S. Caroland, song leader.

Rev. Fisher, pastor of the Christian Church in Somerset, Ky., is well known in this section, having led in meetings at the Walton church previously. His challenging, thought-provoking messages will deserve the intelligent hearing of all who can be present. Rev. Caroland is pastor of Walton Christian Church. Assisting him with the music will be Mrs. Olivia Wills, pianist; Miss Luke Gordon, director of Young People's Choir, and Mrs. George Caroland, director of Children's Choir.

Services begin at 8:30 (EWT) each evening, with a special service for children at 8:00 p. m. Everyone within reasonable traveling distance is urged to attend the series of meetings, for their spiritual renewal and help.

FREE FAIR CATALOGUES NOW AVAILABLE

Catalogues for the Annual Boone County 4-H and Utopia Club Free Fair are now available at the County Agent's office, and a limited supply will be left with the 4-H leaders.

The program for the fair is being developed in keeping with the war program. Meeting together and working together will help build stronger morale in the strenuous fight for Victory. The 4-H and Utopia Club Council urges your presence at the fair, Aug. 22, as a means of securing greater understanding and county-wide contact.

W. S. C. S. TO MEET TODAY

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Walton Methodist Church, will meet with the Misses Katie and Eva Roberts today (Thursday) at 3:00 p. m. Mrs. W. O. Rouse will be the leader. "Africa" is the subject to be studied.

SUCCESSFUL AUCTION

The Rowland Auction Co., Winchester, Ky., with whom Mr. Johnson's son-in-law, O. L. Hamilton, is associated, held a very successful sale for Rev. A. K. Johnson of South Walton, July 21st. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sleet purchased the home recently occupied by Rev. and Mrs. Johnson.

SPEAKING OF BONDS

VICTORY FUND COMMITTEE IS NAMED

A. B. Renaker has been appointed Chairman of the Victory Fund Committee for Boone County and he, in turn, has appointed the following as members of this committee to work with him: C. W. Thompson, G. C. Ransom, Miss Lillian Bristow, C. F. Blankenbeker, John L. Conner, H. R. Hensley and C. E. McNeely.

This committee is a separate committee from the one of which A. D. Yelton is Chairman, in the sale of Series E Bonds.

The Victory Fund Committee will assist the War Loan Committee in selling Series "E," "F" and "G" Bonds, but more particularly to try to sell the other issues of Government Bonds, such as the 2½ percent, 25 year Bonds that will be issued at the end of this month or early in August, and to contact larger investors than those purchasing the Series "E" Bonds.

Sampson Tomlin, Walton, had 9 lambs at the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards that averaged 77 lbs. and brought $13.50.

FEATURES IN THIS ISSUE

U. S.-French Unity Seen

The French people were given a new unity when the United States government announced a pledge to lend all possible military assistance as a symbol of French resistance in general against the Axis powers. An interesting story of the unity is told today by Baukhage in his Washington Digest feature found elsewhere in the Advertiser.

An Eye For An Eye

We've heard plenty of ways draftees have been attempting to gain deferment, however, the incident told in the Merry Go Round col'm probably takes the "Cake" for a draftee who wanted to pass his physical examination. And, what beats us, the plan nearly worked!

Could You Prepare One?

When you hear someone talk about salads, referring to veal salad, jellied green pea salad, royal meat salad and frozen fruit salad, would you know how to prepare one for the family table? If not, turn to our Household News col'm and clip the recipes.

Helpful Information

You'll find household hints and the latest patterns on the feature pages in the Advertiser. More and more readers each week are finding much helpful information in this paper.

Business and Advertising

An ad in the Advertiser performs two important objects. First it is your messenger—not to one buyer or seller but to thousands throughout Northern Kentucky. Second, the response is your reward— your business reason to continue advertising. The smart business man knows that advertising is the silent partner, with increased sales being the big noise.

ANOTHER NEW BLUEJACKET IN TRAINING AT GREAT LAKES

Great Lakes, Ill.—A new bluejacket is Alfred Eugene Haney, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haney of Walton, who recently enlisted in the U. S. Navy and is now going through recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Station here. Upon completing of this training, he will either be assigned for duty at sea or some other naval station, or retained for further specialized training at one of the Navy's many service schools

Civilian Defense School At Richmond

A Civilian Defense School is to start in Richmond, Ky., Sunday afternoon, August 2nd, and Boone County certainly should be represented.

The U. S. Army is sponsoring six schools in Kentucky. Murry and Pikeville schools are over, with practically every county present.

Two schools will be held in Richmond, the week of August 2, and the other two are to be held at Morehead and Bowling Green.

Wouldn't it be a fine thing if each community and town in our county could be represented at one of the Richmond schools, so they could come home and call meetings and really tell us what to do?

Counties expected to be represented in Richmond are Boone, Bourbon, Carroll, Campbell, Clark, Fayette, Franklin, Grant, Gallatin, Henry, Jessamine, Kenton, Owen, Scott, Trimble and Woodford.

Those expected to attend this school from Boone County, are: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ransler, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Heizer, Mrs. Garnett Tolin, Mr. and Mrs. Masters, A. M. Yealey, Mrs. James Layne, and possibly others.

FISH FRY HELD AT CALLEN HOME

On Wednesday, July 22nd a fish fry was held in the out-of-doors living room of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Callen at Richwood.

Besides the host and hostess, those present included Joe Barker A. L. Callen, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Kite, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wolfe, Mrs. Opal Robinson and Bonnie Sue and Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Abdon, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parker, Bettyjo and Tom, Mr. and Mrs. George Howard, Ann and George, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Decker, Mrs. R. G. Robinson, Layne Cheesman, Mr. and Mrs. George Knox and Mr. and Mrs. Sherid Wright and Donna Joy.

AUCTION WELL ATTENDED; LOCAL MAN BUYS FARMS

The auction of the late Dr. E. F. Wolfe estate, held Saturday, July 25 by the R. M. Lucas Co., was attended by a large crowd and much interest was shown in the bidding.

B. F. Elliott, local merchant, purchased two of the farms, located near Piner.

Must Get Canning Sugar By July 31

All who did not get to register for their canning sugar, may register at the Boone County Rationing Board, Walton, until July 31st. If you have not received your allotment of canning sugar be SURE to do so on or before July 31, as NO sugar will be issued after that date for canning purposes. DON'T FAIL TO REGISTER if you need the sugar.

WAS HOME ON FURLOUGH

Pvt. Francis X. Scott has returned to his duties at Fort Ruckman, Nahant, Mass., after a two-weeks furlough spent at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Scott, Sr., Walton, Route 1.

WALTON YOUTH WEDS INDEPENDENCE GIRL

Mr. Raeburn Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Opal Simpson of Walton, and Miss Aline Chambers, pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers of Independence, were united in marriage Saturday evening, July 25th at the home of the officiating minister, R. F. DeMoisey, of South Main Street. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Obie Cook.

After a short honeymoon they will reside in Cincinnati.

THE FALL GARDEN— AUG. POSSIBILITIES

Chinese Cabbage—Aug. 1, sow like late cabbage; see also "carrots." At killing frost the plants may be lifted and reset in boxes of scil. Kept watered, in a house ceilar, they will keep crisp and usable until Christmas. Pe Tsai or Chilili.

Cabbage Greens and Turnips—Seven Top, Siberian kale, Southern mustard and Tendergreen may be sown together, 1 oz. to 200 sq. ft. any time during August and September. The first 2 may be sown separately out of the way, to make early greens next year. The turnip to use (perhaps added to the mixture) is Purple Top Globe, but the spring sort, Strapleaf, will do.

Spinach—Aug. 15 to Sept. 15, King of Denmark, 1 oz. to 50-75 feet of row.

Cover Crops—The green mixture above makes a fair cover crop but the small grains, sown August-October, are better, and improvement is to add hairy vetch. Perhaps, the garden can be halved, early and late, to cover each every other winter.

Sweet Corn—Whipple's Early or Adams will mature if sown not later than July 30.

NAVY GETS ANOTHER RECRUIT FROM WALTON

Richard Earl "Dickie" Smith, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Smith of High street, enlisted in the U. S. Navy last Saturday. He left Monday for the Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill. In his first letter Dickie says he likes fine.

STATIONED AT PARIS ISLAND

Paul Johnson, who recently enlisted in the Marine Corps, sends us his address. It is:

Private Paul H. Johnson,
Platoon S11 Recruit Depot,
Marine Barracks,
Parris Island, S. C.

VINE RUN REVIVAL BEGINS AUGUST 3rd

A revival meeting will begin at the Vine Run Baptist Church on Monday evening, August 3. Rev. Roy L. Puckett, pastor of Weaver Memorial Baptist Church, Louisville, will assist the pastor in this evangelistic campaign. The church solicits your prayers and attendance in this evangelistic effort.

VERONA HOMEMAKERS TO HAVE PICNIC

The Verona Homemakers have planned a picnic for their August activities. The picnic will be held on the lawn at the home of Mrs. W. B. McCormick, on Friday, Aug. 7 at 10:30 C. W. T.

Mrs. Catherine Clemons of Crittenden was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Tom Marshall, and Mr. Marshall on Monday.

FAIR GROUNDS DAM COMPLETED LAST WK.

The dam for the large lake being built on the Boone County 4-H and Utopia Club Fair Grounds was completed on Tuesday of last week. The completed dam provides for an approximate 20-foot road across the lake and will make a beautiful and practical approach to the main part of the grounds.

The dam construction cost approximately $1,050, with the builders, J. G. Robertson & Sons, donating $60 in cash on the lake construction. The committee was forced to borrow $500 to complete construction of the dam. The spillway and bridge over the dam and surfacing of the road are yet to be done. The county has shown a splendid cooperative spirit in their offer to assist in the construction of the spillway and the road. It is hoped to have the grounds in the best possible shape for the fair and county picnic on Saturday, Aug. 22. All Boone county people and their friends are urged to make plans to attend the first event held on the grounds.

STATIONED IN ALASKA

PFC Terry Mulford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Mulford of Toronto, Ohio, is now stationed in Alaska, with the U. S. Army Air Corps. His wife is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Chapman, Walton.

PFC Mulford joined the Air Corps April 3, 1942. He was formerly stationed at Ft. Lewis, Washington, before being sent abroad.

Wed In Williamstown

Mr. George Robert Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Powers of Verona, and Miss Dorothy Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Taylor of Williamstown, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Friday morning, July 24, by Rev. Purfis. Following a reception, the young couple left for Cumberland Falls and other points of interest in Southern Kentucky.

They will make their home in Williamstown, where Mr. Powers is connected with the Northern Kentucky Production Credit Association.

This splendid young couple has many friends in this community who wish them much happiness and success in life's journey.

GIVEN SURPRISE BY RED CROSS WORKERS

The lovely and spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Woods on Route 42 was the scene of a surprise given them on July 15th by the Richwood Red Cross workers.

Those prese nt included Mrs. R. G. Robinson, Mrs. Fred Decker, Mrs. Floyd Shields, Mrs. Joe Meyers, Mrs. Charles Wolfe, Mrs. J. M. Callen, Mrs. G. L. Robinson and daughter Bonnie Sue, Mrs. Bill Abdon, Mrs. Albert Parker, Mrs. John Rice, Mrs. George Howard and daughter Ann,.

A delicious dinner was served and a delightful time was had by all present.

CANNERY WORKERS MUST HAVE SOCIAL SECURITY NO.

Every person who works in a cannery or preserving establishment during the present season must have a social security account number, according to F. B. Decker, Jr., manager of the Covington fiel doffice of the Social Security Board.

This year canneries are increasing their output, as much of their production is required for the armed forces. This means working forces in canneries will be increased. With male labor scarce, many housewives will be employed in preserving foods. Many of these women have not served in covered employment since January, 1937, when the Social Security Act went into effect.

Women who work in canneries should obtain their social security cards before they enter upon their new jobs and should be sure their employers copy down the name and number exactly as they appear on the cards.

Account numbers are issued at the field office in the post office building in Covington or applications may be obtained at any post office and mailed to the field office.

THEY COME TOGETHER HERE!

Correct Style —Visional Comfort, both are essential in Glasses, if they are to serve adequately. To favor one essential at the expense of the other is to neglect a client's welfare. No compromise between good looks and good sight ever is necessary. You are assured of both in fullest measure when we serve your optical needs.

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

International Court and Police Force For Postwar World Envisioned by Hull; Nazi Drive Increases Russia's Peril; Rommel Stymied by Allied Air Power

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Maj. Gen. Carl Spaatz, chief of the American air forces in the European theater of action (left), pins the Distinguished Service Cross on Maj. Charles C. Kegelman. Taking part in a recent bombing raid on enemy airfields in Holland, Kegelman brought his ship back safely after one motor was wrecked and a wing damaged in fighting with German air forces.

POSTWAR WORLD:
Hull Envisions

When silvery-haired Cordell Hull broadcast an appeal for a safe and saner postwar world, it was clear that a majority of Americans agreed with his thesis that the peace as well as the war must be won by the United Nations if future chaos is to be avoided.

In an address heard around the world, the secretary of state made these points:

1. The United Nations' immediate problem is to win the war—decisively.

2. After the war surveillance must be exercised over Germany, Japan, Italy and their satellites by the United Nations until the aggressors prove their willingness and ability to live at peace with other nations.

3. Disputes must be settled by peaceful means. An international court of justice would provide respect for law and obligations.

4. Freedom is to be assured by removal of economic and political shackles. Errors of extreme nationalism that caused the present war must be avoided.

EGYPT:
Air Power Tells

It had become increasingly clear that air power was assuming a decisive role in the fight for Egypt. Steady reinforcements of the British air arm had enabled the Imperials to launch an offensive along the 35-mile front from El Alamein on the Mediterranean to the Quattera marshes, paced by an RAF onslaught that drove Nazi planes from the sky.

The British drive dislodged the Nazis from oft-disputed Tel el Eisa (Hill of Jesus) in the north and succeeded in making considerable headway along the center.

Activity by the Allies had followed a week-long assault by American and British planes and British warships on the North African coastal highway on which German Marshal Rommel had rushed reinforcements to offset the capture of 6,000 Italians on the Egyptian front in previous engagements. In raids covering 275 miles of Rommel's exposed supply route, British planes virtually wiped out the El Daba airport near the Egyptian lines.

REQUIEM:
For U-Boat Crew

Burial with military honors is the hope of friend or foe alike, if death in battle is the fighting man's lot. Thus a tradition sanctioned by the ages was followed when the bodies of 29 German submarine crew members were buried in Hampton, Va. The victims were the first enemy dead to be landed on American shores since the beginning of the war.

The bodies and a few empty life jackets were all that remained afloat after a destroyer on Atlantic patrol sank the U-boat. The same honors were accorded the enemy as Americans might wish for their own dead, if the circumstances were reversed. Navy chaplains read the requiem. A navy firing squad fired a salute of three volleys. A navy bugler sounded taps.

RUSSIAN FRONT:
'Terrible Days'

The gravity of the Russian situation could not be underestimated and no attempt was made to belittle its seriousness. Germany's report of the fall of Rostov emphasized the crisis.

As the sorely pressed Russians guarding the approaches to the Caucasus and the Volga river had fallen back before the million-man German army smashing its way southeast down the Don river valley, the Soviet army organ, Red Star, said frankly: "Terrible days face the country." It called upon the fighting men of Russia to emulate the example of 28 Red soldiers, who in the defense of Moscow last winter, died fighting a tank charge with little more than their bare hands.

The speed of the new Nazi drive against the Reds' celebrated defense-in-depth technique was believed to be due to the Germans' use of a crushing, mass maneuver which employed monster tanks, armored trains, heavy mortars and an unprecedented concentration of air power.

Only comforting note in the bleak picture was the success of Russian soldiers in regaining ground far to the north in their counter-offensive around Voronezh. By turning the Nazis back here, Marshal Timoshenko might be able to take some of the pressure off Red forces in the deep South who had fought with their backs to the wall in defense of Rostov.

U. S. CASUALTIES:
Show War's Trend

Casualty figures released by the Office of War Information revealed that the navy's losses since Pearl Harbor were 15 times greater than for the entire span of World War I.

The OWI's statistics disclosed navy casualties thus far totaling 12,143 compared with 871 in the first World war. The current casualties included 3,420 killed; 1,051 wounded and 7,051 missing. Those of World War I included 356 killed in action; 58 died of wounds and 456 lost at sea.

The army's losses in the present war, were placed at 19,767. These included 902 killed; 1,413 wounded and 17,452 missing. That the Philippine Scouts trained under General MacArthur had given a heroic account of themselves was indicated by casualties listing 479 killed; 754 wounded and 11,000 missing.

Casualties for all services were placed at 44,413.

"The bulk of the army casualties fall into the category of missing," the OWI said.

FEMININE ARMY:
WAAC Trains Hard

Every morning at 5:45 a. m. from now until next November 9, 800 members of the newly organized Women's Auxiliary Army corps will leap from their army cots to begin a crowded day of drills, lectures and training at their camp at Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

By November 9, America's first feminine army of occupation will begin to spread out to 19 forts throughout the country to relieve men in the armed forces for active combat duty.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

LONDON: The British information service said that British women are now nearly 100 per cent mobilized. Of 15,800,000 women between the ages of 18 and 64, the agency said, 7,500,000 are doing full time jobs in war production. About 670,000 others are disabled and 5,500,000 are taking care of families. Many others are serving in the auxiliaries of the army and navy.

WASHINGTON: The importance of the $100,000,000 dab industry to the nation's wartime food supply was stressed by President Roosevelt as he appointed Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes to be fisheries co-ordinator. Acting under his wartime powers, the President created the co-ordination office for the purpose of "developing and assuring sustained production."

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

Washington, D. C.

PROFESSOR VS. SUBS

Governor Rex Tugwell of Puerto Rico was flying from his post to the British island of Jamaica a short time ago, and just before he stepped into the plane, the young naval pilot said:

"I don't suppose we'll see anything. But we might as well be ready just in case."

So they loaded the plane with half a dozen depth charges. It was a small transport plane, had no regular bomb bay, so the depth charges were merely placed on the seats.

Out over the Caribbean, suddenly the pilot looked down, said, "There she is." Below them with its conning tower above water, was a Nazi submarine.

Both the pilot and Governor Tugwell resched for the depth charges, opened the window. But before they could drop even one, the submarine had submerged. The ex-braintruster came home with no submarine scalp in his professorial belt.

—Buy War Bonds—

EYE TRICK

The war has spawned a number of rackets, designed both to gain deferment for unwilling draftees and to aid others in passing their physical examinations. But the most ingenious to date was uncovered by the navy department.

A Washington doctor has been restoring 20-20 (perfect) eyesight to applicants for commissions — long enough to enable them to pass their "physicals"—by injecting a high-powered drug. The trick was brought to light during an examination of a young commission-seeker with defective vision.

He had been examined three times and each time wss told to go home and prsctice eye exercises. But his eyesight remained 31-9, far below the required standard. After the third test, the applicant was told he would be given one more chance. If he flunked again, he would be rejected.

When he returned the fourth time, he amazed the navy eye doctor by passing with a 20-20 mark. Doubting that the exercises had achieved such a phenomenal result, the doctor decided to make s check. He sent the applicsnt into an sdjoining room and kept him there five hours.

Then he was given another examination. This time his vision was found to be 31-9 again.

The applicant finally broke down and admitted that his temporary perfect vision had been due to a shot in the arm given him by a Washington doctor. This doctor, he said, had told him to make sure he was examined within "four or five hours" after the injection, as its effect would last only that long.

• • •

NAZI FOOD SHORTAGE

Word from inside Germany makes it clear that Nazi officials are anticipating a hard winter, even if Hitler does take the vast granary of South Russia. They have already completed arrangements for emergency food distribution, in anticipation of serious shortages.

The plan calls fer community feeding throughout Germany. It would mean that families would no longer sit down to dinner in their own homes, but would line up at a community feeding center for a government handout.

Under this system, the hausfrau would not buy her own provisions, ration cards would be replsced by meal tickets, and one-dish meals of the "stew" type would be handed out several times a week.

Under this system, the Nazis will be able to distribute food supplies more efficiently, with greater use of substitutes, and with equal treatment for sll.

Hitler may not see the irony of it, but this system brings, him to communism, from which he professes to be so eager to "save Europe."

—Buy War Bonds—

MERRY-GO-ROUND

¶ Opening prayer in the senate was offered recently not by a clergyman but by a member of the U. S. senate itself — Berkeley L. Bunker of Nevada, a former bishop in the Mormon church.

¶ "Whenever I come to Washington," says Walter Winchell, "I am amazed at the number of big men supposed to be working for the country who spend their time working against each other."

¶ Curtailment of musical instrument production will save enough metal to build 12,000 six-ton trucks, more than 100 big tanks, 500 pieces of heavy artillery, and 50,000,000 rounds of machine-gun ammunition.

¶ The OPA soon w'll crack down on a number of tire recappers on charges of incompetent workmanship and waste of vital materials.

¶ Hon Wu, chief of the 500 Chinese residents in Chicago's Chinatown, points proudly to the fact that his group was one of the first in Chicago to be organized for civilian defense.

¶ Northrop Aircraft company has evolved a new welding process that is claimed will revolutionize plane making. The new method will permit the construction of all-magnesium planes. Magnesium is one-third lighter than aluminum.

Washington Digest

New Unity Given French As U. S. Pledges Its Aid

State Department Declaration Gives Added Hope to Struggling People in Resisting Nazi Oppression.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Features, 1343 H Street, N. W. Washington, D. C.

Half way between July 4, America's Independence day, and July 14, the anniversary of the acceptance of the French constitution, there falls a date that some day may be celebrated as a milestone in Franco-American history.

On July 9, 1942, the United States government in a cautiously worded statement "recognized" what was described as "the Contribution of General de Gaulle and the work of the French National Committee in keeping alive the spirit of French traditions and institutions."

The announcement made by Secretary of State Hull pledged "the lending of all possible military assistance to the French National committee as a symbol of French resistance in general against the Axis powers."

The important phrase in that sentence, perhaps in the whole document, is "resistance in general." Packed into those three words is the picture of a group of men who until July 9 had been carrying on one of the most tragic struggles in the history of France, carrying it on without much help or hope from the Allies. New life, new hope began for the French forces of "resistance" against Germany.

It brought new unity to a movement of French patriots scattered over the face of the earth.

Few people realized it, but this guarded action of the state department probably laid the first solid paving stone in the road that will one day lead to Berlin.

Of course, very little can be said of what the "Free French" movement means where it is vitally important—within France.

But it is claimed that an almost perfect intelligence system is now operating within France. The Germans know that what they do and frequently what they plan cannot be concealed from the French if it takes place in France.

Immediately after the fall of France, Frenchmen spontaneously began "resistance." That resistance has now been definitely organized and is directed from London by De Gaulle although groups in France work in separate channels. There are three main organizations: Liberation Francais; Combat; and Franc-Tireurs.

The first form of "résistance" to the Germans was the appearance of little printed labels on walls, on automobiles, on boxes and lamp posts. Just short messages attacking the Germans, calling for resistance. Then the courageous met and found ways and means to help each other or help agents of the Allies to thwart the Germans. The more aggressive began to steal dynamite and blow up shops and railways.

Labor Unions Unified

By this time General De Gaulle had gathered about him leaders and organizers. They were soon able to get in and out of France and the organization work began.

I am informed that for the first time in history the French labor unions have become unified and are working together solidly. The old socialist party has been reformed, the old leaders have been displaced and the group bears the name of the young socialist party. Naturally the communists are now cooperating fully.

The "resistance" inside France is carried on by groups and individuals of every social and political stratum.

Even the recognition of the Free French as the de facto governors of the Pacific islands, African possessions and the islands of Pierre and St. Miquelon off Newfoundland still left the Free French movement as a whole, outside the pale of cooperation. All this time the representatives of Vichy remained in their embassy in Washington but the representatives of the National Committee (Free French) took headquarters in an office building. Indirectly they were aided financially because an arrangement was made whereby American lease-lend supplies furnished to Great Britain could, at the discretion of the English, be advanced to the Free French. But the French movement lacked moral support, the organization within France still felt that it was working with little British support and almost none from the United States. In fact we seemed to be playing ball with the other side—the Vichy side.

The preparation for the invasion of France has now begun with new zeal.

The Free French have complete plans under way for establishing civilian government in territory which will be occupied by the Allied forces. This is essential for when the invasion comes a certain smount of chsos is expected at first and co-operation between an invsding force and the civilian population is essential. Organization for this co-operation is beginning.

The United States government did not recognize General De Gaulle as the head of the French state. But according to representatives of Free France in Washington the official recognition of their group as "the symbol" of "resistance in general" was a powerful forward step in giving new sinews to the effective Allies of the United Nations inside France, paving the way for s successful opening of the second front. It brings the first real hope since the fall of France for the rebirth of the nation.

• • •

Easier Now to Look Backward, Not Forward

Perhaps because a person can't look very far ahead these turbulent days a lot of people are beginning to look backward. At least that is the opinion of Conklin Mann, who recently traced the geneology of Franklin Roosevelt and Winston Churchill back to a common ancestor who came over on the Mayflower and then discovered that General MacArthur was related to both of them.

Mann was in Washington recently and he had a number of interesting things to say sbout family trees. He is really an sdvertising man but his hobby has made him an expert and he is now the editor of the "Record," published by the New York State Geneological society.

"The United States has always been pedigree conscious sbout its cattle, horses, pets and virtually all growing crops," Mann said to me. "Now, the war is making us pedigree-conscious sbout ourselves. With countries and peoples involved in the struggle or seriously affected by it, the whole country is 'root conscious.'"

Mann believes that the reason for the renewed interest in the subject of geneology is thst the stupendous turmoil through which the world is going has sent people back to fundamentals and, he says: "All roots are fundamentals."

"Just having lived in this country a lot of generations doesn't make s man an American," said Mann. "Two great influences have made America what it is today.

"One is a philosophy of life that we define as the American Way—a broad, liberal, generous policy of freedom of thought and action for the individual. The second thing is the flesh and blood men and women who have had the stamina to build up and defend the American Way.

"An American in the true sense of the word is anybody who understands the American Way, lives by it and supports it with his full energy and life."

"Establishment of the blood relationship of Churchill and Roosevelt," says Mann, "makes the characters themselves that much more interesting and bringing to light details of their family history makes the nation's history that much richer.

"And now comes the added discovery that the popular hero, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, though a third generation Scot in family name, is also related to both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill through his New England born grandmother."

Personally I agree with Mr. Mann. Geneology is a good thing if we don't take the part it has to do with ourselves too seriously.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

Arrangements for the aerial transportation from theaters of war of sick and wounded military personnel are being made by the army air forces, the war department has announced. A unit to be known as the air evacuation group (medical) is now being organized. It will provide as complete facilities for treatment in transit as are known to aero-medical research.

Aided by a $75,000 appropriation from the congress, the bureau of mines has embarked on more intensive studies of processes developed by its metallurgists to increase the nation's output of chromium, the strategic mstal used in the manufacture of armor plate, armor-piercing projectiles, high-speed tool steels and other essential war materials.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for August 2

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

ABRAM: A PIONEER IN FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 12:1-9; Hebrews 11:8-12.

GOLDEN TEXT—Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward.—Genesis 15:1.

Without faith it is impossible to please God (Heb. 11:6). The opposite is slso true, namely, that faith always pleases God. As we read the Bible and consider Christian experience, it is evident that God is constantly longing to show Himself strong in behalf of them who believe Him (II Chron. 16:9).

Abraham was not the first man to walk by faith. Before him csme such men as Abel, with his acceptable sacrifice; Enoch, with his walk pleasing to God; Noah, who believed and obeyed; and others.

But Abraham was nonetheless a pioneer of faith. He had many other nobis characteristics, and was a man of such distinction that his memory is venerated by Jews and Mohammedans as well as Christisns. Yet his real claim to an outstanding place in history is that by fsith he responded to God's sovereign sct in choosing him to begin a new nation, to be His chosen people.

We note two important points about fsith:

I. Faith Makes Demands.

In the very nature of things, faith calls for action consistent with belief. "Fsith without works is desd" (James 2:20), that is, not s real faith at sll. In Abraham's life (and in our life) faith calls for

1. Separation (Gen. 12:1). "Get thee out" was God's command to Abraham. To accomplish His divine purpose God had to take him out of the heathendom of his fathers, and start anew. It is His command to His followers todsy, "Come out from among them, and be ye separated, saith the Lord."

Who will doubt that this is the crying need of the church today, for instead of the church being in the world seeking to win it to Christ, worldliness has come into the church and devitalized its message.

2. Obedience (Gen. 12:4-6; Heb. 11:8, 9).

"Abram departed, as the Lord had spoken" (v. 4). He didn't know where he was going, but he did know who had called him, and he went. Faith knows God, and obeys Him without hesitation and without reservation.

Obedience is a virtue that needs to be revived, in the home, in school, in society, and especially in our relation to God, for there surely should be no disobedient children in the family of God. He merits and expects obedience.

3. Trust (Gen. 12:7-9; Heb. 11:10).

An assured reliance on the Word of God is a part of fsith. God made a promise to Abraham. He accepted it, and worshiped. Here was no questioning, no bargaining, but simple trust in God's word. In fact, there was anticipation of even greater things to come (Heb. 11:10).

We need men of vision and that means we need men who by faith can see the unseen, who can see "a city which hath foundstions" even in the midst of destruction and disorder. "In God We Trust" must be more than a motto on our coins if America is to survive.

II. Faith Brings Results.

The world wants to know if a thing works before accepting and approving it. Well, faith really does work! It brings

1. Blessing (Gen. 12:2, 3).

God is always on the giving hand. "I will bless" was His word to Abraham, not only for Abraham himself and for the great nation of which he was to be the father, but to "all the families of the earth" (v. 3). How gloriously that promise was fulfilled in the coming of Christ our Redeemer, who also was a "son of Abraham" (Matt. 1:1).

2. Protection (Gen. 12:3).

"I will curse him that curseth thee." That promise to Abraham is still binding and valid. God is not through with Israel. The nations and persons who have vented their hatred upon the children of Abraham need to take notice.

We need to be reminded that God's protecting care is just as sure over us who bear His name. We too are "safe in Jehovah's keeping," even in what is perhaps the darkest hour in the history of the world. Faith in God brings to us the protection of His almighty hand.

3. Fulfillment of Promise (Heb. 11:11, 12).

The entire promise to Abraham hinged on the birth of a son, something which was, humanly speaking, beyond all possibility. But because Sara, joining Abraham in believing God, "judged him faithful who had promised," it came to pass.

"With God all things are possible" (Matt. 19:26). He delights in doing the impossible in response to the faith of His children. Apart from that fact we might be fearful, yes despondent, but "with God" we sa again, "All things are possible."

Things to do

HAVE a posie-decked frock in your wardrobe! These easy-to-embroider sprays make colorful accents for any dress.

• • •

Pattern 318 contains a transfer pattern of 6 motifs ranging from 3½ by 4 to 8½ by 9¼ inches; illustrations of stitches; materials required. Send your order to:

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York

Enclose 15 cents (plus one cent to cover cost of mailing) for Pattern

No.
Name
Address

GET AFTER RHEUMATIC PAIN
With a Medicine that will Prove Itself
If you suffer from rheumatic pain or muscular aches, buy C-2223 today for real pain-relieving help. 40c, $1. C-2223 at druggists. Buy a bottle today. Use only as directed. Purchase price refunded if not satisfied.

Give Up "Makeshift" Constipation Remedies!
Why fool with constipation? Why try to combat the trouble after it has already made you miserable?
It may well be that your constipation is caused by too little "bulk food" in your diet, for medical science warns that lack of "bulk" is one of the commonest causes of constipation.
If yours is this kind of constipation, those purges and cathartics can give you, at best, only temporary relief. Eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, on the other hand, corrects the cause by supplying the "bulk food" you lack and must have! Enjoy this crisp, crunchy cereal daily, drink plenty of water, and like so many others, you'll "Join the Regulars"! ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is not helped by this simple treatment, see a doctor.

BUNIONS
Get this quick relief. Lifts shoe pressure, soothes, cushions the sensitive spot. Costs but a trifle.
Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$
We Can All Be
EXPERT BUYERS
● In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.
● It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the worlds the feeling of being adequately prepared.
● When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. Thus advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an old friend making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.
$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$

Common Sense Will Help Smash Summertime's Heat

Dress Lightly, Eat Little but Often, Relax, Don't Get Too Much Sun at One Time, Is Way to Keep Cool.

By CLIFF LANGE
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Don't let the heat get you down!

Don't let it keep you from working, or eating or enjoying your spare time. Don't let it keep you from sleeping and getting that so very necessary rest.

Science and 1942 ingenuity have gone a long way helping you combat the heat waves. Combine this with the basic aid of forgetting the temperature, and you'll be well on the way to whipping those red hot, "mid-summer blues."

True, you can't do much about lowering the sizzling temperature. You can do a number of things to help keep yourself cool as you go through your daily routine.

For instance, the first thing to remember to do is to "dress cool." Don't wear heavy, tight fitting clothing.

Clothing has been devised—from the time when animal pelts were the style both for man, woman and grown-up children—as a protection from the elements whether sun, rain, snow, sleet or biting wind. Don't use winter style of dressing for the summertime. Shed some of those clothes!

Yes ladies who are handy with the scissors, needle and thread can whip together some dandy summer work, play or "visiting" dresses easily enough these days. There is still plenty of dress material to be had.

Ready-made dresses are also plentiful, and reasonably priced, too.

Take a look at your favorite store. You'll see both plenty of dresses, and material to make them.

There is no reason, either, why the men, young and old, shouldn't be dressed to combat the heat. Many men, when asked why they are dressed so "hot" in the summertime, usually give an answer which seems to suggest they "hadn't thought about it" or "were too busy" to do anything about it. Meanwhile they continue working with the sweat rolling down their temples.

Men are slow in changing to new, even a more comfortable style of clothing. Those that aren't so conservative aren't getting shoved around by the heat this year like their more backward brethren are. They were more willing—i.e., the married men, the fathers—to see their daughters going around in shorts, rather than themselves. When really it was the men, not the women that needed them!

Maybe, when shortages in cloth, dress goods begins to appear, which it hasn't, as yet, it will be the usual thing for the men to be wearing them. What difference does it make whether they are worn driving the tractor, working in a factory, or rolling a truck down the highway.

Like clothing, food in the summertime has much to do about keeping one from being knocked out, figuratively or actually.

Don't eat so much "heavy" food even though you do have to eat plenty of food, either because of your job, or your nature. "Eat but little, but often" holds more true for summertime than any time of the year.

That "little, but often" holds for the so-called light foods which you see advertised in your grocery, meat shop, fruit store and delicatessen.

In the summertime is when "acid conditions" get you quicker than any other season. It is such a condition which affects you both in your ability to work, and capabilities of enjoying your activities during the heat of the day.

Check up on yourself. See how much of the food you are eating is "acid" producing. If you aren't sure, ask your doctor. He'll be able to tell you without much ado. A trip straight to the druggist from his office in case he has prescribed for you either to counteract an acid condition, or prevent one, is then in order.

If you haven't noticed already, at the druggists you'll see many preparations to prevent, allay, or stop the personal outward discomforts due to the heat.

Talcum powder, salt tablets, soaps, sunburn salves and oils—such are just a few of the many articles available which are almost a necessity around the home during the torrid time.

It is during these hot months when the very youngest, and the oldest suffer the most. Infants, not being able to express their displeasure at being uncomfortable in any other way than their only way, a reasonable crying spell, or a healthy wail, should be closely watched.

They should be dressed with a minimum amount of clothing. Either next to nothing, or nothing. The coolest side of the house, or out on the porch, or in the shade beneath the tree is the spot for them.

The old folks even though less apt to complain about the heat are more susceptible to it than those who complain. They, too, should be made as comfortable as possible. They, too, are the ones who should be reminded that what they formerly used to do, "just to help out," shouldn't be done in the hot weather. For there is a debilitating effect of the sun quickly noticeable on the aged and weak.

One of the pleasures of the summer months are the outdoor picnics, the family reunions, the parties and fishing trips both for the youngsters and the grownups.

Although rubber restrictions will cut down on many of the long auto trips on such picnics and outdoor excursions, it won't—at least it shouldn't for the ingenious—cut down on the outings held in the nearby woods, or even in the side, or back.

It is on such picnics, and side-yard excursions that real summer time meals, old style "Dutch Lunches" can be served. Meals having salads, cold cuts, cheeses, lemonade, iced-tea, iced-coffee, and other fruit juice drinks.

The little extra equipment needed for such meals that break the monotony of eating indoors all the time is available at any of the local retail stores. It used to be during the not far past days that it was thought necessary to travel 15 to 50 miles to a favorite picnic spot. There there would be the steak fry on the fire pits, or the weiner roast.

Today, with plenty of room available, alongside or behind the house, or in the field or woods near home, there is no reason why similar "picnic" equipment isn't available. The war hasn't stopped, in fact, couldn't stop, American ingenuity.

Many times, too, in the desire to cool off there were long trips to distant pools, or "favorite" spots on lakes and rivers. Today, when rationing has stopped that there is no reason why the shower equipment at home shouldn't be given an extra workout.

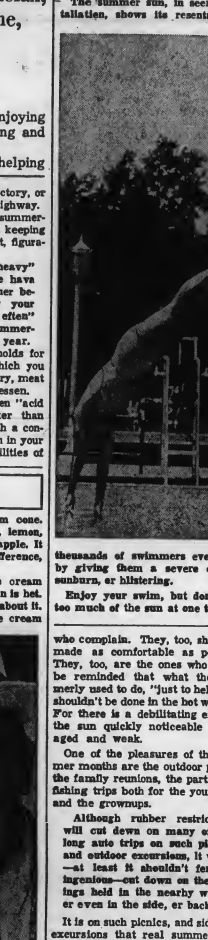
You know, just because it used to be only the kids who had a good time with the outdoor shower is no reason why you couldn't enjoy one, too. Of course if you dislike the idea of imitating the kids and enjoying the whirling spray, why not rig up an outfit for you and the rest of the older persons.

Such an outfit could be dropped from one of the trees in the yard, or attached to a post used for the washline.

This war has brought the people of the nation more closely together than at any time since the advent of the automobile. This year there'll be more local entertaining, visiting, and genuine social life than ever before.

Common sense will take care of most of the heat's oppressiveness. That which can't be taken care of should be treated as a matter of fact. A matter of, "Well, this is the summertime. It should be hot."

This summer has seen, and will continue seeing until the days cool off, plenty of local picnics in which various successful means to combat the heat have been achieved.



You can do more about taking care of the heat by actually doing something to counteract the effects of it. Talking about the weather, about "how hot it is" isn't doing you any good, nor the person saying it.

You got to help yourself, and those not able to help themselves, if you want to let Mr. Sun continue working while you do.

Best Way

This is one of the nation's favorite ways of cooling off. It doesn't make any difference whether you swim in a private pool, a park, river, pond lake or sea—it does the trick.

The summer sun, in seeming retaliation, shows its resentment on thousands of swimmers every day by giving them a severe case of sunburn, or blistering.

Enjoy your swim, but don't take too much of the sun at one time.

Uuum-Humh!

And this is an ice cream cone. It could be vanilla, peach, lemon, tutti-frutti, or perhaps pineapple. It doesn't make that much difference, though.

The man behind the ice cream cone is important. That man is hot. He wanted to do something about it. He did. He bought that ice cream cone. He is now about to give it a genuine workout.

When he was a little boy he learned that this was one of the more suitable ways of cooling off. He also learned that the hotter the weather the more you eat of them, and also the quicker you have to eat them or they drip over your hands.

—King Cold—

This method of keeping cool (or cold, if you prefer) is just one of many hundreds of ways available. This young fellow has a look of doubt, a stiffness of form which causes a person looking at him to wonder whether this is the best method to defeat the heat of summer. Perhaps it is just a spirit of contemplation which has overcome him—lifted him above all mortals, away from mundane thoughts. Or is it?

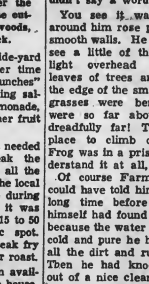
'War Nerves' Even Disturbing Children

The war has created for children many serious problems which American parents and teachers must face, Dr. Clifford E. Erickson of the school of education, Northwestern university, asserted in a lecture at the summer session series at the Evanston, Ill., university.

Basing his conclusions on research studies and confidential documents regarding the effect of the war on English children, Dr. Erickson warned that under present conditions it is impossible to protect children from many life situations which have formerly been "tabooed."

"In many cases we can no longer keep children from knowledge of death, dying, disease, wounds, birth, sex, and human nature in the raw," he said, adding that as a result children are emotionally disturbed.

Tell me a Bedtime Story



By THORNTON W. BURGESS

GRANDFATHER FROG LOSES HEART

Look before you leap;
The water may be deep.

THAT is the very best kind of advice, but most people find it out when it is too late. Grandfather Frog did. Of course he had heard that little verse all his life. Indeed, he had been very fond of saying it to those who came to the Smiling Pool to ask his advice. But Grandfather Frog seemed to have left all his wisdom behind him when he left the Smiling Pool to go out into the Great World. You see it is very hard work for anyone who has been sought after for advice to turn right around and take advice themselves. So Grandfather Frog had been getting into trouble ever since he started out on his foolish journey. He had gotten into scrape after scrape, and now here he was in another, and he had landed in it headfirst with a great splash.

Of course when he had seen the cool sparkling water of the spring it had seemed to him that he just couldn't wait another second to get into it. He was so hot and dry and dreadfully thirsty and uncomfortable! And so—"Oh, dear me!—Grandfather Frog didn't look at all before he leaped! No, sir, he didn't! He just dived in with a great long jump. Oh, how good that water felt. For a few minutes he couldn't think of anything else. It was cooler than the water of the Smiling Pool, because, as you know, it was a spring.

All around him rose perfectly smooth walls.

Presently he opened his eyes to look around. Then he blinked them rapidly for a minute or so. He rubbed them to make sure that he saw aright. His heart seemed to sink way, way down toward his tees. "Chugarum!" exclaimed Grandfather Frog, "Chugarum!" And after that for a long time he didn't say a word.

You see it was this way: All around him rose perfectly straight, smooth walls. He could look up and see a little of the blue, blue sky light overhead and whispering leaves of trees and bushes. Over the edge of the smooth straight wall grasses were bending. But they were so far above his head, so dreadfully far! There wasn't any place to climb out! Grandfather Frog was in a prison! He didn't understand it at all, but it was so.

Of course Farmer Brown's Boy could have told him all about it. A long time before Farmer Brown himself had found that spring, and because the water was so clear and cold and pure he had cleared away all the dirt and rubbish around it. Then he had knocked the bottom out of a nice clean barrel and had dug down where the water bubbled up out of the ground and had set the barrel down in this hole and had filled in the bottom with clean white sand for the water to bubble up through. About half way up the barrel he had cut a little hole for the water to run out as fast as it bubbled in at the bottom.

Of course the water never could fill the barrel, because when it reached the hole it ran out. This left a straight, smooth wall up above—a wall altogether too high for Grandfather Frog to jump over from the inside.

Poor old Grandfather Frog! He wished more than ever that he never, never had thought of leaving the Smiling Pool to see the Great World. Round and round he swam, but he couldn't see any way out of it. The little hole where the water ran out was too small for him to squeeze through, as he found out by trying and trying. So far as he could see he had just got to stay there all the rest of his life. Worse still, he knew that Farmer Brown's Boy sometimes came to the spring for a drink, for he had seen him do it. That meant that the very next time he came he would find Grandfather Frog, because there was no place to hide. When Grandfather Frog thought of that he just lost heart. Yes, sir, he just lost heart. He gave up all hope of ever seeing the Smiling Pool again, and two big tears ran out of his big goggly eyes.

Associated Newspapers—WNU Features.

French Ship Launched

France's first passenger ship built since the war started, the Kairouan, was launched near Toulon in January of 1942 and was to carry passengers and freight between Marseilles and the French colonies in North Africa. It provided high class accommodations for 1,500 passengers. It had a capacity of 1,500 tons of merchandise and could handle 80,000 crates of fruits and vegetables, with 100 tons of perishable foods and 4,000 tons of meat in its two cold storage chambers.

Household News

by Lynn Chambers

Garden—Fresh Vegetables Bring Health to Your Table
(See Recipes Below.)

Summer Salads

Salads with summertime meals form a perfect alliance bringing your family precious pep-giving minerals and vitamins. Vitamins A, B, and C are well represented in crisp celery, golden skinned carrots, rosy cheeked tomatoes, green glowing cucumbers and lettuce. Dress them up with a light liquid salad oil blended with seasonings to bring out the hidden flavoring of the vegetables, and you have a perfect warm weather meal.

Tossed Garden Salad

Wash and drain dry your favorite salad greens—such as lettuce, romaine, watercress or endive; a combination of two or more may be used. Cut or break into pieces and combine with portions of diced celery, cucumber, green pepper, radishes and minced onion. Chill thoroughly. Then place in a salad bowl; add Basic French Dressing and bits of tomato. Toss lightly until well blended. This type of salad may also be served with just an oil and vinegar combination as a dressing.

Basic French Dressing.
(Makes ¾ cup)

½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon paprika
Dash white pepper
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ cup mild salad oil
¼ cup cider vinegar
or lemon juice

Combine first five ingredients in a jar and blend well. Add vinegar, cover and shake; add oil and shake again thoroughly. Just before using, shake again. Or simply mix ingredients together in a bowl and beat with mixer until well blended.

Leftover meats and vegetables served daintily in lettuce cups make tempting main dishes for lunch or supper. Have a hot soup, potato chips, thin bread and butter sandwiches and fresh fruit to serve with salad. The next three salads are perfect as a main course.

Veal Salad, Summer Style.
(Serves 6)

2 cups cold veal, diced
1 cup string beans or celery or both
6 hard-cooked eggs
Salt and pepper
4 tablespoons salad oil
1½ tablespoons vinegar
3 tomatoes
Mayonnaise
Lettuce and parsley

Chop eggs coarsely, combine with veal, oil, vinegar, salt and pepper. Let stand 30 minutes. Add mayonnaise to moisten. Arrange salad in a mound and garnish.

Jellied Green Pea Salad.
(Serves 6)

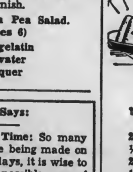
1 tablespoon gelatin
¼ cup cold water
¾ cup pea liquor

1 tablespoon green pepper, chopped
Allspice, cloves, nutmeg
Green pepper rings
1 cup tomato puree
1½ cups peas
1 hard-cooked egg, sliced
1 teaspoon chopped onion
Salt
Lettuce, dressing

Fix gelatin with pea liquor. Add puree, onion, salt, spices. Let cool and thicken. Add peas, chopped green pepper. Mold and chill. Garnish with pepper rings, egg, and lettuce.

Royal Meat Salad.

2 cups diced, cooked meat
1 cup diced celery
1 cup Bing cherries
4 hard-cooked eggs
½ cup chopped pecans
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup mayonnaise
Salad greens



Combine meat with celery, pitted cherries, diced eggs, pecans and salt. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving, add mayonnaise and toss lightly. Pile on salad greens and garnish with additional slices of hard-cooked eggs and Bing cherries.

Savory Corned Beef Loaf.
(Serves 6)

2 tablespoons gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1½ cups tomato juice
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated onion juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ cups corned beef cut in small pieces
¾ cup chopped celery
3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
¼ cup chopped pickle relish (if desired)

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot tomato juice. Add salt, onion juice, lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce. Stir well. Rinse loaf pan out with cold water. Garnish bottom with slices of hard cooked egg and cover with a little of the gelatin liquid. Chill in refrigerator until set. Cool remaining liquid until mixture begins to thicken and fold in corned beef, celery and pickle relish. Line sides of loaf pan with sliced eggs and fill with meat mixture. Chill until firm. Unmold on platter and garnish with watercress, lettuce or desired greens. Serve with mayonnaise or any desired dressing.

To save sugar, omit dessert and serve a pretty chilled salad with coffee and wafers as a last course. You can prepare this in the cool morning hours and keep in the refrigerator until just ready to serve.

Frozen Fruit Salad.
(Serves 6)

1 three-ounce cakes cream cheese
2 tablespoons cream
½ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup orange sections
½ cup seeded and quartered Royal Anne cherries
½ cup chopped nutmeats
½ cup maraschino cherries, chopped
2 tablespoons ginger, in
1 cup cream, whipped

Mix cream cheese and 2 tablespoons cream. Add mayonnaise, lemon juice and salt. Combine orange sections, cherries, and nutmeats, and add to cream cheese mixture. Fold in whipped cream and pour into freezing tray and allow to freeze in electrical refrigerator without stirring. Garnish with orange sections and cherry halves.

Have you a particular household or cooking problem on which you would like expert advice? Write to Miss Lynn Chambers at Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago, Illinois, explaining your problem fully to her. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

THIS WEEK'S MENU

Potato Salad
Cold Sliced Corned Beef
*Tossed Garden Salad
Bread and Butter Sandwiches
Chocolate Pie
Beverage
*Recipe Given

Lynn Says:

Save Washing Time: So many new demands are being made on your time these days, it is wise to make the best possible use of each minute. One way is in how you use your washing machine.

For instance, long washing is not necessarily good washing, and it wastes time. Soap undergoes a chemical change after it has been used a little while, suds "break down" and the soil is actually deposited again on the fabric. Then it is practically impossible to get the articles clean.

Only individual experimentation can show how short to keep the washing of each load, and yet be thorough. Tests have revealed one woman taking only half the time of another to wash a practically identical washing, yet doing it better.

Twenty-minute soaking hastens washing by loosening soil. Then remove water by wringing the articles into the first washer full of sudsy water of the right temperature.

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

RAZOR BLADES

KENT BLADES Single or Double Edge The Outstanding Blade Value

BEAUTY SCHOOL

MILTON ACADEMY Real Beauty Course AVAILABLE
EASY TERMS—Free Kit—Call or Write
MILTON ACADEMY, 7 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, Ohio

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

A stiff wire brush is a great aid in keeping the burners of a gas or electric stove free from crumbs.

• • •

Strained honey, heated and mixed with soft butter and a dash of cinnamon and cloves, gives a delicious flavor to toasted muffins, hot waffles or pancakes.

• • •

Chopped ripe olives with the merest dash of garlic make a pungent filling for small white bread sandwiches to be toasted and served with cocktails.

• • •

Oven pre-heating for short baking jobs wastes heat. Plan to do your baking and oven-cooking at the same time, when possible.

• • •

A good way to utilize stale bread is to make crisp rusks to eat with butter and cheese. Break up the bread into fairly equal sizes, dip into a little sweetened milk, and bake in a warm oven until dry and crisp.

• • •

Copper flashing around pipes, dormer windows and the edges of roofs never needs painting. But copper is now on the priority list. If you have or are installing galvanized flashing, remember that it should be examined frequently and kept covered with paint.

Medical officers have long recognized tobacco as an aid to morale among our armed forces. Surveys among the men themselves have shown that tobacco is their favorite gift. If you have a friend or relative in the Army, Navy, Marines, or Coast Guard who smokes a pipe or rolls-his-own, nothing would be more appreciated than a pound of his favorite tobacco. Prince Albert, the world's largest-selling smoking tobacco, in the pound can is recommended by local dealers as an ideal gift for men in the service.—Adv.

BEAT THE HEAT Soothe and relieve heat rash on you or baby, with cooling Mexican Heat Powder. Absorbent preparation, often forerunner of heat rashes.

Astonished at Million

In Egyptian hieroglyphics, the character representing the sum of 1,000,000 is a picture of a man with his arms upraised in an attitude of astonishment.

To Relieve distress from MONTHLY
FEMALE WEAKNESS
Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help relieve monthly pain, backache, headache, with its weak, nervous feelings—due to monthly functional disturbances. Taken regularly thruout the month—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such distress of "difficult days." Thousands upon thousands of girls and women have reported gratifying benefits. Follow label directions. Well worth trying!

RHEUMATISM
• ARTHRITIS • NEURITIS •
Get Meadenhall's Number 40 from your druggist or by mail postpaid for $1.25. Money back if first bottle fails to satisfy.
A. C. MEADENHALL MEDICINE CO.
Dept. 10 Evansville, Indiana

WNU—E 30—42

Two Wishes

It is one thing to wish to have truth on our side, and another to wish sincerely to be on the side of truth.—Whately.

Kidneys Must Work Well-
For You To Feel Well
24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.
If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.
Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling.
Why not try Doan's Pills? They will be using a medicine recommended the country over, Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.
DOAN'S PILLS

WALTON ADVERTISER

(Established in 1914)
THE KENTON-CAMPBELL COURIER—Established 1937
(Consolidated June 1, 1938)

Entered as Second Class Matter January 1, 1916 at the Post Office at Walton, Kentucky.

MRS. J. R. WALLACE, Owner and Publisher
MALCOLM SIMPSON, Editor

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and All Matter Not News Must Be Paid For at Five (5c) Cents Per Line.

Foreign Advertising Representative:
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1860

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Bonnie Jean Powers and sister, Jere Ann, of Verona, are spending a week with their aunt, Mrs. Ella Kennedy of Hume, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. William DeBardeleben and daughter Janis of Youngstown, Ohio were recent guests of their aunts, Misses Anna and Mollie Chapman of South Main street.

Mrs. Georgia Sikes of Portsmouth, Ohio is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. John L. Vest, Mr. Vest, and son Walter.

A most enjoyable family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Virginia Norman, in South Walton, Saturday night and Sunday, when the four sisters and two brothers met together. The sisters of Mrs. Norman are Mrs. Clara Keister of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Mary Jones of Banklick and Mrs. Liza Adams of Elmwood Place; a brother, W. M. Marshall, also of Elmwood Place, and T. W. Marshall and Mrs. Marshall of Walton. Claude Norman and daughter Judy joined this party Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore of the Walton-Nicholson Highway entertained with a dinner Thursday in honor of their daughter, Mrs. J. T. Liggett of Lexington. Those to enjoy this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Harris Moore and daughter Thelma, and Miss Corrine Moore.

Mrs. G. H. Akers and daughter, Marjorie Akers, of Glasgow, were the weekend guests of her daughter, Mrs. George Caroland, and Mr. Caroland.

Miss Martha Wilson returned home Sunday night after a two weeks vacation spent with her brother, Lieut. William Wilson, in Alexandria, La. Miss Wilson spent Saturday in Little Rock, Ark., where she spent some time with Lewis Shields, former basketball coach at Walton-Verona High school. Mr. Shields was promoted to the rank of Corporal last Tuesday. He is stationed at Camp Jos. T. Robinson, Ark. His many friends here will be glad to know he is looking fine and seems happy.

Mrs. George Caroland spent last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Akers, Glasgow, while her brother, Cpl. Geo. H. Akers, Jr., Army Air Corps, was home on furlough.

Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Alford, Mrs. Tom Percival, Mrs. Margaret Wilson, Mrs. B. W. Franks, Mrs. Fannie Brittenhelm, Mrs. E. B. Powers, Mrs. Bess Conrad, Mrs. W. L. Sturgeon, Mrs. F. E. Fisher, Mrs. Nathan Northcutt, Mrs. Levi Pennington, Mrs. Bryan Rector, Mrs. Ed Hankinson, David Hankinson, Bettie Northcutt and Irma Rector attended the Quarterly meeting of the W. M. S. of the North Bend Association, which was held at Hickory Grove Baptist Church, July 23.

Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Grubbs of Covington were guests Sunday of his sister, Mrs. Pearl Fink and daughters, Miss Ruth and Mrs. C. J. Worthington.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hamilton and daughter of Erlanger were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Clemons of South Walton.

Guy Mann of Crittenden has accepted a position as clerk in the Chipman grocery. We welcome Mr. Mann to our town.

J. B. O'Neal and granddaughter Miss Margaret Percival, spent Sunday with A. W. Conrad near Dry Ridge, and attended services at the Dry Ridge Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Madden and sons of Covington were the weekend guests of Mrs. Maddin's mother, Mrs. Sallie Day, and son Jimmie.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rouse and son, Jerry of Florence, were visitors in Walton, Monday afternoon.

Miss Rose Denny of South Walton spent Saturday evening and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dryer and family of Park Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hudson and mother, Mrs. Lula J. Hudson, were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Walton of Burlington. Mrs. Lula Hudson remained for a longer visit with her daughter, Mrs. Walton, and family.

Miss Virginia Blossom, sister of Mrs. Sam Hudson, who is visiting here, was the guest of Miss Helen Neill in Cincinnati, Saturday.

Mrs. W. J. Crouse and daughter, Miss Barbara Crouse, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Crouse of Frankfort. Mrs. Crouse has returned home, but Barbara remained in Owenton to visit her grandparents, Judge and Mrs. J. L. W. Slaughter.

Mrs. R. F. Johnson of Crestwood left for her home Friday after spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hudson of South Walton.

Mrs. Helen Stephens and two sons, Babe and Bud, of Lenoir City, Tenn., were guests from last Wednesday until Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Rice and daughter Coreta.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Rice are guests of Mr. Rice's sister, Mrs. Evelyn Colina of North Walton.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bailey of Gardnersville, a son, on Sunday at Booth Hospital. Both mother and son are getting along nicely.

A luncheon-bridge was given on Thursday by Miss Georgie Rouse and mother, Mrs. Julia A. Rouse, in honor of their guest, Miss Alice McClintock of Paris. Other guests were Mrs. O. H. Todd and Mrs. Joe Rettig of Covington, Miss Sue Kathryn Bristow, Mrs. Aleen Conner and Miss Masil Falls.

Mrs. Pearl R. Johnson is spending a few days at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hughes of near Crittenden entertained with a dinner Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Alice McClintock and Miss Georgia Rouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bush and daughter, Miss Ora Violette Bush, had as a guest the latter part of last week, their relative, Charles Jump, who is taking Naval training in Rhode Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Grubbs were dinner guests Sunday evening of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Elliott. Dinner was served at Stephens' Restaurant.

Mrs. Gaines Robinson entertained on Sunday, July 26 with a birthday dinner for Mr. Robinson. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Robinson, G. L. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ellis and little daughter, Mrs. Charley Taylor and daughter, Mrs. N. Strunk and Donald Wilson.

Mrs. Lotta Powers of High School Court had as her house guests from Wednesday until Saturday, Mrs. Alice Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Straughan and children Jack, Jimmie and Janie Lou of Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. Gaines Robinson of Richwood had as guests Wednesday, her sister and family, Mrs. Walter Trusty of Cleveland, Ohio, her mother and sister, Mrs. N. Strunk and Mrs. Ed Ellis and little daughter of Ludlow.

Among those from out-of-town who were here for the funeral of Mrs. Lula Galbriath Hazelrigg, were Mrs. Alice Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Straughan, Jack, Jimmie and Janie Lou Straughan and C. A. Hazelrigg of Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. Joseph Garan, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garan, Jr., Betty Jo and Joan Garen of Chicago, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hazelrigg, Mary Dell Hazelrigg, Mrs. Leanora Bossong, Mrs. Chas. Galbriath, Cincinnati, Ohio., Mr. and Mrs. Prentice O'Rear of Frankfort, Mrs. Pearl R. Johnson, Lexington, Mrs. C. E. Harris, Erlanger, and Miss Fannie Bagby, Norwood, Ohio.

HEBRON NEWS—

Mrs. Bessie Ernst had her grandchildren from Hyde Park, as her weekend guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Botts and family visited relatives at Aurora Indiana, Sunday.

Mrs. Cecil Conner and sister of near Bromley, left Friday for a few days visit in South Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Harve Baker and two children, Mrs. Mary Elvena Robets and son of Florence were the Tuesday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker and Mrs. Nan Baker.

A shower was given Wednesday night for Mr. and Mrs. Carol Lee Aylor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gatje.

Mrs. George Thirs of Crescent Springs is ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Tupman.

Mrs. Ida Sprague, Miss Mary Conner and lady friend of Covington spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Conner.

Geo. Beacom left Saturday for training camp in Michigan. He enlisted in the Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wohrley of Covington were the Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Aylor.

Jame sBeall of Hamilton called on Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Crutchor, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Baker of Ludlow called on Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker and Mrs. Nan Baker, Sunday evening.

BEAVER LICK NEWS—

Rev. S. B. Godbey announces a series of meetings to be held at Hughes Chapel, beginning Monday night, Aug. 3. Rev. Godbey will be assisted by Rev. G. B. Trayner, who is known to many in this section. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore and Mrs Lon Wilson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Atha of near Bank Lick, Sunday. The occasion being the second birthday of their little son, L. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wallace of Walton; Miss Rena Calhoun of Georgetown, and J. C. B. Conrad of Williamstown, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCabe, Sunday.

The Missionary society of the Hughes Chapel church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Conley, Wednesday for their regular monthly meeting. Present at the meeting were Rev. and Mrs. S. B. Godbey, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCabe, Rev. D. E. Bedinger, Mrs. Allie Hughes, Mrs. Clarence Struve, Mrs. Elish Allen, Miss Lee Hoard, Miss Rebecca Sleet, Mrs. Shirley Guard, Mrs. Harry Moore, Mrs. John C. Bedinger, Miss Anna Belle Godbey, Miss Viola Neuspickle and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Conley.

Regular services at the Baptist Church, Sunday, Aug. 2 at 3:30 p. m., EWT. conducted by the pastor, Rev. Shirley Spahr. All are invited.

SUGAR CREEK NEWS—

Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton and son spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Miskell of Glencoe.

Sorry to report Mrs. Lillie Mae Leary still in a critical condition at Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington.

Miss Emma Sleete of Warsaw Heights called on Miss Myrtle Edwards and mother Saturday.

Ronnie Miller of Dry Creek spent Thursday night and Friday with David Clifton.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taylor were business visitors in Covington, Saturday.

Miss Lillian Beach of Cincinnati spent the weekend with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wallick entertained friends from Covington, Sunday.

Uncle Sam Story spent a few days with relatives and friends in Cincinnati and Covington.

Misses Faye and Helen Miskell of Glencoe, and Clifford Beach of Elliston called on the Clifton sisters, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Deltz of Cincinnati spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Story.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs Bailey Adams (nee Stella Mae Courtney) of Warsaw on the arrival of a new baby boy, named Douglas Wayne.

According to word received here from Richard N. Shelton of the Merchant Marines, he has been given another promotion, the 3rd he has received in a period of three months. We are very proud of "Dick" and all our local boys who are in service.

BANKLICK NEWS—

Revival services begin at New Banklick Baptist Church, Monday evening, Aug. 3, 1942, at 8:00 Eastern War Time. Rev. Frank Lipscomb, the pastor, is doing the preaching. Come and bring some one with you.

Mr. and Mrs. Atwood Lipscomb and son spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dennis and family.

Almost half of the gardens in Magoffin county were destroyed by floods, and many potatoes rotted in the ground.

Have You Paid Your Subscription

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky
Geo. S. Caroland, Minister
Church School.....10:15 a. m.
Cloyd Johnson, Gen. Supt.
Worship, Lord's Supper 11:15 a. m.
Evening Worship.....8:30 p. m.
Go To Church
Give God A Chance!

METHODIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky
REV. J. H. TALLEY, Pastor
Sunday School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:10 a. m.
Youth Fellowship.....7:00 p. m.
Evening Service.....8:00 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed.....8:00 p. m.
A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

BAPTIST CHURCH
Walton, Kentucky
C. J. ALFORD, Pastor
Bible School.....10:15 a. m.
Morning Worship.....11:15 a. m.
B. T. U.....7:30 p. m.
Evening Worship.....8:30 p. m.
Prayer Meeting, Wed., 8:30 p. m.

Richwood Presbyterian Church
J. RUSSELL CROSS, Minister
Services every first and third Sunday.
10:00 A. M. ------- Bible School
11:00 A. M. ----- Morning Worship
7:00 P. M. ---- Evening Worship
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scouts.
Every third Thursday, Woman's Auxiliary.

UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Union, Kentucky
Rev. J. Russell Cross, Minister
Services each 2nd and 4th Sundays.
10:00 a. m., Sunday School,
11:00 a. m., Morning Worship.
7:30 p. m., Evening Worship.
Each Wednesday, Woman's Auxiliary meets.
Tuesday evenings, 6:30, Boy Scout

GLENCOE BAPTIST CHURCH
Rev. W. T. Dunaway, Pastor
Sunday School ------- 10 a. m.
Preaching, 1st and 3rd Sundays
Prayer Meeting every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

GLENCOE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Rev. L. R. Still, Pastor
Sunday School ------- 10 a. m.
Preaching, 2nd and 4th Sundays

PAINT LICK BAPTIST CHURCH
REV. JOHN ASHCRAFT, Pastor
First and Third Sunday—
Sunday School ------- 10:00 a. m.
Preaching Service ------ 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service ------- 7:00 p. m.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH
REV. SAM BRANHAM, Pastor
Sunday School ----10:30 a. m.
Harry Rouse, Supt.
Morning Worship ---11:30 a. m.
B. T. U. ----------6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship -----7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

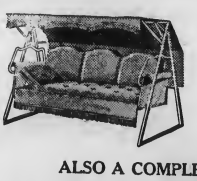
NEW BETHEL BAP. CHURCH
Verona, Ky.
REV. SHIRLEY SPAHR, Pastor
Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sunday.
Sunday School ------- 10 a. m.
Morning Worship ------ 11 a. m.
Evening Service ------- 8 p. m.
Prayer Meeting Wed. ---- 8 p. m.
All times given Central War time

Members of homemakers' clubs in Nelson county are keeping accounts and living on budgets, as one means of helping control inflation.

J. L. HAMILTON & SON
FUNERAL SERVICE
VERONA -:- KENTUCKY

When Your Back Hurts—
And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par
It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.
DOAN'S PILLS

JUST PICTURE YOURSELF HERE . .
DO YOU enjoy good food, expertly prepared and tastefully served?
Our Menu ALWAYS offers a wide variety of tempting dishes.
Our prices are ALWAYS reasonable. Stop in real soon. You'll find fair prices too.
LANG'S CAFETERIA
623-625 Madison Avenue
COVINGTON KENTUCKY



When In Covington
STOP AT
CITY AUTO SERVICE
Pike and Scott Sts.
COVINGTON, KY.
—24-Hr. Wrecker Service—
Cars Washed - Storage

KEEP YOUR EYES "ON THE ALERT"
Have your eyes checked—it's your patriotic duty to keep them in perfect condition.
Let us examine your eyes at once.
L. J. METZGER
Optometrist Optician
631 Madison Ave.
Covington
Serving Northern Kentucky With Comfortable Eyesight

INVEST AT SAVINGS!
COPPIN'S AUGUST FUR SALE
COPPIN'S AIR CONDITIONED SECOND FLOOR
COPPIN'S
MADISON AT SEVENTH
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY

JULY CLEARANCE
SALE
OF MEN'S, WOMEN'S & CHILDREN'S Summer Shoes
—Come Early for Best Selections—
Luhn & Stevie Shoe Store
34 Pike Street Covington, Ky.
X-RAY FITTING

EYE AID
A WARNING!
Because they have no pain, many persons never suspect they are subject to eyestrain. This is a harmful situation. Eyestrain is a constant drain on the nervous system, and may cause headaches, lassitude, etc. If neglected, it may work serious injury.
Let us carefully examine your eyes and furnish proper glasses, if needed. Relief from eyestrain will make you feel like an entirely different person.
Frank Riggs

GLIDERS
and
GLIDER CUSHIONS
BEAUTIFUL as well as COMFORTABLE
ALSO A COMPLETE LINE OF
Awnings, Hammocks, Porch and Lawn Furniture.
Covington Awning & Roofing Co.
3rd & SCOTT STS., COVINGTON HIland 1735

Now You Can Have
INSURED SAFETY
and get a liberal return on your savings!
Complete information with no obligation
FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION
OF COVINGTON
501 MAIN STREET (Office Open Daily) HEMLOCK 1342

NICHOLSON NEWS—

"My grace is sufficient for thee" Not only does it give songs in the night, but when chins are up and a Pollyanna attitude maintained, spiritual strength is given, which enables us to pass through darkest valleys and the most bitter and trying experiences of life, and say as one of old, "Though He slay me, yet will I trust in Him."

Rough places make us appreciate the smooth more. Help ourselves by helping others. Never do anything that you might want to forget. "God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform. He plants His footsteps on the sea and rides upon the storm, but unbelief is sure to err and scan His work in vain. God is His own interpreter, and He will make it plain."

Let GARLIC Help Fight Harmful Colon Bacteria

Out of sorts? Harmful bacteria in accumulated waste matter in your colon may be poisoning you and causing distressing headaches and dizziness. Try DEARBORN odorless Garlic Tablets. Come in and get a FREE trial package

FREE

Robt. W. Jones, Druggist, Walton.

Don't Let

HIGH PRICES UNPLEASANT TASTE INCONVENIENCE

Keep you from getting all the Vitamins A and D you need.

You can be sure that each member of your family gets enough of these essential vitamins by seeing to it that they take

ONE A DAY

VITAMIN A AND D TABLETS

Pleasant-tasting - Convenient Economical

Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping

Rev. Courtland Weldon was a recent caller. Deeply appreciated was his beautiful bedside prayer.

On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Bessie Trapp, Mrs. J. L. Pickett, Mrs. C. O. Morgan, Charles, Jackie and Bessie Morgan, called on their aunt, Mrs. B. E. Willis of Dayton, Ky.

After a fortnight's stay with relatives and friends, Mrs. Bessie Trapp has returned to her home in Tiffin, Ohio.

Another box of luscious plums from Mrs. Boeling was deeply appreciated.

Home-coming services were observed at the Staffordsburg M. E. Church, Sunday, at which an elegant luncheon was enjoyed at the noon hour. Through the kindness of Mrs. Dora House, a lovely plate of delicious cake and fried chicken was received, for which heartiest thanks are expressed.

Dr. and Mrs. John Yarbrough of Waco, Texas are receiving congratulations of their Kentucky friends on the arrival of their little daughter, Martha Ann. Mrs. Yarbrough was the former Miss Elizabeth Tolle of Falmouth, Ky., daughter of Rev. R. H. Tolle.

SHEARING LAMB PELTS FOR THE AVIATION SERVICE

According to R. C. Miller, Sheep Specialist, College of Agriculture, Lexington, Ky., our country needs shearing lamb pelts for use by our aviators. Kentucky has been asked to provide 250,000 of these pelts.

A shearling pelt is a sheep or lamb skin from 1 8 to one inch of wool, but there are only two grades that concern Kentucky producers. Grade 1 has wool from 1/2 to one inch in length and takes a price of $2.15 as set by the WPB and the OPA. The No. 2 grade has 1/4 to 1/2 inch of wool and the price is $1.90. Farmers who sell sheep this year should be encouraged to keep them until they have wool of proper length to make at least a No. 2 grade. The principal source of pelts in Kentucky is from late lambs.

All lambs that now weigh less than 75 pounds should be sheared in late July or early August, except very late lambs which may be sheared later. When these lambs are finished for fall marketing, the majority should have wool of the proper length to make a No. 1 pelt and the others a No. 2 pelt.

Shorn lambs make much better gains and suffer fewer losses from overheating and parasites. The practice of shearing, late, unfinished during the summer and finishing them for fall marketing at 85 to 100 pounds is the most practical method of handling such lambs even if there were no special incentive as in the case of the pelt program. Washington advises that there is nothing in the entire sheep program that will contribute more to the war effort at this time than the production of shearling pelts for use by our aviators.

Kentucky's 250,000 pelts will outfit 25,000 avitaors.

This is a program that required the full cooperation of every Ky. sheep producer. We can't afford to fall down on this program. The WPB has already let contracts for more than 100 million square feet of pelts which will require more than 15 million pelts. This is several times our normal production and it is necessary to have the full cooperation of the entire sheep industry if th job is accomplished.

SHEEP PARASITES: Treatment for stomach worms — If farmers have not started treating their late lambs for parasites, they should begin immediately. All lambs should be treated at least every three weeks until well up in September and should be weaned and placed on clean pasture and changed at frequent intervals. The combination bluestone and "Black Leaf 40" treatment may be used entirely or may be alternated with Tetrachlorethylene capsules, or, if a farmer so desires, he can make one of the treatments Phenothiazine. However, because of the high cost of this treatment, we do not consider it advisable for use at this time of the year, unless the lambs are in bad condition.

MORNING VIEW NEWS—

John P. Schaffer and Mrs. Schaffer entertained seventy-one persons Tuesday evening, July 14 with a picture show on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parr. Most of these pictures were views and scenery around here and people at their daily chores. It was very interesting and everyone enjoyed it immensely. Mr. Schaffer is an employee of the Crosley Corp.

The many friends of J. L. Bridges regret to know she is in St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment, following a wreck Sunday afternoon, but glad she was not hurt more seriously. She is under the care of Dr. Ralph Caruthers and Dr. F. A. Daugherty. We hope Katherine will soon be at home to her many friends.

R. M. Hagan of Daviess county threshed an average of 92 bushels to the acre from 10 acres of Fulwin oats.

FOLSOM NEWS—

And when they heard this they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.—Acts 19:5.

We are glad to report Dan Beach and Mrs. J. Delf better at this writing.

Mrs. Jim Spaulding is slowly improving.

Miss Imogene Beach is visiting relatives in Covington and Cincinnati.

Misses Florence and Nancy M. Westover of Seattle, Wash., and Miss Edith Harrell of Williamstown called on Mrs. Dan Beach Thursday evening.

Mrs. Stanley Spaulding and sons of Covington have been visiting relatives here.

Harrison Beach was in Chicago on business recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beach visited Miss Mary Carter and sister, Missia Brown of Dry Ridge.

Katherine Hall of Covington, who has been visiting Marjorie Jump, returned to her home.

Revival services begin at Vine Run Aug. 3rd. Rev. Puckett will assist Rev. Buttler. Everybody is welcome!

Mr. and Mrs. John Pipes of Covington visited her parents, Mr and Mrs. Ike Hutton, over the weekend. Miss Mary Fae remained for a visit with her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beach and baby, Herbert Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Beach are spending their vacations with their parents and other relatives at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Breeden are entertaining twin girls at their home near here. They have been named Bonny Jean and Anna Fay.

Uncle Smith Collins of Elliston remains quite ill.

Dempsey Beach is visiting his sister, Mrs. Carl Lafferty, in Covington.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. George Pettit of Cincinnati. She will be remembered here by some of the older people, as they lived here several years ago.

Miss Chrystal Sipple, who has been visiting her brother, Merlin Sipple and family of Sidney, Ohio for several weeks, has returned home.

Rev. Buttler preached at Vine Run Sunday and was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Bevier. There were no services Sunday night on account of a revival at Clarks Creek, as several wanted to go hear Rev. Johnson.

Geneva Hubbard was a dinner guest of Miss Marian Sipple, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Price visited her sister, Mrs. John Beverly on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ashcraft visited her sister, Mrs. Howard Osborn, Sunday.

A good rain would be welcomed in this community.

GLENCOE R-1 NEWS—

Rev. J. A. Lee was the weekend guest of J. A. Stewart and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harrison had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield of Tennessee, and Mrs. Agnes Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson and children of near Warsaw spent Sunday with Mrs. L. G. Connelly and son Ed.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schooler were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brock.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Perry called on Mrs. Hattie Brock of Jonesville, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Birdie Beverly and son returned to her home in Latonia, after spending a week with her mother, Mrs. Connelly.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brock spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Carver.

Jerry Garvey and J. W. Cook leave Friday for Ft. Thomas.

Napoleon Homemakers

The Napoleon Homemakers met July 21 at the home of Mrs. Mable Eubanks of Steels Bottom. Eighteen members and two visitors were present. Everyone enjoyed the day very much and left thanking Mrs. Eubank and her daughters for the wonderful day spent in their home

Our next meeting will be held on Aug. 18 with Mrs. Georgie Noel of Glencoe, and will be entertained at her camp on the banks of Eagle Creek.

SAYERSVILLE ROAD NEWS—

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cleveland of Bloomington, Ind., spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Perry Cleveland and family.

Clarence House and daughter, Evelyn spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ab House.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Perry returned home after spending two weeks with her father, Jim Maxwell and family.

Mrs. Gladys Fletcher spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. T. M. Smith and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Cogswell and little daughter of Latonia, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith and two children, Bill and Janet Lee, of Bromley, Mr. and Mrs. Mack McKinney of Covington spent Sunday with Mrs. Pearl Smith and Mrs. Mollie Kinman and family.

Poem from a Soldier Boy

Way out West in Texas
Too far from home for me,
But away out West in Texas
Is a good place to be;
But give me Old Kentucky,
There where I used to be,
But now I am a soldier boy
Away out in Texas, can't you see;
But when this war is over,
Back to Old Kentucky I'll go,
Where mother is waiting for me
In my Old Kentucky Home.

—PFC Victor H. Smith,
Det. Med. Dept. Station,
Camp Wallace, Texas.

SOUTH FORK NEWS—

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon were callers in Corrallton, Monday, Mrs. Brashear going to see a doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler, Mrs. Harry Allphin and daughters called on Mr. and Mrs. Otto Scudder and Mrs. Pearlene Lillard and baby Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Rider and son were visitors in Covington, Tuesday and called on Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donnell while there.

Miss Geraldine Webster, Miss Martha Lee Noell, Miss Addie Brashear and Ed Robinson were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Brashear and Georgia Hon.

Mrs. Ethel Noell and son Donald Wayne spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Scudder and Mrs. Mrs. Pearlene Lillard and baby.

Mrs. Katie Densler and daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stahl and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Sisson and daughter had as their Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elza Densler, Mrs. Lula Sisson, Mr. and Mrs. Ceaberry Ndell and two sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rider and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Rider and son.

Miss Blanche Lamn spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents.

Mrs. Helen Densler, Mrs. Katie Densler and daughter spent last Thursday with Mrs. Dora Rider and family.

Miss Helen Dean visited relatives in Indiana the past week.

Ishmael Sisson had the misfortune to break a needle off in his arm Sunday,

Mrs. Pearlene Lillard and baby Phillis Earlene spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Scudder.

MT. ZION NEWS—

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bingham of Dry Ridge and Mrs. Wilbur Bingham of Crittenden are spending a few days with Pvt. Wilbur Bingham, who is in Camp Lee, Va. Mrs. Bingham will remain with her husband, if she can get work there.

A large crowd of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Wilson on Sunday to celebrate Mrs. Wilson's birthday.

Mrs. Cora Greene spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Vallandingham and daughter Marie of Crittenden.

Mr. and Mrs. Kline Menefee of Flingsville visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Pettit, on Sunday. Mary Mildred returned home with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Menefee had as guests the past week, Mrs. Kate Noell and Mrs. Lula Vest of Walton, and Misses Joann and Donna Noell of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Elliott, Mrs. Pearl Dunn and Harbes Morgan spent Sunday at the W. G. Elliott home near Knoxville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence and children Eugene and Marcella, Mr. and Mrs. Melvon Miller were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller.

Misses Emogene Beach of this place, Mr. and Mrs. James McGuire of Covington, left Sunday for California.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Johnson entertained Sunday in honor of their mother, Mrs. Nannie Johnson's 84th birthday, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Ferrell and daughter, Misses Ella Jo and Hobart Franks Mrs. Otto Johnson and little daughter Ruth Ann.

Lonnie Roberts has a position in Cincinnati.

Misses Faye York, Helen Anderson, Mary Barnes, Marcella and Kathleen Lawrence, Delores and Vella Losey, Ella Jo Ferrill and Evelyn Anderson; Messrs. Hobart and Winston Frank, Eugene Lawrence, Lonnie Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence, all of Cincinnati and Covington, spent the weekend at home.

The Home Makers Sunday School class met at the church on Thursday afternoon.

The Leavelle Circle will meet with Mrs. Pearl Dunn the first Thursday in August.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Day of Steubensville, Ohio and Clifford Rex of Latonia spent the week end with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Day are staying in the country for a while.

Mrs. Basha Hopkins entertained Mr. and Mrs. Weghorn and children and Mrs. Gene Morey of Covington, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Sinkhorn, Bill Yancey and daughter Margaret were callers in our community on Sunday afternoon.

Our Classified Ads Get Results...

A dime out of every dollar we earn

IS OUR QUOTA for VICTORY with U. S. WAR BONDS

21 YEARS
WELDING SERVICE
TO NORTHERN KENTUCKY
R. MICHELS
WELDING CO.
722 Washington St., Covington
CO 0670

SPECIALIZING IN THE PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF EYESIGHT . . .
W. E. TAIT, O.D.
OPTOMETRIST
OPTICIAN
27 E. 7th St., Covington, Ky.
Hours 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.
For appointment phone—
HE. 2088

We Have Become the Dealer for the
DELAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR
and the
DELAVAL MILKING MACHINE

Repairs for John Deere Implements and Other Makes

The Jansen Hdw. Co.
CO. 0910 108-110 PIKE ST. COVINGTON, KY.

To relieve Misery of COLDS

666 Liquid Tablets Salve Nose Drops Cough Drops

Try "Rub-My-Tism"— A Wonderful Liniment

DEAD STOCK REMOVED
SPOT CASH PAID FOR HORSES AND COWS
CALL PRINCETON 7324 or VALLEY 0887
REVERSE PHONE CHARGE
Ky. Dead Animal Disposal Co.
LOCKLAND —:— OHIO

Help Conserve Precious Tires! Automotive Equipment!

LEARN TO REPLACE "BLOWN" FUSES

Many folks always have replaced their own fuses. Those who haven't can be a big help in saving rubber and automotive equipment by doing it themselves from now on. It's easy . . . and not only do you eliminate the wear and tear of extra trips by our service trucks; you also help yourself by restoring service immediately without waiting for the serviceman . . . who may be delayed these busy wartime days.

Here's How To Do It!

If Lights Go Out, check with your neighbors to see if their service is also off. If not, look for a blown fuse, as the cause of the trouble is probably in your own home.

Pull Cords From Outlets. If you're not sure what caused the fuse to blow, disconnect all appliance and extension cords.

Turn Off Main Switch. Stand on a dry surface. Set main switch at "OFF" position, so no electricity will flow through fuses. Main switch is usually on fuse box, but may be separate from same.

Remove Blown Fuse. Replace blown fuse with a new fuse of same size . . . generally 15 amperes for household circuits.

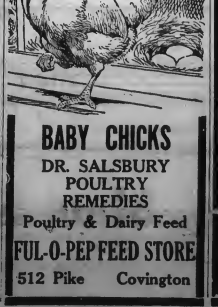
Turn On Main Switch. If new fuse blows again and you cannot locate the trouble call an electrician or serviceman.

Examine All Cords. Before reconnecting appliance or extension cords, look for breaks in insulation or loose connections that may have caused "short" and blown fuse. Repair or replace same to prevent a repetition of the trouble.

Never Use Substitutes. Never replace a blown fuse with a penny or with a fuse of too high an amperage. It's dangerous. Always keep a few extra fuses of right size on hand.

HOW TO TELL A "BLOWN" FUSE

Notice metal link under window of fuse. It is designed to carry a measured amount of current. When a circuit is overloaded or "shorted," the link melts or "blows out," and the current stops. The melted link and scorched spot under window indicate a blown fuse.



WHY FUSES "BLOW"

Fuse "blow outs" are usually due to wornout, damaged or loosely-connected appliance cords, or to circuits overloaded with too many appliances and lights. Without fuses, your house wiring might be damaged. They are electric "safety valves."

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
INCORPORATED

GET THOSE EGGS
economically, with Ful-O-Pep Laying Mash!

BABY CHICKS
DR. SALSBURY POULTRY REMEDIES
Poultry & Dairy Feed
FUL-O-PEP FEED STORE
512 Pike Covington

THE WAY TO GET REAL FALL EGG - PROFITS IS TO FEED YOUR BIRDS RIGHT DURING THE SUMMER

GET THOSE EXTRA EGG PROFITS

Try feeding your birds WAYNE GROWING MASH this summer. It's a sure way to make more egg profits. Your pullets will develop uniformly. They'll come into production at exactly the right time. And they'll have the reserve strength that will keep them from breaking down under the strain of steady heavy laying.

WAYNE GROWING MASH

COLONIAL COAL & SUPPLY COMPANY
PHONE DIXIE 7626
Dixie Highway — Erlanger, Ky.
BLOCKS - READY MIXED CONCRETE - ROOFING
"Everybody's Farm Hour" over WLW at 12:47 p. m.

BOMBS BURST ONCE

By GRANVILLE CHURCH

W.N.U. SERVICE

THE STORY SO FAR: Jeff Curtis and his wife, Lee, are already on their way to Tierra Libre when Jeff receives a note from Zora Mitchell warning them not to come. Jeff is to be chief engineer for a newly organized fruit company. They arrive in Tierra Libre to find both Zora and her husband dead, and Jeff suspects they were murdered. Conversations with his employer, Senor Montaya, and with his friends Jerry McInnis and Bill Henderson confirm his suspicions that there is something strange going on and that Mitchell and Zora were killed because they knew too much. Now on a tour of inspection with Montaya he has met another friend, Slats Monahan. He is troubled because Monahan, like Bill Henderson, is not as friendly as Jeff expected him to be.

NOW CONTINUE WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VI

Curt's curious feeling about Monahan persisted all evening. It was not so much what the man said as how he said it. Restraint in this hulking fellow was odd. Again the impression of something lacking in Bill Henderson's manner came to him. Neither Bill nor Slats Monahan was as cordial as Curt might have expected.

Curt found himself paired off with Montaya for the night in a canvas tent. There were comfortable cot beds on a raised wooden platform, mosquito bars—essential here, a camp chair, a small table on which stood vacuum jug and glass.

Opening his musette bag to prepare for bed, Curt's hand came in contact with the sharp corner of a bit of folded paper, apparently slipped under the flap without opening the bag. Curt pulled it out, unfolded it in the light of the lantern hanging from the ridge pole.

He read: "Curt, watch yourself."

It was printed with pencil, in irregular letters, as though hurriedly. It wasn't signed.

Curt heard Montaya's steps. He palmed the paper, rummaged in the bag, found a bottle of quinine capsules, and as Montaya entered was washing one down.

"My wife's pet phobia," Curt said easily.

"And a good one. It is my rule that all workers in exposed areas shall take daily doses."

Getting to sleep wasn't easy. Curt lay staring in the dark. Who had had an opportunity to slip that note into his bag? Here at this camp at some time during the evening each of the group had had occasion to leave the mess tent where they'd been talking and downing cold drinks after dinner.

Henderson and Monahan, of all these men, knew that musette bag of old. It had been a familiar piece of Curt's field equipment, swinging from his shoulder or hanging over the back of a chair in camp. So the note came from one of the two.

"Watch yourself." It tied in with Zora Mitchell's "Don't come!" warning. A string of suppositions flooded Curt's mind again, circled, and suddenly one shot off on a tangent.

His thoughts raced. The Chief Engineer for the Compania Agricola Tropical was the key figure in their getting into production.

This murder of Mitchell—was it beyond Old Man Moore to hire the job done? Big business has few scruples when it comes to protecting or advancing its interests, especially in frontier work such as this.

Pursuing this idea, there was another possibility. Perhaps Montaya had personal enemies who would want to slow up the planting.

On this new theme—was it Mitchell the man, or Mitchell the Chief Engineer, who was killed?—Curt finally fell asleep.

Sleep washes our minds. When Curt awoke in the morning he did not remember at once the note slipped into his musette bag, but first sight of Slats Monahan brought it back with a rush.

Monahan, having shaved before a mirror hung outside on the wall of his tent, was now dancing noisily under a shower.

Curt, in breeches and boots, made for the mirror and began lathering his face. He shivered involuntarily at sight of the other. Taking a bath in this chill morning air required guts, for though this was tropical country it could certainly get cold overnight. Monahan dismissed the native and was rubbing himself briskly with a towel when Curt spoke out of the corner of his mouth.

"Keep your voice down, Slats, and don't look up at me. You touch my bag last night?"

"No."

"Didn't put anything in it?"

"No. Why?"

"Somebody put a note in it warnin me to watch out. Watch out for what, Slats? Any idea?"

"Hell, I dunno, Curt. Got anything to do with Chigger Mitchell's murder?"

"That's something I'd like to know. What about that murder, Slats?"

"Well, I dunno, Curt. They let out it was a grudge killing, and I kinda think it must've been. You know how Mitch was."

"Yeh, I know."

"Only . . ."

"Only what?"

"Well, I do know this. Mitch was stewing about something for several days before they got him, whoever it was."

"What do you mean?"

"Well, he had something on his mind. Last time he came out to the job he stayed in camp overnight. He got me off by myself and began fingin' questions at me—"

"What kind of questions?"

"About the freight comin' up river. Curt, I dunno nothin' about the stuff comin' in. But Mitch was especially interested in a lot that passed through Tempujo a coupla weeks ago. I did see that. I was in Tempujo for the week-end and Mitch was at San Alejo. These were big, heavy boxes that came to Cabeza on a Jap tramp. Like oversize coffins they were. Eight of 'em, marked pump machinery. They brought 'em up river that Sunday and hustled 'em on to San Alejo right away."

"Well?"

"Well, it seemed like Mitch was mighty burned up about it, like they was sneakin' stuff in behind his back. You know how Mitch was. He hated most foreign goods and was death on the Japs and Germans especially. Nothin' would do him but good old U. S. A. stuff. But, Curt, if Montaya wants to buy equipment without Mitch's okay, even cheap Jap pumps, I reckon he's got the right. It's his money—"

"Stick to Mitch."

"Well, Mitch asked a lotta questions about Lannestock and Ryden. They're the two Swedes—"

"I know. What about them?"

"I dunno, Curt. I've played pinochle with them at Tempujo once

"What about that murder, Slats?"

or twice when they stayed over of a Saturday or Sunday. They're not exactly the chummy kind but so far's I know they're okay. But Mitch had some kinda bug in his head about 'em. Can't say why."

"Go on about Mitch."

"Well, there ain't much more. He said he was sittin' on a powder keg and raved about Loring—you know Loring—"

"Yeh, yeh," came impatiently from Curt.

Loring had been American Consul at Soledad for years. He'd been appointed through influence of Associated Growers and was their man first and last. Loring was as un-American a person as could have been selected for the job—hadn't even been to the States in sixteen years.

"Well, what griped Mitch," Monahan went on, "was that Loring was the closest official an American could go to for help, and he wasn't any good. But don't ask me what kind of help. A guy 'that'd blow the lid off' was Mitch's words. Mitch complained that he couldn't get to the Canal Zone. Two-three times he muttered about how close we are to the Canal, yet not close enough for it to do him any good. 'It may be a coupla days by coast,' he was gripin', 'but it's hardly more'n a coupla hours by air.'"

"What do you know about Montaya?"

"Nothin' much, Curt. Heard he was hooked up with Cedillo in that Mexican revolt that failed."

"I know, heard that myself. I mean something definite. Nothing more'n that?"

"I don't know a thing. Except I wouldn't play poker with him on a bet. There he is now, Curt."

"Under your hat, Slats."

"Sure."

Breakfast over, Montaya and Curt accompanied the dragline crew to the job. Random, the engineer in charge, went along. No time was wasted getting down to work, machine crew, ground crew, trimmers, all jumping to it. The apparent richness of the soil which the dragline turned over was amazing. Certainly all the Spaniard had claimed it to be.

Montaya and Curt spent little time at the working job. Mules, good Missouri mules that could cover ground at a comfortable lope, carried them on an inspection of the levee along the river to its end.

It was flat country they traversed, and the levee loomed high. Ahead, to the left, the Quebrado range stretched into dim haze. At the end of the river section of levee the two men urged their mules up the steep embankment. Here was half a kilometer or so of open space between the river and the Quebrado Mountains. Across this open stretch the levee made a wide elbow, reaching all the way from the river to the hills, which insured the upper end of the valley against future flooding.

From the ridge they had a clear view south and east from the Negro, where the planting was progressing rapidly. Montaya — by some unknown magic as fresh and clean as when he left San Alejo yesterday—waved his arm in a vast arc.

"We have planted about four hundred acres weekly," he proclaimed proudly. "When once this levee is complete we shall step that up to eight hundred! This section here before us will be bearing by the time the rains come this year."

The banana plants, set 20 feet apart, were now from ten to fourteen feet high. Healthy, vigorous plants, as fine a new stand as Curt had ever seen. Maybe Dr. Toenjes really had a secret worth guarding!

In the distance Curt saw a plane flying back and forth, back and forth over the land, maintaining an even low height. Bringing his field glasses into play he saw that the plane was dropping from its tail a white something which formed a rapidly settling cloud.

Ah, he thought, Dr. Toenjes' precious formula. I could bet a month's pay it's straight lime in spite of all he says about his "zegred" ingredients.

The soil among the present planting showed traces of the treatment. The ground was faintly leprous with lime not yet entirely soaked into the soil by rain.

Curt had a moment's thought of getting, unknown to Montaya, a sample of the white stuff to be analyzed for his own satisfaction. But he didn't know enough of chemistry to do it himself, and there was certainly no one here of whom he could ask the favor; nor would it be right to sneak a sample over to McInnis and ask him to get it down. He dropped the idea.

Noon found Curt and Montaya back at the point of operations. Curt pulled his mule to a stop, Montaya followed suit. The dragline was operating at a steady pace, dropping its giant clawed bucket, hauling, lifting, swinging, releasing its load with precision, and repeating.

It made the efforts of the small army of natives seem puny and ant-like by comparison, yet Curt appreciated their fine co-ordination as they trimmed and finished, and placed the mats for the forward march of the big machine.

As he sat there on his patient beast watching the operations, the bucket-cable snapped. Curt nudged his mount through the muck to the machine. Monahan was already rolling out another cable from the cab. Evidently this was a regular occurrence.

"What size rope you using?" called Curt.

"Inch."

"Have many breaks?"

"Too many."

"Why don't you use heavier?"

"Mitch thought it might jam."

"Let's see that break."

Curt was now at the machine. Monahan picked up the broken cable, hauled hard on it, lifted the end to Curt. This brought him close enough for Curt to say, under cover of the running Diesel:

"Slats, you used to visit with the Mitchells over in Soledad."

"Yeh, that's right. Once in a while."

"Was Zora Mitchell left-handed?"

"Huh? That's a funny question. No, course not. Why? And what d'you mean 'was'?"

Curt stared. "She committed suicide. Didn't you know?"

"No!"

"Three days ago. Night before I arrived. Shot herself in the left temple."

"Shot herself? Zora Mitchell? No!"

"With a Luger."

"Hey! Where'd she get a Luger? Mitch—"

"I know. Don't you get news out here at camp?"

"Only when we go to Tempujo on Saturday nights or someone comes up river like you now. Why didn't you mention this before? Or Montaya?"

"Well, there didn't seem any good spot for me to speak out. And I supposed you knew. As for Montaya—" Curt reflected, then finished slowly, "I don't know's I can blame him for not wanting to spread such news himself."

More could have been said, but speaking of Montaya made Curt glance from the corner of his eye. He saw the Spaniard urging his mule across the muddy ground.

Curt handed the ragged end of the steel cable back to Slats, pulled out his pocket notebook to jot down the item.

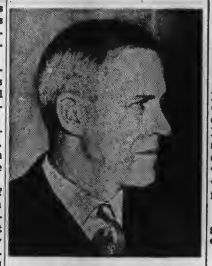
"Ready to go on to camp?" asked Montaya. His eyes said nothing, but they were leveled first on Monahan, the wire rope in his hand, then on Curt.

Curt nodded. "See you later, Slats. Use up what spares you have now, but order inch and a quarter in future. I'll see you get it."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Sportlight

By GRANTLAND RICE



COLLEGE football plans and aims seem to be obscured in a number of fogs and mists so far as the public is concerned. But I can give you one that isn't. This is Maryland university, where Clark Shaughnessy, late of Stanford and the T-formation, is the man on the job.

We have known Shaughnessy for a brief matter of 27 years, since he started coaching back around 1915. Outside of Lonnie Stagg, now with the College of the Pacific, this makes Clark either the dean of present-day coaches, or close to the mark. And I doubt that football has known any better all-around coach, or any coach with a finer influence on his football pupils.

The main point is that Shaughnessy and Maryland, with the full support of President Curly Bird, has set up a 1942 plan that is well worth looking at.

The Maryland System

"In this last spring practice," Shaughnessy said, "we had 87 men out who were divided into four teams, and matched together in games.

CLARK SHAUGHNESSY

"But this is only a starter. Next fall I expect to have at least 500 Maryland students playing football. And I might say I've been spending more time on fellows who never have played the game than on those who have. And it's surprising how many of these like the game and want to play it, once they get the general idea.

"All together in this country we should have over 200,000 young fellows playing football this fall, even though most of them will never make any first or second team."

A Few Arguments

In the course of an evening's conversation it is only natural that a few arguments should develop. One was the matter of the greatest fullback and the greatest running halfback.

Clark's selections were Norman Standlee of Stanford and the Chicago Bears for the fullback job, with George McAfee of Duke and the Bears on the running side.

Our two nominations were Bronko Nagurski at fullback with Cliff Battles as the top ball carrier.

The Maryland mentor was willing to admit that Nagurski was the best all-around football player he ever saw. But he refused to concede the point that any line-battering back could wreck an entire defense the way Standlee could. McAfee was a great ball-carrying back, but I'll string along with Battles.

About the 'T'

Coach Shaughnessy offered three solid reasons in support of football's T-formation.

"First," he said, "it is the type of game the players all want, since it depends more on speed and smartness than mere crushing bulk and power.

"Second, it is the type of play that appeals to the public since it is much more in the open.

"Third, it is the best type of play with which to win games. It is the most effective winning formation football has ever known. It is almost an unlimited threat against any form of defense. You will find the T-formation used more and more, wherever the material is in any way adapted."

Answering a Complaint

One of the main complaints against college football from many outsiders is this: That football is largely a game in which some 25 or 30 trained athletes perform for the benefit of some 30,000 to 50,000 spectators, who get no physical benefit at all.

He may not have the best 30 football players in the country—he doesn't look for anything like this. But he'd like to have the best 500 players, a much more important idea for the general good of all concerned, including the country at large. And to this football arrangement Shaughnessy also has added an all-around conditioning program for the entire student body, which is even more important.

Shaughnessy's idea is to fill all open fields full of football players, to bring them out by the hundreds,

PATTERNS

SEWING CIRCLE

IN SPITE of record heat—relax and enjoy life in this open top princess line frock! It has straps only over the shoulders and is cut to emphasize your slim waist. Hemmed above the knees this style makes the smartest of tennis dresses! Regular length, it is a wonderful heat defier, and, worn with a jacket, is a smart costume for any daytime occasion.

• • •

Pattern No. 8157 is in sizes 12 to 20. Size 14 dress and jacket requires 5 yards of 39-inch material, 12 yards ric rac.

All-Day Dress.

LONG straight lines running from shoulder to hem of this dignified frock give it a smooth silhouette which is flattering for every wearer. The detailing of the side piecings and the soft gathers at the waist add style interest too, to a model which is ideally suited to the season's smartest cotton materials—printed pique, linen, lawn or rayon prints. It is easy to decorate the neckline, too, with clips, a flower or a pretty necklace!

• • •

Pattern No. 8141 is in sizes 36 to 52. Size 38 requires 4½ yards 39-inch material.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
Room 1116
211 West Wacker Dr. Chicago

Enclose 20 cents in coins for each pattern desired.

Pattern No. Size.....

Name.....

Address.....

ASK ME ANOTHER?

A General Quiz

The Questions

1. Which are the world's tallest people?
2. Who was Atalanta?
3. What is the meaning of the stage direction "omnes exeunt"?
4. How many states were admitted to the Union during the Civil war?
5. What are the heaviest things known?
6. What is a touchstone?

The Answers

1. The Shilluks, living in the Egyptian Sudan. They average nearly seven feet in height.
2. A beautiful mythological creature, fleet of foot, who challenged her suitors to a race, death being the penalty of defeat, her hand the prize.
3. All go out.
4. Two—West Virginia and Nevada.
5. The very faint stars in our sky called "white dwarfs." One cubic inch of a "white dwarf" may weigh 500 tons.
6. A stone used for testing the purity of gold or silver. Any standard or test for determining the quality of something.

DRINK Kool-Aid KEEP COOL! KOOL-AID Makes 10 BIG COOL DRINKS! 5¢

Man's Loves
A man loves his sweetheart most, his wife best, and his mother longest.—Irish Proverb.

FOR MINOR BURNS CUTS MOROLINE PETROLEUM JELLY 5¢

Easy Road Back
From poverty to wealth is a troublesome journey, but the way back is easy.

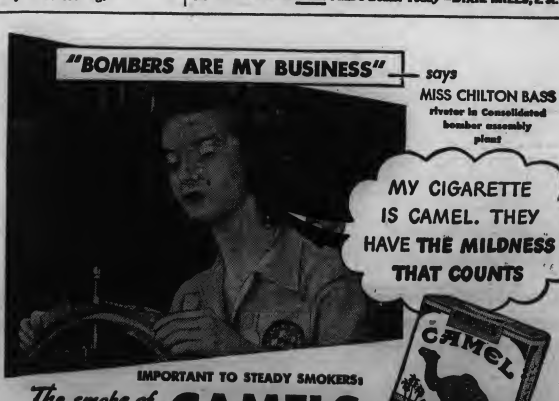
NEW FINE Cannon FACE CLOTH FREE IN EVERY BOX OF SILVER DUST YOU BUY

FACE CLOTH WORTH 10¢ OR MORE SILVER DUST

I'M THE WHITE SOAP, THE RIGHT SOAP FOR LAUNDRY AND DISHES

HOUSEWIVES: ★★★ Your Waste Kitchen Fats Are Needed for Explosives TURN 'EM IN! ★★★

HOUSE FLIES KILL BABIES! STOP FLIES AND GERMS WITH LOW-COST TANGLEFOOT FLY PAPER



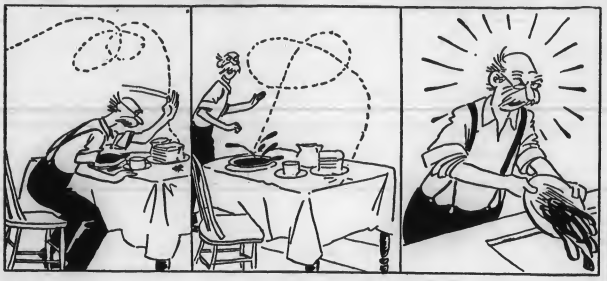
Flies are enemies. They feast in dirty places. Then they fly in and light on your food—and YOU and YOUR FAMILY EAT THEIR FILTH from garbage and privy! No wonder we have so much summer sickness from germs that are carried by flies! STOP flies and you STOP SICKNESS CARRIED BY FLIES! At Grocery, Hardware and Drug Stores

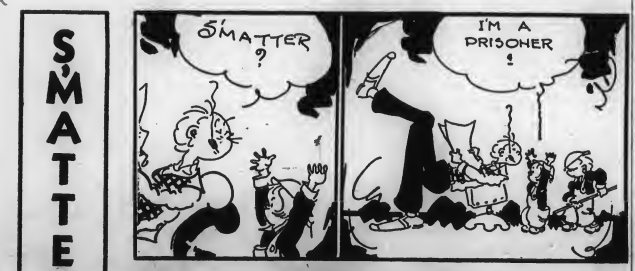
Get TANGLEFOOT Fly Paper "It catches the Germs as well as the Fly!"

FEED AT ITS BEST— DIXIE 34% 32% 24% 16% DAIRY FEEDS

See Your DIXIE better FEEDS Dealer Today—DIXIE MILLS, E. St. Louis, Ill.

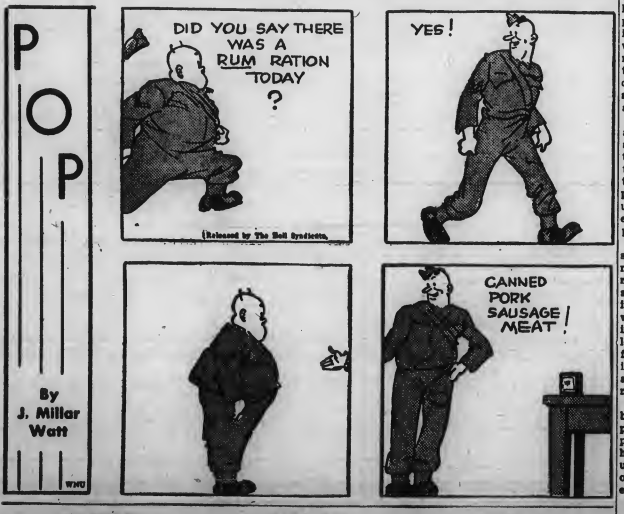
"BOMBERS ARE MY BUSINESS" — says MISS CHILTON BASS riveter in Consolidated bomber assembly plant





IMPORTANT TO STEADY SMOKERS: The smoke of slow-burning CAMELS contains LESS NICOTINE than that of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself!

Camel — THE CIGARETTE OF COOLER TOBACCOS



OUR COMIC SECTION

NOT HOOKED

Bug—That was a tight place you were in the other day.

Worm—Yes, but I managed to wriggle out of it.

Can't Be Done

Counsel (cross-examining a farmer)—Now, don't quibble! Do you understand a simple problem or not?

Witness—I do.

Counsel—Then tell the court this: If 15 men plowed a field in five hours, how long would it take 30 men to plow the same field?

Witness—They couldn't do it.

Counsel—Why not?

Witness—Because the 15 men have already plowed it.

SMART GUY

"Joe is horrid."

"What's the matter now?"

"He bought my engagement ring out of town, and I can't find out how much he paid for it."

TO YOUR Good Health

by DR. JAMES W. BARTON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

VACATIONS NEEDED

A news item some weeks ago spoke of a convention of tourist agencies. There was a general feeling that there was no use trying to push the tourist trade during the war as the minds of the people would not be on holidays, travel, or vacations.

Dr. Barton

One member, however, pointed out that there was never a time when a vacation was needed more by all workers than at this time. The British authorities call the vacations furloughs, which is the name given to the holiday granted soldiers. As a matter of fact, a great many are now working directly or indirectly on war work and need the vacation or holiday which has been shown to help health and morale and increase output of work in the long run.

As to just what vacation one should take, the individual knows best because, after all, to get away from the routine of work at, or away from home, to get a real change is the important factor in getting the most out of a vacation.

Doing what you want to do is another large factor in getting the most out of your vacation. The fact that after waiting for months you are now able to do what you have planned to do, gives a vacation a flying start in enjoyment.

Unfortunately, before some can go on a vacation, they have a great amount of work to do—mental and physical—so that by the time they are to go they are completely exhausted. For them to rush off and do what they most want to do—hike, dance, play strenuous games like tennis—is a great mistake with body and mind so tired.

As pointed out before, the word vacation means to vacate, to leave your present surroundings amid different circumstances.

In planning to get the most out of a vacation, I have previously suggested that it is best to rest the first two days of your vacation to get over the tiredness due to getting ready to go. Then, when rested, you can indulge in the swimming, boating, dancing, walking, climbing you had planned. Then, before you return to work or business, spend the last day or two the same as the first two days—resting and loafing.

• • •

Preserving The Hearing

As we think of the great number of hard of hearing individuals who are now wearing satisfactory hearing aids we are apt to think that we have reached the point where all the hard of hearing accept this condition and are willing to wear hearing aids. But this is not so.

Dr. C. C. Bunch, Northwestern university school of speech, in an article on the conservation or preservation of hearing in the Journal of the American Medical Association says:

"Recently an employer was asked what his reaction would be if someone asked permission to test the hearing of his employees. He replied that he preferred to let sleeping dogs lie. A locomotive engineer was asked if he would invite some members of his union to come to the laboratory for hearing tests. No charge was to be made and the results were to be confidential. None appeared for the tests."

Why do employers and employees avoid these tests? Employers are afraid that additional legal regulations and questions of compensation will arise. Employees are afraid that it will bring about loss of employment. It is likely that most of us, whether we were employers or employees would do just as this employer and employee did.

However, just a little thought should convince all of us that as most cases of hard of hearing are not in an advanced condition but still have considerable hearing ability, the common sense thing to do would be to find out how much hearing was lost, what was causing the loss, what could be done to prevent further loss and what could be done in the way of treatment or a hearing aid to bring the hearing up to or nearly up to normal.

Dr. Bunch recounts the measures being used in factories, tunnels, airplanes and other places and occupations, to preserve, not restore, the hearing. One of the simple methods used to preserve hearing by shutting out noise is use of absorbent cotton ear plugs, covered with vaseline.

• • •

QUESTION BOX

Q.—What is the cause and cure for callouses?

A.—Cause of callous is improperly fitting shoes. Treatment is to soften top layers in one-half ounce of baking soda to a gallon of water. Pare off with a safety razor, but not too close. Then paint on salicylic acid in form of collodion ointment or plaster. Ask your physician to advise you as salicylic acid may cause trouble if applied to healthy tissue.

Farm Topics

Accidents, Deaths on Farms Preventable

Take Necessary Steps Now To Ward Off Tragedy

Farming is a dangerous business. Every day at least 10 persons on U. S. farms lose their lives by fire or accident, and at least 800 are injured.

Many of these accidents and fatalities could be prevented by making farm repairs promptly.

Today when every farm worker is needed in agricultural production, it is doubly important that preventive measures be taken on all farms to avoid the tragedy of accident or death, or interruption in the work program.

Every farmer should make up a household tool kit consisting of a small hammer, a small and medium size screw driver, an adjustable S-wrench, nail sets and pliers.

Put the tools in a homemade tool roll fitted with pockets or in a carrying box.

Easier to Repair.

With such a tool kit handy it is a lot easier to take care of repair jobs.

Engineers of the U. S. bureau of agricultural chemistry and engineering place loose floor boards and stair treads high on their list of farm and home hazards. The short time required to repair such conditions could well be spared from even the most important farm work. Uneven and badly worn floors are dangerous, too, as are loose or broken hand rails, especially at steep stairways.

Broken window glass should be removed. Badly worn sash cords, often factors in accidents, should be replaced.

Weak or broken ladders are the cause of many injuries. Going through ladders is more unlucky than walking under them. Stepladders are a special hazard because they are used so frequently and are not so simple in their construction as straight ones.

A loose board or a door with a broken hinge can be picked up by the wind and do great damage. The farm shop usually has the equipment for such repairs.

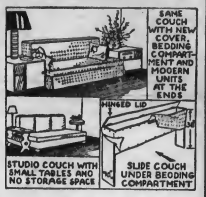
They should be made as soon as the need is noticed. Boards with nails in them left lying around are a frequent cause of serious accidents and a threat of dread lockjaw.

They'll Last Longer

Now that the production of all farm equipment requiring rubber tires, except combines, has been discontinued, farmers who have rubber-tired implements and tractors can make them last longer with a little extra care.

Some of the most important points in tractor care are to keep tires properly inflated at all times, keep tires from contact with oil and grease or other material harmful to rubber, inspect all tires regularly for cuts, bruises and other damage and make needed repairs promptly.

Tractor tires should be well weighted at all times, especially under heavy load, to prevent excess wheel slippage which also causes rapid tire wear.



Unnecessary traveling over rough, sharp rock-strewn and gravel roads cut down on the life of a tractor tire.

Wherever possible keep off the road, and on the earth which wears tires down less.

Heavy Yielding Hybrids

Still in the "laboratory stage" a decade ago, hybrid corn is being planted on 30,000,000 acres of midwest farm land this year, according to estimates of the Middle West Soil Improvement committee. Hybrid owes its amazing popularity to its heavy-yielding qualities. It makes a heavier drain on the soil than open-pollinated varieties. Thus it is necessary to see that the soil's resources of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash are replenished each year.

ON THE HOME FRONT with RUTH WYETH SPEARS

THE upper sketch shows a combination living and bedroom that was brought up to date with every inch of waste space used. The cushions (lower left) were replaced with a box-like compartment for bedding. This was made of plywood as shown at the lower right. It was padded across the front and ends with cotton batting, and covered with the couch material tacked in place through a lath strip. Unpainted book cases were bought to go at the ends and the lid of the bedding compartment was painted to match these.

• • •

NOTE: A new couch cover, lamp shade, curtains or slip cover that you can make yourself may give your living room a fresh start. Book 1 in the series which Mrs. Spears has prepared for our readers shows you all the tricks. It contains 33 pages of fascinating new ideas for your home and working drawings to bring your old furnishings up to date. Send your order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Bedford Hills New York
Drawer 10
Enclose 10 cents for Book 1.
Name
Address

Such a Racket Couldn't Be Kept From Landlord

The landlord was showing a prospective tenant the premises. Everything seemed to be satisfactory, when the landlord spoke up, "You know, we keep it very quiet and orderly here," he said. "Do you have any children?"

"No, just my wife and myself," was the reply.

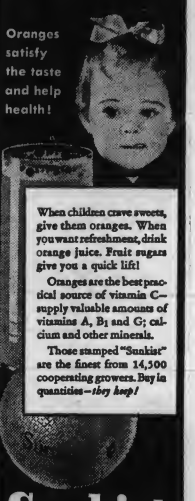
"Do you have a piano or radio?"

"No."

"Do you play any musical instruments?"

"No."

"Do you have a cat, or dog, or a parrot?"



"No, but I feel that in all fairness I must tell you my fountain pen scratches when I write."

NONE SURER St. Joseph ASPIRIN
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10¢

Man's Personality

Personality is to a man what perfume is to a flower.—Schwab.

These 'sweets' have vitamins!

Oranges satisfy the taste and help health!

When children crave sweets, give them oranges. When you want refreshment, drink orange juice. Fruit sugars give you a quick lift!

Oranges are the best practical source of vitamin C—supply valuable amounts of vitamins A, B_1 and G; calcium and other minerals.

Those stamped "Sunkist" are the finest from 14,500 cooperating growers. Buy in quantities—they keep!

Sunkist
Best for Juice and Every use!

Copr., 1942, California Fruit Growers Exchange.

RED BALL ORANGES
packed by Sunkist growers are a dependable brand of juicy, rich-flavored California oranges. Look for the trademark on skin or wrap.

Total of Past

The present is the living summation of the whole past.—Carlyle.

For Years and Years a Favorite . . . Yet Modern as Tomorrow

•When daughter turns to mother for baking advice, grandmother's baking day secret usually comes out... "Use Clabber Girl"... and the young housewife learns that Clabber Girl has been a baking day favorite in millions of homes for years and years.

HULMAN & CO. – TERRE HAUTE, IND.
Founded in 1848

CLABBER GIRL
Baking Powder

America's Answer . . .
PRODUCTION and MORE PRODUCTION

Room Clerkette
. . . world's largest hotel!

SHE'S A "SELF-STARTER"

PERSONABLE AUDREY LINDGREN of Chicago's famous Stevens Hotel is one of the few women room clerks in the country. Miss Lindgren says: "Hotel guests expect friendly, cheerful, intelligent service. Eating the 'Self-Starter Breakfast'* helps me start my days feeling my best, and I love that wonderful Kellogg flavor!"

We accept any Burial Insurance Policy at its face value in Boone County.

CHAMBERS & GRUBBS

Funeral Directors WALTON

Telephone 352 — Ambulance Service

Courtesy and Co-operation

Has enabled us to become increasingly valuable to the public upon whose patronage we depend.

DIXIE STATE BANK

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Classified ADS

RADIO REPAIRS at reasonable rates. COlonial 1121. 509 Scott St. tf10

FOR SALE—2 carloads of stock cattle, good quality, priced to sell. Boyd Elliott, Ottis Readnour, Frank Cooke. Phone 154 Walton. tf35

FOR SALE—2 acres land, opposite Walton Reservoir. James Falls, Walton. tf34

FOR SALE — Purebred O. I. C. boar pigs. Papers furnished if desired. Ottis Readnour, Walton. tf37

20 YEARS in radio servicing. W. M. STEPHENSON, Radio Specialist, 509 Scott Blvd., Covington. COlonial 1121. tf10

WANTED—Mowing machine attachment for Fordson Tractor. Harlie Fisk, Morning View, Ky. 3t37*

FOR SALE—Southdown Rams—"The large type that sire market tops" from ordinary ewes. Ewbank Farms. Phone Warsaw 2318. 4t37

WANTED — Unencumbered middle-age lady, accustomed to all household duties, in modern home. To live with family of four, as one of the family. For further details phone Walton 123. 3t37

AVOID DISAPPOINTMENT —BUY NOW!

Special This Week Only

BREAKFAST SETS...$19. Up

Dixie Bargain House

Better Furniture-Less Money

221 Pike St. Cov. Co. 1750

SAVE YOUR CAR and MONEY RIDE A BIKE

We have the Bicycle Built for YOU.

LIBERAL TERMS

DIXIE CYCLE SHOP

16 E. 5th Cov. He 7335

NORRIS, BROCK CO.

Cincinnati Stock Yards

—Live Wire and Progressive—

An organization second to none. We are strictly sellers on the best all around market in the country.

We work for our customers... first, last, and all the time.

Reference: Ask the first man you meet.

Hope that you will eventually ship to us...why not now?

—Service That Satisfies—

WANTED—Man to crop on shares. Good land. Chance of partnership with livestock. New 4-room tenant house, well built. Move any time after Jan. 1. Send inquiries to Advertiser, c/o C. A. 2t38

FOR SALE—Fine yearling Southdown rams from registered ram; 5-year-old registered Percheron mare; two 2-year-old colts; one yearling colt. C. A. Taylor, Morning View. Phone Ind. 6140. 2t38*

WRITE or CALL H. F. Jones, 125 Division St., Erlanger, phone Erl. 6229W, for the well known Rawleigh products, including fly spray, dip, and insect dust for bean beetles, extracts, spices, etc. 4t38*

FOR SALE—225 White Leghorn pullets, 16 weeks old. Will sell in one or two lots, at 85c each. Robert Chambers, Walton, R-2. Phone 706.

FOR SALE—Large heating stove, new builders canvas 13 ft. 8 in. by 44 in., 24-in. pipe wrench, Fairbank scales 260-lb. capacity. Mrs. Fink, phone 91, Walton. 1t39*

FOR SALE—Sow and seven pigs at R. C. Green farm, 2½ miles South of Walton. R. H. Shinkle. Phone Independence 6310. 2t39*

FOR SALE—Bed Bug and Moth spray in quarts or gallons; Ant and Roach powder in pounds. Write to John H. Nienaber, 1334 Greenup, Covington, Ky. 2t39

FOR SALE—Two rams, one Chevlot, one Southdown. Pascal Bush, Verona, Ky., Route 2. 1t39*

FOR RENT or SALE—House of 7 rooms, or lot 100x300 ft., two car garage, chicken house, good garden. No. 30 Bedinger Ave., Walton. A. B. Winters. 2t39*

We'll Show You HOW TO SAVE

Walton Perpetual Bldg. & Loan Assn.

DIXIE STATE BANK BLDG. WALTON, KY.

E. S. West, Sec'y A. M. Edwards, Pres.

—— SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDENDS ——

ATTENTION

Coal Buyers!

Coal is getting hard to get, due to Transportation difficulties. Now is the time to buy that Big 10-in. Blue Diamond Coal.

—SEE US ABOUT PRICES AT ONCE—

WALTON & READNOUR

PHONE 154 WALTON, KY.

FLORENCE NEWS—

Mrs. Anna Cleek had as her guest Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Mattie Cook of Erlanger.

Miss Sadie Lee Snyder and mother of Erlanger spent Friday evening with Mrs. Minnie Clore and Mrs. Hattie Creel.

Mrs. Sally Muloney of Cincinnati is enjoying a few days visit with her sister, Mrs. Dora Markseberry, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Howard entertained with a six o'clock dinner Thursday evening in compliment of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pierce of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Elry Slayback and family of Crescent Springs spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Markesberry and family.

Miss Janet Brothers and Mrs. J. H. Dean of Cincinnati and Mrs. Maud Bennett attended the funeral of their kinswoman, Mrs. Robert Ailstock, which was held Saturday afternoon at Belleview, with interment in Forest Lawn.

Mrs. Grant Maddox visited her niece, Mrs. John Connley, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Ella Anderson and Rev. Harold Beemon and wife visited Mrs. Fannie Utz, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Robbins and daughter Goldie spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Willis Berkshire and son of Walton.

Lawrence Pope of Lexington enjoyed a few days visit with his sister, Mrs. Ezra Aylor and husband.

Mrs. Anna Cleek returned to her home Thursday after a few days visit with relatives and friends in Maysville.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Beemon have for their guest, their son, Rev. Harold Beemon, and wife of Ind.

Miss Goldie Robbins is enjoying a week's vacation with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Coppage, and family of Union.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Markesberry and sons, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Tanner and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bonar and sons all spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Noble of Cincinnati.

M. G. Martin and wife, Miss Mary Lee, Mrs. Lloyd Aylor and Mrs. Irena Renaker spent Tuesday in Louisville. Mr. Martin attended a merchant's meeting.

Cecil and Lyold Riddle entertained a group of young friends with a party Saturday evening at their lovely country home on the Burlington-Florence Pike.

Mrs. Mattie Cook of Erlanger and Mrs. W. E. Mullins of Louisville called on Mrs. Lon Clore on Saturday afternoon, and Mrs. W. E. Mullins accompanied her kinsman, Wm. Sebree, to his home near Burlington to spend a few days before returning to her home at Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blackburn Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGuire and son enjoyed a visit recently with Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Easton.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Martin had as guests Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blackburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Huston received a letter from their son, Robert Huston, stationed at Miami Beach, Fla., for basic training in the Air Corps.

Miss Alma Tanner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Tanner, and Mr. Roy Brooks, surprised their many friends by being quietly married Saturday afternoon at the home of Rev. O. M. Huey.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Beetem of Florence and a group of their friends from Cincinnati, spent the weekend on a camping trip in Ohio.

Rev. DeMoisey and wife of Walton were calling on friends here Thursday evening.

The Florence Christian Church held their annual picnic at the Cincinnati Zoo on Saturday.

Jeff Eddins, Sr., of Burlington was a welcome visitor here Saturday.

Miss Jean Kennedy returned to Richmond after spending a week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cam Kennedy of Hopeful.

WALNUT LICK NEWS—

Mrs. Emma Willeford returned home Tuesday night after several weeks with her niece and husband of Norwood, Ohio.

Mrs. Sallie Whitson spent Sunday and Sunday night with Mrs. Lena Speagle.

Miss Lura Marie Hughes of Rising Sun, Ind., who is over here for the revival at Concord, visited her uncle, Harvey Hughes, and Mrs. Hughes, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Elliston and Mrs. Bessie Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller and two daughters were entertained in the Noel Robinson home Sunday.

Mrs. Flonnie Edrington called on Mrs. Alfred Brown Tuesday morning. Their little daughter has been very sick with pneumonia.

Cleo Martin was visiting Barbara Craft one day last week.

Miss Alberta Miller was calling on Miss Mary Eva Allphin, after church Saturday night.

Miss Blanche Webster and Geo. Baker's little son spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Webster and family.

Clifton Webster, who is working near Paris was home over the weekend.

Mrs. Mag Chapman is still on the sick list. We miss her from church, and hope for her speedy recovery.

INDEPENDENCE R-1 NEWS—

We are sorry to report on the sick list, Donald Losey and Mrs. Maggie Lamb. We wish them both a speedy recovery.

We were delighted with our number out to Church School on Sunday, and we still hope for a larger attendance next Sunday. We are very proud of our young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ballanger have had as their guests the past few days, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brannock of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Thornton and family spent the day Sunday at Coney Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sweeney and family called on his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sweeney, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klein and Mrs. Edgar Martin and little son visited with relatives of Hamilton, Ohio, Sunday.

Miss Helen Richardson and her mother called on Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney and family Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballanger entertained several of their relatives Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Will Brannock of Kelat.

Mrs. L. J. Rapp entertained the Staffordsburg Homemakers club with a picnic on her beautiful lawn Wednesday evening. All reported a very pleasant evening together.

The Staffordsburg Church School is giving an ice cream social on the church lawn Friday evening, July 31. Come out and enjoy the evening with us. Everybody welcome!

Remember Church services at Staffordsburg Sunday evening at 8:30 p. m. Come, worship with us.

JONESVILLE NEWS—

And let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.—Gal. 6:9.

Several from here attended revival services at Clarks Creek, Sunday night. Rev. Roy Johnson is doing the preaching. He will be with us again this year in our revival, which begins Aug. 10. Let's all be much in prayer for these services.

Rev. C. B. Love and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stewart and daughter and Ralph and Eugene Bourne were entertained Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Stewart of Sparta.

Miss Carolyn Cotton is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Holbrook of Owenton, and attending the Youth revival, in progress there.

Enlow Cammack and Bruce Cotton are spending this week in Ridgecrest, N. C., attending the Southwide Baptist Training Union Assembly.

Mrs. Orville Stewart entertained with a shower last Tuesday night for Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Herndon. She was assisted in entertaining by Miss Glendola Stewart. They received many nice and useful presents.

Mrs. Sallie Steger spent last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Cammack.

Mrs. Anna B. Skirvin and Mrs. Ernest Skirvin of Holbrook spent several days the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Skirvin and family.

Mrs. Laura Farmer and granddaughter of Cincinnati are visiting relatives here.

Faithful Service

ABUNDANT GRATITUDE is due to our soldiers who leave all and go to defend country, home, freedom, Christianity. In their unselfish service, they stand ready to give the "full measure of devotion" for a right ideal.

The Apostle Paul was a great soldier who gave his earthly all for the cause of Christ. In his second epistle to Timothy he said (2: 3, 4): "Endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier." Now, as always, each one is chosen to be a soldier of Christ, to win the battle for freedom and peace for himself and for all mankind.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, in a message to The Mother Church in 1898, wrote as follows (Christian Science versus Pantheism, p. 14): "In your peaceful homes remember our brave soldiers, whether in camp or in battle. Oh, may their love of country, and their faithful service thereof, be unto them life-preservers! May the divine Love succor and protect them." Today these words inspire the grateful heart to uphold with justice, good works, and humble, consecrated prayers, "our brave soldiers, whether in camp or in battle."

In these perilous times shall not each one answer the call and obey the demands of our great Master, Christ Jesus, who said (John 8:31, 32), "If ye continue in my word, . . . ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free"? Continuing in his word, we escape the entanglements of sin, sensuality, and intemperate habits, which would weaken, confuse, and destroy our ability to be good soldiers of Truth. . . .

The battle for freedom is being waged primarily in individual thinking, where the hordes of evil suggestions and material beliefs that seek to destroy our peace and progress are put to flight and made void by spiritual ideas which come from the all-governing, infinite Mind. These ideas are intelligent, loving, perfect, and complete. They reflect the permanence and power of eternal good; they are the host of angels that guide, protect, and comfort.

A young soldier who was talking with a friend said he was not afraid of battle, whether on land, in the air, on the sea, or under the sea; but he was troubled by the thought of the temptations and inducements to do wrong which present themselves. . . .

As children of the one Father-Mother God, all men possess unalterable spiritual independence and poise. These divinely mental states cannot be shaken, subdued, or obscured. They include neither self-righteousness nor condemnation; but shine through the mists of intolerance, personal domination, arrogance, and ridicule, revealing the perfect man. Those who perform faithful service, firm in their spiritual independence, often experience in return expressions of good fellowship, brotherly love, and appreciation of qualities of character that are spiritual and substantial.

A true follower of Christ, Truth, is law-abiding. He follows the course that, from a human standpoint, is nearest right; that will bring the greatest good to the greatest number. And right motives are rewarded in strength and freedom.

When the commandments of Jesus are here and now obeyed, then will there be peace on earth. And all can obey commands such as these (Matthew 7:12): "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them;" and (John 15:12), "This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you."

—The Christian Science Monitor.

WITH THE REDS

Cincinnati—The Reds return to their home base Tuesday after having traveled the National League's eastern section for two weeks. Their opening opponent Tuesday, which will be ladies' day, will be the rampaging St. Louis Cardinals, whose youngsters have turned on the batting steam the last month or so.

Tuesday's game against the Cards will be followed by a night game Wednesday. Shriners of Cincinnati and vicinity will participate in the festivities to precede the Wednesday night game and one of the outstanding shows of the season is a certainty.

Thursday will be an open date, then Jimmy Wilson's Chicago Cubs, who have been mighty rough on the Reds this year, come to Crosley Field for a night game Friday, an afternoon game Saturday, and a doubleheader Sunday.

Mike McCormick, who broke a leg a couple of months ago, is now ready to play again and probably will see plenty of service. Mike's complete batting average since joining the Reds is .294.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marshall were Mrs. Marshall's niece, Mrs. Cavert Rollin, and daughter June of Louisville.

NEW JAMES THEATRE

WALTON, KENTUCKY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday Shows at 8:00 p. m. Two Shows on Monday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 and 9:15 p. m. —Eastern War Time.

FRI. & SAT., JULY 31-ANG. 1

GO WEST YOUNG LADY

with Glenn Ford - Ann Miller

SUNDAY, AUG. 2

—DOUBLE FEATURE—

'Miss Polly' & 'New Wine'

MONDAY, AUG. 3

'Murder in the Big House'

TUESDAY, AUG. 4

Kay Francis - Walter Huston in

'Always in my Heart'

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 5

Judy Canova - Billy Gilbert in

'SLEEPYTIME GAL'

THURSDAY, AUG. 6

Joe E. Brown in

'SHUT MY BIG MOUTH'

It is estimated that 85 to 90 percent of all scrap iron has been removed from farms in Green county.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

All persons having claims against the estate of Rebert L. Sleet, deceased, please present them proven according to law; and all persons indebted to said estate, please come forward and settle same.

—ESTELL SLEET, Admr., Robert L. Sleet Estate.

Political Announcements

DEMOCRATIC PARTY

We are authorized to announce BRENT SPENCE as a candidate for re-election to Congress from the Fifth District, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held on Saturday, August 1, 1942.

—Your Support Is Solicited—

Your Eyes Optometrist

Better have your eyes examined —they may be the cause of your feeling tired and irritable.

JOS. B. SCHNIPPERING

Optometrist and Optician

(Formerly with F. Pieper)

5 Pike Street, Covington

Phone HElock 0700

Notice To All Tax Payers of Walton, Ky.

On August 1, 1942 all delinquent taxes will be advertised in this paper, by order of the Town Board.

TOWN OF WALTON

D. L. LUSBY, Mayor

ABSOLUTE AUCTION

BABY FARMS—40—BABY FARMS

THE SUGAR "TITT" SUBDIVISION

Known as the "Old Ball Park"

STATE ROUTE 42 - CONCRETE ROAD

Florence, Ky.

Sat., Aug. 1 at 1:00 P. M.

The Busby land lays on State Route 42, concrete road, and Gunpowder Road, known to old settlers as (Sugar Titt)—A sweet place to live.

Electric, school bus, mail route, and telephone at door. The public has long waited to see this body of land of rich Bluegrass and woods divided into small tracts of one acre, fronting on Route 42 on Gunpowder Road in Baby Farms, from 1 to 4 acres each. Also 2 acres of creek and woods with all kinds of virgin trees. The richest land the crows fly over.

TERMS—20% Cash, balance, 20% each month for 4 months, no interest, 5% for cash with deed.

COME! Get ticket at office, win the beautiful pony. Hear the Hill Billy band. The first chance to buy on Route 42, the last chance at pre-war prices.

If you don't attend this sale you'll be sorry. Bring your Family, Fishing Tackle, Bathing Suits and your Pocket Book. Buy a farm here.

—The Sweetest Place to Live is "Sugar Titt"—

Rel C. Wayman

623 Washington Street Covington, Ky.

HEmlock 5107 - INdependence 5064

AUCTIONEERS: Robert Lucas, Lute Bradford and Col. Worthington. Atty. & Clerk, B. Harrison

Universary of Ky. Library
LEXINGTON KY

FINE OF $20 TO $100 FOR CUTTING, TEARING OR MUTILATING BOOKS, NEWSPAPERS OR PERIODICALS BELONGING TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES.
See Ky. Statutes, Article 1264

WALTON ADVERTISER

— NORTHERN KENTUCKY'S LEADING WEEKLY NEWSPAPER —

Devoted To the Interest of Boone, Kenton, Gallatin and Grant Counties—Kenton-Campbell Courier Consolidated With the Advertiser

MAKE EVERY PAY DAY WAR BOND DAY
STOP SPENDING—SAVE DOLLARS

Subscription $1.50 Per Year In Advance | WALTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1942 | Volume 28; Number 40

TO RECEIVE HOME NURSING CERTIFCTS.

Home Nursing Certificates have just arrived from Washington for the following persons who recently completed the course:

Belleview — Mrs. Mary Louden, Mrs. Hilda Rogers, Marjorie L. Burcham, Marion Rogers, Elma M. Ryle, Mrs. Espie Ligon, Mrs. Florence McArthur, Mrs. Margurite Rogers, Mrs. Kathryn Clore, Mrs. Clara Hensley, Mrs. Mary J. Jones.

Hebron—Mrs. Nannie Siekman, Mrs. Elizabeth Youell, Mrs. Lorraine Siekman, Mrs. Dorotha Goodrich, Mrs. Nellie E. Goodrich, Mrs. Blanche Aylor, Mrs. Katherine Peel, Mrs. Lorena Clore, Mrs. Hilda M. Hogan, Mrs. Gladys Jackson, Mrs. Mattie J. Ratcliff, Mrs. Sue Rogers.

Mrs. Franklin Clore, Burlington, Route 2, will have all certificates for Belleview, and Mrs. Jammison Aylor for Hebron. Those receiving certificates can help these ladies by calling for them when there is an opportunity.

These classes were taught by Miss Elizabeth Lowry, Boone County Red Cross Nurse. There are also classes under instruction at the present time at Florence, Taylorsport, Constance, Hamilton and Verona.

Besides teaching these classes, Miss Lowry is making home visits and arranging hospitalization and medical care, as far as possible, for school children who were found defective in their health inspection during the past year. Many corrections were made during the school year, but there are always some who cannot get to this work promptly.

COVINGTON SHOE STORE ADOPTS PATRIOTIC MOVE

The Quality Sample Shoe Store, 627 Madison Ave., Covington, today announced that in conjunction with their forthcoming special 10-day Shoe Sale of Nurses' Oxfords, they will invest the entire receipts of this sale in U. S. War Bonds and Stamps.

This is the first store in Northern Kentucky to adopt these patriotic steps in doing their part to help the Government purchase supplies in the war effort. The sale will start Thursday, Aug. 6th and continue for ten days, ending Saturday, Aug. 15th.

Conner Littrell of near Walton and Jesse McMillian of Covington spent the weekend with relatives and friends in Indiana and Illinois.

Late Gardens Should Be Planted

Many late garden crops have already been planted and many more should be planted during the next few days, says H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

Crops that should be planted now include beans, Siberian Kale, Spinach, Turnip Greens (Seven Top), Table turnips (Purple Top White Globe), Chinese Cabbage, Lettuce, Radishes and Beets. Probably corn, Golden Cross Bantam or Golden Hummer (hybrid corn varieties), will mature before frost. Rhubarb may also be planted.

Now is a good time to clean up those parts of the garden where the old crops are finished, add additional commercial fertilizer, if available, and make seedings of fall crops, many of which will supply food in favorable weather, throughout most of the late fall, winter and next spring. Kale, turnips, lettuce, spinach, all of which may supply much appreciated green food during this period.

Many of our local gardeners prefer August 1st to 10th as the ideal time to sow turnips in the garden, old tobacco plant beds or other suitable spots.

ENTERTAIN WITH LAWN PARTY

Miss Ora Violet Bush and Charles Ransler entertained a group of their friends with a lawn party Saturday afternoon at their adjoining homes on North Main street. Games were played, and a delicious luncheon was served to the following:

Rachel Works, Jo Ann Kinman, Mary DeMoisey, Martha Wilson, Blanche Brittenhelm, Anna Lee Coop, Elien Miskell, Virginia Peebles, Lillian Burdine, Mary Tanner, Ernestine Webster, Elia Mae Chambers, Jean Farris, Mrs. Katie Ransler, Mrs. JJohn Gauit, Luke Gordon, Helen Neill, Thelma Moore, Mary Bresser, Lucille Mershon, Mary Maher, Neida Campbell, Lucy Pennington June Haley, Reva McClure, Gertrude Burdine, Stanley McElroy, Steven Maher, Leo Maher, Johnnie Harouff, Jack Crutcher, Charles Watson, Jr., Thomas Warren Jephart, Eddie Bill Hankinson, Guy Carlisle, Jack Hughes, Lawrence Welsh, Clarence Mershon, Levi McClure, Bob Ehmit, Dan Carpenter, David Tanner, Miss Bush and Mr. Ransler. A most delightful time was had by all present.

U. S. NAVY TRAINING TWO MORE LOCAL YOUTHS

Great Lakes, Ill.—There's a big "Job" to be done and two Walton, Ky. men are making it their business to see that it's done soon. They enlisted in the U. S. Navy and last week reported to the U. S. Naval Training Station here for recruit training.

Mixing a vigorous routine of military drill, seamanship, and naval procedure, with a strenuous program of physical hardening, these men will soon be fit for active duty with the U. S. Fleet. They complete their recruit training in the latter part of August, at which time they may be home on a nine-day leave, unless they are retained for further specialized training at one of the Navy's many service schools. In that case, they will begin their leaves when they graduate from school.

The new Bluejackets from Walton are: Roy William Eason, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Eason, and Richard Earl Smith, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith.

ATTEND WEDDING

Among those who attended the wedding of Miss Nida Tomlin and Ensign Robert Watts, Jr., at the 7th St. Presbyterian Church, Cincinnati, Tuesday at 4:30, were: Mr. and Mrs. John L. Vest and son Walter, Miss Georgia Rouse, Mrs. C. Scott Chambers and daughters, Mrs. Aleen Conner and Mrs. Wallace K. Grubbs, and daughter, Jeanette, and Mrs. Forrest Taylor, Mrs. J. C. Bedinger, Mrs. Jake Cleek and Mrs. Collins.

Mrs. Edna Stamler, of the Powder Puff Beauty Shop, and Miss Rose Ann Denney spent the week end with Mrs. Stamler's sister, Mrs. George Dryer. Mr. Dryer and family of Park Hills. On Saturday evening a reception was held on the Dryer lawn in honor of their son, Lieut. Melvin Dryer, who is with the Air Corps. More than 100 relatives and friends gathered for this occasion. Red, white and blue lights were used as decoration.

T. C. Mason of South Main st., suffered a light stroke Sunday evening, while sitting in his yard. He is confined to his bed. His many friends hope for his early recovery.

WITH THE REDS

Cincinnati:—The Reds are home for a week of activity against the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs. They opened their short home stand Tuesday afternoon with a 4-3 win over the Cards, and were to continue against these same Cardinals, Wednesday night.

Friday night the Cubs will move into Crosley Field. Approximately 300 sailors from the United States Naval Training School at Oxford will come down to see a ball game. The gobs will have their drum and bugle corps with them, and will put on a parade, with all of the men participating, starting at 8:15.

The Cubs have been very tough customers for the Reds this year, having won six of the ten games played. This is the series the Reds hope to utilize to even the count. The night game Friday will be followed by an afternoon game Saturday, starting at 2:30, and a doubleheader Sunday starting at 1:30. The night game will start at 9 o'clock.

Biggest thorn to enemy pitchers in the Cubs' ranks is Lou Novikoff the Mad Russian, who, after a miserable start, found himself and since has been knocking the ball all over the lot. He is batting over .300 at the present time.

Cincinnati fans will have an opportunity to see their new outfielder, Eric Tipton, in action. Eric looks like the real McCoy to Bill McKechnie. He smacked three home runs on the last road trip and knocked in eight runs, which is pretty fair clubbing. He seems to have the knack of delivering when it counts most.

Gerald Walker and Max Marshall also have been hitting well, giving the Reds a good hitting outfield for the first time in two seasons. With Mike McCormick and Ival Goodman both ready to return to active duty, the outfield situation does look more promising than at any time this season or last.

DO YOU SEE?

Business needs help who are able to grasp — and SEE — requirements quickly. At today's pace, American business cannot afford to be slowed by poor Sight among employees! If you even suspect you need Glasses, or new Glasses, get our honest Examination diagnosis.

DR. J. O. TYSON
OFFICES WITH
MOTCH
Optician —Jewelers
613 MADISON AVE. COVINGTON, KY.
Established 1857

HEADS KY. N. Y. A.

Mrs. Loretta S. Saiyers, of Louisville, (above) has been named regional representative in charge of the National Youth Administration in Kentucky. Mrs. Saiyers succeeds her husband, Robert K. Saiyers, now a lieutenant in the United States Navy.

JUDGE RIDDELL ILL

The many friends of County Judge N. E. Riddell are very sorry to learn he remains very ill in Christ Hospital, Cincinnati.

60-Piece Band To Play At 4-H Fair

The Sixty-Piece Boone County School Band, directed by Dean Bloss, will provide music for the Tenth Annual Boone County 4-H and Utopia Free Fair and County Picnic at the new fair grounds near Burlington, Saturday, Aug. 22. This band is one of the best school bands and will be an added attraction.

Besides the featuring of special garden and other food for victory exhibits, the fair will give special recognition to all parents of boys in service, and to men and women in the service who may be able to attend. 4-H and Utopia members will exhibit poultry, dairy, sheep, tobacco, garden, corn potatoes, colts, clothing, foods and canning.

Homemakers Club members will exhibit garden, canning and vegetables, while open to the world classes for all will include quilts, flowers, foods, vegetables, a pony show, draft horse show, and a Plantation Walking Horse Show.

The fair and county picnic comes at a time when farmers have finished the most busy harvest season of the year and just before the busy fall work starts. It will provide an ideal time to rest up for a day, to meet friends and to prepare to do a better job in the work that is ahead.

INDUCTED INTO ARMY

Boyd Hiles of Independence was inducted into the Army at Fort Thomas, July 30th. Hiles is a brother of Goldie Wayman, Independence, Route 1, and has been employed by Rel C. Wayman, a Covington realtor.

Mrs. Pearl R. Johnson entertained with a dinner Saturday noon for her relatives, Miss Mary Frances Harris of Washington, D. C., Mrs. S. L. Maze of Florence, and Mrs. Martha R. Wallace. Mrs. Johnson left Saturday evening for her home in Lexington.

WED IN CINCINNATI

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized recently at the Walnut Hills Synagogue, corner of Montgomery Ave. and Duck Mill Road, which united Miss Louise Withson, daughter of Dude Withson, owner of a Covington restaurant, to Mr. George Meinche. Rabbi Hyman Shelonovitz officiated. After the ceremony a wedding supper was given by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Margolen at their home on Kemper Lane.

Miss Mary Frances Harris, Librarian in the National Geographical Society, Washington, D. C., was the guest Saturday and Sunday of her aunt, Martha R. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Maze, Mrs. Julia A. Rouse and Miss Georgia Rouse. Miss Harris left Sunday afternoon for Minneapolis, Minn., and Littlefork, expecting to return to Washington the last of this week.

CHRISTIAN REVIVAL NOW IN PROGRESS

Much interest is being manifested in the revival at the Walton Christian Church, which began Monday evening. Rev. Lee Davis Fisher, Somerset, Ky., is delivering the messages, and Rev. Geo. Caroland, pastor, and Mrs. Olivia Wills, Miss Luke Gordon and Mrs. Caroland are in charge of the music.

Services begin each evening at 8:30 (EWT). You are invited to attend, accompanied by your friends.

DR. RYLE QUITE ILL

Friends of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Ryle regret to know that Dr. Ryle is in Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis last Thursday. Mrs. Ryle, their son, William, and his wife are staying in Cincinnati, where they can be with the doctor. The condition of Dr. Ryle is said to be serious.

W. C. T. U. MEETS FRIDAY

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Walton will meet in the Christian Church on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. James H. Talley will have charge of the program.

Mrs. Dewey Sizemore and children, Janice, Joyce and Jerry, and Mrs. Allen Boss of Connersville, Ind., spent the first of the week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conner Littrell of near Walton.

TO ENTERTAIN CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Miss Alicia Neumeister will entertain members of the Women's Missionary society of the Walton Christian Church on Thursday at her home on the Dixie Highway, South of Walton.

Mrs. S. L. Maze and daughter Sue Ann of Florence were dinner guests Sunday of Miss Mary Rensler, Mrs. Estelle Gordon and Miss Luke Gordon, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Doan and daughter, June.

FEATURES IN THIS ISSUE

No one likes to reach the end of an interesting story and most of us like to close a book every few chapters and ponder and speculate over the chapters we have read. For that reason a serial grips and holds the interest longer than the usual shorts. The Advertiser is now running one of the most interesting serials ever published. The synopsis will bring you down to date and you can then continue with full interest in the succeeding chapters.

Who doesn't read the "funnies" we ask you. They are as essential in these modern times to keep our minds in proporation as any other feature. Keep and develop your sense of humor by reading the latest up-to-date comics in each issue of the Advertiser.

"The Second Front" is a subject first in the minds of the Allies, and one that is causing Hitler no little concern. When and where this second front will be and how Hitler will combat it is interestingly discussed in Washington Digest in this week's issue, by Baukhage.

Whether or not you realize it, everyone resorts to prayer at some time intentionally or otherwise. When you are facing a problem, some disagreeable task, or danger, how many times have you unconsciously uttered "God help me." You were praying, but probably did not make the statement with that thought in mind. Dr. Harold L. Lundquist's Sunday School lesson in this issue deals with the effectiveness of prayer.

Are you one of the vast majority who is allergic to poison ivy—the scourge of the summer vacationist or the casual country side visitor? Throughout every section of the United States this most unfriendly bush or vine is to be found, and anyone who has ever had the painful experience of being poisoned by its contact has a sub-conscious dread of country trips. Dr. Barton tells in simple language how to treat this most painful and distressing irritation in this issue of the Advertiser. Clip and save for future reference.

Hemp Meeting To Be Held Aug. 12

A hemp meeting of all Boone County hemp growers will be held at the farm of J. C. Acree in East Bend bottoms on the Rabbit Hash and Big Bone Road, Wednesday, August 12 at 2:00 p. m. (Eastern War Time), according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The purpose of the meeting will be to demonstrate proper methods of cutting out the male plants and to discuss other timely problems in hemp and production. Hemp seed production is a new crop in Boone County.

Fifty-five acres of hemp are being grown in the county this year for seed. This seed will be used in 1943 to produce hemp fiber for rope making and for use in ship building. Kenucky was once a leading hemp producing state, but the Manila hemp of the Philippines gradually crowded out the market for the local crop. Since the temporary loss of the Philippine production, Kentucky has again been called upon to expand production. Boone County farmers are cooperating in the effort to produce sufficient seed to plant next year's fibre hemp crop.

Leslie D. Cooper, Civil Service Investigator, and Mrs. Cooper returned to their home here after a month's work in Ohio.

FAREWELL DINNER IN HONOR OF PASTOR

After the morning worship services at the Union Presbyterian Church, Sunday morning, members and friends of the church and of the pastor, Rev. J. Russell Cross, will gather in the church room for a basket dinner. This occasion is being a farewell dinner to Rev. Cross, who has resigned his pastorate here and accepted a call to the First Presbyterian Church, Conway, Ark.

Rev. Cross will preach at Union both morning and evening, Sunday, and his last service will be held at the Richwood Church on the following Sunday, August 16, morning and evening.

JOBBERS OUTLET MOVED; GRAND OPENING AUG. 6th

Landlord leases corner, Sixth and Madison Avenue, over their head, forcing The Jobbers Outlet to move.

Everyone is invited to attend the Grand Opening of the new Jobbers Outlet Store at 632 Madison Ave., Thursday, Aug. 6th.

This location, formerly occupied by Woolworth's Ten Cent Store, will continue to be the busy spot of Covington, says Mr. Gershan, proprietor of this popular store, and he promises his customers the same low prices, the same friendly service, plus a more convenient place to shop.

Mr. Gershan further says, please don't expect expensive carpets, high grade fixtures, or anything that would have to be added to the cost of merchandise. The policy of The Jobbers Outlet still remains the same as before. He promises you first quality merchandise at lowest possible prices.

In planning The New Jobbers Outlet Store, Mr. Gershan endeavored to give Northern Kentuckians a comfortable place to shop, where all merchandise is displayed in self serve style, where you buy because you want to buy and not because a sales clerk talks you into buying it.

The new Fluorescent lighting system will make Gershan's Jobbers Outlet the brightest spot in Covington.

Small profits and quick turnover is the motto at Covington's fastest growing store.

As usual you may expect Gershan's guaranteed values to give you the most for your money in their new location, 632 Madison Avenue, Covington, on and after Thursday, August 6, 1942.

RED CROSS WORKERS TO MEET THURSDAY

Since the Chairman of the Boone County Chapter of the American Red Cross is leaving to assume duties elsewhere, the interested workers, chapter executive committee, and committee chairmen will meet at the Court House, Burlington, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to make arrangements for the Red Cross activities in Boone County.

4-H COUNCIL TO RUSH BUILDING PROGRAM

The 4-H and Utopia Club Council will push vigorously the Fair Grounds construction program so that the grounds will be ready for the County Picnic and Fair on Saturday, August 22nd. It is hoped to have the metal on the newly cut grades of the road, a spillway over the dam and a minimum of necessary buildings completed by that date.

The financial problem has been one of the most difficult for the Council. Because of the difficulty in borrowing funds to complete the necessary minimum equipment, all additional contributions will be greatly appreciated.

The future long-time plans for the grounds are an outstanding recreational and educational site that will best serve the needs of all the people of the county. Home garden and canning exhibits will be special features of the exhibit program this year.

DORCAS CLASS ENTERTAINED

The Dorcas Class of the Walton Baptist Church was entertained with a covered-dish lunch at the home of Mrs. Jesse Powers on the Piner Road, last Thursday.

In the afternoon a splendid program on "Forgiveness" was given by members of the class, with Mrs. T. W. Jones, leader. Devotional was given by Mrs. Susie Norman.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Levi Pennington.

Members and guests who enjoyed this occasion were: Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Alford, Mrs. Maud Wilson, Mrs. Frances Brittenhelm, Mrs. Grace Jones, Mrs. Sara Sleet, Mrs. Minnie Davis, Mrs. Beulah Stephenson, Mrs. E. B. Powers, Mrs. Mollie Sturgeon, Mrs. Mary Sexton, Mrs. Dell Northcutt, Mrs. Bess Conrad, Mrs. Maggie Chapman, Mrs. Hallie Cook, Mrs. Julia Pennington, Mrs. Susie Norman, Miss Mollie Chapman, Betty and Glenna Northcutt, Owen Stephenson, Janis Cook, Lucy Pennington, Virgie Pennington, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Powers.

WILLIAMSON-MILLER NUPTALS JULY 30th

Miss Lucille Williamson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williamson of Rabbit Hash, and Mr. Russell Miller, Jr., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller, Sr. of Big Bone, were quietly married at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. S. B. Godbey, on Thursday, July 30th. Their attendants were Maude Atha and Hansell Williamson.

After the wedding ceremony the young couple left for a short trip to Lawe McCoy, near Greensburg, Indiana.

HEAD OF FURNITURE CO. DIES JULY 19th—

J. W. Bellonby, president of the Bellonby Furniture Co., Cincinnati and Covington, passed away at his home Sunday, July 19, Amsterdam Road, Park Hills. He was 81 years of age and on June 24 Mr. and Mrs. Bellonby celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary.

He is survived by his widow and three sons, a daughter and one sister. He will be mourned not only by the widow, but by the other members of the family, as he was a good and loving husband and father.

Mr. Bellonby was respected by all who came in contact with him, not only for his gentleness, but for his straightforwardness and honesty in business. He had been in the furniture business for many years and was the oldest furniture man, perhaps, in this section of the country.

Mr. Bellonby had been retired from active business for several years and had enjoyed those years to the fullest extend, and although failing in health, was out in his garden of flowers only Friday, suffered a heart attack Friday night and passed away Sunday noon.

His life and way of thinking could well be used as a pattern for everyone who knew him.

The funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church, Covington, Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock with burial in the family lot in Highland cemetery.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Russian Crisis Heightened as Nazis Push on Toward Caucasus Oil Fields; 4,000,000 Men in Service, Says FDR; Japs Resume Offensive in New Guinea

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Attorney General Francis Biddle (right), who headed the prosecution of the eight Nazi saboteurs before the military commission, is shown as he left the U. S. Supreme court in company with Oscar S. Cox, assistant solicitor general, after he fought the defendants' effort to have the Supreme court transfer their trial from the military to civil courts.

RUSSIA:
Nazi Steamroller

Inexorably the Nazi's monster war machine had forced the Russians back mile by mile from Kharkov to beyond Rostov in the lower reaches of the Don basin.

Throughout the cruel retreat of 250 miles Red Marshal Simeon Timoshenko had shrewdly played his string out. His formula: Fall back before the superior Nazi onslaught; contest every inch stubbornly; inflict the maximum damage on the invading Germans.

By thus staying his hand he had kept his own army intact and had forced the Germans to extend themselves. But the Nazi resources in men and machines had seemed to be without limit, for it was reported that 12 fresh divisions and 10,000 tanks had been poured into the conflict after the fall of Rostov.

Hitler was said to be willing to gamble the lives of a million young Germans to gain control of the Russian oil fields of the Caucasus. To turn aside the onrushing Axis flood, General Timoshenko had thrown his Red army reserves into a titanic struggle for the preservation of Russia.

The grimness of the situation was underscored by Premier Stalin's sharp order to his armies: "Not one step back! Every officer and man must stand his ground and fight to the bitter end."

Inspired by Stalin's appeal, Red forces defending the approaches to Stalingrad hurled the German thrust back. The Russians made a determined stand on the Don river south of Tsimyriansk, while on the north flank at Voronezh they dislodged the enemy from strong positions.

4,000,000 MEN:
In U. S. Service

President Roosevelt told the nation that with 4,000,000 men under arms, the slack in America's food supplies is being rapidly taken up and shortages may be expected in specific things to eat. He emphasized, however, that there will be no shortage of food and that America will have enough to eat.

To illustrate his point, the President cited temporary shortages of meat in several sections of the country. A number of similar shortages are likely to occur, he said, and listed these reasons for the beef scarcity: 1.—The usual off-season for beef; 2—People with more money than ever before trying to buy more expensive cuts; 3—Greater consumption of meat by the armed forces than they ever ate in civilian life; 4—The necessity of buying in advance for the services, which further tightens the shortages.

The problem of shortages, the President declared, ties in directly with the scrap salvage campaigns now under way—iron and steel scrap, waste fats, tin cans and rubber.

Mr. Roosevelt said he was appealing to every householder, every shopkeeper, every citizen "to dig deep into his attic, cellar, barn and back yard and turn in every ounce of scrap useful to war production."

ALEUTIANS:
Unified Air Command

Vaporous as the fogs that haunt the Aleutian islands was the announcement by the navy of the creation of a unified command of all aircraft operations in that area.

The announcement was purposely vague, however, for as it explained, exact details as to command relationships and the exact location of headquarters could not be disclosed because they would be of value to the enemy.

EGYPT:
Nature Aids Allies

Superior air power, reinforced mechanized troops and a desolate waste of quick-sand marshes combined to give the British defenders of Egypt the upper hand over Marshal Rommel's Nazi invaders.

The strengthened air power manifested itself in sustained attacks on the German fighting positions, devastating bombing attacks on Tobruk, Matruh and other key Axis supply bases by American as well as RAF planes. The augmented tank forces demonstrated their power in Allied advances from El Alamein on the Mediterranean to the Tel el Eiza sector and in the capture of a substantial number of prisoners and supplies.

Of the favorable factors—the third—the impenetrable marshes of Quattara remained as Rommel's biggest obstacle to reaching his goal of Alexandria and the Suez canal. This vast sink which reaches from the interior of the Sahara to within 35 miles of the Mediterranean coast at El Alamein, prevented the wily Axis general from attempting a flanking movement around the British lines. Although Arab caravans have crossed the tip of the Quattara marshes, the shifting dunes, the quick-sands and the marshy quagmires made the use of tanks and mechanized equipment impossible.

PACIFIC AREA:
Japs in the Jungle

After giving Gen. Douglas MacArthur more than three months time in which to ship men, guns, fighter planes and bombers to the eastern edge of New Guinea, the Japs had resumed offensive movements against Port Moresby and extended aerial feelers toward the Allies' rear bases on the Australian mainland.

The Jap strategy was to advance toward Port Moresby by means of land patrols along a narrow trail leading toward a strategic mountain pass in the Owen Stanley range from their recently won base at Buna.

American and Australian troops demonstrated that they were prepared for the Nipponese infiltration tactics, for Allied patrols drove the Japs back from Kokoda area in the foothills. Specially trained in jungle fighting the Allied troops were able to meet the Japs on their own terms and to deal them their first defeat in a type of fighting that earlier had won Malaya and Singapore for them.

MISCELLANY:

WASHINGTON. — Jurisdiction of President Roosevelt's military commission was upheld by the Supreme court when that body denied the seven Nazi saboteurs the right to have their case heard in civil court. Chief Justice Stone made the announcement, holding that court was not granting the prisoners' plea to file writs of habeas corpus after an army tribunal had completed extensive hearings and testimony as to their guilt.

LONDON: Love is enemy agent No. 1 for British youths training with the royal navy to make commando raids. "It's not drunkenness and careless talk in pubs that causes us the most grief," said an officer. "It's love. We find that in most cases the offender who gives away vital information is a fellow who is not particularly impressive and is trying to be a big shot with some girl."

NEW YORK: New York motorists paying their license fees next year will receive a metal strip reading NY-43 instead of new plates.

U. S. MANPOWER:
Total Mobilization?

Mobilization of the total manpower of the United States—estimated at 60 million labor units—was forecast as work proceeded in Washington on the formulation of a national war service bill. This vast reservoir of man power would be assigned as part of the total war effort to essential services in factories, on farms, in laboratories and in educational activities training the nation's youth.

Sponsors of the proposed bill pointed out that it would not only do for this country what the "essential work" order had accomplished for Great Britain but provide additional directives as well.

Back of the sponsorship of the bill, was the urgent belief of the chiefs of the war administration that the longer the war goes on the more imperative will it be for the nation to assign each available man and woman to a specific task in the total war effort.

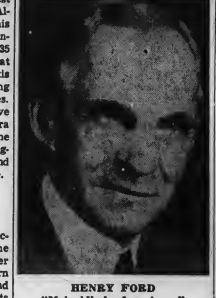
Looming as a possibility was the registration of 42,000,000 women between the ages of 18 and 65, supplementing the recent registration of all males between the ages of 45 and 64.

LEND-LEASE:
Much More Needed

Critics of the lend-lease administration found ammunition for their offensive when the Office of War Information disclosed that "somewhat less" than 12 per cent of this country's total munitions output was being shipped to America's Allies.

While acknowledging that this was "not as much as they need to do the job," the report declared that in shipments of planes and tanks the proportion was "much higher."

The OWI noted that cash purchases by foreign governments had brought the total war shipments to a figure higher than 12 per cent, but did not name the total.



Although admitting that the lend-lease program was not so large as they wish it to be, the OWI spokesman asked that "other considerations be taken into account."

FARM-BORN PROPHET:
Ford Sees Prosperity

Beginning the 80th year of his life, Henry Ford emphasized his unshaken conviction that beyond the present war lies an era of prosperity unparalleled in the world's history.

The farm-born industrial genius visualized an intensive development of the soil as a preventive of war and as the keystone of a new peaceful world order.

"Intensive production," he said, "means a world busy at work and a

HENRY FORD
"Make idle land work . . ."

friendly, helpful exchange of goods. Such a world has neither time nor incentive for war."

Idle land, he added, was a hampering factor and he favored forcing it into production through higher taxation if necessary.

Summing up his philosophy of peace, he declared: "The intensive production of the world's goods, new goods to serve human needs and legitimate desires—that is the broad highway to peace."

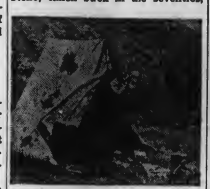
HARRY HOPKINS:
17th Groom

Social historians recalled that 16 times before the White House had been the scene of weddings. Thus case of Lend-Lease Administrator Harry Hopkins and Mrs. Louise Gill Macy became the 17th couple to say "I do" in the historic old mansion on Washington's Pennsylvania avenue.

The close personal relationship between Hopkins and the President was emphasized by the fact that the wedding was held in the White House and witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Social historians further recalled that it was 24 years since the last White House wedding had occurred. That was in 1918 when Alice Wilson, niece of President Woodrow Wilson, and the Rev. I. Stuart McElroy were married.

AIR POWER:
'Scourge the Reich'



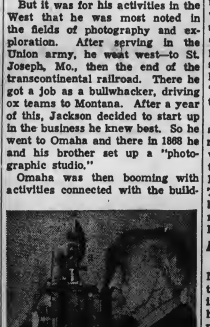
Even as relays of his four-motored RAF bombers were raining 4,000-pound "block busters" on Hamburg's submarine yards, shipping facilities and war factories, Air Marshal Sir Arthur T. Harris warned Germany that unless it overthrows its Nazi war lords and makes peace, the combined forces of the British and American bombing fleets "will scourge the Third Reich from end to end."

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Passing of a Pioneer

WHEN death claimed William Henry Jackson recently at the age of 99, it not only ended the career of a remarkable American but it also snapped one of the few remaining links between the present and the historic past—the past of the Old Frontier. For Jackson, pioneer photographer and painter and often called the "first news photographer," was the first to make a pictorial record of some of the scenic wonders of the West, it was his camera which recorded for future generations the likenesses of some of the most famous Indian chieftains of the Plains wars, and it was his views of the unexplored Yellowstone, taken back in the seventies,

Young Jackson and his working outfit along the line of the Union Pacific in Wyoming in 1869.



which were instrumental in causing congress to declare that region a national park.

His life-span of nearly a century corresponds almost exactly with the history of photography. The son of an amateur daguerreotypist in New York, where he was born April 4, 1843, he experimented with that newly discovered "art," then did some of his most important work with the cumbersome wet-plate methods of photography and ended his career in this modern era of candid cameras, color film and television.

His right to the title of "first news photographer" is based on the fact that in 1898 he made a round-the-world trip for Harper's Weekly and sent back to that publication the photographic results of his 18 months' journey.

But it was for his activities in the West that he was most noted in the fields of photography and exploration. After serving in the Union army, he went west—to St. Joseph, Mo., then the end of the transcontinental railroad. There he got a job as a bullwhacker, driving ox teams to Montana. After a year of this, Jackson decided to start up in the business he knew best. So he went to Omaha and there in 1868 he and his brother set up a "photographic studio."

Omaha was then booming with activities connected with the building of the Union Pacific railroad and this gave young Jackson a chance to satisfy his taste for adventure. For the next year he went up and down the line of the U.P. photographing scenes in the wild country along the route of the new railroad. These pictures attracted the attention of Dr. F. V. Hayden, head of the United States geological survey of the territories, and resulted in Jackson's being appointed official photographer for the survey.

William Henry Jackson, still snapping pictures in 1940 at the age of 97.

After finishing his work with the geological survey Jackson settled in Detroit. For 25 years he was connected with the Detroit Publishing company and played a prominent part in launching the souvenir postcard business, in which the 40,000 negatives assembled throughout his 40 years of activity formed the major basis of output in that industry in 1898. These 40,000 negatives are now in the possession of Ford Museum's Edison Institute in Dearborn, Mich.

Jackson was the first to photograph the Grand Tetons in Wyoming, the Mount of the Holy Cross and the Mesa Verde cliff dwellings in Colorado, the Hopi villages in Arizona and many other scenic spots which have since attracted millions of tourists West every year. Many of his original negatives are still in the files of the Geological Survey of the department of the interior and some of his views made by the old wet plate process are considered artistically superior to the work of present-day photographers using the most modern equipment.

Washington Digest

Allied 'Raids in Force' May Divert Nazi Troops

Germans Fear Large Scale Commando Attacks; Hold Million Well-Equipped Soldiers in Reserve.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Features, 1343 H Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

What about this second front?

The chorus demanding an invasion of Europe, not next year or next fall but sometime before day after tomorrow is rising to a fine crescendo. It is reduced to black and white in the Russian press, it is echoed in Lord Beaverbrook's publications in Great Britain. It is applauded by the common people in England whose affection for the Russians has grown by leaps and bounds.

Those are the outward signs. What is happening behind closed doors is, of course, harder to estimate. We know that the official Russian news agency, TASS, recently instructed its Washington correspondent to sound out informally, officials here regarding their prejudices, predilections and prognostications on the subject of aid to Russia in the form of a direct attack on the Axis. We know that the Russian ambassador in London openly, if not for official record, conducted similar inquiries. We know that a report reached Washington that the British censor, allegedly at American request, clamped down on second front speculation. At the war department here it was stated there was no information concerning issuance of such orders or such a request from Washington. This attempt, if someone did make such an attempt, to silence discussion of a second front may have meant that some military move was imminent. If so, what would the nature of that move be?

I have made diligent inquiry and although of course specific information cannot be expected, some general principles can be discussed. In the first place, I can find no encouragement from any military source for the idea for an imminent invasion of Europe on any scale which would identify it as a genuine second front. However, I have noted a slight change in attitude of persons who ought to know the plans so far as they are to be known. Instead of saying: "some time," or "perhaps in 1942" they now cautiously admit "not before the fall."

But as the clamor increases for some effort to divert Hitler from his mad charge toward the Caucasus, we do hear that some form of distracting military activity may be looked for. The Germans fear this. They also fear that what might be launched in the guise of a Commando raid might develop into a life-size invasion.

Hardened Veterans

There is proof of this: First, the Nazis are feverishly strengthening their defenses along the coast areas in great depth. Second, they are holding about a million men in Germany, equipped and ready. Hitler will throw them into the Eastern battlefront if he dares, or into western Europe if he must. These are well-equipped outfits, some of them fresh, well-trained troops, some parts of rebuilt organizations which were shot apart in Russia but are now rehabilitated and reconstructed, able men and hardened veterans.

And as nearly as a layman, restrained by a desire not to reveal anything which might serve as aid and comfort to the enemy, can do so, and building on the slight information available, the following seems to be the picture: Aside from the continuation of mass air raids when the weather permits, the only probable move on the part of the Allies in the immediate future will be an effort either to immobilize this German reserve or draw it toward the western front, not to engage it in battle.

The means of doing this will probably be what are technically termed "raids-in-force." That is, the landing of troops in numbers, perhaps in thousands, with the purpose of creating as much damage as possible to German installations, the holding of their positions for some time in order to divert as many enemy troops as possible, but so planning and executing their activities that they can retire when their mission is accomplished without heavy losses.

These attacks would be on a much larger scale than anything which the Commandos have so far attempted but they would be organized on the same pattern. They would utilize all branches of the service and they would undoubtedly be under the command of Lord Mounthatten, chief of the combined services (Commandos).

Americans undoubtedly would take part but it is unlikely that the command would be American.

Pattern for Command

This does not mean, however, that when the full-scale invasion of Europe begins, unified command with an American commander is ruled out. However, it is unlikely that unified command, as it is being discussed at present, goes hand in hand with the establishment of a temporary, or even a permanent second front. The pattern for American commands already established will probably be followed, such as MacArthur's in Australia, where an American officer is in complete charge of all land, air and sea forces in his particular theater. Commands established in the European theater, with General Eisenhower in charge of the army and Admiral Stark the navy, differ in that American jurisdiction so far is limited to American units. At present there is no disposition to change this jurisdiction. It is quite possible that when the Expeditionary force is completely prepared for full-scale invasion of Europe it will be under American command, certainly if American units predominate numerically as they may eventually.

As to the question of a supreme commander over all the unified nations, military men feel that this would be impossible. They point out that Stalin in Russia and Chiang Kai-shek in China could hardly subordinate their authority to any foreigner. For purely technical reasons, the vast expanse of the front is so great it is inconceivable that one man could command it. It is also noteworthy that even Hitler cannot pretend to dictate policy or strategy to the Mikado.

We may see American troops in comparatively small numbers fighting side by side with British forces on the continent of Europe before the snow flies, but it is unlikely that the units will be large or under American command.

• • •

Visiting Royalty Presents Problems

The entire king business is being revamped and the United States is responsible. The government in Washington, from the time when the very word royalty was anathema, has not cared for kings and queens. It wasn't that the animosity of early days survived indefinitely after John Bull and Cousin Jonathan made up. It was (and is) a mere matter of facilities.

The way our government is set up, domestically, you might say, we really have no provisions for entertaining royalty.

And where else can you put a king or a queen or a royal prince or princess? You have to be hospitable. Presidents don't have palaces and until the present regime few even had a country house to offer.

That is one difficulty. Another is the question of protocol. There are certain forms and ceremonies that kings and queens are used to at home—and everybody, even a democratic nation, wants to make guests feel at home. Many of these ceremonies ordinarily accorded royalty at home, don't fit in very well with democratic traditions.

But in these days kings and queens and princes feel they simply have to come to the United States and pay their respects and "sell" themselves and their countries to the American people. We are pretty important as a nation. We will be important after the war, too.

The result is that kings and queens have had to revise a lot of their habits—habits which they probably don't enjoy but which are, or have been demanded of loyal subjects everywhere. What is the use of having a king if you don't treat him like one and if he doesn't treat you the way you think you ought to be treated by your ruler—del gratia.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

"Out of the frying pan into the firing line"—that is the new kitchen plan to save waste fat for glycerine to make war explosives.

• • •

Reports indicate that effective July 1 all Japanese supplies of rice, wheat, barley, potatoes and other important foodstuffs will be purchased and distributed exclusively by the government at fixed prices.

—Buy War Bonds—

In Italy the government has announced that it would pay a premium to all farmers who delivered their wheat before July 10 and a lower premium to those delivering before September 15.

• • •

The War Production board estimates that probably more than two billion pounds of fat go to waste in American kitchens every year.

ON THE HOME FRONT
—North Ruth Wyeth Spears

IF IT ever seemed to you that the walls and ceiling of an attic room were coming down on your head you know how the owner of this room felt before she began to experiment a bit with wallpaper and furnishings.

Large samples of wallpaper were thumbtacked in place to test them. Only when a paper with tiny evenly spaced pattern and narrow border was tried did the defects seem to melt away. The long curtains with ruffles on three sides also helped to make the ceiling seem higher. Pink and white striped material to repeat the wallpaper color was used for the chair cover and dressing table skirt. The chair is a remodeled rocker and the orange crate dressing table has hinged arms. Directions for them may be found on pages 4 and 19 of SEWING, Book 5.

• • •

NOTE: Book 8, in the series which Mrs. Spears has prepared for our readers, is now ready for mailing. There are 32 pages of these new ideas for homemakers with complete working drawings. Also a description of the first seven booklets of the series. Send your order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Bedford Hills New York
Drawer 10

Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered.

Name

Address

J. Fuller Pep
By JERRY LINK

Uncle Jed always used to say, "Things'd be a whole lot pleasanter if folks would just live so's they'd never be ashamed to tell the family parrot to the town gossip."

An' speakin' o' parrots, reckon I must sound like one, the way I'm always talkin' about vitamins an' KELLOGG'S PEP! But it's mighty important to get your vitamins—all of 'em! And KELLOGG'S PEP is extra-strong in the two vitamins, B1 and D, that are most likely to be short in ordinary meals. An', PEP'S plumb delicious, too!

Kellogg's Pep

A delicious cereal that supplies per serving (1 oz.) the full minimum daily need of vitamin D; 1/4 the daily need of vitamin B1.

HOUSEWIVES: ★★★
Your Waste Kitchen Fats Are Needed for Explosives
TURN 'EM IN! ★★★

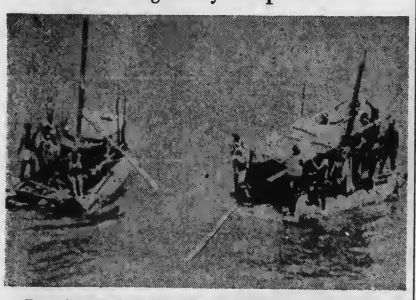
RHEUMATIC PAIN
Read not Spot over Buy—Get after It Now
Don't put off getting C-2223 to relieve pain of muscular rheumatism and other rheumatic pains. Buy C-2223 today. 60c, $1, everywhere. Use only as directed. The purchase price refunded if you're not satisfied.

Think in Silence

Since word is thrall, and thought is free, keep well thy tongue, I counsel thee.—James I of Scotland.

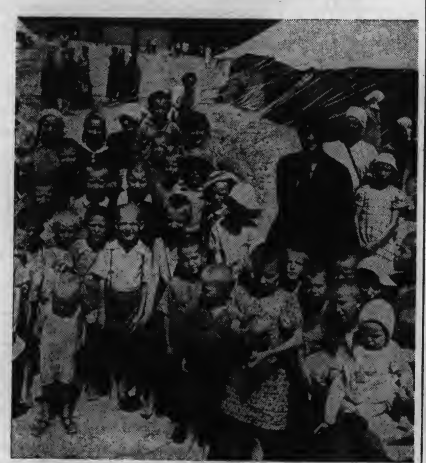
Black Leaf 40 KILLS LICE
Guaranteed "Cap-Brush" Applicator makes "BLACK LEAF 40" GO MUCH FARTHER
JUST A DASH IN FEATHERS... OR SPREAD ON ROOSTS

THE DIE IS CAST



The advertiser comes out boldly and frankly in print, telling of his ideals, services and merchandise. Thereby the die is cast, and he knows that he must live up to that description or his advertising is of no avail.

As the British Attack Rommel



A haze of desert dust raised by advancing tanks and the dry wind of the desert furnishes a grit-laden screen which half obscures men and tanks of the British Scots guards as they advance to attack Field Marshal Rommel's Nazi Afrika Korps on the El Alemein front in Egypt. The desert dust often curtails both Axis and Allied air operations.

Yankee Ingenuity Helps Save 18

Two raft loads of survivors from an American freighter torpedoed in the Atlantic approach a rescue vessel. Note the rough shelters on the rafts. When their vessel went down, the 18 men paddled amidst the wreckage, picking up bits of board, canvas and paper to construct the canopies which protected them from the sun's hot rays during their 19 days adrift.

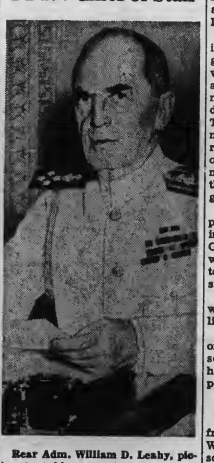
Out of the Maelstrom of War

R. D. MacDonald, head of the American Red Cross in the Middle East, is shown with some of the Polish children who are now being cared for in refugee camps in Iran. They are some of the Poles sent to Iran from Russia, where they had been in internment camps with their parents since the occupation of Poland.

Churchill's Son at Willow Run

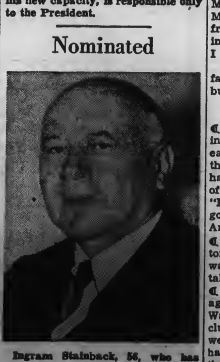
Capt. Randolph Churchill, son of Britain's prime minister, is shown (left) with Edsel and Henry Ford during his visit to the Willow Run bomber plant. At right is Charles E. Sorensen, Ford vice president and general manager. Churchill is recuperating from injuries received in the Middle East area.

Mr. and Mrs.



Harry Hopkins, special assistant to President Roosevelt, and Mrs. Louise Gill Macy, New York fashion writer, who were married in the first White House wedding in 24 years.

Backs Cargo Planes



Henry J. Kaiser, West Coast shipbuilder, has assured two senate committees that he can convert portions of his shipyards to production of giant cargo planes without curtailment of his ship output.

FDR's Chief of Staff

Rear Adm. William D. Leahy, pictured at his desk at the state department in Washington, as he assumed his duties as President Roosevelt's chief of staff. Leahy, in his new capacity, is responsible only to the President.

Nominated

Ingram Stainback, 56, who has been a United States attorney in Hawaii, has been nominated as governor of the territory by President Roosevelt. Stainback was born in Tennessee.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

Washington, D. C.

U. S. FOREIGN LEGION

Most people don't realize it, but there are many enemy aliens who are officers in the U. S. army. In fact the army, true to the American tradition of the melting pot, is made up of American citizens of almost every national and racial background, including 2,720 German aliens, not to mention 2,700 Germans who are naturalized citizens.

The Italian total is 2,472 aliens and 3,781 naturalized. In addition, there are 644 Japanese in the army, plus 3,000 Japanese-Americans, formerly of the Hawaiian national guard, most of whom are assigned to the 100th battalion at Fort McCoy, Wis.

The army goes on the assumption that any man who wants to fight can be a good soldier. Of course, the "enemy aliens" are checked and double-checked before they are admitted for enlistment. The men who pass these tests are found to be even more zealous for the defeat of the dictators than the average American.

Latin-American Battalions.

To make the melting pot more complex, the army has a Filipino infantry battalion, and is forming a battalion for Norwegians in the U. S. and Norwegian-Americans. Instruction and conversation in this unit will be in the Norwegian language.

Equally eager to fight are thousands of Latin-Americans, especially from the nearer countries, such as Cuba and Mexico. The office of the U. S. military attache in Havana is flooded with applications from young Cubans who want to wear the uniform of Uncle Sam. Most of them would renounce Cuban citizenship if necessary.

But what they do not realize is that if they come to the United States, they are likely to be swept into the U. S. army, whether they like it or not. Within five days after entering this country, aliens must register for the draft, and they had better leave the country pronto if they don't want to be inducted.

Not yet arranged, but highly desirable, is a Latin-American battalion. There are now ten Latin-American countries which have declared war on the Axis, and thousands of their young men want to follow up that declaration with something more than police duty at home.

• • •

BACK-BREAKERS

An American diplomat returning from Italy tells this revealing story about the true sentiments of the Italian people.

In his office at the U. S. embassy in Rome he found a clerk, an Italian girl, crying. When he inquired what was wrong, she replied: "Oh, I'm ashamed to be an Italian. You remember what boasting the Fascists did about the Greek campaign? They said: 'We will break their kidneys.' But everybody knows who really beat the Greeks; it was not our army; it was the Germans. But now—have you seen the poster on the streets this morning?" And the girl broke into tears again.

The diplomat looked outside at the poster, which that day was appearing all over Italy. It showed a Greek soldier lying on his face, with a steel bar across his back. On top of the bar was the Fascist insigne, and on the side, the swastika.

The caption read: "We said we would break their kidneys. Mussolini is always right."

Note: All reports from Italy tell of a growing disgust with the Mussolini government, and a growing hatred of the Germans. But the people are too cowed to revolt.

• • •

NO-CHAUFFEUR ARNOLD

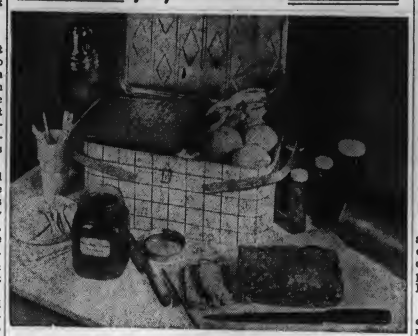
Trustbusting Thurman Arnold hails from the small town of Larsmie, Wyo., and he doesn't see any reason why he should hire a chauffeur to drive his car. So he drives it himself.

One evening, after he and Mrs. Arnold had been dinner guests of Mrs. Evalyn (Hope Diamond) McLean, they were going out the front door, when the doorman said, in his most elegant manner, "Shall I call your car, Mr. Arnold?"

With a dour expression on his face, Arnold said, "You can call it, but I don't think it will come."

• • •

CAPITAL CHAFF



¶ The Thurman Arnolds are mourning over the fact that Angelica has eaten Henry Wallace's corn. When the vice president heard about it, he having given the Arnolds a present of Iowa hybrid corn, he remarked: "I hope the corn did Angelica some good." Angelica is the Thurman Arnolds' cow.

¶ Mrs. Claude Pepper, wife of Senator "No-X-Card" Pepper of Florida, walks to social engagements or takes the street car.

¶ There may be a gasoline shortage, but you would never know it at Washington's Congressional Country club. On a recent Sunday there were so many golfers that caddies had to double up and carry two or three bags each . . . On the same Sunday, motorists so jammed the highways between Washington and Eastern Shore beaches that cars were lined up for three hours waiting for the Chesapeake ferry.

Household Hints

by Lynn Chambers

Summertime Means Picnic Time!
(See Recipes Below.)

Sandwiches Plus

Your fling with summer isn't quite complete without one or a dozen picnics with those sandwiches that taste so good, bubbling hot coffee and fresh, juicy fruit to top off that outdoor meal. You'll have fun with these simple things, even if you don't make a long trip in the family car to some far-away, favorite picnic grounds. Try the back yard, the parks, the beach or even that shady spot down the road a mile or so for this year's picnic.

Scrub your favorite picnic hamper clean and sun-dry it to assure your food freshness and cleanliness. Fill it to the brim with exciting sandwich combinations that your family will get such a surprise when they begin digging into the pleasant recesses of the big basket. Remember the salt for the tomatoes, paper napkins, paper plates, plenty of glasses or paper cups and, yes, a gay checked cloth to add atmosphere to the affair.

Are you in a quandary as to what sandwiches to make? Well, glance over the following combinations for some really tasty ideas in fillings:

Chopped bacon (broiled until crisp) and hard-cooked egg, moistened with mayonnaise or softened butter.

Sliced ham and American cheese, lettuce, sandwich spread.

Cream cheese, finely minced onion, chopped stuffed olives.

Chipped beef, ground fine, mixed with crumbled Roquefort cheese, seasoned with Worcestershire sauce.

Liver sausage, mashed, seasoned with chili sauce.

Summer sausage, ground with sweet or bread and butter pickles, moistened with mayonnaise.

Cucumber, chopped fine, excess moisture drained off, mixed with cream cheese, salt and pepper.

Peanut butter mixed with honey.

Tuna or salmon, flaked, mixed with lemon juice, finely chopped celery and mayonnaise to moisten.

Fillings combined generously with butter are often known as spreads. This facilitates the handling of sandwiches. Just spread the "butter" thickly between slices of bread and your sandwich is made, ready to be wrapped in waxed paper for picnicking.

Cheese Spread.

